$250,000 FACILITY COSTS $5,200 CASH

CLARK SAYS P'BURG PARK BIG BARGAIN

Pool, Other Features To Be Used This Year; Fair To Be at Park

City Manager Curtis Clark estimated this week that when it is completed excavation, materials and labor which would have cost a quarter of a million dollars at "going" prices will have been put into the new city park here.

But as of this week, exclusive of land costs, only $5,200 in cash has been spent on the park.

The two main brick buildings and the Junior Olympic swimming pool are nearing completion at the park.

The $5,200 spent on the park to date represents the cost of sand, gravel and cement. Labor is being done by dependent fathers. Excavation work, preparation of athletic fields and other improvements have been gifts from individuals and groups.

The two-story maintenance building is 80% complete, Clark said; the recreation building, which includes a gym, stage and dance floor with a first-floor picnic shelter, is about 70% finished.

The swimming pool will be ready for use by May 15. The city manager said the pool will have racing lanes and that he hopes collegiate swimming competition and a water show may be held there during the coming season.

Also expected to be ready for the coming season will be a 100-foot area for campers. Natural gas, water and electricity will be available for each campsite, and showers and toilet facilities will be afforded in the central structures now nearing completion.

Decision already has been reached to hold the Floyd County Fair at the park, next fall. (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

STATE IN TOP FIVE BUILDING HIGHWAYS

Kentucky remained among the nation's leaders in highway construction during 1965, according to figures just released by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Only four states built and improved more miles of road than Kentucky, and only two states—Texas and North Carolina—exceeded Kentucky in mileage built and improved without the aid of federal funds.

The rankings listed Kentucky with 1,394 miles, exceeded by Texas with 3,140; North Carolina, 2,103; Louisiana, 1,428, and Iowa, 1,415.

Texas led the nation across the board with the most mileage financed partially or entirely with federal funds; most mileage financed without federal funds, and total mileage under all types of financing.

In terms of contract costs for the year California was highest with $446 million, followed by New York with $431 million. Kentucky's cost was listed at $66 1/2 million.

Body-in-River Story Creates Excitement

The Big Sandy at the mouth of Ivy Creek became the focus of attention Monday afternoon for a curious crowd after a report was made that a body had been sighted floating in the swollen stream.

The Pike County Rescue Squad dragged the river briefly, but soon the "body" was found. A sofa seat apparently was what had been sighted bobbing along at the surface of the water.

One drowning was reported in the area after the week-end rainfall which sent some streams out of their channels. Fourteen-year-old William Gross, of Eolia, Letcher county, toppled into the Cumberland river from his bicycle. His body was recovered.

Water damage in Floyd county was negligible, except for washing of bottomlands into which the Beaver Creeks, Middle Creek and Johns Creek spread. The Big Sandy itself presented no problem.

GAINS MADE IN '65 SLOW

Ball Says Reforesting At Rate of Last Year To Require 2 Centuries

Tree setting in Floyd county could pass the critical stage this year, according to Gene Ball, chairman of the Floyd County Extension Service.

In 1965 approximately 350 acres were reforested, but this is only a small portion of the land which should be reset in trees, Mr. Ball said, pointing out that soil survey studies show 63,000 acres are in dire need of being reforested in this county.

"If we continue to reforest at the 1965 rate of setting, it should take over 200 years just to establish trees on land we have vacant," he added.

Tree setting serves a number of vital purposes, among which are the reclaiming of waste lands, prevention of soil erosion, protection of fire, adds value to farms, offers a marketable product in a few years to mention only a few.

Persons interested in planting tree seedlings are encouraged to contact any of the agricultural agencies for full information on cost-sharing practices, recommended species to set, setting time, etc. Contact any of the following: Forestry Service, ASCS, Soil Conservation Service, Vocational Agriculture Teachers, Soil Conservation District, of Floyd County Extension Service for further information.

STUDENT-NURSE HONORED

A Floyd countian, Brenda Gail England, is among 31 nursing students honored recently at the Appalachian Regional Hospital's School of Professional Nursing's second annual camping exercise at Harlan. Miss England is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert England, of Wheelwright.

This Town... That World

The present-day taxpayer gripes about the Long Form and the Short Form used for income returns. He should get an exemption on that Broad Form which leaves his farm a few inches of surface and that subject to uprooting, any minute.

TV has changed the old formula, soap to nuts. It's now soap for nuts.

AN UNWANTED WAIF

A waif was left on our doorstep, Tuesday. A little, mangy pup that its owner no longer cared to have around, and I suspect, dropped off here to meet whatever fate awaited it at stranger hands.

We are ashamed to admit it, but the founding was not taken inside. In fact, we tried to shoot it away when its mangy condition was noticed (His Nibs was inside, and we didn't want to expose him to the disease, you see). But the puppy persisted in inviting himself in, whining and scratching frantically at the door. Finally, it followed me to the courthouse, later was seen farther downtown, running to the feet of every passerby. Looking, I suppose, for somebody with a kind word, even a glance without a frown.

I didn't distinguish myself in this matter, I know, yet I have a great contempt for those who will set adrift, so to speak, the helpless, even a no-count puppy. The Creator gave man dominion over such things, but with that authority was added something we all like to dodge—our own responsibility to them.

WEATHER REPORT

Would you like to know what the weather was like, the week-end of April 6-7, 1873? We know, thanks to Dave Baldrige, of Hueysville, who sends us this weather report of that date from the War Department's Office of the Chief Signal Officer:

"The low barometer that was Sunday night over Illinois is now apparently moving over Michigan. Minor depressions still exist in Virginia and over the Lower Lakes. A barometric depression of some importance is apparently central in Arkansas..."

Sounded like April showers to us.

CONTRACT CROP PLAN STUDIED AT MEETING

Contract-growing of crops was discussed at a meeting held in the county courtroom here Wednesday evening, with cucumber-growing the specific project considered.

The plan under discussion provides, among other things, for the signing of a contract by the farmer to grow cucumbers, with purchase of his product guaranteed by the processing company.

In Magoffin county last year farmers were paid approximately $23,000 for cucumbers. There, as would be the procedure here, the company rented a building which served as a grading and collection station and paid growers according to the grade of cucumbers produced. The cash yield to Magoffin farmers resulted from about six weeks' work, it was said.

