

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 1965

This Town . . . That World

Wonder what this snow is sticking around for — a repeat performance?

OUR SYMPATHY

We hear that Russell Hagewood, visiting at St. Petersburg, Florida, made the mistake of taking his wife fishing with him. She caught the big one—a five-pound bass. Russell had a release of the frustrations. One thing I can boast of: If a braggin'-size fish is caught by the firm of Allen & Allen, I do the catching. The other half of the firm doesn't indulge.

OF NEWSPAPERS AND SUCH

Our January 1 edition had only eight pages, and you would have thought, judging by remarks of some of our readers, that we might just as well have taken the week off.

The argument that the reading matter was there, that the number of pages was reduced simply because not enough businesses had anything to advertise that week to our at least 20,000 readers, failed to satisfy.

Many may not be aware of this fact: Some newspapers seldom print more than eight pages. And but for the fact that we have sound, progressive business men who know the value of advertising, we would be one of them.

This isn't National Newspaper Week, and our Braggin' License hasn't been renewed for '65, but we would add just enough to point out that this weekly newspaper has it all over the Saturday Evening Post, Time and a lot of nationally or internationally known publications. We'll explain how by asking a question:

Do you think the Post ever had subscribers living as far away as Texas who called, long distance, to ask why in tunket their paper didn't reach them last week?

NOW, AIN'T IT?

Don't know why a reader was reminded to send it to me, but I got it. Our contributor wrote the title, too—"Ain't It So?"

GRAND JURY TRUE BILL TOTAL LESS

Floyd Jury Indicts Fewest in Many Years; Fraud Cases Decrease

The 24 indictments returned by the Floyd circuit court grand jury last week represents the lowest output of true bills to be voted by a grand jury here within the memory of officials, it was said this week.

The jury in its final report to Circuit Judge Hollie Conley indicated that it had encountered difficulty in getting witnesses before it for questioning. The report, signed by Orville Rice, foreman, said the jury had on two occasions subpoenaed witnesses in an effort to learn the truth about "possible" violations of the law.

It commended the dignity of the court and suggested that it is "something for the citizens of Floyd county to be proud of," adding that the new air of decorum should be continued. Pride in the courthouse was expressed, but it was suggested that toilet facilities in the women's quarters of the new jail should be enclosed to afford privacy.

The jury noted that the crimes of force and fraud appear to have been practically eliminated and that child desertion has been curbed. It credited the latter situation as probably resulting from federal assistance and employment programs.

One of the indictments voted named Catherine Martin on a falsifying count. Miss Martin was accused by Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo on the basis of testimony given by her in separate trials of Deputy Sheriffs Troy Mullins and Marion Martin. In early testimony she accused the officers of shooting John May while he was unarmed, but in a later trial she changed her story to place the responsibility on May.

Other indictments voted, in addition to that of Miss Martin and two murder counts lodged against Headman May, which were reported last week, follow:

Kenneth Ray Isaacs and Luther Paige, knowingly receiving stolen property; Aaron Bailey, cutting and carrying a way timber claimed to be that of Jane Nelson Collins; Ernest Munney, trespassing and damaging the property of Dave Stephens (accused of causing approximately $5,000 damage to the property); Sterling Hamilton, damaging property of Willie Hall consisting of a jeep and other equipment; Earl Vanderpool, Jr., damaging property of another, a Floyd school bus; Christine Hall, assault and battery with an auto, accused of striking Virginia Hall; Red Morris, Larry and Burton Bailey, petty larceny (alleged theft of approximately $100).

TWO MEN PROMOTED BY GAS FIRM HERE

W. W. Wallen, vice-president in charge of operations of Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, has announced two promotions in the company's land department here, both of which became effective January 1.

USDA Personnel Plan Talks With Merchants In Four-County Area

The U. S. Department of Agriculture this week announced a series of meetings to be held next week with food merchants in Breathitt, Johnson, Martin and Owsley counties to discuss the food stamp program.

Carl R. Horn, of Prestonsburg, representative of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service supervising the food stamp program in Eastern Kentucky, said that meetings are designed to explain how grocers may apply and participate in the new food program for the four counties. The program is scheduled to get under way February 1.

This will bring the number of Kentucky counties in the food stamp program to seven. Floyd county has been in the program since June, 1961, and Knott and Perry began their operations in December, 1962, and March, 1963, respectively.

Horn said the schedule calls for the following meetings: Monday, January 18, Martin county courthouse at Inez; Tuesday, January 19, Johnson county courthouse at Paintsville; Wednesday, January 20, Breathitt county courthouse at Jackson; and Thursday, January 21, Owsley county courthouse at Booneville. Horn said two meetings will be held each day—at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Important Witness Missing, Said; Runyon Trial Awaits Ruling

Trial of Raymond Hall, who is accused of voluntary manslaughter on three counts in the automobile deaths of as many persons, was continued in circuit court here Monday on motion of the defense.

A witness considered important to the Commonwealth is missing, and the prosecution agreed to the continuance. Hall was indicted in the deaths near Drift of W. L. Tackett, Larry Faulkner and Elizabeth Ann Butler. He also was named in other indictments alleging assault and battery with an auto and drunk driving.

Another major case set for trial at this time of circuit court, that of Woodrow Runyon, Sr. on 32 counts alleging presentation of false claims to his employer, the Pike County Board of Education, was continued generally, pending an Appellate Court ruling on Runyon's appeal from a Pike circuit court verdict.

Johnny Thornberry, who appealed his quarterly court conviction on a liquor-selling charge, filed motion to dismiss his appeal, and the case was remanded to quarterly court.

