

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1965

This Town . . . That World

This has been a pretty dull week from the personal angle. Nobody has cried on my shoulder, and there were no shoulders offered for my own use.

Either these Third street sidewalks are too high or the cars are too low. Hub caps take a beating.

The Houston Post records this sign on a California music shop window:
"Out to lunch, Bach by one. Offenbach earlier."

Here's the most discouraging item I've run across in a long while. It's from the Bloomington, Illinois Daily Pantagraph, dated April 22, 1962:

"William Wells, father-in-law of Capt. Edward J. Lewis, is very low. He is 50 years of age, and his ailment is simply old age."

Somebody said times have changed. Well, I would hope so!

After this doctor who grafts hair onto bald heads and gets things going again had quoted prices to one of the fellows around here, we wondered if it wouldn't be cheaper to stick the old noggin' out toward a porcupine and dare him to shoot. Reminds me of the story of the beauty surgeon who wanted the cost of getting a southbound nose headed in the right direction.

"One hundred dollars," he intoned.
"A hundred dollars! Isn't there something less expensive?"
"Well," replied the surgeon, "you might try walking into a telephone pole."

One candidate got so serious with me this week that he offered to split his supply of nightcrawlers with me.

Then there was the court trial in which the lawyer whispered to his client, "Wanna challenge anybody on that jury?"

"Well," whispered back the defendant, "believe I could lick that little guy over there on the end."

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT FOR ROY SALISBURY

Motion and grounds for a new trial for Roy Salisbury, who was condemned February 12 by a Pike county jury to die for the murder of Mrs. Mallie T. Denney, was filed last Wednesday.

Circuit Judge Hollie Conley is expected to act on the motion at the motion hour of circuit court this morning (Thursday). If a new trial is refused, the case will go to the Court of Appeals.

The motion and grounds, for a new trial, filed by Salisbury's attorney, Burnis Martin, listed 13 points which, it was claimed, prevented the defendant from having a fair trial. Main contentions were these:

1. The court erred to the prejudice of the substantial rights of the defendant in allowing the Commonwealth to introduce in evidence and to give to the jury pictures of the bodies of not only Mallie Turner Denney but also those of her husband, Roy Denney, and Thomas Spence Combs.

2. The court erred in getting a jury from Pike county after the Commonwealth had filed a motion for a change of venue and in support of the motion had argued to the court, in substance, that Pike county would not be suitable because a brother of Thomas Spence Combs, one of the three victims, and two of Combs' cousins are doctors practicing in Pikeville.

3. The court erred to the prejudice of the defendant's substantial rights in waiting till near the end of the Commonwealth's testimony to let it be known in chambers that he had certain in-

THREE-DAY HEARING ON BUS LINE SLATED

BUS LINES DISCUSSION IS SLATED

Businessmen Pledge Bus Purchase Funds; Line Franchise Asked

The Department of Motor Transportation, Frankfort, has announced that a three-day hearing has been scheduled here on the proposed municipally-operated bus line. The hearings will be held at the courthouse March 23 through March 25. All sessions begin at 10 a.m.

The proposal to operate a city bus line from Prestonsburg to Auxier, David, Jenny Wiley State Park and to Harold has been a project of the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce for several months. Businessmen here have pledged several thousand dollars with which to buy two buses.

Two prime reasons for the establishment of the system of transportation are given. One is to enable residents of the Harold-Big Mud Creek-Betsy Layne sections to travel more conveniently to Prestonsburg and the second reason is to enable students of the Prestonsburg Community College residing in the southern end of the county to travel to school without the serious inconveniences they now experience.

The first day's hearing will discuss the proposed Prestonsburg-David route, and the next day the Prestonsburg-Auxier service will be the subject. On the third day the proposed service to Harold and to the park will be under consideration.

Barkley J. Sturgill was employed by the Chamber of Commerce several months ago to seek a franchise for the bus line from the Division of Motor Transportation.

formation concerning the case; that on the Sunday before the killing Salisbury's mother and her son and perhaps a daughter came to his home and requested that he send the surveyor up to the disputed area for the purpose of erecting stakes. "Regardless of the pure motives of the court, which we do not question," the motion sets out, "this information was favorable to the Commonwealth and unfavorable to the defendant, and the attorney for the Commonwealth did attempt to pursue and interrogate the matter when questioning the defense witness, Tom Salisbury."

4. The court erred in allowing the Commonwealth to refer repeatedly to the deaths of Roy Denney and Thomas S. Combs at a time when the defendant was not on trial for either of these slayings.

ASCS SLATES REFERENDUM

Balloting Scheduled On Marketing Quotas; 48 Farms Produce Leaf

Floyd county's 48 tobacco farmers and members of their families who have an interest in producing the crop or share in its proceeds are eligible to vote in the burley tobacco referendum to be held Thursday, February 25.

A "Yes" or "No" vote is to be cast on the question, "Are you in favor of marketing quotas and price supports on burley tobacco for the years of 1965, 1966 and 1967?"

Those eligible to vote in this county will come to the Floyd County ASCS office, 105 Court street, Prestonsburg (second floor, over Cox Department Store). The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

Use of absentee ballots will be permissible if eligible voters will be out of the county on the voting date. They must, however, come to the ASCS office to procure their ballots.

The 48 farms in this county which have tobacco allotments have a total tobacco base of 11,34 acres. Figures for the year 1963 show that 37 farms having a total tobacco base of 9.53 acres in this county produced 21,536 pounds of tobacco which were sold for $12,432.75, averaging $57.73 per hundred pounds.

NAME GREER IN ROBBERY

Officers Say Defendant Threatened Them Here; $2,000 Bond Executed

Claude Greer, 26, of Allen, worker on an unemployed father's project, was jailed here Saturday night by Prestonsburg police and charged with armed robbery and carrying a concealed deadly weapon.

Greer was released under $2,000 bond Tuesday to answer to action of the April grand jury.

Ray Click and Woodrow Salyers, policemen who made the arrest, said that when they located Greer in a car on South Lake Drive here, in response to a call from state police, Greer leveled a pistol at them as they were attempting to remove from the car a youth who appeared to be ill. When Greer ordered them to drop their gun belts, Click continued to talk to him, Salyers meanwhile edging out of line. As Greer's attention was distracted Click gained a moment's time, and both officers countered with guns of their own. Greer then surrendered.