Because of the shortage of farm help, only farmers with families large enough to handle their crops, including the harvesting, are encouraged to participate.

1965 PARK VISITORS HERE OVER MILLION

Attendance at Jenny Wiley State Park showed a marked increase in 1965 as visits to Kentucky's 33 state parks and shrines climbed to another all-time record high.

According to figures released by the State Parks Department, more than 15.4 million persons toured the state facilities. This breaks the old record set in 1964 by almost 1.2 million and topped 1963 attendance by nearly 4.5 million.

Visitors at Jenny Wiley totaled 1,165,000 last year, an increase of 482,000 persons over 1964 attendance totals.

Parks Commissioner Robert Bell said, "We're looking forward to another record year in 1966."

Attendance figures are determined by monthly readings of traffic counters which are installed at all park and shrine entrance roads.

TO ENFORCE HEALTH ACT

Hall Says Children Must Be Immunized Before School Term

Dr. Russell L. Hall, Floyd county health doctor, said this week that the law requiring immunization of each child before it is permitted to enter school will be strictly enforced prior to the opening of the next school term. An immunization certificate, signed by a physician or health officer, will be required in order for entrance to school.

The four diseases against which immunization is required are diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis and smallpox.

Smallpox immunization is compulsory for all, regardless of the religious beliefs of their parents or guardians. But the 1962 General Assembly exempted children or wards of Jehovah Witnesses and Christian Scientists as to the other diseases, if their parents or wards object, in writing, to immunization on religious grounds. In the event of an epidemic in a given area, however, the State Board of Health may by emergency regulation require the immunization of all persons in the area to the disease responsible for the epidemic.

Although Bell did not discount the importance of out-of-state tourists and their role in producing additional revenue for Kentucky's economy, he said "far and away, the largest use of our parks and visitation to our shrines is made by Kentuckians. Kentuckians all across the state are within an easy drive of day-use facilities. They can spend a day at a park and drive home that same evening," Bell explained.

Four state parks are open the year round: Jenny Wiley, Kentucky Dam Village, General Butler and Cumberland Falls.

BROAD-FORM BILL Tabled

Legislative Attack On Old Mineral Deeds Has House Opposition

Frankfort, Ky.—The state administration's "broad-form" deed bill was tabled in the House Monday, 69-11, but Democratic Floor Leader John Y. Brown indicated an effort will be made to revive the measure today.

Rep. William Jordan (D-Letcher county) made the motion to table House Bill 258 at the start of the session and apparently caught administration forces by surprise. Jordan, from an Eastern Kentucky mining area, said he had been working all day to gather support for his motion.

The motion is nondebatable and gave administration forces no chance to rally their forces. Seeing this, several supporters of the bill, including Rep. James Bondurant (D-Hodgenville), voted "aye," making them eligible for reconsideration today or tomorrow.

The House Conservation Committee, chaired by Bondurant, reported the bill favorably Friday, after amending it to apply only to coal instead of all minerals. The bill would prohibit strip-and-anger-mining, without added royalties, under broad- (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

$6,000 BOND FOR NEWSOM

Preliminary Hearing In Mud Cr. Case Held At State's Insistence

Walker Newsome, who was jailed here Feb. 7 after he allegedly had shot and seriously wounded 61-year-old Dewey Newsome at Teaberry, was admitted to $6,000 bond Monday after an examining trial had been held before County Judge Henry Stumbo.

Condition of the wounded man, a semi-invalid, was reported this week at the McDowell hospital as improved. His hip was shattered by a revolver bullet.

The defendant in the case sought to waive preliminary hearing, but the Commonwealth insisted on the hearing. Four men who said they were eyewitnesses testified. These witnesses were Willie Hall, Clyde Tackett, and two men named Roberts and Howell.

All four said they were playing poker, late at night, at the Dewey Newsome home and that Walker Newsome suddenly burst into the room and fired. He was quoted as saying, in effect, "I'll teach you to not let me play poker with you."

The defense offered no testimony.

13 COUNTIES GET GRANT

$1,515,000 To Help Vocational School Building in State

Approval of a $1,515,000 grant to help construct vocational schools in 13 Eastern Kentucky counties was announced Wednesday by Eugene P. Foley, assistant secretary of Commerce for economic development.

The grant was recommended by the Appalachian Regional Commission.

The funds will go to the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare to supplement HEW's own basic grant for the projects. These schools will be part of the first phase of a six-year program (See Story No. 4, Page 3)

HEADMON MAY GETS SECOND LIFE TERM

Inez-Paintsville Road Bids Due, March 11th

Bids for bituminous surfacing on the Inez-Paintsville (Ky. 40) road in Martin county will be received by the Highway Department, March 11, Governor Edward T. Breathitt and Highway Commissioner Henry Ward announced this week.

The project will begin at Tomahawk and extend to the Johnson county line, a distance of 5.185 miles.

RAIDERS HIT LANCER CLUB

Liquor Taken at Two Places; Two Arrested, One Raid Is Fruitless

Three liquor raids staged in the county Saturday afternoon and night by state and county officers resulted in the arrest of two and the confiscation of a sizeable quantity of whiskey and beer.

The V.F.W. Club at Lancer was the first to be hit. Mrs. Jean Halfhill was booked at the county jail and later released under bond as operator of the club after Sheriff Joe W. Lewis, Lieutenant Lykins and Trooper Richard Ray, of the State Police, had confiscated four fifths, a pint and 13 half-pints of whiskey and vodka and 438 cans of beer.

At the same time ABC Agent Claude Flanery and State Trooper D. H. Goble were raiding the Jake Smallwood premises at McDowell where 11 half-pints of whiskey were found. Smallwood also was brought here, then released under bond.

Trials of Mrs. Halfhill and Smallwood and that of Bill Williams have been set for trial in quarterly court here, February 23. The case of Della Crum, on whose premises at the mouth of Arkansas Creek moonshine whiskey was found recently, has been set for trial February 21.

A blow from a poleaxe swung by Sheriff Lewis opened the V.F.W. Club door when access was barred. He said the door was apparently held by persons inside the club.

The raid which failed was on a building in front of the home of Roy Branham at Wheelwright.

