SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1965

This Town . . . That World

Russia's Mikoyan gave his health as a reason for his resignation. A fellow usually gets concerned about his health when he feels the muzzle of a .45 pressing at the cross of his galuses.

COUNT ME!

The Census Bureau is doing a survey this month on farm work, hunting and fishing, and they haven't included me in the study, for some obscure reason. They may leave off the work and the hunting (which at my age smacks of work), but if I am left out of this fishing census I shall write my Congressman, so help me. Especially since they ask only how many in the family fished this year, their ages and how often, and didn't get nose and want to know how many we caught.

One of the best-known dogs in these parts lies on a nearby desk, pounding his ear. I hereby salute that unknown genius who advised, "Let sleeping dogs lie." He may sleep all day if I am the only one to disturb him. When somebody asked me, the other day, if this dog was mine, I countered with a question of my own: "Think I would put up with what this dog does if he wasn't?"

You've heard of the fastest gun in the West and of Quick-Draw McGraw, I suppose. The quickest draw, these days, is on Social Security, unemployment and so on.

EX-OFFICIAL VICTIM HERE

Former Sheriff, Jailer Dies of Heart Attack Here Last Thursday

B. L. "Bey" Sturgill, former Floyd Sheriff and Jailer, died last Thursday at his home on North Lake Drive here, victim of a heart attack. He was 78 years old.

Born at Water Gap, January 15, 1887, he was a son of John J. and Susan Allen Sturgill. He attended the public schools of the county and Pikeville College. When he was 17 he began teaching in the rural schools, a profession he followed until '34. He served from 1921 to 1926 as deputy sheriff, was elected Sheriff in 1929, serving in that office one term, which was followed by his election as Jailer in 1933.

After his term as Jailer he worked as chief deputy sheriff four years. During World War II he worked with the Army Intelligence Department. After the war he was appointed parole officer of his district. He also served on the Prestonsburg Police force for several years, with the State Highway Department with which he worked until retirement.

At the time of death Mr. Sturgill was chairman of Selective Service Board 25 here.

AKERS TAKES OATH DEC. 6 FOR SIXTH TERM OF OFFICE AS FLOYD TAX ASSESSOR

Clive Akers, of Drift, began, December 6, his sixth four-year term of office as Floyd county tax commissioner, and that tenure is believed to be a Floyd county record for the office. County Judge Henry Stumbo administered the oath.

Except for one four-year interval when the late Manis Conley was tax commissioner, Akers' tenure has been unbroken since 1941.

ADULT EDUCATION WORK FOR '65 ENDS

YEAR'S COST OF PROGRAM IS AT $95,715

Floyd Served As Pilot For Giant Undertaking; Clark Hails Success

Floyd county's adult education program, which this year placed the county in the role of pilot and model for other parts of the nation, has concluded its instruction for 1965, it was announced this week.

During the year's program $95,715.82 in state and federal funds has been expended by the Floyd County Board of Education. County Superintendent Charles Clark and the director of adult education, James W. Salisbury.

Said Superintendent Clark of the program: "We are very proud of the way our citizens have responded to this opportunity to improve themselves. Adults have learned the importance of formal education and, as a result, they are parents have insisted that their children attend school more regularly and that they study harder and take advantage of their educational opportunities."

The basic adult education program, in cooperation with the Division of Public Assistance and Floyd County Board of Education, enrolled this year 875 Floyd county members. Ranging in age from 18 to 65, these enrollees attended classes in 18 centers over the county which were located not only in the larger school areas but also in rural areas for the traveling convenience of the students. Instruction was provided from grades one through eight by a total of 43 qualified elementary teachers.

Also involved in the instructional program were four supervisors and four guidance personnel, available for consultation to teachers and students alike. The guidance personnel were especially valuable in testing, interviewing and assigning enrollees. The supervisory staff was concerned with visitation of school centers, observation of physical facilities, providing educational aids as well as expressing interest in curriculum content, standardizing methods of advancement and discussing methodologies of teaching.

The enrollees and teachers spent eight hours a week at (See Story No. 5, Page 8)

Contract Motor Carrier, Olive Hill to P'burg, Fined in U. S. Court

A fine of $1,400 was imposed December 6 in U. S. district court at Catlettsburg upon Vernon Kiser, of Olive Hill, following the entry of his plea of guilty to an information charging him with violations of Part II of the Interstate Commerce Act. The defendant was required to pay $700 of the fine and was placed on probation for two years.

Kiser, a contract carrier by motor vehicle, was charged with engaging in the transportation of interstate shipments of sand from Haverhill, Ohio, to Prestonsburg, without a permit issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing him to engage in such transportation, failing to have doctor's certificates on file for drivers and failing to require his drivers to make and keep drivers' daily logs.

Board Lends Support To Move To Organize New Water District

The Floyd County Board of Education at its recent meeting voted to lend its support to the founding of a water and sewage district in the Maytown area.

Its interest in the undertaking stems primarily from the fact that the facilities would serve not only the Maytown schools but also the Eastern area where a new school center is planned.

Robert Jones was transferred from a teaching post in the Stumbo elementary school to Spruce Pine, and Charlene Davis and Mary A. Bush were employed as substitute teachers. Bus drivers employed included Hansford Spears, Jesse Craft, Wallace Chewing and John Crace.

Frank Huffman was employed as janitor at Betsy Layne to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Henry Harmon. Hiland Nelson was hired as substitute janitor at Prestonsburg high school.

