

This Town... That World

While I have been sitting here, groping for an idea, I've been wondering if the well has dried up or merely frozen over.

LET'S REDEEM OURSELVES The annual drive for funds will be begun tomorrow (March 1) by the Floyd Chapter, American Red Cross, and this Floyd county is given an opportunity to redeem itself. For the last several years now the people of this county have miserably failed the Red Cross. Three after time we have failed to reach the modest goal set. Worse, we don't appear to have cared whether we reached it or not.

But the Red Cross has continued to serve. During 1962 there were months when the treasury was dry. Rents, salaries, other expenses went unpaid. Yet the office remained open; service to those needing help went on as usual.

Many service agencies, if rebuffed, time after time, as the Red Cross has been, would have decided they weren't wanted, would have pulled up stakes and gone elsewhere.

But the Red Cross remembered other times when it was needed; know, too, the time will come when it will be needed again. And so, despite all discouraging circumstances, the Red Cross chapter remains with us.

During this drive, help some—a little, anyhow.

BUCCANEER: A dollar-a-year man.

HIS EXUSE

A truck-driver, returning to Prestonsburg from a southeastern Kentucky town, tells of what he says was the actual case of a 75-year-old man who was somewhat hung over. Asked if he wasn't feeling mighty low, the oldest admitted he was, then explained why.

"That doctor," he said, "told me that one more spree would do me (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

SEWER WORK START SEEN

Contract Signing Near, Fitzpatrick Announces; Agencies O.K. Project Official signing of contracts for construction of Prestonsburg's sewer system and sewage disposal plant is expected within the next few days, it was said Wednesday morning by H. D. Fitzpatrick, financial adviser to the city in the construction program.

Officials have been advised by both the Community Facilities Administration at Atlanta and the U. S. Public Health Service at Charlottesville, Va., that letters are en route here authorizing the issuance of contracts to low bidders.

Contracts were being mailed Wednesday from Lexington to the successful bidders, Forcum-Lannon, Inc., Dyersburg, Tenn., was low on sewer line construction with a bid of $599,021.78. Acton Construction Company, St. Paul, Minn., was low bidder on the sewage disposal plant and pumping station, asking $439,628.

When actual work will be begun was not indicated but it is expected to start within the next few weeks.

EMPLOYMENT REFUSAL MAY CAUSE CARD LOSS

NEW RULING IS EFFECTIVE IN PROGRAM

Farm Leaders Allege Food Stamp Recipients Refuse Proffered Work

If a food stamp recipient refuses work in the strawberry fields, on the farm or any kind of employment, his card will be pulled, according to a new ruling issued in November.

Ronnie Wright, of the local office, made the statement to a group of area agricultural leaders who were meeting here Thursday of last week to explore means of increasing the strawberry acreage in order to insure the continuance of the processing plant established in Prestonsburg last year. Ogden Stewart, of the Southern States Cooperative, presided.

Many farmers are reluctant to set the plants because of a labor shortage. It was said several food stamp recipients refused to work in strawberry fields last year. Wright said that if a man refused work, the farmer should notify James Hicks, of the local state employment service and Hicks would in turn notify him.

Under questioning it was developed that if a food stamp recipient set a strawberry field and sold several hundred dollars worth in May the right of the recipient for food stamp coupons would be affected only for that month.

The new ruling not only applies to work in strawberries but is applicable to any proffered farm labor at prevailing area prices. It was agreed at the meeting that six and one-half cents per quart for picking strawberries and $4 to $5 per day for farm work was generally paid.

WEATHER HITS SCHOOL TERM

Snowfall Monday night closed many Floyd county schools again, bringing the total number of days missed to 18. Schools resumed classes Wednesday but rural and other schools not dependent on bus transportation taught Tuesday with the approval of County Superintendent Charles F. Clark.

SECOND CASE IS REPORTED

School Boy Recovering From Meningitis Attack; Cases Termed Sporadic

Mickey Goble, 10, a pupil of the Corn Fork school, near Lancer, was reported recovering this week from an attack of what is believed to be meningococcal meningitis, the disease which on February 15 caused the death at Dock of 12-year-old Marilyn Pitts.

The boy entered the Prestonsburg General Hospital last Saturday. Dr. Russell L. Hall, county health director, classified both cases of the disease as sporadic, or non-epidemic. He sought to allay undue anxiety on the part of parents but at the same time asked that certain precautions be taken.

Dr. Hall said that only those persons who have had direct contact with the boy—members of his family, fellow-students, playmates, for instance—need to take preventive medicine. Sulfadiazine for these is prescribed for a period of five days. There is no vaccine to be administered against the disease, he emphasized.

To requests that he direct the closing of schools he replied that no outbreak of sizeable or epidemic proportions has developed and that he consequently is without authority to close the schools. (See Story No. 5, Page 5)

FORMER J.P. IS VICTIM

Richard Spradlin Dies At Lexington Rest Home; Rites Conducted Sunday

Richard L. Spradlin, 74, former Floyd county magistrate and teacher, died last Friday at the Lisle Marie Nursing Home, Lexington, victim of a paralytic stroke. Mr. Spradlin had been in failing health for some time.

A son of Martin and Levata Clark Spradlin, he was a native of this county, residing on Johns Creek, near the present Dewey dam, until the evacuation of that area for the impounding of Dewey Lake. He was a teacher in the county school system 20 years and served two terms as Magistrate from the first magisterial district. Subsequently, he was employed by the United Fuel Gas Company for 15 years till retirement.

Surviving are four daughters and one son, Miss Margaret Spradlin, Mrs. Prudence Stone, Mrs. Janice Dingus and Robert Spradlin, all of Lexington, and Mrs. Mildred Salisbury, of Hunter; two sisters, Mrs. Bess S. Williams and Miss Josephine Spradlin, both of Prestonsburg. He also leaves eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

BYPRO WOMAN IS DISMISSED

Support of Chandler Pledged by Mrs. Hall; Held $10,400 Position

Mrs. Ann B. Hall, of Bypro, was dismissed last Wednesday by Gov. Bert T. Combs as a member of the Kentucky State Tax Commission, shortly before A. B. Chandler, anti-administration candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, read a letter from her in which she endorsed Chandler.

Announcing the dismissal, Governor Combs made no comment except to say, "We are tightening the ship for the spring voyage."

Mrs. Hall later retorted: "The Governor scuttled his own ship before it set sail." While addressing a Women's Club meeting in Louisville the same day, Chandler announced that he had received from Mrs. Hall a letter pledging her support of his candidacy and criticizing what she termed waste in the present Administration.

EDUCATION GROUP ORGANIZES SAVE OUR SCHOOLS COMMITTEE FOR GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN

Interest of Floyd county teachers and education system personnel in the gubernatorial campaign took definite form this week with the formation of the Save Our Schools committee. The group, headed by Edwin (Ed) Stewart, principal of the Maytown consolidated school, will actively support the candidacy of Edward T. (Ned) Breathitt for Governor, it was said.

Announcing formation of the committee, Mr. Stewart said: "The schools of Kentucky had long been a doormat until Mr. Combs became Governor of our state in 1959, at which time education in Kentucky took on a new look. In Floyd as well as other counties we can already see the evidence of the new look. The John M. Stumbo elementary school has been completed and will be dedicated Sunday, March 3, with the Governor speaking at 2 p.m. in the new building at Grethel, on Mud Creek.

"If we had the same limited building funds as we did before Combs, the John M. Stumbo elementary school would have ended the new school construction in Floyd county for years to come, but, due to the increased support for education since Combs, the Middle Creek elementary school and the Floyd County Vocational School at Garth are being started, and the Wheelwright elementary school is in the planning stage.

Bituminous Surfacing Of Road In Area Asked; Joint Financing, Plan

Bids for a bituminous concrete surfacing project on 2.8 miles of the Prestonsburg arm of the Mountain Parkway will be received by the Highway Department on March 15, Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward announced.

The project will begin at Arnold avenue in Prestonsburg and extend 2.8 miles to near a junction with Ky. 404.

This highway improvement is being financed with federal and state road funds.

Construction of the four-lane bridge across the river here to connect the highway with Arnold avenue is practically complete. Work of completing the fill at the Prestonsburg end of the span is being done as weather permits.

Starling Sweeney, 67, Prestonsburg, Succumbs; Was World War I Veteran

Starling Sweeney, 67, Prestonsburg, died Sunday at home. He had been ill for several months and recently suffered a stroke. He was a former city employee and a veteran of World War I.

