PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

This Town-- That World

Times are a bit unsettled, we admit. But we shouldn't worry as long as they don't get Khrushchial.

I can hear a certain party yelp from here to there upon his reading of the foregoing. He will attempt to snort while holding his nose.

We devoutly hope so. And we would go a step farther. If we had any influence in literary circles, we would try to convince young writers that they do not need to rush to the thesaurus for the most unusual word.

Only the other night, for instance, the word, "glaucous," was sprung on yours truly. The two of us were total strangers, but that is all right--there are a lot of words with which I do not have either a speaking or writing acquaintance.

HILL VS. FISH: AFFIRMED

When Judge Hill left for Florida recently he took with him my ringing injunction, "No pictures, no wild yarns of and about big fish." And you know what? He writes to confess, "They're hard to outsmart."

FLOOD RUMORS SWEEP WATER-PLAGUED AREA

Hasty reading, Dame Rumor and jittery nerves of residents during February, the month of floods, have conspired to produce a sizeable scare here within the week.

It all started with a letter to all Red Cross chapter chairmen in which Porter Tull, Red Cross regional manager at Alexandria, Virginia, alerted them against the possibility of flood and the need to be prepared against the possibility of such an event.

"The U. S. Weather Bureau and many private weather forecasters are anticipating general flooding conditions throughout the Eastern area as a result of the unusually heavy snowstorms and other storms yet to come. In 1957 and/or 1959 a number of chapters in Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia were affected by flood conditions.

"The snows this year are heavier and the flooding could be much more severe. There is some speculation that flooding conditions might occur as early as the week of February 25."

FIRE LEVELS 3 HOMES AT W. P'BURG MONDAY

BLAZE CAUSES $45,000 LOSS, IS ESTIMATED

Postoffice Destroyed With Harris Residence; Paintsville Gives Help

Fire early Monday morning caused an estimated damage of $45,000 at West Prestonsburg as three residences and the U. S. postoffice there were either destroyed or ruined.

The flames raged, almost unimpeded, until the arrival of the Paintsville fire department to join Prestonsburg firemen in the fight to save other structures.

The blaze was first discovered at about 2 a.m. in the rear portion of the four-room frame residence of 88-year-old Maggie Herald Shepherd, a widow who lived alone. Lost were all the contents of this structure, without insurance. The loss is placed at $4,000 to $5,000.

The 13-room home of the heirs of the late R. W. and Kate Leslie Harris caught next, and from it were saved only a few items of wearing apparel and a television set.

The occupants, Mrs. W. P. Runnels, Mrs. John W. Sutherland and Mrs. Sutherland's son, John William, said they made no early attempt to remove their belongings, depending on the Prestonsburg fire department to confine the fire to the residence occupied by Mrs. Shepherd. The loss, which is only partially covered by insurance, is placed at $30,000.

Left a mere shell, with only a portion of the walls standing, was the home of City Councilman Watt

Bell Slates Move To New Quarters, Manager Announces

The Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company will have new quarters for its Prestonsburg business office by March 1, it was announced this week by Byron Simpson, local Southern Bell manager.

The business office, which presently is located in the Municipal building, will move to Town Center on North Lake Drive, Simpson said. Any business transactions after the March 1 date will be handled from the new location.

EDUCATIONAL GROUPS MEET In Problem Conference At Allen; Zimmerman Urges United Action

Harry O. Zimmerman, president of the Floyd County Educational Advisory committee, kicked off discussion of school problems Tuesday evening at Allen by remarking, "We are here, in an informal and non-partisan way, to discuss any school problems the Board of Education may have."

Meeting with the Advisory committee were County Superintendent Charles Clark, Board Members John M. Stumbo, John G. Hall and Bill Blair, and the two assistant superintendents, Wayne Rathliff and Walter Frasure. The board members and administrative officers of the system had been extended an invitation in January to discuss school problems with the Advisory committee. Board Members Ray Howard and Ross Cooley did not attend.

Superintendent Clark responded to Zimmerman's request for explanation of any problems the system was encountering by referring to finances and administration and by saying, "We need to have the people understand what we are doing."

He recalled the effort to amend the Constitution to pave the way for the Minimum Foundation Law, noted how more power had been concentrated in the Department of Education at Frankfort with a more limited area left in which the local authorities could function.

Clark pointed out that the school system had the second or third largest payroll in the county, employment is sought and "power pulls are on." He said that board members should not merely represent their individual divisions but should be members for the whole county.

"We have certain conflicting interests in this county and we need improvement in our school system," (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

WHISMAN TALKS AID TO DEPRESSED REGION

"It's an exciting outlook for the Big Sandy, John Whisman, special assistant to Governor Combs and Kentucky's lone member of President Kennedy's Task Force, told a group of Prestonsburg and Paintsville business men here last Friday night.

But in the same discussion Mr. Whisman predicted, on the basis of what he had heard in Washington and had seen and learned elsewhere, that "things may get worse before they get better."

He came here to report on federal programs in the making and to offer an analysis of what they could mean to this area.

Whisman discussed the Douglas bill which offers assistance to depressed areas and pointed out that the details of this legislation have not been spelled out by newspaper reports, condensed as they are. One phase of the legislation pertaining to rural development--a classification to which all towns of this area belong--touches on industrial loans, Whisman said. This legislation, he said, would enable the Revs. Paris Music and J. D. Music officiating. Burial was made in the Prater cemetery at Brainard under the direction of Carter & Callahan Funeral Home.

ROAD MISHAP KILLS THREE

Jack-Knifing Trailer, Auto Collision In Ohio Claims Former Residents

The son of a former Floyd county couple, his wife and young son met death last week when their auto was struck by a jack-knifing semi-trailer near Foster, Ohio.

Dead are Charles Hall, 24, of Morrow, Ohio, Route 1, his wife, Willdean, 23, and their son, James Warren Hall, 4. Mrs. Hall was 8 1/2 months pregnant, and efforts to save the life of the unborn baby were fruitless. The couple's three-year-old daughter, Kathy, escaped with less serious hurts.

Charles Hall was a son of Taylor and Avala Stumbo Hall, formerly of McDowell, now residents of Ohio. He was a nephew of County Judge Henry Stumbo.

Hall's car was east-bound when a front tire on the approaching semi-trailer blew out. The truck, out of control, swerved into the Hall car, smashing it along the curbing of a viaduct.

The husband is survived by his parents, who live near Foster, Ohio, two daughters, Kathy and Tina. The latter was in school at the time of the tragedy. Mrs. Hall's parents, who survive, are Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Kelly, of Foster.

Burial of the victims was made in Union cemetery, Loveland, Ohio, after funeral rites conducted at the Little Miami United Baptist Church in Rochester.

TAG DEADLINE IS EXTENDED

Truck Registration Extended to May 31 By Executive Order

Gov. Bert Combs has extended the registration deadline for coal trucks in Floyd, Johnson and Wayne counties until midnight, May 31, because of "distressed economic conditions."

This was Combs' second executive order extending the period for coal truck registration. The previous one extended registration in Bell, Clay, Knott, Leslie, Letcher and Pike counties.

The fiscal courts of the counties requested the extension. Combs said that because "distressed economic conditions" exist in these counties, "it will be virtually impossible for many coal truck operators to register and license their motor vehicles." He also noted that one half of the basic fees are returned to the counties.

