This Town . . . That World

TREASURE REDISCOVERED

When you get to knockin' along in years, as they say, just about anything will set you off on a spell of reminiscin'. It might be better to do this mental back-peddaling in silence, for all that others might be interested, but this column is for free people—you are not required to read it.

It all began with a "plum-granny" which the youngest son brought home with him, the other afternoon. One whiff of its aroma, and I began wondering when last, I-granny, I had enjoyed one of these.

This time of year, when I was in what is now known as grade or elementary school, a plum-granny was almost as much a status symbol as one of those new-fangled lunch pails with a built-in compartment for milk. They weren't uncommon, by any means, but the boy or girl who possessed one had an edge on those who didn't.

Ever see an apple traded for the right to hold and smell of a plum-granny for a few minutes? Ever try resisting the temptation to bite into one after the olfactory nerves had become saturated with its aroma?

You kids,—you poor kids who never had such wealth,—if you want to be popular at school, get yourself a plum-granny. The teacher may not appreciate the innovation, but the other youngsters will practically be at your mercy, if you handle it right. (See Story No. 2, Page 3)

KNOTT BOY AUTO VICTIM

Father Survives Crash Near Greenville, Tenn.; Calls Attract Rescuer

A 13-year-old Knott county boy was killed and his father seriously hurt Saturday night when their auto wrecked, near Greenville, Tennessee.

The youth, Paul Eddy Turner, was dead when the tragedy was discovered at 8:30 Sunday morning, about 11 hours after the wreck, when a fisherman seining minnows in a small stream heard the call for help of the injured father, Carl Turner.

The father had been thrown clear of the car into the creek after the auto had hit a bridge abutment and rolled down an embankment into a tree. The boy's skin was seared by gasoline which spilled onto him as the car rested on its top. His father also suffered gasoline burns and severe facial lacerations. Mr. Turner is at his home at Kite but is expected to be hospitalized after the burial of his son.

Surviving the victim are his parents and eight brothers and sisters: Raymond, Doug, Gary, Betty and Lillie Turner and Mrs. Barbara Sexton, all of Kite, William Henry and Linda Turner, both of Huntington, Indiana.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday from the Turner residence by ministers of the Regular Baptist Church. Burial in the family cemetery at Kite was under direction of the Merion Funeral Chapel.

Aging Needs, Interests Slated for Discussion At Meet Here, Monday

Needs and interests of the aging will be discussed at a meeting scheduled at the Floyd County Health Department Monday at 2:30 p.m. by the Kentucky Commission on Aging.

"We would like to know what the people think who are interested in helping meet the needs of aging people and what type of program they feel should be planned for local communities," Francis S. Bindner, executive director of the commission, said.

Mr. Bindner said all who are interested in the aging are invited to attend the meeting.

RESERVOIRS BILL VOTED

Fishtrap, Flanagan Projects Included In Works Legislation

The Senate Appropriations Committee reported out last Wednesday a $4.3 billion bill to pay for public works projects, including $76 million for Kentucky projects.

The bill increased the amount the House passed for public works by $85,450,050.

None of the Kentucky amounts varied from the House bill except a $1 million cut in the Tennessee Valley Authority's appropriation for the Land Between the Lakes development.

TVA had asked for $9.9 million to buy land for the recreation area that will be developed in Western Kentucky.

The bill carried $9 million for Barkley Dam construction, $6,950,000 for Grayson Reservoir construction, $5,600,000 for Green River reservoir construction, $5,500,000 for Fishtrap reservoir construction, $2,625,000 for Flanagan reservoir construction, $3 million for Cave Run reservoir construction, $2.2 million for Carr Fork reservoir construction.

It also approved $150,000 for planning on the Booneville reservoir.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Kentucky Republican, is a member of the Public Works Committee, and sits on the appropriations subcommittee which handles public works money.