Robert and Glenn Nicholas, teen-age brothers from Allen, told the officers Greer had held them at gunpoint, forcing them to drive him wherever he wanted to go, to buy whiskey for him, and to drink some of the whiskey. Meanwhile, they said, he took "the last $2 we had."

The boys swore to the armed robbery warrant. Police said the grand jury may also be presented evidence accusing Greer of kidnapping, resisting and threatening officers.

The defendant told Trial Commissioner Glenn Burchett Tuesday, when he applied for bail, that he was drunk and did not know what he was doing.

Click said there were three cartridges loaded with hollow-point bullets in Greer's .22-caliber Luger when he was arrested. The officer expressed the belief that the limited number of shots in the weapon may have saved his and Salyers' lives or prevented a gunfight.

Others jailed here within the week, charges on which they were booked and the names of arresting officers follow:

Wilbert E. Lawson, driving while intoxicated, by State Troopers Harmon and Roberts; Lorenzo D. Damon, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, arrested by State Trooper Don H. Goble and Constable Gillis Conn; Bert Wicker, possessing moonshine whiskey, jailed by Deputy Sheriff Marion Martin.

John Willis, who was arrested here recently by Policemen Ray Click and Woodrow Salyers, on a drunk driving charge, was fined $50 in Prestonsburg police court last week.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES RIGHTS COMPLIANCE

The Floyd County Board of Education, in order to avail itself of federal grants, loans and other assistance in the school system has executed an assurance of compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act. This section of the law bars all racial discrimination of any nature or form.

The form, executed by the board at its regular meeting February 6, is known as HEW-41 and must be filed with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare each time any funds are procured by the school system from a federal source.

The board authorized County Superintendent Charles F. Clark and Board Chairman John M. Stumbo to sign future compliance orders.

LOCK ORDER IS ENTERED

Stumbo and Sturgill Ask Hueysville Place Be Declared Nuisance

The "Sugar Shack" on old Ky. 7 at Hueysville was padlocked last Wednesday on order of Circuit Judge Hollie Conley who issued a temporary restraining order enjoining any person or persons from operating the place.

The action was taken after Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo and County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill had filed a complaint against Beecher Handshoe and his wife, Bonnie, citing the place as a nuisance under provisions of KRS 242.340 and 242.310. Their petition alleged that the place had been raided previously and that quantities of alcoholic beverages had been found there on several different occasions.

Hearing on the temporary injunction has been set for Thursday of this week.

Beecher Handshoe was convicted on a liquor charge, several weeks ago. Last Wednesday, his wife was arrested on a selling charge by ABC Agent Claude A. Flanery and State Trooper Don Goble. Her trial in Magistrate Zeb Ousley's court has been set for March 13.

After this arrest, the complaint was filed by Stumbo and Sturgill. Flanery and State Trooper Elmo Allen padlocked the place that day.

Mishap At Sugar Loaf Claims Floyd Native; Burial Made At Ivel

Evan Hall, 36, of Bellevue, Michigan, died almost instantly last Friday night of head and chest injuries suffered in the collision of his auto with another at Sugar Loaf, six miles south of here.

Hall, his father, William Hall, of Amba, and his son were driving upriver, and apparently were in the lane of an approaching car driven by Herman Kaiser, of Norton, Virginia. The collision occurred around 10 p.m., opposite the Ranier Construction Company buildings.

Both the father and son of the victim were hospitalized. Kaiser suffered minor hurts.

Ex-Constable's Trial For Liquor Possession Slated Here Monday

Trial of Joe Lykins, former Magisterial District 4 constable, on whose premises 43 cases of beer and a case of whiskey were found recently, is slated for Monday in quarterly court. Lykins is charged with possession of the intoxicants.

The raid was made by Deputy Sheriff Milt Hunt, on authority of a search warrant issued by County Judge Henry Stumbo. The search was made after three young boys had become drunk on beer and had fallen in the snow. They swore out the search warrant on the insistence of their parents.

The boys named Jack Akers as the person who sold them the beer. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

The beer and whiskey were delivered Tuesday by Judge Stumbo to ABC Agent Claude Flanery.

Invitation Is Issued To Low Income Families To Apply for Housing

A public invitation to heads of working families in the lower income groups to apply for housing in low-rent public housing units at Martin was given this week after officials there had learned that an erroneous report had been spread to the effect that those earning incomes are ineligible.

"Eligibility to occupy these housing units can be determined only after application is made and the applicant is interviewed," R. R. Allen, executive secretary of the Martin Housing Commission, said.

Sewer construction at Martin is expected to begin March 1, and this in turn is scheduled to reach the housing units in time for them to be occupied between April 15 and May 1, it was said.

BOARD ASKS SCHOOL PLAN

Changes In Personnel Authorized At Meet; Fiscal Agent Named

The meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education held February 6 concerned itself chiefly with personnel changes. Among other items of business transacted was the authorization to George Lee Shannon, board architect, to prepare temporary plans for the projected Right Beaver Creek consolidated school. He will be paid for the work only if the building is constructed.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS IN FLOYD OUTLINED

Seven state highway improvements in Floyd county were announced this week by Henry Ward, Commissioner of Highways.

Ward listed the following projects as those which have been approved:

Grade, drain and traffic-bound surfacing of 1.5 miles of the Spurlock Creek road. The project will begin at Spurlock Creek, two miles south of Ky. 144, and extend 1.5 miles south to a point near the Conley Fork school.

Resurfacing of the East Point-Auxier-Cliff road from the west end of the bridge over Levisa Fork at Auxier to the C. & O. railroad crossing, north of Auxier, a distance of 1.3 miles.

Resurfacing of Buffalo Creek road, beginning at the end of the blacktop near Endicott post office and extending southeasterly a distance of 1.4 miles. A bridge located 1.5 miles east of Endicott on the Buffalo Creek road will be repaired.

These seven projects will cost an estimated $168,000. Ward said that these are among the highway improvement projects being carried out in Floyd county with state funds. They will be advertised for bids soon.

DAN KNAUSZ IS VICTIM

Heart Attack Claims Harold Coal Operator; Native of Virginia

Dan S. Knausz, well-known Eastern Kentucky coal operator, was found dead at his home at Harold, Wednesday morning, and is believed to have been the victim of a heart attack. He was 53 years old.

