

MAJOR PLANT IS POSSIBILITY IF LABOR POOL IS AVAILABLE

C. of C. SETS P'BURG MEET FOR MONDAY

Chamber Urging Show Of Interest at Meet With Firm's Officials

Prestonsburg and Floyd county will have an opportunity Monday afternoon to gain a major manufacturing plant which will employ, at the first, from 350 to 400 persons. The opportunity will come at a 2 p.m. meeting at the courthouse.

This announcement was made Tuesday by Homer D. Neeley, president of the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce, a group which has been in contact for several weeks now with factory representatives.

Representatives of the company will want to interview prospective workers at Monday's meeting, and the presence of at least 1,000 persons who may be depended upon to accept employment is sought. A representative of the Kentucky Employment Service also will attend the meeting.

Company personnel have made one or more previous visits here and have been attracted by the community, but the final decision on making a plant location in this vicinity will depend upon the public interest shown and upon the size of the labor pool, it was emphasized.

The company, which has 29 plants in the United States, proposes the construction of a 50,000-square-foot building for the first operation of the plant. Approximately 80% of its employees would be women. The principal requirements will be ability of applicants to read and

This Town ... That World

Whew! Feel like I've been through another primary election.

Wet or Dry -- vote. It's your privilege. If you fail to vote, forever after omit the griping about what "they oughta do."

SORRY--NOT GUILTY

David Tufts, of Wayland, may have the answer. While we were crying on each other's shoulder, via telephone, the other day, about our inability to catch more fish at Dewey Lake, he suggested that, maybe, I had cleaned them out.

The only trouble with this thought is, I'm so innocent of the charge that it's downright embarrassing.

LOST AND FOUND

The Reader's Digest may sue for infringement of copyright, but it was written by another weekly newspaper editor, a woman handed it to me with the remark, "Somehow, this made me think of you," and so we reprint this which was written by a man named Cornelius M. Milmo:

As editor of a small weekly, I was cleaning off my characteristically cluttered desk one day when I came across an announcement of a blessed event that had transpired a full two and a half months before. I extended belated congratulations to the parents via my weekly gossip column, along with a "glad we could get our felicitations in before the young lady starts kindergarten."

The next week I received this note from the mother: "Sorry, sir, but you didn't make it. Kathy was born six years and two and a half months ago and will enter the first grade this fall. May I suggest that you clean your desk more often?"

DESK-ROVER

The last time my desk was cleared of its disarray, the office dog crawled onto it, lay down with his chin hooked over the telephone till I arrived, then scurried off it to greet me, bringing all the paper onto the floor with him.

THE COKE WALK

They call it dancing, whatever it is, this twisting and squirming. A story I read describes my lack of appreciation for this variation of the terpsichorean art.

It was one of these dances where each writhed about as he or she individually saw fit. As one youth walked toward the sidelines, a girl rushed up and thanked him for the dance.

REFUND MAY BE CLAIMED

Kenwood Letter Gives Investors Choice; Firm Says Work Start Near

Investors in Kenwood Products, Inc., the giant wood products operation proposed in Johnson county, between Paintsville and Prestonsburg, have been notified by mail that they may, if they desire, receive an 85% refund on their investment.

The mailed notices to the effect that Kenwood would make such refund went to purchasers of stock in order to comply with requirements of the Department of Securities, since the full offering of 700,000 share of Kenwood stock was not sold. Purchasers of Kenwood stock were promised in the firm's prospectus that they would be entitled to receive a refund of 85% of their investment if the full stock issue did not sell. The 15% not refunded is the selling agent's commission.

Kenwood directors said they were optimistic about stockholders' attitude and that they believe few will ask a refund. The firm only recently received a $425,000 federal grant, and first actual development appears imminent. Stock certificates will be issued to all those who decide to retain their investment.

The stockholder letter points out current equity represented by the site, which is said to have a potential value of nearly $1.5 million once a bridge is built across the Big Sandy, utilities are installed and a power sub-station constructed.

Kenwood president Robert Sloat told the directors last week that a definite commitment had been made on the bridge by state officials, and that the substructure would be built this fall. A super-structure similar to the bridge leading to Auxier will be built in the spring.

A request for a combination grant and loan to supply water to the Kenwood site already has been submitted by the City of Paintsville and engineering studies have been completed on the power, sub-station by Kentucky Power.

Work also is currently under way on the temporary access road which will permit heavy equipment to move in and begin site leveling, construction of service lines and other preliminary activity.

Biggest crimp in Kenwood's plans has come from the disappointing stock sale, with only about 101,000 shares actually paid for out of the 700,000 offered. Commitments made on a substantial number of additional shares failed to materialize. Rather than an expected $1,750,000 in capital, the stock sale only netted some $238,000, making it necessary to look for alternate sources of money.

Of the presently available capital, which can now be released to the company with the exception of any necessary refunds to investors, $175,000 is needed to match the federal grant for

LAKE THREAT STUDY IS SCHEDULED HERE

Stream pollution and the imminent danger of damage to Dewey Lake from coal mining operations in the Johns Creek headwaters will be the subject of a special meeting called for next Thursday evening at the county courtroom here by the Dewey Lake Fish & Game Club.

Both state and federal agencies will be represented at the meeting, which club officials have described as "one of the greatest importance." Charles J. Johnson, Big Sandy area manager, U.S. Corps of Engineers, and Richard Smith, chief sanitation engineer for the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Board, will discuss the problems with club members and citizens.

Robert Burchett, president of the club, emphasized the point that all interested citizens, whether members of the club or not, are invited to the meeting.

Club officials and others have expressed the fear that large-scale development of the upper Johns Creek valley as a coal-mining center—a work that has already been begun—will result in coal dust, other refuse and acid waters entering the lake.

TIPPLE FIRE PROBE MADE

The investigation into the destruction by fire of the Grover Sammons mine tippie on Frasure's Creek, the night of July 9, has not resulted in an arrest, Sheriff Joe W. Lewis said this week.

Mr. Sammons has posted a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of burning the installation. Authorities are convinced that the tippie was deliberately set afire and have clues in the case but lack the evidence needed for a conviction.

