

THURSDAY

This Town-- That World

If this column is cut short this week, or is duller than usual, or shows up with other glaring deficiencies, blame it on the Democratic convention. I stayed with it till the bitter end. Tried to sleep before the balloting and couldn't. Then, after it was all over, there weren't enough sheep in the pasture.

CAMERA CAUGHT SOME, MISSED OTHERS

The only persons we recognized when the delegation from Kentucky was televised during the roll-call were Governor Combs, Lieutenant Governor Wyatt and Prestonsburg's own Bob Francis. Fellow-townsmen Bob May and Jim Camicia missed their opportunity to get on NBC, CBS and ABC television—all three—at one and the same time.

PENALTY SUGGESTED

The Democratic party has its share of able speakers, but only one, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, held the attention of the convention. Delegates should be briefed for a month or so before they get into the convention hall, and the penalty for reading a newspaper or dropping off to sleep while the keynote is giving the opposition the very dickens should be the old heave-ho off the premises.

SO THEY TELL US

Come to think of it, this is not one of my better weeks. Adding to my woes are two facts: (1) The bass aren't striking; (2) I have this information, second-hand.

PACK CLAIMED BY INJURIES

Sustained In Accident On Michigan Highway; Was Former Drift Man

Less than 10 hours after he had returned to Michigan from a vacation spent with relatives in this county, Raymond Pack, 27, formerly of Drift, was dead at Flat Rock, Michigan, of injuries sustained in an automobile wreck early last Monday morning.

He and his family arrived home in River Rouge at 4 a. m., Sunday. At 1:30 a. m., Monday, his auto left the road near Flat Rock, Mich., ramming into a tree, and he died almost instantly. His neck was broken, his chest crushed and his foot and jaw were fractured.

Mr. Pack was a son of John and Jane Kidd Pack, of Drift, and was employed by the Chrysler Corporation. Besides his parents, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Violet Parsons Pack, and three children, Rhea Chandis, Johnny Ray and Timothy Warren Pack; three brothers, Green Pack, of McDowell, Russell and Albert Pack, both of Drift, and five sisters, Mrs. Juanita Parsons, River Rouge, Mich., Mrs. Clest Taylor, of Illinois, Misses Irene, Emma Lou and Barbara Ann Pack, of Drift.

Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a. m., today (Thursday) from the Old Beaver Baptist Church at Drift by the Revs. Troy Nickles and Mitchell Chaffins. Burial was made in the Lucy Hall cemetery under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

COMBS PICKS STATE BONUS REVIEW BODY

Homer Wright, Navy Vet, Named to Review Group On Bonus Applications

Governor Bert Combs last Thursday announced the appointment of the nine-man Kentucky Veterans Bonus Board of Review provided for in the Bonus Act.

One member of the board is Homer Wright, Jr., Prestonsburg businessman, Navy veteran of World War II and formerly with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D. C. Mr. Wright has long been active in the American Legion.

C. Marshall House, of Louisville, heads the board as chairman. He served in the Army for five years and spent 20 months in combat in Europe, emerging as a lieutenant colonel.

Jesse C. Moberly, Richmond, is the secretary. He spent almost four years with the Air Corps in the South Pacific during World War II and was a rehabilitation counselor for the Veterans Administration for four years.

Other members of the board are: Robert W. Burchell, Manchester, a World War II veteran who saw combat in Europe and has been active for years in veterans' affairs. Robert Humphreys, Frankfort, former Highway Commissioner and a veteran of both World Wars.

G. Lee McClain, Bardonia, former adjutant general of Kentucky and a World War I veteran.

Fred Radford, Hopkinsville, World War I veteran and a life member of the Disabled American Veterans.

J. Erwin Sanders, Pikeville attorney. He served as clerk of the House and as clerk of the Senate at different times. He is one of three attorneys on the Board.

Simeon S. Willis, ex-Governor of Kentucky, and a former Justice of the Court of Appeals who now practices law in Ashland.

The purpose of the Board of Review is to decide disputed claims. If a veteran's application for the Kentucky bonus is turned down the veteran may appeal to the Board of Review. The appeal must be made within 30 days of the disapproval notice. Three of the Board will then consider the case and decide it by majority vote. Their decision is final.

The chairman and the secretary are full time employees. Under the Kentucky Veterans' Bonus Law, the other members receive $25 a day, plus necessary travel expenses, only when they are convened to consider appeals.

OFFICER NABS PAROLED MAN

Green Hall Arrested On In-Law Incident; Returned To LaGrange

Green Hall, of East McDowell, was jailed here Saturday night as a parole violator and later returned to LaGrange reformatory after he had allegedly beaten his mother-in-law about the head and face with his fists before daybreak the same day.

Parole Officer James Duff, who returned Hall to prison, said he had about nine more months of his sentence to serve. Duff, Constable Bud Lawson, Deputy Sheriffs James Hall and Robert Hall arrested Hall at dusk Saturday after an earlier search for him had failed. He was found at the home of his mother, near East McDowell.

Four Left Beaver Creek men were jailed Monday after County Patrolman Willie Johnson and Constable Roy Tackett found stolen copper wire in the auto of one of the four while they were in Prestonsburg. The four, Grady Osborne, Perlis Martin, Jake Moore and Eisel Osborne, were captured after they had vainly attempted to sell the wire to the Mountain Metal Company, it was said. The wire was the property of the Vanderpool Coal Company. Grady Osborne also was booked on a charge of possessing moonshine whiskey. One of the prisoners claimed he found the wire.

Others jailed within the week: Buster Mullins, grand larceny, arrested by Deputy Sheriffs James Hall and Harold Johnson, accused by Lear Bates of the theft of blasting powder; Earl Walters, stolen property warrant, arrested by State Trooper Goble and Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Herald; Walker Tackett, accused of possessing stolen property, booked by State Trooper Goble and Allen (a juvenile was accused of the theft of the property); Robert Amburgey, speeding and failing to yield right-of-way, arrested by State Trooper Allen; Roy Perry stealing (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

MEDICAL SEMINAR SET AT PAINTSVILLE CLUB

Four medical topics of current interest will be presented by outstanding men in their fields at the annual Big Sandy seminar of the Kentucky Academy of General Practice July 21, at the Paintsville Country Club.

Announcement of the meeting was made by Dr. John G. Archer, Prestonsburg, president of the Kentucky Academy of General Practice, and seminar co-chairmen Dr. George P. Archer, Prestonsburg, and Dr. James W. Archer, Paintsville.

The seminar is offered for the benefit of all doctors, whether members of the Academy or not. The program will begin at 1 p. m. In addition to the medical program, these topics will be presented:

BONUS RUSH IS SLOWING

Clerk's Office, Banks, Businessmen Assisting In Making Applications

The rush to fill out applications for the new Kentucky veterans bonus seemed to be over here this week. An average of only 10 applicants daily were seeking copies of their discharges and other necessary documentary service at the County Court Clerk's office.

The clerk's office had as of noon Wednesday certified to 597 veterans' discharges. Both Prestonsburg banks were in the business of aiding the veterans by furnishing photostatic copies of the discharges.

Miss Ella Noel White, Red Cross representative here, said Tuesday that she had filled 563 applications for the bonus, two of them from widows of Spanish-American War veterans. One day she filled out 30 forms but the average now is 16 a day. Homer Wright and Tom James, both of the American Legion, are individuals assisting in filling out applications.

Mrs. Tait Webb, 78, of Blue River, in applying for her husband's Spanish-American War bonus, noted that her husband had refused a pension on the grounds that "he wanted to take care of himself without aid from the government." He was discharged in 1902 and has been dead several years. Mrs. Thomas Hancock, of Auxier, is the other applicant for her husband's Spanish-American War bonus.

It was recently announced that 6,537 veterans are entitled to the bonus payments in this county. Although application forms had previously been exhausted at the County Court Clerk's office, a plentiful supply was on hand Wednesday.

STATE PLANS LAKE CHAIN

From Five To 300 Acres; $1,000,000 Appropriated By Recent Legislature

Kentucky's gigantic lake-building program—one which envisions 25 impoundments in Eastern Kentucky alone—got off the ground today (Thursday) with the announcement by Governor Bert Combs of a Lakes Development Committee, which will evaluate and approve applications for lake locations and construction.

The committee is composed of J. O. Matlock, Commissioner of Conservation, chairman; Earle C. Clements, Commissioner of Highways; Minor Clark, Commissioner of Fish and Wildlife Resources, and Ed Fox, Commissioner of Parks.

Kentucky's new lake building program is being inaugurated with $1,000,000 appropriated by the 1960 Legislature at the request of the Governor. Money derived from new revenue, principally the sales tax, makes this program possible, the committee said.

The program contemplates a chain of lakes, ranging in size from five to 300 acres, stretching more than 400 miles from Kentucky's eastern border to the Mississippi River. The committee's attention has been called to some 25 possible sites in Eastern Kentucky alone. No other state has a program of such magnitude.