Mr. Knausz's body was found in the bathroom of the home, about 8:30 a.m., by the family housekeeper when she came to work. The supper which she had left in the oven of the kitchen stove for him, late the preceding afternoon, had not been touched, and it is believed he had been dead since early Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Knausz and their three children at the time were at Paintsville where the children attend Our Lady of the Mountaintop Academy.

A jury empaneled by Coroner James J. Carter held that he had died of natural causes.

A native of Stonega, Virginia, Mr. Knausz came to Kentucky with other members of his family, first residing at Beauty, Martin county. In 1942 he went to Harold where he founded the Harold Fuel Company, which he operated till his death.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Marguerite Mandt Knausz; three children, John, George and Victoria Ann; two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Stephen Toth, Euclid, Ohio, Miss Ruth Knausz and Joe Knausz, both of Beauty, Kentucky.

CONTRACT AWARDED ON FISHTRAP DAM

Another step was taken Tuesday toward development of the water resources of the Big Sandy river basin of Virginia, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Bids for construction of Fishtrap Dam, near Pikeville, were opened by the Huntington (W. Va.) district office of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Col. Harrington W. Cochran, district engineer, said the apparent low bid of $9,898,561 was submitted jointly by Codell Construction Co., of Winchester, Kentucky; Oman Construction Co., of Nashville, Tennessee, and Cardaway Contracting Co., of Columbus, Georgia.

The bid was more than $1 million below the government's estimate.

Col. Cochran said the contract calls for construction of the dam and intake superstructure by June, 1968. The $56 million Fishtrap project was placed under construction in 1962 with initial relocation of roads. Its purpose will include flood control, recreation and water quality control.

The dam will be a rock-fill type with impervious earth core, 195 feet high with top length of 1,100 feet.

Cochran noted that within the comprehensive plan for the Big Sandy basin, Deyew Dam and reservoir, near Prestonsburg, is completed; Fishtrap, and John W. Flannagan and North Fork reservoirs in Virginia, are under construction, and additional projects are being considered following a recent study.

If Fishtrap, Flannagan and North Fork had been in full operation during the flood of March, 1963, the flood crest of 50 feet at Pikeville would have been reduced to 41.4 feet. Flannagan, in partial operation at that time, did account for a 1.9-foot reduction and prevented $15 million worth of damage.

The four projects, when all are completed, will represent a federal investment — in reservoirs alone — in the basin of approximately $90 million.

STATE SEEKS LOAD CURBS ON KY. 1107

Excessive Load Limits Charged by Division; Portable Scales Used

The Kentucky Division of Motor Transportation moved last Thursday to halt the use of Ky. 1107 (the road from Dewey Dam along the lake) by overweight coal trucks.

Three truckowners or their drivers were cited to appear before County Judge Henry Stumbo Wednesday when a hearing is scheduled. The citations were issued by Zenneth Bentley, of Whitesburg, a tier O. Geist, Frankfort, director of enforcement for the Division, had personally inspected the road between the dam and the junction with new U. S. 23 at Auxier.

"We have seen the condition of the road, and we intend to put a stop to this overweight operation," Mr. Geist said Tuesday. "It's an impossible situation right now, and we hope something can be worked out, but in any event we are going to keep at the matter till it is corrected."

Geist said he was particularly anxious to see what action is taken on the three citations made last week. Earlier, three truckowners were cited, and two drew heavy fines.

The authorized weight limit of the road is 24,000 pounds. Portable scales were taken to the scene last Wednesday, and trucks and their loads were weighed. Lightest of the loads was that of a truck owned by Glenn Butcher, of Paintsville, and driven by Jimmie Green. It was weighed at 25,050 pounds.

The other two citations: Billy Ray Howard, driver and owner of a tandem truck, weighed at 32,200 pounds; John J. Fitzpatrick, driver of a tandem truck owned by Patton & Bays, 53,230 pounds.

Coal being hauled over the lake road is from an auger mining operation. When damage of the road first became apparent Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward protested, claiming the highway was built as a park road and was not designed for heavy traffic. Later, the matter was left with the Division of Motor Transportation.

Food Stamp Recipients In Four Counties Aided By Expanded Program

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that 2,880 persons in four eastern Kentucky counties received their first food stamp coupons last week under USDA's food stamp program.

The Kentucky Department of Economic Security issued $41,278 worth of food coupons last week to 1,147 low-income families in Breathitt, Johnson, Martin and Owsley counties. The families purchased $17,748 worth of the coupons to participate in the food program.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service says the 1,147 households will spend about $23,500 more at authorized food stores in the four-county area this month as a result of the new food program. This amounts to about $8 more a month per person.

Carl Horn, the Consumer and Marketing Service's program supervisor in Kentucky at Prestonsburg, said that 267 retail food merchants in the four counties have been authorized to accept food coupons.

According to the Department of Economic Security, 232 households in Breathitt county with 1,147 persons bought $9,322 worth of coupons last week at the issuance office in Jackson. They received a total of $16,702 worth of coupons with which they can buy food during February.

In Johnson county, 111 households with 452 persons bought $2,708 worth of coupons during the week at the issuance office in Paintsville. They received a total of $7,264 worth of coupons.

Sixty Martin county families with 332 persons bought $1,220 worth of food coupons at Inez. The families received a total of $5,146 worth of coupons.

In Owsley county, 191 households with 949 persons purchased $4,498 worth of food coupons at the issuance office in Booneville, to receive a total of $12,166 worth of coupons.

The Department of Economic Security is again issuing food coupons to certified low-income families this week. County welfare workers are continuing to accept applications and certify eligible needy households.

Reports from the four counties show that 2,183 needy families have applied and been certified to participate in USDA's food stamp program. This represents 9,819 persons.

Under the food stamp program, eligible families with low-incomes exchange the amount of money they could normally be expected to spend for food for food coupons, and receive additional coupons free of charge to help them buy more and better food.

USDA pays for the difference between the amount each family pays and the total value of the coupons it gets. With the addition of Breathitt, Johnson, Martin and Owsley counties, seven eastern Kentucky counties are now participating in the food stamp program. Other counties are Floyd, Knott and Perry. Three other counties will join the program March 1. They are Leslie, Letcher and Magoffin.

