

THURSDAY

This Town-- That World

We made it through Halloween. Now, if we can survive the election and Christmas, maybe we'll get through the rest of the year.

WHO'S AFRAID

Don't let a little thing like a voting machine bluff you out of voting. I learned in short order how to operate this contraption, and if I can do this any sap can. I'm the guy who repaired the air rifle-- remember? --so well it wouldn't hold air. Wouldn't hold air? --it couldn't get any!

All persiflage aside, it is your duty and mine to vote. It is also our duty to vote as we please, without dictation from any man. Only by doing both these things--voting and doing this as free men and women--are we worthy of the name, "American."

Then, after the election is over, we continue in the American way only by accepting the will of the majority.

A good slogan might be: "Vote the machine; don't let the machine vote you."

THE OTHER SIDE

Every day, at this season of the year, we marvel at, even revel in, the beauty of the hills about us. Then we think of the bleak days ahead. Reminds us of the visit of a city-dweller to these parts who waxed plumb ecstatic as he extolled the beauties of the hills in all their varied hues. Said his oldtimer host: "Plumb purty, yep. But when the leaves leave there ain't much left."

Chaos is described as four women with one luncheon check. (See Story No. 3, Page 3)

MEET MARKED BY HARMONY

On Eve of Election; Only Routine Matters Feature Board Meeting

The Floyd County Board of Education met Tuesday, exactly a week from the day when the issues existing between the three Administration members and the two opposition members will be decided by the voting in three of the county's educational Divisions. But, for the record, there was no discussions at the meeting.

In fact, the agenda was of a rather routine nature. The vote on each order was unanimous. They were:

To execute a deed to Milton and Lydia Ramsey to the now-abandoned G. B. Hall school property; to hire emergency and substitute teachers, make teacher transfers and accept bids on old trucks and buses.

Purchasers of the used trucks and buses were: six by Jordan Hatfield, one each by J. W. Kinzer, Pike Sand Co., and Burton Auto Parts.

Another order authorized the advertising of the George school which was abandoned last year.

Mrs. Virginia Goble was granted a year's leave of absence as a teacher; Ann B. Harris was employed to take the place of John K. Pitts who was transferred from Dwayne to McDowell high school. Also employed as teachers were Mary K. Newsome, Bobby Gene Hall and Wendell Lee Martin.

DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL PLAN FORGES AHEAD

State Personnel Joins P'burg Planning Effort; Latta Advocates Agency

The Prestonsburg Community Development Council continued Wednesday its planning work with its weekly meeting, and was joined by Don Webb and Neil McPherson, representatives of the Kentucky Department of Economic Development.

The Industrial Development committee, headed by Clifford B. Latta, reported to the meeting, and Mr. Latta spoke of plans for the formation of a Prestonsburg Development Corporation. Such an agency has in other communities promoted new industry and has helped in making available sites for industrial enterprises.

The work now under way is intended to produce an overall plan of development. A town meeting to be attended by Gov. Bert Combs within the next few weeks is expected to be held.

At recent meetings city beautification—a project on which some actual work has been done—and transportation have been discussed.

Winners of the City Beautification poster contest were announced at this week's meeting. They are: Jimmy D. Flower, first through third grades; Becky Ray, fourth through sixth grades; Zella Faye Wallace, seventh and eighth grades. Becky Ray's poster was also awarded the grand prize. Cash awards of $5 each to the winners were provided by Marvin Music, Prestonsburg business man, and these were presented to the winners at the grade school chapel period by Mrs. Regina B. Mayo.

Mrs. R. V. May, president of the Community Development Council, presided at the meeting.

SCHOOL POLL RESULT NOTED

Prestonsburg Hi Shows Demo Lead; Paintsville School Votes For Nixon

If two high school polls conducted in this section this week reflect general sentiment, next Tuesday's national election will see Democratic counties voting Democratic and Republican counties likewise staying with their party.

The Kennedy-Johnson ticket polled 396 votes at Prestonsburg high school to 253 for the G.O.P. ticket of Nixon and Lodge. At Paintsville high school, in Republican Johnson county, 161 students voted for Nixon and Lodge as compared with 11 for Kennedy and Johnson.

Percentage-wise, the Democrats had the edge in the voting at the two schools. The Democratic national ticket had 61-plus per cent of the votes at the high school here, while the Republican ticket had 59-plus per cent at Paintsville.

John Sherman Cooper, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator, led his Democratic opponent, Keen Johnson, at both schools, and the road bond issue and the Constitutional convention proposal had big leads at both. At Prestonsburg high school the Senatorial race vote was: 325 for Cooper, 306 for Johnson. At Paintsville the vote was 184 to 85 for Cooper.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins polled a lead at Paintsville high school over his Republican opponent, Herbert Rowland, despite the fact that Rowland is a resident of Paintsville. The vote was 156 for Perkins, 113 for Rowland. At the Prestonsburg school Perkins scored 497 votes to 140 for Rowland. Prestonsburg high students cast 292 votes for the constitutional convention to 85 against, while Paintsville's vote was 186 for to 32 against. A resounding 409 votes for the roads and parks bond issue was cast at the school here, with 62 votes recorded against it. At Paintsville the vote was 136 for, 29 against.

Former P'burg Man Is Seriously Injured In Michigan Wreck

Robert Whitten, 32, formerly of Prestonsburg, was seriously injured early Saturday morning when an auto in which he was a passenger crashed into a headwall at a railway crossing, between Ypsilanti and Detroit, Michigan. The driver and owner of the car and another man are in critical condition. Injured internally, Whitten underwent surgery at University hospital, Ann Arbor, Michigan. He is expected to recover, barring complications. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Whitten, returned here Tuesday night from Ann Arbor.

Young Martin Resident Victim At Williamson; Burial, Martin Cemetery

Randall Fitch, 17, of Martin, died at the Williamson (W. Va.) Memorial hospital, Wednesday, following a lifelong illness. He had been seriously ill since June. He was a son of Phillip and Alka Fitch, of Martin. Surviving brothers and a sister are Ralph Fitch, David Fitch, Linville, Darrrell and Miss Juanita Fitch, all at home.

Funeral rites will be conducted at 1 p.m., Friday, from the Martin Free Will Baptist church, the Revs. A. D. Allen, Arthur Ramey and Woodrow White officiating. Burial will be made in the Martin cemetery under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

FEWER WOODS FIRES TALKED

By New Organization; Forestry Association Sets Community Meets

The organization of the Floyd County Forestry Association here recently brought to 72 the number of community-level forest fire prevention groups formed in Eastern Kentucky counties in the last two months, according to Gene Butcher, director of the Division of Forestry.

Butcher said that more county-wide committees were in the planning stage and are scheduled to hold organizational meets in the near future. The Floyd county group has already held two meetings at the courthouse here. Representatives of many agencies concerned with conservation attended the meetings here.

At the meeting here Wednesday evening of last week it was decided to hold community rallies to promote the forestry meeting. It will be held, Tuesday evening, Nov. 15. A speaker is slated by the Division of Forestry and films will be shown.

Organization of the county and local groups came as a result of planning at the Southeastern Kentucky Forest Fire Prevention Conference held in Berea in last September, and at a state conference at Lexington last December.

The conference stressed that prevention of forest fires and an adequate fire control organization are basic to Kentucky's programs for industrial expansion and increased tourist business.

The Berea meeting was called by the Kentucky Forest Fire Prevention Committee at the request of Lieut. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt and Butcher.

Butcher said that a similar sectional forest fire prevention conference is planned for February in Western Kentucky with the goal of setting up groups of local forest fire prevention groups in 35 counties in that area.

SUIT ENJOINS STRIP MINE

Harlan Action Taken Under New Statute; Permit Is Demanded

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 31. (Spl.)—For the first time since the 1960 Kentucky Legislature strengthened the law governing strip mining, a mine operator has been enjoined in the courts from continuing operations until he has complied with the statutes.

Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick announced today that the Attorney General has obtained a restraining order in Harlan circuit court against C. M. Wallen and Cranks-Mason, Inc., operators of a strip mine near Carwood, Kentucky, halting their operations until they have obtained a permit and posted the required bond with the state.

The Division of Strip Mining and Reclamation, which supervises strip-mine operations in Kentucky, is a part of the Department of Conservation. Henry Callis is director of the division.

Action against Wallen and the Cranks-Mason Company was brought under the Strip Mining Act, Section 350-990, and, in addition, to asking that they be restrained from further operations until they have complied with requirements of the law, seeks civil penalties totaling $22,500.

The penalties, provided under the Act, were fixed at $250 a day for five days a week since the law went into effect, which was June 16, 1960.

A restraining order was granted by the Harlan court during the pendency of the action, or until such time as the defendants obtain a permit and execute bond.

PRODUCTION UP IN COAL

Operators Association Notes Tonnage Increase, Both Local, Nationally

Coal production in the field represented by the Big Sandy Elkhorn Coal Operators Association is on the increase, it was noted in the Oct. 22 report of the mining group. Production is up this year over the corresponding period last year 7.84 percent, or 729,510 tons.

The same report noted that production was up all over the United States. The estimated United States bituminous production last year to this time was 327,543,000 tons but this year it is 334,998,000 tons. This is an increase of 2.3 percent.

Production of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn field is figured in 50-ton car loads and production statistics show that 5,447.2 cars were loaded.

Most mines in the field for which the report was issued are working four or five day weeks with a few exceptions which work only three days. Working five day weeks at the late report were Island Creek Coal Company, Princess Elkhorn Coal Company's No. 1 and No. 2, Stephens Elkhorn Coal Company and the Big Chief mine of the Southeast Coal Company.

Coal production in the Big Sandy-Elkhorn field to this time last year was 9,309,980 tons but this year the total tonnage is 10,033,490.

The report was issued by the Association's Pikeville office.

58 KILLED BY ACCIDENTS

In Floyd-Co. In 1959; Safety Congress Notes Mishap Causing Factors

Special to The Times. New York, Oct. 25 — Is Floyd county a safer place in which to live, from the standpoint of accidents, than most other communities in the United States?

What are the odds against a local person's being involved in some sort of an accident in any given year?

Evidence produced at the recent National Safety Congress, held in Chicago, shows that some areas are more accident-prone than others and that Floyd county is one of the less favored areas.

The variations are due to a number of factors, among them the kind of housing, the proximity to water, the types of industry, the amount of driving done and the effectiveness of public safety programs.

Data has just been released by the U. S. Public Health Service giving the vital statistics for all parts of the country for the year ending January 1, 1959.

They show that there were 58 fatalities due to accidental causes among residents of Floyd county in the year, with 37 of them attributed to motor vehicles. Excluded are local mishaps involving non-residents.

Considering the population of the county, the total is relatively high. It represents a rate of 133 accidental deaths per 100,000 population.

This was greater than the average reported by the Public Health Service for the United States, a rate of 92 per 100,000. For the state of Kentucky it was 66 per 100,000.

Taken into account are on-the-job accidents, drownings, firearm fatalities, those due to gases and explosions, falls in the home, auto accidents and all other causes.

For each accident that ends in a (See Story No. 8, Page 3)

Jaycees To Award Prizes In Contest To Design New Flag

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce is offering prizes to the successful designers of a flag for the Prestonsburg school, it was announced this week by a Jaycee member.

Competing in its contest to design the flag are the art classes of Mrs. Mary Auxier Hale, teacher. Pupils competing will be from the fourth through the eighth grade. First prize will be $10, second place is set at $5, it was said by Vance Mitter of the Jaycees in announcing his group's interest in the contest.

Judging will be done by a panel of prominent persons and the winning design will be made into a flag for the school. Judging will be made the week of Nov. 21, Mitter noted.

Pancake Day Planned By Martin Kiwanians To Aid Milk Program

The Martin Kiwanis Club will sponsor Pancake Day, Nov. 12, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. at the high school cafeteria, it was announced this week by an officer of the civic organization. Proceeds of the event will go to the club's program to aid underprivileged children.

The club has for an extended period been furnishing free milk to the underprivileged children of Martin, Maytown and Allen schools.

The price of the ticket entitles the diner to all the pancakes he can eat, it was said.

EDITOR ASKS PLANS VETO

Herald Publisher Voices Opposition To Selection Of East Point Location

Block House Bottom, scene of Indian battles of bygone days in Johnson county, is caught up in a governmental battle of barbed words instead of muskets and arrows.

The state wants to build an airport runway at Block House Bottom, original site of Harman Station, where an old fort established the first settlement in Eastern Kentucky.

But Mrs. Douglas Wheeler Galbraith, editor and publisher of the Paintsville Herald, and other citizens say this would destroy Eastern Kentucky's most historic landmark.

Aeronautics Commissioner Philip Swift disagrees. He says the 3,000-foot runway would add considerably to the value of the bottom as a potential tourist attraction.

Meanwhile, Swift said the Paintsville - Prestonsburg Air Board is taking options on 40 acres of land and hopes the runway can be completed by the year's end at a cost of $65,000.

Mrs. Galbraith has denounced the move editorially and so have readers in letters to the editor.

In a recent editorial he wrote: "The site of Harman Station... which successfully withstood Indian attacks and remained to cradle and nurture civilization in the Big Sandy Valley, is faced with a threat not known to our pioneer forebears—a threat from the skies in the name of 'progress.'"

"We believe restoration of the old fort in Block House Bottom, together with Dewey Lake, Jenny Wiley State Park, the Jenny Wiley Pageant and Breaks Interstate Park, could become unified as a national tourist center and by the development of these potential resources make a significant contribution to Eastern Kentucky's economy.

The correspondence between Swift and Mrs. Galbraith speaks for itself:

Swift: "I was somewhat surprised and greatly disappointed in the opposition voiced last week by the Paintsville Herald toward a proposed airport to serve your city... How can the remote Block House Bottom be a tourist attraction when no tourist can get to it? There is no profitable shrine that I know of which is (See Story No. 5, Page 2)

THIRD STRIKE IS HEAVIEST

In Johns Creek Area; Collinsworth Br. Well Big Oil, Gas Producer

A third oil well drilled in on the Collinsworth Branch of Johns Creek by a firm composed of Gov. Bert Combs, Smith Bradley, J. W. James and others is the heaviest strike yet made in this heavy-producing area, it was learned this week.

This week, 100 barrels of oil a day was flowing into tanks, and at that the production of the well was being curtailed. Actually, in one early test, the well filled a 100-barrel tank in seven hours.

In addition, the well is producing half a million cubic feet of gas daily. The oil is flowing at this time under gas pressure, but the rig has been left standing at the hole until it is determined if it will require pumping later.

