This Town-- That World

We asked for hotter weather, and we got it. Now keep on griping, and you'll get cold weather--if you live long enough.

Spring jumps into summer so quickly, these days, that I escape the spring fever that in other years beset me. Or is it because I'm so dead, spring or summer, that I can't feel the difference?

ON PRESS-DAY, TOO

Well, just about everything has happened in this office since we began fighting the wolf at the door 25 years ago. And now a common, ordinary housecat has taken up abode here and had herself a passel of kittens. This happened on press-day, the day when most such events take place in newspaper families.

A THING OF BEAUTY

Those of us who have long envied other sections of the Commonwealth and their beautiful state parks still have difficulty believing what we see at Jenny Wiley State Park. Kentucky Village on Kentucky Lake and Chandler Island on Cumberland may be larger installations, but we predict none will be more beautiful than Jenny Wiley's. And what a setting for all man is doing! Mountains and sky and water--take these, and you have a combination that's hard to beat.

INTOXICANTS DESTROYED

Confiscated Whiskey Is Poured Down Drain; Five Cases Are Stolen

After he had discovered that five of the approximately 17 cases of whiskey stored in his office had been stolen, Police Judge Watt Hale Tuesday afternoon poured what was left down the drain.

The whiskey was confiscated recently by Policemen Ray Collins and Ray Citek, who arrested Charles Osborne, of Prestonsburg, driver of a rum-laden auto.

Judge Hale discovered the loss of the whiskey Monday morning. A ladder apparently was used by the thieves in gaining access to his second-story office, via a window. The lock of the door had not been tampered with, it was said. Chief of Police Bill Potter said marks were left on the window, the top of which had been forced down.

Destruction of the whiskey was witnessed by Chief of Police Porter, Policemen Collins, Mayor George P. Archer, the Rev. T. W. Chisholm, Councilman Herbert Salsbury, Fire Chief Henry Gray and others.

Hale said this week his weekly court session will be held on Wednesday instead of Monday.

COLLEGE SITE PLEDGES ONLY HALF REDEEMED

MAY 15 DATE PASSES, GOAL FAR DISTANT

Banks, School Board Report $52,194 Paid; Minimum Need, $100,000

The Big Sandy College Development Fund, created for the purpose of buying a site here for a two-year college, rose Wednesday noon barely past the halfway mark.

With a minimum of $100,000 sought, and more than that pledged, money actually paid to banks or withheld from payrolls to redeem pledges totalled $52,194.

And that figure was reached after the May 15 deadline had passed. Cash and checks to redeem pledges will continue to be received, but the time is growing short in which to raise the funds needed for the site purchase, it was emphasized.

To List Contributors

Next week, The Times will, insofar as this information can be accumulated through cooperation of the finance committee and the county's four banks, publish the names of those who have "made good" their pledges. Amounts paid will not be published, however.

The collection figures, as reported Wednesday follow:

First National Bank, $25,000; Bank Josephine, $20,000; Floyd Federal Savings & Loan Association, $2,500; First Guaranty Bank, $1,297; payroll deductions by the Floyd County Board of Education, $3,397.40.

CD COUNCIL TALKS DRIVE

To Procure Site Funds For Community College; Airport Plans Announced

The Prestonsburg Community Development Council at its regular weekly meeting at the Wise restaurant Wednesday noon, discussed the drive to raise the $100,000 pledged to the college site fund and noted that fulfillment of pledges is slow.

Burl Spurlock told the Council that the finance committee would meet this evening (Thursday) to explore means to step up the drive. Mayor George P. Archer suggested that a committee go on the radios for an all-day appeal.

WOMAN DIES OF INJURIES

Truck-Auto Mishap Fatal To Mrs. Hale; Johnson Executes Bond

Mrs. Julia Ann Hale, 64-year-old Pyramid woman, was fatally injured last Friday afternoon in a truck-auto collision at Garrett to become the county's second highway victim in four days.

Betty Jo Powers, 11, of Auxier, was fatally hurt last Tuesday to become the first fatality of the week.

Mrs. Hale was injured as she and her son, Andy Hale, also of Pyramid, were driving homeward from the funeral of an uncle. Their car was hit by an oncoming clock truck driven by Charles Jennings Johnson, of Mousie. Mrs. Hale died en route to a Martin hospital of head and internal injuries.

It was said that a car with a flat tire was parked at Johnson's side of the highway, with its outside tires about eight inches on the highway. The truckdriver apparently hit his brakes, the truck veering to the opposite lane and into the path of the Hale car.

Johnson was booked on a manslaughter charge but later executed $5,000 bond to answer to action of the grand jury.

The same bond was required Monday for the release of Mrs. Goldie Clark, of the Auxier Road, driver of the car which last Tuesday struck the Powers child at Auxier.

Mrs. Hale is survived by her husband, Willie Hale, her mother, Mrs. Savilla Moore Nolen, of Pyramid; five daughters and one son: Mrs. Dovie Patrick, Kenton, O.; Mrs. Rhoda Sweeney, Lima, O.; Mrs. Callie Lones, Dayton, O.; Mrs. Eva Chaffins, of David, Mrs. Josephine Faulkner, Willard, O., and Andy Hale, of Pyramid.