The lakes will be for agricultural, recreational, municipal and industrial uses. Construction will be in connection with the building of highways for the most part, using (See Story No. 6, Page 6) gram, these topics will be presented: "Keystones of Freedom," by Edmund A. Opitz, Irvington, N. Y., senior staff member of the Foundation for Economic Education; "Diagnosis and Newer Concepts in the Treatment of Gynecological Surgery," by Dr. Phillips Crossen, a fellow of the American Cancer Society; "Peripheral Arterial Occlusion," to be discussed by Dr. W. R. Wilkinson of the Wilkinson Surgical Clinic, Huntington, W. Va.; "Surgical Conditions of the Esophagus," by Dr. Burford David, of the University of Louisville School of Medicine; "Surgical Management of Certain Types of Hearing Impairments," by Dr. Ano D. Combs, Lexington.

The program will be accepted for Academy members as four hours' Category I credit on post-graduate medical study, the co-chairmen said.

"This is another in the series of seminars designed to bring the latest technical and scientific medical information to the local area for the general practitioner," Dr. John Archer said.

Dr. Archer as president of the Kentucky Academy of General Practice will call a special meeting of the board of directors for the evening of July 20, to select commissioners and committee members in order to implement the Academy program during the coming year.

MINE MISHAP KILLS JONES

Arkansas-Cr. Miner Electrocuted, Tuesday; By Grounded Power Line

Claybourne Jones, 26-year-old Arkansas Creek man, was found critically injured by fellow-workmen late Tuesday afternoon, the victim of electrocution. He was dead on arrival at Our Lady of the Way hospital at nearby Martin.

Jones, who operated a shuttle car in the Neaman Sammons mine, had left two other workmen inside the mine to go outside for food, and when he failed to return the two instituted a search. It was said that a power cable apparently had grounded on the shuttle car while his body touched the side or roof of the mine.

The victim was a son of Mrs. Fannie Friend Jones, of Connorsville, Ind., and the late Arlie Jones. Besides his mother, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Zettie Conn Jones, three children, Arlie, Alis and Mary Elizabeth; three brothers, Casey, Paul and Bernard Jones, all of Connorsville, and four sisters, Mrs. Mary Francis, Nellie Joy, Bonnie Agnes and Roberta Jones.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, it was said at the Turner-Ryan Funeral Home.

NAPIER NAMED COORDINATOR

Of Two State Boards In The Administration Of Beauty Culture Act

Gov. Bert Combs last Friday appointed Bill Napier, of Prestonsburg, to a four-year term as executive director of the Kentucky Board of Barbering and the Kentucky Board of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists.

His salary is $8,500 per year. Napier, former mayor of Prestonsburg and a barber, will act as coordinator between the two boards in administering the beauty culture act passed by the 1960 General Assembly.

OAK DISEASE IS LESSENING

In Kentucky Forests, Aerial Survey Shows; More Flights Slated

An aerial survey of Floyd and Johnson counties by Arthur Leach, district forester, of Prestonsburg, finds less infestation of oak wilt in the forests than last year. Reconnaissance of Johnson county is incomplete, Leach said.

The survey will be extended to cover all of the counties of Pike, Magoffin, Lawrence and Martin which are in this forestry district. Southeastern Kentucky counties will also be surveyed by Walter Green, district forester of Hazard. Oak wilt, Leach said, is a disease which if not controlled can rapidly destroy a region's oak crop. Annual campaigns to locate and destroy diseased trees have been conducted since 1950 by the Division of Forestry.

The crown of an oak tree losing its foliage rapidly and leaf browning are among the symptoms which help aerial detection of the disease.

Diseased trees spotted from the air are plotted on a map. Ground crews of the division later inspect the trees. If the trees are diseased, they are cut down and destroyed with special chemicals to prevent the disease from spreading to healthy oaks.

The fungus-type disease reached its peak in Kentucky in 1958 when 804 diseased oaks were located. Last year's surveys revealed 661 infected trees, a decline of 24 per cent.

According to a recent report of the division, 1959 was the first year Eastern Kentucky counties were made the object of a 100-per cent oak-wilt aerial survey.

Oak wilt was first detected in Kentucky in 1950 when one tree victim was found in Greenup county. The incidence of the disease increased steadily until 1958.

Fifteen infected trees were located during a flight Friday over part of Perry county. Flights are scheduled during the next 10 days over the rest of Perry and the other counties of this district.

Last year 546 wilted oaks were discovered in the four districts of Eastern Kentucky as compared with 752 in 1958. Oak wilting then was located in 25 counties. (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

"BLACK BOOK" HOLDS DEAD MAN'S SECRETS

In a bank safety deposit box here is "a little black book" containing secrets which a Floyd county woman expects to carry to the grave with her but which she asks Floyd officials to make public in the event of her death.

The woman is Mrs. Cora Ratliff Slone, widow of Allen Slone, who died recently of a bullet wound suffered at his home on U. S. 23, six miles south of here. She was placed under $5,000 bond last week in her husband's shooting.

Fear for her life and that of her son led Mrs. Slone to make this week's statement, which follows:

"I, Cora Ratliff Slone, came this day, (July 13) to The Floyd County Times offices to make this statement. Since my husband's death June 24, I have been followed and watched by unknown persons and my life also threatened.

"Since I am very much afraid my life will be taken and my son's life also, in some way that will look like a very reasonable accident, that is why I am making this statement. I was sworn to secrecy by my husband never to reveal anything that he ever told me or I ever knew of his business. I still hold my vow to keep that secret. But, in fear of sudden death, I have written in my little black book called a diary every detail I can remember of my past 13 years, and have made an affidavit to it, and it is now locked in Box No. 295 at The Bank Josephine, and if I do meet with any kind of death I want my box opened by The Floyd county court officials and the whole book published in The Floyd County Times."

JURY ACQUITS HAYES, WIFE

In Stolen Car Case; Pen Inmate's Evidence Insufficient To Convict

A jury in U. S. district court at Pikeville required only 12 minutes Monday to clear Paul E. Hayes, former Prestonsburg attorney, and his wife, Mrs. Luella Hayes, of charges of connection with a stolen car case.

Except for the testimony of Freddie Newsome, Jr., who is serving a federal pen term for auto theft, the government failed to produce testimony implicating Mr. and Mrs. Hayes. He testified Hayes forged or traced the name of a Floyd deputy clerk on registration papers of one stolen auto.

Both defendants denied complicity in the case, and one of their attorneys, Harry Campbell, testified that Newsome told him and another attorney Mr. and Mrs. Hayes had no connection with the spurious registration papers.

U. S. agents claimed they traced to Hayes ownership of the typewriter on which the papers were typed. State Senator Burnis Martin, who occupied an office adjacent to that of Hayes, testified Hayes' typewriter was easily accessible to persons and could have been used without his knowledge or permission.

Two autos stolen at Portsmouth, Ohio, and driven to this county were involved in the case. Mr. Hayes, an assistant attorney general for the state, had been on indefinite leave of absence since early this year.

to reveal anything that he ever told me or I ever knew of his business. I still hold my vow to keep that secret. But, in fear of sudden death, I have written in my little black book called a diary every detail I can remember of my past 13 years, and have made an affidavit to it, and it is now locked in Box No. 295 at The Bank Josephine, and if I do meet with any kind of death I want my box opened by The Floyd county court officials and the whole book published in The Floyd County Times."

COUNCILMEN ASK ADVICE

Committee Is Named To Help On Finance, Taxes, Other Problems

An advisory committee composed of seven men was named by the Prestonsburg City Council last week as the Council faces financial problems and seeks their solution.

Named to the committee were Ex-Mayor Harry Sandige; C. B. Latta, attorney; George T. Roberts, a member of the Municipal Utilities Commission; Paul Francis, wholesale grocer; W. R. Callihan, funeral director; Richard Spurlock, insurance man, and Otis Cooley, retail grocer.

The committee has not yet convened, since some of its members have been out of town. Mayor Edward B. Leslie said its advice will be sought mainly in the fields of city finances and taxation.

Floyd County Scouts To Attend Jamboree At Colorado Springs

The following Floyd County Boy Scouts will go to the National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22-28: Joe David Martin, John Reed, Terry Kinzer, Jim Maize, Wayne Walters, Larry Allen and Randy Crum, all of Allen; Bill Mack Jennings, of Drift; Bill Gordon Francis, Woody Allen, Sam Hatcher, Jr., Steve Meade and C. O. Williams, Jr., all of Prestonsburg.

They will be accompanied by Mervil Dixon assistant Scout leader, of Wayland and Donald Martin, Scoutmaster, of Allen.

Jesse Elliott, of Betsy Layne, will go with Region Four's 120-piece band.

MAKING HOME HERE

Miss Grace Marrs, who retired at the end of the school year as a teacher in the Cincinnati schools, arrived here last week to make her permanent home with her cousin, Mrs. Richard Feller, and Judge Feller. Miss Marrs, who was born and reared here, has many friends who welcome her to her former home town.

CITY VOTES ANNEXATION ORDINANCE

Low-Rent Housing Program Is Advanced By Recent Council Act

In a further move toward a low-rent public housing program for Prestonsburg the City Council last week enacted an ordinance to annex a tract of land lying between the old U. S. 23 and the new Prestonsburg-Auxier road at the northern limits of town as a site for the project.

The property scheduled for annexation is that of Joe M. May with whom the Prestonsburg Housing Commission has already negotiated for purchase. It embraces about eight acres, it was said.

Mayor Edward B. Leslie said this week he believes the owner and the federal agency will be able to agree on the value of the property. Thirty-five thousand dollars has been mentioned as a price, but it is not known if that was the amount asked by the owner.

