This Town— That World

They shoot a rocket at the moon and, look! Khrushchev lands in Washington.

WE ASK EQUAL CONSIDERATION

And already the United States of America has spent more money protecting our Russian visitor than all three reservoirs in the headwaters of the Big Sandy would cost, and these would protect thousands of people, the onliest of whom is worth several thousand Khrushchevs, according to my system of values.

AT ONE SWIPE

The only time we do not swipe anything from another source for this column is when we can't find it. So now we blithely raid the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club's weekly bulletin, edited this week by Gene Matthis. We liked this item, in particular:

"An oldtimer is one who remembers when it cost more to operate a car than to park it."

Still quoting from the Bulletin, we would not dare hint at such a thing ourselves:

"When it comes to spreading gossip, seems like the female of the species is much faster than the male."

6 CONVICTED, 2 ACQUITTED

In Circuit Court Here; Slush, Cooley Sentenced On Desertion Charges

Six convictions and two acquittals was the story of decisive action in circuit court within the week.

Steve Slush was given a five-year pen term last Thursday afternoon by Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill, after he had entered a plea of guilty to a child desertion charge and Travis Cooley was sentenced to one year in the state reformatory for deserting a pregnant wife. Ronald Ray Burchett pleaded guilty to a charge of obstructing justice and was fined $20 and costs. William Edward Crace went to trial with the same charge and emerged with a $100 fine and a 10-day jail term.

Isaac Keathley and James Salisbury drew pen terms of three years and a day each, Wednesday, when convicted of chicken theft. They allegedly stole the chickens of a widow, Myrtle Martin, of Branham's Creek. Lee Hall, who was indicted with them, was not given trial, since he is a hospital patient.

Not guilty verdicts were made by juries in the trial of John L. Hall on a charge of selling mortgaged property and of John Reynolds who was charged with breach of the peace. Trial of Melvyn Click for selling liquor resulted in a "hung" jury.

Bonds of two were forfeited when they failed to appear for trial. One of the forfeited bonds was for $500 for Estill Jarvis, accused of child desertion; the other, $1,000 for Lonnie Smith, who is charged with grand larceny.

STUMBO GETS DEWEY LAKE DOCK LEASE

Commissioner Jackson Announces Lease Signed For Period of 12 Years

Conservation Commissioner Laban Jackson this week confirmed the report heard locally for several days that the state has leased its boat dock in the Jenny Wiley State Park, Dewey Lake, to Wayne Stumbo, present manager of the park.

The lease is for a 12-year term and will become effective October 1, Mr. Jackson said.

Another boat dock in the park area was put into operation this summer by Hence Terry at the German Creek bridge.

Terms of the Stumbo lease provide that the state will receive 12 per cent of the gross income of the boat dock concessions. This arrangement, Jackson explained, is the same as that prevailing for docks leased to private individuals on Kentucky Lake.

The contract provides, he said, that the dock will be operated according to state standards established by the Commissioner of Conservation and the Director of Parks. To settle possible points of dispute, an arbitration committee of three will be composed of a representative of the state, the dock operator and a third person named by these two.

It is not known if a successor to Mr. Stumbo as manager of the Jenny Wiley State Park will be named.

Commissioner Jackson commented that private operation of docks is more satisfactory than under state management and that the Lake Cumberland State Park boat dock is being leased in similar fashion to the Dewey Lake lease.

Running a boat dock by "remote control," as Jackson put it, isn't satisfactory. "As you know," he said, "I have had some unhappy experiences with Dewey Lake."

The state sold at auction Monday a large part of its boats, motors and other equipment at the dock.

LIFE IN PEN GIVEN SLAYER

Cantrell Voted Guilty In Slaying of His Wife; Auxier Trial Postponed

A jury of 10 men and two women from Lawrence county decided Tuesday in the Johnson circuit court that former Constable Henry Cantrell, 51, murdered his wife, and fixed his penalty at life imprisonment.

As the jury verdict was announced after little more than an hour's deliberation the Royal Theatre, which serves Johnson county as a temporary courtroom while its courthouse is under construction was packed by an estimated 1,000 persons.

Circuit Judge W. D. Sparks pronounced sentence on Cantrell today (Thursday).

Later, the trial of Hereford (Dick) Auxier, of the East Point vicinity, charged with the rape of his daughter, was continued till Jan. 24. The continuance was asked by the Commonwealth after new evidence in the case had been acquired and with additional time needed to prepare for trial.

It was announced this week that (See Story No. 10, Page 6)

Deputies Nab Three In Liquor Raid Here Wednesday Afternoon

A liquor raid staged here Wednesday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Joe Wheeler Lewis, Harold Johnson and James Hall resulted in three arrests and the confiscation of 12 half-pints of whiskey, gin and vodka and 45 cans of beer.

Arrested and placed under bond were Estill Joseph, German Salisbury and his wife, Allie Joseph Salisbury.

The officers said they caught the three hurriedly loading the liquor from a trailer into another vehicle after they had seen one or more of the officers in the vicinity.

HOWELL CALLS PARTY RALLY

Democratic Meet Here To Follow State Opening; Wilson Wyatt May Speak

The Democratic party has issued a call through Jerry Ponce Howell, Floyd county chairman, to an organizational meeting and rally at the courthouse here, Thursday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m., according to Hollie Conley, Combs-Wyatt campaign manager. This will follow the opening of the state-wide campaign at Bardstown, Saturday.

Democratic headquarters have been moved from the Moore building to the Youth Center in the Meade-Allyn building on Lake Drive, it was noted by Conley. The change from the headquarters used in the primary was made necessary by the leasing of the Moore building to a new tenant.

The meeting scheduled here may be attended by Wilson Wyatt, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, it was said. However, this remains to be confirmed.

The state opening, slated for 2 p.m., at Bardstown, will hear Bert T. Combs, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, in a 20-minute speech which will be carried by a state-wide radio network.

It was pointed out by Conley that football fans will have ample time to attend the Bardstown opening and afterward see the Kentucky Wildcat-Georgia Tech game at Lexington.

Ed Easterly, chief of the news bureau for the state campaign, notes in a release this week that photographers will be available to shoot pictures of each county delegation.

FEWER DRINK ALCOHOL HERE

Alcoholics Number 1,290 In Floyd County; Lower Rate Here Than In Nation

(Special to The Times)
New York, Sept. 10—There are fewer problem drinkers in Floyd county, relatively, than in most parts of the United States. The local alcoholism rate is below average.

Such are the conclusions drawn from government health figures and from research reports on the subject.

The present nationwide concern over the situation follows disclosure by the National Council of Alcoholism that there are 5,000,000 men and women in the United States who are alcoholics.

These are sick people for whom drinking has become such a problem that it calls for medical attention. (See Story No. 12, Page 6)

PIKE GROUP TOURS PARK

Hayes Metal Is Host To Business Leaders; Outdoor Meeting Held

The board of directors of the Pike County Chamber of Commerce with representatives of civic groups from Prestonsburg, Paintsville, West Liberty and Salyersville toured Jenny Wiley State Park Tuesday afternoon to see for themselves what the place needs in the way of development.