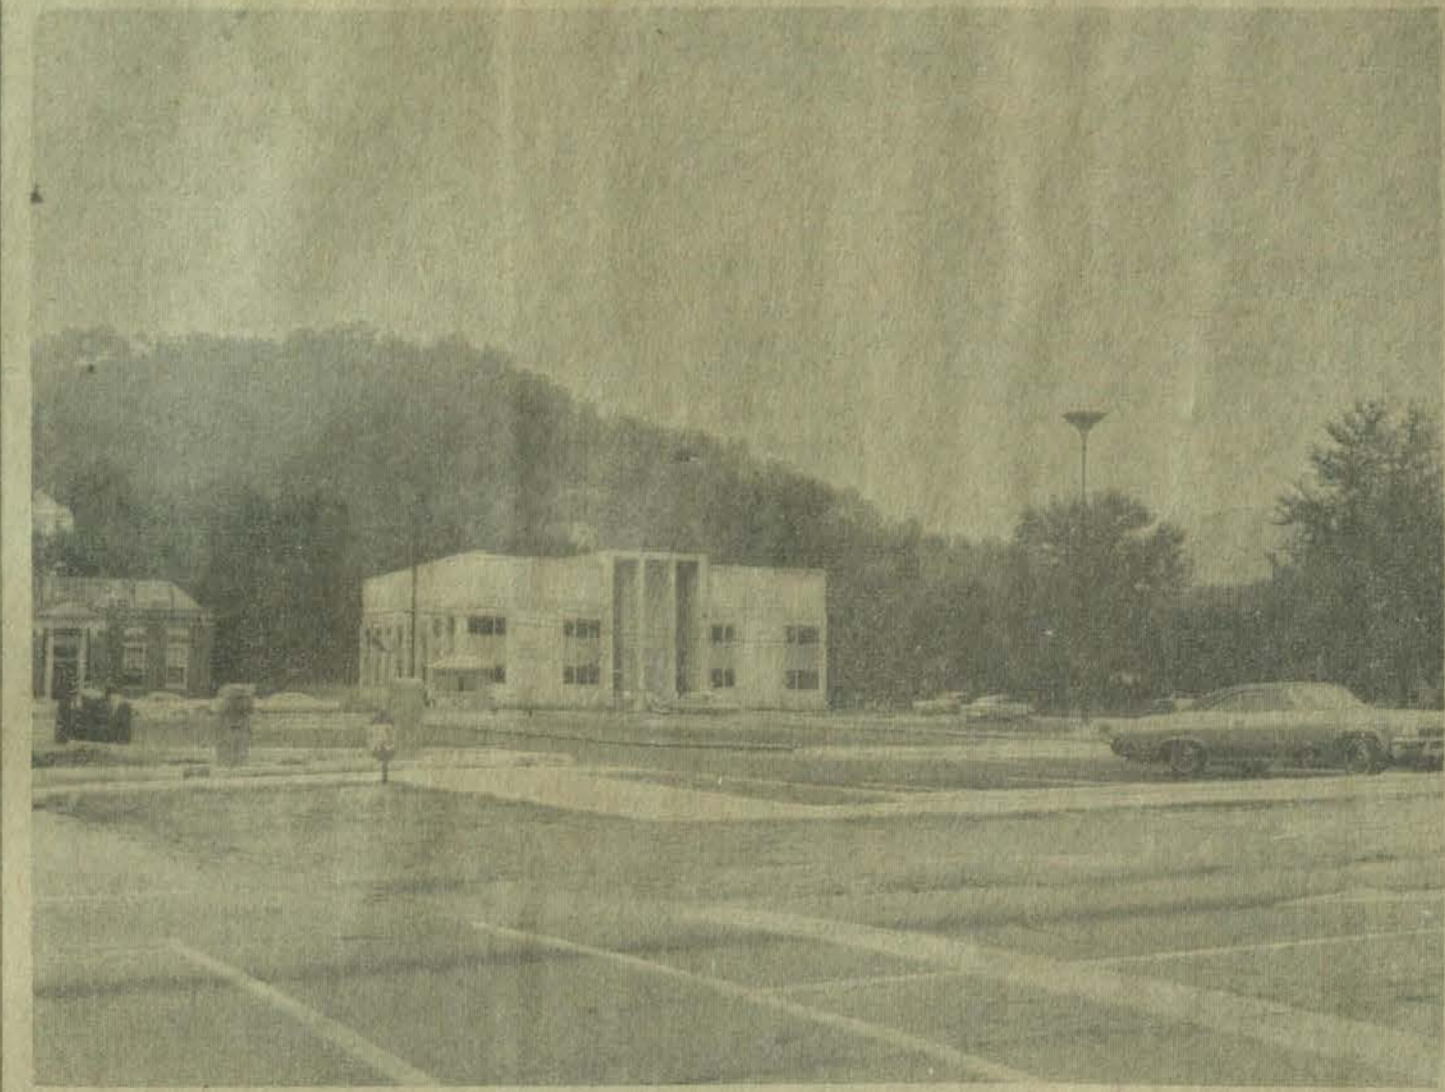

He said he expects the Senate to act on the bill soon, possibly by this week.

If it passes a different version than the House bill, a conference committee will have to be set up to work it out.

PARKING SPACE A-PLENTY. This was the scene, looking across the Courthouse Project parking area Saturday afternoon, a day after the lot was opened. Meanwhile, the uptown Central Business District lot was full. Joe Lambert, of Louisville, was the first customer at the courthouse lot last Friday morning when it was officially opened. Free parking in nearby areas and rates which are higher than at meters were blamed for the slow business at the lot.

25 BOOKED IN 8 DAYS

Probation of Poston Nulled after Return To Old Floyd Haunts

The jailing of 25 persons within the week represented the greatest number of arrests made in a seven-day period in this county in several months.

One of those jailed, Henry M. Poston, was booked for probation violation and was sent to LaGrange this week. He had been convicted of breaking and entering and had been given four one-year pen terms. Permitted under terms of probation to go to Indiana, he recently left that state for Ohio, then returned to McDowell where he was arrested by Enoch Hatfield.

Donald L. Kiser, of Grayson, was jailed Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Sam Hale, who booked him on a charge of striking and wounding. He was accused of hitting another while working on a bridge-painting job at Betsy Layne.

Glady's Wireman was transferred to jail here, the same day, from Magistrate Zeb Ousley's court where she was charged with striking and wounding.

Tivis Hamilton was jailed last week by Deputy Sheriff Hale who arrested him on a grand larceny warrant sworn to by Sterling Hamilton. Warrants also accused Henry Hall and Ralph Akers of the theft of copper wire from Sterling Hamilton, but they have not been captured.

Ralph Wooten, who was booked on a charge of using offensive language, was fined $50.

Others booked, charges listed against them, and names of the arresting officers follow:

Stratton Memorial Fund Lacks $400, Says Group; Appeal for Funds Voiced

The Rev. William H. Amburgey, of Allen, member of the committee which has been working toward raising funds for a memorial to the late Isaac Stratton, veteran Floyd county minister, said this week that approximately $400 is needed to assure the success of the undertaking.

The move toward a memorial began immediately after the death of the Rev. Stratton whose service and devotion to the people of Floyd and adjacent counties had become almost legendary. At first, it was planned to place a full-size statue of the mountain preacher at his grave, but contributions failed to meet the cost.

CONSERVATION WORK ALLOTTED $74,000

The Appalachian Regional Commission last Wednesday allocated $747,000 to Kentucky for conservation practices.

The money will make available grants to farmers in Eastern Kentucky for land and watershed improvements that contribute to the region's overall economic development. It was allocated during a monthly meeting of the commission in Gatlinburg, Tennessee—the first held outside Washington since Congress set up the 12-state development organization earlier this year.

In other business, the Kentucky Area Development office applied to the commission for $157,000 in federal funds to finance project planning in Eastern Kentucky, and for $135,000 to construct three access roads.

The planning funds would be used by the Area Development office and the 10-municipality area development councils in Eastern Kentucky to design specific projects that contribute to improving the economy of the region.

The access-road funds sought are for the construction of:

—Four-tenths of a mile from Ky. 7 in Morgan county to the site of the Morgan County Airport and the Williams Manufacturing Co.'s shoe plant outside West Liberty.

—Four-tenths mile from U. S. 23 in Lawrence county to the site of the Louisa Carpet Co. plant.

—Two and two tenths miles from Ky. 1081 in Magoffin county to the Magoffin county Limestone Quarry, Inc.

Survivors also include three sons, James Mollette, of Blaine, Estill Mollette, of Drift, Henry Mollette, of McDowell; four daughters, Mrs. Lillie Ward, of Chillicothe, Ohio, Mrs. Goldia Mosley, of Blaine, Mrs. Loucetta Turner, of Minnie, Mrs. Loretta Perry, of Larkslane; two brothers, Elijah Mollette, of Blaine, Eli Mollette, of Minnie; three half-brothers, T. ## BREATHITT BACKING TAX RATE 'ROLLBACK'

Wayland Fountain Partially Destroyed By Blaze Last Week

Fire of undetermined origin partially destroyed the Wayland Fountain building, early last Thursday morning. Approximately three-fourths of the structure, which was the former office building of the Elk Horn Coal Corp., was lost.

Two nearby homes were saved by the Wayland volunteer fire department. J. D. Fitzpatrick, of the state fire marshal's office, said he had never seen "a better job done than by these fellows, considering what they had to work with."

The Fountain was owned by Curtis Tufts. No estimate of the loss was available.

FLOYD SQUAD FINDS BODY

Buckhorn Lake Victim Found Saturday Night; Canvass To Continue

The Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad's week-end house-to-house canvass for sorely needed funds was interrupted Saturday night by a call for help from Buckhorn Lake where Perry county coal operator, Calvin Clemons, 39, had drowned.

Clemons drowned at 9:15 p.m., and the call for help from here came around 10:30. An hour later, 10 members of the squad left Prestonsburg, arriving at the lake shortly before 3 a.m. At 4:10 the Floyd squad recovered the body from 53 feet of water.

Rescue squads from Perry, Breathitt and Harlan counties had been searching before the arrival of the Floyd county group. In all, 75 men were involved in the operation.

It was said that Clemons drowned when he and a boating companion had outboard motor trouble and he attempted to swim to shore.

The Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad will resume its canvass for financial support, this week-end.

