

This Town... That World

LOOK WHO GOT INTO THE ACT!

I wouldn't call the arrival of the Rockefeller baby a blessed event. Strikes me that his arrival and all that publicity, almost on the eve of the California election, reminded folks all over again of his divorce and sent many of them to the polls, mumbling in their beards about that gay Lothario. That boy may grow up to be a wife-beater. He's already helped beat his old man.

LOOK, MA—HANDS!

The story is told, and it may be true, of the youngster who ran home, all out of breath, to tell his mother about the magic record-player at his school.

"A magic record-player—what will they come up with next?" mother remarked, her mind turning to all the Buck Rogers gadgets she had been reading about.

"Yeah, magic, mother. You don't have to plug it in—you don't even use electricity. All you have to do is wind up a crank."

ANGLERS' ANGER

Bob Harlowe's in town and even above par—he handed me three jokes, any one of which is fit for print in this family journal. Here are two of them (I have lost the third):

"A crusty, old guide took a city slicker for a fishing trip, up in Michigan. Right off, the novice reeled a tiny white bass right up to the rod tip and pirouetted in glee. With a snort of disgust, the oldtimer said, "Why don't you climb the rod and choke 'im to death?"

GROUP PLANS FIRST MEET

Commerce Chamber Slated To Explain Organization Job

The Chamber of Commerce will hold a community meeting at the Municipal building at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, it was announced this week. Purpose of the meeting is to explain the progress made in organizing a Chamber of Commerce for Prestonsburg and to solicit memberships.

All professional and business men are urged to attend as the support of all progressive leaders is sought.

"About two years ago certain of the business men of the city went on a bus trip and became aware of what a Chamber of Commerce could do for our city," a Chamber spokesman said. Shortly after that, a meeting of the leaders of the city gathered, selected a committee to get a Chamber started. This board has been working since, and now has things ready for our first public meeting."

BOND SALE OKEHED BY FEDERAL AGENCY

STREET JOB START SEEN BY ACTION

Council Authorizes $265,000 Bond Issue; Grant Aid Is $486,000

Approval by the Housing & Home Finance Agency, Atlanta, Georgia, of the $265,000 bid offered by the Adams Construction Company for the surfacing of Prestonsburg's streets and construction of sidewalks is seen in the fact that HHFA has agreed to the sale of bonds by the City Council.

HHFA has assured the city it will purchase the bonds at 3 3/4% interest, if no better bid is received, and the fact that the city will advertise the bonds for sale on June 16 is seen as assurance that the bid on the work is satisfactory enough to the federal agency to gain its approval of the bond sale.

The City Council at its meeting Tuesday evening adopted an ordinance authorizing sale of the $265,000 bond issue. Remainder of the cost of the huge project, involving all Prestonsburg streets and much sidewalk construction, will be paid for by a federal grant of $486,000.

Work may be started by July 1, it was said recently.

Howard K. Bell, Engineers, Lexington firm which has supervised the sewer and sewage disposal plant construction here, told the Council Tuesday that the entire system will be completed and ready for use by August 1 at the latest, and possibly as early as July 15. The engineers suggested that the city send whoever is employed as sewage system superintendent to study a similar plant now in operation. Bell engineers assured the Council Prestonsburg's sewer system and disposal plant will provide service of the highest type.

POLL SITES ARE CHANGED

Three New Precincts Authorized by Court To Lessen Hardships

Floyd county's voters will cast their ballots in November at 41 precincts instead of at the 38 where they voted in the primary. The Floyd county court entered orders this week creating three new precincts, holding that the distance many of the voters have been required to travel has created a hardship.

An old name returned to the list of precincts as Beech Grove was created as the county's 41st precinct. This is the name of a Right Beaver Creek precinct of another generation, and Beech Grove in the old days was the scene of many the stirring fight, political and otherwise. The precinct will be formed by cutting from Bosco precinct all that area beginning at the state highway bridge at Midas and extending on both sides of Beaver Creek, including Brush Creek, to the property line of Miles Gibson.

Another new precinct is Branhams Creek No. 40, created by cutting from Tickey precinct all the area from the mouth of Branhams Creek to the Pike county line.

Prater Creek No. 39 is the other newly created precinct. This removes from Little Mud precinct all that section beginning at the Prater Creek hill and extending down the creek to the Big Sandy river at Banner. Rice Branch was removed from Allen precinct and added to Prater Creek.

Gregory Not Passenger In Peters Automobile; Times Makes Correction

The Times erred in its story last week of the damage suit filed by Wanda Gregory, administratrix of the estate of her son, Harry James Gregory, vs. Elmer and Kenneth Peters and Jo Pack when it stated that young Gregory was a passenger in the car driven by Kenneth Peters.

