Family Doctor Can Encourage The Alcoholic

By J. COLLIS RINGO, Executive Director Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

The physician engaged in general practice, the family doctor, can play an important role in helping individuals with drinking problems.

While the American Medical Association has openly declared alcoholism an illness, many physicians do not want alcoholic patients. The acceptance of alcoholism as a disease is more lip service than actual practice.

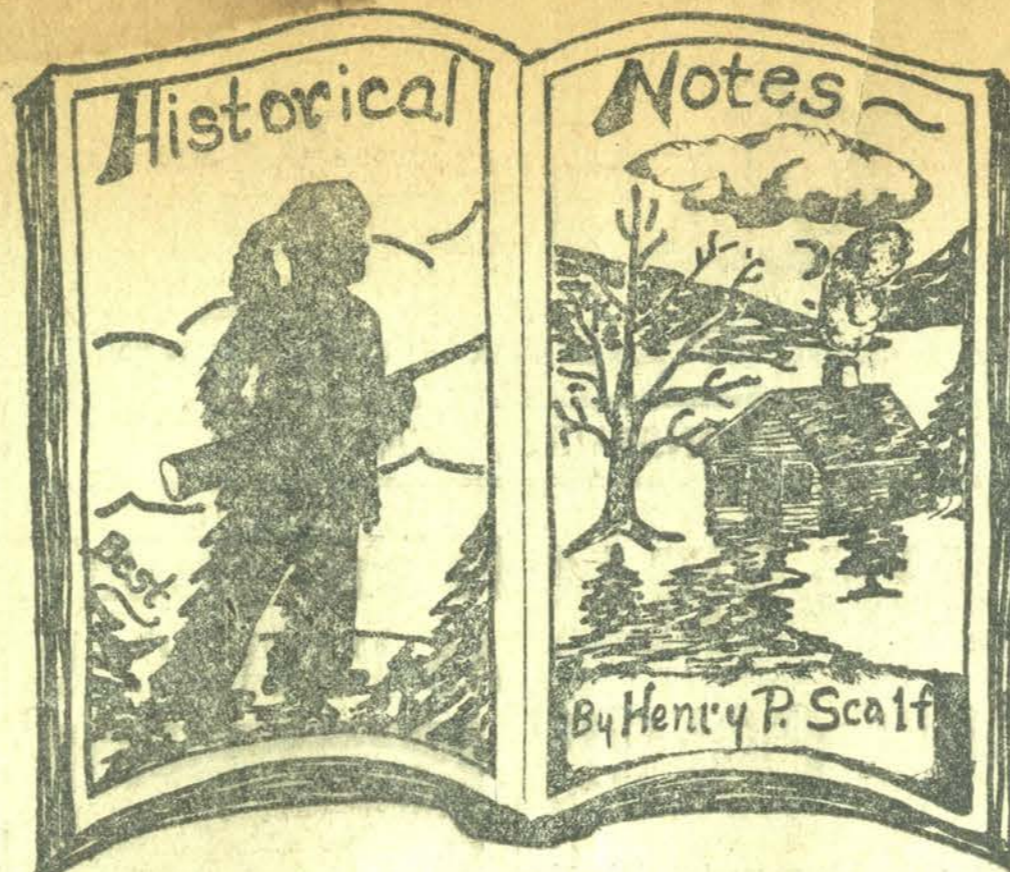

This reluctance is quite understandable. Many physicians now in practice completed their medical education when alcoholism was considered purely moralistic. With the progress made in the last decade, it is still a baffling problem. Alcoholics are sick people but there is no single disease pattern. It embraces economic and social problems as well as physical and psychological.

Modern experience has shown that many alcoholics can be helped. Proper handling of the patient by the general practitioner materially enhances his chance of recovery. The mere fact that the physician accepts the illness as treatable gives the alcoholic patient hope and confidence that he can recover. To be accepted by the physician as a sick person, not a wilful moral degenerate, boosts his morale as no other method can.

In the past, physicians avoided alcoholics with good reasons. In a majority of cases they were uncooperative and hard to manage. In hospital or office setting they were boisterous and antagonistic. They disrupted ordinary routine and were a nuisance to other patients and nurses. They frequently were bad credit risks, unreliable in their reports on treatment.

No pill or drug has been discovered which will cure alcoholism. To date, it is an incurable disease, but it can be arrested. The only known method of arresting is complete abstinence from alcohol.

New discoveries in the use of tranquilizing drugs makes handling of acute intoxication easier for the physician. After the initial stages are passed, many modern doctors resort to the use of outside agencies. The remarkable effectiveness of Alcoholics Anonymous and the substantial help they have provided are made possible in great measure by sympathy and understanding, in the opinion of many physicians.

Letters of Pvt. William Jones

MARCHING THROUGH GEORGIA

Monday morning, July 11, 1864, from Point Burnside, Ky., William Jones informed his wife, Mary, of his orders to go to Georgia. It was a difficult letter to write for he had to attempt to alleviate her fears.

"It is with a rather sad heart that I commence this letter. Not so much on my account as yours for I feel about as safe in one place as another but I know you have fears whenever Georgia is mentioned.

"We having marching orders to start at 2 o'clock today for Cleveland, Tennessee, to guard a train of wagons and a drove of horses and mules. Cleveland is on the railroad between Knoxville and Chattanooga and it may be that we shall see Sherman's army before we get back.

"We returned last night from a trip out to Monticello and Mill Springs, the place where Zollicoffer was killed. I took a drink of the water. It is good. We were sent out there to enforce the draft. It is strong Secession (country) and they had threatened to resist the draft but our presence kept them as cool as cucumbers . . ."

He hadn't seen any late newspapers, Jones wrote, and although lots of rumors about peace were flying around, he didn't believe any of them. He asked Mary to write him at Cleveland with the notation, "Follow The Regiment." He requested a few stamps as they were hard to procure.

"I have sent to the postoffice for a dollar's worth but I have heard there was none there. If I should get some at any time I will tell you. If you should send any, send 2 or 3 at a time for you know the uncertainty of the mails in Tennessee and it may be so in Georgia. You must make up your mind that there will be times you may not hear from me for a good while but I shall endeavor to write often."

"I don't get scared for nothing. If I should get killed or wounded don't think of coming after me for it might be you could not get through and if you could it would take all you have got and besides you would be liable to be insulted often. If you could find me you could do me no good.

"I have saved money enough to buy me any little necessary I might need in case I should be wounded. Don't believe everything you hear about disaster but wait for the facts and if you were to find out to a certainty that I was killed my company officer would write to you. In such case just sit down and cry and say you will meet the little old man in a better world. Then dry your eyes and make yourself as comfortable as the circumstances will admit of.

"I shall write at Cleveland and maybe before. So take good care of yourself, give my love to Em and George and my two sisters . . ."

As promised, William Jones wrote from Cleveland, July 21, 1864. "We arrived here yesterday afternoon after a very dusty and tiresome trip. We left Point Burnside on the 12th. We laid by one day to rest, all but Company A & B. We had to get up at 3 o'clock and go on a scout as it was said. Rebs were about but we found none.

"I have been in the saddle every since the 3rd of July so how do you think my other end is by this time? I'm as stiff as sole leather . . ."