Mrs. Hale was a daughter of the late William Nolen and was a member of the Regular Baptist Church. Her funeral was conducted Saturday, the Revs. Russell Jacobs, Tony Hughes, Charlie Gibson and M. C. Wright officiating. (See Story No. 5, Page 3)

FISHTRAP DAM FUNDS ASKED

Perkins Wants Approval Of $6,700,000 by Group To Continue Construction

The House Appropriations subcommittee on Public Works has been asked by Congressman Carl D. Perkins to approve $6,700,000 to continue construction of Fishtrap Reservoir for the next fiscal year. Perkins also urged that $3,200,000 be approved for the John W. Flannagan Reservoir, $500,000 to start construction on the north fork of the Pound River Reservoir, and $49,200 for the Big Sandy study, paving the way for design and construction for other reservoirs in the Big Sandy basin.

Total estimated cost of the Fishtrap Reservoir is $49,700,000. The Congress appropriated $1,780,000 last session to begin construction which is now under way. The President had recommended $4,650,000 to continue construction in the next fiscal year, Perkins said that while this amount would assure progress toward its completion, the additional sums he requested might enable the project to be in operation a year in advance of the present Corps of Engineers schedule.

The Flannagan Reservoir, located on the Pound River about 1.8 miles above the mouth in the Big Sandy River basin, will afford flood control benefits for the Big Sandy basin communities. Total cost of this project is about $12,800,000 and completion is scheduled for September of 1963.

The $49,200 requested by Perkins for the Big Sandy River survey will enable the completion of the report in the next fiscal year at a total cost of $217,600. Perkins expressed confidence that the report would prove the feasibility and desirability of constructing three major flood control reservoirs in the Big Sandy basin.

Perkins emphasized to the Committee the importance of developing the water resources of the Big Sandy area for the contribution that such projects would make in developing local industry. He pointed to the fact that these areas had long suffered high rates of unemployment. (See Story No. 7, Page 4)

DRIFT CLUB RANKS 2nd IN ACHIEVEMENT

Two small Kentucky towns--McKee in Jackson county and Drift in Floyd--last week won first and second places in the state Community Achievement Contest sponsored by the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Drift Woman's Club won the No. 2 award with its garbage disposal project. The $200 cash prize accompanying the next-to-top rating won by the club there was presented Tuesday evening at the countywide community beautification meeting at Drift by Mrs. R. V. May, immediate past governor of the Seventh district, K.P.W.C., to Mrs. C. J. Cahill, president of the winning club.

The McKee Woman's Club won the top award of $300 for its leadership in the construction there of a clinic and in inducing a doctor to locate there. The community had been without the services of a resident physician for years.

The Drift Woman's Club enlisted the aid of county officials and other leaders in June, 1960, as it began working toward a central garbage disposal project to serve Drift and surrounding communities. That fall, the project was operating. Floyd county supplied a bulldozer to prepare the site and excavate deep trenches for the garbage. Periodically, a bulldozer is (See Story No. 6, Page 3)

INSTALLATION TO PARK DIKE IS UNDER WAY

Service To Cottages, Lodge Within 90 Days Is Crash Program Plan

The low bidder, The Times learned Wednesday afternoon, was the H. B. Ranier Construction Company, of Prestonsburg. The firm offered a bid of $207,673.04.

Ranier will begin work on the project next Wednesday.

Bids on the laying of water and gas lines and installation of three pumping stations and a sewage disposal unit--all to serve the Jenny Wiley State park lodge and cottages--were scheduled for opening at Frankfort Wednesday.

The utilities lines are to be laid from the dike separating Brandy Keg Creek from the Johns Creek basin to the sites of new construction in the park.

Laying of water and gas lines from the upper city limits of Prestonsburg to the dike has already been begun by the Prestonsburg Municipal Water & Gas System.

The state's part of the undertaking, which also will include the installation of a water reservoir, may run in the neighborhood of $300,000, it was estimated this week.

Whoever undertakes the job will have only 90 days in which to finish it. The work is emphasized as a "crash program," since completion and opening of the lodge and new vacation cottages are scheduled within that time.

Foundation work is being done by Division of Parks employees on the 10 additional cottages, and McGuiders & Vanhose, successful bidders on their construction, will begin work within the next few days.

The lodge itself and adjacent living units are under roof, and the contracting firm of Akers & Akers has set July 15 as the completion date on this huge undertaking.

Other matters discussed at the meeting of civic leaders were:

1. The city cleanup program here was the subject of wide comment. Tom James, of the American Legion, reported that the veterans organization had painted its building on Lake Drive. Others noted similar signs of cleanup improvement.

2. Spurlock and Marvin Music discussed acquisition of property for the proposed Blockhouse Bottom airport. Spurlock said all condemnation suits had been dismissed in Johnson county and in order to treat everyone fairly, new suits would be instituted against all landowners at the same time.

3. It was suggested that the Kentucky State Police should be pressed to assist more effectively in the Floyd county cleanup campaign.

4. Mayor Archer reported on the attempts to procure funds to build new city sewers and said that the city, after being turned down by the Area Redevelopment Administration, is in a position to apply to the FHA at Atlanta.

5. Charles Conley discussed what was new on tourist promotion.

of the people over the nation favored the legislative proposal.

Perkins said that the hearings conducted by his subcommittee disclosed an urgent need for this legislation. He said, "There has been an average of almost a million out-of-school and unemployed young people between the ages of 16 and 21 over the past 12 months. Statistical projections indicated at the hearings that this problem of unemployment for youth will be greatly intensified in the immediate future.

