CAMPBELL ASSUMES DUTIES AT COLLEGE

250 TOTAL EXPECTED TO ENROLL

Staffing Job Advances, Dr. Godby Announces; Lewis and Sipes Named

With the arrival here this week of Dr. Henry A. Campbell to assume the directorship of the new Prestonsburg Community College it was announced that applications filed by prospective students for the opening term already total 210.

This number is expected to pass the 250 mark by opening day of the college, September 3. The number of applications as of Monday stood out in sharp relief against the picture of little more than a month earlier when only 65 students had filed applications.

Dr. Campbell will work temporarily from the office set up for the college in the portion of the Meade-Allen building which was formerly occupied by Clyde Burchett's Jewelry Store, but in about three weeks will move into his permanent office in the college building now nearing completion.

His coming here is something of a homecoming for him. For he is a former resident of Wayland and Wheelwright, having attended grade school at Wayland and graduating from Wheelwright high school. (See separate story.) Staffing of the college is nearing completion, it was announced this week by Dr. Edsel Godby, acting director prior to arrival of Dr. Campbell.

Clyde L. Lewis, who currently is on the Berea College staff, will teach biological science, and Randall Sipes, of the Iowa State faculty at Ames, Iowa, will be the instructor in foreign languages. Prof. Lewis received his master's degree from Louisiana State; Prof. Sipes, from the University of Michigan.

This Town... That World

If you have trouble finding a blessing to count today (Wednesday), just think back to yesterday and 90-odd in the coolest shade.

Remind me, sometime, to tell you about the time my daughter and I went to Washington in a Hillman Minx. Beep, beep! I rode shotgun.

THE CAPTURE

These television commercials lead me wandering far afield: The intrepid hunters were in the wildest Himalayas in search of the Abominable Snowman. They had seen strange tracks, at every turn of a crazy precipice they expected to behold something which might so shake them that they would lurch backward off the trail to land on the rocks a thousand feet or so below.

Then, off there in a snowfield, they saw the Thing. It rose slightly, subsided, writhed and twisted as if in torment. But the exploring party gave not an inch; instead, crept slowly forward, nearer, nearer. Then, with a wild whoop, the leader, leaped forward and made the grand capture.

The Abominable Snowman? Nah! It was the Living Bear.

LIFE IN THE OLD GAL YET

He had choked her. She was dead—there was no doubt about it. He had listened to her dying gasp. Now she was cold—cold as the hand of death. Yet in his anger he was not convinced. Furtively, he kicked her. To his amazement, she gasped, sputtered, and then began to hum softly. "Just a little patience with this car is all it takes, John," remarked his wife from the back seat.

Physicists say it's not good for a man to keep too much to himself. The Department of Internal Revenue says the same thing. (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

LOWEST BID IS $82,441

Bid Exceeds Estimate By 34 Percent; Work Endangered, Hall Says

Lowest bid on construction of the Health Department annex and installation of central air-conditioning for the structure exceeded the $61,000 allocated for the project by 34%, thus jeopardizing the undertaking.

A decision was expected after Tuesday's conference between county and health officials with Paul A. Hackney, Hill-Burton fund administrator for Kentucky.

"Unless additional federal and state funds can be applied to the project, it will be lost and the funds previously allocated to the work here will go elsewhere," said Dr. Russell L. Hall, county health officer.

The total allocated for the job is $61,000. Lowest of the bids opened last Saturday was that of R. C. Dyer, of Allen, who asked $82,441.61. Two other bids were submitted: McGuire & Vanhoose, Prestonsburg, $82,965, and Meade & Kendrick, Prestonsburg, $84,200.

Of the $61,000 available, half was from Hill-Burton funds, with the other half split equally between state and county.

The addition planned would have extended a width of 14 feet along the Goble street side of the health center building and would have included a basement as well as the air-conditioning system.

THREE PLOTS ARE BOUGHT

Urban Renewal Project Property Is Acquired; Begin Demolition Work

The Prestonsburg Public Housing Commission has taken title to three of five parcels of property involved in the city's urban renewal plans, and demolition of one structure, the former home of the late Judge and Mrs. C. B. Wheeler, was begun this week.

The Wheeler property was acquired from the I. Richmond estate. Other property on which title has been conveyed is that of Mrs. Sallye L. Clark and Mrs. Maxie Hutsinpiller.

Title to property owned by the H. C. Francis heirs and the old courthouse site will be conveyed around July, Clifford B. Latta, the Commission's executive director, said.

Two of the tenants of Mrs. Clark, Henry Montgomery's Barber Shop and Hamilton's Restaurant, this week advertised their equipment for sale in anticipation of the date when they must vacate their present locations.

The Richmond and Hutsinpiller property purchases were made for the Central Business District project; the Clark and courthouse holdings will be used for what has been designated the Courthouse project. Both areas are to provide public parking areas and to serve the cause of city beautification.

STREET SURFACING CONTRACT AWARDED

As one major improvement project was scheduled for completion here this month another was ready to be begun.

