

This Town... That World

HA! Just now, as I sat down to try my hand at this column, a headline on a newspaper which has joined other miscellany on this morning's desk caught the jaundiced, old eye. It reads: "WEEKLY EDITOR WEALTHY." Once before, I heard of one of these wealthy weekly newspaper editors. His uncle had died and left him $100,000—and the poor sap hadn't had time to waste it.

WE PHILOSOPHIZE Friend of mine, back home from a distant state this week, spoke gratefully of how she and her husband were happy in their new home, though far removed from family, old friends and what had for a lifetime been home to them. Then we perhaps admitted our age when we agreed that happiness is not a matter of place, or material possession, or anything in all creation outside one's-self.

OF US—WHO ELSE? We're not going to warm up for National Newspaper Week, which comes next month, by boasting, but thought it might interest some of our advertisers, some of those who don't advertise and also our friends to know that for the last three weeks The Floyd County Times has passed the 5,000 mark in circulation. That means, this newspaper you're reading has the biggest circulation in Eastern Kentucky and pretty near the largest in the state. And, five weeks from now, we'll have a birthday—our 36th. We're still talking about The Floyd County Times.

TWO FLOYD MEN NAMED

On Extortion Charge; Dickerson and Ratliff Deny the Accusation

Two employees of the State Department of Motor Transportation who were indicted by the Pike county grand jury last week on a charge of extorting $500 from a Pike county coal operator have flatly denied the charge.

The two accused are Tom Robinson, of Pike county, a senior supervisor in the Department of Motor Transportation, and Fred Dickerson, of Prestonsburg, an inspector. They were charged "with extorting the sum of $500 from Thomas B. Ratliff by stating to him that (they) would not penalize trucks hauling coal for not having eight tags."

EIGHT DAMAGE ACTIONS SEEK $292,070.00

Biggest Damages Asked In Marvin George Death And Injuries of Minors

Eight damage suits filed in circuit court here within the week seek to recover from defendants a total of $292,070.38.

Four of the suits name James Francis Stumbo, Morris Williams and Cline Mitchell as defendants, with $145,000 asked by four plaintiffs who were passengers in an automobile owned by Mitchell when it and Stumbo's car, driven by Williams, collided at or near Boldman last Jan. 20. Each plaintiff claims negligence on the part of the drivers of both cars. Mitchell's car was driven, it was claimed, by his son Larry. Valeria Hurley, one of the four, asks a total of $100,000 damages. Her sister, Euralana, asks $5,000. Both are minors and sue by their father, E. W. Hurley. Judith Rae Williamson, suing by her father, Oliver Williamson, and Harold Donald Goble, suing by his father, Estill Goble, ask $20,000 each.

Ed George, administrator of the estate of his son, Marvin Scott George, who died last June 22 while operating a truck, asks a total of $102,000 damages of Bert Colvin, C. J. McNally and Bill Goble, Jr., individually, and doing business as the GMC Trucking Company, and the Music-Colvin Motor Company. The suit claims that young George lost his life because of the negligence of the defendants in supplying a truck that was in safe operating condition and because of their failure to keep it in safe condition.

Twenty thousand dollars' damage is asked by Ronnie Hughes, 9, suing in the name of his father, Willard Hughes, and naming as defendants Charles and Lawrence Collins, Billy Joe and Arthur Vanhoose, Marlin Combs and Laurie Hammonds. The action alleges that Charles Collins and Billy Joe Vanhoose operated a motor vehicle, owned by Combs and Hammonds, Estill auto dealers, in such a negligent manner near Garrett as to cause it to collide with the boy.

Ford Foundation Grant Awarded Miss Martin To Study Government

Miss Minnie Sue Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley N. Martin, of Allen, arrived in Sacramento, California, this week to begin four months' work with California state governmental departments under a fellowship granted by the National Center for Education in Politics.

Miss Martin, who received her A.B. degree from the University of Kentucky last June, was the only Kentucky student to qualify in tests given last March at the University of Cleveland, Cleveland, Ohio, for a NCEP fellowship in state and local government. Her final qualifying test was passed in June at the University of California, and at that time she was interviewed by Governor Brown. Last week she and 10 other winners of fellowships attended a one-week seminar in New York City.

AREA SCOUT PLANS MADE Sandy Valley Council To Merge with Others; To Serve East Region

Organizational work for the consolidation of several regional Girl Scout councils into one larger group has been under way for several weeks, it was said here this week. The new larger group will be known as the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council and will have jurisdiction over the entire eastern half of Kentucky.

The Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council of this area has been assigned the task of setting up the structure of the larger organization and to prepare by-laws, articles of incorporation and fix geographical boundaries. A committee named to this task is composed of Mrs. Edward P. Hill, chairman, Mrs. J. R. Ca-

Prater on WHAS-TV Crusade for Children

Sixteen-year-old Richard Prater, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Prater, of Garrett, has been chosen to appear on WHAS-TV's Crusade for Children, Sept. 21, it was announced last week.

The youngster, who lost a leg to a train, a few years ago, was chosen for the Crusade show because of his courage, initiative and perseverance as he worked to overcome his handicap. He dances, operates a motor scooter, rides a bicycle and drives a car.

AREA COUNCIL CHANGES MEET

Sept. 23 Is New Date Slated by Specialist; Officers To Be Named

Date of the Big Sandy Area Development Council meeting to be held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, has been changed from September 24 to 6 p.m. Monday, September 23. Council members were notified this week by George A. Armstrong, Quicksand, Kentucky, resource development specialist.

O. T. Dorton, of Paintsville, Council chairman, said the Task Force on Housing will meet at 4 p.m., and asked that members attend that session as well as the general session at 6 p.m. when election of officers will be held.

Agenda of the 6 p.m. meeting will also include discussion of the scheduled October 3-4 meeting with other area councils at Cumberland Falls and a review of the hearing held by Assistant Secretary of Commerce Roosevelt at Jenny Wiley State Park last spring.

Conflict of the September 24 date with a meeting on the MacDonald Report caused the date to be set ahead till the following day, it was explained.

ARREST YORK IN CLUB RAID

Martin Club's Custodian Charged with Possession Of Intoxicants, Fined

Earl York, who was arrested as custodian of the American Legion Club last Saturday night when a raid on the club yielded approximately 12 cases of beer, was fined $50 and costs and given a 30-day suspended jail term by Martin Police Judge John W. Hall.

York was charged with possessing alcoholic beverages in dry territory for the purpose of sale. The search warrant for the club was issued on an affidavit stating that beer had been sold there to a person under the age of 21 who was not a member of the club.

The raid was made by Policeman A. J. Reed and ABC Agent Claude A. Flanery. Flanery and State Trooper Larry Hatton last week also confiscated five and a half cases of beer which were found on the premises of James Justice at McDowell.

In quarterly court here Monday Nathaniel Moore was convicted on a charge of transporting alcoholic beverages, was fined $30 and sentenced to a term of 30 days in jail. Moore is appealing the verdict to circuit court. He was required to post $500 peace bond for a period of 12 months.

At the same court session, however, William Riley (Junior Wells) won an acquittal on a charge of selling beer, and the jury in the

PRICE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Stalled Car Results In Death of Drift Man; Funeral Held Wednesday

Russell Price, 42, of Drift, was killed instantly Sunday at 11:45 p.m. when a car in which he was passenger stalled on railroad tracks at River, Johnson county. Billy Joe Price, a relative, was slightly injured. Another passenger in the auto whose name was unavailable, was not hurt.

Relatives said that the trio missed the railway crossing because of fog and drove the car onto the tracks. All had got out of the car when the tragedy occurred.

Mr. Price was a former miner and a son of the late Jesse and Sally Butcher Price. His wife, Vernie Fraley Price, survives.

Surviving sons and daughters are Roland Price, Dennis Price, James R. Price and Mrs. Linda Maggard, all of Drift, and Miss Constance Price, of Drift. The following brothers and sisters survive: Frank Price, Prestonsburg; Charlie Price, Dayton, Ohio; Otto Price, Freeburn, Kentucky; Bill Price, Ilman, West Virginia; Clark Price, McVeigh, Kentucky; Mrs. Maudie Pigg, Paintsville, and Mrs. Ina Castle, Twilight, West Virginia.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday at 11 a.m. from the Drift Church of God, the Rev. Ted Shannon officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery at River under the direction of the Preston Funeral Home.

Train Injury Costs Boy, 14, Both Feet; Two Hurt at Mines

A 14-year-old Printer boy lost both feet to a coal train this week.

