THURSDAY

This Town-- That World

Now that Mr. K has blown his top and generally done his bit again to make the world unsafe for democracy, we look for that Cincinnati baseball team to go back to Redlegs, Red Stockings or something again. Most of the fans are expecting them to fade plumb out, as usual.

APOLOGY?

I apologize for my failure to appear at the meeting held last Thursday night by Prestonsburg business men. I promised to make an earnest effort to be there. I meant well. But I went fishing, and the 6:45 deadline I had set for the conclusion of that worthy endeavor somehow passed by. Not exactly unnoticed, but it passed by. Believe it or not, I staggered onto a good bass, landed the critter, then saw my young son lose one just as big. After that I decided to give him another chance to get one, which he did. By that time had come the gloaming.

So I apologize to one and all. But not abjectly. You see, there was an ulterior motive about this apology, to begin with. It supplied me the excuse to tell about the fish I caught.

We will now forget those two other afternoons which failed to produce. The fish didn't strike, they just voted a complete boycott.

WHAT A FISHERMAN IS

Bob Harlowe ran across the following somewhere, sent it to his mother here and gave specific instructions as to its disposition. Which meant that it was to be delivered to me.

A fisherman is half man, half boy with hooks in his hat, worms in his pocket and a grin on his face, carrying equipment that smells like fisherman's wharf in August. He can get up at 4:30 in the morning without setting the alarm, yet he can never get to church on (See Story No. 2, Page 5).

MAYOR URGES CLEAN CITY

In Proclamation; Health Preservation One Objective, Noted

Mayor Edward B. Leslie, issued a proclamation Wednesday designating May 20 - June 15 as a Clean-Up period in the city.

"It is highly desirable in order that the health of the inhabitants of the city of Prestonsburg may be preserved that all citizens and residents participate in cleaning up of their property, including vacant lots," Leslie said in the proclamation.

The Mayor announced that all trash of any kind, including tree branches will be hauled away free by the police department. It should be made easily accessible and available to the haulers, he noted. Persons having trash to be hauled away were advised to call the police department when it was ready.

"I urge all of the citizens and residents of the city to cooperate in the cleaning up of their property in order that Prestonsburg may be a cleaner city in which to live," Leslie added in his proclamation.

CITY POWER BILL HIKED

Council Accepts Plan To Up Electric Charges; Hager Succeeds Bingham

A new contract with the Kentucky Power Company was signed by the City Council at its Monday night meeting, and under terms of the new pact Prestonsburg's municipal power bill will run approximately $720 more per year than in the past.

Heretofore, the city's electric bill has averaged about $325 a month. The new rate will cost about $60 more a month.

The contract at the increased rate was accepted, it was explained, "because there was nothing else we could do."

Clabe Bingham resigned from the city board of tax supervisors because of his membership on the Municipal Housing Commission, and J. A. Hager was named in his stead. He will serve with Frank H. Layne and Sam W. Hale on the board. Pay of two of the board members has been set at $100 each, with the third, who will also serve as clerk of the board, receiving $125.

NEWEST CIVIC ORGANIZATION PLANS MADE

Chamber of Commerce To Be Launched Here; Grubbs Addresses Meet

Approximately 65 men representing a cross-section of Prestonsburg business last Thursday evening unanimously approved a Chamber of Commerce organization in Prestonsburg.

Paul W. Grubbs, director of public relations for the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, addressed the group in presenting the chamber of commerce plan. The meeting was held at the Wise Restaurant.

The group met to decide between establishing a businessmen's association or a chamber of commerce.

C. L. Hutsiniller introduced the motion which led to the unanimous approval of a chamber of commerce to be installed here.

Plans were being made this week to incorporate Prestonsburg's newest civic organization. A committee was appointed by the group to do preliminary work toward this end. Those appointed were C. J. McNally and W. O. Goebel, Sr., co-chairmen, and Arbor Jones, secretary.

Sentiment at the meeting pointed to a resolution of factional disagreements, a spokesman said, pointing out that everyone seemed enthusiastic about the move.

Jones said that a motion was also unanimously passed to follow the recommendations of the committee, regardless of its decisions.

UF GAS PLANS $30,000 JOB

Office Expansion Work Awarded To Scott Craft; 10-Yr. Needs Envisioned

Because of its growing drilling operations in the Eastern Kentucky area, United Fuel Gas Company will renovate and expand its centralized field office here, John W. Graham, superintendent of the company's Southern Production Division, said this week.

Mr. Graham said Scott Craft, Paintsville contractor, was the successful bidder for the job. The cost will be approximately $30,000.

The improvements will add about 1,600 square feet of office space to the second floor of the building, and generally up-grade the other office facilities. Acoustical ceiling tile, fluorescent lighting and all-year gas-fired air conditioning will be installed, along with other improvements, he said.

The renovation is expected to provide sufficient space requirements for the next 10 years. Currently, there are 50 employees stationed at the building, which serves as divisional headquarters for United Fuel's production, compressor and gas measurement department.

The division compressor superintendent is H. O. Grady and the division gas measurement superintendent is W. G. Stiles.

Also occupying the building are personnel of United Fuel's communications and transportation departments, and Columbia Gas of Kentucky's distribution department.

Mr. Graham said work is expected to be completed by August 1.

Gov. Combs Designates Soil Stewardship Week; Jones, Johnson Comment

Governor Bert T. Combs has designated the week of May 22-29 as Soil Stewardship Week. Action of the governor was taken in the form of a proclamation, May 3.

"I request all persons and religious organizations to offer supplications to God for a bountiful harvest, and to ask for continued blessings from our fertile fields; and further urge soil conservation district supervisors representing our state government to increase their activities with the goal of reaching a record number of Kentuckians with the story of soil and water conservation," the proclamation said.

Jack Jones, area soil conservationist in Kentucky, urges the public be well-informed on the need for observance of Soil Stewardship Week.

"Let us give full assistance and encouragement to soil conservation district supervisors, other conservation leaders and ministers to bring to the public the full implication of Soil Stewardship Week," Jones wrote local soil conservationists in the region.

L. R. Johnson, Floyd county soil conservationist, notes the (See Story No. 6, Page 6)

Four Events for Public Slated at High School By Three Departments

Prestonsburg high school will be the scene of much activity Friday night, when it opens its doors for four events:

1. Dinner for the benefit of the high school lunchroom will be served between 6:00 and 7:15 p.m.
2. Open house in the Home Economics Department.
3. Oil paintings on display by the Art department.
4. "Concert Under the Stars" by the Music department.

The public is invited to spend the evening at the high school.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE AWARDED

Five High Seniors Given College Grants By Princess Elkhorn

The Princess Elkhorn Coal Division of Princess Coals, Inc., David, has announced the winners of its 16th annual scholarship awards. The five winners this year bring to 80 the number of grants made to outstanding graduating seniors in Floyd and Johnson county high schools.

Thirteen students attended college during the past year with assistance from Princess Coals, Inc. Five are at Pikeville College, two attend Berea, and six are studying at the University of Kentucky.

This year's awards went to: Miss Karl Jean Bays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sammie Bays, Jr., of East Point; four-year grant to Pikeville College.

Miss Judith Sharon Bussey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Bussey, of Prestonsburg; grant to Berea to study nursing.

Robert Myers Camicia, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Camicia, of Prestonsburg; four-year grant to the University of Dayton for the study of mechanical engineering.

Tommy Lee Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cole, of David; four-year grant for the study of engineering at the University of Kentucky.

John R. McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave McIntosh, of Weeksburg; four-year grant to the University of Kentucky for the study of chemical engineering.

All of the recipients of the awards are sons and daughters of employees of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Division of Princess Coals, Inc., with the exception of Mr. McIntosh. John McIntosh is the winner of the "open" scholarship, and his father is employed by the David (See Story No. 7, Page 3)

Henry Moore, Sr., 83, Of Harold, Succumbs At Pikeville Hospital

A lingering illness resulted in the death of Henry Moore, Sr., of Harold, who died Monday at the Pikeville Methodist hospital.

Moore, 83, a member of the Regular Baptist church, was the son of Andrew and Spicy Newsome Moore.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Vannie Hunter Moore, seven daughters, Mrs. Spicy Hamilton, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Dakota Newsome, Teaberry, Mrs. Sadie Martin, Grethel, Mrs. Mindy Goble, Mare Creek, Mrs. Lexie Martin, Galveston, Mrs. Gustavia Alley, Ecorse, Michigan, Mrs. Eva Page, Washington, D. C.; two sons, Henry Moore, Jr., and Andrew J. Moore, both of Washington, D. C.; 41 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held at 11 a.m. today (Thursday) at Moore's home in Harold. Burial under the direction of the Moore Funeral Home was made in the family cemetery on Little Mud.

Camp Shawnee Scout Staff Named For Season; Jack Hodge, Director

Seven Floyd county Boy Scouts will serve on the summer staff at Camp Shawnee camping season, it was noted this week by Jack Hodge, Scout executive. The camping period will run from June 2 to July 9, he said.

Victor Mitchell and Joe David Martin, both of Allen, will serve on the waterfront and C. O. Williams, Jr., Prestonsburg, will be at the trading post. Serving at the demonstration area will be Stevie Stephens and William L. May, both of Prestonsburg, Larry David Spradlin, of Point, and Ellsworth Collins, of Wheelwright.

David Collins, who has recently returned from Prestonsburg after four years in the Navy will be director of waterfront activities, Hodge said. Williams was waterfront director for three years prior to this year. (See Jesse Elliott, of (See Story No. 8, Page 4)

Hill Joins Elanco For Southeast Work

Bill F. Hill, formerly of Prestonsburg, has joined Elanco Products Company as an agricultural sales representative. He will service feed manufacturers and other agricultural product customers in the southeastern states and maintain headquarters at Atlanta, Georgia.

The appointment is announced by O. B. Swearingen, vice-president of Elanco, a recently formed division of Eli Lilly and Company.

Hill, a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hill, of the Abbott road, majored in animal husbandry at the University of Kentucky where he received the Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture in 1955.

Prior to joining Elanco, Hill was a sales representative for the nitrogen division of Allied Chemical Corporation.

4-H'ERS HOLD AREA RALLY

District Schedules Paintsville Meeting; Floyd Has Six Wins

Outstanding 4-H Club members from seven Eastern Kentucky counties met at Paintsville last Saturday for the Big Sandy District Rally Day. The day's activities included contests in speeches and demonstrations and the district Talent Show.

Floyd county members won six district championships, 12 blue awards and one red award.