Members of the group were in agreement that the scenery at Dewey Lake equals any other recreational area in the state. They were agreed, too, that the park needs housing, recreational facilities and access roads.

Typical of the comment was that of J. T. Parker, Pikeville insurance executive, who said he had spent vacations on the TVA lakes but Dewey equals any of them in scenery. He added that the park needs additional recreational facilities and access roads from Pikeville and Martin county.

CITY COUNCIL RACES SLATED

Prestonsburg and Allen Provide Opposing Slates To Enliven Nov. Election

Prestonsburg and Allen already this week had enough City Council candidates entered to provide lively November elections in the two towns, and Martin was expected to come up with competitive tickets before the Friday night filing deadline.

One slate of candidates has filed for the same offices at Wheelwright, but it is not known if opposition will develop there. Prestonsburg's City Council candidates will be elected by the city-at-large this fall for the first time. A recent ordinance removed the last boundary lines existing since the days of ward candidates when West Prestonsburg's vote was added to the city-at-large system.

The first Prestonsburg City Council ticket to enter the race officially filed Tuesday under the People's Party. The Progressive Ticket followed suit today (Thursday). The opposing tickets:

People's Party—Joe W. Jarrell, Watt Hale, Orville Cooley, Brad Boyd, Theodore (Jody) Fannin, Bill May, Virgil (Cowboy) Griffith, Tom O. McGuire.

Progressive Ticket—Curtis W. May, J. Y. (Sonny) Goble, Mack Harmon, J. Shannon Greer, O. R. (Pete) Howard, T. R. (Tony) Ranier, Donald Bah, Goble Branham.

Jarrell, Hale, Curtis May, Goble, Harmon and Greer are members of the present Council. (See Story No. 9, Page 6)

SILICA FIRM IS ORGANIZED

Plant Construction Is Planned By Group To Exploit Deposits

A newly-organized firm, the Silica Corporation of America, will develop the vast silica sand deposits of Pine Mountain along the Kentucky-Virginia border near Elkhorn City, it was announced last week. The company will maintain offices in Lexington.

The Silica deposits, discovered several months ago, meets the most exacting specifications of glass, metallurgical, optical and missile industries, according to the incorporators. The plant will be located at Elkhorn City on the C.C.&O. railway and it is expected to be in operation by Oct. 1. It will process, when in full operation, 1,500,000 tons of silica.

Arthur Yarbrough, graduate engineer of the Colorado School of Mines, and Jack Hamilton, of Elkhorn City, will head the plant operations. James E. Vance, Lexington, and George Norvell, Point Pleasant, W.Va., will conduct promotion.

The deposits of silica, one of the greatest in America, was brought to the attention of industrialists by Vance, Norvell, and Joe Weddington, Prestonsburg insurance man. It is due to their efforts that the new firm was organized to exploit the sands. (See Story No. 8, Page 6)

REVIVAL SERVICES TO BEGIN, SEPT. 27

Eight days of revival services are planned to begin Sunday, September 27, at the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist church. These special services will be led by Evangelist John Tierney, of Taylors, South Carolina.

Mr. Tierney was born in Ayr, Scotland, and prior to entering the field of evangelism, was a businessman, school administrator and pastor. As an evangelist he has preached in more than 250 churches in 28 states and has led in city-wide and associational-wide campaigns. He comes to the local church as a man recognized for his ability to understand the problems of the people in his congregations and to find an answer for them in the Word of God. Special music and congregational singing will be under the direction of Franklin Moore, church music director.

The services will begin at the 11 o'clock worship hour on Sunday, September 27, and continue through the Sunday night service on October 4. The week-night services will be held Monday through Saturday at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr., pastor of the church, extends a cordial invitation to everyone in the community to attend the revival.

BRADLEY DIES IN ACCIDENT

Mayo Escapes Injury When Automobile Leaves Highway Near Wayland

Otto Bradley, 20 years old, Portland, Tenn., service station operator, died in the wreckage of his auto last Thursday afternoon, south of Wayland.

The auto left Ky. 7 which had been rendered slippery by a rainstorm and plunged into Right Beaver Creek. Bradley was pinned beneath the car, and the belief was expressed that he may have drowned, since the marks of physical injury were minor. An inquest was held by Coroner James J. Carter, but an autopsy was not performed to determine the exact cause of death.

Parker Mayo, of Martin, who was in the auto with Bradley, escaped uninjured.

The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Bradley, of Estill. His parents and the following brothers and sisters survive: James Edsel, James Edward, Glenn Harold, Phillip Ray and Norman Bradley, Mrs. Louise Tittlow, Misses Geneva, Pearl Ann and Linda Sue Bradley, all of Estill.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the Martin Branch Free Will Baptist Church, the Revs. Green Boyd and Johnny Ramey officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Floyd Man's Body To Be Buried In Oregon, Scene of His Years Of Pioneering, Gold-Prospecting

Eighty-four-year-old John Newman, who died Wednesday night at his home at Hi Hat, will be taken across the continent to Route River, Oregon, for burial.

He will be laid to rest there because his wife, who died in 1947 is buried there, and because most of his adult years were spent in that part of the country.

Mr. Newman left this county in 1909, going to Idaho as a homesteader and farming there, till 1914 when he went farther on to Oregon to prospect for gold and farm.

Today several gold and other mineral claims are recorded in his name in western states, and some of these, long considered worthless, are only now being profitably developed. At the time he moved to Idaho, that state had been admitted to the Union only 14 years, and his neighbors were 50 miles away.

He and his wife, the former America Hall, returned to this county in 1939, stayed six years, then returned to Oregon in 1945. Two years later, she died. Then he returned to Hi Hat in 1951 to live with and take care of an older sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Tackett, who is now 87. His last trip west to visit a daughter and five sons who reside there was two years ago.

Mr. Newman died after a few days' illness of a virus infection. He was a son of Hogan and Judy Turner Newman. Surviving children are Richard (Ode) Newman, of Hi Hat, Con Newman, Atwater, Ore., Sam Newman, Grant's Pass, Ore., Diamond and Johnny Newman, Lakeview, Ore., Ralph Newman, Medford, Ore., and Mrs. Grace (See Story No. 11, Page 6)

SEVENTH FLOYD FAIR SLATED AT GYMNASIUM

Floyd county's seventh post-war Agricultural, Educational and Industrial Fair will be held at the Prestonsburg high school gymnasium, Sept. 30 through Oct. 3, it was noted this week by Kermit Howard, chairman of the fair board. This will be the second year the fair has been held at the new location.

Preparations for the fair have been under way for weeks, and the exhibits in every category are expected to surpass last year's in number and quality, it was said by Robert M. Jones, county agent. Approximately 1,000 fair booklets, giving adequate information for exhibitors, will be distributed in a few days.