The victim, Dean Stone, son of Alex Stone, apparently was asleep on the railway tracks when hit, it was reported. The accident took place around 1 a.m., Wednesday. His left leg was severed at the knee, and the right foot was so mangled that it later was amputated at the ankle at the Miners' Memorial hospital, Pikeville.

Two accidents followed each other in rapid succession at the Princess Elkhorn mines at David, early Wednesday night. Mason Ratliff, of West Van Lear, Joy-loader operator, was struck in the face by flying coal when a shot was discharged. Soon afterward, William Tackett, was apparently overcome by smoke when a cutting machine drill caught fire. Both men were brought to the Prestonsburg General hospital, and neither is considered to be in serious condition.

PIKE SCHOOL HEAD NAMED

On Misfeasance Charge; Walter Brown Indicted Following Jury Probe

The Pike county grand jury reported two indictments Tuesday last week against County Superintendent of Schools, C. H. Farley and Walter T. Brown, supervisor in charge of the National Defense Education Act program. Farley was charged with misfeasance and presenting a false claim and Brown with violation of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Bond was set at $1,000 on each charge. Both men have denied the commission of any act that was illegal.

The indictments were the result of an investigation that began several months ago. Three Pike county grand juries have been charged with probing the school system but one of them was barred from acting by a mandamus from the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Touching off the investigation into the system's affairs was the charging of Woodrow Runyon, Sr., a school employee, with the embezzlement of $18,000 over a period of 10 years. Commonwealth Attorney's Kelsey Friend refused to prosecute on the charge and Runyon was acquitted. Runyon, a school bus director, charged that the money was spent in electing board members favorable to the administration.

The grand jury investigation was made at the direction of Circuit Judge P. Pierce Keesee. Specific allegations made against Farley were:

- 1. Unlawful purchases through the board of education to evade payment of taxes.
2. Demotion of an employee of the school system and a school principal without a proper hearing.
3. Had work done on his private car at board of education expense.
4. Solicited campaign money from board employees in violation of authority.
5. Presentation of false claims for meals and mileage.

Charges against Brown were listed as interference with and intimidation.

MAY ESTATE SUED BY TWO

Martin, Mullins Ask Damages of $120,250 In Counterclaim Suit

In a counterclaim filed to the suit instituted against them by Trilby May, administratrix of the estate of John May, Deputy Sheriffs Troy Mullins and Marion Martin seek to recover from the estate damages totalling $120,250.

Their counterclaim, filed September 10 by Scott Collins, Prestonsburg attorney, claims that May without provocation assaulted defendants with a deadly weapon, firing at them or in their direction, and wounded Mullins across the hand and back. Both men, in fear of their lives, or serious bodily injury, the statement continues, "in the course of instinctively acting to preserve their own life, were compelled to take the life of John May."

Mullins, as a result of the assault, it is claimed, was compelled to expend $250 for remedial and medical treatment, suffered serious personal injury and underwent extraordinary pain and suffering to his detriment and damage in the sum of $10,000, and has "suffered grave mental pain because of being compelled to take the life of May to his detriment and damage in the sum of $25,000."

Martin also claims damage of $25,000 for the same reason.

In all, Mullins asks compensatory damages in the sum of $35,250, plus punitive damages of $35,000. Martin asks $25,000 compensatory and $25,000 punitive damages.

Mrs. May's original suit against the officers asked a total of $200,000.

Motor Freight Firm Restrained by Court; Judge Ford Approves

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has obtained an order in the United States district court for the Eastern district of Kentucky at Jackson, permanently restraining Combs Motor Freight, Inc., from violating the minimum wage and record-keeping provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. The firm has been engaged in the business of hauling, trucking and the distribution of freight as a common carrier from its place of business at 51 Allais Road, Hazard.

The order was approved by Federal District Judge H. Church Ford.

TRAVEL WRITERS LAUD STATE'S PARK SYSTEM

"You have to see it to believe it" . . . "No doubt about it, Kentucky is 'way out in front in park systems' . . . 'Tops every way' . . . 'Fabulous food and a complete variety in resort attractions.'"

These comments were typical of those by travel counselors and writers who made the compact tour last week of Eastern Kentucky area attractions. It was the first special area tour ever made.

They were from Washington, D. C., Ohio, Virginia and Indiana, in addition to Kentucky. Some of them have been on park tours in most of all the other states. Their publications total 1.5 million in circulation, and they annually route millions of motorists in and through Kentucky.

The 600-mile trip was arranged by the Kentucky Department of Public Information and also was sponsored by the Department of Parks, in cooperation with local business interests.

Tour members got a close-up at some of the results of the $19.9 million parks expansion program started in 1961 and which has made Kentucky's No. 1 park system in the nation. They stayed overnight in new cottages or lodges at Cumberland Falls, Pine Mountain and Jenny Wiley State Parks and in a private facility at La Citadelle, near Hazard. They also visited Cumberland Gap National Historical Park, the oldest golf course in the nation at Middlesboro Country Club, Buckhorn Lake State Park, Breaks Interstate Park near Elkhorn City, and Kentucky Hills Handicraft, Paintsville.

Civic leaders at each stop joined state government sponsors in the partnership program to boost further Eastern Kentucky's present facilities and unlimited potential for tourism. Dinners, area tours and other entertainment were additional features of the trip which impressed the travel counselors and writers so favorably.

This special inspection of Eastern Kentucky attractions is part of an

Evangelist Jimmie Rose To Lead Crusade Here, Rev. Sanders Announces

Evangelist Jimmie Rose, Wilmore, Kentucky, will lead the Community Methodist Church in a revival crusade, beginning September 29 and continuing through October 6, it was announced this week by the pastor, the Rev. LeRoy Sanders.

Bobby Underwood, of Asbury College, will lead the singing. Services will be held daily at 7:30 p.m., and the public is cordially invited.

An approved evangelist of the Methodist Church, the Rev. Rose entered the ministry in 1950, and before that was one of Kentucky's most successful high school basketball coaches, later coaching at Asbury College and Pfeiffer College. Prior to entering the field of evangelism, he was a successful pastor.

CD SUPPLIES TO BE STORED

At Evanston Coal Mine; Breathitt-Co. Allocation Is Placed at $100,000

Most of $100,000 worth of Civil Defense supplies granted recently to the Breathitt county CD organization by the United States Civil Defense Agency, will be stored in the mines of the Evanston Mine and Land Company, it is said. The Evanston mines were recently acquired by George Evans, Wayland coal operator.

The supplies consist of concentrated foods, complete meals, canned water, medicine and sanitary needs. The remainder of the huge cache of supplies will be stored at Jackson. The Breathitt county allocation will provide sufficient supplies for 45,000 persons for two weeks.

Federal inspection of the Evanston mines were made several weeks ago and approved, according to Charles Combs, Breathitt county Civil Defense director.

Included in the supplies to be shipped soon to Jackson and Evanston are large quantities of radiological monitoring equipment, portable generators and related items.

Three indictments against Le Howell, recognized leader of the mine picketing earlier this year, have been dismissed. The charge of banding together, filed against Howell and Malcolm Scarbury, Jr., was dismissed, marked, "Lack of evidence." Two indictments accusing Howell of reckless use of a deadly weapon also were dismissed.

Other court action since last Thursday:

Bill Porter, possession of alcoholic beverages, $50 fine and 30 days in jail, jury trial; Tommy Burke, non-support, two-year pen term probated on the condition that he pay $40 a month for the support of his dependents and execute an appearance bond of $1,000; Sterling Daniels, child desertion, plea of guilty, two years, probated; James Red (Junior) Martin, possessing alcoholic beverages for the purpose of sale, dismissed; Earl Lucas, non-support, plea of guilty, one year; Amos Lee Duncan, breaking and entering, two-year term probated; Pervis and Raymond Martin, willfully causing an explosion, continued till the January court term.

LAKE AREA SALE FAILS

City Commission Serves Notice of Jurisdiction, Requirements To Meet

The lot sale planned on Stratton Branch, a short distance off Dewey Lake, failed Saturday after the Municipal Planning & Zoning Commission here had issued notice of its jurisdiction over the area in question and had specified requirements for a sub-division.

Frank Music, owner of the property, commented this week that he did not know the ordinance giving the commission jurisdiction a distance of five miles from Prestonsburg existed until the property had been developed and made ready for sale. "The Commission," he added, "gave notice one week before the date of the sale. If the notice had been sent in ample time before the sale, which I think would have been fair, the specifications could have been met or the sale discontinued."

