This Town... That World

If the party who missed this column last week and registered a complaint will drop by the office, I'll refund his dime.

THE BLAME IS OURS

We are in what is known as a fix. We can't blame the President, Congress, the Corps of Engineers or anybody else for what has happened. It was different when the rains came and the streams ravaged homes, businesses, roads, bridges, everything. But these forest fires, they're our own fault. We must blame ourselves for this disgraceful, in cases criminal, state of affairs.

NOTE TO A FATHER

Had an interesting visitor, the other day. We got off on a good subject—our children. He spoke of his sons and daughters, of the tight financial squeeze he had had, educating them. One time, the old car was on the blink, but it had good tires. The tires sold well. Another time, when the wall looked blank, a coal company needed sand. Always something to tide him over, to keep the boys in school.

"I haven't much in the bank, maybe no more than a hundred dollars. But I feel good—real good," he told me as he looked back on it all. It was not till he was gone that I began thinking about this man, his pride in his fine sons and daughters, the good feeling he has about it all. Then I got to thinking how proud the children must be of their father. I didn't tell him this at the time. I am telling him now.

A few more days of this and it will be too hot to read the seed catalogues.

Read a paragraph this week which runs to this effect:

"My headaches come, not from thinking, but from inability to think of anything to say."
P. S. I have a headache.

OF THE ESTHETIC

Outside the A. B. Chandler Medical Center at the University of Kentucky stands a job of sculpture which demands the attention but which to the uninitiated (which includes yours truly) means nothing, says (as they say) nothing. I have been told that one of these ebony-black whatchamacallits, pointing skyward, represents man's highest aspirations and that the other, aimed in the opposite direction, portrays man's depravity. Maybe so. It sounds good; may, indeed, be great. But it's Greek to me, and I do not refer to the classic, Grecian, either. Dr. Russell Hall's interpretation of the well-concealed meaning of this particular work suited me better.

AREA RESCUE SQUAD ORGANIZATION FORMED

The Southeastern Kentucky Association of Emergency and Rescue Squads was formed here Sunday afternoon, with Homer D. Neeley, of Prestonsburg, as its first president.

The organizational meeting, held at the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad building, was attended by representatives of six squads from as many counties of the region. The six squads represent 320 volunteers who have been serving their areas in time of disaster or emergency. Six other squads are eligible to enter the organization, and their entry would bring the number of volunteers represented by the Association to 1,000 men.

Purpose of the Association is to coordinate activities of the individual squads, provide a more comprehensive program of help for the region in time of disaster, foster an accident-prevention program and pool the resources of member squads for effective service in the event of catastrophe or any situation beyond the control of a single unit.

Other officers elected were: Barton Massengill, Middlesboro, vice-president; Henry Wilder, Corbin, secretary-treasurer; Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, Pikeville, chaplain; Barney Gilliam, Cumberland, historian.

Squads represented at the meeting and their official representatives were:

Pike County Rescue Squad, Kermit Sexton, captain; Tri-County Emergency & Rescue Squad, Corbin, Norman Hedrick, assistant captain; Tri-City Emer-

FIRES OUT OF CONTROL IN PARTS OF COUNTY

6,000 ACRES OF WOODLAND BURNED OVER

Incendiarism Is Seen In Some Blazes; Rain Is Hope of Fire Crews

Approximately 115 fires have swept Floyd county woodlands within the week, fires are still raging and 22 were classified Wednesday as "out of control."

District Forester Arthur Leach said Wednesday afternoon that approximately 6,000 acres of woodland have been burned and three houses destroyed since the first of the blazes about 10 days ago. No attempt to assess the damage was undertaken.

A heavy pall of smoke hung over the entire county this week as practically every creek and hillside was hit by fire. Charred leaves drifted into Prestonsburg streets from flaming hillsides across the river.

"Every fire," Leach said, "is the result of one of two things—carelessness or cussedness."

Some of the fires have been deliberately set, he added. "We know who is responsible for a number of these fires, and when the present emergency is over we'll be going after these people."

WORLAND IS ELECTED YOUTH ASSEMBLY HEAD

Eddie Worland, Jr., Prestonsburg high school junior, last Saturday became the second student from the school to be elected Governor of the Kentucky Youth Assembly.

The first representative of the school to win the coveted post was Franklin Conley, who was elected in 1952 and who now is a Baptist minister near Versailles.

The new Governor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Worland, of Prestonsburg. He succeeds Miss Susan Kumpke as Youth Governor.

Besides winning top spot among Kentucky youth participating in HJ-Y and Y-Teen activities, young Worland won an award for delivering the best campaign speech made by any candidate for Governor. And his campaign manager, Miss Mary Lynn Hall, won an award for having delivered the best speech made in the House of Representatives.

Prestonsburg high school was successful in its every undertaking at the Youth Assembly, said the sponsors, Mrs. E. D. Roberts and John Calvin Martin. Miss Elizabeth Graham Dings, assistant clerk of the Senate, was awarded a plaque for her work on the Governor's cabinet. Misses Joyce Hall and Elizabeth Lynn Frazier, as director of publicity and assistant sergeant-at-arms of the House, respectively, will be cabinet members next year, and Miss Elizabeth Lynn Frazier's bill on leave for teachers passed both Houses, only to be vetoed by Governor Kumpke. Miss Lynn Salisbury at last week's Assembly ended her term as Speaker of the House.

The Prestonsburg delegation's sponsors, Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Martin, were commissioned Youth Assembly Colonels by the Youth Governor.

The 560 delegates heard speeches by Governor Bert Combs, Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler, Dr. Marvin Dodson, executive secretary of the Kentucky Education Association, Miss Mary Louise Foust, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor and Louie Nunn, Republican gubernatorial candidate.

