This Town— That World

WORK TO BE DONE
Governor Chandler not too long ago appointed a Guard-Rail Commission. The idea, as we recall it, was to start making Eastern Kentucky's narrow, crooked roads safer by the installation of guard railing at points of danger. We suggest, among others, the Maytown hill for consideration. Two have already died at the same spot there.

It has been said the work of placing guard rails at every danger point on roads of this area would cost the state $2,000,000. We maintain that's a price not too high to pay for the saving of human lives.

TROUBLE AHEAD
A great truth has made its way into our ken. It is this:
The golden age in any couple's lives is when the children are too old for a baby-sitter and not old enough to drive the family car.

I trow, I know not what will be the upshot of a third member of our sizeable brood taking over at the wheel. High prices and income not commensurate to said high prices rule out the purchase of another buggy. Still, there are places to go, and they still charge gasoline, and one divided by four is not only going to run the tires off the car—it will keep three grounded a good part of the time.

But why do I dissertate at such length? Already I know the answer to this problem.

The youngsters will put their old man on his feet again.

BIG BASS ON WAY OUT
The Division of Game & Fish is engaged in a process of slow attrition of the large bass in Dewey Lake. Here's how.

FOUR ISSUES UP FOR VOTE

November Balloting To Elect Congressman, Name Board Members

Four issues will be settled by the balloting at the general election, Nov. 4, on three separate ballots.

Countywide, the main ballot will bear the names of the two Congressional candidates, Carl D. Perkins, Democrat, and E. L. "Bud" Rayburn, Republican. It also will include the question of issuing bonds for the building of a new courthouse and jail.

In Educational Division No. 1 another ballot will offer the names of opposing candidates, Ray Howard and Bill Arnold Spradlin, for member of the Floyd County Board of Education. The school ballot in Educational Division No. 2 will also bear the names of two candidates for Board of Education—John G. Hall and Dr. J. H. Allen.

In the part of Prestonsburg that is included in Educational Division 1 the voters will have three ballots to consider, since a separate ballot will submit to them the question of a bond issue for a swimming pool here. This bond issue would provide $99,500 for the Prestonsburg project.

Of all the issues involved, the election of two school board members has created most interest. Otherwise, the pre-election campaign is almost as dull as the 1958 primary when neither Congressional candidate had opposition.

197 CASES DOCKETED FOR NOVEMBER TRIAL

44 OF CASES INVOLVE RUM; 1 FOR MURDER

Jurors Listed To Serve During November Session; Terms To Begin Nov. 10th

One hundred ninety-seven cases are listed on the docket prepared for the Floyd circuit court term which will convene here, Nov. 10.

Of these, 44 are liquor cases. Sixteen of the 44 are set for trial on one day, Nov. 20.

Eleven grand larceny and 12 breaking and entering defendants are booked for trial during the term. Only four cases alleging carrying concealed deadly weapons remain on the docket.

The one murder case on the court's work schedule is a holdover from several months ago. The defendant is Joe Allen, accused of the slaying of Roland Cline.

Thirty cases are set for trial the first day of the term; 40 on Nov. 11, 29 on Nov. 12, 20 on each of three days, Nov. 16, 17 and 18, 19, 10 on the 19th, 18 Nov. 20, three on Nov. 24, two the following day, one on the 26th and four on the last day of the term, Nov. 28.

Names of jurors announced for service during the term were announced this week by Circuit Clerk Henry Stephenson. They are:

Rosa Burchett, Water Gap; Willie Adkins, Galveston; Walter Martin, Wayland; D. F. Shepherd, Hueysville; Bruce Hall, Galveston; Geo. Messer, Estill; Robert Newsome, Grethel; Hazel M. Tackett, Honaiker; Jack Fitch, Hueysville; Anna E. Hale, West Prestonsburg; Lena Steele, Betsy Layne; John Sexton, Hueysville; Carrie Hall, Hueysville; Bud Handshoe, Hueysville; Mrs. Woodrow Greenwade, Prestonsburg; Jeff Jervis, Endicott; Virginia Allen, Hueysville; Mrs. Ollie Vanderpool, Garrett; Clyde Jarrell, Emma; Chester Hamilton, Teaberry; Mrs. Felix Scott, Garrett; Mrs. Moses Kitchen, East Point; Mrs. Mae Cecil, Harold; Sallie Scutchfield, Water Gap; Mrs. Squire Lowne, Wayland; Anna Love, Prestonsburg; Flora Lafferty, Allen; Robert Martin, Wayland; H. Baisden, Water Gap; Bill Gunnells, Langley; Ellen Patton, Estill; Cody Gibson, Wayland; Herald Hall, Melvin; Lenora Hamilton, Beaver; Geo. Burchett, Harold; John Shell, Lancer.

GIRL KILLED SIX INJURED

At Maytown, Saturday, In Automobile Mishap; Wet Pavement, Blamed

A Pikeville high school girl was killed and six other young people from Pikeville were injured Saturday morning when the auto they were driving to a Presbyterian church rally at Hazard skidded on the Maytown hill and plunged approximately 75 feet down the hillside.

The victim, 14-year-old Grace Forsythe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forsythe, was dead on arrival at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, of internal injuries.

State Trooper Bill Williamson said he learned that she was sitting in the rear seat, at the right side of the car, which was next to the declivity, and that she either jumped or was thrown from the auto as it left the highway.

A blacktopped highway rendered slippery by rain was blamed for the wreck.

The tragedy occurred a short distance below the crest of the hill overlooking Maytown. The road up the hill has no guard-rail protection, it was said, although some such protection is afforded at the curve at the base of the hill.

It was the second auto death at this point, which also has been the scene of several other wrecks. The injured, all from Pikeville, are: William Bradley Stone, 16, driver of the car; Patty Pauley, 16; Edith Justice, 16; Paye Farley, 17; Joyce Lowe, 17; Betty Muncy, 17.

All six were treated for minor lacerations and bruises.

Steele Damage Suit Against Greyhound Set During Month

Set for retrial this month in the Morgan circuit court at West Liberty is the $114,100 damage suit filed against the Greyhound Bus Company by Warren Steele, of Louisville, former Floyd county man.

Steele's suit was filed after his wife, a former Hazard teacher, was killed and he was seriously injured when his auto and a Greyhound bus collided at the Cottle, Morgan county, bridge on US 460 last year.

First trial of the case resulted last May in a "hung" jury.

YEGGS STEAL RAILWAY SAFE

C. & O. Depot at Wayland Entered Wednesday Night; Other Places Burglarized

Burglaries became frequent in the Beaver Creek area within the week, and one of these Wednesday night featured the theft of a 500-pound safe from the C. & O. railway depot at Wayland.

The missing safe was found this morning (Thursday) on a spur track, about 100 feet from the depot, by a trackman.

Special C. & O. investigators found that a lock had been broken on the station door and that the safe had been dumped outside, then skidded down the rails to the point where it was found. The safe door was damaged by efforts to open it which apparently were unsuccessful.

R. M. Hall, C. & O. agent at Wayland, said the safe contained two checks and $21.99 in cash.

The station was broken into last week. The only missing item was a hatchet.

A report received here this morning said the Fountain at Wayland also was burglarized Wednesday night. The Dollar General Store at Martin was broken into the same night. The cash register was rifled and about $15 in cash taken. It was not known if any merchandise was missing.

THIRD ANNUAL BOOK EXHIBIT

Scheduled Here, Nov. 3; Other County Locations Announced By Librarian

The third annual Floyd County Book Fair will open at the Prestonsburg high school, Monday, Nov. 3, according to an announcement by Mrs. Evelyn Salisbury, librarian of the grade school. The books are scheduled to continue showing in six other locations following their initial display here, she said.

"Books on Exhibit," a collection for schools and libraries, from the nation's better publishers, is a cooperative promotional enterprise designed to meet the need of schools and libraries for a truly representative collection as they are published. The display here will be the first showing in the country of the 1958-'59 collection, Mrs. Salisbury said.

The "Books on Exhibit" showing of 550 volumes will be added to by Robert Wallace, regional Bookmobile Librarian. Wallace's exhibit will consist of a collection of volumes on science, depicting the "Traveling High School Science Library" works (See Story No. 5, Page 2)

Foreman's Club Sates Meeting At Sea Cafe

The Sea Cafe in Martin, will be the meeting place of members of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company Foreman's Club, Friday, Oct. 24, at 6:30 p.m. it was announced this week.

E. O. Ray, program chairman, has announced that the speaker will be Jim Tilton, mining engineer for the Equitable Gas Company, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. His subject will be concerned with drilling in areas underlain with coal beds of commercial thickness and the effects of surface subsidence on gas transmission system. Mr. Tilton has made an extensive study of the mutual problems of the two industries.

BUS STOP FOR AREA TOURING PARTY

This was the scene as the party of officials and industrialists touring Eastern Kentucky arrived at Lancer last Thursday. Mayor Bill Napier, foreground, right, and others from Prestonsburg joined the party there, and visited Dewey Lake before coming to Prestonsburg. The tour was sponsored by the Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission of which B. F. Reed, of Drift, is chairman.

"The tour opened our eyes," said high-ranking officials. Leaving here, the party went to Paintsville where the tour ended.

GIRL SCOUTS IN RALLY DAY

129 Girls Gather Here Oct. 11; W'wright and Paintsville Win Honors

One hundred twenty-nine Girl Scouts and Brownies from Floyd county attended the annual Sandy Valley Rally Day held October 11, at Prestonsburg high school. About 253 girls and leaders from 20 troops spent the day folk-dancing, singing and displaying the projects they had worked on the past year.

Wheelwright Intermediate Troop No. 33, won second place honors for its projects. First place went to Troop No. 39 at Paintsville, and third went to Troop No. 8, Paintsville.

Troop No. 44 of Paintsville opened the program with a color ceremony. Troop 33 of Wheelwright had the closing ceremony. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Russell Preston, of Paintsville, Council program chairman. Members of her committee were the district chairman, Mrs. William Clarke, Pikeville, Mrs. Woodrow Burchett, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Arthur Bradburn, Wheelwright, and Mrs. George Grubb, Jr., of Paintsville. Folk dancing was under the leadership of Mrs. Chalmers Frazier, Prestonsburg. Brownie games were supervised by Mrs. W. R. Burgess, of Wheelwright. A picnic lunch was enjoyed on the school grounds.

Troop attendance honors went to Troop 33 of Wheelwright with 24 girls present, and community honors went to Paintsville with 67 present. Three attending troops had 17 girls present. The girls were welcomed by the Council president, Mrs. Harry Laviers, of Paintsville, and Mrs. Zella Archer, executive director of the Council.

Magoffin Beaver Colony Dams One Eastern Kentucky Stream

A Magoffin county man, while cutting tobacco recently on his Middle Fork of Licking River farm, two miles from Salyersville, observed that for some unaccountable reason the stream was backing up as if a dam had been erected.

Investigation revealed there was a dam—built by a colony of beavers, estimated to contain 20 or more animals. The impoundment was over 20 feet long and five feet wide. Walter Dyer, who discovered it, walked across it and, noticing the typical tree cutting operations of the rodents, notified Conservation Officer Calvin Prater.

The Magoffin officer's story brought an estimated 3,000 persons to view the scene. There was a well-defined slide where the animals play at night and many small trees had been cut on the slope and dragged into the stream.

Middle of last week, the beavers as if to increase the attraction for the sightseers, started another dam below the original one. In this one they took advantage of material discarded by the State Highway Department after a bridge construction job.

"The conservation officials are much interested in this colony of beavers and are taking precautions to see that they are not molested," Bill Music, district forester here, said. He thinks there is no other dam in the state and hasn't been for years.

