This Town... That World

Out of sorts and feeling grouchy? Just remember that the crustier the pie, the less the filling.

The latest going the rounds at The Long Branch is the one about the fellow who bought a new boomerang and drove himself crazy trying to throw his old one away.

A POX ON THE CRITICS!

Think I'll stop reading Time Magazine's reviews of television shows. It doesn't do me any good to learn that most of the programs I like are to these high-brow boys "trite," "too pat," or plain on their way to limbo. They're the guys who call a good, old-fashioned hymn "silly" and would trade off "Gunslinger" in a minute for one of these revue things which to me make as much sense as Madame Nhu did on Meet the Press.

NO FIRES—YET

I have many things to be thankful for. One of these is, I haven't seen a wisp of smoke rising from any of the hills hereabouts, marking the dropping of a careless match.

A BIRTHDAY COMING UP

Next week, if we survive till then, this newspaper will wind up its 35th year.

We shall, God willing, celebrate by getting another paper to bed and out onto the streets and into the mails. Perhaps it would be good for us and our readers, too, for us to get away from the old routine, do the flamboyant, crow a little and carry on, but we have had bad experiences preening, especially before a mirror. What we saw wasn't very satisfying.

But a birthday does pull one up a bit short, if he happens to be aware of it. You just can't help looking backward and reminiscing a bit... of that first press we had, the indestructible "Old Dave"... those who have worked here and moved on, some with the cryptic "30" written after their names... "Printer" Goble... the smell of ink which no longer registers so strongly... our first edition, hand written (I have a knot inside my right middle finger to this day which came from using a pencil)... mistakes, ludicrous mistakes... high-lights and shadows.

Tell me—where have all the years gone and why must they be in such a hurry about it?

GO TO THE HANDLEBARS

These race stories continue. This is the one about the drunk who fell afoul of the law and who loudly protested that he was cold sober. "I'll prove it to you," he told the cop. "I'll walk that white line."

And he did. Then he announced: "Just to show you, I'll walk that rail fence, too," and hopped onto the fence.

But, after taking a few steps, he slipped in the adjoining pasture a black bull. He leaped into the field, seized the critter by the horns, yanked them off, then turned to the officer in triumph.

"Think I'm drunk, do ya? You saw what I did to that nigger's bicycle, didn't ya?"

Hill Receives Award For Outstanding Paper Given At Charleston

Edward P. Hill, III, son of Circuit Judge and Mrs. Edward P. Hill, has received an award for contributing the outstanding paper at the 16th annual session last year of the Southeastern Association of Fish & Game Commissioners held at Charleston, South Carolina. The award was presented at this year's meeting of the Association, held October 1 at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Mr. Hill's paper covered the effects of decahene-peanut butter bait. (See Story No. 6, Page 7)

AIRPORT USE BY NOV. 15th, IS PREDICTION

Ky. Road Oiling Co. Begins Grade, Drain Of East Point Field

Burl Spurlock, chairman of the Prestonsburg-Pointsville Airport Commission, said this week that it is now hoped the airport under construction at Blockhouse Bottom, on the new Prestonsburg-Pointsville road (new U. S. 23), will be ready for use by November 15.

Grade and drain work on the project was begun Tuesday by the Kentucky Road Oiling Company. Surfacing will remain to be done. The grade and drain work is being done on a low bid of $18,180.

Grade and drain work includes removal of high places in the runway and filling of low spots left when the original fill was made. The fill material came mainly from excavation made in construction of the nearby highway.

The price to be paid for property condemned for the airport remains to be decided by the courts. Entry on the land was gained only after a spirited legal fight.

The landing field, which will serve the Prestonsburg-Pointsville area, is 3,800 feet long, and the landing strip, 2,800 feet in length, will accommodate two-engine planes.

Concrete surfacing of the highway which borders upon the air field and connects Pointsville with the Prestonsburg-Auxier route (new U. S. 23) has been completed, with the exception of minor details. Widening of the highway between Prestonsburg and Auxier at points where the original road-bed broke off continues and will not be completed till late this year or early next, it was said.

Dedication of the Campton-Salyersville extension of the Mountain Parkway has been set for November 1.

PERKINS ASKS AID INCREASE

Authorization Sought For Public Work Jobs; Access Road Need Noted

The House Public Works Committee was urged last week by Congressman Carl D. Perkins to increase the authorization for the Accelerated Public Works program from $999 million to $1.3 billion.

Perkins said that the program started by Congress in the last session had already demonstrated its value to economically distressed communities in building the kind of facilities absolutely necessary to attract and develop commercial and industrial enterprises. A large number of the communities of Eastern Kentucky have, for the first time, a means by which basic community public works can be obtained. Sewage treatment facilities, sewage collection systems, city street construction, and public buildings have been approved for many communities of Eastern Kentucky.

The importance of making Accelerated Public Works monies available for extensive road construction work in Eastern Kentucky was stressed by Perkins. While some of the Accelerated Public Works funds appropriated by Congress to date have been used in constructing the extension of the Mountain Parkway and in improving roads in the Cumberland National Forest area, Perkins said that much more extensive development of access roads was (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

Hold-Up Man Receives Sentence In Beating Of Mrs. Nora Matthews

Trial of Herman Pondexter, holdup man who robbed and beat Mrs. Nora Matthews, former Beaver postmistress, July 2 at her grocery store at Oak Grove, Ky., was held Wednesday of last week and resulted in conviction with a life sentence.

Mrs. Matthews, who was robbed of $100 in cash and suffered two skull fractures from the assault, was hospitalized several weeks at the Vanderbilt University hospital, Nashville.

The case was tried at Hopkinsville, Ky.

PRATT TRIAL IS POSTPONED

Mrs. Scarberry Victim In Highway Accident; Children Hospitalized

Examining trial of Grover Pratt for the fatal shooting of Phyllis Sears at Garrett, the night of October 3, was postponed from Monday till Friday because of the death in an auto wreck of an aunt of the victim in Ohio.

The auto victim, Mrs. Victoria Collins Scarberry, 33, of Nelsonville, Ohio, was killed instantly at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, seven miles north of Oak Hill, Ohio, as she was returning home from this county after attending the funeral of Miss Sears.

Also killed in the wreck, a head-on collision of automobiles on Ohio State Route, 93, was Earl Edwards, 64, Carbondale, Ohio. Mrs. Scarberry's four children, ranging in age from 2 to 11, were hospitalized, as also were three occupants of a car with which Edwards' auto collided.

It was said that Edwards' auto swerved to the left side of the highway, hitting a car driven by 15-year-old Larry McMann, of Columbus.

A native of Johnson county, Mrs. Scarberry was a daughter of Henry and Dolly Spradlin, both of Melvin. Besides her parents, she leaves four children, Richard, Heston, Betty and Barbara Scarberry, all of Nelsonville, Ohio; two brothers and five sisters, Glenn and Charles Collins, Thelma Rose and Mavis Vanhose, all of Melvin, Pauline Prtridge, Detroit, Michigan, Charlene Simpson, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and Ethel Curtis, Louisville.

The body of Mrs. Scarberry was returned to the home at Melvin of her parents where funeral rites were conducted Tuesday by ministers of the Regular Baptist Church. Burial in the Tackett cemetery was directed by the Merion Funeral Chapel.

MOORE MAKES SUICIDE TRY

Knife-Slayer Committed To Lexington Hospital After Slashing Throat

Following his reported attempt to take his own life, B. E. (Buck) Moore, Pikeville, knife-slayer of his wife, Essie Cross Moore, 55, was committed Monday to Eastern State hospital, Lexington.

A warrant charging Moore with the murder of his wife was issued last week, shortly after her funeral. He was removed from the Methodist hospital, where he had been under guard since the night of the slaying, to the Pike county jail. Then, last Friday, he slashed his throat and was again taken to the (See Story No. 3, Page 3)

CHINQUAPIN NUTS DISTRIBUTED FOR SEED BY PRESTONSBURG MAN

Arthur Hughes, Prestonsburg store manager, is rapidly becoming known as Mr. Chinquapin. He became interested in the rare tree, which bears a fruit similar to a chestnut, ten years ago. Since then he has successfully propagated the tree and given away thousands of nuts for planting.

Hughes, who is a native of the Shelby Creek section, Pike county, found a few specimens of the tree growing on the home farm. His efforts to make the tree more widespread have resulted in 2,650 persons being supplied with nuts for planting. More than 2,200 of these have been given away in Floyd county. He has 450 nuts planted now to grow seedlings.

Many people confuse the chinquapin with the pin oak, Hughes says. The pin oak, a rarity in this section also, has a slightly bitter nut that is shaped differently. The chinquapin nut is a miniature chestnut in shape but the pin oak is about one-half inch long and round.

The nuts ripen in August and continue to do so for six weeks, Hughes says. He is experimenting with three varieties, all ripening at different times.

The chinquapin, or as is often correctly spelled "chinkapin" for Webster gives you a choice, is a slow growing tree and when mature resembles the pin oak in appearance.

CLUB VOTES SCHOLARSHIP

At Community College; Funds Are Earmarked At Thursday Meeting

The Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club last Thursday evening approved the recommendation of its board of directors that the club establish a $250-a-year scholarship at Prestonsburg Community College.

Money for the first scholarship was earmarked at the meeting, and plans for raising the fund in future years were adopted. The Kiwanis Club scholarship will be for a graduate of Prestonsburg high school, and the annual grant will be made on recommendation of a scholarship committee appointed by the president of the club.

The club this evening (Thursday) will hear a Boy Scout program led by C. L. Hutsinpiiler, who will introduce some local leaders and Perry Jackson, of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America. The annual election of club officers and directors also will be held.

ARH POLICY PLANS TOLD

Public Tax Fund Aid Will Not Be Sought; Program Hopes Noted

Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc., which is operating the McDowell hospital and four others acquired from the U.M.W.A. Retirement and Welfare Fund, does not consider asking for city or county financial support out of tax funds for the hospitals.

This statement was made last week-end at Middlesboro by Dr. Karl Klicka, executive administrator of the regional hospital organization, during a series of meetings held to discuss hospital policies with doctors. (See Story No. 8, Page 7)

CLERK NOTES REGISTRANTS

Eligible List Totals 24,119, Robinson Says; District One In Lead

County Clerk C. Ollie Robinson this week released figures showing that 24,119 Floyd county citizens are eligible to vote in the November 5 election. (Past voting records indicate that not many more than half that total will vote.)

The heaviest concentration of registered voters lies in Magisterial District 1 where 8,152 are eligible, with District 3's 7,049 next in numbers. District 4 has 4,638 registered to vote, and District 2 is smallest with 4,280.

The two legislative districts of the county, the County Clerk's figures show, are pretty evenly apportioned as to voting strength. District 95 has 12,432 registered voters, while District 96 has 11,687.

Largest of the voting precincts is John Ant (McDowell) where 963 are eligible to vote. Lee Hall (Wheelwright) is next with 863. Bosco is third with 854, edging out Mouth of Beaver (Allen) by one registered voter.

Prestonsburg is divided into six voting precincts, but some of these, Robinson noted, extend beyond the city limits. He set the number of registered voters within the corporate limits of Prestonsburg at 3,465.

(The voter registration in Prestonsburg approximates the total population counted for the city in the last federal census.)

The Republican party is offering opposition in only two races counted in this county. W. J. (Bill) Reynolds, Jr., Democrat, is opposed for Representative in District 95 by Ben Ferguson, Jr., Republican, and in the Circuit Clerk's race Frank DeRossett, Democratic nominee, is opposed by Paul Akers, Republican.