Governor Combs urged the teenagers to take a more active interest in governmental affairs and politics. He said he hopes there will be a constitutional convention to bring the Kentucky Constitution up to date.

Combs received a plaque from Governor Kumpke, for his help to Kentucky youth assemblies during his term as Governor.

Butler received a standing ovation when he said Kentucky won first prize at the National Education Association convention at Denver last summer for the state making the most progress in education.

Dodson outlined the legislative program the K.E.A. will present to the 1964 General Assembly.

Three New TB Cases Discovered In Floyd; Report Hepatitis Case

Three new active cases of tuberculosis were discovered at the outpatient tuberculosis clinic held Tuesday at the Floyd County Health Department, Dr. Russell L. Hall, county health doctor, said.

Post-flood work of the health department is continuing, with a total of 20,500 typhoid shots given to date. Survey and treatment of water wells continues.

Only one case of hepatitis has been reported in the county following the flood. The sufferer, a Garrett adult, is improving satisfactorily.

"We expected a hundred or more," Dr. Hall said. Immediate water purification work is credited with preventing high incidence of the disease.

OUTSTANDING EVANGELIST SCHEDULES REVIVAL HERE

The Rev. Larry Taylor, of San Antonio, Texas, one of the Southern Baptist Convention's outstanding evangelists, will lead the revival which will begin Easter Sunday at Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here and continue through April 21.

Music at each service will be led by Gus M. Kalos, minister of music of the Beechmont Baptist Church, Louisville.

The Rev. Taylor comes to Prestonsburg, hailed by pastors of churches where he has preached in revival efforts as an evangelist of great power and effectiveness. In less than seven years he has conducted more than 200 revivals, with the result that more than 12,000 persons have united with the church. At Hazard's First Baptist Church 100 professions of faith resulted from the revival which he led, several months ago.

Taylor himself is living proof of the power of Jesus Christ to change men's lives. Product of a broken home, he drifted into juvenile delinquency, following older boys, then became a gambler, narcotics addict and police court character. Persuaded by a youthful acquaintance to attend a revival meeting after he had concluded a stay in jail, Taylor was converted in 1955 at the age of 17. Since that time his life has been one of complete surrender and dedication.

Services will be held twice daily from April 14 to April 21, the pastor, the Rev. W. D. Jagers, announced—at 10 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m. A nursery will be provided to enable parents of young children to attend. The public is invited to attend each service.

AUTO-TRUCK COLLISION KILLS THREE PERSONS

Three persons, including two Prestonsburg women, were killed and two others were injured shortly before noon last Saturday in the head-on collision of a truck and automobile on the new U. S. 23, south of Paintsville.

The dead: Mrs. Ruby L. Kirk, 28, of Graham street; her mother, Mrs. Nina Phipps, 75, who resided with her, and Otis Lafferty, 42, of the Daniels Creek section of Johnson county.

Injured were Charles Kirk, Jr., husband of Ruby Kirk, and their nine-year-old son, James.

The tragedy occurred at the top of Tan Bat Hill, outside Paintsville, where the new highway reduces from three lanes to two and while Lafferty, in a pickup truck, driving upriver, was being chased by Deputy Sheriff's Raymond Blair and W. T. Williams.

One report received here said Lafferty passed another car traveling in the same direction and met the Kirk car, driven by Charles Kirk, Jr. Sheriff Ray Preston, of Johnson county, said his deputies gave chase to Lafferty because they suspected him of being a drunken driver.

Kirk was quoted as saying he believed he had brought his car to a stop when struck by the oncoming truck.

Mrs. Phipps and Lafferty were killed outright. Mrs. Kirk died at 3:15 p.m., in a Paintsville hospital. Her husband was transferred Monday to King's Daughters' hospital, Ashland, and their son was able to leave the hospital to stay with Ashland relatives.

The Kirks and Mrs. Phipps had lived here the past several months.

Surviving sons and daughters are Edford, Rupert, Tinley, Jimmy Dean, Ruby, Elsie and Stella Mullins, all of Chicago. Four brothers and four sisters also survive: Chester Mullins, Hueysville, Freddie Mullins, in Illinois. Contract for bituminous concrete surfacing of the 2.8 miles of the Prestonsburg arm of the Mountain Parkway from Arnold Avenue here to a point near the junction with Ky. 404 (the David road) was awarded last week by the State Highway Department to the Adams Construction Co., Pikeville.

The contractor's bid of $665,718.14 was lowest offered on the surfacing project.

The same construction firm also was awarded the contract on grade, drain and bituminous concrete surfacing of 17 mile of the Wheelwright Junction-Wheelwright road. Its low bid for the work was $89,930.89.

The surfacing job here is being financed by federal and state road funds; the Wheelwright project, entirely out of the state road fund.

TEACHERS RECOGNIZE COMBS EDUCATION AID

An estimated 600 teachers, school system personnel and their friends joined Saturday evening at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, in paying tribute to Governor Bert T. Combs, recognizing him especially for his contribution to the field of education during the last four years.

The $10-per-plate Teacher Appreciation Dinner, planned and conducted by the Floyd County Teachers Association, drew its attendance for the most part from the ranks of school people, with some administrative personnel and a few teachers from adjoining counties adding to the big gathering.

Woodrow W. Allen, principal of Prestonsburg high school, acted as toastmaster for the evening, and the crowd was welcomed by Mayor George P. Archer, of Prestonsburg, a staunch friend of Governor Combs.

One of the early speakers was Walton Jones, superintendent of Morgan county schools and president of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association. Speaking briefly, he expressed his appreciation for "the honor of paying tribute to the Governor."

Floyd Superintendent Charles Clark explained that the dinner

SEARCH ENDS IN MAGOFFIN LAST SUNDAY

Victims Died En Route To Lackey After Flood; Missing Since March 16

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of six persons, two weeks earlier on their way from Lima, Ohio to this county, was lifted Sunday afternoon when an auto containing the bodies of all six was found in the Licking River, four miles west of Salversville.

