This Town— That World

When is a sheep not a sheep? When it's dead; then it's mutton. A pig, likewise, becomes pork, a steer is beef and a deer becomes venison. When is a man not a man? When he acts sheepish, makes a pig of himself, gives a friend a bum steer and beefs about everything.

PERSONAL JEREMIAH

Friend of mine called the other day to inquire if my fishing luck really is as bad as I make it appear in this column. Having only recently read my No. 2 son's fishing diary and therein finding encouragement, I told him it is not. But after giving a good imitation of a man suffering from St. Vitus' dance while braving the gusts on the shores of Norris Lake, meanwhile catching one fish which I promptly returned to the warmer expanse of said lake, I must make a re-appraisal of the situation.

It appears that I am among, if not in the lead of, the more unfortunate ones. We froze on the lake, then froze to the shore. And, back in a cabin built strictly for summer habitation, we froze some more. When I got home the wife found that one of my socks had been burned in three places, in the vicinity of the heel, and now I am wondering if that happened while I was so numb I had lost all sense of pain.

The only real casualty, however, was "Red" Osborne, who seems to have bedded down with a wasp which had frozen out of his nest on the wall and made his way to a warmer spot among the blankets. In the middle of the night friend Osborne announced to all who would listen that feeling had returned to him. He had just been stung on the cheek. He didn't wait to turn the other.

$1,785,000 IS ASKED AT JENNY WILEY PARK

LODGE AMONG OTHER ITEMS IN LAKE PLAN

Amphitheatre Work, Golf Course Viewed Among Needs of Park

The Kentucky Parks Committee in a meeting at Frankfort, Tuesday accepted proposals for the development of the state's park system and will turn the recommendations over to the General Assembly when it meets in January.

A total of $1,785,000 was asked for the development of Jenny Wiley State Park.

Recommended for the park here was an improved entrance, expanded swimming area, a 50-bed lodge, a dining room, snack bar, 20 cabins, a swimming pool, trailer park, a golf course, an amphitheatre, campsites and maintenance buildings.

The recommendations were made to the Parks committee by the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, Prestonsburg, who represented the area's citizens.

A total of $2,697,500 for all the state's parks will be sought of the legislature when it convenes, it was announced by J. Heber Lewis, of Burnside, chairman. The recommendations were made for six parks, including Jenny Wiley State Park which would, if the proposals are implemented by the legislature, receive the major share of development funds.

Dorsey said in his prepared statement to the committee that it was said "on good authority" the receipts from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30 this year, of the boat dock facility was $130,000, and for the year 1958 income was $116,000.

"Since this was accomplished with the limited facilities that are there, the citizens of the Big Sandy feel justified in asking for increased accommodations for the public," Dorsey said. "The above figures could be increased many times if more facilities were available."

Sought by other groups for state parks were $50,000 for the Burnside-Somerset area; $250,000 for Kincaid Park in Pendleton county; $75,000 for Old Knott County Home and the J. Dan Talbot

UMWA HEAD IS ACCUSED

Bentley Says Hibbitts Ask Operator's Death; Countercharge Is Made

Carson Hibbitts, of Pikeville, president of the United Mine Workers District 30 has been accused of offering a Virginia man $5,000 to kill a Letcher county coal operator.

Hibbitts denied the accusation and countercharged that Eastern Kentucky coal operators had paid the Virginia to accuse him falsely.

George Bentley, 41, Norton, Va., asserted in a deposition filed at Pikeville in United States District Court, Monday, that Hibbitts offered him the $5,000 to get rid of Roland Price.

Price has been a leader in Eastern Kentucky independent coal operators' refusal to accept the new U.M.W. contract, which touched off the 9-month-old strike.

Bentley's deposition also accused Hibbitts of offering him $500 to blast a ramp owned by H. C. Combs, Jr., near Whitesburg in Letcher county.

The deposition was filed in connection with five civil actions brought against the U.M.W. by independent operators for alleged strike incidents.

In the deposition, Bentley said he once served "eight or nine" years in prison for manslaughter. He told a reporter the case occurred in Pike county.

Bentley said it was taken at Pikeville Thursday of last week and that both Hibbitts and Price were present. When contacted Monday in Norton, Va., Hibbitts said: "The transcript speaks for itself. The evidence will show that he (Bentley) was promised $6,000 for this... (false) evidence and has already been paid $1,700 by certain coal operators in Eastern Kentucky."

Lewis Hearing Set Saturday; Judge Hill Rules Slone Testify

Examining trial of Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis on a charge of assisting in the shooting and wounding recently near Allen of James Slone, has been set for 1 p.m., Saturday.

The hearing was set after Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill had ruled that witnesses for the prosecution would be required to testify. When the case first came up for hearing Slone, the complaining witness, was advised not to testify, on the grounds that he might incriminate himself. As a result of the ensuing dispute as to rights of those involved in the case, the matter was certified to Circuit Judge Hill for a ruling.

Lewis said his offer to take a lie-detector test as a means of ascertaining who is telling the truth about the Slone shooting and his invitation to others to take the same test have not been accepted.

Jailed here last week by Deputy Sheriff Lewis was Lizzie Pouts, of Weeksbury, who is accused by Luther Hall, of Knott county, of taking $75 from him, Junior Skeans, of Wheelwright, who was named in a warrant as her accomplice, had not been arrested Tuesday.