Mrs. Sweeney was a son of Sylvester and Mary Sweeney. His wife, Mary Sweeney, survives. Surviving sons and daughters are Fred Sweeney, Charleston, West Virginia, Pauline Sweeney, Warsaw, Indiana, George, Eddie, Frank, Stella, Julia, Christine and Mary Magdalene Sweeney, all at home. Eight grandchildren also survive. He had no surviving brothers or sisters.

THEATRE JOB AWARDED TO DANA CONTRACTORS

Wise Restaurant Fire Damage Set At $4,000; Kitchen, Bedroom Burns

Damage estimated at $3,000 to $4,000 was caused by a fire at the Wise Restaurant here last Thursday night. The blaze apparently started in motors which operate a large cooler at the rear of the building. The kitchen and a second-floor bedroom directly overhead bore the brunt of the damage. Contents were damaged or ruined by the fire and water.

Insurance did not cover the loss of motors, furniture and kitchen equipment. The restaurant reopened for business, Tuesday.

TOURIST BOOM TALKED AT REGIONAL MEETING

Despite snow and icy roads, about 60 persons interested in U. S. 23 as an artery of traffic into the potential vacationland that is Eastern Kentucky attended the Regional Travel Conference sponsored last Thursday at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, by the Kentucky Travel Council.

Cliff B. Latta, Prestonsburg attorney, presided in the absence of Marvin Music, temporary regional chairman, who was confined to his home by illness. At the afternoon business session Mr. Music was elected permanent chairman, and Lon B. Rogers, of Pikeville, was named secretary.

Dr. George P. Archer, mayor of Prestonsburg, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city and also for the county, in the absence of County Judge Henry Stumbo.

The morning session was devoted to talks which broadly described the present tourist business in Kentucky, the attractions of the state and its great potential.

Robert Landrum, Louisville, executive vice-president of the Business Development Corporation of Kentucky, pointed out that Kentucky had 18 million visitors last year, that tourists pay $15 million a year in taxes into Kentucky's treasury and that tourism already is the state's No. 2 industry.

Twenty-one million persons are expected to visit Kentucky this year, and their gross expenditures will increase commensurately, was the prediction made by Paul W. Grubbs, Louisville, director of the Kentucky Travel Council. He emphasized the necessity of training employees and personnel to provide these visitors efficient, courteous service and to be good salesmen of their area and the entire state.

Don Green, of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, Louisville, stressed the need of more advertising, not only by the state but also by private industry, and said he favored billboards, though these have been outlawed. "Our big job," he said, "is to get people to drive throughout Kentucky rather than just through Kentucky."

Samuel Maurice Isbell, assistant executive director of the Kentucky Research Foundation, Lexington, and a native of Prestonsburg, pointed out that if the tourist business in Kentucky should double the result would be 60,000 new jobs in the state. "This," he said, "can't be expected to happen immediately, but it can happen. For it has doubled within the last 10 years."

"The Kentucky Travel Council section, famine, peril and war. "The World Day of Prayer service is not just a program. It is planned as an active experience of prayer, to give us a sense of unity with the world-wide church, and a response to this in informed giving," according to Mrs. Paul Moser, national chairman for World Day of Prayer.

Christian women of the world are convinced that prayer has results as spectacular as the results of astronauts orbiting the earth, but they aren't blazoned in headlines around the world. The evidence piles up in the records of the lives of people who have been blessed and helped in the 76 years since the first small group of women met to pray for missions and give an offering for mission work.

CONSTRUCTION WORK ORDER IS ISSUED

Completion Is Slated By June 1, Akers Says; Paul Green Writing Play

Contract on construction of an amphitheatre at Jenny Wiley State Park for the presentation of a pageant written around the life of the pioneer heroine for whom the park was named has been awarded the Dana contracting firm of Akers & Akers.

A work order has been issued, and work will be begun as soon as weather permits, Ervin Akers, a member of the firm, said Tuesday.

The Akers firm, which was the contractor on construction of May Lodge at the park, was awarded the contract on its low bid of $171,000. Completion date for the job has been set at June 1. Paul Green, Pulitzer Prize-winning author who is writing the drama to be presented at the park, worked with the architect, Harry Homan, of Ashland, in planning the stage, seating and other appointments of the amphitheatre. It was said that amphitheatres in use in North Carolina were studied and that the plan to be followed at Jenny Wiley State Park will result in one of the best installations provided for the presentation of an outdoor drama.

PHONE FIRM AWARDS JOB

Akers & Akers To Build Headquarters At Harold; New Equipment Bought

Contract for construction of a headquarters building at Harold was awarded Monday by the Harold Telephone Company to Akers & Akers, Dana contractors.

The work, scheduled for completion by June 1, will cost $23,823. The 42 x 36-foot structure, featuring block, brick and glass, will house the business operations of the company, Paul D. Gearheart, president of the telephone firm, said. The new structure will be on U. S. 23, approximately 500 feet north of the company's present building.

Gearheart said $22,000 worth of new equipment will be added to the central office on or about May 15.

Garrett Woman Named Area Fund Drive Head; Woman's Club Sponsors

Mrs. Delbert Sloan, of Garrett, is serving as 1963 Heart Fund Drive community chairman for Garrett, Lackey and Wayland. It has been announced by the state campaign chairman, William T. Hoekensmith, Frankfort insurance executive. The drive which began on February 1 continues through the month.

Sunday School Attendance Drive Sponsored By Kiwanis Club Here; Box Score Publication Planned

The second annual Sunday School Attendance Drive, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club here, will begin in participating Prestonsburg churches next Sunday (March 3), it was announced this week.

Following last year's pattern, the drive will continue through Easter Sunday. THE TIMES will publish attendance reports and percentages of increase each week. Last year 10 churches participated in the attendance campaign—Arnold Avenue Church of Christ, Assembly of God, Church of God, Church of the Nazarene, Community Methodist, Free Will Baptist, Irene Cole Memorial Baptist, Lancer Baptist Chapel, First Methodist and First Presbyterian.

The attendance drive is being conducted by the Kiwanis Club's Committee for the Support of Churches in Their Spiritual Aims. C. L. Hutsinspiller is chairman of the committee.

"THE SAFETY RECORD you helped establish last year in the mining industry is an achievement we should all be proud of," Gov. Bert Combs told a group of 30 mine safety inspectors of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals at a dinner in their honor at Jenny Wiley State Park. Through an accelerated program of mine safety education by the department, the number of fatalities from mining accidents in 1962 was reduced to its lowest point in 52 years.

HAROLD STUMBO ANNOUNCES FOR COMMONWEALTH ATTORNEY

I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney of Floyd county.

While this is my first attempt to seek an elective office, I offer qualifications of experience and background which have given me a wide knowledge of the operation of the courts and of public affairs, both at the county and state levels. I have practiced law here for over six years, I have served as assistant prosecutor in the County Attorney's office. And for the past two years have been trial commissioner to Judge Stumbo. A lifelong Democrat, I served last year as Wilson Wyatt's campaign manager—Floyd county's Democratic majority led the state. Having served you in these capacities, I now feel that I am qualified to assume the greater responsibility of the office of Commonwealth's Attorney.

My experience as trial commissioner to Judge Stumbo has not only given me considerable trial experience, but has enabled me to become well acquainted with the affairs of Floyd county and its relationship to the state, and especially its relationship to the administration of Governor Bert T. Combs. We can all take justifiable pride in the accomplishments of this administration, especially here in Floyd county. We are the beneficiaries of the Mountain Parkway, giving access to Jenny Wiley State Park. The increases which have been received for education and raises in welfare payments are steps in the right direction for a greater

Floyd county. This administration has also been extremely helpful to Floyd county's rural road program. Governor Combs has assured me his support on behalf of my candidacy. Due to the above, I feel that I will support the candidate for Governor who will continue the fine programs already started by Governor Bert T. Combs.

To those of you who do not know me personally, I point out that I am thirty-two years of age, the son of Wayne and Barbara Hopkins Stumbo, of Minnie, Kentucky, on Left Beaver Creek. I am married to the former Pluma Jean Martin and have four children. My wife is a school teacher by profession and I myself have had some experience for a short period as a teacher in the Floyd county schools. I am a veteran of the armed services of the United States.