The victims were Chester Thomas, 33, his wife, Elizabeth Griffith Thomas, 28, their eight-year-old son Darrell, their daughter Barbara, 5; Amos Griffith, 23, brother of Mrs. Thomas, and his bride of two months, Mrs. Velma Webb Griffith, 19.

Amos Griffith and Mrs. Thomas were son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Griffith, of Lackey, and they left Lima, March 16 to help their parents who had been hit by the March 12 floodwaters.

The car containing the bodies was found by Deputy Sheriff Prock Jackson, of Magoffin county, as he was fishing in the Licking, near the farm of Trader May. The auto was resting on its top and the falling water had left its tires above the surface.

Identification of the bodies was made by Talmadge Vanderpool, a neighbor of the victims before they left this county.

The highway parallels the river for about 200 yards in the area where the car was found. The automobile apparently ran off the road on a sharp curve, missed a guardrail.

BANK WOMEN MEETING AT MAY LODGE SLATED

The Kentucky Group, National Association of Bank Women, will meet April 6-7 at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, it was announced this week by Miss Burieta Gearhart, state chairman.

Kentucky is a part of the five-state Southern division of the national organization. Purpose of the organization is to encourage bank women in a mutual exchange of ideas.

Theme of the meeting, "Something Old and Something New," will be developed in addresses and panel talks. Mrs. Mildred Muller, Memphis, Tenn., vice-president of the Southern region, will be the banquet speaker, the evening of was not his meeting, that he was attending as a member of the Floyd County Teachers' Association and of the Kentucky Education Association. At the same time he voiced his readiness to "go to bat" for the KEA program and for the Combs administration which has implemented that program. When he called for an answer if those present approved of the KEA program and the work of Governor Combs the reply was a storm of applause.

Superintendent Claude Farley, of Pike county, told of the mountain-climber's monument at the base of a Swiss mountain and of the epitaph it bore, "He died climbing." Then he added: "I say, Bert Combs has done his duty in every respect—and what more can we expect?"

Also introduced were "Sid" Meade, principal of South Portsmouth, Ky. schools; Mrs. Betty Stephens, of Prestonsburg, described as "the youngest retired school teacher in the state of Kentucky," and Mrs. Roberta Davidson, president-elect of the Floyd County Teachers' Association.

Mrs. Stephens told of her early days as a teacher, of teaching five months for a total of $150, of teaching about five years at that annual pay. "We got some little raises along," she said, "but just about the time I was ready to go out, Bert Combs came along and the pay got better. I support Governor Combs' program, all the way. If you don't support him, I hope your pay goes back to $150. . . . My wish for you is that if you can't vote right, you go back to hog and hominy."

Before Governor Combs, the principal speaker, was introduced, Mrs. Goldie P. Short, of Allen, president of the Teachers' Association, presented him, on behalf of the teachers, a gold watch.

The Governor himself called attention to others before beginning his address. First, he recognized Eddie Worland, Jr., Prestonsburg high school student, who last week was elected Governor of the Kentucky Youth Assembly, and Walkie May, high school freshman here who last year was elected Governor of the Junior Youth Assembly. (Combs and the two young "Governors" later were photographed together.)

PERKINS SEES MARTIN HELP

*Postal Center Building,
Water, Sewer Plant Aid
Viewed by Congressman*

Congressman Carl D. Perkins told The Times Wednesday that help for the flood-stricken town of Martin is indicated by federal sources. First of all, he said, a postal center building will be advertised Friday for letting at Lexington, May 10. It is possible, too, he said, that disaster emergency funds or Community Facilities Administration financial aid will restore the pumps, water mains and the raw water station damaged there by the present flood. Engineers estimate that $108,000 will be required for this work.

Lack of sewage disposal facilities has delayed the low-rent public housing project there, but Congressman Perkins said that in view of the urgency of the situation he is confident federal financial aid will be available. A federal grant of $170,025 has already been made available. Total cost of the project is placed at $293,147.

Interior of the postoffice structure at Martin will contain 2,847 square feet, plus a platform of 465 square feet. A paved area of 5,588 square feet will be included in the project. The building, to be located on the east side of Main street, will occupy a lot leased for 20 years, with five four-year renewal periods optional.

Area Red Cross Director Says Organization Plans To Stay Until Needs Met

Dale Roe, area director of the American Red Cross here announced Wednesday that 1,221 families have applied for assistance under the grant-in-aid program of the organization set up since the recent flood.

The total number of families assisted in 1957 was 1,025, he said, with expenditures of $520,000. It is anticipated that the amount that will be spent on the program this year will exceed this.

Caseworkers are busy at work on home visitations and the interview work is progressing nicely. A staff of 30 workers, including the field workers and office force, is expediting the work.

Mr. Roe, in noting that rumors were being circulated that the Red Cross had left or was about to leave the area, said that he and his staff will remain here until the needs of the flood victims are met.

MYERS PAYS TRIBUTE TO VICTIMS OF FLOOD

A tribute to the "courageous people of Kentucky" was paid this week by the Red Cross disaster director in Huntington, West Virginia, George Myers, whose organization has 127 national disaster staff working with Kentucky communities to provide emergency assistance as well as long-term aid to many of the 11,500 Kentucky families who were swept from hearth and home by the mid-March floods.

"We expect to keep all of the staff here as long as is necessary to wind up the job of rebuilding and restoring family homes and lives," Myers said. "The Red Cross is only acting for the American people in our present operations in Kentucky and in Southwestern West Virginia and Southwest Virginia. The total Red Cross disaster aid in the tri-state area may add up to $3 million in practical help to restore families to normal living," Myers said.