$6,577 GOAL FOR ARH SET

Bradbury Tells Plans For Fund-Raising Drive Under Way in County

A campaign to raise $6,577 in Floyd county for Appalachian Regional Hospitals was announced this week by Arthur Bradbury, of Wheelwright, president of the Advisory Council of the McDowell ARH hospital.

The hospital will share substantially in the proceeds of a national campaign to obtain $3.6 million for the 10 non-profit, community hospitals in the Appalachian Regional Hospitals system. The national drive is endorsed by President Johnson and is headed by Donald C. Cook, of New York, president of American Electric Power Co.

Bradbury, who is chairman of a 17-member committee for the Floyd county campaign, said that solicitation of business establishments and citizens was already under way.

Employees of the 60-bed McDowell ARH hospital and doctors practicing there are already contributing, Administrator T. M. Fain reported. The money contributed will be used principally to provide Appalachian Regional Hospitals with operating capital of its own and for the purchase of much-needed equipment. The ARH hospitals have been operating on borrowed money for two years.

Bradbury pointed out that this marks the first time in the McDowell hospital's history that it has asked the public for financial help. "In contrast with the $6,577 which the community is asked to give," he said, "the community stands to benefit from the hospital's proportionate share of the national campaign receipts. This share is $208,000, and most of it will be donated by people outside Floyd county."

"This is why I think it is urgent that we achieve our local goal—to show our friends elsewhere that we are willing to help ourselves."

The campaign committee stated that contributions, in addition to helping the hospital's mission among the sick and infirm of the community, would also strengthen an important local industry. "The ARH hospital," it said, "represents an investment of $2,155,400 in our community; it employs 97 local citizens, and pays out $434,123 a year in wages."

Co-chairmen in the campaign include: Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo, treasurer; B. F. Reed, of Drift, for coal mines; Charles Clark, of Prestonsburg, for schools; Robert Smith, of Wheelwright, for merchants; Dr. Romeo S. Berardi and Dr. Vernon C. Scandrett, for physicians; Guy Hopkins, for District 50, UMWA, members, and Raymond Rowlett, for other ARH employees. Any citizens not contacted by solicitors are invited to send or bring their contributions to Administrator Fain at the hospital. Other members of the committee are: Clive Akers, Prestonsburg; Dr. Henry Campbell, Prestonsburg; Mrs. E. V. May, Prestonsburg; Henry Stumbo, Prestonsburg; C. C. Parker, (See Story No. 6, Page 6)

STATE GETS ROAD DEEDS

Highway Department Takes on Maintenance Of Three Floyd Roads

County Judge Henry Stumbo this week executed to the State Department of Highways deeds to portions of three roads in the county in return for state maintenance of the routes.

The routes conveyed to the state are: Turkey Creek, from KY. 80 at Maytown, 1.1 mile up Turkey Creek; the Salt Lick road, beginning at the junction with Ky. 7 at the mouth of Raccoon and extending 1.5 miles to the Knott county line; the Cow Creek-Buttalo road, beginning near the foot of the mountain on Cow Creek and extending 2.95 miles north to the junction with the road to German.

All three roads have heretofore been maintained by the county, using rural secondary highway funds.

HELP FOR STUDENTS IN KY. SEEN IN '66

Fewer Kentucky students than ever before will find college education beyond their economic reach next year, because eligible colleges and universities of the state will have $855,140 available next fall to help those who need financial assistance.

The new program of student aid was announced this week by Edmund Baxter, Charlottesville, Virginia, regional director for the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The new program was authorized by the Higher Education Act of 1965, which President Johnson signed November 8. By next fall, colleges and universities will be able to make these direct awards available to undergraduate students with exceptional financial need. The grants will range from $200 to $900 a year and can be no more than half of the total assistance given the student. Schools will be responsible for the selection of students.

The legislation also amended the college work-study program to make eligible for employment not only students from low-income families, but all who need the work to help pay college expenses. The federal allocation for Kentucky for fiscal 1966 is $2,038,282, Bryant announced.

Students may work up to 15 hours a week while attending classes full time, and during the summer they may work 40 hours a week under the program. The basic pay rate is $1.25 an hour, although up to $3 may be paid for specialized work. Work may be for the college or for an approved off-campus agency. On-campus jobs may include work in libraries, laboratories, dining halls and maintenance. Off-campus jobs are assigned in public or nonprofit organizations and include work in health, welfare and recreation programs.

The Higher Education Act also authorized a program of student borrowing under a guaranteed loan program. A graduate student may borrow as much as $1,500 a year, an undergraduate $1,000. A student from a family with an adjusted income of less than $15,000 a year pays no interest while he is attending school. Under the loan program, repayment of principal and three percent interest begins when the student has ceased his course of study. A student from a family with an adjusted income higher than $15,000 a year pays the entire (See Story No. 7, Page 3)

Accountants Effect Merger; To Maintain Prestonsburg Office

Harry P. Bishop, certified public accountant, announced last week that his firm is merging with the firm of Laurence T. Summers, CPA, of Lexington. The new firm, Bishop and Summers, will maintain offices in Paintsville, Prestonsburg and Lexington.

Mr. Bishop will manage the Prestonsburg and Paintsville offices, and Mr. Summers will direct the activities in his Lexington office.

The combined firms will have a staff of eight persons.

Mr. Bishop, who opened his firm at Paintsville in 1961, is a 1955 graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute. After graduation he served two years with a Georgia plywood firm, then entered public accounting with a national organization, headquarters in Louisville. He continued in that field for five years, and was manager of the Lexington branch office prior to entering business for himself.

Summers is a 1958 graduate of the University of Kentucky. He entered the public accounting field immediately after graduation, and became a CPA in 1960.