GARRETT MAN IN KNOTT JAIL

Are Among Six Quizzed In Holdup at Topmost Of Handshoe's Place

Two Floyd countians remain in the Knott county jail after six men had been questioned by Knott authorities and state police in the $3-50 holdup last Thursday night of a roadside place at Topmost.

Sheriff Carlos Huff listed the two held as Amos Hicks and Robert Adkins, both of Garrett. He said the other four were released after questioning.

Both prisoners deny guilt. Sheriff Huff said one of the Halloween masks used by two men who robbed Handshoe's Place at Topmost, one of their shoes and rope used by the robbers in tying up the owner, Viola Handshoe, formerly of Garrett, and her son are in his possession.

One of the suspects questioned was arrested near Lackey Friday by State Police Sgt. Bobby Haddix. Two other occupants of the car which Haddix halted fled. A shotgun was found in the car.

Sheriff Huff also reported the arrest in Knott county Monday of Junior Collins, of Floyd county, from whom officers took two gallons of moonshine whiskey. He said Collins was taken before the U. S. Commissioner at Pikeville.

A moonshine raid Wednesday afternoon at Bath, on Carr Creek, resulted in the arrest of a man listed as John H. King and the confiscation of 18 half-gallons of moonshine from the home of Garr Maxie. A moonshine still was found in a chicken-house, near the Maxie home, Huff said. Maxie had not been arrested.

Three Floyd Farmers Awarded Certificates

Combs Establishes New Records In Floyd, District and Kentucky

Bert T. Combs chalked up more records in the Nov. 3 election than any candidate ever to run in the state of Kentucky:

1. He received the record unofficial majority over John M. Robson, Jr., — 179,895 votes. The next highest majority was that of A. B. Chandler over Judge Ed Denney who lost to Chandler by 129,000 votes.
2. Combs out the traditionally Republican Eighth Congressional district vote down to a 6,758 vote majority for Robson, a new low in Republican strength there.
3. Combs carried Floyd county by 9,129 majority, the greatest majority ever received by any candidate in this county.
4. Combs received 11,841 votes in

Newly-Elected 4-H Council Officers

BLACKBURN IS JAILED IN SLAYING OF BAKER

Bennie Blackburn, who was arrested last Friday on a warrant charging him with the murder of Bill Buck Baker, Wednesday night of last week, must execute bonds totalling $17,000 to gain his release from the county jail. County Judge Henry Stumbo ruled Tuesday noon at the conclusion of Blackburn's examination trial.

His bond for grand jury appearance was set at $12,000, and a $5,000 peace bond for a period of a year was asked.

The 50-year-old Baker, who resided at Lancer, near the Blackburn trailer-home, died shortly after arrival at the Prestonsburg General hospital of a bullet wound in his right chest. He died without saying who shot him, it was said.

Baker was shot while inside Blackburn's trailer.

Blackburn told officials, shortly after the wounded man was removed to the hospital, that he found Baker, his nightwatchman, wounded upon his return from Perry county. Both he and Mrs. Blackburn denied knowledge of the shooting. He assisted in bringing the wounded man to the hospital.

The warrant for Blackburn's arrest was issued on a statement made by Denville Joseph, 38, of Prestonsburg, who was Blackburn's companion on the trip to Perry county and who claimed he lay in the front seat of Blackburn's auto while Blackburn went inside the trailer upon their return. He was arrested late Friday by State Detective Chester D. Potter and Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Herald.

The shooting, which took place within a few yards of the point where the February, 1958, Floyd county school bus disaster occurred, has its elements of mystery. Among the "missing links" are a motive and eyewitnesses.

Emphasized by officers are these factors: 1. Joseph was roused from a doze as he lay in the auto by a "cracking noise" that may have been revolver shots inside the trailer which Blackburn had entered.

2. The absence of a pool of blood that would have formed on the floor of the trailer, had Baker been shot some time before Blackburn entered the trailer and found him. Only a trail of blood spots extended from the couch inside the trailer to the trailer door from which Baker fell into Joseph's arms, but when he was laid onto the ground outside a sizeable circle of blood quickly spread.

3. Baker was shot with a .38-caliber bullet. Blackburn is said to have owned a snub-nose .38-caliber revolver.

At the examining trial neither the defendant nor his wife testified.

Osborne Man Pleads To Manslaughter Charge In Pike Circuit Court

The slayer of Azzie Stevens, 38, of Osborne, pleaded to voluntary manslaughter Wednesday in the Pike Circuit Court and was sentenced to two years in prison.

Grant Sword, about 75, confessed the shotgun slaying after an abbreviated trial. The trial stemmed from an incident occurring on Island Creek on Aug. 2, last year when Stevens was killed by a single blast from a 12-gauge shotgun.

An investigating officer said Sword claimed he had been verbally abused and slapped from his porch in 1928. Hoover carried the state by 176,994 votes.

And thus speaks the records that will stand, it is surmised, for quite some time.

WAGE CLAUSE IS SUSPENDED

In UMWA Mine Contract Pending Clarification Of Landrum-Griffin Law

The prospective wage clause of the new United Mine Workers contract, one of the controversial issues behind the nine-month old Eastern Kentucky coal strike, has been temporarily suspended by the agency created to police it.

The Joint Industry Contract committee, in a letter last Wednesday from Robert H. Follohan, executive director of the committee, to all signatories, advised that it believed the clause conflicted with the Landrum-Griffin labor law which will take effect Friday.

Basically, the protective clause provides for a committee composed of three industry and three union representatives to check records from coal operators and ensure they are abiding by terms of the contract.