Myers said that rehabilitation or rebuilding assistance "may reach more than 7,500 families in 20 Kentucky counties." He said that sometimes people believe that Red Cross ends its job of disaster aid when it supplies emergency food, shelter, clothing and medical and nursing care . . . during the first few days of a disaster.

"Just the opposite is true," he said. "More than 75 per cent of every Red Cross disaster dollar is spent for rehabilitation aid."

This long-term aid is for clothing, household furnishings, building and repair of owner-occupied homes, replacement of farm supplies and equipment, occupational supplies, and medical and nursing care.

Red Cross community surveys just completed in the 20 affected Kentucky counties show that 105 homes were completely destroyed, 962 had major damage, and 8,161 minor damage. There were 142 farm buildings destroyed, the survey indicated, with 100 having major damage and 288 minor damage. In the other-kind-of-building category, 117 were destroyed, 115 had major damage, and 578 sustained minor damage.

More than 5,000 persons took refuge in Red Cross shelters and received food and clothing in the emergency period.

Myers, a 20-year disaster veteran, said that there is a difference between Red Cross assistance and government aid during a disaster.

Red Cross help always goes to families to enable them to get back on their feet. Federal aid, however, is used to restore communities and public facilities and utilities, bridges, and highways.

"A lot of credit should be given to all communities and groups for their role in helping themselves ward off even worse effects from the floods," Myers said. Included in these are Red Cross volunteers from local chapters who carried—and are still carrying—the full brunt of Red Cross service until our national staff could arrive to help."

Red Cross national disaster staff members from 46 states are on duty in the tri-state area.

MAGIC MOUNTAIN PROJECT ASKS $3,047,850 LOAN

Frankfort, April 1 (Spl.)—Application for a $3,047,850 loan has been filed with the Federal Area Redevelopment Administration by the Magic Mountain Corporation which plans an ambitious tourist development layout atop a mountain overlooking Hazard.

Project sponsors said that more than 470 jobs would be created in operating the project and serving the traveling public.

Signers of the A. R. A. application were Elmer Roll, Hazard, president of Magic Mountain; and Hazard Mayor Willie Dawahare, chairman of the Upper Kentucky River Development Council.

Total cost of the 450-acre Magic Mountain project is estimated at $4,689,000 by its sponsors. The A. R. A. is being asked to lend 61 per cent of the cost.

Features of the proposed tourist development include: A 200-unit luxury motel; large swimming pool, heated and screened in winter; 1,500-seat amphitheater; convention hall seating 300; exhibition coal mine and coal museum; arts and crafts center, riding academy; sky ride cable car; ski run and lift; ice skating rink; tennis courts, and helicopter service between the project and airports at Hazard and Whitesburg.

In commenting on the proposed development, Mayor Dawahare said that "This project is a concrete example of our people's determination to make Eastern Kentucky a going asset, not only to Kentucky, but to the nation. The recent floods have highlighted our needs and our determination to help ourselves as much as is humanly possible."

The model coal mine and coal museum were incorporated in the plan to take advantage of the "national image" of the Hazard area as a top coal production center. A coal mining company now owns the mountain-top site.

Cooper Announces Plan For Area Businessmen; Road Survey Completed

Senator John Sherman Cooper announced Friday that the Small Business Administration has applied to the 23 Eastern Kentucky counties, which have been declared a disaster area, a separate provision of law making working capital loans available to business men. Originally, SBA loans were available only for physical damage and losses resulting from the recent flood. The new provision authorizes 3% 20-year loans to persons and businesses in the disaster area which may not have suffered physical damage to buildings and inventories but which are suffering substantial economic injury because business conditions have been adversely affected.

State and federal agencies continued this week with plans to help this and other flood-stricken counties with other programs, particularly in the area of damaged roads and bridges. U. S. Corps of Engineers representatives toured the county, Monday and Tuesday, to inspect debris-choked streams.

County Judge Henry Stumbo said Wednesday that the State Highway Department has completed its survey of road and bridge damage in the county. Representatives of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads are nearing completion of their study of the same projects.

Work is nearing completion on the Mare Creek bridge which was let to contract by the State Highway Department after it had been washed out by the flood. The Knotley Hollow bridge, which also is to be restored, will be located 600 feet upstream from its former site, it was said this week. The new location will make the span less susceptible to high water, engineers say.

Nothing the shape of the two objects, he opined:

"Aspiration and depravity, my eye! Looks to me like the expression of a frustrated two-boomerang man."

John Ward, who has had his share of luck at Dewey Lake, got even luckier, down in Florida, a few weeks back. A brewery in the Tampa-St. Petersburg area each year releases a large number of tagged fish and pays off the amount on the tag to the guy who lands the fish. And what does Mr. Ward do? He merely takes home three of the prize fish, each bearing a tag worth $25. . . . A picture I have indicates that Alex Davidson has been doing right well, too, at Ormond Beach—if 35 on one trip is doing well.

Montaigne, the essayist, wrote, almost 400 years ago, that humble folk go about their affairs in a more manly way than others with greater opportunity, that they face even sickness and death more bravely. "Even the names they give diseases," he wrote, "sweeten and soften their sting. For them phthisis is a cough, dysentery but a looseness and pleurisy a stitch. And as they name them, so they endure them—gently. They never keep to their bed except to die."

Montaigne was partly right. But he wrote that before Kildare and Casey who, the Reader Digest informs us, threaten to make hypochondriacs of us all.

Addressing the Governor, the toastmaster concluded the evening of tribute by saying, "Governor Combs, when the history of this administration is written, it will be said, 'The Little Judge is a big, big man.'"

Health Department personnel are required to attend the annual state health meeting in Louisville next week, but the Department's office here will be kept open so that immunization work may continue.

