This Town— That World

Nothing to gripe about. Nothing to crow about. Which means mighty little to write about. LAKESIDE BEAUTY We may have said this before— if so, we repeat: One of the prettiest drives in all Eastern Kentucky is along the mountainside road overlooking Dewey Lake from Hager Gap to the dam. Add to this a lakeside drive all the way to Stratton Branch, and a good, strong guardrail all the way, and all who love the beauty of water, sky and woods could go necking. We hastily add, rubbernecking. Seriously, this could be one of the greatest attractions in Eastern Kentucky or any other part of Kentucky.

NOW AND THEN Watched a boy this morning walking stiff-legged, his six-shooters at his hips, the holsters strapped to his legs in the best Western fashion. Maybe it's because it's that time of year when country roads are deep in dust—anyhow, the boy reminded me of the days when boys walked, also armed but with wooden, hand-made weapons; walked stiff-legged, to make their feet splat into the dust and cause it to squirt up between their toes. . . . It was a delightful sensation except on those occasions when a cocklebur lay where the old foot came down. (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

F.B.I. SEEKS RALPH LESTER

For Murder In Morgan; Reformatory Inmate Tip May Solve Stamper Case

State and federal warrants have been issued for a West Virginia magazine salesman charged in the robbery-slaying of a woman storekeeper at Grassy Creek, Morgan county, November 20. Named in the warrant is Ralph Lester, of Gary, W. Va. A public official, who requested that he not be identified by name, gave this background to the latest developments in the case Tuesday. Last month an inmate in the State Reformatory near LaGrange volunteered information about the crime in a letter to a law-enforcement officer. Pending further investigation, the name of the prisoner was withheld. In the letter, and later in an interview at LaGrange with investigating officials, the inmate identified himself as a buddy of Lester and said Lester had told him: "We had to kill a woman in Morgan county but we didn't get much money."

SURETY FIRM HAS ROAD JOB

Lake Highway Contract Of Elam Is Forfeited; Project To Be Sub-Let

The Bill Elam Construction Company, of West Liberty, contractor on construction of the Dewey Lake road from the boat dock to Stratton Branch, has defaulted its contract, its surety, the Maryland Casualty Company, was notified Monday by the Kentucky Department of Highways. As a consequence, the casualty company will be obliged to complete, or provide for the completion of, the road. Gordon Moore, Maryland Casualty representative here, said remainder of the work to be done will be let to contract by his company, probably to a local contractor. Amount of the bond was $103,000. It is estimated that 40% of the project has been completed. Contract on the road project was awarded the Elam firm last fall but work was not begun till this spring. Followed an interruption when it was discovered that the highway department had not procured from the United States and Floyd county necessary easements. Claiming heavy loss of time and money as a consequence of this interruption, Elam filed suit in circuit court here against the Department of Highways. Later, labor trouble developed and heavy claims for wages were filed by workmen. No work has been done on the road in several weeks and, more recently, all equipment was moved from the job. Plans were announced several months ago for extension of the lakeside road from Stratton Branch to connect with the existing highway at Hager Gap, but no further action has been taken.

VALLEY DAMS MAY SUFFER FUNDS LOSS

Threat of Bill Veto By Eisenhower Might Reduce Funds Sought

Eastern Kentucky may be in danger of losing a sizeable portion of the funds scheduled for appropriation by Congress for flood control work as a result of a threatened veto of the appropriations bill by President Eisenhower, it was said here Tuesday. Both House and Senate committees had, separately, agreed on increasing the appropriation for advance planning of the Fishtrap reservoir and on $2,500,000 for construction of the Pound reservoir, plus enough to complete the Buckhorn dam. But the overall rivers and harbors appropriation, as planned, stands in the disfavor of the President. As a result of Eisenhower's sharp criticism of the bill as it now stands, members of the House and Senate Appropriations committees are now trying to lop off enough locks and dams and reservoirs to prevent the President from throwing back to them the entire public works bill. And, fear Eastern Kentuckians, if anybody suffers a cut it will be Eastern Kentucky as in the past. The President urged Congress to appropriate funds for projects already started, such as the $19,000,000 Barkley dam and not start any new ones. The House committee stuck to the total amount Eisenhower suggested for such work but added 44 new projects, cutting funds from work already under way to provide money for new undertakings. The President argues that, although the new work within this total figure will have no adverse effect within the current fiscal year, the 44 new projects will eventually mean the addition of another $700,000,000. The bill under Presidential fire had increased from $200,000 to $400,000 the appropriation for the Fishtrap reservoir.

Prestonsburg Man's Son Is Cumberland Gap Mayor

Curtis Hopson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hopson, of Prestonsburg, was elected mayor of Cumberland Gap, Tenn., at the July 9 meeting of the City Council there. He succeeds the late Hugh Trent Ramsey. Mr. Hopson's election came little more than two years after he became a resident of Cumberland Gap. He moved from here in 1935 to Middlesboro where he established the dental laboratory which he still operates. (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

ANNEXATION IS SCHEDULED

For Two City Areas; Citywide Vote Sought In Council Elections

Existence of West Prestonsburg as a separate ward to elect its own representative on the City Council will be eliminated if plans discussed at the City Council meeting Monday night are adopted. City Attorney S. C. Ferguson was directed by the Council to draft an ordinance to provide for a citywide vote for all Council candidates. Councilmen are to be elected here at the November election. Hitherto, the voting for Councilmen was citywide except in West Prestonsburg where the voters elected their own Council representatives. As the upper section of Lancer sought to have its annexation to Prestonsburg voided two other sections sought admittance to the corporate limits of the town. The Council enacted an ordinance authorizing the City Attorney to take the necessary steps toward annexation. The question of cutting that part of Lancer south of "the big rock," in the vicinity of the Lucy Horner residence, was set for decision tonight (Thursday) at a special meeting. The new areas scheduled for annexation are: The property of E. B. May, Jr., and the E. B. May estate at the northern (lower) end of Prestonsburg; and that of Fred Francis and the Harkins estate heirs to include all of Trimble Branch to the hill-top. (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

Hopkins Death Story Erroneous, Is Claim

The story published last week by The Times, telling of the accidental shooting of Jack Arnold Hopkins, of Harold, by his wife, Mrs. Verlie Hall Hopkins, erred in two statements, according to the victim's father, G. M. (McKinley) Hopkins, who said: The victim had not spent the night in Pike county drinking, but had been with friends at the Moose Hall at Cowpen, and he did not say that he intended to kill himself.

Distribution of Butter To Floyd Needy Halted Because Supply Short

Distribution of butter to relief beneficiaries has not been made for the last two months because of inability of the surplus foods division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture to accumulate a surplus of that item, County Judge Henry Stumbo said this week. Cheese is another "short" item. Butter will be available to school lunchrooms, however, it was said. Besides the loss of this food for the needy, the county has suffered in another way. About four months ago, the fiscal court was notified that unless refrigeration was supplied here butter shipments would be stopped. The court got busy and leased from Shannon Greer a freezer at a rental of $50 a month. The lease was for six months but the freezer became of no value to the county when butter shipments stopped.

Teaberry Carpenter Constructs Coffin From Poplar Boards Saved 14 Years

Monroe Newsome, 74, of Teaberry, and the coffin he made for himself from 14-year-old poplar boards. He is the father of 20 children, 14 of them living. Fourteen years ago, Monroe Newsome, a Teaberry carpenter, set aside several prime yellow poplar boards. Some day, he planned, he would use those boards to make his coffin. Friday, last week, the 74-year-old Big Mud Creek man completed the job he had envisioned years before, and displayed his handwork to his children and friends. Fourteen of his 20 children are still living, eight are at home and four are in Ohio and Michigan. The others reside in this county. Although Mr. Newsome has passed the three score and ten mark and weighs only 130 pounds, he does not anticipate any immediate use of the coffin. He is in good health and fine spirits. His first wife, Pricie Hamilton Newsome, died in 1941. His second wife, Mary McCoy Newsome, survives. Children at home are Wilma, Reno, Anlene, Kelso, Leo, Lloyd, Bulah and Boyd. The youngest is five years of age. Ola, one of the older daughters, and present at the "unveiling" of the coffin, lives in Detroit, Living in Ypsilanti, Mich. are two other daughters, Mrs. Eddie Groiser and Mrs. Howard Jordan. Residing at Portsmouth, Ohio, is Mrs. J. H. Mitchell. Alvin Newsome lives at Teaberry.

MAY CHARGED AFTER ARREST

With Distillery Operation On Wilson Cr.; Newsome Captured, Beer Confiscated

John May, of Langley, former Magistrate in District 2 of this county, was arrested Tuesday afternoon at a moonshine still on Wilson Creek by Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis and a federal officer. May executed bond fixed by the U.S. Commissioner at Pikeville to answer to possible federal grand jury action. Deputy Sheriff Lewis said the former official was alone at the still, which was apparently ready for its first "run." A fire was going at the still, and May was gathering firewood when arrested, the officer said. He was charged by the Commissioner with "carrying on the business of a distillery." Freddy Newsome, Jr., who was shot and slightly wounded at Bull Creek, near here, recently, was captured Saturday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Lewis who confiscated 20 cases of beer from the truck Newsome was driving. The Newsome arrest was made while Lewis was preparing to raid for the second time in three days a place at East Point. When he saw Newsome, Lewis gave chase. Deputy Sheriffs J. Hall, Paul Lucas and Harold Johnson continued with the raid and arrested Edgar Blackburn on a warrant, although they found no intoxicants. (See Story No. 6, Page 6)

Ratliff Advises Korean Veterans To Plan Training

"Apply now—don't get caught in the rush." This is the advice that J. G. Ratliff, acting manager of the VA Regional Office in Louisville, gave to all Korea veterans planning to start school in the fall under the Korean GI Bill. He pointed out that with nearly a half-million veterans expected to be in training this fall, VA Regional offices the nation over will be operating at full-speed to handle their papers. By applying now, a veteran can beat the rush and can eliminate any chance of a delay at the last minute. Since veterans are allowed only one change of course during their GI training, it is necessary to give careful thought to selection. (See Story No. 9, Page 6)