LOCAL BANK CASHIER DIES

Adrian Collins Victim At 56 at South Shore After Illness of Year

Adrian Collins, 56, cashier of The Bank Josephine here, died at 11:35 a.m. Monday at the South Shore, Kentucky home of his son, Dr. Adrian (Pete) Collins, after an illness of a year.

News of Mr. Collins' passing, which was not unexpected, was received with deep regret by friends and business acquaintances over a wide area of Kentucky.

An employee of the Prestonsburg bank since 1927, shortly after his graduation from Prestonsburg high school, he worked his way to the position he held at the time of his death. He also served as a member of the Prestonsburg Municipal Water & Gas Commission, as city treasurer, treasurer of the Floyd County Board of Education and as chairman of Floyd county U. S. Savings Bond sales prior to his illness. He was a member of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here.

CFA GRANTS CITY $7000

Final Amount Needed On Urban Renewal Job Provided by Agency

The additional $7,000 needed by the city of Prestonsburg to complete its urban renewal projects have been made available by the Community Facilities Administration, Congressman Carl D. Perkins wired The Times last week.

With the $90,000 worth of bonds purchased locally and the $100,000 Community Facilities loan earlier made available, the city was still $7,000 short of the total needed after bids for preparation of the two parking areas had been submitted.

The additional funds assured, the Adams Construction Company, successful bidder on the urban renewal work, will be asked shortly to move men and machinery here to prepare a base for future surfacing and to set parking meters on the Central Business District project. The Courthouse Project is not yet cleared sufficiently for such work. Surfacing is planned for next spring.

Urban Renewal Administration officials are high in their praise of the projects here describing (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

ACCIDENT IS FATAL

Former Floyd Woman Victim In Cleveland Of Monoxide Poisoning

Mrs. Ollie Hall King, 44, formerly of this county, died at Lutheran hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, Friday as the result of carbon monoxide poisoning which was reported as accidental.

Meagre information received here says a garage door jammed, with the result that Mrs. King inhaled the lethal monoxide.

She was a daughter of the late Kelly and Mary Frances Brannan Hall and was a native of the Grethel section of this county. Surviving are three sons and three daughters, John, Randy and Leonard King, Mrs. Betty Ward and Miss Brenda King, all of Cleveland, and Mrs. Eleanor Childers, of Taylor Township, Michigan; four brothers and five sisters, Shadrack Hall, Grethel, Jerry, Freeman and Clyde Brannan, all of Lorain, Ohio, Mrs. Nathan Carroll and Mrs. Berry Akers, both of Grethel, Mrs. Raymond England, Pikeville, Mrs. Sam Falbo and Mrs. Tony Russell, both of Lorain, Ohio.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday from the home of Berry Akers, the Revs. Luther Conn and Walter Akers officiating. Burial in the Ike Roberts cemetery at Grethel was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

GAME CLUB CONTEST WINNERS ARE NAMED

An added spur to Dewey Lake fishing has been provided by the Floyd County Fish & Game Club by adding to its regular fishing contest a prize of $100 offered to the angler who lands one certain fish.

The fish will be tagged and released in the lake. The club secretary will retain a corresponding number through December 31, 1965. If the tagged fish is legally caught by a club member or by a boy or girl who is attending classes in the wildlife conservation education program in schools of the county, he or she will be paid the full $100 prize. If a non-member lands the fish, the prize will be only $10.

If the fish is not caught during the year, the number will become void, and at the beginning of next year a new fish will be released with a new number and the award will be increased $50 each year until the lucky catch is made. Once the tag from the fish is turned into the club secretary, the prize will revert to the original $100.

Results of the 1964 fishing contest sponsored by the club were announced this week:

Largemouth bass division—Fred Meece, Prestonsburg, winner of a Shakespeare President reel first prize for his catch of a 29 1/2-inch fish caught trolling Dewey Lake; second prize, John S. Century spinning reel, to Irbly Hensley, of Langley, for a 19-inch bass caught in Dewey Lake on a Skipjack.

Smallmouth bass division—Ben Ferguson, Jr., of Prestonsburg, first prize of a Shakespeare President reel for 15-inch smallmouth caught on a live minnow in the Big Sandy River. No other entry.

Crappie division—William Stone, Langley, first, Shakespeare Sportcast reel, for 12 1/2-inch crappie caught on a live minnow in Beaver Creek. No second prize entry.

White bass division—Johnnie M. Osborne, Eastern, first prize of Shakespeare spinning reel, for a 17 1/2-inch fish caught on a Shyster.

Catfish—Charles Patton, Langley, 23 1/2-inch fish caught on a live minnow in the Big Sandy River.

A 36-pound catfish was entered by Fred Meece, of Prestonsburg, but contest rules preclude any contestant from claiming more than one award.

The following officers were elected at the recent meeting for the year 1965:

Arnold Workman, Prestonsburg, president; Wilbur Haver, Langley, vice-president; John R. Baldrige, Langley, secretary; Thomas R. Flanery, Langley, treasurer; Charley Patton, Langley, director of fish; Bill Osborne, Eastern, director of game; Ben Ferguson, Prestonsburg, director of forestry; Bev-

MARSILLET GUN VICTIM

Coroner Holds Inquest But Defers Decision; Funeral Held Tuesday

Ernest Gene Marsillett, 36, formerly of West Prestonsburg, was killed Sunday afternoon by a bullet from a .38-calibre revolver at the home of his father, Mack Marsillett, of Fritz, Magoffin county.

Coroner Ishmael Caudill, of Magoffin county, said he conducted an inquest over the body but that he had not decided if the shot was accidental. He said there was no evidence of foul play.