Fireworks Are Taken In Police Raid Here

Prestonsburg police raided a Prestonsburg grocery store Saturday in enforcement of the state law prohibiting the sale of fireworks.

Policemen Ray Click and Ralph Thornsbury reported they found eight cartons of firecrackers and a gross of "cherry bombs" at the store operated by Florence Gray on North Lake Drive. A search warrant had been procured for the premises.

Charged with possession and sale of fireworks, the storeowner may be subject to a fine of $50, it was indicated by Police Judge Watt Hale.

TOTAL OF 35 TRIALS SET FOR JANUARY

All Trials Scheduled For 3 Days of Session; Jurors for Term Told

The smallest criminal docket in perhaps all history of the Floyd circuit court has been readied for the January court term here. Only 35 cases — all listed for trial in three days, Jan. 10, 11 and 13 — are docketed.

The term will convene Jan. 3, but while the grand jury is in session the first week only civil cases will be heard.

Transfer of the murder trial of Headmon May to the Johnson circuit court removed the last such case from the docket here. Robert Lee Hall, who is accused of involuntary manslaughter, and Arnold Lee Cole, of negligent homicide, are both booked for trial Jan. 11. Last of the docketed cases are those of Catherine Martin, under a falsifying indictment, and Maude Fitzpatrick, charged with aiding and counselling in the commission of a felony, both set for trial Jan. 13.

YOUTH SAYS TWO GUILTY

Says His Companions Set Fire to Building; Recent Arrests Listed

A statement signed here Saturday by Dennis Salisbury, one of three youths questioned in the burning of two buildings on Toler Creek recently, says that his two companions on the night of Dec. 5 burned one of the structures.

He named James Hall, who is in jail here, and Luther Hall, who is at liberty under bond. Both are charged with arson.

Salisbury said he was with the Halls and that they burned a dwelling owned by Harmel Roberts by setting fire to the wallpaper. No charge has been lodged against Salisbury.

When questioned at the jail here James Hall denied knowledge of the blaze. The other building lost to fire on the same night was owned by Mrs. Beatrice Sturgill. Both structures were unoccupied.

Among those booked at the county jail within the week were:

Mike Q. Burchfield, a.w.o.l., jailed by Sgt. Berry, M. P.; Dave Howell, Jr., drunk driving, by State Troopers Ray and Clark; Donald Ray Hamilton, no operator's license and reckless driving, by State Trooper D. H. Goble and Constable Gillis Conn; Arnold Bailey, drunk driving, by State Troopers Elmo Allen and Don Goble; Virgil Bray, no operator's license, by Deputy Sheriff Sam Hale; Ralph Akers, violation of Section 436.050.

INDIVIDUAL INCREASE NOT LIMITED TO 10%

The tax increase of 10% which was made possible by the special session of the General Assembly does not restrict the raise to individual taxpayers but limits only the total increase, it was emphasized this week by Tax Commissioner Clive Akers.

The increase for Floyd county, for instance, may be only 10% next year, but the amount the individual will pay to make up the county total, will depend upon his or her assessment, the official pointed out.

(The statement was issued to correct The Times' erroneous concept of the action of the General Assembly. This newspaper had from early reports of legislative action interpreted it to mean that no taxpayer would next year pay more than 10% more than this year's tax bill.)

But, even so, Akers said he believes not more than 40% of the taxpayers will pay more taxes next year. He estimates, also, that 40% will pay less and that the tax bills of around 20% will reflect no change.

has been lowered. County and school rates can not be lowered until the big assessment job is completed. When all the figures are in, the tax commissioner said he expects the present total rate of $2.21 in this county to drop to around 60 cents. (The rate in Prestonsburg is now $2.51 because of the special ginsium levy, which was voted.)

The General Assembly reduced the state tax rate on real estate from 5 cents to 1 1/2 cents; farm machinery, from 50 cents to one-tenth of 1 cent; unmanufactured agricultural products, from 5 cents to 1 1/2 cents; livestock and domestic fowls, from 50 cents to one-tenth of 1 cent; tangible property not subject to another specified rate (this includes motor vehicles), from 50 cents to 15 cents.

Mr. Akers said that under the law his assessment and the assessment made for the city of Prestonsburg are to be the same, but the city assessment has not been made available to him. Full 100% assessment was made here, and then the city levied taxes on 38% of the assessment figure for each taxpayer.

NEW SOCIAL SECURITY OFFERS STUDENT HELP

Educational opportunities have now come to many children between the ages of 18 and 22 by way of the new Social Security Law. This new legislation enables children of retired or disabled beneficiaries (or deceased workers) to receive monthly payments beyond age 18 and up to age 22, if they are full-time students.

This social security payment will provide in many cases a substantial part of the cost of education after high school. With the increased emphasis on higher education this should give more incentive to those in this group to continue their education after high school.

These student benefits may be payable for all months of this year. The payments stop when the student reaches age 22, dies, marries, (in some cases where he is adopted) or is no longer a full-time student. Payments are made during the summer vacation months or other breaks in the school year if it is less than four months and the student plans to continue his schooling. Should the student work and earn more than $1200 this year he may lose some payments since the social security retirement test applies to him as it does to most beneficiaries.

Further information on this and other changes made in the Social Security Law may be procured from the Social Security district office at Pikeville.

Hunt Season To End Jan. 16, Announcement Made After Meeting

The current quail and rabbit season will come to an end on January 16, the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission decided at its meeting in Frankfort this week. The ending date for these two seasons had been left open, pending findings by biologists concerning the populations of the two species.

