44 States Counted In Johnson Column, Five for Goldwater

Kentucky was the first of the nation's 50 states to be tabulated Tuesday night, and the Johnson landslide which began here rolled on across the nation.

President Johnson has won 44 states, lost five in the Deep South, and the outcome in Arizona, home state of his Republican opponent, Barry Goldwater, was listed in the doubtful column, early Wednesday afternoon.

The President and his running mate, Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, won in 44 states for a total of 486 electoral votes. Senator Goldwater won in South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia, which gave him 47 electors.

Johnson became the first Democratic candidate for the Presidency to win in Vermont, and Goldwater was the first Republican to emerge the victor in Georgia.

Democrats were no less amazed than Republicans by the Democratic landslide in Kentucky, where, with 95% of the vote tabulated, President Johnson holds a lead of almost 300,000. In the two preceding Presidential elections Kentucky was in the G.O.P. column.

Tuesday's majority was the greatest ever given the Democratic party in Kentucky, exceeding even the Roosevelt land-slides of 1932 and 1936.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins, running strong in his own right and benefitting by the avalanche of Johnson votes, as did all other Democratic candidates, won a lead of more than 60,000 over his Republican opponent, Walter Vanhoose, in the Seventh district Congressional race.

This Town ... That World

The summer of our national discontent ended—we hope—with an Indian Summer election day.

AND WE CRITICISE THE YOUNGSTERS!

We oldsters tell the youngsters, "It's not whether you win or lose but how you play the game," and then we go out into the field of politics and play low-down dirty, with foul holds and low blows, setting the example for these we make bold to teach as we put into practice the doctrine of win at all costs.

Again we tell our youngsters, "Stand for the right; don't be moved." And then leaders set an example by switching back and forth, as the occasion demands.

Martin Luther is quoted as having said, "Here I stand; I can do no other." If he had been in politics, his statement might have been revised downward to read:

"Here I stand till an easier ride on another band-wagon comes along."

HAVE NO GUN—MUST TRAVEL

Bill Osborne, one of our favorite mail-carriers, buckled on his "gun" which the P.O.D. supplies mailmen these days, and went about his rounds last week, really a bit eager for a shoot-out with a few of his canine foes hereabouts. For two days he delivered mail, bearded the dogs in their kennels, so to speak, and drew not even a growl. Then, on the third day, the moment came. The dog came bounding.

Strawberry Growers Schedule College Class To Improve Production

A strawberry growers' short course consisting of four meetings of three hours each will be held at the Prestonsburg Community College, it is announced. The classes are scheduled November 5-12-19 and December 3. All classes meet at 7 p.m.

Instructors will be specialists from the Horticulture Department of the University of Kentucky, James Stacy, Extension fruit specialist, will be in charge. Similar meetings are slated at Paintsville at the courthouse.

The first meeting will cover production practices, such as land preparation, setting of plants and fertilization. Subjects to be discussed in subsequent meetings will include disease, insect, and weed control and harvesting.

Robert M. Jones, Floyd county Extension agent, in announcing the course, urged all strawberry growers to attend.

"The short course is being held to increase yields and profit," Jones said. "To stay in the strawberry growing business, a grower must maintain high yields which is the most important factor determining profits."

Johnson Winner in Landslide

HILL EASY WINNER FOR APPEALS COURT

Former Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill, of this county, won an easy victory Tuesday for the Appellate Court bench over Judge Robert B. Bird, incomplete returns indicating a Hill margin of around 26,000 votes in the 27-county district.

The term is for eight years. Judge Hill scored heavily in Democratic counties, cut down his opponent's leads in normally heavy Republican areas, and actually polled a majority in Johnson, a Republican stronghold.

Although marked as Democrat and Republican on the judicial ballot, name of neither candidate appeared under a party emblem. In several counties Judge Hill had support of Republican leaders to go along with his Democratic backing.

IRS CLAIMS BACK TAXES Kentucky Finance Chain Sued for Large Amount; Area Companies Listed

Among the 74 firms from which the Internal Revenue Service is claiming back income taxes due in the amount of $4½ million are Kentucky Finance Co., Inc., in Prestonsburg and other towns of this area.