Earl Flower, chairman of the commission, said an earnest effort was made to notify those concerned in time and that there was no desire to penalize anybody.

Music raised the question asking why the ordinance had not been put into effect earlier, since it was enacted three years ago. Flower said that he had not been chairman long but that he was not aware there had been any occasion for the terms of the ordinance to be exacted heretofore.

TRIALS AWAIT HIGHER COURT WRIT DECISION

Banding Indictment Dismissed Against Howell, Scarbury

What happens in the several liquor cases resulting from State Police raids in this county on July 3 when nine persons were arrested depends upon the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

The matter reached this point last Friday when Cora Stone, one of those who had been fined and given a jail term in quarterly court, was granted the right to appeal a case. She had appealed the quarterly court result to circuit court and asked the appeal to the Appellate Court after a circuit court jury had fined her $100 and sentenced her to 30 days in jail in the retrial of the case.

Counsel for Mrs. Stone and six other defendants questioned the legality of search warrants issued by Glenn C. Burchett, trial commissioner for County Judge Henry Stumbo. Defense counsel will contend that Mr. Burchett had not been appointed judge pro-tem and that he, consequently, was without right to act for the regular judge in the issuance of the search warrants.

Six other cases which had been appealed to circuit court after the defendants had been convicted in quarterly court were continued, pending the Appellate Court decision. Some of the defendants indicated that if the Court of Appeals holds that the trial commissioner's warrants were legal they will enter pleas of guilty to the charges against them.

Three indictments against Le Howell, recognized leader of the mine picketing earlier this year, have been dismissed. The charge of banding together, filed against Howell and Malcolm Scarbury, Jr., was dismissed, marked, "Lack of evidence." RETURNING from a "duck" ride on Dewey Lake are these members of the travel counselors' and writers' tour of Southeastern Kentucky mountain-area tourist attractions. Their ride aboard the amphibian vehicle was a highlight of their overnight stay at Jenny Wiley State Park near here. The duck travels on land or water and goes directly from one to the other. The 600-mile trip for the writers was arranged by the Kentucky Department of Public Information and also was sponsored by the Department of Parks, in cooperation with local business interests. It is part of an intensified program to advertise and promote state and national parks, as well as privately-owned accommodations. Publications represented on the tour total more than 1.5 million in circulation, and the counselors annually route more than a million motorists through and in Kentucky.

Camp KySoc Plays Host

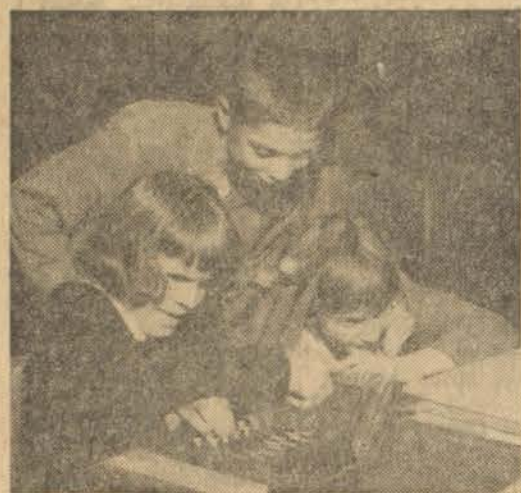

State Blind School Students Explore Outdoors Kentucky

Twenty-two children from the Kentucky School For the Blind, Louisville, spent a week recently at Camp KySoc near Carrollton. The camp, operated by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, provided the blind and partially-sighted youngsters an unusual opportunity for first-hand nature study. Boating was new for Sue Mason (below, at left), of Corbin, and Regina May Cox, Louisville. Volunteer is Hack Montgomery.

Young Kenneth Stinson, Valley Station, wearing life preserver, holds a bluegill. Hands substitute for eyes for the blind.

Autoharpist Leslie Stephens, Louisville, fascinates listeners Kenneth Stinson and Betty Jo Edmonds, Russell Springs.

Indoor nature study included birdhouses for Brenda Kay Spradlin, Ashland. Youngsters also gathered wood for fire-place, served meals, and cleared tables.

Boys on a nature hike were led by L. F. McClain, teacher at the State institution for the blind. Children also did regular classroom work during their stay.

Activities also included regular school work. Here Cassie Mayer, Louisville, uses a Braille writer.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky By JOE JORDAN (Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week the Louisville Journal, which a good many Kentuckians estimated had been as influential as any other one factor in keeping the Commonwealth in the Union, proposed in an editorial that President Lincoln issue "a positive and solemn assurance to the people in rebellion that whenever they return to their allegiance, they shall be protected in all their constitutional rights, as such rights were understood and declared by the national authorities at the outset of the war." John Jordan Crittenden, a former governor, who had been U. S. Senator from Kentucky four times and twice had been attorney general of the United States, had died at his home in Frankfort July 26 at the age of 75. The Journal editorial said: "Mr. Crittenden spent in this city the greater part of the fortnight preceding his death, and every friend who visited him during his stay here and conversed with him at all on public affairs can bear witness to his exceeding anxiety that the President should at once second the recent victories of our arms by a proclamation of amnesty or by some act of like effect. "But it is not so generally known that, prompted by his absorbing solicitude on the subject, he had resolved to address a private letter to the President, urging him without delay to take this step. Yet such is the fact, as is well known to a number of the friends of Mr. Crittenden, including the writer of this article." In conformity to Journal policy and the general practice of nearly all U. S. newspapers, the editorial was not signed. However, there could not have been any doubt in the minds of the readers that Editor George D. Prentice, a close friend of Crittenden, was "the writer of this article." He went on to say that on the evening before the highly respected elder statesman left Louisville for his home in Frankfort, he had expressed an intention to write the letter to Lincoln "as soon as he should get a little strength." Although death had taken him before he could perform the task, his friend Prentice now was making sure that President Lincoln would learn what Crittenden's wish had been; thus the editor also was attempting to use Crittenden's prestige to give his own proposal additional strength. Union Army Major Gen. A. E. Burnside reported from Cumberland Gap that a Confederate garrison had surrendered that strategic stronghold to his forces. He said he took more than 2,000 prisoners and fourteen pieces of artillery. Two white women were jailed at Louisville for persuading two Negro slaves, a boy and a girl to attempt to escape to freedom in Indiana. They had crossed the river in the Jeffersonville ferry, but were not permitted to go ashore. Taken back to Louisville, they named the women who had urged them to make the try.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30, 20 and 10 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(September 15, 1933)

The grand jury of the Floyd circuit court adjourned at noon Wednesday, after having made 87 indictments, 16 on charges of murder. Eighty per cent increase in railroad business here over the same period of last year is noted by Harry C. Marrs, assistant trainmaster here. Steel workers from Bristol, Tennessee, are now at work erecting the framework of the highway bridge at Midas. Clabe Mosely, McDowell youth, was shot and fatally wounded Friday at a "jockey ground" near the Baptist Association at McDowell, as the result of a dispute over a proposed horse trade. Bids will be asked for opening on September 26 by the state highway commission for low-type surfacing (gravel) of the Allen-Hindman road from Warco to Hindman. Five cases of diphtheria in this county were reported, Monday, by Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd county health department. Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osborne, of West Prestonsburg, a son, last week. There died: Mrs. Angeline Dotsoli Burchett, 64, at home at Wonder, September 4; Mrs. Elizabeth Sherman Blackburn, 70, at her home at Wonder, August 25; Dock Harris, 22 years old, at the home of his mother on Brandy Keg, Tuesday; Mrs. Rebecca Allen Preston, 75, at home at Warco, Wednesday; James Badgett, 77, of Little Paint, September 7.

Twenty Years Ago

(September 16, 1943)

The total number of Floyd counties to be called to duty before month's end will be 457, the heaviest call for any single month of the war. Liberty Elkhorn Mining Co., Sizemore Mining Corp., Sampson Elkhorn Coal Company, Inc., Kathryn Elkhorn Coal Co., Inc., Guaranty Elkhorn Coal Co., Inc., all of Drift and vicinity and Sandy Valley Coal Co., Inc., were the Floyd county mines among 45 Kentucky coal operations returned recently from government to private control. The wide prevalence of trachoma discovered at the trachoma clinic held in the offices of the Floyd County Health Department, last week, is such that another clinic will be held within a few months. In an effort to prevent a further spread of rabies, the Kentucky Department of Agriculture has placed a 30-day quarantine on all dogs in Floyd county, County Judge E. P. Hill said Wednesday. The fund for financing construction here of an Honor Roll for Floyd countians in the armed forces had reached a total of $478.50 Wednesday afternoon. Married: Miss Evelyn Steffan, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Maj. William Edward Sutton, Jr., of Langley, Friday, at Cincinnati. There died: Roy Daniel Rainey, two weeks old, at home, September 7; Miss Rissie Johnson, 24, at the home of her parents at Melvin, Saturday; Mrs. Virgie Shepherd Hicks, 43, of Goodloe, Wednesday in the Prestonsburg General hospital; Mrs. Arzila Crisp Stapleton, 59, at home in Maytown, Friday.