Rising interest in exhibits of agricultural products and livestock in this county was noted this week when James Allen, of Langley, entered sheep in the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville. Allen will also exhibit the pen at the Floyd county fair. His state fair entry was the first one from this county.

The educational exhibits at the fair, one of the largest in number at the exhibition, promises to be better than last year, it was said by Wanda Greene, school exhibits chairman.

"We feel that last year's entries were the best yet and we are hopeful that we can have the participation of all schools this year," she said.

SHOT GRAZES MAN'S HEAD

Exactly half the indictments reported charged defendants with child desertion. Defendants in these cases are Cleveland Cecil, Jr., Harrison B. Johnson, Lewis Dale, Hershel Lester, Raymond (Buddy) Phillips, Oscar Ratliff, D. M. Parsons, Jr., Carl Seutchfield, Raymond Caudill.

The grand jury was told Parsons drove away, then passed Call again.

Other indictments included these: I. N. Hall, Jr., forgery; Bill Cooley, reckless use of a deadly weapon; Columbus Compton, disturbing church.

Jack Branham, Prestonsburg insurance man, is foreman of the grand jury.

SCOUT DRIVE PLANS MADE

Frank Harmon, Heads Scout District Effort; Kick-off Breakfast Set

The advanced planning stage of the scheduled Boy Scout fund drive of the Jenny Wiley district was reached Tuesday evening when leaders in a meeting at the First Methodist church here, named a community solicitation chairman and discussed policy.

The meeting here, presided over by Frank Harmon, district campaign chairman, set the date for a kick-off breakfast on Oct. 21. Chalmers Frazier was named to arrange the breakfast.

Fifteen communities were designated in the district in which to conduct the drive for funds. The district is composed of the counties of Floyd, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin.

Harmon, in commenting on the need for Scouting funds, said: "I consider Scouting one of the most worthwhile movements. Every one that has a boy should be interested in Scouting. Money given to the Boy Scouts is money invested in our youth."

There is no actual goal set up by the Scout leaders but it was indicated that if the Jenny Wiley district is to carry its part of the burden in the Lonesome Pine Council at least $9,000 should be collected. This, it was pointed out, is less than $10 per Scout yearly.

Heading all phases of the drive under Harmon are: H. O. Zimmerman, special gifts; Rev. Har-

HALL CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HIS SON

Melvin Man Is Jailed In Death of Son; Tussle Over Gun Preceded Shots

Lewis Hall, 44-year-old Melvin man, was jailed here Tuesday night and booked on a charge of murder after his son, Garland Hall, 21, had died of two revolver bullet wounds in his body.

The younger Hall died 10 minutes after he was shot and as he was being taken to the McDowell Memorial hospital. He was shot in the upper chest and in the lower left side of his abdomen.

His nine-year-old brother, Raymond Lee, was hit in the leg by a stray bullet but the boy's injury was described as a flesh wound.

The father told authorities he shot his son in self-defense. Two eyewitnesses were questioned by Sheriff Hershel Warrens, State Detective Chester D. Potter and County Attorney Robert S. Wellman. They said Hall and his son had been drinking and that as an aftermath of an argument the two tussled for possession of a shotgun. The gun was discharged during the struggle without injury to either man, and Garland Hall wound up in possession of it. This was followed by the firing of the revolver shots by the father. Time of the shooting was given as 8:25 p.m.

The younger man lived in a trailer near his father's home. An inquest was held Tuesday night by Coroner James J. Carter.

Sheriff Warrens said his deputies found three and a half gallons of moonshine whiskey in the Lewis home, and Hall also was booked here on a liquor possession charge. He is slated for arraignment on this charge before the U. S. Commissioner at Pikeville.

RAISE FUNDS FOR RETARDED

Auction, Roadblocks, Other Efforts Contribute To Money Raising Drive

The current fund-raising drive of the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children promises to be the most successful yet staged.

This success was reflected in several ways:

1. The "kickoff" dinner at $5 per plate was attended here Monday evening by 200 persons.

2. The radio auction sponsored by Radio Station WPRT has resulted in the sale already of almost all the great number of items contributed by individuals and firms.

3. "Roadblocks" at which home economics and senior high school pupils solicited funds last Saturday had accumulated more than $600, with three high schools yet to report. The high school group, citing the greatest total will run a television set, Ray Howard, of a man of this phase of the drive said.

4. Parking meter collections in Prestonsburg Saturday will go to the fund. Girl Scouts will handle the meter collections.

Speakers at the "kickoff" dinner held at the high school cafeteria here Monday were Leroy Stephens, Louisville, past president of the Kentucky Association for Retarded Children and present president of the Jefferson County Council, and Bert T. Combs, of Prestonsburg, past president of the Floyd Council for the Retarded. Minor Pace, of Wheelwright, Floyd Council president, presided. All food for the dinner was contributed, leaving the full proceeds for the fund.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Headed By Fitzpatrick; Other Chairmen Named

The Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council fund drive chairman for five Floyd county communities have been named. They are:

Homer Wright, Prestonsburg; Walter Crace, David; Leon Porter, Wheelwright; John P. Sammons, Martin; and William Martin, Drift.

The Council's 1959 fund drive began Tuesday, and will end Sept. 30. The goal in the fund raising campaign is $12,700. The funds are needed for the continuation and expansion of Girl Scout activities for girls from 7 to 17 years old in the Council's area.

General chairman of the fund drive is H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., of Prestonsburg.

Is "How" More Important
Than "What" in Teaching?

The recent newspaper story telling of efforts being made to procure proper certification for a veteran teacher, so that he might teach in a Kentucky high school where his services are badly needed, points up some of the follies of present educational trends.

This teacher had been for half a lifetime a member of the faculty of an eastern school of high scholastic standing. There his worth as a teacher was recognized, even as the academic standing of the school in which he taught was honored.

But, retired and back home in Kentucky, he could not teach in a Kentucky high school without "special dispensation" from the Department of Education—not because he didn't know enough to teach any high school pupil, not because he had not all the qualifications of learning and experience, but because he had never earned the credits in an education course that Kentucky's school system requires.

This is the system which would exclude Einstein, if he were living, from hallowed high school halls as a mathematics teacher, unless Frankfort would in its wisdom decide that perhaps, after all, Einstein might be able to teach Kentucky youngsters something about the science of figures without a degree in the field of education.

This is the system, too, which, even if Albert Einstein were granted the right to teach in a high school, would term him an "emergency teacher."

Perhaps it should be added that men of genius may teach in the greatest universities of the world with full accreditation and honor, and no questions asked, but to meet high school standards they must have enough courses in Education to escape the onus of becoming classified as an "emergency" teacher.

It is encouraging to note that the state of Indiana, for one, is getting away from this system in which practice is subordinated to theory, and is demanding that its teachers know more about things to teach than about how to teach.