In addition to the state and county tickets, voters in five Floyd towns will have an opportunity to mark ballots for city officials, but only in Prestonsburg are these local campaigns enlivened by the presence of more than one ticket on the ballot. Here the line-up of candidates for City Council is:

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PARTY—T. J. (Jody) Fannin, Winston (Sonny) Ford, Jr., E. B. Leslie, E. B. (Junior) May, Tom O. McGuire, Byron Nunery, H. G. Salsbury, Jr., Clifford E. Wright.

PEOPLE'S PARTY—W. M. May, Virgil (Cowboy) Griffith, Henry Howard, Fred Martin, Henry Messenger.

BEE HIVE TICKET—Oscar Wallen.

Unopposed in other towns are these slates of candidates:

MARTIN (Open Book Ticket)—John Roberts for Mayor; for City Council—Eddie Greer, Dave Chaffins, Elliott B. Skeans, Walker Hamilton, Earl Branham, Willis Hall.

WAYLAND (Open Book), for Council—H. H. Craft, Charles Hughes, William Greathouse, Willard Ratliff, Bobby Joe Castle.

WHEELWRIGHT (People's Party), for Council—Landon Rowe, Jr., Herbert Smith, Joseph Perrano, Vern M. Bailey, Steve Benedict.

ALLEN (People's Party), for Council—Earl M. Allen, Vernon Porter, Bill Parsons, Galloway Lafferty, Grover Rowe.

ABC Agents and State Police Arrest Eleven In Rum Raids

Re-Name Mrs. Stumbo

The reappointment of Mrs. John Milton Stumbo, of McDowell, to serve for another term as Floyd county Memorial Gifts chairman for the Kentucky Heart Association has been announced by Charles R. DeSpain, Bardstown, KHA board chairman.

Dr. Archer Appointed To Breathitt Committee; 60 State Mayors Named

Mayor George P. Archer of Prestonsburg, this week was named to a statewide mayor's committee for Edward T. "Ned" Breathitt and Harry Lee Waterfield, Democratic nominees for governor and lieutenant governor.

Announcement of the appointment was made in Louisville by Foster Ockerman, Democratic state campaign chairman, and Mack Walters, state co-chairman.

Archer was one of the 60 Kentucky mayors named to the committee. The group in a statement urged voters to support Breathitt and the entire Democratic ticket.

They said the Democratic ticket has a "sound, progressive program" that would enable Kentucky "to push forward economically and culturally."

STRIP MINE SUIT LOST

Swinford Strikes Down Contention of Roberts; U. S. Had Entered Case

The Pike county suit in which a landowner contended his rights under the 14th Amendment have been violated by strip-mining was lost Monday in the U. S. district court at Pikeville.

"The court cannot subscribe to the plaintiff's position that his rights in this case arise under the 14th Amendment due-process clause," Judge Swinford held.

His ruling came in a suit brought last year by Elbert Roberts, of Marrowbone Creek, against the Twin Forks Coal Company, Pikeville.

Roberts sued to halt the company from strip and auger mining on land he owns in Pike county. While Roberts owned the surface of the land, the coal beneath was owned by the Big Sandy Company, a New Jersey corporation.

Twin Forks was mining the coal under a lease from the Big Sandy Company.

The government entered the case earlier this year as a friend of the court in Roberts' behalf, claiming that strip and auger mining was destructive to the national resources.

Directly involved in Roberts' complaint was the so called broad-form deed, a legal instrument used in the Eastern Kentucky coalfields at the turn of the century to sever mineral rights from surface rights.

Clauses in the deed gave the mineral owners virtually complete control over the surface to obtain the minerals. These clauses have come (See Story No. 9, Page 3)

Two state agencies cooperated Sunday in a sudden wide-scale attack on Floyd county bootlegging, making a heavy haul of intoxicants and arresting 11 persons.

It was the second strike made in force by state officers, the first having been made July 3. In between that date and last Sunday, State Police have continued to harass bootleggers, making almost weekly raids and arrests on a smaller front.

The first and all subsequent raids have been made to carry out Governor Combs' declared policy of "keeping the heat on" bootlegging in the county.

FIFTY ENTER PPK CONTEST

Slated Here Saturday; Lions Club, Co-Sponsor Of Football Competition

More than 50 grade school entrants in the Punt, Pass and Kick contest will test their football skill Saturday afternoon at the Prestonsburg high school athletic field. Similar competition will be going on nationally in a country-wide program.

First prizes of Cleveland Browns warm-up jackets will be given winners in each of the five age groups with football helmets and autographed footballs for second and third place winners. The contest is under the direction of Bert Dixon, Prestonsburg coach, and is sponsored by the Prestonsburg Lions Club and Bruce Walters Ford agency.

Boys age eight through 11 are eligible to compete, it is said.

Dixon, in commenting on the contest, said that competitors will punt, pass and kick (using a kicking tee) footballs. Scores will be determined by awarding a point for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly and by subtracting a point for each foot the ball lands to the left or right of the center line. Distances will be measured by the half-foot and half points awarded or subtracted. Any ties will be played off at the end of the program.

Scores of the winners will be wired to the National Punt, Pass and Kick headquarters, for comparison and determination of state and area winners. The winners in each age group in the 14 areas—the areas being set up in line with the television coverage of the 14 National Football League teams—will compete during half-time celebrations at NFL games, and eight finalists will compete at the National Football League championship game, after a trip to Washington, D. C., and to Dearborn, Michigan, where the Henry Ford Centennial is being commemorated.

All-expense trips to the NFL games for area winners and their fathers and mothers, and all-expense trips to Washington and to Dearborn, and the NFL championship game for the finalists and their parents, will be provided by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company, which cosponsors Punt, Pass and Kick with the National Football League.

Each of the defendants was placed under $500 bond to appear for trial in quarterly court here, October 18, but the trial date later was set ahead till November 8 when it was learned that County Attorney Barkley Sturgill had made a prior commitment to take part in a safety conference on the original date set for the hearings.

UK WOOD-USE CENTER DEDICATION SLATED

The University of Kentucky's new $642,000 wood-use demonstration center at the Robinson Experiment Substation in Breathitt county will be dedicated at 10 a.m. Saturday, October 19.

Dr. W. A. Seay, dean of the U.K. College of Agriculture, announcing the ceremonies, said the center will be completed soon.

On the program with Dr. Seay will be Governor Bert T. Combs, Congressman Carl Perkins, W. L. Batt, Jr., Washington, administrator of the Area Redevelopment Administration, Mrs. Marie Turner, Breathitt County Board of Education, Dr. A. D. Albright, vice-president of the University of Kentucky, and Gilbert E. Brown, acting head of the U.K. Department of Forestry.

Brown said that in addition to the state and federal officials, more than 400 Eastern Kentucky sawmillers are expected, with representatives of the State Farm Bureau Federation and officials of the state departments of Commerce, Conservation and Vocational Education.

The new wood-use center, designed to help Eastern Kentucky make full use of timber resources, resulted from action of state and federal agencies to improve the total economy of the region. Through its Eastern Kentucky Resources Development Project, the University was given a grant of $642,000 from the Area Development Administration to establish the center.

The center consists of three sections. On substation grounds at Quicksand is a wood processing, seasoning, preserving and charcoalizing plant. At the University's nearly 15,000-acre Robinson forest are logging, sawmilling and timber management facilities. In addition there later will be established a demonstration market yard.

The center and its facilities will be used to demonstrate logging and sawmill equipment and efficient methods in processing, utilizing and marketing timber. It also will direct market explorations and development, provide educational and consultant services to wood processors, search for new uses of wood, and provide many other services to those concerned with upgrading forest and timber production.

In addition, the center through its forestry school now in process at Robinson Forest, will train and retrain workers for jobs in timber harvesting and wood use industries, and as forester assistants.

BARRED FROM SCHOOLS, WORKERS MARK TIME

Nine Christian workers who have spent a total of 190 years visiting Floyd county schools, reading and teaching the Bible and conducting devotional periods which included prayer and the singing of hymns, are finding the days dragging slowly this fall as they find the Supreme Court barring the way back to the schoolroom.

They are anxious to be at work, and residents of the county are expressing their concern about the suspension of their activities by signing petitions requesting that these women and men be permitted to return to continue their non-denominational work in the schools.

(See coupon provided for reader's convenience on Page 2, Section 2, this edition of The Times.)

One of those who has been in the county longest visited 16 schools a week, and because some of these schools were of more than one room had 24 weekly appointments. Two others, working together, had a schedule covering from 25 to 30 schools but not all these were made weekly. The same sort of pace has been maintained by others.

Said one teacher: "This program in our school has always been one of the highlights of the week. Discontinuance of the work is a cause of regret, not only with the teacher's but, more importantly, with the children. For many it was the only religious instruction they had."

Another teacher said, "Some of my children never heard a prayer uttered till this man came to our school."

Names of the workers who are hoping to resume the service of many years and the years each has served in this county follow:

Rev. Fred McGinnis, 30; Rev. C. H. Furman, 28; Rev. Carl Ruppelt, 29; Miss Anna M. Woods, 23; Miss Myrtle Pugsley, 20; Miss Ruth Siple, 17; Miss Sarah Helmantoler, 16; Miss Barbara Wynsma, 15; Miss Lois Holmquist, 13.

A portion of the new four-lane Lake Drive here (U.S. 23) is shown as work nears completion.

The wound, though not serious, required a dozen stitches. A piece of razor blade is believed to have been used in slashing himself.

Examining trial was set for Monday, but in the meantime his commitment to Eastern State was recommended by the Pike county health doctor, it was said.

The 65-year-old Moore, a former Pike magistrate and ex-resident of this county, is accused of cutting his wife's throat at their home on U. S. 23, in the northern section of Pikeville, the night of October 5. At the time the slaying was discovered he appeared to be demented, and it was said that after his removal to the hospital he was incoherent. Mr. and Mrs. Moore were described by intimates as "an ideal couple."

MAYTOWN

ATTEND CLUB CONVENTION

Members from the Maytown Woman's Club who attended the recent Seventh district, K.F.W.C. meeting at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, were Mesdames Roland Burchett, Theodore Gibson, David Reed, Roy May and George Patton. Lt. Cmdr. D. A. Verich, of the USS Kitty Hawk, and five-year-old son, Peter Anthony, of San Diego, California, have recently spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Combs. Peter remained with his cousins, Paul and Angela, for an additional week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tavis Allen, of Columbus, Ohio, were visiting Mrs. Bertha Click and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Allen over the week-end. Rodney Click, who is employed in Columbus, accompanied them home. Mr. and Mrs. Allen are widely related in this area. While in this section, Mr. and Mrs. Allen also visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen, of Wayland, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart and children attended the homecoming game between Morehead and Murray at Morehead, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Felker entertained Lt. Cmdr. D. A. Verich and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Combs Friday evening. Mr. Felker's school friend is a roommate of Lt. Cmdr. Verich on board the aircraft carrier, USS Kitty Hawk.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Colvin, of Springfield, Ohio, spent the week-end with Mrs. Colvin's sisters, Mrs. Ed Stewart and Mrs. Claude Webb, and families.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Tallent were business visitors in Lexington, Tuesday.

Mrs. Tommy Jones underwent major surgery at the King's Daughters' hospital in Ashland recently. She is now recuperating at home.

