THURSDAY

This Town-- That World

For a while Metracal held front stage center. Now it's Medicare. Haven't made up my mind that I want either.

MAGAZINE TROUBLE

My wife is having all kinds of trouble, with my help, with magazines, these days. First of all she subscribed for AMERICAN HOME. She's getting AMERICAN GIRL. Then I subscribed for her to get BETTER HOME AND GARDENS. And what does she get? TRUE CONFESIONS--no less.

Hope that preacher-friend of mine for whom I published THE READER'S DIGEST doesn't start getting an "art" publication.

IGNORANCE IS BLISSFUL

I have many things to be thankful for, and up here the top of the list is the fact that I read such books as TOM SAWYER and HUCKLEBERRY FINN at an age and during an era when I wasn't troubled with the foolishness of trying to read into them a lot of hocus-pocus symbolism and deep, deep passages of social portent. So help me, it has come to such a pass, these days, that a youngster can't sit down (if he will sit down) and have an old-fashioned belly-laugh while reading a good, clean, humorous story. Some long-hair will come along and prod the poor child into searching for the "deeper meanings," "the message" and other claptrap till he won't be able to distinguish Tom Sawyer from Injun Joe.

THEY DO PLAY

Not long ago I wrote in this column to express a growing conviction that boys have quit marble. (See Story No. 5, Page 8)

REV. W. D. JAGGERS ACCEPTS BAPTIST PASTORATE HERE

The Rev. W. D. Jagers, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Jackson, Ky., has accepted a call to the pastorate of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here and will begin that work with the Sunday worship services, June 24.

Thus will be filled the vacancy in the local pulpit created by the resignation of the Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr., who is now pastor of Unity Baptist Church, Ashland.

The pulpit at present is being supplied by other ministers and faculty-members of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville. One supply preacher, Dr. C. R. Daley, editor of The Western Recorder, Baptist state publication, enthusiastically commented to this effect on the call of the Rev. Jagers by the church:

"I can't understand how a church could be so fortunate as this church has been--to have a pastor such as Ira McMillen and then to have a man like Bill Jagers to succeed him."

The Rev. Jagers is 31 years old and was pastor of Rowletts Baptist Church, in Hart county, before going to the Jackson pastorate where he has done outstanding work. He is a native of Elizabethtown. He received the bachelor of arts degree from Georgetown College in 1953 and the bachelor of divinity degree (See Story No. 4, Page 8)

O'BRIEN SHOT BY BROTHER

Hunter Man Expected To Recover; Melvin Woman Executes Bond

Fred O'Brien, Jr., 45, Floyd truck-mine operator, was shot and seriously wounded Sunday afternoon at his home at Hunter, and his brother, Arville, about 48, was jailed here for the shooting.

Although O'Brien is expected to recover, his life was threatened for a time by loss of blood. A hollow-point bullet from a 22-calibre rifle struck him in the abdomen, ranged across and into his thigh, cutting the femoral artery. He is at Miners' Memorial hospital, Pikeville.

Another of the O'Brien brothers, James (or Jesse), was later jailed here, booked on a peace warrant and also on charges of drunkenness and breach of the peace. Roy Wright, father of Mrs. Fred O'Brien, said he had O'Brien jailed when he threatened his daughter at the Pikeville hospital.

Cause of the shooting has not been definitely determined. The accused man was scheduled for examination trial Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Ruby Little, of Melvin, who shot and killed her father-in-law, Andy Little, recently, executed $21,000 bond Saturday. Her bond was originally set at $25,000--$20,000 for the slaying of Little, $5,000 for shooting and wounding his daughter. County Judge Henry Stumbo last week reduced the shooting and wounding bond to $1,000.

Among those jailed within the week by Sheriff's deputies were:

Clyde Vanderpool, drunk driving; Ezra Shepherd, possessing moonshine whiskey; Hiram Mullins and S. L. Denoss, contributing to juvenile delinquency; Milford Isaac, possessing moonshine; William Isaac, Jr., possessing moonshine and drunk driving; Lee Hall, Clyde Justice, Willie Howell, possessing moonshine; Carl James Hall, possessing moonshine, drunk driving and resisting arrest; Greenberry Keathley, possessing moonshine whiskey; Robert Keith Davis, reckless driving.

Others jailed:

HORNE NOTES STAMP TOTAL

$988,000 Worth Issued To Recipients In Floyd; 1,727 Families Assisted

Approximately $988,000 worth of food stamps have been issued by the local office here to needy recipients since the program was initiated June 1, last year. Carl Horne, supervisor, announces.

In the 11 months of operation 1,277 families or 9,116 individuals have been aided in the program. Horne, in breaking down the categories of assistance, said that 221 families or 1,101 persons issued stamps were public assistance cases and 1,306 families or 8,015 persons were needy families receiving no other aid.

Horne commented on the huge contribution the stamps were making to the economy of Floyd county and said that the nearly one million dollars worth was traded to stores, many of them small establishments. Approximately 300 merchants in the county participate in the program, he added.

STRAWBERRY VOLUME LOW BUT RISING

Prices Paid Higher Than In Most Areas; To Operate 21 Days

The strawberry processing plant here began operations Friday with only 189 crates received but volume was building up and it was anticipated 500 crates would be brought in Wednesday.

The first day's batch was processed in 45 minutes. Employed now are 42 women and 17 men, according to J. C. McCormack, foreman for 14 years for Carl Abbott, Bedford, Kentucky, who owns the plant.

The plant has an hourly capacity of 225 crates, or approximately 2,500 crates in an eight-hour shift, he said. It is anticipated that the plant will run 21 days. The price is 13 cents per pound, at least one cent per pound higher than in other producing areas.

The plant, installed in the Emergency & Rescue Squad building on Highland avenue, has five conveyor lines that receive the berries. As the berries move over the line, women employees pick out the defective ones. When the berries pass through another machine at the end of the conveyor line, an electronic eye regulates the mixing of sugar and controls the crushing. The processed product is then put in 36-gallon containers and moves along another conveyor line. The cans are dumped into a truck. The processed product is then hauled from here to Cincinnati.

