USDA Disqualifies Alabama Food Store

Atlanta, Ga.—The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that it has disqualified a Jefferson county, Alabama, food store from participating in its food stamp program because of program violations.

The disqualified retailer is Robert S. Skinner, doing business as Skinner Grocery, at Trafford, Alabama, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

In a letter to Skinner, the Agricultural Marketing Service requested that he surrender his authorization card, all posters, forms, and other official materials which identified Skinner Grocery as a participant in the food stamp program.

The American Heart Association urges a reduction of fats in diet—with a reasonable substitution of vegetable oils and other polyunsaturated fats for animal fats.

JONES IN TRAINING

Fert Leonard Wood, Mo.—Army Pvt. Charles G. Jones, son of Mrs. Virgie Jones, of Hueysville, and other members of the 1st Infantry Division are scheduled to participate in Exercise GOLD FIRE I, a 16-day field training exercise to be conducted in the vicinity of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., beginning Oct. 29.

Jones will participate with Joint Task Force Sioux, one of the combat forces involved in the exercise. About 20,000 men will take part in the maneuver.

The exercise, involving two Force Sioux and Joint Task Force Ozark, is designed to test and evaluate the suitability of the U. S. Air Force concept for improving the use of aviation in support of Army ground forces. Sioux forces will use current doctrines and procedures of troop tactics while Ozark will employ the new concept of support and attack.

Jones, assigned to Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion in the division's 16th Infantry regularly stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., entered the Army last April and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

The 21-year-old soldier attended Garrett high school.

PEACE CORPS TEAM AIDS ECUADORIAN FARM TOWN

Two years ago a Peace Corps husband and wife team was sent to a small village on the coast of Ecuador. This village was once the hub of a thriving agricultural community, but several years of insufficient rainfall had made a complete change in the area. Gone were the lush grasses and the cattle, the orchards and the timber. Villagers were reluctant to move to a new area and were unable to make more than a bare subsistence from the land.

Volunteers, working with local leaders, determined that a profitable poultry industry could be established if the villagers would work together. So a cooperative was formed. Now, two years later, the Americans are gone, but a quickly expanding poultry enterprise remains in their place. The cooperative may be a small operation by American standards, but to the people of that village it is a hope for a better life.

Robert Jones, Floyd county agent, says, "Peace Corps volunteers are making an impact on many areas through the establishment of rural cooperatives. Management is the major factor in success of failure of a coop. To most villagers in Latin America, the idea of working together for the good of all is entirely new. Volunteers are teaching people through on-the-job experience how to make cooperatives work."

Peace Corps volunteers are working in the development of small cooperatives of all types—and some not so small. Most are marketing cooperatives, some are consumer type, while others include all phases of production such as the one developed by the couple in Ecuador. All are designed to contribute to the economic progress of the common people, but they also contribute toward the understanding, acceptance and development of a more democratic way of life. As it's been said, "Cooperatives represent democracy in action."

Few volunteers now working in cooperative projects had experience in this type of work before joining the Peace Corps. Most were rural people with a general knowledge of how a cooperative works. Through a Peace Corps training program they learned how to organize a cooperative and the mechanics of operating it. Rural cooperative volunteers do not have to be college graduates, but need a good background in agriculture.

In practically every country of Latin America and in many countries of Africa and Asia, small but efficient cooperatives are springing up and the Peace Corps is expanding its cooperative projects even more. If you would like to help a village like the one in Ecuador, just fill out a Peace Corps Questionnaire and send it to Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525. Questionnaires are available at the County Extension Office at Prestonsburg, Ky., or at your nearest Post Office.

Liberal Pension Laws Explained by Gleason

Older veterans in the lower income brackets will be able to receive at least $100 a month through the new law liberalizing veterans' pensions and providing basic cost-of-living increases to most pensioners, including widows and children, John S. Gleason, Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs, said today.

The new law, signed by President Johnson on October 13, becomes effective January 1, 1965. The law provides basic cost of living increases of 6.4 percent to most pensioners, higher increases for those with the greatest need, and the greatest increases, as well as medical benefits, to the most severely disabled veterans.

The 1965 Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

Prior to the introduction of the 1965 Fords, the country's leading automotive writers drove the new models at Dearborn. Most of these experts remarked about the extraordinary quietness and smoothness of the Ford ride. An automotive writer in Mechanix Illustrated, said, "If there is a quieter car made in this country, I haven't driven it."

Quiet Means Quality... Since quiet is a traditional measure of car quality, Ford engineers designed the '65 Ford for maximum quietness. To illustrate this quality achievement, Ford chose to make a documented test against the world's finest luxury car—Rolls-Royce.

Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., world's leading acoustic consultants to government and industry, conducted the tests, under supervision of the authoritative United States Auto Club. All cars were tuned to factory specifications.

The Result... The Fords proved to be slightly quieter at all speeds.

The official test report reads, in part: "At all moving speeds, on both courses, the Fords were quieter than the Rolls-Royces."

The Difference... The sound level difference, to be sure, is small—but it is there. At 60 miles an hour, Ford was actually 2.8 decibels* quieter than Rolls-Royce. At 40, Ford was 5.5 decibels* quieter. At 20, Ford was 4.9 decibels* quieter. However small these advantages over Rolls-Royce may be, they are significant evidence of quality—important to anyone buying a car in Ford's class.

Take A Test Drive... A key—and a warm welcome—await you at your Ford Dealer's. The key, incidentally, fits in the lock no matter which side is up—symbolic of the hundreds of advances you'll find in any Ford you road-test. Come in and see for yourself.

*Decibels are the universally recognized units for measuring the volume of sound.

SOUND LEVEL (All readings in decibels)

MPH	FORD	ROLLS-ROYCE	FORD QUIETER BY
20 mph	67.4	72.3	4.9
40 mph	75.9	81.4	5.5
60 mph	82.6	85.4	2.8

TEST CONDITIONS: Dry, level, moderately smooth concrete divided highway; light, quattering wind. All cars operated at steady 20, 40 and 60 mph with all windows and vents closed. TEST EQUIPMENT: Bruel & Kjaer precision octave band analyzer, recording through direct observation and through Nagra precision tape recorder. Data expressed in Perceived Noise decibels. TEST CONDUCTED on September 24, 1964, by Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass., the world's largest acoustic consulting firm. TEST CERTIFIED by the United States Auto Club. CARS TESTED: Two brand-new Rolls-Royce Silver Cloud III sedans, V-8 with automatic transmission, list price in New York $16,655 each. Three 1965 Fords, each with 289-cubic-inch V-8 engine and Cruise-O-Matic transmission: Galaxie 500 LTD, Galaxie 500, XL and Galaxie 500 4-Door Sedan.

The answer (we hope): The federal law forbids the poll tax only as its collection is used as a prerequisite to voting. This legislation prevented officials in the South, for instance, from refusing a Negro the right to vote because he did not have his poll tax receipt. The law does not forbid collection of the tax by the states, however, as we understand it. It does, however, open the way to easy elimination of the tax, and this may be done by action of the fiscal court of a county. The tax is not collected from persons under the age of 21 or from those 65 or older. Nor are disabled veterans subject to the tax.

P. S. We don't like this tax, either.

WHY PASS IT UP?

Sometimes you only get one chance —

- to put aside your pride and say, humbly, "I was wrong."
- to explain a misunderstanding that, if ignored, would sour a friendship.
- to hear what a child very much needs to tell you.
- to defend a person when slighting remarks are being made against him.
- to stand up and be counted when you don't agree with the crowd.

AN OLDIE MAKES THE ROUNDS

Remember reading this one somewhere, sometime? —

"I'd rather be a could if I couldn't be an are. For a could be is a maybe, with a chance of touching par. I'd rather be a has been than a might have been by far; for a might have been has never been, but a has been was once an are."

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky
By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week, one of the great scandals of the Civil War in Kentucky was initiated when Maj. Gen. Stephen G. Burbridge of the Union Army, military governor of the state, issued his notorious "Hog Order," as it came to be called.

It said in part: "Those owning or feeding hogs in Kentucky are informed that the U. S. government desires to secure the surplus hogs in the state. A fair market value will be paid for all that are for sale. It is not intended to limit the amounts deemed necessary to be packed for family use, but it is hoped that all will willingly sell to the government any excess of personal wants, and not allow so much to be packed in the country as to invite raids for its capture."

On the face of it, that sounded fair enough. The trouble, as Kentucky's elected governor, Thomas E. Bramlette, said in a letter to President Lincoln, was in the manner in which it was carried out: "The agents sent out have been attempting to force the farmers to let their hogs go to them at greatly less than the market price, by falsely telling them that the government had fixed the price, and unless they received it willingly, their hogs would be taken at that price anyhow, and if they attempted to sell, or if packers attempted to purchase and pack, their hogs would be confiscated and they arrested and imprisoned."