Blue Awards were received by Burgess Lowe, Steven Branham, John Richard Porter, Clyde Scott, Mike Brown, Gwen Deal, Joan Hicks, Carolyn Lafferty, Debbie Sammons, Mae Rita Gayheart, Melanie Conley.

Steve Hunter injured his hand and was unable to complete his demonstration.

The Betsy Layne seventh grade received a blue ribbon on its club talent act. Esta Lou Adkins and Katie Hamilton received a blue ribbon on their specialty talent act.

The four senior champions will (See Story No. 8, Page 4)

Prestonsburg Library Is Recipient of Gift

During National Library Week Prestonsburg high school's library was the recipient of a $100 gift from Marvin Music, Prestonsburg businessman and a 1934 graduate of the school.

Mr. Music made this gift, without solicitation, in the interest of improving library service in the local school. The fund thus established will be used by the librarian in making improvements of lasting value in the library.

JAMES NAMED COUNSELLOR

In Legion Youth Work; To Assist At Richmond For Boys State Session

Tom James, of Prestonsburg, has been named an administrative counsellor for Bluegrass Boys State, a youth program sponsored by the American Legion in Kentucky.

Mr. James has been requested by Paul L. Seyffrit, executive officer, to spend the week of June 5-11 as a counsellor with the approximately 300 boys expected to gather on the campus of Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, for the 1960 Boys State session.

Boys State has as its participants outstanding high school juniors who during the annual sessions put into intensive practice the theories of American government through the actual operation of city, county and state governments organized under the plans of the mythical 51st state.

Lonesome Texan Local Bastille's Lone Occupant

B. W. Knight is a lonesome man most of the time, these days. He is a prisoner in the Floyd county jail.

Jailed May 5 on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretense, Knight, a former Texan whose present address was given as Wayland, is unable to execute $1,000 bond.

Since that time he has suffered for lack of company at the jail. Tuesday of last week, one other man was in the jail. Next day, only Knight, Tuesday of this week he again was all alone.

Between times, he has had "visitors" as officers jailed 10 persons between last Thursday and Tuesday of this week. But those were soon released under bond. Bill Sexton was jailed Friday on a charge of possessing whiskey and wine for sale, and Bennie Blackburn was booked the same day on a shooting and wounding charge. Both went free under bond the next day. Two juveniles accused of car theft were jailed, but it developed they had merely "borrowed" the auto owned by the New York mother of one of the two, and they were freed. All others jailed were booked for drunkenness, and they, too, quickly gained bail, leaving Knight a lonely man.

HALL HEADS MED PROGRAM

Assistance To Students Of Medicine Is Planned, Glasgow Chairman Says

Dr. Russell L. Hall, head of the Floyd County Health Department, has been named to the board of trustees of the Rural Kentucky Medical Scholarship program, it was announced last week by Dr. C. C. Howard, Glasgow, chairman.

Dr. Hall, it was pointed out, was named because of his wide knowledge of the situation that exists in Eastern Kentucky and "because it was felt that he could make a major contribution to the scholarship program."

Each student entering medical school under the scholarship program must pledge himself to practice in a "needy" county of the state for at least the number of years he attended medical school under a scholarship grant. In many counties, particularly those where there is an acute need for physicians, this constitutes repayment of the loan. In other cases, the scholarship grant recipient is permitted to repay the loan over a period of years.

"I will be glad to interview any applicants," Dr. Hall said. "They should qualify as to need, their college grades should be 'B' or better, and they should have a strong desire to enter the medical profession."

Dr. Hall added that need, desire and scholastic ability are not all the criteria. "Good moral standards and an awareness of the responsibilities of a good citizen are among the others." Pointing to the responsibilities of parents, the doctor said the world would become "unbelievably better if we would instill in our children these qualities of beliefs: 1. Proper respect for parents (and the parents to conduct themselves so as to deserve this respect).

PICK CIVIL TERM JURORS

Circuit Court Session Is Scheduled June 6; Stephens Releases List

The next Floyd circuit court session will be a civil term and will convene Monday, June 6.

Names of jurors drawn for services during the term were announced this week by Circuit Clerk Henry Stephens. Their names and addresses follow:

W. B. Hall, Harold; Lewis Dingus, Printer; Mrs. Milford Caudill, Hi Hat; Elbert Little, Wayland; Claude Flannery, Martin; Irvine Gibson, Betsy Layne; Bhester Shelton, Drift; Joe Helton, West Prestonsburg; Basil Hamilton, Harold; Sarah Robinson, Allen; Morgan Howell, Drift; Myrtle Akers, Dana; Daniel Newsome, Teaberry; Mrs. Goble Puckett, Lancer; Keith Scott, Garrett; Sherman Prater, Bonanza; A. J. Brown, Price; John B. Huff, Drift; Estill Meeks, Betsy Layne.

Wilburn Tackett, East McDowell; Roe Fannin, Betsy Layne; Clarence Cyphers, Betsy Layne; Erma Crisp, Martin; S. B. Hale, Harold; Oscar Farley, Betsy Layne; Tommie Moore, Langley; Delmer Hall, McDowell; Russell Price, Drift; Emily Howell, Drift; Jimmie Justice, Osborne; Lois Cline, Betsy Layne; Will Cecil, Harold; Margie Osborne, Printer; Edd Hampton, Martin; Lexie Allen, Allen; John Parsons, McDowell; Charley Dingus, Martin; Cleve Shepherd, West Prestonsburg; Medley Garrett, Dwale; Wilson Crisp, Printer.

PASTURE TOUR SET MAY 28

Livestock Group Plans Look at Cattle Farms; Starts At Postoffice

The livestock-pasture tour, sponsored by the Floyd County Livestock Improvement Association, will start at the Prestonsburg postoffice May 28, it was announced this week by Robert M. Jones, county agent. The tour, starting at 8 a.m. sharp, will have as its first stop the farm of Henry Hale on the Middle Creek road. Second stop will be at the farm of Claude Allen. Hereford cattle will be inspected at both farms.

Third stop of the tour will be at the farm of Johnny Hayes, on Brush Creek, who grazes 55 head of Angus cattle. The last stop of the tour will be at the farm of O. J. Webb on U.S. 80 who also grazes Angus cattle.

Two Extension Service specialists from the University of Kentucky will accompany farmers on the tour, Jones noted. They will discuss production and management of pastures.

"Without pasture cattle or any other type of livestock would be unprofitable," Jones said. "Good pasture is the cheapest form of feed for livestock. The number of livestock on Floyd county farms could be increased 100 per cent by pasture land improvement."

Jones urges anyone interested in cattle production to attend and says the tour will end at noon.

George Clay Goble, 66, Native of Prestonsburg, Victim at Dayton, Ohio

George Clay Goble, 66 years old, native Prestonsburg man, died last Friday at his home in Dayton, Ohio, following long years of semi-invalidism as a result of heart disease.

Mr. Goble born here Dec. 23, 1893, the son of the late Judge James Goble and Elizabeth Clay Goble. He was a veteran of World War I, and it was during his military service that he incurred the disability from which he never recovered. He had lived in Dayton about 25 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Florence Sammons Goble, of Prestonsburg, and three sisters, Mrs. Lucy Jones, Mrs. Belva Quisenberry and Mrs. Lon S. Moles, all of Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday from the residence, and burial was made in Woodlawn cemetery at Dayton.

RESCUE SQUAD SLATES DEDICATION OF 'HOME'

Dedication of the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad's new $30,000 "home" here will be held Saturday, May 28, concluding three days during which the Squad will hold open house for the public.

The dedicatory exercises will climax an effort begun in April, 1959 "on faith and sheer nerve," as one squad-member described the building project.

Open house will begin May 26 and continue on through the following Saturday. The dedicatory day program will begin at 10 a.m. with a parade of Floyd county high school bands which will be followed by four Tennessee rescue squads and those of Pike and Floyd counties.

The dedicatory address will be delivered by Capt. Paul Medcalf, of the Greenville, Tenn. squad. Governor Bert Combs is expected to speak briefly. Also invited to attend the exercises are Ex-Governor A. B. Chandler, U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper and Congressman Carl D. Perkins. Capt. Graham Burchett, of the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad, will act as master of ceremonies.

Safe Driving Contest Winners Are Announced

Winner of the recent Jaycee sponsored Safe Driving Road--E-O was Martin Douglas May, Prestonsburg high school senior, it is announced by Stuart Stephens, publicity chairman. Second and third place winners were Clyde Thompson, and Bobby Camicia, also Prestonsburg high school students.

The Road-E-O was the third annual event of its kind sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

ARCHER HEADS STATE GROUP

Of General Practitioners; Med Organization Holds 4-Day Louisville Meet

Dr. John G. Archer, Prestonsburg physician, was installed as president of the Kentucky Chapter of the American Academy of General Practice, at the group's meeting in Louisville, last week. Dr. Archer succeeds Dr. Daryl P. Harvey.

The new president had been serving as chairman of the credentials committee of the organization. He is co-owner with his nephew, Dr. George P. Archer, of the Prestonsburg General Hospital.

The meeting, ending Friday noon, was held in the Kentucky hotel. Featuring the program was the speech of Dr. Carl S. Winters at the annual banquet Thursday, who discussed "The Fine Art of Living." The Oak Park, Ill., physician and surgeon, spoke in the Terrace room.

Outstanding practitioners and scientists presented papers at the four-day meet on various subjects, many of them of scientific importance. Dr. Harvey presided at the scientific session, Wednesday.

SLONE SHOT SECOND TIME

Blackburn Gives Bond In Trailer Incident; Victim To Recover, Said

James Slone, 33, is in Veterans hospital, Huntington, a gunshot victim for the second time in less than six months as the result of the second shooting incident to occur inside the trailer-home of Bennie Blackburn, near Lancer.

Blackburn, who is accused of the shooting of Slone, is at liberty under $10,000 bond.

Slone, who lives at the old Winchester mining camp, between Lancer and Emma, was shot last Thursday night. Doctors at the hospital said he will recover, barring unforeseen complications.

One bullet which hit Slone's chin shattered his jaw, and another entering at the shoulder broke his collar-bone, and it is believed that other and separate bullets wounded him in his neck and hand and grazed his ear and face. One bullet which lodged in his cheek and another which broke his collar-bone have not been removed, it was said.

Blackburn told The Times Monday he had no comment to make at this time. He did say that he and Slone had been good friends.

Commonwealth's Attorney Hollie Conley gave this version of the shooting and events leading to it after taking the wounded man's sworn statement at the Huntington hospital, Wednesday.