Crates are furnished the farmers at a cost of 90 cents each but this will be refunded at the end of the season. McCormack said he noted that his plant was receiving berries from Floyd, Johnson, Pike, Magoffin, Martin, Morgan and Lawrence counties. Nineteen hundred crates have been stored in the courthouse here for the farmers as the need expands.

The plant, envisioned as a boost to the income of small farmers in the region, was first conceived by W. W. (Tubby) McGill, strawberry specialist with the University of Kentucky.

McGill, who knew Abbott for many years, went down to Bedford in October, 1960, and had a conference with him. The Bedford processor promised to think the project over. In November, 1960, he came to see McGill, with a commitment to build the plant if enough berries were raised. The desired acreage was pledged in a drive sparked by County Agent Robert Jones and area county agents.

Interest in strawberry production has been growing in the area under the influence of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation work through 4-H Clubs. The plant here was promoted. (See Story No. 1, Page 8)

LIGHT VOTE IS EXPECTED

In Primary Election; Wilson Wyatt Slates Organizational Meet

Next Tuesday is primary election day--believe it or not.

If the unusual makes news, this election is big news. There hasn't been a speech made, a derogatory remark uttered, a rally held in the county as of this date. And for Floyd county that's nothing short of extraordinary.

The county will have an unusually heavy population at election time, since the primary comes on the eve of Memorial Day when hundreds of residents will be home from other states. Yet the vote may be the lightest ever recorded.

The only organized political activity of the week will be a Saturday conference here of Wilson W. Wyatt, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, with leaders from several counties of the area.

The candidates at Tuesday's primary are:

Democratic Ballot
For U. S. Senator--James Logan Delk, Marion Vance, Wilson W. Wyatt.

For Representative in Congress--Carl D. Perkins, Baxter Arnett, Jerry F. Ringo.

Republican Ballot
For U. S. Senator--Dr. Thurman J. Hamlin, Thurston B. Morton.
For Representative in Congress--S. Alex Parker, Jr., Charles D. Wheeler.

THE JOHN C. C. MAYO FAMILY

John Caldwell Calhoun Mayo, whose effort and vision opened Eastern Kentucky to industrial development, was born at Gulnare, Pike county, September 16, 1864, was a son of Thomas J. Mayo, a farmer and teacher, and Elizabeth Leslie Mayo. The family moved to Paintsville in 1869.

Beginning his career as a schoolteacher, he early became interested in the vast mineral resources of the region. John C. Buckingham, of Paintsville, and a former state treasurer, gave Mayo assistance and finally northern capitalists became interested in the mineral wealth in Eastern Kentucky. Mayo's industrial empire staggered the imagination of those who saw its bold conception and successful creation. He died May 11, 1914, in New York City.

In the Sweet Name of Truth

Somebody is wrong in their figures. A roadside sign at Lancer proclaims the population of Prestonsburg to be a round 6,000. The U. S. Census Bureau puts the figure at a more angular and less imposing 3,133.

It's almost a surefire bet that both figures are wrong. But, short of an act of Congress, the Bureau of the Census figure will for ten years stand unchanged. There'll be no correction from that source, so it's up to Prestonsburg to make the concession in the sweet name of truth. Certainly there's no need to make ourselves ridiculous, especially in the eyes of folks who know better. That 6,000 should be reduced by at least one-third, unless we want to concede that Caesar can do no wrong and is absolutely right about how many persons live within a thickly populated area which extends a distance of, roughly, three miles from Cliff to Lancer and crosses the river to include West Prestonsburg.

Prestonsburg might change the figures to correspond with the Census, then add these words:
"The Biggest City in the United States with a Population of Only 3,133."

The Record Grows Worse

Over a period of several years Floyd county has had one of the lowest murder rates in Kentucky, and this was a complete reversal of form from the days twenty years ago when one official in disgust declared, "Floyd county's is the bloodiest soil in the Western Hemisphere."

We have been proud of this improved record, but now it appears that pride indeed does go before a fall. The record in recent weeks is not so encouraging. Two persons have been slain, others have been shot or knifed and are alive today through no good intention of those who resorted to deadly weapons.

We have during these peaceful years wondered how a county such as Floyd, with whiskey and beer being widely and unlawfully sold and freely consumed, could keep its record so free of major crime. We gave the pistol-totin' law much credit. Again, we credited folks with becoming more civilized.

But human nature is rather immutable. Floyd county will, in the general environment disintegrates to its onetime low level, again produce a shameful murder record.

This is why we have, these many years, urged on courts and peace officers strict law enforcement. Arrest the pistol-toter, indict and prosecute him under a good law. Arrest the big bootlegger, hit the whiskey flow at the source, and the fuel for most crimes of passion will be lacking.

The county is not yet back to the "Dark and Bloody Ground" status of other and unhappier years, but only through the work of dedicated, impartial officials, officers and citizens will the drift in that direction be stayed.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30, 20 and 10 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(May 20, 1932)

Prof. Ishmael Triplett was elected last Friday to his fifth consecutive year as superintendent of Prestonsburg schools. Named to the high school faculty here were J. C. Harlowe, principal, Minnie Grace Harris, Claude May, Dan Throgmorton, Dorothy Throgmorton, Margaret Ohne, May K. Kenney, Gerald Leslie. Lives of several members of the Albert Marshall family were endangered when their home was destroyed by fire Monday morning. Mr. Marshall dropped his five-year-old son from a second-story window, and another he carried to safety. Melvin Davis, 19-year-old son of W. M. Davis, was killed in a car wreck Thursday near Dinwood. The portrait of the late D. O. Harmon, veteran educator, was unveiled at the grade school chapel here Thursday morning. Prestonsburg took the lead in the Big Sandy Baseball League race Sunday, defeating Wayland, 5 to 4, in a tight hurling duel between O. O. Haney, of Wayland, and Dr. J. S. Kelly, of Prestonsburg. Grade and drain of the Right Beaver road will be completed this year, County Attorney Joe P. Tackett, said this week. Mrs. Alice G. Hopkins is critically ill in Huntington, West Virginia, hospital. Mrs. B. L. Sturgill narrowly escaped serious injury Monday when her car left the highway and rolled almost to the river, near the Frank Blackburn home south of here. There died: Mrs. Jay Moore, 55, wife of J. W. Moore, of Garrett, Sunday night; Rev. W. R. "Red Will" Hall, 75, Friday at his Bevinville home; Winsell Winford Dings, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Dings, of Dinwood, Monday.

