

This Town— That World

IT'S A THREAT

The matter of cars parked so near street corners that you need a periscope to peek around in either direction before venturing out into the intersecting stream of traffic creates a real hazard here. One of these days I am going to get ramed amidst negotiations these corners, and then if I am able I shall pick myself up and write a hot editorial.

We have a new definition for hard times which came via the Thursday Morning Sossor-That-Coffee-and-Chew-the-Fat Club. It follows: A recession is when your neighbor loses his job; a depression is when you lose your job. And when your wife loses her job, that's a Panic.

OF DREAMS and TIME and SUCH

I drew some measure of gratification from a recent article which admitted what I knew all the time; namely, that a dream is not a matter of moments but is something that you may wrestle with for hours. The article also hinted, although it did not say as much, that everybody dreams every night and that if you aren't aware you have dreamed you are a pretty dead one, brother.

Getting back to that business of dream marathons and the old, fallacious idea that indeed I could have struck out three times with the bases full in one baseball game and all in a matter of seconds, I have never subscribed to any such theory. In fact, there are a lot of theories to which I do not subscribe.

I do not take to my bosom, for instance, this idea somebody brought up out of left field that your dreams reflect your personality or your character or something. In my time, I would point out, I was one of the busiest Indian-fighters of my generation. Sioux, Sac, Apache—all my enemies.

PICK WHISMAN FOR AREA JOB

Regional Planners Name Former Jaycee Prexy; Headquarters at Hazard

The Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission in a meeting Monday at Cumberland Falls State Park named John D. Whisman, Lexington, former president of the Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce, executive director and approved Hazard as the site of its regional office.

Whisman, who will draw a yearly salary of $7,200, plus expenses, will begin work next Thursday. The Hazard regional office, selected because of its central location in the area, will not open, however, until about July 1.

Whisman is national chairman of the U. S. Jaycees' plan for community development. The program was first adopted by the Kentucky Junior Chamber and later adopted by the national organization.

Disaster Again Threatening Valley

ADDED FLOOD CONTROL FOR VALLEY IS URGED

GROUP TOLD OTHER DAMS AID NEEDED

Kentucky Delegation In Congress, Citizens In Committee Pleas

An extra 11 million dollars was asked by Congress for flood control by Kentuckians Tuesday and a delegation of Big Sandians specifically pleaded for appropriations to further advanced planning on Fish Trap reservoir. The Big Sandy came in for much attention at the hearings before the House and Senate Appropriations subcommittees. Senator John Sherman Cooper pointed out that the Big Sandy was now rising and that the people were filled with foreboding as they recall the flood last year. Cooper's pleas were supported by the entire state's Congressional representation.

Prestonsburg's delegation, consisting of Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, pastor of the First Methodist church, County Judge Henry Stumbo and Mayor Bill Napier, appeared before the subcommittee in support of additional Fishtrap funds. Dorsey told the budget-makers that the $140,000 asked for Fishtrap was a mere pittance but "we must be content to crawl before we walk." Senator A. Willis Robertson, of Virginia, a member of the Senate committee, called Dorsey's 10-minute plea "pointed" and said that he hoped the minister would deliver the same kind of appeal to the House committee members.

Cooper outlined requests for money to plan and build Kentucky flood control reservoirs totaling $54,649,200 compared with requests in the President's budget of $43,329,200. Sen. Thruston Morton, joining in the general plea for flood protection throughout the state and

37 HIGHWAYS ON AID LIST

Rural Highway Fund Set for Maintenance Of Additional Roads

Thirty-seven projects scheduled by the Floyd fiscal court and the Rural Highway Department in their contract for road maintenance and improvement in this county were not listed in The Times last week. Last week's list included only those projects where blacktop surfacing is planned.

Also omitted was an order of the court changing a previous order providing for clerks and clerk's pay for the County Clerk. The new order provides for two clerks at salaries not to exceed $250 a month instead of one clerk at $200 a month.

The 37 unlisted projects, each slated for gravel surfacing, follow: Little Mud, 3 miles; Little Abbott, 3 miles; East Point-Auxier, 2 miles; Toler Creek, 2.6 mi.; Salt Lick, 4.1 mi.; Cow Creek-Buffalo, 2.5 mi.; Frazier's Creek, 2.4 mi.; Turkey Creek, 2 mi.; Branham's Creek, 4.5 mi.; Lower Bull Creek, 1.3 mi.; Rough and Tough, 1.2 mi.; Upper Bull Creek, 2.8 mi.; Brandy Keg, 2.6 mi.; Arkansas, 2 mi.; Whitaker, 2.2 mi.; Johns Creek to Pike county line, 4.2 mi.; Buffalo, 4.5 mi.; Stephens Branch, near Cliff, 1.5 mi.; Katy Friend, 1 mi.; Buckeye, 1 mi.; Salyers Branch, 1.5 mi.; Goose Creek, 1.2 mi.; Johns Branch, 2 mi.; Spurlock, 1 mi.; Pike-Floyd Hollow, .5 mi.; Mare Creek to county line, 1.9 mi.; Royal Branch, 1 mi.; Doty Branch, 1 mi.; Tinker Fork, 1.2 mi.; Estill, .3 mi.; Cracker, 1.2 mi.; Hite, 1 mi.; Bosco-Low Gap, 1.5 mi.; Lower Burton, 4 mi.; Lancer streets, .5 mi.; Harold streets, .5 mi.; Dinwood, 4 miles.

1958 MUSIC FESTIVAL QUEEN IS MARTIN HIGH SCHOOL GIRL

Miss Frieda Collins, representing Martin high schools, was named Floyd County Music Festival Queen for 1958 last Saturday at the 24th event of its kind to be held in the county since 1930.

Miss Collins won in competition with reigning beauties from seven other Floyd high schools. Her coronation at the new high school building was one of the features of the festival.