Gregory and Curt Hughes occupied another auto and it was in the collision of Hughes' auto (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

AREA PLAN EXPLAINED

First-Year Expenditure Slated At $90 Million, House Committee Told

Charles Schultze, assistant budget director, in an effort to prevent the proposed Appalachian anti-poverty program from becoming a partisan target of the Republicans in Congress, assured the House Public Works committee Tuesday that the plan is a cautious and conservative approach to the region's problems.

The program will start slowly at first, Schultze said, with a first-year expenditure of approximately $90 million in the 10 mountain states. No construction of public power plants is contemplated, he told the legislators.

Schultze was unable to give the legislators any cost of the program as that depends upon what the states and federal government decides to do in the region.

He did say the highway construction envisioned would have an ultimate cost of $920 million. The federal share will be $645 million. The government will also spend $41 million during the life of the program to build new health facilities in the region.

As for other parts of the Appalachian plan—resource development, strip-mine reclamation, vocational school construction, and community improvements—no five-year cost estimates are possible, the budget official said.

For the first year, Schultze proposed that Congress set up a $227-million bank account for Appalachia. Only about $90 million will be spent, he said, but the balance would be available for future spending.

Schultze spent a good part of his time explaining to the committee what the Appalachian development corporation would be and how it would work.

The corporation, he said, would be run by a federal official. It would be able to issue up to $550 million in bonds to finance such (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

VOTE GAIN IS SLIGHT

Cassie Allen Gains 19 In Floyd-Co. Recount Of Primary Balloting

A net gain of 19 votes for Cassie Patrick Allen in the Floyd county Democratic primary resulted from the recount of the vote last Friday, County Clerk C. Ollie Robinson announced.

The canvass of the vote was made by the election commissioners at the request of Mrs. Allen. Only her vote and that of the primary winner in the Democratic race for Judge of the Court of Appeals, Edward P. Hill, were considered in the recount.

The examination of the voting machines showed that Mrs. Allen gained 10 votes in Rough and Tough precinct and that Judge Hill lost 9 votes in Toler precinct. Mrs. Allen's original Rough and Tough vote was recorded as 8. The recount showed her total was 18. At Toler Creek Judge Hill's vote was originally tabulated as 33. The review placed his vote at 74.

The figures in the other 36 precincts were unchanged.

Mrs. Allen, who according to the recapitulation of the votes, received 586 votes, alleged last week, when she asked for a recount, that there were irregularities in the Floyd county voting and suggested that the Federal Bureau of Investigation should look into "alleged large-scale vote-buying during this federal election."

Judge Hill, who won the Democratic nomination for the appellate judgeship by approximately 7,000 votes, said this week:

"In view of the dignity given by television and the newspapers to the charge to the effect that there were irregularities, vote-buying, etc., in Floyd and Breathitt counties, I would like to invite the news media to send a reporter or reporters to these two counties to investigate. This charge was a verbal one, not made in any suit pending, and is one which anybody could make. This is a serious charge against the thousands of people of these two counties."

In its report on last Friday's recount the Floyd Election Commission commented that (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

INTOXICANTS SEIZED OFFER ORIGIN CLUE

The transporter of 96 half-pints of whiskey and vodka which were confiscated Monday night by State Trooper Elmo Allen and ABC Agent Claude Flanery on Stephens Branch failed to remove the serial numbers from the bottles, and that may lead to something, officials say.

The numbers will be used to trace the intoxicants to a distributor, County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill indicated.

The haul was made when the two officers, armed with a search warrant, searched the premises of Bill Stone. A 1950 GMC panel truck parked near the Stone home was not his, Stone said. Examination uncovered its contents.

The truck was registered in the name of Curtis Smallwood, of Bevinville, Trooper Allen

'Hillbilly' From Afghanistan Finds Floyd Hills Beautiful; Studies U.S. Health, Education

A hillbilly from Afghanistan came to Floyd county last Thursday and revelled in the mountain scenery which he found reminiscent of home.

The visitor was Abdul Byram who was here to study the schools of the area, particularly the role of public health in the schools. He interviewed both County Superintendent Charles Clark and Dr. Russell L. Hall, head of the Floyd County Health Department. For the last 17 months he has been doing post-graduate work in school administration in Kansas City under sponsorship of the State Department.

"The United States is a fine, great—but misunderstood—country," was the enthusiastic opinion of the visitor.

He hopes to return to Afghanistan and help his tiny country make similar progress in the fields of education and public health. Landlocked Afghanistan is about the size of Texas, has a population of 14 million, and is squeezed in between Iran on the west, Russia to the north, Pakistan to the south and Tibet (Red China) on the east. Only one of every five of its people can read or write, and sanitation facilities are almost wholly lacking except in the national capital.

Many areas of the little country are in deepest poverty. "But," said Byram, "our people are 97% Mohammedan, and they will never accept Communism, because Communism is against all religion."

He has an idea that the United States and the world need to fear Russia more than China.

Reminded that the United States is predominantly Christian but of many denominations, he was asked if the Moslem religion is so divided. His answer: "No—in Mohammedanism all is brother. That is what Mohammed means—'All is brother.'"