Dennis Lumpkins is home on a 14-day leave from the U. S. Navy. Dennis is a 1963 graduate of Maytown high school and has completed his "boot camp" training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station. He will report to camp in Los Angeles following his leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patton have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sparks and children, of Lexington. Mr. and Mrs. Sparks moved to Lexington recently from Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Patton also visited Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Moore, of Mason, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crisp, of Maloney, Kentucky.

Miss Angela Combs, brother Paul, Peter Anthony Verich, II and Craig Felker celebrated her fourth birthday with several pony rides each at the riding stables at Dewey Lake. Cake and ice cream were served later at the swing and slide area at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patton, Kathy, Paul and Jerry were shopping in Huntington, Saturday.

Joan Hicks was visiting her sister Sandy, who is a senior at Morehead College, last week.

Ray Heinisch and son Terry were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stewart.

Mrs. Bertha Click had as her dinner guests last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Tavis Allen, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Allen, of Eastern, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen, of Middle Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Flint Osborne and Harold, of Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Robinson, Larry and James.

in for dispute in recent years, with the advent of widespread surface mining.

Roberts sought to bring his case before the federal courts on the premise that since rulings by the Kentucky Court of Appeals have consistently upheld the rights of the mineral owners, the state has in effect been a party to depriving him of his property in violation of the U. S. Constitution.

Judge Swinford ruled, however, that because Twin Forks is a private company with no state connections, the 14th Amendment does not permit federal court relief for Roberts.

The Supreme Court, he noted, has traditionally ruled the due-process provisions of the 14th Amendment "have no relevancy to the wrongdoings of private persons," but are instead, a "stricture on the conduct of state governments."

He noted that just recently one Supreme Court justice observed that to regard with 14th Amendment otherwise would completely appropriate to regulation by federal law all of the social and business affairs of private citizens."

It's easy to figure out about how many calories you need each day, say USDA food specialists. Multiply your desirable weight (obtained from a height-weight chart) by 21 for a man and by 18 for a woman. This gives the approximate number of calories used daily by a moderately-active adult. You'll probably need about a fourth more calories if you are very active and a fourth less if sedentary.

Morgan Retreat Marker Planned for Erection

A new historical highway marker, now being cast for Prestonsburg, will commemorate the retreat of Gen. John Hunt Morgan, Confederate raider, through Eastern Kentucky.

The marker will be erected in the near future by the Highway Department at some still to be selected roadside site.

On one side of the marker will be a map of Morgan's Kentucky raids and the other side will have the inscription:

"On tragic last Kentucky raid, CSA Gen. John H. Morgan and Raiders entered state June 1, 1864, took Mt. Sterling June 3, lost it on 9th, took Lexington on 10th, and Cynthia on 11th, USA under Gen. S. G. Burbridge defeated CSA next day. Morgan retreated through here, reaching Virginia, June 20. See map on other side. Raiders never recovered from this reverse."

This is the fourth historical highway marker scheduled for erection in Floyd county. The other three commemorate the Battle of Ivy Mountain, at Ivel, the Battle of Middle Creek, West Prestonsburg, and The Garfield Place, North Arnold Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patton have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sparks and children, of Lexington. Mr. and Mrs. Sparks moved to Lexington recently from Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Patton also visited Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Moore, of Mason, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crisp, of Maloney, Kentucky.

Southern Council Sets Fall Meet At Buckhorn; Lon B. Rogers To Speak

The Fall Regional meeting of the Council of Southern Mountains will be held Saturday at the Presbyterian Child Welfare Agency at Buckhorn, it was announced this week by Samuel Vander Meer, president of the organization.

Rev. Vander Meer will provide and entertainment will be provided by Miss Edna Ritchie, folk singer, of Piper, Kentucky. William R. Miller, resource development specialist, of Quicksand, will speak on "Is It True What They Say About Eastern Kentucky?"

Lon B. Rogers, Pikeville, board member of Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc., will discuss the former miners' hospital in the afternoon. The youth group will meet separately with James Gearheart, president of Kentucky Regional Youth Group, presiding. Following a business meeting of half an hour at 2 p.m. the meeting will adjourn.

GIBSON IN VIET NAM

Tan Son Nhut Airfield, Viet Nam—Staff Sergeant James E. Gibson, of Wheelwright, Ky., is now on duty with a United States Air Force advisory unit assisting the armed forces of Viet Nam in their fight against Communist aggression.

Sergeant Gibson, a crew chief, and other USAF personnel train and assist Vietnamese Air Force personnel in mastering various technical specialties necessary for maintaining modern military units.

The sergeant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Gibson of Wheelwright high school.

His wife is the former Myrtle M. Crisp, of Wheelwright.

BOOSTER CLUB TO MEET

The Prestonsburg Booster Club will meet today (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at the high school. All members and interested citizens are urged to attend this important meeting.

Blankets are needed for the Prestonsburg high school football players. Anyone who would like to donate a blanket, call 886-2191 or 886-2759 and it will be picked up.

Crude Oil Price Cuts Protested by Industry; State Study Is Asked

Crude oil reductions ranging from 15 to 18 cents a barrel in Western Kentucky and up to seven cents in Eastern Kentucky has been protested by George A. Hoffman, president of the Kentucky Oil & Gas Association.

W. W. Wallen, vice-president in charge of operations of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, Prestonsburg, is a vice-president of the Association.

Hoffman pointed out recently in a letter to Gov. Bert T. Combs that the price reduction will affect the economy of the state and will have an adverse effect on planning for future oil resources development and could lead to early abandonment of stripper wells which otherwise would remain in production.

The Association president requested Governor Combs to consider the appointment of a special committee to study the crude oil marketing situation in cooperation with similar committees from Illinois and Indiana.

O. C. Long, 90, Succumbs At Pikeville Hospital; Burial Made At Mayking

O. C. Long, 90, died Thursday of last week at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville. He was a son of Francis Marion Long and Elsie Jane Gose Long. He was a native of Morgan county.

Mr. Long, who had resided in this county for several years, was twice married. He was first married to Allie Chaney, who preceded him in death. His second wife, Mattie Fugate, died in 1952. He was a retired carpenter.

Surviving sons and a daughter are Forrest Long, of Martin, Ray Long and Mrs. Ora Cheek, both of Wayland. Surviving are a brother, J. Golf, and a sister, Fala, both of Elizabethtown, Tennessee.

Funeral rites were conducted Saturday at 1 p.m. from the First Baptist church at Mayking, Letcher county. Burial was made in the Mayking cemetery under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

cooler were impounded here but the autos later were released to their owners when the defendants executed forthcoming bonds.

It was said that Commissioner Mobley had instructed his representatives to seize cars and all other equipment connected with the illegal liquor traffic. It was not explained if steps will be taken to sell such equipment later if the defendants are convicted.

The raiding parties hit designated spots simultaneously, leaving Pikeville together, fanning out and then keeping in contact with each other and the directing officer by cruiser telephone.

The first nine cases resulting from the July 3 raid are pending in the Court of Appeals, the right of Glenn Burchett as trial commissioner for County Judge Henry Stumbo to issue the search warrants having been attacked. All were convicted in quarterly court.

Since that time, Mr. Burchett has been designated county judge pro tem as well as trial commissioner.

Layman's Day Speaker

Custer Reynolds, head of the Department of Education at Asbury College, Wilmore, Kentucky, will be the Layman's Day speaker at the First Methodist Church, in the 10:55 a.m. service, Sunday. Mr. Reynolds will be remembered as one of the all-time greats in football at Morehead College. He was all-K.I.A.C. fullback. He also attended U.K. and received his master's degree in education. "He is just as great a witness and speaker for the Lord Jesus Christ as he was great in football," commented the Rev. Paul Stoneking, pastor of the church. He also will be speaking at the Sunday night Evangelistic Hour at 7:30. Everyone is welcome.

Selected as committee members from this area were Dr. C. L. Allen and Dr. J. H. Allen, of Martin, Mrs. Viola Stewart, of Langley, Henry Harris and Wayne Ratliff, Prestonsburg.

Owsley County Judge Arch Bell, Booneville, Mayor E. P. Rice, of Manchester, and Mrs. Ernest Smith, of Harlan, will serve as co-chairmen.

Chairman Smith said headquarters for the new group will be installed at Jackson and possibly elsewhere. He was the Republican organization candidate for the nomination for lieutenant-governor in 1950 but was defeated by Pleaz Mobley, Manchester.

A letter from Smith to Republican county officials and others invites them to support Breathitt.

Signed by Smith on behalf of the committee, the letter says Kentucky has made "unprecedented progress during the last four years in education, in agriculture, and in highway construction . . . We must not stop this onward march."

The letter says the programs and records of Breathitt and his Republican opponent, Louie B. Nunn, were reviewed and the committee members are convinced that the Democrat "is the better choice for governor, regardless of party affiliation."

Tuberculosis Clinic At Health Department Examines 125 Persons

One hundred twenty-five patients were examined at the October 8 out-patient tuberculosis clinic held at the Floyd County Health Department. Dr. Russell L. Hall, county health doctor, said this week. The next clinic of this type will be held at the health department, November 5.

Other special clinics scheduled at the health department in the next few weeks are:

Commission for Handicapped Children orthopedic clinic, Tuesday, October 29; heart clinic for adults, Tuesday, November 19; heart clinic for children under 15 years of age, Wednesday, November 20.

It was announced that the health department has purchased flu vaccine in sufficient quantity to immunize all rheumatic fever patients. These flu "shots" will be given, Monday through Friday, at the health department without charge.

Dr. Hall said a small outbreak of scarlet fever in the Maytown area has been brought under control.

Discussing the marked increase of upper respiratory infections in the last few weeks, he said these appear to be of virus origin and are highly contagious. It was suggested that crowds be avoided as much as possible, that the mouth be covered when coughing, that all meeting rooms, especially classrooms, should have outside ventilation. This ventilation is best accomplished, it was pointed out, by opening windows from the top, since virus tends to congregate near the ceiling.

These infections, which have sudden onset, accompanied by high fever, aches and pains, have been complicated by pneumonia in a few cases, Dr. Hall said. He suggested that sufferers call their family physician.

Community Health Week Proclaimed by Governor; Archer Notes Death Rate

In proclaiming October 20-26 as Kentucky Community Health Week, Governor Bert T. Combs praised the high level of health protection maintained by Kentucky communities, but told community leaders that only through foresight and adequate planning "can we assure the same degree of protection to future generations."

Governor Combs called upon the Kentucky State Medical Association and allied health professions, civic organizations, and public schools to join in the week-long observance and to "demonstrate to all citizens the many health services and facilities available that enrich and protect their lives."

Reviewing the progress of medical science in the past quarter century, Dr. George P. Archer, president of the Kentucky State Medical Association, said four and a half million Americans are alive today who would be dead if the mortality rate of 25 years ago still prevailed.

According to the new KSMAs president, the physicians of Kentucky have one prime objective that stands above all others—that the highest quality of medical care should be available to every resident of the Commonwealth.

Dr. Archer pointed out that medical science has advanced more in the past century—and especially in the past 25 years—than it had in the previous 3,000 years. A comparable rate of progress can be expected in the years ahead, he predicted.

PINSON SUES FOR $125,000

Litigation Aftermath Of Wreck At Stanville; Will Held Not Genuine

Claiming that injuries sustained in the collision of defendants' truck with his auto caused great suffering and permanently impaired his earning ability, Bruce B. Pinson filed suit Saturday in the Floyd circuit court, seeking to recover $125,000 damages from the Dow Chemical Company and H. D. Preston.