Ten Years Ago

(September 17, 1933)

Residents of the Garrett-Lackey-Glo-Estlin-Wayland area joined Saturday afternoon in according a royal welcome-home to two former prisoners of the Korean War—Cpl. Fred Harper, and Cpl. Virgil Hicks, of Wayland. Floyd county's drive to raise funds for the purchase of one or more Bookmobiles as a part of a mounting statewide movement to provide books for every Kentucky child will be launched with a "kickoff breakfast" at the Center Grill here next Monday morning. Harry R. Burke, Republican nominee for County Attorney, last week announced his withdrawal from the campaign. Bob Brooks, 61, retired Virgie miner, was severely beaten and robbed, Saturday night. A drug salesman after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency when he attempted to "pick up" three grade school girls here, was fined $500 by County Judge Henry Shumbo, Wednesday afternoon. A colored man, ex-resident of Trum, and his white wife, whom he had married recently in Ohio, decided to return to Trum, just to visit, and, as he said, do a little taker-diggin'. However, upon their arrival at Trum, their mixed marriage was looked at askance by the colored populace, who promptly complained to the law. Upon perusal of state laws, it was found, that although the couple was legally married in Ohio, Kentucky law allowed that such marriage, since it was against public policy, was invalid. So the Trum colored man, and his white wife, legally married in Ohio, were indicted by the Floyd county grand jury on a charge of fornication. Ain't that wild? Married: Miss Anna Ruth Osborne, of Hunter, and A/C Glenn O. Frazier, of Price, September 3, in Ashland. TIDBITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

A GREAT LEVELER

The winter of 1962-63 has demonstrated again how much some out-of-the-ordinary weather can make us all more conscious of other people, can tear down some formal walls that keep us from being as friendly outwardly as we know we actually are. When the radio announcers tell about the temperature and the snowfall and the effect both are making on folks just like us, we somehow feel that we still live back at Fidelity and participate in the ups and downs of all our neighbors. How easy it is to speak to a mere person on the street, when both of us are wading snow and are all bundled up! Maybe a word or two may make or renew an acquaintance, so that the very cold day of the good-sized snow will become a sort of marker of our relations with our fellow-men.

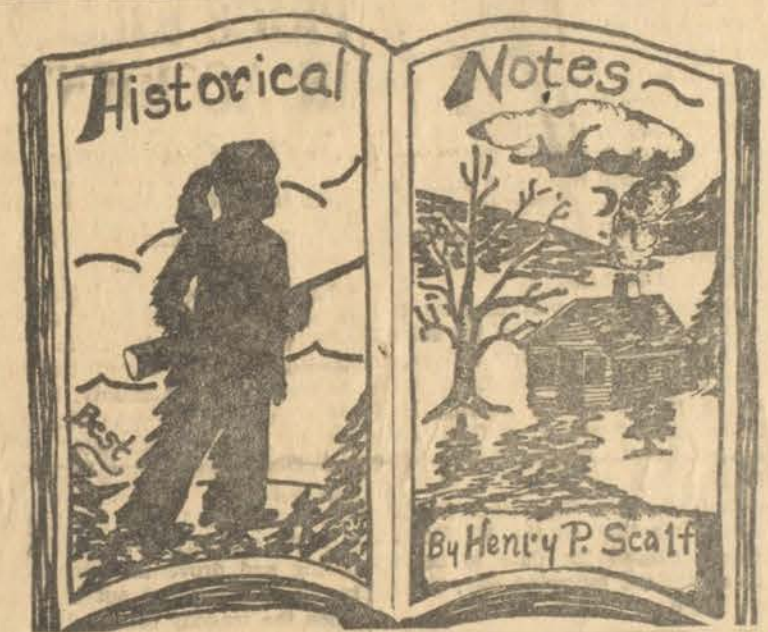

When I was a boy at Fidelity, I seem to have remembered the winters more than any other seasons. Somehow, the domesticated animals seemed so dependent on mankind, so helpless without feed and water and shelter. On a warm day in summer the mules might seem pretty ornery and mule-headed, entirely too frisky or, strangely, too lazy to live. But, when opening the stable door caused a whole mound of snow to be moved back, the ornerness of the animal seemed almost lovable. If some lambs had arrived before the snows came, they were our especial care; one of my most vivid memories is of my going in a snowstorm across a pasture to bring back to the stable the new twin lambs that seemed entirely too young to bring themselves. Their woolly mother followed close to my heels, bleating to reassure the slightly scared little fellows, one under each arm of mine.

Probably the most vivid memory of winter as a leveler came one day after there had been snow on the ground for days, and food for birds must have been hard to find. When I climbed up into the loft to throw down hay for the stock, a whole horde of birds were feeding together where there had been scattered out some grass and clover and getting seeds on the floor of the loft. A sparrow hawk was actually sitting quietly among the beams, either too weak to disturb the smaller birds or resting after forays in the wintry fields. So hungry were the other birds that they did not seem to be aware of their enemy and only casually of me, for they merely moved out of my way long enough for me to get the hay down for the stock.

At Fidelity School, if it were still in session when snows came, we probably rose to our highest levels of being good scouts. It took lots of energy to drag up wood to be cut, to chop it up for the stoves, to keep the two big stoves roaring and hot. But, youth was still youth, and snowballs and scuffling in the snow had as great vogue at Fidelity as anywhere else. It was on just such a day that the bigger boys and girls were reading and discussing Whittier's "Snow-Bound," with its innumerable pictures of life in winter. And Whittier seemed to have known Fidelity, for he plainly suggested that the boys threw snowballs chiefly at the girls they liked best, and the girls,

"Reading in each missive tossed A charm which Eden never lost."

Elsewhere I have told how one of my teachers when I was a little boy allowed another little tad and me to sit over by a window to watch the snow come down. Our desks were out in the middle of the cold room, rather far from a window. We gathered enough courage to ask out lady teacher if we might sit by the window; on ordinary days we would have been afraid to go so far from the rather strict discipline of the school; also the teacher would not have been so kind, I fear. But it was winter, snow was falling outside the shabby little schoolhouse, and poetry—call it whatever you like, it was still poetry—had prompted two little boys to want to watch snowflakes and a rather stern teacher to grant their request. Winter had brought this strange adventure into our lives.

HI WILLIAMSON The following biography of Hi Williamson was copied from Kniffen, Perrin and Battle's History of Kentucky, published in 1887.

The biography follows: "Hi Williamson, a native of Pike county, Kentucky, was born July 24, 1854, and is a son of Ferrell and Sarah Pinson Williamson, also natives of Pike county. John Williamson, grandfather of Hi Williamson, was a Virginian, a farmer, and one of the earliest settlers and the largest real estate owner in Pike county, Kentucky. Allen Pinson, the maternal grandfather of Hi Williamson, also came to Kentucky from Virginia and settled on John's Creek about the year 1800. "Ferrell Williamson was a farmer and cattle dealer, served as justice of the peace in Pike county, Kentucky, and was deputy sheriff at the time of his death, which occurred in 1862, at the age of forty-five years. Hi Williamson, the third in a family of seven children, was reared on the home farm, was educated in the country schools, and at the age of eighteen began teaching which profession he followed six years, after which he engaged in farming at the mouth of Pond Creek.

"February 13, 1877, he married Miss Matilda J., daughter of Alois Maynard, a native of North Carolina, but a resident of Pike county, Kentucky. In 1882 Mr. Williamson was elected county clerk of Pike county by the Democrats, over John H. Clay, and was reelected in 1885 without opposition, receiving the largest vote ever polled in Pike county. He is the owner of 500 acres of land and is a member of the Masonic fraternity."