Included in her court were these girls representing other high schools: Peggy Combs, Maytown high; Sue Ann Wicker, Garrett; Barbara Gearheart, McDowell; Mary Lynn Sharp, Prestonsburg; Beulah Hall, Wayland; Flo Bates, Wheelwright; Tamsy Marcus, Betsy Layne.

Preceding the judging of candidates for the title of Festival Queen was the colorful parade of school bands, with the school beauty queens riding in open-top convertibles. During the afternoon a concert was given by the school bands in the new gymnasium here.

LEADERS GET OPENING BIDS

Regional Library Here To Be Open House Host On Saturday, May 17th

Invitations have been sent to leaders over a wide area to attend the official opening here May 17 of the Eastern Kentucky Regional Library. Open house will be observed from 9 a.m. till 4 p.m.

Library workers, leaders in the field of education and friends of the library movement from the four counties in the region, in addition to Floyd—Magoffin, Martin, Johnson, Morgan—are to be expected to join special guests invited for the occasion.

During the two years of support by the federal government the state will place $32,000 worth of new books. All of these books will be available to individuals and groups in Floyd county. The aim of the government is to aid the people responsible for library service here in their work and to help them extend wider service.

Lon C. Hill is county Library Board chairman, and V. O. Turner is Regional Library chairman.

The $3000.00 purchase price of the first Floyd county Bookmobile was donated by citizens from all parts of the county in 1953. Governor Chandler assisted last year in getting the second Bookmobile free. The fiscal court and the board of education support the Library-Bookmobile program through annual contributions to the Library Board.

More than 8,000 Floyd county children and adult citizens read a Bookmobile book each month. Due to the outstanding record in this county, the library here was selected as headquarters for Johnson, Magoffin, Martin, and Morgan counties, also, which the State Library Extension Division operates and finances.

More than 20,000 books will be on display in the old high school building here all day on May 17.

'FLOODWALL' JOB DELAYED

Rain, Flood Interfere With Work Begun Here On Protective Project

Work on a flood control project which would protect a great portion of Prestonsburg from all floods except the most destructive such as that of 1957 has been begun by S. T. Kenyon & Co., contractors, but a new flood and steady rains this week halted all operations. The first work done was that of clearing the area in the vicinity of the Second avenue fill, which is the central part of the flood control project. But this made little progress as rains interrupted. With the river invading Prestonsburg streets, it may be several days before work can be resumed.

Only a limited number of common laborers has been employed to date.

In addition to a 265-foot earth levee at the Second street fill where Trimble Branch nears the river, the contractors will construct a pumping station, install 213 feet of metal culverts, 1,115 feet of sanitary sewers and other items of construction design.

MINE CLOSING IS ATTEMPTED

By Dissatisfied Workers; Left Beaver Union Tries To Spread Work Stoppage

Several of the county's hardpressed truck mines had another obstacle to meet this week as an attempt was made to stop, by threat or persuasion, their miners from working.

For one day work was halted, but after that, it was said, those employed at the small mines insisted on working.

Most of the trouble started with one local union on Left Beaver Creek, an operator said. He said a group of dissatisfied workers who had complained of working conditions had tried to induce miners at other operations to quit.

"Our tipples were down till our employees themselves said, 'We want to work,' and then we went back," he added. At one or more points threats allegedly were voiced. Dissident workers threatened to dump the coal loaded in trucks, it was claimed.

BUS VICTIM INSURANCE PAYMENT IS DELAYED

Payment of a total of $70,000 in insurance to the families of those who lost their lives in the Feb. 28 school bus tragedy near here was delayed when the father of two victims and the parents of four who survived the disaster were not present at a meeting called here Saturday afternoon.

No beneficiary can be paid until all sign releases relieving the insurance firms of further liability, it was explained by W. W. Burchett, chairman of the Floyd County Bar Association committee which is representing the bereaved families without charge.

At the first meeting of parents with the bar committee all agreed that the insurance would be divided into 27 equal parts, one share for each of 26 students and the bus driver who died in the disaster, worst of its kind in the history of the United States.

Beneficiaries of the policies will not be called together again. Instead, those absent Saturday are being asked to appear individually at Mr. Burchett's office to sign releases.

Representatives of two insurance firms—Wabash Insurance Co. and Travelers—were here Saturday with checks ready to be handed to survivors. The Wabash policy for $50,000 covered the bus passengers. It was issued to the Floyd County Board of Education. The remaining $20,000 was on a policy issued to Donald L. (Dootney) Horn whose wrecker was struck by the school bus before it plunged from the highway into the river.

Robert Milby, of Lexington, representative of Travelers, and Chad Perry, III, of Paintsville, representing Wabash, presented the checks at the meeting. The insurance men told the parents that their companies did not wish to contest the claims.

A property-damage policy carried by the Board of Education will

SEWER BONDS MAY BE SOLD

Council Takes Action To Get Sewers Where Their Need Greatest

Areas in Prestonsburg most badly in need of sewer improvement may be able to obtain relief from this problem through the measures passed by the City Council Monday night at the Municipal Building.

Mayor Pro-Tem Virgil Warrix said the council passed a measure for the sale of bonds to finance the construction of sewers in parts of Prestonsburg where needed most.

He said that a representative of the Bell Engineering Company has been called to ascertain cost of the project. Warrix said that a fiscal agent, out of Cincinnati, has told the council previously that the project can be financed through property owners paying "connecting charges."

Warrix said that individual property owner would retire the debt over an extremely long period of time.

Areas to be aided in the sewage project have priority according to need. Each project is a part of the overall sewage plan to reconstruct the sewage system in Prestonsburg. Warrix said that the city has been surveyed and a sewage system planned but that the cost has been prohibitive.

Mayor Napier was absent from the meeting while attending flood control hearings in Washington, D. C. He was accompanied by County Judge Henry Stumbo and the Rev. Harold Dorsey, of Prestonsburg.

Board Employs Goble As Wheelwright Coach; Current Bills Authorized

The Floyd county Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday employed John Gordon Goble, former guard of the University of Kentucky's Wildcats as coach at Wheelwright high school for the coming year. Goble's early employment was made, it was said, to enable him to plan for the completion of work on a master's degree at the University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradis Goble, of Emma.