4-COUNTY AREA PLANS TALKED AT MEET HERE

Representatives of a four-county area met at the Health Center here Friday with Dr. Ray H. Hayes, field representative of the Eastern State hospital, Lexington, to plan the formation of an area organization to deal with the problems of mental health and welfare development. The move was toward organization of the first such group on an area basis in Kentucky. Dr. Hayes told those attending the meeting that such an organization could be of such far-reaching effect that the possibility exists that it may win financial backing of a national foundation-type group. Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin and Martin counties would comprise the area to be served, and the name suggested for the organization includes, alphabetically, the names of those four counties. The suggested name is, "The MMFJ Health & Welfare Development Association." Its program would: 1. Work in the preventive field, reaching those adversely affected by situations and conditions before their illness becomes acute. 2. Assure the four counties of mental health clinics such as have been conducted in scattered Kentucky counties. Enactment of the Clark mining safety bill into law would destroy Eastern Kentucky's economy, B. F. Reed, drift coal operator, told a Senate subcommittee, Wednesday. Compliance with the Clark proposals would cost small mine owners $10,000 each, Reed said. Reed, treasurer of the Turner Elkhorn Mining Company, and an owner who buys coal from small truck mine operators, stated the little mine owners couldn't afford the cost of compliance and would have to shut down. A Virginia coal spokesman, J. B. Taggart, charged that the bill represents one more move in a continuing drive by the United Mine Workers and large coal operators to wipe out the nonunion truck-mining industry. The measure sponsored by Senator Joseph S. Clark (D., Pa.), and 10 others, would apply certain federal mine-safety laws equally to all mines regardless of size. Mines employing fewer than 15 persons are now exempt. Under the Clark bill, federal inspectors could shut down any unsafe mine. And all mines would have to comply with safety provisions covering ventilation, roof support, fire equipment, preshift examinations, and the like. Reed made his $10,000 estimate of the cost of installing safety measures under the Clark bill when asked by Clark to justify his statement that it would wreck the economy of East Kentucky and parts of Virginia, West Virginia, and Tennessee. SENATE HEARS REED PROTEST

Enactment of Clark Bill To Ruin Area Economy, Floyd Operator Claims

Enactment of the Clark mining safety bill into law would destroy Eastern Kentucky's economy, B. F. Reed, drift coal operator, told a Senate subcommittee, Wednesday. PARK PLANNED AT BUCKHORN

U.S. Government Agrees To Lease State Acreage For Area Development

Kentucky's Department of Conservation announced last Thursday the federal government has agreed to turn over 600 acres on a 50-year lease for development of a state park at Buckhorn reservoir in Perry county. Commissioner Laban P. Jackson said the state had asked for 1,200 acres, but agreed 600 would be adequate since it was a continuous tract five miles from the dam now under construction. The state has planned for some time to build a full-fledged park at Buckhorn reservoir, with facilities including a lodge, cottages, beach and boat docks. The park would be part of a 10-park package plan designed to place a recreation area within 60 miles of every Kentuckian. "The Perry county park would also tie in with the fact that we can make East Kentucky the mountain resort of middle America," Jackson said. He said the reservoir waters are to be impounded next year. "We haven't reached the stage yet where we actually need the land," he added. Among those attending the meeting with Jackson were State Parks Director Russell Campbell; an aide, Tom Nelson, and Forestry Director Gene Butner.

Martin Woman Convicted For Possession of Liquor; Juveniles Are Committed

Quarterly court juries reversed recent trends Wednesday when they convicted two persons accused of illegal liquor operations. Mrs. Eva Halbert, of Martin, who had previously won an acquittal on another liquor charge, was convicted on a liquor possession count, was jailed 30 days and fined $20. The same penalty was imposed on Jim Miller, who was accused of selling. Fines of $10 and costs were assessed Wednesday of Tillman Mullins, Woodrow Mullins and Freeman Little, who entered pleas of guilty before Trial Judge G. C. Burchett to charges of drunkenness. BOLT STRIKES MARTIN LINES

Power Service Disrupted For Five Hours; Kincaid Notes Extensive Damage

A severe electrical storm, accompanied by heavy rainfall, moved over the Martin area early Wednesday afternoon and by the time the storm was over lightning had cut electric transmission lines on both sides of town. Crews of Kentucky Power Company worked almost five hours to restore service, repairing the two line breaks that were about four miles apart. Lightning hit the line near the drive-in theatre between Martin and Allen, burning down a line and damaging eight insulators. The other line was burned down near Hite. H. H. Kincaid, Pikeville, district manager of Kentucky Power, explained that Martin receives power from two 46,000-volt line feeds. One line feeds from the Allen substation and the other from the Beaver Creek substation. Normally, when one line is damaged, the other line carries the load for Martin. "However," Kincaid said, "we were hit hard when lightning struck on both lines on either side of town. It was the first time this happened in Martin, and we certainly hope the last time." Kincaid said that he did not know of any other general damage in the area. "Thanking the Martin customers, Kincaid said: "We certainly regret this inconvenience. We really appreciate the patience of the people while we were working to restore service."

FALLING TREE KILLS DANIELS

Johnson War Veteran Victim on Timber Job As Tree 'Kicks' Uphill

Arbie Daniels, 34-year-old World War I veteran, was almost instantly killed near here Monday afternoon when a tree felled by a fellow-workman on a timber job swerved onto him. Daniels sat at what appeared to be a safe distance uphill from the tree but as it fell a branch caught in another tree, causing the butt of the felled tree to kick uphill onto him. His body was pinned so that other workmen found it necessary to cut the tree again to free him. Scene of the tragedy was on Hall Branch, on the railroad side of the river below Cliff railway station, where Roy Rice was operating a timber job. The body was brought here to the Moore Funeral Home, and later was taken to the Preston Funeral Home at Paintsville. The victim, who was a son of Frank Daniels, of Nippa, Johnson county, entered the U.S. Army February 28, 1945, although only 16 years old at the time, and fought through the African, Italian and French campaigns. He was wounded in action, and was discharged as a corporal, February 27, 1945. Surviving, besides his father, are his widow, Mrs. Helen Tully Daniels, four children, a brother and two sisters. Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday from the Mouth of Rush Free Will Baptist Church, in Johnson county, and burial was made in the family cemetery, near Nippa.

Farm Field Day Slated At Cliff By Ag Council; Farm Tour Is Scheduled

The annual Farm Family Field Day will be held Saturday, August 8, at the home of J. L. Lafferty, Sr., at Cliff, it was announced this week. The field day is an annual event sponsored by the Floyd County Agricultural Council. Events scheduled at the Lafferty farm are a demonstration by a home economist of the Kentucky Power Company, a farm tour and a meeting of Homemaker Clubs in the afternoon. "The program this year should prove to be one of the best ever held," said a Council spokesman. "Activities are planned for men, women and children." The power company economist will demonstrate the use of small appliances and the Homemakers will hold their annual meet to include the election of officers and the planning of next year's programs. The farm tour will include views of farm enterprises such as corn, strawberries, hay, pastures, hogs and poultry. "The Laffertys have one of the best garden programs in the county," it was said by the local Extension Service. "Not only do they have plenty to use fresh and preserve but raise much to sell. It is a revelation to see what a progressive farm family can do."

BANK SWINDLER WRITES CHECK ON DR. ARCHER FOR OIL WELL

A man who swindled the Central Bank of Lexington out of $550, July 8, used a check to which the name of a Prestonsburg man had been forged to carry out his scheme. H. A. Smith, a vice-president of the Lexington bank, said a man who identified himself as L. T. Rogers, of Mt. Sterling, deposited $3,125 in checks around noon that day. One of the checks was drawn on The Bank Josephine here, two others on a Winchester bank. The bank official said the man returned about two hours later and cashed a check for $550 on his newly established account, then two hours later came back to cash a second check for $1,150. His last visit to the bank was about 4 p.m., and officials told him the bank was closed for the day. When Smith called the Prestonsburg and Winchester banks he was told that the checks Rogers had deposited were forgeries. The check drawn on the Bank of Josephine bore the name, "John G. Archer, M.D.," was for about $1,000 and was marked "for interest in oil well in Green county." Dr. Archer informed the bank here that he had signed no such check.

MEET TONIGHT TO DETERMINE PROJECT FATE

Urban Renewal Official Says Reduced Area Fails To Fulfill Requirements

Unless three parcels of property eliminated from the proposed urban renewal project for Prestonsburg are restored by action of the City Council at a special meeting tonight (Thursday), the federal-aid project is dead. That the urban renewal plan for Prestonsburg is not feasible in its present reduced state was said last week in a letter written by E. Bruce Wedge, regional director of the Urban Renewal Administration, to Clifford B. Latta, executive director of the Municipal Housing Commission here. And the end of urban renewal plans will, in all probability, mean the same fate for any future plans for public low-rent housing which is financed entirely by the federal government, it was said. The Council at a recent meeting eliminated from urban renewal plans the residence of Orville Cooley on Third Avenue and two business buildings at the corner of Lake Drive and Court Street which are owned by Mrs. Osa F. Ligon. When told at Monday night's meeting that the program is dead unless these properties are restored to the plans, the Council postponed final action until tonight. "Of the July 6 Council action which eliminated the Cooley and Ligon properties, Mr. Wedge wrote: "This latest action is one of a series of actions which have been taken locally and which raises serious doubts as to the feasibility of this project." He pointed out that the project, as originally planned, included an area of almost three acres, approximately 98% of which was occupied by buildings and damaged by the 1957 flood. This area involved the courthouse site, but defeat of a bond issue eliminated that site. (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

High Tension, Too Much Drive Will Break Heart

The ambitious, hard-driving man, always racing to finish a mountain of work, is literally breaking his own heart, says the August Reader's Digest. That is the conclusion reported by writer Howard Whitman, as the result of new medical studies into links between emotional stress and heart attack. The ancients were not far wrong, he says, in considering the heart the seat of emotion; words like "heart-broken," "heavy-hearted," and "heartache" contain more truth than poetry. A study by Dr. Henry I. Russek of the U. S. Public Health Service and Prof. Burton L. Zohman of the State University of New York College of Medicine found emotional stress four and a half times more prevalent among coronary victims than in people with healthy hearts. Drs. Meyer Friedman and Ray H. Rosenman, of San Francisco, made a study of two groups. Group A consisted of competitive, ambitious men, constantly fighting deadlines. Group B men were easygoing with far less drive—and they had one seventh as much heart disease as was found among the men of Group A! Telltale signs mark the potential coronary victim, Drs. Friedman and Rosenman found. He gestures emphatically when he talks, particularly with clenched fist. He looks at his watch often. Talk to him and he will interrupt to finish your sentence for you. He speeds up whatever he has to do; one patient actually shaved with two electric razors, one for each cheek! A mild heart attack often is a blessing, forcing such people to slow down and enjoy life. Bill Leonard of CBS, who had a heart attack at 40, was known as a tireless broadcaster. Now he says, "I simply don't try as hard, as much or as often. I spend more time just doing things I like to do—playing bridge, taking long walks, playing golf." Life is almost always sweeter for the man who has survived a heart attack, Whitman wrote; the tragedy is that he must risk death to learn how to enjoy life. The article is titled, "Stop Breaking Your Heart."

