

This Town . . . That World

Somebody hereabouts confidently predicted that, come the end of Dog Days, the rain would stop. Every dog in the land must be having a different day, this year.

After I had suggested to a friend this week that he shouldn't lose his faith in human nature, I began mulling this matter over. Now, what is there in human nature that merits anybody's faith?

Have you heard the one about the letter the hotel manager received? It read: "Have you suitable accommodations where I can put up with my wife?"

SPARE RED RIVER!

I am one of those people who would like a lake wherever there's enough water and room to afford one, but I agree with Earl Kinner, editor of The Elliott County News and Licking Valley Courier, that this proposed Red River reservoir should be dropped right where it now is—on paper. There are a few spots left that should remain forever unspoiled. Red River is one such. Any person who has ever visited its gorge, a few miles out of Pine Ridge, seen its canyon-like cliffs and felt the delightful sort of awe that nature, wild, beautiful and unspoiled, can produce will surely join in the chorus telling the dam-builders, "Go, find yourself another stream to block and another valley to inundate."

Definition of a father: Fathers are people who give daughters away to other men who aren't nearly good enough for them, so they can have grandchildren who are smarter than anybody's. Fathers make bets with insurance companies about how long they will live. One day they lose, and the bet is paid off to the part of them they leave behind.

W. S. MARTIN DIES MONDAY

One-time Magistrate, Native of Knott-Co., Succumbs Suddenly

W. S. (Hoosh) Martin, 37, prominent Floyd man and former magistrate, died suddenly at his home at Eastern, at 3 p.m. Monday. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

A native of Knott county, he was a son of Alamander and Evaline Hall Martin. Interested in genealogy and the history of the region, he wrote in his last years a book on the Martin family.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Catherine Webb Martin, of Eastern; two sons, Charles Martin, of Eastern, and Dr. Henry Martin, vice-president of Eastern State University, Richmond; four daughters, Mrs. Hollie Conley, Mrs. Lula Martin, Mrs. Goldie Salyers and Miss Belva Martin, all of Eastern; two brothers, Dewey Martin, of McDowell, and Bruce Martin, Hall, Kentucky, and one sister, Mrs. Annie Akers, of Drift.

Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) from the Wilson Creek Regular Baptist Church, ministers of that church officiating. Burial in the family cemetery at Eastern was under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

COUNTER-SUIT FILED IN WET-DRY CASE

SLUSH FUND, INTIMIDATION ARE ALLEGED

Roberts' Counter-Suit Lists 934 As Illegal Voters for Wet Cause

The local option election contest suit filed by Wet forces not only was answered last Saturday—a counter-suit was filed by the Rev. Adrian J. Roberts who served during the pre-election campaign as chairman of the Floyd County Christian Dry League.

Fraud, intimidation, voting by persons not legally entitled to vote in the precincts where their ballots were cast and by persons who received assistance from election officers and others in violation of the general election laws were alleged in the contest section of the joint and counter-attack prepared by Joe Hobson, attorney for the Dry forces.

In the answer to contestants' suit it was alleged that:

1. The Whiskey and beer interests violated the Corrupt Practices Act by providing a pool of not less than $25,000 which the chairman of the Committee of 6100 (the organization known as spearheading the Wet offensive), the contestants, their friends and relatives spent prior to and upon July 27, actually bribing at least 1,000 voters.

2. The chairman of the Committee of 6100 and the contestants further violated the Corrupt Practices Act by accepting from one or more brewery firms in excess of $20,000, and also accepted from the U. S. Brewery Association at least $25,000.

3. Contestants and others further violated the Corrupt Practices Act by promising to various voters a beer or whiskey license if they would vote for the Wet cause, and a large number of voters so promised made contributions ranging from $100 to $1,000.

The answer filed Saturday contends that because of those alleged violations contestants are not entitled to prosecute their suit and that it should be dismissed. It also maintains that each of the persons listed in the Wets' contest suit as having illegally voted Dry (voting in precincts where they were not residents and in the case of married women voting under maiden names) were duly registered in the precincts where they voted, had been so registered for many years, their names had never been stricken from the registration roll by the Purgation Board and their votes were not challenged at the polls, although contestants had a challenger at every voting place.

LANCER ROAD ROUTE DEFINED AT HEARING

Those attending the public hearing held here last Friday on the routing of KY 3 at Lancer learned that the extension of the highway on to join new US 23 at Water Gap will cross the Big Sandy at a point slightly to the south (above) the Gulf service station at Lancer.

The hearing was the last required prior to engineering and construction of new highways in the vicinity of Prestonsburg. An earlier hearing cleared the way for construction of US 23 via Katy Friend branch of Middle Creek to Bull Creek and on to rejoin the present US 23 at Allen.

KY 3 is the road which will extend from Catlettsburg via Inez to Dewey Dam, then along the present route bordering Dewey Lake to Lancer.

When construction on either this connecting highway or the new US 23 sector will be begun is not known here. Much engineering work remains to be done before rights-of-way can be acquired.

WAGE PACTS UNDER STUDY

Two Gas Companies, Employees Involved; UF Deadline Is Near

Negotiations are under way between two major gas companies of the region and their employees to effect new labor contracts.

Time was growing short this week for one of the two firms, United Fuel Gas Company, whose contract expires Friday midnight. Unless an agreement is reached within the next 24 hours, a strike is held certain. Another of a series of meetings between union representatives and top company personnel was held in Charleston, W. Va., Wednesday. Negotiations hoping to reach a satisfactory contract began eight weeks ago.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company negotiations with local union representatives are being held at the company's offices here. Its contract does not expire until October 15. A wage increase of 50 cents an hour, plus several fringe benefits, reportedly are being asked by the employees.

Employees of both companies are members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

Young Democrats Name Anderson District Head

Glenn S. Anderson, Jr., of Prestonsburg, was elected Seventh district chairman at the Owensboro state convention of Young Democrats last week.

Clifford Smith, Jr., was elected president of the state organization, Senator Tydings, of Maryland, delivered the principal address of the convention. Other speakers were Gov. Edward T. Breathitt and John Young Brown, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate.

CASTLE DIES IN MISHAP

Resident of Eastern Electrocuted Sept. 22 While Working in Ohio

James E. Castle, 27, of Eastern, died at Kettering hospital, Dayton, Ohio, last Thursday, shortly after he had been electrocuted while working on a construction project.

Castle was holding a piece of metal as it was being lowered by a crane. The crane boom came near a high tension line and the electric charge "jumped" to the boom and through it to the metal. He was employed by the Wray D. Johnson Construction Company.

The victim was a son of James and Virginia Blizard Castle, of Eastern. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Donna Beatty Castle, his parents, two brothers, Bobby Ray and Paul Edward, both of Eastern, and five sisters, Mrs. Delores Chaffins, of Eastern, Mrs. Rosalee Razen, Kansas City, Missouri, Misses Carol Sue, Linda Faye and Debra Lynn Castle, of Eastern.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the Martin Branch Free Will Baptist Church by the Revs. Green Boyd, Dillard Reed and Douglas Burkett. Burial in Davidson Memorial Gardens was under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

RURAL ROADS TALKED HERE

Next Year's Plans Discussed at Meet With Fiscal Court

Officials of the Kentucky Highway Department met Wednesday with Judge Henry Stumbo and the Floyd fiscal court to seek recommendations for next year's rural road programs.

The recommendations will be used in deciding how best to use money allocated to be spent by the state in this county during the year which begins next July 1. Nearly one-third of the revenue that comes into the state road fund each year goes to support the two rural programs. These are divided among the state's 120 counties by a formula which takes into account rural area, rural population and rural road mileage.

In a statement from Highway Commissioner Henry Ward, read at the meeting, it was pointed out that the Department seeks full cooperation of the fiscal court in discharging the state's responsibility under the law for the development and administration of both programs.

The county road aid program is based on a $10 million annual appropriation. The rural secondary program is expected to get $23 million next year, the entire yield from two cents of the state's seven-cent gasoline tax.

Ward's statement said that the Department aims to have programs for each of the counties worked out by January 1, to allow ample time for re-review and approval before the beginning of the work season next spring.

MUD CREEK GETS GRANT

OEO Adds $18,710 To Governor's $5,000 For Drilling of Wells

Offices of both Senator Cooper and Congressman Perkins notified The Times Tuesday that the Office of Economic Opportunity had authorized a grant of $18,710 to the Big Sandy Community Action Program to help relieve the Mud Creek water shortage.

The grant supplements the $5,000 recently appropriated for the same cause by Governor Breathitt from his emergency fund.

The total of $23,710 will be used in the drilling of water wells in an effort to meet temporary needs. Both Cooper and Perkins pointed out that work will continue toward procuring for the Mud Creek area a permanent water system.

Funds made available by OEO and Governor Breathitt may not finance the drilling of more than 30 wells and equip each so that the water supply will be kept uncontaminated.