Judge Sparks directed that the plaintiffs had 10 days from the date of his order in which to petition the Court of Appeals for reinstatement of the temporary injunction. The case was argued before the Court of Appeals last Wednesday by Joe Hobson, representing the plaintiffs, and W. W. Burchett for the City of Martin.

Chief Justice Moreman last week designated Judge Charles E. Lowe, of the Pike circuit court, to preside in the trial of the case on its merits, and the case will be called for trial here today (Thursday).

Mr. Burchett said that, even though the defense asks a continuance, he will move for immediate trial on the ground that litigation is inimical to the delivery of the bonds and consummation of the city's effort to finance the construction project.

SEWAGE PLANT SUIT FILED AGAINST CITY

Suit seeking to recover $20,000 for property damages allegedly caused by location of the Prestonsburg sewage treatment plant was filed Saturday in circuit court here by Harry and Lucy Hyden.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyden allege in their complaint that the defendants, City of Prestonsburg and the Prestonsburg Water & Gas System, caused to be constructed last year the city sewage treatment plant within 210 feet of their home and other property near the northern edge of town. They also contend that construction was so negligently done "as to

WOULD GIVE 10% LEEWAY TO SCHOOLS

Waterfield Criticizes Governor's Plan, Asks 50-Cent Rate Ceiling

Governor Edward T. Breathitt advocated Monday night in his address to the Kentucky General Assembly at the opening of its special session a property-tax proposal similar to one adopted earlier by the state of Florida, which also was faced with assessment at 100% of the fair market value of property.

In effect, the Governor proposed a "rollback" of tax rates to freeze taxes at where they now stand, but he did advise that when full-value assessment is achieved county governments and school boards may, after fully publicizing their intentions and holding public hearings, increase revenues 10 percent a year.

The Breathitt proposal immediately drew sharp criticism from Lieut.-Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, who had proposed a tax ceiling for school purposes of 50 cents instead of the present $1.50.

Floyd Representative W. J. Reynolds, Jr. said Monday he expects a "whole flock of tax bills" to be offered.

Breathitt said his proposal is similar to one adopted in Florida. (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

HIGH COURT SETS TRIAL

Of Martin Bonds Case On Its Merits; Lowe Named Special Judge

Justice J. B. Milliken, of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, last Thursday denied a motion of plaintiffs in the case of Steve Skout, et al vs. the City of Martin to issue a temporary injunction against the sale of bonds to finance the city's sewer system and sewage disposal plant construction.

The original restraining order against sale of the $164,000 bond issue issued August 9 but was dissolved after a hearing before Special Judge W. D. Sparks at Louisa. The bond sale was carried out, and later the City Council approved it.

Judge Sparks directed that the plaintiffs had 10 days from the date of his order in which to petition the Court of Appeals for reinstatement of the temporary injunction. The case was argued before the Court of Appeals last Wednesday by Joe Hobson, representing the plaintiffs, and W. W. Burchett for the City of Martin.

Chief Justice Moreman last week designated Judge Charles E. Lowe, of the Pike circuit court, to preside in the trial of the case on its merits, and the case will be called for trial here today (Thursday).

Mr. Burchett said that, even though the defense asks a continuance, he will move for immediate trial on the ground that litigation is inimical to the delivery of the bonds and consummation of the city's effort to finance the construction project.

Fanciers of Ancient Weapons To Get Shots At Wild Game

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 17 (Spl.) — Primitive weapons fanciers never have had it so good, says Minor Clark, commissioner of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. Incorporated in the hunting seasons this year are a number of instances where the devotees of the ancient weapons will have a chance to fire at live game in rustic surroundings.

First and foremost, points out Commissioner Clark, is that area designated as a "Primitive Weapons Area," which lies in Bath and Menifee counties on which several species of game may be hunted only with bow and arrow and crossbows; with muzzleloading shotguns which must fire shot not smaller than No. 2 and with muzzleloading rifles of any caliber. Species to be hunted on this 8,000 acre tract are squirrels, rabbit, quail, furbearers, doves, waterfowl, turkey, deer and grouse and the seasons for taking coincide with statewide seasons on these species as do bag and possession limits.

The Primitive Weapons Area has been set aside in a cooperative effort by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and the U. S. Forestry Service.

PLUMB UNAPPRECIATIVE
If the networks thought they were regaling the entire country last Saturday afternoon with charts, comments and a pictorial record of the Gemini V flight, they should have heard some of the comments when the baseball game was pre-empted.

One whose only interest in Reds is the Cincinnati brand wanted to know what they expected to prove by zipping around in a capsule for eight days.

Another recalled that this flight with eight days set as the goal to top the Russians' best effort reminded him of 30 years ago or so when Shipwreck Kelly and some other goofs were knocking themselves out, trying to roost atop a flagpole longer than any competitor.

Then there was the story about the woman who awakened her husband at 3 a.m., and informed him in anxious tones, "Joe, I think I left the toothbrush on!"

This story can't apply to us folks in this section, for we use community-system TV which doesn't require an individual antenna. Anyhow, it seems that the man's wife had nagged at him till, finally, he had invested in a second-hand TV set. The set was delivered, but the dealer informed, "It won't work till we put this antenna up on the roof."

"Dawgone it," grumbled the hen-pecked husband. "I told you one of these new-fangled contraptions leads to another. Now we got to put a roof on the house!"

Announce Engagement

"In Florida, as I hope will be the case in Kentucky, the legislature did not set arbitrary numerical maximum rates but directed a rollback in local tax rates to compensate for increased assessments."

Breathitt indicated he did not like Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield's proposal to cut the maximum permissive school tax rate from $1.50 to 50 cents, provided that all school districts next year get the same amount of revenue.

Speaking on the subject of flat tax rates, the governor said:

"This proposal I do not believe workable or practical. It would see some of our cities, counties and school districts where assessment ratios have been highest actually reduce revenues below the existing level."

"The effect of such a policy would be to destroy some of our finest local school systems and to cripple city and county government by compelling reduction in government services."

"On the other hand, in those counties, cities and school districts where assessment ratios have been lowest, a 50-cent maximum rate or its equivalent for other local units of government would permit very substantial and in some cases almost inconceivable increase in taxes."

Breathitt's plan basically would work like this:

Revenue for county governments and school districts would first be frozen next year to existing levels.

But, if a school board needed additional money, it could boost revenue by 10 percent if it advertised publicly its intention and held a public hearing.

The school board would have the final word on whether the additional levy would be imposed. It could set the appropriate tax rate that would yield an additional 10 percent.

The school board would not be prohibited from accounting for additional growth from new property listings. So the bill provides for a maximum of "growth" revenue plus 10 percent.

On the state level, Breathitt's proposal essentially would reduce property tax rates to levels that would produce the same amount of revenue as this year.

State rates on farm machinery, livestock and poultry would be cut to one-tenth of one cent, state rates on real estate and tangible personal property would be sliced from 50 cents to 15 cents.

The bill makes no provision for tax rates on property levied by city governments. The Constitution sets these rates, an aide said.