The Times is aware of the fact that Kentucky is moving ahead, even if over a tortuous path, to the day when more college-trained women and men will head the classrooms of the state. It knows, too, that definite requirements must be established to encourage, or perhaps force, teachers to get the additional college training they should have.

There is no pat answer to the move for better education, but we are convinced that mere training in the field of education, with the acquiring of knowledge of things to teach neglected while the "how" of teaching is stressed, is not the answer.

Besides, we grow more peeved by the day at this term, "emergency teacher," that is applied to every individual who does not have a college degree, plus enough earned credits in Education or teaching methods. Some of the finest teachers in this or any other state are those who know the textbooks they teach and who take time to know the youngsters they teach but who have been caught short on the number of "education" hours needed to escape the opprobrium, "emergency teacher."

The state of Ohio uses the term, "cadet teacher," for the individual who is continuing study to meet full requirements. Somehow, that sounds better to us than "emergency." This latter term connotes too strongly the idea that the teacher is thrown into the breach, not because she is needed or wanted or is useful but merely to fill the gap until a stronger replacement can be rushed into service.

May's Contribution To War Effort
Lauded By Congressmen; Leadership
Recalled By Rep. McCormick, Others

Evidence of the warm regard held for former Congressman A. J. May by his friends in the House of Representatives is found in the many expressions of respect for the late Prestonsburg attorney and acknowledgment of his contribution to the war effort as recorded in the Congressional Record within the past week.

The remarks of Congressman Frank Chief, of Kentucky, were typical:

"Andrew J. May led nearly every fight for every major piece of legislation that gave our great country her strength, manpower, and her vast striking power during the entire World War II period. Specifically, he piloted the draft bill and the GI bill of rights through the House of Representatives."

Congressman John Watts: "Because of his humanitarian traits, his love for his neighbor and his services, Jack May became an institution throughout the whole of Eastern Kentucky. Throughout his lifetime, for all regardless of stature, there was time to hear the problems, and for all, his was the ready hand to lend help, succor, and assistance. For this unending special service to them, the compensation when measured by material wealth was inconsequential. But in its stead there flowed in an endless stream, an intangible wealth of far greater significance—a deep-rooted love and affection on the part of all who knew him. A love grounded in confidence. A confidence that was never disturbed—an allegiance that never faltered. No greater success can be achieved by anyone." Congressman John McCormack, of Massachusetts: "May was chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs at a very important period in our nation's history. Many important bills prior to World War II came out of his committee of vital concern to our country and to the defense of our country. . . Mr. May was a great chairman. The country could always depend on him and the leadership of the House was always aware of the fact that Jack May was fighting for the best interests of our country."

Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers, of Massachusetts: "The country in World War II was in great danger and May fought constantly, day after day and month after month to see that our defenses were strong. My deepest sympathy goes to his family and I know they are very proud of his contribution to his country."

Congressman Carl D. Perkins: "As chairman of the House Military Affairs committee May was responsible for a substantial portion of the policies which expanded our Army to an effective fighting unit in World War II. The country should be grateful that a man of Jack May's ability and effectiveness was found in that important chairmanship. . . His neighbors and the nation have suffered a loss with the passing of Andrew Jackson May."

Congressman Brent Spence, of Kentucky: "On the floor he fought for the passage of many bills against great odds. For example, extension of the Selective Service Act just prior to Pearl Harbor which passed the House by one vote, 203 to 202. . . Jack May was a great Congressman and a great American."

The directors of the Pike County Chamber held their first outdoor meeting late in the afternoon at Arrowhead Point with several of the group pointing out that if adequate facilities were available many Eastern Kentucky groups would do the same.

Host to the delegations that toured Dewey was the Hayes Metal Products Company, of Hi Hat. Arlie Hayes, company president, showed a cabin cruiser his firm had designed for use on the state's waterways. The tour was made on "The Andante," cabin cruiser of Judge Ray Holbrook, of Magoffin county.

Forrest Beeler, president of the Pike organization, said that development of the Eastern Kentucky region is a common problem and that although we need to look to Frankfort and Washington for aid on many things, in the main we must look to ourselves. He thinks properly developed tourism will solve many of our major ills.

H. H. Kincaid, district manager of the Kentucky Power Company, who is head of the flood control committee of the Pike Chamber, reported at the directors' meeting on progress being made on the prime project of the area to promote Fishtrap and Pound reservoirs.

"We've got to keep up the same type of campaign we have been waging with our friends in Floyd, Johnson and surrounding counties and with the continued assistance of the Virginians," he concluded.

The gradual increase of tourists to Eastern Kentucky was noted at the directors' session. A member commented that one Pikeville store sold more tourist souvenirs last year than ever before.

Clarence Black, West Liberty auto dealer and representative of the Kiwanians there, noted that increased public interest would further development of Eastern Kentucky. "We need more promotion from the home folks," he added.

Pete Janis, Pikeville businessman, pointed out the need of access roads to the lake. He urged completion of Kentucky 304 to Dewey Lake from its intersection with Kentucky 119 on Johns Creek. Needed, too, Janis said, are other access roads. West Virginians would avail themselves more fully of the lake if access was easier, he said.

The Pike Chamber directors named H. H. Kincaid as vice-president at its first outdoor meet and elected John Ward, Pikeville newspaperman, to the board.

David Hereford, president of the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce, and Roy Ramey, vice-president, were present on the tour. Representing the Johnson county Chamber of Commerce's tourist committee was Escrom Chandler, of Paintsville.

WHEELWRIGHT

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Wheelwright Woman's Club was held at the clubroom, Sept. 14. Mrs. R. L. Hall, president, conducted the business session. Mrs. Hall expressed a desire to have all charter members still in the community back in the club. One of the topics discussed at this meeting was the Wheelwright Youth Center. The members plan putting their wholehearted support behind it and helping in any way they can. Mrs. George F. Leatherman, treasurer, gave a report of the club's finances.

Mrs. Charles Hopkins, chairman of the Legislation Department, was in charge of the program. She presented Mrs. Arthur Bradbury, governor of the Seventh district, who gave an interesting talk on federation. Mrs. Bradbury stressed the fact that federation is a power in molding public opinion to help ourselves live more vital and useful lives. She brought with her a recording of the convention at which Miss Chloe Gifford accepted the presidency of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs.

On the day following the meeting, Mrs. Bradbury, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Souleyrette, went to Louisville to attend the fall board meeting.

Club members present were: Mesdames Cliff Aders, Arthur Bradbury, Rondall Childers, Waldo Cummings, Charles E. Wilson, H. M. Wiley, Kenneth Moore, J. H. Cantrell, C. R. Tankersley, Cora S. McHone, H. Leatherman, Herbert Gillis, Roy Souleyrette, Charles Hopkins, Elmer Nemet, Rodney McKinney, L. C. Brown and Miss Frances Petry.

Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Herbert Gillis, G. W. Lockin and Harrison Sparks.

The next meeting will be on October 12 in the clubroom. The program will be sponsored by the Youth Conservation Department, with Mrs. John Rupe as program chairman.