"Miss Kentucky" Entertains Kiwanians With Reading of Lowell's "Patterns"

The Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club was entertained by a program of special interest Monday evening, when Miss Kentucky of 1959 presented a reading of Amy Lowell's "Patterns." Miss Kentucky, who is Miss Carol Brown, of Whitesburg, was introduced to the group of 76 Kiwanians, wives and guests by Haskell Tackett, Inter-Club Relations chairman of the Pikeville Kiwanis Club. In his introductory remarks, Mr. Tackett explained the significance of having an Eastern Kentucky girl chosen as the state's representative to the Miss America Pageant, and urged that everyone give Miss Brown their enthusiastic support so that favorable publicity might result from a mountain girl being chosen to represent Kentucky. The audience was impressed by Miss Brown's poise and beauty, and by her calm assurance as she presented the reading. A student at Eastern Kentucky State College, Miss Brown was one of several representatives from that college chosen to compete for "Miss Kentucky" honors. In spite of her hectic schedule since being chosen "Miss Kentucky," she has maintained a high scholastic rating at Eastern. The meal was served to the group by the Daughters of America. Visitors were present from Martin, Prestonsburg and Pikeville Kiwanis Clubs, and special guests included Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Wiley, Mrs. Cora McHone, Mrs. Georgia Cantrell and Mrs. Brown, the mother of "Miss Kentucky."

ACCIDENT VICTIMS

Lexington, Ky.—Accidents kill more children than all the communicable diseases combined. Accidents cripple more children than polio and injure thousands of others to a less degree. And accidents can be prevented, says Frances Stallard, University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension specialist in home management. On election day, Aug. 6, 1855, the Know Nothing Party precipitated a riot in Louisville. A mob with a cannon went fighting and burning through the streets. Several lives were lost and a number of homes were burnt. The day is known as "Bloody Monday."

Floyd Co. 4-H Girl Reports On IFYE Journey To Ireland

(Reba Joyce Salyers, Floyd county's International Farm Youth Exchange representative, reports to her friends back home in the following letter from Dublin, Ireland.—Editor.)

Just a short note. I have been gone from Kentucky over a month and it hardly seems possible. Time does go by so fast.

I had a wonderful week of orientation in Washington, D. C., after being seen off at the Bluegrass Airport in Lexington, Ky., by Mrs. Henry Martin, my aunt; Kathy, her daughter; and Miss Edith Lacy, the 4-H Club agent in charge of IFYE's. Had a wonderful plane flight to Washington. It was my first and a beautiful one at that.

The week in Washington was very hot and hectic. We were kept very busy just about all the time. We met with the ambassadors of our respective countries and with officials from the Department of State. The program was very well planned and carried out to try to help us understand our part in this program for world understanding. There were 23 of us in this particular orientation group. Six of them went to the Pacific and the remaining 17 of us went to New York City on the evening of June 9 by Greyhound Bus. We were accompanied by Mrs. Lee Ann Elum of the National 4-H Foundation, who was formerly Lee Ann Leets, a former Kentucky IFYE. The next morning we arose early and went down to the pier to get the ship.

Our ship was the U. S. New York, a Greek Lines ship. About 1,200 were on it. The day we sailed from New York was beautiful—with the sun shining and the Statue of Liberty in plain view. We had quite a grand time coming over on the boat. Some of our group got seasick, but, other than that, everyone enjoyed themselves and had a good time for the next eight days.

We couldn't have asked for a nicer day than the one we had on June 18th when we arrived in Cobh, Ireland. It is a very beautiful harbor but the bigger boats don't dock here. Instead, a small boat called a "tender" comes out and picks up the debarking passengers. We were up bright and early on the morning of June 18th to see the first glimpse of land.

Three of us, Penny Williams from Indiana, Bob Jones from Idaho, and myself were the first of our group to debark.

NURSE WORKSHOP

Frankfort, July 23—A mental health workshop for nursing personnel at the State tuberculosis hospital in London was begun recently by Miss Bessie Ball, State Department of Mental Health nursing consultant.

WE THEN HAD A BRIEF ORIENTATION

or pointers from Mrs. Shedy after which we went out to a farm. After this, we came back to a beautiful reception at the Metropole Hotel in Cork. The national president of Macra na Feirme was there and all the other people I have mentioned above were present. After the speeches and dinner, there was dancing. I have since come to learn that dancing and socials are a very important part of Irish life.

The Irish people have been very wonderful. I could not have felt more at home anywhere. At first, I had some difficulty understanding the accent but I am now beginning to catch on.

The food is wonderful, too. Tea is served very often and usually with lots of little cakes, cookies or breads. They are very tasty and I'm afraid I will have a few extra pounds to show for it when I return.

My first host family has been very wonderful to me. From the first they accepted me and have treated me quite wonderfully.

4-H CAMP

Eighty club members, one leader and three agents from Floyd county attended District Camp at J. M. Felner 4-H Camp. The eighty club members attending is believed to be a new attendance record from a county.

The week's activities included crafts, sports and folk dancing. Kenneth Williams and Charles Barker were in charge of folk dancing each evening. Thursday evening folk dancing featured Scott Craft and his band.

Visitors night on Thursday was attended by forty-three families from Floyd county.

Several Floyd county club members were awarded camp medals and patches.

They were: Bronze Award—Melanie Ann Conley, Clara Ann Allen; star camper ribbon—Burgess Lowe, William Barker, Karen Burchett, Shirley Perrino, Glenda Sue Merritt and Ruby Mae Gayheart; nature study patch—Larry Allen, Karen Burchett, Joan Hicks, Rhoda Ann Gayheart, Jack Howard, and Gaylord Martin; archery patch—William Barker, Gaylord Martin, Bradford Cummings, Bruce Salyers, Kenneth Gayheart, Stanton Martin and Janet Stratton.

Rev. Harold Dicks, pastor, Arnold Avenue Church of Christ, conducted vesper programs for the week and was in charge of singing.

Mrs. Fletcher Gayheart, leader from the Maytown club, accompanied the group at camp.

ONLY YOUR LOCAL STORES GIVE INSTANT DELIVERY AND SERVICE . . .

HERE'S HOW YOU BENEFIT BY DOING ALL YOUR SHOPPING LOCALLY

When you buy from your hometown merchants you get:

1. HONEST VALUES
2. AMPLE SELECTION
3. INSTANT DELIVERY, SERVICE AND ADJUSTMENT
4. MORE PERSONAL AND FRIENDLIER TREATMENT
5. SAVING OF TIME
6. RELIEF FROM COSTLY TRAVEL
7. FREEDOM FROM ROAD HAZARDS
8. ELIMINATION OF COSTLY PARKING PROBLEMS
9. AVOIDANCE OF JOSTLING CROWDS
10. THE CHANCE TO BUILD A BETTER COMMUNITY BY PUTTING YOUR DOLLARS TO WORK HERE

We don't believe you gain anything at all by driving long distances to shop at BIG CITY stores. Our local sources have merchandise that's just as good and costs no more.

But merely for the sake of argument, suppose you do save a few dollars on a time-consuming trip many miles from home. And suppose you don't even count the cost of gasoline and oil, car wear, parking fees, etc. Forget, too, if you like, the hazards of driving in today's heavy highway and city traffic.

But don't overlook these things: What you buy here can be in your home in a few minutes—no waiting several days for delivery. And if the merchandise doesn't give full satisfaction, any needed service or adjustment of the purchase can be made without shipping the items back to the BIG CITY or being forced to make a second trip yourself.

Why drive scores of miles looking for trouble? Shop right around the corner and be safe and satisfied.

Two Floyd FFA Boys On Panel Discussion

Two Floyd county Future Farmers of America were on a recent panel discussion at the Kentucky FFA Leadership Training Center at Hardinsburg, Ky. They were, second from left, Hugh Church, of Prestonsburg, and Freer Martin, third. Eighteen members of the Prestonsburg and Maytown chapters of the young farm organization attended the meeting.

"They were given training that will be helpful to them in carrying out their duties as an FFA officer," said Lloyd Wells, Prestonsburg Chapter adviser.

Other boys attending from Prestonsburg were Jackie Howard, James Ousley, Grover Pitts, Merl Music, John Wayne Shepherd, Bill Henry Montgomery and Curtis Ousley. Others from the Maytown Chapter were Gary Turner, Arnold Caudill, Ronald Hicks, Coy Bradley, Junior Bentley, Ronald Prater, Junior Ferrell, Conrad Branham and James Raymond Crisp.

FURNISHINGS

Lexington, Ky.—Home furnishings should be made by the entire family, not just by the lady of the house. This statement, made at the recent Annual Congress on Better Living sponsored by McCall's Magazine, was based on interviews with homemakers, according to Marian Bartlett, University of Kentucky Extension specialist in home furnishings.

Getting tired is mostly a matter of habit; fatigue is likely to strike at the same hour every day, whether we have been working hard or not, says the August Reader's Digest. Psychologist William James called that hour the "fatigue point" and found it could be pushed far back—breaking the tiredness habit—by deliberately working on to a later hour until the system comes to expect it, and provides a late burst of energy.

Lightning kills 400 Americans a year—but without it, none of us could live, the August Reader's Digest says. Lightning starts a series of vital chemical reactions which make it possible for plants to absorb nitrogen—an element vital to our survival. If there were no lightning, the nitrogen would stay in the air, useless to us.

GRAVE OF JENNY WILEY, PIONEER INDIAN CAPTIVE

Jenny Wiley, Eastern Kentucky's most famous Indian captive, lies buried in the old Wiley cemetery at River, Johnson county, near the Big Sandy River. A small sandstone marker, erected according to tradition by a son, has inscribed on it the letters, "J. W."