The suit was an aftermath of a wreck which occurred last December on U. S. 23, about two miles north of Stanville. Pinson, who drove a car owned by the General Foods Corporation, alleges that Preston operated a 1½-ton truck owned by Dow Chemical Company in such a negligent manner as to cause the collision.

A rare case was decided last week in circuit court when a paper purported to be the last will of Mae R. Reffett, naming her husband, Sanford Reffett, as beneficiary, was held to be a forgery. The court order, based on the jury's finding, directed that the order probating the will be set aside. Three members of the jury refused to sign the verdict.

Although only $2,500 was involved, the case drew considerable interest, with a number of witnesses, including a handwriting expert from Louisville, testifying. Contesting the will were Sidie Huges, Cora Reed, Gladys Mann, Clarence Reed, Rufus Reed and Edith Hayes.

Baptist Group Plans Largest Annual Rally; Convention Dates Set

The Kentucky Baptist Convention is planning to climax its annual sessions this year with the largest rally in its history, according to Dr. C. R. Daley, editor of the Western Recorder and chairman of publicity for the Christian Education Advance campaign.

The Convention will meet November 13-15 with the Calvary Baptist Church in Lexington. On Friday, November 15, it will move to the Memorial Coliseum at the University of Kentucky for the afternoon and evening rally launching the CEA Campaign. Between 12,000 and 15,000 people are expected for the occasion. The CEA Campaign, authorized by the 1962 Convention, is an unprecedented effort by Kentucky Baptists to raise more than $9 million for their schools, colleges and student centers in fourteen institutions across the state. The funds will be used for capital facilities.

In the afternoon session of the rally, campaign plans will be presented. Guest speaker will be Dr. G. Earl Guinn, president of Louisiana College, Pineville, Louisiana. The evening rally will be combined with a youth rally featured by a 2,000-voice choir. The guest speaker will be Dr. George Schweitzer, professor of chemistry at the University of Tennessee and an authority on atomic research. Those attending these rally sessions will be guests of the campaign executive committee for dinner. Dr. Schweitzer will speak on "Shaping the World To Come."

Both rally sessions will be open to the public.

Pikeville Man Presides At Odd Fellow Meet

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Rebekah State Assembly of Kentucky held their annual Grand Lodge and assembly sessions in Bowling Green, Kentucky, October 7-9.

Milford Layne, of Pikeville, grand master of Kentucky Odd Fellows, was the presiding officer of the Odd Fellow sessions, and Mrs. Elizabeth Sharer, of Bowling Green, conducted the Rebekah State Assembly meetings.

Attending as delegates from Prestonsburg Odd Fellows Lodge No. 233 were J. M. Parsley, Sol W. Watkins and T. R. Walters.

Jarman Views Future Of Pike College Area On Inauguration Day

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 12 (SpI).—"October 10, 1963, may not prove to be a great day in the affairs of men, nor even Pikeville College, but for me it will be remembered as one of the great days of my life," Dr. B. H. Jarman told those gathered here last Thursday for the first presidential inauguration in the history of the 74-year-old institution. After the inauguration of the president by James W. Anzell, chairman of the college board of trustees, Dr. Jarman gave his presidential address, "Pikeville College Looks to the Future."

Speaking to more than 60 delegates of colleges and universities, learned societies and church groups, Dr. Jarman asked them to visualize Pikeville as the center of a great circle with a radius of 50 miles. "Within this circle," he said, "there live a half-million people in whose veins course the blood of their early English and Scotch-Irish frontier ancestors. Some 8,000 boys and girls each year reach their 18th birthday. We are in the heart of one of America's most beautiful and most economically depressed areas. The percentage of high school drop-outs is among the highest in the nation. This is our community. This is our parish. These are the people Pikeville College serves."

Jarman told of the particular situation of Pikeville College as he continued. "From the humble beginning of 74 years ago, with but one instructor, Pikeville College today has a staff of 75 persons, an educational plant valued at $4 million and an approved annual budget of $701,000. Unlike most colleges, Pikeville cannot increase its tuition rates to meet rising costs, for to do so would be to defeat our stated purpose in providing a sound intellectual and Christian college education for mountain youth. We must depend on the kindness and generosity of outside friends to help us carry on our great work.

"A superior college produces the uncommon man. It is the uncommon man who made this nation great, who pushed back the physical frontiers; the frontiers of ignorance, hate, disease and fear; and who was unafraid to think and to express new ideas," Jarman said.

In Dr. Jarman's party was Dr. Wray Miller, chairman of the Pikeville College Religion Department; Redford Damon, academic dean of Pikeville College; Dr. James W. Anzell, chairman of the board of trustees; K. Arnold Nakajima, Eastern area secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Education; Frank Welch, president of the Pikeville College Alumni Association; and Deen Johnson, president of the student body.

Although Dr. Jarman is the ninth president of Pikeville College, he was the first to be officially inaugurated into the office. Coming to Pikeville from George Washington University, Dr. Jarman assumed the presidency of the college in February of this year. He succeeded Dr.

A. Page who retired, effective December 31, after more than 26 years of service as president.

Ashland Oil Dealers From Regional Towns Outline Market Plans

Ashland Oil & Refining Company dealers from the Pikeville, Paintsville and Williamson areas met Monday night at May Lodge, Jeany Wiley State Park, to hear company representatives outline marketing plans for the months ahead.

Ellis Whitl, of Paintsville, district sales manager for Ashland Oil, told the dealers the company plans a number of sales promotions and expects to introduce several important new products soon. Guest speakers were J. T. Snyder, assistant manager, and James A. Luzzader, tire, battery and accessory sales representative, both with the Marketing Division, Ashland. Snyder and Luzzader outlined the fall promotional schedule, and illustrated their talks with film presentations.

Other marketing sales representatives participating were Bill Rice, of Paintsville, and Troy Childers and James Trimble, both of Pikeville.

The meeting here was one of the 40 scheduled this month for some 3,500 Ashland Oil dealers from Tennessee to the Great Lakes.

In the United States, one-fifth of a man's income goes for food; in Japan, two-fifths; and in India, three-fifths.

Eastern State College Sets Enrollment Record; Official Figures Noted

Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, has recorded another all-time record enrollment for the 12th consecutive year, President Robert R. Martin announced today.

Official fall enrollment of on-campus students is 4,713, an increase of 14.9 per cent in full-time equivalent students. Last fall's total was 4,269.

This figure does not include 485 students enrolled in the college's Model Laboratory School, nor does it include 525 enrolled in extension classes in twelve off-campus centers. An additional 1,300 students are enrolled in correspondence courses by mail.

Total number presently receiving college instruction from Eastern is 7,113.

Largest increase was in the freshman class, which totals 1,765 first-year students, compared to 1,378 freshmen last fall.

Other classes this fall include 1,013 enrolled as sophomores, 874 as juniors, 776 seniors, and 288 graduate students.

There are 2,755 men students and 1,958 women. The enrollment figure is computed under the standard method approved by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers. It includes only students doing course work on the main campus at Richmond.

Hill Is Nearing National Honor In Scholarship

Thomas C. Hill, 17-year-old senior at Man (W. Va.) high school, has been chosen as one of the semifinalists in competition sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Hill, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon C. Hill, of Mallory, formerly of Prestonsburg, was chosen on the basis of his grade made on a scholarship test last March.

The test is the first step in winning a four-year scholarship to a college of the student's choice. The semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and United States territories.

Semifinalists must substantiate their qualifying test performance on a second examination, be endorsed by their schools and fulfill certain routine requirements to become finalists.

All merit scholars are selected from the finalist group. Washington, Oct. 8—Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D. Va.) said Tuesday it appears that the Senate Finance Committee cannot open its public hearings on the $11,000,000,000 tax-cut bill this week.

tors and laymen. Dr. Klicka said the communities where the hospitals are located will probably be expected to hold fund drives to help support special medical programs at the hospitals. Dr. Klicka also said:

1. He hopes to continue programs initiated by U.M.W.A. for training nurses and other technical personnel.

2. Hospitals will be encouraged to use nurses' aides such as Gray Ladies.

3. Efforts will be made to maintain salaries for nurses at the level set by the U.M.W.A.

4. While the hospitals will continue the policy of central purchasing of goods and services, local purchases will be made if prices are competitive.

Dr. Klicka also said advisory committees to be formed at each hospital from among residents of the communities will not include medical personnel. Hospitals administrators will serve as liaison between the medical staffs and the advisory committees.

He stressed repeatedly that the success of the hospitals depends on their acceptance as community hospitals by residents of Eastern Kentucky.

James F. Stanford, 41, Of Wayland, Is Victim; Rites Conducted Today

James Floyd Stanford, 41, of Wayland, died Monday at the McDowell Appalachian Regional hospital following a long illness. He was unmarried.

Mr. Stanford was a son of Mrs. Edna Herrin Stanford, of Wayland, and the late John William Stanford. He was married.

Surviving brothers and sisters are Robert Stanford, Phoenix, Arizona, Howard Stanford, Detroit, Michigan, William Stanford, Jr., Chicago, Illinois, Eugene Stanford, Ernest Stanford and Mrs. Margaret Dixon, all of Elgin, Illinois, Elmo Stanford, U. S. Navy, Norfolk, Virginia, Jackie Stanford, Morehead, Kentucky, Dannie Stanford, at home, Mrs. Pauline Collins, Ladysmith, Wisconsin, Mrs. Edna Hunter, of Wayland.

Funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. from the First Church of God at Estill, the Revs. Russell Ramey and Johnny Ramey officiating. Burial was made in the Glo Miners cemetery under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

FISH TIPS

Plastic jugs of the 1/2 and gallon variety that are found in most every home or at many of the automatic laundries can be made into useful items for the fisherman. (1) Leave the cap on the plastic jug and with a sharp knife cut off the bottom of the jug. This will make an excellent dipper for removing water from boats. (2) By removing the bottom of the plastic jug as well as the cap an excellent funnel is on hand when needed. (3) If the upper section of one of these plastic jugs is removed a fisherman will have an extra container to hold either minnows or other live bait.

Save that old spark plug. It can be a money saver for the fisherman who uses artificial lures. The next time your underwater lure gets hung on some underwater obstruction instead of breaking off the lure take the old spark plug and a paper clip, placing the paper clip under the finger-like metal lip of the plug and close the gap. Now slide the clip over the casting line and let the weight of the spark plug knock loose the artificial lure.

Two shotgun shells of different gauges that have been fired make a good water proof container to carry wooden matches. Fit the smaller shell case into the other while pressing firmly on the brass of both shells.

In our backyard stands an old oak tree. The prettiest thing you ever did see. Its branches spread far and wide. Casting shade on all sides. In its branches birds build nest. Then settle on a twig as if to rest. They fill the air with merry song. Morning, evening and all day long. In cooling breeze in its shade. I sit on a bench my grandfather made. I am very fond of this oak tree. Beneath its shade I play, you see. I'm sure there are others nice and grand. Yet I wouldn't trade for any in the land. This grand old oak tree— No, siree.

Paintsville's annual Big Sandy Bowl football game will be played Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the Johnson county seat and will feature the undefeated Tigers against Millersburg Military Institute. Walter Brugh's eleven will be seeking its seventh consecutive win and second successive Class A, Region 3, District 2 title. The Tigers lead their regional division with a 4-0 mark.

A gala parade, featuring several floats as well as many of the area high school bands, a beauty contest, a dance at 8 p.m. and the appearance of Miss Nell Owens, Bowling Green, Miss Kentucky of 1963, will highlight the day's activities.

