

THURSDAY

This Town-- That World

The worst thing you can have around, days such as this, is a thermometer. If it doesn't register as hot as you think it is, you decide you've been cheated, and that isn't calculated to make you any cooler.

STANDING ROOM ONLY This new boating law has me just a bit concerned, for all its good points, I have a 14-foot boat, and the law now says it must carry two bow lights, one light aft, a life preserver for every passenger and (if the deck is 30 inches long) a fire extinguisher.

Besides all that, where am I going to put my fish? (See Story No. 1, Page 3)

FLOYD PAID $2,079,408

In S. S. Benefits, Said; Pikeville Office Notes Amount Received Here

At the end of 1959, as federal social security was starting its twenty-fifth year, old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits were being paid in Floyd county to 3,802 persons at the rate of $173,284 per month or $2,079,408 per year, according to James A. Morris, field representative of the Pikeville Social Security District office.

Nationally, about 13 1/2 million persons were receiving old-age, survivors, and disability insurance monthly benefits at the end of 1959 at an annual rate of more than $10 billion. At the close of 1940—the first year in which monthly benefits were payable—beneficiaries throughout the U. S. totaled 200,000.

The number of wives, husbands, and children of disabled-worker beneficiaries receiving monthly benefits increased sharply in 1959. Such benefits were first payable for September 1958. Nationally, from February to December 1959, the number of these beneficiaries more than doubled—from 60,000 to 126,000.

Payments to a retired worker with no dependents receiving benefits averaged $69 a month nationally at the end of last December; to a retired couple, both of whom were receiving benefits, the average payment was $121. The average for a widow with two young children was $169.

By contrast, Morris recalled that when benefits first became payable in 1940, the average monthly payment to a retired worker with no dependents receiving benefits was $22, and to a retired couple the average payment was $36.

COMBS, SPORN HAIL VALLEY POWER PLANT

Other Industry To Come Into Area, Speakers Say As Work Slated Monday

Hundreds of persons from Kentucky and West Virginia counties along or near the Big Sandy river braved Tuesday's heat to hear Governor Bert Combs, Lieut. Gov. Wilson Wyatt and Philip Sporn, president of the American Electric Power Company, speak of this area's high industrial potential and of its hopes as ground was broken for the Kentucky Power Company's $39 million plant, a few miles north of Louisa.

Governor Combs termed the event "a monument representing a vastly important milestone in the economic progress of Kentucky."

Lieut. Gov. Wyatt hailed the beginning of the Big Sandy Plant as "commencement day" for Eastern Kentucky.

Mr. Sporn pledged the power system will "continue in every way to assist this area we serve to realize the fulfillment of its economic potential for the benefit and welfare of its communities."

Later, at a luncheon in Ashland, Mr. Sporn told of development already done in the area and added that an aluminum plant in the area may be so near realization that an expansion of the Big Sandy Plant "may well be started before the construction begun this morning reaches completion."

The American Electric Power Company which Sporn heads is the parent company of the Kentucky Power Company.

Governor Combs said: "Other industries are coming into this area, each saying, in effect, 'What is good enough for American Electric Power and Kentucky Power, and good enough for Philip Sporn—a giant of industry—is good enough for us.' Others have their eyes on Kentucky."

Kentucky Power officials said the plant will be completed late next year, that it will employ about 50 men and will consume an estimated quarter-million tons of Eastern Kentucky coal a year.

State, Federal Impact Studied On Libraries

The impact of federal and state programs on local library services is being explained at a series of one-day regional workshops sponsored by the Kentucky Library Extension Division for county and bookmobile librarians.

The first workshop was held July 28, at Princeton. Others will be held August 16, at Prestonsburg, Columbia, London, Eminence, Glasgow, Elizabethtown and Morehead.

Miss Margaret Willis director, said the workshops will discuss new programs of the Extension Division as well as the problems the librarians may have in each county.

She added that interested citizens are invited to attend.

THE BIG SANDY PLANT near Louisa, Ky., will provide 265,000 kilowatts of electric power for customers of Kentucky Power Company when it is completed in late 1962. The sketch above shows the plant's giant cooling tower in the background—rising 320 feet above ground with a base diameter of 245 feet. It will provide the cool water required by the plant for steam-condensing purposes. Big Sandy will consume 750,000 tons of eastern Kentucky coal every year upon its completion. A ground-breaking ceremony at the plant site on August 2 signaled the start of construction.

LEWIS QUILTS SHERIFF JOB

Disagreement Reported With Sheriff Warrens; Carnival Head Fined

Joe Wheeler Lewis, backbone of the law-enforcement arm of the Floyd county Sheriff's office, announced Tuesday that he has resigned his post as deputy sheriff. His brother, Harold Lewis, also has quit.

Sheriff Hershell Warrens denied later in the day that Lewis has resigned. "He hasn't told me, if he has," the Sheriff said.

Asked why he quit, Lewis replied with a question: "Would you work on if you couldn't satisfy the boss?" Sheriff Warrens said there may have been some "little disagreement" between him and Lewis but that there was no serious dissension. "I'm sure Joe Wheeler will be all right," he added.

One of Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis' most recent official acts was the arrest Saturday night of the owner of a street-carnival-type show operated at Allen. The arrest was made, he said, when he witnessed the operation of open gambling on the show lot.

The owner of the show paid a fine of $212.50 to Magistrate Grover C. Holbrook. The show folded its tents and departed after Saturday night's raid.

Sheriff Warrens said Harold Lewis' resignation is considered final, explaining that the deputy (See Story No. 5, Page 3)

SAFETY CHECK AWARD MADE

To Prestonsburg; Latta Told of Presentation By National Organization

Prestonsburg has been chosen to receive a State Award of Excellence for its outstanding Vehicle Safety-Check, conducted as part of the 1960 National Vehicle Safety-Check program.

Prestonsburg was one of more than 2,900 communities reported planning to participate in the national program, sponsored annually by the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee and Look Magazine, with the cooperation of the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators.