Ed Burke, former conservation officer here, says that several years ago there was a colony on Buckhorn Creek in Breathitt county but after a few years the animals disappeared. He recalls, too, a colony that established itself near Lackey in the early

FLOYD'S 1957 WAGES TOTAL $20,910,178.00

Floyd county had a payroll last year of $20,910,178 in industries covered by unemployment insurance. Wages paid there, which included the city of Louisville, $780,991,283, which was up from $773,879,746 the year before. Fayette was second with $93,499,969 in wages.

Elliott county stood at the bottom for all Kentucky with wages of only $108,334 and even that was down from $117,787 the preceding year for a decline of 8.9 per cent. Keeping company with Elliott were Wolfe, Owsley, Menifee and several counties with only insignificant wages paid.

Average weekly wage payments to individuals gives, perhaps, a better picture of the economic condition of the wage earners in the various counties. Harlan county had an average of $84.07 in the coal dominated counties but Floyd led here with $91.51 in the eastern section, followed by Greenup with $88.22 weekly average. The Floyd county average was $75.57, a little above the state average of $74.10. The average in Pike was $75.37. Gallatin led the state in average wage payments with $105.07.

MINE CAVE-IN CLAIMS TWO ON MIDDLE CREEK

Twelve To Leave Here Nov. 3 for Induction;

Twelve registrants with Draft Board 25 here will leave Nov. 3 for induction to the armed forces, and two days later 37—the largest group notified in several months—will leave for preinduction exams.

BURKES BUY HUTSINPILLER

Pharmacy Dept. Removal To the Fountain Korner Planned, New Owners Say

Purchase of the Hutsinpiller Drug Store by the Burke brothers, owners of the Fountain Korner here, was announced this week.

The transaction marked the end of 22 consecutive years in business here for C. L. Hutsinpiller, who established the present Hutsinpiller Drug on Court street in 1936. Before that he operated a drug store here from 1913 till 1922.

Amount involved in the purchase of the business was not disclosed.

Hutsinpiller Drug will continue to be operated by the Burke brothers, with the exception of the prescription department. Employees now working at the store will continue in their present positions, the new owners said.

The pharmacy department will be moved to the Fountain Korner, and Dr. Hutsinpiller will be the pharmacist there. New equipment for that department has been ordered, and the transfer to the Fountain Korner is expected to be made about November 1.

The Burke brothers—Hern, John, and Joe—have owned the Fountain Korner since 1948 after their return to civilian life from service in the armed forces. They have not decided if the name of the store now operated as Hutsinpiller Drug will be changed.

Commenting on the sale of his business and his future association with the new owners, Dr. Hutsinpiller said:

"First of all, I want the people of Prestonsburg and Floyd county to know that I deeply appreciate their friendship and patronage over the years. Then, too, I would like to invite all my friends to see me at the prescription department of the Fountain Korner. Certainly I wish for the Burke boys the greatest success."

BABE BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Sammons, of Graham street, announce the birth of their third son, Oct. 8, at the Prestonsburg General Hospital. The babe has been named Timothy Lee. Mrs. Sammons is the former Priscilla Layne, of Lancer.

Application For License Renewal Brings Perjury Charge, Job Loss; Case Of Mistaken Identity, Cause

Bradley Blackburn, of Mare Creek, in making a routine call to the postoffice in July to pick up an anticipated driver's license from Frankfort received instead a notice of the suspension of his license and an order to turn in his auto tags.

This was the beginning, for Blackburn, of the story of mistaken identities, that, he alleges, caused him to lose his job at a sawmill, and make necessary a number of visits to friends, the State Police and finally a lawyer.

Blackburn applied for a renewal of his driver's license July 12 and almost immediately the Division of Operators Responsibility wrote him that he was guilty of the offense of perjury for making a "false application for operators license while under revocation." Which was a big puzzle to Blackburn. He maintains he had made no false statements nor had he ever had his license revoked.

BODIES FOUND IN ABANDONED COAL WORKING

Rescuers Work Hours Reaching Bodies Under 40-Ton Fall of Rock

A 40-ton rockfall crushed to death two men in an abandoned Middle Creek coal mine, Tuesday morning.

The dead are Charlie Pennington, 65, and his neighbor, Paul Thurman Dotson, 36, whose homes are near the mine in which they were killed.

Mrs. Dollie Dotson, wife of Paul Thurman Dotson, was said to have discovered the tragedy. The two men went to the mine, early Tuesday morning, to dig coal for Pennington. Richard Shepherd told Sheriff Hershell Warrens that Mrs. Dotson became concerned when her husband failed to return home for lunch, later climbed the hillside to the mine, which is in sight of the Dotson home, and there discovered the rockfall.

At 2 p.m., Dotson's body was removed from the mine. Two hours later, the body of the older man was recovered.

It was estimated the two men had been dead from five to six hours. They had been trapped beneath a slab of sandstone approximately 30 feet long by 18 feet wide and about 18 inches thick. Dotson was found about 20 feet inside the mine; Pennington about 10 feet farther back. Rescuers expressed the opinion that

THREE PLACES WON BY TEAM

From Big Sandy Field In First-Aid Contests; Benham Team Is First

First-Aid and mine rescue teams representing the Big Sandy Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute made an excellent showing at the state-wide contests held in Lexington, October 18. The competition was with teams representing the Harlan Mining Institute, Madisonville.

In the mine rescue contest the team from Wisconsin Steel Coal Company, Benham, placed first, with the Bethlehem Mines Corporation's Mine 21, Jenkins, second, the Republic Steel Corporation, Elkhorn City, third, and the Inland Steel Company, Price, fourth.

In the first-aid contest, teams from the Big Sandy-Elkhorn field won first three places. First place team was Bethlehem Mines Corporation, Mine 21, Jenkins; second went to the preparation plant team of the Inland Steel Company, Price, and third was won by the Turner Elkhorn Mining Company, Drift.

Trophies were awarded by Mine Safety Appliances Company, United Mine Workers of America, Bituminous Casualty Corporation, National Coal Association, Old Republic Insurance Company, and the Reliance Insurance Company.

Application For License Renewal Brings Perjury Charge, Job Loss; Case Of Mistaken Identity, Cause

He wrote the Division of Public Safety about the perjury charge and inquired when as to his court record. He was particularly interested in when and where his driver's license had been revoked.

Captain C. E. Sparrow, of the Operators License Bureau, Frankfort, answered, Sept. 22.

"You have been previously notified by this department to the effect that your operator's license and any registration certificates and license plate registered in your name have been revoked for the reason that you were convicted on a charge of perjury (false application) on July 12, 1958," Sparrow wrote the puzzled Blackburn. The captain ended by advising Blackburn to contact the State Police examiner at the Circuit Clerk's office in Prestonsburg or face arrest.

7c—Vote "YES" for the COURTHOUSE—7c

WE NEED A NEW COURTHOUSE

As your County Court Clerk and custodian of your important records, I feel that Floyd county does need a new courthouse. Our present courthouse is not large enough to take care of the expanding growth of our county, it does not provide adequate space for our attorneys to abstract, and we do not have sufficient filing space for our records.

The recent flood has greatly increased the danger of an already unsafe building, and I am vitally interested in the records contained in my office because I am responsible for the safety of these records. It was indeed a blessing to be able to save them during the flood, but if the present Courthouse should burn or collapse all of these records would be destroyed. If this were to happen, there would be no record title to any of the property in this county. If the property owner had lost or misplaced his original deed, he would have no evidence of ownership of property, and I am advised by the Bar Association of this county that it would be necessary for such a property owner to establish his title in a Court of Law. Contrary to belief, THERE ARE NO DUPLICATE RECORDS OF PROPERTY OWNERSHIP KEPT IN FRANKFORT or any place else.

With the help of the records now filed in this office, many of our people have been able to establish their qualifications for Social Security and Old Age Assistance. Your records in this office are of vital importance to you and in view of this fact, we should all vote YES on NOVEMBER 4, to build a new Floyd County Courthouse.

At present we do not have a fire proof vault in this Courthouse. A new Courthouse would protect our records from the hazards of fire.

As your County Court Clerk, I feel it my duty to warn you of the perils of which your records are subject, and in the best interest of the Property Owners of this county, I URGE YOU TO VOTE YES FOR A NEW COURTHOUSE, NOVEMBER 4.

DuRAN MOORE,
County Court Clerk

COUNTY OFFICIALS ENDORSE NEW COURTHOUSE

To the Voters of Floyd County:

We, the undersigned, elected officials of Floyd county, hereby endorse the passage of the Courthouse Bond Issue. The present Courthouse and Jail are structurally unsound, and this condition constitutes a menace to the safety of not only the employees who work in these buildings, but also to all the citizens of this county who through necessity must conduct business at the courthouse.

At least two grand juries during the past year have examined the present buildings and have recommended that a new Courthouse be built. We feel that the grand juries represent a cross-section of the people of this county, and that it is incumbent upon us to take a positive stand on questions involving the welfare of this county.

We, therefore wholeheartedly urge every voter in Floyd County to VOTE YES FOR THE COURTHOUSE.

Heart Attack Sunday Claims Auxier Native, Kinner Wireman, 70

Kinner Wireman, 70 years old, Floyd native and former resident of Auxier, died of a heart attack Sunday in St. Louis, Mo.

A son of Daniel and Polly Wireman, he left this county years ago and had resided in St. Louis the last 10 years since his retirement. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Della Wireman, one son, Adrian Wireman, of St. Louis, one sister, Mrs. Alka Marie Stroufe, Orange City, Fla., and two brothers, Wilburn Wireman, of Cincinnati, and Bryan Wireman, of Chicago.

Burial was made in St. Louis.

W. B. Taylor rowed on the Harvard crew in an intercollegiate regatta in 1875 and next day won both the seven-mile walk and the three-mile walk.

RAYBOURN SAYS OPPONENT BETRAYED MINERS OF AREA

Congressman Carl Perkins has betrayed and sold out the coal miners of Eastern Kentucky, E. L. "Bud" Raybourn, of Olive Hill, told the voters of coal mining areas during his campaign this week.

Raybourn is the Republican nominee for election to represent Kentucky's 7th District in the lower House of Congress.

In talking to the voters of the coal producing areas, Raybourn said that the coal miners of Eastern Kentucky are much worse off today than when Perkins was first elected 10 years ago. On the other hand, Raybourn said that the coal business in other areas has improved since his opponent was first elected.

During the 10 years that Perkins has been in Congress, the coal business and the general economy of this area have gone down, Raybourn said. He charged that Perkins was either unable or unwilling to do anything to help the coal industry in the 7th District.

Raybourn quoted figures showing that during the first six months of 1958 coal production in Eastern Kentucky was nearly 1,000,000 tons less than during the first six months of 1957. At the same time, coal production in Western Kentucky was up almost 2,000,000 tons over the corresponding period of 1957.

The Olive Hill candidate said that these figures, released by the U. S. Department of Commerce and the coal mining industry, in combination with Perkins' record of not being able to get even one bill passed in the recent Congress was proof that Perkins is unable to use his office to help the men who work in the mines. (Adv.)

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means to express our sincere thanks for every kindness shown us on the death of our very precious son and brother, Daniel Hicks, Jr., who passed away Oct. 7.

We want to thank our wonderful neighbors and friends for the flowers, food, and everything they did to lighten our burden. We thank the ministers for their comforting words, and we especially would like to thank the Hall Bros. Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

Weekly wage averages were very low in counties like Elliott, Lawrence, Wolfe, Owsley, Jackson and other counties. Although Elliott was not at the bottom in the average column its average was only $42.87. The average in Lawrence was $43.53, in Wolfe it was only $35.84 but Monroe stood at the bottom with a weekly average of only $34.20.

"Wages and salaries paid by industries covered by Kentucky unemployment insurance law represents an important segment of the total income received by individuals in the state," the study stated. "They account for approximately 64 per cent of the wages paid by all employers, covered or uncovered, and for about 41 per cent of all personal income."