Besides the Goble employment and the payment of current bills, no other business was transacted by the board. All five members were present.

AUXIER RATED TEMPORARILY

Floyd School, 2 in Knott To Hold Rating One Year Under State Board Ruling

Auxier high school was one of 49 in the state to receive emergency accreditation, it was announced this week in Frankfort. The rating is good for only a year it was said.

Two other schools in this area to receive emergency ratings were Cordia and Knott high schools in Knott county. Several schools in other Eastern counties were placed in the emergency class but none of these were from this immediate section.

Emergency ratings are issued when schools fail to meet standards established by the State board. These include a minimum enrollment of 100 pupils, adequate classrooms, prescribed curriculums, qualified teachers, and the like.

But a committee now is studying accrediting of high schools and this year may be the last that present standards will be used.

Plans now are under way for consolidation, or for new county-wide high schools, in several districts whose schools will have emergency ratings. Dr. Robert R. Martin, superintendent of public instruction, told the board.

Dr. Martin also told the board he has observed a reversal in thinking of school districts toward merger and consolidation. While the State board's policy favors consolidation, some school districts have not taken favorably to the idea.

ROAD SAFETY GROUP NAMED

Gov. Chandler Picks 4 Prestonsburg Men; Lake Highway Talked

Four Prestonsburg men who last week conferred with Governor Chandler in a move to lend impetus to construction of flood control reservoirs in the Big Sandy valley were named by the Governor to a Highway Guardrail committee for this county. The four are H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., County Judge Henry Stumbo, Mayor Bill Napier and Marvin Music.

Governor Chandler told the group Department of Highways engineers will be sent to inspect danger points along U. S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Pikeville as one step toward installation of guard rails.

Such protection has been strongly urged since the Feb. 28 school bus tragedy which claimed the lives of 27 near here.

Because of the extremely poor condition of the road between the boat dock and the Stratton Branch recreation area on Dewey Lake construction of that sector of the lake road will be let to contract first and as soon as possible, the Floyd men were told. The Governor said he wants the entire route from the boat dock to Hager Gap let to contract by July 1 and work begun by Dec.

48-FOOT FLOOD CREST SEEN FOR RIVER HERE

Unprotected River Towns Hit By Second Disastrous Flood In Little More Than A Year

As hearings on reservoirs to control Eastern Kentucky floods were being held in Washington this week days and nights of rainfall created a pervading uneasiness in the minds of thousands throughout the Big Sandy valley.

This dread was heightened Wednesday as the Big Sandy invaded Pikeville eight feet past the 35-foot flood stage, closed roads and schools and threatened to cause heavy damage in Prestonsburg and other river communities.

Later Wednesday, it became apparent that the valley was to undergo a tragic repeat performance by a wild, unfettered river of the 1957 disaster.

A dozen or more businesses, including the First National Bank, were evacuated here. Scores of residents were moving furniture from their homes.

Prospects here grew more dismal by the hour. The Weather Bureau predicted at noon Wednesday that the river would crest here at 45 feet—only three feet below last year's disaster level.

At Martin two feet of water was expected in the main street. The Hall Funeral Home, one of scores of places flooded there last year, was being evacuated, as were other firms and many home-owners.

Beaver Creek at Martin was rising at a rate of six inches an hour at noon. Right Beaver Creek was causing damage at various points and so was Left Beaver but those sections were expected to miss the full force of flood, as was the case in 1957.

PACE SPEAKS ON HAULAGE

General Superintendent Of Inland Steel Mines In Mining Meet Talk

The selection of mine cars for the underground haulage of coal was discussed Tuesday at a mine haulage session of the American Mining Congress 1958 Coal Convention in Cincinnati by E. M. Pace, general superintendent of the Inland Steel Company mines at Wheelwright. He explained how and why his company had replaced existing mine cars with newer models.

Pace said the switchover to the newer cars was made after many factors were taken into consideration. He said these were the life

A steady drizzle was still falling Wednesday morning, but the U. S. Weather Bureau made the bright prediction that of weather and clearing skies was just ahead.

The river here is expected to cover a large part of Prestonsburg before it crests early Thursday.

While the thousands along the river and its tributaries watched the waters inch up another kind of flood was visited on Washington. This was in the form of telegrams and letters addressed to the Kentucky delegation in Congress, urging a keener awareness of the area's crying need for flood control and asking the appropriation of funds for planning one or more additional reservoirs.

Upriver towns had a flood scare early Tuesday after reports spread that Grundy, Va., had experienced a river rise little shy of the 1957 disaster. The U. S. Weather Bureau at Pikeville said Another effort was begun in Frankfort last week to place funds in the 1958-59 budget of the U. S. Civil Works program for the development of flood control reservoirs in the Big Sandy river basin.

A delegation—14 men strong—from Floyd, Pike and Johnson counties met with Gov. A. B. Chandler and received his pledge of a "concentrated effort to aid you folks who are so often and painfully stricken."

H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Prestonsburg, was spokesman for the delegation. He outlined the group's plan and asked the Governor to solicit aid of Kentucky's U. S. Senators and Congressman Carl D. Perkins. Others in the Floyd delegation were Marvin Music, County Judge Henry Stumbo and Mayor Bill Napier, of Prestonsburg.

Chandler signed letters addressed to the three Kentuckians in Washington. The letters said:

"It has been called to my attention that no funds are now in the 1958-59 budget of the U. S. Civil Works program for the development of the Big Sandy River Basin.

"Fishtrap Reservoir in Kentucky and Pound Reservoir in Virginia have been recommended by the U. S. Corps of Engineers as being economically feasible flood control projects for the protection of the Big Sandy Valley.

"The Commonwealth of Kentucky is most anxious that each of these projects be included in the 1958-59 budget. We are ready and willing to assist you in any and every way possible in order that each project might be planned and constructed without further delay."

