

FULL-SCALE ATTACK ON POLIO SCHEDULED OCT. 28th

Mass immunization of the population of Floyd county against polio will be made Sunday, October 28, when residents of all ages above six weeks will be given the first dose (Type I) of the Sabin oral vaccine.

Doses of the vaccine are on hand. "And," he added, "I hope we use it all during that one Sunday afternoon."

An equal supply of Type II vaccine is at hand, to be administered from four to six weeks later. Seven clinic sites have been selected for simultaneous use between the hours of 1 and 4 p.m., October 28. Each is being sponsored by the Floyd County Medical Society, and a doctor and at least one nurse will be at each clinic. Places selected for the clinics are:

Prestonsburg high school lunchroom, David school gymnasium, Harold, Martin, McDowell and Wheelwright lunchrooms and the Garrett grade school.

The Sabin vaccine has true mass appeal, since it is dropped onto sugar cubes and taken by mouth. Persons of all ages, even those who have had the Salk vaccine, should take advantage of these clinics, Dr. Hall said. He explained that, although one may be immunized against polio by Salk vaccine "shots," he may still be a carrier and a threat to others. The Sabin oral vaccine will eliminate the carrier threat, he said. The only persons above six weeks of age who will not be given the oral vaccine, it was said, are those who have had teeth extracted within three days of the clinic date, those who have undergone tonsillectomies within a week, suferers from new and severe colds or from dysentery. Other physical conditions or ailments will not preclude immunization against polio through the Sabin vaccine. County Superintendent Charles Clark assured Dr. Hall this week that school buses will be operated on the day of the clinic but only for the transportation of school children. Insurance regulations for- bid transportation of others by school bus, it was explained. Ministers of the county are asked, Dr. Hall said, to announce the clinic date from their pulpits next Sunday and thus help publicize this all-out effort to stamp out polio without further delay. Unmarried persons under the age of 21 must be accompanied by their parents to the clinics where parental request forms must be signed. Because the health department procured the vaccine supply on credit, contributions of 25 cents will be asked of financially able persons receiving the vaccine.

WELFARE FUND PLANS HOSPITALS TRANSFER

McDOWELL, 4 OTHERS MENTIONED

Announcement Is Made By Welfare Fund Head; Ask Continued Service

The United Mine Workers' Welfare and Retirement Fund is negotiating to transfer the McDowell Memorial hospital and three other hospitals of the Miners Memorial Hospital Association to interested groups who would operate the four as community institutions.

Announcement of this move was made in Washington last Friday by Josephine Roche, director of the welfare and retirement fund.

How far the move to transfer operation of the Floyd hospital to other hands has progressed, if it has made any progress, is not known. Rumors are heard that the fund is negotiating with at least two church groups which are interested in affording hospital services.

The other hospitals for which transfer is now being sought are at Whitesburg, Hazard and Middletown.

Miss Roche emphasized that any transfer arrangement will contain assurances that the hospitals will continue to provide the same high quality medical care they have afforded in the past.

Although some surprise at the move was expressed, the rumor has been going the rounds for months that the union would like to get out of the hospital business. Some of these reports say they are not financial successes, despite splendid physical facilities and complete staffing.

A union spokesman was quoted, however, as saying in Washington that from the time the hospitals were built in 1956 it has been hoped they would one day become community facilities.

The spokesman said if the communities do take over the hospitals the union will continue to pay for hospital care for miners and their families. This would amount to the bulk of patient load at the hospitals, the official said.

Revival In Progress At Free Will Church

The revival services that began at the Highland Avenue Free Will Baptist Church Sunday evening continues this week, it is announced by Jack DeRossett, pastor. Rev. Redford Meadows is the evangelist. Special singing is presented each evening and the public is cordially invited to attend, Rev. DeRossett said.

ASK PICKETS BE ENJOINED

Temporary Restraint Asked by 181 Operators; Two Held on Peace Bonds

Motion for a temporary restraining order against 140 Floyd men who allegedly have been engaged in picketing coal operations in the county was filed Friday by 181 operators of small coal mines.

The temporary injunction is in effect and will remain so until a hearing is held. Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill immediately certified the case to the Court of Appeals for a special judge to preside at the hearing. His order asking a special judge pointed out that it had been "suggested to the judge of this court the possible relationship with some of the parties."

Men continued to assemble this week, but notice of the restraining order had not been served by officers on all the 140 defendants. No incidents of violence had been reported since the hurrying of a dynamite charge over the head of pickets at a mine on Mud Creek last week.

A hearing was held by Trial Commissioner Harold Stumbo last Thursday on four peace warrants issued as a result of the incident at the Mud Creek operation. Curt Tackett, operator of the mine, was placed under $2,000 bond, and Reece Darnon, one of several men who went to the mine, was held to $1,000 bond. Peace warrants against Milton Humble and Caner Hunter were dismissed, the trial commissioner said, when Tackett stated he was not in fear of them and that they did nothing to him.

The complaint asking the restraining order against pickets alleged that:

1. Defendants are acting in concert for the purpose of injuring plaintiffs, have been travelling in large groups of up to 150 persons, trespassing upon mining properties, coal trucks and tipplers "with a fixed purpose to invade the private rights and properties of the plaintiffs and others . . . in a violent and tumultuous manner to the terror and disturbance of the plaintiffs, their families and others."

2. Defendants have damaged plaintiffs' property and have intimidated and threatened them, their agents and employees.

This Town-- That World

THANKS! The other day there came to this desk a letter from Mr. A Guy Hisle, of Paintsville, manager for Southern Bell in this area. The tone of this letter was so kind that I wondered how come. Then it finally dawned on me that this, ladies and gentlemen, is National Newspaper Week.

We thank Mr. Hisle and all others who are thoughtful enough to leave their hosi-whips at home.

MISSING Judge Hill lost his fourth hat recently, and it begins to look like only a grand jury investigation will clear up the situation. This latest fedora left behind by the judge is a king-size job—all right as a head-covering but hard on the judicial ears. All will be forgiven if whoever is sporting a hat a size or so too small will return it.

WARNING If anybody pulls that gag on you about the Governor of Mississippi shooting up his wife, don't lose your balance and gasp as I did. Sing out, "Yeah, I know — she bought a color TV set."

Then there was the one about the fellow who fell from a second-floor window and escaped injury. But if he had fallen from a greater distance it would have been another story.

Heard, the other day, about the fellow who is all mixed up in his sports. He bowls a golf score and on the course shoots what he might bowl if he's on his game.

Wonder why I felt like apologizing when I walked, hatless, into a drugstore recently and asked for a pocket comb? I'm a fine example of what that crazy kid stuff will do to your hair. Too late, alas! I learned that glue's the thing.

WE LIKE IT SO As was mentioned in the first paragraph of this column, this is National Newspaper Week. And again we are doing one of the poorest jobs in the country toward letting our readers in on the secret. We are expected by the press associations to sound off a bit, and

OFFICIALS, ALUMNI PAY TRIBUTE TO MRS. LLOYD

A gathering of alumni and friends of Alice Lloyd Junior College Sunday afternoon heard Congressman Carl D. Perkins, best-known alumnus of the school, and Governor Bert T. Combs pay tribute to the life and work of the late Alice Lloyd, founder of the famed Knott county school.

The occasion was homecoming at the college, which was renamed to bear its founder's name only last month after her death.

Woodrow Allen, Prestonsburg high school principal and president of the Caney Alumni Association, presided at the homecoming program.

"The Congress of the United States," said Congressman Perkins, "would be impressed if its members could see and know the educational goals and purposes at Caney Creek." Extolling the life and work of his benefactor, Mrs. Lloyd, he also paid tribute to June Buchanan, president of Caney Creek Community Center, a dedicated woman who is carrying on in Mrs. Lloyd's footsteps.

"It is not possible," he added, "to comprehend, to fully appreciate the life-changing work of Alice Lloyd in Eastern Kentucky. What this work has meant to thousands of youth who otherwise would have no education but who are now in positions of leadership cannot be properly assessed."

Governor Combs went to Pippa Passes as a visitor. He remained to speak, saying, "I best represent the people of Kentucky by being in Pippa Passes today. In Alice Lloyd God found the woman at the crucial moment of need for Eastern Kentucky. She is a symbol of the sacrifice necessary to train our youth adequately for this modern world."

The program included a statement by Director William Hayes, committing Alice Lloyd College to go as a memorial to its founder. The film, "Miracle of Caney Creek," which is being made by the college as a part of its development effort, was shown. Students sang the old school songs, and the prayer of dedication was offered by the Rev. Rush Stone.

New alumni officers elected at the meeting are:

Ed Madden, president; Kermit Everage, vice-president; Bill Adams, Cordell Martin, Charlotte Madden, Jarvis Allen, Hollie Conley, Boone Hall and Sarah Laven, directors.

SPAN TRAGEDY ACTION FILED

Greeley Stephenson Asks $100,000 of Contractors Who Built Floyd Bridge

First of several damage suits which may develop from the collapse last July 16 of the Knottley Hollow bridge and the deaths of three persons was filed in the Floyd circuit court last Thursday.

The plaintiff, Greeley Stephenson, of Lancer, administrator of the estate of his late wife, Cora Stephenson, asks of the T. C. Young Construction Company $100,000 damages, plus $1,115 funeral expenses.

He contends that the defendant rebuilt the suspension bridge across the river at Knottley Hollow "in such a negligent manner as to cause the same to be weakened and dangerous . . ."

The construction firm was employed under contract by the U. S. Corps of Engineers to repair the span after it had been damaged by the 1957 flood. Its collapse last July beneath the weight of an automobile caused the deaths of Mrs. Stephenson, her daughter, Mrs. Naomi Van Horn, and her son-in-law, Phenious Van Horn. The Van Horns' six-year-old daughter recovered from injuries.

It was said here this week that other action to recover damages may be filed in U. S. district court.

Speaker for this special service will be the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, of Pikeville. Everyone is cordially invited to attend and special emphasis is being placed on the attendance of Royal Arch Masons, and Master Masons and their families.

COMBS NOTES AREA DREAMS

East Kentucky Needs Outlined by Governor At Courthouse Speech

Invited by Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill to address the courtroom gathering when he stopped to visit briefly in circuit court Monday morning, Governor Bert T. Combs spoke informally to tell of what he has tried to do during his term of office.

He spoke of the dream he and almost every body else in this section have held of factories for Eastern Kentucky. But, he pointed out, schools and roads and recreation equal to the blessings of this kind enjoyed by other areas are necessary before the dream can be realized.

"These I am trying to get," he declared. He spoke of Jenny Wiley State Park, the community college in Prestonsburg, more money for education, the Mountain Parkway from the Blue Grass into Eastern Kentucky.

"This," he said, "is the best road we have ever had in this section. Maybe we shouldn't have spent so much—it costs a million dollars a mile to build a four-lane highway in these mountains—but you live here, and I'm going to live here."

CONSTRUCTION HELP VIEWED FOR SEWERS

Fiscal Court Votes To Exercise Option On Davidson Property

Implementation of the Public Works bill with the appropriation by Congress, shortly before adjournment last Saturday, of $400 million has apparently made certain one big-scale improvement here and holds strong hope for other projects.

Construction of a sewer system and a sewage treatment plant here, which was stalled by lack of funds to meet the lowest price asked to do the work, will in all probability be let to contract, now that public works funds will supplement those to be raised by local effort.

Other projects held likely are a new county courthouse and a building to house the regional and county libraries.

The Floyd fiscal court voted unanimously last Saturday to exercise its option to purchase for a new courthouse site the property on Third street of Annie L. Davidson and Ruth E. Sowards for $37,800.

"Acquis' only," she was necessary before application for federal public works funds can be made. The courthouse construction project and plans for urban renewal here are interdependent. If the urban renewal program is approved, the old courthouse property would be purchased for $60,000 to $70,000 more than the new site is costing. Then, if the county qualifies for 75% public works aid, it is held that the new courthouse could be built at little or no expense to the taxpayers.

The new site on which the option was exercised fronts 126 feet along Third street and extends 328 feet back toward Highland.

The Floyd County Board of Education has already made available to the Floyd County Library Board a site adjacent to the old high school building here for its proposed structure under the new works program.

LIONS CLUB ORGANIZED

Allen Service Group Names Williams Head Next Meet Set Oct.

