This Town— That World

The senior ed being on his annual vacation, his second in the front office has only second class and a few used ideas for this column.

CIGARETTE COLLECTOR

A letter to the Journal of Lifetime Living from a hobby addict in Colorado notes that he is a collector of rare, old and discontinued cigarettes. What I envision as a choice addition to his collection would be one of those Life Everlasting cigarettes the senior editor promoted last week. Although those kind of cigarettes were smoked by Tom Sawyer and his friends, I suspect the tailored and refined product advocated in this column will never be added to the Coloradoan's collection. People, you know, just don't recognize a good thing when they see or hear about it.

Dr. Josiah Combs, the Eastern Kentucky savant, now at Fort Worth, Texas, contributes a couple of items to The Times. One is Mark Twain's sardonic irony on man's inhumanity to man.

MARK TWAIN'S PRAYER

O Lord, our Father, our young patriots, idols of our hearts, go forth to battle—be Thou near them! With them—in spirit—we also go from the sweet peace of our beloved firesides to smite the foe. O Lord, our God, help us to tear their soldiers to bloody shreds with our shells; help us to tear their soldiers to bloody shreds with our shells; help us to cover their smiling fields with the pale forms of their patriot dead; help us to drown the thunder of the guns with the shrieks of their wounded. ## LIE DETECTOR TEST APPLIED

To Salesman Suspected In Murder of Woman At Grassy Creek Store

A lie-detector test indicated Friday that Ralph Lester, Gary, W. Va., had nothing to do with the strangulation death of a Morgan county woman, State police said.

Lester, a magazine salesman, had denied he played a part in the killing last November of Mrs. Evalena Stampler, 64-year-old general-store operator at Grassy Creek, during a robbery attempt.

State Police Detective Harry Robertson said the lie-detector test, requested by Lester, indicated he knew nothing about the slaying.

Robertson said Lester was returned to Morgan county. The accused man was brought to Frankfort from Rowan county, where he had been held in jail at Morehead without bond.

Lester was arrested in Berkeley county, W. Va., near Martinsburg two weeks ago after authorities received a tip from a Kentucky prison inmate who said he was a former friend of Lester and said he was in Morgan county with Lester and another one-legged salesman about a week before the murder of Miss Stampler. The informant said they separated at Hazard, Perry county, and the next time he saw Lester, about a month later in Ohio, Lester told him he had pulled the job in Morgan county and had to kill a woman. He added that he didn't get much money.

The informant, once convicted for robbing the Keeton Wholesale Company at Grassy Creek, now is in prison after being sentenced from Perry county under the Habitual Criminal Act. (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

OFFICIALS, OTHERS, SUED BY SUPPLIER

Paintsville Firm Seeks $2,203 for Record Books And Supplies Furnished

The Dependable Supply Company, of Paintsville, sued Floyd county and several of its officials, Saturday, to recover $2,203.35 for books and supplies delivered since August 20, 1955. Suit was filed in Floyd Circuit Court in behalf of the firm by W. W. Burchett, Prestonsburg attorney.

Named defendants are Floyd county and County Judge Henry Stumbo; Grover Holbrook, Zeb Ousley, Johnny Caudill and Fred Conn, individually and as members of the Fiscal Court; County Attorney Robert S. Wellman, County Judge Henry Stumbo and Norman Allen, individually and as members of the Budget Commission; W. W. Cooley, former Circuit Court Clerk; County Clerk DuRan Moore; and Jailer Prock Hayes.

The suit alleges the county owes the plaintiff the amount asked "for supplies and equipment sold to the various county officials in Floyd county, Kentucky, and used by them in operating and maintaining the public records."

Last invoice charged against the county by the complaining company was dated April 30, 1958. Value of supplies furnished County Clerk Moore was set at $1,694.16, Prock Hayes, $248.12, and W. W. Cooley, $261.07.

"At the time this indebtedness was incurred Floyd county had an assessed valuation of approximately $40,000,000," the suit stated, "and an anticipated revenue of $200,000. The claim of the plaintiff is a valid claim against Floyd county, Kentucky, for expenses incurred for public records and office supplies, which is a necessary governmental expense and the fiscal court and the budget commission have obligated and expended money for current expenses not necessary or for governmental purposes."

The suit said, "If the court should be of the opinion that Floyd county is not obligated to pay for the supplies and record books hereinabove set out then each individual officer-holder as set out hereinabove is responsible for the supplies and materials used in each of said offices."

The suit asked that the budget commission be "directed to include in the budget for 1959-60 the sum of $2,203.35 to pay plaintiff's claim."

BULLET TAKES WOMAN'S LIFE

Wheelwright Resident Kills Self, Carter Says; Funeral Conducted Aug. 6

A self-inflicted gun wound took the life of 32-year-old Evelyn Branham, of Wheelwright, at 2 p.m., August 3.

Relatives of the deceased woman said that she had been ill. Coroner James Carter ruled the death as suicide, stating that the woman had shot herself in the chest.

She was the daughter of Albert and Margaret Hamlin Branham, was born at Alka, Ky., and had resided at Wheelwright for the last 10 years.

She is survived by her parents, one son, Buster; four brothers, Clayton, Medina, Mich., Cletus, Wyandotte, Mich., Clyde, Jononay, Ky., Clem, River Rouge, Mich.; six sisters, Mrs. Augusta Greer, of Virgie, Mrs. Melvina Hampton, River Rouge, Mich., Mrs. Arizona Greer, Lincoln Park, Mich., Mrs. Priscilla Newsome and Mrs. Madeline Newsome. ## Two Diesels, Six Cars Pass Over Man's Body—And He Isn't Hurt!!!

Two Diesels and six train cars passed over the body of Delmas Brown—and he escaped unhurt.

Excepting, of course, a slightly scraped elbow. Brown, a Beaver Valley hospital spokesman said, was lying between the tracks near Maytown when the diesels and cars passed over him.

Apparently Brown was so deep in sleep that he awoke only by the time the train engineer had managed to stop. Then he crawled from beneath the train.

Apparently unfrustrated by the incident, Brown commented to railway officials.

"You fellows ought to be careful, you could kill a man that way." Subsequent examination revealed no injuries other than the scraped elbow.

AUXIER GIRL CHARGES RAPE

East Point Teenager Implicates Her Father In Two-Year-Old Case

The father of Rosella Auxier, the East Point teen-age girl who was found in an abandoned shack in Prestonsburg in December, 1957, was charged Friday with raping her, Johnson county Commonwealth's Attorney W. B. Hazelrigg said.

Examining trial was set for today (Thursday), it was said. The elderly Auxier steadfastly maintains his innocence and says that his family has framed him.

Hazelrigg said the arrest of Halford Dick Auxier, 51, followed an incident at the Auxier home at East Point Thursday night of last week during which the girl, now 17, broke down and told the story. Rosella was found in the shack here on December 13, 1957, after staying there four days and nights, alone and frightened and without food. Her legs were frozen and later were amputated at the knees at Louisville's Children's Hospital.

Hazelrigg quoted the girl as saying she had not told why she ran away from him because she was afraid of her father, who had threatened her.

State police were called to the Auxier home last week after another daughter, 19-year-old Mary Elizabeth, had disappeared. She was later found on a hillside near the home. Hazelrigg quoted her as saying she ran off because her father had been drinking and that she was afraid of him.

Auxier was taken to the county jail in Paintsville. He denied the girl's story. "I'm being framed by my family. . . I'm as innocent as you are," he told a reporter.

Asked if he would submit to having his picture taken, he replied, "No, I'm disgraced enough as it is."

Auxier is a disabled miner. He and his wife, Mrs. Sarah Auxier, are parents of 15 children, 10 boys and five girls. Only six of them, four boys and two girls, are living at home.

State Police Trooper Jack Music, who assisted in the investigation, was called to the home by Auxier. He and Hazelrigg obtained Rosella's story. (See Story No. 11, Page 5)

Police Intercept Mt. Sterling Man After Mountain Crash; Marsillett Seized While Making Escape Try

State Police and United States Deputy Marshals were busy this week in chasing the wanted. The former got their man on Abbott Mountain near here and the marshals caught their quarry by hauling him from the bushes on Friend Street.

A man, listed as Iby Gene Rowland, age about 40, took a car in Mt. Sterling, Saturday, when the owner parked, left the ignition key in it and went in a restaurant for a hasty bite. A few minutes later he alerted the police that his car was stolen.

