

THURSDAY

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

DECEMBER 7, 1961

This Town-- That World

Only 17 days till Christmas, and the sun shines bright on my old Kentucky home. The weather does make it difficult for one to realize the Day is so near. If you still find it hard to believe after December 25, take a look at your bank balance.

"What will I get for Christmas?" No, it isn't only children who will be asking that. Many old enough to know better will be turning the same question over in their minds. Forgotten at this Christmas season will be "The Greatest Gift." Is it indeed a Christian or a Roman holiday?

THE REAL ARTICLE

Know a gimlet when you see one? Odds are you don't if you're less than 50 years old and never lived in the country. If you happen to be at the county jail here and they aren't in a hurry to get you on upstairs, ask Jailer Prock Hays to show you a genuine, oldtime gimlet—the kind they used to use to bore cattle for the "holler horn" and "holler tail."

WHAT'S FUNNY ABOUT IT?

The Courier-Journal noted Sunday that some of the boys around Frankfort thought it funny that the Eastern Kentucky alcoholism information office had been established in Prestonsburg, Ky., they said, because Prestonsburg is in dry Floyd county.

It's funnier yet to us to think that the Frankfort boys are naive enough to think that Floyd county is dry simply because it was voted that way.

OF MISTAKES—MAINLY MY OWN

I do not get a bang out of other people's mistakes. I have made so many myself. Just now, for no good reason, I recall the time when I wrote upwards of a thousand words, all because I did not know one word had two separate meanings.

It was while I was dealing with my old class, master, the American School of Correspondence, and was wrestling with a course in Medieval (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

BRIDGE FIRM TELLS PLANS

Office Removal Slated To West Prestonsburg; Early Work Envisioned

The contract for construction of the four-lane bridge across the Big Sandy here and 3.1 miles of the highway up Middle Creek toward Salyersville was formally awarded, a few days ago, to the joint low bidder, the Mattingly Bridge Company and the Kentucky Road Oiling Company.

Following awarding of the contract, it was announced here that the Mattingly Bridge Company will move its Paintsville office to Prestonsburg. It has leased the West Prestonsburg Gulf Station for that purpose.

A representative of the Mattingly firm said Tuesday he expects work to start within 10 days.

The joint bid offered by the two firms was $2,156,587. The entire project is to be completed within 455 days from the issuance date of a work order.

DEMONSTRATE MIGHTY MINER AT GOOSE-CR.

Pennsylvania Invention Not Revolutionary, Said; Cautious Comment Made

Scores of Eastern Kentucky mine operators and others interested in the coal industry beat a path to Orville Adkins' Goose Creek truck mine at Eastern Friday and Saturday to see a new coal cutting machine.

Reaction as to the machine's ability to perform as publicized was mixed. Most mine operators and supervisory personnel, discounted the invention as revolutionary but a few were optimistic about its potential.

All critics, however, were in common agreement on one thing: The machine needed a bigger motor than the 1½ horsepower with which it is presently powered. Kentucky coal is considerably harder than Pennsylvania coal where the machine was developed and first used.

The Mighty Miner, named by its designer, O. Wayne Martin, of the Iristown Coal Company, Dunbar, Pennsylvania, weighs less than 200 pounds and undercuts a 12-foot room, according to its promoters, in 55 minutes. It bores a two and three-quarter inch hole and this series of four-foot and seven-inch holes constitutes the "cut." Conventional machines use a cutter-bar on which is inserted a number of steel bits.

The machine is operated by one man and uses current of 110 to 220 volts. It is easily maneuverable. It will drill 13 holes in one setting. One hole was timed at Goose Creek as being driven in 24 seconds.

The trials at Goose Creek began inside the mine but since only three persons could see the demonstrations, the machine was removed to an open pit for continued demonstrations.

It is manufactured by the Shall-worth Corporation, Connselsville, Pennsylvania, and has been in operation in Pennsylvania mines for 15 months. Delivery starts on all orders, December 15.

Chief criticism of mine men at the demonstration was the low power delivered by the small motor. It was pointed out that an additional horsepower could be had for an additional $100 in cost.

Charles E. Richards, president of the National Independent Coal Operators Association, Middlesboro, commented:

"The machine, in my judgment, has tremendous possibilities. Our coal here is of a firmer structure than Pennsylvania coal and a more powerful motor may be needed."

COURT TERM NEARS END

Trambell Jury Disagrees Last Thursday; Wounding Charges Set In January

Trial of Clarence Trambell, By-pro Negro, charged with shooting and wounding another of his race with intent to kill, ended the work of the jury for the November term of circuit court last Thursday. The jurors later were discharged, and, although the term does not officially end till Saturday of this week, little work of consequence will be done.

Trambell's trial ended in a "hung" jury. The case was set for a second hearing, January 5.

Charles Miller, who was convicted November 27 of the slaying here of Deputy Sheriff Wesley Farnin, was sentenced Saturday by Circuit Judge Hill to life imprisonment, and he was later taken to begin serving his term at LaGrange reformatory.

Conviction of Isaac Stumbo on a drunk driving charge was set aside and he was granted a new trial, which was docketed for January 4. The charge of carrying a concealed deadly weapon against Bill Mosley was dismissed, marked, "evidence insufficient to convict."

One cutting and wounding and two shooting and wounding cases were continued for trial during the January court term.

Not Violation To Kill Quail With Bands, Said; Copley Requests Notice

It is not a violation of the law to kill banded quail, but hunters who do bag these birds are asked to send the bands to either the county's conservation officers or the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, Frankfort.

Santa Claus Parade Slated Here Saturday

Santa Claus will be featured in a parade here Saturday at 10:30 a.m., it is announced. The jolly saint will lead the Prestonsburg high school band, Boy and Cub Scouts, and Girl and Brownie Scouts in a parade organized by Prestonsburg businessmen. Santa will dispense free candy, it is said.

COURT VOIDS LICENSE LAW

Liability for Payment Of Taxes Not Relieved, Sheriff Warrens Says

Although the Court of Appeals last week voided the new law that requires motorists to prove they have paid 1961 property taxes on their cars before they can get 1962 license plates, the decision does not relieve car-owners of their liability for paying state and county taxes.

Sheriff Hersbell Warrens said Tuesday that his understanding of the situation is this:

The car-owner's liability for payment of taxes on his motor vehicle is not affected by the court decision, but liens will not be filed against vehicles to collect taxes due on them.

The Sheriff's office here had a stack of liens ready to be filed in the County Clerk's office when word came of Revenue Commissioner James V. Marcum's decision to cancel the motor-vehicle tax lien regulation, in accordance with the high court opinion.

Separate tax bills were prepared for the first time this year on every vehicle licensed in the state. These became delinquent, if unpaid after last Thursday, and a penalty of 6% was added.

The appellate court ruled unconstitutional the law enacted at the 1960 General Assembly session, requiring proof of payment of property taxes in order to get new license plates. The state decided this week not to ask for a rehearing.

GIBSON GIVES $1,000 BOND

In Wounding of Woman; Ex-Constable Arrested On Second Liquor Charge

Sam Gibson, of Estill, who was jailed here December 2 on a charge of cutting and wounding with intent to kill Grace Gibson, this week waived examining trial and was released under $1,000 bond to answer to action of the January grand jury.

Gibson was arrested by State Trooper Don H. Goble and County Patrolman Troy Mullins. Details of the slaying were not given.

Three men—Venis Hall, Denver Coburn and Randolph Jacobs—were booked at the county jail Monday on a charge of breaking and entering the Snyder Service Station at Garrett, the night of December 1. Two juveniles were jailed the same day by Prestonsburg Policeman Bill Potter and Frank Blackburn on a grand larceny count. They were accused of taking upwards of a hundred cartons of cigarettes from the truck of W. L. Wells, of Auxier.

No arrest has been made in the break made November 27 into the Stewart Variety Store at Allen. Watches and other articles were taken in a bold entry effected by smashing the glass door at the front of the building.