FIRES RAZE FLOYD HOMES

In Aftermath of Flood; Gas Station, Restaurant, Other Buildings Burn

The number of homes burned in Floyd county following the recent flood is much greater than was at first learned, it is noted this week. To the list of burned homes is added that of a windstorm loss of Currie Prater, at Water Gap, whose home was damaged by high wind the day of the flood.

The service station, grocery store and apartments of Paul Epling at Stanville was razed Tuesday at 2 a.m. Estimated damages are $20,000. The property was partially insured, it was said.

Another business, that of Mrs. Clara Allen, at Garrett, burned Wednesday of last week. The property, a two-story building, housed a restaurant, grocery and upstairs apartments.

The home of Joe W. Jarrell, former Floyd county teacher, but now of Lawrence county, burned following the flood, it is said. No estimate of damages, or other details were learned.

Fires took heavy toll of tenant houses over the county. Two houses belonging to A. L. Howell at Price were destroyed by fire Tuesday of last week, another owned by Ray Calhoun on Middle Creek road burned March 15 and a tenant house of Don Ball's on MacArthur street here, burned down Monday morning.

Mrs. Gorrell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hager, of David.

COVER CROPS

Cover crops should be turned under before the small grain is knee-high. If allowed to get higher, they become fibrous. This delays rotting after turning-under; the process may NOT be completed by transplanting time. The same amount of nutrients (nitrogen and organic matter) is obtained from a cover crop 12 to 15 inches high as one that is much higher.

In 1840, Louisville became the first city in the American West to acquire gas lights.

Pioneer Beaver Creek Settler Carved Home In Wilderness

BY HENRY P. SCALF

(This history of the Stephens family was written from a compilation of data gathered by Henry Stephens, of Prestonsburg, and his son, Edgar P. Stephens. This article is the first of a series.) Samuel Stephens, progenitor of the Big Sandy branch of the family, emerges to history on the Floyd county, Kentucky, records when he married Florence Patton, July 26, 1821. Whether he was a child when he left Virginia and was brought to Kentucky by his parents or other relatives, or like many stalwart young men of the time immigrated westward by his own decision is not known.

There were others of the Stephens name in early Floyd county when Samuel Stephens and Florence Patton married. On December 11, that year, Andrew Stephens and Susanna Williams were united in wedlock. It is presumed Samuel and Andrew were brothers.

It was Jacob Mayo, deputy clerk of the Floyd County Court for many years, and afterwards clerk himself for years, who issued the marriage license and accepted the security that authorized the union of Samuel Stephens and Florence Patton. The license may be found recorded in marriage book No. 1, page 158, being number 692 in the county since the records were rehabilitated after the courthouse burned in 1808.

It reads: "This shall license and permit you to join in marriage according to the rites and ceremonies of the church to which you belong Samuel Stephens and Florence Patton and for this shall be your sufficient warrant. Given under my hand this 21st day of July, 1821. Jacob Mayo, D.C.F.C.C."

The marriage return was made by Stephen Harper, J. P., who wrote: "I hereby certify that the within named couple was this day joined together in marriage as the law directs by me, this 26th day of July, 1821."

Samuel Stephens at the time of his marriage was 20 years old, having been born November 11, 1801, in that part of Russell county, Virginia, that became Wise county in 1856. His wife, one year older, was the daughter of James Patton and Florence Graham Patton, early Beaver Creek settlers.

In the first quarter of the nineteenth century land available for preemption in early Floyd was plentiful, except for the river bottoms. The huge John Preston survey of 100,000 acres had encircled a line around the Big Sandy River bottoms from the mouth of Johns Creek upstream for many miles but in the main the bottoms of the larger tributary streams were untouched. Samuel and Florence Stephens settled on Stephens Branch, near the present Alphoretta, gave their family name to the stream. In that almost unbroken sylvan barony of thousands of acres of land they raised 15 children and a foster daughter.

The Big Sandy valley in 1821 was sparsely settled. Only the year before Samuel Stephens married did anyone claim and settle on the bottoms where Martin now stands.

Prestonsburg was a struggling little village of less than 50 persons. Pikeville was unheard of and long valleys, like the one where Stephens settled, were empty except for primeval trees and abundant game.

All the children of Samuel and Florence Patton Stephens lived to adulthood which was unusual indeed for, in the semi-wilderness of early Floyd county, the hazards of life and the lack of proper medical care lessened the survival rate. There were fields to clear of giant timber, long hours of almost intolerable toil in and outside the house, and epidemics of small pox that swept the land. Life was hard and back-breaking labor was eternal.

Around the Stephens home the virgin timber yielded to cleared fields and Samuel rapidly added to his original acres by additional patents. In time the early homestead had grown to mammoth proportions. But this preoccupation of Samuel with land acquisition was for a laudable purpose. He was providing for his posterity, left each of his children several hundred, a few, thousands of acres.

The order of birth of the Stephens children cannot be given. We know that Jenny, daughter of Florence, was born about 1818, possibly 1819. She was reared by Samuel and Florence, took their name, and reaching maturity, married John Stone, October 29, 1837. Her husband, while at work on Turkey Creek, cut his leg with an axe. He bled to death. Jenny, now a widow with five children, remarried Andrew J. Canady, bore him four children. Descendants of this later union now bear the name Kennedy.

Rebecca Stephens, one of the older daughters of Samuel and Florence, married George W. (Hopkins) Allen, April 28, 1840. They had sixteen children. George W. Stephens, one of the older sons, married Margaret Handshoe, July 24, 1844. He settled on the Caney Fork of Middle Creek and reared ten children and died about 1900.