Twenty Years Ago

Three members of the armed forces from Prestonsburg are reported missing: Norman Reed, fireman first class, son of Gold Reed, of Hueysville; Ollie James Sturgill, seaman first class, son of Edgar Sturgill, of Harold; James Tackett, of the Marine Corps and son of Walter Tackett, of Melvin. Arthur, two-year-old son of John Harlan Music, was killed by electrocution Wednesday when his body came in contact with an electric wire at the Music home near Camel Coal Gap. The firm of Allen & Kearley drilled a 600,000-foot gas well Friday on the F. M. Crider lease on Buffalo. Floyd merchants this week were busily engaged in complying with new wartime price ceilings. Of the 26 seniors who will be graduated June 2 from Morehead State College two are from this county—Mae S. Francis, of Martin, and Mabel Tackett, of Weeksbury. Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Beecher L. Scutfield, of Wheelwright, a son—Frank Douglas. There died: Maryland (Crow) Osborne, 37, Friday at Hite; Albert Jackson McKinney, 18, of Amba, Tuesday at a Martin hospital.

Ten Years Ago

Accepted into the state's secondary highway system this week were these Floyd roads—Harold-Ligon, Sizemore-Wayland and Caney Fork of Middle Creek. Dan S. Nessler, department store manager, has been named president of the new Prestonsburg-Floyd County Chamber of Commerce. John C. Hayes, 74, died last Friday of a revolver bullet wound at his home near Maytown. A review of lunacy hearings shows that one resident of the county has been committed to a mental institution every two weeks during the past year. Engagements announced: Miss Dorothy Dorton, formerly of Prestonsburg, to marry Lt. Paul Fearson, of the U. S. Marine Corps, June 1; Miss Janalee Gibson, formerly of Wayland, to wed Mr. Charles Eckenbach, of Detroit. Born: To Capt. and Mrs. Herbert R. Saff, May 17, at Heidelberg, Germany, a son—Russell Frederick. There died: Gladys Marshall Garrett, 69, at her home here May 15; Stanley Arthur Lawson, 3, son of Willie Lawson, of Betsy Layne, Saturday at a Louisville hospital; Dora Young Stover, 53, of H-roid, Sunday at an Ashland hospital; Mary Blackburn, 69, last Thursday at Martin; E. L. Watson, 78, Wednesday at his home at Auxier.

How to pay for a Cadillac—and not get one!

- There are several ways that a man can pay the price of a new Cadillac car—and find himself in possession of an automobile of far less stature.
- Because there are many motorists currently considering the purchase of their next car, we would like to enumerate these ways of going astray.
1. Assume that the purchase price of a new Cadillac car is higher than it actually is. (There are eleven models of other makes that this year cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac model.)
 2. Fail to appreciate that the basic price of a new Cadillac includes many important things that are extra on other cars. (Including automatic transmission, power steering and power braking.)
 3. Neglect to find out from a Cadillac dealer what your present car is worth in trade. (He is especially anxious this spring to welcome new owners.)
- And if you take one of these detours, think of all the unique pleasures you could be missing.
- There is Cadillac's styling—so majestic that it attracts attention wherever it goes.
- There is Cadillac's comfort—so wonderful that every journey becomes a brief vacation.
- And there is Cadillac's performance—so great that it is without rival on the world's highways.
- So we suggest that you play it safe—and get all the facts from your dealer soon.
- You might be closer to a Cadillac than you think.

McDowell Team Wins To Play at Morehead

McDowell (10-4) will represent the 58th district in the regional baseball tournament to be held at Morehead this week.

In gaining a berth in the regional, the Daredevils defeated the Wheelwright Trojans and the Martin Purple Flash.

In the regional, McDowell drew a first-round bye. They play the winner of the Paintsville-McKell game Friday afternoon.

The district will be well represented. The Daredevils have a fine team with a batting average of about .300. To back up this hitting is strong pitching. Keith Howell, all-district third baseman is hitting at a .381 clip with 14 runs batted in. David Turner, who made all district as pitcher-first baseman, has 13 r.b.i.'s. Wayne Stumbo, one of the best catchers in the area, leads the club with a .385 average.

The pitching staff matches the strong hitting. Knuckleball pitcher Larry Stumbo has a record of 3-3. One of these victories was a no-hit, no-run game over the Prestonsburg Blackcats. It was a perfect game except for one miscue in the field.

David "Firebug" Turner has compiled a season record of 4-0, which includes the victory over Martin in the district finals.

EGG PROJECT FLOURISHING IN HARLAN COUNTY AREA

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD

In the words of Ivory Maggard, until about two years ago the "people of Cumberland didn't really know what a good egg tasted like."

Now Maggard didn't mean that the some 4,300 people of this picturesque little coal and lumber town ate bad eggs. Rather, the eggs they ate were shipped in from as far away as Maine and New Jersey. Naturally, with these places being far away, considerable time elapsed between the time the egg was laid in New Jersey and broken in the skillet in Cumberland, and, no matter how handled, an egg is one thing that doesn't improve with age.

So what did coal miner Maggard do? In September, 1960, he constructed a long building up on the slopes of Pine Mountain, filled the building full of cages, the cages full of laying hens, and thus pioneered an egg-producing business that is thriving like a butterweed in July.

In this building Maggard has 3,100 hens from which he averages around 2,100 eggs per day and these are sold at premium prices right in Cumberland.