DR. J. R. HAMMONDS Jeff DeRossett, octogenarian resident of Water Gap, recalls the family story of the birth of an uncle under threatening portents of war on the night that preceded the Battle of Middle Creek, January 10, 1862. James and Stacy Hammonds resided in a log house near the present home of the late Taylor Stumbo on Middle Creek where the battle occurred. All day Gen. Humphrey Marshall's Confederates had been assembling near the Hammonds home and a cannon was pulled to the top of a nearby mound. "Night came and Mrs. Hammonds gave birth to a son. In the dimly-lit cabin as the guns gathered outside the parents named the babe Jim Rowe. The mother became gravely ill and they carried her in the darkness to Prestonsburg where she died in a few hours. Jim Rowe survived, grew to manhood and migrated to Arkansas where he became Dr. J. R. Hammonds. He practiced there for decades. He never came back to Kentucky but died and is buried in Arkansas. In his old age he reminisced a lot, recalling always his birth a few hours before Col. James A. Garfield defeated Gen. Humphrey Marshall at the site of his natal cabin. JOHN GINTER Mrs. Harold Sizemore, 4943 N. Gladstone, Kansas City, Missouri, writes about John Ginter, early Eastern Kentucky settler. "My husband and I have just returned from Owingsville, Kentucky, where we purchased a copy of Mr. Richard's book, History of Bath county, Kentucky. The bank at Owingsville was selling it for $8.00. It is a wonderful book but just doesn't mention the Ginter I am interested in. "John Ginter went into Bath county around 1825, married a lady by the name of Polly. Their children were Samuel, William, Amelia, Nancy and John. "John Ginter was killed at Owingsville in 1848. We believe his wife died prior to this because after his death the children were placed in foster homes. We know that Joshua Ewing raised my great-grandfather Samuel and Jane Ewing raised his brother William. The other children were placed with the William Oakley family. "Our purpose in going to Owingsville was to talk with the Ewing and Oakley families still living there but they were unable to help us. "My great-grandfather Samuel moved to Estill county and taught school at a place called Marble Yard. This is located on Cow Creek Mountain, so I have been told. "I sincerely hope some one will assist me with any information they may have. "To the press alone, checkered as it is with abuses, the world is indebted for all the triumphs which have been obtained by reason and humanity over error and oppression." —James Madison.

A Great Spate of Words, No Cure for Our Sickness

It is a simple, elemental thing to register anger, horror, sorrow, even to run the long gamut of poignant emotions, at such a monstrous offense as was committed in Birmingham, Alabama last Sunday morning. But the murder of innocent children has raised voices more eloquent than ours, voices more stentorian than ours, and so we would refrain from devoting this space to any such expression.

Let our lament, then, be for the land and the age. In other years, black men were lynched—hanged, burned, butchered, almost literally drawn and quartered—for a variety of offenses which white men committed with a reasonable degree of impunity. Those were evil days, but white men protected colored churches then, they did not indulge in the mass slaying of Negro children.

The question of human rights now has become, literally, a far-flung battlefield. The right of a human being to walk among his fellow humans has become confused with a multitude of things: on the part of whites, fear—fear of the growing power of a minority, of its potential, of inter-marriage, and fear of loss of superiority; on the part of Negroes, of generations-old fears and prejudices, suspicion of the race which has been their masters, suspicion of motives as well as acts, strident demands for immediate action on their behalf without thought of the consequences for both white and black.

Hatred wells up in the North as well as in the South. In many cities there is a Negro "ghetto," true; and in many cities the white who strays into Negro quarters does so at the risk of his life.

It may be considered a naive approach to the subject, but the fact remains that the solution to this and all other man-made quandaries must come from outside of man. Only the spirit of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me"—and who looked as he spoke, it is almost certain, upon not a white-skinned child among all those around Him—will end "man's inhumanity to man."

"Christian" America! A black man and a white will battle each other in a prize-ring and embrace each other's sweating, stinking body, and pound and pummel each other, round by round, and end the fray with a handshake—and yet the two will not sit down together in friendly conversation. Cultured individuals of the white race will by the thousands pay dearly for seats at Carnegie Hall to applaud the glorious, God-given voice that is Marian Andersen's—but let Marian Andersen bring the black brood that is her family into their churches, the next Sunday morning, to worship the God who loves her and them all!

Who speaks for "the Brotherhood of Man," and who mocks the very meaning of the words? And who mouths the hypocritical claim that "I live by the Golden Rule"? Sounding brass and tinkling cymbals—all a mere beating of tin pans and blowing of horns, mostly our own!

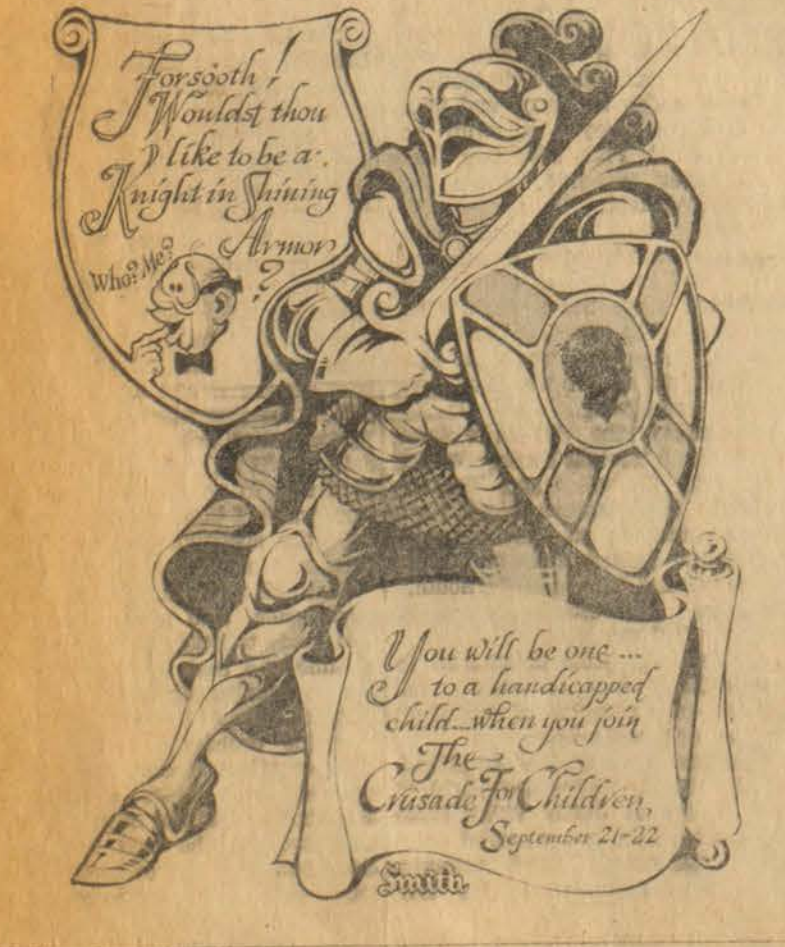

Last Sunday morning, just before the dynamite exploded, those colored children in Birmingham, Alabama were studying the Sunday School lesson, "The Love That Forgives." An almost forgotten lesson—one which all of us need so desperately to recall.

Three Local Kiwanians To Attend Convention; Tennessean To Preside

The Kiwanis Club of Prestonsburg will be represented at the 1963 convention of the Kentucky-Tennessee District of Kiwanis International at Paducah, September 22-24, club president Chalmer H. Sewing Pupils Appear In Fashion Review

The parlor of the First Methodist Church was the scene Tuesday night of the second annual fashion review held by Ted's Sewing Center. Upon the completion of summer sewing classes for teen-agers, Mrs. Joe Buchanan, sewing instructor, presented 12 girls, modeling dresses they had made.

Each girl had completed an eight-lesson course of instruction in dress-making. Ranging from 11 to 19 years of age, the girls are Brenda Horn, Marilyn Rose, Betty Allen, Rebecca Haywood, Cathy Hale, Pat and Pam Terry and Joyce Hall, of Prestonsburg, Marsha Hughes, of Pippa Passes, Sharon Frazier, Sharon Hall and Deanna Campbell, of Allen.

The pupils were divided into two age groups to be judged for their work. Mrs. Sue May and Mrs. Helen Wells judged each dress for workmanship and fit. Two prizes were awarded to each group.

Miss Sarah Clay Stephens and Mrs. Frank Layne presided at a refreshment table for approximately 30 friends and relatives of the pupils.

IN PIKEVILLE HOSPITAL

Cecil Kendrick entered the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, Monday for treatment and observation. She expects to return home, the latter part of this week.