In his speech, Breathitt called for a session free from politics, else "we shall simply dissolve into a confusion of tongues, a senseless furor of clamoring voices, full of sound and fury signifying nothing."

Mr. and Mrs. Ermine Hall, of Bypro, announce the engagement of their daughter, Wauketa, to John J. Meyer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Meyer, Sr., Columbus, Ohio. Miss Hall is a graduate of Wheelwright high school and Mayo Vocational School. Mr. Meyer is a graduate of St. Mary's high school and attended Bliss College, Columbus. Both are employed by the Columbus Belt and Supply Company, Columbus, Ohio.

SHOWER HONORS
MRS. SUTHERLAND

Mrs. John William Sutherland III, the former Elizabeth Lynn Frazier, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. George P. Archer on Arnold avenue. Guests were welcomed from 8 until 9:30 p.m. by the hostesses, Mesdames George P. Archer, Carl Horn, Virgil Webb, E. Dick Roberts, Mary Jane Harkins, R. G. Francis, Virgil Goble, Richard Spurlock, William O. Goebel, Joe Buchanan, E. R. Burke and Woodrow Greenwood. Punch and iced cakes, fancy nuts and mints were served from the table which was covered with an imported cloth. Flanking the arrangement of pink flowers which centered the table were triple-branched silver candelabra holding pink candles. Mrs. E. R. Burke poured punch, and Mrs. Virgil Goble served cake.

The display of gifts of china, crystal, silver, linens, electrical appliances and miscellaneous household items were on tables in the game room. Mrs. Sutherland expressed her appreciation to her friends for their remembrances.

The honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers H. Frazier.

Well, anyway, so far no one has been illogical enough to say that man wants to go to the moon because it's there.

There are people so eager to go somewhere that they go with anybody.

LANDS WHOPPER SNAPPER

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A TIP TO KENTUCKIANS
EDITOR, The Times:

I get so tickled when I read about people who say they're going to sell out in Kentucky and move to Ohio if their property is assessed at fair cash value.

I hope a lot of them do. The average property tax bill in Ohio is $112.25. In Kentucky, it's $47.54.

Let 'em go. They'll soon be back. I know. I tried it once myself—out of ignorance. When they pay moving bills both ways, they'll find out it's a pretty expensive lesson.

Glad-to-be-back,
ALVIN NOWACEK
Covington, Ky.

P.S. They'll also discover that a lot of people who have bought a home here in the past 20 years will get their taxes lowered under the "fair" cash value assessment.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30 and 20 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(August 23, 1935)

In addition to construction and rock surfacing of farm-to-market roads on Mud Creek, Salt Lick Creek and Abbott Creek, new Works Progress Administration projects approved within the last few days include street paving here and beautification of the Wayland school grounds. . . . Recount of the vote in the Representative's race in this county, a result of the election contest suit filed by Mel Petry, was underway Wednesday afternoon. . . . The smallest murder docket in years is in prospect for the September term of the Floyd circuit court—only four murder cases are booked for hearing. . . . Two highway fatalities resulted this week in two separate auto wrecks, both at the Sugar Loaf curve, a few miles above Prestonsburg. Joe Osborne, 39, of West Prestonsburg, was killed Wednesday when the auto he was driving plunged over the hill at the curve; Ballard Leslie, 45, of Emma, was fatally injured when he leaped from the rear of a car just as it careened off the highway at the curve and plunged over the bank. Those still in the car were not injured. . . . Mrs. Joe Boggs, 20 years old, was shot and killed Tuesday afternoon at Gibson, Left Beaver Creek. The shot is believed to have been intended for Mrs. Boggs' brother, Kelly Hughes. . . . Eighty-eight teachers for consolidated schools and two for rural schools were hired by the Floyd County Board of Education here August 12, leaving approximately 20 more teaching positions yet to be filled. . . . Married: Miss Mallie Hughes, of Katy Friend, and Mr. Oscar Grizzle, at Greenup. . . . There died: Vernon Stewart, 10 years old, of Langley, Thursday, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin; Mrs. Muncey Prater, of Garrett, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, Friday.

Twenty Years Ago

(August 23, 1945)

Following last week's primary, election contest suits were filed by D. H. (Dave) Hatcher, Joe P. Tackett, Circuit Judge Henry Stephens and B. B. Salisbury. . . . Approximately $200,000 worth of building is being carried out in or near Prestonsburg as post-war construction indicates a boom. . . . Prestonsburg is one of 150 other locations across the country under consideration as the site for the U. S. Bureau of Mines' experimental coal hydrogenation plant. . . . New highs in coal production are anticipated by Eastern Kentucky coal mine officials with the end of the war and the prospect of many former miners returning from the service. . . . Floyd county's first bid for a recognized Chamber of Commerce was entered last week as a group of Martin businessmen met, elected their officers and applied to the national Chamber of Commerce headquarters for a charter. . . . Combining all previous courses under the heading of a Mining Mechanics course, the Mayo State Vocational School shop here will reopen for classes September 3, announces Earl G. Gambill, shop director. . . . Alex H. Spradlin and Tom H. Dings, both of Prestonsburg, were named by the State Board of Election Commissioners, Saturday, to serve with the Sheriff as Floyd county's three-man board of election commissioners. . . . Married: Miss Pamela Bartlett, of England, and Cpl. Alex V. Allen, of Allen, April 19 in England; Miss Helen Burke, of Wayland, and S/LC James A. Williams, of Printer, August 20 at Paintsville. . . . Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rice, of Betsy Layne, a daughter, Linda Carol. . . . ## KENTUCKY MAY BE FIRST IN NEW SAFETY APPROACH

Frankfort — Kentucky may become the first state to approach its traffic accident problem through a modern research program, Governor Edward T. Breathitt has announced.

Breathitt told delegates to the first Kentucky State-Armed Forces-Federal Traffic Workshop August 18 that three major safety organizations will study Kentucky records and make recommendations for more effective records usage.

Statistics may lack glamour, he said, but research "is the only effective way we can know what is really happening in traffic accidents."

The study will be conducted by the National Safety Council, the International Association of Chiefs of Police, and the American Association for Motor Vehicle Administration. It will be financed by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, Washington, D. C.

Research alone, however, will not solve the traffic accident problem, Breathitt said. "The most important phase of highway safety is public support."

Estel Hack, executive vice president of the Louisville Safety Council, reminded the workshop delegates that other safety programs have failed because they have not been put into effect in every community.

"It's just plain men, women and children that make up our traffic problem," Hack said.

However, several of the speakers noted that automobiles are not as safe as they could be.

Nelson M. Bortz, chairman of the Federal Safety Council, pointed out that automobile manufacturers must now meet a series of new requirements on cars produced and sold to the federal government.

"I would be hopeful that in some of these areas, it (the federal government's example) would lead to similar legislation on the level of the state," Bortz said.

Major General B. E. Powell, commanding general of the 101st Airborne Division, Fort Campbell, said that military installations are often inhibited in their traffic safety programs by the absence of corresponding state laws. The armed forces would "support every positive measure for controlling traffic and every idea for preventing accidents," he said.