Work of the separate raiding parties spilled over into Pike county where O. J. (Jimmy) Bartley was arrested at his place of business at Boldman, near the Floyd-Pike line, by ABC Agent Flanery, Lieut. Lykins and Sgt. Sword, of the State Police. Approximately four cases of whiskey and eight cases of beer were confiscated. Bartley was placed under bond by County Judge Pauley, of Pike county, to answer to grand jury action.

It was said an effort will be made to indict him on a third-offense liquor charge.

Others booked at the jail within the week, charges on which they were booked, and names of arresting officers follow: Dennis Watson, drunk driving, by Constable Gillis Conn and (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

JOHNSON-CO. VERDICT 3rd IN MAY CASE

Jury Returns Verdict After 4 1/2-Hour Study; Sanity Plea Made

Headmon May last Saturday received at the hands of a Johnson circuit court jury the second life penitentiary sentence to be imposed upon him for the slaying at Harold, December 15, 1964, of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hobson.

At Paintsville he was on trial, through change of venue from the Floyd circuit court, for the slaying of his father-in-law. Earlier, in circuit court here, he was sent to prison for life for the murder of Mrs. Hobson. Between these two trials, he received a 2 1/2-year pen term for shooting and wounding his wife, Ruth Ann Hobson May.

As in the first trial here, the Commonwealth insisted upon the death penalty. Two hundred twenty talesmen were examined before a panel willing to inflict the death penalty was qualified and seated.

This jury deliberated about four and a half hours, Saturday afternoon, before reaching a verdict. On one occasion it reported to Trial Judge W. D. Sparks that it could not agree. Returned to deliberate further, the jury made the verdict.

May's former wife testified for the Commonwealth, as she did here, and told of the shooting of her parents without provocation. She also told of May threatening, as long as six months prior (See Story No. 1 Page 6)

PARK ROAD BEING BUILT

To New Cottage Sites But Bids Yet Waited; Other Work Uncertain

Construction of a road into the area to be occupied by 10 additional vacation cottages planned for Jenny Wiley State Park is under way, but bids from contractors have not been asked on the buildings.

When bids will be asked was not learned by The Times.

Still apparently in the planning stage are the swimming pool planned for the Stratton Branch recreation area and the camping area previously promised. Both had been spoken of as projects for completion in time for use during the coming season.

A rumor to the effect that nine holes would be added to the present nine-hole golf course at the park could not be confirmed. In fact, the reaction to this report was, "Never heard of it," and "Where would they put nine more holes?"

Some study was made of the possibility of enlarging the course, as long as two years ago, but no adjoining acreage was available at that time.

CO. MENTAL HEALTH ASS'N FORMED HERE

The Floyd County Mental Health Association was formed at a meeting attended Tuesday night at the Health Department building by approximately 40 interested citizens, and Jack Davidson, of the health department staff, was named president of the organization.

Other officers elected: Mrs. Dora Stephens, vice-president; Mrs. Pauline Sparks, secretary; Brenda Ousley, treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were the Rev. Bob Martin, Marshall Davidson, the Rev. Adrian J. Roberts, Mrs. Regina Mayo Roberts, Miss Blanche Dingus, Harry Daley and David Stephens, Jr.

County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill and H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr. were named from the association to the steering committee of the five-county regional group, the Mountain Mental Health Association. Each county association will be represented on this regional steering committee by two members, and one of that group's more important and immediate jobs will be to select a site for the proposed 30-bed clinic to serve all five counties.

Counties, in addition to Floyd, in the regional organization, are Magoffin, Martin, Johnson and Pike.

Purpose of each county association and also of the regional organization will be to promote mental health and to benefit the mentally ill in several ways:

1. To acquaint the public with the facts of mental illness, its treatment, cure and prevention;
2. To dispel through education the old feeling of mystery and fear surrounding mental illness;
3. To work to procure hospital and clinical treatment for the high proportion of the mentally ill who are curable.

Pikeville — John Waddell, Registrar of Pikeville College, announced this week that the college has the largest enrollment in its 76-year history. The 723 students filled practically all classes, and new sections had to be created in order for students to complete their schedules. This figure does not include Saturday special classes which bring the total enrollment to 815.

Waddell said that the increase represents the largest increase in any spring semester.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ray Brackett, P.T.A. president. A committee was appointed to investigate the cost of a fence behind the school house. On this committee are Lewis Campbell, Ray Brackett, and Ralph Elkins. A date was set for the spaghetti supper on April 2. A committee was elected to nominate the new P.T.A. officers for next year. On this committee are Mrs. Dorothy Harris, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, and Mrs. Mary Ann Hall.

Mrs. Don Willis is in charge of the rummage sale. All persons having donations should contact her.

Two new teachers, Mrs. Emily Allen and Mrs. June Allen, were welcomed as members of the faculty and P. T. A.

The next meeting will be held March 10.

no sallet-greens in sight, Watt Hale this week harked back to the days when mules in the same fix were given cucumber poles to gnaw on. Said many a critter was pulled through with the tonic effects of the cucumber bark that otherwise would have hit the boneyard. He had an idea some government agency might be persuaded to set up a cucumber pole or so at the courthouse for nibbling purposes.

P.S. If you don't know what a cucumber pole is, write.

OLD MAN AHEAD

Some of these ads are real good copy. This one for an insurance company, for example: "There is an old man ahead you ought to know."

"He has your eyes, your nose, your walk. He talks like you, acts like you, thinks like you. And whether he hates you or loves you, respects you or despises you, he depends upon you. For you made him. He is you."

I suspect the kind of insurance the old party needs is against fire.

ON COURAGE

Appellate Judge Edward P. Hill sends me the following, an editorial written by S. C. Van Curon for The State Journal. Frankfort, that's more than merely filler material:

COURAGE—TRULY
FOR THE BIRDS

Courage is where you find it, and it is heartening to see again and again that it has no relation to size.

In the tremendous storms that have swept the nation this winter, huge trucks, buses, airplanes and trains found the going too rough to maintain schedules or even to operate.

Motorists by the thousands gave up the battle against snow, sleet and ice, and many stayed put until things eased up.

Schools closed, churches canceled services, sports events were called off and people in general fell back on the practical philosophy that when mother nature goes on a rampage, it's smarter to roll with the punch than to meet it head-on.