Forty per cent more people under 25 years of age will enter the labor force in the 1960's than did in the 1950's. In 1965, 2.7 million young people will enter the labor force for the first time. During the entire span of the 1960's 26 million young people will have become part of the American work force."

Raymond Jarrell and his wife, Lorraine, were injured on U. S. 23 at Cow Creek last Friday morning when two cars were hit by a jack-knifing trailer-truck. The Jarrells were taken to the Miners' Memorial hospital at Pikeville but were later reported released.

The accident occurred when the Jarrell car and another driven by Gary E. Belcher, Fremont, O., were driving in the direction of Prestonsburg, with Belcher following Jarrell. Belcher moved to pass Jarrell but, seeing the oncoming truck, cut back into his lane. The truckdriver reportedly hit his brakes and the truck jackknifed, hitting both automobiles.

A supply truck of the Spurlock Food Service wrecked on Abbott mountain Monday, the truck and its cargo of 2,000 gallons of milk spilling an estimated 200 feet down the mountainside. The driver jumped to safety when it became apparent the vehicle was beyond control.

Think you're average? If you are, you ate nearly 8½ pounds of cheese last year, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates. Ten years ago, people were eating only a little over seven pounds each.

Reed; Rafe Lafferty, possession of alcoholic beverages; Eds11 Wilhite, cold check; Ray Walters, reckless use of a deadly weapon; Rondie Sexton, reckless driving and disturbing church; Herman Isaac, drunk driving; Columbus Compton, driving while intoxicated; Grace Burke, of West Prestonsburg, drunk driving and no operator's license.

COMMITTEE TO SELECT SUCCESSOR TO DR. PAGE AT PIKEVILLE COLLEGE

Six members of the Pikeville College board of trustees will form a committee to study the selection of a successor to Dr. A. A. Page, Pikeville president, whose resignation will take effect Dec. 31.

Names of the committee members were announced by the Rev. Dr. James W. Angell, chairman of the board and pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Lexington, Ky. With B. F. Reed, Drift industrialist, as chairman, the group also will include Pikeville's academic dean and one teacher.

Also announced were names given by the board to the college's two new dormitories. The women's residence will be called Condit Hall, after the late Dr. W. C. Condit, longtime pastor of the Ashland (Ky.) First Presbyterian Church.

The new facility for men was named Memorial Hall in honor of all persons, living and dead, who have worked in the interest of the college throughout its history, it was said.

Members of the presidential selection committee, besides the chairman, include Mrs. Ralph B. Baird, Devon, Pa.; William J. Baird and Lon B. Rogers, attorneys, and N. A. Chrisman, Sr., insurance broker, all of Pikeville, and Dr. Angell, ex officio. Advisory members are Academic Dean Redford Damron of Pikeville and Miss Stella Elkins, history teacher at the college since 1949.

The Pikeville board accepted Dr. Page's resignation "out of a deep sense of regret," Dr. Angell said in announcing the action. Dr. and Mrs. Page plan to move to a new home in Mt. Sterling, Ky., soon after the first of the year, but he has agreed to continue his association with the college in a public-relations and advisory capacity, the chairman reported.

In other action, the 800-seat chapel in Pikeville's Record Memorial Building, nearing completion, was named "Faith Chapel" by the trustees in honor of the women of the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. The women's organization of the church will have given more than $150,000 toward the building and its contents by the end of 1962, including $93,000 in 1955 and $65,000 pledged this year.

"During Dr. Page's term as president, the college has achieved many significant successes, including the expansion to a full four-year course and the full accreditation received last fall," Dr. Angell pointed out. Pikeville was elected to membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in November, only four years after the graduation of the first four-year class from the college. The expansion to four-year college status in 1957 followed some 40 years as a junior college.

The college president, a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church for some 20 years, was elected to a one-year term as moderator of his church's Kentucky Synod in 1959. Last March he was "Man of the Year" of the Pike County Chamber of Commerce.

Prominent in Kentucky as a Rotarian, he also is a Mason and a member of the American Legion. He holds both B. A. and M. A. degrees from Western Kentucky State College, Bowling Green, and the Master of Arts degree also from the University of Kentucky, and in 1943 was honored with the Litt. D. degree by Centre College, Danville, Ky.

Page, 63, is a native of Taylor county, Kentucky, and attended Campbellsville high school there. He and Mrs. Page have three children—Jack T. Page, Pikeville attorney, Mrs. John Marvin, St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. Lon E. Roberts, Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Zetta Conn Stanley, 32, of Dwale, died Saturday at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin. She was a daughter of Elcana Conn and Margaret Crum Conn, of Arkansas Creek.

Mrs. Stanley was twice married, her first husband, Clayborn Jones, preceding her in death. Her second husband, Ralph Stanley, survives. Surviving are two sons and a daughter: Arlee Jones, Ellis Jones and Mary Jones, all at home. Surviving brothers and sisters are Thomas Conn, Hatler Conn, Lonnie Conn, Estill Conn, Mrs. Mollie Sammons and Mrs. Lou Conn, all of Martin, Wayne Conn, Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Anna Sammons, Jackson, Michigan.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Monday at the Arkansas Creek Church of Christ, the Revs. Benny Blankenship, Henry Parsons and Robert Martin officiating. Burial was made in the Sammons cemetery under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

SOIL CONSERVATION BY L. R. JOHNSON

Thomas Wallace, of Wayland, Alka Davis and Rody Davis, both of Middle Creek, G. B. Lafferty, of Bull Creek, and Roy Denney, of Drift, plan to install tile with a tiling machine in the near future. The tiling machine cuts to a grade regardless of the roughness of the land.