2 TROOPERS ARE KILLED

Truck-Auto Collision Near Pikeville Caused By Rock, Theory Held

Two troopers from the Pikeville detachment of the State Police were killed at 5:30 p.m. last Thursday in the collision of their cruiser with a truck driven by a Floyd county man.

Trooper Cecil Uzzle, 27, died at the scene of the wreck on U. S. 23, two miles north of Pikeville. Trooper Elmer Moberly, Jr., 33, died at the Pikeville Appalachian Memorial hospital, 30 minutes after the crash.

Ernest Hall, 49, of Harold, driver of the Ashland Oil & Refining Company truck with which the troopers' car collided, was seriously injured.

Moberly had been called to the scene of an accident and was accompanied by Uzzle, who was off duty at the time. A large rock which had been dislodged from the hillside by heavy rainfall bordering the highway is blamed for the tragedy. The cruiser apparently hit the rock, both its front and rear tires on one side being sliced flat, and it veered out of control into the path of the truck, which was driving south.

Uzzle, a native of Madisonville, died of multiple head injuries; Moberly, of Manchester, from internal injuries and numerous fractures. Bodies of the two were taken to their home towns for burial.

An investigation headed by Lt. Billy Lykins and Sgt. Douglas Sword was made in an effort to determine events leading to the collision.

IMPROVEMENT WORK EXPECTED TO START

Berry Plant Receives 5,494 Crates To Date; Processing Nears End

The strawberry processing plant, now in its third year of operation here, had received 5,493 crates by Tuesday night, it is said. This was a considerable increase over the 3,538 crates received last year by this time.

While the increase in crates received this year has risen it is still far below the first year. According to figures in the county agent's office 7,335 crates were received in the initial year. The number of crates expected to be received this year will be approximately 6,000, according to Robert M. Jones, Extension agent.

Processing will cease for the year within a few days, it is said.

MOORE DIES OF GUNSHOT

East McDowell Resident Said To Have Inflicted Fatal Wound Himself

Lewis Everett Moore, 18, of East McDowell, was dead on arrival Monday evening at the McDowell Appalachian Regional hospital. He was the victim of a 12-gauge shotgun wound in the abdomen.

Coroner James Carter, who was ill, held a telephone conversation with the attending physician at McDowell and was told that members of the family said the wound was self-inflicted. Glenn Patrick, of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home, who took the body to the hospital, quoted members of the family as saying the young man was in his bedroom and that they heard a shot at 10 p.m. He was found on the floor.

He was a son of Willard and Rebecca Stumbo Moore, of East McDowell. Surviving brothers and sisters are Willie C. Moore, Mrs. Priscilla Collins and Mrs. Mary Hamilton, all of East McDowell, Richard Moore, Columbus, Ohio, Fredie Gaye Moore and Ethel Sue Moore, both at home, and Mrs. Rozena Allen, Detroit, Michigan.

Funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. from the home, and burial was made in the Greenberry Hall cemetery under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

ONE SECTOR NOW READY ON BEAVER

Sturgill To Certify Titles To Engineers On Stream Project

One sector of the stream improvement work planned for Right Beaver Creek is expected to be ready for work within the next 30 days but a start on the other apparently must await condemnation action to gain access to the stream, County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill said Tuesday.

The Wayland-Garrett-Bosco project was cleared for work this week as last of the easements sought for two months or longer was procured.

One hundred seventy-three deeds granting the U. S. Corps of Engineers access and operation rights were lodged Monday with County Clerk C. Ollie Robinson for recording. The County Attorney said he will next certify titles to the Corps of Engineers, and the Corps then will advertise for bids for use of equipment.

The work involves clearing and snagging of the stream.

The Langley project has been delayed as easements yet are lacking on three tracts of land. Signatures of some of the heirs of one of the tracts were procured this week. Condemnation suits were filed against the owners of the other tracts, W. H. May and Earl Webb.

"I have been hesitant about filing suits on these tracts, but this work is too important to the Right Beaver Creek section of the county and its citizens for me to delay any longer the action that is necessary to get this job done," County Attorney Sturgill said.

Sturgill, County Judge Henry Stumbo and others have been working for weeks, attempting to get easements signed, on occasions meeting with landowners at mass meetings to discuss the work to be done, what the federal government demands of property-owners and the county, and the value of the proposed work.

Hicks said his cab was damaged $400.

WILLS OUTSTANDING IN ENGINEERING

TIMEPIECE FROM OLD TIMERS—James Donald Wills (center) accepts a watch presented him after his selection as the year's outstanding senior in mining engineering at the University of Kentucky. Making the presentation in behalf of the sponsoring organization, the Old Timers Club, is Harry LaViers, president of the Southeast Coal Co., Paintsville. Looking on is the award-winner's mother, Mrs. Ethel Wills, of David.

A Floyd county employee of the Kentucky Strip Mining Commission has been selected as the year's outstanding graduate in mining engineering at the University of Kentucky.