Troopers Music and Kaiser heard the alert in Johnson county, near Hager Hill. Soon afterward a car answering the description on the radio went by and they gave chase. Rowland refused to heed the officers' siren to pull over and "gunned" the stolen Chevrolet south on US 23 toward Prestonsburg.

For several miles the chase continued, the police siren blaring for Rowland to stop. Both cars started up Abbott Mountain, the police cruiser almost riding the stolen car's bumper. Suddenly the Chevrolet left the highway, crashed into a storage building beside the road, spilled a lot of hay when the side caved in. The careening auto swerved toward the highway, struck the cliff on the other side.

Rowland was hospitalized in the Prestonsburg General hospital but was released to the county jail the

12-YEAR-OLD GUN VICTIM

Hi Hat Boy Succumbs To Accidental Shot; Rites Set Saturday

A 12-year-old Hi Hat boy died almost immediately after he accidentally shot himself Wednesday afternoon. The victim, James Lester Greene, and two companions had been hunting near his home and the discharge of a .410 gauge shotgun occurred while they were resting on the return trip.

Coroner James Carter, who investigated, said the two companions were a cousin, James Baxter Robinson, 13, of Inkster, Mich., and James Edwards, 18, of Hi Hat. The Greene boy was sitting with the stock of the gun resting on the ground and the barrel pointing toward his chest. In moving the gun, which had no safety, it discharged the full blast in the shoulder. He arose, took a few steps and fell.

Earl Hall, a nearby resident heard the boy's cry for help and an ambulance was called. The boy was pronounced dead by a doctor upon arrival at the McDowell Memorial hospital.

The victim was a son of Lester and Dora Creech Greene, who survive. Surviving also are a brother, Tommy Lee, and two sisters, Gladys and Betty Louise, all at home.

Funeral rites will be conducted at 10 a.m., Saturday from the home and burial will be made in the New-roman cemetery at Hi Hat under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

AUTO MISHAPS TAKE 2 LIVES

Sherman Howell Claimed In Wayland Crash; Hicks Succumbs At Huntington

Traffic fatalities were light over the state but heavy in Floyd county—where death struck twice.

Victims last week-end were Bert Hicks, 28, of Lackey, and Sherman Howell, 32, of Dema.

Sherman Howell was fatally injured Saturday in a crash east of Wayland on KY 1088. Howell was a passenger in a car driven by Early Harvey, 37, of Wayland. Harvey was slightly injured.

State Trooper Thomas Wright said that the car went out of control and overturned, crushing Howell.

Howell, the husband of Virgie Howell, is survived by two sons, Curtis and Harvey Lee Howell, both at home, and a daughter, Judy Faye Howell, also at home.

The son of Elijah and Ella Howell, he is survived by four brothers, Estill, Columbus, Ohio, D. Howell, of Orkney, Jarvie Howell, also of Orkney, Morg Howell, of Drift, and one sister, Mrs. Minda Bates, Buckingham.

The funeral was held at 10 a.m., Tuesday, at Charlie Keen's home at Dema, the Revs. Sherman Stone, Troy Nichols, and others officiating. (See Story No. 11, Page 5)

Movie Proceeds Here Go To Rescue Squad

The Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad will receive all the proceeds from the movie, "Paris Holiday," to be shown at the Prestonsburg Drive-In, Tuesday, Aug. 18, according to Bill Callihan, one of the members. The movie stars Bob Hope.

The Rescue Squad is in urgent need of funds to continue its building program, it has pointed out, and attendance at the show will materially aid the civic-minded group.

Prizes to be awarded at the movie are a man's 17-jewel watch, ladies' 17-jewel watch, 15-cup electric coffee-maker, steam dry iron, toaster, country ham, oil change, car grease, wax and wash job.

SUIT ATTACKS $100 SALARY

Each Justice Receives In Johnson; VanHoose Denies Judicial Work

County Attorney Don C. Van Hoose, of Johnson county, filed suit in Circuit Court at Paintsville Saturday against the Johnson County Fiscal Court, asking that the county treasurer be enjoined from paying the $100-a-month salary to each of the six magistrates.

On April 16, 1958, an order by the magistrates was entered on the order book of the Fiscal Court to set their salaries at $100 per month, retroactive to the day the law became effective. The order was unanimously approved.

The defendant Justices of the Peace have been paid in accordance therewith—$100 per month, VanHoose stated. He further states that: "None of the defendant Justices of the Peace have during their terms of office (with the possible exception of defendant Otto Baldrige, and Mill, Grim, who reported one fine) performed any judicial act or duties, or held any court, or tried any criminal case, or even pretended to do so."

He stated that "during their several terms of office, the defendant Justices of the Peace have been paid by the county for their performance of the ministerial duties of their offices, in addition to the $100 per month mentioned above."

VanHoose charges that the payments of $100 per month to the defendant Justices of the Peace were unlawful and contrary to law; and that they should be required to repay into the county treasury all that they have received by way of the $100 per month; and that the further payment to them of said

COMBS SEEKS INFORMATION

On Tobacco, Tourism, Other Problems; Group Studies In N. Carolina

Three Democratic candidates for top state posts returned to Kentucky after an idea-gathering trip to North Carolina.

Bert Combs, candidate for governor; Wilson Wyatt, his running mate; and Emerson Beauchamp, nominee for commissioner of agriculture made their trip to gather information about North Carolina's tobacco-research and its programs for attracting new industry and tourists.

The group lunched Monday with Gov. Luther Hodges at Raleigh. (See Story No. 4, Page 5)

Senators Wire Times Of Conferees Action On Dam Appropriations

The Times received today the following joint telegram from Senators John Sherman Cooper and Thurston B. Morton in regard to appropriations for the reservoirs on the upper Big Sandy:

"Conferees of House and Senate appropriations committees maintained appropriation of $2,500,000 to start construction of Fmand Reservoir on Big Sandy River. We are sorry to report that the conferees reduced appropriation of $400,000 for Fishtap which we had secured in Senate to the $200,000 recommended by the House. These recommendations cannot be amended by either the Senate or House. We will not give up the fight. We are ready to go before the Bureau of the Budget this fall and insist on funds for construction next year."

VISITORS SEE CLIFF FARMS ON FIELD DAY

Annual Farm Activity Demonstrates Approved Agricultural Practices

Approximately 300 persons attended Farm Family Field Day held on the farm of J. L. Lafferty, Sr., at Cliff, Saturday. The all-day activity was featured by a farm tour and the annual meeting of the Floyd county Homemakers.

The tour of the farm, beginning at 10 o'clock, was under the guidance of Robert M. Jones, county agent, and Harry White, assistant agent. Biddy Worland, of the Kentucky Power Company, gave a demonstration of electrical appliances and William Ring, specialist in bruceBosis eradication, talked on the bovine disease and the program underway in this county.

The program for the day was the annual Homemakers meet held on Lafferty's lawn. Frances Howland, home demonstration agent and Mrs. J. T. Spillman conducted the meet. W. W. Magill, strawberry specialist with the Kentucky Extension Service, showed the visiting farmers the strawberry field now in its first year. Magill also discussed gardening.

Stops on the farm tour were, following the strawberry patch, the potato field, a visit to the 4-H club poultry project under the direction of Mrs. J. T. Spillman. (See Story No. 8, Page 6)

GUN BLAST KILLS SHORT

Topmost Youth Shot In Huntington Jacobs Seriously

One teenager is dead, hospitalized as a result of a gun blast fired at a boys allegedly attempted service station on the Jones Fork mountain four miles north of Hindman.

Dead is Roland Short, 17, of Topmost, and in the Pikeville Methodist hospital and said to be in a serious condition is James Jacobs, 16, of Wayland. Bill Terry, a driller of Garner, Knott county, has executed bond in the shooting, it was said by the Knott county sheriff's office.

"Terry is quoted as saying that he fired the shot after discovering the boys stealing gasoline from a (See Story No. 10, Page 6)

FORMER JOHNS-CR. TENANT IS OUTSTANDING FARMER

J. L. Lafferty, Sr., of Cliff, shows a visitor at Farm Family Field Day, Saturday, a fine patch of Pochontas strawberries. Lafferty, a former Johns Creek tenant farmer, is a leader in the farm program.