The award was conferred by a National Board of Judges which met in Washington, D. C., late in July to select national and state winners in each of five population groups. Prestonsburg was the only Kentucky winner, and was one of 16 communities with a population of less than 10,000 to be honored.

The award-winning Vehicle Safety-Check program here was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Cliff Latta and Don Sullivan served as Safety-Check co-chairmen, and coordinated all local Vehicle Safety-Check activities.

Mr. Latta was notified this week by M. R. Darlington, Jr., director of the National Vehicle Safety-Check, that he will be contacted soon about the presentation of a plaque for the community's winning effort.

ANNUAL FLOYD HALL OF FAME MEETING IS SLATED SATURDAY; VANDERPOOL TO ADDRESS GROUP

FIRST CLINIC EXAMS GIVEN

For Suspected Cases Of Tuberculosis; Plan Future Quarterly Tests

The out-patient clinic held here Tuesday as the first such service rendered locally for tuberculosis patients and contacts was highly successful as 93 persons—79 from Floyd and 14 from adjoining counties—were examined.

The clinic was conducted at the Floyd County Health Department building by Dr. Duane Jones, director of the Ashland TB Sanatorium, and Dr. Drevets, who is conducting a case-finding program in Kentucky for the U. S. Public Health Service.

Examinations included chest X-rays, sputum specimens, skin tests and a general physical evaluation. All laboratory specimens and X-rays were taken to the Ashland Sanatorium for study. Later, a complete individual case history report will be made by Dr. Jones to each patient's family doctor, with a copy sent to the health department here. It was said that follow-up work will be done by the health department, with the cooperation and consent of the patients' personal physicians, to promote treatment, hospitalization if necessary, and protection of the public in general.

GIRL SCOUT CAMP PASSES HEALTH, SAFETY INSPECTION

Camp Chatterawha has just passed the inspection of a committee of safety experts who gave all camp facilities a thorough going-over. The results of the inspection were contained in a letter from Arthur Bradbury, chairman of the Safety Inspection committee, to Mrs. Minor E. Pace, Council president, as follows:

"In response to your request, the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council's Camp Chatterawha was subjected to a health and safety inspection on Thursday, July 28, 1960. The inspection party was made up of: Ray Spears, safety director, Princess Elkhorn Coal Division, Princess Coals, of David; T. R. Lemaster, supervisor of health and safety, Kentucky West Virginia Gas Co., Prestonsburg; Bill Barnett, district personnel supervisor and safety director, Kentucky Power Co., Pikeville, and Arthur Bradbury, assistant to manager coal properties, Inland Steel Co., Wheelwright.

"The inspection party was well pleased with the conditions observed, noting that the waterfront activities, including boating and swimming, were conducted according to the required standards and under the supervision of qualified personnel. The health and safety of the campers were well provided for in all respects, and sanitary features of the camp were excellent. The Floyd County Health Department pronounced the drinking water and the water of the swimming area to be in good condition following tests made during the previous week. The

BOATING LAW ENFORCEMENT

Planned For Dewey Lake; Roving Patrols Schedule Work In East Kentucky

Roving patrols will work the Dewey Lake-Eastern Kentucky area, as well as all other Kentucky waterways, this week-end as a start toward all-out enforcement of Kentucky's new boating law, it was announced Tuesday.

The new law requires all motor-driven boats in Kentucky to be registered, and the deadline was set at August 1. By Wednesday morning of this week only 146 boats had been registered in this county, Circuit Clerk Henry Stephens said.

The registration rush began only last week-end. Over the state, approximately 10,000 boats had been registered as of Tuesday morning. It is estimated there are between 60,000 and 75,000 such craft to be registered.

Scott Barbour, director of the state's boating division, said this week the roving patrols will not only check boat registration on all Kentucky waterways but will also inspect the craft to see if safety devices have been installed as required by the new law.

After application for license is made at the offices of Circuit Court Clerks, the boat-owner will be assigned a number by means of a photostated card which must be carried on the boat when it is in operation. The assigned number also must be painted on each side of the bow in numbers and letters at least three inches high and in color contrasting to the color of the hull.

Safety requirements for boats under 26 feet in length are:

A Coast Guard-approved life preserver or an approved life ring or cushion for each person aboard (ski belts are not acceptable); an anchor (See Story No. 6, Page 3)

OFFICERS SEE WHISKEY SALE

Prestonsburg Woman Fined 111.50; Raids By Deputies Net Beer

The sale of a half-pint of whiskey cost a Prestonsburg woman $111.50 last week.

Arrested shortly before dusk Saturday by Policemen Kelley Frasure and Frank Blackburn, Mrs. Raymond Joseph soon thereafter entered a plea of guilty before Police Judge R. W. Feller who imposed the fine. The two officers saw her arrive on First avenue in an automobile and make the sale.

Wayne Allen, of Hunter, was fined $20 and jailed 30 days Monday by County Judge Henry Stumbo on a charge of possessing beer. Allen was arrested recently on a liquor charge when the Miners' Club at Hunter was raided by state police and deputy sheriffs, but this week's fine and jail sentence were imposed on a charge ante-dating that.

Ezra L. Collins, of the Middle Creek road, was jailed Saturday after a raiding party composed of Sheriff Hershell Warrens and Deputy Sheriffs Joe Wheeler Lewis, Harold Lewis, Lonnie Herald and Henry Stone found 16 cans of beer and three half-pints of whiskey on his premises.

Fred Thacker was jailed last Thursday on charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny following the theft of mine motors from Bill Jack Stephens, Hascal Prater also was named in the same case, but he denied his guilt and Thacker told officials he was alone in the theft. The two were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Henry Stone.

Theft of hub caps brought grand larceny charges and arrests on Robert Wright and a juvenile. They were booked by Deputy Sheriffs J. Hall and R. Hall.

Others booked at the jail: Thomas Riley, who cold check charges, arrested by Constable A. J. Case; Garfield Hite, no operator's license and speeding, arrested by State Trooper Goble.

UNDER-16 OPERATORS OF MOTOR SCOOTERS BANNED BY MAYOR

Motor scooters and motor bikes operated by children are taboo in Prestonsburg. Mayor Edward B. Leslie said this week.