As your Commonwealth's Attorney, I shall attempt at all times to bring out the truth to make of Floyd county a law-abiding community, to prosecute strongly those whom the facts indicate are guilty, but will have an equal determination to protect those who are innocent. This in the end is the gravest responsibility of a Commonwealth Attorney, and I must meet that responsibility because I intend to make Floyd county my home.

Your support will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely
HAROLD STUMBO

VISIT MRS. CRAFT
Mr. and Mrs. James T. Craft, Mrs. Cecil Robinson and Russell Wells, of Auxier, were visiting Mrs. Susan H. Craft, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Craft has been ill but is improving.

Two Kiwanis Meetings To Talk Citizenship, Future of Prestonsburg

The next two meetings of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club will be devoted to duties to the community and to the nation.

The first of these, scheduled tonight (Thursday), will deal with CQ (Citizenship Quotient), or the kind of a citizen we are. After a short talk on "Citizenship," the members will be asked to consider their individual CQ. This will be done privately by each one, and will be for each member's own enlightenment.

The following meeting, on March 7, will be a round-table discussion of "The Future of Prestonsburg," and after a few short talks by community leaders, the meeting will be thrown open for discussion by the various individuals present.

The chairman of the program committee will be the chairman for both of these discussions.

These two meetings will be held at 6 p.m., 15 minutes before the usual time, due to the basketball tournament. The meetings of Kiwanis are held at Wise's Restaurant.

Ten Years Ago

(February 26, 1953)

Acting on behalf of the Floyd County Good Government Taxpayers League, Dr. Edward B. Leslie and John Warrick this week filed with the Floyd circuit court an appeal asking the court to avoid three orders of the Floyd fiscal court fixing the salaries and numbers of deputies the various officials may have and the pay officials' assistants shall receive... On the Jack Arnett Branch on Middle Creek, Floyd county has at least one bed of shale clay which geologists have declared of industrial worth... With 28 suspected cases now receiving treatment, Dr. Marvin Ransdell, county health officer, said Wednesday the recent rabies epidemic in Floyd county is the worst he has ever seen... Henry Ward, Kentucky Commissioner of Conservation, will center here March 3 with representatives of the Huntington office, U. S. Corps of Engineers, to consider the founding of a state park at Dewey Lake... Employees of the Inland Steel Company at Wheelwright, and Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, at David, resumed work this week after brief lay-offs described as sympathy strikes in support of striking Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company employees at Pikeville... A reward of $2,000 has been posted for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who caused a shutdown of the Buck's Branch Coal Company at Martin recently by cutting a conveyor belt and attempting the sabotage of other mining machinery... The average home value in Prestonsburg, according to 1950 census reports, is $4,850... Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Byrel Fraley, of Prestonsburg, a son, Byrel Douglas, II, February 14, at the Paintsville hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. Junior McCauley, of Stockbridge, Michigan, a daughter, Rebecca Jean... There died: Vernice Moore, 16, of Price, at home, February 22; John D. (Dick) Mayo, 70, at his home near Prestonsburg, Thursday.

HOLLIE CONLEY ANNOUNCES FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

In announcing that I am a candidate for Circuit Judge of Floyd county, I do so realizing the great responsibilities which face me, and which I will assume as your judge. I will fulfill these responsibilities with pride and dignity.

My experience as a practicing attorney, along with the opportunity given me to serve you as your County Attorney and as your Commonwealth's Attorney, has given me the necessary experience needed to handle to your satisfaction the duties and responsibilities of the office of Circuit Judge.

A long-range program for progress for this county has been set in motion by Governor Combs. The development of the Eastern Kentucky Turnpike, the Community College, as well as the expanded program for education, the old aged, the needy blind and dependent children, which he has sponsored, convinces me that Floyd county is on the move forward. I support these programs and I support the candidate for Governor who will continue these improvements for Floyd county.

BABE DIES

Lisa Lynn Hackworth, seven-week-old daughter of Bobby and Lydia Virginia Shepherd Hackworth, of Prestonsburg, died Wednesday morning of last week at the Prestonsburg General hospital. Dr. Hall pointed out that 5% of the population are, under normal conditions, carriers of meningitis. He made the following suggestions: 1. Cover the mouth when coughing; 2. Avoid overcrowding; 3. Increase ventilation; 4. Isolate pupils suffering from colds and sore throats by seating them in the corner of the schoolroom; 5. Do not overheat rooms; 6. Wash hands before eating; 7. Never spit on the floor or street or in any public place. Learning to Do, Doing to Learn. Earning to Live, Living to Serve is the official motto of the Future Farmers of America.

THE TRUTH SHALL MAKE YOU FREE (St. John 8:32)

Our religious beliefs come from many sources, and are colored by our backgrounds, knowledge, reading and past experiences. Some of these have produced good ideas, but many have given us false ideas about religion. The very incident that caused Jesus to use the above words was produced by the religion brought about by God's revelation to the Jews, and the influence of the heathen tribes upon that revelation.

Christianity, in its truest form, is the truth that God has revealed unto us, especially through the teachings of Jesus Christ and His true followers, the Apostles.

These truths and the influences of non-Christian and anti-Christian forces will be considered from time to time in this space. Read and study your Bible, if you would know the TRUTH. Pray and allow God's Holy Spirit to be your guide in understanding His Truth.

For more information on TRUE CHRISTIAN BELIEFS, write True Christian Beliefs, Box 569, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

AWARD PRESTONSBURG TOP SPOT IN CONTEST

Prestonsburg has won first place in the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce community development contest in District 7. Runnerup in the annual Community Pride program was Hazard, with Paintsville placing third among the 11 entries.

Announcement of the winners was made by Rufus P. Thomas, Kentucky Power Company's industrial development representative, who is chairman of District 7.

Prestonsburg will represent this district in the state contest among the eight districts for the outstanding community development program in Kentucky. The state winner will be announced at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce in Louisville on April 8-9.

Prestonsburg will be awarded a plaque for display in a public place and four road markers signifying its winning the contest in District 7. These road markers will be placed at the approaches to the town. Hazard and Paintsville also will be awarded plaques.

The other towns in the competition were: Callettsburg, Grayson, Hindman, Hyden, Jackson, Morehead, Neon and Whitesburg. All communities competed in the broad areas of civic improvement, education and main street modernization.

Chairman Thomas said the record of accomplishments of all the towns was outstanding. He cited the many successful projects that improved the appearance of the communities and their educational facilities. He will notify each town in the contest of the grade received by its entry.

(Continued from Page One) in. But I never did have any faith in that So-and-So, and I just decided I'd get on me another'n and see if he was right."

AND THAT'S HOW IT HAPPENED

The subject of rats came up, the other morning, for no good reason that I know of, since those engaged in the discussion weren't speaking of anybody they didn't like. The idea was developed that those—ugh!—varmints are about the most versatile at large; at home on the ground, underground, swimming on the water or beneath and capable of shinning up a tree or almost vertical walls. All of which reminded me of a story printed in The Reader's Digest, some years back, the writer telling with apparently straight face this yarn:

A store-owner had been warring with rats to no avail, and the situation grew more desperate when eggs were being taken from the crates and carted away. All doors and windows were secure, so it must be the rats. But how? There wasn't a broken egg, they just vanished—and how could a rat carry away an egg without breaking it, he was curious to know. So he set up a vigil over the proceedings that were going on in his store at night. And this is what he saw:

A rat would extract an egg from the case, clutch it between forelegs and body, tumble onto its back and cradle the egg against its breast. Then (so help me, the man told it!) a brother rat would take Rat No. 1 by the tail with his teeth and snake him, egg and all, from the room.

paid promptly on the 25th of each month, regardless of the amount of overtime which might be necessary on the part of the bookkeeping department. Our staff here has responded to that request unselfishly but the truth of the matter now is that we are so many days behind with our teaching that we have run into some problems which cannot be solved in order to pay by the usual 25th. Even if we could meet the 25th payday this time we would be uncertain about the date for the rest of the year. If you can wait until we have taught several more days we will be able to reset the pay date so that it will come the same date in the month each month. I do hope you do not have to discount your salary this month and that you are not as disappointed about passing up the 25th as I am. We shall pay as soon as we have taught enough days to enable us to get the payroll straightened out. You may rest assured that we shall pay as soon as it is possible and legal."

Did you ever wonder why a pound of red meat costs more than a pound of poultry? One reason is the difference in feed needed for cattle and broilers to gain weight. U. S. Department of Agriculture statisticians figure it takes two pounds of feed to develop one pound of broiler meat, while three pounds of feed are needed to produce a pound of pork and six to eight pounds of feed for a pound of beef.