Now 2,100 eggs seem like a lot of eggs, and it is really, but there are a lot of people in the area, and, once becoming accustomed to fresh hen fruit, they all started demanding this kind.

So what did Maggard do again? He invited competition and now there are three other egg producers in the immediate vicinity and all four have yet to glut the local egg market.

The other three producers are Ken Collier with 3,300 layers; Otis Maggard 2,000, and Albert Lloyd with 2,100. Collier, a young college man who studied geology, is planning to expand with two more laying houses and 12,000 more hens. Ivory Maggard is likewise planning on doubling production.

With all this planned expansion, it would appear there would be a danger of over-production, but there are a lot of people in Harlan county to eat eggs. Then noting the effort, a large chain store has offered to buy eggs locally, provided they can be produced in quantity and quality.

Right now all these Cumberland egg producers, working with Kenneth C. Bean, Eastern Kentucky Resource Development specialist in poultry, are attempting a cooperative marketing project wherein one of the number will handle the marketing end while the others concentrate on production. They figure that by operating in this manner, the labor and time involved in selling the eggs can be reduced by 60 percent.

With an eye out for even bigger things, these Harlan county egg producers are negotiating with some egg producers in Letcher county. With more producers in the circle, they can go for even larger markets and make the Harlan-Letcher area the egg producing capital of Eastern Kentucky.

Each of the producers mentioned, even though their chicken feed is shipped in from other states, is making a nice profit. And more significant, perhaps, they are shooting for more than mere profits. They are attempting to get an industry going to offset loss of income caused by the region's rapidly depleting coal and timber resources.

DeLONG FAMILY

Mrs. C. P. Barlow, 327 Dart St., K. I. Sawyer AFB, Michigan, is a descendant of the pioneers, George DeLong and his wife, Barbara Auxier DeLong. She writes:

"My grandmother, Laura DeLong, was a daughter of Samuel DeLong, who was born at Davela, Kentucky. His father was James DeLong and his mother was Elizabeth Williamson. James was the son of George DeLong and Mary Barbara Auxier. My grandmother's great aunt, Martha Burchett, told her that Elizabeth Williamson's grandmother was a first cousin to President Andrew Jackson.

"I would like any information on any Williamson who can tie into the family. I would like very much to know when and where the original Auxiers and DeLongs came from. According to my family tradition, George DeLong came over from France between 1780 and 1800."

Mrs. Barlow offers to exchange information on the Auxier and DeLong families and invites correspondence.

ANTIOCH CHURCH

J. M. Bentley, 2868 Melva Avenue, Columbus 24, Ohio, will soon issue a booklet on the Hall family of this area and kindly contributes information on the family.

The excerpt here is from Chapter IV of the booklet:

"This concerns the generation of Halls and their kindred who at one time belonged to the Antioch Church on Frasure's Creek.

"The church was there soon after the Civil War as told me by my father and mother. The church was held the fourth Saturday and Sunday in each month in the schoolhouse on the hill just below the mouth of Hood's Fork. All the people in the community attended the same old church. The preachers at the time were Bob Vanderpool, Daniel Roberts and Whetsel Blair. Alex Allen preached there once in awhile.

"Uncle John Hall was a leader in the church at that time. His children began to join the church about this time and about 1900 the church split up and Tom McCown, Joel Howell, Bill Gayheart, Rube Moore and others built a church near the mouth of the Bill Hall Branch. John Hall and his followers built a house above the mouth of Hood's Fork and held church there. The preachers there were Daniel Roberts, Jeff Reynolds and Tom Mosley preached at times. Uncle Will Hamilton was a number there, then.

"John Hall's boys joined the church and began to preach. Jeff Reynolds was a leader in the church with Elisha Hall. The church prospered until the Halls began to move to Carter county and Jeff Reynolds moved away, too. The church had a rocky road for a long time.

"Uncle Will Hamilton moved back from Boyd county. He and Elisha began to hold regular meetings in the schoolhouse at McDowell. They built another churchhouse with Elisha as moderator and Will Hamilton as clerk. That same churchhouse is where Bert Hall holds church today.

"Now about this time Milford (Big) Hall moved his membership from Whetsel Blair to the Antioch Church with Elisha as moderator.

This is the third generation of Jarvey Hall. Bert Hall, Taylor Hall and Lee Hall began to preach along with Pink Osborne. Bert Hall is moderator today. Lee Hall lives in Bethel, Ohio. He comes once in awhile to McDowell to church. His membership is still there. Taylor Hall moved to Ohio and established a Primitive Baptist Church on Pine Creek near Franklin Furnace. He is moderator there.

"Little Wilburn Hall one time had a church at Veronica, Oregon. He was the son of John Hall. Bert, Lee and Taylor Hall are the last of the Hall preachers who once belonged to the old church on Frasure's Creek at McDowell.

"John Hall, who lives in Idaho, has a church at Weiser, Idaho. He is a Primitive Baptist. Childers Hall, a Regular Baptist, has begun to preach. The Hall family is scattered but they still preach the grace doctrine wherever they go."

JONES AND CRAIG FAMILIES

Mrs. Guy W. Leslie, 508 E. Main Street, Lexington, Kentucky, inquires of the Craig family and writes:

"I am trying to find the ancestors of Martha Craig who married Ambrose Jones in Greenbrier county, Virginia. (Now West Virginia). Ambrose Jones and Martha Craig were my great-grandparents. I have lots of data on them but nothing beyond the time he enlisted in the Revolution.

"A few years ago the D. A. R. Chapter at West Liberty placed a marker at his grave and I was the historian. Ambrose Jones became a Baptist minister and I have copied from the minutes of his church much data."

playing. Since inditing those few lines I have been informed that marbles still are played. I am reminded that my trouble is, I don't move around in marble-playing circles enough, these days.

This is encouraging. But I wonder if they still play "Buy-In," and if they know what it is to "vent yer roundus" (that's what we said, anyway).