Approximately 70 tons of coal were lost in the tippie fire. Sammons' installation was the second small-mine tippie to be destroyed in the county this year. Earlier, the tippie of Tim Jones was dynamited on Mud Creek.

BLAIR FACES OHIO CHARGE

Man Nabbed Near Here Had $3,842 of Receipts Of Dayton Milk Firm

A man who was arrested as a drunk on the Mountain Parkway, near here, last Thursday by state police had $3,842 in cash in his possession, and this circumstance led to inquiries resulting in his return to Dayton, Ohio, to face a possible embezzlement charge.

The prisoner, Rex Donald Blair, told State Troopers Richard Ray and Donald Lafferty that he was en route to Pike county to visit his wife and that the money he had in his possession belonged to a Dayton firm at which he worked. He explained that he had on other occasions taken company receipts with him on trips, waiting till his return to deposit them in a bank.

Troopers said Blair, an employee of the Lawson Milk Co., had $487 in cash on his person and that the remainder was in a bag in the trunk of his car.

Notified of Blair's arrest, the store ownership swore out a warrant, alleging that Blair had taken $4,900. Dayton detectives came here Monday to return the prisoner there.

Blair said he is a native of Whitesburg. His arrest followed (See Story No. 3, Page 5)

COMBS CHECK HINTS BENCH APPOINTMENT

Would-be Democratic candidates for their party's nomination for Governor of Kentucky saw a bit more of the green light this week when it became known that the FBI is making a personal check of Former Governor Bert T. Combs in preparation for his possible nomination as a judge on the U. S. Court of Appeals bench.

Most Democratic candidates have been marking time, awaiting Combs' decision—to run for the office he once held, to accept the federal judgeship that is his for the taking, or to continue in the practice of law.

Apparently a definite announcement clearing the political atmosphere—and, in a sense, clouding it with a whole flock of gubernatorial candidates—is near.

Two former attorneys general, John Breckinridge and "Jiggs" Buckman, Highway Commissioner Henry Ward and Attorney General Robert Matthews—all allies of Combs—and Lieut. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield and Ex-Governor A. B. Chandler, of the opposition camp, are among those known to be considering tossing their hats into the ring. In fact, Buckman and Chandler have already announced their candidacies.

An FBI representative checked here last Thursday with associates of the former governor, and the check-up was first reported in Frankfort last Friday. The Courier-Journal noted in its Wednesday edition that the raw data compiled by the investigators is supposed to be compiled by Friday of this week.

Combs said from his law office at Lexington he has not been notified of the check.

Neither he nor the FBI would comment. And Combs gave no hint about his probable course, if any, in state politics.

Combs has said repeatedly that the prospect of a judgeship has no bearing on his possible candidacy.

A number of persons already have been interviewed by the FBI. They indicated the questions were wide-ranging—from routine personal history to queries about racial views and the so-called truck-weight issue.

LOCAL OPTION VOTE PREPARATIONS MADE

"Annie Get Your Gun" Tryouts To Be Held Friday and Saturday

Casting for roles in "Annie Get Your Gun," the fourth in the five-part series of Broadway hit productions to be presented at the Jenny Wiley Amphitheater by the Jenny Wiley Drama Association this season, will be held at the Prestonsburg Community College Friday at 4:30 p.m. and Saturday, July 23, at 10 a.m.

There are many roles to be filled and tryouts, both reading and music, will take place, Mrs. Jeanne Jerrens, head of the Drama department at Prestonsburg Community College, will be in charge.

There will be only these two casting sessions held for this production, so it is important that any person wishing a role in this production attend either the Friday or Saturday session.

The current showing at the amphitheatre is Rogers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific." The 8:30 p.m. performances, Friday and Saturday of this week, will be the last for this production.

WETS, DRY SQUARE OFF JULY 27th

Election Commission Names Poll Officials; Few Absentees Voting

During a period of 12 hours next Wednesday, Floyd county's voters will determine in a local option election if the county shall remain dry or if it shall permit the legalized sale of alcoholic beverages. The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

The question is stated in such a fashion that a "Yes" vote is a wet vote and a ballot marked "No" is dry.

The warming pre-election campaign has been marked, mainly, by the activities of Dry forces, but Wet interests moved up their heavier guns this week. The battle for votes has consisted, in the main, of rallies, newspaper and radio advertising and a concerted drive by the county's ministers. The Wets, working quietly, resorted to newspaper advertising this week for the first time.

The election commissioners — L. B. Moore, Charles Newman and Sheriff Joe W. Lewis—met Monday and named the officers who will preside in each of the voting places.

Interest of Floyd counties away from home and requiring absentee ballots apparently is not great. Only 44 applications for absentee ballots were received, and two of these arrived too late. And of the 42 ballots mailed out, only 12 had been received at the County Clerk's office as of Tuesday afternoon. They will be received, however, till the 6 p.m. closing time for the polls next Wednesday.

Each group, the Wets and the Drys, submitted a list of four names for each precinct from which the election commissioners made their choices. In the list of officers which follows those named as representatives of the opposing forces appear separately.

The federal government is sensitive these days about racial attitudes of important appointees. Combs had wide-spread Negro support in office.

In 1963 he issued an executive order banning racial discrimination by state agencies or any organizations holding state licenses. The edict became an issue in the general election for governor and the victor, Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, rescinded it.

DOES THE TOURIST DOLLAR MEAN ANYTHING TO YOU?

Are Alcoholic Beverages Bought In... Or Brought In Our County?

LET'S CONSIDER THESE FACTS . . .

It's just plain good business to encourage tourists to visit our county and Jenny Wiley State Park but we all know most tourists are going to consume alcoholic beverages whether we like or not . . . Did you know that 94% of the nation's tourists can make legal purchases back home? Then why they ask . . . Shouldn't they have the same privileges here?

Last year, Kentucky's parks brought in more than 15,000,000 tourists, making it the second largest industry of the state. Jenny Wiley Park registered only about 1-15th of this total.

Are we getting our fair share? If not—why not?

Whether our visitors are able to buy alcoholic beverages here or not is entirely up to you. But one thing is certain . . . If they can't buy it here, they will bring it here or they won't come at all!