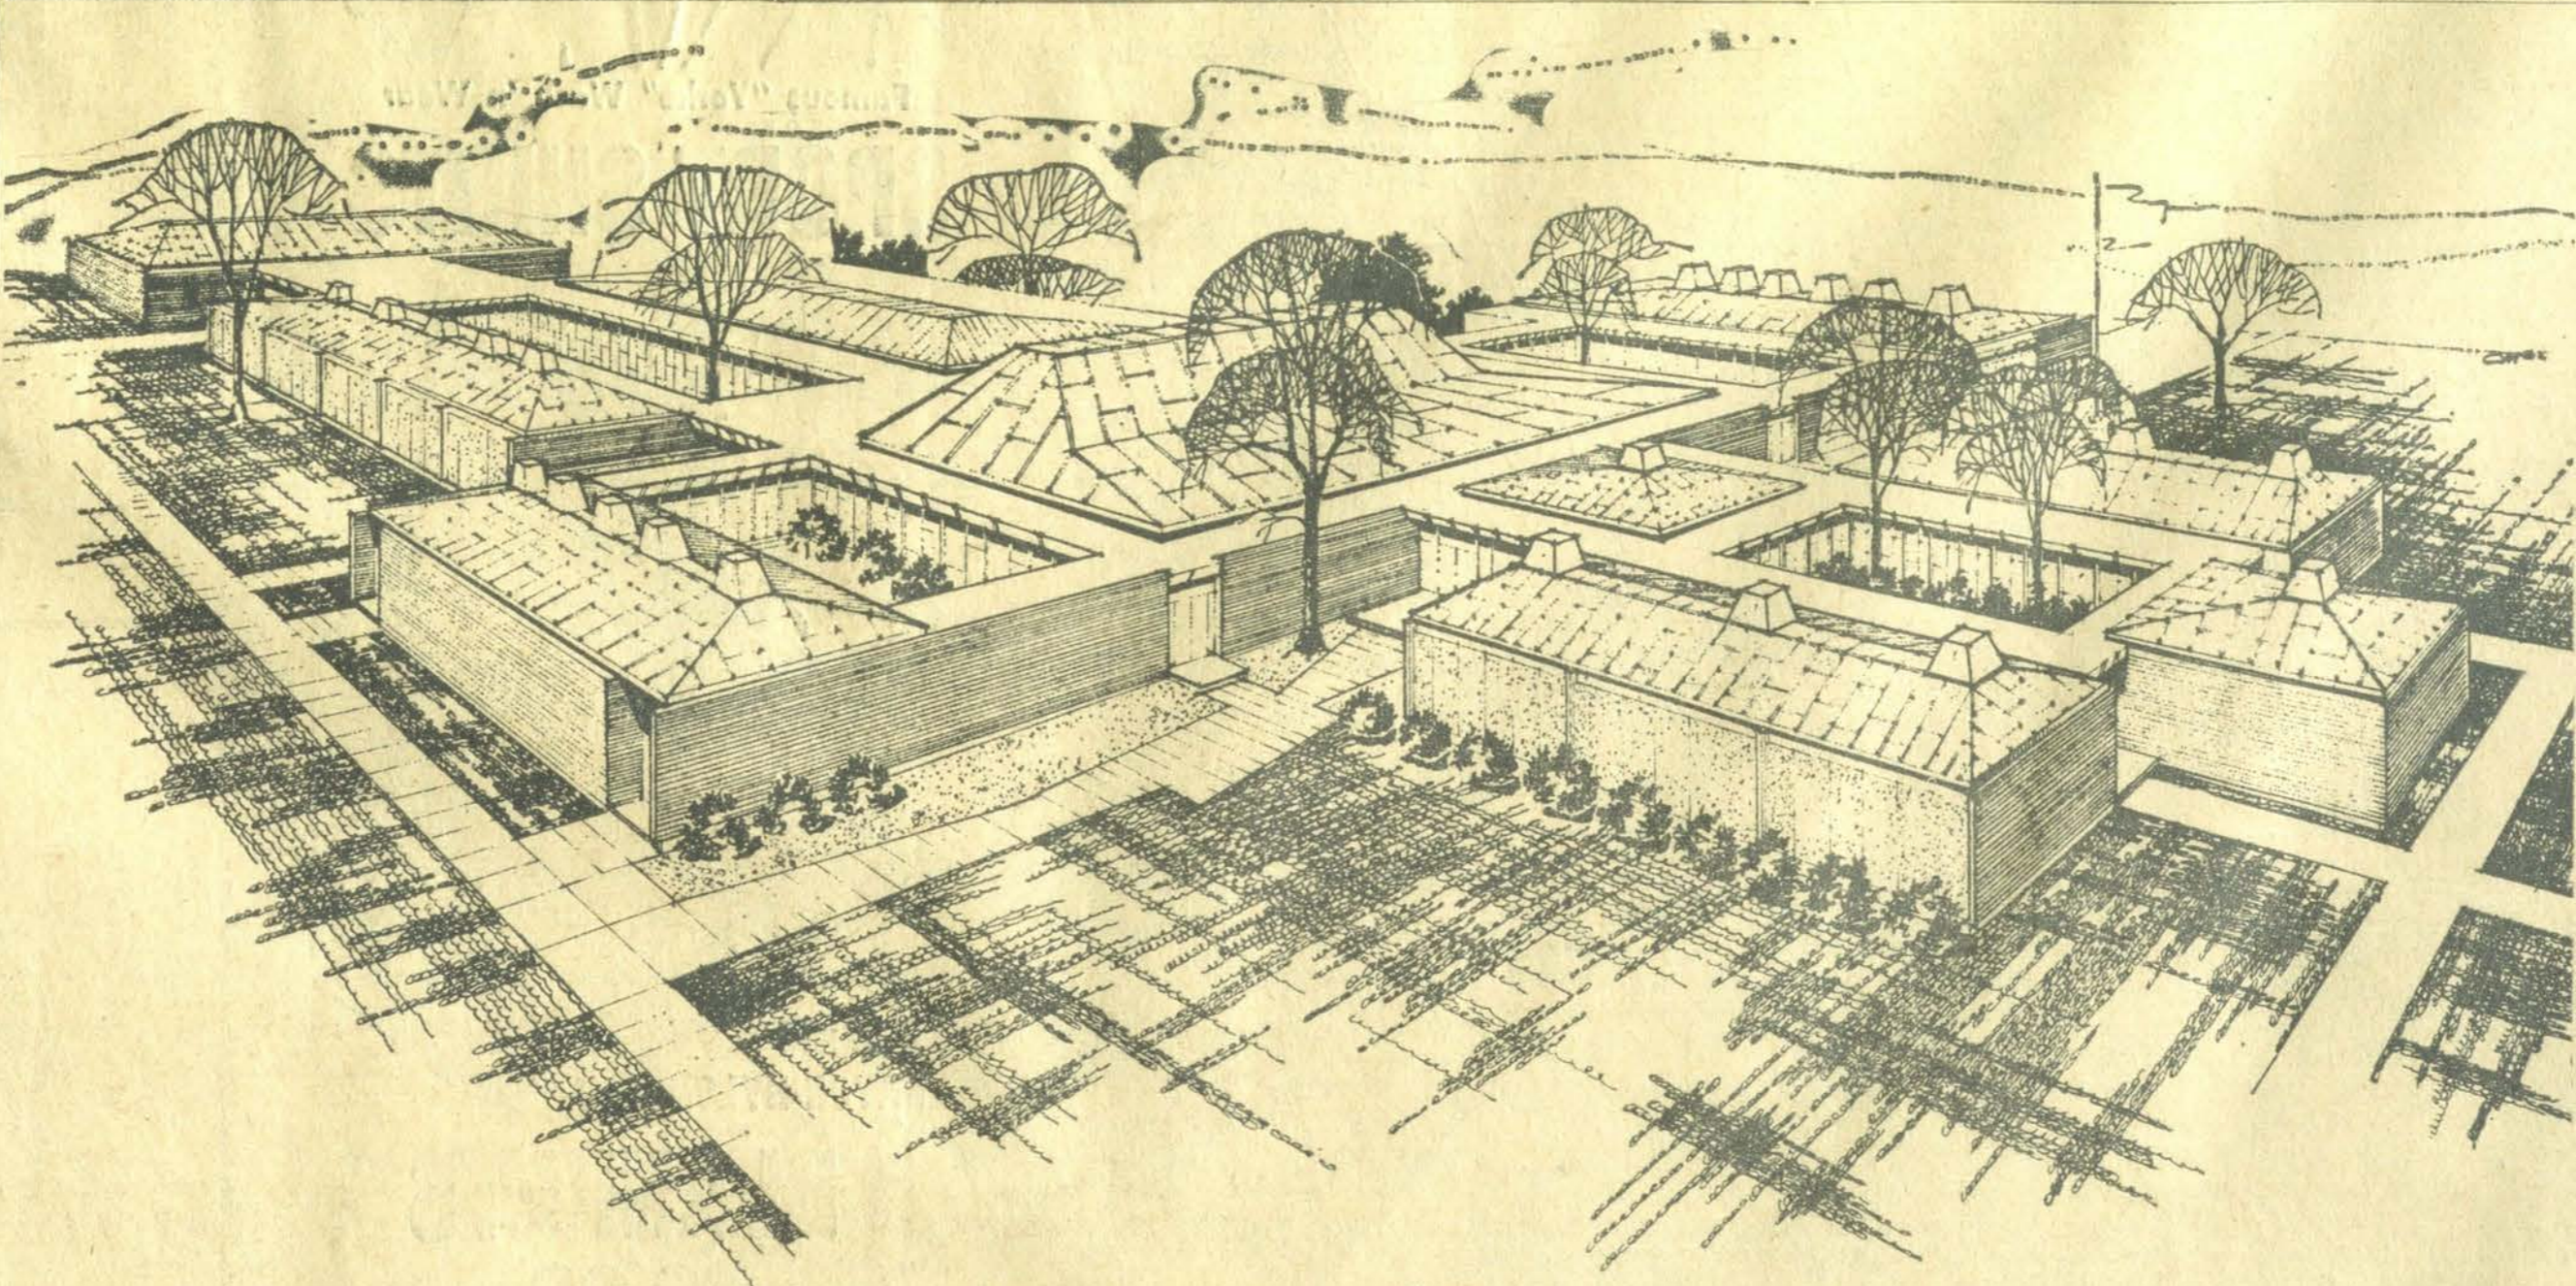

The Allen Lions Club, October 9, is the newest county service groups.

Officers of the club are: James L. Williams, president; Robert C. Martin, secretary; Harry Snodgrass, first vice-president; Randell Lee Allen, second vice-president; Maurice M. ell, third vice-president; W. Stewart, tall twister; Forrest Johnson, lion tamer; Herman Porter and Walter Frasure, directors for two-year terms; Thomas Westfall and Willard Kinzer, directors for one-year terms.

Installation of officers was conducted by Roy G. Moore, governor of District 43y, in ceremonies held at a dinner meeting at Opal & Joe's last Tuesday. Roy W. Caywood, state secretary of Kentucky Lions, acted as toastmaster. The Charter Night meeting will be held November 17 at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

The Pikeville Lions Club is sponsoring the Allen club, and several of its members attended the installation of officers. Out-of-town guests included Deputy Governor Ben Lutes of Hazard; Zone Chairman Oliver Harrison, London, Kentucky, and International Counsellor Odie Harper, of Hazard.

Next meeting of the new club will be held October 23. Prospective members are welcomed.

PRESTONSBURG COMMUNITY COLLEGE
GEORGE LEE SHANNON, ARCHITECT & ENGINEER
JACK T. HATCHER, ARCHITECT

THIS ARCHITECTS' DRAWING depicts the Prestonsburg Community College as it will look when completed, perhaps early in 1964.

The one-floor structure will face 350 feet on the Big Sandy river and will be 250 feet in depth, with all units connected by corridors. The unit in the foreground will be the college library, and immediately at its rear will be the student commons which will serve as a student lounge and a vending and food area. At the rear of the student commons unit will be the administration area, and this is the only part of the overall structure that will have windows.

All other units shown are classrooms or laboratories. Each will open onto a corridor and the view from each will include a glass-enclosed court as shown in the drawing.

The entire structure will be air-conditioned. Brick and colored paneling will be used on exterior walls.

Architects George Lee Shannon and Jack T. Hatcher reiterated this week that final plans for the college will be completed by January 1, 1963, in which case a contract for construction is expected to be awarded in time for work to begin next April. Equipping and staffing of the college are expected to be done in time for opening at the beginning of the fall term, 1964.

The college structure is designed to accommodate a maximum of 750 students.

Keeping your range broiler clean isn't difficult if you clean it after each use so that grease can't accumulate and burn on. Remove the broiler pan immediately after use; pour out excess grease and soak the pan and rack in hot, sudsy water. Wash, rinse and wipe dry. Also wipe out the inside of the cooled broiler compartment after each use or, if possible, take the entire broiler assembly to the sink for cleaning.

LYLE AND ANTHIS FAMILIES
Two letters, each from women by the name Berekman, inquiring about two separate families in Kentucky. Evidently both are genealogists and related.

Taylor-Rohr Wedding Solemnized In Indiana; Rev. Don Rice Officiates
Miss Anita Lou Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor, of Montezuma, Indiana, and Larry Wayne Rohr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Rohr, also of Montezuma, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, August 25 at Linebarger Chapel, there, Don Rice, pastor of the Montezuma Christian Church, performed the double-ring ceremony before a back ground of white gladioli and palms with lighted candelabra.

"I am working on the history of the Lyle family here in America. They were early settlers in Limber Ridge, Virginia, and Rockridge county, Virginia.
"We have a James Lisle who married Katherine Forbis in the year of 1833. My earliest record on this family is that of Daniel Liles who married Dolly Miller on August 16, 1804, in Kentucky. John Carlile married Betsy Duple in 1803. We have a Richard Abraham Carlisle (Lyle) in Green county, Kentucky.
"In searching deeds, census, war service, probate records and tax lists I find the family name of Lyle, Lisle, Lile, Carlile and Carlisle represented in your state and in your area for a period of time.
"I would greatly appreciate all the information your society can give me on these names, dates of marriage, and items of other interest. Records of any type — no matter how trivial they may seem — will help me in my research."
The letter in regard to the Anthis family is from June Anthis Berekman, 3302 W. Diversey Parkway, Chicago 47, Illinois.
She writes:
"The Anthis family was an early arrival in New Jersey. We have a record of Amy Anthis Andrews by 1672. Her husband died and in 1675 Amy Anthis Andrews sold all of her holdings at Elizabeth, New Jersey, except for one pear tree and some gooseberry bushes.
"As early as 1830 there were Anthis groups in Eastern Kentucky. Many settled in Greenup county, Kentucky, and in surrounding counties.
"Our earliest date on Anthis in Philadelphia was in 1723. (This is a variant spelling of Anthis—of which there are many.) Frederick Antes, of Germantown, purchased 154 acres of land in the town of Germantown which is now in the present township of New Hanover, Montgomery county, Pennsylvania.
"We find listed the marriage of one Frederick Antes (son of Frederick, of Germantown) to Margaret Hayman in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The wedding took place in the First Presbyterian Church on February 9, 1742.
"Among the children were Margaretha Antes who married Peter Long on April 12, 1760; Abraham Antes, of whom nothing is known; Henry Antes, an innkeeper in Frederick Township, Philadelphia county in 1739.
"Elizabeth Antes married Peter Barrackman in Pennsylvania about 1770. She also was a child of Frederick and Margaret Hayman Antes. The Barrackmans then lived in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania until 1785—when they moved into Post Vincennes, Knox county, Indiana.
"Richard Antes remained in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, for some years. He also came from the Frederick and Margaret Antes family group. He, we believe, later moved into Kentucky — where his kin moved over the entire area.
"George Antes—brother to Richard Antes—left Pennsylvania and also moved into Post Vincennes. This was about 1800. George Antes died in 1802. He left sons named George Jr., Jacob, John and Francis Antes. These men moved into Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas, Michigan and Wisconsin.
"I would deeply appreciate all the data you could give me on these names. All records, marriages, birth, death, land grants, are of great help."

Pvt. Nelson Boggs
J. R. Boggs, Hazard, Kentucky, contributes an interesting item on Pvt. Nelson Boggs, of the Fourteenth Kentucky Infantry, U. S. A., who was killed January 10, 1862, at the Battle of Middle Creek near here.
"No doubt you have heard of P. T. Wheeler, who was raised in Lawrence county. He was the son of the man who was with Boggs (Nelson) when he was killed. P. T. Wheeler was at one time a school-teacher in Lawrence county and stayed at our home (on Big Blaine Creek) several nights. Later on he became a lawyer and practiced in Hazard.