So far as I am concerned, the game of marbles began deteriorating when they began playing "keeps." I know how the railroads must feel about coal pipelines being introduced. You see, I was pretty good with an "aggie," which was the traditional law for a boy of the time, and one day a fellow got progressive and introduced a "steelie" to the game. If there had been a High Commissioner of Marbles, I then and there would have lodged a protest.

But, as it was, my aggie sat there, looming large like the Merriam for that Monitor of a steelie to tuck itself away from, behind every other marble and undulation in the ring. I think my star began declining in the sport from that day onward.

Roy Ramey, Earl Castle, "Red" Cunningham and others returned this week with reports of success at Lake Cumberland. Our bunch went to Norris, a week earlier, but nobody is interested in my report. I didn't fall in the lake, sit down in an open tackle box or get lost. And if I told you the truth some Doubting Thomas would demand to know where we bought them . . . By the way, did you ever get a bait caught in the seat of your pants just as you were making a mighty cast toward a distant shortline?

MOUNTAIN SHEEP DAY HELD AT MIZE, MORGAN COUNTY

By NEVYLE SHACKELFORD

Mize, Ky.—In olden times a "sheep eatin'" epitomized a "high old time."

On these wonderful occasions, nearly always predicated on the event of a Baptist Association, an Annual Meeting of the Christian Church, or a "memorial meeting" at some graveyard which featured the fabled "dinner-on-the-ground," mutton was the main dish.

Folks came from miles around to attend these enjoyable events which combined all in one the wholesome activities of religious worship, getting re-acquainted with one's neighbor, and good eating.

This good old custom has about gone out of fashion, but not quite. At the idyllic and historic Grassy Christian Church here the nostalgic "sheep eatin'" was all but duplicated in its entirety. The occasion: The 6th annual "Mountain Sheep Day" sponsored by the University of Kentucky.

Attended by many sheep raisers from the various counties, the meeting was pegged on the subject, "How Sheep can fit into Eastern Kentucky." Featured was the genial Dick Miller of UK's Animal Science Department who, over the years, has virtually come to be regarded as the tutelary saint of Eastern Kentucky sheep men. Then to add immeasurably to the fun and fellowship of the meeting was the incomparable wizardry of Jimmy Moore, of Louisa, in the art of barbecuing lamb which was served in true mountain style on the grounds of the church.

It seems fitting at this point to mention that immediately following the day's feast, Moore was presented with an award by the sheepmen for his excellence at the barbecue. At the same time Earl Kinner, publisher of the Licking Valley Courier, was also given an award for his long efforts toward publicizing sheep projects in Eastern Kentucky.

Despite the good old homespun pleasure which was enjoyed, the meeting was none the less serious and got down to the fundamentals of sheep raising. Presided over by Morgan county farmer, Hagar Ray, and Charles Derrickson of Breathitt county, the growers heard such outstanding sheep specialists as Dr. Patch Woodfolk of UK; Dr. Gordon Shultz, Sacramento, California;

Dr. R. W. Hammermeister, State Veterinarian, Frankfort, and others. Coupled with talks on about every phase of sheep raising, there was a panel discussion of Eastern Kentucky sheepmen led by George Hall of Lawrence county. These men related their experiences with sheep and the consensus was that sheep do fit very well into Eastern Kentucky and now is the best time in a long time to get into the sheep raising business.

In 1809, the Marine detachment at New Orleans was the largest in the country. It had a strength of three officers and 180 enlisted.

During the War of 1812, about half the Marine Corps' personnel were assigned to duty aboard naval ships.

Walter Martin Accepts Ohio School Position

Walter Martin, Wayland native and former principal of M. C. Napier Consolidated school at Hazard, recently resigned his position as superintendent of the Buckskin Valley (O.) school district and has accepted a two-year contract as executive head of the Plains School District, Mt. Sterling, Ohio.

Mr. Martin's resignation is effective July 1 and he will assume the $9,000 salary post August 1.

He has been administrator of the Buckskin district since July 1, 1956, and prior to that held the Perry county, Kentucky, position. He began teaching at Wayland in 1950.

The former Eastern Kentucky teacher received his A.B. and Masters degrees at the University of Kentucky and plans to enroll for further study at Ohio University, Columbus.

The Marine Corps' motto is "Semper Fidelis," meaning "Always Faithful."

NATURE TRAILS

THE SANDHILL CRANES

All cranes are accomplished dancers but the Sandhill cranes of Florida, Mississippi and Georgia are the most expert ballet dancers on this earth. For thousands of generations, the art of ballet dancing has been taught the young cranes by the older ones, and their performance is one of the most unusual and interesting sights in all nature. The sandhill cranes dance the year around, but the art is carried to its highest peak of perfection during the courtship season. Dancing in shallow ponds or marshes, where cranes roost standing on their long legs, is a nightly ritual with them before sleep.

The older and best trained crane ballet dancers begin to teach the little crane chicks the art of dancing when they are about two weeks old. By the time they are fully grown, they are expert at doing the ballet. Their dance is full of grace and beauty. When they congregate to do one of their dances, they form a circle, and sometimes as many as twenty-five cranes join in the dance.

As a signal to begin, one of the older cranes will pick up a stick or a twig in its long bill and toss it into the ring. Then the dance is off! The more experienced dancers begin by leaping eight feet high in the air, and whirling around and around several times before landing on their feet. When they land each dancer makes a bow, and then the dance proceeds by hops and skips for a time. Sometimes the dance grows to such a pitch, and fast tempo, the dancers will leap over one another's backs. But the dance is always majestic, filled with grace and perfect execution. Most of the time, the cranes dance on land. But at night, before signing off for the day, the cranes form a circle in the shallow water and perform their dance. It is carried on until it gets too dark to see how to dance.