Should we not compete for the tourist dollar by at least offering him here what he can legally purchase at home or near other Kentucky state parks . . . which incidentally draw far more visitors than we have been able to attract and keep here.

With this in mind doesn't it make good sense to make the legal sale of alcoholic beverages available to Kentuckians and our visitors alike and thus enjoy a greater share of the visitors' dollar?

THINK ABOUT IT!

1. VOTE "YES" TO KEEP BUSINESS AT HOME
2. VOTE "YES" TO ATTRACT MORE CONVENTIONS
3. VOTE "YES" TO BRING AND KEEP MORE TOURISTS IN OUR COUNTY.
4. VOTE "YES" FOR A BETTER ECONOMY AND A BIGGER SHARE OF THE TOURIST DOLLAR . . . AND BY ALL MEANS

VOTE "YES" FOR LEGAL SALE AND CONTROL NEXT WEDNESDAY, JULY 27

The Young Voter And The Issue

A new generation has come on since Floyd county's "wet" days of 20 years ago, and so it is difficult for many young voters to imagine conditions as they were, back then.

"Rat Row" and a multiplicity of roadside and back-street dives where men and women congregated, where the seeds of murder were sown and where murder often did occur—these places have, to those who never saw them, an unreality which is understandably difficult for translation into the actuality they were.

But most of the youngsters will believe honest, God-fearing parents. Many have older friends outside their families whose word they will accept. The more violent activities of the period are available from the files of this newspaper.

These youngsters know everything isn't perfect now. They also are pretty well convinced it never will be. But most of them want the best possible state of affairs.

Believing in their sincerity, we also believe they will not want to turn back the clock to the days when Floyd county was wide-open wet, when sobriety and decency were strangers to many places in the county, jails were often jammed and the taking of human life became almost a commonplace occurrence.

They and all of us will do well to study that dark record. We all will honor ourselves by thinking less of self and more of others in considering the issue of Wet and Dry.

QUESTION

How long does it take an architect to design a swimming pool?

The state of Kentucky and its Department of Parks made definite commitments to Jenny Wiley State Park, back when the bond issue was being urged. The bonds, as all know, won approval of the voters. Later, the federal government earmarked its share of funds to match bond issue monies for various improvements at the park.

An architect and the herculean task of designing a community-size pool were first talked last year when the water at the Stratton Branch recreation area became heavily contaminated and when the beach was temporarily closed. Later, when the Department of Parks announced the funds earmarked for Jenny Wiley, it was stated that bids on pool construction could not be asked till the architect completed his design and plans.

Wonder how this architect is coming along with the project? We ask the question while the same, old mudhole is being used by bathers at the recreation area.

"OUR WHITE CLOTHES WERE RUINED BY THOSE RED STAINS"

Says MRS. B. JACK MARTIN
Langley, Ky.

"Our water was so bad the white clothes had red stains in them and the colored things were dingy looking. Even our coffee and tea tasted and looked terrible.

"We had heard that James E. Allen here in Langley, Ky. had a product which could solve our water problem. After James Allen had analyzed our water he told us that we had iron and iron bacteria (red sulphur) in our well. He showed us how our water could be made perfect with the Everpure equipment. All it took was that free home demonstration to sell us. Now I can use my automatic washer and our water is perfect and the coffee and tea taste great."

Won't you let James E. Allen show you how to solve your water problem. He is experienced in your type of water problem and he is ready to serve you. Why not call him today? You do DESERVE better water.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

APPRAISAL AND APPROVAL EDITOR, The Times:

This is to congratulate Edith James and Floyd county on the first annual Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival held recently at Jenny Wiley State Park. As a participant and spectator I had the privilege of seeing the festival both from the inside and the outside. If I have ever seen the true "spirit of the hills" it was certainly there for all to enjoy at the festival. I had to drive approximately 500 miles from my summer home in southern Illinois to be present, and I can honestly say that it was one of the most exciting and delightful experiences of my life. It will be a long time before I forget such things as the old-time "jam session" backstage when "pickers" and fiddlers who had never seen each other before made us and the hills dance with their wonderful rhythms.

Edith James has the wonderful quality of making everybody feel at home and able to show their best self. Her friendliness and spirit inspired all the performers to add a special quality to the program. Prestonsburg can be proud to have such people as Edith James and the Fraziers (whose names cannot be left out of many activities in Prestonsburg) to represent the human spirit in Eastern Kentucky.

Woodall Announces New Insurance Rules Effective, Oct. 1st

State Insurance Commissioner S. Roy Woodall, Jr. has issued four new insurance regulations, effective October 1.

They will:
(1) Give the purchaser of a health, accident, hospitalization or disability insurance policy the right to return the policy within 10 days and receive a full premium refund.

(2) Require that automobile liability insurance companies furnish policyholders a memorandum explaining uninsured-motorist protection and their right to accept or reject the coverage. The 1966 General Assembly passed a law requiring all auto insurance companies doing business in Kentucky to include such protection in policies.

(3) Relate to uninsured-motorist coverage and forbid compulsory arbitration of any claim other than actual cash damage. Woodall said compulsory arbitration, could deny a policyholder "his day in court."

(4) Establish procedure for public hearings by the Insurance Department.

LOVERN ELECTED

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky Public Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovern has been elected first vice-president of Region Two, American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators. He has served as second vice-president and is national chairman of the organization's committee on driver-licensing.

District DAR Meeting Held Last Thursday

All 10 chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution in this district were represented last Thursday at the Sixth District workshop. Sharing responsibilities as hostesses were John Graham Chapter, Prestonsburg, with Mrs. Tom James as regent, and Indian Mound Chapter, Salyersville, of which Mrs. D. B. Howard is regent.

Mrs. Ewing Roberts, Louisville, state regent, outlined accomplishments of the first year of her three-year term, stressing Kentucky's $1,000 gift toward construction of an administration building at Tammesse Indian School, in South Carolina.