The committee could bring suit against coal operators not complying with the wage or other provisions of the contracts.

It is this clause which has been particularly obnoxious to many of the smaller coal operators.

Albert Pass, secretary-treasurer of U. M. W. District 19, said he was not previously aware of the decision, and declined comment.

Carson Hibbitts, president of U.M.W. District 30, acknowledged existence of the committee letter, but declined to comment on its implications. He said only that the matter is one to be decided by the courts.

The clause is part of the national bituminous wage agreement of 1950 and was amended Dec. 1, 1958.

9,100 MARGIN IN FLOYD-CO. ALSO RECORD

Bob Damron Is Winner For Rail Commissioner; Democratic Slate Wins

When the tally of all votes cast in the Nov. 3 election has been completed it was found that Bert T. Combs, of Prestonsburg, had been elected Governor by the greatest majority ever polled in the state. His lead over John M. Robson, Jr., Republican, was 179,895 votes.

The state popular vote was: Combs, 515,299; Robson, 335,404.

At the same time Floyd county was giving Combs the greatest margin it has ever given any candidate—a majority of 9,129. Carrying every precinct in the county, Combs piled up, here at home, the biggest lead given him by any of the state's 120 counties. He polled 11,841 Floyd county votes—many of them were Republican friends to 2,712 for Robson.

And the "home" Seventh district gave him next to the greatest lead produced by any of the eight Congressional districts—85,760 votes to 48,559 for his opponent, or a majority of 37,201. The first lived up to its "Gibraltar of Democracy" nickname by producing a Combs majority of 49,072 votes.

Combs lost only the Third (Jefferson county), by 269 votes and the rock-ribbed Republican Eighth by 6,758.

With him were swept into office all Democratic candidates for state office.

Floyd county's Robert (Bob) Damron of Ivel, was among Democratic victors, winning Third district. His lead over Wendell Van Meter was 1,000 votes, Wednesday. The Constitution to permit themselves was defeated.

Clark Prater Crushed In Car Wreck, Sustained Fatal Injuries

The victim was a son of Muncey and Mae Prater, of Lackey, both of whom survive. He leaves several brothers and sisters.

The funeral was held at 10 a.m., Tuesday, the Rev. Dillard Reed officiating. Burial was made in the Martin cemetery at Garrett under direction of the Hindman Funeral Home.

The garden committee has planted 66 tulips in the lawn in front of the library, and is seeking donations for the remaining half of the bed. Discuss Gift Mailing With Postal Employees, Area Manager Advises

Persons intending to send Christmas gifts to residents of foreign countries are warned to make certain that their gifts will be allowed to enter the country to which they are addressed.

Robert M. Luckey, manager of the Cincinnati field office of the U. S. Department of Commerce, said that in many cases foreign governments limit the kind and quantity of items which their people may receive, and in other cases import duties and taxes are so high that the addressee can not afford to accept the package. Mr. Luckey added that if packages do not comply with the foreign regulations, or if taxes are not paid by the recipients, the gifts may be destroyed or seized by the foreign authorities.

In order to avoid this, Mr. Luckey invited residents of the local area to call on his office for assistance. Luckey stressed that the country of destination must be designated by those asking this service.

The field office address is Room 915, Fifth Third Bank Building, Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

Jaycees Plan Program On Spiritual Values; Work Here Is Planned

As part of the national Religion in American Life observance emphasizing spiritual values through regular worship attendance, a Prestonsburg program will be held by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

During the program, increased support of all religious institutions will be emphasized, and the importance of religion in community, family and personal life will also be stressed.

All activities will promote the national campaign theme, "Find the Strength for Your Life—Worship Together This Week." In Prestonsburg, activities will include:

1. Provide to the local churches bulletins for Sunday services.
2. Distribute prayer cards for local restaurants.
3. Members of the local Jaycee Club will attend church in a body.

Vance Mitter and Philip Blackburn, chairmen, said the RIAL program was aimed at bringing to the attention of the public contribution of all churches and synagogues to the moral and spiritual welfare of the community.

"In an age of preparation for sending a man into space," he said, "the attention of the entire country is focused on the universe around us which God created. For the years ahead there will be continued international tension. We must all rededicate ourselves to the spiritual principles on which our nation was founded in order to find true security."

Sponsored by 70 lay men and women of all faiths, the national Religion in American Life program is supported by 26 national religious groups. More than $2,000,000 worth of free time and space is provided by American business for RIAL advertising through The Advertising Council.

Agriculture Census Under Way in Floyd-Co.

The 1959 Census of Agriculture, now under way in Floyd county, will bring up to date farm statistics last collected in 1954, when the farm census revealed the following facts:

Brashear Heads Drive For Eisenhower Library; Contributions Noted

Lexington, Ky. — The statewide campaign to raise funds for the Eisenhower Presidential Library will end Nov. 15, but county chairmen for the drive will have until Nov. 30 to complete their canvasses and report donations to Fred B. Wachs, Kentucky chairman for the Eisenhower Presidential Library Commission.

The state commission seeks contributions from 1,000 Kentuckians. Through Nov. 5, contributions had been received from only 354 residents of the state. Mr. Wachs said he hoped the 1,000-mark in contributions would be reached in the closing days of the campaign. He urged county chairmen to complete work in their home areas as quickly as possible.

Floyd county has a $250 quota. To date, $215 in contributions from this county has been received at campaign headquarters in Lexington. The local drive is headed by L. B. Brashear, of Manton.