Other Eastern Kentucky counties with their wage payments in industry covered by the unemployment insurance law, follow: Johnson, $3,931,824; Magoffin, $848,465; Martin, $757,701; Leslie, $4,598,719; Knott, $1,751,719; Letcher, $14,933,024; Carter, $6,547,462; Greenup, $4,779,697; Lawrence, $1,150,307.

Users of electricity on Kentucky farms increased 19 percent in the period 1950-54; telephones, 9 percent; running water, 90 percent; home freezers, 148 percent; and TV sets, 976 percent.

approved by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Washington, D. C. The traveling volumes of the Association have been on display for four years and are part of the program to awaken the country of the need for scientific education.

The Book Fair will be open to the public from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and at nights from 7 to 9 p.m. After the display at the high school here it will reopen Wednesday, Nov. 5, at the grade school, with the same hours. Following the two showings here the fair will be at Betsy Layne, Thursday, Nov. 6; Maytown, Friday, Nov. 7; McDowell, Monday, Nov. 10; Martin, Tuesday, Nov. 11; Garrett, Wednesday, Nov. 12.

"The general public is invited to these exhibits," Mrs. Salisbury said this week. "The display is a great service to busy teachers and parents who want to select the best in new books for the children."

Father Of Floyd Man Victim In Pike County; Burial Made At Pigeon

Funeral services for Grover C. Holbrook, 75, of Pigeon, Pike county, were held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday of last week at the home. He was the father of Bill Holbrook, of Wheelwright.

Mr. Holbrook, a retired miner, died at 7:25 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 12, at the Pikeville Methodist hospital following a long illness. Born in Letcher county, he was the son of Randal and Sara Craft Holbrook. He was a member of the Regular Baptist church.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Adams Holbrook, and two other sons: Curtis Holbrook, of Jonancy, and Grover Holbrook, Ecorse, Mich. Six daughters also survive: Mrs. Sarah Jane Hall and Mrs. Lear Hall, both of Hall, Ky.; Mrs. Cora Probanz, Saginaw, Mich.; Mrs. Virgil Osborne, Columbus, O.; Mrs. Delcie Taylor, of Whitesburg, and Mrs. Bertha Brenkley, Detroit, Michigan.

The Revs. Jack Thomas, Bill Hall, R. E. Holbrook, Noah May and others officiated. Burial was made in the sword cemetery at Pigeon.

SEE THE U. S. A. IN A CHEVROLET

Big car dimensions . . . big car ride . . . big car luxuries . . . for small car prices . . . at Music-Colvin Motor Company.

Ed Music and Bert Colvin can't sing like Chevrolet's singing representatives, Pat Boone and Dinah Shore, but they can tell the public the wonderful qualities of the 1959 Chevrolet.

They can tell you that the sleek, classic lines of the Chevrolet compare to any of the high price cars; that, for cost of upkeep and maintenance, the Chevrolet is way out in front of any car, higher price or lower; that YOU can travel farther, for less, in a Chevrolet.

The Music-Colvin Motor Company has seen the need for a car such as the Chevrolet. They are making it available at prices suitable to the public.

They are building one of the foremost service departments in the country. Challie Fraley, who has been employed as the parts man, has the reputation as one of the best. Between $10,000 and $15,000 of equipment is being bought for the service department.

Music-Colvin Motor Company wants nothing but the finest. They have the best car and soon will have the best service department—for the public. They must have the best, for they believe:

"Confidence Gets Business and Satisfaction Keeps It."

80-Yr. Victim Of Rheumatic Pain

Recently an 80-year-old lady said she always enjoyed health until 3 years ago when rheumatic pains afflicted her entire right side. She said she tried everything she heard of but never got any real relief until she found RUGON. Now she says she can walk without pain and enjoys life once again.

RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this NEW Liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON at W. A. Rose Drug Co.

23 several miles from home and with no means of transportation except his car, quit driving and sought the State Police. He was told to turn his tags in. Blackburn refused and got a lawyer.

His attorney went over the case with Sparrow and after an examination of the Frankfort records it was found that there was a Bradley Blackburn who had had his license revoked in 1955 but it was Angle Bradley Blackburn, of Willow Run, Mich.

In a few days Blackburn received his driver's license and another communication from Sparrow:

"The action taken by this department against your motor vehicle operator's license and registration plates because of a conviction for driving while under the influence (sic) on 11-10-55 and a perjury charge on 7-12-58 was rescinded as the department has received evidence that the previous conviction was listed against your driving record in error through mistaken identity."

Which was what Blackburn suspected all along. However, what he wants to know now is where he can find a job.

have in an attempt to kill the shad population killed a large number of big bass. Let's say 100 bass weighing two pounds and over are killed each year, and we think that's a conservative figure. In three years 300 large bass are lost. The small bass that are left do not grow fast enough to replace those large ones that are killed; hence, the loss—and the day, if this "poisoning" is continued, when big bass will be no more in the impoundment.

UNIDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECT

We haven't had a Flying Saucer story in a long while, and this may not be one of that exact type, but we have the word of the Rev. Jonas Miller that he and five others saw enough to make them wonder.

The six were at Mr. Miller's drilling rig on Punchedon, Breathitt county, Oct. 13 when the object was spotted. A tinsmith was climbing the mast when it was spotted. Miller says he at first thought it was a parachute as it moved from the north. Vertical streaks such as might have been guy-lines were visible. But as they watched the "thing" tilted on edge, appeared to hover in a sort of circular motion, then streaked off in the direction from which it came. "Faster than any jet," Mr. Miller said.

The minister-contractor's son, Lloyd, and Eddie Ray were among the six who saw the u.f.o.

WHY?

Somebody has wondered why human beings cannot die as beautifully as the leaves. We wonder. Man who lives to the fullness of age as do the leaves becomes feeble, shrivels into a mere caricature of what he once was and in most ungraceful manner gasps his breath away. By contrast, a leaf takes on even more glorious colors as it dies, entrances the eyes of millions, and at the last flutters to the long sleep on the breath of a breeze.

Yet there is a reason, perhaps known only to God. It may be that He in His infinite wisdom foresaw that the death of an old, wrinkled, unlovely human being would create enough sorrow for this world, and that for one such to pass in the fullness of beauty would bring a grief too cruel for those left behind to bear.

TWO DIARIES

Entry in the diary of a community leader seeking a public improvement:

"Foregathered with my fellow-citizens this day to entertain visiting Big-Shot in the interest of super-highway to include Goose-Neck Hill. Succeeded, I am convinced, in making visitor feel importance, although felt like holding nose while doing so. Such is the price we pay to wheedle improvements out of these people."

Entry in the diary of official who has heard his excellence extolled and who has been wined and dined:

"Met with group today in re Goose-Neck Hill route. Was impressed by pomposity of local Big Shots as they played host. As a fairly successful politician, I succeeded, I am convinced, in making them feel I considered them important, and escaped alive by making desired promises, although I felt like holding my nose while doing so. Such is the price we pay to get their votes."

Henry Porter, of Allen, was in town Monday, looking for a foot-azze. Now, some of you smarties of the younger generation who think you've seen just about everything and know more, tell me—what is a foot-azze?

Understand Mr. Dulles fell out of bed on a plane, the other night. That should teach him to watch how he changes sides.

the younger man may have heard the beginning of the fall and to have been crushed in flight. The other, whose hearing was affected, apparently had made no attempt to escape.

Officials of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, members of the company's safety team, the Floyd County Rescue and Emergency Squad and the Sheriff's department participated in the recovery of the bodies. The huge slab of rock was broken into two parts, and one of the men lay under each part. Jacks were used to lift the weight from the bodies, then timbers held up the rock while the bodies were removed.

The mine had not been in production since World War II when the late E. P. Arnold and John Horn operated it.

Dotson was a son of the late Dr. M. T. Dotson and Eva Joseph Dotson. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dollie Stout Dotson, five daughters and two sons, Paula Carol, Doris Ann, Rosalie, Jeanie, Jeannette, Steve Edward and Paul Dean, all at home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. B. B. Shepherd, of West Prestonsburg, and three brothers, Ernest Dotson, Claypool, Ind., Lester and Ermon Dotson, both of West Prestonsburg. Funeral rites were conducted from the Dotson home today (Thursday) noon by the Rev. Ira McMillen. Burial in the Dotson family cemetery was directed by the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

The second tragedy victim was a son of the late Will and Margaret Estep Pennington, of this county. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Serilda Craft Pennington, one son, Irvin Pennington, whose address is unknown, a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Stapleton, of Paintsville and a brother, John Pennington, Middletown, Kentucky. Date of his funeral has tentatively been set for today (Thursday), it was said at the Moore Funeral Home.

In the Brownie Scout division, first place honors for troop display went to Troop 37 at Wheelwright and second place was won by Troop 15 of Prestonsburg. In the Intermediate division, special mention went to Troop 17 at David.

Troops attending from Floyd county were Wheelwright Troops 18, 33 and 37, Martin Troops 21 and 12, David Troops 26 and 17, Prestonsburg Troops 36, 7, 40, 6, 29, 15, and 2.

Registration was under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Nunnery, neighborhood chairman.

Weights and Measures
American weights and measurements were in a chaotic mess until the U. S. Bureau of Standards was created in 1901, according to the November Reader's Digest. Electric bulbs and sockets came in 175 different thread sizes—why should a company make a socket that would enable a customer to buy a competitor's light bulb? And in Brooklyn, N. Y., four different lengths were legally recognized as constituting the 12 inches of a foot.

SOME THINGS THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW

Why were Floyd County School districts so haphazardly gerry-mandered and redistricted? You already know the purpose was an attempt to strengthen the administration candidates.

The next time there is to be an election of Board Members no doubt the precincts will be shifted again into some other district. In this manner, some people may never get to vote for a Board Member.

Draw a map of the various precincts and see where you stand: Lancer is with Mud Creek, Jack Allen and Bull Creek in Right Beaver. The law says that the county shall be districted according to population and school centers.

Many people have not thought how poorly they have been treated, and the position into which they have been placed. It is plain to see that by redistricting in this manner many people will never get a chance to vote in a school election.

WHO DID IT?

The crowd that is now asking you to vote for them. Draw your own conclusion and vote for Board Members who will not take you out of the head of Beaver Creek and place you in the lower end of the county next to the Johnson county line.

SHAMEFUL

The Minimum Foundation program was enacted to increase teachers' pay. How much has the teacher's pay been increased in Floyd County?

WHAT HAPPENED?

The Superintendent, the Assistant Superintendent and the Supervisors gave themselves a big raise in salary. So big that they would not have it published in the county newspaper.

The maintenance crew that you see running around the county tacking up campaign posters gets the rest.

WE NEED A CHANGE

Teachers—we know many of you may have been threatened and told to hew to the line or else. BUT THEY CAN'T FOLLOW YOU INTO THE VOTING BOOTH!

To you teachers, who are the heart of the school system, we pledge that the Foundation Program will be run for you, and the Lee-way Fund will be used to increase your low salaries, as it was intended to be used.

To the parents we pledge that our every policy and every act will be directed toward benefitting the school child, and not the employees of the Board of Education.

The two administration candidates were on the Board and voted for:

- (1) Political districting;
- (2) Increasing the Superintendent's salary, and forgetting the teachers;
- (3) Employing their families on the too large maintenance force.

U.D.C. CHAPTER MEETS

Greenville Davidson Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, was entertained by Mrs. A. J. Davidson at her home on Highland Avenue recently. Mrs. Osa F. Ligon, the president, presided. At the business session, a balance on the Memorial building was paid by two members. Mrs. Everett Sowards, a delegate to the 62nd annual division U.D.C. convention at Mammoth Cave on Oct. 8-10, gave a report. Mrs. Sowards presided at the Real Daughters Luncheon and served on the Scrap Book judging committee with the national historian, Mrs. Elmer A. Deiss. The award was given to the Paducah chapter. At the election of Kentucky division state officers, Mrs. Sowards was elected recorder of crosses of military service. Mrs. Ligon served on the Courtesy committee.