R. L. Bolin, director of the State Division of Water Usage and Flood Control, said he and Laban Jackson, commissioner of the Conservation Department, would attend Senate and House hearings on the reservoir projects this week. County Judge Stumbo, Mayor Bill Napier and the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey left here Monday to appear at the Washington hearing.

JAIL BREAKER IS ARRESTED

Floyd Man Is Charged In Allen Mkt. Robbery; Also Charged In Perry

He was later released to Perry county authorities and was returned to Hazard to answer a robbery charge there.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

At Maytown a number of men appeared Monday morning in an attempt to halt operation of a mine near there, but the effort failed.

The general situation at the mines is little changed, it was said. Coal prices have taken two cuts, and orders are far from plentiful. Railroads have been making adjustments on freight rates, doing so by individual action and not as an overall policy. This has confused buyers, it was said. Purchasers of coal have, as a result of this confusion, delayed buying, waiting to see what would be the final outcome of the rate adjustment flurry.

An industry spokesman said Tuesday that he expects a pick-up in tonnage, adding that his company has some Lake orders awaiting the time when shipment to that market will begin.

Figures released by the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association reflect the loss this section has suffered in its coal business.

In its report for the week ending April 26 the Association noted that member mines worked an average of 2.81 days and had loaded this year 36,862 50-ton cars of coal as compared with 45,374 cars during the same period last year.

Truck mines had as of April 26 loaded only 942.8 cars this year. During the same period last year these operations had loaded 2,071 cars. Only the captive mines are ahead of 1957 production. They had loaded 13,237 cars at the end of April this year—153 more than in the first four months of 1957.

All recorded coal loadings for the first four months this year totalled 74,001 cars as compared with 92,267 in the same period last year.

of the mines, the amount of old workings, distances, tonnages, speed and size of trips, weighing and dumping facilities, power requirements, basic mining plans, size and design of cars, capital investment required and anticipated realizations for making the change. Pace listed the major items of cost which received close scrutiny as new car investments, head house conversion, automatic couplers for locomotives, installing new larger radius turnouts and making additional clearances.

He said his company, after four years of experience with the new cars, has found a 33 percent reduction in haulage costs and a five percent reduction in overall mining costs. He estimated at current savings the company investment will be returned in two and a half to three years.

More than 2,000 coal-mining executives and other key employees from all coal-producing areas of the nation are at the coal convention at Cincinnati.

Although long-term prospects for coal are bright because of predicted heavy demands for it in electric power generation and other industrial expansion in the years ahead, coal mining men are centering their attention upon ways and means to step up research on new and expanded uses for coal, to reduce mining costs and to provide controlled-quality coal for the consumer.

The opening session Monday highlighted "Research for Progress," with James C. Gray, vice president, U. S. Steel Corp., Pittsburg, presiding. Dr. W. H. Alexander, pastor, The First Christian Church, Oklahoma City, discussed "The Human Side of Research," pointing out the need of a deep personal interest in research. He was followed by Dr. A. A. Potter, president, Bituminous Coal Research, Inc., Lafayette, Ind., whose topic was "Research in the Coal Industry." Dr. Potter appraised coal research in this county and in the major coal-producing areas of Europe and then discussed the utilization of laboratory results for the benefit of coal users.

John L. Lewis, president, United Mine Workers of America, addressed the Monday luncheon session. He was introduced by George M. Humphrey, chairman, National Steel Corp., and former Secretary of the Treasury. Presiding was L. C. Campbell, Pittsburg, chairman, Coal Division of the American Mining Congress.

It was noted that the Prestonsburg-Auxier highway construction does not extend to the bridge crossing the Big Sandy at Auxier and that the work scheduled for this summer will not affect the bridge.

Another highway project expected for early advertising is the Bonanza-Jenny's Creek road. Only one condemnation suit stands between it and advertising for letting to contract, it was said.

The Department of Economic Development, the Floyd delegation learned, will send a planner here in about two weeks to help with city development plans. This development would extend beyond urban renewal planning for which application was recently filed.

Wanted Pike Man Nabbed In Ohio On Rape Charge; Accomplice Given Life

Elmer Blankenship, about 22, one of seven men indicted in the rape of two women near his Freeburn home last August 18, has been arrested in Toledo, Ohio, Commonwealth's Attorney Kelsey E. Friend of Pike county announced Friday.

Two juveniles are also charged in the case.

Blankenship, last of the nine accused to be picked up, will be extradited as quickly as possible, Friend said.

One of the men, Carl Ferrell, 22, also of Freeburn, was convicted last November of raping Mrs. Gladys Spurlock, 20, of Home Creek, Va., and sentenced to life imprisonment. Ferrell still is held in Pike county jail, however, pending trial on a charge of raping Mrs. Spurlock's 15-year-old sister.

The other six men and the two juveniles are free on bond, also pending trials at the June term of circuit court.

Blankenship was charged in three indictments with rape of Mrs. Spurlock and her sister and maliciously striking and wounding Mrs. Spurlock's husband, Everett.

Spurlock testified that he had stopped his automobile to repair a flat tire at night when the nine drove up, attacked the two women and drove him off. Mrs. Spurlock, mother of two, was expecting a third child at the time.

SLUMP CAUSE IS DISCUSSED

Francis Tells Foremen Business To Come Back As It Has in the Past

"We are in the most publicized recession in our history," David L. Francis, of Huntington, president of Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, told the Foremen's Club of his company recently. He did not speak in a spirit of defeatism, however—"We will come out of this recession as we did eight years ago."

"Officials in Washington already concede that it is more severe than the 1949-50 or the 1953-54 recession," he continued, discussing the causes and effects of recessions. Business cycles are an integral part of our economy and we have them every three to nine years the Princess Elkhorn president told his foremen in a prepared speech at David, April 12.

Francis thinks that the buying habits of the people are initiated and conditioned by organized economists, statisticians, technicians, production groups and advertising and marketing components of an industry. These work out the demand pattern of the nation and after that the supply and marketing of the product. Buying increases but inevitably the market is saturated.

