

This Town... That World

THE DATE—SEPTEMBER 24
Fellow who lives away from the river and its fog reminds me that if I haven't felt the frost in the air yet, I should have been out at his place Tuesday morning to scrape it off my windshield.

The opposition to promiscuous use of insecticides has mounted in this country in recent years, and the book, SILENT SPRING, by Rachel Carson, has added to the national awareness of the dangers inherent in injudicious use of certain chemicals.

One argument against insecticides reached us this week. It was strong and eloquent. But the most pungent lines were these:
"We discovered DDT to get rid of insects... and saved the hydrogen bomb for ourselves."

SWELL IDEA

Neville Shackelford recently wrote this in The Lexington Leader:

"There is a school of thought which holds that a man should never let his business interfere with his fishing."

We have a friend who preaches this and just recently set out to practice what he preached. Although yet several years away from retirement and social security payments, he sold out his business so he could spend more time at fishing.

Before making this decision, our friend reasoned it out that after 65 or so a man loses his zest for fishing in direct proportion to the passing of the years. Not only that, but he loses the physical ability to take off for wild rivers and stormy seas to match wits with fish. So right now while he can enjoy fishing most, he's taking advantage of the situation.

And what will he do after reaching 65? He'll go back to work, of course.

"When you can't do anything else," he says, "you can always work."

Now how about that? Not a bad idea at all.

BREATHITT SAYS GOAL IS 75,000 NEW JOBS

PARTY LEADER OPENS DRIVE HERE MONDAY

Democratic Nominee, Introduced by Perkins, Lashes GOP Candidate

Edward T. Breathitt, Democratic nominee for governor, officially opened the fall speaking campaign in this county Monday evening at the grade school auditorium before an overflow crowd. Leaders of the party from a wide area and nearly all the public officials of Floyd county were present.

"During the next four years it is our goal to find 75,000 new jobs for Kentuckians," Breathitt said. "This means we must find many thousands of new jobs for the citizens of Eastern Kentucky."

He said that the Combs administration had been tackling the problems of Eastern Kentucky for four years and that while it didn't have all the answers, many things are emerging as solutions. He named the Mountain Parkway, technical assistance to communities so as to attract industry, the Area Redevelopment program, the expanded education program and an increased welfare program.

Dr. Joe T. Hyden, Floyd Democratic campaign chairman, presided. Congressman Carl Perkins, in introducing the nominee, said:

"We have to develop the Appalachian program. With the type of leadership Breathitt has demonstrated we can do great things. We must lift Eastern Kentucky out of a depressed area and make it one of the most beautiful places in America. Nunn doesn't have anything constructive for Eastern Kentucky. He would be a roadblock to our progress."

Breathitt came to Prestonsburg from appearances at Breathitt county high school, the Perry county courthouse and several Knott county communities.

Departing at times from a prepared speech, he lashed out at Louie Nunn, the Republican candidate, challenged him to say if he supported the Area Redevelopment program.

"We judge Kentuckians by their word," Breathitt said. "My opponent says one thing in one section and another in other sections."

"The Republican candidate said Floyd county was in such bad shape from bootlegging that the community college shouldn't be built here," (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Saturday Night Mishaps Hurt Kendrick, Vanhoose; Both Are Hospitalized

Two men were injured in auto wrecks Saturday night, one being hurt here, the other on Abbott Creek.

William Joe Kendrick, 18, of Bull Creek, suffered a broken arm when his auto struck a tree on the curve at the Mrs. Mae Ford Hyden home on Lake Drive here as he apparently fled the approach of city police. The auto was completely wrecked, and State Trooper Don Goble said Kendrick's life was perhaps saved by his having been through clear of the car.

Rural Vanhoose was taken to a Paintsville hospital Saturday night after an auto in which he and two others were driving left the highway on Abbott Creek and hit the ditchline. He suffered a head injury. State Police said his companions were Carson Vanhoose and Lloyd Gillespie and that it had not been determined which of the three was driving.

DEMO REBELS PICK HOWELL

Chandler Supporters Form Nunn Committee; State Organizers Here

A group of Democratic supporters of former governor A. B. Chandler in the May primary met at the offices of the Statewide Insurance Agency here Monday evening and organized the Democrats for Nunn Committee.

Dewey Howell, of Dana, was named chairman of the committee. Mr. Howell has long been a supporter of Chandler, who was defeated for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

It was said by a Nunn supporter that four men representing Chandler were at the meeting. They were, it was said, organizing the dissident Democrats for the Republican candidate, Louie B. Nunn, on a statewide basis.

Howell assured the group after his selection that he would wage an active and aggressive campaign to get every Chandler voter possible to support Nunn.

WOOD-USING INDUSTRY PLANNED FOR REGION

A giant wood-utilization industry to ease the economic problems of the Eastern Kentucky area apparently became assured this week.

The plant, which would be the center of an area industry involving smaller, satellite plants, will involve the expenditure of $4 million. Present plans call for the employment of 202 persons by the plant and the employment of from 160 to 180 others who would be engaged in logging operations. The annual payroll of the plant and its satellite units will reach an estimated $1,210,000 a year.

Announcement of the far-reaching plan was made in Lexington Tuesday. The annual cash flow of goods and services, it is estimated, will exceed $7.5 million for the entire operation.

No site has been selected for the plant, but George Branham, Paintsville, who was named temporary chairman of the group that is backing it, said the "site is purely a detail."

He said that regardless of the site location, the members of this organization "have pledged their support to this project."

Representatives from 37 Eastern Kentucky counties attended a meeting at Lexington Tuesday at which final plans were made and committees named to promote and organize the complex.