DRIVING SEMINAR SCHEDULED AT MAY LODGE BY SULLIVAN

DRIVER SIMULATOR — This driver simulator, which consists of all the standard automobile controls, will be demonstrated at State Department of Public Safety seminars in Kentucky in September and October. The device looks and drives like a car but stands still while the operator "moves" along a motion picture highway at speeds up to 60 m.p.h.

The driving simulator, one of the most significant developments in the detection of weak driving habits of experienced drivers in the United States, will be demonstrated by the Kentucky Department of Public Safety at a seminar to be conducted October 13 at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Don C. Sullivan, director of driver licensing, said, "There are two important reasons why driving simulators have enjoyed a growing use. First, they cut the cost of instructing people on correct driving procedures. Second, without danger to himself or others, the driver is able to face all kinds of traffic problems."

The new Aetna Drivotron, which is designed for use in motor vehicle safety training programs, is a simulator pioneered by Aetna Casualty and Surety Company and produced by Rockwell Manufacturing Company.

This new device will be demonstrated at State Department of Public Safety seminars throughout Kentucky, in September and October.

Sullivan said the apparatus consists of a small, wheelless car equipped with all the controls used in standard automobiles, such as the steering wheel, brake, accelerator, speedometer, turn indicators, ignition switch. It looks like a car, drives like a car, but stands still even when the driver is "zipping along" a motion picture highway at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.

In operation, the driver sits in the car and follows instructions from a full-color movie projected on a screen immediately in front of him. The effect is essentially the same as the driver would experience in highway traffic. He is confronted with a series of emergencies as the film progresses and his reaction to each is registered electronically on a complex recording device.

Following completion of the 10-minute driving test, a trained instructor analyzes the score sheet and discusses with the driver the strong and weak points in his driving attitudes and habits. It's this sort of "preventive maintenance" of driving skills that can help prevent highway accidents before they happen.

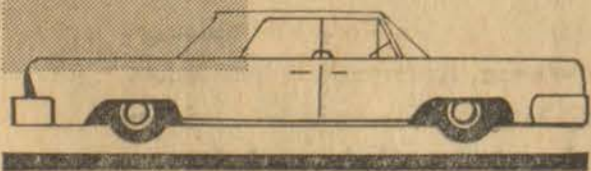

This machine will also be in use at the Kentucky State Medical Association meeting at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington from September 23 through September 26.

The Division of Driver Licensing in the Department of Public Safety requested the Rockwell Manufacturing Company to lend the Drivotron for these highly important sessions. The Rockwell firm agreed and assigned two specialists to operate the unit.

Open House Held Sunday Honoring Mr. Stephens

Open House was held Sunday, Sept. 15, honoring Will Stephens, who was 90 years old on Friday, Sept. 13. A tiered birthday cake, baked by his daughter, Frankie Best, was served with punch to guests from 1 to 8 p.m. at the Stephens home, near Cliff.

A special delegation of members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows—many of whom are nearing his age—visited him and presented him gifts. Oldest of these was "Uncle" Jim Clark, of the Auxier road. Others were Elzie Whittaker, Jim Crager, Tom Walters, Bill Africa, Bill Harvey Howard, Matt Parsley, John Burchett and Sam Hatcher.

Others calling were Judge Edward P. Hill, Sally Hill, Lucy Alka, of Freeport, Texas, Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Wilhite and sons, Monty, J. R., David and Claude, of Paintsville, Jack F. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Henry Dotson, Heene Dotson, Mr. and Mrs. Clevis Beverly, Phyllis Stanley and daughter, Glenda, June Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey, Janella Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Laferty, Mrs. Tom Branham and children, Bobby and Opal Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore, Nida Gail Moore, Miss Myrtle Pugsley, Miss Anna Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Neeley and grandsons, Jerry Price and Charles Neeley, Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Jagers and children, Susan, Dale, Margie and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jeff Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Paris Goble, Mrs. Tom Stephens, Douglas Stephens, Stephen Lee Best, and the following brothers and sisters: Henry Stephens, Tom Stephens, Mrs. Anna Hale, Mrs. Maggie Homes, Mrs. Bess Wells, Mrs. Edie George. His wife, who will be 89 on Nov. 30, and daughter, Frankie Best, were hostesses.

ON VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Fields have been spending their vacation, visiting in West Virginia and Florida.

Homemakers Study Lighting

The Day Homemakers Club met September 12 at the home of Mrs. Frances Rose, with Mrs. Betty Roberts as co-hostess. The lesson for September was "Lighting in the Home," stressing the importance of good light, the location of the light source, are proper diffusion of light.

The club finished filling out schedules for the coming year.

Mrs. Winnie Johns gave a report on the fair and thanked the members who helped with the various booths. A dessert course was served to Mesdames Pauline McGuire, Vertner Clark, Gladys Hughes, Opal Dingus, Eva Collins, Anna Feiler, Emma Osborne, Mable Donahue, Grace Ford, Ruth Francis, Winnie Johns, Peg Hewlett and the hostesses.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Vertner Clark.

ACCEPTS PASTORATE

Rev. and Mrs. John T. Stewart, former pastors of the Wheelwright and Tram Pilgrim Holiness Churches, have accepted the pastorate of the Free Methodist Church, Wootton, Leslie county. He is also employed as a linotype operator for the Hazard Herald.

Kids Day Scheduled At Drift by Kiwanians; Athletic Contests Set

Saturday, September 21, will be a great day for the grade school children of Left Beaver Creek as they assemble at the Drift ball park for the annual Kid's Day events, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Beaver Valley. The youngsters will compete in a junior-grade Olympics, featuring relay races, sack races, rope jumps, broad jumps and several other exciting events.

As usual, the youngsters from the grade schools will be divided into two groups—Group I (first six grades) and Group II (seventh and eighth grades). Trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place winners in each group.

The climax of the day will be the giant tug-o-war contest, and the distribution of free soft drinks and cookies to all participants and spectators.

The events will start promptly at 1 p.m. Transportation will be provided to all children in need of this service. The public is cordially invited to attend.

For injuries suffered on Lake Drive here last Nov. 12 David Patrick Allen, suing by his father, Jarvis Allen, seeks to recover from Lloyd Hall $15,480.38 damages. Negligence of Hall in the operation of a motor vehicle is alleged. Medical and hospital expenses were listed at $480.38, with $15,000 as permanent damage. Loss of three toes to a lawnmower is involved in the $13,590 suit filed by William Hackworth against J. A. Dickerson. Plaintiff alleges that he was supplied a lawnmower to cut the grass on Dickerson's lawn and that the housing of the mower was so broken that when he slipped and fell his toes entered the opening created by the break and thus came in contact with the mower-blade. He claims $945 for loss of work, $10,000 for permanent injury, $2,500 for physical and mental pain and $145 for medical and ambulance expense.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The South Prestonsburg Homemakers Club met Sept. 16 at the home of Mrs. Otis Bussey. The lesson, "Good Lighting in the Home," was given by Mrs. Theckley Short and Mrs. Homer Runyon. It was pointed out that 87 percent of one's knowledge comes from vision and that therefore, the home should be well-lighted. After members had filled out club calendars for the coming year, refreshments were served to Mesdames Lillian Polphrey, Rebecca Derossett, Violet Ward, Grace Derossett, Yvonne Runyon, Ora Bussey, Theckley Short and guests: Mesdames James Haselden, Clarence Haselden, Ray Davis, Ollie Watts, Garland Godsey.

TRAVELS WITH CHARLIE
John Steinbeck has written a best-seller, entitled, "Travels with Charlie." Charlie is a dog, and Steinbeck has cashed in on their experiences trotting around the country together. I have a dog, too, and I do a good bit of travelling with him but I'll never be able to cook up a book out of it. You see, our travels begin and end with my loading the dog into a car and hauling him home from the office. But we do the job in style: I drive, and the pooch assumes a haughty position in the rear seat, and you can almost hear him bark, "Home, James!"

This one I heard this week:
The Sunday School teacher asked little Johnny, "Who was the first man?"
"Hoss," came the answer.
"No, Johnny, not Hoss—it was Adam."
"Sure, sure—I knew it was one of the Cartwrights."

Somebody said this. I don't know who: "At an age when I was lucky to get a pair of roller skates, youngsters now want their own sports car." Roller skates, he says! When I was that age the only skating we did was on the ice, and round-head tacks in the soles of our shoes were the very latest.

IN PICKING UP THE TRAIL

I still insist that fishing has it all over golf.
If the fishing results are poor, you can blame a variety of conditions—the temperature of the water, the barometer, the phase of the moon, and several other things if you're imaginative and a real good liar. But go out there on the golf course, in the presence of all those other people, and try to find one legitimate excuse. You're a duffer, and you may as well admit it and try to get a little fun out of life. Besides, playing golf you never get away from it all or everybody. Now, take fishing, it's downright difficult, I've been led to believe, to track a boat.