Pictures of Mrs. Lida D. Spradlin, Mrs. A. J. Davidson, and Mrs. Lon S. Moles, the three real daughters of Confederate soldiers, were made, and will be sent to the national D.A.R. magazine for publication. At the close of the business session, Mrs. Osa F. Ligon made a gift to the chapter for four silk confederate flags in a standard, in memory of Mrs. Midge Spradlin Hensley, who never missed a meeting of the chapter since its organization. The presentation was made by Mrs. John R. Clark, of St. Albans, W. Va., who explained the use of the various flags which had been used by the Confederate army. Mrs. Davidson served a desert to Mesdames John R. Clarke, St. Albans, W. Va., Mrs. Osa F. Ligon, Tom Fields, Luther Shivel, Everett Sowards, Gwynn Ford, Lon S. Moles, Lida D. Spradlin, A. J. Davidson. Guests were Mrs. Jo Davidson, Mrs. Richard Spurlock.

Spillman, the president, called the meeting to order and gave a short devotional. Miss Francis Howland, who is the new home agent for Floyd county, was introduced and she gave the outline for the year's work at Miss Howland's suggestion the following chairmen were appointed: Reading, Mrs. H. J. Sherman; Recreation, Mrs. Buford Rollins and Mrs. Tramble Turner; Citizenship, Mrs. Carl Stewart; Publicity, Mrs. J. T. Spillman and Mrs. Carl Stewart.

It was also voted that the secretary, Mrs. Johnnie Wells, would be the club treasurer. The next meeting is to be in the home of Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, of Lackey. Luncheon was served to eight members and guest.

Not Heavy, But Powerful

In 30 years, a normal woman secretes an amount of the hormone estrogen about equal in weight to one postage stamp, says the November Reader's Digest. At puberty, an amount equal to the tiniest corner of that stamp is enough to resculpture the girl's entire body. The adrenal glands produce only a teaspoonful of hormone in a lifetime; but let them stop their tiny secretions for just a short time, and in months, a vigorous young male ages into a tottering old man.

A study by University of California engineers showed that the average person can tolerate a temperature of 2:0 degrees for about 23 minutes.

School Teachers

How much raise have you received from the minimum school foundation fund? This fund was for your benefit. If you will or can check the minutes of the school board you will find that the superintendent and certain employes have received the maximum raise. (This has not been published.) The Floyd county superintendent now receives about as much money as the Governor of the state. If you do not believe this, then ask permission to check the minutes of the board meetings—although it is doubtful if you will be allowed to do so. To top it off we have reason to believe these high salaries for the superintendent and his staff were made retroactive. IS THIS LEGAL?

MINER WINS PENSION CASE

Tilt With Mine Union By Johnson County Man Decided By High Court

A Johnson county coal miner ousted from the United Mine Workers is still entitled to a pension from the union's retirement fund, the Court of Appeals held Friday.

Elmer Daniel had been a U.M.W. member for many years. After the mine in which he was working in 1937 closed down, he worked at other jobs until about 1945, but retained his status in the union.

In 1948, after drawing benefits from the U.M.W. welfare fund, Daniel sought to have his membership transferred to Local 5834 of Thealka. The transfer was approved by U.M.W. District 30 and the local accepted Daniel's membership dues for several years.

Charges were filed to remove him from membership because he had failed to have the transfer card required by the U.M.W. constitution.

The appellate court said there is no suggestion of dishonesty on the part of Daniel and agreed with Johnson circuit court that he had been wrongfully deprived of his membership.

"In accepting him and other miners to membership without the technically required transfer card and accepting his dues thereafter," the court said, "it seems to us that the union authorities clearly waived their technical requirements and are in no position to complain about it now."

Atlanta, Oct. 15 — A man was charged with stealing his own automobile. A county grand jury indicted W. M. Wells for larceny of his car from a garage without paying for a repair bill.

County's 27 Fatalities At a Rate Higher Than That of Nation, State

(Special to The Times)
NEW YORK, Oct. 13—From an examination of federal data on accidental deaths and their causes, gathered from all parts of the country, it appears that residents of Floyd county live more dangerously.

More of them, proportionately, become involved in fatal accidents—in the home, on the job and on the highway—than do people in most other areas.

The findings are based on the annual report of the National Office of Vital Statistics, released recently. It refers to accidents befalling local people, wherever they occurred, but does not include non-residents involved in local accidents.

For the 12-month period ending January 1, 1957, the figures show, there were 27 fatalities among Floyd county residents resulting from accidents of one sort or another, with auto accidents the cause of 12 of them.

This represented a rate of 69 fatalities per 100,000 people, based on the local population.

It was above average. The rate for the rest of the country came to 56 per 100,000 people. In the state of Kentucky it amounted to 66 per cent per 100,000.

The report is of special interest at this time because of the gathering next week in Chicago of more than 12,000 safety specialists for the world's largest safety meeting, called by the National Safety Council.

They will study new methods and ideas aimed at preventing traffic and other accidents, which took 95,000 lives last year and caused injury to another 9,600,000 people.

Some 38,500 of the deaths were the result of auto accidents. The others, combined, accounted for 56,500 deaths. Chief among them were accidental falls, which took 20,222 lives. Fires and explosions were next with 6,405.

Accidents cost society over $11.9 billion last year, according to the National Safety Council. Included in this is loss of wages, medical expenses, insurance payments, reduced production, property damage and other items.

Floyd county's share of this cost, assuming it to be in direct proportion to the number of accidents, comes to $3,389,000.

New Influenza Epidemic Is Feared By Officials McGuire Stresses Care

Are we going to have another flu epidemic this year. This is a question of great concern to many people as the traditional "flu season" approaches.

J. C. McGuire, M.D., director of the State Department of Health's Bureau of Medical Services, states frankly, "We don't know. We cannot determine at this time whether an epidemic of influenza will or will not appear this fall or winter."

Should you be vaccinated against flu this year? The U. S. Public Health Service says that the practicing physicians should be the judges of whether to vaccinate individuals against influenza, but they have recommended the same priority groups as last year for special consideration. These groups include hospital staffs, persons living in crowded conditions, such as those in institutions and service groups, and persons who have a special health risk, such as the aged, chronically ill, and pregnant women. However, there is plenty of vaccine available for anyone who wishes to be immunized.

Dr. McGuire emphasized that those seeking protection against flu now should not rely on protection from vaccine taken last year, nor from an attack of flu last year. "The duration of protection from vaccine is not more than a year at most," he said. "Persons wishing to be protected against a possible outbreak this fall should be vaccinated immediately, since it takes about two weeks for full protection to be developed after the immunization is given."

The skit committee was appointed to present the work of the club at the convention.

Open house at the Drift school lunchroom will be held, Oct. 23 at 7 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Members present were Mesdames Sam Martin, Denver Shannon, Fred Cochran, Bobby Hall, Glen Ward, McKinley Little, Irvin Ward, B. F. Reed, I. E. Reed, Ben Martin, Belford Reitz, C. J. Cahill, G. W. Showers, W. L. Reed, Misses Nancy Jerome, Myrtle Rakes, and Ruby Akers.

THE SELFISH AND THE STRONG

A novel, The Selfish and the Strong, by Richard Schuster, of 391 Main St., Laconia, New Hampshire, has the Big Sandy region for locale.

and as a coincidence the author wrote of an assassination which had Pikeville residents thinking of the killing of Judge William Cecil by Thomas J. Sowards during the Civil War.

However, the writer disclaims any knowledge of the Cecil-Sowards episode in Big Sandy history and wrote Mrs. Robert Bobbitt, librarian of the Pikeville Free Public Library of some of his sources for background.

We quote from two letters of the author of The Selfish and the Strong, to Mrs. Bobbitt. The book is published by Simon & Schuster.

"I was fearful that after using the old 'Piketon' name for your city I would receive only vituperative letters from the Big Sandy region, and it reassures me now to know that not everyone holds it against me," Schuster wrote, June 12.

"The historical and geographical background for The Selfish and the Strong is based entirely upon printed sources. Much as I wanted to I was unable to make a trip to your area while I was working on the book—although that isn't entirely a bad thing because seeing a place in 1958 can often do more to confuse than clarify how it must have looked a century earlier.

"I had entirely finished the first draft before the unfortunate flood of '57. My description was based, apart from details drawn from floods in general, on three sources. There is a brief section about the flood (the flood of 1862) in the regimental history of the 40th Ohio Regiment and there is some further description in the 'Letters from the Army of Surgeon Benjamin F. Stevenson,' Stevenson was the surgeon of the 22nd Kentucky and stationed in Pikeville at the time. Beyond that there are a couple of sentences dealing with the flood in either the Official Records Ser. I Vol. VII the principal source for Garfield's campaign or possibly in Smith's (?) 2 vol., Life of Garfield, the official one done in the 20's. . . . The history of the 40th and Stevenson's letter are the two important sources giving times and heights of water, etc., as well as many interesting details of Pikeville in the winter of '61-'62. I called it Piketon . . . partially because that was the name used by Garfield and most of the Union officers at the time, and partially to avoid a second-village name (with Paintsville) so as to not to confuse readers.

"Some other useful sources on your region were a volume in the Filson Club series on Transportation in Eastern Kentucky, for the most part pre-Civil War, which was most useful in establishing the principal highway arteries; an old U. S. Geological Survey report of about 1900 which I stumbled across in the New Hampshire State Library on various forestry topics in the Cumberland Mountains—close enough to be useful, and with some very interesting photographs of typical pre-auto roads and trails. . . . Most useful of all were the U. S. G. S. quadrangle maps which I studied carefully and plotted all moves, etc., on. I could usually work out the topography and road network of the 60's without much difficulty. For the fighting itself the Official records was most important, naturally, not only Ser. I, Vols. IV and VII but those 'Grab-Bag' volumes numbered in the 50's (sic?) where some interesting letters of Humphrey Marshall can be found.

"Unfortunately I found most of the travel book material on Kentucky virtually useless (the Federal Writers Project guide, for example) because as you doubtless know the Big Sandy country is either slighted or treated as quaint in such books.

"One of the nice things about being a novelist instead of a historian is that you can simply ignore or glance over matters on which your information is either lacking or slight. (For instance, just exactly where General Marshall's entrenched camp was south of Paintsville—it was on Hager's farm but I'm not sure just where that is.) If I had been writing a formal history of Garfield's campaign I could undoubtedly have provided you with a fuller and better list of sources; this way, where resources failed, I used analogy and imagination to supply the lack. . . .

Writing Mrs. Bobbitt again, June 25, the New Hampshire novelist, said:

"One point in your letter demands an instant reply: Your attempts to track down the Hort-Carey hanging, (Mrs. Bobbitt thought that Schuster was referring to the killing of Judge Cecil by Jeff Sowards during the Civil War).

"I must say at once that the incident is fictional. The historical basis is not for the hanging but for the crime. There was a shooting comparable to the Carey-Lumsden one in Pikeville. I believe the victim was Cecil and the attacker's name was Soward but the evidence for the latter point is none too trustworthy. However, what happened to the attacker—whether he was captured and punished—I have no idea. The details of the hanging were based on an event mentioned in the History of the 40th Ohio and more fully reported in the Official Records but an event which took place nearly on the Tennessee line in the Bluegrass.

"In my source I neglected to mention a book which was less a source than an inspiration: Edmund Kirk, pseudonym for James Roberts Gilmore, 'On The Border,' Boston, Lee & Shepherd, 1867. This is a (very bad) novel about Garfield's campaign and the place where I first learned such a campaign took place. I came across Gilmore in working on my still unfinished doctorate dissertation on Civil War novels written between 1860 and 1880. As far as I know he was never in the Big Sandy region, but he knew Garfield and the novel is an early blow struck on behalf of Garfield's political future. Gilmore was one of the 1880-campaign biographers.