Tidbits Of Kentucky Folklore

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

It is often pointed out that the folk seldom express time or distance accurately. Thus "a fur piece" is by no means rare. Once, considerably more than a half century ago, before anyone knew that roads could be marked, I spent a whole afternoon finding the home of a colored girl who was to be ready the next day to go to Murray to work for a cousin of mine. If all the directions that this cousin and I were given had been religiously followed, I fear we would still be winding in and out of hollers and across steep ridges. The airline distance from my father's house to the cabin where we were to find the girl, before the days of tele-phones, was probably not more than four miles. My cousin was driving a high-stepping horse to a buggy with tall wheels; that helped us get over logs and stumps. One direction-giver spoke of small roads as paths; and that was what some of them were, with scarcely room to get the horse and buggy through, even with the limbs scratching the buggy and us. But we got there and back. Only ten years ago I had a similar experience and in one of the most prosperous counties in the state. The roads had not been numbered in that section; hence it was necessary to ask directions. I was to go to the store and turn right or left. I cannot recall now, for I went by numerous stores, by the side of each of which a road turned left or right. Before I finally arrived where I was supposed to be, I was very late. Now, with numbered roads, I can go and come in the same area and never think about getting lost.

When time is considered, indefiniteness is again used: "A right smart time ago" or (my favorite) "the year Aunt Jenny died." Time was so ordinary in the older days that telling about it down to the split second was unthinkable. Besides, everybody had a different time. And, like the people who lived on Egdon Heath in Hardy's The Return of the Native, everybody swore by his timepiece. Sun was the official time at Fidelity except for a few high-falutin folks who actually set their clocks by railroad time. But the farm bells rang by the sun time as interpreted by the local clock. And that made a lot of ringing of the farm bells, for no two clocks were alike. Mrs. X, let us call her, always managed to ring her high-pitched bell a few minutes ahead of the rest of the neighborhood bells. Sometimes I wondered whether I would starve before our own bell sounded, sometimes a half hour or more later. And the contrary mule had learned to associate the bell with food, too, and would be contrary until our own bell sounded.

When I was a boy, I thought that anything legal was the last word in accuracy. Then, one day, I had a chance to look over a deed that father had to a small triangular field that stuck out like a sore thumb from the rest of our "home place." Two sides of the triangle were on section lines, for the area in the Jackson Purchase had been surveyed. But that other line followed the "meanderings of a branch." Every time a big rain came or a tree fell across the branch and produced a drift, the branch did some more meandering. Thus father's few acres in that plot changed from more to less and back again many times in my lifetime. As Fidelity, I have, since then, seen deeds that mentioned as markers trees that have been gone for a century, rocks that rolled down hill and ceased to be accurate markers, and many other such indefinite things. Judge Robert Colefen of Bowling Green declares that one of the deeds in the Mammoth Cave National Park area mentions as one corner of a plot of land "the place where Uncle Johnny Pootee fell over the cliff." Now that's accurate enough for you, I hope! I suppose that the survey was made in the very year that Aunt Jenny died or the year when the "locuses" were so bad. But who cares for pinpoint accuracy, anyway?

ENTERTAIN AT LODGE

Mrs. J. B. Clarke entertained with a luncheon last Wednesday at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. Covers were laid for Mrs. W. F. Clarke and Mrs. R. W. Reynor, of Pikeville. Mrs. Hardin Short and the hostess.

D. A. R. CHAPTER MEETS

The October meeting of John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held at the library at 8 p.m., October 9. Mrs. J. G. Stepp, the regent, presided. At the business session Mrs. Edward May was appointed Honor Roll chairman; correspondence was read from Mrs. Fred Osborne in regard to the indebtedness of Duncan Tavern. It was voted to assess the chapter members 35 cents annually for the next three years to decrease the debt. Ten members present paid their assessment. A letter from Mrs. James Redwine, district chairman, in regard to the Ann Duncan house shrine at Paris was read. No action was taken. The marker fund netted $142.

Mrs. Stepp served refreshments to Mesdames Grace D. Ford, Winnie F. Johns, Everett H. Sowards, Claude P. Stephens, A. C. Harlowe, M. J. Leete, H. L. Mayo, Edward May, John R. Clark, Miss Frances Jones. The next meeting will be entertained Nov. 15 by Mrs. Joe A. Spradlin and Mrs. Lyda D. Spradlin at the home of Mrs. Joe A. Spradlin on Thursday instead of Tuesday. A memorial service honoring Mrs. Osa F. Ligon will be held.

KIWANIANNES MEET

The Kiwanians met at Lake Bowling Lanes, September 27 for luncheon. The president, Mrs. Harris Howard, presided. The dates for the November and December meetings were discussed, and it was decided to meet on Thursday, November 15, at the Kentucky Motel restaurant. December 6 was set as the date for the annual Christmas party to be held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. Plans for the crippled children's clinic to be held in October were discussed briefly.

Those who have not contributed to the Red Cross fund drive were asked to do so.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Greenville Davidson Chapter No. 1904, United Daughters of the Confederacy, met with Mrs. Roy Perry and Mrs. George T. Roberts at the home of Mrs. Perry, October 11. Mrs. John R. Clark, the president, presiding. Correspondence was read from Mrs. W. E. Bach, the division president, urging all members to attend the state conference at Mammoth Cave, Sept. 24-26 and the unveiling of the marker to Mrs. Caroline Merriweather Goodlett, founder of the Daughters of the Confederacy. The marker is at "Wickliffe," the home at Trenton, Ky., of Mrs. Goodlett.

Six members renewed magazine subscriptions. The dime collection netted $3.30. The following committees were appointed: Program—Mrs. Tom Fields, Mrs. Mary Ford, Mrs. Harry Sandige, Publicity—Mrs. Everett H. Sowards; Telephone—Mrs. Roy Perry; Membership—Mrs. Bess S. May, Mrs. A. J. Davidson; Music—Mrs. George T. Roberts, Mrs. Luther Shivel, Mrs. A. J. Davidson invited the Chapter to be her luncheon guests on November 10 at The Lantern at Pikeville.

The impressive "In Memory" of Mrs. Osa F. Ligon was conducted by Mrs. Tom Fields. Appropriate remarks were spoken by her as she lit the candles in tall, crystal candlesticks, opening the memorial service. Mrs. Mary A. Ford, the chaplain, read the scripture. Mrs. Bess S. May placed two dozen red rosebuds in the cut glass vase beside the miniature picture of Mrs. Ligon. The obituary was given by Mrs. Everett Sowards, who recited the long services to the Chapter rendered by Mrs. Ligon through her services as president, secretary, treasurer and chairman of many committees and as delegate to district and state conferences. Mrs. Ligon's passing came at her home, Aug. 31, 1962. Mrs. Harry Sandige concluded the service with the Lord's Prayer.

The hostesses served a salad course to Mesdames Harry Sandige, John R. Clark, Everett H. Sowards, A. J. Davidson, Bess S. May, Mary A. Ford, Joe Hobson, George T. PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

Action Now Will Save Money

County officials are taking steps to make certain that the Public Works legislation enacted by the Congress will be of present and future benefit to the county.

They are moving toward getting federal aid in the construction of a new courthouse. They do so on the premise that as much as 75 per cent of the construction costs will be paid out of these federal (Public Works) funds and that acquisition of the old courthouse site as an urban renewal project here will further reduce the county's outlay to a minimum—possibly to nothing.

Certainly Floyd county needs a new courthouse. Grand jury after grand jury has suggested a new structure, and some have indicated the present building should be condemned. Some day, and the time may not be as distant as some may think, the present structure will either collapse or make occupancy perilous. If such a time comes—after this opportunity for federal aid is past—the taxpayers of this county will feel the heavy burden of shouldering the huge construction cost without outside help.

Here, in this sagging eyesore of ours (it belongs to all of us, whether we realize the fact or not) are some of the oldest and most valuable of Eastern Kentucky records. In it are modern records of great value. These must be preserved, but in the present courthouse preservation may hang on a tenuous thread. Collapse of the building or fire, to which the old building is no stranger, could wipe out all this treasury of history and documented record within a matter of minutes or, at most, hours.

Official duty then appears to us to be plain. If a new courthouse can be had at little or no cost by qualifying under provisions of this federal program now, delay would be plain dereliction of duty.

On One Issue We Are Clear

The Floyd County Times is not fully aware of all the issues involved in these days of unrest in the Eastern Kentucky coal field. For this reason this newspaper is not qualified at this time to say, "Here lies all the blame, this group is altogether in the right." (We remain neutral for the present, although we know that in neutrality we win no friends and may indeed incur enmity.)

But we are convinced of one thing. Lawless acts, destruction of property and threat of harm or death to human beings—these are dead wrong, they do not belong in a civilized society, and surely no citizen or official worthy of the name will be tolerant of a spirit which borders on anarchy.

Let disputes between Capital and Labor, employer and employee—if there must be disputes—be settled in orderly fashion. And if any man or group of men insists upon settling differences by violence, then it is time that the laws of the state be invoked and enforced for the protection of its citizens and of its honor as a part of these United States.

Preserving Local History Preserves A Rich Heritage

(An editorial in The Licking Valley Courier)

The history of this county and nearby counties is a heritage that should be cherished and preserved.

Here in our area significant episodes took place, stout-hearted pioneers settled, carved estates out of the wilderness, formed county governments, built churches, established schools, and molded a social order that was the genesis of the society we enjoy today here in the foothills of a beautiful upland countryside.

These pioneers were stouthearted people of good blood, mostly English, Scotch, Irish and French Huguenots, who braved the dangers of a wilderness to obtain land and be independent.

More than 95 percent of the citizens in our area today are descendants of these stouthearted Anglo Saxon pioneers, a hardy stock, freedom-loving, and with democratic ideals.

A prolific stock, the people of these foothills counties have sent sons and daughters into many fields. And the lure of the hills draws them ever back, even if only to visit the place of their origin. But many want to learn more of their forebears, to know their family history.

And, too, this hill country is a fabled land in the minds of many who have heard native sons describe it, or have read the florid tales so often written of a landlocked mountain people, who only recently commenced abandoning their Elizabethan customs, their clanish ways.

And now, with modern highways penetrating the hills, state parks offering top accommodations along with sylvan beauty, tourists have commenced a golden stream in our mountains, a stream that will grow ever larger and larger.

A city visitor—a tourist—is worth $7 to $11 a day in the area he visits.

But will we keep him a day in our "fabled land," or will he pass on to more inviting places?

A lot depends on ourselves; the way we treat him; and whether our area offers the things he wants to see.

Of one thing we can be certain. A city person will not drive hundreds of miles to see city things. He comes as a tourist either to see and enjoy our countryside, or for recreation, like fishing, hunting, swimming, etc. And, if we are to keep him among us another day for that extra $7 to $11 we must have available proper accommodations, good restaurants, motels, hotels and camping sites—and above all, places of interest.

If he comes to our hills he will want to see hill things, not city things. Thus, we must preserve our landmarks of the pioneers—maybe even establish museums of mountain life, mountain craft, mountain made items of pioneer days. Our log houses, our early churches, our pioneer school buildings—these must be preserved. Copper moonshine stills must be set up again—set up, that is, in public places to satisfy the longing of the tourist to view one.

And, too, many will come to search family lineage. Records of these need be preserved; courthouse records of marriages, deeds, land patents and the like need be preserved—not only preserved but microfilmed and placed in a central place easy of access and comprehensive enough to keep the visitor that extra day.

And now that we plan community libraries, why not set aside a "Mountain Room" filled with mountain records, books, micro-filmed records and the like? Even a small museum of mountain items?

And the episodes of our foothills, from the time our pioneer forefathers came in from Virginia and the Carolinas, through the hard years of carving a society out of the wilderness, through the Civil War and the part our Anglo Saxon forebears played in the fratricidal strife—all this is history, rare and valuable history, the history that is the heritage of our generation of the foothills today. And it must be preserved.

It will be of ever increasing value to each new generation. And it will be of prime interest also to our cousins from other states, the sons and daughters of those who out-migrated in years past, for they will be returning in ever larger numbers and with growing curiosity for family histories.

A bit of proper planning now in building libraries, museums, and in collecting items of historical value and preserving what is yet available, but fast being lost—such planning will keep alive as history the rich heritage that is ours and each succeeding generation's in the foothills. And at the same time it will develop the rich business of tourism.

A little planning, plus a little work, will serve this dual end and bring an effect that will grow.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30, 20 and 10 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(October 14, 1932)

With the exception of a short detour at Eureka, the Mayo Trail between Allen and Prestonsburg is now paved road... The Stephens Elkhorn Coal Company on Stephens Branch began operation again October 3, after having been idle for the past three months... Cecil, Raymond and John M. Hall, three sons of Riley Hall, of Allen, were slightly injured Sunday when they exploded a dynamite cap on the Mayo Trail below Allen... Rapid progress is being made on the Allen-Lackey road, County Judge W. L. Stumbo said after inspecting the work this week... Rufus Howell, 18-year-old Ligon youth, died Saturday in the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, as the result of a skull fracture suffered when he was crushed beneath a slatefall in the mines at Ligon, October 4... Floyd county, for the fourth consecutive month, showed a substantial increase in coal loadings, the net gain of September loadings over August being 118 cars... Tom Marshall received minor injuries when struck by the trailer of a truck on the Mayo Trail at Eureka... "Uncle" Jeff Sizemore, Floyd county's only surviving member of James A. Garfield's command during the Civil War, appeared here Saturday night as co-speaker with the late President's son, James A. Garfield... Married: Miss Effie Shepherd to Mr. Jimmy Crager, both of the Brushy Fork of Licking River, recently, at the home of Rev. D. M. Allen, on Salt Lick Creek... Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Riley Hall, of Allen, a daughter, Fanny, on October 7; to Mr. and Mrs. Don Colbert, of West Prestonsburg, a son, James Donald, October 12; to Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Adkins, of Auxler, a girl, Audrey Mae... There died: Mrs. Jane Allen, 60, Monday, at her home at Drift.

Twenty Years Ago

(October 15, 1942)

Floyd county's scrap weighed to date jumped 90,343 pounds with the junk harvest of 13 additional schools weighed and reported this week, S. L. Isbell, county salvage director, announced... Fifteen-year-old Robert Minix, Jr., of Lancer, was instantly killed Sunday afternoon when he fell beneath a train of empty coal cars near the Town Branch bridge here... Floyd county's quota for the month of October of surgical dressings for army hospitals is 25,000. Mrs. Lillian Keenan, director of this phase of Red Cross work, announced Wednesday... Oscar Greer, 57, of Abbott Creek, died a few hours after being crushed by a fall of slate and rubble in the old Purity Cannel Coal Company mine on Abbott Creek... Alex H. Spradlin, Prestonsburg, was recently appointed a member of Selective Service Board No. 44 here, to succeed Edward L. Allen, Prestonsburg, who resigned... The Rev. William Smith, 68, well-known minister of the Right Beaver section of this county, was almost instantly killed Friday when his head was crushed by a rockfall in a country coal "bank" in which he was working near his home on Snaggy Fork of Salt Lick Creek... Married: Miss Bobbie Buffalo, of Durham, North Carolina, to Staff Sergeant Arbie Hunt, formerly of Prestonsburg, now of Camp Butler, North Carolina, on October 3; Miss Elsie Thompson, of Catlettsburg, Kentucky, to Cpl. John Pratt, of Martin, October 5; Miss Louella Hall, of Dewey, to Mr. Leon Buskirk, of Inez, at Paintsville, October 9... There died: Miles L. (Buddy) Hall, 65, Sunday, at his home at Fippapasses; Lily Arlene Blair, five-months-old, of Ivel, Thursday; Ben Spears, 63, of Betsy Layne, September 30, at a Paintsville hospital; Mrs. Amy Sturgill Weddington, 82, October 7, at home at Harold.

