

THURSDAY

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

SEPTEMBER 15, 1960

This Town-- That World

One of Ike's better decisions was that one which will restrict Mr. K. to Manhattan Island.

LUCKY US!

Donna made her run through Florida and up the East coast. Now Edna threatens to set hearts a-flutter by taking a sweep slightly to the west. And Eastern Kentucky, for all its economic woes, doesn't know how well it fares, especially when gals such as these go on the prowl. All we got out of it was delightfully cool weather after days of scorching heat.

THE WATCHERS

Still the squirrel-hunting stories come in. There's the one about the hunter arriving on a mountain-side overlooking Dewey Lake and making his way to a hickory tree before daybreak. A flashlight lighted the way. Arrived at the predetermined spot, he switched on his light and swung it around. A pair of eyes shone, off there to the left, 20 feet or so away. This didn't look good. He sat, barely breathing for what seemed several minutes, then switched his light to the right. There, too, was another pair of eyes. More agonized waiting, then a quick flash of the torch uphill. More shining eyes. Silence—just the watching eyes, there in the darkness. (See Story No. 4, Page 4)

DEDICATE DAM AT BUCKHORN

Gov. Combs Pledges Support To Park Idea; Impounding Scheduled

Buckhorn Dam, described as vital to Eastern Kentucky's flood control and tourist business and possibly the site of a future state park, was dedicated Sunday. Governor Bert Combs told an audience of more than 3,000 he would do everything in his power to make Buckhorn Dam a state park. The impoundment is on the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River, 28 miles from Hazard, and when filled this fall, will be astride the Perry and Leslie county lines. It cost $10,500,000. The governor also told his listeners a new road planned into Eastern Kentucky would become a reality soon. Contracts for part (See Story No. 5, Page 4)

GRAND JURY INDICTS TWO FOR MURDER

Warrix Named In Slaying Of Roe Layne; Mrs. Slone Charged With Fatal Shot

Two indictments naming a woman and a man on charges of wilful murder were among the 31 voted by the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court before it recessed last week. The jury will re-convene Sept. 22 for two additional days' work.

One of the murder indictments named Zean Warrix, of Bull Creek, in the fatal shooting on Abbott Creek last July of Roe Layne, of Prestonsburg. The other accused Mrs. Cora Slone of fatally wounding her husband, Allen Slone, at their home, near Sugar Loaf, in June.

Some testimony was heard in the probe into the fatal shooting here of Don Woods by Ballard Fleming, of Prestonsburg, but the jury postponed action till it re-convenes.

Frank Johnson and Ted Thompson were named in separate breaking and entering bills, both accused of taking from the C. & O. Railway depot at Wheelwright Junction, May 16, money orders totaling $3,300 and $849 in cash. The money orders have never been recovered, the grand jury minutes noted.

Donald P. Atkins, of Allen, was named in two indictments alleging assault and battery with an auto and hit-run driving in the injury of three Dwayne women.

Other breaking and entering indictments named these defendants: John Ed Carroll and Jack Caldwell, accused of breaking into the cabin of Don Bush; Teddy Amberg, charged with breaking into the Langley Service Station; Johnny Akers and Tip Ward.

Estill Newsome was indicted on a charge of cutting and wounding Evin Hamilton at Ligon, and Effer Reynolds was accused of carrying a concealed deadly weapon. A grand larceny indictment named Grand Osborne, Jake Moore, Purvis Martin and Edsall Osborne in taking equipment of the Kinde Vanderpool mine. The only liquor indictment was a possession charge against George Slone. Another bill accused Betty Manns of destroying private property.

Child desertion indictments were voted against Richard Compton, Tommy Burke, Ezra Shortridge, D. M. Parsons, Elmer Damron, Virgil Carroll, Freddie Branham, Ishmael Caudill, Clyde Hamilton, Clifford Newsome, Romine Shepherd, Ralph Jack Slone, Alvis Johnson, Jake Halbert and Okie Thompson.

Sturgill Is Named To Succeed Compton

John D. Sturgill, of Hindman, assumed duties here Monday as a sanitarian with the Floyd County Health Department. Sturgill, a graduate of Berea College with a B.S. in business administration, will succeed Earl Compton, who resigned to take a position with the state Department of Health, Louisville. Sturgill is a son of Judge and Mrs. Dennis Sturgill, of Hindman.

SALYERSVILLE UTILITY SOLD

Allen, Miller, Others Buy Magoffin Gas Firm; Reported Price, $80,000

Four Prestonsburg and Paintsville men, owners of Consolidated Utilities Co., Inc., today (Thursday) were effecting the purchase from Albert K. Moore, Salyersville newspaper owner, of Momarc Utilities, the gas system which serves the city of Salyersville.

Reported purchase price of the Salyersville gas system, which serves about 400 customers, is $80,000.

John Allen and the Rev. Jonas Miller, of Prestonsburg, and W. H. and B. W. Cox, of Paintsville, are owners of the firm making the Salyersville purchase.

Consolidated Utilities was formed by the merger of the Shale Gas Company, owned by W. H. Cox and his son, B. H. Cox, with the new firm which the Prestonsburg men organized. The Shale Gas Company supplies gas to the communities of Staffordville, Wittensville and Nippa, in Johnson county, and serves 231 customers.

Several gas wells heretofore used as a source of fuel supply by Momarc Utilities are included in the transaction.

The gas franchise at Salyersville was recently advertised for sale, and the sale will be made tomorrow (Friday).