New 'Acquaintances' Here Last Saturday

Raymond Newsome, of Michigan, and his 21-year-old son, Dennis Ollie Newsome, of Ohio, whom he had never seen until three weeks ago, were in Prestonsburg last Saturday.

Newsome said he had never previously known that he had such a son. He said he and his wife, Goldie Mae Ousley Newsome, were divorced February 13, 1946 in an action in which he never received notice or summons. He now is seeking information to ascertain just what happened.

THARP TRIAL NEARING END

Defendant Is Accused Of Murdering His Wife And Her Sister, Dec. 23

Trial of Jennings Greenleaf Tharp, 59-year-old Lexington bartender, on charges of murdering his wife and sister-in-law, former Lackey women, is under way in the Fayette circuit court this week and was nearing its conclusion today (Thursday).

Floyd countians called as witnesses in the case included Mrs. Lanie Jones Terry, of Lackey, sister of the slain women, and Jesse Hopper.

Prosecution testimony contended Tharp was enamored of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Gloria Thompson, 30, who was shot to death in the basement of the Tharp home in Lexington last December 23 at the same time Mrs. Tharp, 48, was slain. A psychiatrist testified Tharp showed no evidence of mental illness or defect. An officer said Tharp told him, "They had been drinking and I lost my head."

Testifying in his own behalf Wednesday, Tharp said he did not remember the actual shooting. He claimed the two women attempted to kill him. A son told of a red mark on his father's neck, the day after the shooting, thus corroborating the claim that Tharp had been seized by the throat in an alleged attempt to kill him.

Faulty Writ Wins Burchett Dismissal On Whiskey Charge

The liquor charge against Willard Burchett was dismissed in quarterly court Monday when it was established by the defense that the search warrant was illegal.

Illegality of the search warrant was established when it was shown that it was issued by Trial Commissioner Glenn C. Burchett to Sheriff Joe W. Lewis at a time when County Judge Henry Stumbo was not absent from the county.

The trial commissioner said neither he nor Sheriff Lewis knew where Judge Stumbo was at the time the search warrant was issued. One or more convictions in this county last year were reversed on the grounds that the search warrants were (See Story No. 7, Page 3)

RETRIAL SEEN FOR JARRELL

At November Session; Guilty Burglary Pleas Result in 4-Year Terms

The second trial of Russell Jarrell for the slaying of his brother-in-law, Darwin Music, will be held during the November term of circuit court, Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo said Wednesday.

His first trial ended last Wednesday night in the jury's dismissal as hopelessly disagreed. This resume of testimony during last week's hearing was given:

The widow of the slain man testified that she and her husband went to the Jarrell home on Cow Creek and that her husband asked Jarrell, her brother, why he did not send Chester Green Jarrell to Prestonsburg to get him out of jail. Told by Jarrell that he failed to do so because his truck was torn up, (See Story No. 2, Page 8)

The public is invited and all members of the church are urged to lend their support.

FUND DRIVE START HERE IS PLANNED

Higher Production Planned for Plant To Employ 80 More

A representative of the U. S. Shoe Company said here this week that he will recommend to his firm a new site for the plant which is to be built in the vicinity of Lancer.

At the same time an engineer representing the firm told Mayor George P. Archer and others that the plant has been enlarged before it was started, since the production schedule of 5,000 pairs of women's shoes a day has been increased to 6,000. That, he said, will mean the employment of an additional 80 persons.

The site for which a preference was expressed is 3.2 acres of land on the Bud Garrett farm, in the vicinity of the original choice. An option to sell the tract was signed by Mr. Garrett to expire at the end of two weeks. The price was set at $14,000.

The plant site first selected was owned by Dr. Archer, Ed Music and others, and was priced at $20,000.

Mayor Archer said he hopes the company will accept the Garrett location, mainly because building of the plant there will mean 1.2 miles less of water main to be laid to the plant.

Department of Highway officials joined the party touring the prospective sites this week. They told officials the department will build an access road to which ever location the company selects.

P'burg High School Senior Merit Award Semi-Finalist

Woodrow Allen, principal of Prestonsburg high school, has announced that a senior at the school has been named a semifinalist in the 1966-'67 Merit Scholarship competition.

The student cited for his high achievement is Walter Wells May, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. May, of Prestonsburg.

He is among the highest-scoring students in the state of Kentucky on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test, administered last spring in 17,500 schools, nationwide. More than 14,000 semifinalists were appointed across the country.

The semifinalists can advance to finalist status by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their qualifying test performance on a second examination, and submitting information about their achievements and interests. All Merit Scholars for 1967 will then be selected from the finalist group.

Semifinalists are representative of the country's most intellectually able young people, according to John M. Stalnak, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. "From them will come much of our future leadership," he said.

High school grades, creative accomplishments, leadership activities, and school citizenship of the students are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholars.

Each Merit Scholarship is a four-year award covering the undergraduate years of college. (See Story No. 5, Page 8)

Sky Lift To Operate At Park on Week-Ends Throughout October

It all isn't as drear as this may sound.

The picture has changed this month at Jenny Wiley State Park and Dewey Lake. Most of the crowds are gone. The bathing beach is closed; the skiers gone—perhaps to get rubber suits. Boating for boating's sake is no longer popular. Only a few of the hardier souls are still camping.

The lake is high from recent and steady rains, and most of it is muddy. The golf course was temporarily closed this week because water stood on the fairways.

But the most beautiful days of the year are ahead at the park, and the Sky Lift will be operated through the five week-ends of October (Saturdays and Sundays).

"If we get the normal bright, crisp October weather, a lot of people will be waiting to get a view of the hills in their fall colors from the top of the mountain." Ed Music, one of the founders of the Sky Lift development, said this week.

Floyd-Co. Clubwomen To Have Leading Roles In Minor House Benefit

When the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs presents its style show at 12 noon Oct. 11 at Lookout House, Covington, Floyd county clubs will be well-represented.

The style show will be staged for the benefit of Jewel Manor, the KFWC-sponsored rehabilitation center for delinquent girls. Mrs. R. V. May, of Prestonsburg, is Kentucky chairman of the Jewel Manor committee, and two Floyd county clubwomen—Mrs. Harris S. Howard, of Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Nick A. Cooley, of Drift—will participate at the fashion revue as models. Other models will be Mrs. Edward T. Breathitt, KFWC President Mrs. C. C. Lowery, Mrs. W. E. Hamilton and Mrs. Adron Doran, past presidents.

Jewel Manor will be built at Lyndon, Ky., and operated by the Kentucky Child Welfare Department. The structure will be advertised for contractors' bids, Oct. 7.

faulty because they were not issued by Judge Stumbo, who was in the county at the time.

Trial Commissioner Burchett said new state law permits a trial commissioner to issue a search warrant even when the regular judge is in the county, but no order authorizing him to do so had been entered at the time the warrant for Willard Burchett was issued. The order was officially entered, Tuesday.

Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce members and other interested citizens met Wednesday evening to plan a drive to raise funds for the purchase of the plant site. The City Council will issue revenue bonds to cover the $900,000 cost of plant construction and equipping, with U. S. Shoe signing a 15-year lease under terms of which the rentals will retire the bond issue.

Retired Driller Dies Friday at Age of 80 After Long Illness

Sidney Sutphin, 80, of Prestonsburg, died last Friday at the Prestonsburg General hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Sutphin was until his retirement a driller in the Eastern Kentucky oil and gas field. He came to this county in 1913 from Pin Oak, W. Va. Born May 12, 1886, he was a son of Leander and Elmira Reynolds Sutphin. He was a member for 35 years of James W. Alley Masonic Lodge at Wayland and an associate member of Zebulon Lodge here.

His widow, Mrs. Willie Meador Sutphin, with whom he observed their 16th wedding anniversary last May 19, survives, as do three daughters and one son, Mrs. Eva Price, Johnson City, Tenn., Mrs. Beulah Meagher and Miss Bernice Sutphin, both of Cincinnati, O., and Sidney Sutphin, Jr., of Lexington. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Allie Wall, Peterstown, W. Va., five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

His funeral was conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. from the chapel of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home, the Rev. Adrian J. Roberts officiating. Burial was made in the Richmond cemetery here.

Player-of-the-Week

The Black Cat Player-of-the-Week award for the Prestonsburg-Pikeville football game has been awarded by Francis Stores to John Webb, junior guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Webb, of Allen. The selection for the weekly award is made for Francis Stores by a secret committee.

WELLS-ANDERSON VOWS SAID

The wedding of Miss Helen Louise Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Wells, of Lancer, and Mr. Glenn S. Anderson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Anderson, of Prestonsburg, was solemnized at 7 p.m., Saturday, July 30, at the Presbyterian Church, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

The Rev. Cohen Campbell officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The Rev. T. W. Chisholm pronounced the benediction.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Chalmer H. Frazier, organist, and Randall Wells, soloist, cousin of the bride.