No person under the age of 16, Mayor Leslie said, will be permitted to operate such a vehicle. Operation by an under-age driver will result in confiscation of the vehicle by city police, and parents of such a driver will be held responsible, he added.

The action was taken in response to a drive initiated by the Department of Public Safety against operation of motor-driven scooters and bikes by children under 16. Mayor Leslie said a situation similar to that in Prestonsburg has been cleaned up in Maysville, that the drive has spread to other towns and that state police are interested in correcting the situation.

Dr. Leslie also said he has had reports from two or three local motorists of their barely avoiding collisions with child-drivers of these vehicles.

LAYNES HOST AT FIELD DAY

Farm And Garden Tour Are Features of Event; Award List Announced

Approximately 100 farmers, their wives and others interested in the agricultural program in this county attended the Farm Family Field Day held at the farm of Bill Layne at Betsy Layne, Saturday. The event was scheduled for the second time at the Layne farm due to his outstanding contribution to gardening.

The program got underway with a farm tour held by the men and demonstrations on kitchen planning and canning conducted by the women. After a noon picnic lunch, judging contests were held. Men judged the vegetables and the women canning. Winners of the vegetable judging were J. L. Lafferty, Sr., and Freer Martin. They received prizes donated by Adams & George Hardware and the Farm and Home store.

Mrs. Rufus Sturgill was top adult canning judge and was the recipient of a prize given by Bob Francis, Apparel. Joan Martin won the young ladies class in judging and received appropriately, a canner from Arrowwood hardware store.

Other firms donating prizes were Fountain Korner Drug, Paul Francis Wholesale, Wright Bros., Hager May Market. The three Floyd county banks provided soft drinks for everyone.

Winners in the family garden improvement program were announced at the Field Day. First place went to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lafferty, Sr., who received a nice silver pitcher given by the A. & P. stores. Second and third place went to Mr. and Mrs. Garland Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Taylor, respectively. These prizes will be awarded later. The state committee will provide their awards, which will be canning and freezing respectively. Three other gardens were judged. They were those of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Crider, and Andrew Ousley.

NO DECISION REACHED IN BANK'S FUND FIGHT

At least three hours of the five-hour Floyd County Board of Education session held here Tuesday afternoon were devoted to a discussion of proposals of two Prestonsburg banks competing for the post of depository of board of education funds.

The net result of the proposals and counter-proposals, arguments and counter-arguments was no decision.

County Superintendent Charles Clark, however, named Wayne Ratliff, assistant superintendent, and Ray Howard, an anti-administration board member, as a committee to undertake to arbitrate the situation. He explained that an agreement is desired on the basis of alternating between the banks the depository for two-year periods, with the board to receive from the depository each of the two year-periods $4,000 a year for educational purposes.

The question is certain to be on the agenda of the September board meeting.

BOARD ACTION LIFTS HOPES FOR SCHOOL

Committee Authorized To Option Building Site; More Teachers Employed

The Floyd County Council of Parents and Teachers' dream of a vocational school drew a step nearer realization this week as the Board of Education authorized the taking of options on one or more sites for a building which it proposes to construct for that purpose.

On that project and all other items of business except the embattled fund-depository issue, the board was in complete agreement. The motion for selection and optioning of a site was made by Ray Howard, with John G. Hall making the second and the other two board members present, Chairman John M. Stumbo and Mrs. W. D. Osborne, leading ready support.

Superintendent Charles Clark, W. J. Reynolds, Jr., of Martin, president of the Parent-Teacher Council, and Lloyd McGarey, president of the Martin Parent-Teacher Association, were named to the committee to option a site or sites.

The school, when established, will be a branch of the Mayo Vocational School, Paintsville. It was urged at a meeting held earlier this year at Martin with James A. Patton, state director of vocational education, and George L. Ramey, head of the Mayo Vocational School. At that time the two agreed to a state survey of need, and this survey led to centering the school in an area within a radius of three or four miles of Martin.

The school structure may entail a cost of around $150,000, it was said. When completed, it will be equipped and staffed by the Mayo school, its backers have been promised.

Elsie Stephens was employed as principal of the Prestonsburg grade school. She succeeds Woodrow Al-

X-RAY UNIT SCHEDULE SET

Elks-Donated Trailer Facilitates Free Tests By Health Department

The tuberculosis X-ray trailer unit manned by State Health Department personnel and donated by Elk lodges of the state, will begin eight days of work in this county next Tuesday when it will be parked in front of the courthouse here.

The unit will remain here through next Wednesday and Thursday to give free X-ray chest examinations. Chest pictures will be made for any person 20 years old, or older. X-rays will be available for those under 20 only if skin tests have resulted in positive readings.

Remainder of the X-ray unit's schedule follows: August 12, Martin school; August 16, Wayland; August 17, McDowell school grounds; August 18, Wheelwright swimming pool area; August 19, Harold school grounds.

The Floyd County Health Department, which sponsors the annual chest X-ray service in this county, emphasized the importance of all persons under 20 having the skin tuberculosis tests to determine if they should be X-rayed and how often.

NO DECISION REACHED IN BANK'S FUND FIGHT

The Bank Josephine is the present depository, named so for the 1960-61 and 1961-62 biennium last January. Claiming it had not been given an invitation to submit bids for the depository of board funds and had not been permitted to send a representative before the board personally in connection with the naming of a depository since June, 1956, the First National Bank in a letter June 21 to Former Superintendent V. O. Turner and board members submitted a scholarship plan, contingent upon the designation of the bank as depository of school board funds. This plan provided for a $400 college scholarship for one graduating senior from each of the county's nine high schools, or a total scholarship outlay of $3,600 for each of the two years.

The scholarship plan was discussed at the July board meeting, the first meeting for the new superintendent, Mr. Clark. At that time legality of the plan was questioned by Joe Hobson, attorney for the (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

Action on contract hauling of school children and on coal bids was deferred.