PROJECT OK'D IN ATHLETICS

Three Suggested Changes To Be Made By Shannon; Finance Drive Is Slated

Final approval on the method of financing and tentative approval of construction plans and specifications of the proposed athletic field project at the high school here was granted by the state Department of Education, Wednesday of last week. The Department gave its approval of the $40,000 project to County Superintendent Charles Clark, Byron Nunnery, the building committee of the Parent-Teachers Association, and George L. Shannon, engineer-architect, in a conference at Frankfort.

Three minor changes were suggested by the department, and these will be made in the plans at once by Shannon, it was said by Byron Thompson, chairman of the building committee. This will clear the way for final approval within a week, it was said.

The Prestonsburg Parent-Teachers Association is now planning a Youth Confidence and Youth Certificate sales campaign to raise funds for the local contribution to the athletic field. The drive will be planned to raise $30,500, the Association's share of the cost. The Floyd County Board of Education will appropriate $9,500 to supplement this amount when the local funds are deposited.

The bonds and certificates will be offered to the public within two weeks, Thompson said.

SANITARIANS COMPLETE RESTAURANT SURVEY

A trio of sanitarians found upon the completion of a recent survey that ten of Prestonsburg's 16 restaurants are eligible for an A rating, according to the Floyd County Health Department. Heading the survey was Steve Sandlin, Jr., regional sanitation consultant, and assisting were Earl Compton and John M. Stumbo, of the county health department.

The eating establishments were inspected here during the week of August 29. Five were placed in the Class B category and only one was listed in Class C. The latter establishment can operate only 30 days under this rating.

Restaurants in Prestonsburg feed an average of 2,855 persons daily, the survey team found.

The percentile rating for the county itself is 92, approximately 23 percent above the rating two

DEMOS SLATE AREA EVENTS

Clement, Roosevelt Set District Talks; Fish Fry Is Planned

Evidence of the increasing tempo of the Democratic party campaign to select national and state officials was seen this week in renewed activity of organizations and the scheduling of several major political events.

Highlighting the campaign in the Seventh Congressional district will be the fish fry at Jenny Wiley State Park Saturday, when Former Governor Frank G. Clement, of Tennessee, will speak in the behalf of John F. Kennedy for President and other Democratic candidates. The fish fry will be held between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Gov. Bert Combs and Lieut. Gov. Wilson Wyatt will be present at the meeting which is sponsored by the Floyd County Democratic Women's Club.

Democratic women of the Seventh Congressional District will meet at 10 a.m., in the park prior to the fish fry Saturday. (See Story No. 3, Page 5)

BUSINESSMEN HOLD MEETING

Vance Mitter Named Permanent Chairman; Committeemen Named

Prestonsburg businessmen, in pursuance of a program to bring more trade to the town, met for the second time Tuesday morning at the Municipal building and named Vance Mitter, a local department store manager, as chairman of the organization.

The group, consisting of 12 merchants, discussed a weekly drawing from tickets provided by them on sales. This kind of promotion was successful here a few years ago.

A committee was named to draw up rules and regulations for the drawing. Appointed by Mitter to the rules committee were William O. Goebel, Dan Nessler, Bob Francis, Hubbard Francis and Virgil Warrix. This committee will report at a future meeting on its plans.

Goebel discussed the annual decoration of the streets at Christmas and announced that the fund for that purpose had a surplus of $149 in the bank left over from last year. Mitter, who had heretofore been serving as head of an organization committee, presided at Monday's meeting. The next meet will be held Friday, it was decided.

1,095 New Floyd Voters Register During Period; Democrats Holding Edge

The recent voter-registration period saw 1,095 new registrations recorded at the County Clerk's office, and of these 883 were Democrats, 211 were Republicans and one registered as an independent.

Thirty-three voters changed their party registrations. Twenty-three changed from Republican to Democratic while 10 shifted from the Democratic party to the Republican.

NO INCREASE APPROPRIATED

For Fishtrap Project; Ask Heavy Expenditures For Fiscal Year 1962

Adjournment of Congress saw no Big Sandy River flood control appropriations beyond $800,000 for advance planning of the vital Fishtrap reservoir, but both Kentucky Senators and Congressman Carl D. Perkins filed with the Bureau of the Budget recommendations for heavy expenditures at Fishtrap in fiscal 1962.

Sensors John Sherman Cooper and Thurston B. Morton asked $3 to $5 million for construction work on the Fishtrap reservoir. Congressman Perkins asked $3,500,000. (See Story No. 7, Page 4)

Harris Held In Ohio Without Bond On Charge Of Slaying Floyd Man

Tommy Harris, 41, of Bush Ridge, Ohio, and formerly of the Beaver Creek section of this county, was ordered held for grand jury action on a first degree murder murder charge at Jackson, Ohio, Monday, in connection with the slaying of Marion Hatfield, 35, at Jackson, August 7.

The slaying occurred at the Harris home. The victim was a son of Frank Hatfield, former Floyd county, and now the Democratic nominee for sheriff of Jackson county.

Harris was ordered held without bail in the Gallia county jail pending action by the grand jury which convenes Sept. 23.

Hatfield was killed by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun which struck him in the neck.

COOK NAMED IN CIVIL SUIT

After Drawing Fine; Estep's Pen Sentence Probated By Judge Hill

Roy Cook, state employe, was fined $150 this week by a Floyd circuit court jury when given trial in absentia on a charge of assault and battery, and Wednesday was named defendant in a $10,000 damage suit.

Cook, former dog warden in this county, was sued by Floyd Jones and by Jones' wife, Irene, for $2,500. Their petition, prepared by Atty. Joe Hobson, claims Cook on Dec. 24 last "wantonly and without reason" assaulted and abused the couple.