The new strike is near the ridge between Collinsworth Branch and Elm Log. The producing firm has, in both these Johns Creek tributaries, approximately 700 acres under lease.

A producing salt sand gas well was drilled in recently in the vicinity by John Allen and associates.

ASC ELECTION SET IN FLOYD

Community Committee To Be Selected, Nov. 10; Candidates Are Listed

Notices were posted this week that the annual Agricultural Stabilization Conservation committee election in five Floyd county communities will be held Nov. 10, according to Elder Goble, office manager of the office here.

Election of the community committees is the first step leading to a county convention that will select members of the county-wide committee to conduct the agricultural conservation program for the ensuing year.

The five community polling places and those nominated for voting follow:

Left Beaver Creek community, John Spurlock store at Printer, Troy Allen, Roy E. Denney, Sam Elliott, Hargis Hayes, Bee Halbert, Lawrence Keathley, H. D. Martin, H. F. Mead, L. A. Key Salisbury, John Spurlock.

Three Women Injured In Automobile Wreck

Two Prestonsburg women, Mrs. Johnny Evans and Mrs. W. R. Joy, and Mrs. Walter Van Landingham, a visitor from Miami, Fla., were injured October 26 two miles east of Frenchburg when their car skidded and dropped over a 50-foot embankment. The car, a Cadillac owned by Mrs. Joy, was almost demolished.

They were returning home from the Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, convention at Lexington when the accident occurred. Mrs. Joy was cut above the eye and bruised. Mrs. Evans sustained a badly sprained ankle and bruises. Mrs. Van Landingham is at the Prestonsburg hospital, suffering from a broken finger, bruised leg and shock.

Brothers Are Charged In Arkansas Shooting; Melvin Man Is Sought

In jail here today (Thursday) is Ned Gillespie, of Arkansas Creek, and sought by officers is his brother, Ned, both charged with firing a shotgun into the home of Fred Conn, Wednesday evening.

Peace warrants were issued for both men by County Judge Henry Stumbo today. Deputy Sheriffs Lonnie Herald, Robert Beach, James Hall and Wesley Fannin, in an effort to apprehend Ed Gillespie fired two shots over his head as he fled to the nearby woodlands on Arkansas Creek.

A peace warrant has also been issued for Conn, an Arkansas resident, but he has not yet been arrested. Officers were still searching for Gillespie this afternoon.

Dewey Gibson, of the Abner fork section, near Melvin, was also being sought. (See Story No. 6, Page 3)

SHOT BLAST KILLS WOMAN

Former Floyd Resident Dies At Wabash, Indiana; Relatives Are Skeptical

Mrs. Dora Alice Dials, 25, wife of Bobby Dials, formerly of this county, died Monday at Wabash, Ind., of a gunshot wound which was reported to Floyd relatives as self-inflicted.

Relatives, however, were skeptical of the version of the tragedy received here. This report, received by her mother, Mrs. Deslie Griffith, and her brother, Paul Griffith, both of Cow Creek, said Mrs. Dials followed her husband when he left home for work Monday morning, suspecting that he was seeing another woman, and when her fears were confirmed she shot herself.

Mrs. Dials was dead on arrival at a hospital.

The victim was a daughter of the late Aliah Griffith, of the Johns Creek section of this county. Her husband formerly resided in the Right Beaver section. Besides her husband and mother, Mrs. Dials leaves a daughter, 11, and several brothers and sisters.

Burial was made Wednesday at Wabash.

CORRECTION

The Times was in error, it is reliably informed, in reporting that Clyde Douglas Moore, who was killed recently in a truck mishap at Price, was the driver of the vehicle. Mr. Moore was only a passenger and not the driver as reported. (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

DRIFT WOMAN'S CLUB REALIZES DREAM OF COMMUNITY CLEAN-UP

Portion of old garbage dump at Drift (above); at right, bulldozing operation under way, preparing new dump which is of the approved land-fill type.

A move launched by the Drift Woman's Club to effect community beautification in line with the general plan for keeping Kentucky beautiful resulted Tuesday in the first systematic garbage collection system ever introduced to three Left Beaver Creek communities and the opening of a central garbage dump.

The garbage dump is of an approved type and is similar to that in wide use over the country. Waste accumulations are dumped into a trench excavated by bulldozer, and when this is filled the collected debris is covered over with earth, thus not only concealing the unsightly collection but also making it sanitary.

The garbage dump and collection system will serve the communities of Drift, Hunter and McDowell,

Hitherto, promiscuous dumping of garbage created roadside eyesores and constituted a health hazard.

When the Woman's Club became interested in the project its leaders and members solicited the help and advice of county health department officials, county authorities and on one occasion had as a guest a sanitary engineer from the State Department of Health. The support of business leaders was solicited and gained.

Then came the matter of acquiring a site for the garbage dump. Finally, an acre of land near the Turner Elkhorn Mining Company title was leased for five years, and a systematic plan for garbage collection was developed.

The county contributed the use of a bulldozer which scooped out a trench 14 feet deep, 13 feet wide

COMMISSION TO INSTRUCT MACHINE USE

Voter Absenteeism Fear Noted; Aid Provisions Of Statutes Are Cited

Voting machines will be put into operation in this county at next Tuesday's election for the first time, and their proper use concerned the county's three election commissioners this week.

The machines will be delivered to the precincts, Sunday and Monday. A day was spent recently in the instruction of election officers as to the operation of the machines, but, fearing that some poll officials did not come here that day, Mrs. George E. Evans, Republican member of the Commission, announced this week that she will be at the County Clerk's office from 8 a.m. till 4 p.m., next Monday to instruct any who may have missed the previous training session.

Some voters who may be inclined to stay away from the election because they fear they cannot vote by machine found reassurance in the announcement that any voter requesting such aid will be instructed by the election officer as to operation of the machine. Operation of the voting device is simple and requires little instruction.

Two points were stressed by the election commissioners:

1. If a voter satisfies the judges and the sheriff of the election by his oath that he cannot vote without assistance because of inability to read or other physical disability, the voter and both judges will go to the machine and one of the judges will operate it as the voter directs. Only a voter who is blind may be assisted by a person of his own choice, it was emphasized. (This point was made to clear up an erroneous interpretation of the new election law in a recent news-story published in The Floyd County Times).

2. The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 5 p.m., and there will be no extension of time beyond the latter hour. Because of this deadline, election commissioners pointed out, voters should go to the polls early.

Detailed instructions went out to all election officers this week. One provision of the new law is that no voter may occupy the voting machine longer than two minutes if other voters are waiting to use it.

When the polls close the judges of the election must immediately lock and seal the voting mechanism so that it cannot be operated and (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

THE WATCHMAN SPEAKS:

The WATCHMAN speaks: "I have set thee a WATCHMAN" (Ezekiel 33:7). "Son of man warn them," (Ezekiel 33:7) "if he do not turn . . . thou hast delivered thy soul." (Ezekiel 33:9).

(1) The above scriptures set clearly and precisely my only obligation and duty. This having been fulfilled, I feel clear in the sight of God and man. The case rests in the hands of God.

(2) John Kennedy said, "The constitution and my conscience happen to be in very close harmony—I would oppose any violation of the principle of church-state separation." There are many honest Catholics who feel the same way and express themselves as strongly. I believe thousands of them will vote against Mr. Kennedy on the grounds that their church's official position is against separation of church and state. Catholic principles of politics by Father Ryan, 1946. "The state should recognize the Catholic religion as the religion of the commonwealth . . ."

(3) Civiltà Cattolica, Rome, April, 1948: "The Roman Catholic Church must demand the right of freedom for herself alone . . . as to other religions . . . they shall not be allowed to propagate false doctrines in a state where the majority of the people are Catholic, the church (Catholic) will require that legal existence be denied to error." (All who are not Catholics, Protestants, all denominations, your church, my church, are regarded in error—non-believers, doomed to eternal destruction.)

(4) There is nothing secret regarding the Catholic laws, ways, means, organization, activities. Any person can get any information they desire regarding their teachings and practices over the full life of the church, which has been hundreds of years. It has not changed.

(5) If torture, murder, mass slayings, burning and closing of Protestant churches, burning of Bibles, closing Protestant schools, are reported, past and current activities of the Catholic Church, all anyone has to do is to inform himself about these reports—whether they be true or false.

(6) You can purchase all the books you want on these accounts and happenings—you can get thousands of periodical magazines, and written material that will enlighten you, help you, set you right, with no thought of prejudice, hate, or bigotry toward Catholic or other organizations. Just facts, made plain, for the individual's enlightenment, so that he may choose for himself.

(7) Catholic periodicals, encyclopedias, volume after volume, and principal doctrines and practices of the Catholic Church can be had by all and the official position of the church regarding all matters is given and recorded.

(8) And for current facts of the Catholic Church regarding the state—secular and religious life, also political life—look at Argentina, Paraguay, Spain, and all other countries dominated by her.

(9) Mr. Kennedy said, "Nothing can be done about my religion. I am what I am, and I'm going to be what I am." (Philadelphia, Oct. 30, 1960).

(10) Mr. Kennedy also reiterated what other Catholics in this country would like to have—SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE—which is the un-official position of many fine Catholics in this country, and they want it to stay that way.

(11) NOTE number (10) above, "UN-OFFICIAL position."

(12) THE OFFICIAL POSITION OF THE CHURCH is union of church and state—Catholic Church over State. State to recognize the Catholic Church as the only Church. She demands freedom for herself alone. Both the Pope of Rome and the American hierarchy have OFFICIALLY declared themselves on the union of church and state, "There can be no separation of them." The Pope is regarded by Catholics as infallible, also as the "Rightful Ruler of the World," with power, authority, jurisdiction, universal ruler.

The Sacred Canons, Revised Edition 1957: The Power of the Pope is independent of every human authority, civil and ecclesiastical; no authority on earth is superior or even equal to it; no one can judge him but God. Their claims to world power are openly expressed.

(13) Un-official expressions from a Catholic layman are meaningless. Mr. Kennedy is only expressing many sayings that have been prevalent for many years and are only "un-official," with no jurisdictional power to enforce them.

(14) Mobile, Alabama, Oct. 27, 1960; Rome, Italy, Oct. 27, 1960: Notice the deception in these two news accounts, the same church Mobile, Alabama: "Church wouldn't tell Catholics in U.S.A. how to vote," this statement by Pope's spokesman in U.S.A., Egidio Vagnozzi, Rome, Italy, the Vatican: It did not say that the church "can stand aside" in the United States, or any other country, but that the church could "etc., etc., such guarantees do not exist in any country, etc., etc."

(15) I'm sure you see clearly the contradictions here from the same source, the statements regarding Puerto Rico's election of President. The Bishops there demanded that all Catholics vote against the Democrat candidate, and to vote for another certain candidate. They were instructed to vote for one candidate, there were no questions asked about likes, or dislikes, or to qualifications. Notice, too, they were not instructed to just withhold their vote (and lose by default) but vote for the designated candidate.

(16) They were trying to clear one "mess" they stirred up in America over the Puerto Rican affair, and issued two statements regarding the Church's method for "US"—and the Pope in Rome, Italy, and his personal representative, Vagnozzi, in Alabama, got their "wires crossed." Their statements boomeranged, and they made a bigger "mess" than ever.

(17) Here's the confusing statement, I can't make it out: The Vatican said it did not say the Church can stand aside, but the Church could.

(18) In conclusion, let us, "millions of Americans" now rise and demand by the way we act, what we do, next week, that the Catholic Church "STAND ASIDE" by our command, not what she chooses to do. And let this warning mean the same thing to every other church under the sun, yours and mine—and every organization under the sun, yours and mine, and especially let us pinpoint it now to the Communists, and their commander Khrushchev, and speak with a thud that will circle the globe, "America for Americans, irrespective of color or creed." Don't tamper with our America, our system, live with us freely the way it is, or go to the land of our choice.

(19) I pray God, from the deep of my soul and heart that you who read this article will feel the earnestness and sincerity of my heart and will sense the absence of all prejudice toward any man or any party, or any church, or any religion, or any color, or any creed. I respect one and all, and your right to be what you are, and I'm praying to keep it that way.

Submitted to all for consideration, and in my judgment, my political duty.

THE WATCHMAN AT TWELVE
G. R. FANNIN

P.S. The moment the Catholic Church makes the OFFICIAL POSITION for the United States, and stands by oral official statements and recorded official statements that they will not now, or ever, seek a union of church and state; and disassociate the Pope from any power over our system in any way, shape, form or fashion, and free their subjects from any allegiance to their state—we will in good conscience vote for a candidate bearing a Catholic label when we so choose.

Let's Rid Our Schools Of Politics

JOE I. MAY is the only candidate for Board of Education in Division No. 4 who is pledged to free the system of politics. He is free of any obligation to any politician or group.

He has refused $2,000 to commit himself to a certain man for County Superintendent. He has consistently refused donations from anyone in his campaign. The supporters of Walter Akers say they have made up a pot of $2,000 to fight the election. The chief supporters of Emmitt Conn say they will spend $15,000 to win. The John M. Stumbo crowd will have ample funds on election day.

Where does this leave the schoolchildren, the parents and teachers? We'll tell you where it leaves them. It leaves them in the midst of a nasty political situation where the schools suffer and the politicians prosper.

JOE I. MAY GIVES THESE PLEDGES:

1. He will take no revenge on any teacher for the way he or his friends voted.
2. No employee of the present Board of Education will have any fear for his job if he is an efficient employee.
3. All teachers will be placed in a convenient and satisfactory position consistent with the best interests of the schools.
4. JOE I. MAY will make any necessary changes in the faculty of the Betsy Layne High School necessary to a good program. In doing this he will be guided by the wishes of the patrons of the school.
5. Charles Clark has been employed as County Superintendent for Four Years. JOE I. MAY is willing to work with him the next four years in a good school program.
6. JOE I. MAY will have no money on the election grounds to buy votes. He will have no one exerting pressure. Remember this: If there is money spent for votes a voter still can vote as he pleases when he is behind the curtain.

IF YOU WANT TO FREE THE TEACHERS AND IF YOU WANT EDUCATION OF YOUR CHILDREN INSTEAD OF POLITICS, CAST YOUR VOTE FOR JOE I. MAY.

A "Yes" Vote Is Our Duty

Eastern Kentucky, in particular, has everything to gain if the roads and parks bond issue is approved at next Tuesday's election. All Kentucky will benefit, and practically every leading organization in the state has already expressed that belief, but this region which so sorely needs more and better highways will naturally be the No. 1 beneficiary.