SPORTS

The Hazard Bulldogs spoiled Jenkins' perfect slate in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference and Class AA, Region 4 race last week-end with a 19-6 win, but the Cavaliers still maintain a half-game pace in both.

Elkhorn City trails the Cavaliers in the league race, while Whitesburg and Belfry are the chief threats in the regional picture.

Thus the Belfry-Jenkins game at Jenkins at 2 p.m. Saturday will settle both events.

Quarterback Kenny Tate and end Jimmy Walker teamed for two scoring touchdowns in the fourth quarter as Hazard held a 7-6 margin with 11 minutes to play.

Halfback Jack Robinson grabbed a first-period Jenkins fumble and raced 44 yards to give the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead as Richard McGee kicked the point after.

Buddy Hayes scored for the Cavaliers on a six-yard jaunt, midway the second frame.

In other action over the past week-end, Paintsville's undefeated Tigers downed Pikeville, 29-6, for their sixth consecutive win overall and fourth consecutive in their regional battle with Ludlow.

Wheelwright scored its first win of the season by whipping M. C. Napier, 20-0; Belfry mauled weak Prestonsburg, 40-0, and Whitesburg avenged an earlier loss to rival Fleming-Neon by posting a 19-13 victory.

Walter Brugh's Paintsville Tigers got a fine effort from quarterback Bobby Porter, who passed 22 yards to end Jim Allen and scored a touchdown himself. The Tigers posted a 7-0 halftime margin on the Allen catch and James Smith's extra point. Fullback Paul Paek tallied in the third and Smith again kicked good.

The Tigers will put its undefeated string on the line Saturday afternoon on its home field when M.M.I. comes to town for the Big Sandy Bowl game.

Belfry's Pirates evened its season slate at 3-3 with an easy triumph over Prestonsburg. Six Pirates figured in the scoring attack, paced by Darrell Bogar with two touchdowns, and quarterback Bob Burgett for another. Prestonsburg gained only 24 yards in the one-sided tilt.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

The sixth sense of fishes deals with low-frequency vibration totally imperceptible to man. This sense is often referred to as "sonar." This is incorrect, since sonar is the ability of porpoises and some other creatures—including men using electronic instruments—to judge the location and distance of an underwater object by echo from it of sound waves that they themselves produce. The thing under discussion is totally different.

Fish detect these vibrations by special organs lying in the lateral line along each side, which often shows as a narrow streak, usually black, but sometimes lighter than the rest.

Some species, at least, feel these vibrations to an extent that seems incredible to us. There is evidence that a shark will become aware of a smaller fish that is hooked and being played, but not even leaping, as much as half a mile off, and streak there to get him, as easy prey.

On some days, of course, fish are more alarmed by such vibrations than on others, says Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

It should hardly be necessary to add that in fishing from shore or by wading one should avoid causing vibrations that will travel first from the ground and then through the water. Certain types of ground, and tumbling water in a stream, will make fish less sensitive to the vibrations than they'd be in other spots. And, the shallower the water around your boat, the more easily fish are spooked by vibrations.

However, the safe thing to do—one that is absolutely certain greatly to increase the catches of any fisherman who hasn't before paid attention to it—is to try as much as possible to avoid sending out any such vibrations, anywhere.

And I should add that the larger, therefore older and wavier, the fish—this is especially true of bass and brown trout—the more easily very tiny vibrations will keep them from making your offering. This is one of the reasons why the veteran invariably catches far more big fish, especially brown trout and bass, than the novice. He has learned, perhaps unconsciously, to fish very quietly, sending out few low-frequency vibrations.

The old pipe cleaner has many uses for the fisherman at home as well as when on the water. (1) Pipe cleaners twisted around two rod sections hold them snugly together for carrying. (2) Pipe cleaners dipped into a bottle of reel oil serve as a good applicator to oil those hard-to-get-at parts of the reel. (3) Still another use for the pipe cleaner is for cleaning gummed spurs.

Many owners of outboard motors have been far away from a dock or landing and sheared a drive pin or a shear pin, and found no extra pins are available. In order to keep this from happening tape some extra pins and carrier keys to the control arm or some other part of the motor.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our eternal gratitude to the wonderful friends and neighbors for their kindness upon the recent death of our son, Roger. We wish to thank the people who brought food, and those who sent flowers. We wish to thank the Betsy Layne high school as well as the churches; Jerry Hall, Troy Hall and Mack McCloud for their comforting words; the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its efficiency; those who gave us sympathetic understanding and all our many friends and relatives who called.

Guidance Counsellor Reviews Work of Classroom Teachers To Insure Good Test Results

In order to insure better use of test results for guidance purposes Floyd county classroom teachers have administered and scored one or more standardized achievement tests for all eighth grade students during the 1962-63 school year, according to L. B. Price, guidance counselor.

In practically all cases the test given was the Stanford (advanced), suitable for grades seven through nine. Price points out that if the tests results indicate help is needed from the supervisory personnel of the school system, the classroom teacher will receive it upon request. Price, in commenting on the testing program, said:

"Although no pupils are permitted to go to the ninth grade without test scores being a part of the eighth grade record, there is no longer a requirement that a minimum grade level be achieved on the test. This will naturally vary from case to case and school to school for many reasons. The chief value of the test scores is for guidance in course placement in emphasizing areas of needed help and other similar uses."

In most cases the tests were given during the last half of the school term. However, a number of teachers gave the tests in the early part of the year. Each teacher was allowed to administer them to suit her own purposes, Price said. There is a shift to earlier dates, it was said, so that instructional procedures may be adjusted to better meet the needs identified in each pupil.

"In each of the nine areas involved in the Stanford Battery, we found pupil scores ranging from the third grade level to the 12th grade level," Price said. "Most pupils exhibited a tendency to perform considerably better in some areas than others. In other words, the pupil who is equally strong in all areas of school work is the exception rather than the rule."

He noted that the median battery score for all the eighth grade pupils was 7.8, or almost one grade level below the national norm.

"Significantly, for the thesis of strong individual differences and the need of an adjusted approach to meet the needs of the child," Price continued, "only about 15 percent of test scores fell at the eighth grade level, the remaining 85 per cent being distributed as previously noted from the third upward to the 12th grade level."

The guidance counselor released the median scores in separate areas. These follow:

Paragraph meaning, 7.0; word meaning, 7.4; spelling, 8; language, 7.3; arithmetical reasoning, 7.8; arithmetical computation, 7.8; social studies, 7.2; science, 7.9; study skills, 6.6.

Road in Breathitt For Fire Control Is Given Approval

Frankfort, October 14 (Spl.).—Approval of a project to construct a forest fire-control access road in Breathitt county, using Accelerated Public Works Funds, has been announced by State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick.

Construction of the road, approximately seven miles in length, is under way. It will open up a large forest area, previously inaccessible to heavy fire fighting equipment, Matlick said.

Gov. Bert Combs provided $10,000 in state funds to match the Public Works appropriation of $30,000. The road will be built using local labor, with equipment and supervision provided by the Conservation Department's Division of Forestry.

The access road, to be completed by January 1, 1964, includes clearing the right-of-way, establishing grade and drain and surfacing with a hard-dirt cover.

The line which the road will follow is completely covered with timber and runs through a very mountainous region, Matlick said.

"Because of the heavy density of forest cover, this has been a bad fire area in the past," he said. "We have not been able to take our modern, heavy equipment into the region, depending almost entirely on hand crews to fight fires."

Matlick said the Breathitt county road represents the beginning of a long-range plan to develop a system of access roads in heavily forested areas throughout the state.

It seems perfectly safe to shoot with cellophane tape, rubber or such over the gun muzzle to keep out dust or snow. Don't put anything down the muzzle, however—not even a bit—because this may cause a bulged or ruptured barrel.—Sports Afild.

P.-T.A. Congress Head Slates Ashland Speech;

Mrs. C. B. McClaren, Ashland, president of the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, will speak on "Progress Through Action—You Are The Key," at the morning session of the fall conference, Ninth district, Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, which will be held Thursday, October 17, at the Centenary Methodist Church, Ashland.

Mrs. Clyde E. Blevins, Ninth district president, will head the conference and the pre-conference board of managers' meeting which will be held at 9 a.m. in the basement of the church. Registration will start at 9:30 a.m., and coffee will be served by the Ashland Council and its unit members. Luncheon will be served in the church dining room. Reservations must be made by Monday, October 14, with Mrs. Riley Franz, 820 Franz Court, Ashland, Kentucky.

Awards to local units will be presented during the lunch hour. Mrs. Minnie C. Winder, cultural arts chairman, will present special music and lead group singing. At the afternoon session, Mrs. Harvey Britton, first vice-president, will introduce panel members in the discussion of school drop-outs. "Question Box" problems will be answered by board members. Installation of a third vice-president by Mrs. McClaren will conclude the meeting.

Mrs. Blevins urges PTA members to write on a slip of paper any problem or question pertaining to PTA work and drop it in the question box.

Floyd county units to receive the conference call are: Allen, David, Drift Elementary, Maytown and Prestonsburg.

Washington, Oct. 8—Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D., Va.) said Tuesday it appears that the Senate Finance Committee cannot open its public hearings on the $11,000,000,000 tax-cut bill this week.

WARNING

BE ALERT-BE ON THE LOOKOUT

Just before the November 5th election the Combs-Breathitt administration will scatter SOME gravel on the rural or country roads.

Just before the May primary, they scattered some on the rural roads, and the gravels being something new to the chickens they gobbled them up, wasn't enough to hurt them but they might by accident scatter the gravels in some spots thick enough just before the November election that your chickens might get enough to hurt them.

Put your neighbors on notice to be on the lookout for the yellow gravel trucks so they may be able to pen their chickens until the gravel has been spread but if no more than before the May primary they will be safe to turn them out.

You folks remember how this crowd abused one of the greatest Governors Kentucky ever had, called him a clown, a crook, a cheater, a Chessie cat. Don't be deceived by a yellow truckload of gravel at the last minute.

Also don't be deceived by a job promise now. They are promising everybody and their brother a job.

A Distinguished Kentuckian

Next to Governor Combs, no Kentuckian has had the privilege that has been Henry Ward's of participating in multiple major phases of unprecedented Kentucky progress.

He was Commissioner of the Department of Parks when that division of state government jumped into a program which was destined to make Kentucky's the greatest state parks system in the nation. Now Commissioner of Highways and directing a monumental road-building program, the like of which Kentucky has never known, he still retains his interest in state parks and continues to have a strong hand in their development.

The blunt-spoken Ward is that rarity in politics who believes and practices the doctrine that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points.

Storms have broken around his head, underlings have strayed, or have been accused of straying, from that straight line which Ward walks, but above all the smoke, on each occasion, the sturdy figure of this former newspaperman who has so distinguished himself in public life emerges, unshaken.

Head of a controversial department of government, Ward so conducts himself as an official that he seldom is a subject of controversy even during Kentucky's heated political campaigns. And we submit, that is better than par for the course.

GIBSON FAMILY
Recently Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hanna, Sr., 210 S. High School Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, were in the Eastern Kentucky area seeking information on the Gibson family and particularly on Andrew Johnson. While here Mrs. Hanna mentioned a manuscript on the Gibson family prepared by Pierre Haynes, a Gibson family relative, and presented to the Indiana State Library. Mrs. Hanna procured a copy of the manuscript and after deleting Indiana references that would be of little interest to readers of this paper, offers it to this column for publication.