Coroner Caudill and State Detective Hardy, who went to the Marsillett home, said they were told that other members of the family were in the living room of the home when they heard a shot. The father found his son in a bedroom. They said others of the family had eaten dinner but that the victim had not.

The bullet entered the right temple and emerged at the back of the head.

Former City Employee States He Was Fired For Political Reasons

Corbin Joseph, veteran head of Prestonsburg's sanitation department, this week challenged the official statement made to the effect that his employment by the city had been terminated by retirement.

"It is not retirement," he said. "I was fired, and for political reasons. I didn't vote as some people wanted me to vote."

The official announcement, made last week, said that Joseph's retirement (he is 67) had been considered earlier and that it was at last reluctantly made effective. The same statement praised him for his "long and faithful service."

Joseph had operated the city's garbage collection service about 17 years. Kenneth Reed was employed to fill the vacancy created by the City Council's action.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE REGISTRATION BEGINS

Registration for the spring semester of the Prestonsburg Community College, which began Tuesday, indicates little if any drop in the number of students enrolling for work.

Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr., director of the college, said most colleges experience a loss in students after the first semester of each school year, and he expressed his pleasure at indications that the enrollment at the college here is holding steady.

A number of students are returning from the University of Kentucky and state colleges to enroll here and continue their first two years of college work, it was said.

Registration ended Wednesday, and classwork was scheduled to be resumed today (Thursday).

Registration for night classes, however, will continue through the Wednesday, January 23, registration period which will begin at 6 p.m.

Twenty-two students have been awarded scholarships in the amount of $125 per semester. Scholarships are made available by interested individuals, businessmen, firms and various civic organizations. Many deserving students who possess a "B" average or better merit scholarships and need this financial assistance, but scholarships are not available in sufficient numbers to meet this need.

Those wishing to grant or become a donor of a scholarship may contact Dr. Campbell at the Community College or William Reynolds, Jr., of Allen, chairman of the scholarship committee.

Between 15 and 20 workshops have been awarded to date. Workshops consist of providing employment to a deserving student for a maximum of 20 hours per week at an average hourly rate of $1 per hour. The workshops fund is provided by monies received from the Student Activity Fund and from an outlay set aside from monies available from the University of Kentucky business office.

A dozen or more students are availing themselves of accommodations afforded by the revolving loan fund as set up by the Kiwanis Club of Prestonsburg and the Dr. John G. Archer Memorial Fund. Under provisions of the revolving loan fund, a student in need may borrow monies which are not due to be repaid until the close of the semester; and, in cases where a student is particularly deserving, the monies may not be repayable until the termination of that student's college program and employment has been found.

Any person wishing to contribute to the Revolving Loan Fund may do so by contacting the college, William Reynolds, Jr., Burl Sparlock, Judge Edward P. Hill, or a member of the Kiwanis Club here.

Eighteen students have been granted loans through provisions of the National Defense Education Act. Under this provision, students may borrow up to $125 a semester, this money to be repaid upon completion of the student's college program and the securing of employment.

The letter pointed out that for several years prior to 1964, in the early part of which the new directive became effective, an excellent job had been done by conservation officers in getting violators, particularly coal companies, indicted and tried in local courts. It was seldom that the effort did not result in a conviction. "Though the fine was small," Baldrige wrote, "pollution was cut to the minimum."

But the order requiring pollution cases to be reported to Frankfort before proceeding against violators, the letter stated, has "slowed the situation to the extent that there has not been a conviction since, with a gradual increase in the dumping of waste."

Arnold Workman, president of the fish and game club, said an effort will be made to learn from the state department why the order was issued to conservation officers and what was expected to be achieved by the change.

ACTION BARS LOCAL LEVEL LEGAL MOVES

Floyd Sportsmen Say Pollution of Streams Results from Ruling

The directive issued by the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources requiring Floyd county conservation officers to report stream pollution cases to the department at Frankfort rather than to proceed with legal action at the local level as heretofore came in for discussion at the recent meeting of the Floyd County Fish & Game Club.

John R. Baldrige, secretary of the club, was directed to write the district water pollution investigator, who was listed as Earl M. Williams, of Hazard, pointing to the dumping of coal waste into county streams a practice which was described as having been "on the upswing" for the past 12 months. But the letter was returned, marked, "Addressee unknown."

So Baldrige later this week wrote Minor Clark, head of the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources.

The letter pointed out that for several years prior to 1964, in the early part of which the new directive became effective, an excellent job had been done by conservation officers in getting violators, particularly coal companies, indicted and tried in local courts. It was seldom that the effort did not result in a conviction. "Though the fine was small," Baldrige wrote, "pollution was cut to the minimum."

But the order requiring pollution cases to be reported to Frankfort before proceeding against violators, the letter stated, has "slowed the situation to the extent that there has not been a conviction since, with a gradual increase in the dumping of waste."

Arnold Workman, president of the fish and game club, said an effort will be made to learn from the state department why the order was issued to conservation officers and what was expected to be achieved by the change.

FOREST FIRE TOTAL HIGHEST IN FLOYD

Floyd county had more fires and higher suppression costs in 1964 than any of the other five counties in the Eastern district, Kentucky Division of Forestry, figures released this week by Charles Foster, district forester, show.

This county had 112 fires which burned over 5,351 acres last year and which required the expenditure of $7,613 to suppress. Cost of suppressing the Floyd blazes was more than 25% of the entire $27,594 spent for that purpose in the six-county district. The 1964 fire record for the other five counties follows, the number of fires, acres burned and cost of suppression appearing in order for each county:

Pike—84, 4,985, $4,218; Magoffin—95, 5,816, $3,293; Johnson—76, 4,067, $3,182; Martin—89, 6,614, $4,327; Lawrence—83, 4,843, $4,939.