Tapers were lit by Barkley J. Sturgill and Doug Hyden.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, had as her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Brenda Thornsby. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Raymond D. Wells, of Inez, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Paul Stepp and Mrs. John G. Anderson, sister-in-law of the groom. The flower girl was Miss Anita Thornsby, niece of the bride.

Mr. Anderson served his son as best man. Ushers, besides Mr. Sturgill and Mr. Hyden, were Dr. Raymond D. Wells, of Inez, brother of the bride, and John Grant Anderson, brother of the groom.

A reception was held at the church, immediately following the wedding. Mrs. Barkley J. Sturgill, Mrs. Doug Garrett, Mrs. Amram Garrett, Mrs. Dave Gillespie, Mrs. Raymond Hall, Mrs. Warren Blanton, and Mrs. Larry Garrett assisted.

After a wedding trip to Euckhorn State Park, the couple is living on South Lake Drive here.

Mrs. Anderson is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school and attended Morehead State College. She is employed in Dr. James D. Adams' office at the Prestonsburg General hospital.

Mr. Anderson was graduated from Prestonsburg high school and Eastern Kentucky State University. He is manager of the Progressive Insurance Agency here.

The Full Facts About Savings

There has been so much talk about Savings, Certificates of Deposit, Bank Savings Bonds, Savings Notes, Savings Certificates, Time Certificates, Income Certificates and Investment Certificates . . . that the general public appears to be somewhat confused. This advertisement, published in the public interest, states the full facts about savings in the hope that it will answer any questions which may have existed in your mind.

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Everyone should have a bank savings account. Savings are essential to meet emergencies and to provide individuals and families with immediate funds when they are wanted. It is more convenient to keep your savings where you can also have your checking account, obtain all kinds of loans and have available the wide range of facilities of a full service bank. It is easier to save by making regular deposits or by having a certain amount automatically transferred from your checking to your savings account. The deposits of each customer of an insured bank are protected up to $10,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. This amount can be increased, however, by maintaining multiple accounts. Thus, a husband and wife can insure up to $30,000 and a husband, wife and child, up to $70,000.

A bank savings account is there when you need it and offers maximum flexibility with a fair return of interest. How do these accounts work in various banks?

Rate of Interest: Banks are permitted by regulation to pay a maximum interest rate of 4% per annum. Some banks pay 2½%; some, 3%; some, 3½%; some 4%. The Bank Josephine pays 4%.

Method of Computation: Some banks pay interest on the lowest balance during the interest period. (You do not get interest on funds deposited all during the interest period, and any withdrawal eliminates all interest for the period on those funds withdrawn.) Some banks pay interest from day of deposit if the funds stay in your account until the end of that period or in some cases the following period. (Any withdrawals made eliminates all interest for the period on those funds withdrawn.)

Interest is computed by The Bank Josephine for each month on the highest continuous balance. Withdrawals from your account eliminates interest only for the month on those funds withdrawn. The Bank Josephine's Automatic Savings service enables customers to transfer funds regularly from their checking accounts . . . and they get interest on their savings from date of transfer.

Grace Period: Under banking regulations a grace period of 10 days or less is permitted at the beginning of the interest period during which deposits made draw interest from the first of that month. All deposits made to your Bank Josephine savings account on or before the 10th of the month earn interest from the 1st . . . this month and every month.

Interval of Payment: Some banks pay interest semi-annually, some quarterly, some monthly. The Bank Josephine pays interest semi-annually, and is automatically credited to your account on June 1 and December 1. If you need your interest for living expenses, you can go to the bank and get it. If you want to close your account, you don't have to wait 6 months or 3 months but can close it at the end of any month without losing any interest you are due.

Compounding: Normally interest is compounded at the same interval at which it is paid. This means that you start getting interest on the interest that has been paid to date. Thus, your Bank Josephine savings account earns interest at 4% compounded semi-annually.

Bank Josephine Savings Account: Our accounts earn interest at a 4% rate, the highest rate allowed by law, and is automatically credited on June 1 and December 1. We sincerely believe The Bank Josephine's is as good as any savings account plan offered by any bank anywhere. We invite comparison. If you have any questions on your Bank Josephine account or your savings program at any other institution, stop in at The Bank Josephine's main office in Prestonsburg or our branch in Allen and let us discuss your savings needs.

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT

Bank Savings Bonds, Savings Notes, Savings Certificates, Time Certificates, Income Certificates, Investment Certificates . . . no matter what a bank calls them . . . are for all practical purposes Certificates of Deposit, or C-D's, as they are commonly called. They are deposits and, therefore, each depositor is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Despite the fact that at times C-D's earn a higher rate of interest than savings accounts, unless you have sizeable funds to invest or unless you are certain that you won't need to withdraw your funds for a fixed period of time, you have more flexibility and, therefore, are better off with a bank savings account. How do C-D's work and what is offered by various banks?

Time Period: The customer purchasing C-D's agrees to leave his funds on deposit . . . not less than 30 days, more often 90 days or more. By regulation, C-D's are cashed prior to maturity only in the event of real emergency. In such event, all accrued interest for up to 90 days must be forfeited. It is a violation of Federal Regulations by the bank and the customer if C-D's are redeemed prior to maturity without true emergency. Unless C-D's are automatically renewable, interest stops accruing at maturity and the customer has 10 days to renew his C-D without loss of interest.

Rate of Interest: Under regulations, a maximum rate of interest of 5½% is permissible on C-D's. However, the first responsibility of a bank is to be sound by providing safety and liquidity to protect its depositors; in determining the interest rate which a bank can afford to pay, soundness must be controlling as well as regulations. Rates on C-D's are usually negotiated between the bank and the customer and as a general rule the longer the customer agrees to leave his money on deposit the higher the rate of interest.

C-D Rate Fluctuation: C-D interest rates are subject to more frequent fluctuation than those of savings accounts. Of necessity, C-D rates fluctuate with the economy. In addition, one bank may have a greater demand for loans from time to time than another; therefore, the interest rates which they are able to pay on C-D's vary rather frequently between banks themselves.

Various Plans Offered: Banks in the nation, including some of those in Kentucky, offer C-D's calling them Bank Savings Bonds, Savings Notes, Savings Certificates, Time Certificates, Income Certificates, Investment Certificates. Various rates are specified . . . 4%, 4.25%, 4.50, 4.75, 4.80, 5%. Some of these guarantee a rate if held a year or more, with no interest if cashed earlier. Some can be cashed at the end of each 90-day period without loss of interest. Some require 90-day written notice by the customer to the bank. Some have definite maturity. Some are automatically renewable. Some of these plans are excellent although any pre-planned package has limitations and does not necessarily fit every investment situation. The only way to make certain that a C-D fits your particular investment needs is to examine the C-D instrument itself and to determine its features and its drawbacks. Any Bank Josephine officer will be pleased to review and explain any C-D you hold or any plan you are considering.

Bank Josephine Certificate of Deposit: The Bank Josephine does not have one plan or plans from which to choose. We feel that the investment of sizeable funds by our customers is important enough for personal attention. Our emphasis is on investment needs of the individual and we can tailor Certificates of Deposit to meet these needs. Yes, The Bank Josephine offers C-D's from 30 days out to several months, and they provide an automatic renewal provision. Yes, they can provide monthly, quarterly or semi-annual income or be on a growth basis with interest deferred to maturity. Yes, The Bank Josephine is generally competitive with other banks. If you have funds to invest in C-D's, stop in at The Bank Josephine's main office in Prestonsburg or our branch in Allen and let us discuss your individual investment needs.

YOU have Good Neighbor banking friends at The Bank Josephine to give you straight facts and figures on all savings plans that might suit your needs—and there is no obligation!

IS IT TIME TO RENEW YOUR DRIVER'S LICENCE?

active in the Wet cause. It is claimed that, as a result of a conspiracy with contestants, the majority on the Election Commission named two judges at Weeksbury who favored Wet cause. The vote there was 167 Wet, 44 Dry.

So widespread was the alleged fraud, intimidation and illegal voting at Melvin, Antioch, Jack's Creek and Weeksbury precincts that the court is asked to throw out the entire election there. The counter-suit asks that contestants' suit be dismissed, that they be held in violation of the Corrupt Practices Act and therefore not entitled to maintain their cause of action. The answer denies charges of illegal voting, fraud and intimidation as alleged against the Drys by contestants.

In all, names of 934 voters were listed by precincts as having voted illegally for the Wets.

The precinct figures on those alleged to have voted in precincts where they were not legal residents:

- Prestonsburg No. 1, 11; Prestonsburg No. 2, 5; Depot, 13; Richmond, 28; Cliff, 17; Porter, 10; Cow Creek, 4; Mouth Beaver, 3; Jim Banks, 4; Maytown, 9; Boscoe, 14; Garrett, 10; Wayland, 27; Martin, 18; Halbert, 10; John Ant, 41; Gearheart, 2; Lee Hall, 81; Melvin, 23; Lackey, 2; Drift, 7; Antioch, 1; Tickey, 8; Toler, 1; Mouth Mud, 3; Little Mud, 3; Betsy Layne, 8; Rock Fork, 10; Abbott, 2; Weeksbury, 2; Jack's Creek, 10.