But not the birds. In sub-zero temperatures, in snow several times their height, in gales that man in foul-weather gear had trouble bucking, tiny birds weighing only ounces refused to be licked.

Valiantly and ceaselessly, they fought for survival. Fearlessly, they flew into howling headwinds that spun them around but could not drive them back. Persistently and tirelessly they pecked through heavy snow and crusted ice for the bit of food that meant the difference between life and death.

Night after night they sought whatever meager shelter they could find from wind and bitter cold. Morning after morning they resumed the vital search for sustenance. It never occurred to them to give up.

Some didn't make it. Most of them did. And those that didn't never quit. They died trying desperately to live.

Yes, courage is where you find it. It is literally for the birds. Man can thank them for their example by feeding them in their time of trouble.

Road-Building Time's A-Wastin'

Johnson, Lawrence and, perhaps, Pike county may soon have the assurance of U. S. 23 construction and improvement that comes through advertising for bids.

But Floyd county appears to be a full year away from any work on the route from Prestonsburg on through the county toward Pikeville. And the time for getting such projects under way may be shorter than we think, for there is a war going on which could take priority over every civilian undertaking, and its escalation could find this county ruefully looking back on time wasted.

Bids on the Floyd county part of the highway cannot be expected earlier than the spring of 1967, because, first of all, it has not been decided how the road will go from here to Allen. And when that is decided, planning and engineering in detail are to be done before the project can be offered for bids.

The Times is not going to get into the quarrel about the route U. S. 23 should follow—on through Prestonsburg and along the present route to Allen, or leaving Prestonsburg at the new four-lane bridge here and going via Katy Friend and Bull Creek to Allen.

But the long delay is something worth quarrelling about. Let's get a highway built, somewhere. Somebody is going to be disappointed. Let them be disappointed. But don't have everybody disappointed by getting nothing.

One of Finest Shots, Says Morehead Coach of Turner

Morehead, Ky., Feb. 10 (Sp.) —If the ability to shoot would make the complete basketball player, Morehead State College guard-forward, David Turner, would be one of the most complete players in the country.

McDowell's Streak Continues; Grigsby's Optimism Mounting

Turner was an All-State performer at McDowell high school and was courted by many college coaches as he sizzled the nets game after game. Since his years at McDowell, Turner has continued to be a scoring threat but has been used in a reserve role in collegiate competition.

As a sophomore, Turner averaged 4.9 points a game and this year is scoring at exactly the same pace. He hit a blazing 49 percent of his shots last year and is presently hitting 46 percent.

"David has one of the finest shots I have ever seen," said Morehead coach Bob Wright. "He has a very soft touch on the ball and is always a threat to score, especially against zone defenses. He can kill a zone with his outside shooting," added Wright.

"He has been handicapped by a lack of speed, which hurts him defensively, since he came to Morehead. If he had more speed, he would be one of the outstanding players in the Ohio Valley Conference," Wright added.

"David has done an outstanding job for us in reserve this year," said Wright, "and is always capable of getting a couple of quick baskets when he enters the game." Against Western Kentucky Turner entered the game late in the second half and gave the Hilltoppers a real score as he hit four long shots to bring the Eagles within three points. His high of the season was 16 against Canisius.

The physical education major is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Turner, of Drift, and is married to Peggy Jones, a high school classmate.

Garrett Black Devils Defeat Wheelwright

Wheelwright, Ky. — A second half rally broke open a tight game and sent the Garrett Black Devils to a 71-55 triumph over Wheelwright Wednesday night.