If you are near where this machine is working, watch it for a few minutes. You will be surprised at the speed and accuracy with which the machine works.

FLOOD DAMAGE

Several farmers in Floyd county are interested in repairing flood damaged land. The Soil Conservation Service has a responsibility in planning what can and should be done.

The planning will start as soon as possible after the legal papers for doing the work are received.

GRASSED WATERWAY DAMAGE

Arthur Whitaker, of Middle Creek, and Daniel Akers, of Mud Creek, have some flood damage to grassed waterways. The damaged areas will be repaired in the near future.

Most of the grassed waterways that have been shaped and seeded within the last few years are in good shape in spite of the hard rains.

Wayland Is Low Level Entry Point For Jet Bombers Flying Missions To Simulate Bomb Drop Training

Special to The Times
Coffutt AFB, Neb. — Jet bomber crews of the Strategic Air Command will begin flying missions on May 21 against simulated targets near Newberry, South Carolina.

Radar bomb scoring equipment mounted on an Air Force train parked near the target will score the accuracy of simulated bomb drops by means of radio and radar signals.

The simulated bomb runs will be flown by B-47 and B-52 bombers at subsonic speeds.

The bombers will enter the route at high altitude near Lexington, Kentucky. When the planes arrive at low level entry point in the vicinity of Wayland, Kentucky, they will descend to an altitude between 5,000 feet and 6,000 feet and fly over a route 10 miles wide into the target. Upon approach to the target the bombers will climb to 7,000 feet for a simulated bomb run.

No bombs are carried by the SAC bombers while on these training flights.

All target and route selections have been coordinated with the Federal Aviation Agency. Populated areas and areas of heaviest air traffic will be avoided.

Notice to Bidders

The Floyd County Board of Education will accept sealed bids until 12 noon Saturday, June 2, 1962, for the following:

- Teaching aids and materials.
- Duplicator and mimeograph paper, 20-lb. weight, master copies and duplicator fluid for various schools and the Superintendent's office.

Details and amounts may be secured by calling at the Superintendent's office.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to accept any part of or combination of bids.

CHARLES CLARK, Supt.
Floyd County Schools
5-17-3t

The RBS Express, designation for the mobile radar bomb scoring site, will inject more realism into SAC's training program, providing crews with a wider range of unfamiliar targets and unfamiliar routes.

This will be done by moving the RBS site to a new geographical location every 45 days to simulate new and different target areas. With each relocation, a new route, terminating near the RBS Express will be implemented.

Low level bombing and navigation training has been conducted against fixed sites under the code name "Oil Burner" since November, 1959, and these will continue in use in addition to the mobile sites, to provide SAC aircrews all-weather operational training.

The RBS train will carry about 65 Air Force personnel. These will be radar and electronic technicians and personnel needed to operate the train and furnish other support. Civilian train crews will move the train between target complexes.

Each train has 10 cars carrying radar and communications equipment, fuel and supplies. The cars are from U. S. Army stock.

Electronics equipment aboard the train will be used to jam the aircraft's radar during the bomb run against the targets. Bomber crews will use electronic countermeasures to overcome the jamming while attempting to pinpoint targets.

Here's a pointer on cooking frozen pies. Thaw the pie slightly before placing it in the oven to help keep the top crust browning before the pie cooks. Place the pie on a dark cookie sheet or in a dull pie plate; this helps brown the bottom crust more rapidly and evenly than using shiny aluminum pie pans.

Curtains look best when they are floor or window-sill length or when they just cover the apron or woodwork under the sill. If hung between these areas, they give the appearance of being too short or having shrunk.

Frank Douglas Scutchfield, 19, of Martin, was recently named as one of four Eastern State College students who will enter the University of Kentucky Medical School this fall. The announcement was made by Meredith J. Cox, professor of chemistry.

Scutchfield was also recently named as the recipient of a $1,000 loan by the Rural Kentucky Medical Scholarship Fund board of trustees. The loans are made to qualified students repayable after they begin practice in the state. The loans are not repayable if the young physician will locate in any of the six Eastern Kentucky counties designated as in critical need of medical services.

Scutchfield and a select group at Eastern were honored recently with a banquet by the Caduceus Club of which he is retiring president.

He was recently named to Omicron Alpha Kappa, a junior-senior scholastic honor group.

The Martin student is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Scutchfield. He is a graduate of Martin high school.

Report Card Committee
Holds Meet At Martin;
Frasure Notes Objective

THE SCENE WILL CHANGE
The Times and the Community Development Council have joined in recent weeks in publishing photos of scenes in Prestonsburg and elsewhere in the county which aren't calculated to evoke yelps of joy from the aesthete. But we don't want "outsiders" to get the idea that these are "typical," as they say in the city newspapers. Both Prestonsburg and the county have many homes and rustic scenes of true beauty, and we propose to redeem ourselves in the eyes of all and sundry, within a few weeks, by reproducing pictures of some of these more pleasing scenes.

If I miss Ben Casey and Dr. Kildare another week or so, I may have to consult my own doctor . . . Prestonsburg had a respite from what one columnist calls the boob-tube Monday night as the whole TV system went on the blink . . . When I criticize TV I am reminded that all I have to do is turn the thing off or turn myself around and walk off.