She wrote in the letter of transmittal:

"The declaration for pension of William Gibson, Revolutionary War soldier, buried near Thorntown, Boone county, Indiana, is of interest. He must have been closely related to Archibald Gibson. A photostatic copy of his declaration was given to the State Library in 1932 by Pierre Haynes.

"William Gibson states he was born 11-25-1733 at Monk's Corner, South Carolina; married 1795 Nancy Roark. He died 4-9-1835. He lived in Guilford county, North Carolina, three years after the Revolution; two years in Rockingham county, North Carolina; 12 years in Wilkes and Roan counties, North Carolina; then on Clinch River, Virginia. In 1800 he moved to Kentucky and in 1827 to Boone county, Indiana."

"Mrs. Hanna wrote an introduction for The Times to the Haynes manuscript:

"A few decades ago a group of pioneers migrated from North Carolina to Floyd county, Kentucky. After 15 or 20 years they again sought new homes, some coming to Indiana. As was common these adventurers traveled in family groups or with close friends and neighbors. Always a few chose to remain in the settlement instead of moving on to newer lands. This appears to be true about the Gibson family. Some of the family remained in Eastern Kentucky when the others moved to Central Indiana.

"Pierre Haynes, an attorney who resided in New York state and Texas compiled a report in 1932 on the Archibald Gibson family. Mr. Haynes was the grandson of Samuel Preston Gibson whose parents, Ezekiel Gibson and Lucinda Jane Johnson, daughter of Andrew Johnson, were married in Floyd county, Kentucky, in 1819.

"Starting with Samuel Preston Gibson, the spelling of the name was with a 'p' instead of a 'b.' It has been explained that the change came about during land transactions in which a recorder erroneously spelled it 'Gipson.' In order to avoid legal complications thereafter, the family used the latter spelling.

"Much of Mr. Haynes' report gives the descendants of the Indiana residents, which is being omitted.

but it contains that part mentioning Floyd and Perry counties, Kentucky. The material is fairly accurate, agreeing closely with records I have compiled on the family. Only in a few instances does a date vary; in these, additional information has been inserted in parentheses.

The Haynes manuscript, as excerpted by Mrs. Hanna, follows:

"From Texas and Texas, page 258, we find that a Gibson family of Scottish-Irish descent settled in the northern part of North Carolina. There were nine sons about 1800, including Absalom and Jesse who settled in Texas. This scant bit of information is all we know of the beginning of this family.

"From descendants of Archibald Gibson we know his son Archie was in the Mexican War in Texas. He was alive in 1875 and his age on that date indicates he was born in 1799 or 1800.

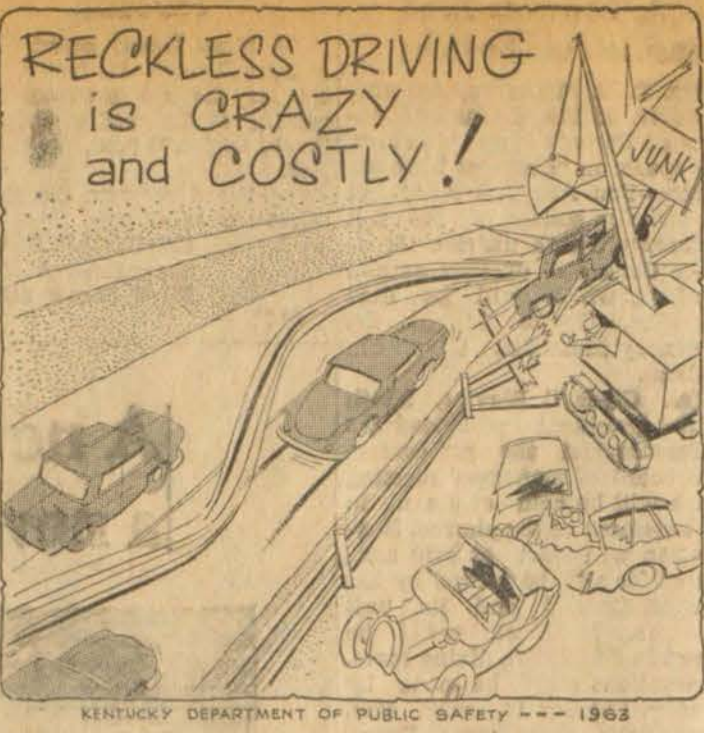

"The descendants of Archibald Gibson are of a single opinion that the family is Scottish-Irish coming from the north of Ireland. It is doubtful, however, that Archibald himself was born in Ireland or Scotland.

"The North Carolina Census of 1790 shows several Gibsons by the name of Archibald or its variations. Wilkes county had Andrew, Jordan, Joel, Arche, Ezekiel, and Dorothy; Stokes county had Valentine, Garrett, Archelaus, James, John, William.

"Indiana records indicate that Archibald should have been a householder with a wife and several children. The records of the 1790 Census are not very illuminating. Arche of Wilkes county, North Carolina, had in his household one male under 16 and nine females. Archelaus of Stokes county had one male under 16 and two females. Neither of these seems to fit the case exactly but in Stokes county we do not find the familiar Gibson names of Jordan, Joel and Ezekiel and we are therefore led to believe that our Archibald lived in Wilkes county, North Carolina. He owned land on Cranberry Creek, Wilkes county, in 1793.

"Of the nearby Gibson families having an Archibald, we find only one record of any importance. This is the will of James Gibson in Bedford county, Virginia, filed for probate 2-26-1765. The heirs mentioned are Randall, James, Joseph, John, Archibald, Elizabeth (Canler), Catherine (Hale) and Hanner (Cook). Among the children and other relatives of our Archibald who appears later in Hendricks county, Indiana, we find all of these names except Randall and Hanner (Hannah). John R. Gibson, a son of Archibald, might have been John Randall Gibson. From Bedford county, Virginia, came the Prestons who were so active in settling Floyd and Johnson counties, Kentucky. It is quite possible that our Archibald Gibson was

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky
By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week John H. McHenry, who on the face of the returns had been defeated by George H. Yeaman for the Kentucky Second District seat in the U. S. Congress, published a notice that he intended to contest the election on grounds of intimidation, fraud, and threats of violence by Union Army officers and men.

McHenry said soldiers had erased his name from the poll books in McLean county, and in Henderson county had seized the books to prevent the recording of votes that had been cast for him. He declared that threats had been made that soldiers would impress "horses and other property" of citizens who voted for him, and when certain persons nevertheless did cast ballots for him, their horses later were impressed by "a captain of the Third Kentucky Cavalry," a Union Army regiment.

He charged the military with requiring voters to take "oaths of loyalty unknown to any law—military, civil, or divine." In the Eleventh and Twenty-sixth Kentucky (Union) Infantry and Third Kentucky (Union) Cavalry regiments, he charged, soldiers who had expressed intentions to vote for him were denied furloughs, while those who wanted to vote for his opponent were granted furloughs to go home and cast their ballots. A few days later, commanding officers of the two infantry regiments published denials of this charge. "A very prominent Baptist minister of this city," the Louisville Journal reported, "has been preaching sermons which are at least in temperate, if not disloyal, in the estimation of military authorities. He was requested very respectfully to appear before Col. Hanson and answer to the charges, which he did yesterday." The story said the minister pleaded not guilty, but "the inexorable but courteous Provost Marshal administered to him an oath to support and sustain the Government of the United States. He took it with inimitably bad grace."

The Journal story had not identified the minister, but within a few days the Rev. R. M. Dudley was quoted by the Louisville Democrat as having denounced the Journal account as incorrect. The Journal, re-examining the case, declared its original story had been "substantially correct," but admitted that the expression, "with inimitably bad grace," perhaps should have been modified. "But," it concluded, "he certainly did not take it gracefully."

During the week under review, Kentucky newspapers began publishing the first detailed lists of casualties suffered by Kentucky regiments of the Union Army in the Battle of Chickamauga, which had been fought September 19 and 20.

Soil Conservation

By HENRY AMOS
Work Unit Conservationist

Oliver Marshall has recently become a district cooperater with the Floyd County Soil Conservation District. This will enable him to get a soil capability map of his farm showing the kind of soil, the percent slope, the amount of erosion, and other soil and water problems that he may have.

Marshall plans to develop a soil and water conservation plan as quickly as possible. The plan and soil capability map will enable him to carry out his farming operations to assure him the greatest financial return.

He will begin developing his soil and water conservation plan in October, 1963, by installing 1,000 feet of tile. In spring of 1964 he plans to build a grassed waterway and to establish permanent pasture consisting of Ky. 31 Fescue and Korean lespedeza. Other practices he intends to carry out in developing his soil and water conservation plan are a pond for livestock water and fescue at the last cultivation of corn.

YOU NEED THIS MESSAGE TODAY! THERE IS DANGER IN DELAY!

My Friends: I am asking you the most important question of life. Your joy or your sorrow for all ETERNITY depends upon it. The question is: Are you SAVED? It is not if you are a member of some church, but, Are you SAVED? It is not how good you are, but, ARE YOU SAVED? No one can enjoy the blessings of God or go to Heaven without being saved. Jesus said to Nicodemus in John 3: "YE MUST BE BORN AGAIN." God gives us in His Word the ONLY plan for Salvation. The Plan is simple, you can be saved TODAY.

First, my friends, you must realize YOU ARE A SINNER.

"There is none righteous, no, not one."—Romans 3:10.

"For there is no difference: For ALL have sinned, and come short of the glory of God."—Romans 3:22, 23.

There is NO CHANCE to be saved unless you come to realize you are a SINNER.

Because you are a sinner, you are CONDEMNED TO DIE.

"For the wages of sin is death."—Romans 6:23.

"Sin, bringeth forth death."—James 1:15.

This means separation from God, in HELL, FOREVER. How terrible. Yes, my friends, but it is true. But God loved you so much that HE GAVE HIS ONLY BORN SON, Jesus Christ, as your SUBSTITUTE, Who bore YOUR sin, and died in YOUR place.

"He hath made HIM (Jesus) to be SIN for US, who knew no sin; that WE might be MADE THE RIGHTEOUSNESS of God in HIM."—2 Corinthians 5:21.

"Who His OWN SELF bore OUR sins in His own body on the tree, that WE, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness; by whose stripes WE WERE HEALED."—1 Peter 2:24.

Jesus had to die. He had to shed HIS BLOOD.

"For the LIE of the flesh IS IN THE BLOOD."—Leviticus 17:11.

"Without the SHEDDING OF BLOOD there is no remission."—Hebrews 9:22.

Now we cannot understand how our sin was laid upon Jesus, but God says in HIS WORD that it was. SO YOUR SIN, my friend, was laid UPON JESUS and HE DIED IN YOUR PLACE. It is true, God cannot lie.

The Philippian jailer asked Paul and Silas: "What must I DO to be SAVED?"

"And they said, BELIEVE on the Lord Jesus Christ, and THOU SHALT BE SAVED, and thy house."—Acts 16:31.

Simply believe on Him as the one who bore YOUR SIN; DIED IN YOUR PLACE, was buried and was raised for YOUR JUSTIFICATION. Now call upon Him.

"For WHOSOEVER shall call upon the name of the Lord, SHALL BE SAVED."—Romans 10:13.

The first prayer for a SINNER to pray is given in Luke 18:13—"God be merciful TO ME A SINNER." Now you are a sinner and surely you are sorry because of it. Right NOW, wherever you are lift your heart to God in prayer. It does not take a long, loud prayer, for God is ANXIOUS to save you. Just say, Oh God, I am a sinner, I am sorry, I repent, have MERCY upon me, and SAVE me for Jesus' sake. Now just take HIM at His Word.