PRISON FORESTRY CAMP FOR INMATES IS HAILED

(Special to The Times)

Frankfort, Feb. 21—An experiment launched by the state last summer—using carefully screened inmates from LaGrange Reformatory for forest fire control—is expected to return a double dividend.

State Conservation Department officials say the prisoners will aid in forest fire fighting and LaGrange Reformatory Warden David L. Davis calls the project "a wonderful addition to our rehabilitation program."

A project involving the Conservation Department's Division of Forestry and the Department of Corrections, the pilot program is operating along the wooded ridges of Pine and Log Mountains in Kentucky Ridge State Forest.

The Bell county forestry camp itself is supervised by the Department of Corrections which operates the State penal system. The 29 reformatory inmates who were selected for the pilot project are now putting the finishing touches on the permanent buildings for the camp—all of which they themselves have built from the ground up.

When the camp is complete, the prisoners will be assigned work for the Forestry Division. "These workers will help us do things our budget would not otherwise permit us to do," Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick pointed out. He said they will be assigned such chores as fire fighting, building fire trails into inaccessible areas of the state forest and maintaining equipment.

Forestry Division Director Gene Butcher said the men have already proven their usefulness in forestry work. They were used for emergency fire fighting early in December and three mechanics among the inmates have reconditioned 12 trucks and jeeps used by the Southeastern Kentucky Forestry District.

"Having this extra manpower available is going to be a big help to the Forestry Division," Butcher declared.

It's going to be a big help to the prisoners, too, according to Harold Black, director of institutions in the Department of Corrections.

He pointed out that it will give them a chance to learn a new trade or brush up on skills they already have. "And it gives them a chance to do something they know needs to be done, the most

New Library At Eastern Will Increase Capacity; To House 150,000 Books

Richmond, Ky., Feb. 9 (Spl.)—A four-story, air-conditioned addition to the John Grant Crabbe Library that will more than double its present capacity will be under construction this spring at Eastern Kentucky State College.

President Robert R. Martin said that the addition will cost $1 million and will provide space for 150,000 volumes to be added to the present capacity of under 120,000.

The addition will provide for an increase of all library services, better coordination of reader services, expanded audio-visual services, and more facilities and classroom space for the library science department.

The addition will contain 27,160 square feet of floor space and will result in many outstanding features in the library. Each floor, which will have 6,790 square feet of floor space, is designed for 150-pound dead load. Near the side entrance will be located a special entrance for handicapped students to enter the building.

An elevator will be located in stack rooms and will stop at each of four stack levels. A mechanical book lift will also be located in the stack rooms.

In the basement will be located a receiving and mending room, book stack areas, a materials center, a large audio-visual room, listening booths, a large classroom, a periodical room, toilets and mechanical rooms.

The main floor will have a spacious lobby, a reference room and a large reading room. The upper level of the old building will become a faculty study area with the door opening into stacks.

The third floor of the new building will contain a large study center and two large classrooms, and the fourth floor will

Pastoral Pressures Theme of Meeting

Lexington, Ky.—"Facing Pastoral Pressures" is the theme of an Institute for ministers to be held at Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, February 25-27, 1963.

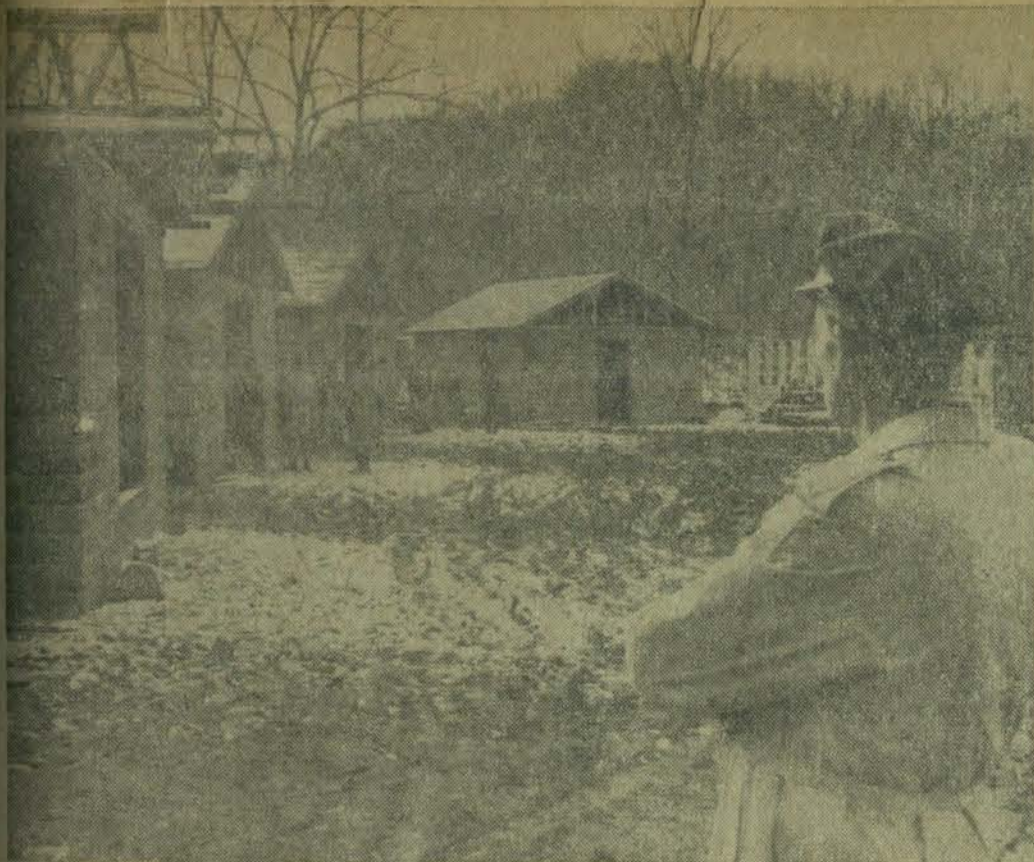

This will be the fifth annual Institute and is being sponsored jointly by the Hospital and the Kentucky Council of Churches. The Institute will deal with some of the inner tensions of ministers. Particular attention is to be given to the conflict between what the minister feels called to do and what his church or community may expect him to do. "The Minister's Mental Health" will be dealt with as well as how ministers spend their time.

Forestry Camp Takes Shape

Looking over buildings under construction at the State's new forestry camp for specially-selected inmates of LaGrange Reformatory is camp director Lt. Clarence O. Goodpaster of the Kentucky Department of Corrections. Located in Kentucky Ridge State Forest in Bell County, the camp has a dual purpose—aiding in the rehabilitation of reformatory inmates and providing manpower to permit the State Division of Forestry to undertake extra forest fire control measures it would not be able to otherwise. The prisoners themselves are constructing the buildings. This is Kentucky's first camp, though some other states have operated similar camps for years.

Loan of $2,850,000 Granted Eastern State For Dorm Construction

Richmond, Ky., Feb. 21 (Special)—A housing loan of $2,850,000 has been approved by the Community Facilities Administration, Washington, for construction of twin 12-story men's dormitories at Eastern Kentucky State College.

President Robert R. Martin received word recently from Congressman John C. Watts, announcing the approval of the loan.

The skyscrapers, to be constructed between Hanger Stadium and the new $3 million Alumni Coliseum, will house 720 men students and two supervisors. Each will be air-conditioned.

Called for identification purposes, "The Towers," the dorms will be named to honor two members of the college board of regents, F. L. Dupree, Harlan, and Dr. Russell I. Todd, of Richmond. Ground was broken this week for the dormitories. Completion date is expected to be Sept. 1, in time for the fall semester of the 1964-65 school year. The dormitories will be financed by the sale of bonds, and paid for by student rentals.

Lexington, Ky.—The U. S. Secretary of Agriculture has set Kentucky's 1963 burley crop acreage allotment at 226,060.93 acres, it was announced last week.

What's Going On in FISH & WILDLIFE by MINOR CLARK, Commissioner
Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources

The proof of the pudding is in the eating and the proof of the worth of rainbow trout stocking in Kentucky was proven a few weeks ago when Irvin Moffett, of Jamestown, hoisted an 11-pound, 3-ounce rainbow from the tail waters of Wolf Creek Dam. That's a pretty good size rainbow in anybody's book or in any state's waters. It proves that the conditions for rainbow are favorable in the Kentucky area, else this fellow would not have reached his robust size.