"We have orders to stay here two days, then I suppose we will go to the front. We are 28 miles from Dalton, Georgia. We are on the railroad running from Knoxville to Chattanooga, 35 miles from the latter place."

He hadn't had any mail. Three batches had come for his outfit but the postmaster thinking the brigade was at the front, sent the mail there. He told his wife to still direct her mail to Nicholasville "until I find a better place."

"My health continues good although I have stuffed my self with blackberries and wild plums and huckleberries. I never saw the beat of B Berries in my life.

"We get up at 3 o'clock in the morning, get our breakfast and travel until 10 or 11 o'clock. We lay by till 4 in the afternoon. Then 5 hours are slightly warm. We stew blackberries for dinner and as we don't use any sugar in our coffee we use it pretty freely on our berries. We sometimes have stewed apples for supper and in about 2 weeks corn will be roasting ears and there is plenty of it so far but I suppose it will not be further down the country.

"For the last 3 days travel is as good as I ever saw. The grass is heavier and corn taller and thicker stalks that I ever saw and the people look like white folks and understand farming . . ."

The next day he scribbled a note along the way and mailed it at Dalton. He had washed his clothes, hung them on the fence and bathed in the nearby creek. He ate sardines and mustard for dinner and added facetiously, "So you see we live if we are in Georgia."

Jones wrote two letters in one when he reached Atlanta. One side of the sheet was dated July 28 and the other July 31. It was headed, "On Picket Around Atlanta, Ga."

"We were sent out to watch maneuvers on the left of our army. It is supposed the enemy are trying to get away from Atlanta. We have just captured two Rebel cavalrymen and 5 horses and one mule. This sheet of paper is some one of them had in his bundle. I think it is some they have taken from one of our boys. Both of these we captured."

Dorsey Participates In National Seminar; Church Board Sponsors

The Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, will be one of about 90 Methodist ministers of the United States who are taking part this week in a Methodist ministers' seminar on national and international affairs in Washington, D.C. He is representing the Kentucky Methodist Conference at the three-day seminar, which began Tuesday.

The seminar is the 13th such annual event to be sponsored by the In-Service Training section of the Methodist Board of Education's Department of Ministerial Education. Nearly all Methodist regional conferences in the country will be represented at the meeting at the Continental Hotel. The group of selected ministers will talk with government, diplomatic, and international resource people and others. Among those on the program will be U.S. Senators Hubert Humphrey, Jr., of Minnesota and Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, U.S. Representatives A. S. J. Carnahan of Missouri and Chester E. Merrow of New Hampshire; Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, secretary, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Dr. Casper Nannes, religious news editor, THE WASHINGTON STAR; the ambassador from Argentina; Dr. Ernest S. Griffith, dean, School of International Service, American University; and high-ranking officials of the State Department.

CORRECTION

The surviving sons and daughter of Mrs. Alice Crum, of Banner, who died Mar. 26 were incorrectly listed in The Times recently. Surviving sons and a daughter are Frank Crum, of Allen, Junior Crum, Carnial Crum and Cecil Crum, all of Allen, and Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, of Water Gap.

AREA GROUP TALKS PLANS

Action Program Discussed At KRP Commission Meet; Whisman Announces Tours

The Kentucky Regional Planning Commission discussed its action program Monday at its monthly meeting held in Hazard. This program includes tourism, agriculture, education, housing, community development, forestry, health and welfare, and flood control.

John D. Whisman, executive director of the commission, announced a series of 3-day conference tours for this summer in the 32-county commission area.

The first of these tours, on forestry, will be held in June. Tourism will come up in July, education and health and welfare in August, community development and industrial development in September, and citizens-committee meetings in November. The committee will hold its legislative-program meeting in December.

Commissioners attending Monday's session included B. F. Reed, Drift, chairman; Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College; S. C. Vancuro, Harlan; Louis Ware, Ashland, and R. H. Worden, Pikeville.

Meeting with the committee, but taking no part in the discussion were Prentiss M. Terry, Washington, D. C., director of regional services, United States Department of Commerce, and Robert M. Luckey, director of area development, Cincinnati district office, United States Department of Commerce.

"We are here just to sit and listen," Terry said, "and will follow through later on."

Also attending the meeting were Jack Palmer, director of public relations, and Rufus Thomas, director of community and customer relations for the Kentucky Power Company.

In his report, Whisman said the commission favors United States Senate Bill 1346, which would establish, equip and maintain a nuclear energy-coal experiment station in the Eastern Kentucky coal region.

Such a facility, he said, would give first priority and a concentrated research and development effort to the search for new techniques, processes and products aimed at bolstering the waning coal economy.

"It is felt," he continued, "that the coal industry has been denied help in atomic-energy development that has seen millions spent on nuclear-power-plant systems and virtually nothing on the promising applications of nuclear energy to coal."

The bill was introduced March 9 by Senators John Sherman Cooper and Thruston B. Morton.

Johnnie Jenkins, 47, Succumbs At Pyramid; Last Rites, Saturday

Johnnie Jenkins, 47 years old, retired miner, succumbed last Wednesday at his home at Pyramid after an illness of several years.

He was a son of Garfield and Mary Marshall Jenkins and was a native of Morgan county. Mr. Jenkins was a member of the United Baptist Church.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Frankie Griffey Jenkins, and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Alice Faye Miller, Dayton, O.; Elbert, Tommy Joe and Johnnie Jenkins, Jr., all of Pyramid; Mrs. Dolly Starr, of Flat Gap; Mrs. Dora Isaacs, Lima, O.; Clell Jenkins, La Grange, Ky.; Mrs. Virgie Ousley, of Vest. Two brothers and four sisters also survive: Carl and Henry Jenkins, both of Garrett; Mrs. Becky Wiley, McKenzie, Mich.; Mrs. Sarah Spriggs, of Flat Gap; Mrs. Velie Whitaker, Claypool, Ind.; and Anna Jenkins, of Garrett.

The body was taken to the Flat Gap home of his daughter, Mrs. Starr, then was returned Saturday for the funeral from the Open Door Church at Pyramid. Last rites were conducted by the Revs. Ashland Shepherd and Ted Nelson. Burial was made in the Shepherd cemetery at Goodloe, the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home directing.

Public's Help Is Asked On Courier's Cover Girl; Kentuckiana Coeds Enter

The public will be invited to assist in the selection of The Courier-Journal Cover Girl through use of a ballot in The Courier-Journal Magazine this Sunday.

Sixteen coeds from Kentucky and Southern Indiana colleges and universities have entered the contest designed to select the most beautiful and photogenic girl in the area.

A panel of three judges are now in the process of making their selection as to which girl should be chosen for the honor. Their decision and the result of the public balloting will each count for 50 per cent toward the final result.

Each of the 16 candidates will be pictured in the Magazine.

The Cover Girl's picture will appear on the cover of the Magazine during May. The winning girl and her school will receive a framed and suitably inscribed reproduction of the Magazine cover.