The City Council last week conferred with State Highway engineers on a cooperative plan for modern lighting for the four-lane bridge to be built across the Big Sandy here as a part of the proposed high-speed road from the Mountains to the Blue Grass. The state proposed to install an ultra-modern lighting system on the bridge itself and also at the Arnold avenue approach to the span if the city will pay the bill for the electricity burned by the lights. To this the Council agreed.

Leo Carter, city tax commissioner, is moving to Lexington, and his successor will probably be named at a special Council meeting this week, Mayor Leslie said.

The mayor said no official action has been taken here toward cooperating with the new campaign announced last week by Governor Combs to clean up and beautify Kentucky. The state plans are known only in a general way at this time, however.

emphasis will be given the drive in Eastern Kentucky, where the problem is greatest. Efforts will be made to have roadside junk yards and other unsightly scenes screened. Homeowners, especially those in run-down mining communities, will be urged to spruce up their premises.

"This campaign is a must in all parts of Kentucky, but it is especially urgent in Eastern Kentucky," Combs said.

HOBSON DIES AT PIKEVILLE

Aged Pikeville Attorney Is Heart Attack Victim; Brother of P'burg Man

John Peyton Hobson, Jr., 71, Pikeville attorney for 43 years and a Kentucky State Bar Commissioner, died at 10 p. m., Saturday at the Pikeville Methodist hospital. He was the victim of a heart attack.

Hobson, a senior member of the law firm of Hobson & Stephens, was a brother of Joe Hobson, Prestonsburg attorney. A native of Elizabethtown, he was a son of John Peyton Hobson and Ella Nourse Hobson. His father was a Kentucky Court of Appeals judge 25 years ago and served as chief justice.

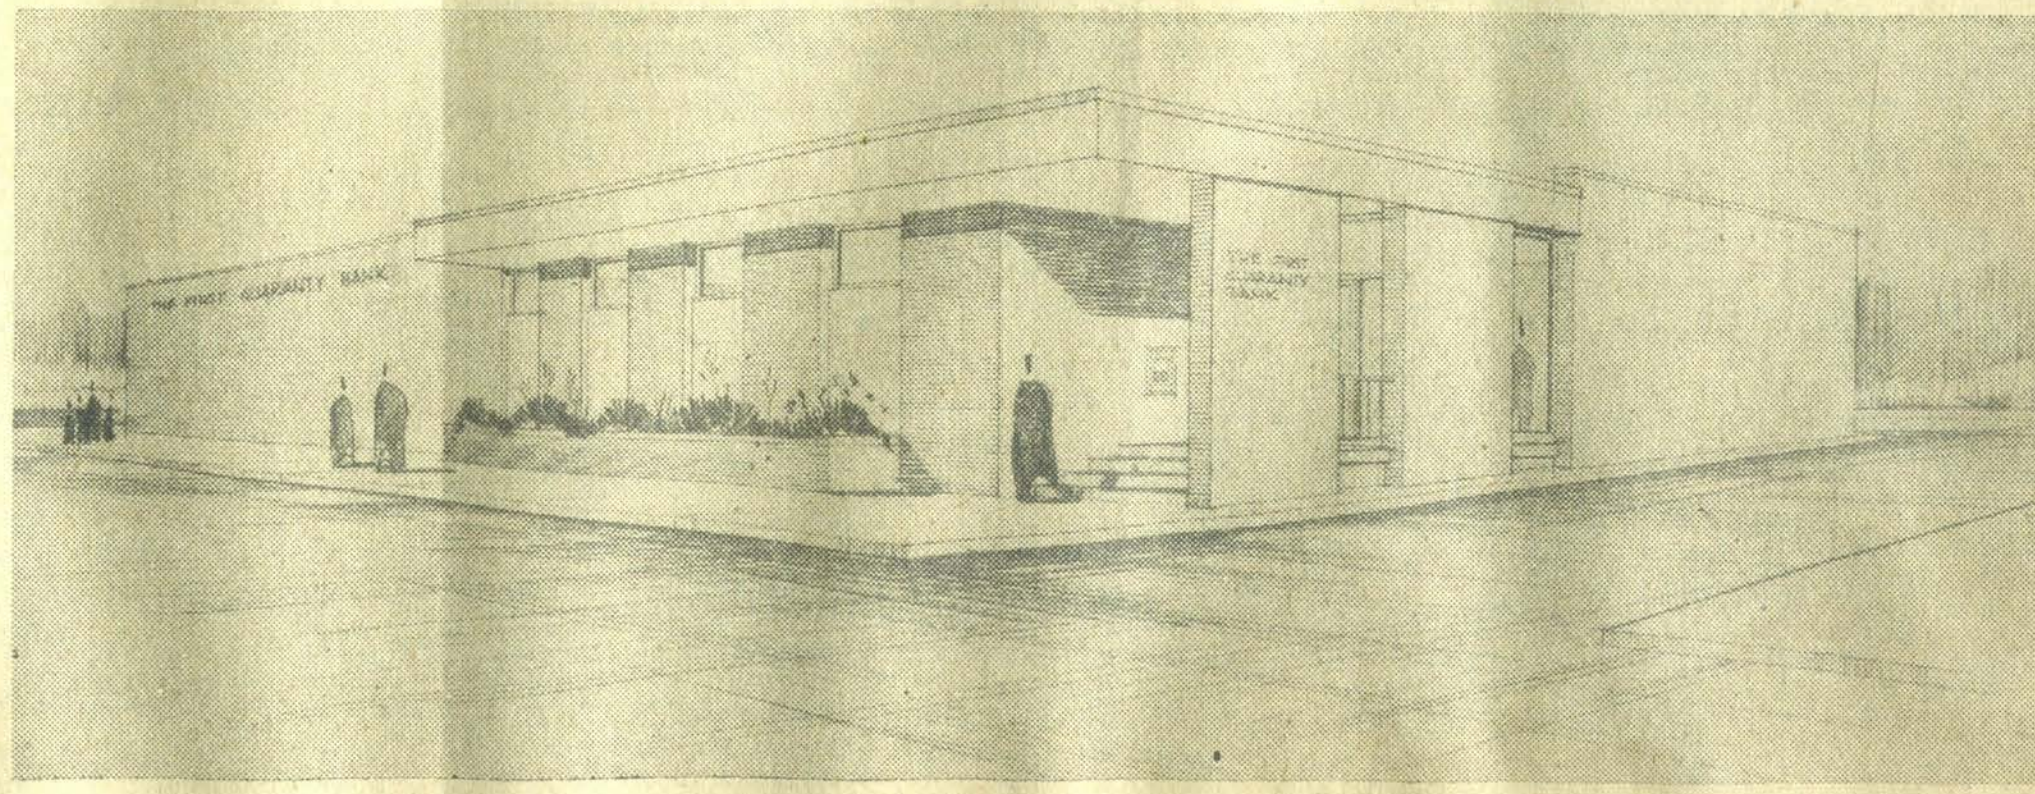

The Pikeville attorney held bachelor of arts and law degrees from Washington and Lee University and played guard on the university football team. In 1912 he began practice at Pikeville with his brother, Charles, now deceased, as a partner. He later joined the law firm of Auxier, Harman & Francis. He was a past president of the Pike County Bar Association.

A former vice-commander of the Kentucky American Legion, Hobson was a field artillery captain in the Army in France in World War I. Hobson was an elder in the First Presbyterian Church. He was a founder and first president of Green Meadows Country Club. He was a member of the Pike County Chamber of Commerce and a past president of the Pikeville Kiwanis Club.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maud Wallace Hobson; two sons, Navy Com. John Peyton Hobson, III, Norfolk, Va., and Charles Clyde Hobson, Pikeville; a daughter, Mrs. George Barnes, New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; two other brothers, Robert P. Hobson, Louisville, and Willis Hobson, Birmingham, Ala.; a sister, Mrs. Penn Carroll, Monterey, Mexico, and two grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday at 11 a. m., at the First Presbyterian Church at Pikeville, the Rev. Charles A. Moffitt officiating. Burial was made in the Johnson Memorial Park.

Martin Bank To Build $100,000 Structure

Architect's conception of The First Guaranty Bank's $100,000 building on which work is scheduled to begin next Monday.

Work on the First Guaranty Bank's new $100,000 bank building at Martin is expected to begin next Monday, it was announced this week by Glenn C. Spradlin, president of the bank, and B. F. Reed, chairman of its board of directors.

Work on the structure, which was designed by the L. R. Dunn Co., Inc., building consultants, and William M. Welch, Louisville architect, is expected to be completed within six months.

The bank will be of brick construction, with marble or stone used as a minor feature, and will front 80 feet on Highway 80 on a corner lot in the vicinity of Martin high school. It will extend 42 feet back.

The new building will afford approximately 70% more banking area than First Guaranty's present quarters. Plans call for a spacious lobby, seven teller windows and a drive-in teller window. The drive-in banking facility will be located at the rear of the building where free parking for customers will be provided. In addition to bookkeeping and other departments, the structure will house a modern burglar-proof vault, safe deposit boxes and a night depository. Complete air-conditioning and new furnishings are included in the plans.