The figures on those alleged to have voted illegally because they received assistance in casting their votes, permitting election officers to help with their voting without making or signing the oath required by law:

- Depot, 6; Cliff, 1; Porter, 5; John Possum, 4; Martin, 3; Gearheart, 1; Clear Creek, 4; Melvin, 193; Antioch, 233; Tickey, 12; Little Mud, 4; Ivel, 18; Betsy Layne, 7; Toler, 5; Branham's Creek, 10; Garrett, 2.

Thirteen married women who had not changed their names on the registration books were illegally permitted to vote, it was claimed, and 26 persons not registered at the County Clerk's office or elsewhere likewise were permitted to vote in 11 precincts, according to the counter-suit.

Other allegations:

One man at Garrett and another at Halbert voted twice; two did not vote at Martin but their votes were recorded, or if they did vote they did not sign the comparative signature book, and the same violation was claimed at Little Mud, precinct. In Jack's Creek precinct two did not vote or failed to sign the signature book, but some person unknown to contestee signed the names of Hilda and Jim Millen to the signature book and undertook to vote for them.

It also was alleged that: In Garrett one man voted who had been convicted of a felony and had not had his civil rights restored to him. In Tickey precinct H. H. Hamilton was challenged, the challenge was upheld, and some person later cast his vote for him. In the same precinct Richard Akers did not vote but was in an auto near the polling place. Somebody voted for him. Neither signed the comparative signature book. The name of Willie Williams was forged on the signature book there and a ballot procured.

In Clear Creek 259 signed the comparative signature book. Two hundred sixty-two votes were counted as having been cast there. At Martin precinct a voter was challenged on the grounds that he lived outside the precinct, then remained in the polling place about 40 minutes, refusing to leave and causing a long line of voters to form, many leaving. The situation was cleared only when a policeman was called. Another man blocked the entrance to the voting place and informed a woman she was not going to vote and later blocked her entrance when she returned to vote.

It also was alleged that Wet forces were in control and dominated the selection of election officers because two of the three members of the Election Commission were

Ballard Boyd, 47, Is Claimed Sunday At Pikeville Hospital

Ballard C. Boyd, 47 years old, of Allen, died Sunday at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, following an illness of several months.

Mr. Boyd was a veteran of World War II and was a member of the American Legion. He was a son of Mrs. Ella Lowe Boyd, of Harold, and the late Dan Boyd. His wife, Mrs. Opal Marie Owens Boyd, survives.

Surviving, besides his widow, are two sons, Ballard C. Boyd, Jr., of the U.S. Navy, and Mitchell Anthony Boyd, of Allen; four daughters, Iodelle Marie, Lydia, Terry Lynn and Sherry Lee Boyd, all at home; one step-daughter, Mrs. Clara Mae Fowler, Birmingham, Alabama; three brothers, Ralph Boyd, of Columbus, Ohio, Orman Boyd, of Harold, Donald Boyd, Ypsilanti, Michigan, and two sisters, Mrs. Thelma Hale, of Harold, and Miss Carmen Boyd, Columbus, Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 1 p.m. from the chapel of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home, the Rev. Earl Waugh officiating. Burial was made in the Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel.

Mrs. Martha Tackett Dies In 77th Year At Craynor Home

Mrs. Martha Ellen Tackett, 76 years old, died Sunday at her home at Craynor after a year's illness.

She was a member of the Regular Baptist Church for 40 years. Mrs. Tackett was a daughter of the late Ambers and Palina White and was the widow of Andy Tackett.

Survivors include three sons, Walker and Azzie Tackett, both of Teaberry, and Acie Tackett, of Craynor; three daughters, Mrs. Lacy Tackett and Mrs. Fanny Martin, both of Craynor, Mrs. Rhoda Hamilton, of Teaberry; two sisters, Mrs. Nancy McKinney, of Craynor, and Mrs. Alice Howell, of Pike county.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the home of Walker Tackett, ministers of the Regular Baptist Church officiating. Burial in the Noah Newsome cemetery at Craynor was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Notice To Bidders

Is The Red River Impoundment A Colossal Mistake?

(An editorial in The Elliott County News)
A look at the long range plans of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in regard to flood control impoundments reveals now that most Kentucky rivers and larger creeks will be impounded within the next 20 years.

And on streams too small to interest the Army Engineers, other governmental agencies have plans for "watershed improvement."

The two programs are good . . . good, in a general way, maybe. But it is possible for a good thing to be carried too far.

The planned impoundment on Red River will flood the scenic gorge and "land of natural bridges," and eliminate the road through part of the gorge, thus limiting the real scenic part of Red River to boat travel alone. This area has probably the highest scenic value and tourist potential of any area east of the Mississippi.

Also the Red River dam will eliminate—(1) the best beaver population in the eastern part of the state, a population that is causing no crop damage; (2) trout fishing in Swift Camp Creek and trout potential in Chimney Top Creek, Gladie and Indian Creek; (3) a bottomland wildlife habitat which now supports one of Eastern Kentucky's best wild turkey flocks and a fine deer herd; and (4) excellent stream fishing for bass, muskies, etc.

But even of more value is the area's rugged natural beauty, the most beautiful such area in the eastern part of the nation.

These values cannot be replaced, once they are destroyed. They are present now, but will be lost after the reservoir is built.

The announced purpose of the Red River Reservoir is to provide reserve summer flowage in Kentucky River for downstream use of cities. What this means for the Red River impoundment itself is that a reservoir full of water will be held during rainy season, when water is surplus, and let out during the dry season when it would be most desirable to hold a high reservoir level. In other words, water values in Red River itself would be sacrificed for the benefit of cities downstream on the Kentucky. This purpose is good . . . or, is it?

Yes, if one lives in Lexington or Frankfort, it's good. Or if you operate a plant on the Kentucky River that needs a lot of water year round.

But why do they have to impound the most beautiful stream in Kentucky? Kentucky River has three major tributaries—the North Fork, South Fork and Middle Fork, and these have tributaries that are small rivers in themselves. Surely, somewhere in this vast drainage area a reservoir site could be found that would serve the same purpose—without destroying the most ruggedly beautiful stream in the state.

Even if the Red River impoundment is essential—an assumption we strongly doubt to be true—why must the scenic gorge be flooded rather than an upstream site or downstream site? This question deserves an adequate and feasible answer, and more justification than has been shown.

Only a fraction of the $9 or $10 million to be spent on the Red River impoundment would be enough to clear Red River's channel of silt and garbage litterings and build access roads. If this were done, and the impoundment forgotten, the area would emerge as a recreational area to compete with, and probably even surpass, the Smoky Mountain National Park.

Moreover, we now think that someone should be making plans to set aside two or three Kentucky streams to be preserved in their natural state, free of dams and other man-made "improvements." Surely, with all of our thousands of miles of waterways, we can afford to preserve one or two creeks or rivers for our grandchildren to see. If we can't afford this . . . then we can't. But if we can, then Red River should be the one preserved.

The Red River impoundment is a mistake—a costly, destructive mistake. Sooner or later, probably within a decade after construction, people will wake up and realize this. Why not NOW?

LIBRARY NEWS

By HOMER LEE HALL Regional Librarian

The Floyd County Library has added The Living Bible, an album of twelve records, to its record collection.

The incomparable words of the Old Testament have been recorded by Sir Laurence Olivier. This, in itself, makes the album one of the finest achievements in recorded sound.

As a background to the masterpiece, there is music derived from ancient Hebrew sources. This superb musical tapestry from the Holy Land was made possible by a team of artists, musicologists and technicians who spent several months in Israel, searching for previously unearched folk-music and chants which had never before been recorded. Countless rare scores and manuscripts were brought back to Britain, leading Israeli commissioned to write new works and world-famous orchestras, conductors, soloists and choral groups, were assembled and took part in the project. The Living Bible has taken more than three years to produce.

The Living Bible will be an unforgettable experience for everyone and will be especially pleasing to those persons having difficulty reading, due to condition of eyes or lack of reading ability.

The library has an excellent collection of religious material and all citizens are encouraged to borrow this material, free of charge.

Left Beaver Squad Helps Stage Program

Price, Ky.—The Left Beaver Civil Defense and Rescue Squad of Price furnished 21 of its members to stage a Safety Day program at Pikeville for the Big Sandy Elkhorn Coal Institute, September 24. An airplane flew low over the Pikeville area and supposedly crashed into the high school building. Immediately, the Left Beaver Squad went into action. Four squad vehicles took the rescuers to the scene, and in a period of 37 minutes 12 simulated casualties were brought out of and from on top of the building. Some casualties were lowered with rope and baskets from the 60-foot building. Others were brought out of windows and lowered from the second and third floors on ladders. All types of injuries were treated. The patients had been indoctrinated and "made up" beforehand by Willard Stanley, of the department of Mines and Minerals, who is a member of the Left Beaver Squad. Through the efforts of Mr. Stanley, Left Beaver was the first unit in this area trained in high-duty rescue, and since the training period has participated in three simulated disasters. The first was at McDowell, the second at Prestonsburg, and the third at Pikeville for the Safety Day program.