One Central Kentucky opponent of the bond issue expressed it in another way. He asked a Lexington audience why voters of the Blue Grass, with good roads already, should support a bond issue which would benefit Eastern Kentucky. Fortunately, most residents of Central Kentucky have a higher regard for our section of the state and are less selfish than the man who made this statement. (Sometimes we wonder if we of Eastern Kentucky are as charitable toward those of the Blue Grass and other favored parts of the Commonwealth as they are with us.)

Only this week the campaign managers of both political parties in Kentucky endorsed both the road and parks bonds and the constitutional convention issues. The two candidates for U. S. Senator, Keen Johnson and John Sherman Cooper, recognizing that there really is no political principle at issue in this matter, shook hands on the proposition that both endorse both issues. Organized groups representing the fields of education, agriculture, labor—practically every area of endeavor—have repeatedly spoken out for them.

Surely we of Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky will not be so foolish now as to listen to a few dissenting voices and be led away from an opportunity to help ourselves.

This bond issue will not mean extra taxes. More roads and more highway usage will enable the present gasoline tax to amortize those bonds. These bonds are needed now, just as a bond issue was needed when A. B. Chandler was Governor—an issue which The Floyd County Times supported because it recognized the needs of Kentucky and our region then as it does now. There really is no argument against the bonds, except those fallacious contentions conjured up by prejudice and malice.

Every voter also should know that a "Yes" vote on the constitutional convention does not change one jot or tittle of the present constitution. It merely approves a convention to work on limited revision. After that, an election will be held to choose convention delegates. And after the delegates to the constitutional convention have done their work, another election will be held to give the voters the chance to approve or disapprove the work these delegates have done.

Our state constitution is not Holy Writ, infallible, immutable. It was written by men, most of them good men, but men who lived, erred and died as we do and shall. These men themselves recognized the fact that their work was not to stand forever, that changing times would demand constitutional changes.

The future of Kentucky, our future and that of our children are involved in these two paramount issues. A "Yes" vote, as we see it, is our "bounden duty."

Combs To Speak Here; Pike Voters To Hear Kennedy

Closing days of the political campaign in this county will be featured with the appearance at the courthouse here Saturday at 11 a. m. of Gov. Bert Combs in an address, Burnis Martin, county Democratic campaign chairman, announced.

Republican headquarters said no Republican speaker will be booked in the county during these last days of the campaign. The party, however, is continuing its strong drive for votes.

Robert Kennedy, brother of the Democratic Presidential candidate, and the party's national campaign chairman, will speak at the Pike county courthouse at 1 p. m. Saturday, it was announced by Lawrence Branham, Pike county Democratic campaign chairman.

Home Economics Class Gives Reception Here

The junior girls of the home economics class of Prestonsburg high school gave a reception Monday, Oct. 24, for the faculty members and honoring the student teachers, Miss Patricia Peck, of Stanton, and Miss Nellie Faye Witt, of Mt. Sterling. They are seniors from Morehead State College and majoring in home economics. They are doing supervised teaching in home economics under Miss Hazel Hill.

The punch and cake were served by Betty James, Janice Blackburn, Pearl Morrison and Chanda Merritt.

The girls in the receiving line with the student teachers were Joetta Snipes, Sara Ann Cooley, Betty Johnson, Juanita Pitts, Ora Lee Slone, Faye Ousley, Phyllis Webb, Wanda Banks, Jane Banks and Betty Lou Ousley.

National Association Names Mr. Burchett

W. W. Burchett, Prestonsburg attorney and a member of the Kentucky Public Service Commission, has been named by the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, Washington, D. C., to its Committee on Procedure. Mr. Burchett is the only Kentucky member of the committee.

F. A. Hopkins, above, was Floyd county's delegate to the 1890-91 Constitutional Convention which drafted Kentucky's fourth Constitution. The men who authored that document, adopted 69 years ago, were aware that it would need revising as times and conditions changed; hence they included in its provisions for calling a convention. Under those provisions a vote will be taken at the November 8 election, on whether a constitutional convention shall be called to consider only certain specific areas of the Constitution for revision.

SO HE COOKED

An Ohioan was reported not long ago as stating in writing that he had been getting his own breakfast since his wedding day, Oct. 19, 1910. He put it this way: "It was get my own breakfast, or else." He didn't say so, but it appears he doesn't have a taste for else.

I am indebted, I belatedly acknowledge, to my onetime colleague on this family sheet, James B. Goble, now of The Courier-Journal, for an excellent aerial photograph of Prestonsburg. My friend will be interested in knowing that this picture, prominently displayed in our office, attracts its full share of attention.

SAD RAGS

I read, or at least scan through, two or three newspaper trade publications, and all of these impress me with their absolute barrenness of humor. I learned pretty quickly that the newspaper business is a serious one, but not till now was I aware there wasn't any fun for even those who write about it.

State Progress Impeded By Out-Moded Document; New Convention Urged

In the proposed limited Constitutional Convention on the ballot November, voters will be faced with one of the most vitally important issues in modern Kentucky history, according to observers.

It is an oft repeated fact that "the shortest distance between any two points is a straight path", and it is hardly conceivably in today's modern society that anyone would choose to travel that path in a horse and buggy as our forefather's did sixty-years ago. Yet the people of Kentucky are still governed by a constitution which was written to serve the people and society of seventy-years ago, the Constitution of 1891.

One commentator put it this way: "Just as surely as the automobile has outdated the horse and buggy, time and economic and educational progress have outdated, and are now handicapped by, the Constitution of 1891. No constitution is infallible; none everlasting." The attitude of delegates of the Convention of 1890 was expressed by Convention president Cassius M. Clay, when he said, "While the principles of liberty do not change, still it is necessary, as society develops and new conditions arise, that there should be adoption to these conditions." And certainly the people of Kentucky have never passed through such a period of development and change as the last seventy-years.

Ex-Governor Speaks
Against Convention
At Courthouse Here

Former Gov. A. B. Chandler spoke here Saturday against the proposed convention to revise the Kentucky Constitution.

Chandler, speaking to a crowd estimated at 200 in the courthouse, said such a revision would be "detrimental to the welfare of the people."

He said the Constitution permits two amendments to be put before the voters at an election and suggested that any changes should be made in this manner.

Chandler also voiced opposition to the proposed $100 million roads and parks bond issue.

Library Here Host
To Area Association;
Clark Welcomes Students

Prestonsburg high school library was host, Oct. 22, to the fourth annual fall meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Student Librarians Association. This student group, representing the EKEA district, was organized in Eastern Kentucky for the purpose of promoting student interest in school libraries throughout this section.

The organization, whose membership is restricted to those students who work in their school libraries, holds two meetings annually, the fall meeting in one of the member schools, the spring meeting at Morehead State College. Since its organization the group has shown rapid growth and its meetings are attended with much interest and enthusiasm.

The Floyd county schools this year provided three of the officers of the organization: President, Laura Hall, Wayland high school; vice-president, Gloria Adams, Prestonsburg high; parliamentarian, Charlotte Stewart, of McDowell high school. Other officers present are Patsy Chandler, secretary, Paintsville, and Clyde James, parliamentarian, of Rowan county high school. The student group elected as their advisor this year, Mrs. Nadine Fultz, librarian of Wayland high school.

Charles Clark, superintendent of Floyd county schools, welcomed the 135 students and librarians attending Prestonsburg high school. Musical selections were furnished by a group under the direction of Mrs. Billie Osborne, music instructor at Betsy Layne high school. In separate business meetings, Laura Hall, student president, led the student group, while Mrs. June Rice, of Paintsville high school, presided over the librarian group.

After a lunch served by the Prestonsburg high school P.-T.A., the librarians, under the direction of Mrs. Fultz, interpreted the Dewey decimal system of classification, with each school dramatizing one division of the system. The meeting concluded with a tour of the Eastern Kentucky Regional Library, a first experience for many of the students.

Special guests at the meeting included Miss Ione Chapman, librarian of Morehead State College; Mrs. Dorothy Conley, reference librarian, Morehead State College; Suzanne Boggs, librarian, Breckinridge Training School, and Robert Wallace, Eastern Kentucky Regional Librarian. The 18 Eastern Kentucky schools represented were Garrett, McDowell, Maytown, Wheelwright, Wayland, Betsy Layne, Inez, Pikeville, John's Creek Rowan County, Paintsville, Meade Memorial, Oil Springs, Owingsville, Morehead State College, Breckinridge Training School, and Prestonsburg high and graded schools.

THINK -- THINK -- THINK!

It is said America is going to move ahead. We also are told America is thriving on stagnation.

If America has been standing still, why hasn't the foreign vultures gobbled us up before now? If America is as weak as some proclaim, then why didn't Khrushchev move into the White House while he was here and save himself the expense of running around so much?

In the skirmishes we've had around the Communist borders and in the Communist political debates, and in strategic movements, why have we held the line so firmly if we have been so weak?

Now, Mr. Kennedy says, in effect, "Let's get America on the move with more jobs, more planning and, most of all, more spending. The government is a bottomless pit of cash, so much that we could never spend her dry." He says, "Let the money pour out of Washington like Niagara Falls. He says, 'Let's give, give, give to everybody. Let's make people so listless, so lifeless, so onery and so lazy they won't want to go to a government "gimme office" to get their dose, they'll want the taxpayers to send a man around delivering it to their bedsides."

Now is that the kind of get-up-and-go Mr. Kennedy wants? Is that the New Deal or the Old Deal, worse than before?

I say, if he wants to make America move, and move properly, it had better be done in the good, old Pilgrim spirit: Provide jobs for everybody that is able to work; and if they won't work, I say as Capt. John Smith said, those who will not work don't eat. I say, when you pour money out of Washington, a stream of $1,000 bills as big as Niagara Falls, it sure and certain better be raining hard and plenty hard with taxpayers' money to support such torrential outpour, and the tax will be so high to pay for all this that the will to work and the initiative of those who have initiative will be broken, and we'll all succumb to the bum race.

Let's stay on sound footing. I approve of more jobs, and I also approve of every able-bodied man working. But I also say the wheel should be kept balanced among the various incomes of the nation such as farming, manufacturing, mining, etc. An adjustment should and must be made so that one industry is not receiving away ahead of others in wage income. There are too many receiving unreasonable wages while others are far under them. The $3.86-an-hour steelworker is paid too much in proportion to many, many other incomes, and the country cannot afford $4 an hour for everybody. It certainly is not right for a privileged few to earn so much more than others. That's where the wheel is out of balance.

And why did it get that way? Because we let the privileged few have so much rope to hang us all.

Now can the government pour out enough to the others to make them $3.50 or $4 an hour? No, but the government can regulate and balance and harmonize the wheels of industry and earnings.

Must the government force small business to pay up to these high brackets? If the government does, small business will bust, and there goes your sound economy. I say government is what the people make it, by fair agreement, with people with the will to work, with reason and not radicalism.

With the good, old Pilgrim spirit to work and plan as a nation as a whole, with a sound, level-headed leader, America will be on the move and will always be the strongest nation under the sun. We came here with the desire to worship as we please, and to work and plan and be free, and above all to have dignity and independence. And I say that a working, planning, thinking man is one of those Pilgrims.

Those who always look for hand-outs are parasites and a down-drag to our republic. They should be offered work, and if such a man will not work he should starve. I do believe in spending, if necessary, to provide him the opportunity to have a job; then, if he doesn't accept, let his stomach be his guide.

If either Mr. Nixon or Mr. Kennedy can give us, with the aid of the people, a good, old Pilgrim-spirited America, I'm for him. And, as of right now, I believe Mr. Nixon is all-around qualified to come nearer doing the job than Mr. Kennedy, when you get down to fair, all-around reasoning.

ADVOCATES SMALL PARKS

The stepped-up campaign of the state government for cleaner highways and a more beautiful state to attract tourists causes me to write you about something that I have been mulling over for at least four years, if not more. The matter of small city parks.

One of the most welcome and attractive features of even very small towns in the West are the small parks that are to be found in nearly every town or village. These are not playgrounds, but parks for the comfort, rest and convenience of the visitor. I recall vividly even now how impressed we were in going through a village of less than 200 population to note a small park about 100 feet square, with a smooth green lawn, lovely flowers and a number of shade trees. In this small area were two picnic tables and three or four comfortable benches plus a very welcome drinking fountain. A large sign said, "We invite tourists to stop and rest awhile." This sight is quite common all through this section.

All of this lengthy preamble to ask: Why doesn't Prestonsburg develop into a beautiful City Park the area back of the Municipal building which was deeded to the public (or to the city) by John Graham? No business or private interests should be allowed to take over this land which was meant for public use. It is a most attractive site and could be one of the show places of the town. An old fashioned bandstand for summer concerts would be a great tourist attraction. All of these details should engage the attention of both the city and county officials. Other towns in Eastern Kentucky ought to do the same. I can't think of one town in this section that has a town park, unless it be Pikeville and that seems to be more of a playground. I am sure many others join me in hoping that this property may be so developed and made the number one project for the coming months.

TO THE FLOYD COUNTY TEACHER ASSOCIATION:

I am a firm believer in associations. If we do not associate, cooperate, unite and work together, we will not be able to preserve our American way of life.

Your teacher Association, in my opinion, is the most important Association in Floyd County. You have the trained reservoir which the people of Floyd County must draw upon to develop the minds and hearts of our youth.

I pledge myself to support the Floyd County Teacher Association in their united effort to improve their status in their profession, in THEIR COMMUNITY and in our schools.