The only pen term of the week, that of James Estep who entered a guilty plea to a charge of child desertion, was later probated.

Cases of two women charged with reckless use of deadly weapons were consolidated, and one of the two, Mary Belle Newman, won an acquittal. Patsy Newman, however, was fined $50 and sentenced to jail for 30 days. Junior Collins was fined $100 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of possessing moonshine whiskey.

Bond of Ezra Shortridge, who was indicted a few days ago on a child desertion charge, was increased on order of Judge Edward P. Hill from $1,000 to $5,000, and his case was set for trial Sept. 20. The $1,000 bond of Burlie Yates, accused of child desertion, was forfeited when he failed to appear for trial.

Two other defendants won "not guilty" verdicts at the conclusion of their trials. They were Tuley (See Story No. 1, Page 4)

OFFICIALS SAY CENSUS HERE IS INCORRECT

Preliminary Report Has Population Here Totalling Only 3,094

Preliminary figures released by the U. S. Census Bureau show that Prestonsburg's population now stands at 3,094—a drop of 13.7 per cent from the 1950 population total of 3,585.

The reported total immediately brought heated protest from city officials. Mayor Edward B. Leslie said his family is not in the census, because the census forms were never picked up at his home by census-takers. Several others here reported they were not counted.

The Prestonsburg Water & Gas System reported that the number of its customers now total 1,175, as compared with 929 at the time the 1950 census was taken. Of the water and gas consumers now listed, approximately 75 live outside the city limits, it was said.

Were You Counted?

If you or your family were not included in the 1960 census, advise The Times by card or letter.

One source deduced that if the city had a population of 3,585 in 1950 with only 929 water and gas customers, including commercial and industrial firms and offices, each customer represented a family of 3.8 persons. Applying that figure to the approximately 1,100 customers now within the corporate limits, this source estimated the present population of Prestonsburg to be at least 4,100.

The mining towns of Wheelwright and Wayland have suffered even heavier population losses than Prestonsburg, according to the census report. Wayland dropped from 1,807 in 1950 to 1,237 this year for a 28.6% decrease. Wheelwright's present (See Story No. 2, Page 2)

DAMAGE SUITS ASK $35,000

Truck Accident, Failure To Build Feature Suits; Railway Company Sued

Three damage suits filed in circuit court last Friday and Saturday seek to recover a total of $35,000.

First of the complaints filed, that of Dewey Sartin against Claude Sexton, asks $25,000 for injuries allegedly suffered by the plaintiff last July 25, when he was a passenger in a truck owned and operated by Sexton. Sartin claims careless and negligent operation of the truck by Sexton caused him to come into such violent contact with parts of the vehicle that he suffered permanent injuries.

Everett and Cassie Slone in another suit seek to recover from Elzie Bowling $6,000 which is claimed by the plaintiffs on the alleged failure of Bowling to construct a combination residence and service station at Manton as provided in a contract.

The third action is that of Arthur and Anna May Sturgill, who claim 45 acres of their land across the river from Prestonsburg were damaged to the extent of $100 an acre by a fire caused by Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company trains last April. The damage, the suit points out, was caused to herbage, timber, plants and grass.

All three petitions were prepared by Atty. Paul E. Hayes and Burnis Martin.

MOTOR FIRM IS ENTERED

Ninety Dollars Stolen From Music-Colvin Firm; Deputy Lewis Jails Three

Approximately $90 in cash was taken Saturday night in a break-in to the office of the Music-Colvin Motor Company here. The break is being investigated by State Detective Chester D. Potter.

Three men were jailed here Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis on charges of having no operators' licenses and possessing moonshine whiskey. They are Homer Hall, Roosevelt Morrow and Claude Hall. Lowell Caudill was booked by State Trooper E. Allen on a charge of driving while intoxicated and without an operator's license. A fifth man booked at the jail, John M. Gibson, was named by Troopers Goble, Allen and Combs for possessing fermented spirits.

CLARIFICATION MADE OF VOTING PROBLEMS

Some of the confusion incident to the installation of voting machines in the county is slowly being resolved, it was found at the courthouse this week.

Questions being asked as to how the will of the electorate would be recorded in three educational divisions in which races are scheduled were answered:

1. Where two precincts from two educational divisions have been combined the ballot in the board of education races will be blocked off by a poll official so that an ineligible voter in that race cannot register a vote for those candidates.

A pointed example of this situation are the precincts of Drift and Sizemore, which have been combined. Drift voters are in Education Division No. 2 and Sizemore voters in No. 5. Since Drift voters had an election two years ago in the board race they will have their ballots blocked off.

2. The ballot for all races will be printed on one sheet. This includes national, state and local races. Bids were recently offered to the state for the printing by suppliers.

The county superintendent's office gave the correct designations of the five educational divisions in the county as arranged nearly three years ago when the county was re-districted.

The division in the northern end of the county and including Prestonsburg with Ray Howard as incumbent is No. 1; the district represented now by John G. Hall is Division No. 2; the extreme southern division now represented by John M. Stumbo is No. 3; the division of Left Beaver Creek in which Mrs. Ethel Osborne is the incumbent is No. 4; and the division in which John E. Campbell is incumbent is Division No. 5.

Combs To Be Speaker at Dedication Of Alumni Hall, Across 'Bish's Hill'

Alumni Hall, Caney graduates' gift to their school, which will be dedicated Sunday, is shown (above) as conceived by the architect who designed the structure.

Governor Bert Combs will deliver the dedicatory address, and he will be introduced by Congressman Carl D. Perkins, himself a Caney alumnus. A picnic in The Meadow at noon will precede the dedication.