Names of the schools, their representatives and home town are: Brescia College - Joyce Smith, Faysville, Ky.; Centre - Judy McMakin, Danville, Ky.; Eastern - Mary Kappas, Park Hills, Ky.; Evansville - Shirleen Brooner, Huntington, Ind.; Georgetown - Virginia Vogel, Ashland, Ky.; Hanover - Eleanor Borden, Rockville, Ind.; Indiana University - Mary Richardson, Kokomo, Ind.; Kentucky State - Lucille Samuels, Louisville; Morehead - Glenna Hamilton, West Irvine, Ky.; Murray - Shannon Beasley, Reed, Ky.; Nazareth - Nancy Hauber, Louisville; Union - Jean Platt, Columbia, Ky.; University of Louisville - Judy Heldman, Louisville; University of Kentucky - Catherine Maddux, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Villa Madonna - Nancy Abers, Covington, Ky.; and Western - Alice Chumbley, Jamestown, Ky.

Purchase Prize Award Honors James D. Francis; To Be Given Area Artist

An annual purchase prize award of $200 in memory of James D. Francis, first president of the Huntington Galleries, and a past president of Princess Coals, Inc., was announced Monday by Fred J. Triplett, director of the galleries.

The purchase prize will be given to an area artist whose oil painting is chosen to receive the top award. The award is one to be given by 16 firms participating in the seventh annual exhibition 80 sponsored by the Huntington Galleries and the Tri-State Arts Association. The dates of the exhibition will be April 26 to May 31.

In former years, when J. D. Francis had established the award, the Princess Award was won by Mrs. Ruth Ettl, of Huntington in 1957, and in 1958 by Mr. Joe Francis Moss, of Morgantown, W. Va.

New Parking Meters Voted By Councilmen; Two Hearings Slated

The Prestonsburg City Council at its Monday night meeting voted the purchase of 44 new parking meters which will start the exodus of the last meters which will use a penny.

The new parking meters will accept only a nickel or a dime, and such meters are expected eventually to replace all the present meters, it was said.

The Council again moved to halt cross-street parking on two-way streets. David B. Leslie, traffic officer, said that hereafter on such streets only parking on the driver's right-hand side of the street will be legal.

Two public hearings are scheduled at the Municipal building, the evening of April 27, it was announced this week. The first, at 7 p.m., will be held by the City Planning Commission on the proposed zoning ordinance for Prestonsburg, the division of the town into zoning districts and the classification of such districts.

The second hearing, scheduled for an hour later, will be held by the City Council on the same subject.

Jarrell Replaces Daniels In High School Position; School Inspection Asked

Only routine business was transacted by the Floyd County Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting, Tuesday. All board members were in attendance, it was said.

The board employed Joe W. Jarrell, Prestonsburg, to replace Doug Daniels, of Lackey, who resigned recently as teacher of mathematics at the Prestonsburg high school. Irene Tuttle was employed to replace Glenda Newman at the Clear Creek school.

The board voted to ask Clell Hayes, Lexington architect, to inspect the Prestonsburg high school building to determine if any damage had been incurred from blasting for the new highway nearby.

The Simpson Branch schoolhouse was subject to a title abstract, it was noted.

Our Historic Heritage

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky

(No. 39 in a series)

The Steamboat, Andy Hatcher, Unloading Merchandise At Prestonsburg

The steamer, Andy Hatcher, was one of the more popular boats plying the Big Sandy River. A stern wheeler, it carried mail, passengers and freight.

The Andy Hatcher was highly favored by merchants of Paintsville, Prestonsburg, Pikeville and along the riverside to bring goods from the Catlettsburg wholesales or to bring merchandise ordered from Covington or Cincinnati. On its voyage up the river the steamer was usually loaded with boxes of salt bacon, barrels of flour and salt, kegs of nails, horse and mules shoes, powder and lead. Quantities of fine cloths were carefully stored for safe transportation.

The First National Bank, organized in 1904, entered the banking business in the valley when the railway was just beginning to adequately serve the section and the steamboats were losing to this more modern method of transportation. Since then, as now, the First National Bank, has offered the people of our area complete and friendly banking service.

Although reading has always been an unparalleled source of entertainment, suddenly "a better-read, better-informed, America" is imperative. The printed word has become a necessity to keep us in watchful readiness to exercise responsible citizenship. Only a wide variety of reading can inform us of what has been and what is, and can train the imagination to forge ahead into what might be in the future. Therefore,

I, Bill Napier, Mayor of the City of Prestonsburg, Ky., do hereby proclaim the week of April 12-18, 1959 to be Library Week and call on our citizens to join in an occasion which will recognize the vitality and strength of the printed word in today's world and its importance to our survival."

"The next morning, when Ray Click took breakfast up to the prisoners, Halbert appeared to be all right, and he did not ask for a doctor then or later. Just as soon as we were informed of his illness, he was taken to the hospital before the doctor who was summoned to see him could arrive."

Two leaders in the move to get a contract favoring small operators are Robert Holcomb, Pikeville, head of the Pike County Independent Coal Operators Association, and Roland Price, of Letcher county, ramp owner at Colson.

One of Price's explosive magazines near Whitesburg was set on fire Wednesday morning and an explosion followed that did $5,000 damage. Guards saw men pouring gasoline under a door of the magazine, but said there were too many men in the arson crew for them to attempt to interfere.

Elsewhere in the mine area minor events served to shape a pattern of growing friction that could erupt into serious trouble. Dynamite was tossed from a passing car onto a railroad track near Chavies, Letcher county, Wednesday, and 100 pickets returned to a mine at Mayking to stop a ramp from operating.

Carson Hibbitts, one of the UMW representatives at Washington, said Wednesday that he is expecting something to break soon. He did not elaborate, but it was taken to mean that the almost united front of the small operators would begin to break up soon.

At one point in the conference Hibbitts refused to open a meeting if Charles Richards, Middlesboro, was present. Richards, organizer and secretary of a small operators' group, and widely known in Floyd county, agreed to sit out the conference.

LOWER PORK PRICES
Consumers may look for lower retail prices of pork this year, although drastic cuts in prices are not expected. Hog production took an upward turn in 1958, with last fall's pig crop rising 17 percent above 1957. Consumption per person is expected to total 66 pounds, up 5 pounds or more over last year.

Waterfield's Labor Record Is Poor!

- "Happy" Lee Waterfield has been a State representative for 20 years. During all of this time eleven bills in favor of labor were enacted into law by the General Assembly. Not a single one of these bears the name of Waterfield. Contrary to Happy Lee's claim the books show he has no labor record.
- While Happy Lee has been Lieutenant Governor and acting governor, Bert Combs has on six separate occasions demanded that a special session be called to extend unemployment compensation benefits for an additional thirteen weeks. A deaf ear has been turned to the poor and needy by Happy Chandler and his puppet Harry Lee Waterfield. IF THE WATERFIELD-CHANDLER GANG IS FOR LABOR IT'S STILL NOT TOO LATE TO CALL A SPECIAL SESSION TO EXTEND UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS.
- Waterfield has dodged the right-to-work issue by stating that if the right-to-work bill came up he would be in favor of submitting it to a vote of the people. Bert Combs has taken a positive stand AGAINST the right-to-work law.

INCREASE LABOR BENEFITS — BE SURE OF GOOD LABOR LAWS.

WHAT EVERY PARENT SHOULD KNOW ABOUT OUR SCHOOLS

As a parent or guardian of school-age children, you are entitled to know the facts about our public schools. Here are those facts.

If you want your child or children well-educated and well-prepared for a happy, prosperous life, you must face this decision: Which of the Democratic candidates for governor—Harry Lee Waterfield or Bert Combs—will do the most for our teachers and our schools? Your answer will be found in past promises and past performances . . . for you can only judge what people will do by what they have done. Here, then, are the records.