Tuesday's decision was a result of a study sponsored by the Area Redevelopment Administration. The study, done by MacDonald Associates, industrial consultant with offices in Washington, D. C., and Corvallis, Oregon, recommended establishment of the plant.

Branham said the plant, which will be owned by a private corporation, "will not be built with the idea of competing with the small sawmills, but will be constructed with the idea of also benefiting existing industry."

The plant's processing facilities will require an investment of about $3,870,000, with the satellite facilities requiring an investment of $750,000.

Several committees were named Tuesday, one of which was established to investigate the aspects of procuring timberland. The plant plans to own or control a minimum of 26,000 acres of forest land.

Branham said the plant will be financed through the sale of $1.5 million in stock and loans from various organizations, such as the federal government, banks and insurance companies.

The group scheduled another meeting for October 25 at Lexington to put the finishing touches to the articles of incorporation and bylaws.

"This is not intended to be an overall solution to the economic ills of Eastern Kentucky," Branham said, "but we believe it is a step in the right direction."

"The success of this project, we hope, will serve as a pattern for the development of other such private industry in Eastern Kentucky."

"This is one of the first real efforts where the whole of Eastern Kentucky is trying to pick itself up by its own bootstraps and go somewhere," he said.

Branham and other spokesmen for the group explained in detail why they felt the complex wood-processing plant was needed for the economically depressed area.

The 36 counties that comprise Eastern Kentucky contain in excess of six million acres classified as forest land, a spokesman said, or 71 percent of the land within the region.

Each year a total of 750 million board feet of sawtimber is added to the land by growth, but at present the annual drain on the sawtimber resources for commercial purposes does not exceed 400 million board feet throughout all of Eastern Kentucky. "This is little more than one half the annual growth and means that enough new timber... goes unused each year," he said.

NAB MOORE SECOND TIME

On Possession Charges; Justice Meted 30 Days; Fined $20, Wednesday

Ermal Moore, of Price, who recently was arrested in Letcher county and charged with liquor possession, was caught again September 11 near Salyersville, it was reported here this week.

His second arrest was made by State Trooper Joe Hardy and Magoffin Sheriff Ray Holbrook who confiscated 20 cases of whiskey, lacking a half-pint. His brother, Nathaniel Moore, was with him at the time, officers said, but was not charged with an offense, since Ermal Moore claimed responsibility for the whiskey.

In Letcher county Moore was given a 30-day jail term but was released on his statement that he was required to take examination for possible army induction, September 10.

James Justice, convicted in quarterly court here Wednesday morning on a beer possession count, was given a 30-day jail term and was fined $20. He pleaded guilty. The trial of William Riley Wells, Jr., on a possession charge again resulted in a "hung" jury.

Others booked at the jail here within the week, charges marked against them and the arresting officers are:

Octavia Meade, no operator's license and reckless driving, arrested by State Trooper Don Goble; Raymond Crider, child desertion probation revoked, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Sam Hale and Lonnie Herald; Raymond Little, violation of child desertion parole, booked by Sheriff Henry Hale and Deputy Sheriff Henry Stone.

TRUCK MISHAP KILLS ADKINS

Betsy Layne Senior Suffers Broken Neck On Branham's Creek

Roger Lee Adkins, 17-year-old Betsy Layne high school senior, was killed instantly Saturday at 11 p.m. near Grethel when the delivery truck he was driving left the road on Branham's Creek.

State Trooper Larry Hatton, who investigated the accident, said Wayne Williams, a passenger, was thrown through the windshield but was not seriously injured. Another passenger, whose name was unavailable, was unhurt.

It was said that the victim was driving about 40 or 45 miles per hour when he came around a curve. The truck left the road on the left side of the highway and struck a stump. Adkins died of a broken neck.

He was a son of Luther and Diana Hall Adkins, who survive. Surviving brothers and sisters are James Edward Adkins, of Betsy Layne, Kenneth Eugene Adkins and Paul Clayton Adkins, both of Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Eva Fay Stanley, Cleveland, Ohio, Garland Ray Adkins, Carolyn Sue Adkins and Linda Lou Adkins, all at home.

ALLEN BRIDGE USE LIMITED AFTER MISHAP

Parkway Arm Project Cost Set At $1,953,940; Traffic Is Impeded Here

Closing of Ky. 114 (the Prestonsburg-Salyersville road) became effective Monday for the beginning of construction of the Mountain Parkway arm from the Magoffin county line to the beginning of construction now being completed.

Traffic to Salyersville and points beyond is being routed via Paintsville.

Closing of the route to traffic was effected as construction of the remaining portion of the highway on Middle Creek was begun by Greer Brothers & Young, Inc., contractors. Clearing of right-of-way and some preliminary earth-moving have been begun.

Construction of the 9.3-mile sector from the Floyd-Magoffin line to the junction with Ky. 404, the road to David, will be done at a cost of $1,953,940.

The same day the Middle Creek road was closed, a Department of Highways order limited the use of the bridge across the Big Sandy at Allen to automobiles and pickup trucks. The order came after a power shovel being carried by a lowboy trailer had struck the top of the bridge, damaging the superstructure. It was said that the machinery being moved across the bridge is owned by the H. B. Ranter Construction Company.

Heavy traffic into the Beaver Creek section is being routed over Ky. 114 and up the David road to Goodloe and from there via Ky. 850 to connect with Ky. 80 at the mouth of Brush Creek.

Steel beams in the top and sides of the bridge were bent by the impact at the end which crosses the railroad at Allen. A survey of damage was begun immediately. District Highway Engineer Wendell Bayes said the limited use of the span will be continued until repairs can be made.