Construction of Prestonsburg's sewer system is getting the finishing touches now. The new undertaking, scheduled for beginning next Monday morning is the surfacing of all Prestonsburg streets and the construction of sidewalks and drainage facilities where needed.

The city's contract with the Adams Construction Corp., Pikeville, for the street improvement project was signed Monday. A representative of the contracting firm said the entire job is expected to be completed by November 15.

Adams' bid of $651,858.85 was lowest asked for the work. Of this amount, a grant of $436,000 from the Housing & Home Finance Agency of the Urban Renewal Administration has been made. The remainder is being financed by sale of the city's street improvement bonds.

Community College President, Graduate Of Wheelwright High, Knows Problems Of This Area

From left—Dr. Henry A. Campbell, director of the Prestonsburg Community College, with Dr. Edsel Godby, of the University of Kentucky, who was acting director prior to arrival here of Dr. Campbell.

Dr. Henry A. Campbell, first director of the Prestonsburg Community College, is not a native of Floyd county but he's the next thing to it.

Born in Cosmos, Washington, he came to this county with his parents when he was a small boy. He attended grade school at Wayland, and, later moving to Wheelwright, was graduated from Wheelwright high school in 1943. At Wayland he was a music pupil of Robert Wallace, who has been named librarian at the college here which Dr. Campbell will head.

Dr. Campbell is proud of his Floyd county connections. He has lived with the county's needs, and he hopes those early experiences, coupled with those of later years as a college student and executive, will enable him to be of greater service to the young people of the area than he could have rendered, were he not acquainted with Eastern Kentucky as he is.

Reminiscing of his boyhood, he reminded a representative of The Times:

"We should know each other. I wrote the Wheelwright high school sports for The Floyd County Times, back in 1941 and '42." (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

BELLS TO FEATURE FOURTH OBSERVANCE

The ringing of bells in Prestonsburg on July 4 at 2 p.m. will herald the opening of Independence Day celebration here, it is announced by David B. Leslie, commander of American Legion Post No. 129 here. The bell ringing is part of a nationwide ceremony at that hour, it is said.

Mayor George P. Archer issued a proclamation this week, calling upon the city residents to join in the bell ringing and to observe the day by displaying the American flag.

The celebration is sponsored by the American Legion in cooperation with other civic organizations and Prestonsburg businessmen. Concession stand profits go to the Little League, it is said.

Featuring the contest will be ball games and other traditional events. There will be contests to find the largest family, the oldest man, oldest woman, tallest woman, tallest man, prettiest baby, three-legged race for boys and girls, egg and spoon race, fiddling, banjo picking, greasy pigs and numerous other fun-making events. Judges are Joe Helton, Bill Africa, B. L. Sturgill and Alex Davidson.

The celebration will begin with an invocation by Rev. T. W. Chisholm, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Mayor (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

$1-AN-HOUR JOBS CITED

City Manager Praises Enthusiasm of Workers

Fathers of dependent children are doing for a dollar an hour outstanding work in a number of Floyd communities, county and city officials have pointed out recently.

Curtis Clark, Prestonsburg city manager, cited sidewalk construction here, work to provide a playground at the Green Acres housing development and a cleverly improvised street-sprinkler and washer as highlights of the project here.

County Judge Henry Stumbo has been impressed by work on roads, cemeteries and bridges at various points in the county.

The enthusiasm of the men for the work has been particularly impressive, both men said. There are some who would loaf, they admitted, but the overall work and the effect of that work have been excellent, they agreed.

Clark said he is particularly proud of the fact that some men without skills are learning to become skilled workmen. During sidewalk construction some have learned mixer operation.

And, he related, the sprinkler-washer device is serving a purpose for which a $7-$9,000 piece of equipment would normally be required. A handicapped employee with a flair for mechanics took an old truck which had ceased to run, with the help of others (who could do the lifting) installed piston rods and other parts. Mr. Clark borrowed a tank from Winston Ford, Jr., mounted it on the truck. A hose connects from the truck to a homemade sprinkler, a pump was rebuilt at a cost of $12—and they're in business, washing streets, laying the dust on unpaved streets, and able even to do a bit of fire-fighting if the occasion demands.

FIRM BUYS SCHOOL LOT

P.-T.A. Plans Removal Of Old Shop Building; Plan Conversion to Gym

Floyd county's fiscal court sold at auction last Saturday for $30,100 a Prestonsburg parcel of property which it bought in 1942 for $1,500.

The sale was made to the Music-Colvin Motor Company, which owns adjoining property. One other bidder, Byron Nunnery, offered $29,000 as his final bid.

The property sold to Music-Colvin is known as the NYA Shop lot which fronts 200 feet along Lake Drive (U. S. 23 and 480) here and extends back 120 feet. The lot reverted to the county when the building located on it ceased to be used for school or vocational training purposes. Completion of the Garth Vocational School made continued operation of the vocational school here as a part of the Mayo State Vocational School no longer necessary.