Want a youthful figure? Just ask a woman her age.

The most surprising thing in a surprising age is how little some "big" people can be.

The report card study committee met Tuesday, May 8, 6:30 p.m. at the Martin high school. The members who attended were Walter Frasure, Paul Luxmore, Elmer Martin, Mabel Berger, Bertha Ratliff, Marjorie Blair and Marie D. Stumbo. An interested school board member, Bill Blair, also attended.

Several phases of the study were partially discussed, but the major work done was in the areas of the grading system, the number of report cards, the frequency of reporting, and the contents and style of the report cards.

"For the first time, the committee members felt that they accomplished much in their study which is directed toward boosting the initiative of the boys and girls, toward lifting academic standards of our schools as a whole, and toward better understanding among the pupils, parents and teachers concerning our reporting system," Frasure said.

Related materials were distributed to those present by Walter Frasure, assistant superintendent of schools.

The next regular meeting of this committee will be held Tuesday, May 12, 6:30 p.m. at the McDowell school.

More and more people are folding their tents and taking to the camping areas of the National Forests. Last year, a record 102 million people visited U. S. National Forests, a 10 percent increase over 1960.

Crit Blackburn, 67,

Mr. Blackburn, a retired farmer, was a son of Will and Lizzie Blackburn of the Johns Creek section. His wife, Virginia Endicott Blackburn, survives.

Two brothers, Roland Blackburn, also of Ypsilanti, and Cain Blackburn, Williamson, West Virginia, survive. Seven grandchildren also survive.

Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday from the Endicott Free Will Baptist Church, the Revs. Henry Crider and William Amburgey officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Endicott under the direction of Floyd Funeral Home.

CHILD DIES
Donald, one-year-old son of Jerry and Bertha Shell Meade, died Saturday at the Meade home on the Abbott road after a brief illness. Surviving, besides the parents, are four brothers and one sister, Ermine, Patsy, Marcum, George and Larry. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon from the residence by the Rev. THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK and the TWIN BRIDGE BRANCH wish for this new industry every success, and they join in offering in this contest additional rewards to Floyd county growers for their initiative and hard work.

The Awards

1. One Acre (most pounds sold) . . . . . $25 Savings Bond
2. One-Half Acre (most pounds sold) . . . . . $25 Savings Bond
3. One-Fourth Acre (most pounds sold) . . . . . $25 Savings Bond
4. One-Eighth Acre (most pounds sold) . . . . . $25 Savings Bond
5. Most strawberries sold (on an acre basis) . . . . . $50 Savings Bond

(Minimum of one-eighth acre of berries will be required to be eligible for this last award.)

The Rules

This contest is open to Floyd county growers only.

The size of the patch will be determined by the number of plants set, on a basis of 4,000 plants per acre.

The strawberries must have been grown by the seller.

The weight slip which growers will receive at the plant will be the basis of determining the yield.

Contestants must turn in their weight slip one week after the close of the processing season.

A committee will be selected to determine the winners.

The records in the County Extension Office of the number of plants set by each grower will be used as basis of determining size of patches.

In case of ties, the committee will have full responsibility to either break ties or duplicate awards.

Racial Discrimination Widespread In Unions,

While Negroes are called "brother" and elected to office in many industrial unions, hundreds of locals still bar them from the chance to earn a livelihood, charges Lester Velie in a May Reader's Digest article, "Race Discrimination with a Union Label." He finds some federal and state agencies cooperate in discrimination.

This comes through matching funds for vocational training programs, supplied by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Labor Department's registration of apprentice programs sanctioned by Jim Crow unions.

In the North, the vocational classes are open to all, but few Negroes attend because job counselors warn them they will not be allowed to work in those trades. In the South, the classes are in all-white schools.

"In Fort Wayne, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Washington, Baltimore and Atlanta," writes Velie, "not one Negro could be found in apprentice training programs for electricians, plumbers, steamfitters or metal workers. Of the 3500 apprentices in all trades in Newark, N. J., only two were Negroes. Of the 3500 apprentices in Chicago, where 25 percent of the population is Negro, less than one percent were Negro. For 28 years, Victor Daly, Negro executive with the U. S. Employment Service in Washington, D. C., tried to place Negro high-school graduates as apprentices. All he can show for his efforts is one Negro apprentice with the Washington Carpenters' local."

Velie notes that George Meany and Walter Reuther are among leaders who have taken steps to break the Jim Crow line in unionism. Meany intervened to get a Negro electrician from Detroit a transfer card from the Washington electricians' local, giving him a chance to work in the capital. Reuther put a Tennessee local of the United Auto Workers into trusteeship to purge it of anti-Negro practices. Similar moves have been made by O. A. Knight, president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers; President David McDonald of the Steelworkers, and courageous local officials of the Operating Engineers and other unions. He also salutes the continuing crusade by A. Philip Randolph of the Sleeping Car Porters.

Velie urges an amendment to the Wagner National Labor Relations Act, to bar race discrimination by unions.

Stock Shares Swell Alice Lloyd Building Fund

A gift of stock shares valued at $12,000 was received last week from a New Jersey donor toward Caney Junior College's project for an Alice Lloyd College building which will be the main administration building, dining room, and conference structure on the campus.

This gift, added to an earlier gift of stock through the Alumni Association, a cash grant of the alumni, and other contributions, have brought to $50,000 the amount received to date toward a goal of $300,000.