In this group picture, a corn field that may prove to be a fourth-year winner in the Corn Derby, is inspected on Field Day by agricultural specialists, Farmers and County Agent Robert M. Jones.

By HENRY P. SCALF

Farm Family Field Day, held on the farm of J. L. Lafferty, Sr., at Cliff, Saturday, presented evidence of successful farming resulting from advanced agricultural techniques. Shown to the public were outstanding crops, purebred livestock and fine gardens.

Selection of the site of the meet was easy for the Agricultural Council, as Lafferty, a community leader for many years, has demonstrated what can be accomplished on a small farm. He has few acres but he has independence.

Homemakers from all over the county were present to hold their annual meeting on the Lafferty farm and to view the modern facilities and arrangements of the "Lafferty Settlement" to see lush meadows and fields. What the visitors saw was evidence of success in life without money and a serene security accruing to a group of related families who pursue, together, a way of life.

Seen were the physical things of the home and farm—the fields, gardens, meadows, livestock and the well kept homes of what is often called the Lafferty Settlement. Back of it all is a story of a man who led his family group to success and security.

The group had its origins on a Johns Creek tenant farm. Displaced by the government when the Dewey reservoir was formed, the Laffertys bought a small acreage between the river and the railroad a few miles north of the Cliff highventy rented once more after his venture into primitive housekeeping in the log cabin. He became a tenant of Rev. Ali Ward, a Baptist minister. He stayed on the farm exactly a quarter of a century and had only one verbal agreement with his landlord. Rev. Ward died and his son, Dave Ward, told him to stay on under the agreement he had made two decades before with his father. When the Dewey reservoir forced him off the farm Dave Ward voluntarily gave Lafferty several hundred dollars for improvements effected as a model "renter."

In the meantime Lafferty had begun a long career of work in a movement in Floyd county "renter," as he expressed it but

A delicious covered dish dinner was served at 6:30 p.m., by the members of Adah Chapter. It was a successful dinner. Approximately 125 persons were present. A large number of out of town guests were there. The room was beautifully decorated with summer flowers. Soft dinner music played while the guests enjoyed their dinner.

After the dinner the Worthy Matron invited the guests into the Chapter room. After the group was welcomed by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Jones was introduced, and as she was escorted into the room, her favorite song "His Hands," by Tennessee Ernie, was played. After which a lovely addenda was presented by some of the officers of Adah Chapter, honoring her. During the Addenda, Mrs. Jones was presented flowers from each of the officers taking part; and also was presented a gift from Adah Chapter by Mrs. Anna Belle Harris. Mrs. Jones expressed her thanks to everyone.

The visiting officers received a gift from the regular officers of Adah Chapter. At this time the Worthy Matron turned the program over to Rev. Harold W. Dorsey. He entertained the group with a very interesting discussion and pictures of his trip to Japan.

At the conclusion of the program the Worthy Matron invited everyone to come back and visit again.

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field

Anyone who's ever taken a Chevy over a choppy country road can tell you how lightly Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension handles rough going—and coil springs never squeak, never need grease! Try this velvet way of going for yourself. Once you do, you'll find your own way of saying what MOTOR TRENDS magazine puts this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But the happiest part of it all is that this Full Coil ride is just one of seven big bests—all documented by published opinions of experts and on-the-record facts and figures.

that Chevrolet sedans offer more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars—more front seat hip room (by up to 5.9 inches) than the "other two" of the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY—A pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* show

BEST BRAKES—Chevy's bonded-lining brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 66% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by NAS-CAR, Chevy outstopped both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN—Any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?

Visit your local authorized Chevrolet dealer and see how much more Chevy has to offer!

ran off. The Prestonsburg arrest followed. Marsillett had tried to get his term served by proxy several weeks ago. Deputy Sheriffs Joe W. Louis states that while Marsillett was being sought on the Rowan charge that a man posing as him voluntarily came to the jail there to serve the 60-day term. Later the man decided he didn't like incarceration and told Jailer Plank that he was not Marsillett but Flock Murphy, of Van Lear, and that he had been hired by the Floyd man to serve out his term.

The state troopers here, wanting Marsillett on the shooting charge, failed to connect with the federal authorities at Pikeville and Marsillett is now secure in the Morehead jail.

Jailer Plank asserts he will not make Marsillett a trusty again but he posed a question to The Times: "Say, who wants him when he is through over here?"

that was to fill his time with rewarding activities in the interest of agriculture. He served 12 years as community committeeman in the Agricultural Stabilization program in the Johns Creek area.

Forced by a demanding government to relocate, Lafferty looked over a dozen Floyd county communities before selecting a place on the railroad side of the river, north of Cliff. Here was a bottom of fertile land. He and his two sons, J. L., Jr., and Albert, bought 21 acres and divided it. Later, a son-in-law, Shirley Morrison, bought an adjoining tract of eight acres. The senior Lafferty, in planning to keep the whole clan together, sold to another son-in-law, Arnold Crider, a small plot. This was in 1947.

Building by the Laffertys began soon afterward and they moved in their new homes the next year. Johnny Lafferty planted a crop and planned a garden in cooperation with Mrs. Lafferty, whom, he says, is a "big cog in the wheel of activities." Albert, a carpenter, by trade, did the same. The junior Lafferty, whose daughter, Barbara, is an outstanding farmerette, added his acres to the family effort. Morrison did the same. The Lafferty Settlement was founded.

Johnny Lafferty attributes the success of the group's efforts to cooperation. When there is a big job to do there is no lack of help from others of the family. When one is in need of money one of the group will endorse for the other at the bank. Standing by, advising and assisting in the communal agricultural program, is Johnny Lafferty, scientific farmer and elder leader.

Johnny Lafferty continued his interest in the county farm program and was named community committeeman for Cliff. He served two years and was elected county chairman of the ASC committee. All of his offices in the farm program have been won without opposition.

His activities in the farm program entailed duties as the first president of the Floyd County Farm Bureau, and as a member of the board of directors for two years. He stepped down from the presidency of the group and filled the office of vice-president. He found time to serve as a director of the Floyd County Strawberry Association and was named director and treasurer of the succeeding organization, the Eastern Kentucky Strawberry Association. He and two others, in cooperation with the late Ova Ellis Boggs, launched the movement to make strawberries an Eastern Kentucky crop. Today, in addition to membership on the county ASC committee, Lafferty is treasurer of the Floyd County Livestock Improvement Association and recently was named treasurer of the Floyd County Fair Board.

On the Lafferty baby farms are strawberries, Duroc hogs, meadows of alfalfa and orchard grass and hybrid corn. The senior Lafferty, after taking two awards as a top notch producer, leaves the growing of prize-winning corn to his son, Johnny, Jr., and his granddaughter, Barbara. They have been tops in the corn derby for years.

The friendly family competition in the corn derby race began in 1955 when Johnny Lafferty, Jr., won the derby and received the trophy to succeed Lewis Burchett, of Cow Creek. Right after that several residents of the Lafferty Settlement got into the corn derby.

Johnny Lafferty, holding the title as Floyd county champion, set out to keep it. His daughter, Barbara, a grade school student, decided to compete with her father. The grandfather, Johnny, senior, also entered the race. Barbara won when her production was tallied at 129.5 bushels per acre. Her father took second place and her grandfather was third.

Barbara, although small and seemingly frail, belies her looks. She drives her father's tractor for herself and others of the group. There are times when it is necessary to work after school and there have been many occasions when the tractor was chugging over the fields at 11 o'clock in the night.

Came the second year of the friendly competition to win the corn derby. Barbara won again, this time with a production of 149.0 bushels on an acre. Her father took second place to his daughter. Her grandfather contented himself with third place with a production of 131 bushels.

If a person wins the corn derby three times the trophy remains permanently in the possession of the winner. That was in Barbara's mind when she entered for the third year. To do so she utilized all her scientific knowledge of seed bed preparation and fertilization and called on her grandfather and father for advice. She won with a production of 150.1 bushels on an acre. Her father again took second place and Rufus Sturgill, of Harold, emerged as third place winner. The corn derby trophy now rests permanently in the Johnny Lafferty, Jr., home, the proud possession of his 16-year-old daughter, Barbara.

Success has many definitions. Most people measure it in terms of money or property. Others think it is any of a diversity of things. The Laffertys and their kin measure it in the happiness of living independently and together on a few acres of good land.