Moffett's trout was stocked in the waters of the Cumberland River below Wolf Creek Dam by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, probably six or seven years ago. It could have been older than that because rainbows have been placed there since 1952 and this could have been one of the older fellows, but biologists do not think so. Since no scales were saved to be read as to age that fish's age must remain unknown.

However, it's pointed out that it is doubtful if the fish's age could have been determined by its scales, since the growth of fish below the dam is about constant and therefore the growth rings on the scales would be, perhaps, unreadable. Because of the almost constant water temperature below the dam, the growing season does not vary as it does in the lakes themselves when the growth is recorded in the warmer months with no growth indicated

JEST AMONG US

By JACK WILD

I suppose the world's first bowler must have been some hungry caveman who rolled a boulder down the side of a mountain in the general direction of food on the hoof. Personally, I didn't discover bowling till last fall.

There's something about bowling that gets you. Maybe it's that first wonderful strike, when lights flash, sirens scream, and the crowd goes wild. You're really hooked then. At any rate, millions of dollars are spent each year on the sport, and I guess that's what you call throwing money down the lane.

Even Mom and the kiddies frequent those shining temples nowadays and give Pop a roll for his money. The 60-year-old mother of a friend of mine bowls four times a week. The other day I saw a 6-year-old get a strike the hard way—with both hands.

If you haven't taken up bowling yet, you probably will, so let me tell you what it's all about. The idea is to roll a hard rubber ball about the size of a runty pumpkin down a hardwood strip and knock over 10 wooden pins at the end of it. Simple as that.

Of course, the first time you step up to the line the 16-pound ball feels like 16 tons hanging on your arm and the lane appears to be barely covepath wide by a quarter of a mile long. With a six-foot trough on either side. The ball ordinarily has three holes bored in it and this can be confusing as the average person has five digits on each hand, and then there's always the chance you may get your thumb stuck in one of the fingerholes or two fingers in the thumbhole. Either way, it's pretty awkward.

The object, naturally, is to throw the ball down the lane without going along with it. If you knock all 10 pins down in one roll, it's a strike; if you get them all in two rolls, it's a spare; and if you don't get them all by then, it's a shame. There's one nice thing about it, though—you never have to worry about losing your ball. Even if you roll it down the gutter, the management is always accommodating about returning it so you can try again.

League bowling, in which several teams compete against each other during a season, is becoming quite popular. I happen to bowl in the University of Kentucky's faculty league, which suits me just fine since it operates on a handicap basis and you don't have to be an expert if you have a big fat handicap. Some of UK's most distinguished professors demonstrate every week that all their experimenting is not done in the laboratory.

TO DRAW SUNDAY

Pairings for the annual 15th regional high school basketball tournament will be conducted at Prestonsburg high school, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The battle for the title will begin Wednesday evening and run through Saturday night when the champion will be crowned.

Three Floyd county schools won more than 20 basketball games this season. McDowell posted 23 wins, Martin 22 and Betsy Layne 21. Betsy Layne, under Coach Oscar Bush, Jr., compiled a 11-4 mark after he filled in for resigned Benny Fannin, January 2. . . . Bob Talent grabbed the individual scoring title in the region with a per game mark of 23.3. He scored 38, 32, and 43 in his final three season games. . . . The Prestonsburg high school baseball team will sport 30 new uniforms this season, their first new ones in 12 years. The uniforms are an exact replica of the ones worn by the New York Mets in the National League. . . . They will play a 35-game schedule. . . . The winner of the 15th region tournament will meet the winner of the Second region (possibly Princeton Dotson or Earlington) in the 9:15 p.m. game Thursday evening, in the state high school basketball tournament. . . . Ballooning is now under way to select senior basketball players for the

Cats Down Garrett In Two Overtimes

Fred Setser's field goal and two foul shots by Danny Hamilton pulled Prestonsburg's Blackcats from behind with just seconds remaining and gave the host team a 74-73 escape over visiting Garrett in two overtime periods Tuesday night, last week.

The two teams had ended the regulation four quarters in a 68-68 deadlock and both scored four points in the first extra period. The victory was Prestonsburg's ninth in 19 games.

The Blackcats eked out a 20-17 margin in the first quarter and pulled ahead by eight points at 38-30 at halftime. Garrett began its comeback in the third quarter by outscoring Prestonsburg 18-16 and tied the game by edging the 'Cats 18-12 in the final.

Wayne DeBoard was Prestonsburg's leading scorer with 23 points but Garrett's center, Jimmy Cox, took game honors with a 36-point performance. Fred Setser had 19, Jim Setser 14 and Hamilton 12 for the victors, while Keith Lawson and Johnny Bolen rounded out Garrett's scoring with 14 and 11, respectively.

Three P'burg Students At U.K., Frat Pledges

Three Floyd countians are among the 285 University of Kentucky students who pledged to UK social fraternities this semester.

Under the University's current "rush" program, a student cannot pledge to a fraternity until he has established a good scholastic standing. A fraternity must maintain a scholastic standing equal to that of the all campus average, a figure invariably higher than the average for all men students.

The Floyd county students are James Claude McDonald, son of Earl F. McDonald, Byron Dixon Nunery, Jr., son of Byron Nunery, and Claybourne Fisher Stephens, son of Claybourne Stephens, all of Prestonsburg.

McDonald, a freshman in the College of Engineering, is a pledge to Phi Sigma Kappa social fraternity. Nunery, a pledge to Sigma Ci, is a freshman in the College of Arts and Sciences. Stephens, who is a freshman in the College of Commerce, is a pledge to Lambda Chi Alpha. All three students are graduates of Prestonsburg high school.

The University of Kentucky School of Journalism this summer will present a two-week course on "Use of Newspapers in the Classroom."

A special vocational rehabilitation program will be opened in each of the four state mental hospitals and will be jointly administered by the Department of Mental Health and the Department of Education's Bureau of Rehabilitation Services.

Rheumatic Fever Follows "Strep Throat" Attacks In Many Cases, Said

February is "strep throat" month as well as Heart Month. There is a very definite connection between the two, because a strep throat may be followed by rheumatic fever which in turn can lead to rheumatic heart disease.

Rheumatic heart disease is the condition in which permanent damage is done to the lining and valves of the heart. Rheumatic fever is the basic cause for half of all heart disease in children of school age, according to the Kentucky Heart Association.

Research scientists spent years studying patients whose strep throats were neglected and received no attention. They discovered that when the strep infection was effectively cured—usually by large doses of penicillin—rheumatic fever didn't occur. And without rheumatic fever there was no followup of damaging rheumatic heart disease.

This procedure isn't always as foolproof as it sounds, however. Some strep infections go unrecognized. They are known as "silent infections," revealing no symptoms that would cause the patient to seek medical care.

The Kentucky Heart Association is certain, nevertheless, that if every known strep infection were promptly and properly treated, the number of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease cases would decrease each year. At the present time, it is known that at least 500,000 children in this country are now or have been rheumatic fever victims. Another 500,000 adults are still suffering from childhood attacks of the same crippling.

The heart damage caused by rheumatic fever may appear following a first attack or not for many years, or perhaps not at all. The likelihood of heart damage can be greatly reduced if the person who has had rheumatic fever once is protected against recurrences. Parents, especially, should know that one attack of rheumatic fever does not confer immunity.

The age range when rheumatic fever most often strikes in children is from five to fifteen years, so parents of children in that bracket should be especially interested in a booklet which deals with this problem.

It is called "Now You Can Protect Your Child Against Rheumatic Fever." For a free copy, write to the Kentucky Heart Association, 311 Speed Building, Louisville 2, Kentucky.

NEW REAPPORTIONMENT PLANS ARE ADVOCATED

(Special to The Times)

Frankfort, Feb. 18—The Kentucky General Assembly, meeting in special session to redistrict the State's legislative districts, resumed work Monday on two new reapportionment bills introduced last week. The new bills are the first to be drawn up by the legislators themselves.

The only reapportionment bills previously introduced were authored by Kentucky Farm Bureau officials and by Louisville Mayor William O. Cowder.

In the House, Majority Floor Leader R. P. Moloney and 28 other Democrats introduced a bill on House reapportionment which resembles the plan drawn up earlier by Dr. J. E. Reeves, University of Kentucky political science professor. In party conferences, the Democrats altered the Reeves' plan in nine of the state's 100 districts.