At left, shown in an old photo, are Mrs. Alice Lloyd, founder of the nationally known mountain school, and Abisha (Bish) Johnson, who gave 160 acres of land for the school site.

The story is told that the unlettered Johnson, who also was known as Humpty Joab, walked one day, about 45 years ago, to Betty Troublesome in Knott county, to Ivis where Mrs. Lloyd had already erected one building for a school, to tell the Stranger she should move "across my hill," and that if she would he would give her 160 acres of land for a school.

Ivis was only a few miles from the Hindman Settlement school, and so youngsters from that area had access to learning. Those "across Bish's hill" were far removed from any school. So Mrs. Lloyd made the move that has now become almost legendary.

The man known as Humpty Joab has been dead, several years now. But the woman who brought learning across his hill remains, and she will be hostess Sunday to the Governor and all those hundreds who visit Caney Junior College for the day.

On many farms, the home vegetable garden produces a higher return per acre than any other activity.

Grade School To Start 'Continuous Day' Work, Principal Announces

The Prestonsburg grade school will put into effect next week a "continuous day" program. It was announced Wednesday by Miss Elsie Stephens, principal. The continuous day program will eliminate the noon-hour play period. Pupils who eat at the school lunchroom will return from the cafeteria to their home rooms and there under supervision may engage in quiet recreation. Those who live near the school may, however, go home for lunch, if they desire, and if they can do so in the 30-minute period. The program will enable pupils to go home 30 minutes earlier in the afternoon, will eliminate unsupervised playground activities and reduce pupil injuries, Miss Stephens explained.

The continuous day program was employed several years ago when the school was operated by the Prestonsburg independent district.

U. S. Sen. John Sherman Cooper asserted a new kind of life would grow in the area from construction of the dam. He gave credit to those who helped obtain the project, including William D. (Bill) Gorman, Hazard insurance man; Rep. Carl D. Perkins, of Hindman; Sen. Thurston B. Morton; former Sen. Earle Clements and the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

The dam was proposed seven years ago by a group of Hazard area civic leaders. Rep. Perkins said he felt Buckhorn was only the beginning of an adequate flood control program in Eastern Kentucky.

The Middle Fork of the Kentucky River which will feed the reservoir, has no mine water emptying into it, making it a natural habitat for game fish.

Officials announced the impounding of the lake would start soon. Boat ramps and parking areas are being completed upstream before the impoundment begins.

Some indicated during the ceremonies that tourist travel in Eastern Kentucky would be increased as a result of the Buckhorn property.

- 4 - (Continued from Page One) The poor man was in a fix—afraid to run, although he had an overpowering desire to make tracks. So he switched off his light, made himself as small as possible and sat there, quaking in his boots till came the inevitable dawn. And what sight met his eyes when the dawn did arrive? Three other hunters, to his left, right and rear, waiting as he had waited for daylight and a crack at a squirrel. (The only thing wrong about this story is the matter of the eyes of humans shining. But the part about four hunters congregating under one tree does ring true, doesn't it?)

HAS ITS DRAWBACKS A letter signed "An Elderly Reader," and published in The Virginia Mountaineer, Grundy, Va., emphasizes the fact that you can improve and improve, and still you fail to meet the needs of everybody. The gentleman who wrote the letter was complaining about the location of the new postoffice. Said he is 76 and for many of those years had got his mail at the old postoffice, near his place of business. And, now that his aching limbs must transport him to the new postoffice, he has been doing some calculating and gives with these detailed facts: "I paced of the additional distance and found I would have to travel 80 additional steps to reach the new postoffice and an additional 80 steps to return to the old postoffice, making 160 additional steps in all, and counting three feet to each step makes 480 feet for me to walk, and if I make the trip twice a day that amounts to 960 extra feet each day, which amounts to 360,400 feet a year, and if I live 40 years I will have traveled an additional 2,793 miles than I would have traveled. . . . I ask you . . . Is this fair to old age?" He didn't ask us, but we would say it isn't fair at any time for steps to be added on a fellow as old age afflicts him, but around the first of the month, when the bills start coming in to the postoffice, it's plumb unfair.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PRESTONSBURG:

I wish to thank each and every one that has asked me to run for Mayor of your town. I feel deeply thankful for your confidence in me. To make a real GOOD Mayor you have to spend at least half of your time looking after things that should be done. When I was Mayor to get all the street paving and walks built I spent 90 per cent of my time going to Louisville, Ky., and Washington, D. C., getting projects and money appropriated to do these jobs.

I got all the streets in West Prestonsburg paved, and all the streets and some walks built in Prestonsburg, except First, Second, and Third Avenues and Court Street and Graham Street. I got the two bridges across Big Sandy built. The bridges are on the bridges with my name on them. I worked for the benefit of our town while I was Mayor. I got the graded school and the City Hall built. I am 70 years old at this time and I am not physically able to do you a good job as Mayor.

I want Prestonsburg to grow and be a bigger and better Prestonsburg.

Thanks again for your confidence in me and your encouragement to be your Mayor.

Your friend,
A. C. CARTER (Adv.)

PLANNING, ZONE BODY TO TAKE CENSUS HERE

The Prestonsburg Planning and Zoning Commission will take its own census of Prestonsburg's population soon, Mayor Edward B. Leslie said this week when told preliminary federal census figures indicate Prestonsburg has within the last 10 years suffered a 13.7% population loss.

The Planning and Zoning group met Tuesday evening, and in that session also discussed plans to number all Prestonsburg homes. This work is expected to be started within the next two weeks, and the cost per homeowner will be about $1.