Their success is the result of team work. The senior Lafferty says, "Good cooperation has helped us to success in our way of life. We all counsel together—the elders, the boys and girls. We plan our work and work our plans as a team."

There is a stone walk leading from the road to the steps of the white, framed home of Johnny Lafferty Sr. It was built from the hand-hewn stones of the chimney of the home in which he and his wife reared their children as tenants of the Rev. Ward on Johns Creek.

The stones are rugged, solid and permanent. To the elder Lafferty those stones are reminiscent of his early life on Johns Creek when he was a "renter" and trying to eke out a living by farming and logging.

To the five family groups of the Lafferty Settlement the stones typify the security of their way of life. Like the stones it was carved out with the labor of skilled hands.

line Ratliff, both of Virgie, Mrs. Elanie Millon, of Jononay, and one foster brother, Ollie Calhoun, also of Virgie.

The funeral was held August 10 at 10 a.m., at the home of the parents at Virgie with the Revs. Lester Baker, Francis Hubbard, Matt Justice, Solly Kaiser and Ellis Moore conducting. Burial was made at the Potter Cemetery at Yeager, Ky., under the direction of the Marion & Call Funeral Home.

Betty Jean Rowe Attends National Youth Council Of Presbyterian Church

Betty Jean Rowe is attending the National Youth Council of the United Presbyterian Church as one of the 12 delegates from the Synod of Kentucky. She is the first person ever to attend the council from Prestonsburg. The council is meeting at the University of Tulsa in Oklahoma, from August 14 through 21.

These delegates represent all of the United Presbyterian Youth of the states and Puerto Rico at this business meeting. A new name will be chosen here for the combined groups of the United Presbyterian Church in North America and the Presbyterian Church in the USA, which are now united in one church, the United States of America. Other matters of national importance will be discussed. The youth, together with their leaders will discuss the matter of youth evangelism, youth stewardship, and other areas of work. Then they will make recommendations stating what they believe the young people need to study. These recommendations will be used in preparing youth program material in the church for next year.

The Audubon Museum, Henderson, is built of native stone which has a faint glistening of silver, giving it a fantastic connection with the tradition of Knetucky's lost silver mine.

Letter to the Editor:

WHAT REALLY HAPPENED, HOWARD AND HALL STATE

(News stories in The Times are presented as objectively as possible. When there is controversy between different groups the news, written in a spirit of fairness and objectivity, will often meet with the disapproval of both sides. Mr. Howard and Mr. Hall, members of the Floyd County Board of Education, offer in this statement an exposition as to what occurred at a recent seven-hour board meeting.)

The Times points out that it is obviously impossible for a reporter to sit through such a marathon of talk and take down everything in longhand. The board meetings have probably been given more coverage in The Times than called for by their news value. We may decide to revert to our old method of merely writing the news of board meetings after reading the minutes.

The Times offers no observation as to what are facts or their proper interpretation except in the stories written by its own reportorial staff.)

The article in last week's Floyd County Times covering the August meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education did not give the full story. We, John G. Hall and Ray Howard, charge that many items of business were left out of the story. We do believe that our teachers, taxpayers and children should have the full and true story of every Board meeting. In some instances we were mis-quoted and the public in turn was misled. We offer these minutes, resolutions, decisions and true quotations as what really happened. We ask you the public to visit the Superintendent's office and check the minutes of this month's meeting. These are public records and you are at liberty to inspect them at any time. We offer to you what we feel is important information and which was left out of last week's Times.

Jail Register Features Charges of Drunkenness, Larceny, Break, Entering

Drunkenness featured the charges on the jail register here this week but there were arrests for grand larceny, breaking and entering and on peace warrants.

Junior Scott was arrested for drunkenness and for fighting an officer and causing an accident that wrecked his car. Arresting officers were Deputy Sheriffs Ray Tackett and Harold Johnson. Joe Hopkins was arrested and charged with the possession of beer and whiskey for sale by Deputy Sheriff Joe W. Lewis. Billy Joe Herrington was arrested for grand larceny and Leonard Workman was charged with the same offense, being arrested by deputy Paul B. Akers.

Arrests and charges follow: John Willis, disturbing the peace; Lewis Dale, peace warrant, Johnnie Newman, drunkenness, Gordon Newman, drunkenness, Gordon Fields, bastardy, Lewis Wright, drunkenness, Mims Porter, drunkenness, Bill Smith, drunkenness, Danny Terry, drunkenness, Monroe Stone, drunkenness, Clarice Stone, drunkenness, Danny Terry, drunkenness, Lewis Dale, child desertion.

Harland Hall, peace warrant, George H. Powell, drunken driving, Claude Napier, drunkenness, James Baldridge, drunkenness, Bruce Wilcox, drunkenness, Oakie Wilcox, drunkenness, Charles Yaywood, grand larceny, Columbus Mitchell, drunkenness, Bayless Kinzer, drunkenness, Henry Patton, drunkenness, Carl Atkins, drunkenness, Eugene Conley, drunkenness, Archer Shepherd, Jr., drunkenness.

Ray Conley, drunkenness, Chester Ratliff, breaking and entering, Mack Little, peace warrant and drunkenness, Paul Mollett, peace warrant and drunkenness, and Paul Willis Johnson, assault and battery.

Earlier they conferred with officials at North Carolina State College on tobacco research.

Dr. Kenneth Keller, State College director of tobacco research, told the Kentuckians research indicates there is no relation between smoking and lung cancer.

This statement was in reply to Combs' question about the possible removal from tobacco of chemicals responsible for the "health scare." "Besides," Keller said, "no single chemical or chemicals have ever been blamed for the health scare."

After meeting with Keller and Dr. D. W. Colvard, dean of the agriculture college, Combs said: "Much of what we are learning here in North Carolina can be applied to Kentucky problems."

"We also feel that what we are accomplishing in Kentucky can be applied to the solution of North Carolina problems."

The Kentucky group asked about North Carolina's retirement system for state employees, its alcoholic rehabilitation and forestry programs.

10. It was suggested that the Floyd county annual be awarded on open competitive bidding. Howard stated that since thousands of dollars of the school children's money was involved in this annual project it was only right that public bids be taken on the Annual. Howard claimed this would save money and give our home people a chance to

Mr. Hicks succumbed to injuries suffered in an automobile accident which occurred at 5:10 p.m., Friday, about a mile east of Garrett. He died Sunday at 2 p.m., at St. Mary's hospital, in Huntington.

Hicks, who had worked for the Chrysler Airtemp Corporation as a welder, had returned to Lackey after residing in Dayton, Ohio.

Surviving are his wife, Zelma Allen Hicks; five daughters, Connie Lou, Donnie Sue, Debra K. Teresa Lynn and Judy Ann, all at home; one brother, Felix Hicks, address unknown; two sisters, Mrs. Earnest Woods, Lackey, and Mrs. J. F. Terry, Dayton, Ohio, and his father, Fair Hicks. His mother, Lula Sparkman Hicks, preceded him in death.

Funeral services, conducted by the Revs. Douglas Burkett and Green Boyd, were held at home, 1 p.m., Tuesday. Burial under the direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home was made in the family cemetery.

But merely for the sake of argument, suppose you do save a few dollars on a time-consuming trip many miles from home. And suppose you don't even count the cost of gasoline and oil, car wear, parking fees, etc. Forget, too, if you like, the hazards of driving in today's heavy highway and city traffic.

But don't overlook these things: What you buy here can be in your home in a few minutes—no waiting several days for delivery. And if the merchandise doesn't give full satisfaction, any needed service or adjustment of the purchase can be made without shipping the items back to the BIG CITY or being forced to make a second trip yourself.

Why drive scores of miles looking for trouble? Shop right around the corner and be safe and satisfied.

$100 per month should be enjoined by the court, pending the final settlement of this controversy. The Fiscal Court is composed of County Judge Bill Ward, and Magistrates, Otto Baldrige, David Kelly, Elmer May, Joe McCarthy, Milt Grim and Herbert Wells. The magistrates were paid $100 monthly last year, totalling $7,200. The final payment of $6,450 was made early last month, each magistrate receiving $1,075 each. Controversies in many Kentucky counties have arisen over the 1958 State law which permits salaries for magistrates who serve in a judicial capacity, meaning the trial of cases.