MR. COMBS has no record of public service toward improving our schools, since he has never served in either the legislative or executive branches of our state government. Recently he promised, if elected, improvement in Kentucky's schools. However, as a practical parent, you should not overlook the records of the two former governors who are directing Mr. Combs' campaign. They are Earle C. Clements and Lawrence Wetherby, whose administrations (in 1948 and 1952) failed to bring improvements in Kentucky's schools.

Mr. Clements promised our school people he would back a progressive program. That promise was not kept.

Mr. Wetherby postponed financing the "Foundation Program" . . . for further study. That's all he did.

MR. WATERFIELD served 12 years in the State Legislature and has an excellent voting record on public school legislation. He campaigned for Lieutenant Governor in 1955 on the pledge that he would work for adoption and full financing of the "Foundation Program". Elected, he proved to be a man of his word. He now pledges that he will work for continued progress in education.

Since 1956, when the statewide "Foundation Program" was financed, Kentucky has made remarkable progress. Educators call the program the most important development in the entire history of Kentucky's public school system. Ask your children's teachers . . . or read the last biennial report and the recent status reports of the State Department of Education for proof of all these statements.

Today, about 40 cents of every dollar spent in Kentucky on public schools is provided by the state. And, the future of our children's education may well depend on how we, as parents, vote in the Democratic Primary Election, May 26.

Progress for Floyd County Schools — Here Are The Facts

Public schools in Floyd county have made forward strides since Kentucky's "Foundation Program" was financed on July 1, 1956. Here—from official published records—are some of the highlights of this progress:

AVERAGE TEACHER PAY BOOSTED $277
The average annual salary paid teachers in Floyd county schools has increased from $2,280 to $2,557 since 1956. Better pay, combined with full-financing three years ago of a statewide teachers' retirement plan, means that we can attract and keep better teachers.

BETTER SCHOOL FACILITIES
Progress also is being made in improving school facilities in Floyd county. Some $250,000 of projects have been undertaken or planned in the past three years, including new classrooms and other improvements at Harold, Warrick, Home Branch, Head of Branches Creek, Allen and Tinker Fork Elementary Schools, the Drift, Prater Creek and Martin Schools, and the new proposed McDowell Elementary School building. State help has been provided under the new "Foundation Program" with funds specially earmarked for construction and equipment.

17% MORE MONEY PER PUPIL
During the 1957-58 school year (figures for the current year are not yet available), our schools had an average of $141.00 per pupil to pay for current operating expenses—teachers' salaries, supplies and materials, books and school buses. This was 17% more per pupil in average daily attendance than in the 1955-56 school year.

WHAT ABOUT OUR STATE COLLEGES AND VOCATIONAL EDUCATION?

MR. COMBS, again, has no record, only promises. His campaign directors—Mr. Clements and Mr. Wetherby—contributed practically nothing in these fields when they were governors.

MR. WATERFIELD has consistently been identified with progress in both fields. During his present term as Lieutenant Governor, there has been: A 65% increase in the budgets for our six state-supported colleges and universities; Murray, Western, Eastern, Morehead, Kentucky State and the University of Kentucky; millions of dollars spent for new college buildings and equipment; 100 additional full-time teachers employed and faculty salaries increased 15%; construction started on Kentucky's first medical school in more than a century; three new college extension centers established; and high school and area vocational training programs substantially expanded.

AS TO THE FUTURE, Mr. Waterfield has assured adequate support for all state colleges and has endorsed and will work for adoption of the 10-point vocational training program recommended by the Kentucky Vocational Association, a department of the KEA.

WHAT THE LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL SAID ABOUT PREVIOUS ADMINISTRATIONS

The following statements appeared in the Louisville Courier-Journal:

ABOUT THE CLEMENTS' ADMINISTRATION: "Nineteen thousand teachers are fighting mad at Governor Clements (for failure to adequately finance schools) and will dedicate their voting future to his political banishment." (March 19, 1950)

ABOUT THE WETHERBY ADMINISTRATION: "Kentucky schools will limp along through 1964-56 pretty much as they have in the past because there is not enough money to finance fully the foundation program." (March 21, 1954)

As a parent . . . or a teacher . . . are you willing to take a chance on Mr. Combs, who is being guided by the above-mentioned former governors, and whose administrations are described by teachers as the "lost years" for educational progress in Kentucky?

FLOYD COUNTY DEMOCRATS FOR

BETTER SCHOOLS

VOTE FOR WATERFIELD—YOU OWE IT TO YOUR CHILDREN

"I CONGRATULATE all Kentuckians on the progress made in the past three years in improving our schools and helping our teachers under the newly financed "Foundation Program". I am proud to have played a role in this accomplishment.

"But, I am fully aware, as are teachers and parents, that we must continue to improve our educational facilities.

"As Governor, I assure you that I will devote the same vigor and determination to the continuance of our school progress that I have shown in supporting the "Foundation Program" and other public education advances in my six terms as a state legislator and my present term as Lt. Governor."

Is Mr. Waterfield Merely Misinformed?

THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES at the outset of the current political campaign affirmed its belief in, and its support of, Bert Combs as a candidate for Governor.

Its position remains, and will remain, unchanged. We believe that stand is well-founded; we believe that we could not be loyal to Floyd county, Eastern Kentucky, even all Kentucky, if we failed to show such loyalty to an Eastern Kentucky man in whom we have the fullest confidence.

Many will agree with us; and others will disagree. With the latter we have no quarrel. At the same time, we cannot forget that we of Eastern Kentucky have long cried out our needs and have entertained the strong suspicion that our section has been neglected. In view of this situation, we cannot in good conscience refuse to support an Eastern Kentuckian as long as he is worthy.

We were greatly encouraged when Mr. Waterfield, in announcing his candidacy, promised: "As far as I am concerned, this campaign will not be based on personalities or biased emotionalism." But, in recent weeks, on more than one occasion, he has hit low, telling audiences in other counties:

"The people who know Bert Combs best think least of him."

We will not argue the point with Mr. Waterfield to ask if this is not engaging in real personal personalities. We will even give him the benefit of doubt and agree it is possible somebody told him that. Bert Combs has enemies, as has Harry Lee Waterfield, and the same canard might be spread about either of these gentlemen.

But the truth of the matter is, those who know Bert Combs best are his truest friends, because they have found him to be a friend. It is a pity that more Kentuckians do not know the real Bert Combs.

We have known Bert Combs since the day he came to Prestonsburg, fresh out of college, a young lawyer. We have seen him on the streets of this town, in his office, in the courtroom; we have seen him wearing the uniform of his country, and we have known him intimately while he was a Judge of the Court of Appeals and while he was in the public eye as a candidate for Governor. And always we have been impressed by the sincerity and the humility of the man.

Sometimes we have wished that this friend could have been a bit more of the extrovert, able to backslap with the best, but he is not the type. Nor is he the type who would boast to others about the warmth of his thousands of friendships, and so it is that he is defenseless under the type of attack to which he in this instance is subjected.

We appear for the defense. We maintain that the opposite of the opposition's statement is the real truth: Those who know Bert Combs best like him best.

COMBS WINS $32,000 FOR FLOYD-CO. WIDOW

I read from the paper where the Chandler people are trying to claim that Bert T. Combs is a company lawyer. I know this is not true.