"Do you know, by the way, that Garfield bought considerable land along the Big Sandy as a speculation and owned some of it for some years after the war—and made a journey to look at it, in the '70's I believe, the first and only time he returned? I would suspect there are references to it in his letters and papers in the MS. Division of the Library of Congress."

Pikeville Concert Series To Present Top Artists; Appearance Date Not Set

The Pikeville concert series will present a glittering showcase of talent for the people of Eastern Kentucky.

Although the dates of appearances for the different groups have not been set, tickets are now on sale. Tickets in Prestonsburg can be procured from Mrs. Katherine Frazier.

One of the most popular of Broadway comedies is scheduled in "The Four-Poster," which starred, in New York, Rex Harrison and Lili Palmer.

Jazz enthusiasts who like their music "hot" and performed with gusto and authority can look forward to the Bernard Pfeiffer Jazz Trio. Pfeiffer is the British counterpart to America's Dave Brubeck and Erroll Garner.

Following in line with top-rate artists are the Frankel and Ryder Dance team which has made appearances on the Perry Como show and other top-flight network mainstays. The eight in this group, in competition with other dance groups, has won many awards in dance competition.

Completing the schedule will be a baritone, yet to be named, who will sing selections from "Oklahoma" and other Broadway musicals which have since toured the country.

FOREST NOTES

By Bill Music, District Forester

"Smokey, the Fire Prevention Bear, was at the booth of the Division of Forestry throughout the entire Floyd County Fair. He was in fine fettle, welcoming a record crowd, meeting the citizens of the county and talking to the school children and many visitors.

Smokey is never happier than when he is getting his fire prevention message before the public and he talked to thousands of fair-goers. He sang songs, kidded the children and asked everybody to, "Be sure your match is out, don't throw away lighted cigarettes and help me to prevent forest fires."

Smokey gave away chances on a free drawing for a Smokey Bear Doll. Over 5,000 were interested enough to enter their names. At the close of the fair Smokey asked little Patty Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leach, to assist him in drawing the name of the winner. The name of Sharon Kay Sammons, of East Point, was drawn and the Smokey Bear Talking Doll will be mailed to her.

Smokey commented that the Floyd County Fair was the best he had ever attended. He promised to be back next year and expressed the wish that Floyd county would have a favorable fire season.

Life Insurance Unit Leads Production Here; Ted Adams Is Manager

Homer D. Parker, executive vice-president in charge of the sales division of the Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville, announced recently that the Big Sandy District had established a production record in the "World Series Jam-boree", a company-wide four-week production campaign ending September 26.

During the final week of this campaign, the Big Sandy district produced more than a million dollars worth of ordinary business. This is the first time in the entire history of the company that any agency or district has accomplished this feat.

The total production of the Big Sandy district for the campaign was well in excess of 2½ million. The Big Sandy district, under the management of John T. Parker, maintains offices in Pikeville. The local manager of the Prestonsburg office of the company is Ted Adams with a personnel of seven men on his staff.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held its regular monthly meeting in the church basement, Thursday evening. Mrs. Raymond Hopson and Bonnie and Mrs. Elizabeth Allen were hostesses. Mrs. George Patton was program leader on the program, "Christian Concerns of North American Neighbors." Those participating on the program were Mesdames Henry L. May, Thurnal Click, Howard Ramey, H. M. Wiley, Thomas Patrick, Baisden Osborne and Misses Linda Maggard, Bonnie Hopson and Kathy Patton. At the close of the program, a very enlightening film was shown on "It's a Busy Life".

The Society was pleased to have the Garrett Woman's Society of Christian Service represented. All the Societies in this district are participating in the visiting program which has been requested by the district president.

The World Banks were collected as they will be each quarter. Books on "Methodism in Alaska and Hawaii" were distributed. It is hoped the entire church will participate in this study course which will start later in the month.

It was voted to support the church extension program again this year. Mrs. H. M. Wiley will be in charge of the Week of Prayer meeting hour. Mrs. Patrick, who is the secretary of spiritual life, distributed cards for prayer fellowship which were signed and returned.

Following the business meeting, the hostesses served refreshments, with the Halloween motif, of the 23 members and guests, Mesdames Charles Hornsby, Otis Kilburn, and C. D. Francis, of Garrett, and Rev. H. M. Wiley, Ray Osborne, and David Spencer.

TEACHERS WORKSHOP

Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ousley, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ramey, Mrs. Thomas Patrick, Mrs. George Patton and Marcella Patton attended the teachers workshop at the First Methodist Church in Prestonsburg, Monday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Wiley are spending their vacation at Niagara Falls, N. Y., parts of Canada and with Mrs. J. T. Bodenheimer in Freeburn, Ky.

Mrs. Beulah Williamson, Canada, Ky., and Mrs. Jess Estep, Van Lear, were visiting Mrs. Lucy Patton and family last week.

Mrs. Amanda Patton and Bill Post were honored for their birthdays with a dinner at their home Sunday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ousley, and Randy, Mr. and Mrs. George Patton, Kathy, Paul and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hicks, Jr., Stan and Patricia Anne, Mrs. Bill Post, Billie Jean and Brenda, Marcella Patton and David, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Patton and children, Mrs. Lucy Patton, Mrs. George A. May, Jr., and Mrs. Pearl Shepherd.

BOOK FAIR SCHEDULED

A library meeting was held at the Martin high school Friday afternoon, when plans for this year's book fair were made. The book fair will be held at the Maytown school Friday, November 7. Parents are invited to attend and see the exhibits either during the day or in the evening.

Layman's Day was observed in the Methodist Church Sunday morning. Herbert Ousley, Arnold Maggard, Howard Ramey and T. C. May conducted the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurnal Click and Stannie were shopping in Huntington, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cassidy are visiting their son, Austin, in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Roberts, Linda and Becky spent several days last week at Smoky Mountain National Park and Cherokee, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. May were business visitors in Huntington, Friday.

Peggy Sue Allen, who is a senior at University of Kentucky this year, spent the week-end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George E. Allen. She was accompanied home by Miss Marion Van Horne, of Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. May spent the week-end in Ashland with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Killen.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ramey and Stannie and Mr. and Mrs. Thurnal Click were visiting Glennis Ramey at Morehead College, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sutton have been visiting relatives in Ashland, Buchanan, Ky., and Nitro, W. Va.

Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, Kathy Patton, Noma Jean Allen and Corky Patton were business visitors in Huntington, Friday.

Goosie, Goosie, Gander!

Public office should be regarded as being a PUBLIC TRUST: An opportunity TO SERVE THE PEOPLE in an HONEST, EFFICIENT, and a JUST manner—not as a means to PERSONAL GAIN or as an OPPORTUNITY TO FLEECE THE PUBLIC.

The present Floyd County Superintendent of Schools has employed an office staff of seventeen people at a cost of over sixty-five thousand dollars a year.

One employee draws a reported sum in excess of eleven thousand dollars, another receives eight thousand five hundred, and many get over five thousand a year.

A visitor to the office of the superintendent will readily agree that one-half the number can do the job, and in most positions, can do them more efficiently.

The taxpayers can realize a saving of over thirty thousand dollars a year in this office alone. In an eight year period this saving would amount to over $240,000.

The present superintendent of schools has employed maintenance men at salaries ranging from three thousand to five thousand dollars a year. At one time, only forty were regularly employed, but a more recent survey reveals that this figure has reached fifty and is growing rapidly; in fact, by "leaps and bounds". Taxpayers pay this "maintenance crew" a gross salary of over one-hundred forty thousand dollars a year. In an eight year period this figure would climb to over one million dollars. Ten maintenance workers, at the very most, are all who are needed to do the job. Three of every four now employed should be removed from the payroll. This would make possible a saving of $105,000 a year. The taxpayers would realize a saving of $840,000 in an eight year period.

The present superintendent of Floyd county schools has arranged to provide the maintenance crew free transportation at a cost of approximately twenty thousand dollars a year to the taxpaying public of Floyd county.

By free transportation for maintenance men, I mean: the superintendent has purchased over twenty automobiles (sedan cars, sedan deliveries, jeeps, pickups, and trucks) which are used by the maintenance men to drive to and from home and the job at a cost to Floyd county taxpayers.

These automobiles are kept overnight at the homes of the various drivers. Each morning these vehicles are driven from the home to the school bus garage at Allen, Kentucky where an assembly is held. Each is dispatched to the various spots of the county—(many times they "back-track" themselves.) Around 3:00 o'clock in the evening the automobiles are again driven to the assembly place at Allen where they are checked for performance, worn tires, gas, oil, grease and mechanical repairs. Then the driver again "heads for home." The next day the same "ceremony" is performed.

Five of these vehicles go in the same direction up Right Beaver each day and three goes up Left Beaver each day. If the superintendent is determined to provide free transportation for these men, it seems that a better solution would be to provide a bus and one driver to deliver and to pick up these men and save the "wear and tear" and expense of operating the other vehicles. Better still—let each man be responsible for providing his own transportation and save the taxpayers the total of $20,000 a year or $160,000 over the eight year period.

Over one thousand children of school age are, on an average, absent from school each day in Floyd county. The State Department of Education, under the Foundation Program, allocates the Floyd county school system approximately eighty cents a day per child in average daily attendance. This means that our school system loses over eight hundred dollars a day due to poor attendance. This in reality is a loss of over one hundred thirty seven thousand dollars a school year.

Floyd county needs these children in school, not only from the standpoint of saving the taxpayers money, but to insure these children of an opportunity to get an education.

Fellow citizens, the present Floyd county school administration is wasting over $292,000 of your tax money a year. Over two million dollars will have gone "begging" during these past eight years and even more could be mis-used if the present administration is permitted to continue the pace which has been set these past few years.

May I ask of you—Give our educational program some serious thought, inquire of your friends and neighbors about the present existing conditions in our school system. Talk with the teachers about the well-being of your boys and girls, see the need for a change in school policy and in administrative leadership, and if you are dissatisfied we shall appreciate your considering RAY HOWARD and JOHN G. HALL to be members of the Board of Education in District One and Two.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN GIVEN HIGHWAY POST

Frankfort, Oct. 16 — Rural Highway Commissioner Mack Walters confirmed Thursday that he has hired former Congressman Joe B. Bates to do "field work" at $600 a month.

He said that, for administrative reasons, he would prefer to wait until later to spell out Bates' duties. Personnel records showed the Greenup attorney was placed on the payroll last Thursday.

Walters declined to discuss reports he planned a general shake-up in his division, saying only he wanted a staff that shared his views.

Late in the day, however, Governor Chandler gave up his approval for the transfer of Robert E. Barnard, deputy rural-highway commissioner, to the Department of Motor Transportation, effective Friday.

Martin S. Petty, motor-transportation commissioner, said Barnard would be a deputy commissioner in charge of field work. Delmer Ison is a career deputy commissioner in the department.

Petty explained that the law provided for two deputy commissioners in motor transportation and that Barnard would be filling a vacancy. His salary will be $730 a month, the same he received as deputy rural-highway commissioner.

Walters became rural-highway commissioner October 1 after the resignation of J. B. Wells. Barnard had served as Wells' deputy since early in the Chandler administration. His home is at Mount Sterling.

Chandler emphasized that Barnard was shifting to motor transportation because Petty wanted him and asked for him. He said also that the hiring of Bates was Walters' idea.

"The heads of the departments choose their own men," he said. Bates served as congressman from the old Eighth District from 1938 until the Redistricting Act of 1952 placed him in the Fifth District, stronghold of Representative Brent Spence.

He twice lost in efforts to return to Washington, first to Spence in 1952 and then to former Senator Earle Clements in 1956.

In the latter race, Bates had the backing of Chandler. The two men shared political ill feelings toward Clements.

Clements won renomination despite Bates' Administration backing, but was defeated in the general election by Republican Thurston Morton.