Caney Junior College has conceived the building as a useful memorial to the life service in the mountains of its founder, Mrs. Alice Lloyd, who still serves the college in emeritus capacity. The school's contributors throughout the nation are responding with an eagerness equalled by no earlier project in the school's appeal for philanthropic support. William Hayes, director, said.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week an additional 500 sick or wounded soldiers were being treated in military hospitals at Louisville, having been collected at Pittsburgh Landing and conveyed in the steamer Empress down the Tennessee River and up the Ohio. The trip took three days. Nine men died on the way.

The Louisville Journal hinted that some Kentuckians who had joined the Union Army, and later had been permitted to return to their homes on convalescent leave, perhaps were not returning to duty as soon as possible. "Some of the Kentucky regiments," it said, "have not half their proper strength present for duty."

"Kentucky by the muster rolls ought to have 30,000 (Union) men in the field, but at the roll calls of regiments it will be found that their strength has been greatly diminished by sickness and by absences on leave of those who may now feel competent to be at their posts. We do not believe that a large number of our Kentucky volunteers will be found shirking their duty. But if there is a single one, we say shame to the laggard who loiters in the rear when glory is to be won in the front."

A dispatch said that Col. Pennebaker's 27th Kentucky had been ordered to the Tennessee River valley before the Battle of Shiloh, but through failure to obtain transportation down Green River had not arrived until a week after the battle. At that time, it had 540 effective. "It was encamped in close, heavy woodland, where the brush had to be cut away," the report said. "The ground is damp, the water bad and, as a consequence, diarrhea, fever, chills and other diseases have been very prevalent." Of the original 540, only 112 men were still there and fit for duty. "Seven officers have resigned and gone home, three are sick and one on leave."

A story from Lebanon said 140 sick soldiers were being cared for in hospitals there and were making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

William T. Casto, former mayor of Maysville, was dead as the result of a duel fought with rifles at a distance of 60 yards. The affair took place near Dover, in Bracken

DR. DORAN TO SPEAK AT FLOYD HI SCHOOLS

Morehead, Ky., May 14 (Spl.).—Dr. Adron Doran, President of Morehead State College will deliver the baccalaureate address at Betsy Layne high school on Sunday, May 20, and the commencement address at McDowell high school the following Tuesday.

The Kentucky educator, who was named "Kentuckian of the Year" by the Kentucky Press Association in 1959, will be delivering one of 13 commencement and baccalaureate addresses during a period of 17 days.

Dr. Doran has been president of Morehead State College, since 1954, during which time the enrollment has quadrupled, the physical facilities have been expanded and the academic program strengthened at an equally impressive rate.

Lexington, Ky.—Both the U. S. Congress and the United Nations will meet in Lexington in June—that is, 4-H Club boys and girls will take part in mock sessions of Congress and the UN during 4-H Week at UK, June 12-16.

The usual aim of trout hatcheries has been to produce fish that grow fast, mature and spawn early, produce more eggs and are resistant to hatchery diseases. They've been successful, but only at the expense of breeding out desirable traits which aid survival in the cruel world.—Sports Afield.

COMMERCIAL GREENHOUSES PRACTICAL FOR EAST KY.

BY NEVYLE SHACKELFORD

Keck, Ky.—At a Greenhouse Field Day sponsored by the Breathitt County Extension Council and held on the farm of Harold Rose here, it was demonstrated to the satisfaction of a large crowd of visitors that plastic greenhouses offer many possibilities for many Eastern Kentucky farmers.

After observing three of these greenhouses believed to be the largest of their kind in the world, there was a general agreement that at least in this case, the enterprise, started about a year ago, was an unqualified success. Rose's first crop of tomatoes which came off last winter enjoyed a ready market at premium prices and the excellent crop ripening on the vine right now is expected to have the same happy result.

Speaking as chairman of the Extension Council, Roland Sebastian said the plastic greenhouse was a comparatively new enterprise in Eastern Kentucky and the field day was held for educational purposes. "We see pictures of greenhouses and read about them in the papers," he said, "but this type of information is not as meaningful as being on the grounds and seeing the actual thing in operation."

Charles Derrickson, Superintendent of Robinson Substation at Quicksand, stated it had been said that because of the nature of the terrain, little in the way of agriculture could be developed along commercial lines in this part of the state. But here, he said, is one example to the contrary.

Derrickson advised, however, that anyone deciding to go into plastic greenhouse production of out of season vegetables should follow Rose's example and at first go into the business on a small scale. He intimated a person should first find out from experience whether he liked the business and whether he could comply with the somewhat particular demands of greenhouse production before making a large investment. He suggested that anyone interested should follow Rose's example, start with one house, and then "grow into it."

Rose has two of his greenhouses filled with ripening fruit. The third is filled with a variety of plants which at this time are selling like hamburgers at a circus. Eastern Kentucky horticulturist, Bob Shepherd, stated that this

Beef roasts, especially those from the forequarter, will be good buys for the first week or so of May. During the latter part of the month, you'll see spring lamb at your grocery; as usual, you'll pay more for spring lamb than you did for more mature lamb earlier in the year.

Canned freestone peaches are plentiful and will be promoted this month. Grapefruit, oranges and bananas continue to lead the list of available fruit. Apples will continue to come from the West throughout May.

REV. HEENON MAYNARD

This column, in the 11 years of its life has had men and women, some great, others near great, hundreds just ordinary people, pass through in print. There were many it was a joy to write about. Some accomplished much for their section or region, others lived lives of worthwhile service to leave their footprints.