The award-winner, James Donald Wills, has been presented an engraved gold watch by a group of coal-industry engineers known as the Old Timers Club.

Wills, a 23-year-old Floyd county native, has been associated with the Strip Mining Commission at Frankfort since completing requirements for his UK degree last December.

He studied under a four-year scholarship sponsored by Princess Coals, Inc., of David, and was vice-president of the Norwood Mining Society, the student chapter of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers.

The Old Timers Club, which presents the award each spring to UK's top senior in mining engineering, includes many nationally prominent figures in the coal industry. One of the organization's veteran members, Harry LaViers, of Paintsville, president of the Southeast Coal Company, presented this year's award to Wills at a luncheon on the UK campus.

Selection of the winner was made by members of the UK engineering faculty.

Junior Club Officers

Installed at Lodge

Mrs. R. V. May, first vice-president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, installed the officers of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club, May 26, at the annual installation dinner at May Lodge. Mrs. May stressed that clubwomen must have faith in God, themselves, and each other; the courage to act, have enthusiasm for their work and be aware of the needs of their community.

New officers who were installed were: Mrs. James D. Adams, president; Mrs. Jack F. Wells, first vice-president; Mrs. David Hereford, second vice-president; Mrs. Garland Godsey, recording secretary; Mrs. John Dale, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Holbrook, treasurer.

The outgoing president, Mrs. Clifford Latta, thanked the club members for their interest and cooperation during her two years of service. She gave special thanks to Mrs. C. E. Roberts and Mrs. James D. Adams.

Mrs. Adams, the incoming president, challenged the group to do as Mrs. May had suggested—go the "second mile" in service. The special very low rate for an all-electric home allows abundant use of flameless, clean, reliable electricity at surprisingly low cost!

You may already have 5/6 of a Total Electric home!

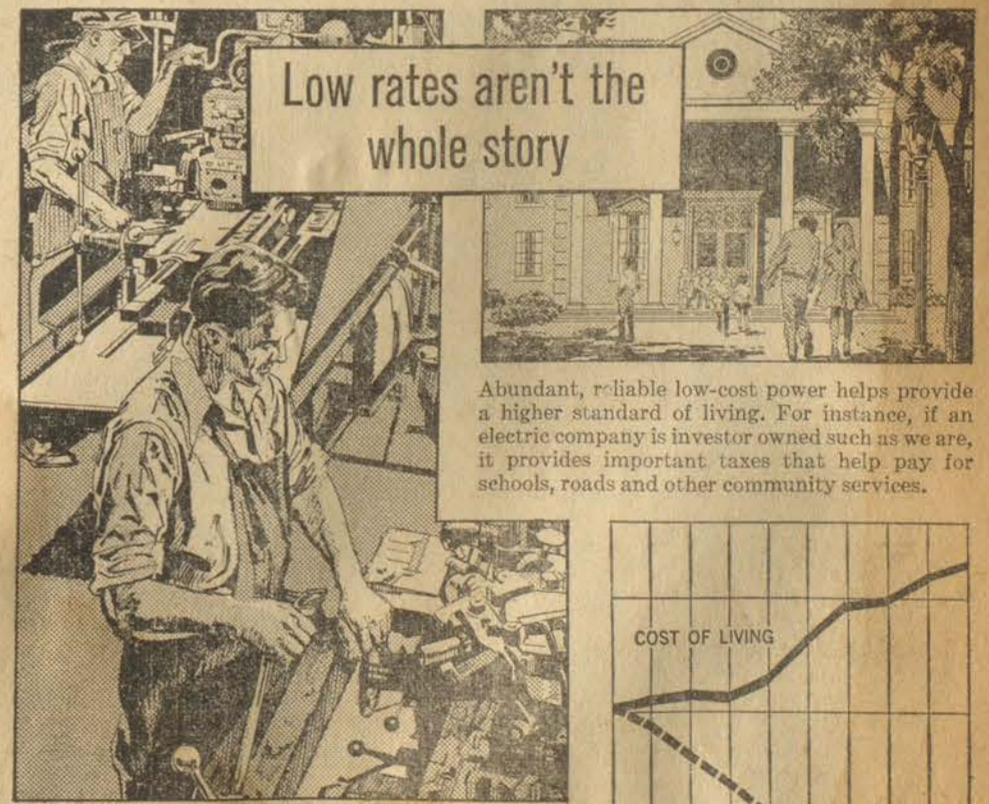

The more electricity does for you—the less it actually costs you per unit!

Once you start adding up all the things that electricity does around your home you'll find that you are pretty close to Total Electric living! If you use electricity for most of your chores, you are enjoying a lower-than-average rate now, since the more you use, the less it costs per unit.