Checks, made payable to the Eisenhower Library Commission may be sent to Mr. Brashear or to Fred B. Wachs, Kentucky Chairman, Eisenhower Presidential Library Commission, 237 West Short Street, Lexington, Ky.

Bentley said Combs informed the F.B.I. and State police and that Bentley then began making frequent trips to Hibbits' Pikeville office.

Agencies Plan Detection Of Diabetes; Dr. Archer Urges Education Effort

November 15-21 has been proclaimed by Governor A. B. Chandler as Diabetes Detection and Education Week, and the Floyd County Health Department is cooperating with other participating agencies in finding previously unknown cases of diabetes.

Dr. George P. Archer, chairman of the Floyd County Board of Health, said this week. Floyd county public health nurses will test every adult with whom they come in contact during that week, whether on a home or office visit. The Health Department has been supplied with sample testing sticks to test urine specimens. Persons whose tests are positive should see their physicians for further diagnosis.

It is estimated that 15,000 Kentuckians have the disease, Dr. Archer said. In the previous eight years of the annual drive, more than 1,000 new cases of diabetes have been found.

"Since early detection can simplify control of diabetes, it is important for everyone to be tested each year. We urge every citizen of Floyd county to take advantage of this life-saving effort by having a diabetes test during Diabetes Detection and Education Week, November 15-21," Dr. Archer said. Free tests will also be given by private physicians, hospitals and laboratories.

The U.M.W. claims a vast majority have signed up since then, but Charles Richards, Middlesboro, secretary of the Independent Coal Operators Association, disputed this Monday, saying, "They have not signed two thirds of them."

Floyd County at the Top!

Floyd county stands in the Bert Combs column where it should stand—ahead of all the rest. Its majority of 9,129 votes is unprecedented; it is a voting record that will stand untouched for years.

Candidate Combs could have done without that splendid Floyd county majority, but Combs the man needed it, and Floyd county needed to supply it.

For Floyd county needs singleness of purpose and, above all, to support its own. We have received benefits from every state administration, and none can deny that, but our needs are so great that a mere modicum of benefits will not suffice to pull Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky anywhere near even with richer, more fortunate sections of the Commonwealth.

Bert Combs does not, as a matter of fact, owe Floyd county anything for such magnificent support. His debt to his mountain people already was established. A native son, he inherited that debt; came by it naturally, you might say. However that may be, it is highly fitting that we who need so much have given in rousing fashion to the one to whom we shall turn for help.

Now the Real Battle Begins for Bert Combs

Elected Governor of his state by the greatest majority in history, Bert Combs at this hour is riding the pinnacle of his personal popularity. Never again, whatever the great service and high achievement that may be his official record, will he have such unanimity of public acclaim.

That is a statement that applies, or would apply, to any man elected to the office of Governor in Kentucky. From here on out, it will be a matter of pleasing more than are displeased, or vice versa.

Ahead are the trying days, the times of decision, those occasions when the Governor must say "No" to the importunities of self-seeking politicians and other interests. There will be policy decisions to make; each of these will be open to enemy attack, and many will be assailed by his own supporters.

These are circumstances of long standing. They are known well by Bert Combs. But many private citizens do not stop to consider the vagaries of public sentiment, the shifting tides of popularity or the incessant demands made upon a Governor who more often than not is a harried individual facing harrowing situations.

But the job was sought by Bert Combs. He long ago became aware of the demands the office would make upon the best that is in him in body, mind and spirit. So this comment could not be termed a warning to him or an apology for his future acts.

There is, however, one note of warning that The Times would sound to Governor-Elect Combs, and that is this:

"Beware of so-called friends. Your real friends wish for you the best administration any Governor of Kentucky ever had. Your so-called friends, and they will be heard most often, will ask only that you accede to their wishes, yield to their demands, and will for their own profit, power or prestige seek to gain their own ends at your expense."

Paul wrote to a young man named Timothy, warning him against "science so-called." No official will be harmed by his real friends, but let all of them beware of friends so-called.

Start cooking bacon without separating the slices. Just remove the number of slices needed in one piece, put them in a cold skillet, and heat slowly. Turn and separate the slices as the heat loosens them; in this way, slices are not torn as they would be by trying to strip off chilled slices.

DAVID

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The David Woman's Club met Nov. 5, at the home of Mrs. Jess Webb.

The business session began with a report from the Community Achievement chairman, Mrs. Court Dahlin. She reported that work on the Girl Scout cabin has progressed nicely since the last meeting. She said the cabin had been painted on the outside, new lights had been installed, the area had been fenced and that the ground was being prepared for grass.

Mrs. Francis Harman reported that the sewing class had been completed with the last meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Spears.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held in Prestonsburg on Nov. 13 and 14. Mrs. Dawson Bussey, chairman for the sale, announced that clothes would be picked up early in the week.

The club discussed having a talent show soon. Mrs. Gene Matthis agreed to act as chairman.

Mrs. Dahlin reported on the proceedings of the 7th District meeting held in Wheelwright. Five women from the David club attended.

Miss Fannie Mae Howell, November program chairman, introduced Miss Francis Howland, of Prestonsburg, as the guest-speaker. Miss Howland is the Floyd county home economist. She presented an excellent program on Christmas decorating. She suggested ways of wrapping packages that are both pretty and economical.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Jesse Webb, Bill McKinney, Gene Wells and Harry Clay.

was going to Perry county to get some beer. Joseph accompanied him and, according to his statement, the two stopped at Arnel Jones' place, near Lackey, there drank some beer, then went to Silas Gearheart's place in Perry county where Blackburn bought 10 cases of beer and two cases of whiskey.