Involved in the government's action are small-loan companies, the Central Bank & Trust Company, Lexington, and Kentucky Central Life Insurance Co., Lexington—all of which are firms commonly associated with the name of Garvice D. Kincaid, Lexington financier.

The government is not seeking any fraud penalties, a fact which is taken as an admission that it found no indication during its investigations that there was any deliberate attempt to evade taxes. The main issue in dispute appears to be whether the revenue received by the parent Kentucky Finance Company from its subsidiary loan firms from 1955 through 1961 is taxable as income, Kentucky Finance claims its income for purposes of taxation over the seven-year period was $260,783.90. IRS, on the other hand, claims the figure should be $5,133,171.34.

Among the suits filed and the amounts claimed were these: Lexington Finance Company, transferee of Capital Finance Co., Inc., Prestonsburg, $2,989.22 for 1958; Kentucky Finance Co., Prestonsburg, $7,350.56 for 1960-1961; local Kentucky Finance Company units at Harlan, $16,311.99 for 1959-1961; Hazard, $12,910.79 for 1960-1961; Ashland, $4,290.12 for 1960-1961; Paintsville, $17,770.91 for 1959-1960; and transferees of Kentucky Finance Co., Inc. in these places—Paintsville, $9,922.03 for 1955-1956; Louisville, $17,026.79 for 1957-1961; and Morehead, $30,113.55 for 1955-1956 and 1958-1961.

REPORT EMPHASIZES IMPROVEMENTS COST

Public improvements in unprecedented volume and worth have come to Prestonsburg within the last nine years, but it has not been without a heavy investment on the part of the city of Prestonsburg and its taxpayers.

That fact was emphasized this week in the Opportunity for Progress Program report filed by Prestonsburg's Community Development Council with the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The report shows that of $3,166,290 worth of improvements gained during that period, $1,854,690 of the cost was assumed wholly by local citizens who paid, or are paying, through taxation or by outright contributions.

In addition to that, residents here by the same two methods shared with other citizens of the county to the extent of $434,709 in $1,956,730 worth of other improvements.

The Progress Program chart, prepared by Mrs. R. V. May, chairman of the Community Development Council, shows that in the first category (local participation only) the community shared in the cost as follows:

- Gymnasium (1953), $250,000;
- water plant (1958), $300,000; flood gate (1959), $22,000; athletic field and stadium (1960), $30,000;
- sewers and sewage disposal (1961), $600,000; street improvement (1961-1965), $236,400; recreation area acquisition (1964), $10,645.

In the group of projects in which residents here participated with others of the county are these figures denoting total amount of participation:

- College site (1962), $97,000;
- courthouse (1964), $293,700; library (1964), $53,000; library furniture and equipment, $12,000; Health Department addition, $24,000.

On top of this, Prestonsburg citizens are participating in a $15,000 property evaluation project this year, a continuing fire department improvement program costing about $8,000 a year and financed by a tax on insurance, $1,800 a year on garbage collection, $20,000 to establish bus service from Harold to Prestonsburg and $10,000 toward establishing the Kenwood timber products plant in Johnson county

FOOD CLASS HELD HERE

Restaurant Owners, Operators Workshop Ends Study At College

Because the tourist industry is becoming important in Eastern Kentucky a series of workshops was recently completed in the area in order to assist restaurant owners and operators in the preparation of good food and in rendering better service.

Two classes were held here in mid-October at the Prestonsburg Community College and a third at Paintsville, with 35 persons in attendance from the seven counties of Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Wolfe, Knott, Martin and Lawrence, John Baxter and Mrs. Carolyn Schroek, specialists with the Eastern Kentucky Resource Development project at Quicksand, were in charge.

Other classes were held at Ashland and Corbin. During the course of the sessions practically every phase of restaurant operation was taken into consideration. The Paintsville meeting was held in the Kentucky Power Company building where kitchen facilities were provided.

The classes were sponsored by the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce, Kentucky Power Company, and the Tourist Council and organized several months ago by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Certificates of attendance were awarded by the University of Kentucky to all those completing one or more of the workshops.

FEW WITHDRAWALS FROM COLLEGE HERE

The dropout rate for students at the Prestonsburg Community College has been much lower than college officials had anticipated, it was said this week.

Of the 324 originally enrolled, only 10 full-time students have withdrawn, and at least six of these have done so because of illness or unforeseen circumstances, Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr., director, said.