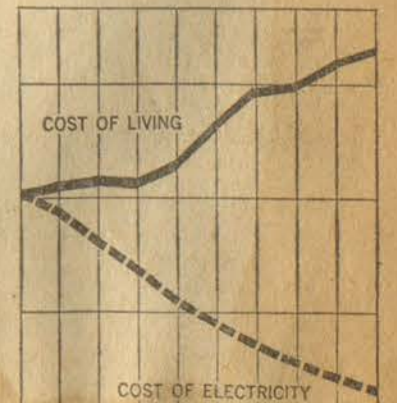

So each time you buy an appliance, make sure it's electric. Sooner than you think, you'll be enjoying the greater convenience and economy of Total Electric living.

Free booklet gives details. If you would like to know more about Total Electric living, this booklet has data on rates as they apply in your case . . . describes steps you should take to get low "wholesale" rates . . . shows how close you may already be to Total Electric living. You'll read what other homeowners say about their Total Electric homes. And you'll see why electric rates in this area are among the lowest in the nation.

It's called Sooner Than You Think. For your free copy, phone us . . . stop in . . . or mail the coupon.

Abundant, reliable low-cost power helps provide a higher standard of living. For instance, if an electric company is investor owned such as we are, it provides important taxes that help pay for schools, roads and other community services.

Our rates were never so low. This chart shows how the average cost per kilowatt hour of electricity has been lowered 18% in the past 10 years, while cost of living has risen 14% in the same period . . . and we're dedicated to continue this trend.

KENTUCKY POWER COMPANY is a part of the American Electric Power System. This system produces more electricity than any other investor-owned utility in the United States. It serves over 2300 communities in 7 states—Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Through coordinated management and operations, progressive engineering and research, the six member companies of AEP bring you low-cost power with greatest dependability.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS

(From a letter addressed by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to all law-enforcement officials.)

Is a poisonous bacteria being injected into the vital bloodstream of the American way of life? Are citizens being subjected to tranquilizing doses of subtle ridicule and calculated defiance of constituted authority, law, and order?

These questions loom particularly important at the moment because June is a time of hope and anticipation for thousands of American young people. Many high school and college graduates leave the cloistered atmosphere of homes and educational institutions and move into the ranks of our workaday society. We hear a great deal about their adaptability and whether they are prepared to cope with this significant milestone in life. Not much concern, however, is evidenced over society's preparation to receive them. We might well ask ourselves if we have fully acquainted them with the time-honored principles which have made America great.

Actually, graduating seniors should have no questions as to the greatness of our way of life. But as we know, some do have questions. We do not and should not isolate and shield them from theories and ideologies which we believe to be contrary to the best interests of our country. As growing boys and girls, they have been exposed to the dubious theme running through much of entertainment, movies, television, radio, literature, arts, and theater which often depicts our orderly processes as inept, incompetent, and out of step with the times. This trend comes close to undermining the concepts and ideals on which our Nation was founded; and even in those instances when the age-old battle of "right versus wrong" is presented, "right," though usually victorious, is often tainted.

Students as well as other Americans recognize and accept the long-standing custom in our society of satirizing public officials. The mere fact that this practice has become a part of the American scene is a tribute to our freedoms. Obviously, no one seriously suggests that all Congressmen, judges, prosecutors, law enforcement officers, city officials, and other authorities are jelly-brained nincompoops as frequently featured. While some may question the degree of such jest, none can question the privilege to do so.

The real danger lies in the more subtle, low-keyed, so-called objective, and serious castigation of principles involving our way of life. This is no complaint against the inherent rights of public criticism and freedom of expression. My objection is against the wholesale defilement and universal downgrading of our treasured freedoms and institutions—the time-tested attributes of democracy which are manifested in a representative government ruled by law.

A well-known editor and columnist some months ago, speaking on this topic, stated, "I am tired of seeing America debased in the eyes of foreigners. And I am genuinely disturbed that to the idealistic youth in many countries the fraud of communism appears synonymous with morality, while we, the chief repository of real freedom, are regarded as being in the last stages of decay."

Let us cast aside those who spread distrust and ridicule of our heritage. Let us extol the virtues of our noble traditions. And let us, by example rather than words, instill in the hearts of American youth the true pride and joy known to those who can proclaim, "I am an American!"

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky
By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan and his Confederate cavalry entered Kentucky from Virginia by way of Pound Gap, and began what was destined to be his last raid in his home state. He had about 2,400 men, but 800 of the cavalry troopers were on foot. Morgan hoped to capture horses for them on the way—and some were captured in the first engagement, when Col. D. Howard Smith led the dismounted men and drove off a Union Army force defending Pound Gap.

Morgan, after escaping from prison in Ohio the previous November and making his way back to Confederate territory, had been named commander of the Confederate Army's Department of Southwestern Virginia, with headquarters at Saltville, Virginia. It was his task to defend vital salt works and lead mines in that area. In May he had repulsed Union cavalry attacks from two directions made simultaneously by Brig. Gen. W. W. Averell and Brig. Gen. George Crook. Averell and Crook had withdrawn and were awaiting reinforcements.