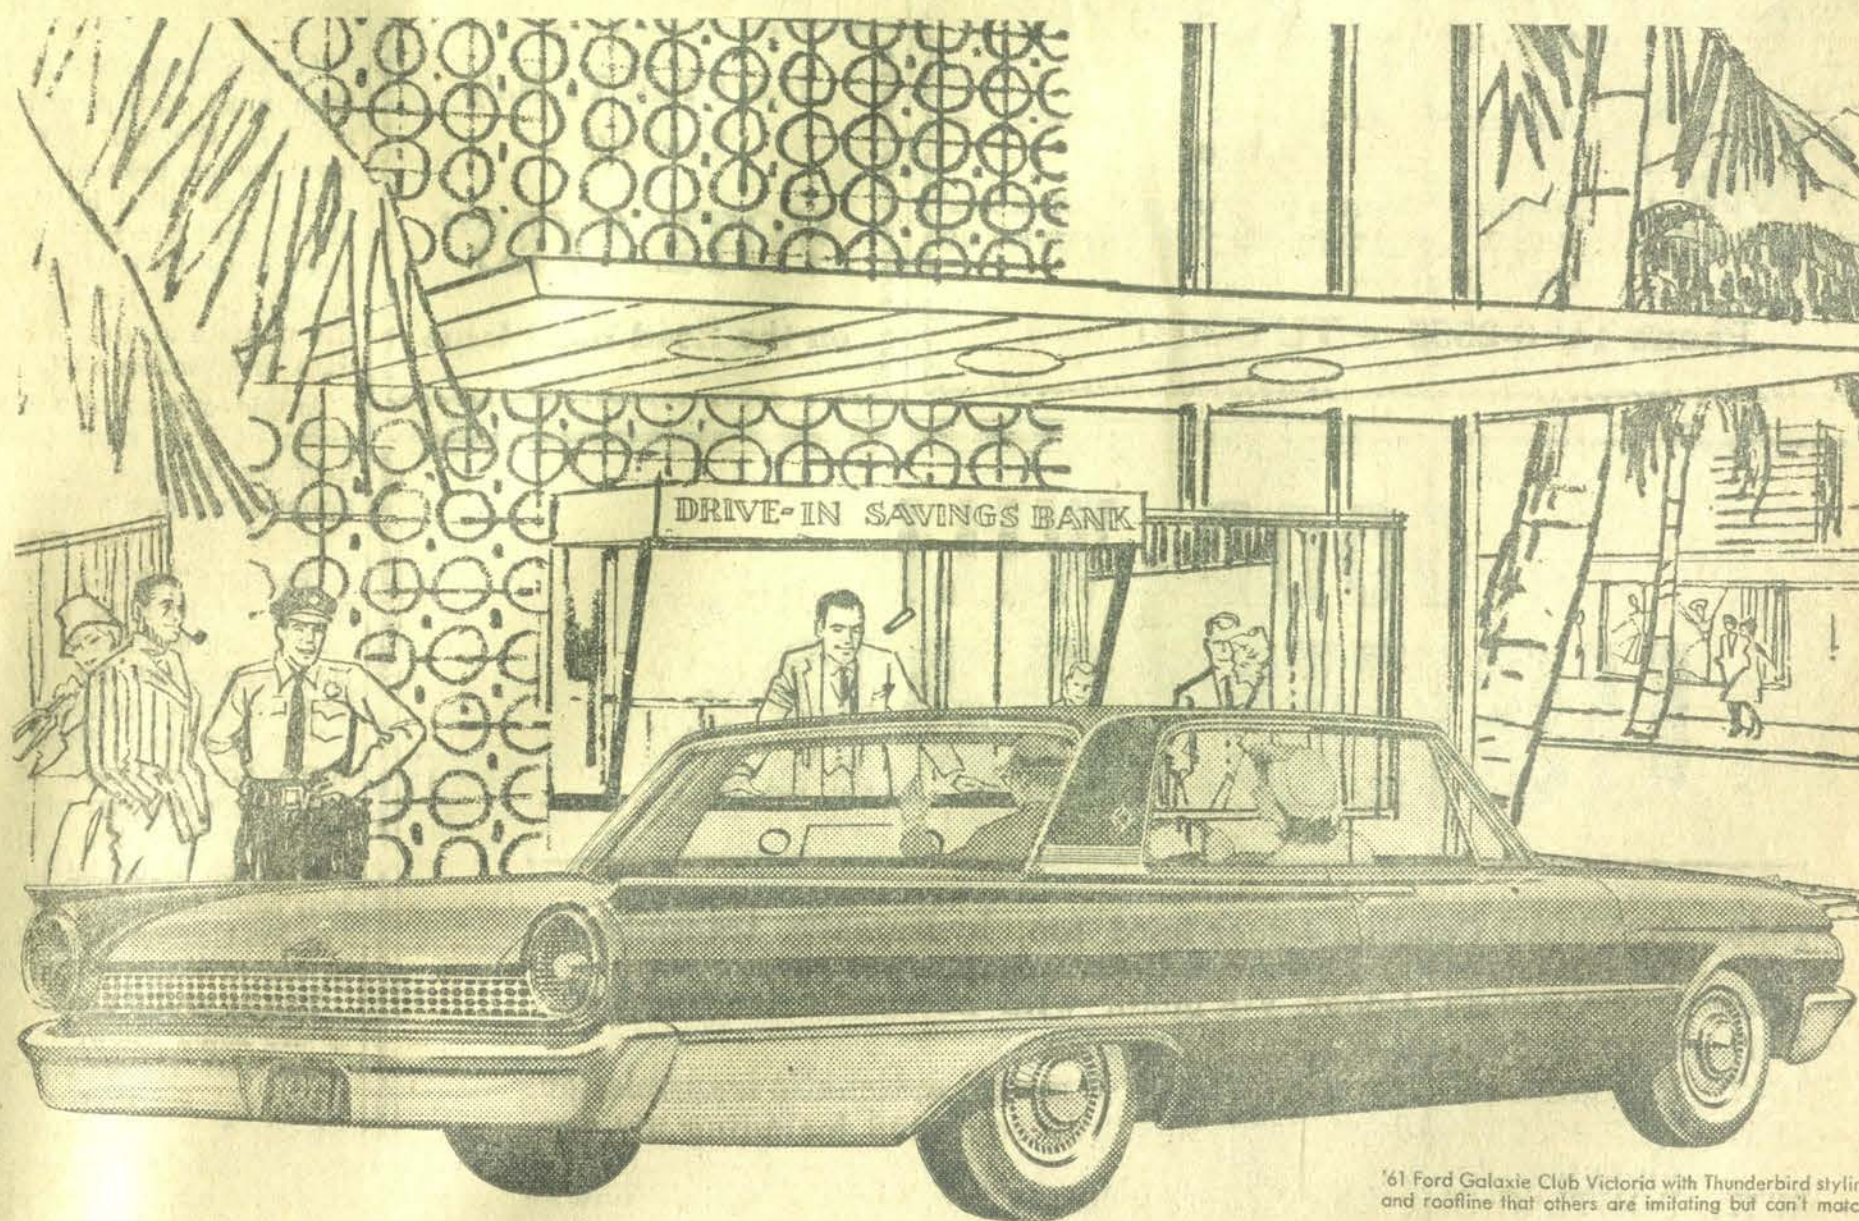

I feel that no school program can be progressive if the whole idea of the board is to be against. I would say leave the administration of the schools to trained educators. I feel that Charles Clark can do a good job if given a chance and I, if elected, will support Clark's program which is good and I would not agree that Charles should be driven from the office just because he is not one of the "big ones."

The one '61 car
built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself... and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend—were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built. Drive a '61 Ford soon.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $4.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminum—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers. Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

OSBORNE - SIMMONS MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED AT RICHMOND

The First Presbyterian Church, of Richmond, Ky., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mary Lois Osborne and Mr. Cecil Lucian Simmons, Jr., of Richmond. The marriage vows were exchanged Sept. 4. The former Miss Osborne is a daughter of Mrs. R. G. Osborne and the late Mr. Osborne, formerly of Eastern. Mr. Simmons is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lucian Simmons, of Richmond.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Walter Maud, Lexington, in the presence of the immediate families. The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Eugene Hager, Prestonsburg.

Miss Jacqueline Lane, of Lexington, was maid-of-honor.

Laura Ellen Moore, Prestonsburg, cousin of the bride, and Marietta Shadoan, Johnson City, Tenn., niece of the groom, were flower girls.

Mr. Cecil Lucian Simmons served his son as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the social hall of the church.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Simmons will be at home at 201 Langford Court, Richmond.

The return sheets must be filled out completely and the results at each precinct must be announced distinctly by one of the judges who will read the name and vote for each candidate or question at issue.

Ample opportunity also must be given at that time for any person lawfully present to compare the announced results with the counter dials of the voting machine.

(Persons "lawfully present" would be, in addition to the election officers, any candidate or representative appointed by the governing body of each political party.)

The complete Floyd election returns are expected to be known here early election night. No longer will the "counting room" of the ballots, be thronged by tense, anxious candidates and their adherents. For the election story—however long in the writing—will be quickly read.

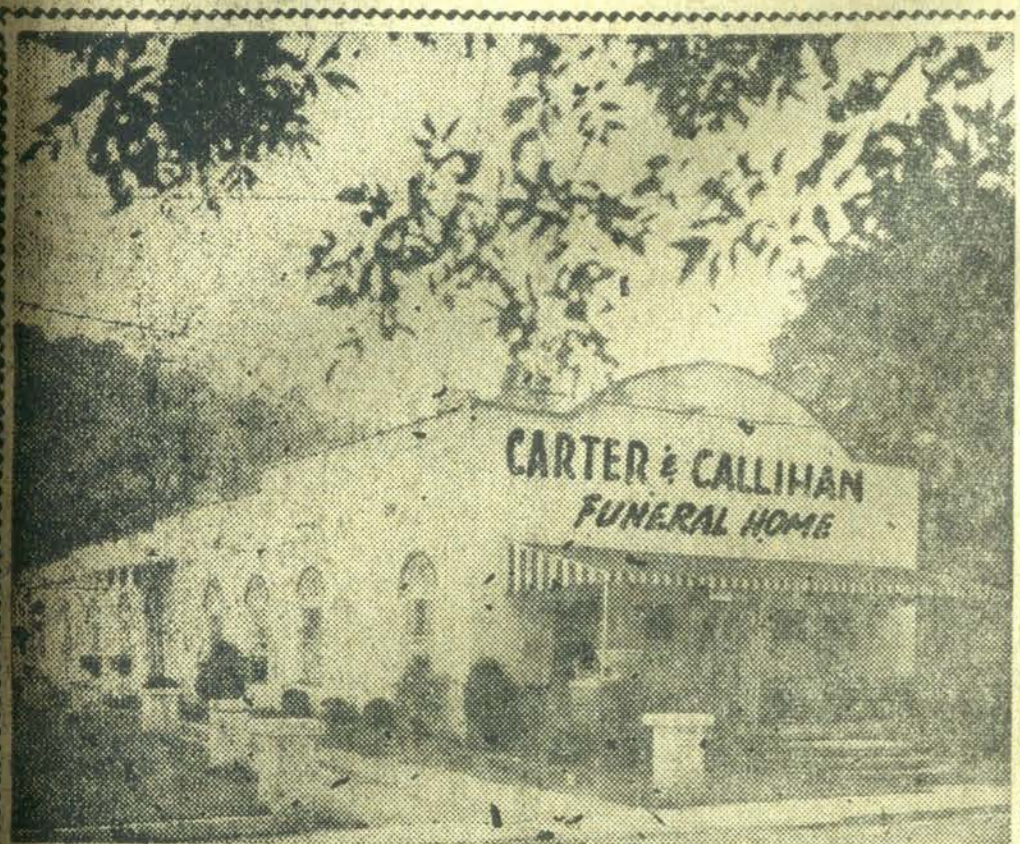

The 34 voting places in this county are listed below.

A NEW BROOM

A handbill bearing Mr. Clark's picture along with a broom is being circulated through the mails. The poster states that with a new broom he will clean up the schools.

Mr. Clark states that he was appointed to the Superintendentcy a free man. If he wants to do any cleaning up why has he not acted? He now has a majority of three on the Board who have voted with him on every question. DID HE DO ANY CLEANING UP?

What does the record show?

In the first two months of his administration he had added approximately $25,000.00 in salaries for NEW office employees, added one new maintenance man, and raised the salaries of many of the others. That was just the beginning—At the Board meeting on October 4, 1960, he raised the salaries of every office employee approximately $900.00 per year. Does this look like he intends to clean-up the mess?

The record of salaries:

Supt. Clark	$ 9,600.00
Asst. Supt. Ratliff	7,200 00
Asst. Supt. Frasure	7,200.00
Asst. to Asst. V. O.	7,000.00
Bus Scheduler Allen	6,000.00
Office Clerks	30,348.00
Supervisors	38,165.00
Maintenance Men	85,800.00
Total Salaries	$191,313.00
Est. Mileage at 8c	25,000.00
Grand Total	$216,313.00

We have fewer children on the census rolls now than we did ten years ago. The total of all office and maintenance salaries then was $42,800.00.

THIS RECORD EXPLAINS WHY NO RURAL SCHOOLS ARE BEING BUILT, WHY OUR CHILDREN HAVE NO SCHOOL SUPPLIES WITH WHICH TO WORK, WHY WE HAVE TOO FEW SCHOOL BUSES TO TRANSPORT OUR CHILDREN.

Does Mr. Clark think he can fool the public with cartoons? Actions speak louder than words—The truth is the old Board is in control, and will continue to be in control unless the administration candidates are defeated.

In an attempt to cover up this sorry record, and to divert the attention of the people from the issues in this election, the opposition has resorted to rumors, untruths and slanderous statements. They have run against practically everyone in Floyd County, and have even stooped to a smear campaign against innocent individuals.

Judging the future by the past they are not through—So beware of false rumors on the eve of the election. The administration candidates have many office workers and maintenance men as errand boys—They are traveling night and day, and desperate men will resort to reckless statements.

Let's really clean-up the mess by electing men who are in no way connected with the old Board.

The Council also voted to buy a desk flag set for the Wheelwright eighth grade as a prize for raising the most money on the camp improvement program.

New officers elected for the 1960-1961 term were: President, Mrs. Verbal Meeks; vice-president, Kermit Howard; secretary, Mrs. Mary Lou Spradlin.

The council voted to buy 4-H jackets for the district champions not receiving jackets previously. Mrs. Mary Lou Spradlin was elected as most valuable council member for the year.

LOWER-PRICED BEEF CUTS

Many lower-priced beef cuts, such as chuck and round, turn out just as tasty and tender when broiled or roasted as when braised or pot-roasted, according to Miss Frances Howland, county home demonstration agent.

In the past, dry-heat methods of cooking (broiling and roasting) were used only for tender beef cuts—those from the rib and loin sections of an animal. Moist-heat methods (braising, stewing, pot roasting) were thought necessary for good results with chuck and round.

NOVEMBER IS THE TIME TO "WINTERIZE" PLANTS

November is the month when many ornamental and flowering plants, unless protected, because of the alternating freezing and thawing during winter months.

Chrysanthemums that are 18 to 24 inches tall should have all the old, dead bloom stems cut about 6 inches above the ground. Destroy these stalks as they may carry insects and disease. Then, spread old fertilizer bags or some other kind of loose-woven burlap over the six-inch stems; this gives protection and still permits air to circulate. Poultry droppings or fertilizer may be spread lightly over the burlap.