As the weeks have passed the college has developed a fuller schedule of activities, including events for the entertainment of students. A brass ensemble from the music department of the University of Kentucky will appear in a concert at the college at 7 p.m., November 16. The public is invited to the concert. Dances have been scheduled at the college for Saturday, November 21.

COLUMBUS FELT DOOMSDAY NEAR

Genoa, Italy—Christopher Columbus had calculated from a study of the Bible that the earth's course had only 155 years to run. This caused the sense of urgency that was at least partly responsible for his four voyages.

PERSPECTIVE

By Robert J. Hastings

FORGIVING AND FORGETTING

The fellow who says he can forgive but can't forget is about like the little boy who told his mother he could go swimming without getting wet!

"I can forgive you for wronging me—but forget it!" is hard news. It betrays a conviction on our part that a chance to say "never trust you" wrongs us later. A skeleton in the closet, revenge at a later date.

To say "I can never forget" is to intend to hold the misdeed over the person who wronged you. Don't want him to be easy. Each time he wrongs you, you want him to tremble a bit over what he has done to you. We impress him with our confidence in his integrity.

"But how can one get a deed that is so mind? Is it really possible to forget at the same time we forgive?" These are good questions. "No, we are not likely to 'forget' entirely a wrong we have suffered. All of our past is part of us. But here is what we can do. When we honestly give a wrongdoer, make an immediate resolution never to remind him of his mistake at a later date."

ears pinned back, hackles up, fangs bared, Bill's hand flashed to his hip to let this here hombre have it, square in the puss. But the "gun" wasn't there... And you can take this story from there.

It says here: "What makes a husband disconsolate is his wife's indifference when he proudly announces that now he is a vice-president of the firm at the same old pay."

It is recorded that the German poet Heine left a will bequeathing to his wife all his assets, and there was only one condition—that she remarry. "Because," he wrote, "then there will be at least one man to regret my death."

A visitor here recently said: "This is going to be the prettiest poor town in the U.S.A."

Now it appears that the only thing that would have helped Barry Goldwater win would have been for President Johnson to kill a man—and that man Lyndon Johnson.

Congressman Perkins' lead was the biggest piled up by any Kentucky candidate for Congress. All other incumbent Congressmen in the state were re-elected, but Dr. Tim Carter, Republican, was hard pushed in the Sixth, G.O.P. stronghold.

Senator Goldwater conceded his defeat and congratulated President Johnson at a noonday press conference, Wednesday. He said that he has no bitterness toward anybody.

President Johnson earlier called upon the nation to forget its political differences, to bind up the wounds of the campaign and unite.

With 95% of the vote counted, Johnson had a popular vote of 40,663,587 to 25,677,666 for Goldwater—roughly 61% to 39%, which is almost the exact percentage predicted by the poll-takers.

Harlan Wood Products Corporation Organized; Will Employ 50 Persons

Frankfort—The first major breakthrough from dependence on coal production in Harlan county is the way Ernest H. Smith, chairman of the industrial committee of the Harlan Chamber of Commerce, describes the new Harlan Wood Products Corporation plant.

The plant, dedicated recently by Elliott Roosevelt, former Governor Bert Combs, and local dignitaries, currently employs 50 persons with the total expected to eventually reach 125.

An Area Redevelopment Administration loan of $163,000 provided the major financing for the plant which produces hardwood flooring. The Harlan County Industrial Foundation provided a loan of $26,000 and the founders of the corporation invested $66,500.

To Whom It May Concern:

All persons having claims against the estate of Lee Osborne, deceased, will file same with the undersigned Executor at Martin, Kentucky.

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Prestonsburg woman inquired:

I've just hired a woman to do housework for me one day a week, at $5 a day. I realize that this is enough to bring her work under social security. How do I get the forms I'll need to send in the tax?

A. Our office will send you a copy of our booklet No. 21, "Social Security and Your Household Employee." Notice that the last page is a tear-out post card form. Fill it out, sign it, and mail it. Every three months the Internal Revenue Service will send you the special report forms you need.

From Grundy, Virginia:

Q. I've just started in business and have two employees. How often do I send in a social security report on them?

A. Every quarter (three months). You have one month after each quarter ends before your report must be in. For example: the report for the July-August-September quarter is due by October 31, the January-February-March report is due by April 30, etc.