Traffic is not impeded in Prestonsburg as sewer construction work and widening of U.S. 23 from the new four-lane bridge here to Patton street are being done. The Mattingly Construction Company, builder of the bridge and contractor on the road-widening project, may complete its work next month.

Concrete paving of the Prestonsburg-Paintsville road (new US 23) from Hager Hill to Auxier is expected to be completed by mid-October.

CIVIC LEADERS NAMED TO TOP GROUP POSTS

DR. ARCHER

MR. MUSIC

Two Prestonsburg men were honored this week—one, as he assumed state leadership of a professional group; the other, as he was elected to the top spot in a two-state service organization.

Dr. George P. Archer, Prestonsburg civic leader, was inaugurated Wednesday night as 1963-1964 president of the Kentucky State Medical Association at the Association's annual meeting being held this week at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington.

Dr. Archer, who is currently mayor of Prestonsburg, served in 1959 as medical representative on the University of Louisville Development Program. In 1960 he was appointed by Governor Bert T. Combs to the White House Committee on Aging, and was named to the Kentucky Hospital Council in 1962. (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

Marvin Music, Prestonsburg business man and civic leader, Tuesday was elected governor of the Kentucky-Tennessee district of Kiwanis International.

Mr. Music was named to the top spot in the two-state Kiwanis organization without opposition. He succeeds H. M. Collins, Chattanooga, Tennessee, as district governor.

STUDENT ABSENTEEISM STUDY REPORT ISSUED

Pupil absenteeism, which has been making inroads on Floyd county school finances, was subjected to a detailed study this summer by Herbert Prater, director of pupil personnel. The report recently issued covers the eight high schools and the elementary grades of those communities.

The highest average of pupil absences in the 16 schools studied was in Prestonsburg elementary classes. It stood at 13.5 days per pupil. It was 12.5 in the high school, only slightly lower than in the grade school.

Percentage-wise, Prestonsburg led all the schools studied, although actually Garrett elementary had a higher figure of 13.8 days per pupil. However, the absences per pupil in the grades was set at 10.8 per pupil.

The survey covered the school year of 1962-1963. A total of 74,890 days were missed in the schools under study, it was noted.

McDowell high and grade schools had the best record, the report shows. Average pupil absences in the high school were calculated at 5.2 per pupil and in the grades the average was 8.2. Martin had the next lowest record in the high schools for average absences of only 6.9. However, in the elementary classes the absences were set at 12.5 per pupil.

Figures for Betsy Layne high school and grades were calculated at 11.2 and 12.8 and in Maytown high school and grades it was set at 10.4 and 9.2 per pupil. Wayland high school and grade school figures are 8.5 and 11.7 and in the two divisions at Wheelwright the average pupil absences are, set at, 9.5 and 8.9 per pupil.

County Superintendent Charles F. Clark pointed out that efforts to enforce the compulsory attendance law were being made in the grades where all children are covered because they are under the age of 16 years. Many high school pupils are over 16, he said, and thus not subject to the law.

"The report shows that we have a tremendous selling job to do in the high schools," Clark said. "We (See Story No. 8, Page 6)

After 1964—What Then?

The greatest construction program in the history of Prestonsburg is now under way but will, except for one or two projects, end next year.

The list is impressive: the extension of the Prestonsburg-Pikeville arm of the Mountain Parkway, the low-rent public housing project, sewer and sewage treatment plant construction, the Floyd county courthouse, the Prestonsburg Community College and the amphitheatre at Jenny Wiley State Park.

One more project, the Floyd county library, is certain. Urban renewal work and street improvement, both badly needed, are possibilities.

But, with all these going, the end of 1964 would in all probability see them finished.

After 1964—then what? It should be remembered that, without state and federal government participation, the present construction boom would not exist. The community would be unusually quiet.

Prestonsburg and Floyd county cannot forever depend upon projects financed at least in part by public funds to provide major sources of employment and business activity. They need permanent industry, we add at the risk of repeating perhaps the most oft-repeated statement ever made in this area.

Flood control along the Big Sandy is already partially realized, and within five years should be completely so. A splendid new highway from the Mountains to the Blue Grass, there to connect with other modern highways leading to other parts of Kentucky and the nation, will be open. Education on the whole is moving upward, and a Community College here as an adjunct of the University of Kentucky adds immeasurably to that brighter picture. The entire area, with Jenny Wiley State Park and Dewey Lake as the center, is becoming nationally known as one of America's most picturesque vacation spots, and recreation is almost at the door of every person residing in this part of Kentucky.

For a long time now we have been told that any community hoping to land an industrial project must have a site above flood danger, adequate transportation, good schools and churches, sanitation, recreation and a good business climate.

Looking back at what has been done during the last three or four years and ahead to what can be expected to be achieved, not at some distant date but soon, one wonders what more industry could ask—unless it is an improved business climate.

Some industrialists have denied that labor-capital relations existing in the area are not discouraging. If they aren't, what more do they want? And if these relations aren't such as to invite new business to the area, why not now begin to take a long and careful look at the situation, with a view to removing the obstacles?

STILBESTROL PROVES EFFECTIVE

Last week 42 steers, belonging to Greeley Dotson, of Middle Creek, were individually weighed. The steers that had been implanted with stilbestrol had gained 15 more pounds per head on the average than those that had not been treated.

The demonstration was started last May 3. Each steer was weighed, and every other steer was implanted with stilbestrol, a growth hormone. The steers were then turned on pasture.