Jim Blanton was booked Monday by Deputy Sheriffs Harold Johnson and Joe Wheeler Lewis on a third offense charge of transporting intoxicants and also for reckless driving. They confiscated his car and 24 half-pints of whiskey. Tuesday night, the same officers arrested Ex-Constable Joe Lykins for the second time in two weeks on a liquor charge. Captured on the road from Hi Hat to Mud Creek with six cases of beer and about half a case of whiskey, Lykins was charged with transporting. His first arrest was on a possession count.

Others jailed within the week: Earl M. Allen, driving while intoxicated, arrested by State Trooper W. Williamson; Donald E. Lafferty, speeding and two petty larceny counts, arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Lonnie Herald and Joe Wheeler Lewis.

Bill Ward Is Victim, Is Report Received Here

Friends here learned of the death Wednesday morning of Bill Ward, of Paintsville. Mr. Ward, who formerly was superintendent of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Co., was the victim of a heart attack, the report received here said. He was widely known throughout this section.

INLAND MANAGER RETIRES, PACE IS NAMED SUCCESSOR

H. O. ZIMMERMAN

Harry O. Zimmerman, manager of coal properties of Inland Steel Company, retired December 1, it was announced by Carl B. Jacobs, vice-president in charge of raw materials.

Mr. Zimmerman came to Inland in 1930 when the steel company acquired its first coal property, the Wheelwright mine, from Elk Horn Coal Corporation. He had been divisional engineer of that company. With Inland he was chief engineer from 1930 to 1954, became assistant to the manager in 1954 and manager in 1955 upon the retirement of E. R. Price.

Zimmerman has been active in the local, state and national professional societies and was a member of the coal industry committees which guided the development of continuous mining processes and equipment. He was chairman last year of the coal division of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers and in 1958 was chairman of the Central Appalachian Section of the institute.

While he was with Inland the coal properties were expanded by the development of the Price mines and the $5,000,000 coal cleaning and processing plant at that location.

He is being succeeded by E. Minor Pace, who has been general superintendent in charge of Inland coal mining operations since 1956.

Mr. Pace has been with Inland since 1946 when he was separated from the army after a career as an engineering officer with 30 months in the South Pacific. He interrupted his service with the company a year later with a leave of absence for special study in mine ventilation at West Virginia University where he received a master's degree in mining engineering. He was graduated from Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1943 before entering the army.

Pace was placed in charge of the company's central coal preparation plant at Price in 1950 and in 1951 was promoted to mining engineer in charge of mine research and special assignments. He was superintendent of the company's Wheelwright and Price mines from 1953 to 1956.

Pace is a member of the American Mining Congress and is on the executive committee of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, a member of the Kentucky Mining Institute, past president of the Big Sandy Mining Institute and a member of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, the mineral industries professional fraternity. In 1960 he was appointed by Governor Bert Combs of Kentucky to a four-year term on the State Mental Retardation Board. He has been active in this work as a member of the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children. He has also been active on the local Boy Scout Council and in the Kiwanis Club of Beaver Valley.

ALUMINUM REDUCTION PLANT IS ANNOUNCED

The Area Redevelopment Administration is studying the application of the Kentucky Aluminum Company, of Ashland, for a loan of $10,400,000 with which to construct an aluminum reduction plant 14 miles south of Ashland on the Big Sandy River.

While the exact location of the plant was not stated in news dispatches, observers think it will be constructed within the general area of Buchanan in Boyd county. First newspaper story of the proposed plant was published in the Floyd County Times, Sept. 14.

Kentucky Aluminum Company plans to spend a total of $15,290,000. Present estimates call for an annual payroll of $5,290,000 at the plant, which would employ 778 men. Power for the plant would come from a 214,000 kilowatt electric generating plant being constructed near Louisa, Ky., by American Electric Power Company.

When the power plant is completed, it will employ 24 men and add a $144,000 annual payroll to the area's economy.

The power plant would consume 800,000 tons of coal annually, providing employment for 300 coal miners. Four other companies are planning individual casting plants to process aluminum ingots.

The smaller operations would employ some 200 men, bringing the total to 500 working outside the aluminum plant.

State and local participation in the project would come to $1,500,000. This money would come from banks, local subscriptions, or a local industrial-development corporation.

Bruce Kennedy, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Economic Development, said he hopes that the State Industrial Development Finance Authority would be willing to provide any additional funds needed to arrive at the $1,500,000.

The company has agreed to put up $750,000 toward cost of the plant. The remaining $3,200,000 would come from first-mortgage bonds.

"Since our fabricating companies have been expanding in the past and since all recognized authorities predict substantial increase in demands for aluminum, we anticipate that this facility will be doubled in size within five years," the company said in its application to the A. R. A.

Some 1,200 men would be needed to build the reduction plant and power plant, according to company estimates. The annual construction payroll would be over $18,000,000.

Several times that much would be spent to produce equipment for the plants and construction materials, the company noted. The added employment would go to Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

Labor for the processing of cement, sand, gravel, steel, and electric-fabricating equipment would pour more millions into Kentucky's economy, the company added.

INFORMATION OFFICE OPEN

Frank Layne Directs Division's Center Here; Governor Proclaims Week

The Eastern Kentucky alcoholism information office, third to be established in Kentucky's current program to combat the threat of alcoholism as a public health problem, is now in operation here.

Frank H. Layne, of Prestonsburg, is serving as area representative for counties in this section of the state. The Prestonsburg office is located in the Floyd County Health Department building.

Gov. Bert Combs' concern with the disease which afflicts 70,000 Kentuckians was evidenced in December, 1960 when he established by executive order the Division of Alcoholism in the State Department of Health. Recently the Governor proclaimed the week of Nov. 26-Dec. 2 as Kentucky Alcoholism Information Week. His proclamation pointed out that alcoholism is a disease which ranks among the four major health threats, along with cancer, mental illness and heart disease.

"The cost of alcoholism in human suffering, in disintegration of family life, and in economic loss to the individual and to the community is incalculable," the text of the proclamation said.

Besides Prestonsburg, other information offices are located in Lexington and Louisville. These offices coordinate alcoholism work being done by various agencies, private concerns and individuals.

The Eastern Kentucky alcoholism information office, third to be established in Kentucky's current program to combat the threat of alcoholism as a public health problem, is now in operation here.

PTA COUNCIL SLATES MEET

School Program Talked At Betsy Layne Is Set For Final Disposition

The Floyd County Parent-Teacher Association Council in its meeting this evening (Thursday) at Drift will elect officers and make major policy decisions on several matters that have been under discussion since the November meeting at Betsy Layne, according to W. J. Reynolds, Jr., Council president.

Discussed at Betsy Layne were the present state tax structure, a proposed 35-cent tax levy to implement recommendations of the recent Floyd county school survey that advised several school consolidations, enforcement of the compulsory school attendance laws, the need of a junior college at Prestonsburg and an area vocational school.

It was decided at Betsy Layne that these matters would be carried back to the individual associations and following discussion on the local level to present the opinion of the community groups to the Council at the Drift meeting.

Formal adoption of several of the proposals are envisioned. The Council has already gone on record to support the proposed junior college at Prestonsburg and has been actively at work for two years on the planned vocational school at Garth.

Associations represented at the Betsy Layne meeting were Allen, Betsy Layne, Harold, Martin, Melvin, Weeksbury, Wheelwright and Drift.

A committee composed of Efford Tackett, of Drift, James Goble, of Allen, and Albert Hall, of Weeksbury, will nominate officers for the ensuing year.

The court voted to pay Mrs. Ethel Osborne $40 a month rental for a building to be used for that purpose. It also authorized County Judge Henry Stumbo to act for the court in all procedures necessary to establishing the branch office.

Another item of business at the meeting was to direct the sale of the old panel truck used for delivery of commodity foodstuffs prior to inauguration of the stamp program.