Q. Does a businessman report his own social security every quarter along with the report he makes on his employees?

A. No. His own social security report is a part of his annual federal income tax return. He sends it in only once a year.

From Coal Run, a woman inquired:

I worked for a lady last year who didn't know my pay was covered by social security. I didn't know it either. Now that she has found out, she has offered to send in late reports and pay up the tax that's due. Can't I just send it in myself?

A. No. SHE must make the reports and send in the tax. You should give her your share (1/2) of the tax, however.

From Carver, Ky.:

Q. If I am not able to show a net profit of at least $400 from my farm, is there any way for me to get social security credits?

A. Yes, there is another way. If your gross farm income amounts to at least $800, you can report and pay the tax on two-thirds of your gross income up to $1,800.

A resident of Forest Hills, Kentucky, inquired:

I am 70 years old and have been getting social security for five years. I have a small farm and my net profit will be slightly over $400 this year. Do I still have to report this and pay the tax?

A. Yes, you must file a self-employment tax return and pay the tax, if your net income is $400 or more, regardless of your age and the fact that you are already getting benefits.

From Prater, Virginia:

Q. Is it possible for me to go back and file my farm self-employment tax return for 1961? I forgot to and now I understand that I lost credit for that year.

A. It is not too late to file your tax return for 1961 as long as you do so on or before April 15, 1965. This would give you credit for that year under social security. It would be well for you to get in touch with the local Internal Revenue Service.

The social security office in Pikeville, Kentucky, is located at the corner of Second and Division Streets. However, for the convenience of the public, a representative of that office is in the Employment Office in Prestonsburg every Tuesday.

Dawson Springs Plant Employs 125 Persons; City Aids Construction

Frankfort—The new Mid-South Plastics plant at Dawson Springs, which ultimately will employ 125 persons in the manufacture of plastic parts for refrigerators and other appliances, has been officially dedicated.

The plant was erected on a 10-acre tract in a 40-acre industrial park bought and developed at a cost of $40,000 by West Hopkins Industries, local nonprofit development agency.

Among those taking part in the dedication program was James J. Coleman, director of the Industrial Development Division of the Kentucky Department of Commerce.

A $500,000 City of Dawson Springs industrial financing revenue bond issue funded construction of the plant. Sewer and water lines were extended to the site through a $72,000 loan from the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Mrs. Mildred Hobson Kidd, 37, of Harold, died at 8:15 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 24, at Pikeville Appalachian Regional hospital after a long illness.

Born at Yeager, Ky., she was a daughter of Albert Hobson and Lula Cleveenger Hobson.

Survivors, other than her parents, include her husband, Lester Kidd; a son, Lester Kidd, Jr., of Danville; two brothers, Donald Hobson, of Pennsylvania, and Joe Hobson, of Dayton, O.; and four sisters: Mrs. Helen Dalton, of Burnside, Ky.; Mrs. Lillian Townsend, of Covington, Mrs. Ruth May, of Harold, and Mrs. Gay Smith, of Dayton, O.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Monday, Oct. 26, at the Justice Funeral Home chapel. The Rev. Grover Adkins and others officiated. Burial was in Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel.

Miss Chalis Jean Osborne and Floyd Wayne Lee were united in marriage September 26 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Payne, Ohio. Rev. J. E. Turner officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Osborne and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hicks, of Hueysville, and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. (Milt)

Osborne, of Eastern. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee, of Payne.

Mrs. Buelah Click was the organist. Among the selections played were "Moon River," "I Love You Truly," "More," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Our Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Thelma Gordon was the vocalist. Among her selections were "Whither Thou Goest," "Before Thine Altar," and "Because."

The bride chose a gown of white angelaire satin and imported alencon lace. The molded satin featured a scooped neckline outlined in alencon lace and three-quarter length satin sleeves. A satin bow was centered at the waist in front. Alencon lace created a redingote effect in the front of the floor-length satin skirt. A satin bow enhanced the back of the shaped skirt, and alencon lace to a chapel-length. Her waist-length bouffant veil of imported silk illusion was caught by a French braid and pearl crown. She carried white roses and feathered mums.