The construction will be under the supervision of W. R. Kendrick, Prestonsburg contractor.

Announcing the building plans, Mr. Reed said: "The assets of The First Guaranty Bank now exceed $5,000,000, and we are happy to provide these new and modern facilities in Martin and thus further show our confidence in the future of the Beaver Creeks."

At the same time Mr. Spradlin announced that First Guaranty removed as of July 1, all service

SPEND DAY AT PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Tom James, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns and Mrs. Claude P. Stephens spent the day at Levi Jackson State Park last Thursday and called on friends in London before returning home.

MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

The groom's mother chose a beige sheath jacket, dress of lace with mint green accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel C. Banks. The table covered with a white linen cloth held a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and an arrangement of garden cut flowers. Assisting Mrs. Banks at the reception were Miss Charrie Chatten and Mrs. Charles Chatten.

Miss Helen Kathryn Wolford, of Washington Courthouse, Ohio, registered the guests.

The bride, a graduate of Ashland high school, was also graduated from Morehead State College where she received a Bachelor of Science degree. She taught chemistry and home economics at Greenup high school this year. She was a finalist last summer at Louisville in the search for "Miss Future Home Economist of Kentucky."

Mr. Crager was graduated from Prestonsburg high school and is now a senior at Morehead State College, majoring in General Business and physical education. He was recently chosen football captain for next year's team.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white, full-length gown of French imported, hand-clipped Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over bridal satin. The fitted bodice of lace was topped with a scalloped sabrina neckline touched with sequins and pearls. The sleeves were long and tapered, ending in calla points over the hand. The very full skirt of tulle was worn over hoops, and a ruffled net petticoat was accented by scalloped lace bands around the skirt. Her finger-length veil of imported illusion was caught to a princess tiara of lace and seed-pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a cascade of white carnations and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Nancy Carol Fannin, of Raceland, maid of honor, wore a dress of light aqua chiffon over taffeta. It was designed with a scoop neckline, cape sleeves and a full skirt. An aqua hat and short, white gloves complemented her attire. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Charrie Chatten, of Ashland, and Miss Arlene Shadrack, of Florence. Their dresses and hats were identical in style to that of the honor attendant but in a deeper shade of aqua. They also wore short white gloves and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Nina-Re Chatten, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white nylon tulle and lace dress over hoops and carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Joseph P. Tackett, III, was best man for Mr. Crager. Ushers were James Denny Ball, twin brother of the bride, and Bobby Fontaine Crager, brother of the groom. Taper lighter was Philip Daniel Wolford, cousin of the bride, of Washington Courthouse, Ohio.

The mother of the bride wore a deep blue lace princess pocket dress with matching lace hat and a corsage of white carnations.

HERE FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hall, of Riverside, Calif., are spending their vacation here with relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeRossett and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burchett, were supper guests last Thursday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Green.

FLORIDA VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Town Hall and Town, Jr., arrived this week from Sarasota, Florida, to spend several weeks in Floyd county visiting friends and relatives.

Warning! Boat Owners And Drivers License

We now have a supply of licenses for boat owners. Bring the following information with you when you apply: Name of vessel, make and model of engine, type of fuel, year model, serial number if any, length (overall), beam, height, draft, maximum capacity, type of hull material (wood, steel, etc.), date of delivery.

We also have several hundred drivers' license which expired in January, February, March, April, May and June, 1960, which should be renewed before it is too late. If you only knew the trouble you have when the time has run six months past due, you would renew on time. These written tests are hard to pass now and that is what will happen to you if you wait overtime.

 FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

Burnette Newsome, Adm.,
 & C. Plaintiff
 Vs. NOTICE OF SALE
 Mae Hall, et al., Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the June term, 1960, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 16th day of July, 1960, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., upon a credit of Six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being on the waters of Left Beaver Creek, at McDowell, Floyd County, Kentucky, and described as follows:

A part of Lot No. 9 in Block No. 6, Town of McDowell, also an eight foot strip of Lot No. 10, next adjoining in same block, making a total width of 48 feet and extending in length from the street on the front and to the railroad property on the back and next to the hill.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 24 day of June, 1960.

Weighing 224 Pounds, His Friends Now Call Him "Skinny"

By GORDON MOORE
 (Reprinted from Huntington Herald-Advertiser)
 (Sixth in a Series)

Diets are no longer a problem with me, it is now a way of life after two months and fifteen days of expending my strong willpower to the fullest extent.

I have mustered control enough to lose 39 pounds in this time, fought the "battle of the bulge" to the point that many friends and cohorts now address me as "skinny" since I weigh a mere 224 pounds.

Various problems have cropped up along the way, but I have met each challenge with vigor and vitality. With my entire wardrobe depleted and stitched, no further alterations can be made. Thus when I reach the 200-pound goal, I can shop for new outfits with confidence and contentment. One good thing about all of this is that my shoes, hats, socks, and ties still fit with apparent ease.

Food, in the least sense of the subject, bothers me not at all now. It's highly possible that my taste buds are temporarily out of order as the hundreds of gallons of black coffee I have consumed may have limited their functions.

My proficiency at the game of badminton has yet to be equalled with several guests always suffering bitterly-contested defeats. Playing over an uneven, outdoor court at nearby Dewey Lake has its advantages in supplying much-required exercise and it also serves as a good conditioner for a cool, refreshing swim.

Although boasting of this skill in the "birdie" game, my water skiing ability is in complete reverse. I can truthfully say the positions I attain in this vain effort are the most unorthodox one could imagine.

It's no easy matter to belt one's head with a ski while trying to ride same, and it is doubtful the most skilled skiers can consistently somersault without reaching perfection.

The owners of the local coffee-parlor have just supplied me with considerable material on new diet formulas and drugs, which I have not used. I'll report on these later after a much-needed two-weeks cruise to Mexico and some deep-sea fishing along the way.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the June term, 1960, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 16th day of July, 1960, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., upon a credit of Six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being on the waters of Left Beaver Creek, at McDowell, Floyd County, Kentucky, and described as follows:

A part of Lot No. 9 in Block No. 6, Town of McDowell, also an eight foot strip of Lot No. 10, next adjoining in same block, making a total width of 48 feet and extending in length from the street on the front and to the railroad property on the back and next to the hill.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 24 day of June, 1960.

WELCH, SPEAKER
Dr. Frank J. Welch, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and director of the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service, is one of the principal speakers at a TVA session in Marshall county on Saturday.

COMPLETES TRAINING

Governor Combs pointed out that the Board would not be convened immediately, due to delays arising from court actions.
"Under the law," he said "bonus payments cannot be made until bonds are sold. The bonds cannot be sold until litigation now pending has been resolved. Some of these court decisions may affect eligibility. Therefore no denials of bonus payments will be made until the courts hand down their decisions."
"Obviously then," the Governor added, "the Board's actual work cannot begin immediately. When the Veterans Division denies some claims there will be appeals from claimants. It is those appeals which the board will decide."

Governor Combs said that the Veterans Division is processing applications on a smooth schedule. Both he and General Lloyd, he said, are anxious to pay the bonus as rapidly as possible. Payments will begin immediately when payment is made available.

"No industry will locate in a community which does not show pride enough to keep itself clean and attractive. Tourists have no desire to travel litter-strewn highways and srees."
The cleanup is part of a program announced by Combs to help underprivileged areas of Kentucky.
He named John D. Whisman to co-ordinate the work. Whisman is executive director of the Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission and will continue to hold that post.

Whisman is attached to the State Department of Economic Development and will work with the Governor's office in co-ordinating the program.

Combs said Whisman is working on a number of special projects in the Eastern Kentucky region, such as:

1. Construction of two centralized hog-fattening and marketing facilities—at Morehead State College and Hazel Green Academy—to promote increased hog production.

2. Help develop a co-operative approach between various forestry interests.

3. Check potential tourist attractions and assist local groups in improving small attractions for added tourist drawing power.

4. Work with civic organizations, primarily Jaycees, on a series of tourist information roadside stops.

5. Prepare for a conference in Kentucky of the 10 Appalachian state governors on inter-state and federal matters for development of the entire region.

Kentucky's program will be patterned after North Carolina's but will incorporate plans which have proved successful in other states.

Combs said money from the tourist-promotion and highway budgets will be used to carry on the campaign. He said he was hopeful that all details for getting it under way will be completed by the time he returns from the Democratic convention in Los Angeles.

Tentative plans call for appointment of a committee of about 100 leading businessmen and civic-minded women to push the drive. It will be called "Keep Kentucky Beautiful" and will be affiliated with Keep Kentucky Beautiful, Inc., a national public-service organization.

Co-operation will be sought from such groups as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers, Chambers of Commerce, Garden Clubs, Homemakers Clubs, fraternal organizations and schools.

Morris Notes Payments For Eligible Workers Under Social Security

"Payments to a retired or disabled insured worker are not the only benefits which may be paid on his social security record," James A. Morris, field representative for Floyd county, said this week.
When a worker qualifies for old-age or disability benefits, payments can also be made to certain of his dependents: unmarried children under age 18; children over 18 who were disabled before they reached 18 and have remained so since; a wife, regardless of her age, if she is caring for a child who is eligible for payments; a wife age 62 or over, whether or not there are children entitled to benefits. If a retired or disabled woman worker has a dependent husband 65 or over, he may also qualify for payments on his wife's record.