Blackburn drove to Slone's place on the day of the shooting, and the two went to where Blackburn had a garden on the Auxier road, then returned to Slone's home, Blackburn suggested the two of them go on a party that night, and as a consequence Slone came to the Blackburn home. They drank some beer and loaded beer into a car preparatory to leaving when Slone made a remark which drew Blackburn's resentment. Blackburn knocked Slone down, and when the latter asked permission to leave was bitterly berated, then shot.

The Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad came into existence when the need for such an organization became apparent after the tragic school bus accident of 1958. While the long search of the Big Sandy for missing bodies was being made, rescue squads from Tennessee came here repeatedly to help. Their leaders conferred with Floyd men engaged in the heartbreaking search.

OFFICERS LIST IS RELEASED FOR PRIMARY

Quiet Marks Campaign In Congressional Races; Voting Slated Tuesday

A primary election campaign, possibly the strangest in the history of Floyd county politics, was nearing its end this week as next Tuesday will see the decision arrived at by vote of the electorate.

The campaign—and it is that, although not a speech has been made in this county, nor a campaign card handed out or nailed to a post or tree—is the prelude to the nomination of candidates for the offices of U. S. Senator and Representative to the U. S. House of Representatives.

The candidates, of whom the voters have heard little, will appear on the ballots, in this order:

Democrats for Senator—Jesse Nicholas Ryan Cecil, Louisville; Wilton B. Cupp, Covington; James L. Delk, Frankfort; Keen Johnson, Richmond; John Young Brown, Lexington.

Republicans for Senator—John Sherman Cooper, Somerset; and Thurman Jerome Hamlin, London.

Democrats for the Seventh district Congressional seat—Carl D. Perkins, Hindman; Ralph H. Sherman, Hazard; Canton Reynolds, Malle.

Republicans for Congress—Herbert Rowland, Ashland; and F. Byrd Hogg, Whitesburg.

Officers to serve at this county's 60 voting places were named Monday by the county's new election commission which is composed of Donald L. Meade, Democrat, Mrs. Josephine Evans, Republican, and Sheriff Hershell Warrens, Democrat. Names of these officers follow:

Prestonsburg No. 2—Russell Hagedorn, Bill Pettrey, Edward Leslie, Virginia Stephens.

Depot—Elsie Calhoun, Dexta Baldridge, M. T. Sparks, Green (See Story No. 4, Page 5)

Auxier—E. G. Whyte, William Hamlin, Juanita Hager, Will Collins.

Middle Creek—Henry Hale, Robbie Prater, Henry Hicks, Hobart Reffitt.

Spurlock—Mrs. Hubert Stephens, Fred Tussey, Jim Ousley, Francis Branham.

William Parrott, 81, Dies At Daughter's Home On Middle Creek, May 15

William Parrott, 81, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed Allen, of Middle Creek, Sunday, May 15.
Parrott was the son of Henry and Catherine Merritt Parrott. He was preceded in death by his wife. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Beverly Hackworth, Ada, Ohio, Mrs. June Shepherd, Beaver, Ohio, and Mrs. Ed Allen, West Prestonsburg; and one son, Henry Parrott, address unknown; 12 grandchildren, and 23 great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Stone, Prestonsburg, and Victoria Hall, Bonanza.
The funeral was held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at graveside with the Rev. Wendell Stephens and Wallis Calhoun officiating.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Having read the report signed by Henry P. Scaif, foreman of the Grand Jury, in the May 5, 1960 issue of the Floyd County Times. With regret of this department, renews the action taken: It causes us to wonder if the other recommendations were based on the same type information. We feel that investigations are necessary and should be given accurately so as not to hurt anyone.

To set the records straight we of this department have given both of our time and money for the benefit of the public. Our annual expenses are twelve to fifteen hundred dollars, of which the Floyd County Fiscal Court has for the past few years contributed five hundred dollars per year. This being done under provisions of Section 75.050 of the 1950 Legislative Supplement to the Kentucky Revised Statutes, as provided in KRS 75.010, this opinion given by Asst. Attorney General M. B. Hollifield, July 16, 1951.

We further state that no one of the department has ever received one cent, either for expenses or services rendered in fire calls. We furnish our own clothing, transportation and pay our own medical bills which result from an accident while going to or fighting fire. Furthermore, we have never made a charge on any call. All City Departments DO MAKE charges.

The department has responded to all fires when they were called with the exception of forest fires, for which we are not equipped to fight. We of course cannot be responsible to attend a fire when we are not called or someone calls the wrong number through excitement and we know nothing about it. It is true there is a possibility there would be a fire sometime when no one would be available, since our department is strictly volunteer. We do have to make our living. But to our knowledge this has never happened.

We regret that some people who do nothing but criticize could object to the Fiscal Court's contribution to this cause. Since it cost all tax payers of our county less than one half cent each. Do you object donating any fire department a half cent a year?

HONOR BANQUET HONORS 93

The Garrett school paid tribute recently to 93 high school students and parents with an honor banquet. Those students attending the banquet had achieved a B average or better for this year's academic work. Each honor student had the privilege of inviting his parents.

Charles Clark, principal of the school, spoke on the subject, "Why an Honor Banquet." He challenged all students to be better students, to become more interested citizens, and to become more capable professional men and women.

This is the first honor banquet to be given in the Garrett school, but plans are being made to make it an annual affair.
Honor students for the school year 1959-60 are:
Connie Adkins, Russell Allen, Donna Beatty, Barbara Bolen, Burnis Castle, Helen Castle, Patricia Centers, Lionel Chaffins, Nella Fay Chaffins, Jon Clark, Gene Coburn, Sallie Conley, Yvonne Cox, Julia Francis, Rondal Francis, Margie Frasure, Sielah Gearheart, Yvonne Goble, Madgene Green, Gertrude Hancock, Beatrice Handshoe, Bessie Handshoe, Janet Handshoe, Boneka Hoover, Anna Lea Huff, Brenda Huff, Freda Huff, Brenda Johnson, Daina Martin, Joan Martin, John Martin, Kenneth Moore, Coy Neeley, Rucy Mae Neelley, Dianne Prater, Geraldine Prater, Juanita Pratt, Raben Pratt, Carrie Rice, Patricia Rister, Phyllis Scott, Evalde Shepherd, Wava Shepherd, Larry Stone, Gertrude Sparkman, Janetta Turner, Mary Tune, Brenda Wallace, Barbara Warrick, Dana Whitaker, Irene Wicker, Renessa Wicker, Phyllis Wiley.

Parents and teachers who attended the banquet were: Mr. and Mrs. Garland Martin, Mrs. Sarah Turner, Mrs. Andy Bolen, Mrs. Lona Green, Mrs. Georgia Hunt, Mrs. Evelyn Cox, Mrs. Naomi Shepherd, Mrs. Girdle Chaffins, Mrs. Stella Shepherd, Mrs. Marie Mullins, Miss Betty Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Burnis Centers, Mrs. Sylvia Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sloan, Mrs. Sallie Scott, Charles Clark, Billy R. W.S.C.S. MEETS

Mrs. Galloway Lafferty was hostess to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church in her home Tuesday night. Mrs. Euna Laven presided over the meeting. Mrs. G. L. Gray was in charge of the program. "The Light of the World" was the topic. A worship table set with a large white candle representing the light of the world, surrounded by six empty candle-holders, was the focal part of the program. Several members placed lighted tapers in the empty holders presenting a special significance. Mrs. Lucy Kinzer placed a green lighted taper in symbolizing the bringing of light into the world; Mrs. Maude Snodgrass placed an orange, signifying the pledge to study. Mrs. Jewell Allen's taper was blue, indicating the service to the church. Mrs. George Laven placed a yellow, a symbol of friendship and fellowship, to the people of the world. Mrs. Edna Mae Callison had a red candle, for understanding and love for all people, and Mrs. Marie Stephens' violet taper was symbolic of gifts, the W.S.C.S. pledge of heart and work. Mrs. Tincy Crisp gave a talk, "Open Our Eyes That We May See." Scripture was read by Mrs. Lucy Kinzer and Mrs. Lafferty. A pledge service was held at the close of the program. Mrs. Gray read an article, dealing with the activities of the W.S.C.S. in 33 countries around the world, and Mrs. Nancy Louder questioned her in the role of a new-comer and new member. Committees gave reports on various projects, with a discussion of a vacation Bible school, and plans were completed for a study course which is now being held in the church each night at 7:30 with Mrs. Tincy Crisp as leader. Luke's Portrait of Christ is the subject. Mrs. Lafferty, assisted by her daughter, Rita, and Delores Callison served a dessert course to Mesdames Lucy Kinzer, Flora Gray, Tincy Crisp, Maude Snodgrass, Marie Stephens, Nancy Louder, Jewel Allen, Edna Mae Callison, Euna Laven. The June meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Euna Laven, with Mrs. Tincy Crisp in charge of the program.

time and he seldom makes the office before 9:30.

He is a liar in old clothes who wouldn't be caught dead with a spot on his tie, but wipes his hands on his pants after digging worms and jumps on his hat to make it look seasoned.

He is a man who can remember in what stream he used what fly, the exact spot where he caught that big one five years ago, but can't remember to mail that letter in his coat pocket.

Sometimes he is a bashful guy who, although he never enters a general conversation, will talk to anyone who will listen after a fishing trip and usually repeats at least twice the story about the big one that evaded him because some dope upstream sneezed.

He's the same old miser, who buys meat supposedly for his dog and takes it home for his wife to make stew with, that blows his whole salary for a new spinner, charts the Queen Mary for a fishing trip and feeds the fish better bait than he ever ate in his life.

While fishing, he's on the same level with Bankers and Bums but back at the office is the same old drudge in the wrinkled, gray suit that jumps every time the boss buzzes him.

Some species are so dumb about fish that they think a Big Mouth is an extrovert—a rainbow is what has a pot of gold at the end—and a Northern Pike is a main road to Canada, but he's got heart and is as eager as the proverbial beaver.

But usually, he's a lovable guy, with a pipe in his mouth. A liar sometimes, an optimist always, and, despite a few gross exaggerations, he's closer to God and all He offers than at any other time—he is a Fisherman.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

When the Creator had made all the good things, it seemed there was still some dirty work to do, so He made the beasts and the reptiles and the poisonous insects; and when He had finished, He still had some old scraps left over that were too bad to put into the rattlesnakes, the hyena, the scorpion and the skunk; so he put all these together, covered it with suspicion, wrapped it with jealousy, marked it with a yellow streak, and called it a KNOCKER.