Membership expansion is to be the primary goal of the Kentucky Society for the new year. Two national officers, 11 state officers and representatives from the district chapters were among the 89 present for the business session at Prestonsburg Community College and the luncheon at May Lodge. Chapters in the districts are: Poage Chapter, Ashland; Jane Owen Chapter; Breathitt County Chapter; Jackson; Louisa Chapter; Harmon Chapter, Paintsville; John Graham Chapter, Prestonsburg; Indian Mound Chapter, Salyersville and Morgan County Chapter, West Liberty.

Mrs. Thomas Burchett, Ashland, district director, presided at the business session at which reports of state officers and committee chairmen were presented. State officers, in addition to the president, who attended were: Mrs. Wilson Evans, Berea, state vice-regent and national committeewoman; Mrs. Fred Osborne, Chaplain General; Mrs. James L. Redwine, Sandy Hook; state librarian; Mrs. D. H. Jackson, Owensboro, state historian; and Mrs. Wilburn Walker, Lexington, state registrar.

Mrs. James was in charge of the special music. She introduced Miss Janice Collins, Miss Floyd County 1966, who sang the folk song, "The Cruel War Is Raging," which she will present in the talent competition at the Miss Kentucky pageant.

All members were urged to attend the annual homecoming at the Kentucky State Shrine, Duncan Tavern, Pars, on October 28-29. Ashland and Louisa Chapters extended the invitation for the 1967 district meeting to be held in Ashland.

Miss Prater, Mr. Webb Wed in Church Ceremony At Maytown on July 3rd

Miss Mary June Prater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Prater of Langley, Ky., became the bride of Mr. Thomas J. Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Webb, also of Langley, on Sunday, July 3, at the Maytown Methodist Church. The Rev. Leonard Sumner performed the double-ring ceremony, and wedding music was furnished by Doug Smith. Mr. Smith also sang two songs accompanied by Miss Patricia Howard.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bridal gown of white lace over taffeta and a fingertip veil held by a pearl crown. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations.

Miss Sandra Lynn Prater, sister of the bride, and her only attendant, wore a floor length yellow gown with white bodice. She carried a corsage of yellow and white carnations.

Fred Salisbury, uncle of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Ward Beecher Hale and Danny Flanery. Taper lighters were Paul Webb and William Chester Porter.

The mother of the bride was attired in a blue shantung dress and wore a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother was dressed in light-blue crepe and also wore a white orchid.

Immediately after the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Martin Beverly, Mrs. Thurman Click, Mrs. Chester Porter, Mrs. L. P. Daugherty, Mrs. Roy Hicks and Mrs. Edgar Herald.

The bride's going away costume was made of white brocade with red accessories and a red carnation corsage.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Webb are graduates of Maytown high school and Mayo vocational school. They are making their home in Springfield, Ohio where Mr. Webb is employed by White Superior Motors, Inc.

site preparation. That requirement, plus the need for working capital to get the company through the next weeks or months until private and federal loan arrangements can be completed, was the principal topic for the board meeting last week.

Assurances have been received that more private capital is available for Kenwood, but along with those assurances came the opinion that the Big Sandy area, said to be the principal beneficiary of the Kenwood plant, should demonstrate more faith in the company's potential.

At issue was the relatively small investment made in Paintsville by individual stockholders, said to be only about 15 percent of the total shares subscribed for, with the exception of the original capitalization. Largest stock purchases, according to the company's records, were made in Floyd and Boyd counties.

On a previous visit here company officials inspected two or three acceptable sites. The Prestonsburg area at one time was beset by a shortage of suitable factory sites, but the completion of the Prestonsburg-Salyersville arm of the Mountain Parkway and the proposed bridge at Lancer and highway up Bull Creek open a sizeable area to such development.

To accommodate those attending the meeting Monday afternoon, free parking in the municipal lot opposite the courthouse will be afforded from 1 p.m. through the afternoon.

I AM OPPOSED TO THE SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES IN FLOYD COUNTY

Let me explain why.

In the early '40's I was one of those young men who drank. As a minor—about 18 years old—I bought my first bottle of whiskey at a Floyd county whiskey store. I remember that occasion very well. When I asked the store owner for a bottle he told me I was under age—a minor—and as such could not be sold whiskey. Legally, that is. I told him then that I would get it elsewhere and turned to leave. However, realizing he was about to lose a sale, he called me back and sold me the whiskey. After that, whenever I wanted a drink, I always found a ready source. By the time I was 21 I had a charge account, buying whiskey and beer on credit. If, today, Floyd county goes "wet," you will have the same widespread selling of liquor and beer to minors as we had in the '40's. Money will be the only consideration.

I also recall from those "wet" years how whiskey was sold on an around-the-clock basis. When closing time would come for the liquor stores, whiskey would then be transferred to nearby beer dealers, who legally, could sell only beer, according to their license. They would sell this whiskey throughout the night until the liquor stores reopened next morning. So, as this points out, legalizing the sale of intoxicants in Floyd county, will not eliminate bootlegging—it will actually encourage it.

Friends, I could list many other reasons for opposing alcohol: the moral degeneration it causes, the disruption of families, highway fatalities (52% involve alcohol), murders, rapes, etc., but it all boils down to this: alcohol, legal or illegal, is no good—not for your children, my children, or the men and women of this county.

I urge you to go to the polls July 27 and vote No, vote Dry.

Man IN or ON the Moon

One has been there a long time now. The other — a man on the moon — is a dream two of the greatest nations on earth are frantically pursuing, these days.

The most important guy, however, is man where he is . . . now.

It is with this man that we are concerned. How he lives, conducts himself, relates himself to others — all these things are of more than pure scientific importance.

LEGAL SALE or BOOTLEGGING?

6,100 Floyd County Citizens Ask You To Vote With Them for Legal Control!!

DEAR FELLOW CITIZENS:

MORE THAN 6100 FLOYD COUNTY RESIDENTS HAVE SIGNED PETITIONS AND GONE ON RECORD TO STAND UP AND BE COUNTED FOR LEGAL CONTROL NEXT WEDNESDAY, JULY 27.

THEY AND YOU KNOW THAT THE LOCAL OPTION ELECTION TO BE HELD NEXT WEDNESDAY IS DECISION DAY FOR FLOYD COUNTY.