Mrs. Karen Kay Carpenter attended the bride as her matron-of-honor. She carried pompoms tipped with pink and white chrysanthemums with wood roses and strands of wheat.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Peggy Lee, Miss Donna Hicks and Miss Dorothy Enlehart. They carried pompoms tipped with pink and white chrysanthemums with strands of wheat. They chose street-length dresses with floor-length overskirts in fiesta pink taffeta. The fitted taffeta bodice featured a scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. A large bow detailed the waist. Fold overs of fiesta pink taffeta created the matching headpieces with bouffant veils.

Robert Lee attended his brother as best man. The ushers were Kenneth L. Osborne, brother of the bride, Garrett K. Hicks, uncle of the bride, and Larry S. Lee, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother chose for the wedding a beige lace brocade over satin sheath dress with brown accessories, and a corsage of rust tinted carnations. Mrs. Lee wore a black crepe dress with dark pink accessories, and a corsage of carnations. A reception was held in the American Legion Hall following the wedding. The servers were Mrs. Sylvia Wright, Grundy, Virginia, aunt of the bride, Misses Mary Ann Vondron, Katherine Martin, and Suzanne King, all of Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Johanna Lee, of Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee chose Niagara Falls for their honeymoon trip.

Frankfort—Governor Edward F. Breathitt has proclaimed November 9-15 Youth Appreciation Week in Kentucky, an observance sponsored by the state's Optimist clubs in cooperation with clubs in other states and Canada.

"Optimists strive to give young people a pat on the back for their worthwhile activities during this week," Breathitt said in his proclamation, "and residents of Kentucky wish to join them in expressing appreciation."

Optimist International, through 2,200 member clubs, has sponsored the special week for seven years. It has been called "one of North America's most effective deterrents against juvenile delinquency."

Optimists say that although less than five per cent of the 13 to 19 year olds ever come in contact with the law, careless criticism and unfounded accusations have turned public opinion against the remaining 95 per cent who don't get into trouble.

Breathitt, in his proclamation, urged all citizens "to pay appropriate tribute to the younger generation. We extend to the children our confidence that the young people can capably cope with the problems of the future," he stated.

The Intermediate Sunday School class enjoyed a Halloween party in the church basement, October 26. Robinson, Herbert Ousley, Mrs. Doris Robinson, Mrs. Gloria Jones, Mrs. Jean Harmon, Marcella Patton and Ann Vic May.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Robinson, Larry and James, were business visitors in Huntington, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Patton and Paul spent the week-end in Zionsville, Indiana. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Klingler and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Snoddy, Pam and Judy, of Nitro, West Virginia, were visiting Mrs. Amanda Sutton this week-end.

COUGARS CONTEND FOR REGION TITLE

The Elkhorn City Cougars bounced back in contention for the Class A, Region 3 district football crown by virtue of its 32-0 triumph over the home-standing Paintsville Tigers in the Big Sandy Bowl last Saturday.

The win placed Jack Hall's defending champions back in the race with a 3-1 mark with a lone game remaining against Catlettsburg this Friday.

A victory at Catlettsburg would give the Cougars a Dickinson rating of 23.75 and, since they defeated Pikeville, 18-13, during the season, they would repeat as champs of the district.

Halfback Norman Powell was named the bowl game's most valuable back and received a trophy emblematic of the award. He tallied two touchdowns and gained 118 yards in 29 carries.

Derek Powers, scored the other top-five scorers, one of the states three touchdowns on passes of 16 and 43 yards from quarterback Steve Sloan and a seven-yard run.

Elkhorn City tackle Carmel Wallace was selected as the outstanding lineman of the game.

Everts' Wildcats bounced Hazard from the undefeated ranks by a 19-0 count and they could possibly meet later in the Class AA, Region 4 playoffs, if both clubs win their respective districts.

Neighboring Williamson, West Virginia nipped Belfry, 20-13, as halfback Bob Wright scored all three touchdowns for John Mirville's winners. Wright ran 10 yards on the game's second play from scrimmage, but Daryl Bogar came back seven plays later on a 30-yard scamper to give Belfry a brief 7-6 lead on Bogar's extra point.

Wright then scooped 55 yards on a double reverse play. Belfry tied the score in the third quarter on another run by Bogar who went 10 yards around end.