Powell pointed out that the army has lost 185 more men in automobile accidents in the last year that it has lost in Viet Nam in the last three years.

Breathitt said that our concern about the deaths in Viet Nam should be matched by an equal or greater concern about the mounting deaths on our nation's highways.

The goal of the workshop, which will be held annually, is to increase highway safety through the cooperation of state, military, federal and civic organizations.

The workshop is the culmination of a resolution made by the governor in March at the Southern Regional Armed Forces-Federal Traffic Safety Workshop.

It seems that every possible "explanation" of why some young people are juvenile delinquents have been made except to say it's because they're just plain low-down mean.

HE WAS SURPRISED! — AREN'T WE ALL?

A manufacturer's representative on a visit to Prestonsburg recently received, we are told, "the surprise of his life."

He came here with after-images of headlines telling of poverty, isolation, and the like dancing in his eyes.

The illusionary after-image was dispelled by what he saw:

A busy community with its streets newly surfaced, almost its length and breadth; a new college which promises to set a record for growth; two modern highways entering the town; a modernized and expanded water system; a new sewer system and sewage disposal plant; two urban renewal projects almost at completion; a new courthouse; a major recreation and vacation facility in Jenny Wiley State Park, Dewey Lake and May Lodge; a developing city park to add to these advantages.

The visitor was impressed not only by what he saw but also by what he learned. He knew that what had happened and was still happening here did not "just happen." He realized what we here at home too often fail to realize—that Prestonsburg had benefitted from strong leadership.

When Bert Combs as governor conceived and made into reality the Mountain Parkway and extended an arm of that highway into Prestonsburg, and then built the Prestonsburg Community College, this community could have—and at one time would have—accepted the turn of events as routine and contented itself to await developments without effort of its own, willing to be satisfied with whatever good might befall.

But a city administration of professional and business men who were not oversensitive to criticism dared to get going, to take advantage of all the help available from state and federal governments and to commit their own people to their share of the financial and moral responsibility. Men in private business gave of their time and abilities to planning and working for these improvements.

And the people themselves have not balked. No longer does the "armed camp" situation prevail in Prestonsburg. Citizens of diverse interests and views have done an excellent job of submerging themselves in something that is greater. The Community Development Council, civic clubs, the Jaycees, and now a Chamber of Commerce, have brought them together.

Time was when "cooperation" was not in the local lexicon, and the literal definition of "competitor" sometimes was, "mortal enemy." In contradistinction to this spirit was the advertisement which a Prestonsburg merchant recently published in this newspaper, listing not only his own wares but concluding by pointing out to the public that if his store did not have the item or items required Prestonsburg has other modern stores filled with quality merchandise.

All is not perfect—it's far from perfect. Mistakes have been made, and still others are to come. But the community has been, and is, moving forward.

The manufacturer's representative had, we are ready to believe, "the surprise of his life." We believe that because we ourselves have had our surprises as Prestonsburg and its people have got down to the business of working together after years of knocking themselves out through the senseless exertion of throwing what amounted to no more than wet blankets.

Many an American will not worry in the slightest about the war in Viet Nam unless and until it becomes necessary to ration gasoline.

"Thinking imposes absolutely no strain on a person physically," says a psychiatrist. Maybe not, but it imposes a terrific strain on his will power.

Speaking before members and guests of the Prestonsburg Independent Investment Club, which met August 16 on the patio of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex H. Spradlin, Dr. George P. Archer, member of the board of directors of Kenwood Products, Inc., said that he invested in the corporation because it appeared to him to be an excellent speculation with more than a reasonable chance for success.

Dr. Archer introduced George Branham, of Paintsville, president of the corporation, who explained the financial advantages to the area that would accrue through purchase of timber from landowners and from the employment of a few hundred persons.

Mr. Branham then introduced the new manager of Kenwood, Robert H. Sloat, who described the products to be made by the corporation—cross ties, particle board, wood for furniture manufacturers, and wood pulp for paper mills.

Those present at the meeting were:

Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Tackett, II, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tackett, Mr. and Mrs. Don Howard, Robert Houk, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ratliff, Mrs. Myrtle Davis, Ralph Davis, Jr., Mrs. Vera Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Howard, Albie Burchett, Mrs. Dorothy Burke, Harry Burke, Miss Burieta Gearheart, W. J. May, Jr., Mrs. Tina Nicholls, Franklin D. "Set" Branham, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spradlin, Miss Mary E. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Alex H. Spradlin, and the speakers.

Refreshments were served, and the club invested in Kenwood.

Martin-Ripy Vows Exchanged

The marriage of Miss Minnie Sue Martin and Thomas Beebe Ripy, Jr. was solemnized at 3 o'clock in the afternoon Saturday in Danforth Chapel, Berea, Kentucky. The Rev. Earl Bell, uncle of the groom, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley N. Martin, of Allen, and Mr. Ripy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beebe Ripy, Sr., of Lawrenceburg, Kentucky.

A program of nuptial music including "One Hand, One Heart," "O, Perfect Love," "O, Promise Me," and "Ave Maria" was presented by Mrs. Harry Michael, organist, of Winchester.

Escorted by her brother, Joe David Martin, of Lexington, the bride wore a floor-length gown of crystal white silk organza over satin peau de soie. Lace motifs wreathed the portrait neckline and elbow sleeves; the A-line skirt was enhanced by a back box-pleated panel edged with lace madallions. Her double bouffant veil of imported French illusion fell from a lace pillbox and she carried a cascade of white orchids and roses.

Mrs. Mark Blackmon, of Fennell, Maryland, was matron of honor. She wore a street-length dress of magenta blossom taffeta fashioned with an empire bodice with brief sleeves and an A-line skirt. Her headpiece was a cluster of fabric roses attached to a petal pink windblown veil, and she carried a bouquet of pink and magenta rubrum lilies.

The bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Thomas, Lexington, and Miss Margaret Ann Spurlock, Garden City, Michigan, cousin of the bride. Miss Olivia Ripy, Lawrenceburg, sister of the groom, was a junior bridesmaid. They were costumed identically to the honor attendant.

John Burton Ripy served his brother as best man. Ushers were Paul Vaughn, Lawrenceburg; Larry Giles, Versailles; and Kenneth Gorman Turner, Plymouth, Ohio, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held in the Oak Room at Boone Tavern hotel. Assisting were Mrs. Joe Turner, Greenup; Mrs. Otis Spurlock, Garden City, Michigan; Mrs. Joe David Martin, Lexington; and Miss Ruth Combs, Frankfort.

After a wedding trip in Canada, the couple will live at 2168-B Winterberry Drive, Lexington.

The bride is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school and Berea College. She did graduate work at the University of Kentucky where she was recipient of a Combs Intern Scholarship in state government. She is employed by the Legislative Research Commission, Frankfort.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Anderson high school, Lawrenceburg. He attended Washington & Lee University and was graduated from Transylvania College with honors. He received a Master of Arts degree from the University of Kentucky, where he is working toward a doctorate in political science. He is an assistant professor of social science at Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, Kentucky.