My husband was killed and my daughter and another boy were injured by a company truck here in Floyd county. I was left a widow without any money to raise my seven infant children. Bert T. Combs sued this company for us, and we were able to get $32,000.00. I now have money for food and clothing for myself and my children, thanks to Bert T. Combs.

WHEELWRIGHT

CAMPBELL IS SPEAKER

A recent meeting of the Wheelwright Woman's Club drew a large crowd when the legislation department under the direction of Mrs. Waldo B. Cummings, presented Harry Campbell, Pikeville attorney.

Mr. Campbell's subject was, "Legal Proceedings, Wills and Problems a Widow Faces." He stated that this is a subject none of us want to face but many must face, and it is good to have knowledge before one needs it. "A widow in a capable lawyer's office finds him as much a psychologist as a legal advisor," he added.

Plans were made to serve a dinner to the Foreman's Club, and committees were appointed to carry on the work. This dinner is being served to assist in the fund-raising drive for the Youth Center of Wheelwright.

Announcement of the "Ballot for Better Driver Licensing" was announced. All members of the club signed the ballot, and it was sent in duplicate to Mrs. Ed P. Warriner, chairman of the Kentucky Safety Division. The Club also has written state senators, representatives, the governor and the Department of Public Safety, requesting their cooperation in a movement to reduce the terrible accidents that are happening on highways. Better legislation for driver licensing is urged.

Mrs. Waldo B. Cummings reported that $52.20 had been realized from the bowling league for polio. A full report of this will be made at a later date.

Mrs. Cora S. McHone was appointed Civil Defense chairman of the club, and she is ready to go ahead with this program when it is presented to the people of this area.

The hostesses, Mesdames Jim Kirk, Albert Brady and C. C. Dickerson, served refreshments to members and guests.

Gigantic Highway Building Program To Last 15 Years

Frankfort, April 6 (Spl.) — Kentucky's new road program during the next 13 to 15 years will mean two or three times more construction than the Commonwealth has witnessed in a comparable period, according to the State Highway Department.

Here's a rough outline: Construction of 650 miles of interstate superhighways, building and modernizing more than 2,000 miles of other federal-aid routes, improvement of state and rural roads; cost to total some 1.5 billion dollars in state and federal funds.

Proceeds from a 100-million-dollar road bond issue, approved by voters, are providing matching money for federal-aid routes and freeing dollars for improving rural roads. Initially, 725 million dollars are being spent on 450 miles of interstate and 1,000 miles of primary, secondary, urban and semi-urban roads. The schedule calls for completion or contracting of two-thirds of these projects within the next five years.

The department let a record-breaking $114,321,770 of construction contracts in 1958—two and one half times the 1957 total and more than triple the 1951-56 average.

Bonds proceeds can be used only for federal-aid projects. For interstate roads, the U.S. is putting up $9 for each $1 of bond money and other state funds. Most other federal road assistance is matched by the state on a 50-50 basis.

MAYTOWN

SPRING STYLE SHOW

A "Galaxy of Fashions" will be presented in the Maytown school lunchroom Saturday, April 18, at 7:30. Fifty models will show this season's latest fashions in all types of clothes. The Maytown Woman's Club is sponsoring this colorful event for the fifth year. Added attractions will be the crowning of "Miss Springtime"—a high school girl chosen by popular vote; and "Little Princess"—a small girl elected from the first five grades. Door prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stewart and children, of Circleville, Ohio, spent the week-end here with his mother, Mrs. Viola Stewart.

Mrs. Fletcher May has returned home after undergoing a tonsillectomy at a Pikeville hospital last week.

Mrs. Mary Ratliff is spending the month with her daughter on Abbott Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anderson, of Lexington, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tingue.

Claudia Judd is visiting relatives near Louisa this month.

Mrs. Edward Robinson has been a patient at the McDowell hospital after undergoing an appendectomy there last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Okla Branham and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Dottie Hagans and children, of Ashland, spent the week-end here with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hayes and Stevie, of Wheelwright, spent Sunday here with his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Hayes.

Congratulations to Mrs. Thomas Patrick and the boys and girls who participated in the music festival at Pikeville last week. We are proud of the ratings our young people received at this event.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Edward Caudill and daughter of Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock, Texas, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Elbert Howell, and family. Lee Edward leaves April 20 for three years service in Africa. His wife and daughter will join him there later.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation and gratitude to all persons who were so helpful and kind in our time of sorrow upon the death of our husband and father Talby Presley. Our special thanks to the ministers, Bert Howard, Coy Combs, Raymond Howard, Hurrell Huff, and M. C. Wright, for their consoling words, also to the singers for their good songs, and to the Hall Bros. Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

Roadside Sign Shows Turner, Star Salesman

Ernest Turner, of Drift, didn't exactly keep his eye on the highway as he drove past a roadside sign, near Cow Creek, Wednesday afternoon. And the sign wasn't one displaying the charms of any bathing beauty, either.

It was a 12-foot picture of Turner himself. This was his first glimpse of it, and it was a complete surprise.

Some weeks ago, the Woodmen of the World, whom Turner represents in this section, asked him for a photo for publication in the W.O.W. magazine. The picture was supplied, but it did not go into the magazine. Instead, it was sent to Russell May, Prestonsburg sign painter.

The result is the huge sign which Turner saw looming up ahead of him as he drove toward Prestonsburg, Wednesday afternoon.

The sign proclaims to the world that the Drift man is a W.O.W. national leader. He is one of five men in the United States so honored for the volume of insurance handled during the past year, and Turner ranks fourth in the nation.

BABE DIES

Taubee, three-month-old son of Robert Lee and Roberta Whitt Sammons, died Monday night at the Sammons residence at Water Gap after a few days' illness. Surviving are the parents and one brother, Robert Lee, Jr. Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday morning from the home of the victim's grandfather, Lee Sammons, by the Rev. Wallace Calhoun. Burial in the Big Branch cemetery, near Water Gap, was directed by the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

HILLSIDE PASTURE

Steep hillside pastures on the Eden Shale experimental farm in Owen county gave greatly increased production when three factors were included in treatment—legume-seeding, moderate disking and adequate fertilizer.

Beginning March 16, I will be in my dental office daily from 10 a.m. till 12 noon and from 2 to 4 p.m.

Dr. H. G. Salisbury, Jr.

DRIFT

Miss Love Clarke has returned to her home in Oxford, Ohio after spending a week's vacation with her mother, Mrs. Eva Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Newsome, of Detroit, were Sunday dinner guests of his niece, Mrs. Raymond Turner.

It will take you about 4 minutes to find out why

It Pays to Own a Dodge!

(It could save you hundreds of dollars!)

Okay, it's settled. You've thought about it and talked about it and now you've decided: A new car—and soon. Now for the jackpot question. Which '59 car will it be?

Unless you happen to be a Mr. Gotrocks, you'll probably think pretty carefully before you finally make the move. You'll do more shopping and compare more closely. And you'll ask yourself some basic questions. How much will a new car cost me to buy? How much will it cost me to drive? What do I get for my money?

There is no mystery about new car prices

Until this year, it was hard to compare different makes of cars to find which offered the most value for the money. It was like comparing apples and bananas. But not any more. Not since all new cars are required to carry price labels. Now, for the first time, you can compare various makes and models and see exactly what you're getting for your money. It's like exposing the hole cards in a game of stud poker: You know exactly where you stand.