Mrs. Wiley was born in Ab's Valley, Virginia, a daughter of Hezekiah Sellards, Scotch-Irish immigrant, and married Thomas Wiley. She was captured by a mongrel band of Indians, Oct. 1, 1789, while her husband was away. Three of her children and a 15-year-old brother were massacred. Leading the Indian band was Black Wolf, a Shawnee, and a chieftain known only as Cherokee.

Mrs. Wiley's infant child was killed on Tug River by the Indians and another, born in captivity and named Robert Bruce, was also killed. She escaped to Harman's Station at the mouth of Johns Creek in the early spring of 1790. Re-united with her husband, they moved about 1806 to the Big Sandy valley to make a home. She died of paralysis in 1831. A for whom Jenny Wiley State Park was named.

Home Freezer Care Can Cut Expenses

Lexington, Ky.—Freezer operating costs can be reduced by good management practices, according to Catherine Knarr, University of Kentucky Extension specialist in home management.

Location of the freezer helps determine convenience and operating efficiency, Miss Knarr says. Operating costs are lower if the freezer is located in a cool, dry, well-ventilated room, out of the direct sunlight. Space around the freezer is needed for good air circulation to remove heat from the condenser.

Four million Americans now are wearing contact lenses, and another half-million switch to them every year, the August Reader's Digest reports.

Farsley was eliminated, and so was property on North Lake Drive.

The July 6 Council action, Wedge wrote, left an area of an acre, or slightly less with only three commercial buildings and two vacant lots remaining.

The Council at a previous meeting adopted a zoning ordinance but at the same time voted down a housing code. A housing code, Wedge pointed out, is not a prerequisite to execution of a loan and grant contract, but the disaster provision of Section III of the 1954 Housing Act does require a housing code at a reasonable future date to comply with workable program requirements.

Wrote Mr. Wedge: "... the modified area is of such shape and size as not to be conducive to a sound plan for future development. . . We recommend that your board reconsider its recommendation. . . and that the Board and City Council consider termination of the project as being infeasible and not qualified for federal assistance as an urban renewal project."

Later, however, it was indicated that if the three properties eliminated by the Council July 6 are re-instated the Prestonsburg urban renewal plan will be acceptable.

The urban renewal program, as planned here, involved a park area fronting on South Lake Drive, extending from Court Street to a point near the Southern Bell Telephone Company office, a new street linking Third and Lake Drive, with parking areas. Cost of the project and the city's share would have been financed by a bond issue which would have been amortized from parking meter revenues.

tion of their educational goal and the training program which will lead to it.

To assist them in this choice, they may request vocational counseling from VA. This procedure requires some time for scheduling, performing the actual tests and analyzing results, so veterans who will make use of it were urged to lose no time in making application.

As an early step in their preparations for GI training, the veterans have to make necessary arrangements for admission to the school they plan to attend—after assuring themselves that the course they want to take has been approved for GI training by the State in which the school is located.

They should take along enough money of their own to tide them over the first two months of training. It takes about that long, ordinarily, for their first monthly GI check to reach them.

The reason is that payments can be made only after each month of training is completed, and not before. Further, before VA may make a payment, it must receive a certification signed by the veteran and his school, stating that he had been in class all month. VA is allowed 20 days, under the law, after receipt of certifications to get checks in the mail.

Thomas Lloyd Estep is serving a 30-day jail term after pleading guilty to a whiskey possession charge, Wednesday afternoon of last week, immediately after the same place was raided by Deputies Lewis and John Parsons. The object of the two raids is located near the old site of the Top Hat at East Point.

Bond of $5,000 was asked Monday for the release of Leslie Franklin Akers, a juvenile, who was arrested Sunday on a rape charge lodged by a 13-year-old Mud Creek girl. The offense allegedly was committed early in June. Young Akers did not testify at the hearing here Monday before County Judge Henry Stumbo, and jurisdiction in the case was transferred to circuit court.

Others booked at the jail here within the week: Mack Little, carrying a concealed deadly weapon; Wilson (Red) Phillips, drunk driving; Isaac Hall, Jr., forgery; Raymond Caudill, reckless driving; Jerry Lewis, breaking and entering; Gracie Burke, grand larceny; Archie Moore, no operator's license and hit-run driving.

Gibberellin, a revolutionary plant-stimulating compound discovered by Japanese scientists, can make navel-orange trees produce twice as much fruit, the August Reader's Digest reports.

Four juveniles who were arrested by Prestonsburg police recently in connection with a series of breaks here were committed by County Judge Stumbo to the Department of Child Welfare until they reach the age of 21. Probation was granted, however, to two of the youths, Aubert Osborne and Billy Joe Crace. Clemency had not been granted in the cases of the other two, Robert Craft, Jr., and John Scott Clevenger.

Osborne and Crace were probated to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Osborne and Mr. and Mrs. Estill Crace. Terms of probation require that they be at home by 8:30 p.m. each day, that they attend school and the church of their choice regularly.

DIAGNOSIS

Laziness, it says here, is the esthetic love of physical calm. Which recalls the anecdote I came across, the other night.

"Give it to me straight, in plain English, doc," the "patient" said. "I can take it—tell me, what's wrong with me."

Doc complied. He looked the man over and said, "The only thing that's wrong with you, sir, is plain laziness."

"O.K., doc," the "sufferer" said. "Now give me a scientific name for it, so I can go home and tell the wife."

B'ER BEAR

The Dewey Lake area has a newcomer—a bear, no less. For some time now we've been hearing of some strange animal that has been wallowing the daylight hours of dogs, in the vicinity of Camp Creek, and now from Camp Shawnee, near German, comes an authentic report that a bear that will scale between 250 and 300 pounds has been a visitor there.

Bruin may be a nuisance, and he isn't exactly the sort of visitor one would welcome into camp, but we think he should be protected. One of the prime attractions to tourists in the Great Smoky Mountains area is the bears that are often seen along the highway.

Temperamental? Remember, it's more temper than mental.

In opposing the use of federal inspectors, Reed said they could not "approach the efficient regulation and supervision" provided by the Kentucky State Department.

In 1958, he noted, Kentucky's Title 1 (under 15 employees) mines had a fatality rate of .87 per million man-hours. In contrast, Title 2 (15 or more employees) under federal inspection had a fatality rate of 1.35. Moss and others favoring the Clark bill testified previously that the national fatality rate in Title 1 mines was 2 1/2 times higher than in Title 2 mines.

But Reed and Taggart of Virginia complained that these figures came from the Bureau of Mines. And, said Taggart, they are "completely erroneous, incorrect and unimpressive of acceptance."

Both favored proposals by Senator John Sherman Cooper, for studies of coal-mine safety by the Bureau of Mines or a temporary commission. Reed said any new legislation should be based on "carefully prepared data" from such studies.

Taggart said he was convinced that the U.M.W. and the large operators had made up their minds to work together to control and, if possible, destroy the "upstart" truck-mining industry.

The big operators, he charged, want to hurt such competition. The U. M. W., he said, seeks to end employment of nonunion men, and stop production of coal on which the union does not collect 40 cents a ton for its welfare fund.

A bill introduced by Cooper would, like the Clark bill, permit federal inspectors to shut down any unsafe mine. But Title 1 mines wouldn't have to comply with the safety-device provisions.

A cosponsor of that bill is Senator Thruston B. Morton. In a prepared statement Wednesday, he opposed the Clark bill.

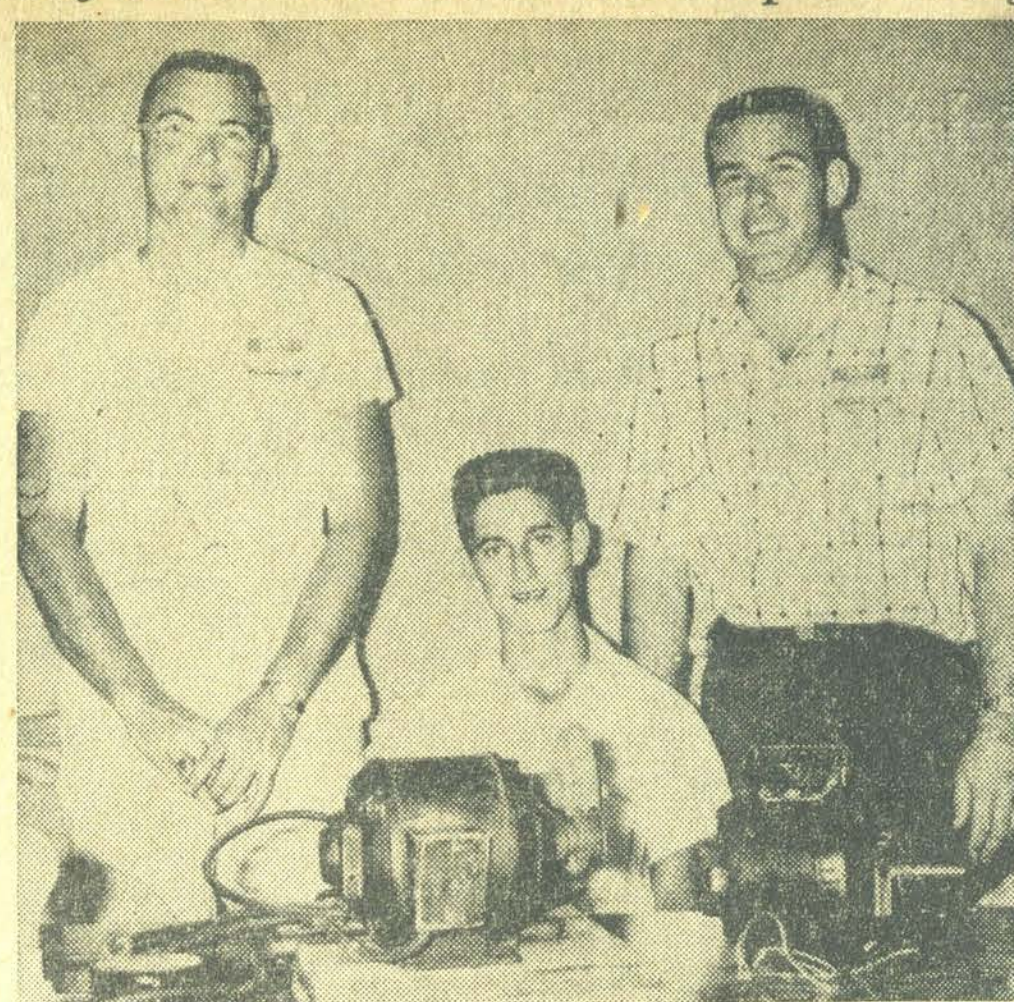

Morton said the small Kentucky coal miner "has every right to object to legislation he feels will contribute little to mine safety, yet might subject him to extreme economic hardship."