The executive order applies only to basic registration fees on coal trucks registered in Kentucky in 1960. The added-weight fees for trucks paid to the county court clerks or the Department of Motor Transportation are not extended.

Kentucky law defines a coal truck as one "used solely for hauling coal within a radius of 50 miles."

Combs directed Revenue Commissioner William E. Scent to take steps necessary to carry out the order. The Department administers the basic motor vehicle registration laws in Kentucky.

Floyd Citizens Urged To Attend Ground-Break Ceremony at Winchester

Floyd county citizens were urged this week to attend the ground-breaking ceremonies to be held at 2 p.m., Saturday, near Winchester, of the Eastern Kentucky Turnpike.

The event was described as "the most important ground-breaking Eastern Kentucky may ever see." The Hazard area, which will be served by one arm of the highway, is sending a large delegation to the ceremonies, and residents of this section, which will be served by the other arm, are being asked for an equally large representation.

To reach the ground-breaking site, drive out of Winchester on Ky. 15 for approximately 4 1/2 miles, then turn left on the Stoner-Ephesus road for .8 of a mile.

MRS. JARRELL FILLS POST

Of Son on Council; Joe Jarrell Named To Lawrence-Co. Job

The City Council vacancy created here by the resignation of Councilman Joe W. Jarrell was filled Monday by the naming of his mother, Mrs. Fanny Jarrell, to the post. She was chosen by vote of the Council.

Mr. Jarrell resigned, it was said, because his duties as director of the Lawrence county adult farmer program will prevent his attendance at Council meetings here. His mother, the widow of Joe Jarrell, is a veteran teacher in the Prestonsburg grade school.

Councilman Tom O. McGuire presided as mayor-pro-tem at the meeting, in the absence of Mayor Edward B. Leslie.

Chairman of committees of the Community Development Council met with the City Council and reported on planning and work done by the development group. The health, community beautification and tourist promotion work came in for special emphasis.

Brochures advertising Prestonsburg and Jenny Wiley State Park, which have been prepared by the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, were distributed to Council members.

BERRY PLANT IS ASSURED

Acreage Commitment Is Sufficient, Claim; 164 Acres Are Pledged

Approximately 100 persons, most of them landowners, met at the courthouse here Thursday evening of last week to make final commitments on the strawberry acreage necessary to procure a processing plant in Prestonsburg.

The meeting, presided over by Oden Stewart, co-chairman with Jimmy Adams, of the strawberry committee, heard pledges from 11 counties for a total of 164 acres. Carl Abbott, Bedford, Kentucky, processor, committed his firm, on the basis of this acreage, to install the processing plant.

Clifford B. Latta, chairman of an industrial committee of the Community Development Council, discussed the plant site and David L. Strohmeier, agricultural development agent of Kentucky Department of Economic Development spoke briefly. Abbott voiced the opinion that he had never seen a better cooperative effort than this one.

Robert M. Jones, Floyd county agent, said that the processing plant would mean from $150,000 to (See Story No. 8, Page 5)

BANK PLANS OPEN HOUSE

New Guaranty Building To Be Formally Opened Saturday; Reed To Speak

The First Guaranty Bank, of Martin, will hold open house Saturday afternoon at its new building completed recently at a cost of $115,000, it was announced by Glenn C. Spradlin, president.

The public is invited to inspect the bank's new quarters, designed by William Welch, architect for L. R. Dunn & Co., bank building consultants, Louisville, and erected by W. R. Kendrick, general contractor.

"This new building is evidence of our confidence in the future of our area and I am happy that we made the expenditure for the convenience of our customers and the safety of their funds," Spradlin said.

The structure of brick, block and steel, is 80 by 42 feet, fronts on Ky. 80, and has free parking space for customers in the rear. A new feature added by the bank is a drive-in window with easy access. The building is fireproof, and a night depository is provided.

Interior panelling is walnut, and a modern motif of smooth efficiency is evident from the appointments. Spradlin noted that the building is heated electrically, that this would increase the load on the power lines in this area and result in the ultimate consumption of more coal.

The First Guaranty was organized May 11, 1946 and deposits of $170,000 were received the first day. It has now grown until it has resources of five and a quarter million dollars and gives employment to ten persons.

B. F. Reed, chairman of the board, will give a history of the bank in a radio address Saturday evening, and Harry Zimmerman, bank official, will discuss the physical features of the bank plant. Radio WDOC, Prestonsburg, will carry the two broadcasts.

Construction of the building was started August 1 and transfer of the bank's business to the new structure was made January 14.

WYATT VOICES NEW CONCEPT

On Industrial Sites In Speech At Hazard; Federal Aid Is Needed

A new concept for providing good, level industrial sites in the rugged Appalachian Region, as a part of a program for underdeveloped areas, was voiced at Hazard recently by Lieutenant Governor Wilson W. Wyatt.

Wyatt, who addressed a gathering of Hazard civic clubs, suggested creation of a federal program for "industrial land development in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky similar in principle to urban renewal in the cities."

Under such a setup, Wyatt said, the federal government "would pay the difference between cost of buying, leveling or filling land, and the sale price to industry just as the government now pays the difference between sale price and the cleared land cost in urban renewal areas in cities." In one case, Wyatt said, "you reclaim land from nature, in the other you reclaim land from man's old structures. In both you reclaim land for modern usefulness." He asserted that as part of the program "to open up the Appalachian Region with modern highways, develop water resources, and build needed community facilities we must at the same time provide level sites for industrial development."

He warned that "in order to accomplish our purpose in developing the Appalachian Region, and our Eastern Kentucky share of the region, we must make hundreds of suitable sites available to industrial development."

The chairman of Kentucky's Economic Development Commission asserted that "Kentucky is again doing her part in providing basic improvements in Eastern Kentucky--we have just started construction of a modern major road deep into the area and by legislative action have provided the Kentucky Industrial Development Finance Authority with a $2,000,000 revolving fund from (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

Wells Named Chairman In Easter Seal Drive; Campaign Open March 6

J. C. Wells, of Wayland, has been named chairman of the 1961 Easter Seal appeal for crippled children in Floyd county. The appointment was announced by Ted R. Osborn, Lexington, state chairman.

The annual campaign will open March 6 and continue through April 3. Contributions will be used by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children to provide care and treatment for physically handicapped children throughout the state.

Last year, 3,772 children received Society services at one or more of the following Easter Seal centers: Cardinal Hill Convalescent hospital and Cardinal Hill Nursery School, Lexington; the West Kentucky Center for Handicapped Children, Paducah; the Northern Kentucky Crippled Children's Treatment Center and Opportunity School, Covington, and the Hearing and Speech Center, Louisville.

Cost of the statewide program was $271,375.38, of which $212,749.52 was raised through the 1960 Easter Seal Campaign.

STAMP PLAN SLATED HERE

Judge Stumbo Believes; Commodity Distribution Set for Next Wednesday

There is a possibility that Floyd may be the first Kentucky county where the Kennedy administration's food-stamp plan is to be put into effect, Judge Stumbo said this week after conferring with officials in Frankfort. It is not definitely known when the new method of rendering aid to relief applicants will become effective in the state.

Distribution of creamery butter will begin next Wednesday, Judge Stumbo said. The county already has arranged for refrigeration of this commodity. Dried beans, pork and gravy will be added to the relief menu on April 1, and peanut butter is expected to be added on the same date.