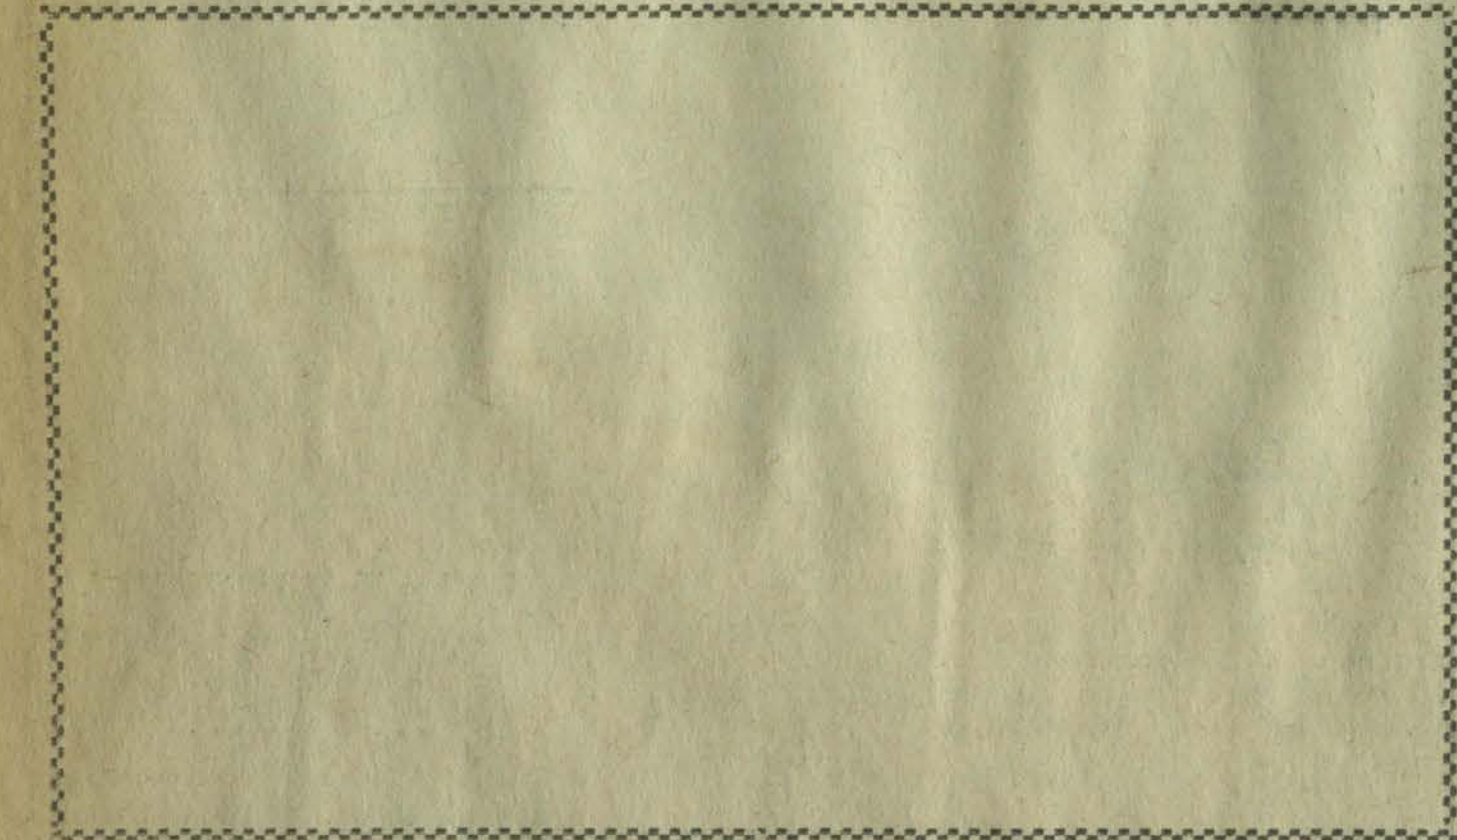

It was the slick shooting of Jerry Manns who netted 22 points and led Garrett to a nine-point spread in the third period which gained a 46-36 lead. Garrett had led by only one at halftime, 25-24.

Any chance Wheelwright had of catching up in the final quarter went out the window when the Black Devils came up with their best scoring effort of the game, netting 25 points while Wheelwright was getting 19.

Garrett 71—Chaffins 12, C. Manns 13, Holbrook 12, J. Manns 22, Martin 10, Caudill 2. Wheelwright (55)—Osborne 13, Zimbro 12, Lewis 12, Berger 10, Newman 2, Carter 2, Deaton 4.

THIS IS A POSTAL CARD (Exact in size and shape)

Suppose you use postal cards for direct mail advertising. Five thousand cards will cost you $200. Forget the cost of printing and addressing the cards—but remember they alone cost $200.

Why do we suggest 5,000? Because that is almost the exact number of copies of the Floyd County Times that go to subscribers each week. (We mention 5,000 subscribers—only a fraction of the number who read The Times, weekly. The most authoritative study yet made shows at least 4 1-3 persons read each copy of a weekly newspaper. So at least 20,000 read The Floyd County Times every week of the year.)

Now, how much does an advertisement in The Times, exactly the same size as a postal card, cost you with no extras for printing, addressing and mailing? EXACTLY $6.82½. COMPARE THAT WITH $200! It Pays To Advertise in The Times.

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

The race for the 15th regional high school basketball title is a wide-open affair this season with as many as eight teams capable of dethroning champion Martin. District pairings had little effect on any of the teams who could be considered as "outstanding favorites."

In the eight-team 58th district, which has won the regional title for the past three consecutive seasons and four out of the last five, the pairings have Wheelwright and Garrett in the upper bracket while McDowell, labeled in pre-season choices as the No. 1 team in the region, is in the lower bracket.

The 58th, always held on the large Prestonsburg court, opens Wednesday, March 2, with Martin paired against Wheelwright and Betsy Layne against Garrett.

Lower bracket games, March 3, have McDowell against Prestonsburg and Wayland with Maytown.

Garrett whipped Wheelwright for the second time this season, Wednesday night. Both have occurred on the Wheelwright floor and the latest count was by 71-55. However, Wheelwright holds a 68-49 triumph over John Campbell's Black Devils. McDowell and Meade Memorial are the only other regional teams to down Garrett — McDowell twice by scores of 65-62 and 49-46 and Meade Memorial by 83-72.

In regional play, McDowell has dropped games to Wheelwright, 61-59, Maytown, 83-81, Martin, 78-73, and Meade Memorial, 88-81. Thus McDowell must get by Prestonsburg, an earlier 67-58 victim, and Maytown to enter the regional tournament.

The 10-team 57th district, which will draw for places today, features both Warfield (21-4), and Meade Memorial (19-4). They have split games on neutral courts, Meade winning first in Prestonsburg, 82-72, and Warfield two months later in Paintsville, 70-66. Betsy Layne has been the only other 15th region team to defeat Wendell Wallen's Williamsport club.

form coal deeds negotiated before strip- and auger-mining were "generally known in the locality."

(A broad-form deed is one that grants both mineral rights and the right to use the surface land for purposes necessary to mining. A legal controversy is now in progress to determine whether such surface rights apply to strip- and auger-mining, which are more destructive to the surface area than the mining methods used when most such deeds were written.)

"Broad-form" deeds are common in East Kentucky. Many were obtained when underground mining was the common method of extraction. However, they allow virtually unrestricted use of the surface.

Some operators' use of the deeds in present-day surface mining has caused angry protest in East Kentucky. HB 258 is popularly known as the "Widow Combs Bill" because of the dramatic sit-down of Mrs. Ollie Combs, Knott county, in front of a strip-miner's bulldozer last year to block strip-mining operations.

COUNCIL 2nd IN REGION IV

In Growth Percentage; Leach and Mears Cited For Their Attainments

Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, closed 1965 in No. 2 position among the 36 councils of Region IV composed of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, in percentage of growth. The Council had a 13.1% gain over 1964.

The nation showed a 2.9% gain for the same period.

Among the 15 counties of Lonesome Pine Council, 10 qualified for national recognition.

Signal honors went to Eagle Scout George Mears, Jr., of Troop 60, Norton, Virginia, in being selected for the Report to the State of Kentucky in line with the Breakthrough achievement. To qualify, he was required to hold the rank of Eagle and the God and Country Award, plus being able to show progress and growth in other phases of his life. His father is his Scoutmaster.

John Leach, of Troop 27, of the Community Methodist Church, Prestonsburg, was winner of the traffic safety essay contest in Kentucky, "My Responsibility In Traffic Safety." John competed with 35,000 Scouts to win this first place honor.