Rev. Rupe Conducts
Evangelistic Services
At Presbyterian Church

Rev. Orus Rupe, Ezel, Ky., will be the preacher for a series of Evangelistic services at the First Presbyterian church, Prestonsburg, Sept. 17 through Sept. 26.

He was born in Menifee county and grew up there, attending the Ezel schools. Rev. Rupe graduated from Sterling College in Sterling, Kansas, Pittsburgh-Zenia Presbyterian Seminary, where he also received a Master of Theology degree. During his ministry he has served churches in Arnett, Kansas, Rushville, Indiana and East Palestine, Ohio. At the present time he is serving at the Ezel United Presbyterian church in the area where he grew up.

In the course of the week the Evangelist will be using "chalk talks." This is a form of preaching where he draws with chalk as he preaches. This helps to present clearly the message he is bringing. Beauty is added by the use of colored lights shining upon the drawing.

The public is invited to attend these services. There will be a nursery for babies and small children during the services.

Mrs. Carl Woods Heads
Rowan Democratic Women

Mrs. Carl Woods, formerly of Prestonsburg, was recently elected president of the Rowan County Democratic Woman's Club. Mrs. Woods, who was an active participant in the Liberty Belles for Combs and Wyatt, presided last Friday night at a pot-luck supper for Rowan county Democratic women and their husbands in the cafeteria of the Rowan county high school, where she is a member of the faculty.

This meeting, held to promote harmony within the Democratic party for the coming general election, was attended by approximately 100 leading Democratic women and their husbands from Morehead and various sections of Rowan county.

NEW
MEMBERS

OF WOODMEN OF THE WORLD LIFE INSURANCE SOCIETY

Now added to the growing list of its fraternal services is ASSISTANCE TO MEMBERS AFFLICTED WITH LUNG CANCER — UP TO $1,000

Under the program, up to $1,000 may be paid on behalf of any beneficiary member of one year or longer who develops lung cancer. Payments under this new program will be made with the following limitations: Hospitalization (not to exceed $8.00 a day), $250; Operating Room, $75; Anesthesia, $50; X-ray and Bronchoscopy, $100; Drugs, $75; Surgeon, $350; Private Nurses (registered only), $100; Maximum total each patient, $1,000.

This new assistance program is not part of the insurance certificate. Rather, it is another free service fraternally provided to our members. The program for providing relief to members who become victims of flood, tornado and other disasters has now become liberalized. Such members now may receive as much as a full year of payments for Woodmen of the World-held life protection with a $100 limitation. Other benefits to members include unlimited free treatment for pulmonary tuberculosis — after one year's membership — which the Society has provided since 1923.

Take a Look Now...

Look at the date opposite your name on on this copy of your paper. It indicates when your subscription to The FLOYD COUNTY TIMES expired or will expire.

For example: If the date reads "May 60," that means that your subscription will expire May 31, 1960. In all cases the expiration date is the last day of the month given.

THIS IS IMPORTANT

It is important that prompt notice be taken of subscribers' expiration dates for two reasons: (1) To check for a possible error in the date; (2) To make certain the expired subscription will not be cancelled.

Cost of production — wages, high newsprint costs and other factors — makes it necessary that all subscriptions be paid in advance. It is not of our choosing, the present situation, but the cost of producing a newspaper under present conditions is such that we will not be able any longer to "carry" subscribers, however well we know them or however much we would like to do so.

Please remember this. Your credit is good, but our credit may become bad if we do not collect for subscriptions.

For this reason alone on and after November 1, 1959, all subscriptions in arrears will be dropped from our mailing lists.

Subscription rates: In Kentucky, $3 a year; Outside Kentucky, $3.50.

On and after Jan. 1, 1960, the rate for subscribers outside Kentucky will be $4 a year.

members of the Auxier family will be given lie detector tests at Frankfort. The accused man has denied guilt, claiming he "has been framed." His son-in-law was recently jailed at Paintsville as a parole violator. Auxier claims the accusation against him rose after he had refused to sign a note for the son-in-law.

Trial of Cantrell began, Tuesday of last week, and more time was required to empanel a jury than to hear the evidence. The panel from Lawrence county was formed after five days' work.

"I absolutely did not kill her," Cantrell testified.

In addition to denying he killed his wife, Cantrell testified:

"I don't even know she's dead. If she is, I have a pretty good idea who killed her."

He would not name the person he said he suspected, however, saying: "I don't have enough proof."

The body of Mrs. Cantrell was found buried in a cedar chest in an 8-foot hole near the Cantrell home at Fuget, July 1.

Cantrell was arrested in Florida the next day.

The state introduced as evidence a letter written by Cantrell's sister-in-law and addressed to him at Miami shortly before his arrest. The letter said:

"Sit tight. We heard the state police are going to dig for 'you know who.'"

CORRECTION

After an absence of 17 years, Harry Rudolph, now a resident of New Jersey, visited Prestonsburg friends this week. He ambled into this office as amiably as when he was 17 years spry and blandly inquired, "Where's Jake?"

After I got my bifocals adjusted and we had officially recognized each other, I sadly reported that Jake, our companion of better days, had long since gone to dog heaven with the help of a dirty dog-poisoner.

(I believe I have discussed this dog in earlier columns, but I can't resist recalling how he would scare me stiff when a stack of paper trimmings from our old-fashioned newspaper folder would suddenly begin shaking, then in a great upheaval erupt to unveil Jake, eyes blinking from a sound sleep. I also would remind those who never had the pleasure of his acquaintance that Jake was so named because he was subject to sudden attacks of the jerks, which gave somebody around the shop the idea that maybe he was suffering from the Jake-Leg.)

Well, I started this item off with the idea of saying that when a body meets an old friend after so many years there is a sort of tongue-tiedness that just keeps you from recalling and saying all the things that are just crying to be said. Still, Harry and I did a fairly decent job of briefing each other on matters, and wound up with fishing.

Which reminds me, my friend, maybe that six-pound bass I reported was nearer five pounds.

ical, psychiatric and social help. Few of them are in the skidrow stage. For the most part, they are married people living with their families. Their compulsion for alcohol is such, however, that it is gradually undermining their homes, lives and their jobs.

Among residents of Floyd county, it is indicated, there are 1,290 alcoholics, equal to 2,993 per 100,000 population. This takes into account all those who are classified as chronic, excessive drinkers.

The local rate is lower than the United States average of 4,360 per 100,000 and the 3,195 rate of the East-South-Central states.

The figures include problem drinkers as a whole and are not limited to the so-called "alcoholics with complications," defined as alcoholics who have "recognizable physical or mental symptoms due to excessive drinking." This group constitutes about one-fourth of the total.

The amount of alcoholism in any area, it has been found, is directly related to the number of deaths from cirrhosis of the liver. Such figures are issued annually by the Public Health Service.