Ten Years Ago

(October 16, 1952)

Failure of the Wage Stabilization Board to approve the $1.90-a-day pay raise granted the United Mine Workers of America in the wage agreement recently reached between the UMWA and the coal industry was given as the reason for several hundred Floyd county miners being idle Wednesday... In the Floyd county school election, W. D. McCown, opponent of Dr. W. D. Osborne in the Left Beaver section, withdrew his candidacy, while races in Educational Divisions 2 and 5 remain hot issues, with John M. Stumbo, Jr., and Oscar Bush opposing each other in Division 3, and John E. Campbell opposing Ralph Johnson in Division 5... Mrs. A. H. Mandt, of Mantion, was elected to the board of directors of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, last Saturday at the Society's 29th annual meeting... An indication that it has definitely decided to include a Floyd county hospital in its medical care program was made by the United Mine Workers' Welfare Retirement Fund last Saturday, when it purchased two tracts owned by County Judge Henry Stumbo and Troy Nickles at McDowell... The Mountain Fassion Pageant Club was organized in Martin recently, in connection with the annual Eastertime event to be staged there... The kids had a grand time at Kid's Day, September 27, at Wheelwright, which was sponsored by the Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with Kiwanis International National Kid's Day Foundation and Floyd county schools... Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Martin, a daughter, Mary Lou, October 13 at the Prestonsburg General Hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. Elza Bowling, twin daughters, Annalee and Vernalee, October 5, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin... There died: Leander Grim, 78, of Hite, October 11; H. H. (Hawk) Moore, 46, of Wayland, October 12, at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey; Mrs. Thelma Conley Howard, 41, Friday at her home at Estill; William Wallace, 71, Betsy Layne, October 10, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Irene Merrill, at Berwine, West Virginia; Robert Baker, 72, October 6, at his son's home at Wayland; Richard Baker, 49, of Lancer, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, October 13; Donna Gay Williamson, nine months old, October 2, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin; Anna Laura Case, nine months old, October 4, at Our Lady of the Way hospital, Martin.

Smith-Marshall Vows Taken At Prestonsburg

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Marshall, of Mantion, Kentucky, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Barbara Sue, and Airman A-2 Daniel Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith, of Allen, Kentucky.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Leroy Sanders at his home in Prestonsburg, at 6 o'clock Friday afternoon, August 17.

Mrs. Demorris Martin, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mr. Martin served as best man. Others in the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Marshall, the bride's parents, Lana Marshall, her sister, Miss Parthena Clark, Len-ville C. Martin, Elbud Marshall, Mrs. Virgil Smith, mother of the groom, Douglas Smith, his brother, Doloris Smith, his sister, Mrs. Bill Slonee, Pat Slone, Sue and Mar-ton Watson.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on a short wedding trip. On August 23, friends gave them a miscellaneous household shower at the home of the bride's parents. They received many useful gifts.

Airman and Mrs. Smith left August 24 for U. S. Air Force Camp at Wichita, Kansas, where he will be stationed for two years.

Mrs. May Cooley, 51, Of Water Gap, Succumbs;

Mrs. May McGuire Cooley, 51, of Water Gap, died Sunday at the Prestonsburg General hospital. She was a former Floyd county teacher.

Mrs. Cooley was a daughter of the late Sam McGuire and Mrs. Katie Southfield McGuire, of Mt. Sterling. Her husband, Arnold Cooley, survives. She was a member of the Methodist Church. She has no surviving children.

Surviving brothers and sisters are Charlie McGuire, in Michigan, Frank McGuire, Mrs. Bertha Lafferty and Mrs. Minerva Steele, both of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Cpal Fritz and Mrs. Mary Powell, both of Ypsilanti, Michigan, Mrs. Mattie Wal-len and Mrs. Rebecca Steele, both of Water Gap.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 10 a.m. from the chapel of the Floyd Funeral Home, the Rev. Floyd Lafferty officiating. Burial was made in the Richmond cemetery under the direction of Floyd Funeral Home.

Steve Meade, 18, a student at Lafayette high school, Lexington, was recently elected president of the Teen-Dems Club, a student political organization. The club members recently served as ushers at a meeting of the state Democratic

Wilson Wyatt, Fat Moores, committee chairman, Douglas Hill, chairman of the by-laws committee, and Meade. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee Meade, Lexington, but formerly of Prestonsburg.

Utility Firm Service Observed by Stumbo; Is Veteran of War II

Thirty years of service with Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company are being observed this month by Dewey Stumbo, of Minnie. Stumbo joined the firm in October, 1932, as a laborer. He was appointed well operator in 1933, the position he now holds, and he is scheduled to retire in June, 1964.

Born at Minnie, he attended school in Prestonsburg and Kentucky Normal School at Louisa. He served with the armed forces during World War I for 32 months. A member of the Floyd County Fish & Game Club, he enjoys hunting and checker playing in his off-work hours.

Mr. Stumbo and his wife, the former Vida Collins, have four children — Collins, Oneida, Dewey Gilbert and Tilden Ray.

EXTENSION NOTES

BAKED POTATO STRIPS
October is a good time to serve lots of cheese and potatoes, since both foods are plentiful. This also is Cheese Festival Month, so all types of cheese will be given special attention grocery displays this month.

Here's a recipe from USDA for preparing four servings of potato strips with cheese. Cut 3 cups raw potato strips as for french fries. Put the strips into a greased baking dish and pour 1/2 cup milk over them. Dot with 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon pepper.

Cover and bake at 425 degrees for 40 minutes, or until the potatoes are tender. Then remove and sprinkle with 1/2 cup thinly-shaved process cheese and 1 tablespoon finely-cut parsley. Cover again, and bake for 5 minutes more.

THE TRUTH ABOUT MEDICARE!

SUPPORT THE MORTON 100% MEDICAL CARE PROGRAM

Not Wyatt's 25% Care Plan

You have seen and heard many falsehoods and half-truths turned out by the Wyatt propaganda machine about medical care. On behalf of all interested persons, particularly, our senior citizens, we present the true facts:

THE MORTON MEDICAL ASSISTANCE BILL

- 1 Provides coverage for everyone who wants it.
- 2 Pays your physician, your dentist and for your medicine! (The Wyatt plan pays none of these.)
- 3 Provides hospital coverage beginning the first day! (The Wyatt plan demands payment by you of at least $90 for first 9 days.)
- 4 Provides skilled nursing home care! (Under the Wyatt plan, only one Kentucky nursing home can presently qualify.)
- 5 Requires no pauper's oath... no assignment of assets... No physical examination—everyone is qualified!
- 6 Provides freedom of choice. You choose your doctor, hospital or nursing home... your family doctor only determines duration of hospitalization! (Under the Wyatt plan, you have no choice. Only participating hospitals and qualifying and participating nursing homes can be used... admission and duration of stay is determined by a government "utilization committee." No provision is made for your family doctor... or your doctor's bills.)

7 Calls for no tax or other costs to married couples over 65 with social security and other income of $2400 or less per year!

8 Adds no payroll tax to persons any age! (The Wyatt plan places direct payroll tax on every working man and woman in America... rich and poor, alike, paying the same amount... paying for someone else, since they can gain no benefits until after they are 65!)

9 Is voluntary... based on ability to pay—the American way... not socialized medicine. (The Wyatt plan... taking your money and providing, in return, a rigidly controlled service, rather than a product or money, IS SOCIALISM.)

The Morton program provides 100% care for all the people!

(Wyatt's plan cheats the people with a half-way measure providing for less than 25% of the medical needs of the nation's senior citizens!)

Wyatt, termed a 5% Democrat, supports a bill dreamed up by his left wing, ADA cronies and turned down by 21 of the nation's leading and most respected Democrat senators — 11 Major Committee Chairmen!

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Fishing for about all lake species except bluegills is dull indeed in late summer. The expert angler can usually get some—generally smaller ones—by working hard, but the less-experienced may catch none at all. Nor does the situation improve through September, since it takes the water a lot longer to lose its summer heat than it does the land.

This is true, though fishing-resort owners, perhaps trying to kid both themselves and you, generally assure you that fishing should get good in September. It should—but it doesn't.

As Jason Lucas, Angling Editor, Sports Afield Magazine, has often said, soon after the first of October in the most northern states and still later in the southern, the very best fishing of the whole season begins, since instinct causes the fish to feed ravenously then, fattening up against the lean pickings of winter. You may or may not catch as many as in spring, but you're almost absolutely certain to catch the largest of the year and have, therefore, the most sport and thrills. With just reasonable luck, you should then catch some of the biggest size, or even of the size you'll want to have mounted. This holds true, even for bass, which we were told until a few years ago don't feed and can't be caught in water below 55°F. This theory has been exploded. Many fine ones can be taken in water considerably colder, although, as the water approaches freezing, you'll get few, and those will be so sluggish and slow-moving as to afford little sport.

With walleyes, the case is different. They remain fully active and feed readily all winter, even under the heavy ice of northern lakes. Therefore, it is but natural that when they go on that October feeding jag you should not only catch a good number of big ones, but that they should give you the best fight, the most sport, of any time during the season.

Of course, some anglers won't bother with him if bass are around. But a good-sized walleye—one, say, of anywhere over five pounds—can make some very fast, powerful runs, which would easily snap a fairly heavy line, unless you're either a cool, experienced angler or have some sort of drag on your reel to prevent the line from being broken. So, as a sport-giving fish, he's certainly not to be despised.

There are only 38 certified high school football officials in the state of Kentucky and three of them are E. B. May, Jr., Frank and Johnny Heinze, of Prestonsburg. This trio usually officiate football games every week-end and has been doing an outstanding job in the area for the past ten years. Don Sullivan worked with the group for several seasons before moving to Lexington. Harry Burke took his place on the Prestonsburg team.

Bobby Mullins and Henry L. Mayo, Paintsville, received their certified ratings this year.

The following Floyd countians have registered with the Kentucky High School Athletic Association to officiate basketball games this season: Harry Gordon Allen, Prestonsburg; James D. Allen, Martin; Harry Burke, Prestonsburg; French Campbell, Allen; Bobby Jo Cllick, Manton; Bobby Crager, Prestonsburg; Bircher Duff, Garrett; John Ellis, Prestonsburg; Pete Grigsby, Jr., McDowell; Jack Hutchinson, Martin; E. B. May, Jr., Prestonsburg; Franklin Salisbury, Martin; Nelson Allen, Russell; Sid Meade, South Portsmouth; Don Sullivan and J. Milford Wells, Frankfort.

Russell Williamson, principal of Inez high school and former president of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association, will represent Kentucky at the National Conference on Secondary School Athletic Administration, in Washington, D. C., December 2-5.

Two of Prestonsburg's Little League football teams will compete with two from Louisa this Saturday afternoon. Don Graves and his Eagles will be in Louisa playing one group there, while another Louisa team will be in Prestonsburg meeting the Browns, who are coached by Rube Trickett and Ashland Joseph. The four teams will switch opponents the following Saturday.

Two Undefeated Teams Drive for Showdown; Pikeville Eliminated

Both unbeaten Hazard and Paintsville can wrap up their respective regional high school football races this week-end, provided they can win over Fleming-Neon and Millersburg Military Institute.

Walter Brugh's Tigers, the only team in Eastern Kentucky boasting a perfect record, eliminated Pikeville as a regional contender by posting a 12-6 victory, their fifth inside Class A, Region 3, and its 7th consecutive win of the season.

Hazard, idle last week, returns to action against Fleming-Neon at home, Friday night. Fleming tied highly-regarded Whitesburg, 13-all, as fullback Claude Tolliver sped 65 yards for the tying marker in the third period. He scored the first six-pointer in the initial period on a short plunge.

Whitesburg moved into a 13-6 first period lead on a 35-yard T.D. run by senior halfback Delano Thomas and a short jaunt by Jerry Coats.

In other action over the past week-end, Belfry downed Prestonsburg, 38-13; Elkhorn City was nipped, 19-14, in the final minute by McKell; Wheelwright whipped Napier, 39-20; Jenkins overpowered Everts, 26-0, and Morgan County edged Rowan County, 13-0.

Paintsville took advantage of several mistakes to move into a 12-0 halftime lead over the Panthers. On the first play from scrimmage halfback John Turner grabbed off a Pikeville pass and James Smith scored the marker later in the period.

D. B. Kazee, speedy Tiger back, added the other T.D. four plays later, following an out-of-bounds kick on the Pikeville 19-yard line.

In all, Pikeville ran only nine plays in the first half and made only one first down and that was on a clipping penalty.

Both teams failed to score in the third period and John M. Ratliff, playing with a bruised shoulder and only on offense, carried 46 yards in five plays for Pikeville's tally in the fourth frame. Virgil Honaker, regular Panther halfback, was injured on the opening kick-off and saw only limited action. Two other Pikeville regular linemen were out with injuries.

McKell climaxed a drive from its own 34 to paydirt as Phil Bentley moved in from the three-yard stripe with 27 seconds left, thus assuring the Bulldogs of their seventh successive triumph without a loss. Don Phipps and David Belcher had given the Cougars a 14-12 lead. Belcher's rally came on a 14-yard pass from Bob Brooks and Phipps ran seven yards for his.

Fullback Fred Rose registered both touchdowns—one for 2 and one for 21 yards—in pacing Morgan County past winless Rowan County.

Wheelwright copped its third win by outlasting Napier (0-6), 39-20. Glen Keaton and Doug Hall each had two touchdowns for the winners. Hall's came on runs of 60 and 80 yards.

Belfry had little difficulty in disposing of Prestonsburg for its fourth win. The Pike countians took a 31-0 lead to the dressing room at halftime, mainly through the efforts of all-state candidate Floyd Hatfield, who passed for one touchdown and scored another.

Freshman Steve Clark engineered both touchdowns for the Blackcats.

CIRCUS TO BE HERE

The Prestonsburg high school physical education department will present 10 exciting T. V. circus acts, in person, with the All American Indoor Circus at the high school gymnasium, Thursday, Oct. 25, at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

A complete circus will be on stage, with jugglers, trained animals, clowns, acrobats, aerialists, educated dogs, and daredevil stunt performers. As an extra event the clowns will put on a local baton twirling contest, an Elvis Presley contest and a teenage twist contest.

Three Floyd Students Pledged To Fraternities At University, Announced

Three Floyd countians were among the 211 University of Kentucky students who pledged to UK social fraternities this fall.