Surplus foodstuffs already being distributed include meal, flour, rice, dried milk, lard and dried eggs. These foodstuffs are going to more than 9,000 Floyd countians.

The big highway improvement, as planned, will link tourist travel from the Blue Grass and from points beyond directly with Jenny Wiley State Park (Dewey Lake), near here, which will see a million dollars worth of improvements this year. Improvement of the road to the lake from its junction with U. S. 23 at Lancer also is being studied, and widening of the junction of the two routes will be made. With the announcement made by the Governor and Highway (See Story No. 6, Page 6)

IN FROZEN NORTH OR BRAZIL, FLOYD SISTERS ON SAME PATH BECAUSE MISSION FIELD WIDE

Mission fields are wide, and so it is that two Floyd county sisters have found their work of carrying the Christian message to others in areas which are almost at the nether extremes of the Western Hemisphere.

Twenty-one-year-old Sharon McGinnis is now at Cold Lake, Alberta, Canada, studying the intricacies of the Chipewyn dialect which she will need as a missionary to Indians of the far North.

Her elder sister, Mary Elizabeth, 26, was in Prestonsburg this week, preparing to leave next month for missionary work along the thousand-mile stretch of the Maderia River, in Brazil.

"I don't know if you are a Christian or not," she replied. "You may not understand. But if you are a Christian you will know you answer God's call. It's not really my decision--you see, it was made for me."

The answer is that simple to her, and certainly to her sister at "the upper end of the world." (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

Major General Lew Wallace, who at one time commanded all U. S. troops in Central Kentucky, later wrote the novel "Ben Hur," of recent movie fame.

In Lincoln's first race for president, he got only two votes in Lexington, where his wife had scores of relatives.

During the Civil War, Kentucky was represented in both House and Senate of the Confederate States Congress.

In the early days of the Civil War, it was said sarcastically that "Abraham Lincoln hopes he has God on his side, but feels that he must have Kentucky."

One of the 13 states in the Battle Flag of the Confederacy was for Kentucky, which had been admitted to the Confederate States despite the fact that the state government at Frankfort did not recognize as valid the acts of a secessionist convention at Russellville.

TUESDAY OPENS DISTRICT
The annual 58th district (Floyd county) high school basketball tournament will open in the Prestonsburg fieldhouse next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., with Betsy Layne scheduled to meet Wayland in the lone game of the evening.

Eugene Prasure's Wasps, currently sporting the second best record in the county, lost to Betsy Layne in their second game of the season by a 65-62 count on November 11. Then Wayland won on the Betsy Layne floor, 71-59, on December 17.

The Wasps enter tournament play with an 18-7 mark as compared with a 10-15 mark for Tommy Boyd's Bob Cats.

Wednesday's opening round pits Auxier (1-19) against Maytown (13-8) in the first game at 7 p.m., and in the second game at 8:30 p.m., defending tourney champion Wheelwright vies with Garrett.

Maytown has twice whipped Auxier this season, and Don Wallen's Wheelwright Trojans downed Garrett, 58-45, in the finals of the annual pre-season tournament in early December on the same floor. They did not play during the regular season.

Martin's Purple Flash will play the winner of the Betsy Layne-Wayland game in the first game at 7 p.m., Thursday evening, and in the final game of the first round McDowell and Prestonsburg square off.

Martin lost two and won one from Wayland during the season. In the first game Wayland won, 79-77, in an overtime period, then bounced the Flashes, 86-64, in the consolation game of the pre-season tournament. Martin won last week on its home floor, 72-66. Betsy Layne was beaten twice by Martin in season play.

McDowell (11-9) whipped Prestonsburg (4-19), 76-60, on December 14.

Although the tournament will be held in the Prestonsburg fieldhouse, Wheelwright high is the host team and will conduct the tournament. Paul Wright, Hazard high school football coach, and Foster "Sid" Meade, South Portsmouth city school superintendent, will officiate the tournament.

The five team 60th district tournament will not begin play until next Thursday, when Sandy Hook clashes with Ezel in the opening game. Salyersville will meet the winner in the semi-finals Friday while in the top bracket, favorite Oil Springs meets Morgan County.

Favorite Meade Memorial and Paintsville are in opposite brackets in the eight-team 59th district, which begins in Paintsville, next Wednesday night. Meade Memorial is the defending champ.

Pike county's 57th district begins play Tuesday night with Dorion battling Feds Creek in an upper bracket game and in the lower round Tuesday. Johns Creek tangles with Phelps.

Favored Virgie collides with Pikeville in the first game Wednesday night, and Belfry vies with Mullins in a lower bracket in Wednesday's game.

FFA Members Slate Special Activities

Future Farmers of America members throughout the nation are scheduling special activities to focus public attention on the work of their organization during National F. F. Week, February 18-25.

Locally members of the Prestonsburg F.F.A. Chapter plan a radio program for this week.

Membership in the F.F.A. is made up of farm boys who are students of vocational agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed primarily to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate the boys to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming or other agricultural occupations.

Lloyd Wells, vocational agriculture instructor in Prestonsburg high school, serves as advisor of the F.F.A. Chapter.

HI HAT

The Clear Creek P.-T.A. had its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, February 16. The president, Curtis Wallen, expressed his appreciation for such a large attendance and also for the cooperation in raising money for the $1,000 pledge made to the Board of Education toward a new lunchroom.

The principal, Mr. Gibbs, reported that the experimental science equipment had been received, which was purchased by the P.-T.A. It is believed that this is the only school in the county that fifth and sixth graders have access to such a science program.

The regular meeting of the Clear Creek P.-T.A. has been changed from the third Thursday to the second Thursday of each month.

The community was very sorry to lose one of their leading families, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Calhoun and Brenda, who have moved to Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Newman were visiting in Lexington, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carpenter and son, Randy, have been visiting Mrs. Carpenter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Newman, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Newsome and son, Leslie, have been visiting their families, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ricker and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Newsome. Mr. Newsome is with the Air Force and has been stationed in Panama City, Florida, for the past two years.

Ronny Wallen and Marvin Johnson, fourth graders, have been enjoying some nice fishing sessions at the old mill pond after school.

Kentucky supplied one member of the cabinet of Confederate States President Jefferson Davis. He was Secretary of War John C. Breckinridge, of Lexington, who had been vice-president of the United States from 1857 to 1861.

Wash-and-wear cottons save you time and money. If you figure your time at $1 an hour, it will cost you $16 to launder an untreated shirt before it wears out; this amount plus the cost of the shirt equals about $19.95. Yet only about $2 worth of time will be needed to care for the treated shirt. Even if the wash-and-wear shirt costs $5, it is least expensive in the long run.

He suggested a Big Sandy Development Council and the formation of a Big Sandy Plan. "With Fish-trap in, there are industrial sites all the way from Paintsville to Pikeville which would be available, and these already have been surveyed by the Department of Economic Development."

Mr. Whisman said the Task Force report to President Kennedy was divided into two sections:

1. Emergency relief measures, including amplification of the food supply to the needy, extension of unemployment compensation benefits over a longer period, general assistance and a public works program.
2. Long-range development, which would embrace an endorsement of area development legislation, a technical assistance program to help local industrial enterprises and also provide vocational training, priorities to distressed areas in federal government procurement, and action to meet the problems of youth and the labor forces.