Last Friday the steers had been on pasture for 133 days. Dr. Charley Martin, Extension livestock specialist, using portable scales, weighed each steer. Rate of gain was determined for each animal.

The implanted steers gained on an average of 147 over the 133 day feeding period. The other steers gained 132 pounds. In other words, the implanted steers gained 15 pounds more on the average than did those that were not treated.

The cost of the implant is roughly 25 cents per steer, and returned 15 pounds of beef. Beef steers selling at $23 per hundred pounds means an increase of $3.20 profit per steer.

The use of stilbestrol has been used for several years and has proven to increase rate of gain. This demonstration at Mr. Dotson's farm is probably the first time stilbestrol has been used in Floyd county.

Stewart Ray Horn has implanted steers which is carrying as a F.F.A. project.

CURING SWEET POTATOES

Most gardeners will have several bushels of sweet potatoes to store for winter use. If proper storage conditions are provided, sweet potatoes will maintain quality for nine to ten months.

First of all, be careful not to injure sweet potatoes, because bruises, scratches and skinned places help diseases to get started.

After digging sweet potatoes, place carefully in baskets or crates and cure them for five to ten days.

GREENHOUSES

Bob Shepherd, Extension horticulture specialist, was in the county last week. We visited several people interested in greenhouses.

There is a market within the county for several operations. The market for ripe tomatoes in fall and early spring is available. In the spring there is also a market for early tomato plants and flower plants.

Anyone wishing to increase their income should study the greenhouse business. For a reasonable investment, a person could provide full time employment, and make a satisfactory profit.

CONLEY RETURNS

Charleston AFB, S. C.—Master Sergeant Clifford Conley of Lackey, Ky., has retired from the United States Air Force after more than 20 years of active military duty.

Sergeant Conley served as a communications equipment maintenance technician in the 1608th Air Base Group here at the time of his retirement.

The sergeant, a veteran of World War II, has served overseas in the Southwest Pacific and the Canal Zone.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Conley, of Lackey, and is married to the former Deloris D. Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Patton, Hamilton, Ohio.

ADD A LITTLE MUSTARD

Add a little mustard and Worcestershire sauce to mashed blue cheese and use as a filling for "stuffed" hamburgers. Men usually like this combination.

Process of Selecting Future Engineers Set By Highway Officials

High schools and district highway engineers throughout the state are receiving information on the process of selecting 40 young men who next spring will be awarded freshman scholarships to the University of Kentucky College of Engineering. The scholarships will be awarded by the State Department of Highways.

A scholarship applicant must be a prospective 1964 graduate of an accredited Kentucky high school, or a 1963 graduate who has a satisfactory employment record with the Highway Department. He must rank in the upper two-fifths of his high school class and be recommended by his principal or mathematics teacher.

Applicants also will be required to take the American College Test, which will be offered at 32 points throughout the state on designated dates. The first examination will be given November 9, but October 12 is the deadline for registering for this test.

Registration forms, which are available at high schools and district engineers' offices, should be completed and mailed with a $4 registration fee to Dr. Charles F. Elton, state co-ordinator, ACT, Office of the Dean of Admissions and Registrar, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

All Kentucky high schools have lists of the locations at which the tests will be given.

The scholarships are intended for youths who wish to study highway engineering. Recipients who make satisfactory progress as freshmen may continue to receive scholarship assistance during their sophomore year.

LOVERN ASKS ASSEMBLY LEGISLATION PROVIDING FOR ANNUAL INSPECTION

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 23 (Sp.)—State Public Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovren has urged the 1964 General Assembly to enact an annual motor vehicle inspection law in Kentucky.

Speaking to an estimated 600 at the first 1963 Department of Public Safety Seminar in Louisville, September 19, he compared death rate figures in all states.

"We know that the death rate per 100 million vehicle miles is 4.64 in states with vehicle inspection. This compares with an average of 5.58 in states which do not have inspection programs," he said.

"The average death rate per 100 million miles in Kentucky for the past 12 years has been 7.8. Kentucky does not have a motor vehicle inspection program."

Asking, "Who wants inspection?" Lovren noted that "a public opinion poll, sponsored by the National Committee on Traffic Safety, showed that 97 per cent. of the people interviewed favored periodic inspection of all motor vehicles."

He said that an interesting sidelight of the poll is the fact that this percentage was constant in states that have inspection laws, as well as in those states which do not have inspection.

"The Kentucky Department of Public Safety is hopeful that the General Assembly will look with favor on the passage of an annual inspection program in its 1964 session," Lovren added.

Demonstrations at the seminars were conducted by the divisions of Accident Control, Driver Licensing, Fire Prevention, State Police, and Boating.

Among the demonstrations were karate (self defense, using hands), the new radar system, polygraph (lie detector), and other scientific analytical apparatus, including blood alcohol tests, a driving simulator, and demonstrations of several fire hazards.

Two other safety seminars are planned by the department, one at Kentucky Dam Village, October 1, and one at Jenny Wiley State Park, October 18.

TACKETT IN EUROPE

Sergeant Tackett, an automatic instrument repairman, was stationed at Dover AFB, Del., before coming here. The sergeant, who entered the Air Force in June 1954, served for two years in the European area during World War II.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Tackett, of East McDowell, Ky.

LOVERN ASKS ASSEMBLY LEGISLATION PROVIDING FOR ANNUAL INSPECTION

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 23 (Sp.)—State Public Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovren has urged the 1964 General Assembly to enact an annual motor vehicle inspection law in Kentucky.

Speaking to an estimated 600 at the first 1963 Department of Public Safety Seminar in Louisville, September 19, he compared death rate figures in all states.