Bates then was brought into the State Administration as special counsel for the Public Service Commission at $400 a month. The job did not require his presence in Frankfort.

During an economy shake-up in the Public Service Commission July 1 Bates' job was eliminated, but he was made a field investigator at $240 a month. He quit that position to take the rural-highway post.

MARTIN

The regular monthly meeting of the W. S. C. S. of the Martin Methodist Church met in the church basement. The president, Iola Crisp, in charge of the business meeting. It was decided to have a spaghetti dinner, Oct. 23. The program was titled, "Christian Concerns of North American Neighbors." Hostesses for the evening were Gladys Frazier and Jerry Martin. Those present were Tina Allen, Charlene Maddox, Iola Crisp, Minnie Frye, Edna Babb, Artie Marrs, Ena Straub, Dorothy Allen, Gladys Frazier and Jerry Martin.

PICK JILLSON TO HEAD KHS

Frankfort Historian Defeats Dr. Clark For Vice-Presidency

Dr. Willard Rouse Jillson, former Prestonsburg resident, but now of Frankfort, was named first vice-president, the highest elective office of the Kentucky Historical Society, Friday, October 10.

Jillson defeated Dr. Thomas Clark, Lexington historian and head of the Department of History of the University of Kentucky, in a heated meeting of the historical group that lasted one and one-half hours.

The first vice-presidency is the highest elective office of the society, since Governor Chandler is ex-officio president. Dr. Jillson, former State geologist, is a widely known historian.

The vote was 30 to 29 for Dr. Jillson over Dr. Clark came at the end of a rousing 1½-hour session in the senate Chamber of the old State Capitol Building.

The annual meeting to elect new officers opened with Dr. Jillson presiding as chairman because of the disabling illness of George L. Fowler, outgoing first vice-president.

At the front table were several hundred proxies sent in by members unable to attend. Most of these designated society director Charles F. Hinds to cast their votes for them.

Hinds, along with others in the society, had been working quietly for weeks to achieve what they called a "revitalization" of the society by electing as first vice-president Dr. Clark, head of the history department at the University of Kentucky.

The "old-guard" officers got wind of this and came well-armed to fight, bringing an opinion from the office of Attorney General Jo M. Ferguson to the effect that proxy votes were not authorized by the society's constitution or by laws by state statutes governing eleemosynary corporations.

A motion by the pro-Jillson faction to bar all proxy votes in electing new officers brought a 30-to-30 tie, which Dr. Jillson broke by voting to throw out the proxies.

Dr. Jillson also ruled during the tie vote that the two sons of executive-committee member, Harry H. Harned, 12 and 9, could not vote on the ground that "they are infants." The two boys, Houston and Mac Harned, were voting to count the proxies.

Came the scrap over the election itself.

A nominating committee appointed by Dr. Jillson reported a slate headed by Dr. Jillson as first vice-president.

From the floor, I. C. James, president of Harrodsburg Historical Society, nominated an opposing slate headed by Dr. Clark.

For a brief while the old Senate Chamber rang with flowery oratory as various members rose to extol the virtues of their respective choices.

James proposed, in the interest of democratic fair play, that each of the opposing offices be voted on separately.

This was rejected by Dr. Jillson on the ground that "we never have done it that way, and besides it takes too long."

Then came the vote—30 for Dr. Jillson and 29 for Dr. Clark, with Dr. Jillson again ruling that the two Harned boys were ineligible to vote.

Besides Dr. Jillson, the new officers are Cassius M. Clay, Paris, second vice-president; Stephen L. Blakley, Covington, third vice-president, and these members of the executive committee:

Mrs. William B. Ardery, Paris; Lucien Beckner, Louisville; Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Lexington; Mrs. E. C. O'Rear, II, Versailles, and Mrs. W. F. Sutterling, W. A. Wentworth, Mrs. Charles N. Hobson, and Harned, all of Frankfort.

Kentucky 18th Among States In Alcoholics

By J. COLLIS RINGO, Executive Director Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

An article in the September 12 issue of the Louisville Times by Lorenzo Martin, Washington correspondent, quoted recently released statistical figures showing Kentucky ranked 18th among the states in alcoholics.

In total population of people over 21, Kentucky is ranked 30th and is 40th in per capita intake of "total absolute alcohol."

This apparent discrepancy is hard to explain. On the face of these figures it would seem that Kentuckians don't drink as much as people in 38 other states but are affected worse than the population in 18 of these states.

It has been suggested that a possible explanation of variation from the rule that "hard drinking states have the largest number of alcoholics and states with lower consumption figures show lower rates of alcoholism," is illegal source of supply. The figures of 1.25 U. S. gallons of total "absolute alcohol" consumption per capita in Kentucky, is arrived at by computing the sales of all alcoholic beverages for tax purposes.

Kentucky has long been legendary for its "moonshine." Kentucky federal court dockets invariably have a number of cases charged with possession of untaxed beverage alcohol and illegal distilling. From the figures quoted by Mr. Martin it would appear that Kentucky not only is the leading state in the production of Bourbon but is a leader in producing moonshine. Raids by alcohol in Kentucky is not uncommon.

Repeated studies have shown that an alcoholic, a compulsive drinker, loses all sense of discrimination. If a supply of liquor is not available, he will drink lemon extract, bay rum, shaving lotion, anything that contains alcohol. This compulsion is so great he will do without food or shelter, sell anything he possesses, to obtain alcohol. This is the late stage of the illness. An understanding that it actually is an illness, that the alcoholic is a sick person, that treatment, not punishment, is needed, is a necessary step toward the eventual solution of the problem.

Treatment facilities for alcoholics are now available.

The USDA livestock branch now has jurisdiction over livestock transactions in interstate commerce.

State Farm Production Showing Steady Decline

Lexington, Ky. — Kentucky's farm population is showing a steady decline, says Wilmer Browning, Kentucky Agricultural Extension economist.

In the last 35 years, he says, farm population has dropped from more than one-half the total population in the state to less than one-third of the total population. Kentucky's farm population over the past 35 years has decreased in actual numbers by about one-half million people.

This change, plus others, indicate the changes taking place in Kentucky agriculture.

In 1950, he says, Kentucky had 218,000 farms averaging about 89 acres per farm; in 1954, it had 193,000 farms averaging 93 acres per farm. More than half the decline in number of farms from 1950-1954 was in farms of from 10 to 50 acres. Farms of 260 acres and above gained in numbers by about 15 per cent during the same period. Only 20 per cent of Kentucky farms were operated by tenants in 1954. The number of farms operated by tenants of farms operated by tenants has declined over a period of years.

Seventy-two per cent of Kentucky's farms had a gross income of $2,500 or less in 1954. Per capita farm income in Kentucky averages $364 (1950-1955) while non-farm income averaged $1,614 per person or $1,250 higher on a per capita basis. The average United States per capita farm income over the same period was slightly above $900 while United States average non-farm income averaged slightly above $2,000 per capita.

"DEVIL ANSE" HATFIELD AND HIS WIFE, LOUVICA CHAFIN HATFIELD

William Anderson Hatfield, leader of his clan in the Hatfield-McCoy feud, was born in Logan county, W. Va., Sept. 9, 1839. He served for a while in a Confederate regiment in the Civil War with the rank of captain but later organized the Logan Wildcats, an independent group that operated on the Kentucky-West Virginia border.

Johnson (Johnse) Hatfield, son of the feud leader, was tried in Prestonsburg in 1898 for the murder of Allifair McCoy on Blackberry Creek. He was defended by the late Walter S. Harkins. Sentenced to life in the penitentiary, Johnse served a few years and was pardoned by Lieut. Gov. Thorne while Gov. J. C. W. Beckham was out of the state.

Devil Anse died at home on Island Creek, Logan county, W. Va., Jan. 6, 1921, and the largest gathering that ever assembled at a mountain funeral attended the final obsequies. It was necessary to run special trains from Logan to carry the passengers.

The above picture, never before published, was taken in 1909 at the Island Creek home of the clan chieftain.

The history of our region, much of it colorful, is very revealing in old pictures preserved from the past. The First National Bank presents a series of them in recognition of our historic heritage.

H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

BOY OR GIRL away at school? Bet you'd like to hear first-hand about football practice . . . the science quiz . . . or the sorority dance. And wouldn't Billy or Susie welcome the sound of a voice from home! Then why not schedule a regular weekly get-together by phone—a good way to shorten the miles and make home ties stronger. And remember Long Distance rates are low, especially when you call after six or on Sundays. So talk to them often . . . and talk as long as you like.

HERE'S A TIME-SAVING TIP: To help those Long Distance calls go through faster, be sure to give the operator the out-of-town number, if you know it. If you do not have a handy Blue Book for jotting down frequently called numbers, we'll be glad to furnish one without cost on request.

AND ONE FOR CONVENIENCE: If you do much traveling, either for business or pleasure, why not get a Long Distance credit card? Then you can charge calls made from any telephone, anywhere, with no trouble, no charge, no delay.

"It's fun to phone, especially on the pretty new pink extension in Mommy's bedroom."

EAGLES START NET PRACTISE

Triplet, Hill Nucelus Of Team as Rebuilding Job Being Undertaken

The high-flying Eagles of Morehead State College opened practice last Thursday in preparation for a 24-game schedule, with only two starters back from last season's second-place O.V.C. team.

This will be a rebuilding year for the Rowan county school since three starters were lost via the graduation route. Included in the trio were All-American Steve Hamilton, Dave Keleher and Bernie Shimfessel. Thus coach Bobby Laughlin will rely on the progress of five untried sophomores.

The nucleus of this season's team will be forward Thornton Hill, 6-6 senior from West Liberty, and guard Herbie Triplett, 5-8 junior ball-handling specialist from Inez.

Hill, a rugged rebounder, was the team's leading field goal shooter last season with a percentage of 46 and he posted 298 points for a 12.9 per game average.

The diminutive Triplett excels in a jumping one-hander back of the foul circle and hits well with his two-hander from outside. His speed and ball-handling is the key to the Eagles' fast-breaking attack.

Filling the center slot, a guard spot and the forward position will be Laughlin's chief worry from now until the opening game with Morris Harvey at home on December 1.

Battling for a starting guard berth will be Henderson "Hecky" Thompson, a 5-11 sophomore from Stockdale, Ohio, and a brother of former Eagle guard Kenny Thompson; Sophomore Granville Williams, an ex-Hindman high school star and Claude Sallee, junior from Jackson.

Expected to get the center assignment is Jim Harrison, 6-9, 190-pound native of Vicco, who played his high school basketball in Cincinnati. If the agile hook-shooting artist fails to jell, sophomore Arthur Cole, 6-6 Marmago ace, may get the nod.

The other forward position will be filled by an inexperienced candidate picked from seniors Gerald Yentes or Sam VanHook, both 6-5, 190-lb. non-letter seniors, or Tom Hamilton, "little" 6-7 brother of Steve Hamilton. Tom, a sophomore Charlestown, Indiana, product, can shoot on a par with his All-American brother, but may not have the rebounding stamina until he becomes more experienced.

Rounding out the eleven-player squad is Dale Fair, six-foot-four senior from Morehead, where he played in high school with Breckinridge Training.

Morehead's Eagles, under the five-year tutelage of Coach Bobby Laughlin, have won two of the past three Ohio Valley Conference Championships.

Pioneer Cemetery, Harrodsburg, contains more than 500 graves of early settlers. Near the middle of the cemetery is the marked grave of the first white child who died in the settlement.

BIG—BUT NOT THAT BIG

The bass wasn't so big the efforts of all three of these fellows were required to hold it up, but it was big. To be exact, it weighed six pounds, four ounces. The fish was landed on a fly-rod popper by James Clark, Jr. (left, the man with his fist in the fish's mouth). His Dewey Lake fishing companions on that occasion and numerous others were John Warrix, center, and Bill Pettrey, at right.