As presented, the bill gives Jefferson county 17 seats; Fayette, four; Kenton, four; Campbell, three; Christian, Hardin, Boyd and Warren, two each—the same increases in representation offered by Reeves. Changes in the plan were in grouping smaller counties to form a district. The bill also draws the lines within counties having the new districts.

Rep. John E. White, Republican from Letcher county, introduced a bill which would change the primary election date to the first Saturday in June. Presently, the date is the first Tuesday after the fourth Monday in May. No bills had been brought out of committee for debate in either chamber, at the end of the session's third week.

Combs Appoints Group To Study Penal System Recommendations Asked

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 21 (Spl.) — Gov. Bert Combs has appointed an 11-man Task Force on Corrections to take a look at Kentucky's penal system and make specific recommendations of ways in which the work of rehabilitation of prisoners can be improved.

Setting a deadline of October 15, the Governor asked the group to come up with short-range "specific program recommendations" which could be considered by the next General Assembly and also to "develop a recommendation on the wisdom of a permanent statutory body which could devote itself to a long-range study and advisory role for the corrections program."

But the Governor stressed that he wants the task force to focus its attention on "those things which need to be done and can be done and should not be deferred further in anticipation of the creation of a permanent body."

In indicating to the group that he would like to receive interim recommendations which could be carried out in his own term of office, Combs stated that he would favor any solutions to relieve the overcrowded conditions at the institutions. "I have already directed the Probation and Parole authorities to take the steps necessary to speed up the processing and release of those parolees found to be deserving of parole. Nevertheless we need the additional construction of forest camps and farm dormitories."

Named co-chairmen of the task force are Maubert R. "Mike" Miles, Madisonville, Hopkins county commonwealth attorney and president of the Kentucky Commonwealth Attorneys' Association; and James L. Patton, state assistant superintendent of public instruction for vocational instruction.

Other members are Criminal Court Judge L. R. Curtis, Louisville; Dr. W. Walter Fox, Louisville, superintendent of Central State Hospital at Lakeland; Dr. Arleigh Lincoln, Louisville, professor and former dean of the Kent School of Social Work at the University of Louisville; Paul Oberst, Lexington, professor in the University of Kentucky College of Law; George Stoll, Louisville businessman and philanthropist; Richard Woods, Louisville, chairman of the Institutions Committee of the Kentucky Council of Churches; John J. O'Hara, Covington, Kenton county commonwealth attorney; and Rev. John L. Hunt, pastor of the South Frankfort Presbyterian Church.

"It is my hope that this task force can serve a crucial need in assisting in the development of new program directions for reclaiming the social offender for a productive and respected station in his community," the Governor said.

Taking note of the dramatic developments in social and medical sciences in recent years, the Governor said, "We have not kept current in the application of new knowledge to the solution of this age-old social problem. Human life is the earth's most priceless possession, and yet we often find ourselves more concerned with the erosion and devastation of plant life and mineral resources than with this erosion of human life itself."

THE STORY OF TEN LITTLE FREE WORKERS

THESE ARE THE WORKERS

REDDY DOCTOR RAILROADER MINER STEELWORKER FARMER LAWYER GROCER SALESLERK REPORTER

Ten little free workers in this country fine and fair.
But if you cherish your freedom—worker have a care!
Ten little free workers—Reddy was doing fine
Until the socialists got him—then there were nine.

Nine little free workers laughed at Reddy's fate
Along came federal medicine—then there were eight.

Eight little free workers thought this country heaven
But the government took over the railroads, then there were seven.

Seven little free workers—'till the miners got in a fix.
Uncle said coal's essential and took over leaving six.

Six little free workers 'till the day did arrive
The steel mills too were federalized—then there were five.

Five little free workers—but the farmers are free no more
The farms have been collectivized—that leaves only four.

Four little free workers till the government did decree
All must have free legal advice—then there were three.

Three little free workers—the number is getting few,
But with government groceries selling food—then there were two.

Two little free workers—our story's almost done,
With clerks at work in federal stores—that leaves only one.

One little free worker—the reporter son-of-a-gun
Mustn't criticize government—so now there are none.

Ten little workers—but they are no longer free
They work when and where ordered, and at a fixed rate you see,
And it all could have been prevented if they'd only seen fit to agree
And work together instead of saying "if never can happen to me!"

Yes... this could happen to you. This little story could come true unless each of us works to preserve free enterprise.

Insurance Rate Rule To Be Issued In March; Increase Is Challenged

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 25 (Spl.) — Special Deputy Insurance Commissioner James W. Stites will make a recommendation by mid-March on upholding or revoking a recent statewide increase in automobile liability insurance rates.

Stites, a Louisville attorney, was named a special deputy commissioner to conduct public hearings on the rate increase which was approved by the State Department of Insurance, January 2. The rate hike, affecting 95 member companies of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, ranges from 23 per cent in Eastern Kentucky to 14.9 per cent in the Louisville area. The companies involved write about one-third of all automobile insurance sold in Kentucky.

During the hearing attorneys for the Louisville Automobile Club challenged the rate increase. The insurance companies contend rising claim cost, especially in the Louisville area, make the rate hike necessary.

Stites, after considering the evidence introduced at the hearing, will make his recommendation on action to be taken to Acting Insurance Commissioner J. Elliott Flanary.

Kentucky has a well-balanced economy. Its chief source of income is manufacturing, which amounts to almost two billion dollars a year.

Kentucky's scenic mountains and valleys are visited by many tourists. Three of the chief attractions are maintained by the federal government—Mammoth Cave National Park, Abraham Lincoln Birthplace National Historic Site, and Cumberland Gap National Historical Park.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT CR 3972

Floyd Federal Savings & Loan Assn. & C., Plaintiff, vs. NOTICE OF SALE E John G. Archer, et al., Defendant.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the February term, 1963, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 4th day of March, 1963, at 10 o'clock, a.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six (6) months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being in the City of Prestonsburg, Floyd county, Kentucky, beginning at the southeast corner of the lot of land conveyed by Josie D. Harkins & c to Mary E. Harkins Howard by deed of conveyance dated July 9, 1923, recorded in Deed Book 84, page 271, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office; thence in a southeasterly direction along the line of Garfield Avenue a distance of 147.87 feet to a stake on the dividing line between the lots of land conveyed by Josie D. Harkins, etc., to Walter S. Harkins, Jr., and Josephine A. Harkins by deed of conveyance dated July 9, 1923, recorded in Deed Book 84, page 271, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office; thence at right angles to said Garfield Avenue, and along the dividing line between Walter S. Harkins, Jr., and Josephine A. Harkins, a straight line across the bottom and down the river bank to low water mark of Big Sandy River; thence following the meanders of Big Sandy River to the corner of the Mary E. Harkins lot hereinbefore referred to; thence with the southern line of the lot of Mary E. Harkins Howard to the beginning. Being a lot of land located on Garfield Avenue of said Garfield Addition, being 147.87 feet front, and running by parallel lines to low water mark of Big Sandy River. Being a portion of the same lands conveyed by Josie D. Harkins, etc., to Walter S. Harkins, Jr., by deed of conveyance dated July 9, 1923, recorded in Deed Book 84, page 271, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office. Excluding from and out of said land, and not conveying hereby, that certain lot of land conveyed by Walter S. Harkins, Jr., and wife, to Dr. O. T. Stephens on July 5, 1923, which said deed is of record in Deed Book 84, page 257, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

Said property will be sold to satisfy judgments in the above styled action set out in the judgment herein aggregating $44,750.00 and interest and costs. The purchaser may pay cash in lieu of executing bond if desired.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Bernard N. Burton, 54, Of Ashland, Succumbs; Brother of Floyd Woman

Bernard N. Burton, 54, of Ashland, died Saturday morning at a Lexington hospital following a long illness. He was a native of Pike county and a brother of Mrs. Alice Caudill, of Auxier.

Mr. Burton was a contract carpenter and had resided at Ashland for 18 years. A veteran of World War II, he was a son of the late Thomas and Helen Ward Burton.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Doris Josephine Burton and the following sons and daughters: Otis Burton, U. S. Air Force, Columbus, O.; Bernard Irwin Burton, Kenton, O.; Billy Neal Burton, Helen and Vickie Burton, all at home. Besides Mrs. Caudill, five sisters survive: Mrs. Oma Blevins, Ashland, Mrs. Irene Block and Mrs. Oma Blevins, both of Plant City, Fla.; Mrs. Clara Williams, Pikeville and Mrs. Margie Marcum, Ashland.