Whisman said he is encouraged because the Task Force report is the only one the President has endorsed and because the needs of the Appalachian area are recognized at the state, inter-state and federal levels. The Task Force report recognized that problems unique to one region and not applicable to the whole country deserve special treatment. The report pinpointed the Appalachian region.

Highways, reforestation, water control, soil conservation, coal research, parks—all these were included in the report. Whisman said automation is of the greatest concern nationally and the 6,000,000 unemployed may grow to 7,000,000. "When machines make machines—that's bad," he added.

"If," said the speaker, "we were to be given only one program, the cheapest dollars spent would be those that would develop people. We don't want to prepare people for export . . . we must increase the opportunities in this region." The comment was made in a discussion of education, including vocational training.

C. B. Latta, Prestonsburg attorney, presided at the meeting. Marvin Music added an encouraging note to the meeting when he said that by April 4, remainder of the Prestonsburg-Auxier-Pointsville road, including the bridge across the Big Sandy near Hager Hill, will be let to contract by April 4. The contract on the river bridge at Auxier already has been awarded.

Hale, who saved most of his household effects. He estimated his loss in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Destroyed in the Harris home was the West Prestonsburg post-office, including its equipment and approximately $600 worth of stamps and stamped envelopes. The loss of mail was only slight, it was said.

Mrs. Runnels, postmistress there, opened the postoffice in a building on Main street there, next morning, and not a mail was missed.

Arrival of the Paintsville fire department was credited by property-owners there of saving the Colonial House, furniture store owned by Ray Howard, on the lot adjoining the Hale residence, and also of preventing spread of the fire to Hale's barber shop at the rear.

Prestonsburg firemen blamed a four-inch water main on the street where the fire occurred and the fact that the top blew out of a fireplug for the low water pressure they encountered when they began fighting the blaze. City Water Superintendent Dick Davis suggested, however, that the use of flexible hose rather than approved hard suction hose contributed to the lack of effectiveness.

The Paintsville truck connected with the six-inch main on Main street, a block away, and found the water pressure adequate.

The three-story Harris home was in other days known as the Harris hotel, a favorite lodging-place for Floyd countians visiting Prestonsburg when travel was only by horseback or afoot. It was built in 1910 after its predecessor, also known as the Harris hotel, was levelled by a fire which spread from the lot where Monday morning's blaze started.

Fire within the week has also razed at least two other homes in the county. The residence of Bill Maynard on Wolf Branch of Buffalo was destroyed with all its contents last Thursday. Presence of two cases of dynamite in the home drove would-be firefighters away. The home burned to the ground without an explosion, however. At 5 a.m., Sunday, the Jesse Woods home on Cow Creek was destroyed.

which to make loans for the creation of industrial subdivisions. Wyatt's proposed federal-level program, geared to the needs and potentials of underdeveloped sections, calls for action in these areas: highways, water control, education, community facilities and housing, forestry and industrial and agricultural development.

He pointed out that $39,000,000 in bonds have just been sold and that the contract has been let for the construction of the Eastern Kentucky Turnpike between Winchester and Campton. He reminded his audience that the extension of this road will pass through Hazard, opening up the area to markets and sources of supply along the growing links of the interstate highway system across the nation.

The Lieutenant Governor made it clear that while federal help is essential to such growth, Kentucky is now doing much to improve conditions in the 22 counties of Eastern Kentucky, the Appalachian section of this state.

No starry-eyed dreamers, these girls. Mary Elizabeth, in her quiet way, explains that she is aware the romance of faraway places is a passing thing; that there is hard work, perhaps discouragement, ahead. She sees the possibility of rebuffs from some whom she will seek to help. This is no sudden decision or whim of the moment. "It's not my decision, really—it is my answer."

The elder sister quotes from First Corinthians: "Ye are not your own, for ye are bought with a price..."; and from Mark 16:15: "Go ye into all the world..."

Then she adds: "Such a life may appear unprofitable to those seeking prosperity in this world, but it offers me peace and satisfaction as I consider eternal values."

The sisters have known mission work all their lives. Since 1933, all of the years of their lives, their parents have devoted themselves to Christian work in this county. The girls have seen their parents face problems and meet them, "living by faith." So it is that they have a missionary background from childhood which has, to some extent, "briefed" them for the work the two are now undertaking.

Their parents came to this county in 1933 after completing study at the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

The elder sister was graduated from Prestonsburg high school and from the Prairie Bible Institute, an inter-denominational institution at Three Hills, Alberta, Canada. The younger was graduated from Betsy Layne high school, and she completed her studies at Prairie Bible Institute last April. Both have been Christians since the age of four.

Since her graduation from Prairie Bible Institute in 1956, Mary Elizabeth has been connected with the school and there edited a children's religious periodical, a companion publication to The Overcomer, an adult magazine. She left Prairie Bible Institute last May to enter the Mission Candidates School at Englewood, N. J., and now she is ready to go to Brazil under the auspices of the Evangelical Union of South America.

Sharon, who already is on the mission field at Cold Lake, Alberta, on beyond the last modern transportation system, is living with an Indian girl, studying the Chipewyn language. She will work under the sponsorship of the Northern Canada Evangelical Mission, which is inter-denominational, as is the Evangelical Union of South America. She has been there since early January.

While the younger girl will travel by dog-sled, in winter, to isolated Indian villages, Mary Elizabeth will range the Maderia, a tributary of the Amazon, by motor launch to landings, then travel afoot, when necessary, to teach native children while others with her will carry the message to adults.

"Those are the tentative plans," Miss McGinnis said last week. First of all, she will study the Portuguese language for perhaps a year before launching out as a full-fledged missionary.

A young sister, Carol, is a freshman in Prestonsburg high school this year. She may join her sisters, a few years hence, in carrying the Gospel of Christ to others. But that does not mean they will be together. For one can walk the same path many miles, in different directions of the compass—and the decision as to where the path leads them is not theirs. It is Another's.

as no systems are perfect." Clark said. He asked the Advisory committee to evaluate the present system and called on Assistant Superintendent Walter Frasure to present some ideas on evaluation.

Frasure suggested many fields in which the committee could evaluate the system and offer suggestions. A few named by Frasure were instruction, transportation, library facilities, lunchrooms, promotion and discipline of pupils, and attendance. He pointed out ways that the evaluation study could be made.

Zimmerman replied to Frasure's talk by saying, "We should think of the system as a whole first. The best thing that can be done is to forget selfishness, pick up in the area of greatest need and go to work there."

Talks followed by John M. Stumbo, Bill Blair and again Clark, the discussion turning to new construction and consolidation. The Superintendent said he had asked the state to survey the system's whole needs. This survey has been promised in six weeks, he added.

"Everybody wants consolidation but they want a big school at their own doors," Clark said. He said that the Board had been two years in getting the proposed Big Mud Creek school approved. "You have to prove to the state department that you have a need for new school buildings," he told the committee.

Zimmerman asked what was holding up construction of the Big Mud Creek building and Clark replied, "It lacks a majority vote of the Board." Pressed for a more specific explanation, Clark charged it was sectionalism.

The Advisory group head stated that "it seems a shame there is an impasse on the Big Mud Creek building." Board Member Hall offered comment that the Mud Creek situation developed without the previous county superintendent discussing it with him. He mentioned a proposed building at Cow Creek of which he had only recently learned about.