Other action included a decision by the Commission to investigate, with a view of purchase, a wildlife management area which would serve both the Third and Fourth wildlife regions; to meet on January 3 to recommend to the Legislature changes advocated for the improvement of game and fish laws; to repair the spillway at Lake Elmer Davis Dam in Owen county; and to negotiate with a view of purchasing land which may be made available at Camp Breckinridge. The tract under consideration consists of slightly less than 4,200 acres.

Under a new regulation a size limit of 10 inches has been set for black bass in Elkhorn Creek and its tributaries in Scott, Fayette, Woodford and Franklin counties; the Rolling Fork River and its tributaries in Marion, Casey and Boyle counties, and the Little Kentucky River in Carroll, Henry and Trimble counties.

It was voted to open Marrowbone Creek in Cumberland county to giggering and to prohibit giggering in the North and South Forks of the Rolling Fork River.

AVON DISTRICT WINS CONTEST

It was announced last week by branch operations that Local Sales District No. 426 of Avon Products, Inc., had achieved a division victory in a national "General Managers Sales Contest." The division includes Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan and Ohio. The local district, made up of Magoffin, Knott, Martin, Floyd, Wolfe, Johnson, Pike, Morgan and Breathitt counties, was followed closely by the Madisonville, Kentucky, district, aided by Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, propelled Avons newest factory branch, Springdale, Ohio, into the National Championship in the same contest against six branches in New York, Illinois, Delaware, Georgia, Missouri and California.

In the face of this type of competition, stunned and pleased management likened this achievement to that of "David slaying Goliath with his tiny sling."

A gala factory sponsored buffet luncheon at noon today (Thursday) will be held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. Branch officials will be present honoring the district sales ladies with entertainment and gifts for all.

KENWOOD PRODUCTS SITE OF 190 ACRES SURVEYED

Bob Sloat, president of Kenwood Products, checks plot plan at the Kenwood site as detailed information is gathered for construction.

Surveying began recently to establish boundaries for the principal buildings on Kenwood Products' 190-acre site.

Robert Sloat, Kenwood president, said the surveys were being made to provide detailed data on boundaries and excavation levels for the company's engineering firms prior to preparation of specification drawings.

McDonald Associates are Kenwood's engineers for site layout and the lumber areas; Lloyd & Davis are engineers for the projected particle board plant.

The site survey work will be conducted for the next several weeks, Sloat said, and should be completed early in December.

Kenwood plans to develop about 75 percent of its total acreage for immediate use, with the remainder held for future expansion or for satellite industries.

Plotting of the projected bridge across the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River has already been completed by the state, Sloat said, with construction contingent upon 50 percent of the company's current stock offering being sold.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30 and 20 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(December 13, 1935)

Four hours after they had made a daylight break from the county jail here, five escaped prisoners were back in custody here Tuesday afternoon. . . Separate suits resulting from the recent county school board election were filed here last week by W. W. Cooley and Jack, charging violation of the Corrupt Practices Act. . . Ollie Marshall, 35, of Water Gap, was killed Thursday morning when his auto left the road on the hill approaching Maytown and plunged approximately 75 feet into Beaver Creek. . . Willie Cole, of Melvin, is in serious condition as the result of a bullet wound in his abdomen, sustained Sunday at Melvin. . . J. G. Porter last week sold the Riverside Dairy here to Chester Howard. . . Estill "Eck" Branham, former Prestonsburg high school football star, led the Western State Hilltoppers to a 13-6 win over the Centre College Colonels, Saturday. He passed for one score and set up another with a long completion. . . There died: Abe Goble, 40, of Martin, last Wednesday at Martin.

Twenty Years Ago

(December 13, 1945)

Congressman A. J. May told The Times Tuesday night that the board of army engineers had given its approval of the proposed canalization of the Big Sandy. . . With engineering work completed on proposed electrification of territory in Floyd, Johnson and Lawrence counties the Big Sandy Rural Electric Co-Operative will ask bids around January 1 on construction of 160 miles of power lines in the three counties. . . A locomotive and five coal gondolas passed over Harrison Marsillett, 22 years old, of Blue River, as he lay asleep on the spur branch of the C. & O. Railway Company between West Prestonsburg and David last Saturday night. Fortunately, he was lying between the tracks, and so is recovering this week at the Prestonsburg General hospital, his most severe injuries being head lacerations. . . A two-story brick municipal building is now under construction and other structures are planned in the program of the Inland Steel Company for the improvement of its mining town at Wheelwright. . . After being separated for 26 years, Mrs. Effie Sprinkles, 69, and Mr. W. R. Sprinkles, 73, of Drift, were remarried here November 20 by the Rev. Alex Stephens. . . An influenza epidemic is now sweeping Floyd county with possibly 1,000 persons stricken, health officials reported this week. . . Goble Finds Coaching A Pipe As His Team Wins Championship

Coaching a football team is best with headaches, but young Daniel Goble, Jr., of Prestonsburg, found it not so this year.

For he was a coach at Erlanger-Lloyd high school, and all his team did was to score seven straight shutout victories during the regular season and climax it all with a 27-0 win at Stoll Field, Lexington, over Old Kentucky Home, Bardonia, for the Class A state high school championship.

Goble, who is a Morehead State College alumnus, has naturally won the plaudits of the folks at Erlanger. On top of that, he was recently commissioned as Kentucky Colonel by Governor Edward T. Breathitt. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Goble, Sr., of Prestonsburg.

Goble Finds Coaching A Pipe As His Team Wins Championship

Coaching a football team is best with headaches, but young Daniel Goble, Jr., of Prestonsburg, found it not so this year.