Also discussed was the possibility of identifying all Prestonsburg streets and avenues by number rather than by name. The present method of identification, it was pointed out, is often confusing and becomes particularly so when street names are changed as they have been in the past.

Asked about the progress of the proposed low-rent public housing development here, Mayor Leslie said the matter of sewerage for the site selected on the Bascom May farm presents a problem. He said that he and a representative of the Bell Engineering Co., Lexington, will go, perhaps next week, with a federal housing representative to confer with the Kentucky Stream

Pollution Commission at Frankfort on the problem.

"All this goes back to our old problem—lack of modern sewerage and sewage disposal facilities," Mayor Leslie said. He added that engineering work on a complete system of sewerage facilities for Prestonsburg is expected to be finished by February at a cost of $30,000. The total cost of a sewer system and sewage disposal plant has been estimated at $800,000, but upwards of $200,000 of this amount would be represented by a federal grant.

Boat Division Inspectors To Issue Arrest Citations Beginning September 15

Inspectors for the Division of Boating will begin issuing arrest citations September 15, to operators of boats who have not numbered their craft or applied for numbers, according to Director Scott Barbour.

Because Kentucky's new boating law, creating the division, did not become effective until July 1, Barbour said, inspectors have not issued citations for this infraction.

Barbour said that since the number and license covers not only this year but half of the next, expiring June 30, "there is no excuse to put it off because boating for 1960 is almost over."

PRESTONSBURG BEATEN BY HAZARD BULLDOGS

Hazard's Bulldog's gained first place in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference football race by downing Prestonsburg, 28-0, for its second consecutive loop win.

Pikeville tied Fleming-Neon for second place in nipping neighborhood-rival Belfry, 7-6, while the Pirates were rained out of their scheduled meeting with undefeated Lynch. The game was played Monday night.

Independent Paintsville won its second successive game in whipping Jenkins, 38-18, and Wheelwright evened its season's slate at 2-2 with a 30-0 conquest of Elkhorn City.

Whitesburg gained the win column for the first time with a 13-6 victory over Benham and M. C. Napier lost a non-league encounter to Danville by a 24-13 count.

Paul Wright's hard-hitting Bulldog's capitalized on three Prestonsburg mistakes in the last half to push over three touchdowns in that period after being held to a 7-0 halftime count.

The first Hazard six-pointer came after only three minutes of play when end Kenny Fitzpatrick picked up a Black Cat fumble on the nine-yard line and sped over. Gerald Burklow added the extra point for the 7-0 advantage that held until the middle of the third period.

Two Prestonsburg fumbles and a poor kick set the stage for quarterback Johnny Davis to hurl touchdown passes to Fitzpatrick and halfback Darwin Turpin, good for 15 and 6 yards.

Turpin raced 31 yards for the final touchdown, and Burklow annexed the point.

Prestonsburg, playing with regular fullback Dixon Nunberry out for most of the season and quarterback Bobby Marshall handicapped by a bruised hand, was limited to five first downs.

Halfback Bill Baird scored a touchdown and an extra point in the final period to give Pikeville a 7-6 victory over Belfry. Three minutes after Baird scored, Belfry countered as fullback Doug Neach went six yards to paydirt. Neach's extra point attempt was stopped short of the goal line by the Panther line.

Mike Minix, Paintsville's stellar senior halfback, raced for four touchdowns in pacing Paintsville over Jenkins, 38-18. The agile speedster sprinted 47, 15, 13 and 9 yards for the counters. Johnny Porter and Mike Lyons each posted a six-pointer and Porter booted two extra points.

Jenkins halfback John Lequire tallied twice for the Cavaliers, once from the two, and was on the receiving end of a five-yard pass from quarterback Russell Adkins. Fullback Phillip Helton registered a 11-yard marker in the final canto.

SPORTS CHATTER
By GORDON MOORE

Prestonsburg and Wheelwright return to gridiron action this week-end as the Black Cats tangle with Elkhorn City in the Pike county community, Friday night, and Wheelwright moves to Everts, nine miles from Harlan, Saturday night.

Ray Brackett's Trojans stopped Elkhorn City, 30-0, last week to even their season's slate at 2-2. Prestonsburg will vie with Everts, Saturday, October 29.

Robert Smith, senior end, who was shifted to Dixon Nunberry's vacated fullback spot, was awarded the Black Cats-Player-of-the-Week award for his play in the Black Cat's 26-0 loss to Hazard.

Smith, a former Wheelwright back, transferred to Prestonsburg in his junior season.

Mike Minix, Paintsville's potential all-state halfback, is the individual leader in the Eastern Kentucky scoring race with 42 points in his first two games. Hazard's Darwin Turpin is in second place with 30 points and third is Bill Baird, of Pikeville, with 25.

Paul Green Attends Final Performance Of Drama For Season

Pulitzer prize winner Paul Green attended, Sept. 5, the final performance of his outdoor drama, "The Stephen Foster Story," and expressed pleasure with the Bardstown presentation.

Production members were honored after the performance with silver julep cups bearing the inscription, "The Stephen Foster Story—1960."

Attending the final performance along with author Green was Fletcher Hodges, Curator of the Foster Hall Collection in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The 1960 run of the outdoor musical drama, in which only one performance of 130 was rained out, has led play producers to plan another year's showing. The opening for 1961 has been tentatively scheduled for June 23.

The conclusion of the current season marks the end of the drama's second season. More than 115,000 have attended the production in a total of 130 performances, coming from 46 states, Mexico, New Zealand and Germany.

Wednesday— "Hour of Power"—Prayer Service and Bible Study, 7:30 p.m.