NEWLY-ELECT COMMISSIONER TAKES OFFICE

Stumbo Administers Oath To Clive Akers; Assessment Dates Told

Clive Akers became the first of the county officials elected at the November polls to take office when he was sworn in Monday as Tax Commissioner. The oath was administered by County Judge Henry Stumbo.

Judge Stumbo and others elected at the same time Akers was named will not take office, or begin new terms in the case of re-election, till Monday, January 1.

Mr. Akers' induction to office marked the beginning of his third term as Tax Commissioner. He succeeds Manis Conley in the office. The transition from the administration of one Tax Commissioner to another was made so unobtrusively that few were aware that it was being made.

Just now, the new Commissioner said, routine work is being handled at the office. He added that the office will be open so that any person who has bought or sold property may report such transactions. Such reports, he said, are important, so that the 1962 tax listings will be correct.

Assessment of property is now made as of January 1, and this work must be completed between January 1 and March 1. The Tax Commissioner said his understanding is, however, that motor vehicles are to be assessed as of March 1.

Akers will attend the state Tax Commissioners' conference in Louisville, December 11-15. His office assistant is Mrs. Nancy Martin Bolen, who has been a clerical assistant in the Sheriff's office.

COURT VOTES STAMP OFFICE

Martin Building Rented For Local Headquarters; Opening Date Indefinite

The Floyd fiscal court at its December 1 meeting voted to rent a building at Martin to serve as quarters for a branch food stamp office.

Although a branch office there has been considered for several weeks and a building has been rented, there yet remain various details to be worked out before a branch can be established, it was said this week. No definite date has been set for its opening.

The court voted to pay Mrs. Ethel Osborne $40 a month rental for a building to be used for that purpose. It also authorized County Judge Henry Stumbo to act for the court in all procedures necessary to establishing the branch office.

Another item of business at the meeting was to direct the sale of the old panel truck used for delivery of commodity foodstuffs prior to inauguration of the stamp program.

PUBLIC HEALTH MEET HELD HERE TUESDAY

Approximately 100 persons representing public health work at the state and county levels attended here Tuesday the first district public health meeting held in this county.

Four of these meetings are held annually, and heretofore the Sixth district conferences have met at Hazard. Counties of the Sixth district represented at the meeting are, in addition to Floyd, Pike, Letcher, Perry, Breathitt, Wolfe, Lee, Owsley, Magoffin, Johnson, Martin and Knott.

The conference was marked by two panel discussions. The morning discussion related to medical aspects of Civil Defense. Fallout effects, shelters and plans for meeting contingencies were among the topics discussed. Forrest D. Stokes, director of the Division of Civil Defense, State Department of Health, told the group that it is now planned to set up a training program in each county of the state as a result of which at least one member of each family will be trained to provide medical care for his or her family.

Such a program, to be effected within the next two years, is necessary, it was pointed out, because in the event of nuclear attack the population, including doctors and other trained personnel, will be driven to shelter for a period as long as 14 days, leaving families in private shelters to their own resources as to medical care.

Dr. William H. McBeath, of the U. S. Surgeon General's staff, who is on loan to Kentucky as acting director of the Division of Medical Services, headed the afternoon panel discussion on indigent medical care. The program as now constituted was discussed, and Dr. McBeath cited the need for the addition of another group of beneficiaries—those who are not on state aid but who are temporarily disabled, without income and means to procure adequate medical attention. Dr. McBeath is also on the staff of the University of Kentucky medical school.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, Kentucky commissioner of health, arrived at noon and attended a part of the afternoon session. Others from the Department of Health at the conference were:

Linda B. Hayes, director of the Division of In-Service Training and Recruitment, which sponsors the district conferences; Dr. Edward M. Thompson, assistant director of the Bureau of Local Health Services; Harvey G. McAndrews, director of the Division of Sanitation; Ruth Spurrier, director of the Division of Public Health Nursing; Robert Bradford, of the Division of Medical Services; Straughn Taylor, director of the Bureau of Statistics and Records, and Eugene Perkins, director of the Division of Plumbing.

The Floyd County Health Department served the conference as host.

Melanie Ann Conley, of Eastern, prepares to help Bruce Lourie, vice president of the John Deere organization, light candles on a giant birthday cake in Chicago. The cake, noting the 40th anniversary of the National 4-H Congress and the 125th anniversary of John Deere's development of the first successful steel plow in 1837, was a feature of a dinner party honoring Melanie Ann and other recreation winners in the 4-H recreation program, for which the John Deere organization is donor of awards. Melanie Ann, as state recreation winner from Kentucky, won a free trip to this year's 4-H Congress.

Miss Conley is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollie Conley, of Eastern.

Now's a good time to pop corn at home—with the biggest popcorn harvest ever, plenty should be on the market. For home popping, look for the smaller, extra tender varieties. Popcorn kernels expand over 30 times in size when they pop—one ounce of raw corn makes a full quart when popped. For a change, try seasoning popped corn in the bowl with garlic salt—or onion salt—or chili powder—or grated cheese.

The car, in which Jerry Lee Kuck, 21, of Wapakoneta, was also a passenger, was driven by its owner, William C. Phillips. He, too, underwent surgery. Both Phillips and Kuck are considered in fair condition.

Investigating highway patrolmen said the trio was in a new convertible and that the car skidded 350 feet in a curve, plunged 345 feet from the highway and turned over three times. Phillips was pinned underneath the car and it took half an hour to remove him.

Principal Has Right To Bar The Patronage Of Eat Establishments

A high school principal has the legal right to bar pupils from patronizing any eating establishment during school hours, Assistant Attorney General Ray Corns said last week.

"The question is one which has been much discussed this year after many schools restricted lunchtime eating to school facilities or to food taken to school by the pupils themselves.

Mrs. Opal Birchfield, of Hellier, posed the question for Corns to answer. He cited a Court of Appeals ruling which said, in part:

"It is common knowledge that children, if allowed to depend upon their own selection, often indulge themselves in unbalanced diets."

PIKEVILLE BEARS SCHEDULE THREE GAMES IN 3 STATES

Pikeville, Ky., Dec. 4 (Spl.)—The Pikeville College Bears, with three wins to date in four games, set out this week on a three-game tour of West Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Their wins last week were over West Virginia Tech, 72-64 at Pikeville, and Campbellsville College, 78-72 at Campbellsville. On the trip they were to have their first meetings with West Virginia Wesleyan College at Buckhannon Tuesday and Steubenville (Ohio) College Wednesday, and Thursday will renew last year's acquaintance with Gannon College at Erie, Pa.

Pete Campbell notched half the Bears' field goals and half their free throws to lead all scorers as Paul Butcher's men spoiled Campbellsville College's homecoming Saturday (Dec. 2), 78-72. The senior forward sank 13 of 23 tries from the field and 13 of 16 from the charity line to total 39 points, raising his average to 27.5 per game.

The Campbellsville Tigers had surged to a 14-3 opening lead before the Bruins pulled up, as Campbell tied the score with a fielder and gave the Butchermen their first lead with a pair of free throws. After two quick changes of lead, a layup by Charles Duncil of Hazard put Pikeville in front to stay, 35-34, with a couple of minutes left in the first half.

From a 37-34 halftime advantage, the Bears pulled ahead by a dozen points before a Tiger rally cut the margin to the winning six, 78-72.

Don "Florida Sunshine" Elliott came off the bench to contribute 16 points, second high for the Bears. Big Mike Surface led the Tigers with 19.

Duncil and Hindman's Jim Moore registered nine points each, and senior guard John Will Hunt, "the Feds Creek Flash," with a handy floor game, added five points.

The Bears' home opener against West Virginia Tech, Tuesday (Nov. 28) at Pikeville, also started out wrong for Pikeville supporters, as Tech ran up early leads of 4-0 and 9-5. Moore's fielder put the Bears ahead to stay 13-11 with 13:00 left in the first half, and by half-time they led 35-26.