Ballard Hall Dies Day Brother, Albert, Buried at Bevinville

Two Floyd county brothers, residents of Left Beaver Creek, died last week within a period of two days.

Albert (Sweets) Hall, 63, succumbed last Thursday at his Bevinville residence to pneumonia following an illness from a lung ailment. He was buried Saturday morning, and that afternoon his brother, Ballard Hall, 60, of Hunter, died at the McDowell Appalachian hospital after an illness of four years.

They were sons of the late Marion and Anzy Newsome Hall and both were members of the Regular Baptist Church.

Albert Hall is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nannie Mullins Hall; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Alice Mullins and Linda Carol Hall, both of Bevinville.

His brother leaves his widow, Mrs. Carlisle Jones Hall, and five daughters, Mrs. Shelby Jean Williamson, of Germany, Mrs. Hester Pugh, Evaligh and Mary Jane Hall, all of Hunter, and Mrs. Anny Faye Byrd, Mt. Sterling, Kentucky. He also leaves four grandchildren.

The brothers are survived by two sisters, Mrs. Betty Bryant, of Printer, and Mrs. Minda Mullins, of McDowell, and two brothers, Marion Hall, Wheelwright, and Melvin Hall, Bevinville.

The funeral of Albert Hall was conducted from the residence by ministers of the Regular Baptist Church. Burial was in the Honey Camp cemetery on Jack's Creek. Rites for his brother were held today (Thursday) from his home by Regular Baptist ministers, and burial was made in the Will Hall cemetery at Bevinville.

Both funerals were directed by the Merion Funeral Chapel.

TO GET TV AID

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky will get $1.1 million from the Appalachian Regional Commission to start construction of the Eastern Kentucky part of its educational television network, according to Governor Edward T. Breathitt. The state will put up $1.4 million of the $3 million total cost of this part of the system. Educational broadcasts will begin in June, 1968, the Governor says.

P-T.A. PLANS 'PARTY' HERE FOR SCHOOL CUSTODIAN

This is news to Mont Gibson. Tomorrow (Friday) is his day.

The veteran custodian of the Prestonsburg elementary school has scheduled his retirement for that day, and that was to be done quietly. But the school's Parent-Teacher Association has planned for him a celebration party, and Mayor George P. Archer has proclaimed Friday Mont Gibson Day.

The party honoring Mr. Gibson will be held at 1:30 p.m., on the school playground, weather permitting. In the event of rain, it will be held indoors.

Mr. Gibson is retiring after 26 years as custodian at the school. The Parent-Teacher Association held that the high type of service performed deserved recognition, and it is inviting the boys and girls who now attend the school and have over the years been pupils there as well as parents, teachers, friends and neighbors of Mr. Gibson to attend.

Proclaiming Mont Gibson Day, Mayor Archer said, in part:

"Because of his loyal, faithful and dedicated service to

MARTIN

Rev. Leo Frankrone has returned from a three-week vacation spent in Canada. He was accompanied by Rev. Jerome Heuerman, of Georgetown. The two priests spent some time at The Basilica Ste. Anne De Beaurpie in Quebec. They had audience with the cardinal of Quebec and discussed affairs of church, especially ecumenism. Rev. J. Lubrecht replaced Father Frankrone here at St. Juliana while he was gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pride and children, of Anderson, Ind., were recent guests here of his sisters, Mrs. W. P. Newsome and Mrs. Sanford Ousley.

Mrs. Della Jackson, of West Alexandria, Ohio, spent part of the summer here with her nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Preflatish, and her sister, Betty Preflatish.

Estill Newsome and son Michael spent a most memorable time this summer at a Ship's Reunion in Sand Lake, Wisconsin. The event was a Father and Son Day for the men who had served on the U.S.S. Concord during World War II.

Mrs. Estill Newsome spent most of her summer vacation with her mother, Mrs. Judy Pride, in Charleston, W. Va., also visited her mother-in-law, Mrs. Orb Newsome, in Ohio.

The Ladies Altar Society met at the parish hall for their monthly meeting. A rummage sale was planned for about the middle of October and members were to attend the DCCW meeting to be held at May Lodge, October 4. Six members were present and were served a salad by their president, Mrs. Sophia Cahill. Other members present were Dr. Frances Sherman, Mrs. Duna Combs, Ollie Everage, Mrs. Virginia Brashear and Betty Preflatish. An attendance prize, a hand-made rosary, was received by Mrs. Ollie Everage.

Little George Barnett sustained an injury here this week-end when he was caught between a car and truck. He is in St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, W. Va., and his condition was reported as satisfactory.

Dr. Scott C. Osborne, professor at the University of Mississippi, has been the recent guest of his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Osborne, at her home here. He has returned to his teaching duties for the fall term.

Mrs. Rose Lynch spent her summer vacation this year with her brother, Estes Lawrence, and family, of Dayton, Ohio, in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch Branham, of Michigan, have been visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Nora Barnett has moved back to Martin to live. She has been away many years.

Mrs. Barnett Mullins, formerly of Martin, now Columbus, Ind., has been appointed to the staff of the new Columbus Convalescent Center. It was announced by the administrator, William Casady, of MEDCO, Inc. Mr. Casady said Mrs. Mullins' position would be that of receptionist and bookkeeper for the center. She was formerly with the Public Relations office in Columbus for 2½ years. The Mullinses have two children, Karen Lynn, a sophomore at Evansville College, and Gary, who is assistant retail manager for the Suffolk Sun on Long Island. Mrs. Mullins is a member of the East Columbus Methodist Church where she is a member of the official board and chairman of the commission on Missions. She is a niece of Betty Preflatish, of Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Skeans and daughter Kay were visiting her uncle, A. B. Bryant, at Hi Hat Sunday. He had just returned from Lexington, where he had repeat surgery.

CARD OF THANKS

May we take this means of thanking our friends and relatives upon the loss of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Vanderpool; Dr. George P. Archer and the nurses of Prestonsburg General hospital; our good neighbors and friends for the food, everyone for the beautiful flowers; Revs. Spencer and Pelphrey for their consoling words in our time of grief; the Spencer Quartet for the beautiful songs, and the Carter & Callahan Funeral Home for its efficient service.

ZIP Coding Help Offered By Postoffice During ZIP Code Week

Residents in Prestonsburg will be offered an opportunity to ZIP Code their mailing lists during October. Postmaster Jack Stumbo announced this week.

Letter carriers will deliver "no postage needed" cards to all of the residential delivery stops beginning October 10, the postmaster said. The cards will have blanks for addresses used most often, but for which individuals do not know the proper ZIP Code.

The project will be a feature of "ZIP Code Week," to be celebrated locally October 10-14. Throughout the nation 95,000,000 of the cards will be delivered. In cities with more than one ZIP Code, there will be two cards for each household—one for local addresses, the other card for out-of-town.

In rural areas and cities with one ZIP Code assigned, only an out-of-town card will be delivered since all local addresses will have the same ZIP Code.

After filling in the street number, city and state, the cards are to be mailed back to the postmaster. Postoffice personnel will add the proper ZIP Codes and return the cards to the sender.

Retired Estill Miner Passes Away Sunday At McDowell ARH

Mack Keeton, 74-year-old Estill resident, succumbed Sunday at the McDowell Appalachian Regional hospital to an illness of three years.

A retired miner, he was a former employee of the Glo Coal Company. He was a member of the Church of God.

Mr. Keeton was the son of the late Berry and Polly Jane Keeton. He was the husband of Mrs. Shellie Smith Keeton, who survives.

Also surviving are a son, Ernest Keeton, of Pontiac, Michigan; three daughters, Mrs. Ethel Wallen, of Mousie, Mrs. Pat Marcum, Pontiac, Michigan, and Mrs. Elsie Watkins, of Estill; two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Howard and Mrs. Dema Barnes, both of Mt. Sterling.

The funeral was held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Martin Branch Free Will Baptist Church, the Revs. Dillard Reed and Johnny Ramey officiating. Burial was made in the Triplett cemetery at Lackey under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

DDT AND ITS MENACE TO WILDLIFE

A bill is now pending before Congress to ban the sale of DDT in the U.S. The bill was introduced by Senator Nelson and deserves the support of all persons interested in the conservation of birds and animals.