IT IS THE DAY YOU MUST DECIDE WHETHER OUR COUNTY WILL ADOPT A WORKABLE AND SENSIBLE SYSTEM OF LEGAL CONTROL OR WILL KEEP THE OLD, ILLEGAL, UNWORKABLE BOOTLEG SYSTEM WHICH IS IMPOSSIBLE TO ENFORCE AND WHICH YOU KNOW HAS NEVER WORKED AND NEVER WILL.

AS A FAIR-MINDED, THINKING CITIZEN WHO WISHES TO EXERCISE YOUR FREEDOM OF CHOICE, YOU WILL WANT TO CONSIDER THE FACTS CONCERNING THE LEGAL SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES AS OPPOSED TO FLOYD COUNTY'S BOOTLEGGING OPERATIONS AND ALL ITS EVILS.

LEGAL CONTROL

1. Carefully screened and selected operators who must abide by all state and local laws governing the sale of alcoholic beverages or lose their licenses.
2. Sales to MINORS and intoxicated persons strictly prohibited by law.
3. Sales only during legal sales hours as designated by state law. NO SUNDAY SALES!
4. Quotas for licensees will be established by County ABC Administrator — County Judge will be administrator.
5. Licensed dealers in our county will produce thousands of dollars in tax revenues to help keep your taxes down.
6. County and state ABC boards will screen all applicants and decide who will sell alcoholic beverages.

BOOTLEGGING OR NO CONTROL

1. Lawless, undercover operators, conducting their illegal sales "out of sight" of the law and under no controls.
2. Adventurous teen-agers are attracted to their hangouts and intoxicated persons are their best customers.
3. They operate 24 hours a day, SUNDAY included—selling to teen-agers or anyone else who will pay their price.
4. Legal quota for bootleggers is zero—many operate here! How many do you know?
5. Lost tax revenues become big bootlegger profits while they contribute nothing but harm to our county.
6. Somehow big bootleg operators never get screened and the big ones never get caught.

THERE IS ONLY ONE SIMPLE ISSUE BEFORE THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY ON WEDNESDAY, JULY 27 -- YOU CAN SAY IT IN SEVERAL WAYS

LAW OR OUTLAW -- UNDER CONTROL OR OUT OF CONTROL TAXED OR UNTAXED -- LEGAL CONTROL OR BOOTLEGGING

THAT'S THE ONLY QUESTION! --WE KNOW YOU WILL MAKE THE RIGHT DECISION!!

VOTE "YES" FOR LEGAL CONTROL -- THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A DRY COUNTY

As Communists Routed

When U. S. forces early this month routed Communists who were ready to spring an ambush in Viet Nam and left 320 Viet Cong dead it was Sgt. John D. Blair, of Columbus, O., formerly of Wheelwright, who commanded the lead armored personnel carrier against the ambush.

Sgt. Blair was quoted in a dispatch from Saigon as commenting that the Communists "expected a supply column, but it just so happens that we had a little bit more."

Blair, who served two years in Germany, is with the 4th Cavalry, First Infantry Division in Viet Nam. He is a son of Jack and Ruby Blair. His wife, Patricia, and son, Michael, live at 485 Clarendon ave., Columbus, Ohio.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to express our appreciation to all those who helped in any way upon the death of our loved one, Mrs. Ella Rice Boyd. We extend special thanks to those who brought food or sent flowers; to the officiating ministers and to the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home for its efficient services.

County Officials Take Stand, Urge Vote To Keep County Dry

WE, THE FOLLOWING COUNTY OFFICIALS, DO NOT WANT THE LEGALIZED SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES IN FLOYD COUNTY AND WISH TO KEEP THE COUNTY DRY. BECAUSE OF OUR CONCERN FOR THE TOTAL WELFARE OF THE CITIZENS OF OUR COUNTY WE GIVE THE FOLLOWING REASONS FOR KEEPING THE COUNTY DRY:

1. BECAUSE IT IS HARDER TO ENFORCE THE LAW IN WET TERRITORY.
2. BECAUSE WET TERRITORY PROVIDES AN UNLIMITED NUMBER OF BEER HALLS WHICH BREED CRIME.
3. BECAUSE OF THE ADDED COST OF LAW ENFORCEMENT IN WET TERRITORY WHICH WILL BE MORE THAN WILL BE RECEIVED FROM LICENSE FEES.
4. BECAUSE OF THE UNDESIRABLES COMING IN FROM THE FIVE DRY COUNTIES WHICH BORDER OUR COUNTY.
5. FOR THE SAKE OF OUR COUNTY WE WILL VOTE DRY.

CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

On July 27, 1966, the voters of Floyd county will have the opportunity and responsibility of choosing between good or evil. This opportunity will be given to the voters of this county in the local option election wherein the citizens who will vote, are asked to mark their choice under the simple heading— Shall Floyd County be allowed to sell legal whiskey, or shall it be illegal to possess whiskey for the purpose of sale? The popular name of this election is, Wet or Dry.

It is paying a miserable compliment to the intelligence that God gave to each of us to suggest that our going to the polls and voting for wet or dry could mean anything other than our voting for good for Floyd county or evil.

Your vote will determine the

An Ordinance of the City of Allen, Kentucky, Adopting A System of Water Rates To Be Charged By The Water Commission of the City of Allen, Kentucky.

WHEREAS, the City of Allen is in the process of purchasing the Allen Water Company, which will be operated by it through a Water Commission, and whereas this system is being improved and whereas a Bond Issue has been proposed and is being completed for the purchase and improvement of said system, and whereas it is required under the terms of the Ordinance adopting the Bond Issue that the water rates be sufficiently increased so as to pay the principal and interest on said bonds, and whereas certain rates have been projected by an engineering survey conducted by Kenney & Company, consulting engineers, the following monthly water rates are hereby adopted for all existing customers of the Allen Water Company, to become effective as of September 1, 1966.

First 2,000 gallons, $4.75, minimum charge; next 3,000 gallons, $1.25 per 1,000 gallons; next 5,000 gallons, $1.00 per 1,000 gallons; next 10,000 gallons, .85c per 1,000 gallons; all over 20,000 gallons, 75c per 1,000 gallons.