When Morgan heard that Brig. Gen. S. G. Burbridge, the Union Army's commander of the District of Kentucky, had assembled nearly all available units in Kentucky and marched to Louisa with 6,000 troops, on his way to reinforce Averell and Crook for a new attack in Virginia, he determined to cut in behind Burbridge and raid Central Kentucky, thus forcing Burbridge to turn back and abandon the Virginia operation.

Morgan had no artillery with him, for big guns could not be taken through the rugged mountain country he had to traverse to get in behind Burbridge's rear and beat him to Central Kentucky. Morgan passed through Campton and headed for Mt. Sterling, the Federal depot of supplies and most important post in that section.

Basil Duke in his "History of Morgan's Cavalry" says the

It Can Happen Here By DR. RUSSELL L. HALL (Floyd County Health Dept.)

In Aberdeen, Scotland, where they haven't had a case of typhoid in years, are 224 cases today.

This is addressed to those who think typhoid is a disease of the past in this country—and neglect to take their immunization.

The first 147 days of 1964, there were 144 cases of typhoid in the U. S. The danger of typhoid epidemics here is very real.

This is true of many other contagious diseases. We had more cases of tetanus (lockjaw) this year than last; and three times more cases of diphtheria, the last week of May, 1964, than there were during the corresponding week in 1963.

Tularemia (rabbit fever) is on the increase; so are scarlet fever, rabies, encephalitis. The number of measles cases has markedly increased.

We have been blessed by good luck in this area, but we are not safe. Many of these diseases can be prevented by immunization. All people—adults and children—should take every effort to avail themselves of this protection.

A nurse is on duty at the Health Department each week-day, Monday thru Friday, to give these immunizations to all who request them. Take advantage of this service. It may save your—or your child's—life.

Reenlistment Incentive Offered by U. S. Navy

The Chief of Naval Personnel has introduced a new reenlistment program known as "Reenlistment for Selective Conversion and Retention." This program was launched to encourage the reenlistment of broken service personnel, in certain ratings and pay grade, whose skills are acutely needed, by offering reenlistment in the rate held at discharge for subsequent conversion into the critically undermanned technical ratings. The requirements for this new program are varied. For full information, see your local Navy Recruiter located at Postoffice building, Paintsville, or Prestonsburg on Wednesdays.

Floyd Planning Group Hears Specialist Speak

The other one also has to do with fishing, and I wonder why he kept this item, just for me. It deals with an old angler who was kinda riled up and whose temper wasn't helped any by the passerby who sang out, as they will, "How they bifin?" And the oldtimer, giving the impertinent one never a glance, replies, "Mostly on the neck and legs."

(That sounds familiar. If I didn't make that answer to a young poppinjay, one afternoon a few years ago, I was in a mood to say it.)

It says here that a man pays a luxury tax on his billfold; an income tax on what's in it; a sales tax whenever he takes what's in it out, and an inheritance tax if there's anything left in it when he dies.

SMALL COMFORT

After this column's snide remark last week about the small number of votes cast in Floyd county at the primary election, it has been suggested that I take a look at Lexington, Kentucky, the so-called "Athens of the West," where in the same election, in a city of 63,000 population, less than 400 Republican ballots were cast.

It may be said, in defense of Lexington, that there was no Democratic primary there, but we're not talking Democratic figures. This is a city which frequently gives the G.O.P. a majority. Besides, a Negro was a candidate for Congress, opposing a white man, and one would have thought enough Negroes would be interested in one of their own race to record more than 300-odd votes. And, by the same token, you would have thought enough whites would have taken an interest in their man.

However you look at it, Lexington did a poor job—a much poorer job of it than Floyd county. Which, of course, does not excuse us.

Lexington, Ky.—"The Changing Kentucky Community" will be the theme of Kentucky's annual 4-H Leadership Conference, which will be held at the University of Kentucky, May 31-June 4.

Douglas S. Leslie, 18, Son of Former Resident Of Betsy Layne, Victim

Douglas Solomon Leslie, 18, of Cowpen Creek, Pike county, was killed instantly Wednesday of last week when a station wagon in which he was a passenger collided with a school bus on Town Mountain near Pikeville. Four other persons were injured.

Leslie, a son of Willie and Beatrice Roop Leslie, former residents of Betsy Layne, was a junior at Mullins high school. Accompanying him in the vehicle at the time of the crash was the driver, Larry Adkins, 17, Dewey Cochran, 17, Billy Haynes, 17, and Arthur Dixon, 18, all from the nearby area. All were high school students.

The school bus, driven by Clell Caines, had no passengers. Caines was uninjured. Adkins and Haynes were released from the hospital the next day but the other two are still hospitalized.