"We know that the death rate per 100 million vehicle miles is 4.64 in states with vehicle inspection. This compares with an average of 5.58 in states which do not have inspection programs," he said.

"The average death rate per 100 million miles in Kentucky for the past 12 years has been 7.8. Kentucky does not have a motor vehicle inspection program."

Asking, "Who wants inspection?" Lovren noted that "a public opinion poll, sponsored by the National Committee on Traffic Safety, showed that 97 per cent. of the people interviewed favored periodic inspection of all motor vehicles."

He said that an interesting sidelight of the poll is the fact that this percentage was constant in states that have inspection laws, as well as in those states which do not have inspection.

"The Kentucky Department of Public Safety is hopeful that the General Assembly will look with favor on the passage of an annual inspection program in its 1964 session," Lovren added.

Demonstrations at the seminars were conducted by the divisions of Accident Control, Driver Licensing, Fire Prevention, State Police, and Boating.

Among the demonstrations were karate (self defense, using hands), the new radar system, polygraph (lie detector), and other scientific analytical apparatus, including blood alcohol tests, a driving simulator, and demonstrations of several fire hazards.

Two other safety seminars are planned by the department, one at Kentucky Dam Village, October 1, and one at Jenny Wiley State Park, October 18.

NEWSPAPER REPORTER SAYS U. S. BUREAU HEADS, UMW, OPERATORS TO BE NAMED

A newspaper reporter testified Thursday of last week that some Bureau of Mines officials are about to be named codefendants, along with big coal operators and the United Mine Workers, in antitrust suits.

Nat Caldwell, a reporter for The Nashville Tennessean, said "some fairly high level people" at the Bureau of Mines would be named coconspirators. These suits, he said, are being prepared.

Caldwell has investigated coal-mine operations in Eastern Tennessee and Western Kentucky for his newspaper. He told of the suits during testimony on a bill that would extend the federal mine-safety laws to mines employing fewer than 15 men.

He said the legislation is being pushed by the United Mine Workers of America and the big coal operators to force small mines out of business.

When Caldwell said he is convinced the Bureau of Mines would help shut down the small operators and added that the bureau's policy was "interwoven" with that of the U. M. W.'s, Representative James Roosevelt (D., Cal.), who was presiding, asked if he could document the charge.

Caldwell then told of the suits, saying they would "bring into the open the partisanship of the Bureau of Mines and its representatives." The federal officials, he said, used their inspection powers to try to force coal operators to join the union.

Caldwell also delivered what Representative Charles E. Goodell (R., N. Y.) called a "scathing indictment" of the U. M. W. Caldwell said the union used its members' money to buy its way into control of the coal industry and is now doing away with its members' jobs by financing automa-

MULLINS FAMILY

A letter from William A. Mullins, 12 Regency street, Ravenswood, Virginia, asks for information on the antecedents of a Marshall Mullins who came to Floyd county in the first part of the last century.

He writes: "From the information I have on Marshall Mullins, he was born in Virginia in 1808, came to Floyd county, Kentucky, between 1808 and 1840, married an Oly . . . I don't know her last name. They married, probably in 1841. Oly was born 1825 in Kentucky. My great-grandfather, Squire, was born in Floyd county in 1842, his brother Lewis also in 1844.

"Marshall's family moved to Logan county, Virginia, now Winding Gulf, Wyoming county, West Virginia. Marshall's mother, Tempy, moved with them. She was born in North Carolina in 1789. In 1847 Preston was born in Logan county, Virginia.

"I have been told that Marshall's father was named Tucker Mullins but have found no proof of this. Just a few weeks ago I was in Pikeville and Prestonsburg. I found a Marshall Mullins married Rebecca Vanover in Pike county in 1841."

GOBLE FAMILY

A letter from Henry M. Spalding, Jr., 119 W. Castle Lane, San Antonio 13, Texas, inquires about the Goble and Sellards family.

"My maternal grandparents came from Floyd county, Kentucky, and I am trying to trace my ancestry. I hope that you (or your readers) might be able to help us.

"My great-grandfather was Armstrong Goble and I understand that he came originally from Martin county into Floyd county and lived on Buffalo Creek. He married Amanda (or Melinda) Sellards, and they had five daughters and one son. We know the names of only four of the daughters, Sarah, Minnie, Clara and Susan. The son, who was my grandfather, was John Henry Goble.

"We believe that one of the daughters remained in Floyd county and married and that Armstrong and the rest of the family moved to Minnesota around 1865 or 1870. They moved to Texas about 1875.

"If you have any information regarding either the Goble or Sellards families I would appreciate hearing from you. We wish to find out the names of the parents of Armstrong Goble and his wife and where they came from and the name of the daughter who remained in Floyd county. Also, we would like the names and addresses of any relatives who still live in the area."

ALONZO HOLBROOK

Many have asked this column to continue to publish biographies from Kniffen, Perrin and Battle's History of Kentucky, as the volume, published in 1937 is rare and almost unavailable except in the larger libraries.

The following biography of Alonzo Holbrook is by special request. "Alonzo Holbrook, a native of Johnson county, Kentucky, was born November 5, 1851. He is a son of James and Sarah Lyon Holbrook. James Holbrook, his father, was born in Russell county, Virginia, March 1, 1829. January 27, 1851, he married Sarah Lyon, who was born June 11, 1829, and died February 4, 1870. James Holbrook came to Kentucky with his father and settled in Lawrence county, Kentucky, in 1839, where he was a farmer. Later he removed to Johnson county, Ky., where he reared a family but is now a resident, a farmer and a merchant of Lawrence county, Kentucky. He was a son of Pleasant and Sarah Jordan Holbrook, the former of whom was born in Russell county, Virginia, in 1805. They married in the same county February 4, 1827. Pleasant Holbrook died May 5, 1885, and his wife Sarah died February 19, 1885.