For all customers, outside the City of Allen, Kentucky, there will be an increased charge amounting to 20% of the above rates.

The billing of all customers shall be on a monthly basis and there shall be a penalty of 10% on all bills remaining unpaid, following a 10-day period after such bills are issued.

The above and foregoing rates and billing practices have been recommended by the Water Commission of the City of Allen, Kentucky, and the said Water Commission is hereby directed to observe same.

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its adoption and publication as required by law.

future of this county. If we vote to legalize whiskey for Floyd county, we have given our permission to have the ill consequences attributed to whiskey, placed upon our communities. We certainly will have to foster the malignant disease of vice, prostitution and unlawfulness attributed to the effect of whiskey in our society.

Our vote against whiskey—this malignant disease—will indicate in part that Floyd county citizens, when given a free choice, will continue to fight against men who would gratify their evil dispositions under the sanction that revenue derived from whiskey taxes will feed hungry children or silence the pitiful cries of mothers and children, forsaken by the evil lust of a father overcome by the power of whiskey.

Those who tell you that Floyd county would be a better county if whiskey were legalized, are saying that we should do evil, that good may abound.

Does evil so react upon society that, by following it, we shall retard its motion and change its nature into good? We certainly, as intelligent voters, cannot accept this theory!

Time could not permit to cover all the horrid scenes left in our minds as a result of whiskey in our homes. The broken homes; slaughter of our children on the highways; the crimes of violence and vice—these are but a few that each of us can remember only too well.

On July 27, when you mark your ballot, please consider that when your summons comes to lay down the walks of this life, if you should be asked the immortal question, "Art thou thy brother's keeper?" Could you answer without shame, if you voted for such an evil commodity as whiskey, to be legally used before your children?

For the sake of your children's future, vote DRY on July 27.

FELLOW FLOYD COUNTIANS:

Some twenty years ago, many of you Floyd countians saw the condition of our county due to the unlimited supply of alcoholic beverages. The jails were full, the courts were crowded and all was a mess. We had two saloons here in Wayland. As high as forty-eight were in jail on one week-end. This was only a small part of those that should have been in there, due to their drunken state.

Some will say that it is as bad now as ever before. I challenge that statement, for there has been less of everything that is evil since you people voted the county dry before. So once again very soon we will be faced with this evil thing called whiskey. With this in mind I would like to ask you a few questions. Remember—this is not simply a battle for a few citizens of the Church, but of all Christian, God-loving people. Will you take your place in line for good this July 27, 1966? You cannot be neutral. This election should concern every citizen in the county. Parents, remember your young children if you should be a drunkard. Do you want your boy or girl to be one? Business men, do you want to divide your dollars, business-wise, with the liquor interest? Are we interested in more whiskey, beer and any other alcoholic beverages than in ice cream, pop and less food on a lot of tables of our children? Think of all the money wasted on alcohol that should be spent on clothing and the real necessities of life for families that must do without, simply because the so-called citizens of the county voted Floyd county wet. Do we citizens want more drunken driving, are we willing to stay at home on weekends for a fear that will be justified? Are we willing to forsake our beautiful park and lake and all the other places we enjoy now? If Floyd county goes wet we will have to forsake many of our hours of pleasure, for the safety of our families. Young people you have never lived in the saloon days. Don't be misled. Listen to the people who have experienced what they did for our county.

I am not trying to be a prophet, either major nor minor, but I predict there will be a lot more drinking, much more drunken driving and crashes on the highways, more deaths and cripples for life if you and I fail to do our duty on this election day, July 27, 1966. I also predict more Home Drop Outs, more school drop outs, while on the other side, more jail, hospital, funeral home and cemetery drop ins.

Remember, there is only one good side to the Wet and Dry issue before you this election day and that is the dry side. How would Christ and His early church vote on this issue?

Floyd county has been used as a pilot county for some worthy causes. Shall we let the Big W use it for the liquor cause in this our county? Let's keep Floyd county like it is, peaceful, sober, and dry. Vote NO! Just a Dry vote will please God!

THE SOUGHING PINES — A PLEA FOR PARDON

By HENRY P. SCALF

The old man struck his axe high upon the persimmon tree and looked across the valley at me walking along the road. The tree, standing majestic and straight, was alone on a point. All around were the slashed bodies of its neighbors—oaks, hickories, elms, birches, many others, all piled and ready for a fire.

"Do you want this nice one cut?" he queried, his voice trailing a bit with the wind as it came across the valley.

I viewed the cleared land, the brush and logs, little mounds of drying woodland debris featuring the hillside. The surrounding acres were to be sown in grass. In a few months cattle would stroll over the rolling landscape.

Was it the thought of cattle only that prompted me to ask the old man to spare the tree? Cattle need shade in the hot summers, of course, but it was the beauty of the young tree that attracted me and made me order the axe to stay. It had been growing there on the center of the point for two decades and for the last few years had borne luscious fruit. Like Joyce Kilmer, the poet, I knew that only God could make a tree such as this that now stood at the mercy of the axeman.

All around Bedstead Farm stand trees spared from the axe. Some had been reprieved years ago when the land was cleared. Walnuts circled the edge of the lawn, stood between the clipped grass and the nearby stream, feeding on roots reaching out into the well-fertilized yard and into the edge of the creek that always supplied moisture even in the dead of summer. Buyers have come and gone after I had shaken my head.

Back in the fields, along the benches and bordering the steep hill drains, other walnut trees stand, left by the axeman. One of them was so mature, a forester said, that senility would take its toll. Branches would begin to drop off, worms would attack its heart. It should be sold, he said. He knew nothing, of course, of the grandchildren who gathered walnuts each year and stored them in the farmhouse basement. He knew nothing of the joy they had in cracking the nuts while snow played against the windows and the wind beat on the outside. He was a practical man, that forester. He knew that giant walnut should be harvested.

On the back side of the lawn stand the giant white oaks. They were there when I came to grade off the site and build a house. They had come up in the corners of an old rail fence and in their protected niches they had grown and awaited their destiny to shade those who would come with the years. There had been five of those trees, years ago, but the house-builder had decided to cut them down. The area would look better, he said. I arrived in time to pardon three.