Deep in the human heart is the desire for greater and wider vision. It prompted early man to climb the trees and to scale the peaks. Every year it lures thousands to the top of the Empire State Building. It inspired the telescope and microscope, and eventually radar.

Similar to this yearning for vision, yet sacred in its powerful prompting, has been man's spiritual quest. Although there is much natural evidence around us to prove there is a God, we want to understand His mind, His power and will . . . His heart!

No human inventions are needed here. In the Church established by Jesus Christ, in the Truth taught by Jesus Christ, in the Life inspired by Jesus Christ — each of us finds that wider vision his soul craves.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WORLD WAR I DEAD
The Prestonsburg Post, in an issue in May, 1919, lists twelve Floyd county soldiers who gave their lives for their country in World War I. We wonder if the list isn't incomplete and if so, would the readers add to the list of our honored dead.
Listed as dead were Linden Langley, Ruby Clark, Jesse Coyer, all of Prestonsburg, George Harris, of Lancer, Elijah Thompson, of German, Josh Fife, of Amba, George Tassone, of Weeksbury, El Johnson, Blue River, Grady Burchett, Prestonsburg, Sam Dillon, of Lancer, Ed Brown, of Middle Creek section, and Tip Gearheart, of Hippo.

DANIEL FAMILY REUNION
The annual reunion of the Daniel family was held Sunday, Sept. 4, at the Fishtrap 4-H Camp in Johnson county with approximately 150 persons in attendance. Officers elected for the ensuing year were John L. Spears, Paintsville, chairman; Ernie Daniel, Ashland, vice-chairman, and Irene S. Cole, secretary and treasurer. It was voted to hold the reunion at the same place next year.

BLAIR FAMILY
Mrs. Stephen T. Davis, Moundale Ave., Winchester, Ky., writes an inquiry on the Blair family. She wants to learn the names of the parents of Jesse Blair, her great-grandfather.
She writes:
"Jesse Blair, (is mentioned) page 517 in History of Johnson county, by Mitchell Hall, and in Vol. II, page 197, he (is mentioned) as receiving a land grant, Oct. 20, 1816. The same date David Allington, Sr. (Ellington?) of Floyd county had a survey."
"I have always thought that Jesse married his daughter Rebecca. I have his (Jesse's) will naming his children but not his wife. I suppose she was dead at the time."
Anyone able to help Mrs. Davis resolve this genealogical problem should write her.

RECORDS AND ARCHIVES
Charles F. Hinds, Frankfort, former secretary-treasurer of the Kentucky Historical Society, is now head of the new Archives and Records Service, under the Department of Finance.
He writes that he has been on a trip to Ohio, Michigan and Illinois, studying records management and archives in those states.
"I have seen and read enough to know how far behind Kentucky is on handling state documents. . . I talked to Governor 'Soapy' Williams of Michigan about the Michigan program where it is estimated that $2,000,000 has been saved since 1953 by setting up a records system. Their building cost them only $300,000 and it is a fine one. Gov. Williams said that the records program there had been most gratifying and he was very pleased."
"For about $500,000 a year Kentucky could without difficulty clean out the rubbish in expensive offices and by 1963 present to the public a saving of approximately $1,000,000. We need some help to put a system of schedules in operation and we need a building."

MEMBER OF MUSEUM COMMITTEE
Henry H. Harned, president of the Kentucky Historical Society, Frankfort, advises that I have been appointed to the Museum committee of the Society.
He wrote, August 15:
"Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Senate Bill 195 of the 1960 General Assembly, I have recommended your appointment as a member of the Museum Committee of the Kentucky Historical Society."
"I am happy to report that the Executive Committee has acted favorably and I wish to congratulate you on the appointment which I am sure you will fill with credit and honor."

(No. 109 in a Series)

LUMBER AND STAVE MILL AT DINWOOD
Lumbering was an important and vital industry in the region during World War I and all over the area sawmills contributed to the war effort.
This picture was taken in 1919 at the east end of Dinwood, Floyd county. The mill was owned by G. C. Roberts. Men are seen loading lumber on wagons for haulage to the railway station where it would be shipped to the factories needing lumber products. Staves, lumber and railroad ties were shipped from the Roberts mill.
The First National Bank presents these pictures of our historic region as a bit of its friendly service with the hope they will contribute to your understanding of our historic heritage.

One of the big events in the County 4-H program is the selecting of County Project Champions.

These club members have been project work and have completed selected on the basis of outstanding a project record book.

Combs; farm labor, Delbert Ousley; foods, Pam Combs; frozen foods, Phyllis Combs; garden, Freer Martin; good grooming, Melanie Ann Conley; housekeeping, Phyllis Combs; poultry, Dearl Faye Morrisson; room improvement, Mae Rita Gayheart; sheep, Joan Martin; swine, Delbert Ousley; strawberries, Gary Newman; yard improvement, Larry Allen; safety, Ronnie Hays; recreation, Melanie Ann Conley; rabbits, Freer Martin; and forestry, Glenn Salyers.

Be prepared for those unexpected guests or for the days when you don't have time to plan and cook a meal. No need to fear such emergencies if you have on hand the ingredients needed to prepare hurry-up meals for your family or guests, says Miss Frances Howland, county home demonstration agent.

A well-stocked emergency food shelf is one of the greatest helps in preparing quick meals, she notes. Stock this shelf with canned foods, crackers and macaroni products.

Condensed soups and canned vegetables such as tomatoes are convenient to have on hand. Canned dry beans that have been cooked can go into a quick baked bean casserole. Canned fruit, juices and syrups can be made into desserts or sauces for cake or ice cream.