The small, bunch-type mums also should have the old blooms cut and removed. A light mulch of old straw or hay should be worked in among the plants with just a little over the top.

Hybrid tea roses, if left unprotected, often kill to the ground. The roses will grow next year, but the plant will be a wild, non-descript rose. Soil, ground corn cobs or straw may be used to protect roses.

Soil is very good for protecting roses, but mulching soil must be brought in and this takes quite a bit of work. Do not pull up the soil from the roots to mulch around the stems; this subjects the roots to winter injury. About 1/2 bushel of soil is needed for each rose. Pour the soil down over the plant, making a mound about 10 to 12 inches high on the stems.

If ground corn cobs are used, mound them up around each plant until they are 12 to 14 inches high. If the cobs are coarsely ground, a few leaves may be scattered over the mound of cobs. Old hay or straw can be placed around the plant until the mulch is 12 inches high; usually, wire netting or something to prevent the straw from blowing away will be needed. Leaves are not good for mulching roses as they become wet and freeze against the stem of the plant, injuring the bark.

FOR THE CHILDREN PROGRAM

This is the platform upon which Ray Howard and John G. Hall ran, and were elected to the Board of Education, two years ago. At the first board meeting after their election this platform was presented as a workable school program to the Board of Education for adoption. The adoption of the program was defeated by the present administration majority.

We, the undersigned candidates, are pledged to this child-centered school program. We believe this platform, when put into effect, will improve our schools, eliminate waste and restore administrative emphasis to its proper place—that of helping the teacher do a better job of teaching our children

- Restore the teaching profession to its proper dignity by removal of Gestapo tactics and threats to teachers.
- Increase the salaries of all teachers by eliminating waste and unnecessary jobs.
- Bring all good teachers who have been run out of Floyd county back home to our own schools where they are needed.
- Keep good teachers teaching by creating an atmosphere of friendliness and good will among all school employees.
- Appoint a well trained, qualified Superintendent of Schools who has the ability and experience to supply the educational leadership needed in Floyd county.
- Make appointments to all positions in the school system on the basis of qualifications.
- Keep the school system and the teachers free from all political entanglements and assessments.
- Improve the Course of Study in all high schools so that our children will not be handicapped because of a meager background when they go to college.
- Work with an Educational Advisory Committee made up of citizens from every community in the county to help formulate school policy and to develop a wise school building program.
- Encourage Parent-Teacher Association groups in every school district.
- Develop a more economical maintenance program by employing local labor thereby eliminating the many unnecessary permanent employees on the payroll.
- Install approved bookkeeping methods, with strict accounting to the public of all school funds.
- Expand the school lunch program, providing free lunches to those children who are unable to pay.
- Provide a transportation program that will not force children to leave home before daylight and return home after dark, and eliminate discrimination between children attending rural schools and consolidated schools.

NO ADDITIONAL TAXES NECESSARY!

FLOYD COUNTY BUSINESSMEN AND FIRMS TELL YOU WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU...

APPROVAL OF THE BOND ISSUE WILL MEAN

Better Roads and Parks for all of Kentucky
 With No Increase in Taxes Necessary!

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL FOR BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY. Consumer goods, supplies, repair parts, service men and salesmen, all move by road. Over 65,000,000 consumers, and a great part of the nation's business and industry, are located within one day's delivery from Kentucky. Only good highways can link us to this market and source of industrial expansion.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL TO AGRICULTURE. Access roads to individual farms, area feeder routes and major highways—all link the farmer to markets and sources of supply and service.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL TO EDUCATION. Buses carry 53% of Kentucky pupils to school. Pupils get better education when brought together in modern consolidated schools. Better education must be financed by the expanding economy and revenue dependent upon highways.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL TO PUBLIC SAFETY. The death rate on all roads in 1959 was 6.4 per 100 million vehicle miles—adding up to 750 Kentucky deaths in the year. On our truly modern roads (the completed interstate turnpikes) there were no traffic deaths. Better roads are safer roads. The annual economic loss in highway accidents is $100,000,000—equal to the Bond Issue.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE VITAL TO GREATER TOURIST TRAVEL. Tourists select the best roads for vacation travel—and tourist dollars brought to Kentucky help all Kentuckians. In 1959, out-of-state tourists spent $165,000,000 in Kentucky. This spending alone, contributed over $7,500,000 in gasoline taxes (to build more highways), and would have created over $4,110,000 in sales taxes for Kentucky education and other tax support services.

WITHOUT THE ROAD BOND ISSUE KENTUCKY LOSES FEDERAL AID

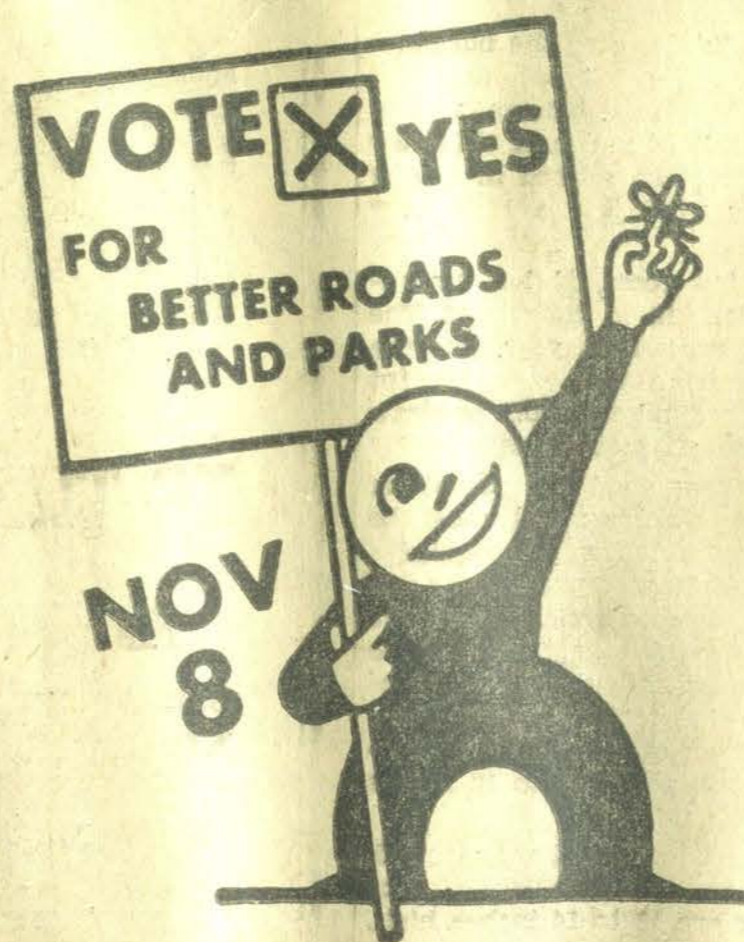

There is absolutely no other alternative—we must vote yes November 8 for the bond issue whereby $90 million will go to roads and $10 million to parks which will enable Kentucky to take full value of the opportunity to match and obtain Federal Aid. Without the increase of present motor vehicle taxes, this can be accomplished.

'Tis seldom we receive something for nothing. Through federal aid we gain in four areas of road building provided voters approve the bond issue in November. Study closely the Federal Aid Road Systems in Kentucky, each of which shares in the allocation of funds provided by Congress:

1. Federal Aid Primary System consists of 3,600 miles of important trunk line highways throughout the Commonwealth. This is Kentucky's major network of roads serving the main flow of individual, farm, and business traffic. Although it comprises less than 6 per cent of the State's total road mileage, it carries almost one-half of all rural traffic. Federal funds are matched by State funds on a 50-50 basis.

2. Federal Aid Secondary System of 15,239 miles, serves the same needs as the primary system and is secondary only in that the traffic flow is not so great. Nearly all major farm-to-market roads are included in this system. The fund matching basis is 50-50.

3. Federal Aid Urban System of 252 miles consists of the urban links and extensions of both Primary and Secondary systems into and through the cities. The matching basis is also 50-50 State and Federal Funds.

DO YOU REALIZE that the highway construction program (which depends on approval of the bond issue has a most favorable benefit-cost ratio of 3 to 1? In other words the public, of which YOU are a part, gets back at least $3 in benefits for every $1 invested in better roads.

That the money obtained from the bond issue must be used only on the Federal-Aid systems, to match money put up by the Federal Government? It cannot be used for any other purpose.

DO YOU REALIZE NO NEW TAXES ARE NEEDED TO RETIRE THE BONDS?

The 1956 Legislature placed additional levies on heavy commercial trucks. This, plus normal expanding revenues on increasing traffic, will meet bond retirement costs.

WHY IS A SECOND BOND ISSUE NECESSARY?

In 1956 Kentuckians approved the first $100,000,000 Bond Issue. The last $30,000,000 worth, sold this year, is being applied to construction. The first $70,000,000 paid for more than 776 miles of construction throughout the state.

More federal aid funds have now been set by Congress. Kentucky must match these funds or lose highway dollars. No Bond Issue means simply this stark choice—Kentucky will either lose federal funds or will almost stop construction on the many roads financed entirely by state funds. Proper maintenance on existing roads would virtually come to a halt. To meet this challenge, the 1960 Highway Bond Issue must be approved.

UNDEFEATED BULLDOGS EYE REGION PLAYOFF

Hazard's undefeated Bull Dogs are now eyeing the Class "AA" Region 4 playoffs after winning over Fleming-Neon, 46-0, last Friday to top their third consecutive Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference title.

Paul Wright's fast-stepping unit has only Middlesboro left this Friday as an obstacle in its path to retain the regional title.

The Bull Dogs had an easy time with Fleming as ace halfback Darwin Turpin scored twice, senior end Kenny Fitzpatrick twice, and quarterback Johnny Davis hurled three touchdown passes—two to Fitzpatrick and one to end Jim Cannon.

Prestonsburg, playing without the services of five regular starters, tackle Dickie Fitzpatrick, guard Paul Minix, quarterback Bobby Marshall, halfback Bill Leedy and fullback Dixon Numery, pulled a major upset in whipping Everts, 19-13.

The win, however, cost the Black Cats the services of Bob Smith, the team's leading scorer and ground gainer, who broke an arm, and so the Black Cats will face arch-rival Paintsville, Friday night, with at least five regulars out of the starting line-up.

In winning their sixth game, Coach John Gohle's Black Cats scored the first time they got their hands on the ball by driving 64 yards, with sophomore quarterback Jerry Leslie scoring from the 10-yard stripe.

Midway the second period, Bob Smith climaxed a 70-yard march with a six-yard marker. He also ran for the point after. Everts narrowed the halftime gap to 13-6 on a successful 31-yard pass.

Tackle Bob Pearson grabbed an Everts fumble midway the third period, and sped 60 yards for Prestonsburg's third t.d.

The loss was the third in 11 games for Everts.

Paintsville's independent Tigers clawed Wheelwright, 35-0, for their ninth consecutive victory, and versatile Mike Minix picked up his usual four touchdowns, all on short runs.

Minix upped his season's total to 222 points, far ahead of any player in the state. He has two season games left in which to break the all-time Kentucky scoring record of 264 points. If the Tigers can handle Bellevue, Nov. 11, they will enter the regional playoffs for the Class "A" title.

The Pikeville Panthers raised their season's record to 7-2 with an 18-6 decision over Jenkins, Friday. They have Whitesburg left this Friday before meeting Harlan in Cumberland's Coal Bowl, November 11.

Senior Bill Baird gave the home-standing Panthers a 12-0 halftime lead as he chalked up two markers on runs of four and 81 yards in the initial half.

Boy Scouts Planning Golden Jubilee Year; Vote Effort Is Urged

Joining the five million Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers in the United States who will participate in the third national Get-Out-The-Vote Campaign, 3,000 Scouts and leaders of the Lonesome Pine Council are preparing for the starting event of the Golden Jubilee Year.

As it was in 1952 and 1956, this great nonpartisan effort to get out a record vote in the national election is under the joint sponsorship of the Boy Scouts of America and the Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge, Pa.

On October 29, ten days before the election, a mammoth distribution of Liberty Bell placards urging citizens to vote will be distributed to forty million homes throughout the nation. The Scouts, trained in an orderly and systematic distribution method, will hang the placards on the nation's front doors. Residents will be asked to display the remainder in their front windows until election day, signifying their intention to vote.

The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge and the Boy Scouts of America efforts contributed much in the increased voting total in 1952 and 1956.

The Get-Out-the-Vote Campaign is strictly nonpartisan in its concept and execution, and all participants must abide by regulations to keep the project removed from the political arena.

Byron F. Pennebaker, Scout Executive of the Council, states that every Cub Scout, Boy Scout, and Explorer should participate in this national effort by which he meets another of the 50th Anniversary Award requirements.

FINISH FRIDAY

The Prestonsburg Black Cats, minus six regulars who started the 1960 high school football season, will close their football season Friday night against the undefeated Paintsville Tigers, in the Johnson county seat.

In downing Everts, 19-13, last Saturday night, without the services of regular quarterback Bobby Marshall, halfback Bill Leedy, guard Dickie Fitzpatrick, and limited service from guard Paul Minix and end William Prater, the Black Cat reserves were most impressive with sophomore quarterback Jerry Mayo Leslie and scabbard John Anderson highlighting the offense.

Prestonsburg will take a 6-3 record into the fray, while Walter Bruh's Tigers have romped over nine consecutive opponents in lopsided fashion. Not one of their games has been close in the scoring.

These two clubs enjoy one of the oldest rivalries in Kentucky high school football. Since the first meeting in 1923, Prestonsburg has won 19, Paintsville 10, and five have ended in ties. The Black Cats did not field a team during the war years of 1943 and 1944. Paintsville won last season's meeting, 32-19.

on the strength of Mike Minix's four touchdowns.

Minix, averaging more than four touchdowns a game thus far, has rolled up and down the field for 222 points, and crippled Prestonsburg is conceded little chance of stopping him.

In Saturday's Eastern Kentucky regional high school cross-country meet, Johns Creek, Flat Gap and Morgan County all claimed victory. However, the regional manager was informed by K.H.S.A.A. Commissioner Ted Sanford that these three teams would run again Thursday to determine the regional champion. Prestonsburg, in the first season for the sport, finished fourth as a team in the 14-school field. Senior Roy Prater was the leading Black Cat runner in finishing eighth. Floyd Johnson and James Ousey finished 26th and 27th.