This Was Worth Dreaming About

Dr. George P. Archer, mayor of Prestonsburg, may be one of those fortunate people who does a lot of dreaming and then sees his dreams come true.

This city park dream of his is becoming a tangible thing, and with the cooperation of civic groups, the City Council and possibly the future help of governmental agencies it departs from the category of things hoped for.

We do a bit of wool-gathering, ourselves, on occasion, and so this idea of the mayor's has appealed to us, even when it was vague and without a lot of form. Now that land has been acquired, bricks have been laid, plans have been formulated for future work, financial help has been assured to some extent, and as the whole lay-out begins to glow even more than we suspected, we are downright enthusiastic about it all.

It's such things as this that earn a community distinction. Community beautification, recreation for young and old, tent sites for tourists—things to attract people, to hold them and keep them—all these deserve consideration from even the most conservative and practical as well as from those of us who are paxilated enough to believe that beauty and clean fun and the thrill of building and making progress are practical enough for us.

We congratulate all who are having a part in this endeavor.

Prediction of Bumps In Mines Is Possible, Two Geologists Find

A series of potentially destructive coal-mine bumps have been successfully predicted, possibly pioneering a scientific form of mine safety, two geologists said yesterday at Chicago.

The bumps—spontaneous rock bursts and rock falls in mine workings—were predicted after seismic-tremor studies by scientists in the Interior Department Geological Survey.

The geologists, Dr. Frank W. Osterwald and C. R. Dunrad, of the Geological Survey, said a series of violent bumps in the Sunnyside, Utah, mines were predicted in November, 1964, after earth tremors in the mines were studied for five years.

More than 3,000 engineers are attending the five-day meeting which runs through Thursday.

PEGGY CRUM

Democratic primary, May, 1965

I was born and reared at Lancer, Kentucky, near Prestonsburg, the daughter of Joe Crum and Esta Burchett Crum, granddaughter of the late W. G. Burchett and Julia Hubbard Burchett, and the late John R. Crum, and Elizabeth Setser Crum, now living at Lancer, Kentucky. I have two sisters, Faye Crum Fisher and Jackie Lynn Crum, and one brother, Johnny Crum. My relation extends to the Crums, Burchetts, Setzers and Hubbards, to the Blackburns, Akers, DeRossetts, Branham, Laffertys, Conns, Samons, Jarvis, Banks, Gobles, Crisps, Hunters, Hammonds and many other Floyd county families.

I am a member of the First Baptist Church of Allen, Kentucky, and at various times have taught Sunday School and worked with the young people of my church.

I attended Allen Graded School, Prestonsburg High School and Morehead State College and was an honor student, both in high school and in college.

I am now employed by Porter Electric Co., of Allen, Kentucky, and previous to this I worked four years in the County Court Clerk's office under DuRan Moore.

This is the first time I have ever asked for a public office but with my four years' experience I feel I can do a good job for all of Floyd county.

I'm sure you all agree that the work in this office is done almost entirely by women, so why spend additional tax money to pay a man who has to hire women to do his work?

I have met most of you people and served you in this office and hope to visit with every one of you in your homes before this election. I want each of you to know and see who you are voting for.

I'm just a working girl with no money, and the only way I can possibly make this race with success, is with the help of all the good, honest people. I know when you go to the polls to vote, you'll not forget me.

Your friend,
PEGGY CRUM

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Fishermen are interested not only in anchoring for safety but also in anchoring for convenience—fishing convenience. Concerned more with performance than appearance, fishermen take honors as masters of modification.

For instance, a cement block with a ring in it makes a fine and sufficient anchor. Likewise, window-sash weights make good drag anchors, since they not only hold a boat but don't snag easily if they are made to sliicer over the bottom.

An anchor that stows in a permanent fitting on the bow of the boat and raises and lowers from a reel in the center of the boat is a must for any really serious fishing machine. Zip into a spot. Anchor. Fish. Haul anchor. Zip away. And never leave your seat.

An anchor trick of the "go-light" boys, who pack in to remote streams or lakes, is to take along a stout canvas bag. Filled with rocks at their destination, it holds their boat. Plastic anchors designed to be filled with sand also fill this bill.

Similarly, aluminum boats "long" when hit with an anchor and scare fish; and you make an anchor that prevents this by sticking a ring bolt into an old rubber boot and filling it with cement. It's short on status, but long on results.

One trouble with cement and rock anchors that depend only on their weight to hold is that they don't weigh as much underwater as they do in air. Cement loses almost half its weight submerged, granite a third, iron 13 percent. Even lead loses almost 10 percent.

"One way to use your anchor to catch more fish is to learn how to rig a bridle," suggests Zack Taylor, Boats Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. In addition to the regular anchor line, bend another light line to the anchor and fling the works overboard. Set the anchor well by backing down on it. Now, by tightening the light line aft and loosening the regular line forward, you can make the boat turn sidewise to the wind or current. Lash down, and she'll lie there steady as a clam and you can fish several people off the leeward side.

The first cardinal rule for planning a successful winter goose hunt is to hunt during those days which follow dark nights.

Geese wintering on a refuge, as nearly all geese in the United States do, are there because they know they are safe. They know also that they are shot at every time they leave the refuge during the daylight hours. So most geese leave the refuge during daylight shooting hours only when they must.

During periods of a quarter moon or less, geese can rarely see well enough to feed at night, so they are forced to leave the refuges to feed during daylight hours. During these dark-night periods, geese may leave to feed at any time during the day, but they usually make two daylight feeding excursions, one in the morning and another in the afternoon. On refuges with thousands of geese, this usually means that there are some geese in the air during most of the day—either leaving the refuge to feed, flitting around between feeding areas or returning to the refuge. This is one period each month when the goose-wise hunter always plans to hunt. The other period is any day during the rest of the month when he knows that clouds or other forms of inclement weather have shielded the moon the preceding night; for during such a day also, geese will leave the refuge to feed. You can't kill winter geese unless they leave that refuge, and these days following dark nights are the only days you can be reasonably sure the geese will be flying. So if you want a high probability of killing geese, this is when you must plan to hunt!