WEEKLY FISHING REPORT:
Just wait till next time.

trial of Wells on a possession charge disagreed.
Wells' acquittal came when prosecution testimony consisted mainly of that of one witness to the effect that another told him the beer he had was bought from Wells. The "hung" jury came in the trial of an old case against Wells after his premises on the Auxler road had been raided by deputy sheriffs and Prestonsburg police.

James Copley was fined $100 on a drunk driving charge last Saturday, and Carl Reed was fined $250 and sentenced to 30 days in jail Monday when he failed to appear for trial in quarterly court.

Charles Keeton was fined $10 and costs on a speeding charge. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff George Conn. Others booked at the jail and charges lodged against them:

Clyde Blackburn, no operator's license, arrested by State Trooper Don Goble and Deputy Sheriff Henry Stone; Ira Douglas Amick, no operator's license and reckless driving, booked by State Trooper Hatton.

Study of the project began in 1946 and, following a period of planning by councils in Central and Eastern Kentucky, eight groups voted to authorize an organizational committee. Councils involved were Sandy Valley, Burnside, Central Kentucky, Harlan, Lexington, Middlesboro, Richmond and Somerset.

Council representatives met in May last year and reached agreement, forming the Wilderness Road Trail committee. Offices of the new council will be at Lexington, it is said.

"The chartering of the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council will be the culmination of intensive work by the organization committee," said Mrs. Edward P. Hill, chairman of the organizational committee. "The creation of the Council means that more girls will have the opportunity to become Girl Scouts and to participate in a program designed to meet their needs and keep pace with the times."

Our Historic Heritage
A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky
(No. 249 in a Series)

LOGGING IN EASTERN KENTUCKY

The greatest impetus to the logging industry in Eastern Kentucky was given by the mining operations. Rafting logs to Catlettsburg, Frankfort and other down-state cities from the headstreams in the mountains had scarcely tapped the vast reservoir of timber but the mining industry when it became full-grown in the area offered an almost insatiable market.

The First National Bank presents these pictures in recognition of our historic heritage.

Fort Knox, Ky.—Army Pvt. William R. Tufts, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Tufts, Wheelwright, Kentucky, completed an eight-week food service course at The Armor Center, Fort Knox, Kentucky, in mid-August.

Tufts entered the Army in April of this year and received basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

He is a 1953 graduate of Wheelwright high school and was employed by the Solo Cup Company in Grandview, Missouri, before entering the Army.

The Jenkins Cavaliers have taken a half game lead in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference high school football race. Hazard is in second place with a 2-0 mark as compared to the Cavalier 3-0 slate. Hazard, champ every year since the founding of the League in 1957, visits Jenkins October 12, and that game should produce this season's winner in the league. The winner in all probability will grab this year's District Two, Region Four title. The Cavaliers are host to Prestonsburg this Saturday night. In senior quarterback Phil Greer, a 6-2, 180-pound whiz, they have one of the leading all-state choices.

The 35th annual men's Paintsville Country Club tournament will be held, September 28 through October 6. All flights will be medal play, 54 holes, including the qualifying score. To enable more players to participate, the first 18 holes (qualifying) may be played any time between September 28 and October 4. The final rounds of 18 holes each will be played on October 5 and 6.

The championship flight will consist of 16 low qualifiers and ties. The low eight and ties in the championship flight after 36 holes will make up the first flight. All other flights will consist of eight players and ties. Trophies will be awarded to the three finishers in each flight.

Carl Ray Fraley, Jenny Wiley State Park recreational director, is tabbed as one of the favorites. The redhead has won the Wheelwright, Hazard, Harlan and Jenkins tournaments this season. In the Jenkins affair he downed Willard Adkins on the 19th hole with a birdie three.

Erman Tackett, 185-pound senior tackle, was selected as the Blackcat Player-of-the-Week in the local's loss to Elkhorn City last Friday. Chalmer Howard, senior halfback, and junior fullback Lennie Harris were the recipients in the Hazard and Wheelwright games. The weekly awards are presented by the Francis Stores.

This season's Big Sandy Bowl football game will be held on October 19, with host Paintsville high meeting Millersburg Military Institute. Hazard and Paintsville are the only unbeaten football teams in the Mountains, and the season is only three weeks old. Johnny Williams, former Pikeville College player, has been elevated to head coach at Warfield high school. He replaces Johnny Marcum, who resigned because of poor health.

HAZARD AND PAINTSVILLE TEAMS ADD PRESTIGE IN TWO REGIONAL GAMES

Hazard and Paintsville saw their football teams add additional prestige over the week as each gained a victory in regional play.

The Bull Dogs rolled over cross-town M. C. Napier by a 48-0 count, and Walter Brugh's Paintsville Tigers belted Louisa, 47-6.

Jenkins moved atop the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference standings by downing arch-rival Fleming-Neon, 27-0, Saturday night. They lead Hazard by a half-game margin.

Elkhorn City had no trouble downing Prestonsburg, 34-0, and Wheelwright was little match for the Boyd County Lions who overpowered the Trojans, 40-0.

Belfry dropped its second game of the season in bowing 14-0 to visiting Welch, West Virginia, and Whitesburg lost a 12-0 battle to Cumberland, Morgan County bit the dust for the first time in absorbing a 28-6 setback at the hands of Mt. Sterling Dubois.

Butch Green, Hazard's all-time scoring champ, raced for 15, 20 and 25-yard touchdowns while teammate Richard McGee booted six of seven extra points. Other scoring for Jack Carey's unit was done by halfback Jack Robinson, an eight-yard run by McGee, a 39-yard pass from Ken Tate to Roger Cecil and a brother-to-brother combination of Houston Hogg to Fred Hogg.

D. B. Kazee, 170-pound senior, sped for three touchdowns and tallied a point after in pacing his mates over Louisa. The Tigers of Paintsville scored three markers on punt returns with Kazee going 55 yards for one and 85 for another.

Kazee and Hazard's Greene have each scored six touchdowns in two games, and all-state quarterback hopeful, Phil Greer, of Jenkins, has tallied four.

Bobby Brooks, Derek Potter and Benny McFall spearheaded the Cougars over Prestonsburg for their second league victory. The Pike countians took a 13-0 halftime lead on a muddy field and added three more six-pointers in the last half. Halfback Roger Thompson scored Morgan County's lone touchdown in the second period on a 30-yard run. Gene Davis' Pikeville Panthers battled favored Catlettsburg to a 0-0 deadlock in a sea of mud, for a 1-1-1 record thus far.

CONSERVATION GROUP PLANS PANEL TALKS

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 9 (Spl.) — Dr. Perle Ayers, director of the Council of Southern Mountain Workers, Berea, has been scheduled to keynote a panel discussion at the Third Annual Conservation Congress, October 17-18, at the Kentucky Hotel, Louisville.

State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlock, chairman of the Natural Resources Development Committee, which sponsors the Congress, said the panel will cover conservation education and the health and social aspects of conservation. Scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday, October 18, it will be one of three panels during the two-day conference.

Other members of the panel are: Ralph Pickard, Frankfort, executive director of the Water Pollution Control Commission; Miss Sara C. Stice, Frankfort, director of health education, Kentucky Department of Health; Richard Van Hoose, Louisville, superintendent of the Jefferson county schools; Ralph Ramsey, Lexington, specialist in rural sociology, University of Kentucky; Rev.

H. Glen Stephens, Frenchburg; and Dr. Stanley Wall, Lexington, associate dean of the University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture.

The panel will be moderated by E. P. Hilton, director of the Bureau of Vocational Education, Kentucky Department of Education.

The other two panels are set for the Thursday session, Matlock said. A session on forestry, wildlife and recreation will be at 10 a.m. and one on land use and mineral resources is scheduled for 2 p.m. Everyone attending is urged to actively participate in all the panel discussions, Matlock said.

Nearly 1,000 Kentuckians interested in conserving natural resources are expected to attend the Congress. Conservationists from a number of other states are also expected.

For additional information about the congress, address inquiries to Matlock, chairman of the Natural Resources Development Committee, Capitol Annex, Frankfort.

Former Floyd Resident Dies In Ohio; Funeral Conducted At Lucasville

Dick Robinson, 74, Lucasville, Ohio, but formerly of this county, died Sunday of last week at 4:15 p.m. in Mercy hospital, Lucasville. He had been in ill health since August.