The year ended, the district forester said, with the crackle of burning leaves and the smell of wood smoke, and the district experienced one of the worst fall fire seasons in recent years.

Lack of concern on the part of landowners and hunters, plus a rainfall shortage, were blamed for the number of autumn blazes. Although all available forestry personnel worked extra hours, along with volunteer firefighters, it was not until just before Thanksgiving when a light rain (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

TIMBER AREA

Johnson Man Plans To Log Buffalo Tract;
3-Year Operation Seen

The several thousand acres of timber on the headwaters of Buffalo Creek were sold recently to Roy Rice, of Nippa, Johnson county. Rice bought the timber from the Big Sandy Trust Company.

The timber lands, known locally as the James H. Laws heirs tract, was logged by North-east Lumber Company in the early 1920's. At that time the logs were sawed at Ivel, Rice will install a mill at the mouth of Mare Creek. The tract was first logged in the 1890's.

The present operation is expected to last three years. It is reported that the purchase price "involved more than $50,000." Negotiations for the acquisition of the timber were handled by the law firm of Stephenson & Combs, Pikeville.

Rice will employ approximately 30 men, he said. Of these he particularly needs experienced timber men, bulldozer operators, crane operators, chain saw operators, team drivers, helpers and truck drivers.

The raw lumber suitable for the manufacture of furniture will be shipped to North Carolina but other grades will be sold locally.

Rice expects to begin operations around the first of April.

Of the two million jobs created by the entire United States economy last year, the biggest group was in teaching, reports the January Reader's Digest. In 1963, Congress voted more money for education than any other Congress in history; $4.5 billion.

St. John's Church, Middletown, Ohio, was the setting at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, December 30, for the marriage of Miss Pamela Elizabeth Nicholson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boone Nicholson, of McGee avenue, to William Holiday Harkins, son of Mrs. Thomas G. Hobbs, of Lexington, and the late Joseph D. Harkins, of Prestonsburg.

Arrangements of red poinsettias and white tapers in tall brass candleholders adorned the altar for the double-ring nuptial service, which was performed by Rev. John Oberlander.

Appropriate selections of music were sung, as well as played on the organ, by the bride's brother-in-law, John M. Ward, of Cincinnati.

Mr. Nicholson escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride wore a full-length, formal wedding gown of delustered satin, designed with a heart-shaped neckline and long sleeves with covered buttons at the wrists. Bands of scalloped Chastilly lace below the slim waistline enhanced the skirt. The lace detail also bordered the three-tiered chapel train. A circular spray of mock orange blossoms, fashioned of pearls and leaves, formed her headpiece, and the triple-layer veil of English illusion extended to the end of the gown's train. Her handkerchief was one which was carried by her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, on her wedding day. The bride's only jewelry was a diamond pendant, gift of the bridegroom. The bridal bouquet was composed of gardenias, and silvered leaves.

Mrs. John M. Ward attended her sister as matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Joseph D. Harkins, of Lexington, Kentucky, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Ella Finley, of Georgetown, Kentucky, and Miss Susan Stutenroth, of Middletown, Ohio, all bridesmaids.

All were gowned alike in French blue ring velvet. The skirts of their floor-length dresses featured unpressed pleats, confined by a soft bow at the back waistline to suggest a fan-shaped train. Their hats of matching velvet had fluted brims lined with blistered lame. They carried wreaths of silvered holly leaves, sprays of which cascaded to the hemline of their gowns.

Mr. Harkins had his brother, Joseph D. Harkins, Jr., as his best man. The ushers were Charles Wiechers and John Hobbs, both of Lexington, and Harry B. Nicholson, Jr., of Ashland, Kentucky, brother of the bride.

The wedding reception took place at the Nicholson home immediately following the nuptial ceremony.

Mr. Harkins and his bride are honeymooning in Nassau, and they will make their home at 2148 Azalea Drive, Lexington, Kentucky.

A graduate of Cardome Academy, Georgetown, Kentucky, the bride is attending the University of Kentucky and is affiliated with the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Mr. Harkins, a pre-law graduate of the same university, is continuing his studies in law at UK. His fraternity is Kappa Alpha.

Department Reports

H. C. Gardner, of the Division of Fisheries, Frankfort, notified Conservation Officer Raymond Copley, January 9, that division personnel released 33,387 largemouth bass in Dewey Lake on January 5 and 6. The fish released range from 3 to 8 inches in length, he said.

Gardner added that more are to be stocked in the lake.

Almost simultaneously with this announcement, the Floyd County Fish & Game Club in its first report of activities in 1965 said: "Efforts are being made to get the exact date the restocking of bass in Dewey Lake will be made. Many requests have been received from members who want to be on hand when this is in progress. Some 50,000 bass or more are to be released."

Wrongful Conversion of Funds?

The Times is not among those who oppose for the mere sake of being "against" something. It appreciates any sincere effort to lift the region which is commonly referred to as Appalachia from the misery which is compounded of lack of education and training and economic opportunity; of despoilation of natural resources, including the human, and of the isolation which paralyzes ambition as well as progress.

We believe that the Appalachian Program is a "must," and at the same time we believe that the so-called War on Poverty meets many real needs. It is true that Floyd and other counties of Appalachia have their shining examples of economic development and success, but these stand as individual battles won. The federal government's interest lies in winning the war.