The building on the lot will be used by the Prestonsburg Grade School P.-T.A. as a gym for physical education purposes. The P.-T.A. has been given 60 days in which to remove the structure from the lot.

At least part of the purchase price of the lot will be used by the court to pay for air-conditioning of the new courthouse.

GIRL, 2 MEN ARE KILLED NEAR HUNTER

Warrants Charge Hall With Manslaughter; Released Under Bond

Lives of three Floyd countians, a 16-year-old girl and two men, were claimed as the result of a head-on collision of two automobiles, near Hunter, at 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

The dead: Elizabeth Ann Butler, 16, of Drift, killed at the time of the crash.

Larry Faulkner, 23, of Drift, who died nine hours later at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville.

Wilburn Lee Tackett, 73, of East McDowell, almost instantly killed.

State Trooper Larry Hatton, who investigated the tragedy, said Raymond Hall was driving Tackett's car, a Pontiac, in the direction of Martin, approaching the Chevrolet driven by Faulkner on a straight stretch of the Left Beaver Creek highway between the Hunter bridge and the site of the old school there. He said it was indicated the Tackett auto veered across the center-line for no apparent reason.

Three voluntary manslaughter warrants were issued for Hall, and he was jailed here by Trooper Hatton. Hall later was released under bond.

Trooper Hatton said Hall, Tackett, Estill Newsom and Ger... (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

LONG-SOUGHT STILL IS FOUND ON LICKING BY OFFICER TRIO

A trio of agents seized a still, destroyed seven barrels of mash, and arrested two men Friday in Magoffin county. The still had a capacity of approximately 500 gallons and agents said the worm, one and a quarter inches in diameter, was the largest ever used to their knowledge in the manufacture of illicit whiskey.

Seizure of the distilling apparatus was made on the Mary Ann Branch of the Straight Fork of Licking River near Handshoe. Agents had been looking for the place two years.

The officer group, composed of ABC Agent Claude Flannery and two federal alcohol and tobacco officers were driven near the location Thursday midnight, last week. The officers spent several hours in the rain waiting in the woods for daybreak.

At nine o'clock two men, Virgil Handshoe and Perry Howard, came up a path and officers watched them examine the mash. When they started back down the path the officers placed them under arrest. The two were unarmed and made no resistance.

In addition to the still and worm, 12 barrels were destroyed, seven of them containing 420 gallons of mash.

Agent Flannery said the still was just under the top of a hill and water was supplied from a coal seam seepage. It was necessary for the operators to carry supplies more than two miles through an uninhabited area. The agents concluded from observation of the site that the still had been in operation several years.

Handshoe and Howard were taken before Commissioner Page at Pikeville. They executed bond for appearance at the October term of federal court.

DR. ALLEN IS NAMED SPORTSMAN OF YEAR

Open Sewer Problem Talked at Meeting; Quick Action Urged

Concerned because of the health menace created by open sewers here, Dr. R. L. Hall, health officer, Floyd County Health Department, conferred Monday with water and gas system personnel, seeking quick and effective action.

Laying of sewer lines has been completed, it was said. The sewage disposal plant will be ready for use possibly as early as July 15—in no event later than July 30. Curtis Clark, acting city manager, said he had been assured. Until the plant is usable, new sewers will connect with the old system.

Dr. Claude L. Allen, of Langley and Martin, vice-president of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen and long a leader in the Eastern Kentucky conservation movement, last Saturday received the coveted Kentucky Sportsman of the Year award.

The honor was accorded Dr. Allen at the annual meeting of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen at Ashland. The presentation was made at the banquet session of the convention at the Henry Clay hotel by County Judge Lester Mullins, of Grant county, last year's winner of the award, in the absence of Governor Breathitt.

As a vice-president of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen for 10 years and a leader in the organization and development of the Seventh District Wildlife Federation, Dr. Allen has travelled extensively but has always done so, at his own expense. "The cheapest and the most valuable man we ever had," an acquaintance once commented, referring to his refusal to charge his expenses to the organizations which he represented. Dr. Allen became active in conservation during the 1940's, helped with the formation of the Seventh District Wildlife Federation, and has been its vice-president for the state league since 1954. He also has served as the federation's executive vice-president the past two years.

The physician, also a director of the Floyd County Fish & Game Club, is president of the Beaver Valley hospital at Martin, a board member of the Floyd County Health Department, and a member of the Floyd Medical Association, the Kentucky State Medical Association, and the American Medical Association.

He graduated from Maytown high school, the University of Kentucky with a bachelor of science degree, and the University of Louisville Medical School with an M.D. in 1939. He interned at the Charleston (W. Va.) General hospital.

He is married to the former Katherine McKinney, of Hinton, West Virginia, and they have two children.