One order entered at the meeting authorized the abandonment of the Goble Branch school and its removal to the site on Bull Creek of the Lafferty school which was destroyed by fire last year. The board will rent the Lafferty Methodist Chapel for school purposes until the Goble Branch building is moved and ready for occupancy.

Other actions of the board:
Resignations of Betty Lou Salisbury, Virginia Lushbaugh and Irene Dorsey accepted; leaves of absence granted to Hazel George, Barbara Moore and Joyce Stephens; Hi Hagans employed as bus driver at Drift and Harold Sammons at Prestonsburg; Robert Martin hired as half-time janitor at Wayland and Mrs. Hiland Nelson as janitor at Prestonsburg high school, replacing her husband in that work; Mrs. Laura Wells employed as clerk at Prestonsburg high school.

The board voted to raise the mileage allowance for its employees from 7 to 8¢ per mile, in accordance with State Department of Education recommendations. The Hall & Music Insurance Agency was low bidder on school bus insurance; so was R. C. Dyer on glass and the Sandy Valley Hardware Company on other items advertised for bids.

The price per serving is the best guide by which to judge any meat, rather than the price per pound. Semi-boneless and canned hams may cost more per pound but there is less waste than in those which have all the bone in.

Yankees Hold Lead Despite Hit Barrage Laid Down by Indians

Although the Indians of the Prestonsburg Little League may have set some sort of scoring record this week and have come up with a 10-3 season record, they are still two games behind the first-place Yankees.

In the last three games the Indians have scored 59 runs while allowing the opposition only 11 as 7 of their 54 hits went for homers. Jim Crow Morgan, of the second-place team, took over the lead in the home run department from Wimpy Clark, 7 to 5, by hitting a round-tripper in each of the last three games.

The Yankees are coached by Charlie Patton; the Indians, by Paul Branham. During the Indians' recent scoring spree they defeated David, 30 to 2; the Cards, 12-0 and 17-9.

HAMS ARE PERISHABLE

Hams are perishable and should be stored in the refrigerator. Even though ham is a cured meat and may be partially or completely cooked it will spoil when left at room temperature. Canned hams, too, should be refrigerated. Read the label on a canned ham—it usually says, "Refrigerate". If you plan to buy a large ham make arrangements for having the necessary available space in the refrigerator. After a ham is cooked it should be refrigerated.

CAUDILL NAMED PRINCIPAL AT HAZARD

Jim Caudill, dean of Eastern Kentucky high school football coaches, has been elevated to the principalship of Hazard high school after serving the Perry county school as head football coach for the past ten years.

Caudill's final appearance on a Kentucky grid-iron will come in Lexington, August 13, when he tutors the East squad in the annual Kentucky coaches' East-West all-star football game.

He leaves one of Kentucky's outstanding records with 97 wins, 26 losses and two ties in 13 seasons, three at Louisa and ten at Hazard. From 1947 through 1949 at Louisa, Caudill's teams won three consecutive Northeastern Kentucky Conference titles and posted a three-year mark of 29-2-0.

His ten-year span at Hazard was 68 won, 24 lost and two ties. In the six years the Bulldogs were in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference they won the championship twice and were runners-up three times.

Replacing Caudill will be his No. 1 assistant, Paul Wright, who came to Hazard in 1951. A native of New Boston, Ohio, Wright was an all-K.I.A.C. center at Eastern State College and played in the East-West small college bowl in Los Angeles in 1949.

Assisting at a reception to follow at the church will be Mrs. Dan S. Knausz, Mrs. C. J. Laddson, Mrs. L. B. Brashear and Mrs. Cleo Hale.

Garrett Scout Troop Receives Its Charter In Church Ceremony

Sunday evening, 19 boys of Boy Scout Troop No. 144 at Garrett, gathered at the Garrett Baptist Church to receive their charter and registration cards. The charter was presented to the troop's institutional representative, Rev. Rush Sloane, by Bob Stags, district Scout executive in the Jenny Wiley district. The Rev. Sloane in turn presented registration cards to Troop Scoutmaster Eugene Mullins, Assistant Scoutmaster Bill Francis, Jr., Chairman of the Troop Committee Kermit Rowe and Troop Committee Secretary Shelby Draughn.

Following the ceremonies for the adult leaders, the Scouts had their turn at receiving honors. Thomas E. Rice, senior patrol leader, presented each Scout with his registration card and Tenderfoot badge. Rice had received his honor from the Scoutmaster in a ceremony just prior to the church service. Receiving honors were Michael Clark, Anthony Rowe, Clarence Hughes, who are Explorer Scouts; Larry Francis, Hubert Draughn, Paul Francis, Danny Francis, Jimmie Potter, Darrell Johnson, Phillip Rowe, Jimmie Case, John Roy Martin, Jerry Martin, Richard Triplett, Danny Duff, Ronnie Moore, Larry Shipley and Robert Richmond.

Most of the boys' parents were out to see their sons honored, as were their relatives and friends in the community. The sentiment of the parents and townspeople was expressed by Orville Rice, father of Thomas Rice, when asked for a statement by the Rev. Sloane. Rice said, "The Boy Scouts is the best thing that has ever happened in our town."

Retired Schoolteachers Receive Higher Benefits From Retirement System

The 2,396 retired schoolteachers of Kentucky received a hefty increase in their July benefit checks, it was noted by the Kentucky Retirement System, last week. The average June check was $73.23 but this was upped to $106.18 in July.

"With this increase," said James L. Sublett, executive secretary of the retirement system, "the minimum benefit for career teachers has been increased more than 120 per cent since 1958. I do not know of another instance in which so large a percentage increase has been accomplished in such a short time."

The substantial improvement in benefits is part of the expansion in public education enacted by the 1960 Legislature and financed by the new 3 per cent sales tax. Education at all levels got $271,130,530 for the next two years, an increase of $102,714,600 over the last two years. The teachers retirement system is getting $12,826,925 of state money this year and $13,782,800 next year. In contrast, the 1959-60 appropriation was $8,546,200.