Although there are 70,000,000 people in the United States who use alcoholic beverages, for the great bulk of them it doesn't go beyond the bounds of social drinking. For the others it is a disease that can ruin health and happiness if not recognized and treated early enough.

Latest figures on the use of distilled spirits, reported in the Liquor Handbook, show that Kentucky residents are consuming .89 gallons per year, on the average, as compared with 1.24 gallons per capita nationally.

ORDINANCE

In Re: Annexation into the City of Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky, of certain Territory lying on the eastern limits of said city.

The plaintiff, City of Prestonsburg, states that it is a duly incorporated city of the fourth class of the State of Kentucky; that on July 20, 1959, at a regular meeting of the City Council of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, said Council duly adopted and passed an ordinance, which was later published as provided by law, directing that the City of Prestonsburg annex as part of said City certain territory lying on the eastern limits of said City.

That by agreement of all the parties concerned, the description of said territory to be annexed under and by virtue of the above mentioned ordinance is amended, which description will be hereinafter set out; that said ordinance further directed the City Attorney to take necessary legal steps, including the filing of this suit, to annex said territory as part of the City of Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky.

Plaintiff states that the aforesaid ordinance was duly published and advertised in The Floyd County Times, a weekly newspaper published in the City of Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky, for three consecutive weeks commencing on July 23, 1959.

A description of the territory proposed to be annexed into the City of Prestonsburg is as follows:

(A) The property of E. B. May, Jr., and the E. B. May Estate, located on the northeastern side of the corporation limits as now situated, and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point which is the common corner of the Anna Laura May property, E. B. May Estate property, and the new U.S. Highway 23 right-of-way; thence in a northern direction with the right-of-way of the new U.S. Highway 23 to the point where it intersects the May Branch County Road; thence in a western direction to the intersection of May Branch Road and the Auxier Road; thence in a southern direction with the old County Road and a western property line of the E. B. May Estate property, to the new existing corporation line at the point where the old County Road intersects the Porter Cemetery Road.

(B) The property of the Harkins Heirs and Fred G. Francis, lying on the eastern corporation limits as now situated, and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a stake in the cemetery on the ridge where the present eastern boundary of the City of Prestonsburg is now established; thence in a straight line in a direct easterly course to a stake on the point at the common boundary line between the property of Walter S. Harkins, Jr., Heirs and Fred G. Francis; thence in a southerly course with this common property line to the center of Trimble Branch; thence with the center of Trimble Branch in a westerly direction to a point where the branch intersects the now eastern boundary line of the City of Prestonsburg, so as to include all of the property within the above described boundaries.

The aforesaid Ordinance of July 20, 1959, published in The Floyd County Times as aforesaid, is referred to and made a part hereof for all purposes.

WHEREFORE, the plaintiff, City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, prays that the Court enter a judgment annexing the above described territory into the City of Prestonsburg, and further directing that said territory shall thereafter be treated and considered for all purposes as a legal part of said incorporated city. It further prays for all other proper relief.

Alcoholic Tries To Keep Normal Drinking Status

By J. Collis-Ringo, Executive Director Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

Ann Landers' syndicated column has a national circulation in hundreds of daily newspapers. She deals in everyday human problems. An excerpt from her column of August 24 follows:

"Please tell 'Just John' to beg his wife to join A.A. before it's too late. Tell her she shouldn't worry about it not being 'dignified enough.' I never had as much dignity as I now have since I am a sober woman.

"My drinking cost me plenty. I lost a perfectly wonderful husband. My family looked on me with pity, then disgust. My teenage daughters were ashamed to have me meet their friends.

"Tell John he must give his wife extra love and understanding. He must explain to her that she has a disease. Alcoholism is a disease just like heart trouble or diabetes. She must want to get well. She may be defensive at first, but this is a symptom of alcoholism. Inwardly she hates herself and is filled with remorse and guilt.

"I had sunk as low as a woman could, but I came back through Alcoholics Anonymous. And so can your wife, John, if she wants to."

This letter deserves serious consideration. The typical alcoholic tries desperately to preserve his (or her) status as a normal drinker. Once past that indefinable line between controlled and compulsive drinking every close associate of an alcoholic realizes what has happened.

Close friends hesitate to discuss his habits with the problem drinker. His status is obvious to everybody but himself. He goes to unbelievable lengths to fool family, friends and business associates and succeeds in fooling nobody but himself.

If the public at large, and particularly the alcoholic, can understand that alcoholism is a treatable illness, that his social and business status will be enhanced, not damaged, by seeking help, many individuals could be saved years of frustration and suffering.

COAL TESTED FOR SURFACE

Coal Derivative Gets Tests Near Frankfort As Highway Pavement

Kentucky has become the first state to test a road-paving material derived from coal.

Gov. Albert B. Chandler last Wednesday dedicated a test plant built at Frankfort by the Curtiss-Wright Corp., under contract with the State Highway Department to produce the material.

The governor and officials of the firm, state and local governments then went to a road project near Frankfort and witnessed the laying of surface material containing the coal-based binder.

The governor sketched this outline of the developments that made it possible for Kentucky, third largest coal producing state, to take this step toward possibly finding another new use for bituminous coal.

April 7, Curtiss-Wright announced development of the coal-based road paving binder, utilizing bituminous coal. May 21, Highway Commissioner Ward J. Oates, officials of coal operators association and other state officials met with C-W officials.

June 24, state and Curtiss-Wright signed contract for joint program for the building of the pilot plant to produce the binder, lay eight to 12 sections of highway, conduct a one-year testing program of the material; Aug. 17, C-W completed design and construction of the test plant which can produce 3,000 gallons of the binder daily.

Sept. 9, the pilot plant was dedicated and the first strip of experimental highway paving officially laid down to begin the test program. The test strip is nearly a mile long.

D. V. Terrell, department research director and dean emeritus of the University of Kentucky College of Engineering, explained the testing project at the road site. It is near Woodlake on the Frankfort-Georgetown Road, U S 460. Terrell said the state would find out how the coal-based binder performs in actual service, comparing it with other materials. It is part of the $119,767 resurfacing contract awarded Robert L. Carter Co., Frankfort, for resurfacing 22.7 miles of U S 460 from near Frankfort through Scott county to the Bourbon county line.

Hayes Metal To Enter Products In West Virginia Mining Exhibit; Firm Features Small Houseboat

A. E. Hayes, president of the Hayes Metal Products, Corp., of Pikeville, announced Tuesday the Hayes firm will show several of its newly manufactured products at the first biennial West Virginia Mining and Industrial Show, Sept. 23-25, at Charleston, W. Va.

The firm will exhibit, among other items, one of its mantrip cars and an air-driven utility car. The mining and industrial show is sponsored by the Charleston Chamber of Commerce, which has had the show in the planning stages for a number of years.

The Hayes firm, well-known in this area as a manufacturer of truck bodies, recently launched an extensive research and development program to compensate for the decline of the small coal mine industry. Some of the products to be shown have resulted from this study.