The allegations set out that Yates' "treatment by the police judge smacks of tyranny and this tyrannical act was in violation of plaintiff's rights as a citizen." He asked judgment against the city, Judge Feller, Lafferty and the two deputies, and that the trial be declared "null and void as having been rendered thru prejudice, tyranny and abuse of office privilege."

The Circuit Clerk's restraining order stated it had been made to "appear by said complaint that his (Yates) confinement is illegal and under a judgment which was illegally obtained and entered by the Police Judge of the City of Prestonsburg, . . . This order to remain in force until dissolved or modified."

The injunction bond was signed by Stephens, Yates and Dayton Joseph.

The informant said that when he was with Lester and the other salesman in Morgan a week before the Grassy Creek murder, they decided against a plan to rob a West Liberty drug store of narcotics, and then drove around the Grassy Creek section and looked over the two stores there. The informant said he told the two others, "There's plenty of money around here, and this would be a 'push-over' job."

Miss Stamper, owner of the store and a wealthy landowner, was found dead in the back of the store the morning of last November 20, her hands and feet tied with wire, a gag in her mouth, and her head bludgeoned. Her body was still warm when found, and officers said robbery apparently was the motive, though a safe in the store was not opened. A farmer said he saw a black Oldsmobile with Magoffin license parked in front of the store shortly before a tenant entered the store and found Miss Stamper's breakfast half eaten. The tenant summoned two women in the village and they found the body, about 8:30 a.m.

Scores of clues have led officers to dead ends in the intervening weeks and the crime has remained unsolved.

The prison inmate said Lester and his accomplice both were leg-amputees who had been trained to sell magazines in a Welch, W. Va., school.

Lester told officers here that he lost his leg at age 11 in hopping a freight train. He said he had sold magazine subscriptions in every state and in Mexico during the past 17 years. He admitted being in Perry county last fall, but did not remember the date, and he admitted knowing the prison informant.

He said in Perry county he was with seven or eight other salesmen and they were in two cars—a Chevrolet and a Pontiac.

He said he had traveled widely selling magazines but said he did not remember ever being in Morgan county.

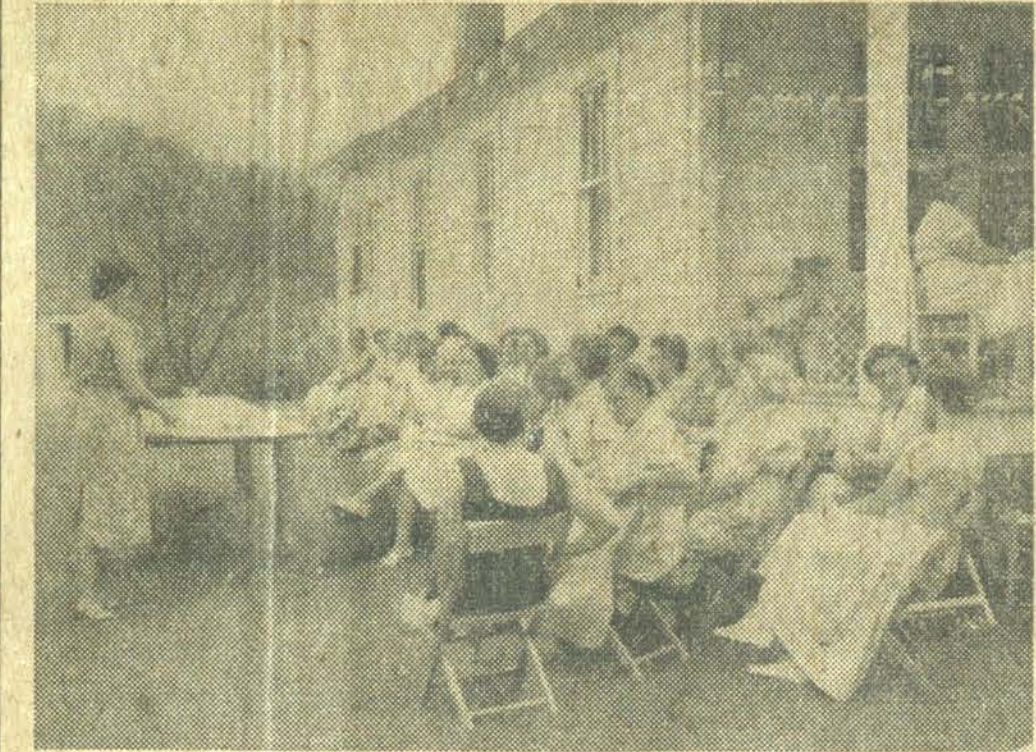

He named a number of handicapped salesmen he had worked with, including the informant. Also he mentioned girl friends in Whitesburg and Manchester, and said he had never been married.

He said that since he traveled all the time he had no home address but that his father lived at Corner Rock, W. Va., near the Virginia line.

withering in pain; help us to lay waste their humble homes with a hurricane of fire; help us to wring the hearts of their unoffending widows with unavailing grief; help us to turn them out roofless with their little children to wander unfriended the wastes of their desolated land in rags and hunger and thirst, sports of the sun-flames of summer and the icy winds of winter, broken in spirit, worn with travail, imploring Thee for the refuge of the grave and denied it—for our sakes, who adore Thee, Lord, blast their hopes, blight their lives, protract their bitter pilgrimage, make heavy their steps, water their way with their tears, stain the white snow with the blood of their wounded feet! We ask of one who is the Spirit of love and who is the ever-faithful refuge and friend of all that are sore beset, and seek His aid with humble and contrite hearts. Grant our prayer, O Lord, and Thine shall be the praise and honor and glory now and forever, Amen.

The other Combs contribution is "lifted" from Our Southern Highlanders, by Horace Kephart. It pertains to what Combs refers to as the Porcus Razorbackus.

THE RAZORBACK

In physique and mentality the razorback differs even more from a domestic hog than a wild goose does from a tame one. Shaped in front like a thin wedge, he can go through laurel thickets like a bear. Armed with tough hide cushioned by bristles, he despites thorns, branches and rattlesnakes, alike. His extravagantly long snout can scent like a cat's, and yet burrow, uproot, overturn, as if made of metal. The long legs, thin flanks, plant hoofs, fit him to run like a deer and climb like a goat. In courage and sagacity he outranks all other beasts. A warrior born, he is also a strategist of the first order. Like man, he lives a communal life, and unites with others of his kind for purposes of defense.

The pig is the only large mammal I know of, besides man, whose eyes will not shine by reflected light—they are too bold and crafty, I wit. The razorback has a mind of his own; not instinct, but mind—whatever psychologists may say. He thinks. Anybody can see that when he is not rooting or sleeping he is studying devilment. He shows remarkable understanding of human speech, especially profane speech, and even an uncanny gift of reading men's thoughts, whenever those thoughts are directed against the peace and dignity of pigship. He bears grudges, broods over indignities, and plans redress for the morrow or the week after. If he cannot get even with you, he will lay for your unsuspecting friend. And at the last, when arrested in his crimes and lodged in the pen, he is liable to attacks of mania from sheer helplessness rage.

If you camp out in the mountains, nothing will molest you but razor-back hogs. Bears will flee, and wild-cats sneak to their dens, but the moment incense of cooking arises from your camp every pig within two miles will scent it and hasten to call. You may throw your arm out of joint: they will laugh in your face. You may curse in five languages: it is music to their titillating ears.

MY CREED

I do not choose to be a common man. It is my right to be uncommon—if I can. I seek opportunity—not security. I do not wish to be a kept citizen, humbled and dulled by having the state look after me. I want to take the calculated risk; to dream and to build, to fail and to succeed. I refuse to barter incentive for a dole. I will not trade Freedom for Benevolence, nor my Dignity for a Handout. It is my heritage to think and act for myself, enjoy the benefit of my creations, and to face the world boldly. I say, "This I have done."

Any sandwich month—the time for making appetizing, delicious sandwiches. Try some sandwiches with set food combinations—tuna, salmon, sardines. A sandwich can be made into a sandwich.