Col. Frank Wolford, former commander of the 1st Kentucky (Union) Cavalry, who had been dismissed from the service for speaking critically of the President, was out campaigning for McClellan. Speaking of a possibility that the military might forbid McClellan's supporters access to the voting places during the November 3 presidential balloting, Wolford announced publicly, "The man dies who stands between me and the polls that day." Burbridge issued an order stating that it had "come to his knowledge that persons in this military district, in public speeches and otherwise, are encouraging their partisans to go to the polls armed at the ensuing election, under the false pretense that the military mediate illegal interference," and laying down strict rules for citizens to obey on election day.

On the same day, he issued an order that said: "The irregular bands of armed men within our lines, disconnected from the rebel army . . . are guerrillas and will be treated as such . . . Hereafter, no guerrillas will be received as prisoners." This meant that suspects could not be brought in alive for a determination by authorities as to whether they actually were guerrillas, but must be killed where taken.

CLUBWOMEN MEET

The Drift Woman's Club entertained on October 19 members of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland, Maytown and Wheelwright clubs at a smorgasbord in the Drift school lunchroom. Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo led the devotional. The program was in charge of Mrs. Sophia Cahill, chairman of the Community Betterment committee. Mrs. Curt Carter, vice-president, presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker, Clifford B. Latta, of Prestonsburg.

Mr. Latta spoke briefly on the Appalachian Bill and the Area Redevelopment Act and then on Community Improvement. He said that, first and most essential, was a plan and a group, such as the Woman's Club, to formulate and carry out that a lot of work is necessary and that appointments are numerous, but that it is well worth any effort made. He later answered questions from the group. Door prizes were given. There were 34 present.

FOOD PRICES OFFER GOOD BARGAINS

Even though food prices are higher today than they were in the years just after World War II, for example, income has increased, too—food actually takes a smaller part of the family income than it did 15 years ago. In 1947-49, the U. S. consumer spent 26 percent of his take-home pay for food; today, he spends less than 19 percent, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1947-49, it took 60 hours work to buy a month's farm food supply for the average family; today, it takes only 37 hours.

Commemorative Stamp To Honor Homemakers

Members of the Homemakers organization through the nation—and Kentucky Homemakers, in particular—have a special reason to be proud this week, Mrs. Frances Pitts, county Extension home demonstration agent, said Monday.

A commemorative stamp honoring the Homemakers went on sale October 27 at postoffices throughout the country—and much of the credit for the adoption of this stamp goes to a Kentucky Homemaker.

The 5-cent postage stamp was unveiled Monday, October 26, in Honolulu, Hawaii, at the opening session of the National Extension Homemakers Council's annual meeting. The Kentucky Federation of Homemakers is this state's member organization in the Council and 115 Kentucky women are attending this Hawaii meeting.

Monday's unveiling of the stamp climaxes seven years of effort by Mrs. C. P. Moore, Homemaker from Bardstown. In 1957, the idea to try for the stamp was suggested by Miss Verna Richardson, Nelson county home demonstration agent. Mrs. Moore, who was then a district publicity chairman for the Homemakers, secured the National Council's approval of this idea. Since that time, she has led the campaign for adoption of the commemorative stamp.

Lexington, Ky.—With cold weather here now, the black widow spider is looking for a warm place to live and overwinter. This troublesome pest wants to use a dimly lit, seldom visited spot—like closets or attics—in your home to live, says R. L. Miller, U. K. Ag Extension Service entomologist.

Mrs. Raymond McCallister, of Barboursville, West Virginia, was visiting her brother, Richard Martin, and sister, Mrs. Lora Gayheart, over the week-end.

The Regular Baptist Church had a memorial for all deceased members Sunday, October 18. Dinner was served in the church to a large crowd.

STORING HOME-CANNED FOODS

Make sure the foods you canned this summer are stored in a cool, dry place where they will not be subjected to freezing temperatures, recommends U. S. D.A.

GOLDEN DAYS AHEAD WITH GOLDWATER

1. Money, real money in everybody's pocket. (Not Food Stamps, Commodities and other Dole Outs.)
2. Employment for the unemployed, cash they can spend any where.
3. Improvement Programs for our parks, rivers, streams, forests, land reclamation, rural roads, irrigation projects, general land improvement. To give our unemployed an income and at the same time help nature to provide through our improvement programs for our children and their children.
4. A Civil Rights Program that is fair to everyone, not a one-sided issue.
5. By more employment and income for everybody, we'll have more contentment and less dissension. Stop the riots in the streets.
6. Stop buying votes with tax payers money.
7. Stop so much Government intervention in private enterprise.
8. Who said Goldwater is for cutting out Social Security? He is for more and stronger Social Security. And is for more for the old aged people. They deserve more.
9. Don't be sucked in with all these gimmick schemes, which we have had since 1932. These promises only lead to false unsound Government. Real money, cash income needs to replace the dole out system. Money in every body's pocket makes a happy contented America, and that is what we want and that is what you are promised by the sound leadership of Barry Goldwater.
10. Less money thrown away in foreign lands means more money at home. Help only those countries that would help themselves and the ones that appreciate America.
11. To draw the line and deal firmly with Communism.
12. Stop the waste, make our dollar stronger by proper use.
13. Create an interest in God in our schools. Teach our children good sound moral government as we can only build a good strong nation with good children.