Military Personnel To Find Retirement Transition Easier

Retiring military personnel may find the transition to civilian life easier in the future because of an active program now under way in Kentucky and every other state which has a major military installation. The nationwide program is designed to help retiring military personnel find civilian jobs for which they are qualified.

According to Glenn S. Anderson, manager of the Kentucky Employment Service office here, the program is a "cooperative effort between the Kentucky State Employment Service and the Department of Defense to aid adjustment of military retirees from service to civilian jobs. This objective is being done through employment orientation, counseling, testing and placement assistance."

"The program," Anderson said, "will give retirees a realistic attitude about salaries and job duties, and the possible need for training. It is also designed to help overcome resistance on the part of some employers because of the age of most military retirees. The average retiree is in his middle forties."

Military retirees generally fall into two categories:

1. Those who are well qualified for civilian occupations and have developed their own post-retirement plans;

2. Those who possess primarily military occupational skills and need intensive assistance in preparation for civilian employment. Anderson said that his office aims to prepare local military retirees to make the maximum use of their skills and capabilities, and so to enable them to contribute to the Kentucky or the national economy.

Pike, Ohio Counties Win Tree-Planting; Floyd Is Runnerup

Tree-planting teams from Pike and Ohio counties have won the annual Tree Planting Award Program, sponsored by the State Department of Natural Resources. Runnersup in the eastern section of the state are Floyd, Letcher, Perry and Lawrence counties.

Members of the winning teams will receive a three-day expense-paid vacation at the Kentucky State Park of their choice, Harry Nadler, associate director of the Natural Resources forestry division, said.

Members of the competing teams are composed of representatives from at least three of the same agencies on the county level.

Nadler said the purpose of the program is to promote tree planting through closer correlation of efforts by local representatives of these agencies.

Efforts by the Pike county team, repeating as the winner in the Eastern division, resulted in the planting of 522,000 trees. The Ohio county team, the Western division winner, was responsible for the planting of 330,500 trees.

In addition to the expense-paid vacation, members of the winning teams will be honored at the annual Forestry Conference to be held during February in Lexington. The winning counties will be awarded a plaque.

Nadler said that, beginning next year, the winning team cannot repeat as winner in successive years. He said the contest committee made the rules change to give all county teams a better chance.

PLAY SATURDAY NIGHT

Wheelwright and Prestonsburg, originally carded to meet on the gridiron Friday night, have switched the game to Saturday night at 8 p.m. on the Trojans' home field.

This will be the first of two games between the Floyd county rivals this season; the second game will be played in Prestonsburg on October 1.

Wheelwright successfully opened its season with a 14-0 conquest of M. C. Napier last Saturday night.

In Friday night games involving Eastern Kentucky teams, Whitesburg travels to Belfry, Pikeville will test Morgan County in West Liberty, Elkhorn City invades Jenkins and Leslie County goes to M. C. Napier.

Prestonsburg's Black Cats will open their home season, next Friday night against Morgan County, coached by former Black Cat tackle Bruce Howard.

Hazard, again tabbed by the coaches as the team to beat for the Class AA, Region four title, faces a stern opener Saturday night against Hopkinsville in the second half of Mt. Sterling's Recreation Bowl game. In the 3 p.m. game, Madison, now tutored by former Elkhorn City coach Jack Hall, tangles with Lexington's Bryant Station.

The Kentucky High School Athletic Association has aligned the football playing schools in Eastern Kentucky to these regions for the 1965 season:

In Class AA, Region four, District two will be Belfry, Hazard, Jenkins, Leslie County, M. C. Napier, Prestonsburg and Whitesburg.

In Class A, Region four, District two will be: Catlettsburg, Elkhorn City, Fleming-Neon, Morgan County, Paintsville, Pikeville, Wheelwright and Wurtland.

The 1965 state high school basketball tournament grossed $197,854.82 and netted a record total of $148,811.19, which goes into the Kentucky High School Athletic Association treasury. This amount was the second highest total of any basketball tournament in the 50 states.

Tallent (Synonymous With 'Talent') Top Wildcat Basketball Prospect

Kentucky basketball coach Adolph Rupp says he'd just as soon see Bob Tallent shooting at the basket for him as anyone—"on his good nights, of course." As a Kentucky freshman last season, Tallent had a number of "good nights"—in fact, he was the leading scorer on a team that won 17 games (losing two) and featured five men in double-figure scoring averages. "You can't really say anything good about a freshman," Rupp says, "because the first year doesn't count. I've seen too many boys play great ball as freshmen and then never do another thing after they move up to the varsity. But I'd have to say Tallent is one of the top prospects among our group of sophomores. "He's a tremendous shot, you can't deny that," Rupp says. "He may, however, have to improve some of the other aspects of his game before he'll be ready for varsity competition."

Tallent and Jim LeMaster are two sophomore guards who'll be counted on to provide relief for all-Southeastern Conference returnees Louie Dampier and Tom Kron. Bob averaged 19.3 points a game last year for the Kittens, averaging 46.6 percent on his shots from the floor and 79.7 from the free throw line. He had his high night against the Dayton freshmen team in the season's finale when he hit 12 field goals and four free throws for 28 points. He also ranked second on the team in assists with 49.

Tallent, who lives at Langley and attended Maytown high school, says he's looking forward to the basketball season. "When I was growing up and watching the University teams," he says, "my goal was to eventually play for the Wildcats and Coach Rupp. This year I'll be realizing that dream."

Bob has had to remain at home this summer because he has been needed during an illness in his family. "To keep in shape," he reports, "I have been working out in the high school gym and playing golf when I get the chance. I've also been lifting weights to strengthen a knee that was operated on prior to last season."

He is enrolled in UK's college of engineering and plans to major in civil engineering. After graduation, he says, "I hope to settle in or around Lexington or Louisville. The University has an excellent engineering college, so I feel sure I'll be able to obtain a good position upon my graduation."

Tallent, at 6-1 and 173 pounds, has the size and speed to play college guard. He is a fine outside shot, but at times last year was spotty on defense and floor play.

"If we can improve his play in the last two categories—and I think we can—he'll make a fine contribution before he's through at Kentucky," Rupp says.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

IS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT FIELDS IN OUR SOCIETY AND WE ARE GLAD TO PAY TRIBUTE TO

OUR LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS!

Such tribute is a small return to offer when one considers the many services received from these officers.

An officer, whether a policeman, deputy sheriff, marshal, state trooper, or member of the other groups charged with enforcing our laws, is more than a law enforcer. He is a friend and protector.

His task is often heartbreaking and thankless as he tries to protect us from each other, and sometimes from ourselves.

It is a fact that law enforcement officers are public servants and are paid for duties they perform. But too often these services extend beyond the call of duty. Salaries and medals are not adequate payment for long hours, monotonous and lonely beats, Sundays and holidays that are sacrificed and the personal risks they take for our safety.

Respect and cooperation should be extended to them in every way.

Let's salute them for a job well done and express gratitude for their great efforts in behalf of the public safety and well being.

FLOYD COUNTY AMONG 40 IN VACCINATION PROGRAM

BY JACK DAVIDSON (Floyd County Health Dept.)