Charles "Greasy" Hughes, popular Floyd county basketball official, will officiate high school basketball games only on Saturday night this season. He has withdrawn as one of the Floyd county pre-season officials and was replaced by Milford "Toodles" Wells.

Dr. J. Woodford Howard, Native of Prestonsburg, Wins Teaching Award

Easton, Pa. (Special) — Dr. J. Woodford Howard, a native of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, was the recipient of a $500 superior teaching award announced during Lafayette College Founders' Day ceremonies Saturday, Oct. 29.

An assistant professor of government and law at Lafayette, Howard was one of two faculty members who received the awards, announced annually on Founders' Day to recognize faculty members "chosen for their distinction as superior teachers."

Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howard, Prestonsburg, and a 1948 graduate of the Kentucky Military Institute, Lyndon, Kentucky.

He earned an A.B. degree at Duke University, two master's degrees at Princeton University, and a Ph.D. degree at Princeton. Howard is currently writing a biography of the late U. S. Supreme Court Justice, Frank Murphy.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Howard has worked for the Kentucky Legislative Research Commission and is a member of the American Political Science Association and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

He served as a lieutenant with the Air Force in 1955-57.

Howard lives with his wife, Jane, at 129 Parsons St., Easton.

BLAST FURNACE LORE

Again this column resorts to an article by Charles Collett, in his column, "Ironton Soliloquy," in the Huntington (W. Va.) Herald-Advertiser, Oct. 16, 1960, for added information on the Southern Ohio blast furnaces. Lawrence county, O., was part of the iron making area of the region that included parts of Eastern Kentucky.

Collett has collected information as to the founding of many blast furnaces in the area and the article is excerpted here:

The first furnace mentioned in Lawrence county history was at Hanging Rock in 1826, known as Union. That furnace was rebuilt and known by other names. It was often called Hamilton Furnace which was for Robert Hamilton, one of the early iron masters of the county. The furnace was last known as the Hanging Rock Iron Co. The 110-foot stack was toppled by dynamite in October, 1923. We were there to take a picture of the big tumble at a 45-degree angle. U. S. 52 now passes directly over the spot.

The second furnace erected in the county was at Pine Grove in 1828. It was closely associated in ownership with Hanging Rock interests. The stove foundry at Hanging Rock advertised the Pine Grove cook stove many years. Many readers will remember visiting Pine Grove while the furnace was active. The last cast there was in 1897.

It was confusing that Lawrence county had two named Etna. Little Etna as it was later known, was built in 1832 just over the hill from Pine Grove. That community because a station on the Iron Railroad when it was built in 1849. Big Etna in Ironton was built later.

Four furnaces were built in 1833. Two of them became very famous. Vesuvius was converted into the first hot blast in the USA. Hecla gained fame during the Civil War. The others were Buckhorn and Mt. Vernon. Lawrence was built in 1834 and rebuilt after the Spanish-American War. Her last cast was in June, 1920, after the First World War.

Center was built in 1836, and operated as late as the early part of the 20th Century by Mrs. Nannie H. Kelly. Center became the site of the Superior Cement plant and lost its identity as a name in the county. Although in 1849, when the Iron Railroad was built, Center, 43 miles from Ironton, was the northern terminal of the road. Both Center Station and Superior postoffice are now just a memory.

LaGrange was built in 1836. There was no new building for the next ten years until Olive in 1846. Oak Ridge was built in 1856, and history tells that it never made a heat. The panic caught it. From that date on, seven more were built, but all were on the river.

Belfont was the first in Ironton in 1867. It was the first to operate direct from coal instead of charcoal. Belfont was the last in Ironton to close. It made the last cast in February, 1928, after all others in the city were idle.

Monitor at Coal Grove was built in 1868. Grant, on the river at Monroe Street in 1869. Big Etna, the "king of all" said to be the largest in the USA, until after 1900, was built in 1875. It made its last cast in 1924 and was razed in 1936. The Iron & Steel Furnace, also known as Union on Etna Street was built in 1875 and made its last cast October, 1920. Sarah was erected in 1877 and dismantled December, 1926. The Ironton Iron Co., the last to be erected in 1909, near Lorain Street, ended its career in July, 1927. Belfont, on the river at Jefferson Street, operated longer than all the others. All are memories now.

PETER AMYX
Researchers, abstractors and others poring over Floyd county records often notice the name, Peter Amyx, on official documents. He was an important person in early Floyd county and instrumental with others in the creation of Morgan county.

A native of Guilford county, N. C., he was born in 1784, died in the present Morgan county in 1865. He was a son of Matthew Amick (See Story No. 1, Page 5)

RED CHINA IS ON OFFENSIVE, LATIN AMERICA ONE TARGET

For the first time in its 4,000 year history, China is conducting openly a world-wide political economic offensive, reveals Leland Stowe in a November Reader's Digest article, "Red China Reaches for World Power."

Asia, Africa and Latin America, he writes, are the principal targets of the Red Chinese effort which has four main branches: cultural "person-to-person" contacts; foreign trade; propaganda; political infiltration. At the same time, Peiping conducts a "Hate America" campaign depicting the United States as "the most vicious enemy of independence movements."

Three and six week China tours—free—lure thousands from every continent. In the capital, there are gigantic mass rallies designed to impress visitors with the regime's power. Ardently wooed are women's delegations, especially from African and Asian countries.

Red China exports have dealt severe blows to Japan's Southeast Asian markets and have undercut British goods in Burma, Malaya and elsewhere. The recent five-year deal to buy 500,000 tons of Cuban sugar annually, with 80 percent of payment in Chinese goods, foreshadows large-scale efforts in Latin America.

Peiping pours enormous sums into publications, films and other opinion-making media. The Life-size China Pictorial, opulent in photographs and color, appears in 17 languages and is sold for a pittance. Radio Peiping reaches most of the world. It broadcasts heavily to the Middle East in Arabic and Turkish and to North America in French; one-hour daily programs are beamed in French, English and Spanish. Its Latin American programs were recently boosted to 21 hours a week.

Miss Gunnells Joins Sgt. Craft Announces

Sgt. Marvin E. Craft, U. S. Army recruiter here, said this week that 11 men and one woman joined the U. S. Army during the month of October. They were:

Charles R. Ousley and William Cleveger, of West Prestonsburg; Teddy Banks and Clard Jacobs, of Wheelwright; Charles H. Damron, Weeksburg; Cecil Ward, Jr., Bonanza; Joe Edd Hicks, Blue River; Larry Martin, Dema; John E. Epling, Stanville; Johnny Skeans, Martin; Johnny Greathouse, Wayland.

Joining the Women's Army Corps was Mary M. Gunnells, of Langley. All men and women joining the U. S. Army get choice of job before they enlist, Sgt. Craft said. The recruiter's office hours are 8 a.m. to 12 noon daily, and his office is in the post office building here.

(Amyx), Jr., who died in Burkesville, Ky., in 1832. Matthew was a Revolutionary War soldier and was wounded at the Battle of Guilford Courthouse.

We do not know when Peter Amyx came to early Floyd county and settled on White Oak Creek, a section later made a part of Morgan. Members of his clan were moving about on the westward moving frontier and many of them went to Indiana and Kentucky regions.

A surveyor by profession, he ran lines around countless thousands of acres of Eastern Kentucky land for himself and others. He turned his surveying instrument in the direction of Cincinnati and between Floyd county and the young Queen City he became possessed of immense tracts. His mountain barony of land was so huge that it could not be properly cared for and it fell apart under the incessant harassment of settlers.

Came the years when Alexander Campbell and Barton Stone were preaching the need for the "restoration" of the New Testament doctrine and one of his most outstanding disciples, "Raccoon" John Smith, invaded the outer fringe of the mountains to teach the doctrine. Peter Amyx became a convert of Smith's and helped found the White Oak Christian Church.

Peter Amyx never aspired to high office in the new county of Floyd for he was busy carving out a great mountain estate. He served as deputy surveyor for years in Floyd county and was elected surveyor in 1819, being formally sworn into office on August 17. He must have surrendered the office of magistrate to take the position of surveyor for he had been inducted into the magisterial office, June 21, 1819. He was more absorbed with running lines through the near-wilderness, than trying petty judicial cases.

Before Amyx became a Floyd county surveyor or magistrate he had served a year as constable for Madison district. Today, the office of constable is of little importance in law enforcement, but in the first few decades of the nineteenth century, it was the main bulwark of law enforcement.

Madison district was large, covering a large segment of the present Morgan county. Morgan county was created in 1822 and Amyx was no longer a citizen of the county in which he probably surveyed a greater acreage than any other person with the exception of John Graham who ran lines around most of the 100,000 acres granted to John Preston and thousands of other acres for himself and the land hungry settlers of Eastern Kentucky.

With the creation of Morgan county, Amyx contributed his services in many capacities. He lived through the anarchy of Civil War in the mountains and died in 1865, the year it ended.

He was born in 1784, almost coincidental with the birth of the nation, and died when that nation had settled by force of arms the question of whether it united or divided into sections.

His sons and daughters were Matthew, III, Joseph, Andrew, Angeline, Nan and Betsy or Elizabeth.

He lies buried at White Oak on the estate he wrought from the wilderness.

Davenport Claims Revision Opposition Fictional at Best

Cecil Davenport, executive director of the committee for constitution improvement, issued the following statement last Wednesday:

"Opposition to a limited constitution convention call, which is fictional at its best, completed its collapse yesterday with a statement by a distinguished Kentuckian, Judge Edward C. O'Rear, of Versailles, that he is NOT an official of the so-called committee of 1,000.

"That collapse, which was certain to come, began when Harry LaViers, Paintsville business man, denounced the group for using the name which was employed during the 1947 campaign when LaViers, O'Rear and others opposed the call for an UNLIMITED constitutional convention.

"It continued when it was revealed that statements released in the name of Mitchell Fannin, a Floyd county native but now of Williamsburg, its alleged executive director, were actually issued when he was more than a thousand miles from Kentucky. To date, Fannin has not been found by newsmen.

"Yesterday, in an interview by Bill Small, WHAS News Director, the collapse became final when Judge O'Rear told Small that he has no official connection with the group.

"The so-called committee of 1,000 now emerges as the committee of half-a-dozen, give or take, one or two."

FHA IN PRESTONSBURG MEET; DISTRICT CHAPTERS GREETED

The Big Sandy district meeting of the Kentucky Association of the Future Homemakers of America was held at Prestonsburg high school, Oct. 15. The principal, Woodrow Allen, and the superintendent of Floyd county schools, Charles Clark, and Gloria Adams, member of the Prestonsburg Chapter, greeted the visiting chapters. Shelby Prater, president, and a member of the Prestonsburg Chapter, presided at the meeting.

Theme of the meeting was "Responsible Officers, the Hub of Future Homemakers of America Leadership." Highlights of the meeting were:

Each chapter officer and member received training for her particular position from either the district officers or Gloria Adams and Della Ree Frazier who trained the members group. Fashions for the 60's were presented by the district recreation leader, Margaret Stone, these consisting of models from Prestonsburg, Meade Memorial,

John's Creek, Salyersville, Oil Springs, and McDowell chapters.

State Future Homemakers of America President Judy Kuhn and her advisers, Mrs. Pauline Adkins, of the Sandy Hook Chapter, brought greetings to the district from the state association of Future Homemakers of America. Shelby Prater and Judy Kuhn, delegates to the National Future Homemakers of America convention in Washington, D. C., presented highlights of the meeting.

The following chapters and advisers were present: McDowell, Virgie, John's Creek, Feds Creek, Mullins, Belfry, Oil Springs, Salyersville, Meade Memorial and Prestonsburg.

RED MEAT

During the first eight months of 1960, commercial slaughter plants produced 17,897 million pounds of red meat—seven per cent more than was produced during the same period last year.

The Lackey - Garrett - Wayland Woman's Club held its regular meeting Monday night, Oct. 24, at the club house. Mrs. Noah Howard, who was in charge of the program, introduced Dan Combs, Pikeville attorney, who gave an interesting talk pertaining to "The Need for a Constitutional Convention."

The club members were asked to vote 100 percent in the November election.

A dessert was served by Mrs. Earl Castle and Mrs. Ellen Hornsby to ten members and the guest Mr. Combs.

CALLING ALL VOTERS!

Here is a copy of a letter from an interested VOTER and CHRIST-ian who is a Texan. I am using only that portion of it which relates to his political preferences.

Walder, Texas, Sept. 27, 1960

Dear Elder Hall, Sr.:

This portion on religion... How pitiful and sad for such conditions. I explain it this way. I am a Democrat so far as parties are concerned, but I am not for new platforms and planks they are injecting into that party. Likewise, I am for the church, rule and laws given to the church, but I am not for factions as they exist and contrary to the Bible. WHEREVER the Catholics are right I am for THAT TRUTH. Same way with any faction of P. B. Whatever they stand for that is Bible truth I am for it, but I trust I am on the Lord's side on all truths. I must say that perhaps some of what we have is the age we are living in. We have a changed up world since 1900. It all points to signs given to CONSIDER. Pray for us. The Lord bless you and keep you. In hope,

P. R. BURGIN

Holy brethren, fellow-Americans and all ye that fear God, read and study this "conscientious" voter's letter. Do not say CHRIST-ians should not cherish and vote their sentiments in mundane matters. "We are the light of the world" (Matt. 5:14). CHRIST-ians are the "salt of the earth" (Matt. 5:13). Who are they that keep the house from falling on the people's heads but the RIGHTEOUS in a nation?

Ten righteous men, could they have been found in Sodom, would have blown over the storm of fire and brimstone which in a few hours entombed them in their ashes; yea, the destroying angel's hands were tied up, as it were, while one righteous Lot was among them. "Haste, thee; I can do nothing till thou art come thither" (Gen. 19:22).

This poor nation has, for many generations in succession, had a number of precious, righteous ones who have, through God's grace, walked close with Him and have been kept in a great degree unspotted from the ungodly times they lived in. These have often found favor with God to beg the life of this nation; but they are gone, or wearing away apace, and a new generation is coming in their stead. Sad would be the day be called when you were born, if you should be the men and women that, by degenerating from the power of holiness, should cut the banks which were their chief care to keep up, and so let a desolating judgment overflow the land. How long is the "power" of holiness sunk among us! Religion, alas! God will not long suffer it. If Egypt knows a dearth is coming by the low ebbing of the Nile, surely we may see a judgment to be coming by the low fall of the power of holiness.