Why should you buy a Dodge?

No one has to tell you that there are a number of cars on the market that sell for less than a Dodge. No cigar on that count. You know it and we know it. But there are things you get in a Dodge that you simply can't get in these other smaller cars. And this is important. Dodge gives you all of these things—the bigness and roominess, the comfort and ride, the luxury and prestige—for less than other cars in its field.

It's not just a few dollars less, either; in many cases it's literally hundreds of dollars less. Some Dodge models are even priced lower than the so-called "low-priced cars." (We'll be happy to show you the actual suggested retail prices.)

All cars cost money to run—but how much?

It would be nice if you just bought a new car and that was that. It didn't burn gas. Didn't use oil. Never needed service. But that's wishful thinking. Cars do use gas and oil. They do need service occasionally. But that doesn't mean that all cars cost the same to drive and maintain. Not by a jugful. There's a big difference.

Dodge is designed to run for less

Dodge has always had a reputation for economical operation. People who have owned them have found it costs less to run a Dodge, and that a Dodge needs service less often.

Take gasoline economy. The new Dodge 326 cu. in. Red Ram V-8 engine, because of its design and efficiency, will take you miles farther on a gallon of gas than any other V-8 in the Dodge field. You save money every mile you drive.

But that's only part of the story. The way Dodge is engineered and built saves you money on such things as engine wear, brake relining, tune-ups, spark plug replacement. When you add them all up, they represent quite a saving. Another reason why it pays to own a Dodge.

What do you get for what you pay?

According to Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Prices, Dodge generally costs less, model for model, than other cars in its field. Fine and dandy. But while price is important, it isn't the only consideration. The real standard of value—whether you're buying a new car or a can of beans—is what you get for what you pay. It's the "extras" you get at no extra cost that really determine which car is the best buy.

Dodge gives you more for less

Talk is cheap. Anyone can make claims. So let's be specific about the extras you get in Dodge at no extra cost. Torsion-Aire Ride—conceded the finest suspension in the industry—standard equipment on all Dodge models. Total-Contact Brakes, Safety-Rim Wheels, Electric Windshield Wipers, Independent Parking Brake—all standard on Dodge. Of course, you can also choose from such Dodge options as Push-Button Driving, Full-Time Power Steering and Swing-Out Swivel Seats.

There's a big difference in comfort, too

Goodness knows, we certainly don't want to knock competition. But we feel obligated to point out the comfort and convenience of the '59 Dodge. If you've tried getting into some of the other '59 cars you know just what we mean. To say it is difficult would honestly be an understatement. That's why we hope you'll come in and compare the difference in Dodge. How much easier it is to get in and out of a Dodge. How much more comfortable it is to sit in a Dodge. How much more room you have to stretch out. Really, it pays to own a Dodge.

It doesn't cost a penny to get the facts

We don't expect you to rush in and plunk down your money for a new Dodge just on the basis of what you've read. But if what you've read seems to make sense, we do hope you'll stop in to see, to drive and to price a Dodge. We think it's a waste of a buy, but then maybe we're prejudiced. Why not drop in and judge for yourself. We'll be more than happy to give you all the facts. No obligation, of course.

SENIORS EARN STATE ENTRY

Forty-five High Students Quality for State Finals In Pikeville Speech Fest

Pikeville Ky., March 30—Some 45 Eastern Kentucky high-school students qualified for the State Speech Festival in the regional festival last week-end at Pikeville College.

Among them is F. Hall, of Wheelwright high school, who became eligible by being rated superior in discussion.

The youngest and one of the oldest schools represented in the festival shared debating honors as Mullins high school, near Pikeville, moved into the first of two state-tournament spots and Hazard high school won the other. Mullins, in only its second year of debating, breezed through undefeated, while Hazard fell only to Mullins in five debates.

Harry Williams, Paintsville, placed first in public speaking. Along with the two debate squads and 32 students who won superior ratings in other events, he is eligible for the state met April 13-15 in Lexington.

Hazard's delegation piled up 167 competitive points, based on entries and ratings, to win the regional trophy. Judges for the festival were Dr. J. Reid Sterrett, professor of speech at the University of Kentucky, and Daniel T. Yates, E. R. Purdom, Jr., Neal Clay, Jr., and Glen Wills, all of the University of Kentucky.

Judy Roberts, of Prestonsburg high school, was rated excellent in poetry reading, and received the strong recommendation of the judge for advancement to the state festival. Jerry Hackworth, of Prestonsburg, was rated excellent in radio speaking.

Three excellent ratings to Wheelwright students went to Flo Bates and Doug Frazier in discussion and Linda Layne in junior-high poetry reading.

Emma Barn Destroyed By Fire, Wednesday

A barn owned by Mrs. Tom Harris, of Emma, was destroyed by fire last Wednesday evening. Origin of the blaze was unknown. The burning building, filled with hay, threatened homes in the area but Shelly Woods used a bulldozer to clean out a firewalk that kept the flames from spreading. The Prestonsburg Fire Department assisted at the fire. Amount of damages was not learned.

Big Bass Caught at Dewey Lake; Mayo's Eight-Pounder Largest

LaGrande Mayo, of Auxier, last week landed a strong contender for a prize in the bass division of the 1959 fishing contest with an eight-pounder landed in the lower section of Dewey Lake. The fish measured 23 and seven-eighths inches.

A sharp upturn in catches at the lake has been noted within the week, with bass being taken on both artificial plugs and live bait. The upper section of the lake is muddy and more suited to jig-fishing, while the clearer lower section is in good condition for casting.

Big bass in the six-pound or better class are being reported at Dewey, almost daily. Among these reported to The Times were such catches by Wayne Stumbo, Heber Burke, Henry Gray, Raymond Copley, Charlie Patton, Olin Elliott, Earl Castle and Donald Patton.

Gates of Dewey Dam were closed at 9 a. m., Wednesday to raise the level of the lake five feet to the seasonal stage maintained from April till November 1.

Baseball Data Note Many Facts On National Game

Any baseball fan can tell you the number of home runs Mickey Mantle belted last year or the salary of Ted Williams. But can he tell you who wore the first baseball glove? Or what player was the first to catch a ball dropped from the Washington Monument?

Statistics will be flying thick and fast now that the baseball season is here. For those who really want to impress their wives or girl friends, here are some baseball facts, compiled by the research department of The World Encyclopedia.

The first clash between a player and his archenemy—the umpire—occurred June 19, 1846, when the Knickerbocker Club of New York played the New York Baseball Club at Elysian Fields in Hoboken, N. J. A player named Davis was fined six cents for cursing. The umpire was Alexander Cartwright, a leading player for the Knicks, who had chosen to umpire instead.

That game was also the first instance of team baseball as we know it. The New York Club won 23 to 1, after four innings. The Knickerbocker Club, formed in 1845, was the first regular baseball organization. And in their third season, the members donned blue and white uniforms to become the first team uniformly outfitted.

A breach of baseball etiquette made Al Reach the first ball player. In 1864, it was considered unethical for a player to "jump" from one team to another. Reach, however, deserted the Brooklyn Atlantics when he was offered money by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Five years later, the Cincinnati Red Stockings turned professional and became the first salaried team.