For he was a coach at Erlanger-Lloyd high school, and all his team did was to score seven straight shutout victories during the regular season and climax it all with a 27-0 win at Stoll Field, Lexington, over Old Kentucky Home, Bardonia, for the Class A state high school championship.

Goble, who is a Morehead State College alumnus, has naturally won the plaudits of the folks at Erlanger. On top of that, he was recently commissioned as Kentucky Colonel by Governor Edward T. Breathitt. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Goble, Sr., of Prestonsburg.

BLAME THIS ON THE COMMERCIALS

The guy barges through his kitchen door, tired, headachy and in a veritable tizzy. His wife nods a welcome, and as he breaks stride his strident voice rises to inquire, "Can't you see—"

It isn't a quiet, chiding voice that says, "Don't take it out on your wife." It's the wife's, saying, "Here, take Anderson."

Out he dashes, Anderson clutched to his chest. And Anderson, turning out to be a bigger drip than usual, promptly dampens himself and his old man.

So it is that the sufferer storms back into the house, plops the baby down, and declaims: "You said, 'Take Anderson,' but I don't want Anderson — I want to take my sinuses to Arizona!"

IN CASTLE

The newspapers say that in Spain it's getting so that a senorita can't get an old-fashioned serenade, any more. The young men have tossed aside their mandolins to loiter under balconies and play rock-n-roll on transistor radios and portable phonographs. This cacophony has become so aggravating that several towns have prohibited street-playing of music on electronic devices between 10 p.m. and 7 p.m.

That just goes to show you how bad this stuff that passes for music is. Any lovesick swain may caterwaul to his lady-love till he's out of breath, and no damage done, but, please, no "Twist and Shout."

CLARK SUGGESTS LICENSE AS GIFT

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 9—Hunting and fishing licenses for 1966 are now in the hands of county clerks throughout Kentucky and it is suggested that these items would make highly appreciated Christmas gifts for the man or woman of the house. These licenses are valid only for the calendar year, Commissioner Minor Clark, of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, pointed out, and new licenses in both categories are required on January 1. The current hunting season still has several days to go after the first of the year and to participate, a 1966 license is required. Also, good fishing is in the immediate offing, the Commissioner reminds.

Tussey, Berea Senior, Does Two Assignments

Greene E. Tussey, of Risner, a senior at Berea College majoring in elementary education, recently completed two of his three student teaching assignments for this semester.

He has taught in grades seven and eight at Knapp Hall (the Berea College laboratory school) and in the third and fourth grades at Pine Mountain Settlement School in Harlan county. His third teaching assignment will be in another grade at Knapp Hall.

Since elementary teachers are certified for grades one through eight, and are subject to be employed at any grade level, it is felt at Berea College that multi-grade assignments are to be desired over the assignment in one grade only during the student teaching semester, according to Carl S. Ford, director of Elementary Teacher Education.

Greene will be eligible for a provisional elementary certificate upon the completion of his student teaching during the current semester and upon the receipt of his A.B. degree in January, 1966.

Kiwanis Sunday Set For December 19

December 19 has been designated as KIWANIS SUNDAY by the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club's committee for the Support of Churches in their Spiritual Aims.

Rev. Adrian J. Roberts, chairman of the committee, urges all Kiwanis members, including Key Club and Circle K Club members to attend the church of their choice in a group. The ministers will recognize these men during the service. "This is an effort," he said, "to remind us that we need to KEEP CHRIST IN CHRISTMAS."

"The motto for the Kiwanis Club is 'WE BUILD.' As we endeavor to fulfill this motto we do not overlook the importance of building the spiritual foundations so necessary to good government and a growing community," the committee chairman added.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Oscar "Buddy" Osborne, take this means to express our thanks and deepest appreciation to our relatives, friends, neighbors and to any who expressed their sorrow to us at the death of our loved one. The least courtesy to us was greatly appreciated and we shall never forget it. Special thanks go to those who contributed food, sent flowers and gave their services in any way. Especially do we thank the Rev. Burkett and Rev. Sturgill and W. T. Foley whose consoling words and prayers comforted us, and to the church for the place for the funeral, the choir for the music, the doctors and nurses and hospital for their kind service, and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its efficient service to us.

SLATE VOTE ON CHARTER

Revisers To Reconvene December 28 for Vote On Constitution Change

Frankfort, Ky.—The Constitution Assembly, completing detailed work that has spread over almost two years, is now in recess until 9:30 a.m., December 28, when it will meet to vote on the proposed new document as a whole.

At that meeting, however, in the Senate chamber of the State Capitol here, any delegate will be privileged to try to reopen for further consideration any section of the revised draft.

Created by the 1964 Legislature, the CRA was directed to make a report of its study to the 1966 Legislature convening January 4. The new Legislature will decide how to submit the new document to the voters for adoption or rejection.

There are two ways the Legislature might do this. One would be to submit the CRA draft to a convention of 100 elected delegates for approval before final submission to the voters. The other would be to put the question directly to the voters.

The 1964 Legislature, in creating the revision assembly of 50 members—death of former Governor Simeon Willis reduced the number to 49—felt it was meeting a widespread demand to modernize the Commonwealth's 75-year-old document.

CRA Chairman Earle C. Clements, in substantiation of this view, noted that while three attempts to bring about constitution revision had failed in the last 35 years, each failure had been by a diminishing margin—only three percent in 1960, year of the last attempt.

At its last meeting on December 9, preceding the current recess, the CRA deleted mention of present county offices in the proposed new charter for the declared purpose of achieving what was called the highest possible degree of home rule.