One of those oaks flowers luxuriantly with a wisteria that begins to embrace the trunk near the earth. I planted that wisteria a quarter of a century ago; my son helped to entwine its creeping fingers on the first limbs of the oak. Slowly the vine reached upward until it was vainly clutching at the sky. It was now 60 feet tall, had hundreds of branches, completely wrapped and encircled the tree. In the springtime, before the oak even puts out a single leaf, the wisteria blooms, its purple rolls of flowers hanging in ropes on the hosting oak.

Down at the creekside stands a row of giant sycamores. Two of them reach out to shade the bridge. Nearby is the Ben Tree, we call it. Years ago Uncle Ben worked for us. He chopped down bushes near the creek, repaired the fence and mowed the weeds. One day he came to the sycamore, noted its symmetry and its broad-leaf canopy. He suggested I spare it. Today it is a favorite place for Old Bess. She goes to it in the late afternoons after she has been freed from the plow. On rest days, if it is too hot to graze, she stands under it, moving only to shake her head at the flies. She has dug out a shallow depression around the tree with her front feet, as she has fought the flies. She could have shaken them off by retreating to the pasture but the shade of Uncle Ben's Tree was too enticing.

Towering over the back yard is a giant cedar at the foot of the hill. Its bushy body is a white steeple in the winter when it is mantled with snow. In the summer it is a haven for birds at twilight. It was there when I was a boy. A playmate and I buried a beloved collie under its spreading limbs. We named it the Old Ring tree and the same survives today, half a century and longer since we interred our canine friend.

Nearer the house is a tall persimmon tree and across the brook is another. Both were there three-quarters of a century ago, according to an elderly cousin. One of them is evincing signs of senility and will have to be destroyed. The axe will be wielded only when it is obvious the house is in danger when the winds blow.

At the edge of the lawn is the youngest tree within my protective realm. It is a Kentucky coffee tree, barely five feet tall. Ancestor of the tree was brought into Eastern Kentucky by the Harman and Auxiers to plant at Blockhouse Bottom. Coffee was an all but non-existent commodity in the Big Sandy in the 1790-1800 decade, and the tree grew a seed that was a substitute for the coffee bean. A few persons, remembering the old trees, procured seedlings at Blockhouse Bottom before the bulldozers smoothed off Combs Airport at Prestonsburg. Only a few, less than half a dozen, survive in the county today. Barring intervention of the axe and unpredictable storms, it will grow slowly in its transplanted site for a century or two. It may be, in the decades to come, that a wandering naturalist will ponder why it is there and whence it came. People live usually their three-score and 10 but a tree will live for centuries — on and on until their guardians are gone and are but dust and a dim memory.

In the autumn the trees are beautiful like the evening of life should be but it is in the spring that our poets have sung of them as they renewed their life with bud and leaf. It was Sir William Watson, the poet, who wrote: (See Story No. 1, Page 8)

THE CURSE OF DRINK

LADIES, GENTLEMEN
AND FELLOW CHRISTIANS:

On July 27, you will, by your vote, prove to Floyd county where you stand—on God's side or the Devil's side. You will, with your vote, make a very serious decision. Make sure that you cast your vote for the right one.

Will you move Floyd county on to more progress and a better place to live? Or will you destroy Floyd county, your children, your family, your homes and help crime increase? Are you for sin and corruption in Floyd county? Will you turn Floyd county back 20 years to satisfy a few greedy politicians?

Booze will cause fathers to let their children starve, go ragged and hungry. No one has to tell you and me what booze will do —we already know that.

Will you pray for guidance, the next few days? God won't mind if you get a little dirt on your knees. Unite and vote dry! Defeat the devil and hisimps. United we stand and divided we fall.

In the Bible we find the first mention of wine in Genesis 9, 20-27, which serves as a pattern for all time. A man's family suffers because of his sins. The family of Noah suffered because of his drunkenness and it has not changed today. The sins of the father are visited upon his children.

What a blessing it would be if whiskey, wine and beer could be banished from the earth! Whatever excuse may be made concerning the use of wine, whiskey and beer, the only safeguard against it is total abstinence. I have never heard one valid excuse for its use. That reminds me of a wino, who said to a preacher he used wine because Paul had said to Timothy,

FINISH DRIVER TRAINING

Fort Dix, N. J. — Army Pvt. Town Hall, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, Craynor, Kentucky, and Pvt. James T. Dusina, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom P. Dusina, of Wheelwright, completed a light vehicle driver course at Fort Dix, New Jersey, July 1.

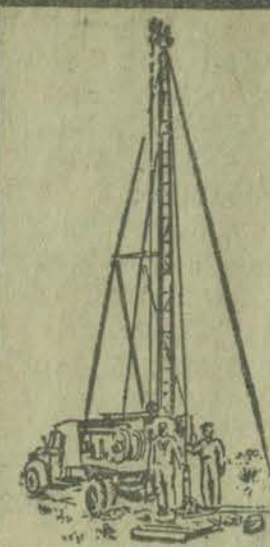

During the eight-week course, they were trained in the operation and maintenance of military vehicles up to and including the two and one-half ton truck. Instruction was also given in the operation of the internal combustion engine and chassis assembly.

"Drink a little wine for your stomach's sake and your often infirmities." To this the preacher asked, "Is your name Timothy?" "No." "Well then, Paul was not talking to you. Remember, Paul said use a LITTLE wine. Are you satisfied with a teaspoonful?"

Mothers, fathers and all right-thinking people, go to the polls on July 27. STOP and THINK—It's later than you think. Be a good Christian and vote DRY—Vote NO. Do your Christian duty. It is your duty to defeat the wet forces.

Whiskey is still digging graves of people that it first enslaves. It's breaking hearts and bringing sighs and wringing tears from many eyes. It's better to be safe than sorry. "Beware of the Devil's Bargain Counter." Stand up and be counted, stick with your Dry Forces and your Christian Dry League of Floyd County, Kentucky.