But younger teachers still at work are financing a part of the higher retirement benefits. Since July 1, their contribution to the system has been a flat 5 per cent. Before then a sliding scale prevailed averaging 4.45 per cent. It broke down to: teachers younger than 30, three per cent; from 30 to 40, four per cent, and older than 40, five per cent.

AMA Recognizes Alcoholic's Need Of Understanding

By LOUIS M. FOLTZ, M.D., Chairman, Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism

There is no specific remedy which makes it possible for an alcoholic to become a moderate, controlled drinker.

Medical science is not yet able to say precisely why some persons develop alcoholism while others, who may perhaps be heavier drinkers, do not.

Something in the alcoholic's physical makeup or body chemistry may be the cause, although this has not been definitely determined.

Great progress has been made in recent months in helping alcoholics, thousands of whom have recovered and are recovering.

Young Francis and Scoutmaster E. B. May, Jr., at the recent Court of Honor at which the former was honored.

REUNION

I seem to recall a story about a highly talented mynah bird. Seems that he was kept in a barroom and that he picked up therein an extremely salty and violent vocabulary.

Finally, the preacher dropped in, heard the mynah squawk a line of profanity and off-color comment that curled his hair. He decided he could do something about this, however, and took the bird home with him.

So it was that the former barroom denizen sat perched in his cage facing the church-door as the services were ready to begin and as the folks entered. His sharp eye sighted down his beak, he fluttered a restless wing, let out an "a-ark!" and sang out:

"Hi, gang!"

If anybody thinks stories such as that do the church no good, consider the fact that it might help some church-members.

Calfhood Vaccination Is Offered To Farmers In Floyd County, Said

The state is offering free calfhood vaccination against brucellosis (Bang's disease) to the farmers in this county, it was announced this week by County Agent Robert M. Jones. The service will be available every four months, he said.

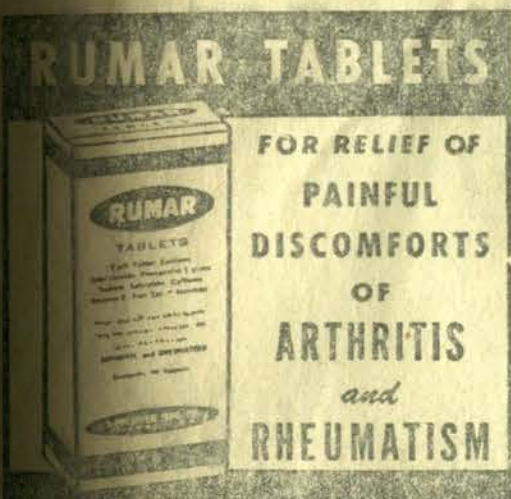

"This is a very important phase of the livestock sanitation program," Jones said. "Last year the testing program eliminated all animals with Bang's disease. The procedure that will be used is to get the vaccination completed for every farmer who will sign for the free service with the contact man in the community. The state will then check with the community contact man for a list of farmers wanting the service."

Community contact men are Joe Blackburn, of East Point; Billy Merritt, of Bonanza; Greeley Dotson, upper Middle Creek; Judge Edward P. Hill, Abbott Creek; Alex Bingham, Auxier; J. B. Clarke, Prestonsburg; Harve Spears, Endicott; James Greene, lower Middle Creek; Alex Derossent, Bull Creek; James Riley Hall, Alleh; Henry Hale, David; Glover Spencer, of Martin; Jimmy Ousley, Maytown.

"This service will be available in August, so contact your community contact man soon," Jones urged.

board, and action on the proposal was delayed on the grounds that a legal ruling was needed and that the Bank Josephine should be given time to offer a proposal. Validity of the plan later was affirmed by the Comptroller of the Currency.

At this week's meeting the Bank Josephine submitted its proposal calling for an annual gift of $4,000 to a committee consisting of the superintendent of schools, the assistant superintendent and the supervisors and principals of all elementary and secondary schools in the county. This fund, it was pointed out, would be "used by the committee as it sees fit, with the thought in mind that said money shall be used to better promote the cause of education" in the county, either in scholarships or in any other worthwhile educational purpose.

This program, H. D. Fitzpatrick, president of the Bank Josephine, was planned "to be of such magnitude that all parts of the county would benefit. No strings are attached."

The proposal pointed out that the $4,000 gift would be made each year as long as the Bank Josephine is the duly designated depository of the board of education.

After Mr. Fitzpatrick had read this proposal, Burl Spurlock, president of the First National Bank, countered with a proposal to establish a $4,500-a-year college scholarship fund, or $500 for one student from each of the county's nine high schools each year.

There was no counter made to this proposal, and the board turned finally to other matters without taking any definite action.

"Whatever is done, I've started something that will benefit the children of the county," Mr. Spurlock told the board.

Earlier, Mr. Hobson pointed out that the Court of Appeals has held that a board of education may not rescind its election of a superintendent. He argued that designation of a depository of a board's funds would be in line with that opinion.

Clifford B. Lattie, a vice-president of the First National Bank, appeared as spokesman for that institution with Mr. Spurlock.

An official of the U. S. Treasury Department was quoted as saying the situation arising here in the depository competition is in his experience unique.

SOIL CONSERVATION

By L. R. JOHNSON
Soil Conservationist

The improvement of woodland is making rapid gains in Floyd county. Woodland improvement is the practice of destroying or removing undesirable trees and brush which steal plant food and water from more desirable trees.

Mature trees and harvest trees are marked with yellow paint by a forestry expert. They are then ready to be removed and harvested. Many trees thus removed may be used for pulpwood, saw logs, and mine props as the market is available. Wolf trees should be eliminated even if no market is available.

J. B. Clarke, Prestonsburg, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, was the first Floyd county to practice woodland improvement. Results from the observational plot on Mr. Clark's farm on the Dewey Lake — Brandy Keg road can readily be seen. Mr. Clark's woods consisted of big, hollow beeches, scrubby sweetgum, sycamores, and gum which were removed. A good stand of poplar and oak is still developing and becoming more valuable each year.

Two other supervisors, R. C. Barnett and Milt Stanley, have improved several acres of woods. Steve Clarke, of Wheelwright, has also completed several acres.