How about it Mr. Taxpayer? Do you want to support gimmick programs or employment improvement programs?

A LAST SERIOUS THOUGHT: Mr. Goldwater advocates at least three-man control of nuclear power. Mr. Johnson wants his finger only on the trigger, which is dangerous.

How about it Fellow Americans, shall we CONTINUE with:

1. Corruptness in Government.
2. Laxity in schools. (Moral decay—abstain teaching of God in schools.)
3. Riots in the streets.
4. The Government choking a one-sided civil rights program down our throats.
5. We are told that we cannot transact business with whom we please.
6. We are told where to send our children to school.
7. We are told how much we can grow on our farms.
8. Business is constantly harassed by government intervention.
9. Communism is constantly, silently creeping in all around us, as the present Administration believes in appeasement.
10. Bankrupting our Nation and exhausting our resources by continued waste. How could any Government Official hope to outshine a record like this?

NATURE TRAILS

By RUFUS M. REED

FAMOUS WILDFLOWERS

Moccasin Orchid

The Moccasin orchid or pink lady's slipper, is one of the most fascinating creations of nature. Dr. Earl L. Core says in his book, "Spring Wildflowers," "The moccasin flower is the most highly prized wild orchid in West Virginia because of its beautiful reddish-pink color and its odd appearance, but unfortunately it has been almost wiped out in our state by thoughtless and careless pickers."

The moccasin orchid, famous member of the exotic orchid family, is noted for its many colorful and highly descriptive local names: one of these is from the Bible—"Noah's Ark." The big moccasin, appearing in deep crimson-pink with red veins, sways and bobs in the spring winds like a small ark afloat on stormy waters. Another of its local names is, "The Whippoorwill's Shoe," given to it because the big pink moccasins appear about the time the whippoorwill comes back from the south and begin their lonely chanting in the deep woods where the moccasin flower grows.

Another of its local names is, "The Squirrel's Shoe," and still another is, "The Pink Lady's Slipper." But the shoe itself looks more like the rawhide moccasins the wild Indians wore and which enabled them to steal silently through the forest.

The inflated moccasin has a slit in the top, through which the bees may enter to get the sweet nectar contained in the slipper. The purpose of the big slipper is to hold the nectar to attract bees for pollination. The moccasin flower bears the largest "slipper" of any of the wild orchids, over two inches long. The moccasin also produces sweet perfume to call the bees. The perfume and the beauty of the moccasin have led many persons to pluck the flower, making it scarce in many regions.

I once found a large colony of the moccasin orchids growing on a hillside under hemlock trees, on Hood's Creek,

Lawrence county. I transplanted a dozen or so of the plants but they didn't like their new environment. They are temperamental, it seems, and very difficult to transplant in a new habitat. The plant also requires a soil that is rich and moist, yet strongly acid.

The moccasin orchid is the only lady's slipper without a plant stem. It has but two large, basal leaves, no stem. The flower is formed at the end of a slender scape, which makes the moccasin sway and dance in brisk spring winds. If the moccasin orchid could be grown successfully, a lot of money could be made by selling the plants, because many persons would pay a fancy price for these orchids to set in the wild flower garden.

This wild flower is rated next to the fringed gentian as being one of the most beautiful wild flowers. It is the leading member of the lobelia family, (Lobeliaceae), and bears a deep red flower, very showy. Its color is called "the reddest red" of any flower known in the wilds. The red lobelia, found in clumps along the moist, or swampy borders of streams and brooks, seems to set the streamside aflame with glowing, red color. The lower petals hang down, long and slender, and remind one of a rooster's red gills. The flowers of red lobelia have five petals, and two form the upper lip, while three hang down to form the lower lip. The red lobelia can be transplanted successfully, provided it is put in moist, sandy soil along a stream or brook. It will even thrive in a bog or semi-swampy region. It blooms late in the season, in late July and August. Once in September I found it blooming on Miller's Creek, Mingo county, West Virginia. It is also found in clumps in the upper Wolf Creek region of Martin county. The red lobelia will add color, verve and beauty to any wildflower sanctuary.