During fair-weather periods of a half moon or more, the geese usually feed in the safety of darkness and spend the day sitting tight on the refuge, teasing frustrated hunters with an occasional barrage of assorted noises as if they might just come off—which they rarely do." points out Col. Dave Harbour in the current issue of Sports Afield Magazine. Although these are the worst periods to hunt, some of us are going to hunt them too, instead of staying home. If so, we should plan our hunts for the early-morning or late-afternoon hours.

DRAW SUNDAY

Drawings for the annual Floyd county district basketball tournament will be held at McDowell high school, Sunday at 2 p.m. The eight-team event will be played in Prestonsburg's field house, March 3-6.

Estill Hall, assistant principal of McDowell high, will serve as tournament manager, and the officials will be the brothers, Jack and Bill Wise, Lexington.

Prestonsburg's 76-64 win over Meade Memorial last Friday, its first in the last ten seasons, dropped Meade out of the state's top 25 teams and promptly caused Jack Wells' Black Cats to drop one place in the 15th regional ratings. Martin moved up one notch to 13th place, and is the only regional team in the leading 25.

The Martin Purple Flash and Coach Denzil Halbert will be guests on Jim Thacker's Saturday sports show at 4:15 p.m., on WSAZ-TV, Huntington. This will precede the Wisconsin-Indiana Big Ten TV game of the week.

Eight college coaches were in the stands Tuesday night to view the Martin-Meade Memorial, Prestonsburg-Ashland double-header. All were interested in Alvin Ratliff, Freddie Setser and Larry Hall. . . . Maytown's grade school won the Floyd county grade school championship last week and is now playing in the regional grade school tournament at Morehead State College.

When will she ever learn

There are many reasons why a fuse blows. It's one of the safety features that makes electric living so dependable. But if fuses frequently blow in your house, it could be a warning of serious trouble.

Chances are that your entrance panel (fuse box) is inadequate for your present needs of electrical power. This means your appliances are getting only part of the energy they need to operate properly. Motors may burn out because of low voltage.

If you have to frequently replace fuses or lights dim, call us for a free "Power Survey" to determine your problem and help you solve it. No obligation.

Dr. R. L. Hall Issues Warning On Vitamins; See Physician, Urged

You may have heard the saying—"You can get too much of a good thing." In speaking of vitamins, this saying may have much truth in it. Most people think, "The more vitamins you get, the better." But Dr. R. L. Hall, Floyd county health officer, warns that taking vitamins without consulting your doctor or keeping a close watch on your diet may cause illness rather than prevent it.

With more fortified and enriched foods on the market today, children and adults can usually receive an adequate intake of vitamins through their daily diet. Vitamin D, for example, can be obtained from fortified milk and margarine, enriched cereals, and many other foods. It is possible then that some adults and children are receiving the recommended amount without supplements. An additional intake over a period of months could cause a loss of appetite, weakness or fatigue.

Often, if a vitamin supplement is used, other necessary nutrients such as protein, calcium and iron may be slighted. Many persons, because they are taking vitamins, neglect their diets and fail to get protein and minerals necessary for good health. Thus, it may be wiser for the sake of both health and the budget to provide carefully selected foods for the family rather than relying on a vitamin supplement.

Dr. Hall advises that if you are presently using a vitamin supplement, be sure to check with your doctor periodically. He will be able to tell you how long it should be continued. "Remember, too many vitamins may not be a good thing," he warns.

4-H Clubs Schedule Drive To Aid IFYE

The Floyd County 4-H Clubs will start their sale of the new family-pak of toothbrushes February 20. Profits from the sale will be used to finance the Floyd county IFYE, Melanie Ann Conley, Maytown 4-H Club.

Mrs. Verbal Meeks, chairman of the 4-H Council, says that over half the toothbrushes in use are worn out. Dentists say that toothbrushes should be replaced every three months. "Dental health is important to everyone," says Mrs. Meeks "and we of the 4-H Council and 4-H Clubs are glad to put emphasis on this problem while conducting our funds raising project."

New Oil Development Planned by Investors; Layne Participates

Development of extensive acreage by drilling for oil and natural gas in the Ivy Creek, Buffalo Creek and Prater Creek areas is planned by a group of 14 investors from Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor, Michigan. The Times has learned.

Decision to explore the separate areas followed the drilling of a well on Tom's Creek, this county, which was at first reported as producing between 700 and 800 barrels of oil a day, plus gas gauged at 60,000 cubic feet. This well was drilled in the Big Lime formation.