Many different kinds of fresh vegetable salads are quick and easy to make, she points out. These can be changed into one-dish meals by adding strips of cheese and ham or sliced luncheon meat. Fresh fruits can be made into a fruit salad or combined with cottage cheese or sour cream as an appetizer or dessert.

The home freezer is a valuable asset to the cook who is short of time—if she has planned well beforehand. Some "ready-to-shove-into-the-oven" dishes which need little or no thawing first, serving-size packages of meat patties, and frozen fruits are helpful when preparing meals in a hurry.

Sandwiches, salads or cream dishes can be made quickly from sliced cooked chicken or turkey from the freezer. Frozen bread can be thawed quickly for making sandwiches. Sponge, angel food or pound cakes also come from the freezer practically ready to eat.

Serve your hurry-up meal with a hot or iced beverage or cold milk, Miss Howland suggests. Your family and guests will be pleased—and so will you, for you won't be too tired to enjoy the meal yourself.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wallen, of Scotoville, Ohio, have returned from South Carolina where they have been visiting their daughter and family.

Bill Hale, Jr., is home after completing four years service in the Air Force, stationed at Forbes Air Base, Topeka, Kansas. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hale, of Eden Park, Portsmouth, Ohio, formerly of Prestonsburg.

Miss Perrin Is Bride Of Former Floyd Man; Vows Said, Sept. 3rd

Miss Sally Perrin became the bride of Mr. Bennie Caudill in a double-ring ceremony at 2 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 3. The services were performed at the Central Christian Church, Huntington, Ind., by the Rev. J. M. Thompson. The altar was decorated with baskets of blue and white carnations.

The bride is the daughter of George Perrin, of Huntington, Ind., and Ruth Perrin, of Warsaw, Ind. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Caudill, of McDowell, Ky.

COOPERATION is a Kentucky tradition!

SEWING CIRCLES... OR APPLIANCE CENTERS

The ladies, God bless them, love to get together at sewing circles. That's where they exchange recipes, trade a little harmless gossip, discuss everything from old schools to new hats and, to their everlasting glory, pitch in to do the sewing chores of an ailing neighbor. It's a tradition to do things like that here in Kentucky... the oldest tradition we have... helping out a neighbor.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. The electrical appliances that help take the drudgery out of homemaking on the farm are symbols of that cooperation, Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops... created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves... show how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited, too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in the cities and towns.

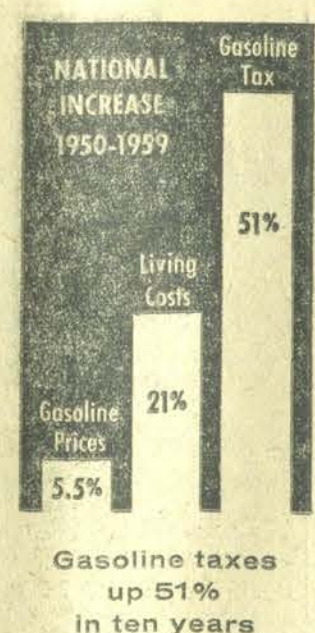

Rural Electricity Benefits Everyone

COOPERATION

IN KENTUCKY...
You pay $1.10 tax on 10 gallons of gasoline

In Kentucky, car owners pay $1.10 tax on every 10 gallons of gasoline they buy.

Does a tax this high—on a basic commodity like gasoline—really make sense? Gasoline taxes in this state amount to a 50% sales tax—and that's over five times as high as the tax rate on luxuries like diamonds and mink coats.

How did gasoline taxes get so high? Well, since World War II, there have been three increases in the federal gasoline tax alone. This brought the Federal tax to 4 cents a gallon, in addition to the State tax of 7 cents a gallon.

Looking at it another way, in the last ten years gasoline taxes have skyrocketed 51%—yet the price of gasoline itself has risen only 5.5% during the same period. $78 a year for gasoline taxes! Gallon by gallon, these taxes add up to a lot of money. Each year the average motor vehicle owner in this state pays $78 for gasoline taxes alone. That's just a few dollars less than the average week's pay for most people.

Your gasoline retailer—who must collect these taxes from you—feels that gasoline taxes are much too high. More and more, thinking people are coming to agree. What do you think?

HIGHWAYS AND GASOLINE TAXES
Your gasoline retailer, naturally, favors construction of the roads that the motoring public needs. He believes in fair and reasonable taxation for this purpose but feels that taxes on gasoline have now reached unreasonably high levels. He also believes that all special taxes on the motorist should be used only for highway purposes. Yet last year, out of every automobile tax dollar collected by the Federal Government from highway users, more than 40 cents went for non-highway purposes. If these automotive tax revenues were dedicated for highway purposes, there would be no need for the latest increase in the federal gasoline tax.

ANSWERS TO YOUR TAX QUESTIONS

BY WILLIAM E. SCENT
KENTUCKY'S COMMISSIONER OF REVENUE

Q. What is the "use" tax in the Kentucky Sales and Use Tax?
A. The use tax prevents the evasion of the sales tax. If taxable goods are sold and no sales tax is paid, the purchaser must pay the use tax. The sales tax liability rests on the seller, the use tax liability rests on the purchaser.

Q. How could taxable sales be made without paying the sales tax?
A. Listed below are some of the ways in which a sale would be made without paying the sales tax, thus leaving the purchaser liable for the use tax.

(1) MERCHANT. If a merchant plans to sell the goods, he may, by issuing a resale certificate, purchase the goods without paying sales tax. Should the merchant take any of these goods for his personal use or consumption, he is liable for the use tax.