Ask any of these Soil Conservation district cooperators about their woodland improvement program. Then contact your Soil Conservationist and find out how your woodland can be made more valuable.

H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., has just completed the second of two ponds on his farm on Middle Creek. The two ponds—one .55 acre and the other .68 acre — were staked out by Soil Conservation technicians. Actual construction work on the ponds was supervised by the Soil Conservation Service.

The ponds are embankment-type structures which will contain over eight feet of water when filled. A total of 9,780 cubic yards of earth was moved by bulldozers and other heavy equipment in the construction. That part of the disturbed earth which will not be under water will be seeded to prevent erosion. It will be fertilized and then seeded with Ky. 31 Fescue.

As soon as practical after the eight-foot depth is reached, the pond will be stocked with bass and bluegills. A "living fence" of Multiflora rose will be set around the impoundment.

The two ponds can be easily seen from the highway near what is known as the David turn-off or the Left Fork of Middle Creek. The ponds are now partially filled, and it would be well worth the short trip to see them.

Martin County Begins Brucellosis Testing; Program Is Explained

Acting on the requests of more than 75% of the 769 farmers who own dairy or beef cattle in Martin county, the Kentucky Department of Agriculture began county-wide brucellosis testing of cattle in Martin county, Monday. Agriculture Commissioner Emerson Beauchamp announced this week.

County-wide testing of cattle cannot begin in a county until at least three-fourths of the herd owners controlling 80% of the cattle request this service. (Floyd county is now brucellosis-free.)

Dr. R. W. Hammermeister, state veterinarian, said that this free service will be rendered for all testable cattle in the county. Testable cattle are all cattle except steers, vaccinates under 30 months of age and calves under six months.

All reactors must be sold for slaughter but the herd owner will receive indemnities up to $25 for a grade and $40 for a purebred for the difference between the appraised value of an animal and the actual price received when it is sold for slaughter.

Sales Tax Report Held Slated By Department At Prestonsburg Meet

The Revenue Department will provide personalized service to small retailers experiencing difficulty in reporting their taxable receipts under the new Sales and Use Tax law. The reports are to be filed monthly with the department by the 20th of each month. First reports are due in August.

Revenue Commissioner William E. Scent said his field force will be in a stand-by basis awaiting calls from retailers who may be confused about the new reporting procedure. He said retailers should visit or call any of the Revenue Department's district offices for a personal orientation on the methods of reporting the tax. The department will have auditors at each of the twelve offices to discuss problems with retailers. The nearest district office is located in the Hopkins building, Second street, Pikeville.

In addition, beginning after the first week in August, department representatives will be available in each county seat on dates to be announced. Retailers should look for announcements in next week's papers for the exact dates and place.

Scent said, "Although the department has conducted at least one educational meeting in each of the counties, we anticipate that some retailers who could not attend may find the reporting procedure slightly confusing when they make out their first report, and we urge them to avail themselves of this opportunity for assistance."

INQUIRIES

This column would like to make an inquiry of the public. It is said that Mrs. Polly Whitaker Johnson, of Pike county, is a surviving widow of Caleb C. Johnson, a Civil War soldier. If so, she is considered the lone surviving widow of the great throng of soldiers who served under the Blue or the Gray. The note I have says that she and the veteran were married Oct. 23, 1902. Any information would be appreciated.

Another inquiry is about a rare and fugitive book, titled "Family Trees of the Big Sandy." The author's name is unknown. It is said that the book was published in the decade of 1920-30.

MORRIS FAMILY

This column serves as a clearing house in many ways it seems. Leonard Morris, 630 Lee Street, Marion, Ohio, writes:

"In the July 21 issue of The Times there was an article in Historical Notes about the Morris family. The article stated that a Mr. Hardy of Lexington, Kentucky, was pursuing a matter of investigation of a huge estate for the heirs of John Coburn. It also stated that Mr. Hardy had connected the Eastern Kentucky Morris family with Robert and Gouverneur Morris.

"It is very important that I get in touch with Hardy as soon as possible. I would appreciate it very much if you could give me his address, full name and business address in Lexington."

To Mr. Morris goes Mr. Hardy's address. To all interested, here is Mr. Hardy's full name and address, inadvertently omitted from Historical Notes:

J. A. Hardy, 1605 Brittany Lane, Lexington, Ky.

LANGLEY, ENGLAND, CHURCH

To plagiarize a phrase from a big city columnist, "There are things a columnist might never know unless he opens his mail."

I never knew there was a Langley, England, nor that a church

there was in dire need until I opened the mail.

The letter is from Garard Green, parochial church councillor, the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Langley Marish, Buckinghamshire, England.

He writes: "It is possible that in the past there was the faintest connection between Langley, Kentucky, and Langley, Buckinghamshire — and I presume on that in asking your help in summoning the people of Langley, Kentucky (and all others in your county) to our aid."

"A small part of our mutual heritage, in the form of our beautiful Parish Church, is in danger. After 700 years, the ravages of time, and the more cruel ravages of war, have left their mark. It is not (thank God) irreparable but it is expensive. The major and immediately necessary repairs alone still require at least 3,500 pounds (approximately $10,000).

"I ask you, Sir, if you will be kind enough to organize an appeal to ensure that something of Godliness and beauty shall not perish from the earth. If you yourself are unable to do so, I beg of you to ask someone who can. Enlisting the aid of all organizations and local newspapers. I am sure you will find cooperation."

"Cheques, money orders, etc., should be made payable to the Langley Parochial Church Council and sent to our Vicar, the Rev. W. F. Palmer, Langley Vicarage, Slough, Buckinghamshire, England. I'm enclosing the front cover of this month's Parish Magazine in order that you may see for what it is that we ask your help."

"P. S. I, personally, have had the pleasure of working in the States for some time. Now, by virtue of being an actor, it is probable that through the medium of television and radio, I have been in many of your homes. I beg of you once more to prove that the Brotherhood of Man can be manifested in this other way as well. For, in truth, there is no need to send to see for whom the bell tolls . . ."