William D. Stephens married Rebecca Bradley, November 3, 1857, and were the parents of eleven children. Reuben Stephens married Nancy Jane Hicks, April 21, 1859, and continuing the tradition of large families in the Stephens sept, had twelve children. It is not known to whom Alexander Stephens was married. He, contrary to the dominant southern feeling of his kinsmen, joined the Union army in either Ohio or Illinois, served through the Civil War as an officer. He came back to Stephens Branch after the war was over, willing to forget differences with his people. But his brothers were a bit embittered by the war and Alexander left for the west. It was rumored that he died in the Chicago fire in 1871, but this fear proved groundless. Decades later a son came back to Kentucky from Oklahoma to inquire about the division of the estate of his grandfather but finding no provision had been made for Alexander, returned to Oklahoma. Knowledge of this family does not exist with the Big Sandy Stephens descendants.

First to marry after the Civil War from the patriarchal home of Samuel Stephens was Mary. October 11, 1885, she was married to David Osborne. To this union were born eight children. Samuel A. Stephens married an Osborne also, probably a sister to David, Samuel A. and Sarah Osborne were united in marriage, October 10, 1866, and to them were born fourteen children. John Stephens, born 1836, was never married. He was lured westward by the news of the California gold rush and did not return until about 1907 or 1908. (Adv.-11)

JARVIS ALLEN ANNOUNCES FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTY.

I have decided to become a candidate for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney in the Democratic Primary election to be held May 28, 1963.

I have talked to numerous citizens and voters in this county and believe that they want to vote for a candidate who is independent and free to enforce the law by prosecuting all crimes and criminals that may come before the circuit court, without fear, or being influenced by any politician, political group or faction.

I do not believe that the citizens of this county will agree for a group of local politicians to dictate who shall serve as public officials in Floyd county, especially when their motive is to gain control of all law enforcement and remove any opposition to organized crime in which they may be interested.

I am sure the citizens of this county know that I have always done exactly what I believed to be right and that no politician has ever been able to persuade or influence me to do otherwise.

Numerous citizens of this county have stated that I was too honest to be a politician. I have never desired to be a politician but I firmly believe that no man can be too honest to serve in a public office.

If elected Commonwealth's Attorney I will prosecute all criminals that may come before me, on an impartial and equal basis, regardless of wealth, political power, race or color. I firmly believe every man should have equal rights as guaranteed by the United States Constitution and will do all in my power to see that such rights are protected.

As a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney I do not intend to take an active part in any other race, either local or state. I firmly believe that it is my duty as a candidate to confine my actions to my race and allow the citizens and voters of this county to decide for whom they will vote in other races. I will vote for those candidates that I believe will best serve my county and my neighbors, and I believe others will use the same guide in casting their vote.

I have always voted and fought for what I thought was best for my county. In 1955 and 1959 I did everything in my power to help elect a local Floyd county man to the office of Governor.

My announced opponent, Harold Stumbo, did everything in his power to prevent the election of Governor Combs. Maybe he has an explanation and can justify his motive in making the misleading statements on television against Governor Combs in 1959.

I was admitted to the bar in 1952 after serving four years as County Court Clerk. I have been practicing law for more than ten years. During the past three years as Trial Attorney for the Department of Highways I have appeared before a jury in the trial of cases in the circuit courts in more than half of the counties in the state of Kentucky. I feel that such trial experience qualifies me to handle the prosecution of cases that may come before the court.

I pledge to you, the citizens and voters of this county, that if elected to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney I will do everything in my power to suppress crime and to make Floyd county a better county in which to live. I will be in a position to work with and aid any official, person or group interested in reducing such crime. On this basis and pledge I earnestly solicit the vote and support of all voters of Floyd county.

Hollie Conley As Judge Offers Justice, Personal Morality, Firm Decisions, Dignity and Respect

Justice for all, with partiality to none, is the greatest of all qualities which your judge can offer. When partiality creeps into decisions of a court, when judgments are tempered by political considerations, you may be the one who suffers. As a candidate for the high office of Circuit Judge, I pledge prompt, courteous action based upon the facts and the law as I see it.

Respect for the dignity of your court and a belief in the justness of its decisions depends entirely upon the mentality, the experience, and the personal traits of the person who holds the position. As a husband, as the father of four children, as a businessman, as County Attorney and as Commonwealth's Attorney, as a citizen, I have ever attempted to be sober, honest, discreet and courteous—in short, I have shunned evil as well as the appearance of evil. I shall keep this attitude throughout my public service to you.

As your Commonwealth Attorney I have prosecuted with vigor those whom the facts indicated were guilty. Despite our best efforts, there is still much to be done in our county in eliminating crime. Perhaps the illegal liquor traffic lurks in the background of most criminal activities in our county. I have never flinched as Commonwealth Attorney in prosecuting those charged with this evil offense. It is my thought that our Grand Juries may have been unable to completely investigate this particular type of crime because of the many other crimes coming before them. I WOULD PROPOSE TO CALL SPECIAL GRAND JURIES TO DO NOTHING BUT INVESTIGATE THE BOOTLEGGING TRAFFIC.

Citizens are entitled to have their cases in court decided honestly and promptly. The issues should be met head on and a firm decision rendered, in a studious, conscientious and fearless manner.

This type of service to all I honestly pledge.

Your vote and support are earnestly solicited.

Your friend,
HOLLIE CONLEY

WHEELWRIGHT

A public program was held in the Community Hall, March 10, in which the Girl Scouts of Wheelwright participated.

Mrs. Eleanor Grimm, Neighborhood chairman, welcomed the parents and friends of the Girl Scouts.

Girls who participated in the flag-raising ceremony were Jami Fields, command caller, and Brenda Sanders, flag bearer, from the Senior Scout troop; color guards were Kerry Pace and Alice Fain, from the Brownie troops, and Marsha McKinney and Suzy Harris from the Intermediate troop.

Singing by the Scouts was followed by questions from Mrs. Grimm and answers from the girls on the history of Scouting.