Of the events following their return to the Blackburn home Joseph said:

"When he got out of the car I asked him if I could lie down in the front seat. I laid down in the front seat. After a while I heard a noise which roused me up. When I raised up Bennie was at the door of the car. When I got out I went to the trailer door and the man who was shot was at the door. He fell into my arms. Bennie's wife may have had hold of his arm while he was at the door. She was there in the trailer nearby. The man fell down on the ground and I eased him down.

"Bennie said he was shot. He called the man's name. I understood him to say, 'Bill Claude. . . I said, 'Maybe he's drunk.' Bennie said, 'No, he's shot. I know damn well he's shot—look at the blood.'"

Joseph then told of going into the trailer where, he said, there was a trail of several drops of blood "about the size of a quarter" leading to the trailer door. He added there was no pool of blood in the trailer.

Then, he said, he became frightened and ran over the bank, near the spot where the school bus went over, and lay down for several minutes. "I was scared. I was afraid somebody might kill me," he said.

Before he ran over the bank, however, he said, Blackburn showed him a pistol that looked like a .22 target model and said, "This is the gun—do you see it?" or, "Now, do you see it?"

He said Blackburn had a snub-nose .38 on the trip to Perry county. His statement also told of Blackburn calling on him last Friday and talking about Baker's death. Joseph said Blackburn showed him a pistol which, he said, he had bought for $56, also producing papers which probably represented a bill of sale. "The pistol looked almost exactly like the one I had seen on the way to Perry county," Joseph said.

The bullet which entered Baker's body in the chest, slightly to the right side, and ranged downward, lodging at the back, was removed for state police ballistics tests. State Detective Potter said he had one revolver taken from Blackburn.

At the examining trial Joseph described the noise that roused him from a doze in the car as a "cracking noise." He could not say it was caused by one or more gunshots, or if it was a shot. On cross-examination by Blackburn's attorney, W. W. Burchett, Joseph admitted he had had a drink of whiskey on the morning of the shooting and that he had drunk beer "all along" from Jones place to Hazard and back to Lancer. He denied, however, that he was drunk. He also admitted he does not know who shot Baker and that he could not say if there was another car in the vicinity of the trailer.

To a question from Judge Stumbo, Joseph said he was "scared of Bennie."

The widow of the slain man said she heard two shots but that she did not know her husband had been shot till after 11 o'clock that night. She said Blackburn broke the news to her. "Bill ran into a little accident," she quoted him as saying. She also said Blackburn later threw down $35 telling her he had promised her husband he would take care of his wife and children.

On cross-examination she admitted Blackburn had talked of building a house on his property for her husband and family. She said her husband and Blackburn had had a fight, years ago, that he had been working for Blackburn about a month and that he had twice been fired but taken back as nightwatchman. She admitted her husband had "shot the fire out" inside their home with a shotgun on an earlier occasion and that on the night of his death he had drunk a can of beer or two.

Coroner Carter described the nature of the wound. He said a second bullet, also one of .38-calibre, had been fired inside the trailer and that it had hit a refrigerator. This bullet also was recovered. Carter said it had apparently been fired from the direction of the couch.

The coroner quoted Blackburn as having told him he had lost his .38-calibre revolver in a poker game.

Victim of the shooting was a son

Crowned King and Queen of the Halloween carnival at the Dwale school Oct. 21 were, standing, Larry Sword and Emma DeRossett. of the late Bill and Ella Hubbard Baker. He survived by his widow, Mrs. Becca Stephens Baker, and 13 children: James Orville Baker, Tru Ohio, Mrs. Ada Belle Goble, Lora, Ohio, Bill Baker, Jr., Ada, Ohio, Ike Edward Baker, Columbus, O., Jasper and Elijah Baker, Mrs. Elizabeth Endicott and Mrs. Stella McKenzie, all of Pierceton, Ind., Mrs. Barbara Hardy, in German Patricia Ann, Glenn Otis, Gladys Mae and Bucky Ray Baker, all of Lancer. Funeral rites were held Saturday afternoon from the home on Brandy Keg, near Lacer, of the victim's brother-in-law Robert Stephens, by the Revs. Paris Music, Arthur Sturgill and J. P. Music. Burial was made in the Stephens cemetery at Dwale under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Marvin Music, chairman of the Jenny Wiley State Park Master Plan committee, released Tuesday the names of a committee appointed to formulate a plan for development of the Dewey Lake Jenny Wiley State Park.

Music, who has been working on the plan for several weeks at the direction of Governor-elect Bert T. Combs, pointed out in a notice to the appointees that Floyd county's population is declining, the coal industry in the old drums, farming not economically feasible and there is a migration of 40,000 persons annually from the area.

"These are a few reasons why we need the master plan for Jenny Wiley State Park with its long range objectives," Music said. "It is important to start now by telling our friends and selling this plan to everyone in the region."

Music's plan envisions a road from Hager Gap to the swimming area, a lodge overlooking the new lake road, a nine-hole golf course, an open air amphitheatre, improved picnic area and a swimming area adequate to care for the thousands who visit the park.