James Phalan, of Lexington, chief of the Kentucky Department of Mines, backed the Cooper bill. He said his department is proud of its progress in cutting down fatalities in Kentucky's 3,000 mines.

The 49 fatalities last year, he said, composed the lowest number in 45 years.

Sam Bates, a Harlan miner, said federal inspections as called for in the Clark bill would not cut down on the greatest cause of deaths in small mines—roof falls.

He readily gave his name and admitted the robbery.

Chief Greene County Deputy Clarence Clary said that Yeazell did not give a complete story as to how he slipped through the extensive police net thrown around the Yellow Springs area Tuesday.

Yeazell had made his way on foot through the woods and cornfields, successfully eluding the some 250 officers who combed the area. He apparently hid out until about midnight and then made his way out.

An intensive search in the vicinity was called off about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday night after hundreds of law officers were unable to find the robber. But patrol cars still kept a careful perimeter watch.

Fairborn was one of the first towns notified and cars were dispatched to set up road-blocks.

A large number of heavily-armed police officers, estimated at some 250 men quickly gathered at the scene.

Pinion, who has been living at Fairborn for ten years, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hence Pinion, formerly of Endicott, but now of East Point.

WHY PEOPLE PREFER TO SAVE WITH INSURED SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

- SPECIALIZED FOR SAVINGS
Our type of financial institution exists especially to serve persons desiring to accumulate a fund by saving from current income, or persons seeking to put accumulated money to work earning a safe return.
- EQUAL TREATMENT
Each saver's dollar shares equally with all other dollars in the institution's distribution of earnings.
- SAFETY ASSURED FOR SAVINGS
Your funds placed in this institution are protected three-fold: safeguarded by the sound policies of management; protected by the inherent safety of first mortgage loans repayable monthly; and finally, the funds of each saver are insured to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Corporation, an instrumentality of the United States Government.
- FLEXIBILITY OF USE
Because a person can add to or withdraw a portion or all of the funds from his account without payment of a service charge, the Association is an excellent place to build a working reserve fund or estate.

Makes all curves feel banked...

...the curve-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

It's been a long time since the public took to an automobile with the verve and vigor of the current admiration for Pontiac. It's now first in sales in its price class. Sleek beauty is one reason. Wide-Track Wheel design is another. The wheels are five inches farther apart to increase stability on curves and corners. It's a very simple, basic innovation yet the improvement it makes in your control of the car is remarkable. You're more comfortable than you've ever been in narrow track cars.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS
Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

Three new lakes will soon dot Kentucky's landscape — Barkley Lake, 118 miles long; Rough River Reservoir, 27 miles, and Buckhorn Reservoir, 14 miles.

The First Church of God in Morehead was the scene of the wedding of Miss Phyllis Ann McBrayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl McBrayer of Morehead, and Mr. Bert Thomas Dixon, son of Mrs. Ann Dixon of East Point and the late Mr. Glenn Dixon. Rev. Gary W. Ausbun of Anderson, Indiana, brother-in-law of the bride, and Pastor M. L. Tate, officiated at the double-ring ceremony Sunday, June 30, at 4:30 o'clock.

The church was decorated with white gladioli, palms and blue majestic daisies. Blue cathedral tapers in candelabra stood on each side of an open Bible on the altar.

Mrs. Jack McBrayer, sister-in-law of the bride, sang "Through The Years", "God Gave Me You" and "The Lord's Prayer". She was accompanied at the organ by Miss Sue Bayless.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported lace over satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice with scooped neckline edged with rose medallions centered with a pearl, long tapered sleeves ending in points at the hand, and a bouffant skirt terminating in a chapel train. Her headdress was a tiara of white seed pearls ending in a finger-tip veil of French illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet centered with a white orchid and knotted satin streamers tied with Stephanotis.

Mrs. Wayne Chapman was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a gown of light blue flannel over blue taffeta with a dipping hemline, and matching gloves.

The attendants were Mrs. Gary Ausbun and Mrs. Harold Ellington, sisters of the bride; Miss Gretta Ann Brown and Billie Jo Dixon, sister of the bridegroom. They wore dresses identical to that of the matron of honor in a darker shade of blue. They carried cascade arm bouquets of blue majestic daisies and wore headpieces of blue majestic daisies.

The flower girl, Miss Terry Ellington, niece of the bride, wore a dress identical to that of the matron of honor and carried a basket of blue majestic daisy petals.

Mr. Wayne Dixon, of East Point, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Glen Mac Dixon, brother of the bridegroom, Wayne Chapman, and Harold Ellington, brother-in-law of the bride; Phil McBrayer and Jack McBrayer, brothers of the bride; and Bob Ed Rose.

Mrs. McBrayer chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of light blue chantilly lace and white accessories. Mrs. Dixon wore a peach lace dress with white accessories. Both wore white camellia corsages.

A reception following the wedding was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents on the Flemingsburg road. The bride's table was centered with a bouquet of white carnations and held a five-tier wedding cake outlined with white carnations and fern. Mrs. Dick Dixon, sister-in-law of the groom, assisted at the punch bowl while Miss Lynn Evans served the cake. Miss Gay Garred attended the guest book.

The bride chose for the wedding trip, a dress of mint green, with white accessories. The couple has now made their home in Prestonsburg.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Breckinridge Training School. Mr. Dixon is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school and a 1950 graduate of Morehead State and has attended Morehead State College for the past two years. College where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Physical Education and Geography and Geology. While at Morehead he was a member of the Morehead State College football team, holding the position of co-captain his senior year, and was also selected to be on the 1958 ALL-OVC team. He was selected for Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities and is a member of the Campus Club.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Ann Dixon and children, Wayne and Billie Jo, Mr. Glen Mac Dixon and son, Michael Glen, Mrs. Arnold Bill Lyons, Miss Judy Dixon, Mrs. Dick Dixon, Mr. Joe P. Tackett, III, all of Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Jack McBrayer and son Brian, Vanceburg; Miss Mary Lou Virgin and Bob Ed Rose, Wurtland; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ausbun, Anderson, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Chapman, Barbourville, W. Va.; Miss Arlene Shadrach, Cincinnati; Mr. Herbert McBrayer, Dayton, O.; and Miss Jewell Sargent, Miamisburg, O.

FERTILIZER

Figures released by the Feed and Fertilizer Department of the Kentucky Agriculture Experiment Station shows that Floyd county farmers from July 1 to December 31, 1958, used 198 tons of mixed fertilizer. Forty tons of straight materials were also used in the same period.

New pasture seedings received the bulk of this amount. Farmers used thirty-nine tons of ammonia nitrate to side dress their corn. The release also showed farmers are using a higher analysis of fertilizer. This saves money and also means a saving in pounds of materials that is handled.

Fertilizer is one of the best investments a farmer can make. A dollar spent for fertilizer will usually return $3 to $4 in increased production.

Pasture is the most neglected crop when it comes to fertilizer. Most farmers will fertilize at time of seeding, but don't follow through with additional applications every few years. Pasture fertilization not only increases yields but it helps hold the stand for a longer period.

The limited amount of land suitable for crop production makes it all the more important to increase yield, here in the county. Fertilizer is one of the main factors that affects yields and could be wisely used by more farmers.

INTEREST RAISED

Frankfort, July 23—The Veterans Administration has authorized a maximum interest rate on G.I. Loans of 5 1/4 percent now effective. Director R. R. Thomas of Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board announces.

On the average, each American consumed 112 pounds of sugar and sirups in 1958, one and a half pounds of nuts, nearly five pounds of peanuts and slightly more than six pounds of coffee.

Tidbits Of Kentucky Folklore

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

Reformers and such like have many theories as to why we have so many cases of juvenile delinquency. Most of these critics of our times have some very clean cut ways they would stop youngsters in their mad career and bring about a millennium almost over night. Nobody deprecates criminal tendencies in young people any more than I do, and nobody wishes any more sincerely for some good way to engage the young in such activities as will make them refuse to go wrong. But I am not going to show my age by saying that it used to be nearly perfect, away back in the Good Old Days, when everybody was so worth while. Believe it or not, we had juvenile delinquents in those days, too. They did not get into the newspapers quite so often and were not made into heroes quite so much by the youngsters who did not have the chance or the disposition to imitate them.

One of the things that saddened my childhood and almost made it a tragedy was the sight of diseased and injured young fellows who came to my father's house for medical treatment. A skin full of corn liquor and a fast horse could do almost as much harm as the same in-dose plus a fast car today. When a buggy turns over on a rocky hillside and spills a wife and children into the road bones can be broken quite as easily as when a car, in newspaper terms, "leaves" the road and wraps itself around a convenient tree or light pole. A bullet fired point-blank across a crap table can cut as neat a hole as any modern gun could wish. Public property vandalized was not unknown in the days before the automobile came into being. Steps were taken in those days to stop crime, sometimes with a fair success. Every would-be criminal I knew at Fidelity, and I knew all of them, had his defenders, no matter how puny seemed his excuse for wandering away from the "straight and narrow." And every one was able to convince some girl that matrimony and reform would go hand in hand. In general, the results of this philosophy were not obvious enough to recommend it as fool-proof.

Then and now the adult delinquents may have had to do with what the youngsters did and do, though this is certainly not a very good excuse for the youngsters, a mere rationalization such as any wrong-doer is capable of making. Some of our local old men were horrible examples of what not to be, at Fidelity as at any other location. One old boy, who was said to have been the bravest of the brave at Shiloh, somehow failed to have enough bravery to behave himself in less trying times. I once heard my father say that this old fellow, who had a decent and highly-respected family of boys and girls, was a menace to the morals of our remote little corner of the world. Maybe the younger generation profited by looking at Grandpap and shutting it.