This product was so fearful to contemplate that He had to counteract it, so He took a sunbeam, put into it the heart of a child, the brain of a man, wrapped it in civic pride, covered it with brotherly love, made it a believer in equality and justice, a worker for and supporter of every good thing in the community, and called it a BOOSTER; and thenceforth mortal man has had the privilege of choosing his associates. — WILLIAMS: The Master Book of Humorous Illustrations.

Aged Pike-Co. Minister Succumbs Delivering Sermon At Home Church

Wallace Man Blackburn, Sr., 76, of Mayflower, Pike county, was fatally stricken with a heart attack at 12:15 p.m. Sunday, May 8. A lay minister, he died while delivering a sermon at the United Baptist church at Mayflower.

Blackburn died almost immediately, Coroner John George Call, of Pikeville, said. The minister was a former resident of Mare Creek, this county, for several years. A native of German, this county, he was the son of Wes and Milly Praley Blackburn. He was a member of the United Baptist church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Dora Ratliff Blackburn; two sons, Wallace Blackburn, Jr., and Glenn Blackburn, both of Mayflower; a daughter, Mrs. Dixie Cline, of Broadbottom, Pike county; two brothers, Burley Blackburn, McCombs, and Van Blackburn, of Mayflower.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m., May 11, at the United Baptist church at Mayflower. Officiating ministers were the Revs. Willie Conn, Arthur Priest, Delmon Stanley, Johnny King and others. Burial was in the family cemetery at Mayflower.

Once organized, the squad began planning a building of its own. It procured from the City of Prestonsburg a 99-year lease on a building site at $1 a year. Then the "faith and nerve" phase began as members started work, depending on public support and their own efforts.

The building to be dedicated May 28 is a two-story concrete block structure, 80 by 50 feet. The first floor houses equipment; the second contains a kitchen, meeting hall, offices and recreation room. The only debt against it is a note of $4,000. Before the second floor was completed the building was appraised at $22,800, and its estimated worth is now $30,000.

Although only $9,371.41 has actually been spent on the building project, that low outlay in cash was made possible by donations of materials and 14,735 man-hours of labor by squad members.

The squad's equipment—all paid for—is valued at $31,000. Some was acquired through outright gifts, some at bargain prices from the State Department of Property Utilization.

While all this has been going on the squad has answered emergency calls far away as Green-up county, has rendered service in Martin and Pike counties as well as in Floyd. Enthusiasm for the work of meeting the needs of those in danger or distress runs as high today as it did when the squad was first formed. Evidence of this continuing interest is reflected in the fact that only those members who have died or have moved outside the community have been lost from the original squad.

Sheriff Hershell Warrens said, the morning after the shooting, he had been told of a bloodstained shotgun having been found inside the trailer. Slone at first told his father, Allen Slone, that he had shot himself with a shotgun. He explained to Commonwealth's Attorney Conley, however, that he made that statement to prevent his father's becoming involved in the trouble.

Slone said he was unarmed. Conley said doctors told him the area surrounding the wound in his hand was powder-burned.

Blackburn's trailer was the scene last Nov. 3 of the fatal shooting of Bill Buck Baker. Blackburn was indicted for the slaying of Baker but his trial has not yet been held. He also is under $5,000 peace bond as a consequence of that shooting.

The Commonwealth's Attorney said a peace warrant may be sworn out today (Thursday) for Blackburn in the Slone shooting.

Slone was shot in the mouth, early this year, in a fight near Allen with Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis. He recovered from this wound at the same Veterans hospital where he is now a patient.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, it is highly desirable, in order that the health of the inhabitants of the City of Prestonsburg may be preserved, that all citizens and residents participate in cleaning up of their property, including vacant lots.

Now, therefore, I, Edward B. Leslie, Mayor of the City of Prestonsburg, do proclaim the period beginning May 20, 1960, to and including June 15, 1960, as Clean-Up period and I urge all of the citizens and residents of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to co-operate in the cleaning up of their property, in order that Prestonsburg may be a cleaner city in which to live.

Given under my hand as Mayor of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, this May 18, 1960.

Moore Diets, Loses Poundage In Health Quest

(Reprinted from Huntington Herald-Dispatch)

By GORDON MOORE

Dieting in the United States has become as popular as baseball, the Hot Dog and Marilyn Monroe. Various people diet for a multitude of reasons but the end result is the same—lose the bulk around the middle. In my particular case, the basic reason is the result of a check-up at the Cleveland Clinic during which the question was posed, "are you living to eat or eating to live?"

As of May 1, and the scales zooming to the 263-pound mark, I uttered a meek reply, "This excess-tissue is the result of living to eat."

Now the worm has turned and it's eating to exist, since my creditors would hate to see me pass to the great beyond at such an early age, also this makes my life insurance company very happy.

Exactly 19 days ago, I began this noble experiment with all the determination and willpower mustered by my inability to don six or eight of last year's summer suits.

To date, the results have been most gratifying. However, the suffering over watching a piece of banana pie or a cool refreshing beer pass my eyes has caused untold turmoil in my turgulent stomach, not to mention passing up bread, potatoes, salad dressing, salt, cake, candy, spaghetti, ice cream and all the other finer morsels.

With 17½ pounds now drooled off and down to a mere 245½ pounds, I have increased the dairy business of several area firms through the purchase of cottage cheese and skimmed milk and the fruit industry is appreciating my efforts since the sale of their products has shown a remarkable up-trend.

Anticipating a great consumption of carrots, lettuce, celery, cabbage, asparagus, peas and beans and the like, I have turned to gardening for exercise along with eyeing the possibility of cutting the household budget for my diet requirements.

Fish have very few calories and are considered a fine diet food, if they are not fried. However, my early-spring efforts to stock the deep-freeze with these choice morsels have been virtually nil.

The bi-weekly golf game has been most rewarding, since I usually spend most of the time in the rough hunting for lost balls. Now when seeking the little white object in the high vegetation, I clip the "plantin" which makes excellent fill when dieting, but is about as tasty as a two-week old hamburger in July.

I have not fallen victim to any weight-losing gimmicks, taken any pills, or listened to the neighbors relate how they lost this and then by eating bananas for two weeks or eggs for a month. But through sheer willpower and an overwhelming desire to once again return to the 200-pound college football weight, I face each meal with renewed enthusiasm and vigor.

Quelling my tremendous appetite has been assisted by three packages of chewing tobacco and eight to 10 cigars daily.

In attendance at parties and banquets it's easy to begin to tell about your present physical status, but the conversation is rapidly taken over by the host or hostess about his or her own dieting ventures and thus I return to my "shell" and munch on my vegetables in order to secure my daily 1,800 calories.

One delicacy we'll keep is the charcoal steaks on the outdoor grill or at the lodge on nearby Dewey Lake, but the other related ingredients have gone.

Mrs. Inis M. Elliott, Dies At Hospital Door; Was Heart Attack Victim

Mrs. Inis Meade Elliott, 39, of Bevinville, was claimed by a heart attack Friday at 10 a.m. as she was entering Our Lady of the Way hospital for treatment. She collapsed at the street door and died instantly.

Mrs. Elliott was a daughter of the late Frank and Martie Lawson Meade. Her husband, Berlin Elliott, survives. Surviving are five sons: Paul T., Stanley B., Michael, Bruce R., and Danny Ray, all at home. A brother and five sisters surviving are Ishmael Meade and Mrs. Lexie Estep, both of Chicago, Miss Joyce Meade, Miss Meranda Meade and Mrs. Merinda Spears, all of Printer.

Funeral rites were held at 10 a.m. Monday at the Little Nancy Regular Baptist church at Price, the Revs. Jerry Hall, Woodrow Dye and others officiating. Burial was made in the Lawson cemetery under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

MISS SAMMONS IN TRAINING

May Beth Sammons has been notified that she is one of 25 to be accepted in the new College of Health and Nursing now being completed in conjunction with the new medical center at the University of Kentucky in Lexington.

Miss Sammons, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Sammons, of Martin, is a graduate of Martin high school and is currently attending the University of Kentucky. She will enter training in September of this year.

WHEELWRIGHT HIGH HOLDS STUDENTS HONOR BANQUET

Wheelwright high school held its first honor banquet Friday evening at the school cafeteria. Honored were 132 students from grades seven to 12, according to Boone Hall, principal.

Raymond Baldwin, a senior, served as master of ceremonies at the program planned by the student body. Lawrence Price, former Wayland high school principal and now head of the county guidance program, was guest speaker.

"This was our first honor banquet at the school and we hope to make it an annual occasion," said Principal Hall. "Certainly, all our schools should place more attention upon academic achievement because herein lies the key to future success and the hope of democracy."

Honor students at the banquet were:

Seventh grade—Gregory Blair, J. R. Bates, Jackie Caudill, Joanna Davis, Delores Crum, Richard Carter, Sharon Collins, Jamie Fields, Sue Hall, Ernestine Hall, Mary Lynn Hall, Sarah Hall, Anita Hall, Charles Hamby, Janet Osborne, Kay Tackett, Carolyn Thomas, Bessina Wiskiver, Nicky Osborne, Russell Wiley, Ross Harris, Johnny Holman, Bertha Jackson, Ellen Sue Johnson, Katy Johnson, Phyllis Johnson, Wilma Jones, Mary Sue Little, Sandra Little, Sharon Holbrook.

BABE DIES

Johnny Jones, one-month-old son of Homer and May Jones, of East McDowell, died at home at approximately 5 a.m. Friday. The babe was found dead in bed. The cause of death was not determined but it was said the child's four brothers and sisters were suffering with measles. Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday at the home and burial was made in the John Hall cemetery at East McDowell under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

Two Floyd-Co. Women Attend Democratic Meet At Washington, May 7-9

Mrs. M. M. Collins, of Lackey, and Mrs. T. J. Bingham represented the Floyd County Democratic Women's Club at the 1960 Campaign Conference for Democratic Women in Washington, D. C., May 7-9. Democratic women from all 50 states attended the conference.

Members of the Kentucky group were breakfast guests of Congressman Carl D. Perkins at the Sheraton Park hotel, were taken through both Houses of Congress by Congressman Stubblefield, of the First Kentucky district, and later toured the White House. At Ashland the Eastern Kentucky group was served tea before leaving for Washington.

Largest Longhorn Steer Horn Collection In World Is Owned By Floyd Native, Now Coloradoan

Three weeks ago a 200-specimen collection of Longhorn steer horns was displayed at the Fort Collins, Colo., that attracted thousands of visitors. It was part of the world's greatest collection and it was owned by a Floyd county native, Ralph (Tiny) Music.