Named to the master plan committee are Arbor Jones, representative of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club; David Hereford, president of the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Bill Napier, of Prestonsburg; County Judge Henry Stumbo; Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, pastor of the First Methodist church; Henry P. Scaff, of the Floyd County Times staff; Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill; C. T. Dahlin and Gene Matthis, both of Princess Coals, Incorporated; Mrs. Emma May, governor of the Seventh District Woman's Clubs; Margaret Archer, of the Prestonsburg Kiwanianes; Dr. George P. Archer; Attorney Clifford B. Latta; State Senator-elect Burnis Martin; State Representative-elect Ollie Robinson; and Dora Stephens, of radio station WPRT.

The committee will soon hold its first formal meeting, it was said.

Pictures of the town of David will be shown on WSAZ-TV's "The News Picture" program at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, it was announced this week.

The movie "short" is composed of shots taken on election day by Don Roberts, WSAZ-TV reporter, who had been flown from Huntington to David by a Princess Coals pilot to take pictures of Bert Combs as he appeared here with friends on the day of decision. Roberts was so impressed by the community of David and its civic and recreation facilities that he included the shooting of considerable footage there as a part of the day's work.

HARRY NATHANIEL COOLEY (1876-1955), EDUCATOR

Harry Nathaniel Cooley, outstanding Floyd county educator, was born Nov. 3, 1876, a son of James and Julia Auxier Cooley. Educated in the schools of the area he was appointed as county superintendent of schools and was twice elected to the office.

His term of service to the youth of the county spanned over half a century. Retiring from public office to the classroom he continued to teach for several years. He spent his last working years as an associate of his sons in business in Prestonsburg. He died in 1955. His wife, Nora Wills Cooley, preceded him in death, Dec. 30, 1953. He was interred in the Wills cemetery on Bull Creek.

One of Cooley's contributions to the educational program was the promotion of high schools in the county. He was instrumental in establishing the Rothschild elementary school at Tram, one of the first of its kind in the region.

The First National Bank salutes the memory of this outstanding educator and recognizes his contribution of years of service to the youth of our county.

A Correction And Apology

It is deeply regretted that an error was made in listing the names of Floyd county workers who were fined in Floyd County Court for fraudulently claiming unemployment benefits. Curt Tackett, Honaker, Ky., was in no way involved in the proceedings. The name should have been listed as Curt Collins, Honaker, Ky.

I wish to take this means of exonerating Mr. Tackett and publicly state that an unintentional error was made when giving the names to the press.

NEW RECORD

Whitesburg's ace speedster Roger Kincer has become the highest individual scorer in the history of Eastern Kentucky high school football play. In ten games this season the senior, 150-pound youth scored 34 touchdowns and 10 extra points for an unbelievable total of 214 points, for an average of 21.4 points, or better than three touchdowns, per game.

The 18-year-old Letcher countian will have the opportunity to add to this total Friday night when Whitesburg clashes with Black Star in the Coal Bowl in Cumberland. According to his coach, Edd Moore, Kincer scored 16 touchdowns on runs of 50 yards or more. Six were on treks of 75 yards or more and two were for more than 90 yards.

He should be a definite choice for the all-conference and all-state teams but when the trading starts for these annual selections he may be left out, as was the case with Hazard's Astor Sizemore last season.

Sizemore led the area and state in scoring last season with 165 points, failed to make the all-league offensive team as the coaches traded him out, and wound up on the third team on the all-state list.

Basketball is rapidly replacing football on the sports scene as Maytown and Martin have already opened their seasons. Maytown dropped Auxier, 74-54, in its opening game last week. Martin stopped Auxier, 81-40, and last Saturday night whipped Maytown, 76-48.

Thursday night, Auxier is at McDowell; Friday, Hindman is at Garrett, and Saturday night, Garrett travels to Wayland.

Although Prestonsburg high closed its football season with a dismal 3-6-1 record in losing to Paintsville, 32-19, last Friday, one of the brightest hopes for the future is Dixon Nunnery, 15-year-old, 155-pound sophomore.

He moved into the starting lineup at mid-season, replacing the injured James Allen, and did exceptionally well despite his inexperience and weight. He gained more than 300 yards and tallied three touchdowns and four extra points in four starts. His teammates labeled him the outstanding player in the Paintsville game.

EASTERN AREA GAME TO END BALL SEASON

Three games in the Eastern Kentucky area this week—two in Paintsville—will wind up the 1959 high school football season. Then, next week, Hazard begins the Class "AA" playoffs with Highlands of Region three.

Wednesday night, Paintsville's Tigers (6-4) are host to M. C. Napier (6-3) in an Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference game that will have little bearing on the final standings.

Then on Friday night, the annual Big Sandy Bowl will feature Lynch (9-1) versus Belfry (5-2-2) on the same Paintsville field.

Jim Caudill's Hazard Bulldogs assured themselves of the regional title over the week-end with a 49-19 conquest of Middleboro, in what was expected to be a close battle. The big difference was senior halfback Darwin Turpin who raced for five touchdowns on runs of 66, 9 and 10 yards and on passes of 18 and 15 yards from quarterback Johnny Davis. Diminutive halfback Buddy Smyly turned in 91 and 24-yard scoring efforts, and Davis accounted for all seven extra points.

Whitesburg assured themselves of second place in the E.K.M.C. race by walloping Elkhorn City, 75-0, to close the regular season with an 8-2 worksheet. Senior halfback Roger Kincer moved back into the state scoring lead with six touchdowns and five extra points for a season's total of 214 points.