Remember, John the Baptist lost his head because he told the UNBELIEVING and tyrannical Herod, "It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife." Don't tell me it is not lawful for the holy brethren to "contend for the Faith," even in the temporal affairs of the nation in which they live! Listen again to this gruesome story as told by the holy Scriptures: "And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox (Herod), behold, I cast out devils and I do cures today and tomorrow and the third day I shall be perfected" (Lk. 23:10, 11).

And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required. And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will (Lk. 23:24, 25). And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, He said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit; and having said this, He gave up the ghost (Lk. 23:46).

Don't sing to me your sweet lullabies that the "holy people" of God, the liberty lovers of Christ, should not "remember" the "command," "Fight the good fight of faith," resist the devil, and he will flee from you, whether the sun be shining or the cannonballs be falling. A holy person who cannot make the devil roar is not worth his salt—especially a minister!

God bless you, every one, to put on the "whole armor of God" in these hectic times. Don't let some "goody-good" tell you to "lie down and sleep; take thy rest, for all's well." The Captain of our salvation preached deliverance to the captives, and set at liberty them that are bruised (Lk. 4:18). And for warning and rebuking the wicked "rulers" he was called a "mad" man (Acts 26: 24, 25; John 10:20). Jesus preached, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life," but those wicked rulers worshipped idols of gold, silver and stone. This is what His followers have to warn against and fight against this good day.

Heathen worshippers are trying to gain control of our free nation and have already started calling us "bigots," etc., etc. What shall they do to us if they are not defeated? Heaven only knows! Like Paul, we say, "We are not mad, most noble Romanist; we are only fighting the good fight of faith!" (1 Tim. 6:12).

Don't tell me not to take part in the affairs, whether temporal or otherwise, of this freedom-loving nation. Vote to keep America free!

BY BLANTON COLLIER University of Kentucky

I was reasonably well pleased with our game against Florida State until I had a chance to study the movies closely. Of course I am still happy about the score, 23 to 0, but we will have to come up with more effort and sharper play execution to beat Vanderbilt.

Our running game looked better. It was good to see the boys maintain that first-quarter drive, mostly on the ground, and go on in with the ball. Far too often this year we have failed to sustain our attack.

But after that drive our ground game sputtered. We made some good gains, but then a play or two would get stopped cold and mess up the drive. This was particularly true in the second half, when our play generally was a bit sloppy. The first half was much better in most phases of the game.

I am especially disappointed that we weren't able to take the ball over in the third quarter. We should have. Penalties hurt some, but our own indifferent play in spots must bear much of the blame.

We failed to make short yardage for a first down entirely too often. Blocking errors by us and aggressive line play by Florida State tripped us up on those third-down situations.

However, on the whole our blocking and line charge were improved. And our backs ran harder. Calvin Bird, for one, ran better than he has in some time.

Though the ground attack was stronger, it was our passing that got the job done. If the air game hadn't gone so well, we would have been in for a very rough afternoon. We completed 11 of 20 passes for about 170 yards and should have connected on three or four more in spots where receivers were wide open.

Helping out the passing game no little was our generally good protection. The quarterbacks usually had plenty of time to find men open and throw the ball. You've got to have that as a first requirement of passing.

The overall improvement naturally comes from individuals. Several of our boys looked better. Center John Mutchler, a sophomore, is coming along fast. Although he made some mistakes Saturday, he still had a good game, particularly on offense. Sophomore halfback Gary Steward is learning all the time. He ran the ball hard and blocked as if he liked it.

Junior fullback Gary Cochran had a good day, running and blocking with authority. Halfback Bill Ransdell, another junior, also looked good in blocking and on defense. Jerry Woolum, Tom Hutchinson, and Dave Gash continued to show effort and improvement.

On Florida State's squad, we had a lot of trouble with their tricky little quarterback, Eddie Feely. At times he made our linemen look bad as they chased him around in his backfield. We didn't do as good a job on him as we did the previous week on Georgia's Francis Tarkenton.

Their line played hard, aggressive football, particularly in the second half. They never did give up, though considerably behind on the scoreboard. I think the team's attitude is a credit to Coach Bill Peterson. He had his boys ready to hit.

One other point may be worth mentioning. We usually let our quarterback run the show, sending in only a few plays per game via the "wild card" rule. But Saturday we felt like the situation was different and we sent in quite a few plays from the bench.

But that certainly isn't to say we will do the same this Saturday against Vanderbilt. We still expect the quarterback to handle most of the play selection.

Inland Gas Corporation Involved In Litigation For Over Thirty Years

Thirty years of litigation involving Inland Gas Corporation brought claims totaling $1,711,110.18 in United States District Court at Lexington, Monday.

Inland Gas went into receivership 30 years ago. Last June 8, Federal Judge H. Church Ford, ordered a reorganization which would give Inland the properties of Kentucky Fuel and American Fuel & Power Company. Both of those companies have been in bankruptcy about 25 years.

The claims filed Monday involving mostly compensation and legal fees.

Action on the claims began Tuesday.

The largest claim was by Oscar S. Rosner for $660,737. Other major claims include Ben Williamson, Jr., Ashland, $200,000; Selden S. McNeer, $130,000; Paul E. Kern, $173,966; and Wilkie, Owen, Farr, Gallagher, Walton and Fitzperald and John L. Smith, $83,281.

Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference high school teams are rated this way in Tuesday's latest statewide ratings: Hazard, 11; Paintsville, 24; Belfry, 38; Pikeville, 47; Fleming-Neon, 51; Prestonsburg, 64; Jenkins, 82; Wheelwright, 86; Whitesburg, 95; M. C. Napier, 99; and Elkhorn City, 140.

Fullback Bob Smith broke his arm in the last quarter of the Prestonsburg-Evarts game and will miss the final game with Paintsville. Smith scored one t.d. and personally gained 161 yards on the ground.

The Black Cat Player-of-the-Week Award was a tie between halfback John Anderson and tackle Bob Pearson for their play in the Evarts game. Pearson picked up a fumble and ran 65 yards for one t.d., and Anderson played his best game of the season.

Comfort begins with a bed that has a good frame. The steel side pieces of the frame should overlap from 5 to 7 inches.

Statisticians say the average U.S. family pays $1,028 per year for its "market basket," a collection of U. S. farm-produced foods. And of that total, the U. ANSWERS TO YOUR TAX QUESTIONS

BY WILLIAM E. SCENT
KENTUCKY'S COMMISSIONER OF REVENUE

Q. Are charitable institutions or educational institutions required to pay sales or use tax?

A. These institutions in Kentucky are exempt from any form of use tax by Section 170 of the Kentucky Constitution. To prevent discrimination against Kentucky merchants in favor of out-of-state merchants, these institutions have been made exempt from sales tax by recent regulation.

Q. Should a charitable institution or an educational institution have a sales tax permit?

A. If any institution sells tangible personal property to the general public, it needs a sales tax permit. If it makes no sales to the general public, it needs no permit.

Q. What type of sales by these institutions would be subject to the tax?

A. Any sale made by these institutions to the general public is subject to sales tax. Examples would include sales made by cafeterias, snack bars, bookstores, etc., to the general public. If the sales of admissions to athletic events, school plays, carnivals or other events are made at a stand or gate open to the general public, all sales made at that gate or stand are taxable.

Q. Does a charitable or educational institution need both a sales tax permit and a purchase exemption authorization?

A. If an institution makes sales to the general public, it needs both a sales tax permit for making sales and a purchase exemption authorization to make tax free purchases. If it makes no sales to the general public, it needs only the purchase exemption authorization.

Q. If an institution has a purchase exemption authorization, what should it do about its sales tax permit?

A. (1) If the institution makes sales to the public and its sales tax permit has been cancelled, the Department of Revenue should be notified to have the sales tax reinstated.

(2) If the institution does not make sales to the general public and its permit has not been cancelled, the Department of Revenue should be notified to cancel the permit.

Q. Must each individual school under a county or city school board file for separate purchase exemption authorizations?

A. All of the schools under one city or county school board may use the same purchase exemption authorization. The same rule applies to schools in one diocese or other classifications.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our thanks and appreciation, to everyone who in any way helped during the illness and upon the death of our beloved father, husband, brother Ellis Sexton. We are grateful to the many friends and relatives who sent food and flowers or in any way helped us. To the ministers, Jim Duff, and others, for their consoling words of comfort and to the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service.

Keep a TRUE FRIEND of COAL MINERS in the Senate!

Senator Cooper is a fighter for miners and their families, for Eastern Kentucky and for coal.

He co-sponsored the coal research bill enacted by the last Congress, to develop new and larger uses for coal.

Senator Cooper led the fight against the so-called small mine safety bill—which would have closed hundreds of small mines in Eastern Kentucky, thrown thousands of miners out of work, and brought ruin and misery to Eastern Kentucky.

That bill would have hobbled even the smallest mines with impossible regulations, put them under the control of the Bureau of Mines in Washington, and let large out-of-state mines gobble up their coal business.

"It is true that I fought the bill," Senator Cooper has declared. "I defeated it, and I amended it to advance mine safety and protect the small mines, their workers, their operators, and the businesses in Eastern Kentucky which depend on them."

"I won my fight—and the Senate voted overwhelmingly for my amendments. When you send me back to the Senate, I will continue to stand by our small mines and the coal miners of Eastern Kentucky. They are the backbone of this section of my State."

Senator Cooper has kept open our small mines. He co-sponsored the law to set up a coal research agency. He helped secure funds for the REA plants at Ford and Burnside to generate electricity from coal. And he is fighting now for a TVA generating plant—made possible by the TVA self-financing act he helped write—which will use 4 to 8 million tons of Eastern Kentucky coal every year.

Keep John Sherman Cooper... mountain man himself... a true friend of coal miners... in the Senate!

NO ADDITIONAL TAXES NECESSARY!

We, the undersigned Floyd county business firms, endorse the Road and Parks Bond Issue.

This is our hope. Talk later will not do the job.

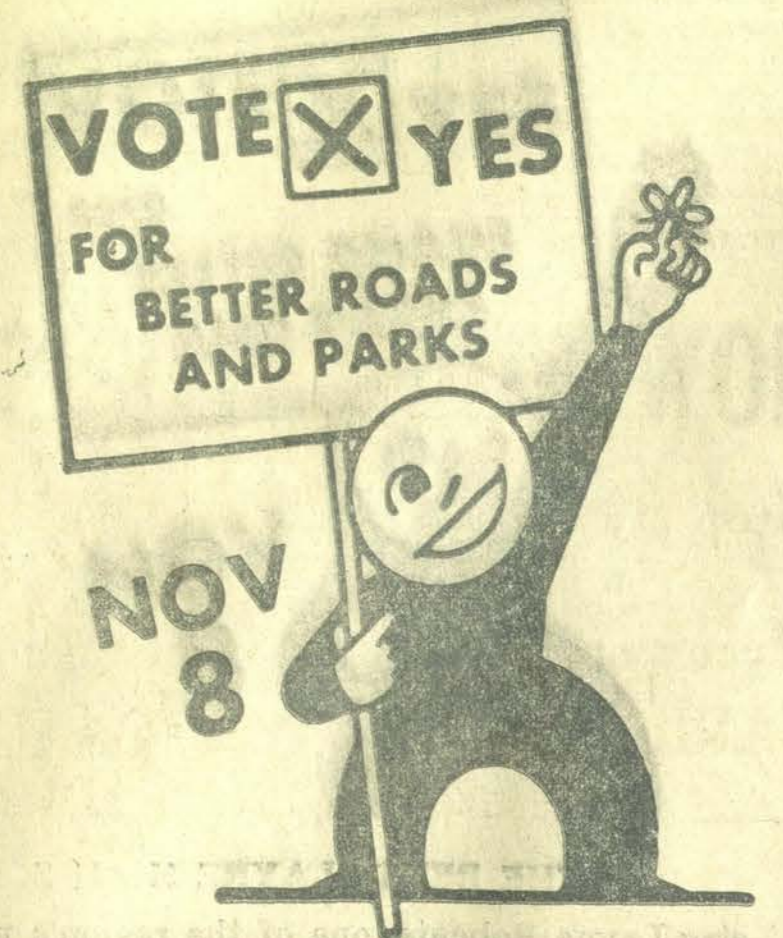

Only by voting this bond issue can the people of Kentucky see that their state has the funds needed to benefit from Federal Aid on highways.

This Bond Issue will not add to our taxes—the gasoline tax, users of the highways pay the bill.

We are unwilling to let our gasoline tax and other present revenues planned for good roads fail of their purpose. $1 now will get us $9 from the Federal government on Federal Aid highways. $1 later will be just $1—and the Federal Aid will not be available.

The help Kentucky can thus get from the Federal Funds will leave most of our other highway funds untouched and available for improvement of rural roads and state highways that are not eligible for Federal Aid.

This Bond Issue makes sense—let's be sensible, too—let us all work for and vote, "Yes," on the plan to get Kentucky and our own part of Kentucky on the road to progress.

Former 16th Air Force Commander,
Husband of Prestonsburg Woman,
Assigned To Duties At Pentagon

Slated for assignment to the office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington, D. C., is Col. Ernest C. Hardin, Jr., for the past two years Deputy Commander of the 16th Air Force. Col. Hardin, husband of the former Ethel Smith, of Prestonsburg, left Spain, Oct. 12, for his new post.

As Deputy Commander of the 16th Air Force, the 43-year-old colonel from Wheatcroft, Ky., has assisted the commander of the 16th Air Force in directing the activities of Strategic Air Command bases throughout Spain and Morocco. Prior to his assignment with the Sixteenth in November, 1958, Colonel Hardin was Deputy Director of Plans at Strategic Air Command headquarters in Nebraska.

Colonel Hardin made a considerable contribution to the 16th Air Force record. During his two years in Spain, he has aided in directing the operations of 16th Air Force Reflex alert forces. He was a strong supporter of President Eisenhower's People-to-People program and the betterment of community relations. His extensive operations and administrative experience immeasurably aided the performance of the 16th's mission at the same time that it carried a heavy responsibility for rendering American and Air Force aid and assistance in natural disasters, civil emergencies and United Nations actions.

Rated a command pilot, the Colonel has over 18 years of military service experience, including two years as squadron commander and operations officer of the decorated 92nd Bomb Wing in the European theater of operations during World War II. His awards include: Air

Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters, Croix de Guerre with Silver Star, and the Distinguished Unit Badge with one Oak Leaf Cluster.

Colonel Hardin is a graduate of the Law School of the University of Louisville and a member of the Kentucky Bar Association, and attended Louisville and Lexington high schools.

The Hardins have five children—three daughters, Malinda, 12, Shelley, 7, and Sally, 3; two sons, Ernest III, 9, and John, 4 months. His father, Ernest C. Hardin, Sr., resides in Louisville.