Building their lead to 14 points, 67-53, with 3 minutes to go, the Bruins saw half a dozen points of it slip away before the final horn. Pikeville's Junior Varsity, just as lucky as its elders but not quite so selective of opponents, ran into two snags last week-end and took two tumbles, to leave its standing at 2-2.

Traveling to play the harmless-sounding Winchester (Ky.) AAU team Friday, they found it loaded with former college stars now playing semi-pro ball, and took their first tumble, 98-78. Among high scorers for the Winchester five were Cohen, formerly of Kentucky; Cole, of Eastern; Upchurch, of Western; Martin County's Herbie Triplett, of Morehead; and Smith, of Georgetown.

At Louisville the following night the touring JV's were fodder for the University of Louisville's towering freshmen in the young Cardinals' season opener, and bowed 98-76. In their next outing they will travel to Clinch Valley College (Wise, Va.) Friday (Dec. 8).

Russell Ward, of Meade Memorial, totaled 40 points in the Little Bears' two games last week; Wilburn Preston of Meade got 29, Bobby Owens of Virgie 27, and Tommy Mullins of Carr Creek 20. Jenkins' Raynor Mullins added 13 points, Chattaroy's Paul D. Scott 12, Harry Meek, of Meade, nine, David Mauth, two, and Auxier's Roger Setser, two.

Three Floyd Natives Ask $103,390 Damages

Three Floyd county natives have filed, as the result of an automobile accident over two years ago, civil suits in the Rowan circuit court, asking a total of $103,390.34.

The plaintiffs are Bertha Turner, widow of T. J. Turner, of Minnie; Birdie Hall, wife of M. J. Hall, of Flemingsburg, and Nannie Hall, widow of E. V. (Hack) Hall, former superintendent of Floyd county schools, also of Flemingsburg. Mrs. Turner seeks $26,672.79, Mrs. Birdie Hall, $38,373.25, and Mrs. Nannie Hall, $38,344.30. The damages are claimed for permanent bodily injury and medical bills.

Defendants are M. J. Hall, Fleming county, and James Arthur Pernell and Jack Winters, both of Morehead.

The accident occurred August 16, 1959, when an automobile, driven by Hall, in which the three women were passengers, collided with a car belonging to Winters and operated by Pernell. The three women alleged both drivers were negligent.

Court records show that the law firm of Hoge and Hoge, representing Hall, sued Winters and Pernell in another case for $20,000 but this has been settled out of court.

The case was called for trial at Morehead, November 27 but Judge John J. Winn granted a continuance until the March term as Pernell was not available to testify.

It is one of the largest automobile damage suits ever filed at Morehead.

SHE HAS THE WINNING HABIT

There's no use "teaming up" against Shirley Garms. She's bound to come out ahead.
The Brunswick Bowling Star is the top women's team captain in the game today—and she has been for many years. Almost every time she leads a squad into battle, it comes home with a title.
During her 22-year career, Mrs. Garms, who will be appearing at Crown Lanes from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m., Monday, Dec. 18, has captained more than 20 championships teams. Included among her triumphs are the WIBC Tournament, the Illinois State competition and the Chicago Tournament (three times).
Mrs. Garms is also a top-flight competitor in the individual tournaments. She's been title-holder in the Chicago Match Games five times, the Chicago Singles twice, the Central Illinois All Events twice, the Fort Wayne All Events, the Ruppert-Brunswick Tournament of Champions.
In addition, she finished runner-up in two of bowling's biggest tournaments, the All-Star and the WIBC All-Events. In 1961 she finished third in the All-Star.
During her appearance at Crown Bowling Lanes, Mrs. Garms will roll an exhibition match and give free instruction to local bowlers. She is one of the more than 125 big leaguers on the Brunswick Advisory Staff of Champions who promote bowling with nationwide appearances.

HYDEN THANKS VOTERS

I am deeply appreciative of the votes I received in the recent election and I want to take this means of tendering my heartfelt gratitude to those who supported me.

Though I was defeated, there were hundreds of Democrats who voted for me because they had confidence I would make them a good Sheriff. The battle for good government is a continual struggle and must go on. We must remain vigilant.

To those who supported my opponent and to my opponent I hold no ill-will whatever. We all exercise our privilege of franchise according to our understanding of the issues and we must accept the verdict of the majority as the best system yet devised in selecting our officials.

Again, allow me to express my thanks to all of you.

WAYLAND WASPS WIN PRE-SEASON TOURNEY

Tommy Boyd's Wayland Wasps staged a whirlwind finish in the final half to edge Maytown, 86-84, in an overtime period for the championship of the 18th annual Floyd County Pre-Season Tournament here Saturday night.
In the nip-and-tuck game, the lead changed seven times before the final 1:07 as both teams missed several opportunities to win before the extra three-minute period.
Guard Phillip Coleman drove the length of the court for an easy lay-up with 45 seconds to play to provide the margin of victory for the Wasps.
Bromley Williams and Coleman tabbed 25 and 23 points, respectively, in the free-scoring melee and Maytown got 20-point plus performances from Danny Stevens (26), Hubert Halbert (24) and Bob Tallent (20).

Wayland had gained the finals by ousting Wheelwright, 57-47, in the first round and by coming from behind in the fourth quarter to eliminate Prestonsburg, 51-47. In the semi-finals, Betsy Layne was an 87-58 victim.
Eugene Frasure's Wildcats had moved to the final round by downing Garrett, 56-52, in the first round, and McDowell in the semi-finals by an 87-81 margin.
McDowell won the third-place trophy with an 83-79 conquest of Martin and a 68-82 romp over Betsy Layne.

Broken Hand Suffered By Western State Star; Military Duty Scheduled

Charles Osborne, son of Bill Osborne, of Prestonsburg, apparently is through for the season after playing only four games with the Syracuse Nationals of the National Basketball Association.

The former Western Kentucky State College star suffered a broken hand, November 23, in a game with the St. Louis Hawks. The hand will be in a cast for a month, and he is scheduled to report for military duty, January 1.

Osborne did not play at the start of the pro basketball season because of an ankle injury suffered during the exhibition schedule.

REHASHING THE TOURNAMENT

The profit this year was $600 above last season.
The Wayland Wasps dethroned Wheelwright as champion of the annual Floyd county pre-season tournament by nipping the game Maytown Wildcats in an overtime period, 86-84, Saturday night.

Although defense was lacking throughout the entire tourney, the Wasps got their money's worth as early-season shooting was excellent.

Five of the nine games were decided by four or less points, and the only wide margins in the five-day series was McDowell's and Wayland's wins over Betsy Layne.

Individual scorers in the tournament were Bromley Williams (Wayland), 87 points in four games for a 21.7 game average; Dean Stewart (McDowell), 87 points in three games for a 23.7 average; Phillip Coleman (Wayland), 68 points in four games, or a 17-point average; Bob Tallent (Maytown), 62 points in three games for a 20.7 average; David Turner (McDowell), 60 points in three games for a 20-point average, and Danny Stevens (Maytown), 59 points in three games or 19.7 per game.

Garrett high school was awarded the sportsmanship trophy, and McDowell won the team free-throw trophy as well as the consolation title.

Total receipts at the tourney were $9,029.99 and expenses were $894.66 leaving a net profit of $2,335.33 to assist in the overall cost of publishing the Floyd county annual.

Two of last season's outstanding cagers, Bruce Belcher and Forrest Newsome, are member of this season's Marshall University freshman team. In the frosh's 112-77 opening romp over the Marietta College freshmen, Belcher was the game's leading scorer with 23 points and Newsome was second with 16. Coach Jules Rivlin calls them "two outstanding prospects." A member of the varsity squad is former Wheelwright ace Jody Sword, who is expected to see considerable action.

Two members of the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference made the all-state high school football team. Belfry's Rickey Kestner is a repeater at an end position, and Hazard's Lloyd Caudill moved up to the first team at guard after being a third team choice last season.

Kestner teamed with quarterback Floyd Hatfield to establish three state records for linemen: most points scored (109), most touchdowns caught (17), and most touchdowns scored (18).