Having endorsed what we consider to be a monumental effort to help a neglected part of America, we turn to register a protest against one phase of the War on Poverty. That is the setting of men to work at a wage of $1 an hour, at public expense, to reseed strip-mine spoilbanks.

These spoilbanks were created at a profit to private interests and to the detriment, present or potential, of the public interest. This fact has been recognized by Kentucky's General Assembly at least enough to cause it to enact legislation providing that strip-mine operators shall do a certain amount of work to restore the land despoiled by such mining, including the reseedling of spoil banks.

In view of these facts, it simply appears that public funds are being diverted to do for the mine operators a job which state law has already said they must do for themselves.

Need One Lake 'Kill' Another?

The possibility exists that one new lake will be created in Eastern Kentucky to the serious detriment of another.

Work on the dam which will impound Fishtrap Reservoir in Pike county has made necessary the relocation of highways, homes, schools and even the railroad which has hauled from that area to market a huge tonnage of coal over the years.

Relocation of that railroad resulted in the removal of the railway entirely from the Fishtrap area and of routing it into the Coon Creek section of Johns Creek.

Historically, railroads have been built in Eastern Kentucky for one principal purpose—to reach the natural resources the area has and which other areas need. These resources have consisted, in the main, of coal and timber. It follows that this relocated railroad into new territory will result in extensive coal mining development.

Already, Dewey Lake is receiving a heavy load of mud from erosion of newly made fills for the railroad. Strip and auger mining as well as the conventional drift-mouth method may be expected in this headwaters section of Johns Creek, the lower part of which forms Dewey Lake.

Such work in the headwaters, unless there is a complete reversal of form on the part of the operators, will mean that mine water, coal washings and other waste will go into Johns Creek, and that could mean the destruction of Dewey Lake.

This possibility is discussed here to alert the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, the U. S. Corps of Engineers, the Kentucky Water Pollution Commission, et al to the threat and to ask one or all these to look into the situation with the objective of containing the threat.

If the agencies which are responsible for protecting such resources delay action until the lake suffers damage, it will be a case of locking the barn door after the horse has been stolen. For the whole stream pollution effort, insofar as punitive measures against offenders go, appears to have collapsed in this section.

This sad situation has resulted from the directive which relieved conservation officers of the authority to swear out warrants, make indictments and otherwise enforce the anti-pollution laws. They now may only report on infractions of the law, and their report goes to the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, which then presumably investigates, then presumably acts.

Floyd county conservation officers have done a splendid job toward enforcement of the law. But they are powerless now. And this week the Big Sandy was running black. So was Right Beaver Creek.

And so will Johns Creek, pouring into Dewey Lake—unless every proper precautionary step is taken at once.

The Need Is for Fewer Counties

(An editorial in The Kentucky Labor News)
"Nothing contained herein shall prevent the General Assembly from abolishing any county." —Section 63, Kentucky's Constitution.

Kentucky cannot afford—and does not need—120 counties. The 1960 census reveals that 87 of these counties LOST POPULATION since 1950 as the migration from the rural areas continues.

Only two states—Georgia and Texas—have more counties than Kentucky. Both are much larger in size and population. When Kentucky became a state in 1792 we had nine counties. By 1850 we had 100. The last county—McCreary—was formed by the Legislature in 1912 and named for the Governor at the time. Early Kentuckians argued that a man should be able to leave his hill-side farm, go to his county seat, conduct his business and be home by milking time. On today's road system and in a modern automobile, a Kentuckian can visit many county seats in a single day and be home to watch early news on television! For example, the HARRODSBURG—DANVILLE—STANFORD—LANCASTER drive is only 23 miles and one has seen four county courthouses!

But it is sad to see so many of our courthouses poor and dilapidated, ramshacked and forlorn. We are finding the increasing costs of county government to be painful and the benefits declining. What can we expect of a tiny county such as Robertson with a total population of 2,443? Or of a county such as Gallatin with only 3,867 residents?

Must we continue to support 120 county governments and the endless retinue of county agents, home demonstration agents, sheriffs and deputies, judges, jailers, clerks and maintain 120 sets of county buildings and equipment IN A STATE THAT SPEAKS OF "PROGRESS" AND SEEKS NEW INDUSTRY?

We think not!

A worse example of unadulterated "feather-bedding" cannot be found than in the 120 county unit system of Kentucky. A bill was introduced by State Senator Sylvester Wagner in 1952 to cut the number of counties to 47. A merger of counties—excepting Pike and Christian—was suggested by the Covington Democrat who predicted that the result would be a reduction in county officers required, increased pay for full-time remaining officers, and greater effectiveness and efficiency in the operation of local government. Then, and now, suggestions that we get the state out of this mess are regarded as rank heresy. 120 entrenched courthouse cliques and their families and friends scream their protests when we suggest not what Kentucky can do for us but what we can do for Kentucky.

The LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH COMMISSION has been directed by the Legislature in 1963 to study the possibilities of county regrouping and report to the 1966 session. Some predict annual savings exceeding $6 million a year for Kentucky taxpayers if common sense prevails.

Unless we are hopelessly wedded to the past, it is worth a try.

Fiegel-Kelsey Vows Exchanged, January 9

Mr. and Mrs. Parke Fiegel, Van Lue, Ohio, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Helene, to Mr. Dwayne Lee Kelsey, of Findlay, Ohio, formerly of Prestonsburg.

The candlelight service took place in the Evangelical United Brethren Church at 7 p.m., January 9, at West Independence, Ohio, the Rev. Eugene Myers officiating. Preceding the nuptial vows, Miss Carol Fruth, organist, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Priest, violinist, presented a program of wedding music.