Governor and Mrs. Breathitt were hosts to representatives of all the Scout councils in Kentucky. Those attending from Lonesome Pine Council included: George Mears, Jr., and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mears, Sr., all of Norton, Virginia; John Leach and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leach, Scoutmaster E. B. May, Jr. and Mrs. May, of Prestonsburg; B. P. Bogardus, Pikeville, vice-president of the council; and Scout Executive Byron F. Pennebaker and Mrs. Pennebaker, Pikeville.

During Boy Scout Week there will be many Blue and Gold Banquets for Cub Scouts and open house by all types of Scout units in connection with the "Breakthrough for Youth" program.

Also, all packs, troops and Explorer posts will be urged to attend their respective churches in uniform and exercise Duty to God, as pledged in the first part of the Scout Promise and the 12th point of the Scout Law, "A Scout Is Reverent."

Charter presentation for many units will be made during this anniversary week where practical, also live exhibits at the national level.

Scouting has now approximately 5 1/2 million registered boys and adults. During its 56-year history, there has never been a year which was not marked by growth.

Governor Breathitt, who is an Eagle Scout, said at the recent dinner at the executive mansion that Scouting had contributed the greatest influence to his life.

Appearing on the program at the Governor's luncheon in honor of the Scouts were Albert Clay, regional vice-chairman of Region IV, who was chairman of the meeting, Governor Breathitt, Royal Firman of Cleveland, regional chairman, Glenn Lovern, commissioner of safety for Kentucky, and the Scouts from each council.

The president and/or vice-president of each council introduced their Scout executives who in turn introduced their associates in Scouting.

to the twin slayings, that he intended to kill Mr. and Mrs. Hobson. Mrs. May said he told her he intended to cripple her. She was shot in her legs.

State Detective Chester D. Potter told of the positions of the bodies in the Hobson home and of a bullet hole in the floor, near where the elderly Mr. Hobson lay.

The defense was based on the plea of insanity. Dr. Iroygan, testifying for the state, said that in his opinion May knew what he was doing on the day of the shooting. But two others, defense witnesses, disputed that claim.

Dr. Champ Ligon held that the defendant was not aware of what he was doing, and a second psychiatrist made the "educated guess" that May was not in possession of his faculties at the time of the shooting and was under the force of an "irresistible impulse." May was described as a split personality.

But all three experts agreed he was at the time of the trial "all right."

The jury of Johnson county residents wrote a verdict of life imprisonment "without parole." But such requests of juries have no legal effect.

Class of '30

The building on Arnold avenue now used as Floyd County Board of Education offices housed the high school pupils 36 years ago when this photo was made of the graduating class of Prestonsburg high school. The Changing times have seen, since that day, the construction of a new grade school building and a separate high school which has a student body of nearly 1,000.

This group of 18 youngsters has made contributions to many areas of effort in Kentucky — in the fields of medicine, journalism, health, education, home-building and other endeavors.

The First National Bank salutes these and all others who are making a contribution to their county and state, thus becoming a part of our historic heritage.

Mr. Clark, Mrs. James D. Adams and Mrs. John F. Brown recently inspected the horse-show ring at Camden Park, and the Junior Woman's Club plans sponsoring construction of a ring at the park which will be similar to the West Virginia facility. This project would also include construction of a 1400-seat grandstand. The ring and grandstand will be available for use during the Fair, at horse shows and also, by removing fences, for softball and Little League baseball play. The center of the ring proposed for installation there has a bandstand which may be used for concerts and other outdoor events.

These are major features of the park. For recreation, once it's completed, name your choice—swimming, dancing, tennis, baseball, basketball, horseback riding, horseshoe pitching, camping, or just plain loafing on benches stationed at shady spots.

And there's a possibility a three-par golf course will be built on the 20-acre tract of land which is under development.

The only thing that looks low-priced on a Pontiac Tempest is its price sticker.

And that's removable.

Take it off, and there's just a pure, unabridged Pontiac: crisp, Wide-Track style and handling. A handsome interior. Plus the effervescent performance of a new, overhead cam 6 engine that puts out with all the spunk of an 8, yet saves like the traditional 6. And of course, being a Pontiac, Tempest allows you the luxury of choice—with options in engines, transmissions, suspensions, practically everywhere. And like all Pontiacs, Tempest also has a standard safety package with items like seat belts to buckle—front and rear. (That ought to do for now. We'll tell you the rest when you get here.)

HIGH COURT DENIES STUDY

Tecon Loses Fight For Federal Refund On Taxes, Penalties

The Supreme Court has refused to review litigation in which Tecon Engineers, Inc., a Kentucky concern, sought refund of federal income taxes and penalties totaling $383,544.

The firm contended the taxes were erroneously collected. The U. S. Court of Claims dismissed the concern's suit "with prejudice," meaning the action could not be filed there again.

The Supreme Court on January 17 declined to act on a Tecon appeal that questioned the dismissal. The high court made no comment about the case.

Tecon's appeal noted that it had filed the same refund claims in the U. S. District Court in Frankfort. The appeal questioned if the Court of Claims should have relinquished jurisdiction—instead of ordering dismissal—in view of the claims filed in the Frankfort court.

Tecon Engineers, Inc. is one of several engineering firms headed by William H. May, of Frankfort. May has sought to recover $423,053 he had paid in income taxes, interest and penalties assessed against him and his engineering firms between 1956 and 1959.

In February of last year the U. S. Court of Claims dismissed May's tax refund case and also denied a motion that it transfer the case from Louisville to federal district court in Frankfort. May's attorney, James Fahey, of Louisville, said at that time that the cases would be taken directly to the supreme court.

Mays' attorneys indicated at that time they intended their appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court to be a last-ditch effort. They said that "dismissal with prejudice" if later affirmed by the Supreme Court, would mean an end to all of May's litigation, "not only in the Court of Claims but also in every other court in the land."

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply grateful for every consoling word and comforting act performed by good friends upon the death of our loved one, May Pitts Fitzpatrick. We would especially thank those who were thoughtful and kind during her illness, also those who sent flowers and performed other services. The Rev. LOVELY TO LOOK AT—Kentucky's biggest snowstorm since 1963 left the State Capitol at Frankfort looking like a sculptured decoration on a frosted cake.

'HAPPY PAPPY' WORK FREEZE ON IN STATE

The Work Experience and Training Program (Happy Pappies) has been frozen temporarily at its present level, pending a final decision on Kentucky's allotment of federal funds.