When saturation is reached, people simply stop buying, he stated, plant expansion ceases, inventories are reduced and pay-rolls decrease. His has occurred in a very drastic manner in the last nine months, he pointed out.

Psychological factors also intervene in the economic set-up the speaker said. Three of these were the economy drive of Congress last year, the President's heart attack and Sputnik.

"Who can predict the psychological reaction of our body politic?" the coal executive asked, "I defy anyone to do it. Government economy was felt to be a popular move before it was taken. Perhaps we did not realize that when we cut the government's budget we also cut back on the plants that were supplying the government, our biggest customer in the nation. We also know that the President had a very bad heart attack and had more recently undergone an intestinal operation as well as suffering a mild stroke. The year Sputnik was launched the Russians had quietly stated to the International Conference on the study of our higher atmosphere that they would launch a satellite.

"Why should we then be surprised at this turn of events and have them, in effect, throw the economists for a loss?" Francis again asked, and continued: "Private and government economists had calculated that we were in what they called a rolling economy, namely, you might find one or two segments of the economy sagging but other parts of it booming. During such periods the economy as a whole remains at a high level. It was known that capital goods demand would fall off this year but consumer buying was expected to offset this. None of the economists predicted this huge and rather sudden fall-out. I give the psychological aspects much more weight than I do the predictable indices."

The old law of supply and demand still holds forth, the coal man asserted, and he was confident that we would come out of this recession as we did eight years ago. Our economy is still dynamic and we still have the leadership.

"However each individual and corporation must do some soul searching and planning so as not to over-expand during boom periods and cut everything off during a recession. A steady continuity of planned activity during less active periods would greatly alleviate recessions. We get too fat during prosperous periods and then we have to reduce too quickly. This reduction may be healthy but it is tough and somewhat unfair to the fellow who is forced into bankruptcy or laid off."

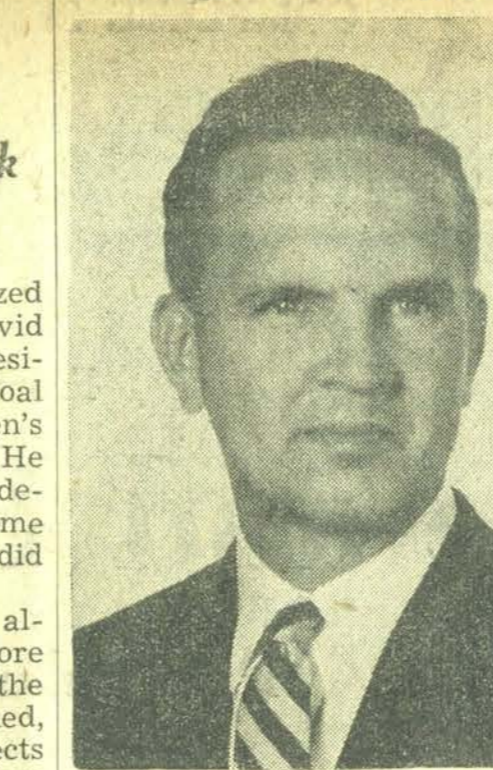

The head of Princess Elkhorn discussed the coal industry and his own company's position.

"Because Princess Elkhorn threw its lot into the retail market it has not suffered in loss of volume as the rest of the coal industry has. The Big Sandy field, a big supplier of domestic coal, is off 15 per cent in the first quarter of this year as compared with the same period last year. This is excellent by comparison with the Pocahontas field, a prime supplier of coking coals, which was off 40 per cent in production.

"As compared to these figures your own company is ahead of last year's production for the same period by five per cent. With the exception of two days lost running time in the last part of March we have worked full time. These figures speak for themselves.

In Nov. 1944 the destroyer USS Higbee, first combat ship to be named for a woman of the service, was launched at Bath, Maine, in honor of Lenah S. Higbee, second superintendent of the Nurse Corps.

all continually raiding me and my settlement. And, scalp tingling, I always was in the very thick of battle, rushing pell-mell for dering-do, trusty flintlock in hand and it loaded for bear.

But these Last Stands of mine almost wore me down to a state of desperation. They were so frustrating. I almost got to laying for those redskins, things got so disappointing. I would draw a dis bead on the most hideous buck in the gang, brace myself and arrive at the moment when I was letting him have it—and, snap! the confounded thing wouldn't fire. Or the barrel would simply wilt in my hands.

Then I would mount my nightmare and ride off in all directions with the whole tribe at my heels. I would save the settlement but only through ignominious flight.

Now tell me that a dream such as this suggested that I wasn't intended to be an Indian-fighter if any Indians had been around. Or that I was an arrant coward. Or that it was something that I et.

And I will tell you, you may be right on all three counts. But I still say I pulled the trigger before pulling for the tall timber—and what do you make of that?

OH, WELL . . .
Frustrated by your inability to recall some name or date or incident? Take this sage advice given here recently:

"If you try to think of something and can't remember it, you might as well forget it."

TRUTHFULLY TACTFUL
Then there is the story of the society matron who was quite disappointed with her new photo at an exclusive studio. "Why, that picture's simply terrible. Now I ask you, does it look like me?"

The guy that had "shot" her and at the moment had a strong desire to repeat that performance with telling reality was flustered for a moment but quickly rallied his wits about him. "Madam," said he, bowing to just the proper angle, "the answer is in the negative."

Jackson Receives Planning Help

Frankfort, May 8—The Kentucky Department of Economic Development has contracted to provide the City of Jackson with technical assistance on planning and zoning matters.

The department's assistance is designed, in part, to help Jackson meet federal requirements as the site of a low-rent housing project. Jackson also is considering an urban renewal project under federal sponsorship.

Studies to be made under the contract, signed by Dr. Clyde Bays, chairman of the recently created Jackson Planning and Zoning Commission and Economic Development Commissioner George W. Hubley, Jr., will concern zoning maps and ordinances, land use, a city base map, and other technical features of the city's planning program.