An impressive ceremony was held of the troops presenting their contributions to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund.

Mrs. Shirley Hughes, executive director of the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council, spoke briefly on the new program change in the Girl Scout organization to be made in September, 1963, to meet the demands for modern living. She pointed out, however, that the basic fundamentals of Scouting remain unchanged after 50 years.

Flood Disaster Relief Offered in Deductions On Income Tax for '62

District Director of Internal Revenue G. C. Hooks last week reminded taxpayers in Kentucky's flood disaster areas of a relief provision in the income tax law which became effective in 1962.

Mr. Hooks said that individual taxpayers who suffer a casualty loss between January 1, 1963, and April 15, 1963, may claim this loss on their 1962 federal income tax return. Corporations are limited to the period January 1 to March 15. Mr. Hooks emphasized that this relief provision pertains only to areas which have been proclaimed disaster areas by the President.

Hooks said that this is an elective law and the taxpayers may either claim the loss when filing their calendar year 1962 return or wait and claim the loss when filing their 1963 return. He also said that those taxpayers who have already filed their 1962 return may file an amended return claiming the casualty loss. Those taxpayers who have already received a refund should subtract this amount when recomputing their tax liability.

Mr. Hooks stated that those taxpayers who need assistance in the computation of a casualty loss in a disaster area may obtain help from a branch office of the Internal Revenue Service located in or near their area. There are twelve such offices in Kentucky located at Ashland, Covington, Harlan, Pikeville, Somerset, Danville, Lexington, Bowling Green, Elizabethtown, Hopkinsville, Owensboro and Paducah.

A pamphlet is available at Internal Revenue Service offices containing guides showing how to treat flood and other casualty losses for federal income tax purposes. The pamphlet, IRS Document No. 5174, is titled, "How the Federal Income Tax Applies to Storms, Floods, Hurricanes, Other Disasters, and Thefts."

Hooks also reminded taxpayers who do not file on a calendar year basis that the relief provision is also applicable to fiscal year taxpayers. He explained that this means that a fiscal year taxpayer in a disaster area may claim the loss on his return for the year just closed if the disaster occurred before the due date of the return.

Voters of Floyd County . . . Vote for Harold Stumbo for Commonwealth's Attorney.

I take this opportunity to encourage my relatives and friends to support me in the Primary Election on May 28, 1962.

I pledge that I will always assist the people of this county in a friendly manner and that I will do my best to help solve any problem that any person of this county may have in the future.

My record as your Trial Commissioner of this county speaks beyond any reasonable doubt that I did everything possible to discourage the crime of breaking and entering and all other serious violations of the law.

Seek the truth for the truth is the foundation of the American law.

- CHANDLER PROMISED in 1955 that he would ask for no new taxes. He then proceeded to raise $100,000,000 in new taxes during his term.
- CHANDLER, while obligated to represent all the citizens of Kentucky as a United States Senator, accepted enormous "legal" fees from whiskey interests. He told investigators it was "none of their business" what he had done to earn it.
- CHANDLER, when asked about questionable income, promised to reveal his entire tax returns if opposing candidates did. When they did, he fled from the challenge, broke his promise, and refused.
- CHANDLER RAN farmers out of his office and told them: "Mind your own business."
- CHANDLER INSULTED East Kentuckians by saying: "Combs built a $43 million dollar road that went nowhere, where half the people are on relief and don't pay taxes."
- CHANDLER, after publicly pledging not to lease State Park properties, made leases to political cronies, depriving the State of hundreds of thousands of dollars of revenue.

For
CIRCUIT CLERK

This is my first time to ask the good people of Floyd county to entrust to me one of the highest offices in Floyd county, but I assure you that my background, qualifications and Christian training will be an asset in discharging the duties of Circuit Clerk.

In addition to the normal duties, I will promote a driver training program in every Floyd county high school. Such training can save you money on insurance premiums. One reason so many young people are killed on our highways is a lack of proper driver training.

As an extra service of my office I will send all drivers a 30-day notice that their licenses are about to expire.

I invite you to enquire of me. Ask my friends, my neighbors, my business associates, any one who knows me well.

If I win it will be on my merits, not shortcomings of any of my opponents.

STRIP MINING PROBE ASKED

Added Federal Funds Sought for Research On Ky. Reforestation

Robert Montgomery, assistant State conservation commissioner, has asked a U. S. Senate subcommittee to investigate the relationship between strip and auger mining and recent mountain floods.

Montgomery made the request while in Washington to support a request from the State Conservation Department for an additional $200,000 in federal funds for research on reforestation of strip-mined land now under way by the U. S. Forest Service at Berea College. The state is cooperating with the U. S. Forest Service on the project.

Montgomery's suggestion for an investigation was made before the Senate interior subcommittee on appropriations. He told the senators there needs to be a study made because "we need to know how strip and auger mining is contributing to these floods, if in fact it is, and if adequate flood-control structures are built what, if any, will be the deleterious effects of strip mining in the watershed to the proper operation of these structures and to their useful lifetime."

He told the subcommittee members that 30,000 acres in Kentucky have been stripped over and another 5,000 acres are being stripped each year in Kentucky.

State newspapers under date of March 26, 1963, announced in Bold Front Page Type that our State Government had CUT TAX ON WHISKEY, whereby one County alone lost more than SEVENTY ONE THOUSAND ($71,000.00) DOLLARS in SCHOOL REVENUE with other County Schools losing lesser amounts.