Often I have spoken in this column of how many times we have had to adjust ourselves to rapid changes. Maybe some of our delinquency, juvenile and adult, has resulted from our constant change. Remember how unstable morals and manners can become in a great gold rush or some similar upheaval of our own historic times. Horse-and-buggy education, horse-and-buggy manners, and horse-and-buggy outlook on life have often had to adjust, violently, to a faster-moving world. Some can adjust, like you and me, let us hope. Others want to jump from one era to another without going through all the intervening years of adjustment. Maybe the reformers should see how perilous our time is in its boundless efforts to keep us calm and going honestly about our commonplace duties. We need an equal number of social and moral adjusters to help keep us with the procession and still be calm enough to live honest lives.

Clay And Pike Counties Tie In Tree Contest

Representatives of the conservation agencies in Clay and Pike counties have tied for the grand prizes in the 1959 Tree Planting Contest, according to Commissioner Laban Jackson of the Department of Conservation.

Prizes include a three-day vacation for two at any of Kentucky's state parks, including all expenses for meals and lodging. The winners will also receive meritorious award certificates.

Contest judges were unable to decide on a single grand winner because of the excellence of each county's entry, Director Gene Butcher of the Division of Forestry, said. Butcher also stated, "We are highly pleased by the excellent quality of the forestry programs which have developed in these counties."

Leslie county was given the second place award, and the members of this team will each receive a meritorious award certificate. Each county team that enters this contest is made up of a representative from the six conservation agencies located within the county.

The committee judging the entries was made up of Harry Nadler, Division of Forestry, chairman; C. H. Allen, ACP; Al Ritchie, SCS; J. A. Newman, Extension Forester; Marshall Qualls, director of Soil and Water; William Wentz, U.S. Forest Service; and Jerry Montgomery, vocational agriculture.

Tree planting in Kentucky has surged forward to a new high in the past three years, said Butcher. "Of the approximately 55 million trees that have been planted under the Division's Reforestation program, which began in 1951, 38 million of this number were planted during this period."

Keller - Morrison Marriage Vows Solemnized At Knox, Indiana

The wedding of Miss Nancy Carol Keller to Mr. Earl Morrison was solemnized by Rev. George W Long in the Knox, Ind., Christian Church, Sunday afternoon, June 14.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chase Keller and the bride-groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Morrison, of Prestonsburg, Ky. The altar of the church was decorated with palms and candelabra. Preceding the ceremony Larry Dembinski sang the vocal arrangements while Mrs. Earl Neger played the nuptial music.

The bride entered the white carpeted aisle on the arm of her father, dressed in a gown of imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle and net over slipper satin. The gown was made with molded bodice and long pointed sleeves of lace. The sheer nylon yoke had a bateau neckline applied in lace. A bouffant skirt of tiny tulle fan pleated ruffles was fashioned with a lace front and a back panel that formed a court train. Her fingertip veil and blusher of imported silk illusion fell from a crown of iridescent sequins and tiny pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Nancy Johnson who wore an aqua, ballerina chiffon gown made with a full skirt and scalloped neckline with a bodice of lace fashioned in a princess line and made with three quarter length sleeves. She wore shoes and hat to match and carried pink gladioli.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Dean McIntire of Knox. The ushers were Bill Voreis and Melvin McIntire, both of Knox. The little flower girl was Debbie Keller, sister of the bride and ring bearer was Jerry Rose, cousin of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in church basement. The bride is a 1957 graduate of Knox High School and the groom was a 1956 graduate of Prestonsburg high school. The couple will reside at 406 1/2 Waltham Street, Hammond, Indiana.

Charles M. Wells, 71,
Former Floyd Teacher
Succumbs In New Jersey

Charles M. Wells, 71, former Floyd county teacher, died Saturday evening at his home in Trenton, N. J. A native of the Auxier road section, he had resided near Trenton for 28 years and there was a teacher until retirement. Death was attributed to a heart condition.

Mr. Wells was a son of Mrs. Belle Wells and the late James R. Wells, of Auxier. Surviving besides his mother, is his wife, Helen Ehridge Wells, and a son, Clyde Wells, of Trenton. A brother and three sisters surviving are John C. Wells, Mrs. T. Y. Harmon and Mrs. Ollie Burchett, all of Auxier, and Mrs. Clabe Bingham, of Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday at 1 p.m. from the First Methodist Church at Bridgeboro, N. J. Burial was made there.

Aged Woman
Dies Of Heart Attack;
Last Rites Held Sunday

Mrs. Margaret Gibson, 83, well-known Larkslane woman, died en route to Our Lady of the Way hospital, Martin, at 12:45 p.m., Friday. Mrs. Gibson, who suffered a shoulder injury from a fall a week ago, succumbed to a heart attack.

She was a daughter of Charles and Frances Thomas Sturgill and the widow of Isom Gibson who died in 1938. One son, Charles Gibson, of Larkslane, survives. Surviving daughters are Mrs. Sam T. Meade, of McDowell, Mrs. Hibbard Meade, of Hi Hat, Mrs. Kelly Wicker, of Lackey, and Mrs. Lloyd Stahl, Mansfield, Ohio. A step-son, Leck Gibson, of Larkslane, survives. Surviving brothers and sisters are Pearl Sturgill, Larkslane, Beckham Sturgill and Mrs. Cora Cook, both of Louisville, Mrs. Hattie Hayes, of Mousie, and Mrs. Susie Ward, of Lackey.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m., Sunday, at the Hall Branch Regular Baptist church at Mousie, the Revs. Bert Howard, Raymond Howard and Earl Howard officiating. Burial was made in the Campbell cemetery at Mousie under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Big Sandy Seminar
Held at Paintsville

The Big Sandy Seminar of the Kentucky Academy of General Practice of Medicine met at the Paintsville Country Club, July 16. Dr. James Archer, of Paintsville, presided as chairman. Speakers at the meeting were Kentucky doctors as well as members of the American Medical Association from other states. Lecturers were: Dr. Meryl M. Fenton, Detroit, Mich.; Dr. Albert N. Brest, Philadelphia, Pa.; Dr. Everett G. Grantham, Louisville; Dr. Donald W. Brodie, Indianapolis, Ind.; Dr. Siegle W. Parks, Fairmont, W. Va. Guests attending the meeting were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Hall, Dr. and Mrs. John G. Archer, and Dr. and Mrs. George P. Archer.

Rev. Harold Dorsey presented his color slides taken in Japan and lectured to the group of ladies attending the convention, telling of his experience while in Japan two years ago. Dr. John G. Archer is vice-president of the Kentucky Association of General Practitioners and made it possible for all delegates and visitors to enjoy their stay in Eastern Kentucky. Dr. Fount Richardson, Fayette, Ark., president of the American Medical Association made the address at the banquet on Thursday evening.

Miss Mary Louise Donovan played a prelude of nuptial selections at the organ and Miss Mary Alice Graham sang "Melody of Love," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because." An exquisite gown of white silk organza over whispering taffeta was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. A motif of imported lace re-embroidered with iridescents and seed pearls enhanced the neckline of the molded bodice. Tiny self-covered buttons marked the back fastening and closed the long lace sleeves which ended in points over the bride's wrists.

Bias folds of silk below a motif of the rich lace encircled the extremely full skirt, highlighted in back with a huge bustle bow above the chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a small half-hat of chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible ornamented with gardenias and garlands of white sweetheart roses, accented with variegated ivy.

Mrs. Stewart attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing a bouffant gown of pale pink silk organza over taffeta. Pink satin bows, embellished with pink pearls, trimmed the dress, which featured a balloon-type skirt and a sabrina neckline that tapered to a V in back.

Gowns of blue silk organza fashioned like the honor attendant's dress, were worn by the three bridesmaids, Mrs. Bernard Little, of Hi Hat, sister of the bride; Miss Patsy Carpenter, Lima, cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Ruthie Carpenter, Columbus, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants' headresses, clip hats of hairbraids matched their gowns and held circular veils sprinkled with pearls. The honor attendant carried a bouquet of deep pink and white asters combined with pink calla lilies, and the bridesmaids' flowers were pale pink asters and pink calla lilies, in a crescent pattern.

Flower girl was Brenda Sharon Newman of Hi Hat, niece of the bride. Her dainty frock of pink taffeta featured an overskirt of white lace. She carried a basquette

Newman - Carpenter Vows Said

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Dallice L. Newman and Herbert L. Carpenter Friday, July 3, in an impressive double ring ceremony in the Congregational Christian Church at Columbus Grove, O.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Newman, Hi Hat, Ky., resided with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart, 719 Holly St., for the past three years. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carpenter, of Columbus Grove.

Tall candelabra holding pink tapers formed the background for the marriage service read at 7 p.m., by the Rev. Chester Phillips. Graceful arrangements of pink larkspur and California daisies adorned the communion table and clusters of huckleberry foliage decorated the choir loft.

Miss Mary Louise Donovan played a prelude of nuptial selections at the organ and Miss Mary Alice Graham sang "Melody of Love," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

An exquisite gown of white silk organza over whispering taffeta was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Other Drink Misunderstand Alcoholics

By J. Collis Ringo, Executive Director Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism
Individual attitudes concerning drinking are a potent influence in public opinion about alcoholism. Some 65,000,000 adult Americans drink with some degree of regularity. And 60,000,000 apparently suffer no ill effects. It is extremely difficult for this group, a large majority, to understand why or how anybody can become a compulsive drinker.

Their personal experience with drinking is associated with fun, pleasure, relaxation or celebration. Drunkenness, with its attendant misfortunes, is repulsive to them. Their attitude toward the alcoholic, influenced by drinking experience, is tinged with disapproval, disgust and censure.

Statistical studies and scientific research have proven 4,500,000 to 5,000,000 Americans have a serious problem with drinking. They do not and cannot drink with pleasure. They drink because they must, against their will, compulsively.

One drink sets off a reaction calling for another and another. One drink triggers a compulsion resulting in complete intoxication. "Loss of Control" is designated the first phase of alcoholism. The American Medical Association after 12 years of investigation, has declared this condition a disease.

Psychiatric literature stresses compulsive drinking as a symptom and a result of a personality disorder.

Biological chemists declare compulsive drinking is a result of faulty metabolism, a physiological disorder.

At present, there is not sufficient evidence to say alcoholism is a psychiatric, metabolic or a combination of both. Psychiatrists, biochemists and A.M.A. agree it is a disease.