The proposal said, however, that every county office specified in the present constitution shall remain intact for one full term after the new document becomes effective, if it does.

An exception was the office of Commonwealth's Attorney. This official would be elected to an eight-year term, instead of the present six years, would be paid a salary by the state and be forbidden to engage in private practice.

Other proposals approved by the CRA reduce elections from one each year to one every two years and would add wiretapping and other types of electronic eavesdropping to the invasions of privacy now forbidden by the Bill of Rights.

The last day's debate ended with adoption of a proposal that the inability of a governor to serve would be determined by a majority of the state's highest court upon written request under oath by the state auditor, attorney general and a doctor of medicine, or any two of them.

The court also would be empowered to determine upon its own initiative "if and when the disability ceases." Such court determination, it was specified, "shall be final and conclusive."

WEBSTER COUNTY BECKONS THE GROUND-HOG HUNTER

Lexington, Ky.—The scientists call the pesky animal "Marmota monax" because he's a member of the American marmot family, a burrowing group.

Kentucky farmers — particularly in Webster county where Marmota monax is a ruddy nuisance on a large scale—call him a variety of names. The most printable are groundhog, woodchuck, sandhog, or "whistle pig."

Whatever they call him, his presence poses a formidable problem. He's big (up to 15 to 20 pounds), a strong digger (long claws admirably adapted to burrowing), a voracious eater (one Webster county farmer has already lost several acres of soybeans to the invader) and a stay-close-to-home varmint.

His main nuisance value probably is in the large holes he digs for his home. Tractors and farm equipment jolt unexpectedly into one and bust parts right and left. Livestock step into them and injure or break legs. Humans can do the same. Burrows and tunnels can honeycomb a field.

Control: "One of the toughest problems this county ever had," says W. T. Hooks, county agent. "We're almost desperate to find some way to get rid of this nuisance."

It was Mr. Hooks who pointed out that sizable loss sustained by one of his farmers this year. The man figures three acres of valuable soybeans were eaten by the groundhogs. At an estimated yield of 25 bushels an acre, and a standard price of around $2 a bushel, this is a loss of $150—and right where it hurts, the pocketbook.

Hooks, Walter M. Jones, U. K. Cooperative Extension Service area specialist, and James Engel, state conservation officer in Webster county, last year tackled the problem.

A farmer committee was formed. Best control, it decided, was use of cyanide bombs. These "cartridges" are inert until lighted by fuse. Then, dropped into woodchuck burrows, they kill the inmates by deadly fumes.

After much organization, the Webster county committee (composed of Paul Westerman, Frank Miller and Essel Townsend), worked out an acceptable pilot-project on control with the state Fish and Game Commission. It works like this: A local citizen (Willie Fulcher, hunter and private conservationist) handled Webster calls for $3 a call. He would "bomb" woodchuck holes at the rate of a dollar a bomb for the first eight used, 75 cents each after that. Fulcher was the control officer, the only one authorized to do the bombing.

"Bombing can be done successfully only during the months of April and May, when groundhog litters are concentrated in the dens. After that, they scatter for their own living places."

A local control officer was picked because (1) the bombs are dangerous to handle and only an experienced operator can be trusted with them, and (2) the state Game and Fish Commission was understandably anxious that only woodchuck holes be bombed.

"Indiscriminate issue and use of the bombs is foolish," one conservationist told me. "A person could be killed by inhaling the fumes, if he is careless about using it. Second, indiscriminate bombing means that many times game we want to preserve (rabbits, etc.) would be killed. So, we want strict control of bombs."

Webster countians this year used Fulcher to the tune of about 600 bombs.

"It would be nice to report that we had overwhelming success," Hooks and Jones said recently, "but it wouldn't be true. Results were varied. Some persons said they got rid of the pests; others were just as quick to say it didn't help a bit. Frankly, we don't know how good this pilot program is. Our personal belief is that several years of such control work will show results. But our trouble is that the groundhog population seems to explode all of a sudden. If you don't get the parents and new litters in April or May, you'll suddenly find you've got hordes of them. But we hope for the best."

The groundhogs are particularly hard on alfalfa and similar legume crops. They can destroy acres of such plantings in a season. "Our town folk can't even plant home gardens; the woodchucks strip them as fast as the plants get big enough to eat."

Lack of natural predators of the woodchuck helps the species maintain itself. Text books say the fox is the only predator of note, and Reynard isn't particularly fond of living on woodchuck if less courageous animals are available for hunting.

Humans are as good a predator as any. In the U. S., groundhog shooting is a sport. But it has its disadvantages. There is always the danger from stray bullets to humans and livestock—and there are too few hunters to really control the population.

So, Webster county now is considering some sort of hunting prize, among other programs, to clear out woodchucks. "We're pay for the biggest chuck brought in, not the highest number," Jones and Hooks say. "That way, a hunter keeps on hunting for one larger than the last one he shot, rather than stopping when he reaches a certain number."

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

The high school basketball season is less than two months old, and Wheelwright's Trojans, overlooked in the coaches' pre-season polls, loom as the class of the 15th region.

Don Wallen's veteran club was tabbed seventh among the area's 28 teams, but the team has surprised its most ardent supporters.

In the eight-team 58th district, unchanged from last season's statewide realignment, Wheelwright knocked off top-ranked McDowell, 61-59, in the Floyd county pre-season tournament on a neutral court. In posting an overall 8-2 mark, the Trojans have beaten district foes, Betsy Layne, Wayland twice and Garrett. Their setbacks were a one-point decision to Franklin County of the 11th region, and a 71-65 loss to Hazard which is among the top fives in the Commonwealth.