Music, a son of W. Trigg Music and Mollie Adams Music, of Elk City, Okla., was taken to Texas when he was two years old. Ralph began to collect the horns of the vanishing breed of steers 50 years ago. Assisted in recent years by his brother-in-law, W. R. Wrigley, Fort Worth, Texas, he has parlayed his boyhood hobby into a profitable business.

Music never sold a horn until last December but since then, thousands have been sold for hatracks, lamp bases, ash trays, gun racks and other unusual home accessories.

One horn displayed by Music at Fort Collins, was a specimen measuring eight feet four inches from tip to tip and another, a set of bull horns, weighs 50 pounds and is said to be the largest in the world. The latter horn is always awarded a prize when it is entered in competition at fairs and other show places.

Hollywood is Music's best customer, he says. Film actors like the horns for their homes and a properly mounted horn brings from $5 to $2,000, depending on its features.

His collection headquarters is at a restaurant, The Country Inn, he owns at Loveland, Colo. Here are thousands of the horns, crammed in the restaurant and in a warehouse nearby. Music notes that there are only four or five other horn dealers in the United States so competition is no problem.

Music is in love with his horns and the Colorado country. "My health is real good, the summers are nice and cool and I love it here," he writes Mrs. M. M. Collins, an aunt, of Lackey.

Social Security Units Need For Retirement Explained By Morris

To qualify for social security benefits at retirement, how many work units will you need? "Many people don't know," James A. Morris, Social Security administration field representative, said today. Many possibly don't even know there is such a requirement; others mistakenly think they can qualify for payments with only a year or two of work.

"Most people will need several years of credit," Morris continued, "and the chances are good that you will, too." The exact number you will need depends on when you reach retirement age; 62 for women, 65 for men. People reaching retirement age now need 4½ years of earnings. Younger people will need more. For example, anyone now under age 54 will need 10 years—the maximum.

Since payments in the future depend on your earnings now, it's important that you receive all credits due. If you work for wages, you should be certain your employer reports them with your correct social security number. If you are self-employed, you should be careful to use your correct social security number on your tax returns.

For additional information about the number of credits needed to qualify for social security benefits, get in touch with the Pikeville Social Security office at Second and Division streets, or contact Morris at the Prestonsburg Employment office any Thursday between 9:30 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Milligan Is Named 'Man of the Year'

H. K. Milligan, Prestonsburg insurance man, has been selected by State Insurance Company of Kentucky as the company's "Man of the Year." Mr. Milligan's production of new insurance business in Floyd and adjoining counties has surpassed the production record of all the company's other agents, it was announced.

The Prestonsburg man, due to the increased business he has secured for his company, qualifies for the "President's Honor Society."

Milligan, with his wife Jean, who is the daughter of Bill and Josephine Gray, and three children, Brenda, Kay and Larry, reside on Riverside Drive.

SOIL CONSERVATION

By L. R. JOHNSON
Soil Conservationist

The hills of Floyd county are greener this spring. Tree seedlings, nearing one million, have been planted by farmers and interested persons of the county.

"Nearly 2½ million trees were set in Floyd county during the past five years," said L. R. Johnson, soil conservationist. "The growing awareness of the importance of tree covered slopes has been very gratifying. Trees totaling 837,500 were ordered this year."

Tree orders ranged from small farmers who received as few as 1,000 seedlings to an order of 42,000 to be set in Jenny Wiley State Park.

Planting bars to aid in setting trees, were furnished by the Floyd County Soil Conservation District at no charge to the farmer. The district greatly appreciates the promptness of the farmers who have returned the planting bars.

Via Is Named Manager Of Accounting; Garrett Is Heart Attack Victim

John H. Via, Jr., assistant accounting manager and assistant secretary of Kentucky Power Company, has been promoted to accounting manager at the company's general office in Ashland. He succeeds W. B. Garnett, 64, who died April 12 of a heart attack at his home.

In making the announcement, F. M. Baker, vice president and general manager of Kentucky Power, said that Mr. Via will continue as assistant secretary. In addition, Mr. Via has been elected assistant treasurer of the company by the board of directors.

A veteran of 22 years' service in the utility industry, he started in 1938 with Appalachian Power, a sister company in the American Electric Power System and joined Kentucky Power in 1939. After serving in several capacities in the accounting department, he became assistant accounting manager in 1950.

In Woodford county, Ky., is the home of Capt. Jack Jouett, who saved Thomas Jefferson from capture by the British. In 1781 he made the historic ride from Cuckoo Tavern to Charlottesville to warn Jefferson of the approach of the British. Jouett was the father of famous artist Matthew Harris Jouett.

Teen Banquet Scheduled At Wise Restaurant Here; Heintzelman Is Director

The second annual "Teen Banquet" for high school sophomores, juniors and seniors of this area, will be held Friday, May 27, at 7 p.m. at the Wise Restaurant here. It was announced this week by the Rev. Dan Heintzelman, of Martin, director of the event.

"Hundreds of towns and cities over the country have such an annual event for their youth," the minister said. Last year's, the first such to be sponsored in this area, was held at Pikeville. The May 27 banquet is primarily planned for high school youth from Pike and Floyd counties, but those from other counties also are invited, he said.

The Rev. Heintzelman pointed out that some Christian young people do not attend the junior-senior proms held by their classes and that the "Teen Banquet" provides a wholesome and inspiring substitute.

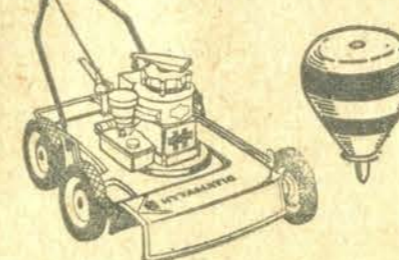

The banquet is sponsored by the Mountain Evangelical Fellowship. Ray Childress, of the Southland Bible Institute, will be toastmaster, and special music will be provided by the Rev. Robert Dennison, dean of the Institute, and Mrs. Dennison.

All seniors attending will be given special honor. Highlight of the evening will be the showing of the Youth For Christ film, "Going Steady."

Tickets may be purchased through Bob Herald, Vernon Lafferty, Joan Ousley and Helen Reffett, of Prestonsburg high school; Willa Fay Dings and Mark Dings, of Martin high school, and Sonja Ousley, of Maytown high school. All tickets must be purchased by Monday, May 23.

Shop for Moneys' Worth When Buying Furniture

When buying upholstered furniture, you usually get what you pay for if you buy from a reputable dealer, according to Marian Bartlett, University of Kentucky specialist in home furnishings. As a general rule, your best buys as to construction and materials will be in the middle price range.

The kind of padding and filling used in a piece of upholstered furniture affects its comfort, durability and shape-holding power. Down still is used but other fillers are preferred for resiliency and lower costs. Other padding used are curled hair, rubberized hair, cellulose pads and fillers and vegetable fiber. Vegetable fibers might be sisal, spanish moss or blends of these. Palm fiber and excelsior, used in low-priced furniture, should be avoided.

In 1624 Cornelius Von Drebbel, a Hollander, invented the first submarine. It was oar-propelled and capable of submerging to 15 feet.

When selecting rhubarb, look for stalks that are crisp and tender; avoid wilted stalks as they may be tough, stringy and wasteful.

FORESTRY PROGRAM

The state is initiating an all-out forestry program this year that will result in a record planting of 18 million tree seedlings, according to Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt. He said the biggest planting of any previous year was 13,500,000 seedlings. This year's crop will come from the western Kentucky nursery, Wyatt added.

HOPKINS' HOMER WINS TITLE FOR MCDOWELL HIGH SCHOOL

McDowell's Dare Devils downed the Wheelwright Trojans, 6-4, Sunday afternoon to win the Floyd county high school district baseball championship and earn the right to represent this county in the regional baseball tournament at Grayson, May 25-26.

Rightfielder Ronnie Hopkins uncorked a home run with two men on in the third to pace a five-run uprising for the winners. The round-ripper was his third of the tournament.

Wheelwright bounced back for four runs in the bottom of the third as righthander Donald Tuttle gave up five of the seven singles made off his delivery. He weathered the storm, however, and finished as the winning pitcher.

McDowell had advanced to the finals by downing Martin, 4-3, and Prestonsburg, 16-0, while Wheelwright moved into the championship game by drubbing Auxier, 9-1, and Betsy Layne, 6-0.

Weddington Named To '60 Pacemaker Club

Coastal States Life Insurance Company of Atlanta has named Joe D. Weddington, of Prestonsburg, as one of 34 agents who have been elected members of Coastal's 1960 Pacemaker Club. Membership in this club is symbolic of achieving an outstanding sales record. Only 34 of the company's highest producers were able to meet the requirements for membership in this elite organization.

All 34 Pacemaker members and their wives will meet at the club's all-expense-paid annual convention which will be held at the Grove Park Inn, Asheville, N. C., July 13 through July 17.

CANEY GRADUATES' PICNIC FOR ALUMNI

Caney Junior College's 1960 graduates opened this year's Commencement Week with a picnic last Sunday afternoon for the Caney Alumni Executive Council and other alumni guests, individually invited by graduating students.

A dinner, games and a program were presented. Welcoming the alumni visitors was Kenneth E. Dale, representing the Student Council. Alumni president Devert Owens presented the final talk, thanking the current graduates for this opportunity for fellowship and inviting their active participation in alumni affairs.

Other Alumni Council or Committee members present were with their wives: Charles Clark, of Garrett; Dan T. Martin, of Hindman; Boone Hall, of Wheelwright; Arnold Lowe, of Eastern; Dr. Joe Taylor Hyden, of Martin; John Chris Cornett, of Hindman; and Commodore Stone, of Pippa Passes; Mrs. Sylvia Hall Newman and Mrs. Oma Elkins, of Hi Hat; Mrs. Buena Ramsey Howell, of Price, and Mrs. Elizabeth Stone, of Larkslane.

Food habits of families in the South differ from those of families living in other regions. Southern families eat more grain products and fats; they eat less meat, milk, potatoes, other vegetables and fruit.

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

By virtue of their triumph in the Floyd county district baseball tournament, McDowell's Dare Devils will be making their second trip to the Eastern Kentucky regional high school tournament at Grayson, May 25-26.

Since the revival of the sport three years ago at the Left-Beaver Creek school, Coach Estill Hall's teams have won 31 games and lost only five, and three of the losses were by one run.