Diversification has been so successful, Hayes announced, that only some 20 percent of its production is now in truck bodies, while the remainder is of mine machinery.

The Hayes plant now operates four installations. The firm's research and development center and main office is located at Justice Court in Pikeville. The main fabrication plant is located at Hi Hat, and the Hayes Richlands Metal Products plant is at Richlands, Virginia. The firm's machinery and

CATS LOSE TO HAZARD SATURDAY NIGHT, 21-0

Hazard, Whitesburg and Pikeville continue to share the Eastern Kentucky high school football limelight as all recorded victories over the past week-end.

Jim Caudill's Hazard Bulldogs posted a bigger and more experienced Prestonsburg eleven, 21-0. Pikeville edged Belfry, 12-6, of the Pike county championship, and Ed Moore's Whitesburg Yellowjackets rolled to their third successive win in dropping Benham, 31-12.

Hazard now leads the 10-team Mountain Conference with three consecutive league wins. Pikeville is in second place with a 2-0 mark, and Whitesburg and M. C. Napier each have won their lone league games. All are in Region 4, Class "AA" in the race for the state high school championship.

In other action, Paintsville entered the win column in stopping Jenkins, 31-6; Fleming-Neon lost its fourth successive game in bowling, 25-0, to Lynch, and Wheelwright and Elkhorn City battled to a 13-13 tie.

Wheelwright's Maroons took a 6-0 lead on the third play of the game when fullback Perry Taylor intercepted an Elkhorn City pass on his own 40 and sped 60 yards to pay dirt.

The Cougars tied the count at 6-6 before halftime when halfback Bob Elkins went in from the six. Elkins gave his mates a 13-6 command in the third period by going 35 yards for the six-pointer and Robert Ratliff plunged for the point after.

Wheelwright tied the game in the final three minutes on a 30-yard payoff gallop by halfback Bill Bryant and Taylor's extra point.

It took Hazard 14 plays and a 60-yard march to gain a 7-0 first-period lead over Prestonsburg. Halfback Johnny Davis' 35-yard pass to end Boyd Johnson was the big play in the drive. Davis went in from the two and Darwin Turpin added the point after.

Midway the second frame, Hazard blocked James Allen's attempted kick on the Prestonsburg 24-yard stripe, and halfback Bud Smyly tallied from the eight-yard line three plays later, with Turpin picking up the extra point.

Prestonsburg threatened twice during the game, reaching the 20-yard line twice, but could never muster enough drive to score. In a desperation move in the waning minutes of the game, quarterback Bobby Marshall attempted to pass from his own ten and halfback Darwin Turpin picked it off to give Hazard a 21-0 victory.

Charlie Deaton's Pikeville Panthers got a scare from Belfry, but managed to win, 12-6. Halfback Charles Mims posted both Pikeville touchdowns and alternated at the quarterback position with Richard Weems. Regular quarterback Roger Boyd is out with a broken collarbone and is not expected to return to action before mid-season.

Mims, a three-year veteran senior, now has scored five touchdowns.

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

FAST FIRST HALF

The first half of the Prestonsburg-Hazard high school football game last Friday night should have established a new mark for speed, not on the field but in the official's hand.

High school games are played in 12-minute quarters, with the clock in motion only when play is "in." Some 3,000 fans had only settled in their seats at 7:30 (C.S.T.) when the first quarter ended at exactly 7:38.5, only eight and a half minutes on the clock and a total of 17 plays by both teams.

Then at exactly 7:57 the first half came to an end. Thus the entire 24 minutes of football were played in 27 minutes, which is utterly impossible, since the clock is supposed to be stopped on incomplete passes, penalties, time-outs and dead balls.

The officials goofed or the official stopwatch went haywire, but the speedy contest had little if any bearing on the outcome of the game as a smaller Hazard eleven completely outclassed the Blackcats.

Wayne Dixon, former Prestonsburg high school center, and the last of a long line of football playing brothers, is one of the most promising sophomores on this season's U. K. eleven. The 6-foot, 220-pound youngster has been shifted to defensive tackle this season. He is enrolled in the College of Education.

The second weekly Blackcat Player-of-the-Week award was presented to Larry Garrett, 6-foot senior center, for his play in Prestonsburg's loss to Hazard.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Horn and Donald Horn, local anglers, made the biggest catch of the fall season at Dewey Lake last Sunday. They landed eight large mouth bass ranging in size from 12 to 16 inches. All were taken on rod and reel. However the successful lure was not disclosed, nor was the spot on the lake.

"To Poison or Not to Poison" Dewey Lake next week is the problem facing biologists of the Division of Fisheries. They say the lake needs it and if public opinion is in their favor they will conduct the operation for the tenth time. If public sentiment is against them they will pass up the work for this year.

Monday's auction of excess boats, motors, life jackets, gasoline tanks and other related equipment at the Dewey Lake State Park Boat Dock was a tremendous success in prices for the outmoded equipment. Larson, Richline and Lone Star boats brought as much as $80 to $115 each, while the worn-out motors sold for as high as $50 each.

The new road to the Stratton Branch swimming area on Dewey Lake is expected to be completed within the next two weeks.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

How strong is this swing to the fly rod for bass? One large mid-western rodmaker has reported that he had an increase in sales of fly rods of 24 per cent in a year, and all makers reported a marked increase, states Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. Another straw in the wind is that about all the large companies that formerly sold, and boosted, only spinning tackle are now selling fly tackle too. Most of it is used for bass—which is only natural, since the bass is by miles the favorite American game fish.

Unless you're practically a giant, avoid a "bass-bug rod" as you would the plague. That name is given to a very heavy, powerful rod of at least 8½ to 9½ feet—exactly the same thing that is called a "steel-head rod" in the Northwest. For bass bugs, get a trout rod not an inch over eight feet; it will probably weigh in the neighborhood of four ounces—but exact weight doesn't matter.

Even a fairly inexpensive reel will serve very well if it's large enough to hold your line comfortably. An almost equal number of automatics and single-actions are sold—but the expert generally prefers a single-action.

Be sure to get a line of the new, long-floating type, and it should be of good grade. About all rodmakers recommend lines too light to permit either easy learning or good casting. However, for practically any hollow-glass rod sold now, of the lengths here recommended, you're about safe in getting a C-level line; this level line will do, and costs little even in a good grade. For about three times as much, you can buy a GBF with short front taper (not over six feet or so) which will permit much nicer casting, and greater distance, when you've got the hang of the thing.

Use a six-foot monofilament leader from five-to-ten-pound test, depending on whether or not you have to hold large bass from tangling.

Now for the bug: "bass bug" to most, means purely a surface lure—a "popper," although in most fishing it need not be popped. Until recently all poppers were of cork, but now some excellent ones are made of a sort of light, foamed plastic. There are many other kinds of surface bass bugs, one of the most popular types being the deer-hair frog. However if you can't get bass on the cork or light-plastic popper you can't get any bass on anything.