The Famous Joshua Tree

There is a large plant of the yucca clan, hilly family, which is one of the most fascinating plants of the arid regions of the southwest. Although a yucca, it reaches a height of 35 feet, and it was named "Joshua Tree" by the Mormons, because it holds up two branches like arms, in the manner Moses held up his arms with "the rod of God" in his hands, while Joshua fought with Amalek and his men. This story, told in the 17th chapter of Exodus, relates how Joshua prevailed over Amalek just so long as Moses had the strength to hold up his arms with the "rod of God." But when Moses grew too weak to hold up his arms, the enemy prevailed. So when Moses got too tired, Aaron and Hur held up his arms for him until Joshua won the final victory.

The Joshua tree plays a great role in the wild life of the Mohave desert and other arid regions. It furnishes food and shelter to many forms of wild life. Wood rats, desert lizards, insects and many species of birds of the desert seek it for food and shelter. Its long, sword-like leaves furnish nesting materials for birds and pack rats. Its flowers are borne in a dense spike at the ends of the branches.

DON'T BE DECEIVED

During this last week before the election you may hear some wild tales, read some wild handbills or hear some wild radio talks regarding the Floyd County School System. The purpose of these charges would be to deceive the parents of Floyd County into believing that our schools aren't already in good hands at a time when it is too late for the school people to answer the charges. The facts are these:

There has been more progress in the last four years than in any four-year period in history.

John M. Stumbo, Bill Blair and Ross Cooley have been a very important part of the four years of progress. They voted to give Superintendent Clark a new four-year contract July 1, of this year.

The team of Luxmore, Hughes and Akers reportedly has the backing of a small group who want to buy the school system in order to use it for their own selfish political means.

Some of this group have a Johnny-come-lately interest in the public school system. This is hard to understand since they have never had a child attend our school system for a single hour.

Let's permit those who believe in the public school system to continue to operate the schools for our children.

We, the undersigned, strongly urge the voters of Floyd County to re-elect Stumbo, Cooley and Blair, (the Action team) to the board of Education. Any other choice could only lead to disunity and a sudden end of progress.

Livelier Comet proves once again why it's the World's Durability Champion. Uses showroom models in day-and-night grind from the bottom to the top of the world.

FAIRBANKS, Oct. 22 — Three Mercury Comets today finished a run no car has ever attempted in so short a time—the rugged 16,200-mile grind from Cape Horn to Fairbanks.

En route, day and night, the cars had no major repairs, just routine maintenance. That's ample proof that 1965 Comets are powerful and tough, not just lively and beautiful.

Bottom to top, 16,200 miles.

In South America, Spring was near. Thaws flooded the roads.

Passing abandoned gold refinery at Antofagasta, northern Chile.

Good city roads were relief for drivers after rugged stretches.

TO THE TEACHERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Disciplining problems are great in almost every school in Floyd County today. Why? Students and parents have lost respect for teachers. Why? They have seen their teachers degraded by being forced to contribute to elections from their hard-earned salaries, to plaster their cars with stickers for candidates and causes with which they are not in sympathy, and to be on election grounds with known hoodlums that are buying votes and passing out illicit whiskey.

TEACHERS, STOP GROVELING IN THE DIRT! STOP CRAWLING ON YOUR KNEES! STOP LICKING BOOTS! STAND TALL! Demand the respect due you as a FREE AMERICAN CITIZEN. Command the respect due your profession. YOU WILL BE A BETTER TEACHER FOR IT!

When we are elected to the Floyd County Board of Education, we will not expect you to trade with anyone with whom you do not wish to trade. You will not be replaced or moved from your teaching location for voting for anyone. The only thing that will be expected of you is that you BE A GOOD TEACHER!

STOP, THINK, AND VOTE!

Which road shall we take?

President Johnson says:

"No single statement . . . no single act of mine is going to be in the direction of provoking war."
"Let us reason together."
"We are strong enough to win any war . . . wise enough to prevent one."

JOHNSON ON EXTREMISM:

JOHNSON ON SOCIAL SECURITY:

"Every American family will benefit by the extension of Social Security."
"Let us repay our older Americans for their sustained creative participation in our national and community life by providing them with a wide range of meaningful opportunities."

JOHNSON ON POVERTY:

"This Administration now declares unconditional war on poverty . . . our aim is not only to relieve its symptoms, but to cure and prevent it."
". . . this office (of President) holds a special responsibility to the distressed and disinherited, the hungry and hopeless of this abundant nation."

Senator Goldwater says:

"I would put nuclear weapons in the hands of local commanders of NATO."
"We should get back to the . . . doctrine of brinkmanship."
"I think that a general war is probable—I don't see how it can be avoided."