This illness cannot be cured as yet, to the point an alcoholic can ever drink normally. It has been demonstrated that it can be arrested. An alcoholic can live a normal life.

No single method of arrestation is 100 percent effective. Strong reliance is placed on Alcoholics Anonymous because it has worked best; however, A.A. is effective only when motivation to recover on the part of the alcoholic is present.

Acceptance by drinkers, by abstainers, by alcoholics themselves, of this condition as an illness is essential of eventual solution.

GOV. FANNIN OF ARIZONA

The governor of Arizona, Paul Fannin, is a Kentuckian-born in Elliott county, 51 years ago. He wrested the governorship from the Democratic nominee in an upset election as the state is normally Democratic.

The Governor is a son of two Elliott countians, T. N. (Newt) and Kate Davis Fannin. He was born in Ashland, in 1907, shortly before the family moved to Arizona for the benefit of his father's health.

Paul Fannin had been a successful businessman for 28 years in Arizona before deciding last year to make the race for governor. It was his first bid for political office.

He formerly was president of several synthetic-gas companies in Arizona, having leased out his plants when he decided to enter politics. His campaign for the governor's post included a program for attracting new industry and equitable taxation.

Paul's parents are remembered by nearly all the older residents of Elliott. Newt Fannin was born at Fannin Mill on Ruin, a mile from Sandy Hook where his father, Pete Fannin, operated a mill.

Paul's mother is Kate Davis Fannin who was born at Green, a daughter of two pioneer Elliott citizens, John and Corilda Horton Davis.

Newt and Kate were married in 1898 and went to housekeeping in Sandy Hook. Newt was in the timber business in Elliott and nearby counties. They moved to Ashland in 1901 where Fannin continued in the timber business and expanded his operations.

Later they moved to Arizona for Fannin's health, and in Arizona he continued active. He engaged in silver mining and brick manufacturing and accumulated quite a fortune. At his death in 1953 he had considerable real estate holdings in Arizona and was a stockholder in the Second National Bank in Ashland and in the brick yards at Olive Hill. His sister, Mrs. Mary Duvall, now resides in Sandy Hook.

Mrs. Newt Fannin, now a resident of Phoenix, Ariz., usually comes back to Elliott every two years on a visit.

The Governor was back in Kentucky in 1953.

NELSON FAMILY

The following background on the history of the Nelson family is taken from "Early Families of Montgomery County," by Harry W. Mills, a correspondent of this column who resides in Washington, D.C. Mills writes occasionally for the Mt. Sterling papers.

The Nelson family was a numerous one in Penrith, Cumberland county, England. Thomas Nelson, who settled in Yorktown, Va., in 1705, was the earliest known representative of the family in Virginia, a prominent merchant. He was father of William Nelson, president of the Council of Virginia and grandfather of Gen. Thomas Nelson of the American Revolution. Thomas Nelson was not the only Nelson of the Penrith family that came to America. His brother, William, emigrated to Barbadoes, and died there before his father, Hugh Nelson, died at Penrith. He left a son, William, who joined his uncle, Thomas Nelson, at Yorktown on or before 1738.

I. Hugh Nelson of Penrith, born about 1587, had a son, William (Will of William Nelson filed in 1670 is set out in Virginia Mag. XVII p. 187.)

II. William Nelson of Penrith, born about 1635, married Bridget, whose maiden name appears to have been Ramney or Rummy, as he makes his "Brother Christopher Ramney or Rummy," executor of his will. Issue named in his will: Hugh, John, Thomas, Elizabeth, m. Anthony Mason, April 3, 1662.

III. Hugh Nelson of Penrith m. Sarah—and his will dated Dec. 13, 1708, was proved Feb. 16, 1708. (Va. Mag. XIII p. 402, where a full abstract of the will is given.) This will and the will of his son, Thomas of Yorktown "eldest son living," John d. in 1724, and Hugh died in 1784 and left no issue; Dorothy m. George Wilkinson of Penrith, and had issue: Sarah, Dorothy, Bridget, George, Mary and Hugh Wilkinson.

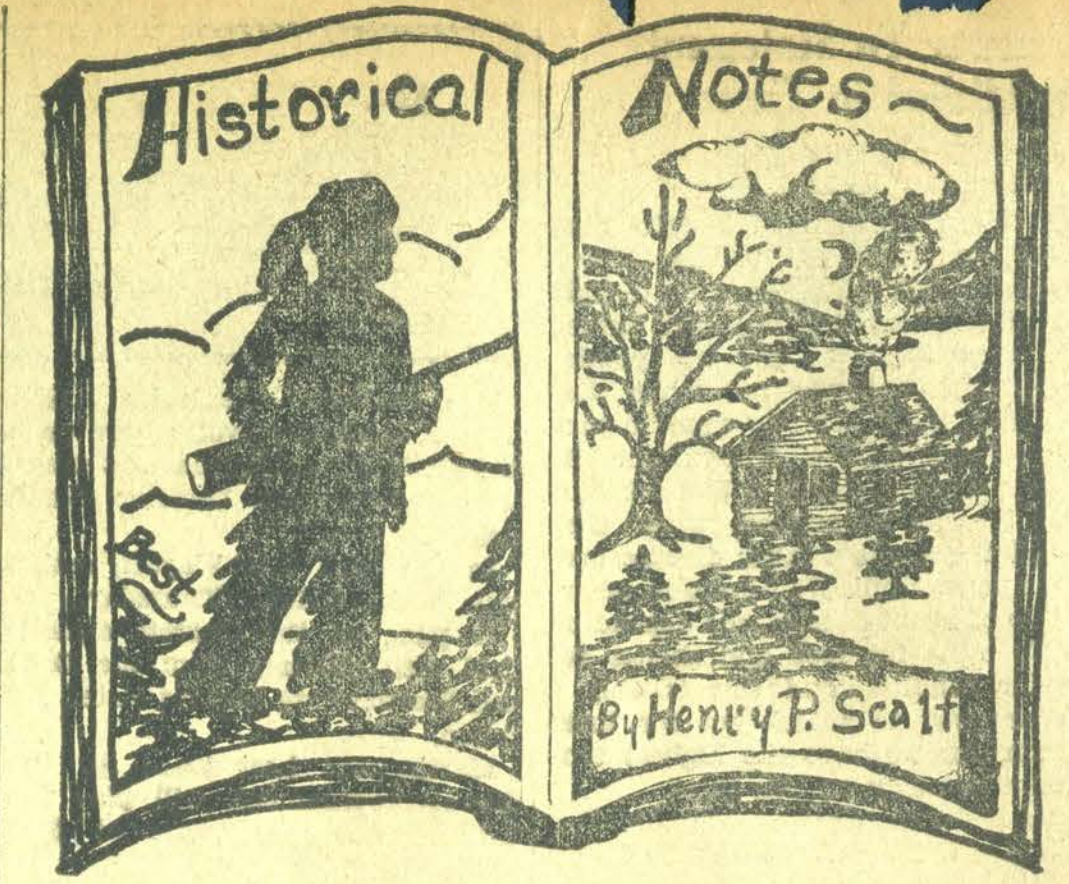

7. William Nelson (Hugh Wm. Hugh) is mentioned by Thomas Nelson of Yorktown in his will dated August 6, 1845. (William and Mary College Quar. VI, p. 142), as follows: "I give to my cousins, Wm. Nelson and John Nelson, gr. sons of my brother William Nelson, late of Barbadoes," etc. He was dead probably before his father, Hugh Nelson, who in his will does not name him but names his grandson, William, "now in Barbadoes." He married Hepzibah—who survived him and married Benjamin Bessell.

issue: William Nelson, son of Wm. Nelson of Barbadoes and nephew of Thomas Nelson of Yorktown, lived first in Barbadoes and moved in 1738, or previously to Yorktown. (Thus we find the following order in the records of York county Wm. and Mary Quar. IV, p. 134, VI p. 142.)

"June 7, 1738. Be it known, etc., That I, Wm. Nelson do for myself and in behalf of my father Benjamin Bessell and Hepzibah Bessell (my mother) his wife of Bridgetown, Barbadoes, etc., do assign to Hepzibah Nelson, my daughter, in one negro girl, named Hannah, sent to me from Barbadoes by my father and mother."

Issue of William Nelson, William, John Nelson son of William Nelson and grandson of William Nelson, brother of Thomas Nelson of Yorktown, lived first in York county and then in Louisa county. He married (1) Frances Anderson Armistead of York county, and his wife Jane Anderson, daughter of Rev. Charles Anderson, minister of Westover Church. Proof of this marriage is given by Mrs. Jane Anderson Armistead, wife of Capt. Ellyson Armistead who says in a codicil to her will, dated December 16, 1766, that her "daughter Frances had departed this life, leaving behind her a daughter named Frances Anderson Nelson" etc., and also in Douglas Register p. 260: Jo Nelson and Fanny Armistead were married "and had a daughter, born Sept., 1765. Therefore, Col. John Armistead, and had a daughter, Nelson m. (1) Frances Anderson Nelson. He m. (2) Rebecca Woodleaf and had 17 Sarah Philip, 18, Ann, 19, Hepzibah, 20, Rebecca, b. January 1, 1773, 21 Mary, 22, Elizabeth 23, Lucy Eppes b. Nov. 3, 1781, 24 William, 25 Catherine Griffin b. June 14, 1783, 26 John, 27 Salmon Hughes, b. January, 1788. (Douglas Register pp. 259, 260.)

16. Fannie Anderson Nelson, dau. of Col. John Nelson of Louisa, m. Jesse Daniel and had issue: 28 John Daniel, b. December 18, 1791, d. in infancy. Major Jesse Daniel, was son of James and Elizabeth (Montague) Daniel, was b. February 14, (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

Old Lib Popular With Researchers

Although many Kentuckians and tourists know of and have visited the Kentucky Historical Society Museum in the Old State House at Frankfort, Kentucky, few realize that the treasured relics and artifacts they see are only a part of the Society's collection.

On the first floor is housed the Kentucky Historical Society Library, which contains 30,000 volumes of published historical books and 5,000 volumes of historical manuscripts.

The published works relate to Kentucky and surrounding states, and are strong in historical and genealogical materials. The manuscript collection includes original Kentucky tax lists from 1782 to 1875 and the official registers of births and deaths in Kentucky from 1852 to 1862.