DDT has been tried out since about 1944 and has proved to be a deadly and dangerous spray to use. It was hailed as a killer of mosquitoes, and it surely did. It also killed every other insect; it killed the honey bees, the bumblebees, the predators such as praying mantis and the dragonflies. It killed every insect wherever used, and when it was sprayed on bays, coasts, or lakes, it killed the oysters, the lobsters, the shrimps, the hermit crabs, the fiddler crabs. It killed nearly all the life in the water except the fish. It poisoned these until they were unsafe for birds and animals to eat. The animals which ate the poisoned fish were either killed or made sterile.

DDT is the most dangerous of all insecticides. The formula for it was developed by a German scientist, who let a Swiss chemical company have it for making the deadly insecticide. It would have been better for this powerful poison to have remained on the other side of the ocean.

Walls sprayed with DDT will kill a fly within three months after used, if the fly alights on the wall. Clothing sprayed with DDT for lice will kill the lice for two months afterwards, and even laundering cannot destroy its power.

THE DANGEROUS CHEMICALS IN DDT. One of these is sulphuric acid, and any chemical student knows what a corrosive liquid this is. Put any substance in it and it will break it down and dissolve it. It is made from burning sulphur and everybody knows how burning sulphur used in a house to fumigate it will kill anything, and quickly.

In DDT there is also chloral hydrate, which is a powerful sedative. In medicine it is used to stop pain or to put people to sleep. It is strong enough in DDT to put anything to sleep permanently.

Other dangerous chemicals in DDT are benzene and chlorine. Benzene is a colorless liquid distilled from coal tar; chlorine is one of the most deadly gases known. All these dangerous chemicals go into the formula for DDT.

The World Book Encyclopedia says, "In large doses DDT has a poisonous effect on human beings and should be used with great care."

When DDT first came around a certain housewife I knew bought a supply to spray the walls of her house. Someone had told her it would kill flies for months after being used. So she sprayed the walls thoroughly, then closed the doors and went to bed. The next day she was found dead.

DDT is a deadly nerve poison and can accumulate in human or animal tissues. Enough of it produces sterility in humans and animals. That's where its danger comes in. Birds and animals that eat the poisoned insects or fish are made sterile. Many species of birds have been killed outright from eating the poisoned insects. How long will we remain blind to the dangers of using such a powerful insecticide?

This insecticide was first used by the U.S. Army in 1944 to spray people infected with lice, to stop the spread of typhus fever. It was used by the U.S. soldiers in Italy and North Africa. Little children were lined up and their clothing sprayed with DDT. It killed every louse on them and stopped the typhus plague. That was in 1944, more than 20 years ago. I wonder today how many of those children are sterile. But maybe it doesn't matter—they were a low class of foreigners infested with lice.

I am fully convinced that DDT is a menace to wildlife; it destroys our birds and our most valuable insects, as well as the pests.

CLUB PLANS FALL FAIR

The Drift Woman's Club met September 19 at the home of Mrs. I. E. Reed. Mrs. Ben Martin, president, presided. Mrs. C. J. Cahill gave the devotional and pledge to the flag.

Members present were Mrs. C. J. Cahill, Mrs. Bill Hoffman, Miss Jane Hoffman, Mrs. Belford Reitz, Mrs. Roger Castle, Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo, Mrs. Nick Cooley, Miss Ruby Akers, Mrs. Ronald Turner, Mrs. W. L. Reed, Mrs. I. E. Reed, Mrs. Ben Martin, Mrs. Sam Martin and guest Mrs. Curtis Carter.

Plans were made for the fall fair to be held October 1 from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Drift ball park.

A reconciliation statement was given by the new treasurer, Linda Turner.

Miss Ruby Akers, program chairman and her committee members, Anna Hoffman and Sophia Cahill, reported on the proposed Constitution.

The next meeting will be held October 3 at the Turner Elkhorn office, with Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo as hostess.

WRIT NAMES TEACHER

Gary Wright told The Times this week that his wife, Dorothy Sue Wright, had sworn out an assault and battery warrant for the arrest of Bobby Crager, physical education instructor in the schools here. The warrant alleged that on September 21 Crager beat her son, Gary Michael, 11, with a piece of wood or paddle, causing bruises so severe that the boy was unable to attend school, the following day.

IVEL

Mrs. Halleck Hamilton, of Ragland, West Virginia, was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Everett Adkins, and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earle Butler, of Hager Hill. She will visit relatives in Morgan county before returning home.

Among those who attended the funeral of Elmer Darby, of Ashland, last week were Chester and Morgan Layne, John N. Stratton, Mrs. Goldia Hall, and Mrs. Nannie Lou Adkins.

Ethel Ratliff, of Allen, visited her aunt, Georgia Damron Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor, Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. W. M. James, who has been sick, is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. James Green, of Knott county, are now occupying the house of Mrs. Rebecca Morris. Mr. Green is a Fuller Brush representative.

Mrs. Bob Damron visited friends and relatives at Prestonsburg last week.

Mrs. Hattie Gobel, of Tram, was the Sunday evening guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Taylor.

Mrs. Latt Damron has returned to her home here after a few weeks' visit with her son, Ralph Damron, in Ohio.

ETHEL KENNEDY'S BROTHER BURIED IN CONNECTICUT
 Greenwich, Conn.—Funeral services were held Wednesday for George Shakel, Jr., 47, brother-in-law of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y. Shakel and four other persons were killed on a hunting trip last Friday when their light plane crashed in Idaho.

Command Performance Camaro By Chevrolet

Camaro Sport Coupe with style trim group you can add.

You've been waiting for a Chevrolet like this. Now it's here.

Big-car stance: wide, wide tread measures 59" between wheels for self-assured cornering.

It's Camaro, the new driving machine by Chevrolet. Look! Long, low hood. Short rear deck. Forceful profile. Come on. Buckle yourself into that slender Strato-bucket seat. Fire up a 140-hp Six or the 210-hp V8 (depending on model). Check the rearview mirror and move out. Camaro gives you a car full of comforts from carpeting on the floor to vinyl upholstery all around. There's a lot of security, too: dual master cylinder brake system with warning light; GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column; four-way hazard warning flasher; and folding front seat back latches among other things. Camaro—your idea of a car! Sport coupe or convertible. The Rally Sport, with hideaway headlights and more. SS 350: Camaro's biggest V8, bulging hood, bold striping, red stripe tires. Ask for the custom interior. Strato-back front seat for three, stereo tape system, air conditioning or whatever. Camaro: the Chevrolet you've waited for. See your Chevrolet dealer now!

You want a driving machine that's low and long and with hideaway headlights, maybe, or a rally stripe round the front end? Come see Camaro. You want a car that eats road, but all in one smooth and steady chunk? Come drive Camaro. You want all the driving excitement you can get? Come price Camaro. And see how it fits your budget.

Everything New That Could Happen . . . Happened! Now, at Your Chevrolet Dealer's!

Music remarked that he was through with Jarrell. Jarrell retorted, she said, "That's fine with me." Her husband walked outside toward his car in which Oakley Harless and Chester Green Jarrell sat; Jarrell stepped to the door and fired a .22-calibre bullet into Music's chest. She also testified that before Jarrell walked onto the porch he called for cartridges for the rifle.

Young Harless' account of what happened outside the building closely followed that of Mrs. Music.

Jarrell denied asking for the cartridges and explained that the rifle had been left at the side of the door, the preceding day, when he and his wife had taken the weapon from their young son. He said Music began cursing him and that he picked up the gun, to frighten Music as the latter picked up a rock. He added that Mrs. Music grappled with him for possession of the gun and that it was accidentally fired during the tussle, the bullet striking Music.

His wife's story corroborated his.

In rebuttal State Detective Chester D. Potter testified that Mrs. Jarrell, soon after the shooting, made a statement to the effect that her husband got the gun and shot her brother. She had earlier denied making such a statement.

Frank Dimele and Harold Davidson pleaded guilty last Friday to a charge of burglarizing the home of John W. James and each was given a four-year pen term. They were immediately sentenced. The two, residents of New York, were said by officers to be wanted in other states.

The grand jury will resume its work Friday, day before adjournment of the criminal term.

American General Honors Schroeder

J. Phillip Schroeder, manager of the Potomac Agency, American General Life Insurance Company, was recently honored by his company for achievement in two categories. Mr. Schroeder, a former resident of Prestonsburg, successfully completed all parts of the Chartered Life Underwriter examinations, and is now qualified CLU. He will receive his designation at conferment exercises to be held at the annual meeting of the National Association of Life Underwriters in New Orleans on September 25.

In addition to qualifying for the CLU designation, Mr. Schroeder was recently elected to his company's managers' advisory committee, one of the highest honors awarded to American General field managers. He was elected to this honor at the company's sales seminar in Houston, and in commenting on Mr. Schroeder's accomplishments, Ray Smith, vice-president and director of agencies, said, "We are extremely proud of Phil Schroeder's achievements with our company. His success in completing the CLU examinations, and his election to the manager's advisory committee, are ample proof of his capability as a manager for our company and as sales representative in his city."

Mr. Schroeder's office is located at 7927 Wisconsin Avenue, Bethesda, Maryland.