Williamson took the lead for good in the third quarter when Wright followed a 90-yard run with a three-yard plunge.

Belfry finished the season with a 6-3-1 record, with Williamson standing at 8-1.

Gene Davis' Pikeville Panthers closed out their season at 9-1 with a 13-6 win over Jenkins and finished the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference race with a mark of 4-1, the same as Elkhorn City, but since the league also used the Dickinson system of rating, Elkhorn City finished in second place to league champion Hazard.

In games in the area, Whitesburg belted Wheelwright, 38-6, to finish with a record of 5-5-1 and Catlettsburg overpowered Morgan County, 42-14. McDowell high, which won its opening basketball game over Knott County, 77-57, last Friday night, goes into action again Tuesday night as the Warfield Red Devils move in, Rickey Hall, 6-3 1/2 junior center, paced the Dare Devils in the opening win with 29 points.

Superintendent Clark Discusses Dropouts

Lack of interest is the most common reason for school dropouts, according to statistics compiled by the Floyd County Board of Education, and listed by Superintendent Charles Clark last Monday evening when he appeared before the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club to speak on "Adult Education and the Seriousness of School Dropouts."

Mr. Clark also named the following as other reasons for students leaving school before graduation: Military service, lack of scholastic success, marriage, cost of going to school, parental indifference, other economic reasons, lack of suitable school program, low mental ability, and social maladjustment.

"I feel that children learn more rapidly and more effectively in clean, healthy, attractive surroundings," Mr. Clark said. He then spoke at length on what has been done to bring about this environment in Floyd county schools in the last four years, enumerating such things as addition of classrooms, extensive renovations, construction of new schools, including the Garth Vocational School, improved school curriculum, such as driver education program. He told of the rural lunch room program and the adult education program. He also explained that many schools now have the benefit of vocational guidance counselors, who through intensive testing programs will attempt to locate potential school dropouts before they become a reality.

Mrs. Ellen Hornsby was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker, following a brief devotional period conducted by Mrs. J. T. Spillman. At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Rudolph Spencer, Mrs. Mervil Dixon, and Mrs. S. M. Martin. Afterwards a business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. J. C. Wells.

MOVING DAYS FOR LIBRARY. Charles Patton, county librarian, stands at left as workmen move some of the 30,000 books in the old Floyd County Board of Education to the new Floyd County Library nearby. The new structure, probably the finest of its kind in Eastern Kentucky, is now open to the public. Its formal dedication will be held Sunday, November 22.

SPORTS CHATTER

In any interscholastic contests shall be immediately reported to the Commissioner by the principal of the schools involved and by the officials who work in the contest.

The great misconception has been that only the principals of the schools involved should make the report.

Basketball coaching changes in the 15th region were the fewest in recent years. In the 58th district (Floyd county) all coaches returned. They are: Jack Frost Wells, Prestonsburg; Denzil Halbert, Martin; Eugene Frasure, Maytown; John Campbell, Garrett; Tommy Boyd, Wayland; Pete Grigsby, Jr., McDowell; Don Wallen, Wheelwright; and Oscar Bush, Betsy Layne.

Two schools in the 57th district (Pike county) changed coaches. George Carroll, former Ashland high school star, was named head mentor at Elkhorn City, where he replaced Goebel Salyers; Aubrey Taylor took over for Donnie Layne at John's Creek.

Oil Springs, a 60th district school, will have its third basketball coach in three seasons. Rusty Yates, who guided the Wildcats four years ago, returns this season instead of Orville Conley.

William E. Haines has moved on the scene at Louisa. Hershel Walsh was the mentor last season.

Flakeboard Plant Set For Middlesboro, Said

Frankfort—A new $4.2 million plant to produce flakeboard, a structural material used in the furniture and building industries, will be constructed at Middlesboro.

The Tenn-Flake Corporation, which operates a plant at Morristown, Tenn., said the new 90,000 square foot Middlesboro plant, will be built by the Middlesboro Industrial Foundation and the City of Middlesboro. It will be located on a 19-acre tract owned by the industrial foundation.

The City of Middlesboro will seek a $2,340,000 Area Redevelopment Federal Administration loan from the federal government to help finance construction of the plant which will employ 113 people and purchase an estimated $1,120,000 worth of timber annually in the Middlesboro area.