UNSCORED-ON BELFRY DEFEATS CATS, 13 to 0

This is the "week of decision" for the Belfry and Jenkins high school football teams.

Irvin Wilson's Pirates marched to their seventh consecutive victory Saturday night with a two-touchdown fourth quarter rally to nip Prestonsburg 13-0 and protect their unblemished goal line.

The Jenkins Cavaliers rolled to their fifth consecutive triumph in bowling over Elkhorn City 37-6 as fullback Tommy Brush and halfback Ross Chaney scored at will.

Thus the stage is set for Friday night when Belfry is host to Jenkins in the climatic action in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference. Currently Belfry is 5-0, same as Hazard, in the league standings and Jenkins is 5-1, having bowed only to Jim Caudill's Bulldogs.

Hazard was handed its first defeat of the year by upset-minded Somerset 7-6. The "Briar Jumpers" marched 90 yards with the opening kickoff and scored on a 15-yard pass play from quarterback Wilson Sears to James Harris. Joe Brown booted the all-important extra point.

Later in the initial quarter Hazard soared back with a 45-yard drive, climaxed by Astor Sizemore's four-yard run, but his attempted place kick for the point was wide.

Harold Sullivan, speedy 155-pound junior halfback, tallied two touchdowns in the final quarter to lead Belfry over Prestonsburg for victory number seven.

Arch rivals Whitesburg and Fleming collided for the 35th time Saturday night with Fleming registering a 26-6 triumph. Jack Hall's charges scored one in the first, one in the second and two in the third quarter before Ronnie Frazier plunged over in the fourth for Whitesburg's lone tally.

Quarterback Danny Tackett twice hit end Gabe Slusher with 10 and 45-yard passes in Fleming's first scoring efforts. Danny Quillen's extra point made the halftime margin 13-0 Fleming.

Foreign Scientific Aid Contract Renegotiated

The University of Kentucky's multi-million dollar contract to provide engineering and scientific aid to the University of Indonesia at Bandung has been renegotiated and extended, and its value has been increased by $1,119,300.

Signing of the new contract was announced last week by Dr. Merl Baker, co-ordinator of the agreement, which is between UK and the International Co-operation Administration, an agency of the United States State Department.

Under the new provisions, UK will send 20 professors in various fields of science to the Bandung school. Seventeen are already there.

FOOTBALL CLASSES

If the proposed play-off system for determining Kentucky high school football champions is adopted next season, the Eastern Kentucky football schools would be placed in these classes.

Class AA (enrollment of 275 or more students in grades 10-12)—Prestonsburg, Belfry, Elkhorn City, M. C. Napier, Whitesburg, Fleming and Wheelwright; Class A (Less than 275 students in grades 10-12)—Hazard, Paintsville, Jenkins and Pikeville.

The Eastern Kentucky regional high school cross country meet will be held at the Morehead College course, Saturday, November 1. Other regional sites will be Paducah, Bowling Green, Louisville, Bellevue and Berea.

The state cross country run is scheduled for Lexington, Saturday, November 15.

Belfry's five Kentucky opponents, Pikeville, Napier, Elkhorn City, Paintsville and Prestonsburg, have won a combined total of 12 football games, while Friday's opponent, Jenkins has romped over their last five E.K.M.C. opponents, who have won a combined total of 13 games.

Social Note — Ex-Prestonsburg high cage chief, Jack F. Wells, will be married in Frankfort, Friday, to Miss Dorothy Carter, Pikeville. They will live in Prestonsburg.

One of the officiating oddities of the high school football season cropped up in the Prestonsburg-Belfry game last Saturday night when the Black Cats had the ball on the Belfry eight-yard line.

On first down and goal to go, Halfback Willie Ousley, the ball carrier, was assessed 15 yards for offensive holding in one of the most freakish penalties of recent years. There is such a rule in the books, but this particular call was made by the umpire on the opposite side of the line from which the play occurred. Ousley was sweeping the end behind guard Henry Hughes and touched Hughes' back, and the official interpreted this as "offensive holding."

Prestonsburg cage chief, Bill Goebel, Jr., is in the planning stage of arranging a four-team invitational tournament for the latter part of January in the Prestonsburg gym, Teams under consideration other than the Black Cats are Martin, Hindman and Oil Springs.

Modern Family + All-Electric Home = BETTER LIVING

Here is what the Arnold J. Kiessling family has to say about modern all-electric living:

Mr. Kiessling—"Electric heat has spoiled me. It's worry-free, there's no work connected with it and it's no more expensive than other kinds of heating."

Mrs. Kiessling—"You will look a long time before finding anyone who appreciates electrical appliances more than I do. They are important to the welfare of our large family."

Nancy—"My pride and joy is the dishwasher. It gets everything clean and shiny easier and faster."

Reita—"We think all of our appliances have a hand in making things a great deal easier on all of us."

Judy—"Our electric washer and dryer makes doing our large washes so simple that any of us can do one in no time at all."

David—"Big thing I notice is that there's not too much work for me to do around this house."

There certainly doesn't seem to be any doubt about how the Kiessling family feels living the all-electric way. You can enjoy the same comforts and conveniences. Your electric appliance dealer is ready to offer helpful suggestions. Why not see him soon?

In less than 100 years, the great Arctic ice sheet may break up and disappear, says an article in the November Reader's Digest. The ice sheet is melting, and some scientists now believe that ultimately it will become open sea, breeding blizzards which will send great glaciers creeping southward across Canada just as they did 11,000 years ago.

WAYLAND

CLUB MEETS

The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club met October 13 in the Clubhouse for its regular program meeting.

The club collect was led by Mrs. J. T. Spillman. She also urged every one to observe National Bible Week.

The program for the meeting was "Encouraging young people to enter the nursing profession." The program leader was Mrs. Gene Mullins, and Mrs. Mullins had talked with several of the seniors of the two high schools, and found several of the girls to be interested in entering the nursing profession.

The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. B. Price.

NEW SOCIAL SECURITY LAW REVISES MARITAL PROVISIONS

By Thomas E. Thompson (Manager of the Pikeville Social Security District Office)

Ever since the enactment of the original social security law, marriage or remarriage has often been a reason for ending social security benefit payment to dependents or survivors of insured workers. The law, as recently amended, however, removes some of the restrictions.

For example, Mrs. Florence Jackson, 64, was widowed 2 years ago. She has continued to live in the home she and her husband bought after their marriage, and has been receiving $81.40 a month as social security widow's benefit. Naturally, she's been lonely and has welcomed the friendship of Frank Brown, a lifelong neighbor. Frank, 72, and a widower for many years, lives in a small furnished room, on the income from the monthly social security check paid to him because he was dependent upon his son, Bill, when Bill died a number of years ago.

Recently, it has occurred to Mrs. Jackson and Mr. Brown that it would be both pleasant and sensible for them to marry and spend their remaining years together. Until just a month or so ago, however, their marriage would have meant financial disaster because it would end social security payments for both of them. Under the provisions of the social security law, benefits paid to the dependents of a worker—to his child, to his widow (or widower), or to an aged dependent parent—stop when that dependent marries.

A change in the social security law will now make it possible for them to go ahead with their marriage plans. Under this revision, a dependent's social security benefit payments will not stop if he or she marries another person who is also receiving social security payments as a dependent. A woman receiving widow's benefits can therefore marry a person who, like Mr. Brown, is getting dependents' parent's benefits, or she can marry someone who is eligible for benefits as a dependent widower or as a disabled son or daughter of a retired or deceased worker. Marriage to a person who is not receiving social security benefits will still end the benefits (present and future) or a dependent-beneficiary. But another change in the law will help dependent-beneficiaries who marry persons who are now or who may soon be getting old-age insurance or disability insurance benefits. Until now, such marriage would have ended the dependent's benefits and he or she would have had to wait at least 3 years to get benefits as a dependent of the new spouse, or in the event of his death, she would not have been able to qualify for benefits as his widow unless the marriage had been in effect for at least 1 year.

The 1958 amendments to the law remove these periods. Someone like Mrs. Jackson could therefore marry a man who is getting old-age insurance benefits and qualify immediately for wife's benefits based on his social security account.

In the first article of this series, I touched briefly on the increased benefit amount provided by the 1958 amendments to the social security law. In my next article, I shall discuss social security benefits in more detail.

1. The present School Administration is now paying teachers the highest salaries in Floyd county history.
2. $30,000.00 worth of Free Materials were made available to Floyd county pupils this year. This is but the beginning of the program to be expanded in the future.
3. Our teachers have become better teachers through encouragement to further their education by increased salaries, in Service Training Programs and extensive reading.
4. Every effort has been made to retain all qualified Floyd county teachers. Those who have chosen to work elsewhere have been repeatedly urged to return. See Floyd County Times News Story.
5. This Administration, more than any other, has attempted to aid needy children so they might stay in school.
6. All profits of the lunchroom program are converted into free meals for children unable to pay. Last year free meals averaged 1,490 per day.
7. Attendance in Floyd county is above the state average, above the national average and is the best in Floyd county history. Thanks to teachers and efficient attendance workers.
8. Teachers know better than anyone else, whether they have had good democratic leadership. Ask them.
9. By investigation, we find that Floyd county boys and girls are entering college in larger numbers than ever and doing well. Thanks to an improved school program.
10. Idle, reckless, irresponsible promises will not educate children. "Ours" can promise anything. We, who expect to be charged with the responsibility of fulfillment, cannot and will not make reckless promises.

DOCTORS FIND PLAIN TALK HELP MORE THAN MEDICINE

Doctors are finding that, in many cases, what a patient does not know CAN harm him—that a few minutes of plain talk sometimes do more good than expensive medicines.

So writes Lawrence Galton in the November Reader's Digest. In the past, many doctors thought it bad practice, for example, to tell hypertension patients how high their blood pressure was. Now, a number of doctors are teaching patients how to take their own blood pressure, and how much medicine is needed to bring it down. A University of Michigan specialist, treating 50 patients this way reports: The old atmosphere of secrecy made patients anxious, and the anxiety raised pressure. Now, no longer anxious because of ignorance, patients are keeping their pressure under control with minimum use of drugs.

On other grounds, too, some doctors now urge abandonment of the traditional secrecy. People travel more than they used to, and may be stricken far from home. There have been cases where, uninformed about past illnesses and operations, individuals could not give doctors any clues as to what ailed them. There have been some fatal mistakes.

In a few cases, secrecy may be wiser, Galton says. Some people, lacking emotional stability, may take bad news hard, lose the will to live, even commit suicide. But more and more physicians believe these people are in a minority — that most patients will bear up well, and actually worry more if they are kept in the dark.

The A.M.A. Journal commented recently: "One of the most important responsibilities of the physician is to allay the patient's fear. Much can be done by taking the time to explain.

The article, "How Much Should Your Doctor Tell You?" is condensed from Household.

Farmers Could Increase Income With Nut Crops

Kentucky has one natural resource which is largely unnoticed and undeveloped—the nut tree. So says the State Agricultural Development Division, which is endeavoring to create a greater industrial market for the Commonwealth's agricultural output. For this purpose the division, a unit of the Economic Development Department, was created in 1956 by Governor A. B. Chandler.

Nut trees have played an important role in Kentucky's history, beginning with the first settlers who lived off nut-fattened game and the nut fruit itself, says a booklet published by the division. The publication, "Nut Tree Crops in Kentucky," adds: "Kentucky has much rich hillside land which is classified as wasteland. When this is used for tree nut production, it yields a cash crop and comes under good conservation practices."

If the some 20 million pounds of black walnuts produced in Kentucky each year were harvested, they would return farmers about $1,000,000 in additional income. Nut tree development would add to diversification of agriculture which has raised farm income during recent years. Kentucky's 200,000 farms have an average of six nut trees each. If their output was harvested, it would provide farmers with enough income to pay all their county and state real property taxes.