Mr. Robinson was a retired Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company trackman. He was a member of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church.

He was a son of the late James and Elizabeth Manuel Robinson. His wife, Shirley Hinkle Robinson, survives. Two daughters and three sons survive: Mrs. Emily Tackett, Lucasville, Mrs. Grace Zimmerman, Clyde, Ohio, Holley Robinson, Albion, Michigan, Wallace Robinson, of Clyde, Ray Robinson, at home. Two sisters and a brother survive: Mrs. Lorraine Patton, of Martin, Mrs. Louise Sammons, and Edward Allen, Catlettsburg. Sixteen grandchildren survive.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday of last week and burial was made at Lucasville.

Lexington, Ky. — Creep-feeding of beef calves generally is stopped by May 1—but unusual weather conditions which affect pastures can change this rule.

LAND-OWNERS' QUERY MADE

Use Pattern Changes On Land Near Roads Studied by Kentucky

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 9 (Spl.) — What can land owners expect when a limited access highway is built across their property?

Some of the answers to this question have been turned up by the Kentucky Department of Highways in a study of 18 miles of Interstate 64 in Clark and Montgomery counties.

After the road was built on a right-of-way 300 feet wide, the Department went back to see what had happened. Generally, this is what their inquiry showed:

There had been no substantial change in the use being made of the land along the highway.

About half the property owners sold part or all of their remaining property.

The number of farms decreased through purchases by adjoining landowners.

Farms did not lose tobacco base because the right-of-way reduced their total acreage.

New homes are being constructed along the right-of-way.

The study was conducted by the Department in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. Similar studies have been made along other portions of the system of interstate and defense highways, which eventually will cover more than one million acres of American countryside.

In Kentucky, between July, 1956, and February, 1963, $42 million was spent to purchase 3,300 parcels of land along 200 miles of interstate right-of-way.

On the section of interstate highway that is the subject of the first of these studies to be made in Kentucky, the right-of-way was obtained primarily during 1953 and 1959. The 18 miles of super highway built on this right-of-way was opened to traffic late in 1961. The study was limited to 54 parcels of land which were of significant size and which were on the right-of-way of the main line.

It was found that where property was sold, it usually was bought by an adjoining landholder. The price range centered around $300 an acre in these sales, which generally took place soon after the right-of-way transaction. Owners whose property lies next to landlocked parcels held by the state have shown an interest in buying these, too. Other property has been bought at interchanges in anticipation of future commercial development.

Highway Commissioner Henry Ward said he considered the study "a valuable tool for use in the vital job of securing the right-of-way needed to build the modern highway system we are developing here in Kentucky."

FFA Eligibility Told In Kentucky Contest

If you are a member of the Future Farmers of America and are a resident of Kentucky you are eligible to compete for $775 in U. S. Savings Bonds in the 17th annual F.F.A. Contest.

The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS, Inc., will present a $100 bond to Kentucky's champion Future Farmer and $50 bonds will go to the top entrant in each of the state's nine F.F.A. districts. The runner-up in each of the districts will receive a $25 bond. In addition, the top 10 winners and their parents will receive all-expense-paid trips to Louisville to attend the annual Farm Awards Luncheon where the prizes will be presented.

A special certificate will be presented to the outstanding boy in each chapter. A gold seal certificate will be awarded to each chapter having 100 per cent participation in the contest by eligible members.

All high school vocational agriculture students, including 1963 graduates are eligible to enter this competition. October 26 is the deadline for entries.

Information concerning this contest may be obtained from vocational agriculture teachers or by writing the Public Service Department, The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS, Inc., Louisville, Kentucky 40202.

This competition is one of four in the farm incentive program of the newspapers and radio-television station.

SBA Loan Aid Explained By Typical Town Help; New Brochure Is Issued

The story of how a typical town, beset by economic troubles, organized a local development company, raised local money and with the help of a Small Business Administration loan, established a new industry creating 450 jobs with an annual payroll of $1,250,000, is described in a pictorial brochure now available from any SBA office.

"A Town Comes to Life," which tells the story of SBA help to one town was prepared to help communities learn about the local development company program and how it works, SBA Regional Director James G. Garwick said.

"Distribution of the new brochure is part of a nationwide campaign to encourage communities to organize local development companies to establish new industries, create jobs and build the local economy," Mr. Garwick explained.

Mr. Garwick pointed out that these loans have proved beyond all doubt that this program can help communities across the Nation establish new industries or assist existing small businesses to expand, thus creating more jobs. "This story has been duplicated in hundreds of communities in 38 states," he said.

Community leaders are invited to obtain a free copy of this brochure at the Small Business Administration office located in the Standard Building, 1370 Ontario Street, Cleveland 44113, Ohio.

In addition to the photo-brochure, SBA recently mailed "Prescription for Progress" folders explaining the local development company program to about 4,500 local development companies, chambers of commerce and similar organizations; to more than 15,000 mayors and county officials; and to members of SBA's advisory councils.

Mr. Breathitt and his administration says they have nothing for any Happy supporter. They take the attitude—we beat you in May and we can do it again in November. Mr. Waterfield now admits that he was only interested in himself in the primary. (We suspected that all the time.)

I was for Happy in the primary and I am proud of it; but, being a Republican, I couldn't vote for him then. I now urge every Happy supporter to join a new team determined to bring an end to graft and corruption. They have picked up every worn-out politician that local people have discarded and put them on the State payroll at fantastic salaries. But nothing for the little man who voted for Happy. Notice of Public Hearing

Notice of Public Hearing On the Redevelopment Plan of the Courthouse Square Urban Renewal Area Project Number Kentucky R-43, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

The Prestonsburg Municipal Housing Commission will hold a Public Hearing on the proposed Urban Redevelopment Plan for the Courthouse Square Urban Renewal Area Project, at 7:30 p.m., E.S.T., on Monday, September 23, 1963, at the Municipal Building, in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

The Urban Redevelopment Area designated as appropriate for the Urban Redevelopment Project is generally identified as follows:

Beginning at a point, being the intersection of west right-of-way line of South Lake Drive (Route U. S. 23) and the north right-of-way line of Court street; thence eastward with the line of Court street to its intersection with the east right-of-way line extended of South Third street; thence southward with the line of South Third street for a distance of approximately 253 feet to the south property line of Floyd County Courthouse property extended; thence westward with said line of the Floyd County courthouse property and adjacent properties to its intersection with the west right-of-way line of South Lake Drive; thence northward with the line of South Lake Drive to its intersection with the north right-of-way line of Court street, the point of beginning.

The purpose of such hearing is to consider a proposed urban redevelopment plan for the undertaking of the urban redevelopment project, under the Kentucky Urban Renewal and Redevelopment Law (Section 99.330, et seq., K.R.S.) with Federal financial assistance under Title I of the Housing Act of 1949 (Public Law 171 81st Congress) as amended. Such project consists of the acquisition of land in the Project Area, the demolition or removal of buildings and improvements, the installation, construction or reconstruction of streets, utilities and other site improvements, and the sale of project land for redevelopment to the City of Prestonsburg, to be used for public parking facilities.

The proposals and plans for relocation of persons and businesses located within the above defined urban redevelopment area will be open for discussion.

A copy of the redevelopment plan with maps, plats, zoning maps and ordinances relating thereto, is available for public inspection at the office of the Prestonsburg Municipal Housing Commission, Municipal Building, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Any person or organization desiring to be heard will be afforded an opportunity to be heard at this hearing.

CARD OF THANKS
The family of S. W. Cooley wishes to take this means of expressing our gratefulness and appreciation to our many relatives and friends who called to offer their condolences before and after the death of Savage Cooley. We wish to extend thanks to Elders Baxter Osborne, Bert Howard, Roy Akers and the other ministers who offered consoling words; and to the personnel of Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its kindness and efficiency. We appreciate the thoughtfulness of so many friends in sending flowers before and after Mr. Cooley's death and those who brought food or assisted in any way. We shall always be indebted for your kindness.
AMANDA COOLEY and FAMILY

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dearly beloved husband, father and grandfather, Walter Martin, Sr., who departed this life four ago, Sept. 19, 1959.

The midnight stars are shining
Upon your silent grave,
Beneath it sleeps the one we love,
The one we could not save.
Although your smile is now at rest,
And free from grief and pain,
This world would seem like heaven
If we had you back again.
Loving hearts will always Linger around the grave where
You are laid.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren. 1t