While all cranes are dancers, few persons ever get to witness this performance, because cranes usually make their homes in the deep inaccessible swamps, marshes and other areas far from the beaten paths of man. The famous sandhill cranes stand about five feet in height, and their bodies are a slate-gray, often tinged with brick red. Their heads are bald and are a glowing scarlet color. Their throat is white, and their tail feathers droop in fringes. Their flesh was once a fabled delicacy in the south and they were ruthlessly slaughtered. Today it is estimated there are about 3,000 sandhill cranes in the south. And dancing is their chief diversion! Winter and summer! If they cannot get the whole flock together for the dance, then two or three cranes will do the dance. When they dance, they stiffen their long legs and extend their wings with the feathers drooping. Now and then one of the dancers will stop and put his long, keen bill to the ground and then lift his head and extend his long neck with the bill pointing toward the sky. While doing this for several minutes, it will circle around its companion, which pirouettes and struts while the other crane is alternately touching the ground and pointing skyward.

The older, more enthusiastic dancers often leap up and down for over fifteen minutes without stopping, twirling their bodies in the air, and at last, when they are exhausted, and have to stop, they are so dizzy they can scarcely stand up for a time! Sometimes the dancers will get into a competition, to see which crane can leap the highest while dancing, and many of their leaps would set a high jump world record! They often leap over the top of one another and sometimes several cranes may be seen bouncing up and down on their long legs, like kids jumping a rope!

Sandhill cranes often fly out to forage over the wet marshes and prairies in search of their food. Their flight is swift, strong and graceful. Their loud honking call is one long to be remembered. It is the wild, untamed cry of the wilderness, and has a deep, resonant power and quality, which is produced by the crane's curving windpipe, which acts like a trumpet to give volume and power to the call. The call has been described as a sort of an eerie enunciation of "Goo-oo!" and ends in a tremolo. The strain seems to linger in the wilderness silences to haunt the hearer long after the majestic bird has disappeared on the horizon. Cranes eat the roots of water plants, like arrowheads and water plantain, which they pull out of the marshes with their long, keen bills. They also eat frogs, salamanders, lizards, snakes and many kinds of insects. It is an advantage to these cranes to have bald heads, which have no feathers to get water-soaked when they stick their heads under water to pull out the roots of plants, or perhaps to catch a frog or a fish. It is said they never permit their bodies to get wet, so they are always ready to fly swiftly from the approach of an enemy. Under protection of game laws and naturalists, these most highly intelligent and majestic birds are now staging a comeback in the south.

Airport Completion Seen At Morehead, Swift Says

Frankfort, Ky., May 21 — Aeronautics Commissioner Phillip L. Swift has reported that the new Morehead-Rowan County Airport is about 85 per cent completed.

State and local funds on a matching basis were used for the $90,000 project, Swift said. He said grass is being sown now for the 3,000-foot turf runway which should be ready for use by mid-summer.

The new airport is located on top of a ridge seven miles southwest of Morehead on U. S. 60. Construction work was begun in early March.

National Cemetery, Home Of Unknown Soldier, Part Of Robert E. Lee Estate

Arlington National Cemetery, home of the Unknown Soldiers, is a memorial not only to those who have died for the United States, but also to the man who tried, reluctantly, to divide the Union.

The cemetery, explains World Book Encyclopedia, is built around the home of General Robert E. Lee and stands on land that once formed part of the Confederate general's estate. In fact, Arlington is the original name of the property, located on the Potomac River in Virginia.

The home was built by a grandson of Martha Washington, whose great-granddaughter was Lee's wife.

During the Civil War, the Union army occupied the estate and used it as a training camp and a field hospital.

The cemetery is probably best known for the tomb of the Unknowns of World Wars I and II and the Korean Conflict, guarded by a sentry 24 hours a day. But there is also a monument to more than 2,000 unknown soldiers who died during the Civil War.

The Marine Corps moved its headquarters from Philadelphia to Washington in June, 1800.

Floyd S. S. Recipients Paid $240,660 Monthly; County Average Is Low

Old-age, survivors and disability insurance benefits are becoming increasingly important as a community resource, according to E. B. Malinay, district manager of the local office of the Social Security Administration.

$240,660.00 is paid monthly in social security benefits in Floyd county. This is an increase of about 16 percent over last year's figures. While the benefits are intended primarily for the beneficiaries economic security, they help business in the community generally. Most of the money is spent immediately for food, clothing and other necessities.

At the present time, social security benefits are being paid at a rate of over one billion dollars a month. "There are several reasons for the increase," Mr. Malinay said. There are more aged people; benefits are now payable at age 62; and less social security credit is needed to meet the eligibility requirements for benefits.

The average old-age benefit nationally for December, 1961, was $74.04 for a retired worker. Floyd county, the average benefit was $48.13.

PHILOSOPHY HAS CHANGED FROM THAT OF PURITANS

BY JENKIN LLOYD JONES
Editor of the Tulsa Tribune
(In The Cincinnati Enquirer)

Our Puritan ancestors were preoccupied with sin. They were haggard and guilt-ridden and theirs was a repressed and neurotic society. But they had horsepower.

The wrested livings from the rocky land, built our earliest colleges, started our literature, caused our industrial revolution and found time in between to fight the Indians, the French and the British, to hawl for abolition, woman suffrage and prison reform, and to experiment with graham crackers and bloomers. They were a tremendous people.

And for all their exaggerated attention to sin, their philosophy rested on a great granite rock. Man was the master of his soul. You didn't have to be bad. You could and should be better. And if you wanted to escape the eternal fires, you'd damned well better be.

In recent years all this has changed in America. We have decided that sin is largely imaginary. We are bemused with behaviorist psychology which holds that abstract things like insight, will and spirit are figments of the imagination.

Man, says the behaviorist, is either a product of a happy combination of genes and chromosomes or an unhappy combination. He moves in an environment that will tend to make him good or that will tend to make him evil.

He is just a chip tossed helplessly by forces beyond his control, and therefore not responsible.

Well, the theory that misbehavior can be cured by pulling down tenements and erecting in their places elaborate public housing is not holding water. The crime rates continue to rise, along with our outlays for society services.

We are far gone in fancy euphemy. There are no lazy bums any more—only "deprived persons." It is impolite to speak of thugs. They are "underprivileged."