Paintsville's Mike Minix, only a junior, moved into third spot in the state individual scoring race as he ran for four touchdowns in pacing his team to a 32-19 win over arch rival Prestonsburg.

The agile speedster sped 15 yards, 45, 10 and 5 yards for six pointers and staged a brilliant effort and gained more than half of the total yardage.

He also whipped an aerial to back Robert Wiley in a 62-10 scoring play for the other D.D. Sophomore fullback Dixon Nery and quarterback Bobby Mhall were the offensive thrust in the Black Cats. Nunnery gain 135 yards and scored one touchdown and an extra point and Mhall tallied one and carried into end zone where teammate Dennis Phillips fell on the oval for another.

It was Paintsville's first victory over Prestonsburg on the local field in the past twenty years.

In other closing action, Belfry whipped Jenkins 41-6; Belfry lost to neighboring Williamson, 20-14 and Pikeville closed its season with a 19-6 win over Louisiana with an overall 8-2 record.

The band of Millersburg Military Institute will appear in a concert Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Paintsville high school gymnasium, under the direction of Capt. E. S. Thompson.

Admission is free. Scott T. Craft, who arranged for the MMI band appearance in Paintsville, said. Craft heard the band at Millersburg recently, and he described it as nothing short of sensational.

Capt. Thompson was, before going to Millersburg, associated with the Walt Disney music productions and was music director at the Burbank (Calif.) high school. His Burbank band appeared on the Steve Allen television show and was termed by Allen as the best high school band he had ever heard.

Discovering Diabetic, Prolonging His Life, Is Ky. Medical Plan

"Finding unknown diabetics and helping them to live longer, more useful lives is the goal of the annual Diabetes Detection and Education Drive the week of November 15-21," according to Robert J. Hoffmann, M.D., State Health Commissioner, Chairman of the Kentucky State Medical Association's Diabetes Committee.

Sponsored by the KSMMA in cooperation with the American Diabetes Association, the drive will be held during the period officially proclaimed as Diabetes Week in Kentucky by Governor A. B. Chandler.

"In eight previous public service campaigns, more than 10,000 persons who were unaware they had diabetes learned of their condition. These individuals now have the necessary knowledge to enable them to use the proper precautions," Dr. Hoffmann said.

Every physician, hospital and laboratory in the state has been asked to cooperate in the drive by giving a free urine sugar test to anyone requesting it. All Kentuckians are urged to take advantage of the drive which is strictly a public service effort, and not a fund raising campaign.

By Quentin Allen

A former college coach, Wilbur Jamerson, is now teaching in the Wheelwright schools. Jamerson served as head football coach at Morehead College, succeeding Ellis Johnson. After his coaching ended, Jamerson earned a Master's degree in Education.

Jamerson played his football at the University of Kentucky in 1951, the time when U. K. won ball games instead of moral victories. "Shorty," as U. K. team mates called him, was one of the characteristic halfbacks of Bryant teams. Bryant tended to use a small but extremely maneuverable halfback to get yardage that some of the larger boys could not gain. In Jamerson he found the body of a blacksmith set on the frame of a slightly shorter than average man.

Jamerson said that he was terrified until he was tackled the first time. "I expected to get killed. But they didn't hit me any harder than the high school boys had—and I wasn't afraid after that." He went on to play a hard-nosed and often spectacular game for U. K. His catches of two Babe Parilli passes at the Cotton Bowl in 1951 were highlighted as one of the top sport thrills of the year in the 1951 news reels.

"Shorty," who does not curse or smoke, says he's having a great time in the teaching field. "I've got a great bunch of kids up here," he emphasized. "Mean as all get-out, but I like to tame 'em."

Jamerson, who has considerable stature as a coach and as a student of football, declined to say if he has plans to enter the coaching field again.

A BACK TO WATCH

Dixon Nunnery, sophomore fullback of the Prestonsburg Blackcat football team, appears to be a back to watch in future years. Nunnery's performance in last Friday's losing cause presented a bit of joy in an otherwise bitter night.

Paintsville, an improving club all season, behind the swift running of Mike Minix churned to a 32-19 win over Prestonsburg.

Sitting on the sidelines were Ronnie Snodgrass, Clarence Rice, and James Allen, all very useful gladiators to have in action, but all injured. Since Coach John Gordon Goble relied mostly upon untried freshmen and sophomores, Blackcat followers must regard the defeat as a pretty good performance on the part of the team.

Thus ends the season with the rallying thought: "Wait till next year!"

WHAT HAPPENS?

Followers of U. K. football may wonder what happens when the not so wild Wildcats find themselves deep within the territory of the opposition. No touchdowns result, we know—but why so many penalties.

One coach explains it this way. The U. K. team does fine at mid-field. But the closer you get to touchdown territory, the rougher the going gets. The U. K. squad just doesn't want to put out what it takes, so they play dirty ball or use illegal tactics.

We who listen to U. K. ball games have heard the Wildcats fight to the 20-yard-line, and have first down; then, a series of plays later, they may be as far back as the 40 on fourth down.

Our source says, "A mark of a great team is its willingness to pay for touchdowns." If this is true, it may follow that the U. K. squad does not have the desire necessary to win football games.

WHAT A LOSING TEAM CAN DO

One Wildcat seriously hampered this season due to an ailing knee is Lowell Hughes, former star of Prestonsburg high school athletics.

Now in his senior year and preparing to enter law school after graduation, Hughes has played little of this season.