OLD PICTURES WANTED

And now I make an appeal of my own. I would like to borrow your old pictures to run in The Times—pictures of prominent people now deceased, old churches, schools or anything of historic value.

The pictures will be returned without damage and within a very few days. They will be appreciated.

As President, Abraham Lincoln once remarked, "My earliest recollecting is of the Knob Creek place," referring to his boyhood home near Hodgenville.

CARD OF THANKS

We would convey to our friends and neighbors our gratitude to them for the many kindnesses extended during the illness and upon the death of our loved one, Joseph Gayheart Patton. We would especially thank the doctors, nurses and other personnel of the McDowell Memorial hospital, those who sent flowers, the Rev. Burkett and Ollie May, and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its efficient service.

QUICKSAND FIELD DAY
The annual Field day at the sub-experiment station at Quicksand was attended by Harold Rice, J. L. Lafferty, Sr., G. S. Martin, Gaylord Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gayheart, Betty Jones, and your two county agents.

The program consisted of a tour of the farm, followed by a free chicken barbecue. In the afternoon Phil Smith, Jackson civic leader, welcomed the group, followed by Frank J. Welch, dean of the college of agriculture and home economics, talked on the Resource Development Program for Eastern Kentucky.

On the tour some of the interesting projects viewed were the plastic greenhouse, plastic poultry house, dwarf apple orchard, garden mulching test, corn breeding work, sorghum trails, sheep flock and small plants.

GARDENS
It still is not too late to plant a few rows of beans. Those last pickings before frost are usually very good. Other vegetables that can be planted in the garden are beets, kale, head, bibb and leaf lettuce, mustard, radishes, spinach and turnips.

Be sure to fertilize late garden crops, use 40 lbs. of 5-10-10 fertilizer per 1,000 square feet. Broadcast, and work into soil before planting.

BAG WORMS ON EVERGREENS
Each year bag worms do considerable damage to evergreen shrubs. While they may attack most any plant they are found mostly on arborvitae, pfitzer junipers and hemlock. Check these plants carefully, as bag worms are hard to see because of their protective coloring.

Bag worms can be effectively controlled by spraying with Malathion. Follow mixing directions on label. Hand picking and burning the bags is effective but more time consuming.

POULTRY JUDGING TEAM
The Floyd County 4-H Poultry Judging Team is now being trained for participation in the state contest at the State fair.

Club members that have been training are Burgess Lowe, Freer Martin, Randolph Hicks, Ossie Spencer and Gaylord Martin. Last year the Floyd county team finished seventh in the state with Jack Howard receiving third place in the individual scoring and Burgess Lowe was in 12th place in the individual scoring.

ANSWERS TO YOUR TAX QUESTIONS

BY WILLIAM E. SCENT
KENTUCKY'S COMMISSIONER OF REVENUE

Q. Are persons who are not regularly engaged in selling and not having a permanent place of business required to hold a Sales Tax Permit?

A. No. These persons will report the tax on a non-profit basis and will obtain a Retail Sales Tax Registration from the Department of Revenue.

Personalized Service To Be Given Retailers Reporting Sales Tax

The Revenue Department this week announced it will have a representative in Prestonsburg, August 8, 9, 11, 15 and 18, as Revenue Commissioner William E. Scent is sending out field personnel to help those retailers who need assistance in filing their first sales tax return.

The first return by retailers is due August 20.

Scent urged those retailers who were not completely clear on the reporting procedure to get in touch with the revenue field representative on those days he is in town.

He said, "Although the method of reporting is not difficult to understand, there will be certain phases a retailer may wish explained."

"These men," said Scent, "are being sent out for this very purpose, and we want all retailers who need explanations to avail themselves of this service."

Retailers unable to contact the revenue field man on the days he is in their town may receive special attention by writing or calling the revenue district office nearest their own. The nearest district office for Floyd county is at Pikeville.

Kentuckian Believes He Has Murdered Eight; Is Sandy Hook Native

Sandy Hook man who dreams of murders and believes he committed eight of them, told Miami, Fla., officers Tuesday, two of his victims were a Jacksonville woman and a minister's son in Idaho.

The weird story of Emmett Spencer, 29, was being thoroughly checked because he already has led officers to one body.

He told Miami detectives Tuesday that he thinks he killed a Jacksonville woman named Virginia Tomlinson but can't remember where. He will be taken to Vero Beach, where the body of a woman was found May 6. She had been stabbed.

Spencer couldn't recall the name of the Idaho man or the place of the killing.

A minister's son was one of four people slain last year in mystery killings in Southern Idaho. The victim, Dr. John Hunt, Jr., 37, of Portland, Ore., was found dead on the floorboard of his small foreign station wagon near Gooding, Idaho, on August 24, 1959. His personal belongings were missing. He had been shot in the head.

Hunt was the son of the Rev. John Hunt, of Bellingham, Wash. He was en route from a job with the U. S. Forest Service to become a professor at Yale University in New Haven, Conn.

His killing has never been solved. "I'm delighted to hear this," said Sheriff Keith Anderson, of Gooding, Idaho, when told of the Miami development. "I'll telephone Miami immediately."

Spencer started talking in a jail cell where he was held in the killing several weeks ago of Johnny Keen, a Key West Navy Yard employee.

Monday he led officers to the body of Leon C. Hammell, Jr., 45, in a dooded section on Big Coppitt Key. He also claims to have killed a family of four in Virginia. The FBI has arrested another man in that case.

Floyd Woman Lands Lost Pilots By Radar; Has Never "Lost A Man"

T/Sgt. Nettie Hopkins, of the Women's Air Force, and a former resident of Langley, this county, is the only woman in the United States who always "lands her man." In fact, she's the only woman in the U. S. Air Force who works in ground control approach, using the radar instrument facility to lead pilots in to safe landings in bad weather.

It sounds simple, but it isn't. When she locates the lost pilot on her radarscope her cheerful voice guides him safely to a blind landing. In this country and out—she's now in Germany—she hasn't lost a man or a plane yet.