Jackson, the county seat of Breathitt County, has a population of about 2,100. It is the 33rd Kentucky city to draw on the department's Planning and Zoning for assistance.

WHAS, first radio broadcasting station in Kentucky, was established in Louisville, 1922.

Nine of Floyd county's young men who joined the United States Army Reserve under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 have completed their six months tour of active duty. The remainder of their obligation, for a total of six years service, will be in the reserves as an active member in a local unit. These men are members of Co. B 336 Eng. Battalion (AMBT) which meets each Tuesday night at the Reserve Armory in Prestonsburg. The men reported to Fort Knox for their basic training and spent the remainder of the six months in a school or assigned to an unit at some other post in the U. S. From left to right, in front row, are Roger Colvin, Robert Ranier, and Billy R. Tussey; back row, Thomas Hatfield, Carl Scutcheff, and Ancil Miller.

By 2nd Lt. DARL GENE HANEY

The first Navy nurses to serve outside the U. S., reported to the Philippines in 1910, and shortly after to Guam, Honolulu, Yokohama, Samoa, Virgin Islands and Cuba.

Floyd county's Army Reserve Unit invites you to become a member. If you are under 26 years of age and have not served in some service of the armed forces, you have an obligation to fulfill at some time in the future. This obligation is satisfied by serving two years in the Army as a draftee or in the service of your choice as an enlistee. You do not have to spend two years of your life doing a job you do not want to have to spend two years of your life doing a job you do not enjoy.

The Reserves Forces Act of August 9, 1955, enables you to fulfill your obligation by spending only 6 months away from your home and job. If you are between the ages of 17½ and 26 years of age, you may enlist in your local reserve unit. If you have not completed high school, you have one year to do so before serving your 6 months. If you have completed high school or are not attending, you will be called in approximately four months. After you have completed your six months, you will remain active in a reserve unit wherever you live for the remainder of a six-year period. A member of the Reserve is expected to attend 48 drills each year for which he will receive one day's pay according to his rank for each drill. There will be two weeks of summer camp each year with full pay. Your reserve obligation does not limit your place of residence.

Stop at your local armory, the building formerly occupied by the Chrysler-Plymouth dealers and learn how you can fulfill your obligation to your country and remain at home.

Your Local Reserve Unit is Co. "B", 336th Engineer Bn. (Combat) (Hv. Const.) commanded by 1st Lt. Charles J. McNally. The weekly drills are held each Tuesday evening from 7:30 until 9:30. Membership in this unit will permit you to receive training in heavy equipment operation and maintenance, carpentry, electricity, demolitions and explosives and many other engineering phases plus the administrative and supply functions.

At present, the reserve quota is filled; however, you should visit the armory and learn of the opportunities that are offered. Watch your local paper to learn when recruits will again be accepted into the reserves.

Heat Wave 10 Years Ago Caused Quick Diagnosis Of Killer of Children

Thanks to a heat wave in 1948, doctors have a powerful new weapon against a disease which once killed almost 6,000 children a year.

The disease, described in the May Reader's Digest, is cystic fibrosis of the pancreas—C/F for short. Writer James C. G. Coniff, whose own son was killed by C/F, calls it a raid on the baby's whole system of tear, saliva, mucus and perspiration glands. The victims often suffocate, their lungs too clogged to receive any air. In hot weather, they collapse of heat prostration.

There still is no known cure for the disease, but doctors know how to neutralize some of its effects. If the disease is found quickly enough, experts say, they can keep 50 to 60 per cent of C/F sufferers alive, while $200,000 research program hunts for a cure.

It was the vital weapon of quick diagnosis which was found at Columbia-Presbyterian Babies Hospital in New York during the 1948 heat wave. Ten children were brought in with heat prostration—five of them known C/F cases. Dr. Paul A. diSant' Agnese analyzed their sweat and found a tell-tale difference: the C/F children's was far higher in salt content.

The test, refined at Children's Medical Center in Boston, now makes it possible to diagnose C/F instantly with 99 per cent accuracy, by pressing the child's hand into a dish of red jelly. And once discovered, he may be kept alive, while the research program goes on, under auspices of the three-year-old National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, of Philadelphia.

The article "C/F—Mystery killer of Children", is condensed from the week-end magazine section of the New York World Telegram and Sun.

Two More "Unknown Soldiers" To Be Buried At Arlington

On the afternoon of Memorial Day, two more unidentified American servicemen will be laid to rest beside the Unknown Soldier of World War I in our national cemetery at Arlington, Virginia, across the Potomac River from Washington, D. C.

The body of a man who died in the Second World War, and one killed in Korea will be interred beside the original Unknown Soldier. Their crypts will be marked only with the dates of the wars in which they died. The May Reader's Digest, reporting on plans for the ceremony, says there had been various proposals for elaborate new tombs . . . but "happily" these were brushed aside in favor of simple dignity.

Some had even recommended changing the classic inscription on the Unknown Soldier's tomb: "Here Lies In Honored Glory An American Soldier, Known But to God." But there will be no change. Only the dates, "1917-1918" will be added. The process of selecting bodies for the nation's highest posthumous honors will begin soon, says writer Don Wharton. All the unidentified dead from Korea were buried in Hawaii—so that choice is simple. But the unidentified dead of World War II are buried in more than 400 cemeteries on five continents and scores of islands. One body will be chosen as a result of three selections, in Hawaii, France and on a cruiser at sea.

Then will come the reception in Washington, 48 hours of lying in state at the Capitol, and the impressive ceremonies at Arlington. After which, the nation's grief will give way to prayers that this need never happen again.

Wharton's article is titled—"Known But to God."

NEW NAME FOR PARK HONORS JENNY WILEY

Gov. A. B. Chandler directed the state Department of Conservation last week to change the name of Dewey Lake State Park to Jenny Wiley State Park. The change had been advocated for months and carries the endorsement of several area newspapers and civic organizations.