The booklet, available from the department, lists principal users of tree nuts, prices paid, market outlook, growing instructions, and descriptions of the various kinds of nuts produced in Kentucky.

The information was compiled by William L. Wiesman, agricultural economist and assistant director of the division; Thomas Zarger, Tennessee Valley Authority staff forester; Spencer Chase, secretary of the Northern Nut Growers Assn., Knoxville, Tenn.; and W. D. Armstrong, horticulturist, Western Kentucky Experiment Sub-station, Princeton.

WHEELWRIGHT SCHOOL GROUP EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

For many years, we of the P.-T.A., along with other members of the community, have worked hard and done many things to improve our schools. It has been a difficult matter to staff our schools with teachers and to maintain that staff because of a natural scarcity of teachers and because of the higher salaries they can command in the surrounding states. And we feel we have today, one of the best schools in Floyd County with the finest staff of teachers ever. We have also prided ourselves on our community as being a truly model coal mining community and the most complete modern community in Eastern Kentucky. It has taken us a long time to accomplish these things. Yet a slight misunderstanding, some quick tempers and sudden rash actions have seriously jeopardized the results of years of effort. The unfavorable dramatic publicity has damaged our reputation of fine people in a model community, and this damage cannot be repaired overnight. Should our teachers decide to leave, it would not be surprising; and how would we ever replace them and with what kind of teachers? In this world of ever keener competition, our child's future well-being is in serious danger because of a few "hot heads."

Those of us who have been in contact with school activities over the years realize that our principal, Mr. Boone Hall, has made numerous improvements in our schools in the few years he has been here. His modesty has prevented him from advertising his accomplishments, but you need only visit the classrooms or talk to your teachers to learn of many of them.

We feel certain that the vast majority of the people in this area do not stand for lawlessness, violence and anarchy but are honest, peace-loving citizens who recognize a right way and a wrong way of resolving differences. Regardless of the issues, mob rule in our country should not be tolerated. Let us make known to those who would create dissension that we are vigorously opposed to the tactics which have been used, and let us make known to our school authorities that we are fully behind them in their stand in this matter.

Kenton Painted Lashed To Wild Indian Horse

By CHARLES F. HINDS
 Secretary-Treasurer
 Kentucky Historical Society

"Simon Kenton's Ride," a large painting by William Walcutt, is one of the favorite exhibits on display in the Old State Capitol to some 12,000 children who visit the Kentucky Historical Society each year in school groups.

Walcutt's painting was based on lithographs drawn by two famous European artists, Jean Francois Millet and Karl Bodmer, and published by them in 1852 under the title, "Mazeppa American." Millet drew the Indian figures and that of Simon Kenton stripped to the waist and lashed to a wild horse. Bodmer, a Swiss artist, the only one of the two who had seen and studied Indians in America, drew the horse and the landscape. Walcutt's deviations from the original are in favor of a more naturalistic handling of the scene.

The capture of Kaskaskia by George Rogers Clark in the summer of 1778 hired Colonel John Bowman of Kentucky to carry the War of the American Revolution to the Shawnee allies of the British in Ohio. With this in mind, Simon Kenton and two others were sent to spy out the Shawnees at Chillicothe.

Not content with obtaining the necessary military information Bowman would need for his expedition, the three scouts commandeered seven of the finest Indian horses they could find. The Indians followed in quick pursuit, captured Kenton and killed one of the scouts, the third one getting away.

The Shawnees tortured Kenton and, then, one, Bonah by name, said, "Young Man, didn't you know it was wrong to steal Indian's horses? Don't you know the Great Spirit doesn't love people that steal?" This was followed by a beating by Bonah and his Indian comrades.

The following day was reserved for a special kind of torture to suit the offense. Simon Kenton was lashed to the back of an unbroken, three-year-old horse, which was turned loose with its unwilling rider through the thick undergrowth and forest, a cruel scourge which became known far and wide on the frontier. This was the famous "Mazeppa American" or "Simon Kenton's Ride," as it is better known in America.

Two Research Grants Awarded U.K. Professor

Two research grants totaling $51,176 have been awarded to Dr. Morris Scherago, head of the Department of Bacteriology at the University of Kentucky.

Announcement of the grants was made by Dean M. M. White, of the College of Arts and Sciences and Dr. Merl Baker, director of the Kentucky Research Foundation. The KRF will administer the contract.

One of the grants involves a study of the sensitivity of leucocytes, or white blood corpuscles, to the products of microorganisms. Worth $7,916 over a three year-period, it was given by the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases. The other grant is from the Kentucky Heart Association.

New Geological Map Marks Green-co. Wells

Issuance of a new map showing the location of oil and gas wells in Green County has been announced by Dr. Wallace W. Hagan, director of the Kentucky Geological Survey at the University of Kentucky.

The map shows more than 300 wells and Hagan called it "the most up-to-date map available on Green County." Copies can be purchased from the geological survey office on the University campus in Lexington.

We don't believe you gain anything at all by driving long distances to shop at BIG CITY stores. Our local sources have merchandise that's just as good and costs no more.

But merely for the sake of argument, suppose you do save a few dollars on a time-consuming trip many miles from home. And suppose you don't even count the cost of gasoline and oil, car wear, parking fees, etc. Forget, too, if you like, the hazards of driving in today's heavy highway and city traffic.

But don't overlook these things: What you buy here can be in your home in a few minutes—no waiting several days for delivery. And if the merchandise doesn't give full satisfaction, any needed service or adjustment of the purchase can be made without shipping the items back to the BIG CITY or being forced to make a second trip yourself.

Why drive scores of miles looking for trouble? Shop right around the corner and be safe and satisfied.

Landscape Notes

By Harry R. White
Assistant County Agent

It is still not late to plant flowering bulbs. October is the month when nature puts on the finest style show in the world; and it is the time for homeowners to plant bulbs of tulips, jonquils and crocus. New planting of shrubs, trees, and evergreens may be made or old plantings reworked.

Every home owner should plant some bulbous plants because they bloom so early in the spring, long before the annuals, providing marvelous effect of springtime as early as March. The crocus will even flower in the snow in early March. Bulbs should be planted in groups and should not be scattered in front of evergreens and shrubs because they are usually lost when planted in this way. Annual flowers should be set among the bulbs late in the spring to prevent bare spots in the flower borders or beds. The annuals will grow and bloom and not injure the bulbs.

Two things needed to insure success with bulbs are proper soil preparation and correct planting depth. It is good to remember that poor soil is not made any richer by setting a bulb in it. Good, live soil should be procured from a vegetable garden or tobacco field if the soil is poor where the bulbs are to be set. Other preparations include adding five pounds of superphosphate or bone meal to each 1,000 square feet and working it into the top soil.

It is also important to plant bulbs deep enough. Tulips and daffodils should be planted 5 to 7 inches deep and 7 to 8 inches apart. Smaller bulbs should be planted in groups of 3 to 6, planting only one variety in a group.

Several advantages to deep planting include, discourages multiplication of new bulbs, thus delaying the time when lifting and separating are necessary. The danger of disease is less, and by deep planting is possible to plant annuals in the same location when the tops of the bulbs die back in early summer. Bulbs planted correctly will not need a winter mulch.

Plant now and make your home and garden more beautiful with bulbs.

NEEDY HELP RISE NOTED

260,000 Needy Owe 20% of Subsistence To State Foodstuffs

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 11 — Some 260,000 needy Kentuckians owe 20 per cent of their human subsistence to the state-federal program for free surplus foodstuffs.

In terms of money this amounts to around $265 a year, retail value, to a family of five.

To qualify, this family cannot have more than $115-a-month income from all sources. Food worth $265, then, looms significant when contrasted with cash income of not more than $1,380 a year.

The program, in Kentucky, already the third largest in the South-eastern states, is being expanded. Governor Chandler recently diverted $7,400 from his emergency fund to hire more supervisors, a plan calculated to increase distribution by $1,000,000 a year.

In Kentucky, 78 counties participate in the program, but not Jefferson. Also getting surplus food are 1,400 schools, 228 charitable institutions, 92 summer camps for children, and eight child-welfare centers.

(The exact number of persons who would be eligible to receive surplus food in Jefferson county is unknown. A total of 16,781 individuals who are recipients of state public assistance and of direct aid from city and county welfare departments would be eligible if the fiscal court so certifies them. In addition the "unemployed, part-time employed, or other persons in need of food" could qualify for surplus food, but the size of this group is undetermined.)

The food is furnished from national surplus by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Distribution is administered by the State Department of Agriculture. Recipients are needy families in 78 counties, the lunch menus in 1,400 schools, 228 charitable institutions, 92 summer camps for children, and eight child-welfare centers.

According to figures shown by Thomas A. Lewis, director of the program, in the year ending June 30 Kentucky received 969 carloads containing 35,830,694 pounds of food with wholesale value of $7,307,757. Mississippi was highest in the Southeast, with 1,983 carloads. Tennessee was second, with 1,126 carloads.

Six nourishing staples are issued to needy families and institutions. The same staples are issued to schools, but are supplemented with fresh fruit in season, canned vegetables, and frozen meat and fowl. A qualifying family of five receive the following issue of food once a month:

Cheese, 2 pounds a person; powdered milk, 3 pounds each; rice, one pound each; meal, 4 pounds each; flour, 4 pounds each; butter, 1 1/2 pounds each.

The wholesale value of these rations to the family are: cheese, $54; milk, $43.20; rice, $6.60; meal, $16.80; flour, $20.16; butter, $62.40. The wholesale total of $203.16, if marked up 30 cents, becomes around $265 at the retail level.

Needy individuals accounted for 25,382,230 pounds of surplus in the year ending June 30, with wholesale value of $4,363,835. Institutions accounted for 2,271,288 pounds; wholesale value, $481,276. Schools accounted for 8,177,176 pounds; wholesale value, $2,462,646.

SPOON BURGERS

For an easy to make dish, and one you'll find both good and inexpensive. Try this:

Ingredients needed are:

- 1 pound of ground lean beef.
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onions.
- 1 1/2 tsp. hot fat.
- 1/2 cup milk.
- 1 tsp. salt.
- 1/8 tsp. pepper.
- 1/2 cup catsup or chili sauce.

Brown the ground beef and onions in a skillet with the hot fat. Stir evaporated milk, salt, and pepper into meat mixture. Cook and stir over low heat until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and stir in catsup or chili sauce. Spoon meat mixture into eight split buns or spoon over slices of bread. Serve hot.

FARM NOTES

By ROBERT M. JONES

FOREST FIRES

The fall forest fire season is upon us. It is everyone's responsibility to help prevent forest fires. It is only with this type of attitude can the forest of Floyd county, improve, and provide a sizeable income. The forest is our only renewable natural resource. The future is very bright for forest products. If they are allowed to burn over every few years we are losing a big economical product.

Bill Music and the staff of the Division of Forestry have certainly done a fine job protecting our forests. Let's everyone pitch in, and give them every assistance, to help cut down losses this year.

The following rules will help.

1. Don't burn any trash until 4:30 in afternoon.
2. Don't start any fire where there is a possibility it may get out of control.
3. Don't throw cigarette butts out of car windows.
4. Report any fire as soon as noticed.
5. Tell your neighbor about fire control.

TOBACCO

A tobacco stripping demonstration will be held Wednesday, October 22, at the farm of Willie Frasure, starting at 10:00 a.m. The purpose of this demonstration will be to show growers how to properly grade their crop to meet market demands. All tobacco growers are invited to attend and bring some of their tobacco.

The grader will be glad to discuss with each farmer how his crop should be graded.

The grader will be Maury Tuttle, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The demonstrations are being held throughout Kentucky. It is a joint project between the Kentucky Extension Service and the Tobacco Branch of U.S.D.A.

The annual burley tobacco festival will be held in Shelbyville, Friday, Oct. 24.