Applications still are being accepted in the 19 East Kentucky counties where the program operates, but a January 24 memo advised Department of Economic Security field workers "to temporarily hold all WE&T approvals."

The freeze is a result of a cut-back in federal funds. The state Department of Economic Security already had applied for $29.4 million in "Pappy" funds when, in December, the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare put a tentative ceiling of $15.6 million on Kentucky funds.

Apparently there were two factors in the federal action: imposition of a 12½ percent limit on "Pappy" funds allowed any one state (Kentucky has been getting more), and a decision to spend only $125 of the $150 million appropriated by Congress for the program.

WATCH THE LANGUAGE! . . .

As we and others attempt to describe our products, we turn to the heavy use of adjectives — "best," "finest," and so on.

As one oldtimer put it, we all sometimes are guilty of "kivvering" too much territory.

So we hesitate to say ours are "the best" and "the finest" products of their kind ever made. But we do say —

"Try to find a finer!"

KY. POWER ANNOUNCES CONSTRUCTION PLANS

Plans to build 2.4-million kilowatts of additional electric generating capacity in the Appalachia region were announced last week by the American Electric Power System, of which Kentucky Power Company is a part.

This construction work, including related transmission facilities, will call for expenditures in excess of $300 million and will increase the AEP System's total power supply to 12.5 million kw by 1971.

Donald C. Cook, president of American Electric Power and of its six operating electric companies, said the new capacity will consist of three 800,000-kw, coal-fired generating units, largest ever to be installed in the seven-state AEP System. It represents a large part of AEP's current seven-year, $1 billion expansion program, now in its second year.

While the three units have been designated for the Appalachia region, Cook said that their exact locations have not yet been determined. The first 800,000-kw turbine generator will be built by General Electric Company for operation by 1969; the second, by Westinghouse Electric Corporation for 1970 operation.

Expansion of the AEP System to 12.5 million kw by 1971 represents a quadrupling of its capacity in the 19-year period from 1953 to 1971, inclusive.

Two Buildings Burn Almost Simultaneously At Pikeville Recently

Pikeville, Ky.—Two buildings within 2,000 feet of each other were destroyed here last Thursday by apparently unrelated fires that broke out almost simultaneously.

Fire department officials said a faulty flue in a coal stove caused the blaze that destroyed the one-story frame house occupied by E. J. Robinson.

No injuries were reported, but Robinson was overcome by smoke when he ran inside the flaming house to salvage furniture. He was dragged out by his brother, Elmer Robinson.

The second fire—accompanied by an explosion—occurred when fumes from a tank truck being emptied were touched off by a natural gas heater inside the scale and storage house owned by an oil company. Four men were inside the building, but only one, Ed Kimberland, was injured.

NATURAL RESOURCES BILL IS HELD MOST IMPORTANT

Frankfort, Ky.—“The most important natural resources bill ever presented to the Kentucky General Assembly” is the tag given by State Natural Resources Commissioner J. O. Matlick to House Bill 260.

The bill, introduced with bipartisan sponsors on February 9, is composed of five parts—water, forests, soil conservation, anti-littering and surface disturbance.

It is the section on water that Matlick is most excited about. “Our experiences with droughts this past summer prove that legislative action is needed immediately to insure the state of Kentucky adequate future water supplies,” Matlick said.

He feels that the answer lies in the creation of a Water Resources Authority as proposed in part one of HB 260.

Modeled after the Kentucky Turnpike Authority, the WRA would be empowered to issue revenue bonds without obligating the Commonwealth and could therefore enter into contractual agreement with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers for the enlargement of flood-control dams and other projects, guaranteeing repayment to the federal government for construction costs.

Matlick cited the threatening Kentucky River water shortage this past summer as a specific example of how the WRA would work.

“All that is needed to guarantee abundant water in the Kentucky River is enlargement of the planned flood control dam on the Red River Reservoir,” he said.

The federal government cannot build a larger dam, unless the state guarantees it will be paid for its costs in enlarging the dam.

“Constitutional limitations prohibit the (state) General Assembly or other state agencies from obligating general funds of the Commonwealth beyond the biennium of the General Assembly in the amounts that would be necessary to complete such a project,” Matlick said. “Creation of a Water Resources Authority would solve this problem.”

Matlick noted that cities on the Kentucky River weren't the only ones affected by droughts in recent years. “There have been serious droughts at Russellville,

Dr. Piper Returning To Caney After Absence of 39 Years; Is Former Midway President

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Dr. Lewis A. Piper, who was president of Midway Junior College, Midway, Kentucky, for 20 years, has returned to Alice Lloyd College after an absence of 39 years.

Alice Lloyd President William S. Hayes announced this week that Dr. Piper, who retired from Midway in January, 1965, has accepted a position as college guidance counselor and professor of psychology for the spring semester.

In 1927 Piper came via horse-and-buggy up Caney Creek to Pippa Passes to teach education to county teachers, a state department of education program in which the college—then Caney Junior—participated. He said he has returned to Pippa Passes and to the field of education because of his deep interest in the work Alice Lloyd College is doing among Appalachian youth.

Besides the presidency of Midway, Dr. Piper has served as principal of Danville high school, director of education for Louis-

VACCINATION OF CHILDREN URGED BY HEALTH OFFICER

In a recent statement Dr. R. L. Hall, Floyd county health officer, said, "The new measles vaccine is perfectly safe to give to children one to six years of age. It gives permanent protection in 99% of those taking the vaccine."

In making this statement, Dr. Hall assures parents of the safety and importance of having their children given the measles vaccine at one of the clinics scheduled in the county. Parental permission will be required and one of the parents must accompany the child to the clinic.

A week after taking the vaccine, a mild rash may occur on some children. This rash is not "catching" and will not cause any harm to the child.

Parents of children who are afflicted with cystic fibrosis, heart disease, asthma, or other chronic lung infections should make every effort to see that these children receive the vaccine. The death rate from measles in these children is greater than in healthy children.

The vaccine should NOT be given to those who have leukemia, cancer, active TB, or an acute respiratory infection (a cold with fever of 100°). Children who have had gamma globulin or a blood transfusion within six weeks are also to be excluded from receiving the vaccine.