Here also are found the Official State Archives, which contain executive journals, letters, and minute books from the administration of Governor Isaac Shelby to Governor Peal.

Collections of newspapers, primarily those of the capital city, dating from The Frankfort Palladium in 1799 to the present, are of much interest to persons doing research or to curiosity seekers.

Rare books, some valued at $600 to $700, a sizable regional and geological map collection, and numerous microfilm records are also housed in the library. Services offered by the society are a historical magazine, which is sent to all the states, and photo-duplication.

Began in 1836, when the society was organized, the library bases its research on COLLINS'S HISTORY OF KENTUCKY, and possesses the original Richard Collins Library.

People from the four corners of the globe are reported to do research in the library. It is not unusual to have 35 states and many foreign countries represented here in one month.

Open the year 'round, the Kentucky Historical Society Library offers its services from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., on weekdays, and from 8:30 till noon on Saturdays. The librarian is Clover Francis Coleman.

US 51 in crossing the westernmost tip of Kentucky passes through an area rich in agricultural products and replete with historical associations.

Telephone Talk

by
H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

SHOPPING MADE EASY! No need to get out in the sizzling sun... hire a baby sitter... arrange to have the car... or leave duties at home! Just do as millions are doing these days. Shop by telephone! It's the modern trend. In fact, some businesses report that today as much as 25% of their sales come to them by phone. This method of easy shopping has become increasingly popular during the last ten years. Reasons? It's convenient, time-saving, economical. One more way your telephone helps make life easier for you!

AND THE YELLOW PAGES of your telephone directory will tell you where to find many of the products or services you're looking for.

VACATIONING BY AUTO? Along with the familiar sight of roadside picnic areas, you'll be seeing another landmark of happy, carefree living. Public telephone booths conveniently placed to make "keeping in touch" so easy. You'll find these booths handy for phoning ahead for reservations... contacting friends along the way... or giving advance notice of your arrival. Remember, Long Distance costs so little. Costs even less when you call station-to-station, with extra bargains after 6 P.M. and on Sundays.

ONLY YOUR LOCAL STORES GIVE INSTANT DELIVERY AND SERVICE...

HERE'S HOW YOU BENEFIT BY DOING ALL YOUR SHOPPING LOCALLY

When you buy from your hometown merchants you get:

1. HONEST VALUES
2. AMPLE SELECTION
3. INSTANT DELIVERY, SERVICE AND ADJUSTMENT
4. MORE PERSONAL AND FRIENDLIER TREATMENT
5. SAVING OF TIME
6. RELIEF FROM COSTLY TRAVEL
7. FREEDOM FROM ROAD HAZARDS
8. ELIMINATION OF COSTLY PARKING PROBLEMS
9. AVOIDANCE OF JOSTLING CROWDS
10. THE CHANCE TO BUILD A BETTER COMMUNITY BY PUTTING YOUR DOLLARS TO WORK HERE

We don't believe you gain anything at all by driving long distances to shop at BIG CITY stores. Our local sources have merchandise that's just as good and costs no more.

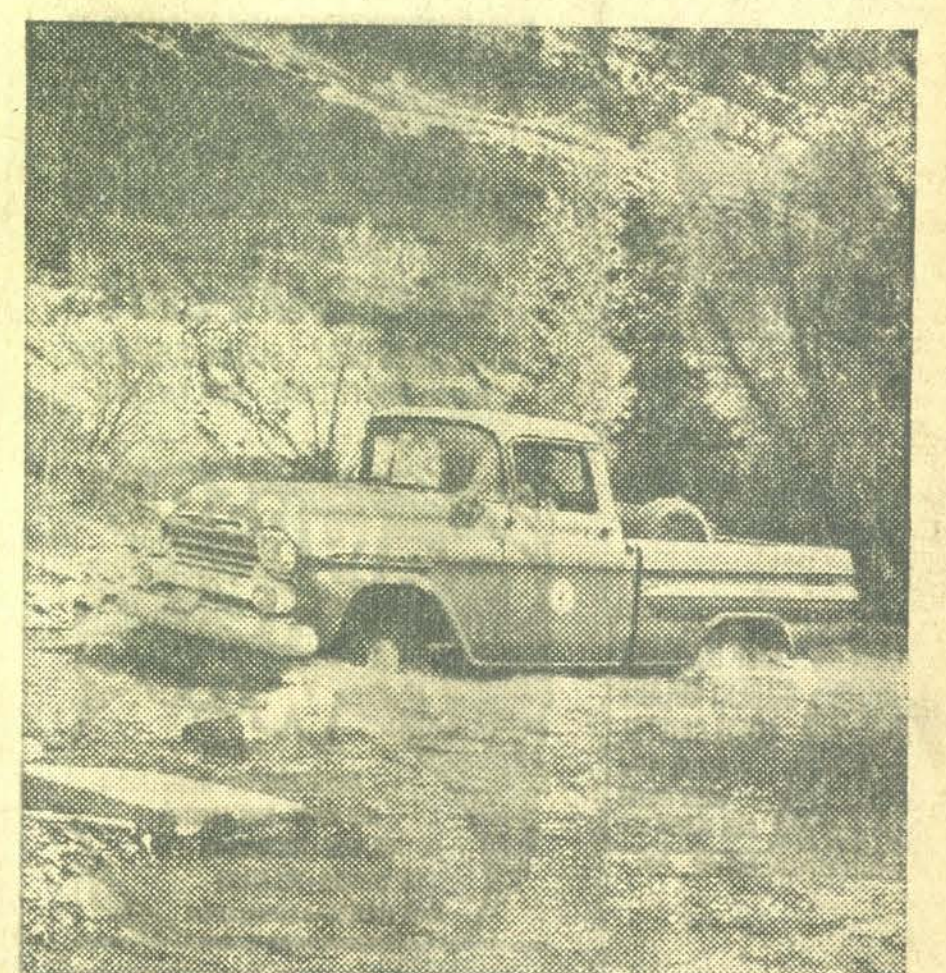

But merely for the sake of argument, suppose you do save a few dollars on a time-consuming trip many miles from home. And suppose you don't even count the cost of gasoline and oil, car wear, parking fees, etc. Forget, too, if you like, the hazards of driving in today's heavy highway and city traffic.

But don't overlook these things: What you buy here can be in your home in a few minutes—no waiting several days for delivery. And if the merchandise doesn't give full satisfaction, any needed service or adjustment of the purchase can be made without shipping the items back to the BIG CITY or being forced to make a second trip yourself.

Why drive scores of miles looking for trouble? Shop right around the corner and be safe and satisfied.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped 1/2-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

WATER "TRAPS" IN FIELDS

Lexington, Ky.—Trapping summer rainfall in fields may mean significant differences in yields, says Lyle Leonard, University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service conservationist. These "traps" are not actually traps; they are ridges and channels plowed across the field slopes in contour plowing; or a mulch material to soak up rain.

United Carbon Picnic Attracts More Than 100

The United Carbon Company of the Eastern Kentucky field held its annual picnic Friday at the Breaks Interstate Park, entertaining more than 100 employees and guests from Kentucky and Virginia. Games were enjoyed, both morning and afternoon, and lunch was enjoyed at noon, this followed by mid-afternoon serving of watermelon.

The entertainment program included games of horseshoes, croquet, badminton, bingo, relay and sack races. Prizes were awarded the winners of the various contests for both children and adults. Mrs. Jack Vanhoose was awarded the cash "gate" prize.

Mrs. Josephine Martin, 79, Buried in Minnie Home; Martin Cemetery

Mrs. Josephine Martin, 79, wife of Noah Martin, well-known Floyd county man, died at 10:30 p.m. Monday at her home at Minnie. She had been in failing health for five years but was seriously ill only a week.

Mrs. Martin was the daughter of Bill and Betsy Martin. She was a member of the Regular Baptist church for 35 years.

Surviving sons and daughters are Earl Martin, Orlando, Florida, William Martin and Mrs. Wayne Helton, both of Martin, James Martin and Mrs. Edith Hopkins, Detroit, and Miss Ella Martin, Louisville. Brothers and sisters surviving are Hasadore Martin, Mrs. Jeff Miller and Miss Nan Martin, all of Jump, Mrs. Milford Hall, of McDowell, and Mrs. Willie Clark, of Harold. Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a.m., today (Thursday) from the home, ministers of the Regular Baptist church officiating. Burial was made in the Martin cemetery at Minnie under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Answer To Statement Published in Times About Turner Mine

We, as members of Local Union 5967, employees at Turner No. 5 mine at Drift, Ky., have no dispute with the coal company. We agreed to their terms to pay the powder bill, but that was not what they wanted. They seem to want to turn our mine into a truck mine. So some one has made a bad mistake, or it was misprinted, when they said there was a labor dispute over the powder bill. We have a membership of about 64 men who depend on this mine for food and shelter for their families, and this is only a short way to a lock out for these men, for we have the highest tonnage per man on this creek.

SPORTS CHATTER By GORDON MOORE

The Eastern Kentucky Little League baseball playoffs have been divided into four tournament areas, according to Area Director Frank Heinze.

In the Area One Playoff, action will begin today (Thursday), at 5:30 p.m., on the Garrett athletic field with all-stars from the Drift and Prestonsburg leagues slated for action.

Martin, the host team for the Garrett tournament, will play the Drift-Prestonsburg victor at 5:30 p.m., Friday.

Area Two will be held in Elkhorn City and will begin play Monday at 5:30 p.m. In the first game there Pikeville will meet Virgie and host Elkhorn City will meet the winner at 5:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

The Area One winner will meet the Area Two winner July 29 at a site to be determined by the two participants. Winners of the Three and Four Areas will meet on the same date.

Winners of One and Two and Three and Four will vie for the Eastern Kentucky championship and the right to enter the state tournament.

Bobby Phillips, former Pikeville high school football coach and later at Oak Hill, Ohio, has resigned his Ohio position to accept a similar job in Illinois. Ben Webb, head football coach at McKell high school, South Shore, has replaced Phillips at the Ohio school. A 1955 graduate of Ohio University, Webb served three seasons at the McKell school.

Bob Rice, six-foot-four inch Sandy Hook high school forward, will be the 15th region representative in the annual Kentucky High School Coaches Association East-West all-star basketball game in Lexington, August 15. The football and basketball games will climax the annual University of Kentucky coaching clinic.