T/Sgt. Hopkins is the daughter of Mrs. Maggie Radliff Hopkins and the late W. D. Hopkins. Her mother, a niece of the late A. J. May, of Prestonsburg, now lives at Butlerville, Indiana.

Sgt. Hopkins, nicknamed "Hoppy," was an Indianapolis beauty operator for 12 years and for nearly three years was employed in the ointment finishing section of Eli Lilly and Company.

She enlisted in the Women's Air Force from Indianapolis in October, 1948, and trained at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. Further training at Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., in control tower operation was followed by training at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama, and transfer to Germany in March, 1953.

Sgt. Hopkins is in the final phase of special ground control approach training. Capt. Robert E. Cander, her commanding officer, has nothing but praise for her ability.

"Hoppy" works in a long, narrow building painted in huge orange and white checks, before a complex instrument panel. Her work uniform is dark shoes, Air Force blue trousers and trim blue blouse.

If fog, common in that area, closes over the airport, she is on duty immediately. Often, 15 planes at a time are asking directions. She must listen to four or five radio frequencies, and keep up with all of them.

The planes appear on her radarscope as little "blips" like rice grains. When she talks to a particular pilot, she has him execute a special turn, and when his particular "blip" moves, she knows she has the right pilot. She asks first his position, altitude and the amount of gas in the plane.

When he is making his final approach, she listens only to him, and the conversation is strictly business, for she has his life in her hands.

When a new ruling threatened to eliminate Hoppy and all other women from control tower operations, the whole base at Wiesbaden protested.

An appeal was made to Lieut. Col. Emma Jane Riley, director of the Women's Air Force in Washington.

Because of her excellent work, the ruling was modified to state women already working at similar jobs could remain, but no new members will be accepted.

Hoppy is so much liked by her outfit, they submitted her in international competition for title of "Outstanding Airman for 1960."

Capt. William T. Roberts, tower and ground control officer, finds her a fine morale factor at Wiesbaden, and said the men accept her as their equal.

The trim WAF with the ready smile intends to make the Air Force her career. She has asked for duty extension to spend four years in Germany.

Her off-duty travels have taken her to Delphi and Athens, Greece; Istanbul, Turkey; Belgium, Holland at tulip time, and she saw the Passion Play at Oberammergau, Germany.

When she's on the base, she visits families of airmen who are gone, loans her car, runs errands, and last Christmas, to make it seem like home, she spent three weeks baking cookies for base personnel.

Report from Scout Jamboree Says 39 from Council There

BULLETIN—Steve Meade, Prestonsburg Boy Scout attending the National Jamboree, was designated by Gov. Bert T. Combs to present to Colorado Governor Stephen L. R. McNichols a commission as a Kentucky Colonel, and young Meade has carried out his assignment.

By SAMMY D. HATCHER
Jamboree Correspondent

Colorado Springs, Colo. — The Lonesome Pine Council sent a troop of 39 boys and three leaders to attend the fifth National Jamboree at Colorado Springs. The boys went to Camp Shawnee for three days of pre-Jamboree training.

The boys were accompanied by Donald Martin, of Allen, Mervil Dixon, of Wayland, and Jim Petrey, of Dante, Virginia. There are five boys from Prestonsburg, eight from Allen, including leaders, and one from Drift. Others in the party are from Virginia and other Kentucky counties in the Council area.

The troop boarded a train at Williamson, W. Va., July 18, and went to Chicago, Ill., for a tour of the city. On the tour we visited the Chicago Museum. We arrived at Colorado Springs July 20, and took a bus to the campsite and set up camp.

The campsite is approximately 35 miles from Pike's Peak and six miles from Colorado Springs. Region IV, which covers sections of Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia, has 4,200 Boy Scouts at the Jamboree.

Floyd Girls in Group Guests of Woodmen See Stephen Foster Story

Thirteen Floyd county girls and three supervisors attended the July 22nd showing of "The Stephen Foster Story" at Bardstown. This was the first time Kentucky Woodmen girls had participated in the society's all-expense-paid trip. Previously, only boys of Woodcraft chartered units have participated in this program.

While on the trip the girls toured the Old Kentucky Home, Bardstown Cathedral, Calumet Farm, and an Eastern Airlines plane at Bluegrass Field, Lexington.

The girls spent the night at the Stephen Foster Hotel and returned the following day. They were accompanied by girls from Pikeville, Paintsville and Salyersville.

The girls attending from Floyd county were Joan Hall, Judith Branhams, Judith Hall, Gloria Gibson, Greta Gibson, Patty Tackett, Rosemary Tackett, Nancy Tackett, Dorothy Bates, Lois Bates, Judy Akers, Sheila Lynn Tackett and Glenda Pack.

The supervisors were Mrs. Robert Branhams, Mrs. Adrian Hall and Ernest Turner, local Woodmen representative.

Pikeville Votes Tax On Incomes; Raises Fee For Garbage Collection

Voting a one-two punch to raise city revenues, the Pikeville City Commission on Monday night approved a one per cent city income tax and raised the garbage collection fee from $1 to $1.50.

The Commission also voted to make four appointed posts elective offices in 1962.

Casting a tie-breaking vote after a marathon session punctuated with debate on the income tax, Mayor Bill Pauley made the revenue measure a law by a 4 to 3 margin.

Dr. W. C. Hambley, who presented the income levy proposal, and Commissioners W. T. Huffman and Homer Dalton, voted for the tax with Commissioner J. A. Charles, J. A. Shockey and Harry James Spears casting negative votes.

Opponents to the income levy used the claim that Pikeville had enough taxes the way it was as the major point of their negative arguments.

However, Mayor Pauley argued the city was not getting enough revenue to meet its payrolls now and the city definitely needed more funds. Pauley said he city gives more services now than ever before.

The income tax will become effective August 1, and will apply to all city residents with an income.

The garbage collection fee rise was approved with less opposition than the highly controversial income tax.

Four presently appointed officials will be elected in the future in accordance with another ordinance passed by the body.

Effective the first Monday in January, 1962, the offices of city clerk, city treasurer, city attorney and police chief will be placed on the ballot. The offices now are appointive.