This season, the team has posted a 12-1 mark. Their leading hurler is Donald Tuttle, who is currently 5-0. He won three and lost one as a sophomore and sported a 4-1 mark last season for an overall high school record of 12-2. Ronnie Hopkins has a 4-1 mark this season to go with last year's 3-0 mark. Ronald Shelton holds a 2-0 count for this season, and Bill Brown is 1-0.

In addition to being an outstanding pitcher, Hopkins, who doubles as an outfielder, is the team's leading hitter at .516 and has three doubles, two tripples and three home runs with 18 runs batted in. Other long-ball hitters are Donald Tuttle, Clark Shelton and Wise Clemons.

In compiling the 12-1 record, McDowell has scored 114 runs while limiting opponents to 26. The team has out-hit the opposition, 109 to 38.

IN ARMY DEMONSTRATION

Army Pfc. Donald R. Blevins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Blevins, 22 Akron St., New London, O., formerly of Haroid, recently participated with other personnel from the 4th Armored Division in a special "Power for Peace" demonstration in Grafenwohr, Germany.

Blevins, a messenger in Company D of the division's 54th Infantry in Heilbronn, Germany, entered the Army in December, 1958, and received basic training at Fort Hood, Texas. He arrived overseas in June, 1959.

Before entering the Army, the 19-year-old soldier was employed by Parsons Garage. He is a 1958 graduate of New London high school.

TIMES WANT ADS PAY

The Boston Red Sox and the Chicago White Sox had scouts on hand for one game of the Floyd county district baseball tournament. They were interested in McDowell's Donald Tuttle and Ronnie Hopkins.

Pikeville high school football coach Charlie Deaton will tutor the Kentucky All-Stars in the Williamson, West Virginia Kiwanis football game, August 20.

Pat Dale, assistant football coach at Paintsville high school for the past two seasons, will return to his native Mt. Sterling to coach next season.

James Mahan and Ralph Clark, last season's standout Jenkins high school football players, will enroll at Eastern State College, next September.

Three 15th region senior basketball stars will join the East forces in the annual East-West All-Star basketball series in Jackson, Wheelwright and Pikeville, June 7, 9 and 10. Bobby Vicars, of Wheelwright, Paul Setser, of Meade Memorial, and Don Ratliff, of Pikeville, give the region good representation.

GRIFFITH PARTICIPATES

Yakima Firing Center, Wash. — Army Pvt. Billie D. Griffith, son of Mrs. Rebecca Spurlock, of Printer, Ky., is scheduled to participate with other personnel from the 8th Field Hospital in Exercise Elk Horn, a Strategic Army Corps (STRAC) field maneuver, at the Yakima (Wash.) Firing Center, May 9-23.

Elk Horn, one of the year's largest Army maneuvers, will provide nearly 18,000 participating troops with training in all phases of modern warfare under simulated combat conditions. For greater realism, some 2,500 troops will play the part of an aggressor force which is assumed to be attacking the U. S. from the north.

Griffith, a ward attendant at the hospital at Fort Lewis, Wash., entered the Army in September, 1959, and received basic combat training at Fort Hood, Texas.

The 19-year-old soldier attended Martin high school.

P-burg Little League Issues Urgent S.O.S. To Prestonsburg Parents

Formation of the 1960 Little League here will be discussed at a meeting May 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion building, Earl McDonald, 1959 Little League president, announced this week.

McDonald listed the lack of participation by townsmen and parents as a principal factor in the recent decline of Little League activities.

Money is relatively easy to collect in comparison to getting parents and interested people to work in behalf of the Little League, he said.

Umpires, groundskeepers, managers, coaches, substitute umpires and coaches are urgently needed, McDonald said. Mothers are urged to take an active part in the Little League.

McDonald said that in other towns mothers' organizations contribute important work to the Little League. It is hoped, he said, that Prestonsburg mothers will be as active as those of other towns.

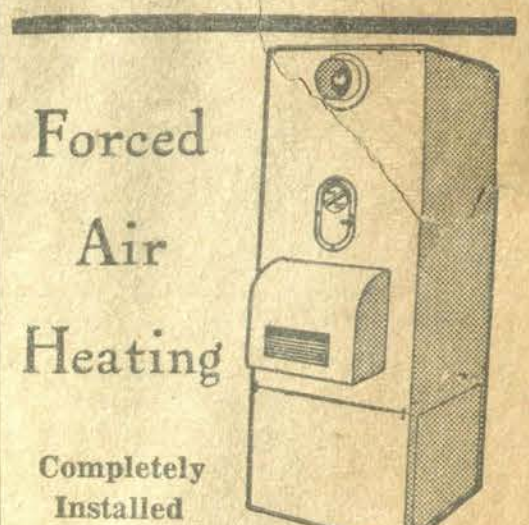

Six teams will take part in the league, four from Prestonsburg, one each from David and Auxier.

Registration blanks will be given at the Prestonsburg grade school to all interested youngsters. The blanks will also be taken to the meeting, McDonald said.

Election of officers for the coming year will be held, McDonald urged that all residents interested in the youth of Prestonsburg be present at the meeting.

Chevy hums through Chicago traffic to the tune of 21 miles to the gallon!

Working for Bumper and Auto of Illinois, Inc., ten 1960 Chevrolet pickups battle Chicago traffic day after day. Each truck averages about 2,000 miles a month in this wearing stop-and-start delivery service. Mr. Harry Haller, General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who leases the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs. And our records show that the '60 Chevies are giving us as much as 21 miles per gallon... with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon. Mister, these are our kind of trucks!"

Truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevrolet performance and economy, they're telling you how great that new Torsion-Spring Ride is. How it soaks up road shock and vibration. Protects fragile loads. Lets you run at faster, safe speeds to get more work done in a day. Drive a torsion-spring Chevy soon. We'll rest our case on that one ride.

Tackett Is Appointed Johnson Campaign Head, Broadbent Announces

Edwin Hershel Tackett, of Prestonsburg, has been named Floyd county chairman for Keen Johnson. It was announced this week by Smith Broadbent, Jr., state chairman of former Governor Johnson's campaign for the Democratic nomination as U. S. Senator in the primary May 24.

In announcing appointment of Tackett as county chairman, Broadbent said: "Mr. Tackett is a citizen whom his neighbors will recognize as able and public-spirited. They appreciate what the outcome of the Senate race means to both Kentucky and the nation—and, I may add, even in the world scene. A broad range of interests is involved, from the hopes and fears of the individual farmer and businessman to international policy and security.

"We have asked him to set up an organization in every precinct of Floyd county. We are asking also every friend and supporter of Keen Johnson to join them, to nominate this distinguished Kentuckian on May 24 and to elect him in November."

Neuritis Pain Like An Electric Shock

FLOYD COUNTY GRAND JURY REPORT, APRIL TERM, 1960

To the Honorable Judge Edward P. Hill, Jr., of the Floyd Circuit Court: We, the members of the April term, 1960, of the Floyd County Grand Jury respectfully submit the following report.

The Grand Jury is composed of five women and seven men, and all but one member had no prior experience on Grand Jury duty. To all of us it was an interesting experience in a necessary function of judicial procedure. We have measured our obligations as jurors against our conscience and feel an inner satisfaction in having discharged our work with dedication to the task with which we were charged.

We have been in session seven days, examined approximately 100 witnesses and returned 50 true bills. This number of true bills is low for Floyd county with a population of approximately 55,000 persons. This is not prima facie evidence, however, of a low crime rate. Rather, it is evidence of public apathy. To substantiate this it is only necessary to point out that no witness, with three exceptions of law enforcement officers, appeared before the Grand Jury to prefer charges unless he was angry at somebody or was possessed of some motive other than cooperation in law enforcement. It reminds us of the honest men prosper. "We might old judge, "When thieves fall out paraphrase this a bit to say that "When Citizens fall out the Grand Jury can indict law breakers."

This situation, in our judgment, is not only regrettable, but possessed of portents of future civic and social evil. We doubt that the mass of people approve of lax law enforcement but we find little evidence that they are much concerned. One Floyd county businessman commented in a defensive attitude while being questioned that he had no concern with law enforcement.

We were asked by the Commonwealth's Attorney and the County Attorney to investigate communities or vicinities near certain towns for evidence of violation of liquor laws. This we attempted to do. We summoned many witnesses from these communities and no one offered any evidence against bootleggers or admitted that he had seen a drunk man in the last six months. Nearly all these witnesses attempted to launch into a long dissertation on their habit of staying at home, minding their own business or pointing out their absolute inability to recognize a drunk man unless they had actually seen him consume enough whiskey to intoxicate him.

According to evidence, with little exception, the communities of Abner Fork and Rock Fork are model neighborhoods. If the dearth of evidence is any indication there is practically no bootlegging in Prestonsburg but here we suspect the dearth of evidence presented is synonymous with public apathy. Most of the bootlegging and crime of all kind that exists as a pattern in any community over an extended period reflects the casual unconcern of the majority of people. Whether Prestonsburg can be made wholly or nearly free of the evil of bootlegging is problematical. I may be that the mass of citizens are not concerned and it may indicate that our natural leaders envision the cleaning of the Augean stables too herculean a task to be undertaken by a minority of good citizens.

All witnesses who lived in Prestonsburg said that there was much talk about taxicab owners or operators conducting a bootlegging business in the city. One businessman, while offering no evidence of law infractions, said he always told inquirers for whiskey to just walk down the street and ask any taxicab operator with one lone exception.

We asked Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis to explain the problems of curbing bootleg whiskey in Floyd county. To him we are indebted for enlightenment on the huge problem encountered. Lewis stated there were several impediments to law enforcement in regard to whiskey. One was the necessary safeguard thrown around a man's property by the law on the validity of search warrants. There is no distinction, as it should be, when it comes to search warrants as the court is well aware between the law governing a man suspected of bootlegging and a man engaged in an open legal business. A proper, valid search warrant is required for both. It may be that in the law's intent to make every man's house his inviolate castle, it has made many of them almost impregnable bootleg joints.

Deputy Lewis deplored the taking of replevin bonds from persons who had insufficient property to make recovery on if the maker defaulted and said that the fees of the sheriff's office were not large enough to warrant an adequate force of officers. He explained the difficulty of following through on scores of cases as the continuances, appeals and other legal moves got so involved that he lost track of the status of many cases. He advised the Grand Jury that defendants were adept at coming up with excuses for continuances.

"Our biggest job is keeping ourselves out of trouble while enforcing the law," Lewis told the Grand Jury. "If we make a mistake a dozen outlaws will spring up as witnesses against us."