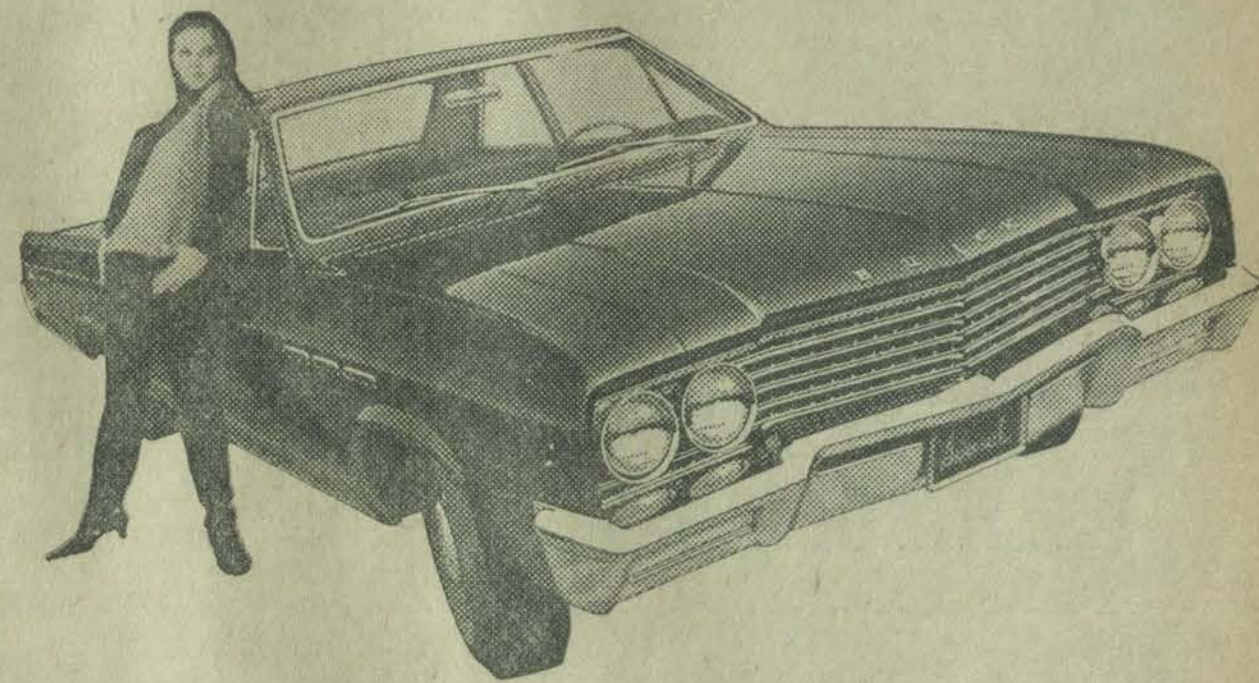

Leaders in the development program are William F. Dannemiller, of Ann Arbor, and Dr. Albert Scheider and Carl Compton, of Ypsilanti, Darwin Layne, a former Ivel man, now a resident of Ypsilanti, is a member of the group of investors.

Lady Is Free Of Rheumatic Pain

RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this NEW Liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON AT W. A. Rose Drug Store.

Forestry Discussion Slated At Conference Of Governor, Leaders

Forestry, and ways to make money out of it, will be the subject of intensive discussion and planning at the Second Governor's Conference on Forestry, February 19-19 at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington.

"We know some of the reasons why Kentucky has not yet realized its forestry and wood-use potential," State Forestry Director Gene L. Butcher said in announcing the Conference. "Now we want to do something about it and let the man in the street know what his community can do."

Governor Breathitt has called upon all Kentuckians to work for a billion-dollar-a-year farm economy for our state and forestry is definitely a part of that economy. I strongly urge the leaders of all affected communities to come to the Conference on Forestry, so that we can get down to brass tacks on the how, why and where of it."

The conference discussions will be broken down into the various aspects of the industry, particularly existing and possible future uses of secondary products—furniture, pulp for newsprint, matches, etc.

The featured luncheon speaker will be Richard Droege, regional forester for the U. S. Forest Service.

Aside from the Governor and Butcher, other speakers and their topics are: Clarence J. Lohr, State Forestry Division, Kentucky's timber resources; Dwight Hair, federal research forester, Kentucky's share of forest products consumption; H. B. Newland, state Department of Commerce, current status of secondary wood products manufacturing in Kentucky; Kenneth Bruce, National Lumber Manufacturers Association, how to promote the use of wood products; Perry Hazenstein, U. S. Forest Service economist, determining possible plant locations.

Also on the program are Richard Houpe, state Department of Commerce, how to acquire an industry; Dean Burgess, Kentucky Bankers Association, how to finance the industry with private capital; Louisville Regional Director R. B. Blankenship, U. S. Small Business Administration, how to secure public funds in helping set up the industry; and Virgil W. Cothren, Southern Pine Association forester, the growth of wood products industries in the South.

Winding up the conference, the stories of two communities' success—one real, one fictional—in promoting the growth of wood-using industries will be presented by David Hancock, Tennessee Valley Authority forest economist, and Leonard Kernen, state Department of Commerce.

The annual convention of the Kentucky Association of Future Farmers of America is held in Louisville.

BREATHITT TESTIFIES ON APPALACHIAN BILL

BY EDWARD T. BREATHITT

Passage by the United States Senate last week of the $1 billion Appalachian Recovery Act came 11 days after a number of witnesses, including myself, testified in its support before the Senate Public Works Committee.

Whatever influence, if any, I may have brought to bear on this action is a source of real pleasure to me.

The Appalachian bill still has to pass the House and be signed by the President before it becomes law, but its final enactment, which seems assured, coupled with the $947.5 million Economic Opportunity Act, will bring to Kentucky tools to combat poverty, that she never had before.

In urging speedy passage of the bill, I told the committee that the program made possible by it would remove a chronic deficit area from the nation's ledger sheet and replace it with a growing economy that would benefit the entire country.

I also told the committee that Kentucky is not depending entirely on the Appalachian measure, that it is expanding as a state its efforts to develop Eastern Kentucky and all of Kentucky and would continue to do so after enactment of the bill. New roads, schools, parks and recreational facilities are included in our program.

Now, as everyone knows, just as Rome was not built in a day, poverty in Kentucky is not going to be wiped out overnight, but what with the co-operative undertaking by all levels of government—federal, state and local—the outlook is bright to minimize poverty by striking at its sources, by giving the people a chance to become self-supporting.

In making real use of other available federal help, Kentucky has been quick to take advantage of the opportunities offered by the Economic Opportunity Act. As a result, we stand in the forefront of states where projects have been started. Since the Act was approved by Congress last July, more than 70 local project applications have been channeled to Washington through Kentucky's Area Program Office.

The jobless fathers program now under way in nine counties in Eastern Kentucky includes 3,100 families, and was entirely financed by a $9.6 million grant from the federal government. Application already has been made in Washington to add more counties to the original nine, which are Floyd, Perry, Letcher, Breathitt, Bell, Harlan, Knott, Leslie and Pike.

So far, with the jobless fathers assigned to community-improvement work and conservation jobs, no special training has been offered. This was all changed just a few days ago however, when it was announced that in a few weeks, basic education and vocational training courses will be made available. The objective of this is permanent employment for trained men.

A still larger project, measured by the $10.7 million federal grant made to carry it out, is the establishment by April 1 of an urban Job Corps center in Camp Breckinridge, the Army post deactivated some years ago, near Morgantown.

The center will be operated by Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Illinois, in conjunction with the University of Kentucky, Lexington, and the General Electric Appliance Park, Louisville. The object of this center during the first year is to train 2,000 unemployed young men aged 16 through 21 who have dropped out of school. Basic education courses will be set up and training will be given in various jobs skills such as automobile-body repair, gas station operation, household appliance repair and general machine shop operation.

The over-all programs of the Economic Opportunity Act and the Appalachian Recovery Act, which is yet to become law, will be most helpful in our continuing quest for a better life for all Kentuckians. To President Johnson and to the members of Congress we will owe everlasting gratitude because the two programs strike at the very heart of many of Kentucky's gravest problems.

Snow geese do not always keep the uniform V flight that distinguishes the larger (and smarter) Canada goose. —Sports Afield.