FOREST FIRE SEASON COMING; MATLICK URGES CAUTION

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 23 (Sp.) — Kentucky's fall forest fire season officially begins October 1, State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick warned today.

Several Kentucky statutes go into effect on that date, he said, to last throughout the fall fire season, which ends December 31. These laws prohibit the setting of fires near woodland or brushland during the season except between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and midnight or when the land is covered by snow. Setting any fires without taking proper precautions to prevent their spread is prohibited.

"These laws were made to protect Kentucky's woodlands," Matlick said, "and we are taking every possible step to see that they are enforced.

"We experienced the most severe spring forest fire season on record this year, and while weather conditions were responsible for the extent of the fires, man was responsible for starting them. Strict adherence to the laws governing fires will result in far less damage to Kentucky's timber," he said.

Matlick pointed out that his department's Forestry Division has stepped up law enforcement activities in an attempt to cut down on the number of fires this fall.

Gene L. Butcher, State Forestry Division director, said other steps are being taken to get the state's fire fighting operation in top condition.

Mechanical fire fighting units, stored at a central location in each of the state's nine forestry districts, have been repaired and overhauled and are being assigned to specific areas within the district close to potential fire areas.

Training classes will be held in each district during the next two

Premium Money Paid 39 Local State Fairs; Floyd Fails To Qualify

Reduced rates on property damage insurance premiums will bring an estimated savings of over $1 million to Kentucky residents, State Insurance Commissioner J. Elliott Flanery has announced.

The rate reduction became effective September 16. Largest savings—ranging from 27 to 77 per cent—will go to farmowners in reduced rates for wood shingle roofs under the Farmowners Package Program. Also, a 20 per cent reduction will apply to farm barns and outbuildings, tobacco barns, brooder houses and connected structures, and silos, Flanery said.

A seven per cent reduction in over-all basic policy premiums for all forms of homeowners insurance also went into effect September 16. This change includes removal of charges for swimming and wading pools, and outboard motors of less than 25 horsepower.

STRAWBERRIES

With the passing of each week, the time to set strawberries grows closer. Now is the time to make a decision on acreage to be set next spring. Each grower must make the decision for himself. Several growers have shown that with the proper care, strawberries are about as profitable as tobacco, and requires less investment to get started. There is no excuse for any farmer in the county not to have a cash crop. Strawberries can be grown by anyone, there is no allotment as there is for tobacco.

Breathitt continued. He added that when Nunn was invited to testify as to what he knew before the Floyd county grand jury he refused, "admitted that he knew nothing—nothing whatever about bootlegging in Floyd county."
"In brief, my opponent admits that he attempted to destroy the good name and character of the fine Kentucky county of Kentucky's governor. I say truth is becoming a central issue in this campaign—more and more so, every day."
The Democratic nominee said that when Gov. Combs agreed to support him for the governorship he asked one assurance of him and that was that all his Eastern Kentucky programs be completed.
"I assured him I would and I now assure you solemnly that I intend to do that," Breathitt added.
He brought a Kentucky Colonel's commission from Gov. Combs for Dr. Mark Dempsey, veteran Garrett physician. It was presented to the 88-year-old physician to heavy applause from the crowd.

Harry Lee Waterfield, Democratic nominee for lieutenant-governor, was unable to be present as originally scheduled.

Ever since Bob Harlow told this yarn, I've been trying to get at a way of telling it without calling in an artist to illustrate it with the gestures he used. Let's see if it can be done.
These three guys are sitting on a park bench. One is engaged in casting an imaginary plug far out, then reeling it back in while the man next to him watches every move intently as he casts out, then retrieves his lure. The third man sits staring straight ahead.
Finally, a park policeman ambles up, sees the pantomime, props his hands on his knees and watches the invisible plug sail out, the reeling in, the cast, and so on. Finally he goes over to the man who isn't having any part of the act and inquires, "What do those guys think they're doing?"
"Fishin'," is the reply.
The cop looks again, then asks, "Don't you think those fellows are slightly off their rockers?"
"Could be," says the third man who continues to gaze straight ahead.
"Believe we oughta run 'em in, don't you?" the policeman suggests.
Whereupon the third man replies, "O.K. by me—crawl in," and you can hear the oars rattle as he bends forward and goes through his own pantomime.

THE UNILLUSTRATED VERSION
Ever since Bob Harlow told this yarn, I've been trying to get at a way of telling it without calling in an artist to illustrate it with the gestures he used. Let's see if it can be done.
These three guys are sitting on a park bench. One is engaged in casting an imaginary plug far out, then reeling it back in while the man next to him watches every move intently as he casts out, then retrieves his lure. The third man sits staring straight ahead.
Finally, a park policeman ambles up, sees the pantomime, props his hands on his knees and watches the invisible plug sail out, the reeling in, the cast, and so on. Finally he goes over to the man who isn't having any part of the act and inquires, "What do those guys think they're doing?"
"Fishin'," is the reply.
The cop looks again, then asks, "Don't you think those fellows are slightly off their rockers?"
"Could be," says the third man who continues to gaze straight ahead.
"Believe we oughta run 'em in, don't you?" the policeman suggests.
Whereupon the third man replies, "O.K. by me—crawl in," and you can hear the oars rattle as he bends forward and goes through his own pantomime.