Rev. Bingham Returns From Union Seminary Preaching Clinic Study

Rev. Paul M. Bingham, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Prestonsburg, has returned from two weeks of study at the Union Theological Seminary of Virginia, in Richmond. There, together with 42 other preachers of several denominations, he took part in a preaching clinic. On the faculty leading this clinic were Dr. William H. Elliott, pastor of a 4,900 member Presbyterian congregation in Dallas, Texas, Dr. H. Grady Davis of the Chicago Lutheran Seminary, Dr. Thomas McMill, professor of pastoral counseling in Columbia Seminary in Decatur, Ga., and other leaders.

"This was a time of restudying the message of Gospel preaching and better ways of communicating said. Time was also given to the understanding of the people to whom the Gospel is preached. Since this is the only Preaching Clinic of this type preachers from as far west as California and as far north as Toronto, Canada, came to take part in the study. It was a time of inspiration and learning for all who took part."

rection of young Scottie Lafferty and operated through the 4-H poultry chain, and the hybrid corn demonstration.

Lafferty's farm has a sodded river bank to prevent erosion and the visiting farmers inspected the high degree of protection given by KY. 21 fescue. There were other stops to view meadow renovation, pure-bred Duroc hogs, raspberry plots and gardening projects. A field of sorghum cane was seen and the method of fertilization explained.

Of interest to the farmers was a demonstration of hybrid corn being cultivated by Barbara Lafferty, 16-year-old corn derby champion for the last three years. (See separate story).

One of the activities of the day was the exhibits of 4-H work. Club members presenting exhibits were Leanie Ann Conley, Carolyn Lafferty, Joan Martin, Barbara Lafferty, Ronnie Hays, Freer Martin, Gaylord Martin, Steve Hunter, Rhoda Ann Gearheart and Ruby Mae Gearheart.

An added attraction this year at the field day was a soil judging event for 4-H club members and farmers. It was under the direction of Harry White, and Shirley Phillips, University of Kentucky crop specialist. Two sites were judged with Freer Martin scoring in the 4-H event as winner.

Prizes were given in many fields of competition and Mrs. J. T. Spillman, club leader of Wayland, won for having traveled the farthest; Ike Martin, of Langley won the adult soil judging contest; the prize for the newest married couple went to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Salisbury, of Printer; and the largest family prize was given to Mr. and Mrs. Graden Martin, of Langley. The oldest woman present was Mrs. Lizzie Stricklin, Prestonsburg, and the oldest man was C. W. Dingus, of Martin. Drawing lucky tickets for prizes were Freer Martin, Guy Willie Sturgill, J. J. Martin, Ruby Mae Gayheart, Arnold Crider, Delbert Ousley, Steven Dotson and Mrs. Alice Hays.

Soft drinks were given to the crowd through the courtesy of the three Floyd county banks and prizes awarded were provided by Floyd county businessmen.

First Kentucky Apothecary Shop Restored

The first apothecary west of the Allegheny Mountains, built in Danville in 1792 and owned by the late Dr. Ephraim McDowell—the father of abdominal surgery—has been restored and will be dedicated Friday, August 14.

E. M. Josey, Frankfort, secretary of the Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association, will preside at the dedication which will feature talks by Dr. Glenn Sondecke, director of the American Institute of the History of Pharmacy, and Dr. John C. Burch, professor of gynecology, Vanderbilt University School of Medicine, Nashville, Tenn.

The apothecary was rebuilt and furnished by the Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association and drug manufacturers in cooperation with the Kentucky State Medical Association. Following the dedication, the Pharmaceutical Association will present the key to the apothecary to KSMa president, Dr. Robert W. Robertson, Paducah. The KSMa will operate the apothecary as part of the McDowell Home Shrine.

The pharmacy group started working on the project late in 1955. While the restoration was taking place, the pharmacists and others began collecting furniture, equipment, and materials, both here and abroad. The shop has been completely furnished to reflect the McDowell period.

This year marks the sesquicentennial of the first successful ophthalmectomy which was performed by Dr. McDowell on Mrs. Jane Todd Crawford, Greensburg, on Christmas Day in 1809.

RECORD BOOKS

All 4-H project records must be completed and turned in to the Extension Office by September 5. This will be the final date that records can be accepted to be entered in the county competition for project championships.

A Junior and Senior county champion will be selected in each project to represent Floyd county at the District Achievement Day.

FARM FAMILY FIELD DAY

One of the most interesting parts of the Field Day activities was the 4-H project exhibit. Several club members exhibited their project work. They were: Clothing—Melanie Ann Conley, Carolyn Lafferty, Joan Martin, Canning—Joan Martin, Corn—Barbara Lafferty, Electricity—Ronnie Hays, Forestry—Freder Martin, Garden—Gaylord Martin, Freer Martin, Safety—Ronnie Hays, Woodwork—Steve Hunter, IFFE Program—Rhoda Ann and Ruby Mae Gayheart.

SOIL JUDGING CONTEST

The annual Farm Field Day had an added attraction this year with a soil judging event for the 4-H boys and farmers.

Shirley Phillips, University of Kentucky Crops Specialist, had a discussion with the farmers on the factors involved in judging soil.

The 4-H boys scored two sites using practice score cards. 4-Hers taking part in this event included Delbert Ousley, Glenn Salyers, Freer Martin, Tyrone Martin, Gaylord Martin, Ronnie Hays and Stanton Martin.

The winner of the 4-H event was Freer Martin with the high score for the two sites judged.

Thompson Urges Early Application For S. S. Benefits

Each week about 80 people file claims for old-age survivors, or disability insurance benefits in the Pikeville Social Security office, according to Thomas B. Thomas, District Manager.

Some of these people file their claims early and receive their benefits promptly. Some few put off filing so long that they lose some monthly benefits. The majority, however, wait until after they retire to make their first call on the Social Security Office, resulting in some delay in receipt of their first benefit check.

Thompson urges everyone to "inquire before you retire" by phoning, writing, or calling at your Social Security Office. Inquire several weeks before you reach retirement age and find out what proofs and documents you will need to submit with your claim, as well as the best time to file your claim. Have these documents with you when you file your claim and your first benefit check should arrive without delay.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Floyd County Board of Education, at its regular meeting to be held on September 1, 1959, will receive bids for the sale of the water plant at the Maytown School, subject to the condition that Dr. J. H. Allen shall receive water free of cost and the heirs of H. F. May shall also receive water free of cost. The ground upon which the water plant is located will be leased to the successful purchaser at the rate of $1.00 per year.

The said sale will be also made subject to the requirement that the purchaser shall furnish water to the Floyd County Board of Education for said school free of costs for a period of ten years.

Said lease shall be for a period of ten years with the right reserved to the purchaser to extend said lease for an additional term of ten years.

These bids will also be subject to suit to determine the legality of the sale.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Given under my hand this August 11, 1959.

SMART HOUSEWIVES GO FOR METERED LP-GAS

You housewives know what you want in home fuel. You want small, convenient monthly payments, rather than a big bill every time fuel is delivered. You want positive proof that you're getting your money's worth. And you want better service. All this you get with metered LP-Gas.

WITH OUR METER PLAN YOU GET ALL THESE BENEFITS

- Pay for gas monthly—helps your budget.
- Use the gas first, then pay only for what's used.
- Check your bill against the meter—know exactly how much gas you've used.
- No out-of-gas worry—the meter tells us when you need fuel.
- No bothersome re-ordering, no phone calls, no need for you to stay home when we deliver.

10. THE CHANCE TO BUILD A BETTER COMMUNITY BY PUTTING YOUR DOLLARS TO WORK HERE

We don't believe you gain anything at all by driving long distances to shop at BIG CITY stores. Our local sources have merchandise that's just as good and costs no more.

But merely for the sake of argument, suppose you do save a few dollars on a time-consuming trip many miles from home. And suppose you don't even count the cost of gasoline and oil, car wear, parking fees, etc. Forget, too, if you like, the hazards of driving in today's heavy highway and city traffic.

But don't overlook these things: What you buy here can be in your home in a few minutes—no waiting several days for delivery. And if the merchandise doesn't give full satisfaction, any needed service or adjustment of the purchase can be made without shipping the items back to the BIG CITY or being forced to make a second trip yourself.

Why drive scores of miles looking for trouble? Shop right around the corner and be safe and satisfied.