"For WHOSOEVER, that includes YOU! shall call upon the name of the Lord, SHALL BE SAVED, (SHALL BE, not might or can, but) SHALL BE SAVED."—Romans 10:13.

Just take God at HIS WORD. When you have done what He has asked, CLAIM SALVATION BY FAITH, according to HIS WORD, BELIEVE and THOU SHALT BE SAVED. No church, no lodge, no good works. NO ONE BUT JESUS ONLY CAN SAVE YOU.

The simple plan of salvation is: YOU ARE A SINNER; because you are a sinner you MUST DIE or else believe on Christ who was YOUR SUBSTITUTE and died in YOUR PLACE, was buried and was raised again. Just call upon GOD, REALIZING you are a sinner and ask Him to have mercy upon you and save you for JESUS' SAKE. Then just take HIM AT HIS WORD and BY FAITH CLAIM SALVATION. You say, "Surely that is not all that is necessary to do to be saved." Yes it is, absolutely all. Thank God many have been won to Christ by this simple plan. It is SCRIPTURAL. IT IS GOD'S PLAN. My friend, BELIEVE IT AND FOLLOW IT TODAY. Now is the time—Today is the day.

"Behold, NOW is the accepted time; behold, NOW is the day of salvation."—2 Corinthians 6:2.

"Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth."—Proverbs 27:1.

If it is not perfectly clear, READ IT OVER and OVER until you understand it. Do not lay this tract down until you do. YOUR SOUL is worth more than all the world.

"For what shall I profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose HIS OWN SOUL? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"—Mark 8:36, 37.

BE SURE YOU ARE SAVED. YOU NEED SALVATION ABOVE EVERYTHING ELSE. IF YOU LOSE YOUR SOUL YOU MISS HEAVEN AND LOSE ALL. GOD HELP YOU TO BE SAVED TODAY.

He will save you and also KEEP YOU.

"There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it."—1 Corinthians 10:13.

DO NOT just your feelings. They change. STAND ON GOD'S PROMISES, they NEVER change.

AFTER YOU ARE SAVED THERE ARE THREE THINGS TO PRACTICE DAILY FOR SPIRITUAL GROWTH:

PRAY—You talk to God. READ YOUR BIBLE—God talks to you. WITNESS—You talk for God.

"Whoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before My Father which is in Heaven."—Matthew 10:32.

If you are saved, send us word that we may rejoice with you. Address Berean Gospel Distributors, Inc., P. O. Box 891, Indianapolis 6, Indiana, U.S.A.

He who is his own attorney has a fool for a client. It is wise for a person to recognize his limitations, and secure adequate help. The average man is not expert enough to take care of his own case at law.

And no man is expert enough to handle his own case in the Divine Court. That is why the Son of God came to earth and became a man. We needed a lawyer. Jesus Christ will serve as lawyer before the bar of Divine Justice for anyone who commits his case to Him.

Freezing Weather In Kentucky Foreseen Sometime This Month

Lexington, Ky.—The first freezing temperatures in Kentucky more than likely will hit sometime in October. The time in October will vary according to state location, says the U. S. Department of Commerce Weather Bureau at Louisville.

The U. K. Ag Extension Service said this week the Bureau has issued a special weather bulletin, detailing the average first-killing-frost dates (32 F or lower) for Kentucky. Over the years, the release said, Greensburg (Green county) usually has had one of the earliest killing frosts. Average date for that location has been October 11, the release said.

Louisville (the downtown section anyway) has an average date of November 7 for its first below-freezing temperature. Other Kentucky locations and their first-killing-frost average dates are: Anchorage, October 15; Paducah, October 30; Owensboro, October 21; Hopkinsville, October 23; Bowling Green, October 28; Lexington, October 28; Williamstown, October 24; Somerset, October 19; Mt. Sterling, October 19; Ashland, October 22; Pikeville, October 31; and Middlesboro, October 17.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 8—Kentucky's yearly traffic toll stood at 624 Tuesday or nine above the same time last year. State police added a delayed death report to their count.

STATE HELP GIVEN HEALTH CENTERS

Every County Has Dental Program Funds

A DENTAL CLINIC typical of those in State health centers in Kentucky is shown in operation. Every county now has State funds for a dental program, and 98 per cent of the counties have a program for clinic dental corrections. Allocation of funds is based on the number of children in the county and their dental needs. Health centers include examination rooms, x-ray room, an assembly room, waiting room and offices for health officer, a physician with special public health training, and members of his staff.

Frankfort, October 7 (Spl.)—State help in building modern, well-equipped county and city-county health centers throughout Kentucky is making it possible for communities to solve many of their health problems.

Since 1960, a total of 24 new health centers and one addition have been built at a cost of $1,792,091, according to Paul A. Hackney, director of hospital and medical facilities for the Department of Health. Six others are under construction at a cost of $334,734. Five more—to cost $640,000—are on the drawing board, and still six others—costing $460,000—are in the planning stage.

These 41 projects total $3,226,825.

Counties with new health centers (cities in parenthesis where city-county units are in operation) are Lewis, Allen, Franklin, Knott, Wolfe, Grayson, Magoffin, Clay, Estill, Bracken, Hancock, Muhlenberg, Henry, Wayne, Taylor, Clark, Martin, Jackson, Johnson, McCreary, Leslie, Hardin, Lawrence and Perry (and Hazard). The addition is at Warren

(and Bowling Green). Under construction are centers in Caldwell, Crittenden, Lyon, Metcalfe, and Bourbon (and Paris).

On the drawing board are units for Marion, Trimble, Nicholas, McCracken, and Fayette (and Lexington).

In the planning stage are centers for Jessamine, Letcher, Morgan, Madison, Boone, and Hopkins counties.

These city and county health departments no longer are being located in dreary basements, but in modern, well-equipped buildings. With the coming of these new community health centers have come better-trained health officers, nurses, sanitarians, administrators, clerks, and health educators.

In addition, the local health department gains new stature and esteem in the eyes of the area it serves. As Hackney pointed out, "These new, modern buildings and the latest equipment are something tangible to show progress."

The ultimate benefit is better health for all communities.

Half the cost of the new health centers is provided by federal funds under the Hill-Burton Act and the remaining half equally by state and local governments. To raise local money, 40 Kentucky counties have approved a health tax. Six other counties will vote on health-tax referendums in the November election.

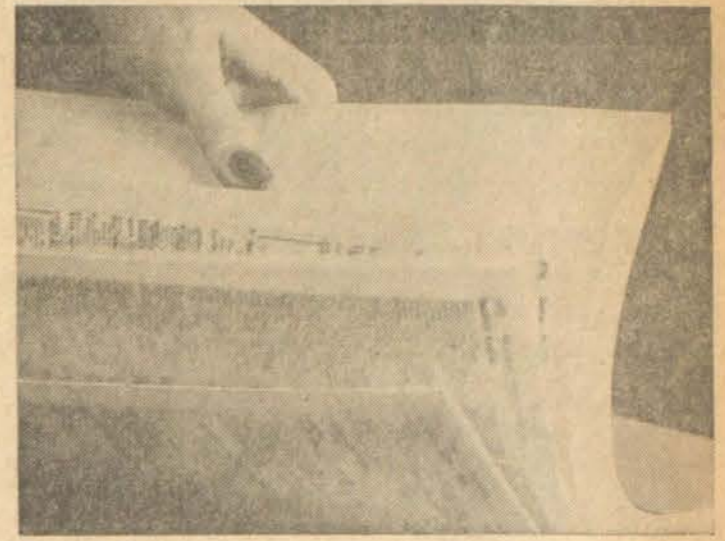

Health centers usually contain examination rooms, a dental and x-ray room, an assembly room, a waiting room, and offices for the health officer, a physician with special public health training, and members of his staff.

The building is designed on the basis of community needs, with population a main concern.

That totals approximately 700,000 tons of coal if Kentucky uses concrete to complete its Interstate Highways. Kentucky needs new coal markets, new highways. Concrete brings the two together. The result? Better business. Better highways. Today's new-type concrete is smooth and solid all the way... is laid flat to stay flat. It actually has a life expectancy of 50 years and longer, with upkeep expense 75% less than for asphalt (based on Kentucky records). This is vital because the Federal Government pays 90% of initial construction cost—but not a single cent for maintenance. Add it up. Concrete means greater coal usage, greater driving comfort, and greater maintenance savings.

Mr. Fred Bullard, Executive Secretary of the Kentucky Coal Association, says: "Cement and reinforcing steel are two basic ingredients of the modern concrete highway. With their high consumption of coal during manufacture, we believe that paving Kentucky's Interstate Highways with concrete would be an invaluable aid to the state's coal industry."

NEWS for truck owners who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leafsprings. It automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel

Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!

Hall Warns of Danger Of Monoxide Poisoning; Heating Hazards Told

With cold weather soon to arrive, Dr. R. L. Hall, M.D., Floyd county health officer, warned this week of dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning from stoves and other heating units. "Carbon monoxide takes an average of 12 lives a year in Kentucky," he said.

All stoves, furnaces, other heating units, and motor vehicle exhaust systems should be inspected and kept in good condition to prevent possible disaster.

Carbon monoxide, which is produced by incomplete combustion of fuels, is particularly dangerous since it gives little or no warning of its presence. It is tasteless, colorless and nonirritating. Carbon monoxide, along with improper ventilation, may at first result in slight headache, drowsiness, or weakness. None of these symptoms are very noticeable at the time, but unconsciousness can follow, then death, if prompt treatment is not given, Dr. Hall said.

Coal and oil furnaces, space heaters, hot water heaters, grills, and other fuel-burning appliances may be sources of carbon monoxide if they are not operating properly. All such appliances should be properly vented. Frequently the flue leading to the chimney may become damaged or corroded, or connections may become loose. Such conditions may allow flue gases to escape into a room. All flue sections should be inspected periodically for signs of leakage, or obstructions.

The automobile engine is another source of carbon monoxide. Exhaust systems should be checked periodically for signs of leakage, and automobiles should never be operated in a garage with the door shut. Drivers should also exercise caution while sitting behind buses or large trucks in heavy traffic. Exhaust fumes from the vehicle ahead can enter a car through the front air vent. Air vents, if located on the front of the car, should be closed in heavy traffic, Dr. Hall warned.

The first thing to do for a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning is to keep him quiet and get fresh air into the lungs as quickly as possible. Open doors and windows wide or move the victim to fresh air. Call a physician immediately. If the victim stops breathing, apply mouth-to-mouth rescue breathing or use an inhalator immediately and continue until natural breathing is restored.

"Avoid these dangers by having heating units and exhaust systems checked and adjusted," it was suggested.

SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM LARGEST FOOD SERVICE IN NATION, ANNOUNCED

The National School Lunch Program is the largest single food service in the nation, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It now serves one out of every three children in the nation's schools.

The program is an amazing network of thousands of small enterprises, operated by local citizens for the benefit of their children. Put together, these small enterprises are a 1 1/4 billion-dollar food industry, serving 2.7 billion lunches a year.

Food used in the National School Lunch Program has now reached a value of well over $800 million annually. According to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, which administers the program nationally, four-fifths of this food—almost $650 million worth—is bought by the schools in their own local market areas.

Total foods used in the national lunch program annually represent a train of 137,000 cars, reaching a length of over 1,000 miles. This represents over 10 percent of the total U. S. food sold through food service outlets.