Burial was made Monday at Ashland under the direction of the John Steen Funeral Home.

As a result of a policy disagreement between Gov. Bert Combs and Insurance Commissioner L. D. Cassidy over revoking a recently approved auto liability insurance rate increase, the Governor has terminated Cassidy's service with the state.

Population of boys and girls at Kentucky Village, largest of the Commonwealth's three institutions for treatment of delinquent children, rose to 465 on February 1, a 10-year peak, it has been reported by Richard J. Clendenn, commissioner of the Department of Child Welfare.

Future Timber For Kentucky

ANOTHER LOAD OF YOUNG TREES to reforest idle Kentucky land is inspected by Gov. Bert Combs. State Forestry Division Director Gene Butcher (right) shows Governor Combs the fibrous root systems of the year-old pine tree seedlings. Looking on is State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick. At the Governor's direction Butcher has prepared a plan to speed-up the state's reforestation rate from the planting of 16 million tree seedlings in 1962 to the planting of 24 million seedlings by 1967—a 50 per cent increase.

State Allocates $25,000 For West Liberty Port; Plan Early Construction

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 21—The state has allocated $25,000 for construction of an airport at West Liberty, Aeronautics Commissioner Philip Swift has announced.

He described the sum as an "initial allocation" of state money to build the facility to serve West Liberty and Morgan county. Swift said the Department of Aeronautics has applied for Federal Area Redevelopment funds to pay for part of the construction. He said local interests will supply about one-fourth of the construction costs, expected to total about $98,000.

Construction is expected to start on the turf runway about May 1, Swift said.

COMBS NAMES TASK FORCE TO STUDY NEEDS OF AGED

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18 (Spl.)—Gov. Bert Combs has named a four-man task force to see if some practical answers can be found for the problems of "elderly, needy people who have been overlooked through the years by welfare programs."

The Governor defined this group as those people "who don't need to be in a hospital or even in a nursing home, but who, because of the natural infirmities of age are not able to take care of themselves."

These are the people, the Governor continued, "who are not able to go to the store or the bank—who don't have the physical strength to do their own cooking, for instance, and yet who do not have families or neighbors who can do these necessary things for them."

The Governor expressed the hope that "there can be some way to help these people who have this particular kind of problem." The answer, he believes, lies somewhere in the area of public housing.

"There may be, for instance, some kind of local housing that can be worked out with the federal government," he added.

Named to the task force by Combs are State Health and Welfare Administrator Felix Joyner; State Budget Director Robert Cornett; State Commissioner of Economic Security Earle V. Powell; and Louisville attorney Thomas Ray who has been active in programs designed to aid senior citizens and is chairman of the board of trustees of the Kentucky Geriatrics Center.

The Center is a non-profit senior citizens center recently established at Waverly Hills, the state-owned facility near Louisville which formerly housed the Louisville-Jefferson county tuberculosis sanitarium.

The Governor pointed out that the number of Kentuckians 65 years of age and older is constantly growing. In 1940, he said, the total was 189,284; by 1950 it had increased to 235,243 and 1960 census figures showed 292,233. He said that the total today is estimated at 310,000.

Combs said that "One of my main efforts as governor has been to try to improve the situation of Kentucky's needy senior citizens."

He listed increases in old age assistance payments; the launching of the program providing limited medical care for the elderly; establishment by the state of a loan fund to encourage the building and improvement of nursing and personal care homes for the elderly; and state help in founding the Kentucky Geriatrics Center as some of the ways the state has aided elderly, needy Kentuckians during the past three years.

The most important industry in Kentucky is the processing of food and related items, such as distilled and malt liquors, grain, and dairy products. Next in value is the manufacture of electrical machinery. The tobacco industry ranks third, and only North Carolina produces more tobacco than Kentucky.

GOV. BERT COMBS TO BE SPEAKER at DEDICATION
OF NEW SCHOOL at GRETHEL on MUD CREEK
SUNDAY, MARCH 3, at 2 p.m.

Construction of the JOHN M. STUMBO SCHOOL for the Mud Creek section is credited to increased education funds from the State Administration.

This new brick structure is located on an 11-acre tract, 7.2 miles from Harold. Containing 18 ultra modern classrooms, 35,000 sq. ft. of floor space, it will house a library, music room, gymnasium-auditorium and lunchrooms. Named the John M. Stumbo Elementary School, it will eliminate four one-room, three two-room, and two three-room schools over a 13 mile stretch on Mud Creek.

CHARLES CLARK, SUPERINTENDENT OF FLOYD COUNTY SCHOOLS, SAYS:

"WHILE THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE MUD CREEK SCHOOL HAS BEEN LONG NEEDED AND DESIRED, WITHOUT THE ADDITIONAL CAPITAL OUTLAY CONSTRUCTION FUNDS MADE AVAILABLE UNDER GOVERNOR COMBS' EXPANDED EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM, THE CONSTRUCTION OF THIS SCHOOL COULD HAVE GOT NO FURTHER THAN THE DRAWING BOARD, NOR WOULD WE HAVE BEEN ABLE TO LET THE CONTRACTS FOR THE GARTH VOCATIONAL SCHOOL AND THE MIDDLE CREEK ELEMENTARY SCHOOL. SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS, TEACHERS, PARENTS AND CHILDREN THANK GOVERNOR COMBS FOR MAKING THESE NEW SCHOOLS POSSIBLE."

EDUCATION AT THE CROSSROADS...

ONLY WITH BREATHITT
as GOVERNOR...

Can such an educational program of expanded opportunities from kindergarten through college be continued.

A BRIEF SUMMARY OF WHAT HAS BEEN DONE DURING THE ADMINISTRATION OF GOV. COMBS:

When Governor Combs took office the total state allotment to Floyd county education was $1,507,879.87 ('59-'60 fiscal). During his first fiscal year in office ('60-'61 fiscal) Combs increased this allotment by $641,511.73 to a grand total of $2,149,391.60. With additional increases in 1961-'62 here are the results of Combs' efforts for Floyd county:

	Before Combs	After Combs	Increase
Average Annual Teacher Salaries	$2,567.00	$3,644.00	$1,077.00
Annual Capital Outlay Per Classroom Unit (school construction)	400.00	600.00	200.00
Annual Current Expenses Per Classroom Unit	600.00	900.00	300.00
Teacher Retirement Per Credit Year	25.00	40.00	15.00

IT IS NOW A CERTAINTY THAT FLOYD COUNTY WILL HAVE A TWO-YEAR-LEVEL COMMUNITY COLLEGE ACCOMMODATING 525 FULL-TIME AND 225 PART-TIME STUDENTS AT A COST TO THE STATE OF WELL OVER $1,000,000.

10 From Floyd County Attain Pikeville College Dean's List

Pikeville, Ky., Feb. 20 (Sp.)—Ten Floyd countians, including a brother-and-sister combination from Bevinville, are among the 85 men and women named in Pikeville College's first "Dean's List" of high-achieving students, announced today. The list will be issued at the end of each semester in the future, Bedford Damron, academic dean of the college, said. Those named today include 17 seniors, 20 juniors, 31 sophomores, and 27 freshmen, together representing seven Kentucky counties and seven other states.

grade standard in academic courses of two quality points per semester hour—a straight "B" average—for freshmen, and higher for upper-classmen, are placed on the list. Sophomores must earn 2.15 quality credits per hour, juniors 2.30, and seniors 2.45, to qualify.

Among those on Pikeville's Dean's List for last semester are 71 Kentuckians, from Floyd, Henry, Letcher, Montgomery, Morgan, Perry and Pike counties, and others from Florida, Georgia, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

Floyd countians on the Dean's List are Earlyta Brooks, Harold; Phillip Ray Clark, Amba; Gene D. Davis, Betsy Layne; Judith Dixon, Prestonsburg; Edith Jones and Ray Jones, both of Bevinville; Porter Layne, Harold; Nancy Salisbury, Prestonsburg; Phillip Stumbo, Harold, and Donald Ward, McDowell.

DeROSSETT

For
CIRCUIT CLERK

This is my first time to ask the good people of Floyd county to entrust to me one of the highest offices in Floyd county, but I assure you that my background, qualifications and Christian training will be an asset in discharging the duties of Circuit Clerk.

In addition to the normal duties, I will promote a driver training program in every Floyd county high school. Such training can save you money on insurance premiums. One reason so many young people are killed on our highways is a lack of proper driver training.

As an extra service of my office I will send all drivers a 30-day notice that their licenses are about to expire.