In those days, baseball was far from the gentlemanly game the Knickerbocker had played. A player might leave the field bleeding or unconscious after stopping a fast ball, but he refused to baby himself by wearing protective equipment.

In 1875, however, Charles Waite, first baseman for Boston, put on a glove—flesh-colored, so the fans wouldn't notice it. A. C. Spalding finally wore a dark brown glove, adding stuffing to it a little at a time.

The first catcher's mask was developed in 1878 for a Harvard player who preferred being called a sigsy to have his fine Barrymore profile smashed.

Still wondering about the Washington Monument? Well, Billy "Pop" Schriver of a Chicago ball club caught a ball dropped from the 500-foot level of the memorial in 1892.

Just a grandstander, but—that's baseball.

MEET AGAIN SUNDAY

The Mountain Valley Semi-Pro Baseball League will conduct another meeting Sunday in the Prestonsburg high school gymnasium at 1:30 p. m., in an attempt to complete arrangements for the 1959 season. All parties interested in becoming affiliated with the league for the year are urged to be present at Sunday's meeting.

BASEBALL SEASON HERE

All Floyd county high schools, except Garrett and Wayland, will field baseball teams this season. Martin and Auxier open play Friday afternoon.

KHSAA TO MEET

The Kentucky High School Athletic Association meeting for 1959 will be held in the Brown hotel in Louisville, Thursday, April 16 at 2 p. m. The annual proposal for the Commissioner to assign regional and state tournament officials is again on the agenda. Dr. Phillip Davidson, president of the University of Louisville, will be the principal speaker at the coaches' dinner meeting at 6 p. m.

Hill Again Named To College Dean's List

Lon Clay Hill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hill, of 206 Maple Ave., Prestonsburg, has again been named to the Dean's List at Ohio Wesleyan University in recognition of outstanding scholastic achievement. Hill is a sophomore majoring in mathematics at Ohio Wesleyan.

The Kentucky Historical Society has a large collection of James Lane Allen's letters.

BLACKBERRY LINES SOUGHT

Kentucky Experiment Station horticulturists are seeking "exceptionally good blackberries"—with an ulterior motive.

There is a good demand for blackberries, says Carl Chaplin, fruit specialist, and blackberries would be a good, profitable crop for Kentucky farmers. Present varieties generally are not satisfactory, as much of the fruit fails to develop, properly. Reason for this is not known, but a virus is suspected.

The Eggs Laid By The Crippled Goose

All over Kentucky the Crippled Goose has laid its eggs of highway scandals, increased taxes and intimidation of state employees along a trail of broken promises.

This Trail of Broken Promises is filled with padded payrolls for a chosen few, and is evidence that the Chandler-Waterfield Administration has only a cynical regard for the people of Kentucky.

The Chandler-Waterfield Administration threw the farm people's representatives out of Frankfort, corrupted the State Legislature, and above all turned its back on the unemployed of the state by refusing to extend unemployed benefits for 13 weeks. Many families of many children are hungry today because the Chandler and Waterfield Administration would not give them unemployed benefits.

Kentucky cannot stand another four years of Chandlerism.

ADKINS IN SPECIAL ALERT

Fort Campbell, Ky. — Army Pfc. Donald L. Adkins, whose wife, Joann, lives in Cleveland, Va., participated March 14-21 with the 101st Airborne Division's 187th Infantry in a special STRAC (Strategic Army Corps) alert at Fort Campbell, Ky.

The 101st Airborne Division, a major STRAC unit, constantly maintains an immediate readiness for airborne deployment to any area in the world. The first company can be ready for departure within two hours after receiving an alert. A second company can be ready to follow in one hour. Within six hours, a reinforced battle group of 1700 men can be airborne.

Adkins, assigned to the infantry's Company E, entered the Army in February 1958 and received basic combat training at Fort Hood, Tex.

The 24-year-old soldier is a 1953 graduate at Richlands (Va.) high school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. King D. Adkins, Harold, Ky.

Membership in the Future Farmers of America organization is restricted to boys who are students of vocational agriculture in high school.

Capitol Notebook

Kentuckians interested in saving historical landmarks, such as Frankfort's Corner of Celebrities and beautiful old homes and public structures in many cities of the Commonwealth, have a source of some cheer in legislation now pending in Congress.

One bill would direct the General Services Administrator, who is authorized to order demolition of surplus government buildings, to save and follow a program of restoration of historic buildings, sites, objects and antiquities.

Another bill would deny federal funds to projects which would damage or destroy sites and buildings of historical significance.

SOCIETY INTERESTED

In Frankfort, there has been much anxiety lest a proposed new postoffice or other building project usurp the site of some cherished landmark or encroach upon the Corner of Celebrities.

A spokesman for the National Society, Colonial Dames of America, has said the Society will cooperate in efforts for passage of legislation to preserve these shrines to Kentucky's heritage.

The Colonial Dames own the renovated Orlando Brown House, which was built in 1835 by John Brown of Liberty Hall, one of Kentucky's first two U. S. senators, for his son, Orlando. Containing much of its original furnishings, the house, designed by Gideon Shryock, has been opened to the public by the Dames.

FAMOUS CORNER

The area containing the Brown House and Liberty Hall, known as the Corner of Celebrities, has been the birthplace or later home of two justices of the U. S. Supreme Court, nine U. S. senators, six representatives, seven ambassadors, three admirals of the U. S. Navy and two federal cabinet members.

These are houses which the Kentucky Historical Society says "link our own age with Kentucky's illustrious past." Almost every Kentucky city has one or two old houses which historically minded citizens venerate in this way.

As a sponsor of one of the congressional bills said, "Long experience in Europe has led to many preservation enactments which include national treasures, sites and buildings. Undoubtedly Europe's ancient glories are the major attraction for some two billion dollars spent there by American tourists annually. In our country a building or site that is more than 10 years old has to fight for its life."

"I wish to do justice to all."—Abraham Lincoln.

Education Funds Distribution Okehed By Governor Chandler

Frankfort, April 6 ((Spl.) — Gov. Albert B. Chandler has given final approval for spending and distribution of nearly $700,000 in federal funds allotted to Kentucky under the National Defense Education Act of 1958.

Chandler said school districts throughout the state will benefit from the additional funds.

The money, he added, will provide new guidance testing and counseling programs designed to identify aptitudes and interests of all students so that they may be intelligently advised or career possibilities.

These funds also will purchase, Chandler said, laboratory equipment for new programs in science and mathematics.

The governor said the additional money will:

(1) Make possible expanded programs in state and area vocational schools. Training programs in electronics, tool and die design, and other technical fields are being inaugurated.

(2) Finance improvement of administration of these programs at the State level. Complete and accurate reports and data for statistical analysis of the programs will be made possible.

Chandler said he was enthusiastic about the future of these programs "which Kentucky so badly needs to round out its public education."

Kentucky's share of the funds allocated for these purposes in future years will amount to several million dollars, the governor said, "and a good start is essential."

Notice—Public Hearing

Notice is hereby given that the City Planning Commission for the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky will hold a public hearing at the Municipal Building, in Floyd county, Kentucky at 7 o'clock, P. M., on April 27, 1959.