In recognition of the lunch program's value and achievements, the Congress in 1962 requested the President to issue annually a proclamation calling for observance of National School Lunch Week. For 1963, it is the week beginning October 13 with the theme "School Lunch Serves the Nation — Through Food for Learning."

In issuing the proclamation, President Kennedy called upon the people to observe National School Lunch Week this year in order to increase public understanding and awareness of the significance of the school lunch program to the child, home, farm, industry, and to the nation.

The President's proclamation also calls attention to the fact that the lunch program represents one of the nation's best examples of a cooperative local-state-Federal partnership for the benefit of a most important segment of the country's population.

When the 16 million school children sit down to appetizing lunches served through the National School Lunch Program this year, they enjoy the benefits accumulated over

Strip, Auger-Mined Land Reclamation Proposed

Frankfort, October 14 (Spl.).—A tighter law for reclamation of strip and auger-mined land was proposed by Robert Montgomery, assistant commissioner of the State Conservation Department, at the recent annual convention of the Kentucky Conservation Council.

Coal operators should have their land-reclamation plans approved by the Department of Conservation before they are issued a state strip-mining permit, Montgomery said.

The present law gives an operator up to 60 days after obtaining his permit to file a reclamation plan with the Department.

"If we do not do a better job of controlling strip-mining, we may find the federal government taking over this problem," Montgomery said.

New officers elected to the Conservation Council for 1964 included Mrs. J. Kidwell Grannis, Flemingsburg, president; Glenn Weinman, Lexington, vice-president; H. G. Pennycook, Stanton, secretary; and Miss Daisy Hume, Lexington, treasurer.

MAYNARD IN ITALY

Vicenza, Italy — Army Specialist Four John C. Maynard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Maynard, of Emma, Kentucky, participated in SOUTHEX 63, a four-day NATO southern region field training exercise in northern Italy, which ended September 29.

The exercise was designed to test and maintain a high level of defensive capability for the forces that guard the right flank of NATO, and to demonstrate the solidarity of the forces in this area and their determination to defend against any aggression.

Specialist Maynard, a clerk in the 69th Ordnance Company near Vicenza, Italy, entered the Army in March, 1962, and completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Arkansas.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1959 graduate of Prestonsburg high school.

descended from or related to James Gibson who is mentioned above.

"From gravestone records we learn that Archibald Gibson was born in 1769. He was married in 1783 to a woman we know as Veshta (from Gravestone) or Bashiba (from land records). Her last name is unknown. He died at Jamestown, Indiana, 2-13-1855, aged 85 years. She died at the same place, 10-4-1855, aged 92 years. Family tradition says they lived together 75 years. Archibald owned land on Cranberry Creek, Wilkes county, North Carolina, in 1793. He received a government land grant in Perry county, Kentucky, 6-2-1824. He sold land in Perry county, Kentucky, in 1827 and 1828, and bought land in Hendricks county, near Jamestown, Indiana, in 1828. He and his wife Bashiba transferred this land to Absalom Dent, a son-in-law, 3-1-1838." (To be concluded)

It's Autumn and Musky Time In State Lakes and Streams

Frankfort, Ky. (Special)—A long, looping cast with a flashing spoon into some deep, clear hole of water and a vicious strike may give most anglers more fish than they can handle. This, according to the experts, is musky fishing at its best.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources outlines approximately 26 counties that offer fair to good musky fishing in Kentucky. Sixteen of these lie in the general vicinity of the Cumberland National Forest, from Lewis county in the north to Leslie county in the south and ten other counties with good musky waters are located in the southwest central section; namely, Warren, Barren, Green and adjacent counties. Within these areas are such famous musky streams as the Barren, Red and Green Rivers and Tygart, Triplet and Kinnicoick Creeks.

The silver musky, which is the Kentucky variety, can attain a weight of 50 pounds and definitely is the No. 1 tackle buster for most anglers.

It prefers a deep, clear hole of water and can strike from out of nowhere, at just about any moving object that strikes its fancy. Anglers often tell tales of the musky that lashed out at a hand, foot or some piece of boat rigging that may have been left dangling overboard. However, the more commonly used musky lures include large baits, such as an eight to ten inch sucker minnow, big flashy spoons and long plike minnow type plugs.

During the cool and sometimes cold weather of October and November and March and April, expert musky anglers say this big fish will hit the best but most ardent musky fishermen cast after this biggest of Kentucky game fishes the year 'round.

If there's any truth in the saying "Patience is a virtue," then Kentucky musky anglers are a virtuous lot. For patience is, perhaps, the most important asset of musky fishermen. The catches are not as frequent as other game fishes and it takes many long hours of casting and retrieving to entice that one big strike. Yet every fisherman who has ever tangled with just one of these fighting silver streaks will readily admit that it's the king of Kentucky's fresh water fishing delights.

Heavy tackle with a wire leader and sharp hooks is the first prerequisite to taking the musky. Some few are caught on conventional tackle but in the majority of cases a good bass casting outfit will go by the boards when too big a musky hits too light a tackle.

ORDINANCE NO. 11-63

An Ordinance of the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, Authorizing and Instructing the City Attorney of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to Take Steps To Annex As A Part of the City of Prestonsburg Certain Territory Adjacent To the Eastern City Limits of Said City, Lying in Trimble Branch, and A Certain Area of Land and Territory Lying on the Eastern Side of the Auxier Road, Near Green Acres Housing Project, and Known As the Presbyterian Church Property.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION I. That the City Attorney institute an action and file a petition in the Floyd Circuit Court, within thirty days after the adoption and required publication and advertisement of this ordinance, according to law, to annex as a part of the City of Prestonsburg the following described territory:

(a) That certain territory and property belonging to the Harkins Heirs, located adjacent to the eastern corporate limits of the City of Prestonsburg, as now situated, and more particularly located and comprising 163.34 acres in the head of Trimble Branch, more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at a stake in the center of Trimble Branch, being the southwest corner to Farm No. 4, as shown on Plat of Harkins Subdivision of Trimble Branch; thence in a northerly direction on the common line of Farm No. 4 and Baby Farm No. 4 up the point to the top of the hill; thence with the top of the hill in an easterly direction around to the head of the branch; thence with the top of the hill around the head of the branch, and thence with the top of the hill to a high knob; thence in a southwestern direction down the hill to a stake at the corner where Highland Avenue, Court Street and Cemetery Street join; thence with Cemetery Street in a western direction to the center of Trimble Branch; thence up the center of said Trimble Branch to the point of beginning, so as to include all of Farms 1, 2, 3 and 4, as shown on said map.

(b) The Presbyterian Church property, lying on the eastern corporate limits, as now situated, and on the Auxier Road, opposite the Green Acres housing project site, and more particularly described as follows:

A certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in Floyd county, Kentucky. Said tract of land being a part of the Rainley White property near the mouth of May's Branch, off Levisa Fork of Big Sandy River, and more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a Highway Right-of-Way concrete monument about 50' from the center of and East of Highway, and also the Northwest corner of Parcel No. 1, John Burke, Kentucky Department of Highways; thence up the hill S 74° 20' E 452.70 feet to an iron pin and corner to Rainley White and John Burke, parcel No. 1, thence S 22° 56' W, 201.23 feet to an iron pin, a corner to Rainley White, Parcel No. 1 and 2, thence down the hill between Parcels No. 1 and 2, N 74° 20' W 423.02 feet to a stake and corner to Parcel No. 1 and 2, thence with the Highway Right-of-Way to the beginning.

SECTION II. All ordinances, or parts of ordinances, in conflict herewith, are hereby expressly repealed to the extent of such conflict.

SECTION III. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from this date, after publication as required by law and the provisions of this Ordinance.

9,500 School Lunches Served In Floyd County, Is Report As Observance Under Way

Floyd county school children are among the 390,000 students who are enjoying well-balanced lunches in Kentucky schools during National School Lunch Week, October 13-19.

Nationwide, the school lunch program is one of a quarter-billion dollar business, reaching more than 16 million school children daily in the United States. This food market amounts to $16 million a year in Kentucky and approximately $100,000 in Floyd county.

Last year Floyd county's school lunch shopping list called for ground beef, chicken, pork, green beans, peas, carrots, sweet potatoes, apples, apricots, peaches, pears and pineapple.

The food donated from the federal government included 9,900 pounds of ground beef, 21,650 pounds of turkeys, 49,000 pounds of chicken and a variety of canned fruits and vegetables.

Each of the 9,500 lunches in Floyd county included at least one half-pint of milk purchased from local sources.

Lunches are available for not more than 30c. These prices are made possible by the help of federal reimbursement of 4c-7c a meal and federally donated foods.

FIRE SEASON OPEN, WARNED

Matlick Announces Fires Have Started In State;

Several small forest fires have broken out in various areas of the state, sending some towermen to their observation posts ahead of schedule, Kentucky Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick has announced.

Although the fall fire season officially begins October 1, fires normally do not begin to break out until around the 15th, Matlick added. That date was set for towermen to take their posts.

"It has been extremely dry in most areas of Kentucky, particularly in the west," Matlick said. "We have had no indication from our weather forecasters that these conditions will continue, but extreme caution is urged where any fires are set."

Matlick pointed out that sections of the Kentucky statutes pertaining to fires have been in force since October 1. They prohibit setting fires near woodland or brushland during the season, except between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and midnight or when the land is covered by snow. Setting any fires without taking proper precautions to prevent their spread is prohibited.

The fall fire season lasts through December. Matlick warned that his department's Forestry Division organized a new section on law enforcement this year and that all violators of the statutes will be prosecuted.

The Conservation Department did not issue a blanket order for all towermen. They went up where needed, according to the judgment of each district forester. Matlick said the others will still adhere to the October 15 starting date.

Archers' Deer Season Began on October 15

Frankfort, Ky. (Special)—Kentucky's increasing archery population will have more elbow room this fall during the deer hunting season with 48 counties having been opened to hunting, an increase of five over the previous year.

The generous season this year will open on October 15 and continue through November 15. This season is about 15 days later than the previous one as requested by most bow and arrow hunters. With the later starting date archery enthusiasts believe that the foliage problem will not be so great as it has been in past years and, therefore, more archery hunters will have a better chance to bag their deer.

The expanded hunting territory includes six new counties, Adair, Logan, Hancock, Taylor, Marion and Warren, in addition to the 43 opened last year. With the closing of one county, Cumberland, the archery boys will have the 48 counties, or almost half the state, in which to hunt.

Archery seasons also have been set for designated areas on Kentucky Woodlands National Refuge, the dates being October 21-26 and October 28-November 2.

Rules for the archers include: Long bows only except during primitive weapons season on specified areas in Bath and Menifee counties; arrows must be barbless with broad-head; points must be at least 7/8 inch wide and archery hunters must not carry firearms.

Our Historic Heritage

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky

(No. 253 in a Series)

EASTERN KENTUCKY ARTESIAN WELL

Artesian wells in Eastern Kentucky have always been a rarity and wherever found were considered invaluable assets to a farm. The first few were discovered by early settlers boring for salt.

Shown here in this 1896 photograph is an artesian well in Johnson county. The water was conducted upward for a few feet in order to let it flow into a trough for livestock. Two boys, if living now are aged men, had been hunting and stopped to drink from what everybody considered a wonder of nature. The old rail fence, a rarity now, too, is a photogenic backdrop for the picture.

The First National Bank presents these old pictures in recognition of our historic heritage.