Setser, Moore Serve In Training Exercise

8th Inf. Div., Germany — Army Pfc. Franklin Setser, son of James Setser, and Pfc. Donald R. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Moore, of Price, Ky., recently participated with other members of the 8th Infantry Division and supporting units in Exercise Main Barge, a V Corps field training exercise in central Germany.

The exercise, which involved some 28,000 troops, was designed to develop small unit leadership and test combat readiness. Friendly forces, opposed by an "aggressor" force, and supported by both conventional and atomic-capable artillery, maneuvered in a 187 square mile area during the exercise.

Setser, a rifleman in Combat Support Company of the division's 26th Infantry which is regularly stationed in Baumholder, entered the Army in October, 1960, completed basic training at Fort Benning, Georgia, and arrived overseas last March. He is a graduate of Auxier high school.

Moore, a tank crewman in Company E of the division's 68th Armor which is regularly stationed in Baumholder, entered the Army in 1958 and arrived overseas in September, 1960. The 20-year-old soldier attended McDowell high school.

History. One assignment bobbed up in the mail which called on me to prepare a legend of a medieval castle.

Having a rather intimate acquaintance with the Legend of Sleepy Hollow and a wide assortment of Old Wives' Tales, I mullied the matter over, took a hitch in my galluses and fell to the task at hand. They wanted a legend of a medieval castle, and a legend they got—liege lord, beautiful maiden in distress, dark walls, a whost that hung around the place, and all. Taking off from that castellated pile of masonry on a bleak English moorland, I really went to town.

Anway, I did the best I could with the thing and mailed it off to good, old ASC.

Ten days or so later, the paper came back with a charitable grading from an instructor in English who, I have been told, was a University of Chicago professor. But right down at the very bottom the prof factually noted something like this: "I enjoyed your legend; but, since this was an exercise in Medieval History, the legend desired is the kind used in architecture to designate the moat, drawbridge, turrets and other parts of the castle and its grounds."

After attempting the other kind of legend, I decided the worst mistake I had made was when I got involved with a subject like that.

Scholarships Available In Many Schools, Noted; Frasure Advises Study

Walter Frasure, Floyd county assistant superintendent of schools, issued a statement this week to guide parents on the procurement of scholarships for their children who plan to enter college. He noted that the Kentucky Department of Education has issued a booklet setting out the scholarships available.

Frasure's statement continued: "A copy of this publication is made available to each high school principal, senior sponsor and guidance counselor of each of our Floyd county high schools.

"It is pointed out that an interested senior should consult his principal, senior sponsor or guidance counselor in his respective school. Students interested in attending a particular college should contact the director of admissions of that college for full information concerning financial aids offered.

"Scholarships, grants, loans and workshops are made available by some thirty Kentucky colleges.

"If a student desires to enter for the summer term, he should make the necessary arrangements now. If he desires to enter the fall term, arrangements should be made during the second semester of high school work."

Pre-school youngsters like to eat with the grown-ups and they like to eat what grown-ups eat. It's easy to prepare food that will suit the whole family—the pre-schoolers need just about the same food as their parents, only a little less of it. However, remember that these children need a good diet of body-building foods—milk at every meal, a variety of fruits and vegetables, cereals, eggs and some meat, fish or chicken.

Whole ham or half a ham, uncooked or partially cooked, will give 2½ servings a pound. The butt or shank end, uncooked or partially cooked, yields two servings per pound. Boneless ham, uncooked or partially cooked, will give you about four servings a pound, while boneless, cooked ham makes four to six servings a pound.

IN MEMORY

In Memory of My Dear Husband:

Andy Jack Akers, 78 years old, passed away at home Nov. 23, 1961 after a sickness of over five years. He was the son of Fred and Melvina Hall Akers. He was married to Millie Cox Akers 54 years ago. He leaves no children, no brothers or sisters. He was the last of his family. He wasn't a member of the church here, but I feel like, from what he said and did, he has gone to rest. I hope to meet him on the golden shore when this life is ended.

He leaves Millie, his wife, and many relatives and friends to mourn over him. I want to thank all who sent flowers or helped in any way, and the preachers for their good words in a time of trouble, and also want to thank the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for the kindness they showed.

Written by Millie Akers, his wife. 1t.-pd.

Ward Elected President Of Regional Road Group

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 27 Spl.) —Henry Ward, Kentucky's Commissioner of Highways, was elected president of the Southeastern Association of State Highway Officials at the annual meeting of the association here this week.

Ward has served the organization, which is composed of highway officials of the 12 southeastern states, as vice president and as chairman of the committee on administration during the past year. As president of SASHO he succeeds F. R. Oliver, who is director of highways for Arkansas.

The association also voted to hold its 1962 annual meeting in Louisville. In electing Ward, the association recognized his progress in guiding the Kentucky department to a position of national leadership in the utilization of available funds for highway construction. Kentucky climbed to a rank of eighth in the nation during the first eight months of 1961 in terms of dollar volume of highway projects under construction. The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads reports that Kentucky ranks third in the nation in the utilization of available federal funds for construction of highways in this fiscal year.

Since Ward became Commissioner of Highways in September of 1960, the department has been reorganized, the number of district offices has been reduced from 14 to 12, and the planning program has been stepped up to the highest point in the history of the department.

By MARTY LOVELACE

The Trail of The Lonesome Pine

If you are interested in traveling approximately 135 miles, and viewing some of the most scenic territory in America, may I suggest the Trail of the Lonesome Pine.

The starting point will be Lexington, famous Blue Grass land, and on to Winchester, Stanton, Campton and Jackson. One will pass such historic places as Eskippakithike, an ancient Shawnee Indian town, where Scottish traders visited long before the Revolutionary War; Lulubegrud Creek, where such historians as John Finley and Daniel Boone once camped, and Pilot Knob where Daniel Boone viewed the Blue Grass of Kentucky for the first time. (Standing about 800 feet above the plains, it is easily seen from Ky. 15, and was used as a landmark for Indians passing up and down the Great Warriors' Trace many years before the white man settled in Kentucky).

The trail climbs higher into the mountains to Natural and Sky Bridges, which are nationally famed for their miles of scenic trails, clear mountain streams and lakes; and scenic, rustic beauty. Lonesome Pine Trail leads to Tight Hollow, one of the last vestiges of the virgin forest which once surrounded Kentucky; by and through Wolfe county, which is said to contain the legendary lost silver mine of John Swift; to Jackson, through a little town called Quicksand, once a lumber metropolis of Eastern Kentucky, and a hundred and one other points of interest. The scenery through the Trail of the Lonesome Pine is rugged and beautiful, and offers every member of the family something of intense interest. Plan a trip real soon . . . and keep the Trail of the Lonesome Pine in mind. It is proof of Kentucky's fame as one of the most beautiful states in America!

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club met November 20, for the regular monthly program meeting. The program was "Moral and Spiritual Values," the leader Mrs. John Dutil. The program was taken from the Book of Ruth in the Bible, illustrating a beautiful story of love.

The devotional was given by Mrs. J. T. Spillman and was in keeping with Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Glen Pack, club president, presided at the business meeting.

The following communication was read: Letter from Mrs. Robert Cohen, asking the cooperation of the club in helping to make a brighter Christmas for the Veterans, and Mrs. Pack ask that each club member contribute $1 to this cause.

A letter was received from Miss Chloe Gifford asking the support and help of the club in the Heart Sunday Drive. The club voted to do this with the date to be announced later.

Reports were given by the standing committee's Mrs. J. C. Wells, finance. She reported that sales had begun on the third shipment of pecans, and that the club netted a profit of $47.00 on the Ware Party. Mrs. Ellen Hornsley, chairman of the sewing club reported that the fourth quilt top had been started, and this will make a total of $40 from the sewing club since October 1. Mrs. Pack reported that $3 had been sent to the Tuberculosis Association.

The hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Gene Mullins, Mrs. Felix Coburn and Mrs. R. H. Messer. A dessert course was served to the following: Mesdames M. M. Collins, J. C. Wells, S. M. Martin, Ellen Hornsley, Charles Hornsley, Milton Trusty, John Dutil, J. T. Spillman, Meriv Dixon, George Evans, Bert Stapleton, Delbert Sloan, Glenn Pack.

The next regular scheduled program meeting will be Jan. 15. Program leaders are Mrs. Delbert Sloan and Mrs. Milton Trusty. Hostesses will be Mesdames Rudolph Spencer, Adam Bukovich, and Miss Ethel Wallen.

Mrs. Pack called attention to the bazaar slated Dec. 2, and the Christmas Party December 16, which will be pot luck.

MRS. JEFF THORNSBERRY AND CHILDREN

DOING FAMILY RESEARCH

Troy Back, native Letcher countian and director of a government agency at Washington, was in Whitesburg recently pursuing research in genealogy. He is writing a book on the mountain families of Back, Brashear, Maggard, Caudill, Dixon and others.

Mr. Back expects to publish the volume soon. Research has extended over a period of many years.

His investigation in the archives of Congress and in the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, found family records going back as far as 1626.

The Maggards came to America three centuries ago as Magert or Magirt, he says.

Brashear was the French Brasear. Caudill apparently came from the French word meaning rope-maker. Around Wilkesboro, North Carolina, he found the name spelled at least 17 ways, from Cardle to Caudle. He has found Brashear spelled 40-odd ways.

"A remarkable thing is the clarity of the handwriting on those ancient documents, even a couple hundred years old," Back said.

He has taken hundreds of photostatic copies of old papers. "They came out beautifully in the pictures," he noted.

In one odd case, one name was signed in a single document three times — and spelled differently in each case.

ALASKA GOLD RUSH

A letter from Karl M. DeHaven, Box 181, Western Kentucky State College, Bowling Green, Ky., seeks information on the Kentuckians who made the Alaska Gold Rush. He writes:

"I'm currently engaged in some historical research, and I need all possible information regarding my subject, which is, Lives of Kentuckians Who Went to Alaska During the Gold Rush, 1896 to about 1910. If any of your readers have information about this subject or know where I can find information, I would appreciate their contacting me. After all the sources have been compiled, the report will be filed in the Kentucky Building Library on the Western campus. Full credit will be given to persons contributing such information as is needed."

The only person, to this columnist's knowledge, who made the Alaska Gold Rush, was Andrew Scalf, native of the Pike county section of Buffalo Creek, who migrated to the state of Washington with others of his family at the turn of the last century.

From Washington he joined the mad scramble to get into the Yukon River valley following the news of the discovery of gold. There is a traditionary story in the family that he traveled 800 miles on a dog sled in a vain search for an elusive fortune.

FARMER AND GEAN FAMILIES
Further correspondence with Oliver Haight, 651 N. 52nd St., East St. Louis, Illinois, brings more complete information on the Farmer and Gean families, both with roots in the Left Beaver section of this county.

He writes:
"It seems an Acie Farmer, likely born in Pennsylvania, married Hallie, and they came to Wayne county, Illinois, possibly by 1824 or 1825. He had a farm and a blacksmith shop in the village of Fairchild that became the county seat. This is traditional as all the records of this Farmer family were burned in the Wayne county courthouse fire in 1886.

"We believe there were eight children. John, born about 1829, James M., 1835, and Mary Ann who was married. Also a Jane and a Lizzie were named and likely there were a Melvin and Miles. Seems about 1840 this Farmer family moved to Kentucky and it is thought Acie and Hallie married in Kentucky. No one knows where in Kentucky this Farmer family settled but evidently it was near the Gean family since the two boys married two Gean girls.

"We believe John I. may have married Sarah Gean in Kentucky and they had two children born before she died in 1860 in Illinois. James M. Farmer married Efferella Gean in Kentucky but their eight children were all born in Illinois. We know but little of these other Farmer children."

Mr. Haight proffers genealogical data gleaned from the 1860 Census. It follows:

"1860 Census of Wayne county, Illinois, Jasper Township, Gean family. Harry, age 62, farmer, born South Carolina, Mary, age 62, born South Carolina, Henry, age 21, born Tennessee, John, age 17, born Kentucky, Adeline, age 13, born Kentucky. These were at the Gean home in 1860 north of Fairfield, Wayne county, Illinois.