I invite you to enquire of me. Ask my friends, my neighbors, my business associates, any one who knows me well.

If I win it will be on my merits, not shortcomings of any of my opponents.

Trusting your judgment, I am,

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS AT THE HAUNTED ROCK IN 1897
The historian, William Elsey Connelly, Big Sandy valley native who died in Kansas, did more to preserve the history and legend of the area than any other writer. In addition to authoring many books he had the photographer Luther record for posterity the scenes of the area nearly seven decades ago.

This picture bore the following legend by the gifted historian:
"Sunday School class, Paintsville, Kentucky. Photographed at the Flat Rock, half a mile below Paintsville. This point has been a famous crossing place for ages, and all the buffalo paths and Indian trails which ran through this part of the valley crossed Big Paint Creek at this point. There was an old Indian village on the plateau just over this rock. Just below, on the bank of the river, is the largest mound in the valley, and three more are near by. Simon Kenton spent two winters at this point, in some old cabins built by the French and the Indians. Many local superstitions, witch tales, and bogie stories were anciently connected with this place. It is yet supposed to be haunted."

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our past in recognition of our historic heritage.

FLANAGAN RESERVOIR TO SERVE TRIPLE USE

The $21 million John W. Flanagan dam now under construction in Southwest Virginia is not only designed to lessen floods in the Big Sandy River but will curb stream pollution and convert the area into a fishing and boating area.

The huge federal project is being built on the Pound River near Hays by the U. S. Corps of Engineers. It will effect river pollution as far away as the Mississippi, it is said by conservationists.

Work began on the reservoir in March, 1960, with a completion date set for August, 1963. But the addition of the water quality control system moved the date back to early in 1966. Gaylord Robinson, resident engineer of the project, said, however, that water impoundment would begin in 1964.

The main feature of the project is the huge earth filled dam which rises 265 feet, is 1,100 feet thick at the base and is 195 feet in length. The dam is the second largest of its kind in the eastern United States and is composed of more than two million yards of rock fill and 250,000 yards of impervious core, Robinette said.

As a result of the structure, water will back up for 15 miles in the Pound and nearby Cranes Nest rivers. During the summer months the water is expected to crest about 1,450 feet above sea level.

Other impressive features of the project are the 800-foot tunnel which was drilled beneath a nearby mountain to divert the flow of the Pound River, and a giant 260-foot high spillway structure to control the flow of water through the tunnel.

The dam itself has no gates so the water must be released by gates at the mouth of the tunnel. At present the project, as originally planned, is completed except for dressing the slopes of the dam and construction of two bridges, Robinette explained.

A Corps of Engineers spokesman at Huntington, West Virginia, said the addition of the water quality control system will cost an estimated $9 million and extend work on the project for about two years.

"A gate spillway must be constructed and bids on the job probably will be let in January of 1964," the spokesman said. In addition, roads must be relocated and more land must be purchased due to the increased water level resulting from the water quality control system. The system will raise the over-all pool level by about 46 feet.

When completed the reservoir would work this way:
Water would be held back during the spring months to prevent flooding. Then, during the dry summer months when the streams become choked with debris and sewage, it would be released to act as a slushing measure.

The pool level would build back up during the fall and winter again acting as an anti-flood measure. And the cycle is repeated in the spring, thus providing both flood control and combating pollution.

Aside from the flood control and anti-pollution measures, the reservoir also will provide the area with vastly improved fishing and boating facilities for recreation and the federal government reportedly plans to build several resort areas along the pool.

ORDINANCE

No. 2-63

An Ordinance of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, Amending Ordinance No. 12-62 in Order to Correct Certain Inadvertent Errors Therein.

WHEREAS, at a meeting held on July 19, 1962, the City Council adopted Ordinance No. 12-62 and the same was approved by the Mayor and thereafter duly published and is now in full force and effect, the said Ordinance being identified by its title or caption as follows:

"ORDINANCE NO. 12-62
"An Ordinance of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, Anticipating the City's Proposed Issuance of Certain Water, Sewer and Natural Gas System Revenue Bonds; Providing for the Creation of a 'Construction Fund' Wherein There Shall Be Deposited from Time to Time Moneys Received from All Sources for the Construction of the Project Intended to Be Financed Through the Issuance of Such Bonds; Designating a Depository; Selecting and Designating Financial Institutions To Serve as the City's Paying Agents in Connection with Such Bonds; Making Provision for the Security and Investment of Said Construction Fund; and Prescribing Conditions Relating To Disbursements from the Construction Fund"

AND WHEREAS, through inadvertence the HHFA Project Number and Contract Number erroneously appear in said Ordinance, and the date of HHFA's "Offer" and of the City's acceptance of said "Offer" were also erroneously recited; and

WHEREAS, in all other respects said Ordinance was and is in proper form;

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, DOES HEREBY ORDAIN, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. The aforesaid Ordinance No. 12-62 is hereby amended by deleting from the preamble thereof "Project No. PPL-Ky-309, Contract No. H-302-851" and by substituting therefor "Project No. PPL-Ky-432, Contract No. H-302-1017"; and said Ordinance is further amended by deleting from the preamble thereof the recitation of the date of the HHFA Offer as being June 5, 1962, and substituting therefor November 19, 1962, and by deleting June 21, 1962, as the date of the City's acceptance thereof and substituting therefor November 21, 1962.

SECTION 2. In all other respects said Ordinance No. 12-62 is ratified and confirmed and shall continue in full force and effect.

SECTION 3. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect after its adoption, approval by the Mayor, and publication as provided by law.

Adopted by the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, at a regular meeting held on February 21, 1963, on the same occasion signed in open session by the Mayor as evidence of his approval, attested under seal by the City Clerk, ordered to be published, and declared to be in full force and effect from and after publication.

PRETTY FAIR SPEECH
In July, 1863, the Union armies threw back the Confederate forces at Gettysburg, the only battle fought on northern soil. On November 19, 1863, that great, shattered battlefield was dedicated as a national cemetery. The chief speaker was Edward Everett, a noted orator. As an afterthought, President Lincoln was invited "to make a few appropriate remarks." He worked and reworked his speech, seeking—as with all his formal documents—to make it as perfect as possible.

have an office and four large classrooms. Architecture will match the existing Georgian architecture and a new main entry from the west side will have a classical stone portico which will blend with the style of the University Building, located beside the library.

The Crabbe Library was constructed in 1923 at a cost of $67,700 and an addition was built in 1938, which cost $93,813. The library was named for John Grant Crabbe, Eastern's second president.

Last week plans were announced for a $2,900,000 classroom building that will contain 61 classrooms for the Graduate School and the departments of Commerce and English. The air-conditioned, four-story building will have 135,000 square feet of floor space and completion date will be Sept. 1, 1963.

Also begun this spring will be twin 12-story men's dormitories, to house 720 students and costing $2,850,000. They, also, will be air-conditioned.

SOYBEAN TEST RESULTS

Lexington, Ky. — Kentucky soybean variety performance test results for 1962 are available now, the U. K. Ag Experiment Station said this week. Randolph Richards, Princeton Experiment Substation, and Shirley Phillips, Lexington, U. K. Ag Extension Service, said the report lists 1962 test results and summarizes results of tests since 1956. Recommended varieties are Clark, Kent, Shelby, Hood and Perry; these are described and their yield, time of maturity, standability, height, seed quality, seed size and oil content compared with other tested varieties.

MARTIN FOR STATE SENATOR

Without any solicitation from Senator Martin, we take this means of bringing to the attention of the general public and the Democratic voters of this county the immediate need of having Burnis Martin return to the State Senate to represent the people.

His record in the state senate for the school teachers and the schools, for the establishment of the college in Floyd county and his record in the state senate of having never voted wrong on a labor issue should especially endear him to the Democratic voters of this county.

Senator Martin has had four years experience in the State Senate, would make a strong candidate in the two Democratic counties of Floyd and Knott, and knowing his way in and around Frankfort and the maneuverings of the legislative process, the Democrats should all unite and get behind Senator Martin and return him to the State Senate where he can be of great benefit to the people.

If you want a man you can have confidence in, a man who will stand and fight for the interests of the common, laboring class of people, a man of experience and unquestioned ability, a man who, at the last session of the legislature, was named by a poll of the newspaper as an outstanding legislator, I urge all Democrats and Republicans alike to get behind Senator Martin and request that he run for re-election.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE WRIGHT
Martin, Kentucky