HALE FAMILY
A letter from W. H. Hale, 1521 Chestnut Drive, Ashland, notes that he is at work on the Hale genealogy. Anyone having information that may assist Mr. Hale will find the data deeply appreciated if it is made available to him.
He writes:
"I am very much interested in the Hale family and have been, for the past few years, doing extensive research regarding them. It has been an uphill task since I had very little to start with and what I have found was found among old records in the county court clerk's office there, but even these records are not enough for me to connect what information I have."
"I will mention below some names with the hope that you may have some notes which might help me to discover what I am seeking. To begin with my grandfather was Henderson Hale (I am 63 years old) and right there, until recently, my family knew no more than that, since Henderson Hale, born 1829, always told my father and the rest of the family that he never knew who his father was. After several visits to the clerk's office there I unearthed the information that was grandfather, Henderson Hale, was bound out to a Tommy Birchett and was raised by him, this bound out entry in the old order book shows that this was in 1840 which would have made Henderson Hale 11 years old at the time and upon further investigation discovered that Henderson Hale had several brothers and sisters who were bound out about the same time to various other families. The entries read along this line—Henderson Hale, infant son of William Hale, deceased, etc. Therefore I discovered that William Hale was my great-grandfather, and must have died, naturally, or was killed in some manner around 1839 or 1840. Further reading disclosed that Henderson Hale's brothers and sisters were a Mial Hale, Lester Ann Hale, Mary Hale and John Hale, perhaps more of them. Further notations about these bound out procedures mentioned an Elizabeth Hale being brought before the court to show cause why the above children should not be bound out, therefore, I am assuming that this Elizabeth could have been William Hale's wife and my great-grandmother. What I am now trying to find out is, if this Elizabeth Hale mentioned in the order books in this manner was really my great-grandmother's name and exactly what her maiden name was. Nowhere among the records can I find any mention of who William Hale's wife was.

"I have also discovered in the circuit court clerk's office there that William Hale had brothers by the name of Claybourn, James, John and several more and all this indicates around the years 1829 thru 1840. The records also verify that the father of William Hale was John Hale who either died or was killed about the same time that his son William died or was killed which would have been about 1839. But who William Hale's wife was is my biggest concern at the moment. All this seems to have occurred on Bull Creek or the country between Bull Creek and on over on Brushy and Licking River."

MISS LESLIE WRITES
Miss Ruth Leslie, 4057 Nichols Avenue, N. W., Washington 24, D. C., writes, among many things, of her work with the National Genealogical Society. She is the author of "Lesley, Leslie, 200 Years in America, 1755-1955."
She refers to an article in The Times on the Auxier family.
"Perhaps you have a copy (only a few exist) of Agnes Auxier's history of the family from which I quoted at length in my grandfather Leslie's section of the family history (Martin Leslie's wife was Sarah B. Auxier.) I knew Agnes when I was a little girl and she was working on it then. Mrs. Garland Rice (nee, Auxier) and Earl Atkinson, brother-in-law of Fanny Mayo Atkinson, were instrumental in giving it the 'light of day' long before Agnes' death. Much credit is due them, as well as Fanny, who presented me with a copy which I prize very highly."
Miss Leslie notes that her book on the Leslie family was reviewed in the National Genealogical Society magazine.
"It was in the March, 1957, issue that my Lesley, Leslie book was reviewed—by the man who is now the editor. An entire column was given to my book. He found only one fault (his words), and that was the lack of charts. I worked many weary days and hours over the charts, but the absence of the necessary data in so many families, although I begged for it for two years, resulted in mostly blank spaces in the chart form, so I postponed that portion of the book until such a time as these data could be supplied. My aim is to compile a supplementary volume (not a new edition) which will contain charts, as well as source material; and additional data, as well as any important corrections (these must be documented) which are sent in to me."

Good Food Buys Are Available In August, Said
Watch your p's and q's when shopping for food in August—especially the p's because foods beginning with that letter will be the more plentiful one's, according to Mrs. Letta Jasper, University of Kentucky Extension specialist in marketing and consumer education.
Economic prices are expected on plums, peaches, pears, pork, poultry, potatoes, peppers and peanut butter, she says.
Headliners are the fresh fruits, Mrs. Jasper continues. Bartlett pears from the Pacific coast states will be plentiful, as will various varieties of plums. Freestone peach varieties from nearby orchards and from states north of us will be in good supply. Elberta and Hale varieties are the more desirable for canning and freezing.
Other fruits, such as summer apples, bananas, cantaloupe, lemons and limes will remain steady in price, she predicts.
The summer vegetable season during August will include potatoes (both white and sweet), green peppers, snap beans, corn, onions, tomatoes, and some local greens by the end of the month.
Pork is available in larger supply than at this season last year and prices are forecast to continue lower than usual for the rest of the year. Poultry offers family-size turkeys, broiler-fryers, and eggs in abundant supply, she points out.
Cheaper cuts of beef (the less tender cuts) are in heavier supply. Ground beef is also plentiful, as more cows are coming to market, Mrs. Jasper says.
Peanut butter, fresh fish, vegetable fats and oils for cooking and salad dressing, and grain products—breads, flour and cereals—are all in good supply.

NOTICE
The Floyd County Board of Education will receive sealed bids for building a two-room building at Tinker Fork, and will also receive separate bids for building a partridge at the Martin grade school auditorium. Bids to be opened at the September 1 board meeting.
Plans and specifications may be obtained from the office of the Superintendent. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Lady Is Free of Rheumatic Pain
One lady told us she had rheumatic pain so bad she had to walk with a cane most of the time. The joints of her knees and ankles were stiff and sore. Recently she got RUGON and says the pains began to go within a few hours, and now after one week the pain is gone entirely.
RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this New Liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON at W. A. Rose Drug Co.

Doctor's Seminar On Alcoholism Is Scheduled

By J. Collis Ringe, Executive Director Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

If alcoholism is a disease, as declared by the American Medical Association, what doctors treat this illness?

Unfortunately, very few physicians accept alcoholic patients and for good reason.

The concept of alcoholism as an illness was accepted by the American Medical Association in 1956. Most physicians in practice completed their medical educations before alcoholism was considered anything other than a willful deviation from accepted social norms or a normal problem.

Physicians generally are not prepared to treat alcoholics and prefer to refer alcoholic patients to other sources.

The Kentucky Academy of General Practice has recognized alcoholism as a treatable illness. Out of a membership of 482, in answer to a questionnaire, 176 physicians have indicated a willingness to attend a seminar limited to physicians and devoted exclusively to the problems of alcoholism.

A definite date has been set—November 5, 1959. This seminar will be held at the Brown Hotel, Louisville. It will be staffed by outstanding national authorities on the subject.

Dr. Marvin A. Block, chairman of Committee on Alcoholism, American Medical Association, will head this seminar. He will be assisted by Dr. Edward J. Delehanty, chairman of the Colorado Commission on Alcoholism, Dr. Roger J. Williams, former president of the American Chemical Society and head of the Clayton Institute of Biochemical Research, Austin, Texas, and Dr. Louis M. Foltz, chairman of the Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism.

The calibre of the staff assures the success of this meeting. Originally intended for general practitioners only, it has been expanded to include all practicing physicians.

Any physicians desiring further information regarding this seminar may write to the Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism, 815 First National Bank Building, Lexington, Kentucky.

A Times Want Ad will serve many of your advertising needs.

MOSES PRESTON, SOLDIER

Mrs. Ardith Crisp, 1414 Prairie Road, Colorado Springs, Colo., writes for information on Moses Preston, Revolutionary War soldier who settled in early Floyd county and was the ancestor of most of the Prestons of the Big Sandy valley.

"I am working on a family history and need some information on Moses Preston. I believe he was born in Bedford county, Virginia, in 1734. He married Fanny Arthur, died in Kentucky about 1810." (?)

Mrs. Crisp needs information on his marriage record, birth date, death, and will.

Much of this record is in the National Archives at Washington as Preston applied for a pension.

This pension record, of which an abstract is at hand, notes that the Revolutionary War soldier applied for a pension in 1818, at which time he was 55 years of age. He stated in his application that he enlisted in 1779 for 18 months under a Major Hill in the command of Col. Abraham Buford and General Gates. He was in the Battle of Guilford Courthouse, at the siege of Camden, Battle of Ninety-Six and at the time of the war's close he was guarding the house of "Gen. Hughes near the Eutaw Springs."

Preston received a certificate for "bounty land" but sold it through necessity for $20 or $25.