"One thing to remember is that none of the above persons can be eligible for a payment until the worker has qualified," Morris said. "Occasionally we get inquiries from dependents of a worker who has not reached retirement age and is not disabled, but of course these dependents cannot receive payments until the worker is eligible for payments."
Morris is in Prestonsburg every Thursday beginning at 9:30 a.m. to give information and assistance to Floyd county residents on social security matters.

WAY BACK

One of our force who gets around over the week-ends, sometimes, reports that he ran into a fellow up in West Virginia who gave this one-line description of a place that's a fer piece back in the sticks: "That place is so far back they don't get the Saturday Night Jamboree till the next Tuesday."

GOOD, OLD AUGUST

And now, for want of something better to do, we look to next month and those special "days" and "weeks" they have planned for us folks who take matters, one day at a time. For instance:

National Clown Week is August 1-7; Pickles Perfect Pals instance: Month runs through August, and it's National Sandwich Month, too. A card manufacturer for obvious reasons sponsors Friendship Day, August 2, and some "character" succeeded in getting International Character Day set for August 8. V-J Day, as one or two may recall, is August 14, but surely everybody in this enlightened age knows that National Green Olive Week is August 18-27 and that Cherry Pie Time begins August 15 and continues till the jaybirds leave for Florida promptly at 10:01 a.m., October 31.

Truly we have much to look forward to, next month. As if all these special "occasions" weren't enough to make the most despairing want to hang on and see the month out, here's the piece d' resistance:

The slogan for the whole blessed month is, "Remember the Ala Mode!"

fills as dams to impound the water. The Department of Highways will be responsible for the construction within the limits of the highway right-of-way and to the extent possible using normal roadway sections. However, lake projects not on a highway route, may be initiated on their own merits, the committee pointed out.

Governor Combs described the idea of using highways to create lakes on a large scale as both revolutionary and economical, because engineers can build dams in many instances cheaper than bridges.

"If this program works—and I am convinced it will—there is hardly any limit to the lakes we can build," Combs said, "Kentucky can become a leader in this field."

The committee said that each project, except those initiated by a state agency, must be sponsored by a local group. Such local groups may consist of civic clubs, fiscal courts, city or towns, wildlife groups, soil conservation district boards of supervisors or water districts. The sponsor must acquire and furnish rights of way and easements and must represent the community in which the work is to be located.

The committee will make final selection of suitable sites. All participating agencies will enter into an agreement with the sponsor of these projects and this agreement will set forth the estimate of costs to be shared by each party and the manner of maintaining the completed lake.

The committee announced that the selection of projects for consideration shall be in accordance with local possibilities and physical features of the region in which the construction is proposed.

Areas which do not have lakes and recreational facilities will be given a higher priority, the committee said. Also to be considered strongly in the selection of projects will be the benefits to industry, municipalities, agriculture and recreation.

The committee will review each application and execute an agreement with the sponsor before work will be started. All applications should be made to the Commissioner of Conservation.

gasoline, arrested by Prestonsburg Policemen Kelly Frasure and Frank Blackburn.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis said two men who were arrested by him and State Trooper Allen were not jailed here but at Pikeville, since the Green Meadows Country Club in Pike county was one of the places they allegedly entered. He said two Floyd counts will be lodged against the prisoners, Andrew Caldwell and John E. Carroll, of Boldman, in a break into the John Hall Grocery at Boldman, and the theft of an automobile owned by Joel Allen, of this county.

The two officers found Caldwell and Carroll Tuesday night as they slept on a Pike county ridge, near the Floyd-Pike line. Lewis said a sack containing cigarettes, cigars and other items lay nearby. Loot from the Green Meadows Country Club included $231 in cash, it was said.

The disease spread in Eastern Kentucky primarily because of the area's extensive forests, which cover 5,821,000 acres. Perry, Breathitt and Greenup counties were hardest hit by oak wilt last year.

Recent eradication efforts, the division's report says, apparently are successful.

In the Hazard test area, according to the report, only 67 wilting trees were located in 1959 as compared with 209 in the previous year.

Only three counties in Eastern Kentucky — Greenup, Fleming and Letcher—showed an increase last year in the number of diseased oaks.

Leach suggested that persons who spot diseased oaks report it to their district forester or fire spotter.

The symptoms are:

1. Discoloration and loss of leaves at the top of oak trees.
2. Excessive fall of green leaves.
3. Leaves turning brown from the outer edge of a leaf inward.
4. Leaves curling around the bud.

Mrs. Dora Hylton, 82, Of Martin, Is Victim Of Cerebral Hemorrhage

Mrs. Dora Hylton, 82, of Martin, was claimed by a cerebral hemorrhage at home at 4:45 a.m., Monday. She had been in failing health seven years.

Mrs. Hylton was born in Gate City, Va., the daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Thompson Spivey, and was the widow of John E. Hylton who preceded her in death in 1928. A resident of Martin for 18 years, she was a member of the Baptist church for 65 years.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Bill Salmons, Detroit, Mich., and Miss Bobby Hylton, of Martin.

Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday, from the Martin First Baptist church, the Rev. Guy Deane officiating. Burial was made in the Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Mason Moore, Guy Deane, Ray Allen, Jimmy Seton, Clarence King and Allen Harrod.

The average value of food consumed in 1960, including that raised by farmers for home consumption, will be about $400 per person.

PRE-JAMBOREE TRAINING SCHEDULED AT SCOUT CAMP

The 39 Boy Scouts and Explorers of Lonsome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, together with three adult leaders who will take part in the Fifth National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo., this month will meet July 16, at Camp Shawnee on Dewey Lake for two days of pre-jamboree training.

The success of their jamboree experience will depend to a large degree on how well the leaders and units are prepared in advance.

"This training can contribute much toward laying the foundation for a happy, safe and healthy experience," said Jack Branham, chairman of the Council's Jamboree committee.

Since the patrol will be the functioning unit at the jamboree, the boy participants are to be formed into patrols and elect their own patrol leaders. Cooking, eating, sleeping and playing together in the patrol gang will lead to life-long friendships, cooperative attitudes, and a real sense of community responsibility, Mr. Branham said.

The Lonsome Pine Council's jamboree contingent will leave from Williamson, W. Va., on July 18, and return here on August 1.

Leaders of the local jamboree party include: Donald G. Martin, Scoutmaster; Allen; Merrill Dixon, assistant Scoutmaster; Wayland; and James Petrey, assistant Scoutmaster, Dante, Virginia.

En route to Colorado Springs, the party will visit Chicago attractions on July 19.

Since the jamboree program is so full for its seven days, July 22-July 28, sightseeing opportunities in the Colorado Springs area have been limited to three days before and following the jamboree. The local group had the choice of 16 specific trips that could be made in one day or less from the Jamboree grounds. The one selected will be to the United States Air Academy, to be made on July 29.

The National Jamboree will be complemented by "Jubilee Jamborees" held at strategic points all over the nation the week-end of July 22-24.

More than 1,000 Boy Scouts of Lonsome Pine Council will join 3,000,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America camping that week-end as they hold their Jubilee Camporee at Elk Gardens, Virginia.

Beginning Friday afternoon, July 22, the Scouts will set up their tents and place their gear after they are assigned a campsite.

After dinner and camp cleanup, there will be night orientation tests following taps.

Saturday, July 23, the Scouts will stage a conservation fair, demonstrate Scout skills, hold patrol skill contests, judge exhibits, visit each other, and take part in a campfire program that begins at 2:00 p.m.

Sunday events include provision for Catholic Mass and a Protestant church service, a Boy Scouts patrol challenge contest, lunch, packing, and policing the grounds before a closing ceremony with awards.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of those who were so kind and considerate upon the death of our dear sister and aunt, Miss Ellen Conors. We wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for the food and the beautiful flowers.

We especially thank the Revs. Ira McMillen and Harold Dorsey for their comforting words and the choir members of the Methodist and Baptist churches for their beautiful music; also the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

AROUND FLOYD COUNTY

By Quentin Allen

One of the year's top golfing shows, the Paintsville Invitational Golf Tournament, was held last week-end. The Paintsville course, one of the most popular in Kentucky by the grace of good management and the interest of Dr. Paul B. Hall, was the scene of golfers gathering en masse for competitive honors.

A Floyd countian, Carl Ray Fraley, of Wayland, pushed another Fraley, Bill, of Paintsville, hard to win the championship flight. The Wayland golfer, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fraley, was fresh from a triumphant tour of the Wheelwright course in championship competition the week before, winning there over his father in the finals.

The Paintsville golf course is 18 holes of beautifully engineered greens and fairways. It is no wonder that the course has been spawning young golfing wonders such as Harold Vanhoose and David Butler, who have set older linksmen back on their heels the past few seasons.

If you have watched All-Star Golf on television, you have seen the finest golf courses in America. Many say the Paintsville golf course is not only one of Kentucky's top-notch 18 holes but is one of the best in the United States.

Floyd countians did fairly well in his year's competition. The excellent showing of Carl Ray Fraley was followed up by Paul Phillip Hughes, of Prestonsburg, who won the 10th flight. Joe Burke, Prestonsburg, was the runner-up in the 10th flight. Thurman Hughes, Prestonsburg, edged fellow-townsmen Stuart Stephens in gaining the 2th flight runner-up position. Astor Meade, late of Prestonsburg and now of Lexington, won the 19th flight over Frank Heinze, of Prestonsburg.