To the
FLOYD COUNTY:

This is an election year in Floyd county. Once again you are going to decide who will lead your affairs of government for the next four years. This is a most important election.

I am now completing my first term as your County Attorney. Four years ago I promised you I would work hard for progress, strict law enforcement, and to do my dead level best in serving all the people of Floyd county. I have kept that promise.

PROGRESS: I believe that everyone can agree that during the last 4 years Floyd county has made more progress than anytime in its history. We have a new Courthouse, a new College, more new rural roads, clearing and snagging project of Right Beaver Creek, Food Stamp Program, Unemployed Parents Program, just to name a few. These projects have required hard work, cooperation and the help and support of all the people. WE ARE JUST BEGINNING, much more can be and will be accomplished!

LAW AND ORDER: During the last four years our county has been the scene of a conspiracy and well organized liquor ring. Bootlegging has been organized as never before. There are those who would have completely taken over if allowed to, if the County Attorney had not prosecuted liquor violations RIGHT DOWN THE LINE. There have been more liquor convictions in the last four years than in any previous period in our history. I have done my dead level best to cooperate with the Governor's Office, State Police, ABC Agents, and other law enforcement officers to halt the terrible liquor situation in Floyd county. I am on the side of law and order. The churches, ministers, parents and P.-T.A. groups and others have been a great source of strength to me and I appreciate their help and support. We have not stamped out bootlegging, but we have kept the ELEMENTS OF ORGANIZED CRIME from taking over in Floyd county.

UNBOSSSED: This is my first term in office. Anytime a new man takes public office—there are those who want to boss the show—I am not tied to any man or group. I am not, and will not be controlled by Banner Meade, and his cronies or any selfish group of men or clique in an effort to get control of this county. The only job I have is to work hard for the people of Floyd county. I AM NOT BOSSSED BY ANYBODY! I am frank to say, however, that if any man can boss me in public life, it is my friend and adviser, BERT COMBS. I always seek his advice on public matters—I will continue to do so because Bert Combs is vitally interested in Floyd county's affairs.

EXPERIENCE: I am now in my fourth year of office as County Attorney. I have learned a great deal and I firmly believe I am in a much better position to be of greater service to all the people. I know that it is vitally important that we continue to work hard and go forward, move ahead in a spirit of cooperation with all local officials, state officials and Federal officials. I know I can do this. I know much more can be done for Floyd county. New State and Federal Programs are being started every day, and we must work to get the benefit of each program for our people. To do this, you must have cooperation. We cannot move forward by fighting among ourselves. Hate, vengeance, and discord will only destroy the hope of progress for the future.

I ask YOUR support and help to build a greater, safer and prosperous Floyd county.

RECENT FIGURES SHOW THE BELL SYSTEM SERVES OVER 70 MILLION PHONES. And that total is increasing every day! What does this mean to you? Just this . . . every day there are more people you can reach by phone, and more people who can reach you . . . quickly, easily, and conveniently!

THIS IS A TRUE STORY WITH A VERY HAPPY ENDING. The Bell System is involved in the big job of building a transcontinental underground communications system that could withstand nuclear warfare. When it came time to work on the New England part of the system, they discovered the route of the cable would take it right through the site of the famous home and garden of the beloved Louisa May Alcott, authoress of "Little Women." Solution? A change of engineering plans that permitted digging around and under the historic property so that not so much as one leaf was disturbed. Which seems to prove that even in this complex, high-speed age of ours progress doesn't have to be made at the expense of our natural and historical resources. All it takes is a little time, consideration, and planning.

"ON MY HONOR AS A SCOUT . . ." These are the first words of an oath taken by millions of boys all over America. The organization, the Boy Scouts of America, has taught good citizenship and clean living to boys of all ages for over half a century. This month, more than 5.5 million boys and adult Scout advisors celebrate their 55th birthday. We salute the Boy Scouts for helping boys become the kind of men Americans everywhere are proud of.

He was a son of Mrs. Sally Patton Davis, Hamden, Ohio, and the late William Davis. His wife, Nannie Patton Davis, survives.

Surviving sons and daughters are Edgel Delano Davis, Jackson, Michigan, Johnnie Davis, Murphy, Michigan, Carmel Ray Davis, Mrs. Brenda Craft, and Miss Sandy Davis, all of Hueysville, Mrs. Sally Ruth Adkins, of Langley, Mrs. Thelma Osborne, of Eastern, Mrs. June Combs, Charleston, West Virginia. Volunteers Are Sought For 4-H Peace Corps; Brazil Service Urged

Are you interested in serving a developing country, learning a new language, and sharing a different way of life? Do you have a farm background and experience in 4-H Club work? Then the 4-H Peace Corps is interested in you.

The 4-H Peace Corps projects are part of the regular Peace Corps, according to an announcement from the UK 4-H department. Volunteers in the 4-H Peace Corps spread the 4-H idea of "learn by doing" individual and group projects to rural communities where young people need more training and opportunities to "get a start in life." With new knowledge and skills, these youngsters are able to raise their standard of living. And they learn citizenship and leadership along with gardening, financial management, sanitation, home care, sewing, nutrition and farm or home improvement.

"Many Kentuckians would be good workers in this field," says Dr. Ray R. Ranta, chairman of UK Extension 4-H programs. "They have a knowledge of Extension work and have been members and leaders of rural youth organizations. This is the type background which 4-H Peace Corps volunteers need in order to understand the rural youth with whom they would be working."

The 4-H Peace Corps is now recruiting both men and women for service in Brazil and Uruguay, he notes. Applications are due March 1, 1965, and training will begin in June. In both countries, volunteers will work with 4-H-type programs. The 4-H Peace Corps work with Brazil began in January, 1962, and with Uruguay in July, 1963.

Dr. Glauco Olinger, director of Extension in the state of Santa Catarina, Brazil, recently made this comment about 4-H Peace Corps work in his state: "I am more than pleased with the work of the 4-H Peace Corps Volunteers. This is, by far, the best program the United States government has ever had in Brazil."

Service in the 4-H Peace Corps provides the same benefits as the regular Peace Corps; applicants must be 18 years of age and have a high school education. For further information on the 4-H Peace Corps, contact your county Extension agents.