Leaving a fond memory in the hearts of his people was Rev. Heenon Maynard, of the Johns Creek section. He died in July, 1936, beloved by hundreds. Heenon Maynard was born February 14, 1862, on Big Brushy Creek and early began to serve the Old Regular Baptist Church as minister. For three decades he continued to preach and minister to the flocks of three churches in the area. At the age of 70 he was still active, usually walking to church for he seldom rode horseback.

One of the churches he attended and often preached to was the Leannah Regular Baptist Church near the present Pilgrim, Kentucky. When the weather was fine and he felt like taking a long hike, he walked over two mountains to preach on the Peter Cave Fork of Wolf Creek in Martin county. Heenon postoffice, on Big Brushy Creek, Pike county, was named for him.

HOLBROOK FAMILY

A letter from Miss Joy Sparks, 517 Windsor, Lakeland, Florida, poses many genealogical puzzles, particularly about the Holbrook family. She writes:

"My great-great-grandfather, Pleasant Holbrook, and wife, Sarah Jordan (daughter of Covey, Colby or Cavinth Jordan) came from Russell county, Virginia, to Kentucky about 1841. Pleasant was born 1803, died 1885. Sarah was born 1805, died 1885.

"From a search of the Russell county, Virginia, records (many were burned in the War Between the States) John Holbrook patented 90 acres of land in 1804. A Robert Holbrook sells part of this land in 1837, saying it belonged to John Holbrook, deceased. Same date, same land, being three shares. Braddock Holbrook and wife (know my Pleasant had a brother Braddock), and Pleasant and wife, deed land. I feel sure this John Holbrook was father of my Pleasant.

"Another item from Russell county was inventory of estate of John Holbrook, Jr., 1815, also names Martha as his wife. Can anyone tell me if John Holbrook, Jr., deceased in 1815, was the John Holbrook who patented land in 1804? If so, where was he from and who were his parents? Who was his wife Martha and who were her parents?"

"I have been told that John, Jr., as son of John, Sr., and wife Mollie Cooksey that John, Jr., married Martha Collier. After death of John Jr., Martha married Jonas Jordan and that they moved to Louisa, Kentucky, and had John J. Jesse, etc. None of this has been verified.

"Who was Covey Jordan, who were his parents and who was his wife? The Jordans and Holbrooks seem to be closely connected but I can't prove anything.

"My great-great-grandfather William Holbrook and wife, Agnes Collier, came from Wilkes county, North Carolina, to Kentucky. He was a soldier of the Revolution. My great-great-grandfather, Henry Gambill, born in North Carolina in 1700, and his wife, Elizabeth Holbrook born in North Carolina in 1709, also came from Wilkes county, North Carolina, to Kentucky."

Anyone having information on any of these families are requested to write Miss Sparks. She is always willing to reciprocate the favor with any information needed from the genealogical files that she has been adding to for many years.

AUXIER FAMILY

Mrs. Douglas Galbraith, editor of the Paintsville (Ky.) Herald, writes in regard to the Auxier family.

We quote her letter with the hope that someone may be able to answer her question:

"A cousin of mine in Topeka, Kansas, is a descendant of John Never Auxier, son of Samuel Auxier, the Revolutionary soldier. Her grandfather was killed when she was young and her grandmother married again, therefore she does not know which of the sons of John Never Auxier is her grandfather.

"She knows that her grandmother's maiden name was Jane Spears, daughter of John or William Spears, and that she was born in Kentucky. They all went to Arkansas and Missouri. My cousin thinks her grandfather Auxier's name was William who married Jane Spears in Kentucky.

"Jane Spears and Auxier were married in Floyd county and their daughter, Martha, was born in Kentucky. John Never Auxier built the first mills in Johns Creek and at Paintsville."

THE FEMININE SIDE OF BOWLING NEWS

By IMA BOWLER

This past week saw the finish of the City Association Women's Tournament, with the singles and doubles event being held at Lake Lanes. The winners are:

Singles — Alka Jean Grey, 596; Venice Reynolds, 562; Jean Bess, 561; Joan Sullivan, 558.

Doubles — Chris Hall and Emily Eagle, 1,182; Vertie McCoy and Jean Bess, 1,162; Alka Jean Grey and Venice Reynolds, 1,123; Pat Wills and Audrey Cooley, 1,070.

Besides these winners, the following teams participated both in the singles and doubles: Earlene Daniels and Dorothy Cunningham, Betty Davis and Mary A. Hale, Dena McNally and Ruthie Goble, Phyllis Hammonds and Eunice Shepherd, Georgia Compton and Oreta Karnap, Betty Patton and Janice Pelphey, Joan Sullivan and Joyce Burchett.

Lake Lanes awarded a gift certificate for $10.00 to Alka Jean Grey for the highest single scratch game of the event.

The money and prizes for the tournament will be awarded this Saturday night, at the annual meeting at the grade school auditorium. The entire membership of the City Association is invited to attend. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. There will be an election of officers, and this will be the final meeting of the City Association this season.

At Lake Lanes this week high woman bowler was Mrs. Venice Reynolds with a 190. Pin Princess was Margaret Stanley with 212.

The summer league at Lake Lanes will begin June 11 instead of June 4. The team events of the men's tourney will be held the week of June 4 at Lake Lanes.