VOTE DRY—VOTE NO
Sincerely and respectfully,

In Memory
 In loving memory of husband and father, Jeff DeRossett
 A precious one from us is gone,
 A voice we loved is still;
 A vacant place is in our home,
 That never can be filled.
 A happy home we once enjoyed,
 How sweet the memory still;
 But death has left a loneliness,
 The world can never fill.
 We mourn for him in silence,
 No eyes can see us weep;
 But many a tear is shed,
 While others are asleep.
 We miss him, yes, we miss him,
 But God thought it best;
 To take him from his suffering,
 And give him peace and rest.
 Written by his wife,
JULIA DeROSSETT

DEATH

COMES TO ALL---

Shall We Hasten His Visit?

These figures are from the Division of Registration, Department of Motor Transportation, Frankfort, Ky.:

In 1945, the last year Floyd was a wet county, the number of motor vehicles licensed in this county was 3,230.

In 1965, 20 years later and the last year for which records are available, the number of motor vehicle licenses in Floyd county was 13,487.

The total for 1965 does not include the great number of motor vehicles from other counties of Kentucky and from other states which travel this county's highways, especially during the tourist and vacation seasons. At certain times as many as 20,000 automobiles and trucks may be in operation in this county.

These figures are cited to point to what may, and undoubtedly will, happen if Floyd county should vote wet. The warning is clear to all who will see or hear. Can't you imagine the highway carnage that will result, with this county wet, with 15,000 to 20,000 automobiles and trucks on its roads and with the percentage of drunken drivers skyrocketed by the easy access to whiskey, wine and beer?

Open, inviting whiskey stores, beer joints dotting every roadside, young and old, women and men, free to buy and drink and then to load into cars and join the mad jam on the highways, their vision blurred, reactions slowed and judgment dulled — all forming a gauntlet of death for the innocent to attempt to run. Would you like to run this gauntlet? Would you like for your son or daughter to venture onto the highways under such conditions?

WOULD YOU HASTEN DEATH'S VISIT?

What of the murder rate in Floyd county when it was wet and when it was dry? The figures will be given for the same two years, although neither may have been representative of the two periods. In 1945, for instance, most of Floyd county's young men were at war or in war production plants.

In 1945, last of the county's wet years, Floyd county had 6 murders. Twelve others were wounded by knives or bullets that year. In 1965 Floyd county had only two persons slain and, according to available records, only two wounded.

Floyd, as a dry county, has one of the lowest murder rates in the state of Kentucky. Wet Floyd county had perhaps the worst—a rate which caused an outspoken Commonwealth's Attorney of that time to describe our county as "the bloodiest soil on the Western Hemisphere."

Alcoholic beverages in every age have taken a horrible toll in human life. The open saloon, the open liquor store and beer joint open the doors to the Visitor all would shun.

Do not, in the name of decency and good, commonsense, let the Liquor Crowd deceive you. Don't fall for wild promises which cannot be fulfilled, or for glowing pictures of good business and lower taxes when it is obvious that the cost of law enforcement would exceed any license fees collected and that business in general would suffer as men turned their money in to the liquor retailer instead of the drygoods store and the grocer for clothing and food for their children.

COLLEGE HERE TO OFFER SECRETARYSHIP PROGRAMS

Dr. Henry A. Campbell, director of the Prestonsburg Community College, has announced that the college will offer three associate degree professional secretaryship programs, beginning this fall. The associate degree program will provide general administrative, legal, and medical specialities in secretaryship. The student who successfully completes the prescribed program will be awarded the degree of Associate in Applied Science. The student also has the option of taking courses which are totally transferable to a four-year institution for a degree in business and office education or related baccalaureate programs. The programs will mean the addition of new courses to the college curriculum. These include fundamental mathematics, TMA 051, and technical communications, TCM 051. Other courses to be added include introduction to business law, introduction to office management, and practical application of these and other courses in an office internship. Among other professional courses are typewriting, shorthand, accounting, secretarial procedures, and office machines and records management. Students will have a choice among general education courses which make up approximately half of the curriculum. These are in the areas of the humanities, mathematics, biological, behavioral and social sciences, a modern foreign language, and English composition. Professional secretaries graduating with the degree of Associate in Applied Science are qualified for positions in banks, hospitals, insurance companies, manufacturing firms, government agencies, schools and colleges, and the offices of attorneys and physicians. Dr. Campbell said the curriculum was developed in the hope of partially relieving Kentucky's critical shortage of persons trained in technical and semi-professional fields. Those interested in obtaining additional information on programs in professional secretaryship at Prestonsburg Community College may contact Dr. Doris Berry, senior instructor in the department of business education.

COUNCIL OF 400 TO HEAD NEW CONSTITUTION DRIVE

Lexington, Ky. — A council of 400 leading Kentuckians is being organized to tell the story of the proposed constitution to be voted on at the November 8 election. They will come from every county of the state.

Announcement of the new group was made by Kentuckians for a Better Constitution, the parent organization headed by Republican John Fred Williams, of Ashland, and Democratic State Senator C. Gibson Downing, of Lexington, co-chairman.

Headquarters will be at 465 East High Street, Lexington, under the direction of Gilbert W. Kingsbury, educational coordinator. Mr. Kingsbury was executive director of last year's bond issue campaign

Those affiliating with the council of 400 will receive educational material to be developed as the program grows. Many of them, it was announced, will be members of the Constitution Revision Assembly which drafted the new proposal.

The proposed charter grew out of 22 months of work by leading Kentuckians and many of the sections, including the Bill of Rights, were modeled on the federal constitution. The November effort to update the 75-year-old document will be the fourth effort in 22 years.

"Trees, in their blooming, tremble with song."
The sigh of the pines, however, knows no season. Years ago, I planted a long row at the edge of the field to border the road. Today, virile and beautiful, they whisper in the summer with every zephyr and in the winter bow and moan with the heavy blasts of wind.

They needed thinning, the forester said. They were too thick and were already crowding each other for earth and sun. I agreed to do it but he told me that when he was gone a breeze struck the farthest end of the row of trees and rolled toward me, each needle whispering as if to say, "Which one?"

Which one, indeed? To the forester's well-given advice the head says, "Yes," and the heart says, "No."