KENTUCKY SPORTSMAN OF YEAR—Dr. C. L. Allen, of Martin, right, was named Sportsman of the Year by the Kentucky League of Sportsmen at its recent convention in Ashland. Presenting the award in the absence of Gov. Edward T. Breathitt was Grant County Judge Lester Mullins, of Williamsport, recipient of the award last year.

owned gas and water system, and Bill Harvey Howard, Davis' assistant, Dr. Hall said he was told the city will complete fittings so that the homeowner can tie onto the new sewer at his or her property line, at once. He added that the Health Department will insist that homeowners contact a qualified plumber and have sewer connections made at once. Such connections are to be left uncovered for inspection by Norman Hedrick, state plumbing inspector, and city employees are to notify the Health Department, the following morning, of homes readied for connection on the preceding day.

A list of nine qualified plumbers has been supplied the Health Department. Homeowners may procure this list by telephoning the department.

Dr. Hall said he was told much of the time of city employees is being consumed in investigating spots where open sewers are reported. To facilitate such investigations and help meet each situation as quickly as possible, county sanitarians have been assigned to make such inquiries and to report fully on every emergency situation.

The immediate task is to reach and correct emergency situations created by open or broken sewers. This work done, city employees under the supervision of Davis will prepare sewer lines for home hook-up by sections of the community.

All connections made at the owner's property line with the fittings prepared by the city must be acceptable to the state plumbing inspector. A fee of $7 is charged the homeowner for this inspection service.

To contact plumbing inspector call 886-2117, or the Floyd County Health Department.

Louisa Firm Enjoined From Law Violations By Secretary Wirtz

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has obtained a court order in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky, in Catlettsburg, permanently enjoining and restraining Louisa Fashion Fabrics, Inc., from violating the minimum wage and shipping provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. The firm is engaged at Louisa in manufacturing and selling clothing and wearing apparel.

The judgment, which was entered by United States District Judge Bernard T. Moynahan, Jr., permanently enjoins the defendant from further violations of the minimum wage provisions of the Wage-Hour Law and also directs the defendant not to ship goods in interstate commerce which have been produced under conditions violative of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

According to the complaint filed by the Secretary of Labor, the defendant and his employees are subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act because clothing and wearing apparel produced by them are sold and delivered to customers outside the state of Kentucky.

Only electricity provides cooking that is flameless, clean, efficient... enjoyed by over 20 million families.

You may be closer than you think...to the joy of Total Electric living

Every new electric appliance brings you closer to this best-of-all way of living.

Join the hundreds of thousands of American families now enjoying Total Electric homes... homes that are wonderfully clean, entirely flameless, convenient and comfortable the year 'round. Our low electric rates put these benefits within everyone's reach.

Start now! When you buy your next appliance, make sure it's electric... because every new job you have electricity do for you, above a very low minimum, helps to lower your average cost per unit for all of your electric service.

Free booklet gives details. This new booklet contains rates as they apply in your case... describes steps to take to get low "quantity" rates... shows how close you may already be to Total Electric living. For your copy, phone, stop in, or mail coupon. Do it today!

Can atomic energy lower your electric rates?

Our rates were never so low. This chart shows how the average cost per kilowatt hour of electricity has been lowered 18% in the past 10 years. We're dedicated to continue this trend. As a comparison, the cost of living has risen 14% in the same period.

A primary reason for the very low electric rates you enjoy is the nearness of our power plants to the nation's richest coal deposits. In addition, constant research enables us to squeeze more and more energy from each ton of coal. While economical coal is our primary fuel for generating electricity, nevertheless we are engaged in atomic energy research. If, in the future, atomic energy plants can make electricity at lower costs, we shall be prepared to pass along the advantages to you.

KENTUCKY POWER COMPANY is a part of the American Electric Power System. This system produces more electricity than any other investor-owned utility in the United States. It serves over 2300 communities in 7 states—Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Through coordinated management and operations, progressive engineering and research, the six member companies of AEP bring you low-cost power with greatest dependability.

Supervisors Request That Cancellation Of Pact Be Void

Supervisors of the Floyd county soil conservation district have decided not to go through with their proposed break with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In a letter addressed to USDA and the Agriculture Stabilization Committee, J. B. Clarke, chairman of the supervisors of the soil conservation district, said the supervisors had voted to withdraw their cancellation of memorandum of understanding. The supervisors asked that the cancellation action of May 5 be regarded "as if such action had not been made."

The original decision to cancel its working arrangement with USDA and ASC resulted from what the supervisors termed "the unjust, harsh and unreasonable action taken by Homer A. Taff, state conservationist, denoting and penalizing L. B. Johnson, our work unit conservationist." July 6 was set as the date for the cancellation action to take effect. About the same time that the supervisors acted, Mr. Johnson submitted his resignation, effective early next month.

If the cancellation had stood, soil conservation work could have been continued in the county but only by getting the services of a SOS technician from a neighboring county to plan or supervise Floyd projects, it was said.

A falsifying indictment against Taff was voted by the Floyd circuit court grand jury but the case was dismissed in federal court. Whatever action that may be taken against the official will be in U. S. district court.

Henry Anis, work unit conservationist assigned to this county, may be transferred to Montgomery county, it was said here this week.