Yet the swaggering, ducktailed young men who boldly flaunt their gang symbols on their motorcycle jackets are far more blessed in creature comforts, opportunities for advancement, and freedom from drudgery than 90% of the children of the world.

We have sown the dragon's teeth of pseudo-scientific sentimentality, and out of the ground has sprung the legion bearing switch-blade knives and bicycle chains.

Clearly something is missing. Could it be what the rest of the world's children have been given—the doctrine of individual responsibility?

Relief is gradually becoming an honorable career in America. It is a pretty fair life, if you have neither conscience nor pride.

An angry old judge in Muskogee county, Oklahoma, upon his retirement last month, asserted that in his last docket 37 bastardy cases were filed for no other purpose than to qualify for the relief rolls, and that in most cases both the plaintiff and the defendant continued living together while awaiting the next arrival. Any effort to stop this racket brings an immediate threat that Federal aid funds will be withdrawn.

The state will give a mother a bonus for her illegitimate children, and if she neglects them sufficiently she can save enough out of her ADC payments to keep herself and her boy friends in wine and gin.

Nothing is your fault. And when the city fathers of Newburgh, New York, suggest that able-bodied welfare clients might sweep the streets, the "liberal" editorialists arise as one man and denounce them for their medieval cruelty.

I don't know how long America can stand this erosion of principle. But if we wish to survive maybe we had better do something about the elaborate pretense that there is no difference between the genuinely unfortunate and the mobs of relievers who gather to throw bottles every time the cops try to make a legitimate arrest.

The welfare state that taxes away the rewards for responsible behavior so that it can remove the age-old penalties for irresponsible behavior is building on a foundation of jelly.

The project will begin approximately 1.0 mile north of Garrett, just outside Bosco, and extend a distance of 2,849 miles. This highway improvement is being financed with federal and state road funds.

No one really knows where the word "Yankee" comes from, but it was popularized in the 1700's by a Massachusetts farmer named Jonathan Hastings, according to World Book Encyclopedia. Hastings used the word to express the idea of excellence, speaking of a "Yankee coodle horse," or "Yankee cider."

Charter 5,000th Club
At Muncie, Indiana

Kiwanis club number 5000 received its charter Monday evening, April 30, in Muncie, Indiana, according to Harris S. Howard, President of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club. The charter was presented to the new Kiwanis Club of South Muncie by Kiwanis International President I. R. Withuhn of Milwaukee.

Withuhn characterized the event as "the attainment of another milestone in Kiwanis' 47 year history of growth and progress."

He said that the circumstance of the Kiwanis Club of South Muncie receiving the number 5000 was a mathematical happenstance. He characterized it, however, as "a happy coincidence because Muncie, home of the 5000th club, was once selected as the most typical of American communities for a now-classic sociological study called "Middle-town."

WARD NOTES ROAD PAVING

Scheduled On Turnpike; 25-Mile Section Slated For Work During May

Paving will begin May 21 on the Eastern Kentucky Turnpike, and a 25-mile section from near Winchester to Waltersville should be open to traffic by Aug. 15, Highway Commissioner Ward has announced. Other sections of the 43-mile route from Winchester to Campton should be ready for traffic on Sept. 1, Oct. 1, and Nov. 1, Ward said.

Contracts for construction of an additional 33 miles of the Turnpike from Campton to Salyersville should be awarded by the last of June, with completion of that entire mileage scheduled by Dec. 1, 1963, he said.

Ward spoke at the Eastern Kentucky Turnpike Conference called to hear him and other State officials discuss the overall importance of the Turnpike to Eastern Kentucky. Also speaking were Gov. Bert Combs, Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt, Agriculture Commissioner Emerson Beauchamp, Turnpike Authority Director Felix Joyner, and Tourist and Travel Director Charles Warnick.

Sections to be opened on the Winchester-to-Campton mileage following the initial opening will be Pine Ridge to Campton on Aug. 15; Waltersville to Stanton, Sept. 1; Stanton to Slade, Oct. 1; and Slade to Pine Ridge, the final section on Nov. 1.

The I-64 to Campton section entailed 17 projects at a total cost of $27,706,069.

Meanwhile, the recent sale of $29 million worth of turnpike construction bonds set in motion work on the planned extension of the Turnpike from the Campton interchange to Salyersville, a distance of 32.4 miles.

The first contract for grade and drain work on this phase will be let May 18 in Frankfort. It will include 6.331 miles from Campton to Landsaw. The remaining grade, drain and paving contracts on the 32.4-mile-long extension will be let in June, Ward said.

Work is also under way on the two freeway arms of the Turnpike which will extend from Salyersville to Pikeville and from Campton to Whitesburg. These are federal aid projects and cannot be built from Turnpike bond money.

Grade and drain work is under way on a section 3.114 miles long from Ky. 404 on Middle Creek to U. S. 23 and 460 in Prestonsburg.

The Turnpike with its freeway extensions will, when completed, total 202 miles.

The Marine Corps major units include three divisions, three air wings and the nucleus of a fourth division—the 1st Marine Brigade currently stationed in Hawaii.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

A prediction that the federal government would put Kentucky under the rule of a military governor was made 100 years ago this week by the New York Times, on the strength of a dispatch from Washington, D. C. "In consequence of the removal of all National troops from Kentucky to the theater of war farther south," the story said, "the secessionists in Kentucky, numerous in many localities, have become very impudent and lawless."

The Times dispatch said recruits for Confederate Brig. Gen. Humphrey Marshall were being enlisted openly in some of the counties of Central Kentucky, men of known Southern sympathies were declaring themselves candidates for civil offices, and "plunderings of Union citizens in exposed sections have taken place."

The New York newspaper said that under such circumstances "the National Government will probably send a military governor to Kentucky... A force of 5,000 soldiers will probably back up this movement. General J. T. Boyle, of Kentucky, who led a brigade at Shiloh, is spoken of as the military governor." (This was a good guess, as will be seen hereafter.)