Leslie is survived by his parents, six brothers and sisters; Marvin Leslie, Martin Leslie, Mary Leslie and Mildred Leslie, all at home, Airman Hadler Leslie, Goldsboro, North Carolina, and Mrs. Margie Voss, Seaside, California.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 11 a.m. at the home of the parents on Cowpen Creek, near Coal Run, the Rev. Dee Ratliff officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery.

with that of Miss Pack that Gregory and Miss Barbara Wells, a passenger in Miss Pack's auto, were fatally hurt.

Elmer Peters, father of Kenneth, said this week that the Buick which his son drove was not touched in the collision which claimed the two lives, near the Prestonsburg-Paintsville airport, last December.

Mrs. Gregory's complaint, which was filed in circuit court here, seeking to recover $70,000 damages, claims, however, that the car driven by Peters and that of Miss Pack collided as a consequence of the alleged reckless operation of their cars by the two drivers. Hughes is not named in the suit.

Danger for Swimmers Cited As Season Opens

With the passing of Spring and the coming of warm weather, boys and girls just naturally start thinking of going on hikes, picnics, and swimming, and Dr. R. L. Hall, health officer, Floyd County Health Department, reminds all young people and their parents to take the following life-saving precautions:

- (1) Never go swimming alone;
- (2) Never over-do the fun of "horse play";
- (3) Never try to swim a long distance, especially in the early Spring; you can never swim as far in the Spring as you could at the close of the swimming season last year when your body was conditioned for swimming long distances;
- (4) If you can't swim, you should never go swimming without an adult who can swim nearby;
- (5) Never go swimming immediately after eating.

Dr. Hall said that most drownings are the result of one of two things. Either the victim could not swim, or could swim but suffered cramps and panicked.

check of the comparative signature books against totals shown on the voting machines disclosed that there were 35 more votes cast than there were signatures of voters.

The election commissioners also pointed out that in 24 of the county's 38 precincts the precinct election officers failed, in whole or in part, to comply with KRS 125.150, in that they failed to complete properly the certificate which that statute requires. In 10 of these 24 precincts the officers failed, it was pointed out, to comply with that statute at all.

Mrs. Allen moved that the commission refuse to certify the results in these precincts, but the three commissioners unanimously agreed that the matter of determining whether the votes in these precincts should or should not be counted is a question for the courts to decide.

INCREASED SERVICES FOR DISABLED SEEN

Frankfort, May 26—A $128,000 project to test the feasibility for increasing the depth of rehabilitation services for disabled Kentuckians in five "project area" counties of Eastern Kentucky was announced by the State departments of Education and Economic Security.

Affected will be persons eligible for State public assistance in the Harlan-Bell counties area and the Johnson-Lawrence-Martin counties area. Special offices will be set up at Harlan and Paintsville in the near future, the departments said.

The grant for the demonstration project was awarded by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services and the Division of Public Assistance for the first year of a planned interdepartmental three-year program. The programs will be carried out cooperatively by the two agencies.

"While this project will not tend to increase public assistance benefits in any way as far as individual payments are concerned," Economic Security Commissioner Earle V. Powell said, "it will offer a quantity and kind of rehabilitation services which have never been available to our recipients before."

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Harry M. Sparks also emphasized that the demonstration program offers services provided by his Department's Bureau of Rehabilitation Services. He pointed out, however, that this is the first time that the Bureau has developed a project to concentrate on disabled persons in the public assistance group.

"This project will be an important effort to stand behind our disabled citizens," Sparks said, "and to try to help them become gainfully employed, or at least more nearly self-supporting."

Teams of rehabilitation counselors and social case-workers from the two departments will work together to identify and answer the needs of handicapped persons. Further services and facilities will be made available for medical evaluation and vocational education for the disabled.

"Many of the adults involved with public assistance for the physically disabled are dependent upon their families for support," Powell said. "This project will help Kentucky to find ways to make these persons eligible for employment."

Powell said the State Employment Service will be ready to help the persons who can be rehabilitated and prepared for work. Also ready to cooperate with the joint project is the State Department of Health, which will provide child and maternal health services, laboratory tests and home nursing.

RADAR UNITS ARE DOUBLED

Reduction of Speed On Highways, Object; Operators Are Trained

Frankfort, June 1 (Spl.)—Governor Edward T. Breathitt has announced that the state is doubling its number of radar units in an effort to reduce speeding on Kentucky's highways.

Breathitt said eight new radar units are being purchased for the State Police and should be in use by August 1.

The purchase will bring the State Police's total number radar units to 16—one for each of the 16 State Police posts in Kentucky.

"There is no single answer to the problem of death on the highways," the Governor said. "But radar is known to be an effective tool toward curbing the rising traffic death toll."

"Each year accident records show that speeding is a leading contributor to the highway death problem."

Breathitt said radar is a "sound, legitimate method of speed timing, proven in the courts."

"We hope the public will acquire the proper respect for speed laws through the use of these machines."

The men now operating the radar equipment have been adequately trained in its use, the Governor said, and more will be trained to operate the new units.