Floyd is one of the 40 counties in Kentucky which was chosen to participate in the Vaccination Assistance Program. In The Times last week a brief summation of the local health department's role was described. This article will explain how the parents and private physicians can help do their part in VAP to enable Floyd county to obtain a 100% immunization goal. Granted, this is an idealistic figure but it affords a real challenge to work toward this number in the end.

After all rosters have been returned, two different type cards will be mailed to the parents of those children for whom no record is listed. One will go to the parents of children born in 1965, the other to parents who had children in the preceding four years. In both cases the procedure will be as follows:

If the children have not had any immunizations they, with the cards, will be brought to the family doctor's office or the county health department, if, on the other hand, they are already under the supervision of a physician, or the health department, it will be necessary to bring in only the card.

The vaccines, purchased under federal grant funds and available free to counties under this program, are restricted to children under five years of age. They will be furnished to the private physician, in order to enable him to vaccinate children in his office, with the understanding that no charge for the vaccine will be levied against the parents. All immunizations administered at the county health departments are given, free of charge.

In addition, the Floyd County Health Department will set up special clinics in the different communities of the county to accommodate parents and facilitate their part in the program as regards transportation difficulties. The date, time, place and schedule will be published in The Times and announced on the radio, later.

It is the ultimate desire of the federal government and the state and local health departments to immunize all persons 30 years of age and under. All members and former members of the armed forces have already been immunized so that it is only necessary they obtain the necessary "boosters."

EDUCATION VIA TV CANCELLED BY WSAZ

Floyd county youngsters who learned "new math" with the help of television last year will return to classes this week to face blank television screens.

Almost 450 pupils last year viewed "patterns in Arithmetic," a televised modern mathematics course presented by WSAZ-TV, Huntington, W. Va. Due to difficulties in scheduling, the station has been forced to drop the program.

"The telecast was very helpful in our effort to introduce the new math," said County School Superintendent Charles F. Clarke, "but we had to depend on commercial stations which cannot assure continuity for educational programs. This points up the need for an educational network here in Kentucky," Clark added.

Other Eastern Kentucky schools affected by the cancellation include the Holy Family, Ashland City, and Fairview schools, of Ashland; the Letcher county schools, the Paintsville school district, Catlettsburg city schools, and schools in Jenkins, Greenup, and Pikeville.

Superintendents expressed chagrin regarding the loss of the televised series.

Ashland Superintendent W. C. Shattles agreed with Clark as to the value of televised instruction.

"We're extremely disappointed with the loss of educational TV in our area," Shattles said. "The program was of great assistance to teachers and parents as well as the children."

"There was a great deal of interest and enthusiasm for instructional television, and the loss of this program is a loss to thousands of youngsters throughout this area."

"I definitely feel that we ought to be thinking in terms of getting ETV here in Kentucky," Shattles continued. "A state-wide network would provide a steady, reliable source of educational telecasting."

The proposed Kentucky Educational Television Network mentioned by the superintendents was approved by the 1962 General Assembly and calls for six production centers and 11 stations throughout the state. Every area of the Commonwealth would be served by educational television, with no fee being charged the schools. The network is presently awaiting an appropriation by the legislature to enable it to become operational.

Numerous state educational and business groups have endorsed the network plan, including the Congress of Parents and Teachers, which has declared Sept. 19-25 "Educational Television Week" in Kentucky.

Advised of the cancellation of the WSAZ-TV program, Jenkins Superintendent Chester L. Sparks spoke of the advantages educational television offers small and rural schools.

"We simply cannot present the courses on our own that we have access to through ETV," Sparks said. "In this instance, we just don't have the personnel to teach modern math on the plane television enabled us to present it."

"Most schools had planned to expand use of the program this year," Sparks added, "but now we have nothing — nothing at all."

Telephone Talk

By

ROY L. ATHERTON
Your Telephone Manager

While searching through some safe driving files recently, I was confronted with the article written below. Maybe it will impress you . . . maybe it won't but perhaps it will cause you to stop and think.

I'M JUST A WHEEL!!!

I'm just a steering wheel . . . and you're my captain.

Behind me you're the lord and master of a miracle. You can make me take the kids to school. You can turn me down a sunny road toward town. With me, you guide your goods to the market place. You can rush the sick to be healed. You can go in minutes to places that are hours away. You can do magic.

Yet, in the blink of an eye, in the tick of your watch, I can turn killer. I can snuff out the life of a child still full of life—maybe your child. I can twist a smile into tears. I can wreck and cripple and destroy. I can deal out death like the plague. And I'm no respecter of persons. A child, a grandmother, even you my friend . . . it's all the same to me.

I'm sensitive . . . I respond instantly to the hands you give me. Give me calm hands, steady hands, careful hands . . . and I'm your friend. But give me unsteady hands, fuzzyminded hands, reckless hands . . . and then . . . I'm your enemy, a menace to the life, happiness, and future of every person, even youngsters riding, walking, or playing.

I was made for pleasure and usefulness. Keep me that way! I can give you untold happiness, I can also be your destiny. I'm in your hands. I'm just a steering wheel and you're my captain. Behind me you're the lord and master of a miracle . . . or a tragedy. It's up to you.

Marine Corps Shifts Policy, Now Accepts Some for Two Years

Contrary to past policy, the Marine Corps is now accepting a small percentage of its assigned quota for two-year enlistments.

According to the local Marine recruiter, Sgt. Bob Cleland, the Marines have also changed policies regarding eye and written tests to accept more young men. They are also accepting former servicemen with one dependent. Former Marines may retain the rank held discharged if they have been out for a year or less.

All of these changes are due to a strength build-up of 30,000 men.

Pioneer Playhouse To Offer Musical By Ky. Playwright

"Fire on the Mountain," a new musical by a Kentucky playwright, Billy Edd Wheeler, and the first musical comedy to be presented at Pioneer Playhouse, State Theatre of Kentucky, Danville, will be premiered August 26-31.

The musical features a Presbyterian Bible School teacher (Roberta Rhyburn) who upsets customs on isolated Cogger's Mountain and almost causes a young couple (Linda Woodall Carey and Frank Slater) to fall out of love. The plot thickens when the visiting teacher talks seriously with a mountain bachelor (Louis Gatterio) who hates women missionaries, and spends his time down by the river or at his private moonshine still with Clyrue and Zeke (Michael Calitri and Noel Young). With the arrival of the village gossip (Irene Wicker, radio's famous "Singing Lady"), the preacher from the Settlement (Lionel Galant) and mama's sudden case of "sparkin' spring fever" (Regina Reddick) a hilarious romantic triangle develops — with song, dance, moonshine, love, laughs by the barrel.

The play is set somewhere in the mountains, in the isolated hamlet of Cogger's Mountain — the time, a few years ago, not so far back as prohibition (which of course didn't affect their way of life), or so recent as the fashionable war on poverty.

Among show business celebrities planning to attend the Pioneer Playhouse premier of "Fire on the Mountain" are: Frank Loesser, famous Broadway producer of "Guys and Dolls" and "New Gal in Town"; Paul Cohen of KAPP Records, Victor Hammer of the Hammer Galleries of New York.