Insurance Costs Reduced By Recent State Action; Rates Effective Sept. 16

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 17 (Spl.) — Kentucky residents can expect to save over $1 million annually in property damage insurance premiums after September 16, State Insurance Commissioner J. Elliott Flanery has announced.

The largest savings—ranging from 27 to 77 per cent—will go to farm-owners in reduced rates for wood shingle roofs under the Farmowners Package Program. Also, a 20 per cent reduction will apply to farm barns and outbuildings, tobacco barns, brooder houses and connected structures, and silos. Changes in the rating plan for better type farm dwellings will bring additional savings, Flanery said.

A seven per cent reduction in overall basic policy premiums for all forms of homeowners insurance will also go into effect September 16. This change will include removal of charges for swimming and wading pools, and outboard motors of less than 25 horsepower. Also, the charges for outboard motors larger than 25 horsepower will be reduced.

NOTICE

On and after this date I will not be responsible for any debts incurred by anyone other than myself.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again—for '64

Today... Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—one of 15 Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolets.

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). And quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delco-tron generator, self-adjusting brakes and other low-upkeep features. If you've ever wondered how luxurious Chevrolet could get—with all the extra-cost options there are to choose from—that's entirely up to you.

CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior of its Body by Fisher gives you a generous supply of passenger and luggage room. The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp V8 (optional at extra cost). Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series, eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's. (This good-looking Malibu Super Sport maybe?)

Fitzpatrick Pledges Sigma Chi Fraternity

A Floyd county student, Richard Eugene Fitzpatrick, was among the 239 University of Kentucky students who pledged to UK social fraternities this fall. Under the University's current "rush" program, a student cannot pledge to a fraternity until he has established a good scholastic standing. A fraternity must maintain a scholastic average equal to the all-campus average, a figure invariably higher than the average for all men students. Fitzpatrick, son of Mrs. Opal Fitzpatrick, of West Prestonsburg, was pledged to Sigma Chi fraternity. A graduate of Prestonsburg high school, he is a freshman arts and sciences major at UK.

Music Program Presented At Maytown Flower Show By Band, College Group

One of the highlights of the annual fall flower show, which was held at Maytown Sunday, was the musical program presented by the Maytown high school band, under the direction of Doug Smith, and the talented group representing the Pikeville College Music Department. Mr. Smith directed the band in numbers ranging from modern dance tunes to band marches. Following the band's presentations, Mrs. Lillie Justus, a member of the Pikeville College music faculty, introduced the students and delighted the audience with her own charm and wit. The boys and girls who performed are vocal and instrumental students at the college but are also private students of Mrs. Justus and Miss Bette Miller, who played the piano accompaniment for the young people. Terry Blackburn, baritone, sang, "What A Fool Am I." Paul Hoover, also a baritone, sang a selection from "Camelot." Julia Damron, pianist, gave a solo performance; and Mary Lou Pierce, soprano, rendered three well-presented selections.

LIMELIGHT IS SHARED BY TIGERS, CAVALIERS

Paintsville's unbeaten Tigers and the once-beaten Jenkins Cavaliers continue to share the Eastern Kentucky high school football limelight. Walter Brugh's Johnson countians waltzed over Raceland, 32-0, for their third successive triumph overall and their first in regional play.

The Jenkins Cavaliers, after being outplayed for the first 15 minutes, turned the tables in the last half to maul Prestonsburg, 46-0, and take a full game lead over Elkhorn City in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference race and a half-game lead over M. C. Napier in District Two of Class AA, Region Four.

The Cougars from Elkhorn City bounced M. C. Napier, 33-0, for their third triumph against a lone setback by Jenkins, and Gene Davis' Pikeville Panthers bounced witless Wheelwright, 33-0.

Whitesburg, Hazard and Belfry were all idle.

Paintsville tallied its touchdowns in the first three quarters in pasting Raceland with its third loss in four tries. Senior halfback D. B. Kazee scored three touchdowns to run his three-game total to 55 points, highest in the area. The other Tiger markers came on a pass from quarterback Bobby Porter to halfback James Smith and a jaunt by Paul Pack.

Jenkins used a long pass and fumble to take a 13-0 halftime lead over visiting Prestonsburg. Midway the second period quarterback Phil Greer tossed a long pass and Black Cat halfback David Miller apparently knocked the ball toward the ground but Ernie England grabbed it before it hit and sped the remaining ten yards to paydirt.

Then, on the ensuing series, a Prestonsburg fumble gave the Cavaliers the ball on the 22 and Jimmy Elswick scored two plays later. In the final half the Cavaliers scored five touchdowns, three on pass interceptions inside the Prestonsburg 25-yard line, and two on medium runs by speedy halfback Buddy Hayes.

Quarterback Jim Shepherd paced Elkhorn City over M. C. Napier in a league tilt as he scored two touchdowns and two extra points. Kelly Marinoro, junior halfback, and senior fullback Bobby Brooks also registered touchdowns.

Wheelwright took a 6-0 first period lead over Pikeville on Robert Jackson's nine-yard touchdown trek, but the Panthers came back in the second period with two touchdowns and one in the third and two in the fourth for the 33-6 triumph.

Junior quarterback Neil Smith passed for three touchdowns and scored two himself.

The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club launched a new club-year last Monday evening at the clubhouse with a program on "Moral and Spiritual Values," conducted by Mrs. Richard Vinson. "A man's wealth cannot be judged by the abundance of his earthly possessions," emphasized Mrs. Vinson. Quoting from the Scriptures, she advised her hearers "to lay up for themselves treasures in heaven, where moth and rust doth not corrupt and where thieves cannot break through and steal." Stressing the benefits to be derived from a full spiritual life and illustrating how God can change lives if permitted, Mrs. Vinson reminded her listeners how God makes the lily to grow so beautifully from its lowly beginning in the muck and dirt of the earth. Following the program, a business session was conducted by the club president, Mrs. S. M. Martin, after which a dessert course was served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, Mrs. Mike Staley, and Mrs. Charles Collins.