I'M PLEASED WITH the COMPLETE BANKING SERVICE of THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

I opened a checking account at The First National Bank years ago and find that there are many benefits from paying by check. It is convenient to pay bills by check and the check is a legal receipt.

I have a Savings Account at The First National Bank, too, and I add to it regularly. My account is insured by an agency of the U. S. Government.

These are a few of the reasons I am pleased with the service I receive at The First National Bank. You will be, too.

TRINIDAD DANCERS SLATE FOLK FEST APPEARANCE

News that 30 singers and dancers from Trinidad in the West Indies will be at the Latonia Race Course, near Covington, rounds out the program for the 27th annual National Folk Festival.

The Trinidad performers, known as the Petite Musicale, are sponsored by their government. They will perform at all five performances with a special presentation planned for Sunday afternoon, June 7.

Joining these and other performers from around the nation are Kentuckians from the Big Sandy to the Mississippi—at least two of whom are from Floyd county.

Kentucky singers will include Ben Mattingly, of Somerset, who learned his songs from friends and neighbors in Pulaski county, especially from Oscar Carter, a banjo player of the old school. Ben's songs will include "Wild-wood Flower," "Little Birdie," and "Pretty Polly."

Suzanne Slucher, of Halton in Shelby county, will sing "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair," a beautiful melody arranged and carried around the country by John Jacob Niles, another Kentuckian.

Edith James, of Prestonsburg, accompanying herself on the dulcimer, will tell of "The Brown Girl" and sing several of the old white spirituals, such as "The Cherry Tree Carol," a nativity legend, and "Beautiful Home," a family song which tells of the Master washing the feet of His disciples.

Mountain tunes of a different stamp will be contributed by Margaret Ann Merton, of Lees Junior College in Jackson. Her selections will include "Swapping Song" and "I Was Born in Old Virginia!" Like the vast majority of our folk artists, Margaret learned these tunes from her own family.

From Western Kentucky, Bertha Wenzel, of Paducah, will bring us old river tunes which were collected and recorded by her aunt, Mrs. Mary Wheeler. Dressed as a fashionable packet-boat passenger and carrying a parasol, Bertha will recall "The Joe Fowler" and "Ohio River, She So Deep and Wide."

Some real toe-tapping music will be made by the Bluegrass Valley Boys of Frankfort. From a collection of some 200 tunes these five musicians know from memory, they have selected "The Mocking Bird," "Ragtime Annie," "Hell Broke Loose in Georgia," and "Foggy Mountain Breakdown."

Several Kentucky dancers will be on stage to "step the tunes" of these musicians. The Buckskin Pioneers, directed by Carl

WAYLAND

Lackey-Garrett Wayland Woman's Club members who attended the Kentucky Federation of Woman's Club convention at Lexington were Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mrs. Merville Dixon, Mrs. Richard Vinson, Mrs. Earl Castle and Mrs. N. D. Howard.

A group of 4-H clubbers from Irvine, who danced recently for Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson when she visited their hometown, will also be present. J. F. Smithers directs these youngsters who will demonstrate the jig-style dance of Eastern Kentucky. Mrs. S. H. Thorpe, also from Irvine, knows several versions of many ballads originating with the English and Scot settlers of Eastern Kentucky. Her tunes will include "Lord Bateman" and "Sourwood Mountain."

Returning this year to the festival is the Centennial Chorus, of Winchester, led by Mrs. Marian Curry. These singers will contribute several spirituals and lining hymns which continue to be the chief songs of worship in some Negro congregations. Selections include two old favorites, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and "Jacob's Ladder."

Leonard Roberts, a Floyd county man who is now transplanted to Wesleyan College in West Virginia, will relate some tall tales from Eastern Kentucky and Appalachia. Leonard recently published a collection of Eastern Kentucky folk tales titled "South From Hell-for-Sartin."

The finest Prestonsburg high school baseball team in six years lost its bid for a place in the state tournament Saturday as Camargo high scored a ninth-inning run to down the Cats in the semi-finals of the regional tourney, 2 to 1.

Prestonsburg defeated the Paintsville Tigers in the first round, also by the 2-1 score. Clark racing home from second in the seventh with the winning run on Mike E. Wells' single which the Paintsville left fielder fumbled.

Mike H. Wells held Paintsville to eight hits and shut out the Tigers except for a lone run in the second. He struck out 12 while walking four. Sublett, Paintsville twirler, deserved a better fate as both runs scored off his delivery were unearned.

In the semi-final game against Camargo, Burchett held the winners to five hits. Prestonsburg hit safely six times against Camargo's Williams but could score only in the second when Webb singled, moved to second on Fred Setser's bunt and rode home on

SPORTS CHATTER

CLOSE GAMES
This season's Eastern Kentucky regional high school baseball tournament, just completed in Ashland's Central Park, was one of the most closely contested tournaments in the long history of the event. Three of the six games were decided by one run. The caliber of play by the youths has improved considerably in recent seasons. Very few errors were made, and the pitchers turned in highly capable performances.