Dr. Hall further stated there would be no charge for this vaccine. For the time being, the age limit will be restricted for those children one to six years of age; however, as more vaccine becomes available the limit will be raised to include those through age eleven.

Read the Floyd County Times and listen to your local radio stations for the date and time the clinics will be in your area.

In addition to the measles vaccine to be given at the health department the following clinics will be held at these schools on the dates indicated:

Friday, February 18, Drift, McDowell and Martin; Monday, February 21, Weeksbury, Bybro and Ligon; Tuesday, February 22, Auxier, Bonanza and Charles Clark school; Friday, February 25, Allen, Cow Creek and Betsy Layne.

Invitation To Bid

The Floyd County Board of Education will accept the lowest and best sealed bid for the following items until 12 noon, March 5, 1966:

ITEM NO. 1. 1-3/4 ton Carry-All, six-cylinder, equipped with front seat only, vehicle must be precisely described or else parked at the board office for inspection at 1 p.m., March 5, 1966.

ITEM NO. 2. Fourteen thousand more or less copies of Gates Reading Tests for grades one through five, with 75 more or less manuals to accompany.

ITEM NO. 3. A complete Reading Program including Pre-Primers through grade 5, three hundred at each grade level 1-5. Also, 16 or more sets of teacher manual and accessories to accompany above. Also, 75 sets American Adventure Reading Series.

1965 FALL FIRE SEASON WAS LONGEST IN HISTORY, SAYS FORESTRY DIVISION

The 1965 fall fire season terminated January 1 as the longest season in the history of the Division of Forestry.

The Eastern district, composed of Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Lawrence, Magoffin and Martin counties, had 405 fires during the period from October 1 to January 1. These fires averaged 36.8 acres in size and burned over some 14,906 acres. The largest single cause of fires was debris burning which includes smoking out game, burning brush, garbage, etc.

Floyd county had the largest number of fires, with 183 during 1965 which burned over 3720 acres of timberland. The fall fire season was the worst with 132 fires on 3099 acres.

The Kentucky Division of Forestry has expanded its law enforcement program by adding additional men and this spring will begin issuing citations to landowners violating the Kentucky burning laws. The present law states that it is unlawful to set fire to any debris or inflammable material within 150 feet of any timberland during the months of October, November, December, March, April and May except between 4:30 p.m. and midnight.

During 1965, 70 prosecutions were made in the Eastern district on violations. Floyd county was high with 38 and several cases still have to be heard. In Kentucky, prosecutions have increased about 30% since more men have been employed and a greater effort made to enforce the law.

LOVERN SAYS INSPECTION ACT TO SAVE MANY LIVES

Frankfort, Ky. (Sp.)—Passage of motor vehicle inspection legislation in Kentucky would save lives and reduce highway accidents when the law becomes effective, officials of the state Department of Public Safety report.

A bill which was introduced in the Kentucky General Assembly last week would establish an inspection system effective January 1, 1968.

Public Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovern explained that it would require that much time to set up the system and regulations under the legislation.

The bill has the backing of the Department of Public Safety and various civic groups.

A public opinion poll sponsored by the National Committee on Traffic Safety showed approximately 97 percent of the persons interviewed favor periodic inspection of all motor vehicles.

Reporting this, the Automotive Service Industry Association, Chicago, added:

"Based on a death rate per 100 million miles (traveled), states with periodic motor vehicle inspection have approximately 19.8 percent fewer fatalities than states without such laws."

Kentucky had 912 highway fatalities last year.

The Kentucky legislation would require inspections each year, conducted by private garages licensed by the state as official inspection stations. The fee for an inspection could not exceed $2.50 under the bill. The stations would have to meet certain requirements.

If a car failed to pass inspection, repairs may be made anywhere the auto owner chooses. He would have five days to have the vehicle repaired. Safety department officials would check on operation of the inspection stations regularly.

Floyd County Has 90 For Second Semester; New Enrollees Listed

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Alice Lloyd College began its second semester January 31, with a record mid-year enrollment of 272.

Men continued to outnumber women. This semester, the count was 148 to 124.

Ten Kentucky counties and four states other than Kentucky were represented by the Alice Lloyd student body. Knott county continued to account for the greatest number of students, 112, but was followed closely by Floyd, with 90.

Other counties represented were Letcher, Perry, Pike, Magoffin, Clay, Lawrence, Johnson and Rowan.

Included in the enrollment are 17 students who have entered Alice Lloyd for the first time.

SEES COMMUNITY COLLEGES SPUR TO ALUMNI SUPPORT

Dr. Edsel Godbey, assistant dean of the University of Kentucky Community College System, which includes the Prestonsburg Community College, believes that UK alumni support will grow as the community college system grows.

Dr. Godbey points out that approximately 5,000 students currently are enrolled in the University's community colleges and predicts a "dramatic" increase in this number within the next few years. These students, he says, will mean a much larger number of alumni in a more diversified group.

The UK administrator expressed these views in an interview with The Kentucky Alumnus, the magazine for University graduates and former students, which is edited by Quentin D. Allen, formerly of Prestonsburg.

On the question of teaching at the community colleges versus teaching at the Lexington campus, Dr. Godbey declares that students will "do extremely well at either place."

The Lexington campus, he points out, is more cosmopolitan in many respects but the size of the community college affords counseling and individual attention which are very beneficial.

"Frankly, I would refuse to match one against the other. Each has its own particular advantages and disadvantages," he explains.

MRS. WEBB, GUEST SPEAKER

"You must believe that you are the hub of the home wheel," remarked Mrs. Nellie Webb, speaking on "Home Management and Finance" last Monday evening to the members of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club.

"Believe that you must keep a little bit of you in your plan," continued Mrs. Webb. "Accept the fact that there is so much to be done, but that some things are more important than others." Mrs. Webb further stressed that children need to know that someone has set limits for them. She pointed out that they should be given reasons and the reason should not be, "Because I said so." She stressed the necessity for parents to set certain responsibilities for children, and she urged that families do things together, whether work or play.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Otto Martin, who was in charge of the program. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Earl Castle.

At a business meeting following the program it was decided to furnish cup cakes again this year on Valentine Day to the patients of the Golden Years Rest Home at Lackey.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Charles Scott, Mrs. Billy Joe Castle, and Mrs. W. R. Francis.