SIX IN A ROW!

Young Yankee slugger "Wimpy" Clark, pulled a Babe Ruth in clouting six consecutive homers the other day in Little League competition here.

The young slugger will be a sixth-grader next year, and big league baseball won't be able to take advantage of his precocious hitting talents until he graduates from high school.

Also on the same Yankee team, now leading the Prestonsburg Little League, is another hitter of note, Hershel Joseph, tagged by many as a natural athlete. Huey Gray, pitcher, has been turning in some sparkling performances on the mound for the Yankees.

From what observers have been saying about the Little League, the Yankees have the material and appear to be the favorites to win the league championship.

Steve Clark has been turning in some lusty hitting for the Dodgers.

Aged Leburn Minister Heart Attack Victim; Rites Are Held Tuesday

Rev. Loy Ellis Maggard, 70, of Leburn, Knott county, was victim of a heart attack at home at 10 a.m., July 3. He was a minister of the Regular Baptist church for 40 years.

Rev. Maggard, a farmer by occupation, was a lifelong resident of Knott county. He was a son of Nathan R. and Elizabeth Pratt Maggard. His wife, Helen, survives.

Surviving is a son, Parker Maggard, Pippaspass, Ky., and a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Paprotta Cincinnati, Ohio. Surviving brothers and sisters are Ernie Maggard, Teddy Maggard, Mrs. Allie Baldridge and Mrs. Ruhie Draughn, all of Leburn.

Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a.m., Tuesday, of last week from the New Home church at Leburn, the Revs. Otis Baldrige, Burton Howard and Alonzo Howard officiating. Burial was made in the Maggard cemetery under the direction of the Hindman Funeral Home.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank those who were so kind and considerate upon the death of my beloved husband, John E. Frasure. I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for the food and the beautiful flowers and especially I want to thank the Rev. L. P. Tussey and Rev. Arthur Ramsey, for their comforting and consoling words. I also wish to thank the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service and to all others who were so kind and good. I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks.

KENTUCKY OPEN IN ASHLAND THIS WEEK

The golfing scene shifts from Paintsville to Ashland, this week as the 41st annual Kentucky open tournament begins Thursday and lasts through Sunday.

The event is open to all golfers, amateur and professional, who are Kentucky residents. It is sponsored by the Kentucky section, Professional Golfers Association of America, and will be played over the beautiful Bellefonte Country Club.

Pre-tournament registration indicates that the event will have more than 200 participants, considerably less than last week's Paintsville's Pro-Amateur affair, which saw Wayland's Carl Ray Fraley bow to Paintsville's Bill Fraley in the finals.

Frank Heinze, Prestonsburg Little League district representative, has announced pairings for Area I and Area II tournaments of Kentucky's Little League playoffs.

The Area I tournament will be staged in Ashland, beginning next Thursday. In first-round games at 3:30 p.m. Next Thursday, stars of the Ashland National League will meet Catelesburg. At 5:30 p.m. on the same day, the Ashland American League Stars will meet Greenup County on one field and on the other field at the same hour, South Shore will battle Olive Hill. The semi-finals will be held on Friday at 5:30 p.m. and the finals at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday.

In the Area II tournament in Elkhorn City, Prestonsburg will collide with Drift, at 5:30 p.m. next Thursday; on Friday Martin will meet Pikeville at 4 p.m., and at 6 p.m. host Elkhorn City will tangle with the Drift-Prestonsburg victor. The finals will be played at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Winners of Area I and II will meet later for the right to enter the state tournament in Louisville, August 4-6.

Washington, one of Kentucky's oldest towns is three miles south of Maysville. Here the famous Marshall family lived; here Confederate General Albert Sidney Johnston — his home is a shrine — was born.

BUILDING CHURCHES... OR POWER PLANTS!

When a Kentucky community needs a church, it's traditional for all the people to turn out and do the job. Whether they donate cold cash or hard labor, it all adds up to many willing hands making a tough job easy. What's more, once the church is up, everyone has the pleasant feeling of having done his share along with his neighbor.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops... created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves... are a good example of how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in cities and towns.

Depressed Areas To Be Discussed At UK Seminar

Problems of depressed or underdeveloped areas will be discussed at a research seminar scheduled Thursday, July 14, at the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station building at Lexington.

Charles Dixon, coordinator of Special Extension programs in connection with the Rural Development project, said the seminar opens at 9 a.m., Lexington time, and continues until 3:30 p.m. The seminar is the first one-day session in a series of seminar discussions of research recently completed or currently in progress. The seminar is open to agencies, groups, institutions and the general public.

Two studies will be discussed on July 14, Dixon said. They are causes of school drop-outs in certain Kentucky areas, with E. G. Youmans, sociologist who made the study as speaker; and problems of migrants from Eastern Kentucky to Ohio cities, with James Brown and Ralph Ramsey, rural sociologists; Joe Mobley, agricultural economist, and Agnes Dinsmore, home economist, discussing such things as family adjustments, jobs and job tenure, community activities, health, government agency services and others.

Panels will be held after each session of the seminar, with audience participation, Dixon said. Lee Coleman, of the University of Kentucky rural sociology department is general chairman of the seminar.

Landscape Specialist Says Evergreen Pruning Is Best in Mid-July

Should evergreens be pruned? Even the finest evergreens will become ragged-looking and unattractive unless they are pruned each year, says N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist. And right now—before the middle of July—is the best time to do it.

Evergreens slow up in growth during the summer after growing rapidly in early spring, but they soon will be setting buds for next spring's growth. By pruning now, the plants will set buds around the end of the small twig where the cut was made; this means a thicker, denser, better-looking plant.

Elliott gives these rules for pruning: Never cut the top out of an evergreen until the plant is as tall as you want it to grow. Leave the bottom branches on the plant, too; the best-looking evergreens are those that have branches all the way to the ground.

Remove one-half to two-thirds of the new growth. Look at the different kinds of evergreens; you will see that pruning in this way is quite easy.

Old evergreens that have not been pruned for years cannot be pruned as much as other plants, he warns. Often, when evergreens are not pruned for a long time, they become so misshapen that they must be thrown away. For example, a plant that has grown three to six feet above the eaves of the house can't be pruned that much and remain alive.

The spreading type of junipers and yew that have not been pruned for a number of years will fill in and become better-looking even when cut back 15 to 18 inches, Elliott says. Usually, the upright kind will fill in and become dense by a small amount of pruning on the ends of the outside branches.

Orlando Brown Home Designed By Shryock

One of the first residences designed by Kentucky's noted architect, Gideon Shryock, is the Orlando Brown House at Frankfort.

The historic Georgian house was built by Kentucky's first U.S. Senator, John Brown, for his son Orlando.

The home remained in the family until it was left as a legacy to the Colonial Dames of Kentucky, who operate it as a shrine to Kentucky's golden age in which her notables moved with elegance and dignity.

The walls of the two-story brick structure are 14 inches thick. The Federal influence is shown in its classic entrance, its facade and the arch in the front hall, but its general feeling and interior detail are early Greek revival.

Orlando Brown (1801-1867) practiced medicine and law before he became joint proprietor and editor of the Frankfort Commonwealth. He was appointed secretary of state by Governor Crittenden and national commissioner of Indian affairs by President Taylor. His son Mason became state treasurer and Orlando, Jr., served with distinction as a Civil War officer.

The sons may be recognized in quaint juvenile silhouette and as small boys with their pet dog in the portrait by T. S. Moise and T. T. Fowler in the house. It also has three likenesses of Orlando, Sr., painted by Fowler, by Louis Morgan and presumably by John Neagle. But the prize of the collection is the portrait of Senator Brown by Kentucky's favorite native artist, Matthew H. Jett.

Among other treasures in the house are fine Duncan Phyfe tables, and the candelabra brought from France by Orlando's uncle, James Brown, minister to France under President Monroe.

Also on exhibition are the century-old medical scales and phials used by Dr. Preston Brown.

The first permanent white settlement west of the Allegheny mountains was made at Harrodsburg, in 1775.

ANSWERS TO YOUR TAX QUESTIONS BY WILLIAM E. SCENT KENTUCKY'S COMMISSIONER OF REVENUE

Q. Are professional services subject to the sales tax?

A. No. Some examples of these exempt services are lawyers, architects, engineers and accountants.

Q. Will motels and hotels collect the sales tax?

A. Yes. Q. If a person stays in a motel or hotel for a period of more than 90 consecutive days, does the tax apply?

A. No. However, he will pay the tax for the first 90 days and receive a refund or credit at the end of such a period. All charges for lodging thereafter will be tax-free.

Q. Are admissions for rides such as those operated by circuses and amusement parks subject to the sales tax?

A. No. Q. What admissions are taxable?

A. Such events as plays, movies, non-participating sporting events or other such entertainment.

Q. Are complimentary passes to such events subject to the sales tax?

A. Only if the ticket is purchased to be given as a complimentary pass. If the promoter or manager of the event distributes such passes, the tax does not apply.