Under the University's current "rush" program, a student cannot pledge to a fraternity until he has established a good scholastic average equal to the all campus average, a figure invariably higher than that of the all men students.

The Floyd county students are James Russell Allen, son of Claude C. Allen, Risner; Jon Darroll Clark, son of County Superintendent Charles Clark, Garrett, and Dennis Morgan Stephens, son of John Stephens, Prestonsburg.

Allen, a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, was pledged to Sigma Chi social fraternity. Clark, a graduate of Garrett high school and a sophomore in the College of Engineering, was pledged to Triangle. Stephens, a sophomore civil engineering major, was pledged to Lambda Chi Alpha. Both Allen and Stephens are graduates of Prestonsburg high school.

Snack Lunch Don't Pay

The soft-drink-and snack lunch for a school child often costs about the same as a Type A lunch in the National School Lunch Program, but there's a big difference in their dietary value, according to USDA nutritionists. The child who selects the snack-type lunch gets considerably less nutrition for his money. The approved school lunch provides a child with from 1/3 to 1/2 of the recommended daily dietary allowances.

MEADE WINS TRACK MEET

Will Be Host Oct. 27 To Regional Run-Off On Paintsville Course

Meade Memorial high school, Williamsport, will be the second area high school to hold an invitational cross-country meet. It will be held over the Paintsville Country Club course Friday at 4 p.m.

Every school in Eastern Kentucky has been invited to compete on the course that will be the site of the regional run-offs, October 27.

Ninety-four runners participated in Prestonsburg's meet last Friday. The order of finish by teams was: Meade Memorial 48, Flat Gap 50, Oil Springs 81, Morgan County 114, Prestonsburg 131, Camargo 157, Johns Creek 176, and Warfield 180. Trophies were presented to Meade Memorial and runner-up Flat Gap.

Individual awards were presented to the top ten finishers. Kenny Pack, Flat Gap, nipped Meade Memorial's Jackie Blevins by two seconds, 10:33 to 10:35, for first-place honors.

Others in their order of finish: E. Willoughby, Camargo, 10:40; Harry Colvin, Meade Memorial, 10:44; Ira Butcher, Meade Memorial, 10:47; Gordon Lewis, Morgan County, 10:51; Teddy Burchett, Oil Springs, 10:58; Scotty Johnson, Morgan County, 10:59; Richard Castle, Flat Gap, 11:01; Willard Stambaugh, Flat Gap, 11:06. The meet was held on the two-mile Jenny Wiley State Park course.

The average educational level of farm laborers has not improved over the past 20 years, according to a nationwide survey conducted by the Bureau of Census for USDA. The survey also shows that about six out of 10 persons hired to work on U. S. farms in 1960 had completed no more than eight grades of school.

High heat and long cooking do not make good cheese dishes. Both these conditions can cause cheese to become stringy and rubbery and may even cause curdling when the cheese is combined with mixtures of milk and eggs. If you want cheese to melt quickly, dice or shred it before adding other ingredients.

CONSERVATION IS SUBJECT SLATED FOR DISCUSSION

Frankfort, Oct. 11 (Spl.).—All major phases of conservation will be discussed at Kentucky's second annual Conservation Congress Oct. 17-19, with widely known experts delivering keynote addresses on each phase, according to State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick.

During the Congress, to be held at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville, awards will be presented to several Kentuckians who have contributed most to conservation work in the Commonwealth. Principal speaker at the three-day meeting will be Brooks Hays, special assistant to President Kennedy and former U. S. Congressman from Arkansas.

Matlick said the following topics will be discussed at panel sessions and also keynoted before the entire Congress by the speakers listed:

Forestry—Arthur R. Spillers, Washington, D. C., director of cooperative management, U. S. Forestry Service, will speak on marketing and utilization of forest products.

Wildlife and recreation—Harold Van Morgan, Knoxville, chief of the recreational section, Division of Reservoir Properties, Tennessee Valley Authority.

Land use—Lindo J. Bartelli, Soil Conservation Service, Knoxville.

Water resources—Hudson Biery, Cincinnati, executive director, Ohio Valley Improvement Association.

Mineral Resources—Cecil H. Underwood, former governor of West Virginia and now vice-president of the Island Creek Coal Co., Huntington.

Health and social aspects—Dr. A. Lee Coleman, head of the Sociology and Rural Sociology Department, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Conservation education—James L. Patton, Frankfort, assistant State superintendent of public instruction.

Conservation information—Mike Hudoba, Washington, D. C. correspondent for Sports Afield magazine.

Hays will speak at a banquet the first evening of the Congress on "Developing Our Nation's Natural Resources."

Mrs. Robert J. Phillips, St. Charles, Ill., national president of the League of Women Voters, will speak at a luncheon program the final day of the Congress on "The Role Which Citizens and Organizations Play in Conservation." The League has conducted many conservation projects, especially on Ohio River Valley water resources.

At a luncheon the second day of the Congress, Burl St. Clair, Falls of Rough, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, will present an illustrated lecture on his tour of India to show the effects of lack of conservation practices on the diet of the people.

At a 6:30 p.m. banquet the second day, a Columbia Broadcasting System television film, "Water-Famine," will be shown. Victor Sholis, vice-president and general manager of WHAS-TV, Louisville, will introduce the documentary film. The presentation of recognition awards will be made at this banquet.

The Congress is sponsored by the Natural Resources Development Committee, composed of persons interested in promoting proper protection, development and wise use of the soil, water, forest and wildlife resources of Kentucky. The committee attempts to bring together all agencies, organizations and individuals working to conserve these resources.

All Kentuckians interested in conservation are invited to attend the Congress and participate in the panel on the topic of their choice.

Restrictions Lifted On Feed Grain Acreage; Grazing Is Permitted

Beginning November 1, most of the acreage diverted under the 1962 feed grain and wheat program will be released from program restrictions on grazing.

Daniel Akers, chairman of the Floyd County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announces. The authorization does not extend to diverted acreage which is devoted to wildlife food plots diverted acreage on which grain or oilseed crops have matured in 1962.

The chairman explained that the grazing restrictions are being relaxed as part of the general effort to keep provisions of farm programs in line with practical farming operations. Many farmers normally salvage dropped corn ears and other crop residue by turning livestock onto harvested cropland in the late fall. Since the diverted acreage on many farms is not fenced separately, the program change will permit these farmers to salvage this feed without being put to unreasonable work time and expense for protective fencing.

According to Akers, the main objective of the ban against livestock on diverted acres has been to prevent grazing that may partially offset the corn, grain sorghum, and wheat adjustment under the diversion programs. With killing frosts likely by November 1 over the main grain-producing area, the objective of the no-grazing ban would be satisfactorily met by that time. In addition, the important period for protection of the diverted acreages also will have passed in most areas, and there is small likelihood that conservation cover would be severely damaged by permitting livestock on this acreage on or after November 1.

In the event of a statewide killing frost, the chairman added, approval may be obtained for an earlier date for relaxation of the no-grazing ban.

Lexington, Ky.—Some burley farmers are stripping their crops much too early this season, says Ira Massie, UK Extension Service specialist. "These 'early birds' may cost themselves some crop quality," Massie said. "Stems are heavy and moisture content of the leaves too high."

BAPTIST W. M. U. MEETS

The Woman's Missionary Union of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church met Oct. 8 at the church annex. The president, Mrs. Olga M. Latta, presided. The program was built around the 75th anniversary of W. M. U., covering the early history of the organization and outlining the plans for the year-long observance. The Woman's Missionary Union was organized in 1888 at Richmond, Va., as an auxiliary to the Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. Since its founding, the women, through their Lottie Moon and Annie Armstrong offerings particularly, have built churches, schools, and hospitals both at home and on the foreign field. They have supported missionaries with both their money and their prayers.

Special emphasis during the year will be given to weeks of prayer, an all-day prayer retreat and can increase in study of mission books and magazines.

Taking part on the program were Miss Ella Faye Hayes, leader, Mrs. Latta, Mrs. Robert Regan, Mrs. Gerald Leslie, Mrs. James Clark, Miss Anna Martin, Mrs. William Jagers, and Miss Elizabeth Rose, the latter representing the Y. W. A.'s. Others attending were Mrs. William Petrey, Mrs. R. W. Feiler, Mrs. William Osborne, Mrs. Grace Ford, Mrs. L. D. Fields and Mrs. R. V. May.

Seven Area Governors Plan Reforestation Job; TVA's Cooperation Given
Governors of the seven Tennessee Valley states joined with the Tennessee Valley authority at the recent Southern Governors Conference in Hollywood, Florida, to launch a seven-year campaign to reforest their respective states in the interest of industrial development.

Under the slogan "Plant Trees—Grow Jobs," the governors pledged "the combined efforts of our several state governments to complete the job of planting 13 million acres in seven years."

TVA Chairman A. J. Wagner, meeting with the governors at the Florida conference, announced TVA's cooperation in the drive.

"The South has over 39 percent of the nation's commercial forest area," Wagner said, "and the seven-state area can become the nation's forest products industry center of the future. Every thousand acres planted means 10 additional jobs in industry and as many in related services."

Speaker To Discuss Work To Aid Retarded
Charles E. Acuff, director of Mental Retardation, Department of Mental Health, Louisville, will be the main speaker at the Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club's regular meeting Monday, October 22, at Wheelwright. Mr. Acuff will join the Kiwanis Club for dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the club house, then adjourn to Community Hall in order to accommodate a larger group. Guests from other Kiwanis Clubs, Woman's Clubs, and individuals from the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children are invited to hear Mr. Acuff tell something about what the Division of Mental Retardation is doing and plans to do for retarded children in Kentucky.

WINTER-WHITE WOOLENS
Lexington, Ky.—Winter white is a high fashion color in this year's clothes. However, keeping that fresh, white look may be a problem, notes Mrs. Rachel Wallace, UK Extension clothing specialist. The bright white of some woollens is produced by fluorescent brightening agents during the manufacture of the fabric. Light will cause garments made with these materials to yellow gradually, she points out. Keeping garments in a cool, dark place except when they are being worn slows down this yellowing process.

Q. I see where the rabbit bag limit for this season is again eight. I am a bird hunter but often have a chance to harvest a rabbit or two. Would it be illegal for me to kill rabbits if I already had bagged my limit of quail? J. B., Lexington.

A. You have a perfect right to kill rabbits while hunting quail even though you have already bagged your limit of birds. Actually, a hunter could have his limit of more than one species while on a fishing trip. For instance, since a part of the dove season this year runs concurrent to rabbit and quail season a hunter, if he is lucky enough and durable enough, may take his limit of rabbits, doves and quail all on the same day, or actually on the same trip.

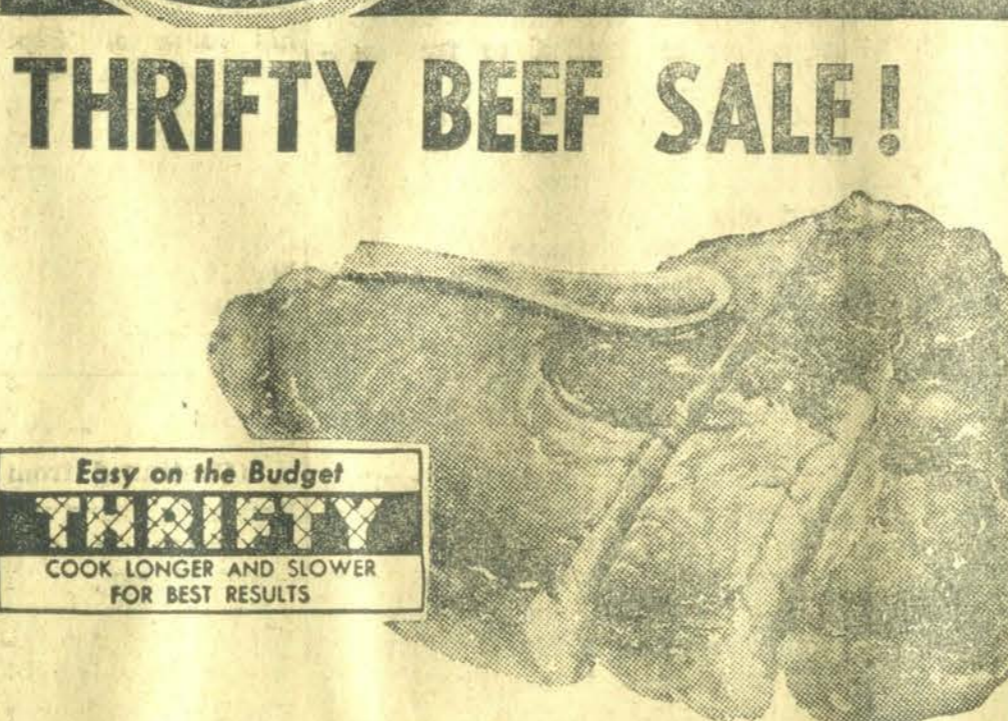

Q. While fishing recently in Lake Cumberland I noticed those smaller black bass were chasing and eating very small minnows of some sort. I have never noticed these fellows in this lake before. What are they? S. M., Corbin.

A. You are undoubtedly referring to the threadfin shad which were stocked in that lake as well as in others a couple of years ago. The threadfin shad is unlike the gizzard shad, with which you are probably familiar, in that they do not grow so large. As adults they are only two to three inches long and, therefore, unlike the gizzard, offer food for the fish throughout their life span. The gizzard shad, as you probably know, grows rapidly and to a large size and because of this, once they reach the stage where they cannot be eaten, they tend to overpopulate a lake. This additional food from the threadfin should improve the bass growth and population.

Q. Is it legal to carry a shotgun or rifle in the fields during the period November 1 through November 15? H. G., Stanton.

A. Yes, it is legal to have a gun in the field during the period designated. However, under the regulations of the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources hunting for both protected and unprotected species is barred during that time, except for the gun deer hunting season which opens on November 7 and continues through Nov. 10.

The Pikeville rally, to be presided over by Attorney Fred Redwine, will be held in the high school athletic field. Eight Pike county high school bands will provide music for the occasion which is expected to be one of the largest political rallies ever held in this section of the state.

Many Democratic big-wigs are expected to attend, including former Governors Lawrence Weatherby, A. B. Chandler, Earle Clements and Keen Johnson. Following the Pikeville speech Truman will go to Gilbertsville and, after a rally at Murray, he will leave for his home in Independence, Missouri, Sunday afternoon.

Schools and roads do not come cheap, he said, but education must be provided young minds, transportation must be provided for places isolated because of bad roads or none.

"I just thought that while I was in Frankfort I ought to try to get some of these things we have so long needed and done without," the Governor explained.

Combs paid tribute to the legal profession and its integrity. Then he turned to what the law had done in northern Kentucky, admitted he had incurred some emity because of his action to curb the liquor business and gambling there.