Mrs. Donald Thomas, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Mrs. Wayne Duncan, was bridesmaid, the junior maid was Miss Patricia Clarke. Mr. Douglas Clarke, served as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Pete Bolandis and Daniel Clarke. Johnny Robert Hereford served as acolyte and special usher to the families and special guests.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church. Mr. Kelsey is well-known here, having served as assistant to the pastor of the First Methodist Church here a few years ago in the educational department and as kindergarten instructor. At present he is educational director of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Salina, Ohio.

Of the numerous groups of adults who have gone on supervised weight-loss programs, according to Reader's Digest, no more than 15 or 20 percent actually reduce and stay that way for two years afterward.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30 and 20 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(January 11, 1935)

The grand jury Tuesday voted murder indictments against four Floyd men... Hauley Hughes, 28, was shot and killed at Hueysville Sunday... Identity of the hit-run driver whose auto struck and killed five-year-old Joe Edd Gunnell at Tram last Friday is being sought... A delegation of officials and citizens was promised Tuesday that grade and drain construction of about 10 miles of the Left Beaver Creek road will be advertised for bids within two weeks... The home of Dr. Charles Bond at Fallsburg was destroyed by fire last week... There died: Sherman Nunery, 61, Friday night at his home here; Mrs. Margaret Auxier May, 72, Sunday night at her home in Prestonsburg; Larce Burchett, 43, of Sugar Loaf, Sunday at a Paintsville hospital; A. L. Stephens, 74, Floyd native, December 23 at Clayton, Oklahoma, 46 years after his removal to that state; Terry Gene Branham, 11 months, of Boldman, December 20 at a Pikeville hospital.

Twenty Years Ago

A step toward relief of the acute housing shortage in Prestonsburg was taken with the announcement this week by Harry Malkin, of the Capitol Lumber Company here, that he had gained government agency approval of construction of 10 houses... The following Floyd servicemen were reported this week as casualties: Killed in action—1/Sgt. Carl F. Castle, of Martin; Pvt. Avin Nelson, 20, of Dwaile; missing—Pfc. Arnie L. Hunt, of Prestonsburg; captured—Pvt. Donald S. Griffith, of Bevinville, and Francis M. Lally, Jr., of East Point; wounded—Pfc. John H. Spurlock, of Printer, and Pvt. John B. Thornsbury, of Pyramid... Prestonsburg remained this week without free express delivery after C. L. Hyden, denied a raise by the American Express Company, made deliveries only at the expense of the consignee... Mrs. Ben Norris resigned, effective January 1, as Floyd county registrar of vital statistics. Mrs. Marvin Ransdell has been named to succeed her... 'Mother' Geddes, who accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Alice Geddes Lloyd, to Knott county 30 years ago to found the Caney Creek Community Center at Pappa Passes, is dead at the age of 90. She was buried at Pappa Passes, in accordance with her request: "Let me settle where my shoulders dropped their load..." Married: Miss Shirley DeRossett, formerly of Elmina, and S/Sgt. Frank A. Wesnick, Rochester, New York, December 9 at Rochester; Miss Phyllis Mae Hyden, and Pvt. Arnold Herald, both of Prestonsburg, at West Prestonsburg, December 25... There died: Henry Blackburn, formerly of Prestonsburg, last Thursday at Veterans' hospital, Breakville, Ohio; W. M. (Bud) Compton, 70, Saturday at Firebrick, Kentucky.

A tremendous feminine desire for crocodile-leather shoes, handbags and luggage, says Reader's Digest, is spurring crocodile hunting in Africa. A hunter may get $50 to $70 for a high-quality belly-skin. A portion of this skin, tanned and made into a smart handbag, may bring nearly $300 in a retail store.

Winston Churchill's writing output has been enormous. His six-volume history of World War II, reports the January Reader's Digest, contains well over a million and a half words. He dictated it at the rate of 8,000 or 9,000 words a day. Translated into 18 languages, the work won for Churchill a Nobel Prize for Literature.

Expenditures for "research and development" were 570 million dollars annually 25 years ago in the United States. Since then, says the January Reader's Digest, they have multiplied 35-fold and today are seven billion dollars larger than the 1941 federal budget!

More than a fourth of the nation's 21 million farm and non-farm youth between the ages of 16 and 24 were school dropouts in 1960, according to a USDA report. The dropout rate was higher among rural than among urban youngsters and greater among nonwhites than whites.

"No...Belief in God Is NOT Enough!"

Many people are risking their eternal salvation on a "religion" of their own... which is actually no religion at all.

"Oh, I believe in God," they say, "but I don't go to church. I'm just not the religious type."

Almost everybody, of course, believes that there is a God. Common sense tells us that this is so. But if we actually believe there is a God, should not this same common sense tell us we must do something about it? And how can we give expression to our belief in God if not through religion?

Religion is simply the consequence of our realization of Who God is. It is our striving to be honest and consistent with this knowledge—to learn and fulfill our duties to our Creator.

Catholics believe God created us for a definite purpose... that He gave us the intelligence to recognize what that purpose is—and the means to fulfill it. It is through our religion that we give evidence of our desire to honor and serve God. It is through religion that we approach God in faith, repentance, love and gratitude.

If you are living in the belief that you don't need religion... that all you have to do is to believe in God and live a moral life... we urge you to ask yourself these questions—NOW: "Why am I living? Why did God create me?" The most elementary common sense answer is that you are living because God created you... and that God has a purpose in doing so. Catholics believe it is our duty to find out what God's plan is for our lives—and do our best to live it.