Ward Warns Practice Of Garbage Disposal Costs State Large Sum

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 17 (Spl.) — "Garbage sneaks" is the tag applied by state highway officials to those people who fill highway litter barrels with household garbage.

"This practice is costing the taxpayers of Kentucky thousands of dollars, because men and equipment are being pulled away from other important highway duties," Highway Commissioner Henry Ward said.

Highway personnel and equipment are dispatched daily to many areas of Kentucky to empty litter barrels filled with household garbage. Before the barrels were emptied once a week.

"The purpose of litter barrels," said Maintenance Director T. J. Hoggood, "is for refuse that motorists need to deposit in order to keep highways and right-of-ways clean."

At present, it is costing Kentuckians over $168,000 a year for highway crews to pick up litter along the highways. And this unnecessary expense is increased by "garbage sneaks" who fill litter barrels with household trash, Ward added.

In order to keep Kentucky's roads clean, crews throughout the 12 highway districts are constantly picking up paper, bottles and cans; placing more "No Dumping" signs; removing junked and abandoned vehicles from right-of-ways; and adding more litter barrels.

Other steps taken by the Department to improve the appearance of Kentucky's roads are the planting of trees; reseeded bare and eroded areas; reconditioning picnic tables and other equipment in roadside parks; and spraying and cutting brush.

"If the 'litter-bug' and 'garbage sneak' could be stamped out, Kentucky could build more miles of much needed roads," Ward said.

DENSE MATERIALS SHIELD AGAINST NUCLEAR THREAT

Dense materials that shield you from radiation after a nuclear attack are, of course, highly desirable. But many misconceptions are circulating regarding such materials, says Kenneth Evans, U. K. Ag Extension Service civil defense specialist.

For instance: Lead is a very good shielder against radiation. But, Evans says, who can build a house of lead sheets which are from two inches to three inches thick? So lead actually is impractical as a complete shielder, he noted. Even expensive in sheets and very heavy.

How about steel? A very good shielder, Evans admits — but it takes about eight inches of solid steel to get absolute protection. Again, a steel house (or steel roof) eight inches thick is virtually impossible.

However, 20½ inches of concrete will give A-1 protection. This is more in line with practical protection. Some persons could afford a house of concrete walls (but not roof) that thick. Many more could build a fallout shelter with a 20-inch concrete roof provided care was taken in structural design and the actual building. But many persons have basement walls which are from 12 to 20 inches thick already. This furnishes excellent protection if windows and doors are sandbagged.

How about wood? Again, possible but not practical. It takes about eight feet of solid wood to give the same protection as 24 inches of concrete.

However, about 31 inches of earth give the same protection. And in many areas, old-time storm cellars or root cellars have three to five feet of earth on top of them.

Thus, a shelter buried three to four feet in the ground (and properly built to protect against collapse, and provide ventilation and drainage) is more practical and probable for many persons.

Simply put, using any of these maximum protection materials: If the radiation level outside was 2,000 Roentgens (a measure of radiation), it would be reduced to about four-tenths of one Roentgen by the time it had gone through eight inches of steel, 20½ inches of concrete, 31 inches of earth or eight feet of wood.

Evans emphasizes that in an area where most citizens are quite a distance from the few prime targets in the state, the maximum shielding protection as listed above is not really needed.

Car Worries? Never! "I don't know the first thing about taking care of an automobile," says Mrs. Stan Musial, wife of the great St. Louis Cardinals star. "But that doesn't matter, because I know

I can count on our Phillips 66 dealer to take care of the car for me. I can do my own housekeeping, but he does my car-keeping. And he does a great job of it, too!"

"Service? It's really first-class at Phillips 66," says Mrs. Stan Musial

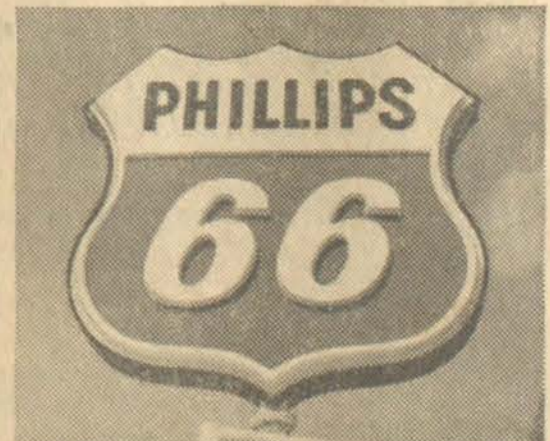

Service? First-class! Lillian Musial — like so many other women — appreciates the prompt, cheerful service you can expect at the Phillips 66 Shield. "It makes such a difference to have a dealer you can depend on," she says. "Stan thinks Phillips service is first-class. I agree!"

Clean and modern! Women—even more than men—like the clean, modern look of Phillips 66 stations. "I may not know anything about cars, but I do know when a rest room is neat and clean," says Mrs. Musial. "Jean and I always look for that 'Certified Clean' sign."

Credit—for everything! One of the best things about having a Phillips 66 dealer do the car-keeping is that you can always use a Phillips credit card. "A credit card is not only convenient," says Stan the Man, "it also gives you a complete record for tax purposes."

Why don't you take a tip from Stan and Lillian Musial? For first-class service and products... go Phillips 66! (It costs no more)