No date has been set for the formal name-changing. Name plates, highway markers and other identifying material will have to be changed but it was indicated by a department spokesman that this would be done soon.

Proposals to change the name to honor Eastern Kentucky's pioneer heroine were sought in resolutions introduced in the last Legislature by Reps. Sam Hale and Ann B. Hall, of Floyd county, and Jack Sowards, of Fike county, but the measure reached only a second reading and failed to be called for its third reading and final vote in the last few hectic days of the session.

Conservation Commissioner Laban Jackson, while on a tour of Dewey Lake State Park a few weeks ago, indicated the desirability of a change in names, and said:

"In selling tourism you have to dramatize something. The story of Jenny Wiley is a dramatic story." The name change does not effect Dewey Dam and it remains the same. Congressional approval, it is said, would be necessary to do that. The dam got its name from the postoffice of Dewey in the Johns Creek area when the Corps of Engineers, for want of a better name, designated the huge construction job as the Dewey project.

Perhaps no border heroine story is more dramatic than that of Jenny Wiley, native of Southwest Virginia who was captured by a mixed band of Indians, Oct. 1, 1789, and after witnessing the murder of her children and brother was carried into captivity in the Big Sandy. She escaped to Harman's Station at the mouth of Johns Creek in a few months, was reunited with her husband, Thomas Wiley, and later they settled in Johnson county where she died in 1831.

Her captivity was the subject of a pageant during the Sesquicentennial here in 1950 in which the lead part was played by a direct descendant.

HUNTING, FISHING FEES TO GO UP, JUNE 19th

Acting under a law passed by the 1958 Legislature, the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission last Wednesday set the type and cost schedule for various hunting and fishing licenses in Kentucky following an executive session of the Commission held at Kentucky Lake.

The Commission, under the act, was required to set up the schedule which will become effective June 19, 1958.

After the June 19 date both hunting and fishing licenses will cost $3 a year for residents, plus an additional 25 cents which will be collected by the county clerks as their fee. The clerk's fee on all other licenses also will be added to the original cost of the licenses, the Commission announced.

The Commission also set the cost of deer hunting tags this year. For a resident hunter the fee will be $10, plus the 50-cent fee of the county clerk, while the cost of a tag for a non-resident will be $25, plus the 50-cent fee. Deer hunters must also have a legal hunting license, in addition to the tag. The type and cost schedule for all other licenses was readopted as presently effective by the Commission, with, however, the clerk's fee added.

A regulation effective June 19 also was adopted at the Kentucky Lake meeting allowing persons to seine and sell minnows from the Ohio river only where a seine 30 feet long, six feet high and with a mesh not larger than one-fourth inch may be used. In all other state waters a seine of not more than 10 feet in length, four feet deep and with a mesh of not more than one-fourth inch may be used by a seiner who is gathering minnows for his own use. None may be sold and not more than 500 may be seined. The size of minnow traps the Commission rules, must not be more than three feet long, 18 inches in diameter and with openings not larger than one inch.

The Commission also ordered the issuing of a regulation governing and describing all types of field trials which may be held by clubs or individuals.

Note was taken of pollution cases. It was pointed out that in acute cases of pollution (where fish are being killed instantly) the Department will prosecute the offender. Other cases will be turned over, however, to the recently re-organized Water Pollution Board for handling.

The squirrel hunting season was set up in two phases again this year with the first phase opening on August 15 and continuing through October 15. The other phase will open with the regular small game season which has not yet been determined.

A regulation was adopted allowing a coon dog owner to train and exercise his dog. This period opens on July 1 and continues through October 19. No coons may be taken in any manner

REGIONAL TRACK
The annual Eastern Kentucky regional high school track meet will be reeled off on the high school oval in Elkhorn City, Friday at 10 a.m. with 16 schools participating.

Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Paintsville, Belfry, Whitesburg, Jenkins, M. C. Napier, Hazard, Fleming-Neon, Elkhorn City, Martin, Dunham, Flat Gap, Virgie, Johns Creek and Combs Memorial will battle for the crown currently held by the Paintsville Tigers.

The regional run-offs will also serve as the official meet of the four-sport Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference, if one of its ten members wins the meet. If not, the school with the highest number of points at the end of meet will be declared the official 1958 loop track champion.

Inclement weather has delayed all outside practice sessions and it is highly doubtful if any regional records will be broken in Friday's meet.

First and second place winners in the regional will qualify for entrance into the state track meet, which will be held on Stoll Field in Lexington, May 16 and 17.

OFF THE HOOK: Here's a rhyme I like. "When time has flown . . . get it back by phone!" Ever let an important date, anniversary or appointment slip by? Really puts us on the spot! Luckily, we can always phone. Just a call can get us "off the hook." Lets the person we almost forgot know in a fast, friendly way that we did remember. Sure is nice to be able to reach for a phone, for business or pleasure, across the nation or just around the corner, any day, anywhere!

... WHEN DO sweet dreams become a nightmare? When you need the convenience of a bedroom extension! It's real livin' to have extension phones in your home where they're handiest—in bedrooms, kitchen or den. Lots of fun to choose them in decorator colors to go with furnishings, too. And they cost less than a nickel a day each, or several for less than the cost of your main phone. To order the extensions you need, just give us a ring.

WHAT COULD BE NICER? Mother's Day is next Sunday. How about giving her an extension telephone in her favorite color—to save her time and steps all through the whole year.

CALLING BY NUMBER is the quickest way to get Long Distance calls through. To help you find the numbers you call most often, jot them down in your "Blue Book." If you don't have one, it's yours for the asking. Just call our Business Office.

Accidents Claim Five Times More Men Than Women

More males than females are born each year in the United States.

Just why, then, are there more women than men later on in life? Why the female superiority—numerically, that is—when it comes to find a husband?

"One reason," the National Safety Council says, "is because males 15-24 years of age—the age when they're either thinking of getting married someday or counting the days till the big event—are being killed in accidents almost five times as fast as females."