High bowler at Crown Lanes this week was Mrs. Venice Reynolds with a 234. I suppose there isn't much doubt as to who the undisputed high woman bowler is this week, all over town. Venice is certainly Queen of the Lanes this week.

As a Mother's Day special, Crown Lanes honored with flowers all mothers who bowled Sunday. Prizes were given to the youngest and oldest mothers who participated.

With the summer season beginning very soon, it might be well to tell you about that substitute rule Mrs. Komorski mentioned to us, as it will no doubt make a difference in the make-up of teams. The teams this summer will be five-member teams, with a separate substitute list for the league. Subs will be for the whole league, and that is where we get those roving substitutes which have caused so much misunderstanding. A pacer is a W.I.B.C. member who simply fills in, in place of a "dead man" (score not to count), to make the number more even.

I would like to thank all of you for your kind comments on this column and again I appreciate any comments or suggestions. It has been a very happy season all the way around, and I hope we will apply ourselves and make the coming summer and winter seasons even better. See you next week.

Frog Giggling Season Opening Is Scheduled; Dates, Limits Are Told

Frankfort, Ky., May 10—Kentucky's frog giggling season opened at 12:01 a.m. May 15 and continues through October 31, with a daily bag limit of 15 for a 24-hour period from noon to noon, the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources has announced. After two or more days of hunting a person may have 30 frogs in his possession.

All streams and lakes are open to frog hunting with either a hunting or fishing license required. If a gun or bow and arrow is used the hunting license is necessary, but for all other methods a fishing license is sufficient. Legal gigs must not have more than four prongs, each of which shall not exceed 2½ inches in length or contain more than one barb. The prongs shall not be made from wire or metal heavier than 14 gauge wire.

The Department reminds frog hunters that they should request permission to hunt privately owned ponds or lakes.

Kentucky State Park Swimming Season Opens

Frankfort, May 14 (Sp.)—Swimming season will officially begin in Kentucky State parks when pools, beaches and bathhouses open for the summer on May 26, Parks Commissioner Edward V. Fox has announced.

Facilities in the State park system include four pools, 12 beaches and 13 bathhouses. Three of the pools—at Pine Mountain, Kentucky Lake and Cumberland Falls State parks—were opened for the first time last year. The other pool is at Levi Jackson State Park.

Beach areas to be opened for swimming include those at Kentucky Lake, Kentucky Dam Village, Lake Cumberland, Cumberland Falls, Natural Bridge, Pennyrite, Audubon, Jenny Wiley, Carter Caves, General Butler, General Burnside Island and Greenbo Lake State parks. Each of the beach areas, except at General Burnside Island State Park, and the pool at Levi Jackson State Park is equipped with a bathhouse.

Beaches are currently under construction at two other State parks—Rough River and Falmouth Lake. Plans now include provisions for construction of swimming pools at Kentucky Dam Village, Jenny Wiley, General Butler, Lake Cumberland, Carter Caves, Blue Licks, Natural Bridge and Rough River State parks this year.

Tent camping areas and museums and shrines are already open for the vacation season. All cottages, lodges and dining rooms opened May 15.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Every fisherman who finds his home water completely changed should plan at least one fishing trip a year—if only for a week-end—to a wilderness that is still just like his home waters 20 years ago, suggests Willard Crandall, Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. Hard to find? Simple if you go for low-horizon big waters, far from crowded shores. There are really safe boats for these waters, too. It's still simple, even if your type of wilderness is woods-and-field surrounded. There are now more roads with which to find such prime spots; light, go-anywhere trailers for your boat; quiet, lightweight motors and portable boats of all sorts that will reach and be suitable for any water you pick, no matter how remote and no matter what kind of fishing done in your younger days you want to find again.

Take that trip, then, on your home waters, and try to fit into and join the new pattern of greatly increased boating activities—don't fight it. You may be surprised at what new fun you can find.

Note this vital point: many more kids today are out on the home waters. Nowhere is very much being done to start them outboarding right; in many places, nothing.

The possibilities on the water just with kids are endless. What makes the effort so practical is that you can go into the work just as much or as little as you like. Maybe it'll be no more than talking to an 11-year-old you meet as he gets gas for his 5-hp at the waterfront pump. If he lifts his empty tank out onto the pier, compliment him for being careful. If he leaves it in the boat, ask him, in a friendly fashion, if he's ever had trouble with some careless attendant letting his tank overflow so that gas got under the floorboards of his boat; wonder with him if his floorboards are so tight that fumes could collect under them. Just those casual remarks—and you can start him thinking safety and thinking it through.

In boating there is a wonderful chance to close this wide gulf between one generation and the next. If you are a motor-boating fan, talk about it to a boy; you'll get a real response. In the water there are no athletic fields, no commercial racetrack; in a motorboat, age and physical prowess count for less than almost anywhere on land.

When you build a quality truck, the inclination is to run around asking users what they think of it. We do quite a bit of this.

It's a funny thing. You'd think people would talk mostly about the mechanical features of the vehicle—the good ride, its power, the double-wall construction, cab comfort, or tough tailgate.

These things get comment, of course, but they're consistently outnumbered by expressions of satisfaction with the dependability of a Chevrolet truck. Its greatest single asset seems to be the fact that it does its job well day after day without a lot of fuss or attention—and that's what impresses people the most.

Quality is the key to reliability. The next time you have to buy a truck, call your Chevrolet dealer and make your money go farther.