"I'm not saying opposition to the Big Mud Creek building is not in good faith," Zimmerman commented, "but I think some people are going to have to give a little. Our system has been so imbued with politics that our people have little confidence."

Hall said that he was not opposed to the Big Mud Creek building and added: "I'm not holding up the program. I'm for a progressive program."

Wayne Radliff, assistant superintendent in charge of finance, explained the ramifications of school finances, noted that one hardship on Eastern Kentucky systems was a higher interest rate on school bonds here than in Bluegrass counties.

The Advisory committee scheduled a special meeting for March 14.

Commissioner to clear up all conjecture as to the route the new highway will follow came also word that ground-breaking ceremonies for the Eastern Kentucky Toll Road, the Winchester-Campton road from which the two branches leading to the Big Sandy and Kentucky rivers stem, will be held Saturday at Winchester under sponsorship of the Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission. The event will initiate construction of the four-lane part of the overall project linking Eastern Kentucky with the Bluegrass.

Ceremonies will take place on the turnpike right-of-way just outside Winchester after a lunch at noon in Winchester. Ground-breaking time is 2 p.m.

B. F. Reed, chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Planning Commission, cited the "courageous and creative leadership of Governor Bert Combs and Lt. Governor Wilson W. Wyatt as making the road possible."

Reed said, "There has been a constant agreement among our people that a basic requirement for development of our mountain counties must consist of a well planned and broadly conceived highway system."

"The breaking of ground on this turnpike is a historic event for Eastern Kentucky," he said.

Heart Fund Volunteers Sought by Association

Heart Fund volunteers will tour the residential sections of Prestonsburg next Sunday to distribute health-saving information about the heart diseases and to collect Heart Sunday contributions with which the Kentucky Heart Association can help speed the fight against the nation's No. 1 health enemy.

The pamphlet to be distributed by volunteers tells how to protect children against rheumatic fever, forerunner of rheumatic heart disease and deals with the latest knowledge about high blood pressure, heart attacks and strokes. Contributions collected by volunteers will help expand the Heart Association's research, education and community service program. The local association is an affiliate of the American Heart Association.

More than 50 million Heart Fund dollars have been invested in research since the Heart Association became a national voluntary health agency in 1948. Mrs. Mary Jane Harkins, chairman, pointed out.

The Heart Sunday canvass in Prestonsburg will be one of 10,000 being conducted at approximately the same time by more than 1,500,000 volunteers throughout the nation.

PLAN WOULD EVEN UP AREAS FOR CONSERVATION OFFICERS

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 20 (Spl.)—A plan has been inaugurated by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources which eventually will balance the patrol area for all conservation officers of the state, Minor Clark, commissioner of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, has announced.

Under the plan, which is in operation in some sections of the new state now, county lines as boundaries for work assignment by conservation officers will be discontinued and "areas," all of about the same number of square miles, will be set up for officers, Clark continued. The Commissioner pointed out that under the county system of patrol, due to the varying sizes of the counties, some officers patrol as much as 800 square miles, while in smaller counties others patrol as little as 100 square miles. At the same time, the officer who patrols the larger area is in the same pay scale as the man in the smaller county.

In announcing the plan, after it has been tried in some areas and found to be highly successful, Commissioner Clark described the benefits to the Department from the area patrol. In addition to eliminating the unfair distribution of areas among the men, he said, the state as a whole can be patrolled with fewer men on the same expense account as they previously were allowed.

This reduction in men, over a period of years, will allow a higher pay scale for those remaining. He pointed out that most men in the field have been with the Department for at least ten years and that they have reached the higher pay plateau. With the leveling off of department income, those men, held at the same number as now patrols the state, would be stymied as to pay raises and, therefore, would have little incentive to do a better job. The Commissioner hastened to explain that there will not be a wholesale dismissal of men to bring about the desired patrol area plan, but that it will be worked out in given areas as officers retire or resign.

Commissioner Clark said that in a good game and fish management program from 30 to 35 per cent of the total revenue received by a Department goes to law enforcement. That is the amount the Kentucky Law Enforcement Division now receives, or about $700,000 each year. With little likelihood of an increase in the total revenue of the department, it is pointed out that this division's expenses must be frozen at the $700,000 mark and this limitation therefore necessitates action for an area patrol with fewer men.

Another factor that makes the area patrol system a necessity, the Commissioner said, is the new highways which are being constructed throughout the state. Many of these new roads are of the non-access variety which may split a county and which may have no access within the county. For an officer to patrol such a divided county, he said, in many cases it would be necessary for the officer to drive as many as 30 miles to reach the opposite side of the road.

The new areas are being set up mostly along the lines of highways or streams or natural boundaries. It is hoped that the more than 40,000 square miles of the state will be apportioned to officers so that each officer will have under his command between 450 and 475 square miles.

The FFA has 378,081 members affiliated with more than 8,759 local chapters in the United States and Puerto Rico.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By Joe Jordan

One hundred years ago this week the General Assembly of Kentucky was in adjournment, having decided that "further action on political affairs at this time" was both unnecessary and inexpedient. The legislature had been called into extraordinary session January 17 by Governor Beriah Magoffin, to consider the position Kentucky should take in the crisis produced by the secession movement.

The adjournment was until March 20, when the legislators would again assemble at Frankfort. Meantime they would have an opportunity to observe the reactions of their constituents to the decisions made so far.

That Time Again...

It's that time of the year again. And the farmers around here—along with those all over the nation—are going through their books to let Uncle Sam know how they came out money-wise in 1960.

One point farmers may want to keep in mind in figuring their earnings for social security purposes is that they may be entitled to use an optional method.

1. If your gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1,800, you may count as your net farm earnings either your actual net or two-thirds of your gross income:

2. If your gross income is over $1,800, and your net farm earnings are less than $1,200, you may use either your actual net or $1,200;

If your gross farm income is more than $1,800, and your net farm earnings are $1,200 or more, you must use the actual amount of your net earnings.

Because of the option available, self-employed farmers with gross income as low as $600 can obtain social security benefits for 1960—and so build protection for themselves in their old age, or if they become disabled, and protection for their survivors in case of death.

Some farm owners who receive cash-rent or crop shares from tenant farmers can get social security credit for that income. If the farm landlord, under his agreement with his tenant, materially participates in the production of the farm crops raised on his land, this income may be reported for social security purposes.

INFORMATION For VETERANS

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of interest to veterans and dependents:

Q. I hear that men being discharged from military service have a one-year deadline from date of discharge for applying for VA dental treatment. Is this true?

A. Generally, yes, for VA outpatient dental treatment, for which the dental condition must be service-connected. But there are a number of exceptions. These include veterans drawing compensation for dental conditions, those whose dental conditions resulted from service injuries, and former prisoners of war.

Q. Can I get transportation to a VA domiciliary?

A. As a rule, transportation to a VA domiciliary at Government expense is provided only for the initial admission.

Q. I know a wife may be buried in a national cemetery if her veteran-husband is already buried there. But what if the wife dies first?

A. A veteran who assures cemetery officials that he intends to be buried in a national cemetery may make arrangements for his wife to be buried there if she precedes him in death.

Q. Where does one write to secure information about state bonuses to veterans?

A. Write to the State Capitol in the state concerned. Do not write the Veterans Administration about state bonuses as they are administered solely by the individual states.