The Council isn't necessarily trying to promote matches between the sexes. It is concerned, though, with keeping people alive.

A recent estimate put the U. S. population at about 84,858,000 males and 86,371,000 females—about one and a half million more gals than guys.

"Men have always died at a faster rate than women, perhaps largely because of the more hazardous tasks they undertake and their chance-taking nature," the Council said.

"But men, especially those in the 15-24 age group, are dying far, far too rapidly."

Statistics for a recent year turned up these facts on the 15-24 age group:

1. Accidents of all types take the lives of nearly five males for every female.

2. More than eight out of 10 persons killed in motor vehicle mishaps are males.

3. Almost seven out of eight persons killed in non-motor vehicular mishaps are males.

4. The young people are seven times as likely to die in an accident than from cancer, the No. 2 cause of death to persons in the category.

Both sexes are living longer today than their grandparents did, the Council noted, but the so-called weaker sex has widened the gap.

Thirty years ago, the average white female lived about three years longer than the average white male.

Today, she can expect to outlive her man by more than six years.

One reason women outlive men today, the Council pointed out, is because they have benefited more than men from discoveries and innovations in the medical field.

Another reason suggested by the Council: They have been more careful working and playing than men, and technological and social changes have made women's work easier and safer.

"Regardless of what stage of life you're at—the marriageable stage, the married stage or the aging stage—it's smart to keep your men alive," the Council said.

"Don't let your boyfriend or hubby overdo things, whether it's a minor repair job around the house or a long vacation drive.

"Make sure he keeps a light foot on the accelerator, and that he's not distracted into a collision by annoyance in the car or angered into an accident by a family spat.

"Keep the men alive, gals—because the supply isn't keeping up with the demand."

ALCOHOL BODY TELLS FACTS

Functions of Group Not Understood by All Of Kentucky's Citizens

By J. COLLIS RINGO
Executive Director Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

Some misunderstanding has arisen concerning functions of the Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism. Apparently some people have the impression it is a temperance organization, some that it is advocating a reform movement, others that it is a publicity organization. To set the record straight the Commission presents the following facts:

The Commission does not advocate, neither does it condemn the use of alcoholic beverages. It is neither wet nor dry. It has little interest in the 35,000,000 total abstainers in the United States nor the 60,000,000 individuals who are apparently normal drinkers.

Its chief concern is for the 4,500,000 to 5,000,000 who have become compulsive drinkers.

A compulsive drinker, one who drinks even when he knows he or she should not, when it interferes with family relationship, job, business and health, is an alcoholic.

An alcoholic is a sick person. An alcoholic can be helped and is worth helping. There are 60,000 alcoholics in Kentucky, by the Jellinek estimate.

The Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism was appointed by Governor Chandler as a nonpartisan, non-political group. It's entire effort is directed toward helping the alcoholic, informing his family and friends that an alcoholic is ill. When the general public accepts this concept, which has already been accepted and openly declared by the American Medical Association as true, it will recognize alcoholism as one of the most serious health and social problems of our times.

When people who sympathize with alcoholics can agree that the cause of alcoholism is to be found in people and not in bottles the Commission's program of education for the prevention of alcoholism will become far more effective.

It is obviously impossible to hospitalize and treat the great number of persons affected. Some must be but the vast majority can be helped without physical treatment.

Alcoholics Anonymous is convincing that alcoholics can be changed from deviant personalities into responsible, useful, normal people. Research by the scientist will eventually solve the baffling puzzle: Is alcoholism mental, chemical or a combination of both? Until the solution is found early detection and self diagnosis are imperative.

John Crittenden Was Kentucky's 16th Governor

By CHARLES F. HINDS
Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky Historical Society

Frankfort, May 7 — The name, John J. Crittenden, Governor of Kentucky, 1848-50, was one to be reckoned with in state and national politics for over a half century. Long a Whig and supporter of Henry Clay, he and Clay fell out in 1848 when Crittenden supported Taylor instead of Clay for President of the United States, an act which Clay forgave only on the latter's death bed.

Crittenden was born in Woodford county in 1787, the son of John and Judith Harris Crittenden. He was educated in Kentucky schools and at Washington University and William and Mary. He studied law under George M. Bibb, and upon being admitted to the bar, began his practice in Woodford county. Shortly afterward he moved to Russellville, where he gained a considerable reputation as a lawyer.

Prior to and during the War of 1812, he served successively as aide-de-camp to General Sam Hopkins and to Governor Charles Scott and Isaac Shelby. In 1811 he entered the political arena for the first time and was sent to the legislature from Logan County. This marked the beginning of a varied and important political career which saw Crittenden in the Kentucky legislature 1811-17, 1825, 1829-32, in Congress 1818-19, 1841, 1848, 1855-63, as District Attorney and Secretary of State (Kentucky), and as Attorney General of the United States 1841, 1850-53.

Crittenden was conservative in his views. On the slavery issue, he worked with Henry Clay and others to effect a compromise between the Northern and Southern factions. Failing to check the extremists, he lived to see the beginnings of the fratricidal conflict and his influence persuasive in Kentucky's refusal to leave the Union and join the Confederate states.

As the war progressed, he opposed any move on the part of the North to conquer or subjugate the South. By 1863, the year of his death in Frankfort, Crittenden was finding acts of the national government to his distaste, but he died full of hope that the union of the United States would not perish in the struggle and that the rights of the seceding states would emerge unimpaired.

Frankfort, May 8—Unemployment insurance payments jumped more than $1,000,000 from March to April, figures released by Economic Security Commissioner Vergo Barnes showed.

The payments totaled $4,932,876 in March. The payments for April were $6,138,119.

The number of persons receiving unemployment insurance in Kentucky nearly doubled from last April to this April. A year ago the average number of unemployed getting jobless pay checks in April was 37,668. This April the number rose to 65,599.

Barnes said, "Our unemployment picture is worse now than at any time since the insurance program was started. This means that it is worse than it has been since the darker days of the depression in the early 1930's."