UNION PAID PICKET COST

Former Head Alleges; UMWA Denies Charges It Financed Picketing

A spokesman for the United Mine Workers of America at Washington, D. C., denied last week that his union had financed and directed the rash of roving pickets headed by Lee Howell, of McDowell, that attempted to close non-union mines in the Eastern Kentucky field.

The denial came immediately following Howell's allegation made in a 105-page deposition and filed with the National Labor Relations Board and the Department of Justice. The testimony was entered in connection with an unfair labor practice charge leveled against the UMWA by the National Independent Coal Operators Association.

Since 1959 the union has been under court injunction not to picket non-UMWA mines. It testified at N.L.R.B. hearings last year that it had no connection with the roving pickets.

A U.M.W. spokesman said yesterday that Howell's charges are not germane to the current operator's complaint.

"Many of the points (made by Howell) can be refuted and will be if they ever become a matter of litigation," he said.

The current complaint stems from the new contract—the first in six years—signed by the U.M.W. and unionized bituminous operators in March. It provides that the operators pay double the usual 40-cent-a-ton royalty into the union welfare fund for all coal bought from nonunion mines. The operators' association claims this is an unfair labor practice.

Last year the N.L.R.B. declared the "protective wage agreement" contained in the old contract invalid under the "hot cargo" clause of the Landrum-Griffith Act. The agreement had prohibited signatory companies from buying coal from other firms where wages and working conditions failed to meet union standards.

The roving pickets sought to make the small mines, 5,000 of which are represented by the operators' association, conform to U.M.W. standards.

The nonunion mines were nonetheless able to increase their share of the market from 10 to 25 percent.

The protective wage agreement and, later, the double royalty on nonunion coal were made to halt what the U.M.W. considers a regressive trend, undermining the $25-a-day wage and the union's extensive health-and-welfare program.

WHY DRINK MILK?

Unless milk in some form is a part of your daily diet, there's a good chance you won't get enough calcium and perhaps riboflavin—two nutrients you need all your life. Milk also furnishes other minerals and vitamins, high-quality proteins, fats, and sugar, according to UK Extension home economists.

man Stumbo apparently were occupying the front seat of Tackett's car. He said some whiskey and beer were found in the auto after Tackett's body was removed, about three hours after the wreck.

The body was wedged in, between the seat and panel of the smashed car. The auto plunged over an embankment at a culvert after colliding with the other car, coming to rest almost on its end, and so the victim's body could not be extricated until the auto was pulled onto the highway.

German Stumbo was injured but not seriously, and Hall and Newsome escaped with minor hurts.

Three persons, in addition to Larry Faulkner and Elizabeth Ann Butler, occupied the other car, and two of these were seriously hurt. Crit Butler, 15, brother of Elizabeth Ann, is in St. Joseph hospital, Lexington, where he has been removed from the critical list, it was learned here Wednesday. Four-year-old Brenda Friend, daughter of the late Al Friend, and a cousin of the Butler girl, is partially paralyzed. James Mollett, of Drift, escaped without serious hurt.

Funeral rites for Miss Butler were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the home at Drift of her parents, J. C. and Bessie Martin Butler, by the Rev. John W. Conley. Burial was made in the family cemetery. Besides her parents, she is survived by one brother, Crit, who was with her at the time of the wreck.

Faulkner, who was graduated in 1960 from McDowell high school and was employed as a night watchman, was a son of Mrs. Katherine Moore Faulkner, of Drift. He leaves his mother and three sisters, Mrs. Joan Griffie, Goshen, Ohio, Misses Mary Ann and Peggy Sue Faulkner, both of Drift. Funeral rites were conducted from the Faulkner home Tuesday morning, the Revs. Ross Hopkins, Hershell Huff, Mack McCloud and Jerry Hall officiating. Burial was made in Drift cemetery.

Tackett, a retired miner, was a son of George and Elizabeth Akers Tackett. He was twice married, first to Katie Moore and later to Rhoda Hall. Both preceded him in death. He leaves one son, Carlos Tackett, Kansas City, Kansas, and four daughters, Mrs. Leslie Stoot, Michigan City, Indiana, Mrs. Brookie May, Jackson, Ohio, Mrs. Blanche Porter, Gale, Illinois, and Mrs. Bessie Hamilton, Oceana, West Virginia. His funeral was conducted Monday morning from Little Rosa Baptist Church at East McDowell by the Rev. Harry Moore. Burial was made in the Lucy Hall cemetery at McDowell.

Funerals of all three victims were under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

ME AND HUTCH

Those amazing Cincinnati Reds (or is it Redlegs?) Here they are in the first division, despite a manager who, according to us TV-room managers, must be operating from an outboard motor by using tea leaves.

Here's an example of my managerial jousts with this fellow Hutchinson. I look heavenward and cry out against a man who bats a star such as Frank Robinson any place but clean-up, not to mention in the fifth spot after that fadeaway artist, Gordie Coleman. Well, Hutch goes to the coast for a checkup, and his interim manager puts the aforesaid Robinson right where I or any other qualified expert would put him—right in the old No. 4 spot.