Q. If a show tours Kentucky and is sponsored by local groups at each appearance, who must collect and report the tax?

A. The person or group managing sales of admissions.

Q. Are admissions to high school and college athletic events taxable?

A. Such sales to students are not taxable if admissions were included in tuition or if sales were made direct by the school acting in its own capacity and in advance of scheduled event. All sales to the general public are taxable, sales to students at the gate are also taxable.

Woodmen Sponsor Trip For 150 Floyd Youths To Sue Bennett College

Approximately 150 boys from this and adjoining counties spent three days last week on the campus of Sue Bennett College, at London. They were guests of Woodmen of the World at the annual encampment furnished to young Woodmen between eight and 15 years.

While on the trip the boys visited Cumberland Falls State Park and Levi Jackson Wilderness State Park. They participated in various sport events, having "the run" of the college facilities.

President Earle Hayes of Sue Bennett is a former agriculture teacher at Betsy Layne high school and J. B. Blalock, of Louisville, state manager of the Woodmen, presented Hayes a 50-star American flag.

Claims New Egg Law To Increase Consumption

State Rep. Albert C. Smith, Monterey, Ky., sponsor of Kentucky's new egg law, declares it will increase consumption and protect state egg producers.

He said, "There are only two reasons that this legislation is necessary: First, to improve the quality, thereby increasing consumption, and second, to insure that Kentucky producers are not subjected to unfair out-of-state competition."

The revised law requires all eggs bought or sold by or to retailers, consumers and institutions to be identified according to grade and size, using USDA standards and weight classes for consumer grades.

Smith said 35 states have a uniform egg marketing law. Heretofore eggs which failed to meet standards of these states often were sent to Kentucky for sale, he added.

Kentucky is near a large market and its egg producers can compete with other states under favorable conditions, he said.

Local rural merchants can conform to the new law by grading eggs, or by passing them along to larger markets for grading and resale.

GARFIELD'S HEADQUARTERS AT PRESTONSBURG IN 1862

Col. James A. Garfield, commander of the Union troops that defeated Gen. Humphrey Marshall's Confederates at the Battle of Middle Creek, Jan. 10, 1862, established headquarters after the engagement in the house owned by John M. Burns, Prestonsburg attorney.

Now known as The Garfield Place, it has been preserved as it was while Garfield was using it. The Union soldiers encamped north of Prestonsburg and for decades the place was known as Garfield Bottom. The Garfield Place was the former residence of the late C. P. Stephens and is occupied now by Mrs. Stephens.

Garfield, later President of the United States, moved from Prestonsburg to Pikeville and set up headquarters there in a home afterward known as the Bowles House. It was torn down several years ago to provide room for a municipal park. Garfield successfully directed Union troops at the Battle of Pound Gap a short while afterward and left the valley to fight at the Battle of Shiloh.

CRAWDADS POPULATION DECREASING
According to the latest statistics, many crawdads have left Floyd county in the past ten years, due to the lack of housing facilities.

Swampy and wet land, which was once their haven, has steadily declined. Reliable sources claim the Soil Conservation Service is the responsible party.

L. R. Johnson, soil conservationist, said, "More than 300 land owners have taken advantage of the Soil Conservation district's assistance. Four hundred fields have been tiled and drained. We are trying to drain land, not kill crawdads. The value to the farmer when wet land is drained far exceeds the inconvenience to the crawdad population."

No house-hunting crawdad could be reached for comment.

Many acres of Floyd county land can be greatly improved through the use of drainage tile. If you have a farm drainage problem, contact L. R. Johnson, Soil Conservationist, or one of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district supervisors—J. B. Clarke, Roy Deney, R. C. Barnett, Billy Merritt and Milt Stanley—or apply for assistance to the A.S.C. office.

One of the few green spots in the county last winter was on Edgar Bingham's farm, near Cliff. Mr. Bingham constructed a waterway during the fall and seeded it to winter grain and Ky. 31 Fescue. A part of this waterway could be seen across the river from the new Auxier road throughout the winter and spring.

Prior to the construction of the waterway, a ditch meandered through the Bingham property. The ditch was knee-deep, with straight-up-and-down banks which were eroding badly. There is now little possibility that erosion can take place and the waterway can be crossed at any point with farm machinery.

Mr. Bingham is proud of his grassed waterway. Talk to him about it.

Altruistic Group Helps Alcoholics Control Disease

By LOUIS M. FOLTZ, Chm., Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

"Why, this is first-century Christianity."
This characterization of Alcoholics Anonymous in 1937 by Albert Scott, chairman of trustees for Riverside Church, N.Y., presaged a gift of $5,000 by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to help the organization get started on its great program.
Rockefeller recently died after a long and useful life in which charity was a motivating force. He made a much greater contribution to Alcoholics Anonymous; he prevented it from becoming professional.

"Won't money spoil this thing?" Scott asked. "Won't money create a professional class? Wouldn't professional members spoil the man-to-man approach which is now so successful? Wouldn't the management of a hospital chain, with all the money and property involved, be a fatal diversion?"

Rockefeller, although much impressed with AA's progress, aims and methods, flatly turned down a plea, backed by one of his closest advisors, for an initial gift of $50,000. He was afraid that money would spoil the thing. This was a great decision for Alcoholics Anonymous, although at the time it was very distressing, since some of AA's staunchest leaders were in dire financial straits.

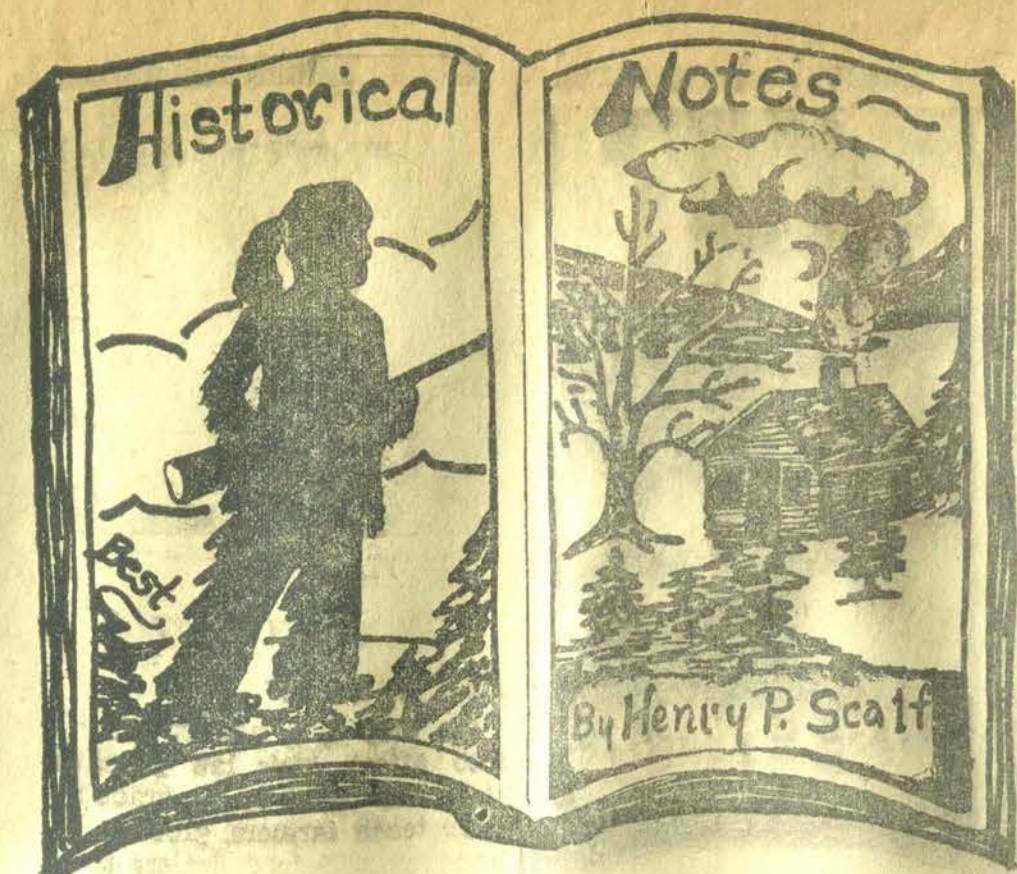

Alcoholics Anonymous is today known as the most wholly altruistic organization in the world by many thousands of persons. Its members perform their infinite variety of unselfish, soul and body saving services without charge and with no thought of remuneration, aside from the satisfaction of helping another human being. This seems to be adequate pay, for AA is growing by leaps and bounds and its activities are rapidly spreading everywhere.

The Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism works with Alcoholics Anonymous, for after careful investigation, it has been established that this organization does more to help problem drinkers and to bring sobriety to sufferers from the disease of alcoholism than all other forces combined.

HALE AND HUFF FAMILIES

A few weeks ago Mrs. Elynor Young Holstein, 7301 North 33rd Street, Omaha 12, Nebraska, was in the office seeking information on the Hale and Huff families of this section.

She writes:
"According to meager records our ancestors came from Floyd county, Kentucky, and in piecing together stories and information we have become interested in learning more about the Hale and Huff families."

"I would like information of the father and grandfather of Ezilpha Hale, born in Floyd county, Kentucky, April 28, 1822, the oldest of a family of five. She married Thomas Huff, who was born in Kentucky in 1819. He lived in Iowa 30 years, later Nebraska. She lived to be 91 and he 94.