"I promised to give northern Kentucky my attention. But I have heard the complaint, 'You gave us too much attention.' Before he acted, along with federal authorities, northern Kentucky had an economy based on gambling, prostitution and liquor, he said. Its economy is now based on decent, honorable and constructive endeavor, he added.

Governor Combs spent most of the day here, flying late that afternoon to Ohio to make a political speech in support of Governor DiSalle, a candidate for re-election.

Asked if the union was taking the action because some of the hospitals are operating in the red, the spokesman replied: "We have never said so." The U.M.W. fund's latest report indicates that local citizens other than miners in the mining communities owe the hospitals in excess of $1,000,000.

That sum is listed in accounts receivable from "patients," as distinguished from accounts receivable from the U.M.W. welfare fund from miners.

The spokesman said that, if the communities refuse to take over the hospitals "it is the plan now" for the union to continue operating them.

The fund's major hospitals are located at Harlan, Kentucky, and Williamson and Beckley, West Virginia, with other smaller hospital facilities located at Pikeville, Man, West Virginia, and Wise, Virginia.

The establishment of the hospitals was considered one of the boldest social-welfare projects ever undertaken by an American labor union.

The hospitals, manned to a large extent by doctors brought in by the union, are modern and well equipped. However, the relationship between the union and medical associations over the operation of the hospitals has been marked by controversy.

Some of the county medical societies have excluded doctors on the hospital staffs from membership in the societies. The retirement fund also selected a list of physicians and hospitals eligible for treating U.M.W. fund beneficiaries. Hundreds of physicians were frozen out by this edict.

Money for the retirement and welfare fund comes from a 40-cent-a-ton royalty paid by owners of unionized mines. Under the welfare system, any miner in good standing is entitled to free hospital care.

Of the total outlay of $118,000,000 from the welfare fund last year $51,000,000 went for hospital and medical care.

$106,000,000 Balance There has been a rapid drop in coal-mining employment, largely because of mechanization. Similarly, the number of beneficiaries has declined as benefits are discontinued after a miner is unemployed for a year. This policy has resulted in bitter wrangling among members of the U.M.W.

Presumably, because coal production is holding up well now, the continuing flow of royalty payments will mean more money to spend on fewer people. U.M.W. fund officials indicate that they hope the investment in the 10 hospitals, made through the separate Miners Memorial Hospital Association, can be gradually liquidated and the money returned to the U.M.W. welfare fund.

The unexpended balance on hand as reported by the fund on June 30, 1962, was $106 million.

The four hospitals presently subject to transfer negotiations have 305 beds.

were authorized by the fiscal court Saturday to act on its behalf in applying for public works funds which may be available for road construction.

A modernized sewer system and a sewage treatment have been rated necessary to development here, some of which has already been completed. The Prestonsburg sewer system is to serve Jenny Wiley State Park and its recently dedicated May Lodge, and the proposed Prestonsburg Community College for which plans are now being prepared. The same service also has been pledged the federal low-rent housing development now under construction here.

The sewage treatment plant is a necessity under federal anti-pollution law.

The sewer project is at or near the top among the projects ready for consideration by the Community Facilities Administration, Atlanta, Georgia, it was said here this week.

The complaint adds that, unless defendants are restrained, the businesses of the plaintiffs will be destroyed.

The court was asked to:

1. Enjoin the defendants from assembling or congregating, either with each other or any other person, for the purpose of entering upon private property of plaintiffs or interfering in any way with the mining, transporting, processing or shipping of coal.

2. To restrain defendants from assembling with one another or any other person in groups of three or more in meetings or travelling on public roads of the county for the purpose of planning to interfere with mining and allied operations.

3. To enjoin the defendants from interfering with mining and other coal operations by requesting, inducing, threatening or otherwise hindering the operations of the plaintiffs, and from entering upon the private property of the plaintiffs.

Affidavits of five men connected with the operation of small mines were filed in support of the motion for a restraining order. These were:

Harrison Stephens, who told of 46 carloads of men coming to the Liberty No. 2 tipple at Risher on September 13; William E. Hall, McDowell, president of the Stoker Mining Company, Inc., who described a visit on the same date of approximately 150 men to that operation; Ed Hunt, operator of Liberty Mine No. 4 at East McDowell, who told of alleged threats made by a man at his home; Ralph Moore, operator of two mines on the Jake Akers Branch at Hunter, telling of about 150 men coming to his mine on September 15 and ordering him not to deliver coal which he claims was ordered for eight Left Beaver Creek schools; Paul Patton, part-owner of the Kentucky Elkhorn Coal Co., McDowell, who said that on September 13 about 100 men came onto company property and ordered him to stop work.

WILLIAMSON IN GERMANY

Grafenwohr, Germany — Army Sergeant First Class Billie Williamson, whose wife, Pearl, lives at Teaberry, Kentucky, recently completed eight weeks of intensive field training with other members of the 4th Armored Division at the Seventh Army Training Area in Grafenwohr, Germany.

The 4th, a major element of NATO forces in Europe, plays an essential role in maintaining world peace.

Sergeant Williamson, a member of Battery B in the division's 78th Artillery in Craisheim, entered the Army in 1944 and arrived overseas in July, 1960, on this tour of duty.

The Sergeant attended McDowell high school. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Williamson, live at Drift.

I think we should — to offset the knocks, if for no other reason—but, somehow, we never feel like tackling the job.

Newspapers as a whole do themselves no credit in the matter of selling the press to the public. The usual line is to plug along, doing the best you can, and let the results speak for themselves.

We don't toot our own horn, but it's not because we're over-modest. I confess, there's more laziness involved than any other factor.

But we aren't too slothful to write this: Be as considerate, forbearing and long-suffering as you have been for the last 35 years, and we'll be quite happy with the whole arrangement.

Floyd county's finest, most complete, best equipped and oldest funeral home. Complete in every detail—family room, chapel and organ for your convenience. Your inspection of the home built for funerals is cordially invited.

Although Carter & Callihan have expanded in size . . . added modern equipment over the years . . . they still render the same friendly, personal service.

The Salisbury P.-T. A. recently voted to keep the same officers they elected last year: Mrs. Eugene Crisp, president; Mrs. Junior Lafferty, vice president; Mrs. Troy Allen, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Charles Allen, assistant secretary-treasurer. The P.-T. A. now has 36 members. It sponsored a canned food and bake sale which netted $31.70, also had the second bake and rummage sale which netted $38. It also has bought a better stove and employed Mrs. Bob Tackett to do the cooking. The hot lunch program started Monday, Oct. 11, for the students. We thank Eugene Crisp, Kane Sexton and Noah Collins for cutting the weeds and trees around the building.

(Last week's correspondence) Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stephens were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Robinson, of Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. George Laven, of Allen, Aubrey Harmon, of Jenkins, and Douglas Stephens.

William Best, who is employed at Eastern State hospital, Lexington, spent the week-end here with his wife, Frankie Sue Best. Stephen Lee Best, who is a student at Eastern Kentucky State College, spent the week-end here with his parents.

W. L. Baldrige, Sr., and W. L. Baldrige, Jr., of Little Paint, visited his sister, Mrs. Will Stephens, here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Collins are announcing the birth of their sixth child, a daughter, at the Prestonsburg General hospital, Sunday midnight.

Frankie Ray Lafferty spent several days in Prestonsburg General hospital last week because of a broken arm. He has returned to school.

Woodrow Stephens, who has been a patient at Central Baptist hospital in Lexington for the past month, was able to return home Monday. His condition is improved.

Mrs. Jesse Daniels was able to return home Monday after several days' illness at the Prestonsburg General hospital.

Henry Lafferty was rushed to the Prestonsburg General hospital Sunday night with a severe pain in his chest. He has been released but will be confined to his home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Dotson attended the Free Will Baptist Conference at Drift Saturday night.

Miss Douglas Stephens was able to resume her duties as nurse at McDowell Memorial hospital Monday after a week's illness of flu.

MARTIN IN GERMANY
Fort Riley, Kan.—Army, Pfc. Arthur Martin, Jr., of Morehead, Ky., departed from Fort Riley, Kan., Sept. 30, with other members of the 1st Division's 13th Infantry for a six-month tour of duty in Germany under Exercise Long Thrust V.

Martin, whose wife, Patricia, lives on Route 3, is a forward observer in the infantry's Combat Support Company at Fort Riley. He entered the Army in September 1961 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

The 21-year-old soldier, whose parents live in Grethel, is a 1959 graduate of Betsy Layne high school and attended Morehead State College.

Lady's Arm Bent Like Jack-Knife

One lady told us her arm used to be doubled up like a jack-knife because her muscles were stiff and sore with rheumatic pain. She said people would stare at her. Finally she got RUGON and now says she can raise her arm above her head and the awful pain and stiffness is gone entirely.

RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this NEW liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON at W. A. Rose Drug Co.

THE GROUNDHOG

He's just plain "groundhog" in the once popular mountain ditty: "Here comes Sall with a snicker and a grin, Groundhog grease all over her chin! —Groundhog!"

He's got plenty of other names, too: whistle pig, woodchuck, marmot and just "ornery old groundhog!" He belongs to the order of animals, RODENTIA, and is in the family, SCIURIDAE, which also includes squirrels, chipmunks, prairie dogs and the Rocky Mountain marmots.

Mr. Groundhog is one of the most interesting and colorful animals to study. He is a bit on the sky side, is highly resourceful, cunning and doesn't hesitate to fill his belly with new roasting ears from the farmer's mountain cornfield, along about August. He has such a large bump of curiosity it often proves his undoing. He builds his dens, or burrows, usually under large, flat mountain stones, sloping them upwards to keep them dry, and he prefers an open pasture field, with lots of sun. He developed the fine art of sun bathing long before mid-lady took to it to improve her health and complexion. He usually selects a large rock, flat on top, for use as a sun porch. He will be still for hours in the hot sun, soaking up its life-giving elements. Let an intruder approach and he will give vent to a loud, explosive whistle, fraught with a challenge, and then he will dive for the safety of his underground retreat.

The hunter with a gun can then bag him easily, because of his deep curiosity. If the hunter will sit down only a few feet from the mouth of the burrow, and will wait quietly, curiosity will soon drive Mr. Groundhog out to the entrance, where he will slowly stick out his head, his bright eyes peering cautiously for the intruder. It is then a simple matter to blast his head with the gun. Many groundhogs have lost their lives because of this bump of curiosity.

The groundhog is a handsome animal, with his brown coat covered with silver, and his nostrils bedecked with long, gray whiskers protruding at eight angles from the lips. The whiskers are used by him as measuring gadgets to gauge the size of a hole or an entrance. They are very sensitive to the touch and bring groundhog much information about the dark underground world in which he makes his home.

Groundhogs make ready to hibernate in September and are usually snoozing soundly by the tenth of October. Before they hibernate, they browse heavily on clover, weeds, grasses, corn and whatever vegetables they can purloin. They eat until they are seal fat, storing up enough energy to last them through the long winter months. They wake up and come out to have a gander at the weather about the time the snows begin to melt in the first warm days of late winter—tradition has it on February 2, famed now as Groundhog Day, and in some sections records are kept, and it is claimed Mr. Groundhog seldom fails to make his animal weather prognostication on this date.

From seven to nine baby groundhogs are born to the litter, usually in the early spring. They are stone blind at birth.

Fat groundhogs often weigh twenty pounds and are highly prized as a table delicacy by many people of the Appalachians. Men take dogs and mattocks and seek out their burrows. They dig back under the rocks and trees, where the burrows are located, until they reach the end of the den. While the men are digging and the dogs are barking outside, Mr. Groundhog keeps busy inside. He digs frantically in an effort to escape hunter and dogs. When caught, he is carefully skinned and dressed and his carcass is usually baked with plenty of yams and black pepper. His flesh is sometimes cooked with spicebush twigs in the water, to kill out the wild animal scent. Old hunters are always careful to remove the "kernals," the glands of his neck before cooking.

The pelt of the groundhog was a highly useful commodity in pioneer times. After skinning the animal, the oldtimers took the hide and soaked it in lye from wood ashes, or in oak bark ooze, to make the hair slip off. After the hair was removed, the skin was worked, kneaded, pounded, rolled and unrolled, until it was soft and pliable. It was then cut into thin strips, for use as shoelaces, and in mending harness, saddles, bags—groundhog strings had a thousand and one uses in the pioneer days.

It was a comical sight to see a teenage school boy coming to school in the late fall all dressed up in his new brogans, tied up tightly with a brand new pair of groundhog shoe laces, which were always tied in loops at the top and had a few brown hairs left on them for decoration. But most school boys were proud of their groundhog shoe laces and took good care of them.

While groundhogs are ground-loving animals, they will climb a tree when hotly pursued by dogs or men. But they are easily shaken out of a tree and soon fall a victim to the hunter's dogs.

The shrill, penetrating whistle of a groundhog can be heard at a distance of several yards, and it is something that echoes in the mind and heart of a boy and he never forgets that ringing challenge which seemed to say, "Come and get me if you can!"

Mrs. Grimm To Lead Girl Scout Neighborhood

The Wheelwright Girl Scout Neighborhood held its first meeting of the Scout year, September 26, in the Girl Scout room, with Mrs. Irene Thomas presiding.

Mrs. Eleanor Grimm accepted the chairmanship of the Neighborhood for this year. The regular meeting date was set for the first Tuesday of each month. Troop organization was discussed at length. Brownies met October 2 for registration and division into troops.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Eleanor Grimm, Mrs. Irene Thomas, Mrs. Helen Pace, Mrs. Jewel Childers, Mrs. Sarah McQueen, Mrs. Kim Fields, Mrs. Virginia Benedict, Mrs. Gertrude Bradbury and Mrs. Catherine Allen.

WHEELWRIGHT WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Wheelwright Woman's Club held its October meeting recently, Dr. Patrick McShane, chief of medical services, McDowell Memorial hospital, spoke. His topic was "Physical Fitness." Dr. McShane defined physical fitness as the ability of a sound body to perform at maximum efficiency without experiencing undue fatigue. He pointed out the need for improving physical fitness among U. S. citizens, particularly the youth.

A question and answer period followed Dr. McShane's interesting and informative talk. During the business session of the meeting, Mrs. Leon Porter and Mrs. Arthur Bradbury were selected to be the delegates to the District meeting in Pikeville. Mrs. Hobert Smith and Mrs. George Leatherman were chosen as alternate delegates.

Mandt Appoints Ferrell Department Instructor; So. Williamson Native

A. H. Mandt, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Mines & Minerals, has announced the appointment of Julius Ferrell, 59, of South Williamson, Pike county, as inspector-instructor for the department.