(2) PURCHASER. An item may have been purchased outside of Kentucky. Many non-Kentucky merchants collect the use tax for the Kentucky Department of Revenue in the same manner Kentucky merchants collect the sales tax. If the out-of-state merchant does not collect the Kentucky tax, the purchaser is then required to pay the use tax.

TOURING PUBLIC DISCOVERS "THE BREAKS OF SANDY"

(In The Virginia Mountaineer, Grundy, Va., Aug. 25, 1960)

The Breaks—Geologists say it has been here twenty-five million years, but only in the last two years has it been discovered by the touring public.

It is known to Virginians as "The Breaks of the Cumberlands" and to Kentuckians as "The Breaks of Sandy." Both have some authority for the names, but neither has ever been able to completely accept the nomenclature of the other.

When the two states in which the canyon lies decided in 1955 to make the area into a public park, a compromise on a name was reached. It is now known as the Breaks Interstate Park, and its popularity as a tourist attraction is growing each season.

And well it might, for it is indeed one of the truly great wonders of nature.

Dubbed the "Grand Canyon of the South," it is a gorge almost five miles long and more than 1,600 feet deep. Five-sevenths of the park is in Dickenson county, the remainder in Kentucky, and the canyon was formed when the Russell Fork River cut through the Cumberland Mountains to join the Big Sandy. This, geologists say, happened 25 million years ago.

The walls fall sheer, stubbed here and there with curious rock formations, and the fantastic "Chimneys" and "Towers" rise 2,000 feet from the canyon floor. Through it winds Russell Fork River, looking like a tiny ribbon when viewed from the rim of the gorge.

Like so many of the great works of nature, it seems cloaked in a majestic silence and visitors seeing it for the first time are inclined to converse in whispers.

The canyon is not visible from the roadways through the park. The overlooks are reached by a series of stairways leading from the highway, and the whole awesome panorama suddenly bursts into view.

Beyond the farther rim of the gorge the mountains rise in great rolling waves stretching endlessly toward the western horizon, the colors changing from green to blue to purple as they recede into the distance. Close at hand the rugged peaks of Pine Mountain thrust their rocky heads toward the clouds.

The park now contains some 1,200 acres, much of it donated by Clinchfield Coal Company. It is administered by a commission made up of three members from each state, appointed by the governors of the two states. Virginia and Kentucky contribute equally to the development and upkeep of the park.

Prior to its dedication in 1955, the park was a virtual wilderness, and could be reached only by one narrow twisting unpaved road. Today asphalt highways thread through the area and picnic and camping facilities are everywhere.

Picnic shelters dot the area on either side of the main highway and include one huge structure with gigantic fireplaces at either end. Not far from the park entrance stands the Rhododendron Lodge, one of the most beautiful structures of its kind in this entire area.

The lodge contains a dining room which overlooks a part of the canyon. It is operated for the commission by Carl Cole, Marion, Ind., and here, unlike most resorts, the food is less expensive even than that found in most small town restaurants. The lodge also does a thriving business in box lunches for people who prefer to eat their meals surrounded by the scenery outside.

The commission has built a home for the park superintendent and is now planning construction of a residence for the assistant superintendent and a museum to house relics of the pioneer way of life in these mountains.

Running water has been made available and drinking fountains are now scattered throughout the park area. Also in the commission's plans is a 30-acre lake for bathing, boating and fishing.

The existence of the Breaks is still relatively unknown outside the immediate area, but word is gradually getting around and cars from distant states are becoming more frequent.

The reaction of visitors is always the same: "Why have not I heard of this place before?"

Typical of the effect of the canyon on people who are seeing it for the first time was demonstrated recently by a visitor from the Philippines. Stepping out onto the first overlook, he gasped.

Then, in heavily accented English he whispered to a companion, "By George, what a gorgeous gorge!"

WALL FINISHES TESTED

Convention Called To Limit Growth Of Corporations

By James Hudson

Kentucky Dept. of Public Relations

When Kentucky held its last constitutional convention in 1891, one of the main reasons the convention was called was to place stringent limitations on corporations and to limit their power and growth.

Sixty-nine years later Kentucky finds itself considering a constitutional convention call that has a purpose almost opposite to the 1891 convention.

Kentucky has done an about face in its attitude toward industry during the past 69 years. In 1890, even though Kentucky was 80 per cent rural in population, it had the largest industrial payroll in the south. Kentucky was also an important agricultural state then.

Now Kentucky lags behind other southern states in industrial expansion and agriculture as a major industry has declined.

One of the 12 subjects which the 1963 constitutional convention could consider is the limitation on the holding of real estate imposed by the constitution. Industrial leaders in Kentucky have repeatedly stated that this limitation has kept millions of dollars from being invested in the state.

According to the constitution, no corporation may hold any real estate, except such as is necessary for carrying on the business for which it was chartered, for over five years.

In 1891, the large corporation was a new development, and government had no experience in regulating it. Today, when Kentucky is in a crash program to attract new industry and create new jobs for the depressed areas of the state, this limitation is a handicap and has cut off the sums that otherwise would be invested by corporations in Kentucky real estate.

Insurance companies, among the largest and wealthiest corporations in America, follow a policy of diversifying their investments to guard against bankruptcy. Under Kentucky's constitution, an insurance company could develop an industrial area or a housing project, but it would have to sell its holdings within five years. Since it takes several years before a large investment strats showing a profit insurance companies seldom invest in real estate in Kentucky because of the constitutional limitation.

Of the 12 subjects that the proposed constitutional convention could consider, this is the only one that does not relate to governmental set-up and operation.