Q. Is there a priority system for gaining admission of a veteran to a VA hospital?

A. Yes. Those needing hospitalization for injuries or diseases incurred in active duty are admitted first. Then, nonservice-connected cases, if the veteran states under oath that he is unable to pay for private care, and a bed is available.

THE THEORY OF DOUBLE PROTECTION

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Somehow we don't think of the baby's bassinet as a "scientific development." But it is.

It has been designed to protect a child from exterior hazards—and from himself.

Religion isn't what we would call "scientific." But it, too, embraces this theory of double protection.

The man or woman who worships God faithfully is prepared for the unexpected crises in life. And his mature conscience is ready to cope with temptation.

This isn't to say that nothing ever goes wrong for the ardent church-goer. But he meets each outward or inward challenge with adequate spiritual resources.

There are impelling reasons why you need the Church and its undergirding strength. And for every one that is evident today, there are others you'll confront tomorrow.

HALE FAMILY

Mrs. Elynor Holstein, 7301 North 33rd Street, Omaha 12, Nebraska, writes in regard to the Hale family. In fact two letters are on my desk. She is trying to iron out the wrinkles in the family genealogy. One problem is in regard to her ancestress, Elzapha Hale. Quoting, and combining the two letters, we learn a bit about Mrs. Holstein's genealogical problem. "I did write to Mr. Hale at Ashland and he sent me an interesting letter stating that Elzapha's birthdate of 1822 would make one of the following her parents: 'Smith Hale, John Hale, Claybourn Hale, James Hale and one or two more.' "Today I discovered an old paper I must have written years ago — information from an aunt. I found a new clue—"HALL."

"Mother Huff's maiden name—Hale. She was born in Kentucky. Her mother's maiden name was Hall-Welch. Grandfather was English and Irish, born either in Virginia or Kentucky. Grandfather Hale had a record of his ancestors but it disappeared after he passed away. "I am wondering if there would be any burial records, that would show a Hale with his wife's named that could be traced to her maiden name of Hall? Even as I write this, that sounds impossible. Guess it isn't much of a clue. "Dad thinks he recalls the name John mentioned by his grandmother but felt there was a John Huff so was confused." The second letter, dated January 21, is excerpted: "I was able to get papers of John Hale's descendants and Elzapha was not listed as a child. Through the Iowa Census I found Benjamin Hale from Virginia, his wife Hanna from North Carolina, and a daughter Elizabeth born in Kentucky. I feel he could be Elzapha's father for perhaps she would have married and left home at the time of the census. "Do you have any information on a Benjamin Hale? His wife's name may have been Hall. In the 1957 Census he is listed as a resident of the state of Iowa for 15 years so I feel Kentucky records would be 1840 or earlier. I hate to give up but the Iowa trail has run out." Mrs. Holstein's feeling that the wife of Benjamin Hale was a Hall is correct. An examination of Floyd county marriage records show that Benjamin Hale married Anna (not Hanna) Hall, July 29, 1821. John Morris was the officiating minister. He, or another Benjamin Hale, married Milly Nunn, December 6, 1826. So we conclude, without adequate proof, of course, that Elzapha Hale's parents must have been the first child of Benjamin Hale and Anna Hall Hale. Anyway, the Kentucky trail has not run out for Mrs. Holstein.

HIKE JULE

The late S. B. Osborne, of Martin, in his book, "Hike Jule," published in 1943 depicts life on Beaver Creek before the railroad penetrated the section very deeply. His account of "sports" at the forks of Beaver Creek eighty years ago is enlightening. Osborne wrote: "In the early 80's my father lived in the country on Beaver Creek, forty miles from the nearest railroad. We had no roads, except dirt in the summer and mud in the winter. We had no talking machines, no radios, no electric lights and no modern improvements. "People would naturally conclude that life under these circumstances would be a very dull affair, but we had our diversions. In the winter we could play snowball and could skate on the ice without skates and sometimes without shoes. In the summer we could swim and fish if there was no work to do. But for three months of the year we had to work from daylight till dark making a crop. In those days a living had to be dug out of the ground. "We had one sport that was the real sport. Our home was about a mile from the forks of Beaver Creek where the crossroads store and postoffice were located and as soon as I was big enough I learned to go there on Saturday evenings. The local bad men gathered there at that time and got drunk. The gathering generally wound up with a fight in which somebody would get shot or stabbed or knocked down. Everybody seemed to enjoy it very much except the underdog in the fight. If he was not hurt too badly I believe he also enjoyed it for he was generally ready for another fight at the next meeting. This kind of thing was one of our entertainments." Mr. Osborne enlightens us on the expression, "Hike Jule."

"In those days 'Hike Jule' was an expression used for all occasions. If anything was perfectly still, it was 'Hike Jule.' If it was moving slowly, it was 'Hike Jule.' If it was going fast it was 'Hike Jule.' If anything was going wrong it was 'Hike Jule.' If it was going right, it was 'Hike Jule.' Its meaning depended on the tone of the voice one used when he spoke. "Hike Jule" this column is long enough for this week.

Former Area Timberman Is Victim At Phoenix; Was Martin-Co. Native

Pete Golden, grandfather of Mrs. Carl Riffe, of Prestonsburg, and a former timberman of the Big Sandy, died Friday in Phoenix, Arizona, at the age of 83. He was the victim of a heart attack.

A native of Inez and a former resident of the East Point community, Mr. Golden rafted timber down the Big Sandy, in the 1920's using his towboat, "The Odd Fellow." In the late '30's he built his own boat, "The Pete," for Ohio River traffic. He had lived in retirement in Phoenix since 1949.

Mr. Golden was one of the first veteran rivermen to appear at the Congressional hearings in Washington in 1946 to testify for Big Sandy canalization.

He is survived by two daughters and one son, Mrs. E. A. Judd, of Ashland, Mrs. Grace Golden Montague and Dennis Golden, both of Phoenix. Burial was made at Phoenix.

Mayo School Gets Civil Defense Help On Fallout Shelter

George L. Ramey, head of the Mayo Vocational School, Paintsville, last week announced the receipt of a check for $250 from Civil Defense to be used for construction of a "Family Type Fallout Shelter" on the Mayo campus. The shelter is to be used for demonstration purposes so that people in this area can see how the shelter is constructed. Its demonstration also is intended to make it possible for residents to make an accurate estimate as to the cost.

"It is hoped that everyone will visit this shelter when completed and that many families will decide to build, or have built, a similar one and hope they will never have to use it," Mr. Ramey said. Announcements will be made later as to when the shelter will be completed and open for inspection.

THE RIGHT FOOD

The right food can be a "foundation of youth." It can lead to better health and more vigorous living for both body and mind.

Good health and vigor in later years actually are a follow up of healthful living and good food habits learned in grade school days. Basically food needs are the same throughout life, except for calories. Calorie needs decrease gradually with age.

Meals for both the old and young should be based on the four good groups to fit the individual's needs.

POWDERED AND LIQUID FORMULA DIETS

Many of you are interested in the widely advertised formula diets. The following comments and reports may help answer your questions.

Dr. Frederick Stare's column in the Courier-Journal gave this report. Formula diets containing the nutrients meeting the recommended daily dietary allowances of the national Research Council, except for calories, should not be grouped with many of the "fad diets." However there are disadvantages to the formula diets. He recommended that generous amounts of green vegetables preferably raw be added to the diet to help overcome constipation which frequently occurs with the liquid diets. He also believes that 900 calories is too low a level of calorie intake to be maintained for several weeks. A weight reduction of 1 to 2 pounds per week would be a more desirable weight loss.