It is not generally understood that Hughes' right knee, hurt in the Auburn game last year, is a much damaged hinge. The muscles in his right knee are smaller than those in the left and he cannot, in consequence, get much power for running or for bracing himself for passing.

His absence has hurt the squad far beyond the fact that he is U. K.'s only running quarterback. Collier, last year, thought about moving Lowell to halfback this season to utilize his running ability, but reneged after Hughes' knee showed little improvement.

Hughes has shown a keen mind for his books as well as for leadership on the football field, and his ability as a thinking field general and defense man is lost through his injury.

An outstanding baseball prospect, Hughes will pass up basketball this fall, in order to rest for a rigid spring training season for baseball. Doctors have concluded that his knee is not susceptible to injury on the baseball field as on the gridiron.

HUNTING PROSPECTS BRIGHT POPULATION STUDIES SHOW

Prospects were never brighter for the hunters of rabbit, quail and grouse.

So says the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources following statewide population studies on these various species of wildlife.

Trends on all three species have been upward in almost every section of the state, the surveys show, and barring unfavorable hunting weather, these is little doubt in the minds of the conductors of the surveys or the farmers that better kills will be the rule rather than the exception this year.

Following a disappointing kill of rabbits last year, the cottontail hunters for this season are enthusiastic about the prospects. Their enthusiasm is well founded, says the Department. Biologists and field men have determined that the early crop of rabbits was exceedingly good, and the mortality rate was low. The same was determined for the fall crop. It was heavy and fairly late, but not late enough for inclement weather to interfere. In fact, in the past few weeks more young rabbits have been sighted than for many years and undoubtedly many rabbits killed this season will not be full grown. The outlook for rabbits is good in all sections of the state, the surveys show. To be sure more rabbits will be found in one section than another, which is customary, but every section of the state shows a greater population than previously. Even though the survey showed the kill of rabbits for last season to be off by about 30 per cent, the average hunter bagged 11 rabbits. With the greater population indicated for this year that average will should be considerably increased. By sections the average kill for last season was a follow: Eastern, slightly over eight; Bluegrass, 13; Central, 12 and Western, 11.

Quail hunters last year had a good season, with the statewide average kill being about 25 bobwhites. The population was good for that season, but all indications are that the supply of quail this year is greater than for many years. A good early hatch of quail was reported in all sections of the state. Also late hatches were extremely good and the mortality rate was very low. Biologists and other field men report that extremely large coveys were reared this year and groups of 25 are not uncommon. Early season counts in the field indicated a large holdover crop of breeding stock and weather conditions have been ideal in most sections of the state for the rapid growth of the young birds. Biologists also believe that many adult birds produced at least two good coveys of quail this season. The average hunter kill by sections last year, the survey shows, was 18 plus in the Eastern area; 19 in the Bluegrass area; 26 in the Central area and 34 in the Western part of the state. All hunters this year are asked to return bands found on quail to the Game Division, Dept. of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Frankfort, Kentucky, since the Department, in cooperation with the sportsmen clubs has banded all pen-reared birds before release, and a return of the bands will indicate the success of this method of release.

Most of the grouse hunting is concentrated in the eastern section of the state, with none in the extreme western areas. Biologists stationed in the foothills of the mountains report a greater crop of grouse this year than at any time since surveys have been conducted.

ANONYMOUS GIFT
Gordon "Red" Moore received a letter from The Millionaire, the other day, and with it came a million-dollar check. The letter solemnly warned him never to divulge the identity of his benefactor. It pointed out that he was being so richly endowed because he had been recommended as an "outstanding young man, a connoisseur of the better things of life, a patron of the arts, a fisherman of great skill, kind and lovable, a protector of the faith, champion of the cause, highly skilled in trades unknown and a faithful member of the Mickey Mouse Club."

A postscript read: "In order to remain anonymous I am leaving the check (enclosed) unsigned. Just present to any bank—they have all the money."

HE NEEDS A PSYCHIATRIST
I have just completed reading a column-length feature in a daily newspaper which tells all about the ailments of dogs. It says here the day is past when dogs die only of distemper, worms or old age. Now they are heir to most of the diseases of humans. Veterinarians now say man's lord and master comes down with such ills as heart disease, tonsillitis, encephalitis, gastritis, fungi, allergies, infections. And, they add, your dog may be suffering from a neurosis.
That last one is an eye-opener for me. My dog apparently knew all along what he needed but I didn't. This explains why he insists on stretching himself, full length, on every couch he spies.

FIVE QUESTIONS
When the great finals come, each one will be asked five questions:
First: What did you accomplish in the world with the power that God gave you?
Second: How did you help your neighbor and what did you do for those in need?
Third: What did you do to serve God?
Fourth: What did you leave in the world that was worth while when you came from it?
Last: What did you bring into this new world which will be of use here?

Kiwanians Hear FG Representative Discuss Natural Gas Uses, Products

Information representative of the Fuel Gas Company told the Stonsburg Kiwanis Club Thursday night of last week that natural gas has 25,000 industrial uses.

Sally Keadle said that the industry today serves 30 million customers in 48 states, supplying more than 25 percent of the nation's total energy consumption. She said that the evolution of the industry is the evolution of the demand for seamless steel pipe in long distance transmission.

Those who have not yet experienced the luxury of gas at home, and who have not yet experienced the many products derived from natural gas, she said, should be interested in the many uses of natural gas. She said that the industry today serves 30 million customers in 48 states, supplying more than 25 percent of the nation's total energy consumption.