Lewis said there was considerable evidence that most of the bootleg whiskey being distributed in Floyd county was coming from Morehead, Kentucky. He said that he and officers could set up a road look-out station for transporters and some bootlegger would discover it in a short while and drive hurriedly down in the state to warn them.

As evidence of the public spirit being demonstrated by Deputy Lewis in enforcing the law is his statement that when deductions are made from his salary check as deputy sheriff he has only $291 left. Out of this comes a big gasoline bill. One month it was $189, leaving him a take-home pay of $102. Not much of an inducement to a law enforcement officer to continue to work when it is noted that he is the father of several children, two of them in college. Between the insufficient fees of the sheriff's office and the dedicated service of an officer there should be some arrangement worked out by the fiscal court to ensure a living competence for an officer. Official apathy is worse than public apathy for officials are charged with the responsibility of good government.

There is another kind of crime becoming rampant in this county that was the subject of our investigation. It is that of breaking and entering. In this area we were able, due to the diligence of State Detective Potter and others, to make indictments.

Most of the offenders in breaking and entering are young boys, many of them juveniles under the statute. Many of the receivers of their stolen loot are adults. The cause of this sudden rise in this type of crime is beyond our knowledge but it is suspected that many of the offenses made by the young are found in the depressed economy of our section. Idleness on the part of young men leads to poverty and this sometimes is but the first step to crime for a juvenile.

We were made aware by witnesses of many cases of child desertion and the mothers sought indictments in order to qualify for aid to dependent children. In nearly all these cases we are rendering true bills. However, we are led to the conclusion that the whole system of administration of the law may be contributing to an aggravation of this situation. Confirming this belief is the difficulty in bringing a child deserter to justice in Kentucky when he has sought the haven of another state. For one thing he wisely neglects to leave the law a forwarding address and another matter is that the multiplicity of these cases creates an intolerable burden on the officials charged with the apprehension of these offenders and bringing them to free Kentucky justice. Life Of Cassius Clay Will Be Published

Frankfort, May 16 (Sp.)—Cassius M. Clay (1810-1903) was as colorful a public figure as ever lived in Kentucky, a state that has produced more than its share of colorful individuals, yet no full-length biography of him has ever been published, Joe Jordan, of the Kentucky Department of Public Relations, said in a talk before the Danville Rotary Club.

However, he added, that statement cannot be made much longer, for a leading publishing firm will bring out a life of Clay which Jordan and A. B. Guthrie, Jr. are co-authors.

Guthrie in 1950 was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for "The Way West." Other books of his include "The Big Sky" and "These Thousand Hills," which with "The Way West" made up a trilogy on the westward movement, and a recently published volume of short stories, "The Big It." He and Jordan formerly worked together on a Lexington daily.

Cassius Clay, a second cousin of Henry Clay, was a son of Gen. Green Clay of Madison county, who won his military rank in the War of 1812. Green Clay owned more slaves than any other man in Kentucky, but his son when a student at Yale University came under the influence of William Lloyd Garrison, noted abolitionist, and returned to Kentucky an ardent emancipationist. This involved him in duels and other fights with supporters of slavery. He was one of the founders of the Republican Party, played an important part in the nominating of Abraham Lincoln by the Republican convention of 1860, and became Lincoln's minister to Russia. Lincoln commissioned Clay a major general in the Union Army.

Kentucky's five race tracks offer thoroughbred racing through Nov. 19th this year.

NOTICE

The Floyd County Board of Education will receive bids up to 1 o'clock, June 7, 1960, on the remodeling of various science rooms in the county. These rooms include Wayland, Wheelwright, Betsy Layne and McDowell. The bidder should place a separate bid upon each individual class room and also an over-all bid for repair for all four rooms. Plans and specifications may be secured at the Superintendent's office. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. V. O. TURNER, Secretary Floyd County Board of Education 5-5-3f.

HOME DEMONSTRATION WEEK

The 130 home demonstration agents, associate and assistant home agents in 103 Kentucky counties could be called "teachers;" their classrooms are homes, community meeting places, and their offices. Their students are rural, rural non-farm and urban women all over Kentucky. The test these women pass is an important one—a better way of life for their families and for themselves. But they never really graduate, for they continue year after year to learn more about better homemaking.

GRAND JURY REPORT

alone, when added to the ordinary duties of a clerk, is sufficient to slow down the whole process of extradition. Under these conditions there is little to be accomplished at improvement except to urge that if a deserter is apprehended he be prosecuted as a prerequisite to continued aid from the state and in all cases a mother should be tainted with no collusion with the children's father in order to secure aid.

In the discharge of our duty we looked into the fiscal affairs of the county as much as time permits. We examined the 1959-1960 county budget and the ledger accounts.

Examination of the budget reveals appropriations that are considered illegal although they were of a minor nature. One, in particular, is for $500 to the Boy Scouts of the Jenny Wiley district. We recommend that the budget commissioners for the next fiscal period omit this appropriation as its legality is highly questionable.

One appropriation is for $500 to the Betsy Layne Fire Department. Here there is varied opinion as to the legality of this appropriation. We are informed that the volunteer firemen attached to the Betsy Layne Fire Department are not readily available for duty in the event of a fire and we urge the fiscal court in approving this appropriation to make it a requirement for appropriation that the personnel of the fire department be selected so as to be readily available at all times. The present system of operation, the Grand Jury is convinced, is wholly ineffective and a waste of the taxpayers' money but it could be corrected by the application of good judgment on the part of the fiscal court.

There are certain steps provided for in the preparation and adoption of the county budget as a whole that were studied. We found that the Budget Commissioners are required to meet not later than May 1 and that the budget proposed must be published ten days prior to its adoption. This, to our knowledge is never done and often it is published after adoption and after funds under the budget have been disbursed by the Fiscal Court in its first July meeting.

Publication of the budget has been made in a summarized form, according, we are informed by the County Attorney, to an opinion of a finance officer of the state. We think this defeats the whole purpose intended by the Legislature in making publication mandatory. A summarized version of the budget could hide scores of illegal appropriations, discoverable only by a close scrutiny of the detailed figures themselves. We suspect no large hidden illegal appropriation in any recent budget but we do want to point out that an opportunity exists for hidden appropriations by the publication of a summarized version. We doubt the authority of a finance officer who gives it as his opinion that a summarized publication would satisfy the law.

We recommend that the budget commissioners meet early in April to start work on the next year's appropriations and if there are any objections interposed by the County

Court Clerk as to the feasibility of this it is only necessary to point out that mere clerical objections should not be allowed to stand in the way of compliance with the statutes.

The Justices of the Peace are paid $9,600 yearly to try cases in this county, the Trial Commissioner is paid a salary of $3,000 to try cases and the County Judge receives a salary not to legally exceed $7,200 yearly to try cases and perform other duties incident to his office. This is a total for trial officials of $19,800 yearly for judicial service. There has been considerable discussion in the state in recent years as to the evils of the fee system. I seem to think that now we may be facing the evils of a salaried system. We recommend to the Fiscal Court the abolition of the office of Trial Commissioner in this county or the discontinuance of salaries to the Justices of the Peace for judicial service. Compliance with either of these recommendations would lighten the burden of the taxpayers.

The Grand Jury after some deliberation doubts the wisdom of the employment of an assistant county attorney to be paid from public funds. The present county attorney and his assistant have been efficient in assisting the Grand Jury investigations and both men are men of ability. However, the Grand Jury feels that the services of an assistant county attorney is not warranted at the present time and it recommended that his position be abolished in this county.

In line with our duties the Grand Jury has inspected the courthouse and jail. To assist us in the proper evaluation of the condition of the public buildings we invited an architect and a building contractor to advise us while on inspection.

The Floyd county courthouse is 69 years old and it has been repaired, remodeled and patched until it bears little resemblance to its original shape, form or looks. It is an architectural monstrosity that is in such a state of disrepair that it affronts the pride of every civic-minded Floyd citizen. We would like to point out that the floor of the building is sagging, that the interior walls are cracking and rain pours into the court room of the county judge. These conditions are evidence of senility and obsolescence. They could be corrected or covered up temporarily but no amount of money spent on the aged structure can ever be justified except on the basis of an urgent present need.

The main part of the building is a huge deadfall, needing only a beam breaking or falling to trigger a collapse of the structure. If it is not torn down it will inevitably fall. When it does fall it will claim the lives of many of the occupants without regard to official station. The inevitable collapse whether it is soon or delayed for many years will cause a fire that will destroy the records of a century and a half.

The Grand Jury repeats its opinion that the aged and unsightly building is a mammoth deadfall, awaiting the awful hour when it will kill, maim and destroy.

Recognizing our responsibilities to the general public and the commonwealth of Floyd county, the Grand Jury recommends that a new courthouse be constructed. It is time the fiscal court recognized also its responsibilities to the people by providing for a new structure.

The Grand Jury after a thorough inspection finds the jail structurally sound and well kept. Jailer Brock Hayes is to be commended for its cleanliness and efficient administration.

We ask the indulgence of the presiding judge in presenting this lengthy report and beg to observe that it was not hastily conceived or written.

With the presentation of this report the Grand Jury respectfully requests its discharge.

WAYLAND

ANNUAL BREAKFAST HELD

The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club held its annual May breakfast at the club house Saturday morning, May 14, with Mrs. Crit Wells, Mrs. Delbert Sloane and Mrs. Charles Hornsby acting as hostesses. Mrs. R. V. May, Seventh district governor of the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs, and Mrs. Olga Latta, of Prestonsburg, were guests.

Mrs. May gave an interesting talk on Federation and the Woman's Club convention she had attended in Lexington. She installed the officers of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club for the club year 1960. The new officers are: Mrs. Glenn Paek, president; Mrs. George Evans, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Hornsby, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Hall, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Earl Castle, treasurer.

Club members present at the meeting were Mesdames N. D. Howard, L. B. Price, W. T. Hatcher, Bert Stapleton, George Evans, Earl Castle, Fred Hall, Rudolph Spencer, Eugene Mullins, Felix Coburn, R. H. Messer, Delbert Sloane, Charles Hornsby, Crit Wells and guests. Mrs. Oliver Sloane and Mrs. Marcella Bradley.

A president's pin was presented to Mrs. L. B. Price, outgoing president of the club.

A gift was presented to the district governor, Mrs. May. Also a gift from the clubmembers was presented to Mrs. F. H. Messer in recognition of her services in presenting the recent show held at Wayland.