Dr. Alvan R. Feinstein, of the Rockefeller Institute, listed the advantages of the formula diets as being their simplicity and flexibility. The patients taking the formula have no complex food lists from which to decide how much to eat. He listed the disadvantages as the monotony of the formula, gastrointestinal side-effects and occasionally emotional disturbances.

One point to be considered is that formula diets supply less than 1 gram of sodium, and this causes losses of body water rather and weight losses.

4-H STRAWBERRY PROJECTS

Floyd county has been given an additional year in the Sears Roebuck Strawberry project. We were given this added year because of the excellent opportunity offered by the proposed new strawberry processing plant to be located in Floyd county.

The following rules will govern the project for 1961:

1. Twenty-five club members in Floyd county will be selected by the county 4-H council to receive the project. These club members will receive 1,000 plants and the fertilizer and soil insecticide needed to set these plants. One thousand plants will set one-fourth acre.
2. The club member will pay the Floyd county 4-H Council the cost of the plants ($15.00) at the end of the first picking season (June 1962).
3. The 4-H members parents will agree to set an additional one-fourth acre of strawberries at the same time as the club member.
4. The club member agrees to carry out the strawberry project according to the instructions given by the county Extension agents.
5. The club member will keep an accurate record of his project and turn it in to the Extension office at the end of the picking season.

Any club member interested in this project, should contact the county agent as soon as possible.

POWER COMPANY ANNOUNCES RECORD BUILDING BUDGET

Kentucky Power Company last week announced a record construction budget of $8,376,000 for 1961.

F. M. Baker, vice-president and general manager of Kentucky Power, said that $5 million in the budget is slated this year for the Big Sandy plant, now under construction near Louisa. Upon completion in late 1962, the $39-million plant will have a generating capability of 265,000 kilowatts.

He said the remaining $3,376,000 is divided between the following: transmission substations, $804,000; transmission lines, $450,000; distribution lines, $1,732,000; distribution substations, $257,000; and automotive and communications, $133,000.

Scheduled for completion in late 1961 is the major addition to Bellefonte Station which almost doubles the transmission capacity in the Ashland area. A total of $473,000 is budgeted this year for the project which began last year, when $60,000 was spent. This construction includes the installation of a 100,000 kva power transformer along with necessary protective and control facilities.

A major transmission substation project scheduled for completion early this year is the Leach Station serving Ashland Oil and Refining Company. The total cost of this addition is $150,000, of which $30,000 comes from the 1961 budget. This work provides a new source of power for the refinery and its expanding facilities.

In the Pikeville district area, a major addition is being made to the Beaver Creek transmission substation, at Hi Hat, at an estimated cost of $80,000. This work includes replacement of four oil circuit breakers with units of increased speed and capability.

The Pikeville district work is a part of an overall project which includes installing facilities throughout the district's transmission system, resulting in higher-speed operating equipment. In this $115,000 project are installations to be made at the following stations: Betsy Layne, $30,000; McKinney, $55,000, and Elkhorn City, $30,000.

The conversion of the Bellefonte-Leach line from 34,500 volts to 69,000 volts is scheduled for completion this year. Begun last year, this line will cost a total of $85,000, of which $30,000 is budgeted for 1961. Conversion to higher voltage increases the capability of the entire transmission system in the Ashland area.

In the Pikeville district, about six miles of 46,000-volt transmission line will be rebuilt and four miles constructed to complete a tie-line connecting Beaver Creek, Lackey and McKinney stations. This construction is estimated to cost $100,000. In addition to increasing transmission capacity, this new section of line will provide another source of power to the Beaver Creek area.

Distribution line construction includes some 125 miles of line to serve about 1,000 new homes anticipated to be built during 1961 in the Kentucky Power service area. The program also anticipates the installation of about 800 new street lighting units for both

Martin Announces For County Clerk

Following the November election, in which I served as Democratic Campaign Manager, I wrote in this newspaper that I had serious intentions of becoming a candidate for a county office. At the same time I indicated that I would seek that office for which I could be of the most service to the people.

On December 26th, I was injured in a fall at my home on Bull Creek which kept me confined there until the past few days. Also, I am still paying off the debts of the Democratic party from the last general election for which I have made myself personally obligated. Including the Prestonsburg high school band and the Martin high school band for their appearance on the day that Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., appeared in Prestonsburg.

Great numbers of my loyal friends over the county are urging me to put something in the paper reaffirming my political intentions — lest my opposition should secure commitments which would otherwise be for me.

I am now soliciting support for the office of County Court Clerk, and I find to my pleasant surprise that great numbers of voters who have not been for me in the past, for reasons of friendship or otherwise, are now ready to pledge me their active support. Likewise, I find that those who have always stood by me through the thick and the thin are as loyal to me today as ever.

In soliciting support for the office of County Court Clerk, you, the people, for the first time in history, are offered an experienced lawyer as the custodian of your records, and one who can work for you and serve you freely and advise you in these hard pinched times.

A lawyer by the very nature of his profession, must often take sides between friends and neighbors. At this period in my life, I seek an office where I can be of the most service to the people and where I can enjoy the friendship of all.