POLITICAL NOTEBOOK

Dr. Hyden Offers Platform To Force Floyd Forward

As your Democratic Candidate for County Judge, I pledge a program of progress for Floyd county. I offer it as a platform both to run on and TO OPERATE BY when I am your County Judge.

I am certain these activities which I pledge to perform will indeed FORCE* FLOYD FORWARD:

FISCAL MANAGEMENT — TAXATION AND SPENDING

1. To offer sound, honest, ethical and efficient fiscal management with devoted attention to debt retirement.
2. To present a balanced budget geared to the revenue available; and expended—not on salaries, useless office expense and frivolous programs — but directed to our county's real needs and progressive programs. LET'S SPEND WITHIN THE BUDGET.
3. To recommend to the fiscal court the elimination of the petty and annoying Merchant's license taxes on soft drinks, ice cream, cigarettes and other items. These license taxes add not a great deal to the county treasury, but it is strictly up to the County Judge and the Fiscal Court whether or not they are levied on our merchants and restaurants.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE

4. To construct, maintain and locate county roads on the basis of need—not votes.
5. To use the small amount of county highway equipment we now have to the maximum during all daylight hours on our many rural roads in poor repair. This can be done by operating this equipment on two shifts—adding an extra crew during the late Spring, Summer and early Fall—thus, taking advantage of every hour of daylight available. Our road equipment now sits idle a great many hours, when its use could benefit many Floyd countians.
6. To cooperate fully with the State Highway Department in the location of new roads, in procuring right-of-way, and in using wisely and fairly the funds allocated by it to our county.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION AND JUDICIAL FUNCTIONS

7. To give my PERSONAL attention to the affairs of and duties of the office of County Judge and not to delegate the administration of this vital office to others.
8. To be an official elected by and for the people—not one selected by outside interests.
9. To exercise the powers of this office for all Floyd countians—not to feather the nests of a favored few.
10. To at all times, thru the Fiscal Court, cooperate with our County Board of Education, in going forward with a sound educational program.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT AND COUNTY IMPROVEMENT

11. To provide leadership in industrial development and real cooperation with the local, state and federal government in bringing money to Floyd county. In this respect to develop a program fully implementing the federal Appalachian plan in Floyd county.
12. To at all times be prepared to present a workable plan that will take advantage of the Kennedy-Johnson-Combs-Perkins progressive program for Eastern Kentucky.
13. To provide a cleanup program for removal of garbage from along our rural roads—with the aid of the fiscal court and the cooperation of interested civic organizations. The establishment of at least two public garbage dumps in every magisterial district shall be our goal. This is in keeping with Kentucky's cleaner, greener program for greater tourist attraction.

PROMOTION OF THE GENERAL WELFARE

14. To plan and provide for a welfare program administered impartially on need — not used to build a political machine.
15. To work towards securing a training camp thru state and federal funds for our area, utilizing the services of our unemployed young men.

A Pictorial Review of East Kentucky

(No. 318 in a Series)

Four Revered Area Ministers

Many ministers of the Regular Baptist church met the challenge of their calling in Eastern Kentucky with consecration and dedication. Scores have gone to their reward but are remembered fondly by the people they served so well.

Shown here in a picture taken in 1940 at Royalton, Ky., are four ministers of the Regular Baptist church. Left to right are Rev. Andy Moore, formerly of Hippo, Rev. Hager Ousley, who resided on Spurlock Creek at Dock, Ky., Rev. William (Bill) Arnett, of Royalton, and the late Rev. Alex Allen, of Allen.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of the past in recognition of our historic heritage.

State ABC Agents Raid 16 'Shiners in January; 27 Persons Arrested

Frankfort, Feb. 11—State and federal agents made 16 raids during January, resulting in 27 arrests for violations of Alcoholic Beverage Control laws.
Commissioner Harold S. Moberly and Field Division Director Porter Collier of the Kentucky Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, reported 11 of the raids took place in a single day in Muhlenburg county, when some 48 agents, police officers and sheriff's men arrested ten persons.
Charges included selling alcoholic beverages in local option territory. Some of those arrested were fined, some were held to the grand jury. Collier said that one of the offenders, the Moose Club of Greenville, was fined $100 for illegal possession of liquor and beer, and $200 for possession of gambling equipment.
Moberly reported 14 arrests in Pike county Jan. 22 by State and Federal agents and State Police. The 14, including four women, were released on bond pending trial in Pike County Court. The charges were selling alcoholic beverages in local option territory.
Moonshine stills were the target of the agents in four other counties.
A raid in Schoolhouse Hollow, Harlan county, resulted in the destruction of a 200-gallon still, along with eight fermenters, 150 feet of hose, glass jugs, fruit jars and a runner. No one was found at the still and there were no arrests.
In the Devil's Creek section of Whitley county, Jan. 25, E. H. Ridener was arrested on a charge of possessing an illegal distillery. He was arraigned before the U. S. Commissioner at London and held to the April term of federal court. A 125-gallon still, 150 gallons of mash and other articles were destroyed in the raid, Moberly reported.
Other stills were seized and destroyed in Elliott and Morgan counties. Charles Parsons, Jr., was charged in the Elliott county raid with setting up and operating an illicit still and the same charge was placed against Lee Perkins, West Liberty in the Morgan county raid.

Betsy Layne Native Selected Outstanding Titusville Man

Paul D. Salisbury, native of Betsy Layne, has been named the Outstanding Young Man of the Year at Titusville, Florida. Salisbury, a restaurant proprietor there and a leader in civic affairs, is president of the Titusville Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is the son of Tommy Salisbury, of Betsy Layne.
The Titusville Courier, January 28, noted Salisbury's accomplishments:
"Salisbury, in four years, has given hundreds of hours from his business and personal time to club and community activities. A native Kentuckian, Award Winner Salisbury turned in an average scholastic performance during his high school years. He was selected for advanced training (in the Air Force) for the exacting job of maintaining the powerful jet engines of the fastest warplanes in the nation's armory. A successful tour in an Air Defense Command supervisory job was followed in 1956 by an honorable discharge and two year's study at Campbell College, Raleigh, North Carolina."
Salisbury moved to Titusville in 1960, purchased the Coffee Shop, which he has successfully operated. Last year he led opposition to the proposal to move the county seat from Titusville to a nearby town. His well-organized efforts to prevent this move defeated the proposal.