And what does the slugger do? Nothing.

Then, in a game as tight as a zippered wallet in a Scotchman's hip pocket, this bumbler of a manager bats Marty Keough for O'Toole who has shut the Dodgers out with two hits. "Keough!" I am tempted to scream. "Couldn't hit that ante-over pitch of mine." And—well, you know what this doublecrosser does?—he singles a run home. Then this Ellis is sent in to pitch and he confirms my worst fears—fills the bases before I can find an aspirin. And who does this wild man finally send in to relieve him?—old man Duren, wild man Duren. "Head for the dugout, boys!" I mentally warn all and sundry.

And, as luck would have it, this Yankee castoff, this fugitive from the American League, etcetera, gets one batter on a fly and strikes out the next. And just when he's zipping 'em over in his best style, what does Hutch—oh, that man!—do? Out goes Duren, in comes the ancient and bone-spained Mr. Henry. This is the last straw—if I only had the willpower to turn this infernal machine off!

But while I am debating this rash move the creaky Mr. Henry fans a youngster named McMullen. And I stick around to hear him whiff two more and hold the enemy scoreless the rest of the way to win for those managerless Reds.

This is plain treachery—sound baseball men such as you and I just can't trust a man like Hutchinson to do the rational, reasonable thing. We can't trust him even to lose when he flies in the face of reason, tempts fate and generally gives the dope bucket a swift kick.

I am plain discombooberated and fall to reading the sports pages . . . And learn that it just may be that I have been keeping closer check on the solar table than the batting averages. I run into a sports quiz and find these questions:

1. Who is Dave McNally?
 2. Who is Mickey Lolich?
- I do a quick flip of the page and scan the answers: 1. Star pitcher of the Baltimore Orioles; 2. Star pitcher of the Detroit Tigers. (Honest Injun—did you know?)

Wonder if Fred Hutchinson knows that? I do a retake of the situation . . . If I am so all-fired keen on this baseball stuff, wonder why I'm pecking at a typewriter?

Many of those with, and against, whom he played football and basketball are still residing in the county, he said.

Since his graduation from Wheelwright high, he went to the University of Kentucky where he received his bachelor's degree in 1949. He received the master of arts and doctor of education degrees in 1957 and 1961, respectively, from the University of Mexico, and the doctor of philosophy from the University of Texas last year.

Following graduation from the University of Kentucky, he taught at Buckeye high school in Garrard county, and from 1951 till 1955 at Cumberland and Benham high schools in Harlan county. He went to New Mexico in 1955 as a teacher in Alamogordo high school, and two years later became director of that city's community college. He became president of Crowder College, Neosho, Missouri, when that junior college was established a year ago.

Dr. Campbell's experience in New Mexico and Missouri in the junior college field ideally equips him for the work with the new college here, Dr. John W. Oswald, president of the University of Kentucky, pointed out when he announced Campbell's appointment recently.

dent-applications, both Dr. Campbell and Dr. Godby emphasized the point that no prospective student need worry about the college reaching capacity enrollment and being unable to receive all who apply. "We'll be able to accommodate every student who comes to us," Dr. Godby said.

Dr. Campbell stressed the point that he and the college staff want to work with students to afford them every possible opportunity to get a college education. It was pointed out that students who have not been able to take the American College Test, which is an admission requirement of all colleges, may take the test, the first week of school. He suggested that those students who will not find it possible to take the test in advance should enroll, be admitted to the college, then take the required test.

A full schedule of night classes is planned but these and Saturday morning classes will be scheduled on a demand basis. It is important, it was pointed out, for those who plan attending such classes to let Dr. Campbell know the work they want to do so that he can set up a schedule.

A part-time student is not required to take the entrance examination.

Mustang Hardtop

Some people just didn't realize how much Fords have changed. Then, they came in to see Mustang—and took their first good look around a Ford showroom. They saw the hottest line of cars in America . . . the "Car of the Year" Award winners . . . the best-built Fords ever. They saw cars so smartly styled, so easy to handle, so good to drive, that they made this the best sales year in Ford Division history even before the Mustang came out. They saw America's leading performance car—the Super Torque Ford (hardtop sales up 54%). They saw America's most famous personal luxury car—Thunderbird—with sales up 68% over last year's record. They found out why Falcon almost outsells Chevy II and Valiant combined. And why Fairlane is a pace-setter in its own field. One look can make you fall in love with any one of Ford's 46 models. A test drive can make you a Ford man forever.

YORK'S MAYTAG PRICE FIELD

"OLE FASHION"

NOW IN PROGRESS AT ALL THREE LOCATIONS--PIKEVILLE, PRESTONSBURG, MARTIN

WE INVITE YOU TO VISIT US IN OUR REMODELED STORES. AT THE SAME TIME WE ARE OFFERING THE PRICE CUTTINGEST MAYTAG SALE YOU EVER SAW, BEGINNING FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1964.