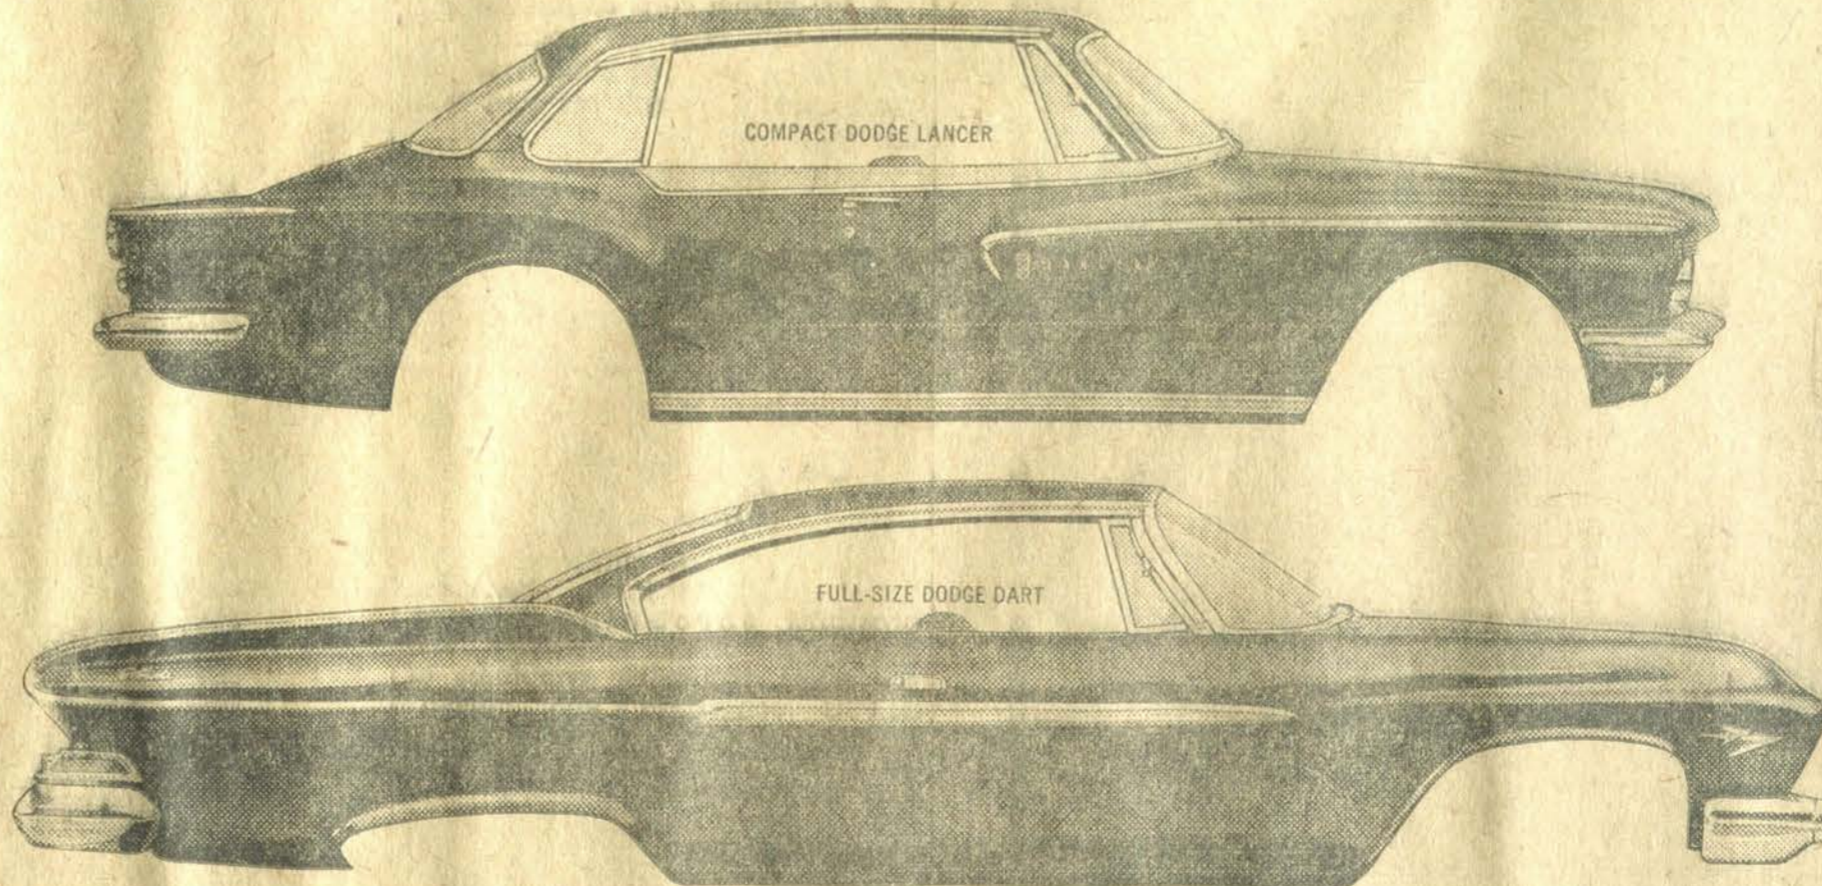

I would like to be your friend in the County Court Clerk's office.

Incentive Payments in Wool Program Told; Floyd Receives $678.77

Wool growers were reminded this week that the 1960-program payments, to be made this summer, will be made only on wool and unshorn lambs which are marketed before March 31, 1961. This is the closing date for the 1960 program.

Daniel Akers, chairman of the Floyd county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, also pointed out that applications for such payments under the 1960 wool program must be filed before the end of April, 1961.

He emphasized that adequate records on the sales must support the information on the payment applications. For instance, producers' sales records for shorn wool should show name and address of buyer, date of sale, name and address of producer, net wt. of wool sold, and net proceeds to producer after normal marketing deductions.

Payments to producers for the 1960 marketing year will follow the same methods employed for the year 1959. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage—to be announced later this year—will be that required to raise the national price received by all producers for shorn wool during the marketing year up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

Lamb payments will be made to each producer who sells lambs that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

Under the 1959 wool program, growers in Floyd county last year received a total of $678.77 in incentive payments earned under the marketing year which ended March 31, 1960.

Pound Dam Completion Envisioned by 1964; Ramey Makes Statement

Hope was expressed by Colonel Malevick, head of the U. S. Corps of Engineers' district office in Huntington, last week that the Pound reservoir, for which $4,500,000 has been budgeted this year, may be completed short of the June, 1965, scheduled date.

He also said, in a talk with a delegation of Big Sandy and Virginia flood control proponents, that the Engineers are making a study to ascertain if more than the $900,000 budgeted for Fishtrap reservoir in Pike county can be increased to hasten completion of that vital project.

In a report of the Huntington meeting, George L. Ramey, head of the Mayo State Vocational School, Paintsville, said the delegation was told that the 1957 flood would have been 5.7 feet lower at the Pound reservoir if the Pound reservoir had been in operation and that the Fishtrap reservoir and Pound together would have lowered the river crest there by 12½ feet.

Mr. Ramey reported, said the Paintsville Herald, on Col. Malevick's discussion of industrial water. The engineer was quoted as saying that Fishtrap reservoir will provide a minimum of 75 cubic feet of water per second during the summer and that Pound reservoir will give another 50 cubic feet per second to the flow of the river. This would mean 58,250 gallons of water added every minute to the present summertime volume of the river.

By way of comparison, it was said that Dewey Dam averages about 10 cubic feet of water per second to the stream below.

A 100-bushel corn crop, including stover, will take 150 pounds nitrogen, 60 pounds of phosphate and 110 pounds of potash per acre from the soil.

Telephone Talk

By BYRON SIMPSON
Your Telephone Manager

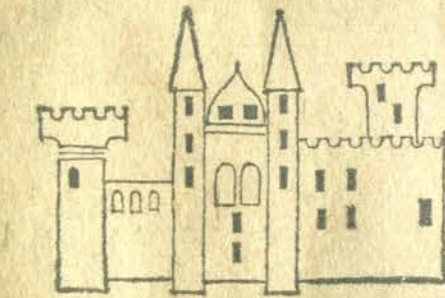

BORN IN FEBRUARY? You're in good company. So were such "greats" as George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, Charles Lindbergh and Babe Ruth—to mention only a few.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, another Great American whose birthday comes in March, was spurred on to invent the telephone through his interest in helping deaf persons. We think Mr. Bell would be happy to know about a recent development of Bell Laboratories—the electronic larynx which makes speech possible to those who have lost their larynxes and ability to speak. The electronic larynx is available to those who need it at just what it costs to produce. For more information, inquire at our Business Office.

JUST BECAUSE YOU WANT TO... is a good enough reason to pick up the phone and enjoy a Long Distance visit. Someone you've been missing—youngsters off at school, a relative who lives far away. Long Distance rates are low with extra bargains after 6 p.m. and on Sundays. Why not call tonight—Just because you want to?

CASTLE IN SPAIN, ANYONE? A turreted, storied castle in Spain, built in the 14th century, is for sale because the nearest telephone is two kilometers away. Its owners will part with this old landmark for $4,000 because that is how much they need to build a telephone exchange. The price is right if you have the money and want to buy a castle, but think how lonely you'd be without a telephone!