Caney College Youth
At Hazel Green Meet;
James Patton Speaks

Four Caney Junior College students attended the youth meeting held in connection with the Council of Southern Mountains at Hazel Green, October 15. They were: Lowell L. Martin, Leonard Gibson, Cecil Clark, Jr., and Hagar Tuttle.

James L. Patton, assistant superintendent of public instruction, was the speaker. He gave personal recollections of his own education at Hazel Green Academy and at Berea College. The major point of his talk was that the youth of Eastern Kentucky and surrounding areas are the building force for the culture of tomorrow.

He said that youth has the responsibility of changing the people. He also listed six culture level of the thinking of important factors that are needed to make a leader. They are: (1) a leader must learn the art of involving people; (2) a leader must have an idea of what to do; (3) a leader must have character; (4) a leader must have the ability to organize people; (5) a leader must bury "I" and use "we", and "they" more often, and (6) a leader must have a desire to do things and to invent ideas on progress.

Mr. Patton suggested that since Eastern Kentucky is very rich in tradition and history, the people of this area should capitalize upon this and turn it into money. To do this, they must recognize their historical sites and indicate them with appropriate markers.

He added that Eastern Kentucky, as seen through the eyes of many people of the area, has many trees. However, he said, unless these trees are begun to be seen as future productive forests they would remain as idle trees.

Mr. Patton also remarked that Eastern Kentucky has one of the greatest coal fields in the United States. But, to develop this coal, these forests, and historical sites, the people of Eastern Kentucky must work as a team for the betterment of all. Some aid from other sources could be used, but, first, everyone must pitch in and give of their skill, leadership and know-how in helping themselves.

Leonard Gibson, Caney Junior College student, was elected vice-president of the youth organization of the Council. The youth meeting was held for the purpose of discussing the pressing problems of Eastern Kentucky, to air them in an informal discussion and to see what can be done about them.

KENNEDY WILL WIN!

THE REAL ISSUES ARE...

UNEMPLOYMENT, GREAT LOSS OF PRESTIGE, YOUR POCKETBOOK, YOUR TAXES, YOUR CHILDREN'S FUTURE.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY, AID TO EDUCATION, DEPRESSED AREA BILLS, MINIMUM WAGES, OLD AGE MEDICAL ASSISTANCE.

OUR PRESIDENT WAS INSULTED AT PARIS AND OUR FLAG WAS BURNED AND SPIT UPON IN CUBA. WITH 40,000 AMERICAN TROOPS FOR PROTECTION OUR PRESIDENT DARED NOT SET FOOT IN JAPAN.

KENNEDY ASKS THE OPPORTUNITY TO SAFEGUARD OUR FREEDOM BY MAKING THE NATION STRONGER AGAINST EVERY FOE, FROM WITHOUT AND WITHIN.

And just who is Bill? A parent's mind stalls right in the middle of that intersection . . .

From what background has Bill come? In what moral direction is he heading? Where did Ruth meet him? Where will he take her?

Jolting the family's peace of mind, this sudden collision between confidence in our daughter and uncertainty about someone's son.

Another jolt: If Bill's parents are the right sort of people, they're probably wondering about our Ruth!

Many families have fewer such anxieties because they are active in the life of a church. Their boys and girls meet in an atmosphere that calls forth our best. Fun, friendship and inspiration are blended in worthwhile youth activities.

And if love blooms . . . no awkward compromise of conviction such as besets some . . . but a common faith in God to enrich a couple's affection and strengthen their marriage.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Nature Trails

BY RUFUS M. REED

NATURE'S COMPASSES, THERMOMETERS AND BAROMETERS

Old Mother Nature has provided the keen observer with many kinds of compasses, and even with barometers and thermometers. The Indians and pioneers could read these and make their way through the trackless wilderness. They knew how to predict the weather from Nature's signs. Boy Scouts too may learn these through careful observation in the great outdoors.

If you should ever become lost in the deep woods, don't get panicky but look for the signs to follow, to find your way out. Notice the trees. The bark is thicker on the north side of a tree; the moss also grows on the north side of trees. Then observe your shadow for directions. Your shadow points north at 12 o'clock noon, and if you have no compass, but are carrying a watch, it will serve you for a compass too. If you will hold the watch so that the hour hand points straight toward the sun, then south direction will be directly halfway between the hour hand and the figure 12 on the dial of your watch.

Also observe the birds and squirrels. The big pileated woodpecker, which has a showy red crest, and which people down south call "The Great God Woodpecker," always drills a hole for his nest on the east side of the tree, no doubt to get the full benefit of the sun. The flying squirrel, which was nature's original parachute jumper, also makes his hole in the east side of a tree. Then observe the plants. The leaves of the compass plant turn sideways during the day and point north; so do the leaves of the wild prickly lettuce. There is also a plant called the Compass Goldenrod, and its flower plumes always bend their heads toward the north.

If you wish to know the temperature, mother Nature has provided you with an insect thermometer, in the black field cricket. Listen at its chirps. The warmer grows the temperature the faster grows the tempo of its chirps. I have tested it and found it to be accurate within two degrees. Here is the rule: Count the number of times the cricket chirps per minute, then subtract 40. Divide the answer by four and add 50. This will give you the correct temperature by the Fahrenheit thermometer.

NATURE'S BAROMETERS. The cones on a pine or a hemlock tree are nature's barometers. When it is going to be damp and rainy, the pine cone scales close up tight, but when it is going to be fair and sunny, they open out.

THE EARTH-STAR FUNGUS. This is a very odd and fascinating fungus, one of nature's best barometers. It works just the opposite of the pine cones. This fungus is called "the earth-star barometer," and when it is going to be rainy, it spreads out on the ground like a star, forming a very beautiful geometric design. But when it is going to be hot and sunny, the little earth-star closes up and forms a small round body that clasps the fruiting organs inside. This fungus is a grayish-brown in color and it is rarely seen, because few know how to look for it. It is always found on the ground and always opens up before a rainy spell.

THE HOOT OWL A GOOD WEATHER PROGNOSTICATOR. If the hoot owl comes out during the day and gives a series of doleful hoots, it is a sure sign of falling weather. The hoot owl commonly does this before a snowfall.

TREE-STUMP COMPASS. A tree-stump, where the tree has been freshly cut down, also affords a good compass to those who can read it. If you look closely at its rings of growth, the tree rings on the north side will be wider, indicating greater growth on this side of the tree.

HOW TO MAKE A COMPASS OF AN ORDINARY SEWING NEEDLE. If you have no compass and need one quickly, you can make one with a sewing needle. First rub the needle on a magnet, to magnetize it, and then rub it on your skin or hair, to make it oily, so that it will float in water. Then place the needle in a cup of water and it will swing around and point north and south.

Last of all, Boy Scouts, when traveling or hiking through unknown woods, can be as wise as the bear and the gray squirrel. These animals mark trees by gnawing them with their teeth; they put "signs" on the trees, so that other bears and squirrels may read them. Squirrels gnaw the bark off on certain trees that afford shelter or protection when they are hotly pursued by their enemies—they know what trees to seek for escape. Bears also mark trees that have dens, or trees that afford them good "trail signs."

Two Persons Claimed By Traffic Accident

Miss Eloise Maynard, 20, of Job, Ky., near Inez, died Monday in a Columbus hospital of head and chest injuries she suffered in a traffic accident three weeks ago in Columbus.

Funeral services were conducted today (Thursday) at the Friendship Baptist Church at Job by the Rev. Samuel Branham.

Merle Casebolt, of Pikeville, was killed in the accident, and a sister of Miss Maynard, Miss Myrtle Maynard, of Job, was injured. She is in a hospital in Columbus.

Miss Maynard was born November 4, 1939, at Job, a daughter of Roosevelt and Florence Crum Maynard. She was a graduate of Inez high school and a member of the United Baptist Church.

Additional survivors include three brothers, Roosevelt Maynard, Jr., of Detroit, Rudolph Maynard, of Marion, Ohio, and James M. Maynard, of Job.

Novelist Says South Could Have Won Civil War By Pursuit After Bull Run

The South could have won the Civil War and history of the world would have been different if the Confederates had pursued the defeated Union forces after the first battle of Bull Run on July 21, 1861. So believes India-born John Masters, who won fame as a novelist and became an American citizen after a professional military career in the British Army.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT CR 2942

Nellie Webb, Executrix, Plaintiff, vs. NOTICE OF SALE Betty Louise McQueen, Defendant.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the October term, 1960, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 19 day of November, 1960, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being at Allen, Floyd county, Kentucky, and being Lots Nos. 47, 48, 49 and 50 of the Martin Addition to Allen, Kentucky.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 27 day of October, 1960.

Masters reconstructs the battle in a November Reader's Digest article, "The Day the South Could Have Won the Civil War," and contends that General Joseph E. Johnston, the Confederate commander, after Bull Run "almost certainly" could have captured Washington. "A week after the battle," writes the novelist, "the city had no defenses and no defenders." He says Southern possession of Washington would have made an enormous impression in Europe and also that the remaining slave-owning states — Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky and Missouri — would certainly have joined the Confederacy. "Once Washington was captured," says Masters, "the South's best course would have been to hold that city, organize a strong defense along the borders of the enlarged Confederacy, and negotiate. A peace conference would probably have been called before the end of August. The South would have given up Maryland, Delaware, Washington and perhaps Missouri, in return for recognition as a sovereign Confederacy."

The orders for an advance never came. The Southern generals, according to Masters, saw nonexistent difficulties of supply and transport. The men were tired. Jefferson Davis did not want to appear an aggressor. Stonewall Jackson kept his brigade in readiness, three days' cooked rations in their haversacks. "Give me 10,000 fresh troops and I would be in Washington tomorrow," he had cried. But Masters believes Jackson was the only man there who seemed to understand. Fresh troops arrived the next day, but the orders never did.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT CR 2903

Sumner G. Whittier, Admr., and C Plaintiff, vs. NOTICE OF SALE Marlin J. Ratliff, Defendant.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the October term, 1960, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 19 day of November, 1960, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being on Right Beaver Creek at Glo, in Floyd county, Kentucky, beginning at a stake at the corner of the property of Doug Rollins and L. P. Martin; thence N 15 00 E 221 feet to a stake in the Martin line; thence N 4 00 W 110 feet to another corner of L. P. Martin and Thelma Daniels; thence with the Daniels line, S 80 50 W 22 feet to a stake; thence continuing with the Daniels line S 70 00 W 108 feet to a stake; thence S 13 21 E 32 feet to a stake; thence S 77 30 W 21 feet to a stake in the David Tufts line; thence S 16 21 E 146 feet to a stake near the road; thence S 38 30 W 21 feet to a stake; thence S 6 25 W 91 feet crossing the road to corner between W. M. Kendrick and Doug Rollins; thence with his line S 77 E 75 feet to the place of beginning.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 27 day of October, 1960.

PAUL E. HAYES Special Commissioner Floyd Circuit Court

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Times:

On Tuesday, December 20, 1960, the annual patients' Christmas party will be held at the State TB Hospital, Ashland, Kentucky, beginning at 6:30 p.m. This event is eagerly awaited by the patients and has previously been a source of enjoyment and inspiration to them.

We are endeavoring to make the party more widely known among the District Four TB Hospital counties in order to permit those groups to participate who have not done so in the past. Individuals, union locals, veterans' Sunday School classes, Railroad groups, Women's clubs, school classes, miners, anyone who is interested—all are encouraged to help those who will be hospitalized during the soon coming holiday season. Either contributions of money or gifts—or both—are welcome. Some groups have contributed gifts specifically for women, others have given presents for men, and still others have helped both. Organizations have given to individuals, three-somes, foursomes, or whatever number desired.

Puzzles, razors, manicure sets, after shave lotion, talcum powder, dusting powder, pajamas, bath robes, chess and checker sets, lipsticks, house slippers, quilt pieces, cigarette lighters, sewing kits, leather goods, weaving sets, stationery, stamps, compacts, home permanent kits, and a myriad of items can be used by the patients.

We sincerely hope to have a good response to our plea, but to those who have planned projects for other institutions or individuals we wish you much success.

For further information write in care of Christmas Party, State TB Hospital, Ashland, Kentucky, or call 324-3181, Ashland, Ky.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our thanks and appreciation to everyone who in any way helped during the illness and upon the death of our beloved stepfather, J. H. Williams. We are grateful to the many friends and relatives who sent food and flowers, or in any way helped us. To the ministers for their consoling words of comfort and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service.

VOTE "YES"

FOR BETTER ROADS AND PARKS BOND ISSUE BECAUSE...

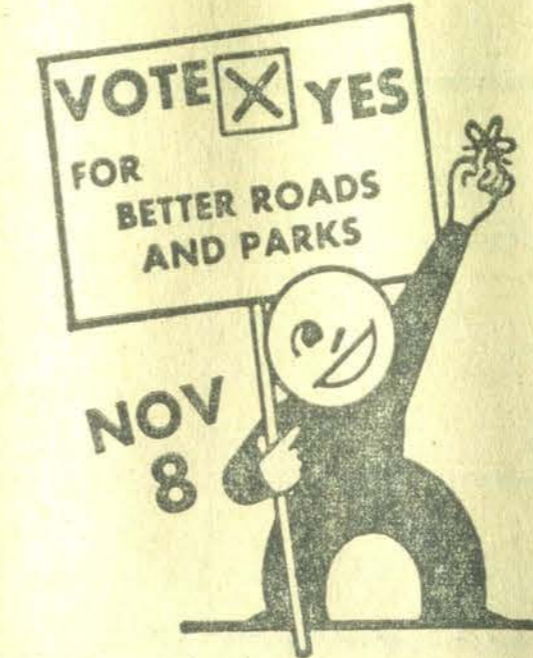

The 1956 bond issue made it possible to start the greatest road building program in Kentucky's history. These bond funds will soon be obligated or spent.

NOW—huge additional Federal funds are available to continue this vast program. Over 19,000 miles of roads—in all parts of the Commonwealth—are eligible for participation.

A "YES" vote will keep the road program going without increasing our taxes. If Kentucky's Federal Aid funds are not matched, they would be forfeited to other states.

If the bond issue is turned down, our accelerated road program would soon stop—or, our taxes must be increased to match Federal Aid.

After careful consideration every major group in Kentucky has officially endorsed the bond issue. Study this partial list—chances are many are familiar to you:

Bond money must be used to match Federal funds... no bond money can be spent on toll roads.