Performances of "Fire on the Mountain" will run nightly except Wednesday, August 26-31, curtain time 8:30.

Yes, The Bible Has a LIVING Witness

It may sound absurd to say this about a collection of writings prepared so many centuries ago.

For in that space of time every living thing on earth has been repeatedly replaced. Empires and whole civilizations have run their course and disappeared. Who, then, could possibly be still around to bear living witness to events so remote in human history?

The answer is, of course—the Catholic Church.

The Church has been carrying on its work of salvation for years before the New Testament writings were completed. And from the very beginning the sacred texts were in her custody and were used in her ceremonies. When the time came to decide which writings were to be accepted as divinely inspired, it was the Church which made the official decision.

For more than a thousand years prior to the invention of printing by movable type, all copies of the Scriptures were laboriously hand-made by monks and scholars of the Catholic Church. With the perfection of the printing process in 1440, one of the first and certainly the most famous publication of the time was the Vulgate version of the Catholic Bible—the celebrated Gutenberg.

Not all Christians agree exactly in all their interpretations of the Scriptures. But all can agree that the Bible is the inspired word of God . . . that the New Testament presents the life and teachings of Jesus Christ. For we have in the Catholic Church, a living witness to prove it.

Being responsible for the formation of the New Testament, and as custodian for the Old, the Catholic Church can provide a great deal of interesting and helpful information about the Bible. We have put some of this into a pocket-size pamphlet which we will be happy to send free to any Bible lover who requests a copy.

It contains a short story of the Bible . . . explains why the Catholic Bible contains 46 Old Testament books, inherited from the Jews, and 27 New Testament books, which the Church approved as inspired . . . gives you solid reasons why you can believe the Bible, but why the Scriptures are not easy to understand . . . tells you what Catholics believe about the Bible and how they use it.

You can get your free copy of this interesting pamphlet by writing your name and address on the accompanying coupon and mailing it today. You can study it in complete privacy and without obligation. If it raises any questions in your mind and you want additional answers, we will be glad to supply them. But nobody will call on you.

44,777 GET STAMPS
IN E. KY. COUNTIES

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that the Kentucky Department of Economic Security issued USDA food stamp coupons to 44,777 persons in 10 Eastern Kentucky counties during July.

The recipients, from 9,001 low-income families, were issued $597,436 worth of the food coupons. Counties having food stamp programs last month were Floyd, Breathitt, Johnson, Knott, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Owsley, and Perry.

The amount of coupons issued during July was about $3,000 less than was issued during June and about $6,500 less than during May.

Of the amount of coupons issued in July in the area, the participating families bought $310,248 worth and received $287,188 worth, free of charge. The free coupons help the participating families buy more and better food at local stores.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said the food stamp program put more than $237,000 into the economy of the ten-county area during July. The boost to the economy of each county last month was: Perry, $50,200; Floyd, $43,700; Knott, $36,400; Breathitt, $28,700; Letcher, $25,500; Magoffin, $24,100; Leslie, $23,000; Johnson, $21,800; Martin, $20,900; and Owsley, $12,800.

Food coupons were issued to 7,766 persons from 1,462 families in Perry county during July. Number of persons

The coupons can be spent like cash for any American-produced food at any of the stores authorized by the Consumer and Marketing Service. There are 1,200 authorized food retailers in the area.

The USDA food stamp program has two basic purposes: safeguarding the health of the nation's low-income families through better nutrition, and increasing the flow of food from the nation's farms through normal trade channels.

"WE SERVICE WHAT WE SELL"

NEW REPORT SHOWS IMPACT OF TOURISM

Frankfort — The completion of giant Kentucky Dam in 1945 marked the birth of a tourist magnet that last year pulled over four-million visitors to Marshall county.

The magnet is 158,300-acre Kentucky Lake, formed by the dam on the county's eastern border, and the two State resort parks built on the shores of the lake in Marshall county — Kentucky Dam Village and Kenlake. (A third State park in the county — Cherokee — has been merged with Kenlake and now serves as a group camp facility.)

The result of the lake and its recreational pulling-power has had a profound economic impact on Marshall county, according to a report just released by the State Department of Parks.

Prepared by Phillip W. Jeffress, Fulton, a graduate student at the University of Kentucky, working toward the master's degree in economics, the study aims to outline the general over-all growth of Marshall county and to pinpoint what part is due to tourism as an industry.

Jeffress was employed by the Parks Department this summer to make the study. He has been working on it since late May.

He concludes that much of the county's economic growth can be traced directly to tourism.

"The average per-capita income of Marshall county residents rose from 44 in the state in 1954 to third in 1962," the report said, with an increase in total personal income of 200%.

During the same period employment in tourist-patronized business rose over 900%.

This figure is compared by the report to an increase of 360% in employment in all industries in Marshall county for the same period and 18% in all industries for the state as a whole.

In addition, the study shows population in the county has remained relatively steady, rising only from 16,602 in 1940 to 16,736 at the 1960 census.

Most of the county's non-tourist industrial gain is traced by the report to the growing chemical complex around Calvert City.

"The construction of State parks in Marshall county has created almost 400 new jobs in the parks alone," the report said. Last year the combined payroll to employees of the parks there was just under a half-million dollars.

No less than 65 new motels have been built in Marshall county since 1945 when there were none, the report asserted.

"The construction of restaurants, theaters, service stations, gift shops and other such establishments have come as a direct result of the tourist business.

"Sales in gasoline, food, beverages, and recreation have doubled and tripled," the report added, "and these are only minor examples of the kind of growth for which tourism is responsible."

The report points out that wholesale and retail sales show a marked increase during the summer months when the parks are most heavily visited.

"Retail grocery sales last year for July, when tourist business was the heaviest, were 67.1% above the low month of January.

"Grocery sales in non-tourist counties usually fall off in the summer months," the report added.

Marked increases in real property assessments (46% since 1951, compared with a 28% rise for all Kentucky counties), tax receipts (enough to enable the county to pay cash for its new courthouse at Benton, the county seat), and commercial bank deposits (from $4.8 million in 1950 to $20.6 million in 1964), were also listed in the report as evidence of the economic im-impact of tourism on Marshall county.

"Tourism is a growing business," the report concludes. "Kentucky Lake and the added attractions provided by the two State parks and numerous private resorts attract more and more visitors to Marshall county each year.

"Marshall countians and other Kentuckians as well are beginning to realize the impact tourism can have on a local economy."

Frankfort, Ky.—John E. Cleek, research associate for the Council on Public Higher Education and assistant secretary for the Commission on Higher Education, has resigned his position effective September 15.

Neuritis Pain Like An Electric Shock

A middle-age woman told us she suffered three years of torture with neuritis pains. She said the pains would strike her like an electric shock. Today this lady again enjoys life and says the change is due to taking RUGON. Her pains are gone and she is entirely free of misery.

RUGON is helping so many victims of rheumatism and neuritis because this NEW Liquid Formula contains Three Wonderful Ingredients. Not a tablet or capsule. RUGON goes to the very source of pain almost at once and costs but a few cents a day to take. So don't go on suffering. Get RUGON at W. A. Rose Drug Store.