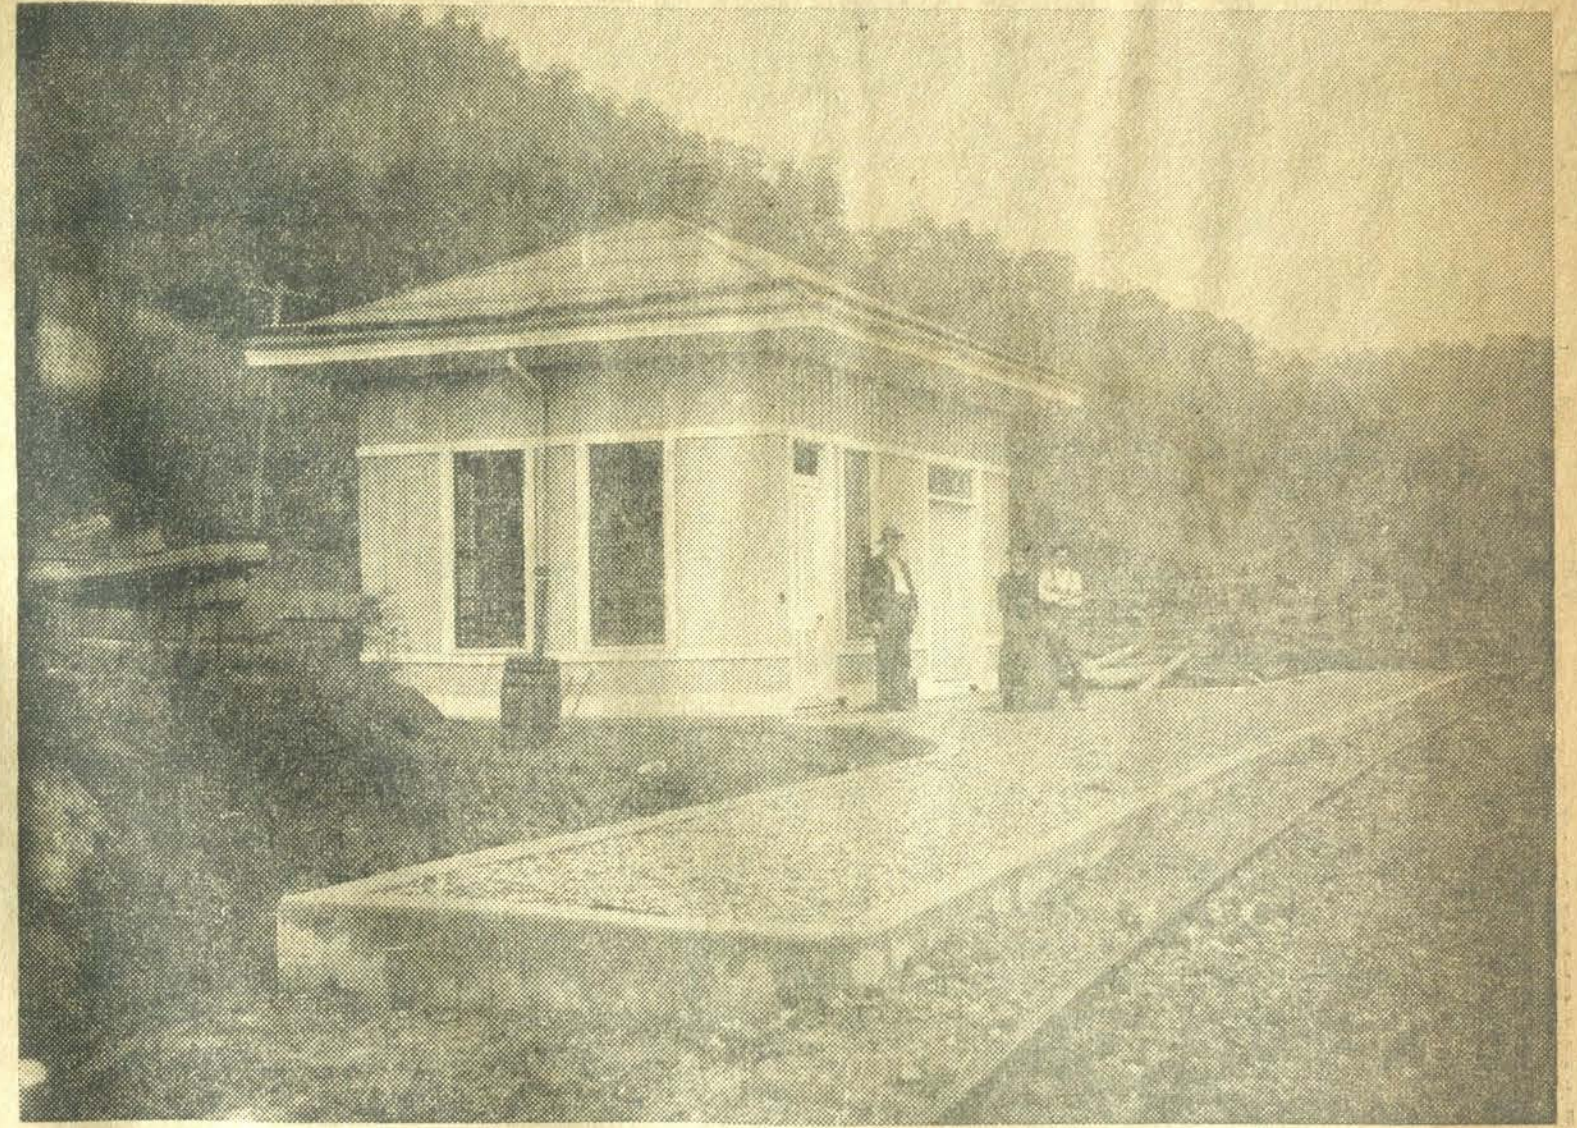

"Children of Harding and Mary Gean. Elizabeth Gean, born March 9, 1825, birthplace not known. Susan Gean, born April 10, 1827, birthplace not known. Efferella Gean, born March 20, 1829, married James M. Farmer in Kentucky. Sarah Gean, born May 31, 1831, married John I. Farmer in Kentucky. Jane Gean, born February 9, 1834. Harry Gean, born April 9, 1836. Henry Gean, born April 15, 1839; single and killed in Civil War. Adeline Gean, born December 18, 1848, married Nathaniel Gray, in Wayne county, Illinois, in 1869.

"It seems true that two of these Gean girls, Efferella and Sarah married two of the Farmer boys in Arkansas about 1850 or 1855 and then came to Illinois."

DINWOOD STATION OF ELK HORN AND BEAVER VALLEY RAILWAY

The construction of the Elk Horn & Beaver Valley railway up Right Beaver Creek, Floyd county, from 1912 to 1914 was accompanied by much litigation over rights-of-way. The construction of the Dinwood railway station was stipulated in the right-of-way contract and reluctance of the railroad to build it brought on a law suit.

Shown here in this photo, an exhibit in the law suit, is the station immediately following construction. The late A. B. Osborne is standing in the doorway.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our regional past in recognition of a rich historic heritage.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of husband and father, T. Y. Martin, who passed away February 1, 1960:

We all loved him very much. God must have loved him, too. We know how many helpful things his kind hands found to do. Within the silent grave he sleeps, the flowers bloom around his grave. It won't be long till Christmas Day. A day that used to be so good and sweet. Little did I know that one day I would be giving you a bunch of flowers instead of a Christmas cake.

We trust God some day him to me. Sadly missed by neighbors, and his wife and son.

Insurance Cancellation
Restriction, Is Planned;
Affects 200 Companies

The Kentucky Department of Insurance has approved a plan under which members and affiliated companies of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters will voluntarily restrict their right to cancel liability insurance on private passenger cars, Commissioner W. T. Hockensmith announced.

Under the rule, Hockensmith explained, unless a company issues a cancellation notice within 60 days after the effective date of a new policy, the company may cancel it only for certain specified reasons. When a company renews an existing policy it can be cancelled only for the specified reasons.

Hockensmith said the new rule would affect only the approximately 200 companies affiliated with the National Bureau. "But it might incline independent companies doing business in the Commonwealth to adopt similar rules," he added.

The specified reasons for which a company may cancel are:

Non-payment of premium when due; Fraudulent misrepresentation in obtaining insurance; Violation of terms or conditions of policy; Committing of acts resulting in suspension or revocation of driver's license during policy term; or failure to produce certificates from two physicians testifying to unqualified ability to operate a motor vehicle if the owner or operator is subject to epilepsy or heart attacks;

Conviction of or forfeiture of bail for three or more violations within a period of 18 months of any speed regulation or any provision constituted a misdemeanor by the motor vehicle laws of any state;

Conviction of or forfeiture of bail, during the 36 months immediately preceding the effective date of the policy, or during the policy term for (a) any felony, or (b) homicide or assault arising out of the operation of a motor vehicle, or criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle resulting in death, or (c) operating a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition, or while disabled by the use of drugs, or (d) leaving the scene of an accident without stopping to report, or (e) theft of a motor vehicle, or (f) making false statements in application for driver's license.

Library Thanks Supporters

In behalf of the members of Floyd County Library Board and the library staff it is my privilege to thank all the people, both children and adults, who supported the library tax vote and contributed to the resounding victory at the polls, November 7.

We feel the vote passing the tax was not so much a victory for the Library as it was for all Floyd county. Many friends have said the vote is proof of our efforts to make this a better county. We will make every effort to justify the faith put in us by continuing to give the best library service within our abilities.

CANEY CREEK CENTER WRAPPING "PRETTIES" FOR RURAL CHILDREN

At Thanksgiving time, Caney Creek Community Center listed the first hundred classrooms of mountain children whose "pretties" are already assembled, wrapped and tagged with the child's own name.

At least one hundred other teachers' lists are on hand for further wrapping and packaging. It is expected about 800 small rural schools will be provided parcels of Christmas enjoyment through Caney Creek before December 25.

One reason for listing these schools is the widespread misunderstanding following Caney's announcement it would not attempt to send pretties to all the large consolidated schools this year. But it is hoped all rural school lists which arrive on time, "pretties" can be supplied.

Parcels prepared for mailing to the schoolrooms for rural schools are for:

Arminda A. Ritchie, upper grades at Ritchie; Loretta Pratt, lower grades of Myrtle school at Bonanza; Chloe Cregg and Ruby C. Amburgey, upper and lower grades of Bearville; Joe Elliott, upper grades of Beaver school at Grethel; Nadine Hamilton, grades 1 and 2 at Grethel; Alva Jean Newsome, middle grades, Grethel.

Elouise Farmin, lower grades, Thelma school; Lillie Mae Adams, Caretta, W. Va., lower grades; Vivian D. ## KING JAMES TRANSLATION STILL BEST SELLING BOOK

King James I of England has been dead more than three centuries but the translation of the Bible that he commissioned continues the best-selling book of all time.

There are excellent newer translations, says Don Wharton in the December Reader's Digest, but the King James Bible, 350 years old this year, remains "The Greatest Bible of Them All." Many Bibles and other books sell a million copies; some sell in the ten millions. But only one book has had sales measured in the hundreds of millions. That is the King James Version.

H. L. Mencken, a critic not noted for religiousness, called it "probably the most beautiful piece of writing in all the literature of the world." It also was an unsurpassed example of group literary effort.