If you have been living without any deep religious convictions... it will pay you to read a specially-prepared pamphlet which we will send you without cost or obligation... and nobody will call on you. It discusses such questions as: Can the truth of Christianity be proved? Is it honest to ignore religion? Is science, ethics or education a substitute for the Catholic Church? Also other topics that should concern you deeply. For your free copy write today... ask for Pamphlet No. KC-18.

Nearly a billion copies of "Grimms' Fairy Tales" have been sold in more than 50 languages, according to the January Reader's Digest. These include Swami, Dalk and Bengali. In Africa, the witch's house of "Hansel and Gretel" is made not of cake but of salt, a greater delicacy there. Since snow is unknown on the equator, Snow White's name becomes Flower White. In one version, Cinderella goes to the ball in a canoe.

a charge of possessing intoxicants resulted Tuesday in a "hung" jury.

One of the civil cases heard last week resulted in what is said to have been the heaviest judgment ever given in a case of its kind here. Directed by the court to find for the plaintiff, the jury allowed Hershell Hamilton, 34, of Beaver, $50,230 damages in his suit against the Appalachian Power Company.

Four of five doctors whose testimony was heard in the case testified that Hamilton was totally and permanently disabled as the result of a collision last March at McDowell of his pickup truck and a vehicle owned by the power company and driven by its employee, James Gregory.

Testimony heard claimed Hamilton was hit while on his side of the highway and by the power company vehicle while it was being driven at a speed of 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile hospital zone and at a curve at which the suggested speed was 25 miles an hour.

Gregory claimed a driver in front of him stopped when a dog and two children dashed onto the road, causing him to veer from his lane of traffic, but Edward Hall, the driver whom he was following, testified that he did not stop, merely reduced his speed to about 15 miles an hour. Hall claimed Gregory was 200 feet behind him when he braked his vehicle. It was testified that Gregory's vehicle skidded 172 feet before striking Hamilton's.

The plaintiff was represented by Harris Howard and Henry Stephens.

How do I know that my youth is all spent?
Well, my "get up and go" has got up and went.
But in spite of it all I am able to grin.
When I think where my get up and go has been.
Old age is golden. I've heard it said,
But sometimes I wonder as I get into bed
With my ears in a drawer, my teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table until I wake up.
Ere sleep dims my eyes, I say to myself
"Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?"
And I'm happy to say as I close my door,
My friends are the same, perhaps even more.
When I was young, my slippers were red.
I would kick up my heels right over my head.
As I grew older my slippers were blue.
But still I could dance the whole night through.
Now I am old, my slippers are black.
I walk to the store and puff my way back.
The reason I know that my youth is all spent,
My get up and go has got up and went.
But I don't really mind when I think with a grin
Of all the grand places my get up has been.
Since I have retired from life's competition,
I busy myself with complete repetition.
I get up each morning and dust off my wits,
Pick up the paper and read the "Obits."
If my name is not there I know I'm not dead.
So I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

Sure.

You might find another car as new as the Delta 88.

But not this year.

This is Oldsmobile's Delta 88. It's unique. Unique because it's new. New clear through.
Styling is new. So new, not a line nor a highlight was borrowed from last year.
Power plant is new. Super Rocket V-8 is the biggest in Olds history: 425-cubic-inches big, up to 370-horses strong.
Transmission is new, too. Turbo Hydra-Matic, available on any Delta 88, provides up to 40% more torque from a standing start, superlative performance at all speeds.
New styling. New engine. New transmission. This year, only Delta 88 lets you have all three, all new. Other cars have a lot of catching up to do.

NEW CREDIT AID OFFERED

Assistance To Families In Low Income Bracket Viewed by Government

A new service of government credit aid for many low-income rural families was announced last week by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Purpose of the credit service, says Secretary Orville Freeman, is to help low-income families in rural areas raise their income. It is part of the "War on Poverty."

Applications for loans are being received now by some 1,600 U. S. Department of Agriculture local offices for loans up to $2,500 to finance small family businesses, trades, services and farming enterprises. Rural co-operatives serving low-income families and providing services and facilities not otherwise available also may be eligible for credit under the program. Management aid also will be available to borrowers.

A total of $35 million is authorized for the new credit program for the current fiscal year.

Freeman said about 3.5 million families in rural areas, including 500,000 farm families, will be eligible for the loans. Interest rate is 4%. Applicants must live in a rural area, have a low income insufficient for basic family necessities, be unable to obtain credit from other sources (including the regular FHA program) and show "reasonable promise of succeeding in the enterprise to be financed by the loan."

The Farmers Home Administration will administer the new loan service under the Office of Economic Opportunity.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation to all our neighbors and friends for sympathy and assistance given us during the illness, death and funeral of our beloved husband and father, Oral K. Wallace. To all of you who sent flowers, gave assistance or expressed sympathy, we are deeply grateful. Our thanks are offered to the Rev. Rush Slone, Cohen Campbell, Green Allen, Winfred Rice, and Jim Duff for their words of consolation and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its fine and efficient service.

DAVID

CLUB MEETS

The David Woman's Club held its regular meeting Jan. 8 at the home of Mrs. Francis Harmon, with Mrs. Pete Capelli as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Ora Howard, presided during the business meeting. Mrs. Oak Mullins presented the devotional and gave a reading, entitled, "A Pagan's Prayer." Correspondence was read by Mrs. Harry Clay. Reports were given by committee chairmen. The Welfare committee had distributed clothing and toys to several needy families before Christmas. Food was also given to several families.

It was reported that $36.00 was made on the luncheon which the club served in November. Plans were made to serve a spaghetti dinner at the Patsy Grill. A date for the dinner will be announced when plans are completed.