GOLDWATER ON EXTREMISM:

"Extremism . . . is no vice."
". . . I am impressed by the type of people in it (John Birch Society)."
"I don't object to a dictatorship as violently as some people . . ."

GOLDWATER ON SOCIAL SECURITY:

"Social Security has been weakening individual personality and self-reliance."
"Let welfare be a private concern."
"Chiselers" is the word Goldwater has used to describe welfare recipients.

GOLDWATER ON POVERTY:

"The government must begin to withdraw from social welfare programs, education, public power, agriculture and public housing."
"$2,000 annual income permits reasonably handsome living."

TEAM FACES STERN TEST

Hazard and Everts Set Friday Evening Tussle; Hazard Undeclared

Hazard, Eastern Kentucky's lone undefeated high school football team, faces a stern test against the Everts Wildcats at Everts Friday night.

Charlie Hunter's squad is tied for second place in Class AA, Region Four, First District, with a record of 3-1 and an overall 7-1 slate. Hazard has copped the Class AA, Region Four, District Two title with a perfect record of 5-0. The Bull Dogs are 3-0 for the season.

Individual performances overshadowed team wins in the area last week-end.

Catlettsburg quarterback James Lambert equalled a state high school record as he completed six touchdown passes in pacing the Wildcats to a 41-0 win over Wheelwright.

William Wright, Whitesburg's sophomore halfback and the state's leading scorer, went over the 100-point mark as he scored 14 points as his mates dropped a 27-20 decision to Elkhorn City. Morgan County rolled over Bath County, 41-23, but halfback John Jones scored all 23 points for the losers. His touchdowns came on runs of 29, 25, 35 and 40 yards and he added one extra point. J. C. Brown and Eddie Litteral led Morgan County with two touchdowns each.

Fleming-Neon scored three touchdowns within a period of five minutes in the third quarter to gain a 20-20 tie with the Paintsville Tigers. Paintsville led, 13-0, at halftime on a two-yard run by Mike Kazee and a three-yard jaunt by Leonard Meek. Mike Grace kicked the point after. Raymond Isaac's visitors took a 20-13 margin in the third period as Roy Yonts picked up the first tally on a two-yard run. N. Yonts took a pass from Bob Short for the extra point.

After recovering a blocked punt, David Hall scored the visitors' second tally on a 28-yard run. Bob Short's pass to James Breeding gave Fleming-Neon a 14-13 lead.

Roy Yonts put his mates ahead 20-13 on a 20-yard run. Senior halfback Leonard Meek tied the count on his touchdown and extra point in the waning minutes.

In other games, Jenkins evened its season's worksheet at 4-4-1 by taking Leslie County, 33-6; Pikeville kept its Class A region title hopes alive by downing Millersburg Military Institute, 20-6; Belfry stopped Matewan, West Virginia, 26-14, and Prestonsburg edged M. C. Napier, 26-13.

Junior halfback Hershel Joseph returned a M. C. Napier kick 66 yards to give Prestonsburg a 6-0 first quarter margin, but M. C. Napier came back in the second period to go ahead, 7-6, at the halfway point. Senior halfback David Miller added two six-pointers for the winners in the third quarter.

SALYER IN ARKANSAS
 Mrs. L. W. Ledgerwood, Jr., 5325 East 30th Street, Tulsa, Oklahoma, sends an interesting bit on an Eastern Kentuckian who migrated to Arkansas in 1849.

P. T. Wheeler has often told me the story of Nelson's death. He said his father and Nelson were climbing upon a rock. Nelson was in front, was shot off. Wheeler did not climb up.

She writes:
 "My mother has a copy of Goodspeed's HISTORY OF NORTHWEST ARKANSAS (1889) and recently when I was browsing through the biographical section on Madison county, Arkansas, I came across a reference to: 'John P. Salyer was born in Floyd county, Kentucky, in 1846, and is a son of Fielden and Margaret Hale Salyer. The father was born March 11, 1805, and was a son of William Salyer, also a native of Virginia, and of Irish descent. William settled in Kentucky soon after Daniel Boone. Fielden grew to manhood on his father's farm in Kentucky and October 2, 1825, married and afterward farmed there until 1849 when, with his wife and seven children, he came by water to Ozark, Arkansas. He landed on the present site of St. Paul in May, 1849.'"

THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER
 A Kentucky historical highway marker was unveiled September 11, this year, to The Unknown Soldier, who lies buried on Ky. 80, near Elkhorn City. F. J. Forsyth, president of the Pike County Historical Society, delivered an address on that occasion in which he details some of the history connected with the assassination of the Confederate soldier.