But all is not clear sailing ahead for Wheelwright. Don Thornsby, one of five seniors, will be ineligible at the close of the semester, and the loss of the 6-3 center may hamper the team in the last half of the season.

Pete Grigsby's McDowell Daredevils sport an 8-2 mark with losses coming to regional foe Warfield in addition to Wheelwright. They have conquered Martin twice, Betsy Layne twice, Wayland and Garrett, all within the 58th district.

Wayland's Wasps were selected as the eighth team in the 15th region but the Wasps have dropped 10 consecutive games without a win.

Garrett was chosen second in the 58th district and the Black

Devils have won six and lost two.

In the 57th, Warfield was listed as the No. 1 team and they have compiled a 7-2 slate. One of the losses suffered was to Meade Memorial, the second listed team in the district. This was by 82-72 in the semi-finals of the Jenny Wiley tournament.

Meade, the last school in this district to make the coveted trip to the state high school basketball tournament in 1960, is 7-1 after losing to Betsy Layne, 82-59, Tuesday night.

Inez, which does not meet Meade Memorial during the regular season, although the teams are only 15 miles apart, has surprised Martin countians thus far in winning all four of its starts with an all-junior club.

Pike county will have four teams in the 15th regional tournament, although the county has only 10 schools. They have been divided into two districts — the 59th and 60th.

Mullins and Virgie, which played last Friday night, have the best early-season records in this five-team district. Mullins is 4-1 and Virgie 7-2. Pikeville is 2-1. Hellier 5-5 and Dorton 1-6.

Belfry advanced to the semi-finals of the 15th regional tournament last season and has virtually the same team intact. Regional coaches chose them as third best in the region. Thus far, they have compiled a 3-1 record, losing 57-52 to Jenkins of the 14th region.

Johns Creek, expecting the best team in the school's history, has been disappointing in winning two and losing two. Feds Creek is 5-4, Phelps 3-8 and Elkhorn City 1-2.

The 58th district has held a monopoly on the state tournament trip for the past three seasons with Martin, Wayland and Garrett winning in that order. All have lost in the first round. Virgie was the last school to post a first-round win and that was over Lone Jack, 78-54, in 1962.

Rickey Hall, McDowell's 6-4 senior center, and Phelps' 5-10 guard Ronnie Skeens, van the individual scoring race in the region with 26-point per game averages.

Officials will be Sid Meade, Irvine; Paul Broyles, Russell; Don Sullivan, Frankfort; and Paul P. Hughes, Prestonsburg.

McDowell Daredevils Beat Warfield, 59-56

Inez, Ky.—McDowell registered victory No. nine here Saturday night by edging past Warfield, 59-56.

Ricky Hall paced the McDowell victory with 20 points. Mitchell Moore's 15 points were high for Warfield as the two teams were tied at half-time, but a strong second half showing by McDowell clinched the victory.

McDowell is now 9-2 and Warfield is 6-3.

Prestonsburg was led in scoring by Don Daniels and Jerry Clark with 14 and 12 points, respectively.

Mike Tallent bucketed 31 for the Wildcats, who upped their record to 5-3, and teammate Rudy Thacker pumped in 28 points to give Maytown a potent combination.

John Crance led Oil Springs with 19 points.

W'WRIGHT DOUBLEHEADER TO FEATURE 3 LEADERS

Three of the 15th region's leading basketball teams will be involved in a doubleheader in Wheelwright, Thursday night.

In the 7 p.m. opener, Garrett (7-3) tangles with Meade Memorial (9-1) and in the second game host Wheelwright (8-2) meets once-victorious Prestonsburg.

Don Wallen's Trojans gave powerful Hazard a good battle last week before bowing for the second time, 71-65. Wheelwright grabbed a 22-15 first period lead, but trailed 41-32 at half-time and 57-41 at the end of three periods.

Wallen's charges came back strong in the final frame by out-pointing the visitors 24-14, but couldn't catch up to the taller Bulldogs.

Hazard's all-stater Jim Rose led all scorers with 23 points, Chester Rose had 19 and Fred Hogg 17. Larry Osborne paced Wheelwright with 19. Don Thornsby had 17, Kenny Zimbro 12 and Stan Berger 11.

Meade Memorial got back on the winning trail in posting its eighth and ninth victories, over Flat Gap, 79-69, and Mullins, 77-59, a night later.

In other 57th district action, Inez suffered its first loss to Franklin County 93-81 and Paintsville suffered consecutive losses to Shelbyville 69-48 and Louisville Manual 58-55 in an overtime period.

Paintsville, in its best performance of the season, had Manual down until the final four minutes when Franklin Foreman and Nelson Hewitt hit consecutive baskets to send the game into an extra period.

Pete Grigsby's McDowell Daredevils turned the tables on Warfield after the home-standing Martin countians had bounced McDowell earlier in the season. This time, 6-4 center Ricky Hall hit 20 points to pace the 59-56 verdict. Mitchell Moore's 15 points were high for Warfield as the two teams were tied 24-24 at half-time.

Garrett split two games, winning 77-63 over Martin and losing 68-77 to Hindman of the 14th region. Betsy Layne lost, 63-62, to Morgan County, then, a night later, came back to down winless (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

Garrett Black Devils Defeat Martin, 77-63

Garrett, Ky. — Clovis Manns, with 23 points and 18 rebounds, led Garrett to a 77-63 basketball victory over Martin here Friday night.