Not surprising if the young ladies at right look familiar to you. They're the famous "Lennon Sisters" seen and heard by millions on the Lawrence Welk Show, ABC-TV.

"We had 11 good reasons for buying a Maytag"

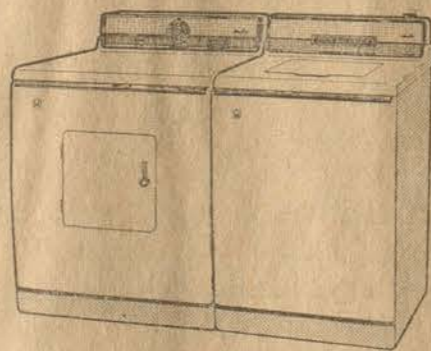

"And they ranged from a 10-month-old baby boy to a full-grown daughter," says Mrs. William Lennon, of Venice, Calif. "That's why I had to have an automatic washer that I could count on to do four or five loads a day, seven days a week.

"My first Maytag Automatic was like that for 8 years and 10 children. When I traded it in to get all the new features, naturally I picked Maytag. Now, 2 years and 1 child later, I say that Maytag still makes washers like they used to. Not a single service problem on the automatic."

That's one case. Maytag has built more than 13,000,000 washers and dryers since 1907 with an outstanding record for dependability.

So, if you've got one, two, or eleven good reasons for needing an automatic you can depend on, be practical. Pick the automatic that can do a day's work every day. Ask any Maytag owner which one that is.

And right along with Maytag dependability, you get all these new features: An Automatic Bleach Dispenser that ends bleaching mistakes, a Lint-Filter Agitator that eliminates lint problems, an Automatic Water Level Control that saves gallons of water, a Safety Lid that stops action in seconds when opened, and a zinc-coated steel cabinet to protect against rust.

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. When I put in my claim for social security, a young man at the office asked me several personal questions about my age and marital status. Now I'm afraid my neighbors may learn things about me that I'd as soon they didn't know. Will you please not tell them anything about me?

A. You do not need worry on that score. All social security records are confidential. No one will learn anything about your social security claim unless you yourself tell them.

Q. My wife and I are separated and I don't want her to know where I am. Last week I put in for social security and you asked for her address. Will she learn where I live?

A. No. We will not tell her your address. We asked for her address because she may be entitled to a social security payment as your wife. When she makes her claim, she will learn no more than that you are alive and getting a payment; not where you live or any other facts about you.

Q. I would like to put in my claim for social security but I don't want my employer to know about it. Can I get my payment without my employer knowing?

A. Yes, you certainly can. When you make your claim, we will ask you if we may get in touch with your employer about your wages for this year. If you do not want us to, we will not.

Q. When I got married, I told my husband I was 2 years younger than I actually am. Now that we are making our claim for social security, will he find out I lied to him?

A. Not unless you want him to. You may arrange to be interviewed separately from your husband so that he may not hear you tell us your date of birth.

TIDBITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College, Bowling Green, Ky.

"KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES"

Any study of human institutions soon brings the student up against status symbols. Almost everything that we do or say or eat or wear or think has some connection with what the neighbors will say. The old Latin word for customs, "mores," means just about this. The Latin people were long on the "mos maiorum," the customs of their elders. It takes only a few minutes of reading to see how the ancient Jews somehow built their lives around the customs of their elders, giving a custom a clean bill of health or a curt dismissal largely in terms of whether it agreed with what was done in the days of the patriarchs. Before we laugh too much at these worshipful attitudes toward ancient peoples, it might pay us to see whether we, too, are not often too prone to refuse to change because our changing might disagree with our own "customs of the elders." In Kentucky a large number of us are interested in a revision of our state constitution, which, good in its day, is verily only a human document and, like all such documents, subject to being outdated. Some years ago, when I went to speak to a woman's club in a big town of the state, almost the first thing I heard was stern opposition to our changing any item in our state constitution, for, as one of the strongest women in the club said, "Our grandfathers knew best." But this lady lived in a modern house, with all the gadgets that her grandfather knew nothing about: telephone, radio, steam heat, daily mail delivery, college education for Junior, her own woman's club, a daily newspaper, etc., etc. And, not the least of them all, an automobile, which had enabled her to travel farther in a few days than her grandfather, who had helped devise the 1891 constitution, ever got to travel. He was a distinguished Kentuckian, I will admit, but no Kentuckian that I have yet known could have known ahead of time how to provide for the changes in our living that have come since 1891. I am not wise enough to say what things should be kept in any revision of the constitution, but it certainly should be adapted to automobiles, at least, and whatever these necessities of our times bring with them.