Even before the appointment of a military governor, steps against Kentuckians who were known or suspected to be Confederate sympathizers were being taken by both military and civil authorities 100 years ago this week. A provost guard made up of forty members of a Union Home Guard Cavalry troop rode into Owenton and arrested County Judge B. F. Sidebottom, T. A. Ireland, J. L. Hill, J. H. Lawler and L. Briscoe, who were described as "the leading Rebels of Owen." They were taken to Louisville and put in a military prison.

At Winchester, the Clark County grand jury returned about 60 indictments, "some for treason generally, some for felony in invading the State of Kentucky, some for bad fame and other offenses."

At Louisville, a civilian was arrested and charged with "uttering seditious language and denouncing the government." In reporting the case, the Louisville Journal commented, "He is said to have a very large proportion of devil in his composition."

An example of the honorable manner in which soldiers conducted themselves during the Civil War was the announcement by Major W. A. Coffee of the First Kentucky (Union) Cavalry that he would go to Tennessee and surrender to Confederate Col. John Hunt Morgan as a prisoner of war. Coffee had been captured by Morgan at Cave City and had been released on his word that he would try to get himself exchanged for one of Morgan's officers who was a prisoner of the Union Army. He had been in Washington, trying to arrange the exchange, but had not been successful. Upon his return to Kentucky, he set out for the South, found Morgan, and gave himself up.

THE FEMININE SIDE OF BOWLING NEWS

By IMA BOWLER

This has been a week of much interest to woman bowlers and indeed the past few weeks have been full, busy ones for all those connected with the sport. The winter leagues are ending, the summer ones beginning, and the lanes are busy getting ready to refinish so that we'll have better ones to bowl on. The annual meeting, the tournament—all have brought me, for a change, so much that I imagine it will take more than one week to report it all. But before I get started, let me make an apology to some members who bowled in our tournament but whose names were omitted in last week's column.

The high scorer on the McDowell Memorial Hospital Association team was Mrs. Eunice Shepherd, who bowled 192. Eunice also had the high series, 546, in all 27 teams. I am very sorry this was omitted and hope Eunice will understand. Also, in the singles and doubles, there were two sets of names omitted—Turp Combs and Barbara Rice, Mary Zemo and Avonelle Crider. I am very sorry that these names were not printed last week. Please feel free to call me for corrections or news of interest.

The annual meeting was held last Saturday night at 7:30 at the grade school auditorium and after the pledge, roll call of officers and the president's recommendations, the awards for the tournament were made as follows:

TEAM EVENTS—1st place—Big Sandy Motors, won $54.00 and a trophy presented by Crown Lanes; 2nd place—McDowell Memorial, won $40.50 and a trophy from Crown Lanes; 3rd place—Maddox Floral, won $27.00; 4th place—Music-Colvin Red Devils, won $13.50.

SINGLES EVENTS—1st—Alka J. Grey, won $10.40 and a trophy presented by Lake Lanes; 2nd place—Venice Reynolds, won $7.80 and a trophy from Lake Lanes; 3rd place—Jean Bess, won $5.20; 4th place—Joan Sullivan, won $2.60.

DOUBLES EVENT—1st place, Emily Eagle and Chris Hall, won $10.40 and a trophy each presented by Lake Lanes; 2nd place—Vertie McCoy and Jean Bess, won $7.80 and a trophy each from Lake Lanes; 3rd place—Venice Reynolds and Alka Jean Grey, won $5.20; 4th place—Audrey Cooley and Pat Willis, won $2.60.

Mrs. Alka Jean Grey won the all-events trophy presented by Crown Lanes.

Lake Lanes gave a $10.00 gift certificate to the single high scratch game in the singles and doubles, and this went to Alka J. Grey for a 202.

Next on the agenda at the morning meeting was the election of officers for the coming term. Officers elected were as follows:

President, Mary Auxier Hale; first vice-president, Emily Eagle; second vice-president, Ruthie Goble; third vice-president, Dena McNally; fourth vice-president, Eve Barb; secretary, Betty A. Davis; treasurer, Jess Mahan; sergeant-at-arms, Mabel Tackett; directors—Mary Zemo, Sarah Sirennis, Janet Whitten, Mary Mitchell, Joyce Roten, Phyllis Hammonds, Barbara Burchett, Ruth Ann Scott, Ruby Franklin, Lola Hamilton, Mildred Compton, Betty Johnson, Deloris Meeks, Rosalie Venters, Christine Spradlin, Lois May.

The City Association president would like to thank you for your cooperation this year. We all realize we have made mistakes—that is only human—but we have learned much this year and perhaps this coming one we will learn even more. Bowling is a sport to be enjoyed by everyone, and the only reason they have rules is so that you may enjoy it uniformly without dissension. This is true of all sports.

This year has been trying, and it is to be hoped that the coming one will be better. The City Association is for the purpose of helping the leagues. The three bowling lanes in our Association are here for the purpose of helping us to have fun. We must remember, no matter how critical we sometimes get, that if these lanes weren't here we wouldn't be able to bowl.

I think all of us need to work a bit on being a little more understanding and tolerant of these three places. The managers, Mr. Hall at Starlite Lanes, Mr. Daniels at the Crown Lanes, and Mr. Carter at the Lake Lanes, have been very patient and helpful this year, and I think each of us owes them a vote of thanks. They have been generous, helpful and patient, far beyond what could be expected of them.

I think that you should all know the Sugar Bowlers League at Lake Lanes have voted the rest of their kitty fund—after the trophies were bought—to the College Fund. This amounted to $109.87, and I think this is a very commendable thing for these girls to do. We would all do well to follow their example.

Lake Lanes announces that the trophies for the junior leagues will be presented Saturday afternoon, May 26, at 1 o'clock. There will also be a party, and they would like to invite all parents to attend this event. High Bowler of the Week—Johnnie Booher (196), Coffee and Doughnut League; Pin Princess, Janie Arnett (166). Summer leagues begin on June 11.

Crown Lanes High Bowler of the Week—Janice Pelphrey with a 213. Summer league play at Crown Lanes will begin June 25 and they will be closed for resurfacing the week of June 11.