"I certainly wished for more time to spend in your town among such friendly people but the 'rig' we had rented was due back July 1, so we had to rush on. With big ideas of fishin' and campin' it was the first time we had ever tried a trip in a 'Roamer.' My husband and children liked it but I wasn't so fond of it.

"Did you find the name of the Hale man in Ashland? (I did and forwarded Mrs. Holstein the name of a genealogist interested in the Hale family, HPS.) If I can trace back a couple of more names I feel I can pick it up from the archives in Washington, D. C.

"I guess I've reached the mellow age where yesterdays seem but a short time ago and the lives of foreparents in the 1700 and 1800's are near enough to seem colorful and interesting. But I'm still new enough at it to be surprised that your interest is great enough to include all the early families."

Anyone having information on the Hale and Huff families are requested to write Mrs. Holstein.

EARLY BUCKHORN SETTLER

This column has excerpted Logan Ewell's column in the London (Ky.) Sentinel-Echo so much that it is becoming a matter for embarrassment. But too many interesting items flow from the pen of Mr. Ewell to be ignored.

The following appeared last week in "75 Years of Living."

"In the notes of Mrs. Fredora Lay's history we are told that Jerry Smith came from Tennessee at the end of the War of 1812 to settle at the Buckhorn Spring.

"Mr. Smith said that when he came to Buckhorn all the bottoms were filled with big poplar and walnut trees and grape vines large as his thigh. He built a pen of chestnut rails to live in while he was building a house. He kept a calf in the house to keep it from the wolves. One night his wife heard the calf bawling. She jumped up, grabbed a battling stick and went to the calf. A wolf had crawled through a crack and had hold of the calf. She grabbed the wolf by the leg, jerked it loose, killed it with the stick.

"Jerry Smith while out hunting walked into an Indian camp before he knew it and was too afraid

Resolutions of Respect

In Memory of Brother John E. Frazier, who died June 13, 1960

Once again hath death summoned a Brother Odd Fellow, and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls, and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit "well done" from the Supreme Master.

Whereas, The all-wise and merciful Master of the Universe has called our beloved and respected Brother home, and he having been a true and faithful member of our beloved Order, therefore be it

Resolved, That Prestonsburg Lodge No. 293, I.O.O.F., of Prestonsburg, Ky., in testimony of its loss, drape its Charter in mourning for thirty days, that we tender to the family our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

Lightning Rod Salesman Active In Section, Said; Kincaid Warns Public

Two men saying they are from "the electric company" have been selling "lightning protection" in Eastern Kentucky.

I. H. Kincaid, Pikeville district manager of Kentucky Power, reports that his company recently learned the situation when a customer asked when his home was going to be inspected to see if it was "lightning proof."

The customer explained that two men had installed some wiring on the house roof for $250. Given a receipt for the $250, the customer was told by the men that the company would come to inspect the job in a few days.

Mr. Kincaid said, "We want to warn our customers against any practices of this kind. The Kentucky Power Company does not install or inspect any lightning protective equipment on customer's property."

He also asked the public to advise the Power Company if approached on any such offer to install lightning protection on a home under the pretense that the workmen are from the "electric company." "Local law enforcement authorities also would appreciate being notified if you are contacted under such circumstances," he added.

Telephone Talk

By BYRON SIMPSON
Your Telephone Manager

HAVE YOU EVER saved and planned for a trip, driven to that special vacation spot, and then—found no hotel or motel room available? Sleeping in the car isn't much fun, is it? After your family has spent an uncomfortable night in a cramped automobile, you realize how important it is to phone ahead for reservations. The cost of a Long Distance call is small and the reassurance of having a place to stay is very comforting.

OF COURSE Long Distance is very helpful on many occasions this time of year. It's good to phone before visiting people out of town—for one reason, they might be on the way to visit you. If you can't get together with the folks, it's very satisfying to have a nice phone chat. On the road, it's a lot of fun to call friends at home and report some of your vacation happenings. Just look for the nearest booth, walk-up or drive-up telephone—they're easy to spot.

WE THOUGHT we'd heard all possible stories about telephones helping locate lost children and property—then we ran across this true item. In Kansas, a man found a lost parakeet that was chirping, "Call Mary, Jackson 3-4312!" Just curious, the man called the number. "Mary," who lived in the next town, answered the phone... happy to hear about her bird that had flown 12 miles from home.

Forestry Agency Opens 10 Offices In New Program

The Division of Forestry will open 10 new field offices this month as part of its expanded program.

The new offices will be at Grayson, Jackson, London, Williamsburg, Leitchfield, Russellville, Burkesville, Paintsville and Pikeville.

At the same time, Gene L. Butcher, director of the Division of Forestry in the Department of Conservation, announced a two-week Forestry Management Program to begin July 11, at Cumberland Falls State Park for 16 new service foresters hired recently.

The expanded service foresters program was made possible by the state's new revenue program, including the sales tax. The Division of Forestry will receive $1,519,153 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, as compared with $951,153 the previous year.

The 10 new field offices will bring to 24 the number of offices operated by the Division. Ten of the new service foresters will be placed in the new offices with the remaining six to be added as additional personnel at existing offices.

Butcher said the new offices and new foresters were needed because of a large number of requests for assistance from Kentucky's 243,000 timberland owners. He said the shortage of foresters has caused a backlog in requests from owners.

The Forestry Management Program will orientate the new foresters in the program of the Division. Kentucky is one of a few states to hold a camp such as this. Other states rely on on-the-job training.

Butcher said the service forester aids the state's timberland owners by:

1. Examining the condition of the woodland;
2. Recommending improvements;
3. Preparing a management plan;
4. Giving tree planting advice;
5. Guiding the timberland owner toward obtaining financial assistance for forestry work.

Butcher explained that this service is designed to aid owners of less than 500 acres. The only cost involved, he said, is when a cutting must be made. Marking charge is 40 cents a 1,000 board feet for sawtimber and 10 cents a cord for pulpwood.

After marking is completed the forester gives the owner a report on the number of marked trees and estimated volume, a plan for selling the timber, and a list of timber buyers.

The service forester will also make an inspection during cutting and logging operations, if requested, to make sure the owner is getting the benefit of good forestry practices.

SGT. ADKINS PARTICIPATES

Grafenwohr, Germany — Army Sgt. Maxwell D. Adkins, son of Lonnie C. Adkins, of Wayland, Ky., participated with other personnel from the 4th Armored Division in a field training exercise in Grafenwohr, Germany, which was concluded June 22.

The exercise, conducted under realistic combat conditions, was designed to evaluate the combat effectiveness of the unit.

Sgt. Adkins, a tank commander in Company A of the division's 67th Armor in Furth, entered the Army in November, 1948, and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in May, 1959.

The 30-year-old soldier is a 1948 graduate of Wayland high school and attended Morehead State College.

His wife, Ingeborg, is with him in Germany.

NEW EGG LAW

On July 1, a new egg law went into effect. This law requires all eggs sold retail to be graded.

To teach farmers, groccermen, egg handlers and feed dealers to grade eggs properly, the University of Kentucky Extension Service and the State Department of Agriculture are jointly holding one grading school. The school is free.

The following meetings are scheduled and everyone effected by the new egg law is encouraged to attend the meeting of their choice:

Grayson, July 12, 1 p.m., R.E.A. building; Sandy Hook, July 12, 7:30 p.m., Courthouse; Greenup, July 13, 7:30 p.m., Fair grounds; Louisa, July 14, 7 p.m., county agent's office; and Ashland, July 15, 7:30 p.m., courthouse.

Evert Mackey, of University of Kentucky, Paul Simon, Phil Stallard and Wendell Reynolds, of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture will be on hand to assist you with the egg grading questions.

LATE GARDENS

Many of the early beans, lettuce, onions and greens have matured and past using. Don't let this space lay idle for the weeds to take over. There is still plenty of time to plant beans, corn and other vegetables.

To often gardens are turned over to weeds and by August the garden is not producing any vegetables. This is a mistake. A good garden will produce all summer and up to frost.

Insect numbers are on the increase. Don't let up on the spraying program. Continue to spray once every 10 days with Malathion and Methoxychlor.

The humid weather is ideal for tomato blight to start. A thorough spraying every 10 days with Zineb will protect omeatoes from this disease that can destroy all tomatoes in a few days.

CROP OUTLOOK

This year's corn crop is developing very good. Without any unforeseen trouble this should be the best corn crop in Floyd county. We have been more fortunate than most counties, in that very little corn has been damaged by flooding streams.

The early hay crop was damaged by excessive rain fall, but most of the crop has been saved. The prospect for fall hay is very good. With the moisture that is now in the ground, lespedeza should make good growth by cutting time.

STRAWBERRIES

This year's strawberry crop was above average. The weather was favorable and the demand was good. Next year's prices should be equal to as good.

Old strawberry fields will produce profitably for another year if properly managed. The field should be clipped, fertilized and the balks cultivated. J. L. Laffery, Sr., and Bill Layne, have completed renovating their strawberry fields. Any one wishing to see a patch that has been renovate properly, can visit either of these fields.

Reports have reached this office where as much as $2,500 have been sold per acre. No other crop will come near this for income per acre.