One of our American humorists wrote a funny essay or chatty discussion many years ago about the evils of letting women have their own ways. First he pictured a typical pioneer home, where only the bare necessities were around, most of them homemade or home-grown. There was, for instance, the drinking gourd, hallowed by long use. But if the ancient gourd should spring a leak or rot away, another one, grown on the garden fence, could soon be made into an equally serviceable household necessity. Things went along happily for many years in a certain family; the good old drinking gourd held its place, just as it had from ancient days. But the woman of the family had visited among some of her high-class relatives and had seen a tin dipper, which seemed ever so much classier than a mere gourd, which even a no-account could have owned. Forthwith the woman began longing for a tin dipper; by and by she openly mentioned it as desirable. Her husband said nothing, fearing that one new thing might start a long chain of breaking down customs. But the woman persisted, and the husband finally broke down and did not raise too much fuss when the woman bought a shiny new dipper from a traveling peddler. And, sure enough, that started things to happening. The cabin began to take on some modern looks; some glass had to be bought for the window, to replace the wooden shutter that had served too long; the log house had to be ceiled and weatherboarded; and even the woman of the house had to own an open-and-shut fan to take to church, to replace the turkey wing that had always seemed sufficient. The next generation went still further, for the son of the woman who bought the dipper went to school at a private so-called college and then read law under a lawyer at the county seat; and the daughter married a doctor that had actually gone to a medical school. And old customs began to break into a thousand pieces.

DELICIOUS FRIED CHICKEN

Before frying, roll disjointed chicken pieces in seasoned flour; this helps keep the coating on the chicken while cooking, say USDA home economists. Allow ½ cup flour, one teaspoon salt, and a dash of pepper for each two pounds of ready-to-serve chicken. Then dip pieces into a mixture of one egg and two table-spoons water, beaten together until frothy. Finally, roll the pieces in a crumb coating such as: ½ cup packaged dried bread crumbs, either by themselves or combined with ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese; or one cup crushed corn flakes and ¼ cup grated cheddar cheese; or ¾ cup pretzel crumbs (don't use salt in seasoned flour when using presalted pretzels.)

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this mean of expressing my appreciation to all those who in any way assisted us upon the occasion of the death and funeral of Wilburn Parsons. To all of those who offered flowers or assisted in any way I am grateful. Our special thanks are offered to the Revs. Roy Hall, Henry Parsons and Will Hall for their comforting words. Last but not least our thanks are tendered to the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its fine and efficient service.

MAYTOWN

Honor Student Awarded M.D. Degree At Miami U.

Miss Carol Stewart would normally be expected to have a long and distinguished medical career ahead of her. For she was graduated recently from the University of Miami (Fla.) School of Medicine with the M. D. degree at the age of 23. And she distinguished herself scholastically on the way to her M. D.

Dr. Stewart is the daughter of Carl Stewart, formerly of Langley, who is assistant principal of Southwest high school, Miami, and of Miriam Stewart, third grade teacher at Tropical elementary school there. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. Viola Stewart, of Langley, and the late W. A. Stewart.

Her degree came after eight years at the University of Miami. She was graduated four years ago, at the age of 19, magna cum laude, winning about every attainable honor. The four years of medical study followed.

Miss Stewart was recently awarded the John D. Milton Award presented annually by the Florida Obstetric and Gynecologic Society. She won the $250 award with her thesis, entitled, "The Effect of Triethylene Thiophosphamide in the Treatment of Far-Advanced Cancer of the Female Genital Tract."

She was secretary of her sophomore class and layout editor of Synapse, medical yearbook; was a member of Nu Kappa Tau, highest women's honorary; member of Phi Kappa Phi, the University's equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa; vice-president of Delta Theta Nu; member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-med honorary; Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary, and Beta Beta Beta, biological honorary.

Dr. Stewart will intern at Baptist Memorial hospital, Memphis, Tenn., and may decide to specialize in pediatrics because of her love for children. She plans to practice in Miami.

Although study has admittedly cut into her social life, Dr. Stewart loves dancing and music, all kinds of the latter except rock-and-roll, and plans to marry and have a "big family."

NOTICE

The Floyd County Board of Education will accept the highest sealed bid for the 7-room frame school building until 12 o'clock noon, July 11, 1964.

This includes building down to the concrete foundation block only, to include all materials from "sleepers" or floor joists and above, but not blocks in foundation wall or new block in new foundation material underneath.

Successful bidder must be prepared to clear site and remove building within reasonable time.

The building may be inspected by contacting Mr. Hobson, custodian, at the building.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Our Historic Heritage

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky

(No. 288 in a Series)

Mountain Passion Pageant

The Mountain Passion Pageant, presented at Martin, Kentucky, May 4, 1952, was indicative of the maturing culture of Eastern Kentucky. This advance in regional culture was reflected in the organization of societies, the presentation of pageants and educational progress. East Kentucky, long bound by isolation, was finally emerging into the mainstream of American civilization.

Shown here is John, the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness, one of the pageant's most effective scenes. Pete Grigsby, Jr., portrayed the Christus. The script was authored by Mrs. E. R. May. Miss Blanche Dingus directed the pageant. All of the Martin churches participated in the presentation.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of the past in recognition of our heritage.