Garrett ran its record to 7-2 as Terry Manns contributed 19 points, Marvin Chaffins 12 points and 10 rebounds, and Floyd Holbrook 12 points and 14 rebounds.

Civil Defense Group In Outstanding Work At Plane Crash Site

The Garrett Civil Defense group rendered an outstanding service last week at the scene of the plane crash, near Hall, Knott county, in which six lives were lost.

Arriving first at the scene, the Garrett men assisted in the removal of the bodies and guarding the wreckage, maintaining a 24-hour watch from late Monday afternoon till Friday when the inspection and investigation of the tragedy were completed.

Last of the six bodies was removed from the scene to the Hindman Funeral Home, shortly after Monday midnight.

LACKEY

James W. Alley Masonic Lodge, of Wayland, entertained members and their wives and members of the Scottish Rites and guests to a banquet Saturday night in the recreation room of the Methodist Church. Scottish Rites widows were honored with recognition and gifts. Nineteen door prizes donated by Right Beaver Creek merchants and businessmen afforded much amusement as they were drawn and displayed. Merchants who donated were most generous with their gifts. Many out-of-town guests were present.

Out-of-town relatives and friends attending the funeral of Mrs. Rob (Nora) Hays were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hays and daughter Garnet, of Anderson, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hays, of Louisa, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Francis, of Richmond, Mrs. Edward Harris, Wooster, Ohio, Mrs. Alfred Chancey, Waverly, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hays were guests of her sister, Mrs. Paul Boiling, while attending the funeral of Mr. Hays' mother, Nora Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Watkins called on Mrs. Bird Fitch, who is very ill in Our Lady of the Way hospital at Martin.

Mrs. M. M. Collins was guest of Virginia Hatcher, of Pikeville, Sunday. After accompanying Miss Hatcher to church, they joined the tour of holiday-decorated homes for the afternoon.

WE TOOK HUBBARD'S ADVICE

Elbert Hubbard wrote:

"Build a better mousetrap, and the world will beat a path to your door."

Our particular "world" lies in Floyd and neighboring counties. We have tried to build not a better mousetrap but to produce a better product. We are not boasting of a mad rush for our doors, but whatever of success that has been ours has been built on this principle of doing the job better.

Ours IS a better concrete block . . . produced to the most exacting standards, with the most painstaking care. We invite your closest scrutiny.

Now's the time to call Winter's Bluff!

Convert Now to Flameless Electric Heat!

Stop paying costly annual heating, cleaning and repair bills on an old-fashioned heating system. Electric Heat is the best way to avoid another winter of heating discontent. It's fumeless — flameless — quiet — clean — safe. With Electricity you can have individual room temperature control — making everybody in the entire household happy and content. And now's the time to call your Reddy Kilowatt recommended heating-cooling dealer for a free estimate on converting your home to Flameless Electric Heat.

Remember, electric heating rates are now lower than ever before.

HEATING COSTS GUARANTEED
You'll know in advance what your heating costs will be . . . and they're guaranteed. Ask any dealer displaying this emblem.

British automotive sportsman R. C. Walker knows cars, but one thing he didn't know was how quiet the '66 Ford is.

"1966 Ford quieter than my Jaguar? Not jolly likely!" said Rob Walker

... then he drove the Ford.

Ford's Quiet Man, who recently demonstrated the 1966 Ford to owners of some of the world's most expensive cars, here discusses the '66 Ford LTD with Rob Walker at his family's estate in Wiltshire, England.

"Astonishing . . . I believe this Ford of yours really is quieter!" exclaimed Rob Walker, famed British automotive sportsman.

Ford's quiet ride is the result of built-in quality and overall engineering excellence. Other examples of this engineering magic from Ford are: ■ New Stereo Tape Player option with easy-loading cartridges. ■ New Magic Doorgate on wagons—swings out like a door for people and down like a tailgate for cargo. ■ Silent-Flo Ventilation, standard on Ford 4-door hardtops, gives open-window freshness with all windows closed. ■ Quiet-test a '66 Ford, at your Ford Dealer's.

BIVIN OFFERS ADVICE TO INSURANCE BUYERS

Frankfort, Ky.—Every once in a while, when glancing through your newspaper you'll read a story about a business that fails. Sometimes, although very rarely, a firm which goes under will be an insurance company.

Not everyone is a stockholder, but the bulk of the people hold some form of insurance. An insolvent insurance company can affect the lives—and lifesavings—of thousands of persons.

Kentucky's Commissioner of Insurance William Bivin offered some advice recently on the matter of determining the financial posture of an insurance company when you are in the market for an insurance policy.

"Deal with a reputable agent and ask whether he and his companies are properly licensed in Kentucky.

"If there is any doubt in your mind, you can write the Kentucky Department of Insurance for more information," Bivin said.

Bivin reported that more than 700 insurance companies are licensed to do business in Kentucky by the State Insurance Department. By March 1 of every year, each company licensed must file under oath a statement of its financial condition as of December 31 of the preceding year. By July 1, the license date, the department reviews these statements, "to the extent possible with the existing staff."

Detailed examinations of Kentucky companies are required once every four years or oftener if the department orders. In lieu of examination of a non-Kentucky company, the department can and often does accept another state's examination report on a specific company.

The nation is divided into zones for the purpose of exchanging insurance examination reports, Bivin said.

"Insurance accounting is highly specialized and, at present, our department has seven examiners.

"The department has begun a new recruitment program to attract more examiners and a staff of graduate accountants to review annual statements more closely.

"We would then be able to better detect financial weaknesses and insolvencies than is now the case," Bivin said.