In another application made June 10, 1828, Preston stated he enlisted in 1781 in Halifax county, Virginia, served until the latter part of 1783, when he was discharged in South Carolina. That application must have been dated in 1818 for another is made June 16, 1818. In the latter one he stated he enlisted from Bedford county, Virginia, September 9, 1843. Fanny Preston, his widow, appeared before a Floyd County Justice of the Peace and stated she was the widow of Moses Preston, a private in the Revolutionary War.

SEAMAN BROCK SERVES

San Francisco, Calif.—James T. Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Brock, of Wheelwright, Ky., serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge, completed a four-day visit to San Francisco, Calif., July 20, while operating as a unit of the U.S. First Fleet.

Twenty-six ships and 15,000 men took part in the visit which was preceded by a major exercise held off the California coast. The exercise involved fast moving aggressive attack carrier teams which struck at simulated mainland targets as naval air patrol squadrons and submarines held defensive roles.

Exercises of this type are designed to give advance training to personnel preparing to make cruises, with the U.S. Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

TIPS FOR EASY LIVING.

When "dog days" with real August sizzlers come along, most of us take to the outdoors. Whether it's porch, patio or just the backyard, we're often out of the house when the phone rings. That's when a handy extension phone fits the spot for real relaxing. Saves running inside, often to get there too late. So, here's the first tip for a more leisurely summer—have your phones where you need them—just give us a ring and we'll put them in your home for fingertip convenience.

ON VACATION TOO, telephones can help you relax. A quick Long Distance call ahead can arrange hotel or motel reservations. And, if you're wondering about someone at home, check up first-hand by Long Distance. Because wherever you are, there's a telephone nearby to make your summer pleasanter and more comfortable.

THE "INSTANTS"—Have been noticing how many instant foods there are these days, giving homemakers more time to relax. Makes me think of another "instant" that gives us a deep-down reason to relax and feel easy. That's the fine defense warning systems set up to flash warnings of approaching airborne objects quicker than you can fix a cup of instant coffee. Telephone scientists and engineers who work to perfect ever-better service for you, also help set up these systems. It's good to know they're constantly working on new developments to help guard our country.

Mrs. Bowers says that electric cooking is "so fast, so clean—just set the automatic controls and there's no worry about anything not cooking or baking exactly the way you want it."

Here's what a family you may know has to say about LIVING BETTER . . . ELECTRICALLY

"Our total electric service, including heat and cooling, costs only $24.31 a month"

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bowers of Roanoke, Virginia

R. W. Bowers, building contractor, installed an electric heat pump which both heats and cools the home he built for himself and Mrs. Bowers. They like it —

"Our electric heat pump is virtually maintenance-free" . . . "so clean we haven't had to clean drapes or walls in over two years" . . . "always the same temperature all over the house, no hot or cold spots" . . . "just set the thermostat and forget it."

Besides her homemaking duties, Mrs. Bowers handles her husband's office work. "I couldn't get everything done," she says, "without the help of all our electric appliances. I like my dryer best — cold weather, wind and rain never hamper my clothes drying."

"NATURE AT FIDELITY"

Though there were many things at Fidelity that were good then and would be good in any civilization, I must confess that there were certain others or certain lacks that would not be good anywhere. One of these, which I have often spoken of in this column, was a feeling that a love of nature was sissy or crazy. Certain old ladies in our neighborhood loved flowers, in spite of hearing nearly every Sunday that loving anything earthly was dangerously worldly. These same old ladies early learned that I, a boy, loved flowers, too. And from their flower gardens I built up mine, not a very pretentious one but one full of blooms from the earliest daffodils in spring to clematis in the fall. A few shrubs, several vines, a number of annual and perennial flowers made a spot next to our vegetable garden something more than another place for vegetables. I stayed in that spot many an hour, cultivating my flowers as if they depended upon me for life itself. Boys of my own age did not hesitate to laugh at me, even to sneer, for being so un-masculine, though that is not the word they used. When I took bouquets from my little garden to sick folks, I got some rare thank-yous that are still alive after more than a half century. When I took a miscellaneous bunch of blooms to school, I recall that the teacher always put them into a jar or something that would hold water and placed them on her desk. Maybe folks were afraid of being caught loving flowers and really would have liked to be as crazy as I. But it was not often enough that any grown person encouraged me in my crazy love. And when I took long walks in the woods alone, they knew that something inside my brain had slipped. It was torture then; it is almost funny now.

Wherever I go in my summer va-

Giraffe Piano Is Displayed By State Museum

Among the oddities and artifacts of history which visitors may see at the Kentucky Historical Society Museum in the Old State House at Frankfort, sits an unusual musical instrument known as the Giraffe Piano.

This piano, which belonged to the John Hunt Morgan family, was for many years thought to be a harpsichord, a popular instrument of the 18th century, and forerunner of the piano. Although the construction of the harpsichord is similar to that of the piano, the sound is made by quills, which pluck the strings as the keys are struck. The piano's strings are set into vibration by small paddles.

The Giraffe Piano was so named because the long, curved post of the harp resembled the neck of a giraffe. The exposed harp, however, caused many laymen to think the instrument a Harpsichord.

Made by the Ridgeways of Baltimore, the Historical Society's piano is said to have been brought to Kentucky by John H. Morgan's father around 1830. It was left to Miss Henrietta Morgan (Mrs. Basil Dukes), who willed it to the Albert Sidney Chapter, from whom it was later purchased by the Kentucky Historical Society.

The Giraffe Piano was displayed in the Kentucky Building at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893.

It is likely that most people who read this column will doubt whether any such benighted neighborhood existed, but maybe those same readers were born after the days when it was thought a weakness to love natural beauty. It is also to be hoped that they lived in areas where all sorts of folks regarded their sunsets and seasonal changes as part of a wonderful system of orderliness and beauty. How fortunate! How could those people of long ago have read their books of Psalms and not felt the dignity and wonder of the starry skies and the massive hills?

Annual Golf Tourney Stated At Paintsville; Miss Johnson To Play

The Sixth Eastern Kentucky Ladies' Golf Association tournament will be held August 14-15 at the Paintsville Country Club course. The tournament will be a two-day play event, with prizes for low gross and low net in each flight. Some 50 to 60 lady golfers are expected to enter this popular tournament, the entry deadline being August 10.

Last year's winner, Miss Elsie Johnson of the Elkhorn Country Club, of Jenkins, will be on hand to defend her title though she is expected to have some tough competition. The tournament, organized in 1954, has been won three times by Miss Johnson and twice by Mrs. Pauline Turner, of Paintsville.

Beware of Stings

Insect stings have been known to cause severe allergic reactions which resulted in death, warns the Kentucky Department of Health. Bee, wasp and hornet stings ordinarily are painful but not dangerous. But the person who receives several stings or suffers severe swelling should call a physician, advises the agency. Otherwise, a baking soda and water paste is sufficient to soothe the sting.

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

Coaching clinics and all-star games in Lexington, and Williamson, West Virginia, this week-end will afford various Kentucky and West Virginia mentors to see their former high school football and basketball players in action.

The University of Kentucky's annual coaching clinic begins Thursday morning and ends Saturday night with the annual East-West All-Star football and basketball games, which are sponsored by the Kentucky High School Coaches Association.

Heading the list at the Kentucky clinic will be Frank Broyles, head football coach at the University of Arkansas and the University of Kentucky grid staff, along with high school coaches Jim Pickens, Danville, and John Hackett, Fort Knox, respective coaches of the East and West grid teams.

Handling the basketball part of the clinic will be: Ben Carnevale, U.S. Naval Academy; Harry Lancaster, U. of K. assistant, and high school coaches, Tom Ellis, Covington Holmes and Paul Coop, Campbellsville.

Representing the Eastern Kentucky area on the football squad is Nicky Dann, Jenkins end; Tommy Brush, Jenkins tackle; and Astor Sizemore, Hazard halfback. On the East basketball team is Bob Rice, Sandy Hook; Bert Greene, Olive Hill; and Ken Cobb, Hazard.

The responsibilities of the Kentucky Department of Revenue include collection of state taxes, supervision of state tax collection by other agencies and by counties, general supervision of county finances, and equalization of property assessments and assisting counties in making such assessments.

Sergeant Barnett J. Longtin, Madisonville, of the Kentucky State Police department, has won a $795 grant-in-aid at the Northwestern University Traffic institute in Evanston, Illinois.