Ferrell was formerly employed as general mine foreman of the Osborne Mining Corporation and safety director for the Pond Creek Colliery of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company. At that time he also served as secretary-treasurer of the Pond Creek-Tug River Mining Institute.

Mandt said that Ferrell will devote his time to instructing the safety courses set up by the department's safety division under the direction of J. H. Mosgrove. He will also do inspection work as the need arises.

Ferrell was born at Freeburn in Pike county and has been a native of that area ever since.

WELLS

makes STATEMENT

Because there are some stories making the rounds that Bill Wells favors this person or that person as superintendent, or favors certain changes in the administrative setup in the Floyd County School System, I feel it necessary to make the following statement:

I shall, as a member of the board of education of Floyd county district No. 1, promote harmony and cooperation because it is only through this manner that our schools will move forward. I feel that Charles Clark has been a fine superintendent and that our school system has made great progress during his two years in office. If Mr. Clark has a cooperative, open-minded board in the future, I am certain that greater progress will result in better education for our school age population. In the interest of harmony and greater progress, may I also urge my friends, relatives and persons interested in better schools to support Dr. J. H. ALLEN in District No. 2.

CALHOUN IN TRAINING

Specialist Jay D. Calhoun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Calhoun, of Prestonsburg, Ky., recently was graduated from the Seventh U. S. Army Non-Commissioned Officer (NCO) Academy in Bad Tolz, Germany. Specialist Calhoun received four weeks of training in various military subjects, with emphasis on leadership and combat tactics. The 24-year-old soldier, a driver in Company D of the 32nd Armor in Augsburg, entered the Army in December 1960, completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and arrived overseas in October, 1961.

MASTER
COMMISSIONER'S SALE
FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT
CR-3731

First Federal Savings & Loan Assn., Plaintiff, Vs.: NOTICE OF SALE Virginia Hines, et al., Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the October term, 1962, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 3 day of November, 1962, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at a point at the south edge of First Avenue (evidenced by a cross (X) mark cut in the concrete curb with spike driven therein and witnessed by a power line pole measuring 22 inches to the nearest part thereof from said cross (X)); thence a South course in a straight line extending between the brick-tile bungalow and two-story frame apartment building to a cross mark in the concrete walk at the head of the steps extending down between said buildings, further marked with a spike driven therein (which point is nine (9) inches from the east edge of said walk); thence continuing the same course in a straight line to Big Sandy River; thence with said river and down same to the line of W. H. Jones (formerly Elizabeth Maynard) lot; thence with the said line of Jones (or Maynard) lot in a northerly direction to First Avenue; and thence with said First Avenue to the point of beginning.

This being the same property conveyed to the mortgagors herein by Bert T. Combs and his wife, Mabel Combs, and Byron Nunnery and his wife, Lucille Nunnery, by deed dated January 8, 1949, and recorded in Deed Book No. 140, page 592, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

And from David B. Leslie to Rose Mary Leslie, Nelle Ruth Leslie and Judith Gale Leslie on March 8, 1950, recorded in Deed Book 147, page 428, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 15 day of October, 1962.

THIRD DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ray Burchett, of Emma, announce the birth of their third daughter, Chrystal Lynne, on Sept. 26, at the Paintsville General hospital. Mrs. Burchett is the former Madelyn Sue Porter.

IN PRAYER

This letter is to the good people of Martin and Floyd county. My good wishes and my prayers are for the good people of Martin and Floyd county who helped me to bear my burden in the death of my wife, Margaret E. Payne at Our Lady of the Way hospital on Sept. 30, 1962.

I wish to thank and praise each one for their goodness in these dark days. Sister Jeannette and the Sisters and all the nurses and Drs. J. J. Sherman, Frances Sherman and L. C. McCloud and the entire staff of the hospital; and for the flowers wired to Iron City, Mich. by Dr. and Mrs. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Keathley, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wells, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Allen and others brought flowers to the hospital. I am sure God will crown them at the last day when the roll is called in heaven.

We buried her at Tipler, Wis., the place she loved so well, last Saturday. I do wish to thank the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its great work. She looked like a dollie in her casket.

I must mention some of the good women of Martin who visited my wife, some of them day and night, until God called her home: Mrs. Myrtle Dings, Mrs. Hazel Dings, Mrs. Dortha Allen, Mrs. Rosa Lynch, Mrs. Sherman Stumbo, Mrs. Denzil Ratliff, and many others whose names I cannot now recall.

I pray God, when they all go to meet their reward in heaven, that He will have His angels to crown them with a golden crown, just as I know that His angels crowned Mrs. Payne when she entered the heavenly kingdom. Mrs. Tom Allen is also one who stood by Mrs. Payne until the end. God will reward them all.

God never gave to man a better wife than He gave to me 42 years ago.

My prayer is always for you, Oh, how I thank the ministers for their prayers with her at the hospital—Rev. Whalen, Rev. Venuchi, Father Fleming, Rev. Bob Martin, Rev. George Downes, of Ohio. May God bless and keep you all.

Yours in Christ,
J. D. PAYNE

TRAVEL EXPERT EVALUATES AREA TOURISM POTENTIAL

BY NEVYLE SHACKELFORD

Quicksand, Ky.—In this matter of tourist attraction, Eastern Kentuckians are underestimating or downgrading some of their greatest assets.

This work comes from tourist and travel expert C. A. Gunn, of Michigan State University. As a guest of the Eastern Kentucky Resource Development Project here, Gunn made an inspection tour of the 30-county area and has just reported his findings.

In his report Gunn stated he found a general inclination among the people to be apologetic with regard to mountain settlements and mountaineers. He was positive in his statement that for these settlements and for these people there was no reason for embarrassment or apology.

"If all such settlements were modernized," he reported, "if the people lost their dialects, if they no longer sat on porches and whittled, and if teenagers no longer shouldered squirrel guns, then one of your greatest tourist appeals would be lost."

Gunn went on to state that also overlooked were many businesses and industries. The tourist and vacationer, he said, is curious about tobacco fields, horse farms and coal mines. He backed up this statement by saying that while in Middleboro a busload of tourists from Washington, D. C. were insistent in requests for small samples of coal to take away as souvenirs.

Listing other assets observed, Gunn mentioned scenery, the historic significance of the region, the caves, parks, outdoor dramas, historic shrines and vast acreages of timber. Then he listed some of the obstacles to tourist enjoyment of these assets.

As the scenic splendor now stands, he said, it is virtually inaccessible to the majority. The local person may be able to navigate the difficult and tedious mountain roads but the visitor will call it fun and tolerate them only for a short time. One of the most precious commodities of the tourist is time and he evaluates every attraction on the basis of time it takes to reach and see it.

The tourist, Gunn went on to say, attempts to pack in the greater

EDUCATION LEADERS ENDORSE CLARK PROGRAM

We, the undersigned school principals and administrators, are in complete agreement on the following statement:

(a) We feel that the Floyd County School System has had more than enough fussing and fighting, so we say, let's go forward in harmony to make ours the best school system in Eastern Kentucky.

(b) A great deal of progress has been made in the last two years, although Superintendent Clark has had to work hard to even hold the school system together.

- PROGRESS MADE RECENTLY:
1. The highest teacher salaries paid in history, and paid on time.
 2. Eight new contract runs to transport children who have heretofore had to walk great distances, as well as adding five additional school buses to our fleet.
 3. The rural school lunch program which will start again next month, and which insures for each child a good lunch whether he has the money to pay for it or not.
 4. A good start has been made on an ambitious building program. Additional class rooms have been constructed at Betsy Layne, Martin, McDowell and Prestonsburg. Let's go forward to finish the new building program as outlined by the State Department of Education: Mud Creek Elementary, Middle Creek Elementary, Vocational School at Garth, Wheelwright Elementary, and others as money is available.
 5. Floyd county was selected as a pilot county for an adult education program. The board of education accepted the program on the recommendation of Superintendent Clark.
 6. Two traveling teachers employed to instruct physically handicapped children in their homes.
 7. The Board of Education and Superintendent Clark have worked very closely with the various colleges to encourage extension classes for our high school graduates and teachers.

Superintendent Clark has kept his eyes open to every opportunity to improve the Floyd County School System, and we believe he is determined to continue to do so, no matter what the odds. We know that Clark is a sober, dedicated and honest school man who deserves a chance to finish the next two years of his contract with a board willing to cooperate. It makes sense to us to elect board members who are willing to work together for the sake of our children, and for that reason, we, having looked over the board candidates, urge all Floyd countians to support and vote for Bill Wells, District No. 1, and for Dr. J. H. Allen, District No. 2. We are sure they are willing to support all the progress which has been made and that they feel, as we do, when we say, we need less "fussing and more schooling."

Combs Appoints Cassady Insurance Commissioner

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 8 (Spl.) — Gov. Bert Combs has appointed L. D. Cassady as state commissioner of insurance, giving him the oath of office on the lawn of the Oldham county courthouse at LaGrange, while Combs was visiting the community on the annual Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Governor's tour.

Cassady immediately announced the appointment of J. Elliott Flanery, Louisville attorney, as his assistant commissioner.

Cassady, assistant commissioner for the last 2 1/2 years, succeeds William T. Hockensmith, who resigned to become deputy director in Kentucky for Lloyds of London, insurance underwriters.

Flanery has been general counsel for the Department of Insurance for two years and will retain those duties.

Cassady, 53, was a LaGrange insurance man and civic leader before joining the insurance department in January, 1960. After attending Kentucky Wesleyan College, he entered the insurance business in 1934 and in 1950 organized his own firm, the Cassady Insurance Agency, Inc., in LaGrange. He was a member of the City Council there for six years and served as president of the Rotary Club and of the Oldham County Community Chest.

Flanery, 54, is a native of Pikeville. He joined the insurance department as chief claims examiner in 1959 after 25 years with a Louisville insurance company. He is married and lives at 4603 Southern Parkway in Louisville.

Science Teacher Group Organized At Martin; Demonstrations Made

Science teachers of Floyd county high schools met at 6 p.m., October 2 at Terry's Restaurant in Martin. This organizational meeting, however, was postponed until Tuesday evening, October 16, at which time the group will meet at 6 p.m. at the same location at Martin. At this second meeting it is hoped that more science teachers will be present to voice their opinion in selecting their officers.

The main purpose of the organization is to share ideas, problems and methods of science teaching in the county so as to offer a better science program. It is hoped that science equipment may be shared where it is needed most.

At the first meeting, the micro-viewer and micro-projector and their aids to teaching biology were demonstrated.

For the October 16 meeting Supt. Charles Clark and Asst. Supt. Wayne Ratliff have been invited to speak to the group. An invitation is extended to any science teacher in the county who might be interested in becoming a member of the association.

Daughters of America Hear Rep. Carl Perkins Speak At Wheelwright

The district rally of Daughters of America at Wheelwright heard Congressman Carl D. Perkins discuss Eastern Kentucky educational problems Sept. 15. Mary E. Wilson, district deputy, presided.

The session began at 2 p.m. with 68 members present for the ritualistic service. Four new members were initiated into the order. Perkins spoke at a dinner at 6 o'clock. Fifteen state officers were present, including state Councilor Esther Myers, of Covington.

The meeting was held in the Community Hall. Thomas Marshall Fain introduced Perkins.

Earthquake Fear Dispelled, Bride Prepares To Join Iranian Husband

Mrs. Grace Lou Mirzaian is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Riffe, prior to her September 21 departure for Iran where she will join her husband after six anxious weeks of separation. She came here from Phoenix, Arizona, and the following feature in The Arizona Republic of September 28 tells the story of those six weeks:

It appeared she had seen the last of her Iranian spouse, especially when she didn't hear from him after earthquakes killed thousands of Iranians September 1.

But she got a letter this week, and began preparing for the latest adventure in her eventful, 85-day-old marriage.

Grace Riffe, 21, married Lt. Mossa Mirzaian of the Iranian Imperial Air Force last July 6. Lt. Mirzaian, 27, was taking gunnery training at Luke Air Force Base.

A week after they were married, his jet fighter blew up over the Ajo desert. He ejected and escaped with a cut mouth.

On August 13, he returned to Iran. His bride was to follow.

When the earthquakes devastated Iran, she still hadn't heard from her husband.

"I knew he was alive, though," she said. "I don't know why, but I just knew nothing had happened to him."

A few days later, she received two letters, both written before the earthquakes. And that was the last she heard, until this week.

In the meantime, she was going through miles of red tape to obtain an Iranian visa. She had to fill out a bale of forms and send along her marriage license.

She asked the Air Force and the Red Cross to help trace her husband, and an Iranian student nurse at Good Samaritan hospital helped her write letters to officials in Iran. She wrote a letter a day to Mossa.

"I didn't really know what to think," she said. "I was frantic." Her visa came through last Friday.

Then, on Wednesday, her parents in Kentucky called to say they had received a letter from Mossa, and another from British Overseas Airways, containing a ticket to Iran.

Mossa, who said he had received only one of his wife's letters, thought she must be staying with her parents in Kentucky.

She was scheduled to leave Phoenix for Kentucky last night by train.

"I'm scared to death of airplanes," she said.

But she'll take that BOAC flight to Iran late this month.

Then there will be just one remaining obstacle between the Mirzaians and a normal married life. Grace, a Southern Baptist, and Mossa, a Mohammedan, must be married in a Mohammedan ceremony.

DRIFT

The Drift Woman's Club met at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 1, at the home of Mrs. Sam Martin, Sr. Due to a miners' strike, the rummage sale announced for Sept. 29 has been postponed to a later date.

A dessert was served to the following members: Mesdames Pat Del Vecchio, Harry Martin, Sam Martin, Jr., Bobby Hall, I. E. Reed, Clyde Moore, McKinley Little, W. D. Lawson, James Barnes, Clarence Turner, C. J. Cahill, Ben Martin, Sam Martin, Sr., B. F. Reed, Ward Reed, Miss Ruby Akers and Miss Josephine Knox.

The next meeting will be Monday, Oct. 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harry Martin. The Health and Welfare committee will be in charge of the program.

Power Firm Executive Succumbs In New York; Former Pikeville Manager

Richard E. Hodges, 59, of Roanoke, Va., vice-president and general manager of the Appalachian Power Company, was found dead Thursday, Sept. 27, on a train bound for New York City, the firm announced at Roanoke.

Hodges was on a business trip to New York to attend a board meeting of the American Electric Power Company. The company said he apparently died in his sleep.

He had been in the electric utility industry since 1926 and rose through the Appalachian organization to vice-president in 1960.

Hodges, former Pikeville district manager of the Kentucky Power and former general manager of the utility firm with headquarters at Ashland, was a brother of Dr. F. H. Hodges, of Pikeville.

Hodges was a native of Alderson, M. Va., where he attended public school. He was graduated from West Virginia University in 1926 with a degree in electrical engineering.

He was a son of the late Richard A. Hodges and Maude Hill Hodges.