It follows:
 "The Unknown Soldier who was buried in a grave beside the road, near Breaks Interstate Park, has created a mystery that remains unsolved. A bit of information here and there has suggested a continuous chain of circumstances that at least provides a logical sequence of events. Some of the sources of material came down through the family—father to son to grandson—that had talked with the soldier and advised him to re-route his planned trip, and thereby innocently the stage was set for the tragedy.

NELSON BOGGS
 J. R. Boggs, Hazard, Kentucky, writes a bit of poignant history of the Boggs family of Lawrence county. He refers to Pvt. Nelson Boggs, of the Fourteenth Kentucky Infantry, U.S.A., who was killed while serving under Col. James A. Garfield at the Battle of Middle Creek, January 10, 1862. Boggs' body was brought by his brother and comrades to the John M. Burns home in Prestonsburg, where Garfield had his headquarters. (It is now the residence of Mrs. Claude P. Stephens and is known as The Garfield Place.)

Our Hazard correspondent would like for me to accompany him (which I may) to the locale of the Boggs families in Lawrence county.

He writes:
 "I could show you some real old landmarks of the Boggs family. One thing of many is the old dug well that was in the yard of Nelson Boggs' home. It was dug by his father. There's a family, formerly of Prestonsburg, who now own the farm. They water their stock from the well. "A man by the name of P. T. Wheeler, who was a country schoolteacher in Lawrence county, was a son of the man who was with Nelson when he was killed.

Telephone Talk
 By ROY L. ATHERTON
 Your Telephone Manager

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY GROWS WHAT IS PROBABLY THE WORLD'S MOST UNUSUAL GARDEN! Some of the material and equipment used to bring us our telephone service has to go underground... things like cable and other transmission apparatus. To make sure it can take the special conditions of life underground, samples are buried for various periods of time and then dug up to see how they're doing! Specimens of various kinds of rubber, plastic, adhesives, etc. are buried for anywhere from 1 to 32 years. The condition they're in when they're dug up helps scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories to develop materials that give long-lasting, trouble-free telephone service. Guess you never thought the phone company went in for "gardening."

THE OTHER DAY WE READ ABOUT AN 11-YEAR-OLD FOREIGN BOY who was visiting some relatives in America. One day he got lost and couldn't find his way home. He probably felt a little panicky at first because all he had was some loose change in his pocket and a vocabulary of exactly one English word. Must have been a pretty smart kid, because he found himself a phone booth, dialed the operator and tearfully used up his entire vocabulary... "Help!" Operators are trained to handle all kinds of unusual situations, so she called the police who found the boy and delivered him back to his family. One more incident that proves dialing "O" for Operator is a quick way to get help when we need it!

IF YOUR PHONE COULD TALK, it would probably have a Southern accent! That's because an important part of most phones today is a small fluffy ball of cotton. The cotton (1/100 of an ounce!) is tucked into the hollow part of the handset to prevent vibrations and echoes from the mouthpiece reaching the earpiece. This tiny addition is just one of the reasons for the amazing clarity of voices over the telephone, whether they're coming from across the street, or across the world!

We ask Simca owners:
 Why did you trade in your VW for a Simca 1000?

William Bokin, Columbus, Ohio: "On impulse, I took one out for a spin. Was delighted with the way it handled. Much better all around, especially on the turnpikes. My wife liked the all-synchro gearbox. Last week, for the 30th time, I taught a VW humility in the traffic light Grand Prix. Simca's heater— which really heats—is a godsend..."

George Stevens, Martinez, Calif.: "The VW didn't seem to fill the bill for my wife and me. The 1000 is roomier, easier getting in and out of. The day after we bought it, we took a long trip and couldn't have been more delighted with the comfort of the economy..."

Mrs. Audrey Stein-Maplewood, N.J.: "My VW needed a lot of repairs, so naturally the 5-year Simca warranty looked awfully good to me..."

Larry Drake, Pineville, West Va.: "Extra room, better visibility. It handled better, I've been well satisfied with the change to the 1000..."

Jack White, Ohio: "I had two Now I have one your Simca 1000 rides so And I get mileage from your warranty afraid of an using up all the I've saved on..."

PRESERVING FALL LEAVES
 Here are several ways of preserving colorful fall leaves. You can dip them in paraffin, if you don't mind the waxy look, or in glycerine, which gives a soft, translucent effect. Pressing also preserves leaves well, although the leaves will be flat after pressing. Or you can preserve leaves with a drying agent such as borax or silicel gel.