There were 54 scholars on the committee James appointed to make the translation. They included college professors, deans, preachers and bishops, ranging in age from 27 to 73, and for most of them the appointment was an unpaid honor. King James never spent a farthing of his own on the Book which has made his name immortal.

The scholars were divided into six panels. Each man was assigned one section to translate. He worked alone, then read his work aloud to the panel. If his colleagues found fault, they interrupted; otherwise, he read on.

Vice-President Johnson Favors NATO Defenses

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson believes we must strengthen our North Atlantic defenses against Soviet aggression, not weaken them by closing any bases.

Writing in the December Reader's Digest under the title "What Foreigners Want to Know About the United States," Vice President Johnson says many foreigners ask whether it might not be safer for their country to close American bases which anger the Russians. The Vice President replies that total Soviet ground forces outnumber the forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by ten to one. "Neutrality looks almost irresistibly inviting—but it's easy to be engulfed," he writes. "Russia's record of aggression in Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Baltic countries shows that she does not hesitate to take over a weak nation."

Another question foreigners often ask, he writes, is "Why don't you go along with the Soviet proposal to disarm first and inspect later?" To do this, he says, "would be the most irresponsible and dangerous thing the United States could do. The nation that did not keep its word would rule the world. Even a few concealed atomic missiles could cause a holocaust."

He also says that there is "considerable misunderstanding" abroad about our unemployment figures, with many foreigners citing them as evidence that capitalism is doomed. Actually, he notes, the difference is in how the unemployed are counted: "In Europe, workers are not listed as unemployed unless they are registered job seekers. Here, persons may be listed as unemployed, even when they are not actively looking for a job. If we used the European criteria, our unemployed would number not five million but three."

Airlifting Electric Power Towers ...another new way AEP keeps your electric costs low

Power towers that bring electricity to your home, or business, are now being flown to their foundations by helicopter.

Helicopters are working on American Electric Power System lines as go-anywhere trucks...as flying cranes...as high-speed cable stringers.

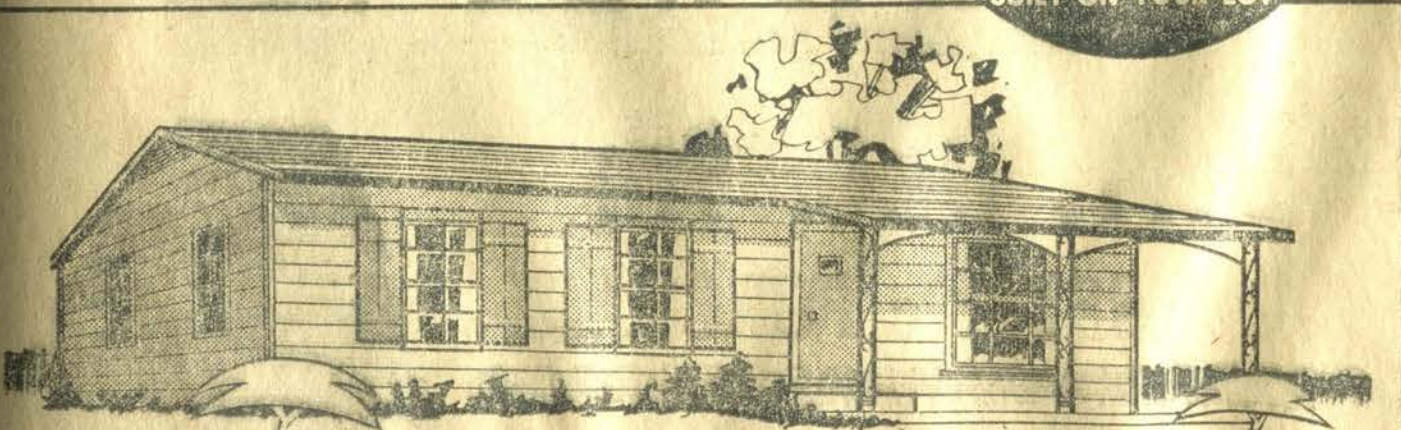

Doing things in new ways to improve service and efficiency is one big reason why the average unit price of electricity, for customers of Kentucky Power Company, has not gone up during twenty years of inflation.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One of the strongest pro-Union editors in Kentucky and perhaps the most influential of them all, George D. Prentice of the Louisville Journal, 100 years ago this week said he was keenly disappointed in President Lincoln's message to Congress. Prentice had been telling Kentucky slaveholders from the beginning that their best chance of keeping their slaves was to keep the state in the Union. Now he thought he detected passages in the President's message to Congress which indicated that Lincoln might be an emancipationist after all.

The Louisville editor summed up his opinion of the message in these words: "We think it reprehensible in a high degree. And the more we think of it, the more reprehensible it appears to us."

The House of Representatives of the Kentucky legislature passed a resolution which said: "Whereas, C. S. Morehead, M. W. Barr and R. T. Durrett, citizens of the State of Kentucky, have been forcibly seized, without warrant of law, by order of the Federal government, and taken beyond the jurisdiction of this Commonwealth, and are now incarcerated in the military forts of the United States, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, that the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby requested to demand of the President of the United States the immediate delivery of the citizens

Hazard Man Is Named Scout Council Prexy; Succeeds Pikeville Man

At the annual business meeting of Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, at Wise, Virginia, November 27, A. R. Barber, of Hazard, who has served as vice-president of the Council for several years, was unanimously elected president of the Council for 1962.

He succeeds Walter P. Walters, of Pikeville, who has held that position for the past four years.

Mr. Barber is a native of Holden, West Virginia. He was graduated from VPI in 1931 with a B.S. degree in electrical engineering and in 1932 with a M.S. degree in fuel engineering. After graduation he worked for the Island Creek Coal Company at Holden, and in 1933 he became associated with the Kentucky Power Company at Hazard as plant chemist. He has been manager of the Hazard district of Kentucky Power Company since 1948.

Active in civic and community affairs, he is a past president of the Hazard Lions Club, past chairman of the Perry County Chapter of the American Red Cross, and past chairman of the Hazard Chamber of Commerce.

He is now president of the Hazard Golf Club, a member of the board of directors of Lees Junior College and an elder in the First Presbyterian Church, Hazard.

He has a background of 23 years in Scouting. In 1954, he received the Silver Beaver award.

TONS OF FERTILIZER

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky farmers purchased 562,203 tons of fertilizer during the year ending June 30, 1961, the UK Experiment Station feed and fertilizer department said this week.

Polluted Water Charged With Causing Hepatitis Health Commissioner Says

Polluted water is thought to be the cause of most of the 2,000 cases of infectious hepatitis reported in Kentucky last year, Dr. Russell E. Teague, commissioner of the State Health Department, has reported.

"Many of the hepatitis cases were traced directly to unsanitary water supplies," he said.

Dr. Teague, speaking at the eighth annual water and sewage plant operators' school at the Health Department in Frankfort, added that Kentucky has made "tremendous strides" since 1935 in fighting the pollution problem.

"The thing we must do now is close the gap between what we know and what we are doing," he said.

He pointed out that people now have a tendency to feel that the problem of infectious disease has been solved because typhoid and dysentery are no longer prevalent. But, he said, they overlook the pollution factor involved in the hepatitis outbreak.

Praising work of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, he said every major city in Kentucky on the Ohio River has a sewage treatment now except Maysville.

A suit is now pending to force construction of a treatment plant there. Dr. Teague said the Maysville suit marks the first time that the state has taken action against a city over the pollution question. And now that city is going ahead with construction plans, he said.

Col. John M. Shackleford, commander of a Union regiment, received a letter from the mother of a recruit, saying: "My boy has been tenderly cared for, and his morals as strictly guarded as a girl's. He is young, unsophisticated and innocent as the most refined female. . . . My boy is gentle, but firm and unwavering. He can be managed by kindness, but not by harshness. Thi I know by experience. I know martial laws are rigid; be gentle and forbearing in consequence of his youth and inexperience."