Hodges joined the power company in 1926 at Sprigg, W. Va., and began working in the meter department. He was transferred to Pikeville in 1927 with Kentucky Power as a junior engineer, and in 1930 became manager of the Pikeville district. He was transferred from Pikeville to Ashland in 1940 as assistant general manager of Kentucky Power Company. He was made general manager in 1943. Hodges was transferred from Ashland to Charleston in 1948 as division manager of the Charleston Division of the Appalachian Power Company. In 1954, he was transferred to Roanoke as assistant general manager of Appalachian and was named its vice president and general manager in February, 1960.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Marian Hodges; four children, Richard E. Hodges, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga.; Stephen M. Hodges, a student at Duke University, Durham, N. C.; Mrs. D. M. Mohler, of Charlottesville, Va., and Mrs. William Katz, of Detroit, Mich., a sister, Mrs. Ralph Gelder, of Ashland, and his brother, Dr. Hodges.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 29, at the Oakey's Chapel at Roanoke with Dr. A. H. Hollingsworth officiating. Burial was in the Evergreen cemetery at Roanoke.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Gibson will attend the fourth quadrennial National Methodist Conference on Family Life, October 19-20, at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago, representing the Wheelwright Community church. At least 3,000 delegates are expected, most of them parents and church workers.

A TEACHERS INSTITUTE 61 YEARS AGO

Chief professional meeting of teachers half a century ago was the annual Teachers Institute held at the county seat towns with a prominent educator in charge. These meetings correspond to the workshops for teachers held today.

Shown here is a group of teachers at a Pike County Teachers Institute in 1901 at Pikeville with Prof. T. J. Coates, (right center), onetime president of Eastern Kentucky State College, at Richmond, in charge. Left to right, sitting, are Quinnie Hamilton Stratton, Della Leslie Hatcher, Octavia Leslie Hereford, Will B. Pinson sits on Coates' right. Standing, left to right, back row, are Elizabeth Syck Walters, P. B. Stratton, Alex Bishop, Hattie Hamilton and Fanny Harris Rose-nheim.

The First National Bank salutes the teachers of our yesterdays for their fine leadership in Eastern Kentucky.

Every night the Roanoke River will run uphill

...another new way AEP keeps your electric costs low

The same water will go over the dam again and again, when the new Smith Mountain hydroelectric plant goes operational in 1963. Nights and weekends, when electric power needs are reduced, power from our coal-burning generating plants will be utilized to pump the Roanoke River backwards, into a reservoir, for re-use in generating electricity during peak power-need periods.

This idea of creating a second reservoir for temporary storage of river water and then pumping a portion of it back to the first reservoir for the generation of more electricity, will increase the power production of Smith Mountain nearly ten times.

Doing things in new ways to improve service and efficiency is one big reason why the average unit price of electricity, for customers of Kentucky Power Company, has not gone up during twenty years of inflation.

Your service is better, your rates are lower because Kentucky Power Company is a part of the American Electric Power System. Supplying more electricity than any other investor-owned utility, AEP aids the economic growth of 2,350 communities in seven states. Through integrated operations, progressive engineering, research and coordinated management, the six member companies of the American Electric Power System are working together to provide you with the best service and lowest rates.

Progress of Education
Noted by Gov. Combs;
Classroom Number Rises

Frankfort, Oct. 13 (Spl.).—Gov. Bert Combs, in a speech to the Upper Cumberland Educational Association, declared that "education no longer is being starved to death in Kentucky."

He asserted, "We still are not among the top states in education, yet we are not at the bottom, and we are striving to climb higher."

"Last year," he added, "Kentucky led the nation in the rate at which we increased appropriations to education. We have raised teachers' salaries by more than $1,100 a year, and we are providing the necessary classrooms and equipment."

Combs reported that the number of classrooms in Kentucky public schools has been increased by 1,606 in the last three years, enough to accommodate an additional 48,180 pupils. He pointed out that in the last school year, contracts were awarded for $16.3 million worth of new construction, embracing eight new high schools, 33 elementary schools and two vocational schools.

Frankfort, Oct. 15 (Spl.).—A state-sponsored program of free flu shots to certain public assistance recipients has been announced by Earle V. Powell, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Economic Security.

The program, authorized under the state's medical care plan, is effective immediately and extends through Dec. 31.

Edward E. Ellis, administrator of the medical care program in Kentucky, said these persons would be eligible for free inoculations:

(1) All persons now eligible for medical assistance to the aged, including essential persons in the same household, and; (2) Pregnant women in the welfare categories of aid to needy blind, aid to the permanently and totally disabled and aid to dependent children.

"Eligible persons can take advantage of the free inoculations through their local physicians," Ellis said. The Economic Security Department reimburses the physicians who administer the inoculations, Powell said.

Dedication Is Planned
By Katy Friend Church

The Katy Friend Free Will Baptist Church will have the dedication of the new church building October 21, it was announced this week by Rev. Charlie Rowe, pastor.

The dedication sermon will be preached by the Reverend Millard Vanhoush, of Johnson county. Special singers will participate in the dedication, it is said. The public is invited to attend.

GARRETT

P.-T. A. ELECTS
MRS. DRAUGHN

The Garrett Parent-Teacher Association held its first regular meeting for the new year Thursday night, October 4. Some 30 parents and teachers were in attendance. The main items of business were the election of new officers and naming of the working committees and the planning of the Hallowe'en carnival which the group sponsors yearly.

Virginia H. Draughn was elected president for the coming year, Adrian Bentley, vice-president; Dolly Turner, secretary, Jean Hornsby was re-elected treasurer. The outgoing president, Charles Hornsby, was named chairman of the Ways and Means committee. Pollyanna Wiley will head the Refreshment committee, and Bessie C. Draughn will lead in Entertainment. Phila Mae Francis was named to lead the membership drive. Shelby Draughn will again furnish the publicity.

The next regular meeting of the group is set for Friday, Oct. 19, at 7 p.m.

FRESH EGGS

If you have a craving for fresh eggs when you're camping in the wilderness, get some same-day eggs from a hatchery. Break a couple to see if the cords have started to form prominently—they shouldn't. Dip the unbroken eggs in egg-keep or water-glass solution obtained from many druggists; directions will be on the bottle. And the best way to carry eggs is in the usual cardboard containers with individual spaces. —Sports Afield.

DAVID

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The David Woman's Club met Friday, October 5, at the home of Mrs. Court Dahlin. The meeting began with a short devotional program given by Mrs. Oak Mullins.

Mrs. Lillia Mae Price, club president, presided and urged all members to attend the district meeting to be held in Pikeville, October 16.

An encouraging report was presented to the club by Mrs. Oliver Marshall on Scouting in David. She announced that three new leaders will participate in Scouting for the coming year.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Oliver Marshall, the program chairman for October, presented an interesting report on safety. Mrs. Price then presented gifts to Mrs. Raymond Bradbury and Mrs. Walter Crace who are moving from David.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Court Dahlin, Mrs. Walter Crace and Mrs. Lonnie Burchett.

MORTON BACKED IKE AGAINST HIS STATE

(An Editorial in The Lexington Herald)

Many a flood control or depressed area project would be farther along than it is today had Sen. Thruston B. Morton shown the same interest in his state as he did in supporting the program of former President Eisenhower. The Kentucky senator, now a candidate for re-election, suddenly is beginning to take great interest in some of the things he opposed with all the prestige of his "national image" just a few short years ago.

Press releases by the Kentucky senator now call attention to the "more than $115,000,000 appropriated for federal water projects in Kentucky," but he is strangely silent on his votes against this same type program when his colleague in the upper chamber, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, was voting "for" Kentucky. The record shows that on many bills that would have been beneficial to Kentucky, Sen. Morton was recorded in opposition while Sen. Cooper voted for bills that he felt would help his home state. Voters will study these votes in the weeks ahead and decide that they will be better off with a man in Washington who will think of Kentucky first, and will name Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt to the position now held by Sen. Morton.

It wouldn't be so bad if Sen. Morton would come out and admit that he has had a change of heart in view of the coming election. Some might feel inclined to excuse him on the ground that as chairman of the Republican National Committee, he had to go along with the President even if his voting was counter to the wishes of his constituents. On the other hand he might even have said, in lieu of a better excuse, that he just wanted to have a mind of his own and didn't have to agree always with Sen. Cooper.

Records of the Senate show that Sen. Morton voted against appropriations for rivers and harbors and flood control back in 1958. The year before, he opposed a similar bill and urged support of an amendment that would cut $350,000,000 from the measure as President Eisenhower asked. In this period, leadership in the Senate sought to make some new starts in water resource projects, but Sen. Morton couldn't go along. In 1960 Sen. Morton voted to sustain a presidential veto of a flood control bill and also voted to recommit the bill and reduce the amount asked. How many flood control projects were delayed because of these votes?

Yet today he pats himself on the back when he mentions flood control and water resources, forgetting in his quest for votes of the incalculable damage his action did to his home state.

The Area Redevelopment Act of 1960 authorized federal loans and grants of $251,000,000 for the relief of economically depressed areas. How many projects, particularly in depressed Eastern Kentucky, might have been started under this program? Sen. Cooper thought this a good bill and gave his support in the Senate. But the man who today is trying to repent and tell how much he has done to get flood control projects under way, voted against the appropriation and then doubled the offense by voting to sustain the president's veto of the relief measure that would have meant so much to all Kentucky. Sen. Cooper also voted for Kentucky in joining with others in an unsuccessful effort to override the presidential veto.

It is any wonder then that Sen. Cooper has to issue a press release saying that he wants it understood that he is supporting Sen. Morton? Their divergent views on many things beneficial to Kentucky apparently have made such avowals necessary.

The record is full of votes by Sen. Morton that were in opposition to the needs and wishes of Kentuckians. On this type of measure the senator now seeking reelection seldom voted with Sen. Cooper. We hope that the voters of this state will study the record and not be misled by this last-minute act of repentance by Sen. Morton. A vote for Lt. Gov. Wyatt in November is a vote for Kentucky.

WHERE'S THERE'S FIRE . . .
 Lexington, Ky.—Where there's fire, there's usually smoke—to switch around the familiar saying—and smoke, rather than fire, is often the killer. Very few fire victims actually burn to death, according to the National Safety Council; most are asphyxiated by poisonous gases, produced by the fire and present in the smoke.

Scottish Rite Dinner Slated At May Lodge
 Third quarterly meeting of the Scottish Rite Club of Eastern Kentucky has been scheduled for Friday, October 26, at the new lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park.
 Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. This meeting will be a reunion of Scottish Rite Masons, and all candidates for the degree, with all Masons and their wives are invited.
 Following the dinner will be the program. Annual election of officers will be held, but new officers will not be installed until the December meeting.

INVITES EMPLOYEES TELL MERIT SYSTEM VIOLATIONS
 Frankfort, Oct. 11 (Spl.)—At its regular meeting this month the State Personnel Board invited state employees to inform the board of any alleged violation of the Merit System. The board is the watch-dog of Kentucky's first statewide Merit System, enacted by the 1960 General Assembly.
 Dr. Frank Gaines, Louisville, chairman, and the board's four other members issued this statement:
 "The State Personnel Board takes cognizance of current general charges of violations of the State Merit System Law, particularly violations relating to political activities.
 "The board reaffirms its duty and determination to see that the Merit System Law is fully and fairly enforced.
 "The board will receive and consider promptly any and all specific complaints of violation of the Merit System Law.
 "Reference is made to Kentucky Revised Statutes, Section 18.310, political activities prohibited, and the penalties specified by Section 18.990.
 "Such complaints should be made in writing and sent to Walter Gattis, commissioner of personnel, Frankfort."
 Section 18.310 states, in part:
 "No employe in the classified service or member of the Personnel Board or commissioner shall, directly or indirectly, pay or promise to pay any assessment for political purposes, or solicit or take any part in soliciting for any political party, or solicit or take any part in soliciting any political assessment, subscription, contribution, or service. No person shall solicit any political assessment, subscription, contribution, or service of any employe in the classified service."
 The classified service refers to some 15,000 state jobs now covered under the Merit System Law.
 The board's statement coincides with a memorandum to all State employes from Gov. Bert Combs, dated April 10, 1962. In it, the Governor says:
 "Employees in covered positions must accept certain restrictions on their political privileges and obligations, which are discussed in the attached letter from the Commissioner of Personnel. I know you will want to join me in our efforts to have a genuine career public service by obeying and supporting this law."
 The letter from Personnel Commissioner Gattis contains question-and-answer explanations of the Merit System's employee's rights and duties under the law.
 With regard to political contributions, the letter says:
 "Q: May I solicit financial contributions for political activities?"
 "A: No."

HELP KEEP THE COOPER-MORTON TEAM IN WASHINGTON
 Friday, October 19, Senator Thruston Morton, Senator John Sherman Cooper and Alex Parker, candidate for Congress, will speak at the Floyd County Courthouse in Prestonsburg at 2 p.m.
 The Senate has nicknamed Senator Morton "The Coal Senator" because of his interest in the problems of our coal-producing regions of Kentucky.
 Thruston Morton is concerned about the welfare of the free world; the safety of our nation in the face of the Communist menace; the prosperity of Kentucky and he has taken an interest in each and every county in our state. Senator Morton has worked long and hard for Floyd county and here are some of the projects that have benefited:
 Half the money spent on the Floyd county hospital came from federal funds $ 59,860.00
 Porter Electric Company in Allen received a loan of 42,212.00
 For Floyd county water and sanitation system 146,032.00
 For Housing we have received a loan of 710,000.00 and a grant of 31,388.00
 Through his work for increased tobacco allotments—Floyd county received 2,076.00
TOTAL $991,568.00
 You will want to hear this great Kentuckian who is known to be one of the finest speakers in the country today. Welcome him to your community by attending this meeting and bring your family and all your friends.

EXCITING! GO '63 CHEVY II

SPUNKY NEW WAGONS THAT LEAD LONGER, HAPPIER LIVES
 What a new kick you'll get out of going places in this one! And what a solvent feeling you'll get as the savings on upkeep mount! There's a full line of models, including three wagons. Basically, we've kept Chevy II's liveliness and roominess and easy loading ways. Kept its crisp looks, too (with a bit of freshening here and there). The changes we've made weren't for change's sake, you see—but for yours. Just for a sample: the brakes are self-adjusting. The new Delco-tron generator gives you more electrical reserve power and helps your battery reach a vigorous old age. The Body by Fisher beauty lasts longer, too; air pushes rain and wash water down through the rocker panels (where most rust begins!) in a clever new flush-and-dry system. The ride is smoother and quieter because of a large number of small improvements we've made. And things are a lot plusher inside. Now you've read this far, haven't you? Isn't that good evidence that Chevy II is made for you? The clincher will come when you take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's.

See four entirely different kinds of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's... Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair & Corvette.