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "wash-board" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, brawnier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

LAWN IMPROVEMENT

The month of September is perhaps the best time of the year to sow Kentucky Bluegrass on the lawn. To maintain a well sodded lawn, sow seed every year. To each 1,000 square feet, seed 1/2 pound of the best bluegrass seed available. The lawn should be clipped and the seed scattered on it.

If there are bare spots, they should be loosened with a rake before seeding. Press the seed lightly into the soil. Additional information is available on establishing a new lawn at this office. September is also the best month to plant evergreens.

GAS TAX REFUND

September 30, 1959, is the deadline for claiming tax refunds on gasoline used on the farm between July 1, 1958, and June 30, 1959. The refund amounts to 3c per gallon on all gasoline used on the farm. Records should be available to back up claim.

The proper form (No. 2240) is available from the Internal Revenue Service sub-office at Pikeville. We have a number of forms available for the farmers convenience at the county Extension office.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Your county agent attended the National Association of County Agriculture Agents Conference in Kansas City last week. Kentucky was represented with thirty-two agents and their wives. The theme of the program was, "Farm Family." Many outstanding men in agriculture were on the program, including Mr. Sherman, National President of Farm Bureau, Mr. Ferguson, Director of Federal Extension Service.

One of the most impressive meetings was the dedication of the Agriculture Hall of Fame. The county agents presented the first permanent structures, a flag pole. When completed, the Hall of Fame will be attributed to all the men and women who have helped make agriculture the leading American industry today.

The program also included tours of the Kansas City livestock yards, Hereford Association Headquarters, Truman Library, and other points of interest.

COUNTY FAIR

It is County Fair time. Johnson county is having their fair this week. Pike county will hold theirs next week. Floyd county's will be two weeks away. The dates are September 30 to October 3. All exhibits except the livestock and poultry are due to come in on Sept. 30, and will be judged that night. The livestock will be shown on Saturday.

Each year the fair has been improving. This requires an effort on everyone, whether it be a fair board member, advertiser, exhibitor or spectators.

Support the fair this year by exhibiting some products you have raised or made. An exhibitor enjoys the fair more than anyone else.

BRUCELLOSIS TESTING

The brucellosis testing program is moving ahead here in Floyd county. As of August 29, there had been 1,605 animals tested and reports returned from the State Department of Agriculture, Frankfort, Kentucky. Of these numbers 1,433 have shown negative, 47 are suspects, 6 reactors, and 119 calves have been vaccinated.

This probably makes up one-half of the cows and also covers at least one-half of the area. Plans are to complete the initial test by the last of September.

If a cow shows up as a suspect, it is nothing to become alarmed over. The cow will be retested from 30 to 60 days after the first test. Don't sell your suspects until they are retested. If they are acid then the entire herd has to be retested.

The areas that have been tested are all of Left and Right Beavers, Big Mud Creek, Auxier, Little Paint, Abbott and part of Middle Creek.

WEEVILS

Each year weevils do a tremendous amount of damage to our stored corn. To completely control this insect is difficult. The first step is to clean out the crib. Remove all trash, cobs, and grain leftover from last year. Then spray with DDT. Use 6 tablespoons of 50% wettable per gallon of water. Saturate all cracks with the material, to insure good control.

KIN OF PRESTONSBURG MEN TO BE FAMILY'S 8th DOCTOR

Ernest C. Holbrook is the eighth but by no means the last member of his family to enroll in the University of Louisville School of Medicine. There are three more, age 9, 12 and 13 at home at Paintsville waiting their turn.

Ernest, 23, began classes Tuesday at the school his great-great-grandfather was graduated from in the early 1800's. Ernest's brother, James A. Holbrook, 28, is a sophomore there.

The boys don't know the name of their great-great-grandfather, nor that of their great-grandfather who was graduated in 1849. The latter was a Dr. Sparks.

But from there on it's easy to enumerate the boys' predecessors. Grandfather Dr. J. H. Holbrook finished in 1900 and grandfather Dr. Ernest E. Archer in 1910. The two of them, now dead, established Paintsville hospital.

The Medical School was bereft of Holbrooks and Archers until an uncle of the boys, Dr. John Archer, Prestonsburg, was graduated in 1836. Two other uncles, Dr. James Archer and Dr. George Archer, took their degrees in 1938 and 1940.

Ernest said he has wanted to be a doctor since he was so high. When he was 4 he rode around on his tricycle carrying a toy medical kit. And when he was six, his grandfather took him to see his first operation.

Because of all the physicians in his family, Ernest said he doesn't know what it's like to pay a medical bill. He was graduated from Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, Ga., and from the University of Kentucky.

Both Ernest and James plan to return to Eastern Kentucky to practice.

Their uncle, John Archer, is president-elect of the Kentucky Academy of General Practice. Incidentally, their father, Henry C. Holbrook, is not a doctor. He is vice-president of the First National Bank, of Paintsville.

State's Ad Law Upheld by Court

The 1958 Kentucky publications law has been upheld in Franklin circuit court.

The law provides that action affecting the public must be advertised before it can be carried out or become law.

A suit by Arnold Ligon, Madisonville truck operator, had challenged the law. The law meant that his application to operate a truck line from Paducah to Ashland must be published in every county traversed by the proposed line.

The Kentucky Municipal League and the City of Frankfort joined Ligon in the suit. Judge W. B. Ardery's decision probably will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

ONLY YOUR LOCAL STORES GIVE INSTANT DELIVERY AND SERVICE . . .

HERE'S HOW YOU BENEFIT BY DOING ALL YOUR SHOPPING LOCALLY

When you buy from your hometown merchants you get:

1. HONEST VALUES
2. AMPLE SELECTION
3. INSTANT DELIVERY, SERVICE AND ADJUSTMENT
4. MORE PERSONAL AND FRIENDLIER TREATMENT
5. SAVING OF TIME
6. RELIEF FROM COSTLY TRAVEL
7. FREEDOM FROM ROAD HAZARDS
8. ELIMINATION OF COSTLY PARKING PROBLEMS
9. AVOIDANCE OF JOSTLING CROWDS
10. THE CHANCE TO BUILD A BETTER COMMUNITY BY PUTTING YOUR DOLLARS TO WORK HERE

We don't believe you gain anything at all by driving long distances to shop at BIG CITY stores. Our local sources have merchandise that's just as good and costs no more.

But merely for the sake of argument, suppose you do save a few dollars on a time-consuming trip many miles from home. And suppose you don't even count the cost of gasoline and oil, car wear, parking fees, etc. Forget, too, if you like, the hazards of driving in today's heavy highway and city traffic.

But don't overlook these things: What you buy here can be in your home in a few minutes—no waiting several days for delivery. And if the merchandise doesn't give full satisfaction, any needed service or adjustment of the purchase can be made without shipping the items back to the BIG CITY or being forced to make a second trip yourself.

Why drive scores of miles looking for trouble? Shop right around the corner and be safe and satisfied.