The purposes of the meeting are to conduct public hearings on the proposed Zoning Ordinance for the City of Prestonsburg, and the proposed division of Prestonsburg into Zoning Districts, and the classification of such districts. The Zoning Map and Zoning Ordinance are to be considered by the City Planning Commission for inclusion as part of the General Plan for the development of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and this hearing is being conducted as provided in KRS 100.670.

Copies of the proposed ordinance and map may be examined at the office of the City Clerk in the First National Bank Building, Prestonsburg, Kentucky; and attendance at the hearing by all interested parties is invited.

Lincoln Marriage Will Be Re-Enacted At Springfield Fest

The baritone who portrays Stephen Foster this summer in the Bardstown outdoor drama will lead a songfest at Springfield's Abraham Lincoln sesquicentennial pageant June 12.

The singing led by James Morris, of the New York City Center Opera Co., will be a feature of the Springfield event at Lincoln Homestead State Park. Morris is to star in "The Stephen Foster Story", opening June 26 at My Old Kentucky Home State amphitheater.

Main event at the Springfield pageant will be a re-enactment of the marriage of Thomas and Nancy Hanks Lincoln, parents of the Great Emancipator.

Master of ceremonies for the pageant is Dr. William H. Townsend, chairman of the Kentucky Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission, and main speaker is Hambleton Tapp, vice chairman, both of Lexington.

Following the songfest in the afternoon, prizes will be awarded for the "best beard," Lincoln costumes and window displays. Finals in games and contests such as horse shoes, croquet and fiddling will be held, along with square dancing led by Miss Edna Ritchie.

Woodrow Fitzpatrick	$395.00

These fellows are for Chandlerism and all it stands for—broken promises, building a $25,000.00 road for Jerry Fonce Howell, and failure to give 13 weeks extra unemployment benefits to the working man.

These men are all getting along pretty good, but are you? Is Floyd county getting anything to help the people? Yes, a few chosen friends of the "Happy Chandler Gang" have good jobs. But at the same time hundreds of our Floyd county people are out of jobs, their children are hungry and the Chandler-Waterfield Administration refused to give our unemployed the benefit of 13 weeks compensation.

These men are for Waterfield because they have jobs—while Floyd county gets nothing.

"Yes...I Condemned THE CATHOLIC CHURCH"

"And you would, too," wrote a non-Catholic recently, "if all the things I heard about it were true. For years, I kept hearing that the Catholic Church was opposed to the Bible and tried to suppress it. I was told that the Church had changed Christ's teaching and practiced pompous pagan forms of worship. It was told to me that Catholics worship statues and images, and that the Catholic Church defied God's law and changed the Sabbath.

"But now I have learned that these stories and many others about the Catholic Church are not true—and never were." Every day, thousands of our non-Catholic friends and neighbors are discovering, as this man did... that Catholic belief, worship and history are widely misrepresented and misunderstood. That is why we publish these advertisements... and invite you to write for free pamphlets. We want you to know us as we are—not as false rumors and slanders represent us to be. We want you to know... if only for your own information... what the Catholic Church actually teaches, and what we Catholics actually believe.

ness are involved. For if it is true... as we claim it is... that the Catholic Church is the Church established by Christ, it is vital to your salvation that you investigate the genuineness of this claim. That is why we publish these messages. That is why we are happy to send you... without cost or obligation... authentic information about the Catholic religion on which to form your judgment.

We will send you free, in a plain wrapper, an interesting pamphlet explaining Catholic teaching on divorce—mixed marriages—gambling and drinking—why Catholics do not attend non-Catholic worship, and answering many of the false rumors you have heard about the Catholic Church. HOWELL STATEMENT TELLS WHY HE IS NOT CANDIDATE

State Senator Jerry Fonce Howell issued a statement today explaining why he is not running for re-election to the Senate this year.

"I decided not to become a candidate because I felt I could be helpful to the people of Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky by working full-time for the election of Mr. Waterfield as governor," Howell said.

"My close association with Mr. Waterfield over a period of several years has convinced me that he can and will do more to move Kentucky forward than any man who has appeared on the political scene during the past 50 years," Howell said.

"Since I am retiring from the Kentucky Senate after several years of pleasant experience working for the people of Floyd county, I would like to take this opportunity to review briefly some of the things I have been able to accomplish during my years in the Senate," Howell said. "Others may have done better. I do not know. But I retire with the satisfaction of knowing in my own mind and conscience that I have done the best I knew how to do."

Howell said he was especially proud of some half-dozen measures he helped get through the legislature during the past four years. He listed them as:

(1) The soldiers bonus bill, sponsored by Howell, which will permit Kentucky voters in November, 1959, to decide whether they want to pay a state bonus to veterans.
 (2) The "Little RFC Bill" which will set up a state loan fund and give all the towns of Eastern Kentucky the opportunity to borrow money at a low rate of interest to construct small industrial plants. Howell sponsored this.
 (3) The state appropriation bill which fully financed the Minimum Foundation Program, almost doubling teacher salaries.
 (4) Howell said he was one of the six men in the Senate who voted against the anti-United Mine Workers Hospital bill, a measure designed to close the hospitals.
 (5) Howell obtained an appropriation of $50,000 to build four duplex cottages at Dewey Lake.
 (6) Howell was a member of the Senate Education Committee, which worked out a bill giving teachers a 30 per cent increase in retirement funds.

Howell said he is also proud that he was a member of the Senate Rules Committee, and as such helped to kill the Right-to-Work bill.

"I also am proud of the work I have been able to do for our county highway program," Howell said. "I've worked harder on this than anything else. There are more roads under contract now in Floyd county than were done in the four years of the past administration."

State Representative
 Democratic Primary,
 May 26, 1959

Here are some facts I want you voters to know about me. Some know me as "Little A" Slone, who is the son of Charley and Osie Slone and the grandson of old Uncle Allen Slone and Sadie Bradley.

I married Marie Skeans, the daughter of Taylor Skeans and Callie DeRossett, a granddaughter of George Skeans and Rhoda Hamilton.

My wife and I have operated a business here on Middle Creek for the past ten years. I'm sure a lot of people who don't know me have done business with my father, Charley Slone, who has been in the grocery business for 18 years.

I see a lot of teachers who remember Charley Slone who has taught school in Floyd county for 20 years. I find a great many people each day while campaigning who went to school to my father.

I have also been a teacher of Floyd county and for the last ten years have been employed with the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David. I am a United Mine Worker and treasurer of Local No. 7788 at David.

I have never in my life been in trouble. I have never been in jail in my life. I'm honest, sober and dependable and ask of you your support because I am qualified to do the job as State Representative.

Your Support will be Appreciated. (Pol. Adv.)

Howell concluded his statement by saying: "I want to thank the people for honoring me with the privilege of serving them in the Senate, and for being so kind and helpful to me during my term in office. I have never held a job with the state. I have never done any business with the state; nor do I have any desire to do so. Whatever time and energy I have exerted has been at all times for the benefit of the people and not for personal gain.

"The fact that I am retiring from the senate does not mean I am no longer concerned about Floyd county's welfare. I will continue doing everything I know how to do for the good of Floyd county, and I will be available at all times in the future." (Pol. Adv.)

steadiest stance!

WIDE-TRACK PONTIAC!

Wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance, not the car, gives you road-hugging stability, less lean and sway. Only Pontiac has Wide-Track Wheels!