NOW, we wonder if our Superintendent of Schools and his "SAVE OUR SCHOOLS COMMITTEE" favor this TAX CUT ON WHISKEY, in PREFERENCE to a cut of taxes on the BARE NECESSITIES OF LIFE, that mean so much to our people in the distressed area of Eastern Kentucky at this time; which could mean the DIFFERENCE of a full stomach to the gnawing pains of hunger; the DIFFERENCE of a warm body to the chill of the cold winter; the DIFFERENCE of medical relief to the Old and Feeble suffering from pain—YES, THAT EXTRA $3.00 tax on each $100.00 could mean extra family groceries, extra clothing and above all make possible one more visit to the Doctor's office for relief of the unbearable pain of those suffering from illness.

WHERE will the EXTRA TAX come from to make up this loss in WHISKEY TAX CUT? Will it be put on your real estate or another 1c on Sales Tax???

Gibson posted a career scoring total of 345 points and averaged 4.7 points a game. His top scoring performance this season came against Middle Tennessee when he pitched in 16 points.

There can be several reasons for the scarcity of fish in some large metropolitan areas: the increased number of anglers; a harvest greater than the number of new fish in any one year; pollution. The U. S. Department of Health recently stated that more fish are killed by industrial wastes than by any other pollutants. — Sports Afield.

PATIENCE, SKILL IS NEEDED TO HARVEST THE CRAPPIE

Frankfort, Ky., (Special)—To many Kentucky fishermen, the crappie is the fish supreme and the catch of any other species by him is purely coincidental. That's the belief of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources personnel who have watched the avid crappie fishermen ply his trade from year to year without serious deviation.

The crappie, both black and white, represents to these vast hordes of fishermen the fish they like best to catch and eat and they will tell you that there is as much skill needed to harvest old papermouth as to take the fightingest smallmouth in the Commonwealth.

To catch a crappie requires patience and diligence and the most acute in reaction. The crappie does not announce to the world that it has hit your hook or lure, but merely tugs ever so gently, making it more difficult for the fisherman to detect his presence on the end of his line. There's where the patience is needed. When the fisherman sees the slight movement of his bobber or his line, if he is fishing without the bobber, he must control his wits to wait until the time is right to pull. Then when he pulls, he must know that he cannot yank with a vengeance, but must more or less respond to the fish's action in kind, gently pulling his pole rather than yanking it. That's where diligence is needed, the crappie fisherman says.

His reaction must be alert at all time, for unless he times his pull exactly right, at exactly the correct time, the crappie will go his merry way while the fisherman hauls in a hook, empty even until bait. So, the fisherman is correct when he says that the utmost skill is needed to harvest this soft-mouthed fish.

Registration of Boats In Kentucky Is Taken As a Sign of Spring

One evidence that spring is on its way besides floods and buds, is that as of March 15 over 2,000 of the state's 50,000 boat registrations have been renewed, according to Boating Division Director, "Bud" Calman. Also many new boats that will make their first appearance on the waters soon have been issued their numbers. These new boat owners and those renewing have already received their decals, which are like the auto license plate, so far as having and displaying them is concerned.

It is true that the present licenses do not expire until April 30, 1963, but anyone can renew his registration now and it will license his boat until May of next year. Also, this applies to new boat registrations. Incidentally, because of a new system, started last year and further perfected this year, you should get your decal back within two to three weeks after you register with the circuit clerk, from now until the rush season starts.

Kentucky residents can register with the circuit clerk of the county in which they live, or in the county in which they principally use the vessel. Out-of-state residents can register with any circuit court clerk in Kentucky. For renewals, all one has to do is present their registration card (which the clerk returns to them.) On new boats, or when you are registering a boat in your name for the first time, a bill of sale or some valid receipt is required to show that the person registering the boat is the lawful owner. Purpose for this ownership proof is to prevent a person from stealing a boat and registering it in his name.

If you have a boat you are urged by Director Calman to register now, particularly in the heavily populated areas where the clerks have to register thousands of boats. It will help the clerks, and it will assure you of getting your decal before you start your boating. This will save you being stopped by a water patrolman after April 30, 1963, to see if you have registered your boat, because there will be no extension of time beyond that date—April 30, 1963.

DeROSSETT APPEALS TO VOTERS

To the Young . . . To the Old . . . To the Veterans:

I am a son of John Derossett and Anna Calhoun Derossett of Bull Creek, a lifelong resident of this county. My father is now 82 years old. He is a former teacher and former employee of the Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Company. He is a lifelong resident of the county and a life member of the Regular Baptist Church.

I was born in 1922, attended our local schools, served in the U. S. Army 5 years in the European Theatre.

I do not make any hero's claim but I was awarded the Bronze Star and five Battle Stars, one for the Normandy Invasion. I am a member of the Free Will Baptist Church.

My family connections include many well-known Floyd county names, to mention a few: Calhoun, Lafferty, Robinson, Rowe, Mayo, Rorrer, Wallen, Shepherd, McGuire, Sizemore, Meadow, Miller, Slone, Warrix, Tussey, Parrott, Wells, Thornsberry, Webb, Montgomery, Flannery, Sprigg, Hall, Mosley, Peters, Anderson, Sammons, Skeans, Smith, Ellis, Prater, Moore, Nelson, Ousley, Patton, Spurlock, Baisden, Baldrige, Banks, Hicks, Bingham, Blackburn, Burchett, Conn, Crisp, Crum, Davidson, Dingus, Dotson, Ford, Frasure, Howard, Hubbard, Bayes, Campbell, Clifton, Scutchfield, Barnett, Younce, Gunnell, Merritt, Ramey, Garrett, Goble, Gray, Harmon, Hayes, Herald, Holbrook, Hobson, Layne, Horn, Jarrell, Marshall, Osborne and Clark.

This is my first time to ask for a public office and I do now, knowing that I can perform the required duties, and I will go beyond that call and establish a Driver-Training Program in every Floyd county high school. I believe Floyd county owes this to our younger generation. It will eliminate many highway accidents.

I trust your good judgment and beg to remain your friend.