Miss Hern Appointed ALC Assistant Dean

Pippa Passes, Ky. — Alice Lloyd College has announced the appointment of Miss Roberta Jo Hern, a native of Harlan county, as assistant to the dean of students. Formerly a public relations assistant for the Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc., she will be responsible for supervision and counseling of students.

Miss Hern is a graduate of Benham high school, received her A.B. degree from the University of Kentucky in 1963 and has completed course work at the University for her master's degree in diplomacy. At the University she also served as a Dale Carnegie graduate assistant and worked as a public relations assistant.

FISHING REPORT

Reporting excellent fishing over the state, the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources Tuesday gave a rundown, lake by lake. Lake Cumberland, Barren, Herrington, Kentucky, Barkley, Nolin, Buckhorn and on down the line. All good. Then came this memorable report on Dewey:

"Lower section clear, upper section muddy." We demand a recount!

Heard, the other day for the first time in some years, a fellow use an expression that once was rather common hereabouts: "Think I'll go to hole and pull the hole in after me." Amen, brother. Make room for one more.

WISH EXPRESSED

The following is credited to one George R. Gersuch, grand master of Maryland Masons. It's entitled, "The Four-Square Man."

Teach me that 60 minutes make an hour, 16 ounces one pound, and 100 cents one dollar. Help me so to live that I can lie down at night with a conscience, without a gun under my pillow and unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square and that in earning it I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me. Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money and to the rustle of unholy skirts. Blind me to the faults of the other fellow, but reveal to me my own. Guide me so that each night when I look across the dinner table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal. Keep me young enough to laugh with little children, and sympathetic enough to be considerate of old age. And when comes the day of darkened shades and the smell of flowers, the tread of soft footsteps and the crunching wheels in the yard—make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple—"HERE LIES A MAN"

An exception is the 14-mile new highway between Paintsville and Prestonsburg, which is considered adequate for the present.

The work will be done with the state matching federal Appalachia funds. However, since the Appalachia program provides only for two-lane highways, the four-lane sections will be matched on a 50-50 basis by the state. The federal government will pay its full 70 percent share on the two-lane sections.

Ward made the announcement at a meeting of the U.S. 23 Association. He used the occasion to answer critics who, he said, have accused him of being "a two-lane fellow."

Ward said he did battle in Washington with states such as Pennsylvania and Virginia who wanted all Appalachia highways to be of four-lane standards.

The richer states could have matched federal money for four-lane routes and would have got a lion's share of Appalachia funds, he explained.

Kentucky's alternative was to hold out for two-lane standards, which it could finance. As a result, Ward said, Kentucky is second only to West Virginia in the amount of Appalachia road funds it will receive.

"I am in favor of building roads to serve the people, and the number of lanes is determined by engineering calculations based on traffic demands," he said. "These studies show that many miles of the Appalachia highway system will need to have four lanes, or right-of-way purchased for the addition of lanes at a later date. They also show that some of the highways would be adequate as two-lane facilities, particularly with passing lanes."

He emphasized that Eastern Kentucky is not being "short-changed or mistreated."

"This part of Kentucky, in the mountains, is the only section receiving Appalachia funds," he said. "Most of the other counties outside the mountains would like to be getting some Appalachia money."

Ward said he has been convinced that U.S. 23 is the most important route in Kentucky in the Appalachia system. At the same time, he said, he realizes that highways such as U.S. 119, KY 80, KY 15 and KY 90 are "vitally important" too.

He said his announcement of the overall U.S. 23 program was made possible by the Appalachian Regional Commission.

lege. Each stipend is individually determined after the winner's need is assessed. For the student already financially able to attend the college of his choice, the stipend may be as little as $400 for four years. Those with high need may receive the normal maximum of $6,000, or $1,500 per year. Winners choose their own colleges and courses of study.

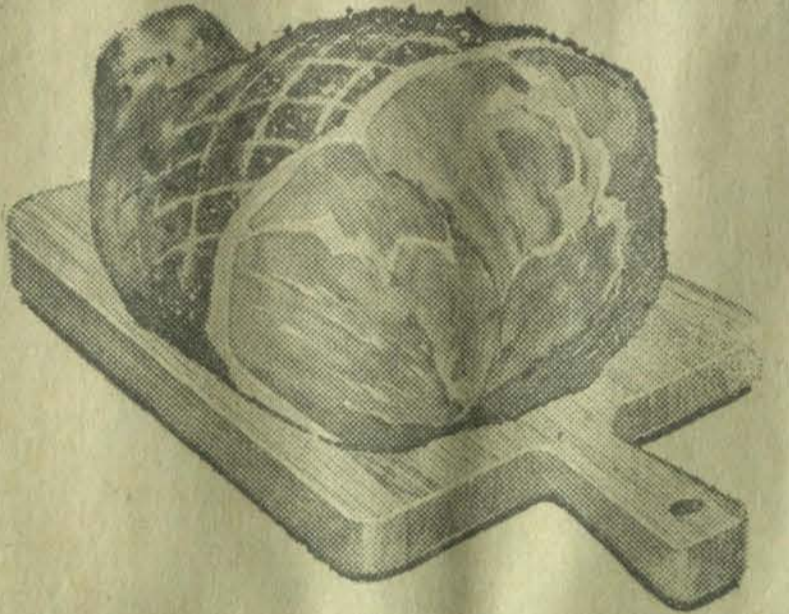

An exultant six-year-old Robin Humphrey is shown displaying the four-pound small-mouth bass he caught on a minnow while fishing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Humphrey, of Melvin, at Norris Lake. The fish was landed by the youngster on August 8.

CONTRIBUTES TO FLOWER SHOW
The Home Economics Department of Maytown High School with the guidance of Mrs. Joyce Stewart, teacher, contributed greatly to the success of the Maytown Fall Flower Show, September 18.

Concluding a unit of study on Table Settings and Flower Arranging, 48 arrangements were entered by the first and second year classes, and 11 tables were entered by the third and fourth year classes. All flower arrangements were made with artificial flowers, since fresh flowers prove too difficult to transport on buses.

The theme for next year has already been chosen, and pupils are to be on the look-out for materials to be used. Tables of other lands will be featured in next year's show on the third Sunday in September.

The judges were very strict in awarding ribbons for the flower arrangements, with rules for arranging closely observed. Ribbons were awarded on the quality of each individual flower arrangement. Bridgett Robinson, (Continued on Page 6)

FISHING CONTEST

Frankfort, Ky.—Fishermen on Lake Cumberland on October week-ends will have a chance to win some of the $800 prize money in the "Beat the Bass Fishing Tournament," sponsored by members of the Burnside Chamber of Commerce.

CATS LOSERS TO PIKEVILLE

The Prestonsburg high school Black Cats, with their first string fullback, Mike Castle, out with a knee injury, were defeated, 19-0, last Friday night by the Pikeville Panthers.

Early in the first quarter, the Cats marched to the three-yard line, from which point John Clark tried a field goal and failed.

The Black Cats' defensive line, led by defensive linebackers John Webb and Donnie Ratliff and defensive guard Billy Baldrige, prevented the Panthers from scoring in the first quarter.

During the second quarter, Pikeville's quarterback, Chris Chrisman, threw a 13-yard pass to Joe Brooks for six points. Keno Trivette added six more points to the score when he hit paydirt from about four yards out.

After Prestonsburg was forced to punt early in the third quarter from their own 37, John Webb's recovery of a Pikeville fumble on Pikeville's 27 gave the Cats good field position. The Black Cats' offense, led by Bennett Leslie, Terry Derossett and freshman quarterback Mark Miller, was well on the way to a touchdown, but a pass interception on the 20 ended the drive. The Panthers went on to score when Chris Chrisman plunged over from four yards out.

When the Cats regained the ball, they drove to the 19-yard line, where they had another pass intercepted.

The Cats will play host to Leslie County, Friday night.

First off, don't get the idea that you can't buy this furniture except the way we've arranged it. American Maple is open-stock and you can have it any way you like. As a matter of fact, we didn't show all the pieces. There are more than 30 beautiful designs—all priced lower than you've believed possible for wonderful maple. Don't let those low prices fool you, this is quality furniture. Take the solid maple drawer fronts, for example, they're fitted with heavy brass pulls that are lacquered to prevent tarnishing... and every inch of every piece is rubbed to a marvelous, coppery sheen. Come in, if you're mad about maple, you'll love our American collection.

PLANE 'CRASH' FEATURES SAFETY DAY PROGRAM

A Civil Air Patrol plane swooped low over Pikeville and simulated a crash into the Pikeville high school building last Saturday afternoon and "injured and trapped" 14 persons. This triggered the start of the annual Safety Day program of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute.

The mock disaster was one of the most spectacular programs ever presented by the Mining Institute, which in the past has included mine rescue and first-aid contests. This year's program was to include rescue operations following the simulated disaster.