TOMATO PRODUCTION

Tomatoes are probably the most popular vegetable crop grown in Kentucky. Not only are they planted in most farm gardens, but many city dwellers set a few plants in the back lawn. The average home gardener sets about 150 plants each year. Too often this number, as large as it is, does not supply the family needs. Some gardeners set as many as 500 to 600 plants but may not have more than the gardener that set only 10 to 15.

'Endless Waters' To Be Presented Again At Falls

Technicians have just completed the hazardous task of installing lights and a sound-light cable close behind Cumberland Falls for presentation again this summer of "Endless Waters," a stereophonic sound and color spectacle.

The presentation, featuring narration music and color, is based on the First and 23rd Psalms and is related by the recorded voice of Conrad Nagel, a long-time movie star. It opens at Cumberland Falls State Park the night of June 1.

The spectacle gains its effectiveness from the synchronization of voice, lights and background music. Music issues from speakers in the hills behind the falls and narration at intervals from various speakers above the heads and to the left of the audience. The spray from the falls lends a prismatic effect to the lights that play upon the waters, producing every color of the rainbow.

The dangerous job of re-installing the cable and lights close behind the falls was made necessary because high waters in the river had washed out the lights used last year and freezing spray collecting on the cable during the winter had broken it. The work was accomplished by Eben Henson, Danville, writer and producer, and J. M. Hise, Lexington electronics expert, with their crews.

These men dropped the new cable over the cliff side of the falls and then crawled under the falls dragging the cable behind them. The slick, wet passages at some spots are so low and small that the men had to move on their stomachs, inching forward with their elbows behind the thundering falls. Perilous waters and slippery rocks made safety harness necessary and some of the men wore skin diving suits.

About 30 feet from the other side of the falls, the crawl space drops off into a whirlpool. A rope was tied to the end of the cable and thrown across this spot. Retracing their way, the men then crossed the river beneath the falls by canoe and went under the falls from the other side to pull the cable across the whirlpool.

WHEELWRIGHT

BAND IN PRE-DEBRY PARADE

The Wheelwright high school band left Wheelwright early Thursday morning, May 5, by chartered bus, arrived at the Louisville Fairgrounds at 11:30 a.m., and toured the Exposition Center. They were then escorted to Churchill Downs with about 50 other high school and college bands. After viewing four of the races they were escorted back to the Fairgrounds where they were served a free meal by Army personnel. The food was donated by Louisville merchants.

At 6:00 p.m. the bands assembled at 15th and Broadway, the starting point of the parade.

The Pegasus Parade traveled east on Broadway to Clay, a distance of about two miles. The parade lasted about 2½ hours and was over about 10:30 p.m.

GIRL SCOUTS ENTERTAIN

On Thursday evening, May 5, at the Woman's Club Room, members of Intermediate Girl Scout Troop No. 33 entertained their mothers, committee members and local Scout executives. The affair was in observance of Mother's Day.

Mrs. Herbert Gillis, the troop's patrol leader, made the introductions. Mrs. Gillis announced that the entertainment was prepared by the girls and that they were working on Hospitality Badges.

Deborah Risnor gave the Origin of Mother's Day. The following girls gave original and entertaining song and comedy skits: Marsha McKinney, Patty Martin, Trudy Vitatoe and Ann Shannon Logan.

Funch and cookies was served by the girls and Mrs. Gillis to guests. Mesdames Glenn Vitatoe, Lester Martin, Warren Risnor, Elmer Ferguson, Hershel Hitchcock, Stanley Logan, Rodney McKinney, Steve Benedict, Bob Grimm, Minor Pace, Hunter Thomas, Russell Hall, Arthur Bradbury and H. M. Wilkinson, Jr.

Centennial Of Civil War Aid To Tourism

Observances of the centennial of the Civil War, which will begin on a national scale next January and continue into 1965, will attract many tourists to Kentucky and other states in which battles were fought and in which shrines are maintained in memory of Civil War leaders.

That was the consensus at a recent meeting in St. Louis called by the National Civil War Centennial Commission, according to two members of the Kentucky Department of Public Relations, Joe Jordan and F. V. Flanagan, who attended the sessions at the invitation of Major General U. S. Grant, III, chairman of the national body.

Forty states and the District of Columbia have already formed their own commissions to co-operate with the national commission. The Kentucky Civil War Centennial Commission has plans to commemorate a number of events of the 1860's which took place in the state.

An American Automobile Association representative told the St. Louis meeting that member-clubs were already receiving a great many requests for maps and information about historic Civil War spots. On the basis of previous experience, he predicted that about 85 per cent of the tourist treks to Civil War battlefields would be made in automobiles.

Our Historic Heritage

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky

(No. 93 in a Series)

ESCAPE ROUTE OF MRS. JENNY WILEY IS MARKED BY D.A.R.

A granite marker on the escape route of Jenny Wiley, Indian captive who fled the savages either in March or April, 1790, was erected in 1940 by the Paintsville Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution. The marker reads: "Route Taken By Jenny Wiley In Her Escape From The Indians, 1787."

The marker stands at the intersection of two rural highways in Johnson county and is almost at the exact spot where the late Ova Ellis Boggs, former Floyd county agent, met death in an automobile accident.

Since the erection of the marker research has established that Mrs. Wiley was captured Oct. 1, 1789, at Ab's Valley, Virginia, and after a captivity of approximately seven months, escaped, according to an old report "in the late winter of 1790."

COOPERATION is a Kentucky tradition!

THRESHING GRAIN OR LIGHTING FARMS!

A Kentucky farmer knows that he may count on his neighbors. Whenever there's a big job to be done the whole countryside is liable to pitch in to make the job faster and easier. Lending a hand at threshing time is a Kentucky tradition of neighborliness that can be traced back to the earliest days of our state.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops... created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves... are a good example of how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefitted too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in cities and towns.

Rural Electricity Benefits Everyone

BIG SANDY RURAL ELECTRIC CO-OP

COOPERATION brings electricity to 4,443 rural families in Johnson, Lawrence, Floyd, Knoff and Martin counties.

Sorghum Variety Tests Released By University

The University of Kentucky Experiment Station has released results of its variety testing on syrup sorghum.

Top syrup yielder of those tested was Umbrella, with 362 gallons per acre. Wiley and Sugar Drip were close seconds with 320 gallons and 294 gallons an acre respectively. The testing was done by James Shane, researcher.

On a three-year basis (including 1959) Wiley was tops with 284 gallons; Umbrella had 279; Sugar Drip, 218, and Williams, 208.

Lodging difficulties and production of raw juice that did not in some cases boil down to usable syrup were noted. Lodging is stalk breakage (or stalk-inclining at an angle of 30 degrees or more). Umbrella over the three years averaged 31 per cent lodging (31 out of every 100 stalks were broken or leaning at more than 30 degrees); Wiley, 48 per cent; Sugar Drip, 12 per cent; and Williams, 60 per cent. Five varieties of hybrids in the test did not produce acceptable syrup, Shane said.

Recommended varieties are Sugar Drip, Williams and Tracy for Kentucky. Progress Report No. 90, entitled "Results of the Kentucky Sorgho Performance Test—1959" is available at the bulletin room, Experiment Station, Lexington; it lists performance of all the tested varieties of hybrids.

A week of Commencement activities will culminate this evening, May 19, in graduation exercises for 44 Caney Junior College students, 24 from Knott, Floyd, Perry and Letcher counties.

To receive diplomas for graduation either in January or in May, 1960, are:

Mary Ann Amburgey, of Jeremiah; Ray P. Biggerstaff, Jr., of Whitesburg; Janice Faye Bradley, of Dema; Myrtle Carroll, of Vicco; John Conley, of Lackey; Cuthbert Cornett, of Sassafras; Sammie Raye Cornett, of Hindman; Phyllis Lee Craft, of Wayland; Miriam Sue Branson Crawford, of Pippa Passes; Kenneth Dale, of Wheelwright; Peggy Elliott, of Ligon; Thomas J. Fields, of Bulan; Emma Flanery, of Martin; James Gibson, of Wheelwright; Estaleen Hall, of Raven; Nadeen Hall, of Orkney; Priscilla Hamilton, of Ligon; Joyce Hampton, of Martin; Bruce Hayes, of Pippa Passes; Earl Howard, of Mousie; Anna Huff, of Mousie; Burnis Jacobs, of Pippa Passes; Jones, of Dema; Jacqueline Mosley, of Estill; Violet Nunemaker, of Sassafras; Emma Pack, of Drift; Loretta Pratt, of Garrett; Eva Ritchie, of Vest; Jean Singleton, of Fisty; James E. Stewart, of Louellen; Terance Turner, of Drift; and G. W. Vicars, of Weeksbury.

Also to receive recognition for prospective August graduation are:

Charles Blair, of Jeremiah; Vearnetts Click, of Garner; Dillis Edward Combs, of Leburn; Robert Lee Fowler, of Leatherwood; Thomas Sidney Hayes, of Hindman; Ford Jacobs, of Pippa Passes; Thomas Johnson, of Garrett; Ida Jones, of Dema; Georgia Lewis, of Mare Creek; Denver Newsom, of Teaberry; Louise Stone, of Pippa Passes; Frank Vanover, of Amburgey.

The traditional extemporaneous speaking contest will precede the awarding of diplomas on Commencement night.

Besides the graduates' picnic for invited alumni, with which Commencement Week began on Sunday, May 15, three dramatic events highlighted activities on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 16-18.

A production of the Greek play, ANTIGONE, in stylized reading was presented Monday evening with an all-girl cast. Mary Ann Amburgey, Patricia Cochran, Violet Nunemaker and Jacqueline Mosley enacted the roles, with Phyllis Sumpter as leader of the chorus, employing a dozen voices antiphonally.

June Buchanan presented the mountain play, VENGEANCE IS MINE, Tuesday evening, with Eugene Tuttle and Cuthbert Cornette in the main parts. Also taking parts were Lowell Martin, Glenn Turner, Charles Blair, G. W. Vicars, Bradford Handshoe, David Ladd and Thomas Fields.

On Wednesday, Gilbert and Sullivan's Mikado was presented, with all college students in part or chorus. Acting as the Mikado was Kenneth Dale; Katisha, Peggy J. Elliott; the Lord High Executioner, Larry Parsons; Nanki-Poo, Dillis Combs; Yum-Yum, Emma Lois Flanery; Pooch-Bah, Harold Glenn Newman. Special singing is added by Rinaldo Frasure, Glenn Turner, Estaleen Hall, Pat Cochran and Jacqueline Mosley.

The week's activities, which present the students' performances, close Sunday, May 22, with the Baccalaureate Christian Forum, in which all graduating Caney students speak on improvement and development for our mountain area.