An interesting program on "Mental Health" was given by Mrs. Lillian McDonald. She told of traits and changes in normal children as they develop through the age of twelve. She then stressed the important part that home life plays in the development of character and habits in children, who follow the examples set by their parents.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the following members: Mesdames Oak Mullins, Royce Mayo, Lloyd Hale, Thomas Castellitto, Alvin Francisco, Lillia Mae Price, Earl McDonald, A. C. Wilson, Harry Clay, E. R. Spears, Ora Howard and Horace Tiller.

Lexington, Ky.—Randall Barnett, a native of Washington county, has been named 4-H Club field agent in Extension District IV, according to Dr. Ray R. Ranta, chairman of UK Extension 4-H programs.

Every 5 minutes a child is born who will be mentally retarded.

REGIONAL TRAVEL MEETS SCHEDULED IN KENTUCKY

A look at the travel scene in 1965 is in store for those Kentuckians who attend one of the six regional travel conferences scheduled in late January and early February throughout Kentucky.
These annual conferences, sponsored by the Kentucky Travel Council, Inc., will include the latest information and latest techniques of travel development in order that Kentucky may continue to enjoy its prosperous travel business.
First of the conferences will be held Jan. 26 at Jenny Wiley State Park, Prestonsburg. Dates and locations for other meetings are: January 27, Seven Gables Motel, Burnside; and January 28, Oelsner's Inn, Covington.
Those to be conducted in February are: February 2, Murray Women's Club House, Murray; February 3, Owensboro Motor Inn, Owensboro; and February 4, Western Hills Restaurant, Bowling Green.
The meetings will begin at 10:30 a.m. (local time). The morning session will be devoted to state and national travel and the afternoon session devoted to regional and local travel, according to Council Director Paul W. Grubbs, Louisville.
Some of the highlights of the conferences will include a discussion of the state legislation that now enables local travel development groups to match funds with state appropriations for travel promotional purposes; a complete review of travel facts as they affect each and every Kentuckian; and a general discussion on developing golf courses camp sites, etc.
Available to those who attend the conferences is a travel handbook for 1965 including such features as the "Travel Host" program, the "Trav'lin' Shows, Society of American Travel Writers Convention—1965, Special Events, Publicity, Private Campgrounds, Golf Map, Golf Fact Sheet and Travel Who's Who.

Headliners are: Dan Stewart, Director of Community Development, Kentucky Utilities Company, Lexington; William L. Knight, director, Travel Division, Department of Public Information, Frankfort; Morgan "Scotty" Boggs, golf course architect and turfgrass consultant, Louisville; and regional chairmen and secretaries.
"We feel that these conferences are especially important this year because the development of new limited access highways has exposed more Kentucky communities to the vast traveling American public," Grubbs explained. "Many communities who had never before considered the travel business as an important economic factor now find that there is a multi-million dollar business passing their doors. In addition, new and different techniques and approaches are required in servicing the Interstate Highway traveler than was the case with the regular highway traveler of the past," Grubbs added.
Travel Council regions are based primarily on North-South highway travel. This was according to the Kentucky Travel Council plan to develop more interest and "esprit de corps" within each region of the state.
Sorties to the Northern travel markets by voluntary Kentucky "Trav'lin' Colonels" will follow the conferences, Grubbs noted.
Following a dutch luncheon, business sessions will be held at each conference along with election of Regional Officers. Reservations should be made through local chambers of commerce.

MEET WHEELWRIGHT SATURDAY

The Prestonsburg Black Cats will seek their sixth consecutive win and their tenth of the season Saturday night on the local court when the Wheelwright Trojans come to town.

Jack Wells' club eliminated Wheelwright from the 58th district tournament here last March in a 63-62 upset.

The locals nipped Wayland and Pikeville over the past weekend as all-around scorer Fred Setser, 6-1 senior forward, flipped in 70 points in the two games to maintain his 27.5 per game average. Setser now has 350 points in 13 games.

Wheelwright is 7-7 after bowing to Carr Creek, 65-56, and Clay County, 58-57.

Martin will be participating in its fourth pre-district tournament this week. They will meet Blaine (15-3) in the first round of the Paintsville invitational, Thursday night at 7. They are in the lower bracket with Meade Memorial. If both win first round games, they will tangle Friday night at 8:30. Martin downed Meade Memorial, 55-47, in the semi-finals of the Jenny Wiley Invitational tournament in the Prestonsburg fieldhouse last November.

The Maytown Wildcats were faced with the ordeal of playing two basketball games last Saturday night, one at home against Garrett and the other at Scott County. Principal Ed Stewart induced Garrett to reschedule its game and Maytown left Saturday for Georgetown, where they lost, 69-48.

One item on the agenda at the next meeting of the Floyd County Coaches Association will be the elimination of the practice that has county coaches refereeing each other's games. This practice has been carried on for years in county cage circles and is becoming worse each season.

McDowell high will serve as host school for the 58th district tournament, although it will be held on the Prestonsburg floor, March 3-6. Jack and Bill Wise, officials for the pre-season tournament, will be the officials.

Rate Reduction Request Granted by Commission; Firm Outlines Reasons

Kentucky Power Company's request to reduce rates by an estimated $217,000 a year has been approved by the Kentucky Public Service Commission.

The lower rates became effective on meters read after January 1.

This reduction brings to over $450,000 the total of rate decreases put into effect by Kentucky Power Company during the past nine months. The company explained the rate reductions were made possible by the decreases in federal income taxes and also by the rising use of electricity, especially for heating, in the company's service area.