ALL CITIZENS of FLOYD COUNTY

THE IMPROVEMENTS BELOW HAVE COME TO THE FLOYD COUNTY SCHOOLS DURING THE LAST FOUR YEARS:

- Three modern, safe elementary buildings have been constructed and are being used (43 classrooms).
- Twenty-one new classrooms added to older school buildings.
- 15 old classrooms completely renovated in old buildings.
- A new vocational school at Garth where two hundred boys are trained each day.
- Construction already started on 22-room Wheelwright Elementary school.
- Sanitary sewage disposal plants provided at Betsy Layne, Wheelwright, McDowell, Clark Elementary and Harold.
- Natural school lunchroom program providing 223,000 lunches last year.
- Provided two teachers to visit homes for classes for physically handicapped children.
- Ten new contract runs and seven additional buses to improve transportation.
- Adult Education program providing training for over 200 adults.
- Seventy percent increase in salaries to best qualified teaching staff in Eastern Kentucky.
- Percentage of attendance increased to point where we gained 32,375 school child days of attendance.
- Driver training added to seven high schools.

After over a year of disunity and bickering all concerned agreed that the school child deserved these good things which come from working together. If all these improvements came through cooperation during a short period of three years just imagine how far we could travel educationally during the next three or four years.

John M. Stumbo, Billy Blair and Ross Cooley have been a very important part of the school during this period of very great improvement. We therefore wish to urge all citizens of Floyd County to rally around, vote for, and support Stumbo, Blair and Cooley in their effort to be re-elected to the Board. Superintendent Clark was given a new four-year contract starting July 1, 1964. Let's keep the action team together so that the Great Move Forward will not grind to a sudden stop. One anti could stop the whole program. OUR CHILDREN ARE REALLY WORTH THE EFFORT.

Statement to the Voters

DEAR VOTERS:

As I am offering my self to serve you as your Board Member of District No. 4, would you please understand that I have tried so hard to visit every home I could. The homes that I have missed I pray you will forgive me as I sure have tried to see every one. I have tried to explain my platform to you, that I stand for Honesty and Freedom, and that I am running a clean race. God knows that I have a clean hand, that I would not want to do wrong to any one. No one is running me, so they cannot tell me what to do. Please remember your children on November 3. Go to the voting polls and cast your vote for me X. A vote for me will be a vote for your children. I will try in every effort for your children's education. I will be on the job. I will never sell our children short. I will make every effort I can to keep politics out of our schools. I will try to work with the Board members. God knows I will do my best as far is right, but I will do no wrong for any one.

I have strived so hard to see every one I could and beg them to vote for me. I don't have a bank of money to offer you, but God knows I will never sell you. If you will vote for me I will show you that I will work for you. Please don't believe that I am not qualified for the job, for if I was not I could not be on the ballot. I have met all qualifications. They know that they cannot spot my life, so they tell you that I do not qualify. Please, my good friends, don't believe them, as you know I could not be on the ballot if I did not qualify.

So, my good friends, please, I am begging for your vote. A vote for me will be a vote for those children of yours. Please give me a chance to prove it to you. The people in Prestonsburg will try to tell the good voters in this district how to vote. I tell you, I believe the good voters know how to vote—they do not need the Prestonsburg people to tell them how to vote. They tell you that Mr. Blair is responsible for the new building that is under construction now at the mouth of Riley's Branch. Please, good voters, remember that your money and mine is responsible for this building. They condemned the Wheelwright school building for years before Mr. Blair was a Board member, so they had to build for the safety of our children.

So please remember that if I have not visited your home that I have tried to, and that I have worked hard to show you I am interested in your children and have begged you so hard to vote for me and give me a chance to prove that I will work for your children. So go to the polls and vote for me. A vote for me will mean a vote for freedom. I pray God will give you a mind to vote for me. I sure will do right. And I will be on the ballot on November 3. I will not come off. I will assure you this, if I am living November 3 I will be on that ballot. I will not come off. Please vote for me.

E. R. Price, Wheelwright Mine Manager

E. R. Price, late manager of the Wheelwright mine property of Inland Steel Company, began his career in the mines of Consolidation Coal Company in Pennsylvania in 1906. He was promoted through the engineering department until 1917 when he was sent to Van Lear as manager. He became manager of the Wheelwright properties in 1928 for Elk Horn Coal Company and was retained by Inland when that firm acquired the former in 1930. The town of Wheelwright was founded in 1916 by Elk Horn. It was under Price's leadership that Wheelwright was made a model mining town.

Price was a civic leader of the area, served as trustee of Berea College, regent of Morehead State College, trustee of Pine Mountain Settlement School and was active in the Boy Scout movement. He retired in 1954 to Frederick, Md., where he died.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of the regional past in recognition of our historic heritage.