Lloyd McGarey, secretary of the Institute, said the traditional program was altered this year in order to stress to the general public that the coal mining industry is interested in all types of safety and not just the type connected with the coal industry.

McGarey pointed out that the Island Creek Coal Company, Evans Division, Wheelwright, provided most of the trained personnel for the rescue operations, and was entitled to much of the credit for the success of the program.

Ralph Banks, safety director of Island Creek Coal Company, and Willard Stanley, senior inspector, Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, Martin district, coordinated their efforts in training and directing the program.

W. J. Williamson, Civil Defense director of Pike county, noted that some persons were slightly shocked at the surprise element of the program. "However," he added, "in the event of a real emergency the surprise would be even greater."

Nearly 100 persons, 20 vehicles, including ambulances, fire trucks and other vehicles participated in the program. More than 1,000 persons were drawn to the school area during the program which lasted more than an hour.

After the rescue operations the U.S. Bureau of Mines demonstrated a foam fire extinguisher which is used in combating fires in coal mines.

The conclusion of the program came following a dinner for those participating and guests of the Institute at the Starlite dining room, Pikeville.

Leaders of the coal industry, city officials, U.M.W.A. officials and others complimented the group on a successful program.

Eugene Lopez, administrator, Methodist hospital, Pikeville, gave a brief resume of the condition of the patients on arrival at the hospital and praised the work done by the group.

Major Curt Hammond, of the Civil Air Patrol, pilot of the plane, said that in all his Air Force career he had never participated in any training program as realistic and effective as this one.

Other organizations participating included the Floyd County Rescue Squad, captained by Graham Burchett; Left Beaver Rescue Squad, captained by Glenn Frazier; Pike County Rescue Squad, Pikeville Fire Department, Pikeville City Police, local funeral homes, Ladies Auxiliary of the Civil Air Patrol, and the American Red Cross.

U. K. Enrollment Now Totals 20,800, Up by 2,200 Over '65

The University of Kentucky's total fall semester enrollment stands at 20,800, about 2,200 higher than a year ago.

The present over-all figure includes 13,802 students on the Lexington campus; 5,553 in the nine community colleges and the Lexington Technical Institute; 620 who are enrolled for credit in the Evening Class Program, and 825 in extension classes.

Enrollment on the Lexington campus includes the following totals for the various colleges and schools: Agriculture and Home Economics, 606; Architecture, 170; Arts and Sciences, 6,511; Business and Economics, 779; Education, 1,622; Engineering, 943; Law, 428; Pharmacy, 145; Nursing, 141; Medicine, 279; Dentistry, 179; Graduate School, 1,891, and unclassified, 108.

Community colleges and the Lexington Technical Institute report the following enrollment figures: Hopkinsville, 360; Somerset, 600; Prestonsburg, 595; Elizabethtown, 634; Cumberland, 392; Covington, 1,290; Henderson, 432; Fort Knox, 328; Ashland, 852, and Lexington Technical Institute, 80.

WHEELWRIGHT

FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

The Wheelwright Woman's Club held its first meeting of the year, September 12, at its club room. The president, Mrs. H. M. Wilkinson, Jr., presided. New members attending the meeting were Mrs. Adolph Bergman and Mrs. Raymond Bradbury.

Plans were made for a city-wide membership drive.

The club is preparing a spaghetti dinner to be served Friday, September 30, from 4 till 7 p.m., at Wheelwright Community Hall.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Herb Gillis and Mrs. Raymond Bradbury.

GENERAL FUND UP

Frankfort, Ky. — State general fund revenue totaled $47,497,161 for the first two months of this fiscal year, the Revenue Department reports. This is 1.7 percent more than in the same period last year. The report also says road fund receipts are up 30.8 percent to $46,104,577. Sales and use tax receipts in the general fund rose nine percent for July and August to $22,200,034.

DODGE REBELLION OPERATION '67

Fresh off the drawing board with an arsenal of powerful new ammunition. Bigger. Longer. Sharper. Hot new Dodges to back the attack on dull driving. Dart, Coronet, Polara, Monaco, Charger. Check them out today. The Dodge Rebellion will get you if you don't watch out.

'67 CORONET

Advance and be recognized. We know you. You're '67 Coronet.

Last year's biggest selling Dodge gets all freshened up, all sharpened up for another big assault on the drab Sixes and dull V8s. And you know what we mean. The ones you've had enough of. You're ready for Coronet. You're ready to move out of that deep rut and into a car with class, dash, and lots of it—with your choice of a slick Six or 4 great V8s. That's Coronet for '67.

'67 DART

Wow! Who goes there? '67 Dodge Dart. That's who.

That's Dart, all right—totally new. Through-and-through new. New long, low silhouette. New push interiors. New easy-to-read, easy-to-operate dash instrumentation. New performance, too. With a choice of engines from the supersmooth 170-cu.-in. Six to the 273-cu.-in. 4-bbl. V8. Not to mention a host of new safety features. But there's one thing you'll recognize about '67 Dart—its low price. It's still got compact written all over it. Why resist? Enlist. Dart for 1967.

'67 MONACO

Full speed ahead. Monaco, flagship of the '67 Dodge fleet.

If you're determined to go first-cabin in '67, here's the way to go... Monaco. Extras? Everywhere. Everything a luxury-lover ever looked for—even optional vinyl-covered bucket seats and headrests, if you wish. Plus the power of the standard 383-cu.-in. V8 up to the 440-Magnum, optional at extra cost, to put you ahead of the pack.

1967 MODELS NOW ON DISPLAY.

AREA EXTENSION COUNCIL TO BRIEF FISCAL COURTS

Members of the Big Sandy Area Extension Council will be contacting fiscal court representatives in their counties during the coming weeks to offer the assistance of the Extension services in answering questions on area planning and zoning.

The council endorsed the area planning program at its meeting September 20 at May Lodge. Representatives from Floyd, Johnson, Pike, Magoffin and Martin counties voted unanimously to aid in securing passage of this program by all fiscal courts of the area.

A workshop on news reporting will be sponsored soon by the Council. Invitations will be issued to publicity chairmen of all organizations in the 5-county area to attend the session at May Lodge. Eugene Ball announced that more meetings on leadership training are being planned for this fiscal year to include one meeting displaying the accomplishments of each group. These meetings will be held in each of the five counties, rather than on an area basis.

Community Development Clubs in Floyd and Pike counties may have a chance to compete for cash awards this year. The two counties not included in the Northwest Community Development contests are planning competition within their counties with the aid of the local Chambers of Commerce.

Eugene Ward, chairman of the Big Sandy Council, presided at the all-day session.

MAYTOWN

Emma Jane Allen, and Reka Ratliff received blue ribbons; red ribbons were awarded to Kathy Howard, Dianna Martin, Reba Ratliff, Sandy Boyd, Patricia Patton, Bonnie Bradford, Geneva Shepherd, and Charlotte Jarrell, and white ribbons were awarded to Debbie Marshall, Emma Hill, Rebecca Bailey, Judy Salisbury, and Glema Cooley. Next year, the Home Economics classes will arrange according to specific classes which will be announced.

PRESENT MUSIC PROGRAM

Abner Grender and his family, of Alice Lloyd College, Pippa Passes, along with members of the Maytown school music department, presented an enjoyable program of music for the entertainment of guests at the Maytown Fall Flower Show, Sept. 18. Mr. Grender's son played a trombone solo, "Blue Serenade." The family group sang "Hear the Wind Blow," "Ballad of Alice Lloyd," and "The Grumble Man." Mr. Grender concluded with "Old Black Joe" on an ordinary hand saw.

From the Maytown music department Brent Allen played "Summer Serenade" and another selection on the saxophone, accompanied by Miss Bonnie Crisp. Debbie Sammons, Carolyn Ellis and Mary Joan Blevins sang "Celtic Lullaby," and "Steal Away" was rendered by Carolyn Ellis, Mary Joan Blevins, and Bonnie Crisp.

Following the musical program, Mrs. Roy May, president of the Maytown Woman's Club, thanked all those who had helped make the show a success and awarded the Best in Show and the Sweepstakes Award to Mrs. Jones Tallent, the first time the same person has won both awards in the 15 years the show has been in existence.

TO FRIENDS OF EDUCATION IN EDUCATION DIVISION NO. 1

Although I have been an announced candidate to succeed myself as a member of the county board of education for some weeks, I feel compelled to make the following statement regarding my candidacy.

I was first elected to the board almost eight years ago in opposition to the administration, as it existed at that time. Two years after my election to the board, a new superintendent was hired by the majority of the board, as it was made up at that time. We did have some stormy board meetings after the new superintendent was seated but during the stormy period we all learned a great deal about each other and about our responsibilities as board members and school officials. We discovered that what we all really wanted was the best school system possible for Floyd county's children and we had the same hope for creating a better Floyd county through greater opportunity for our youth.

Under the leadership of Superintendent Clark and his staff the Floyd county school system has made more progress during the last six years than during any other period in our history. I am happy to have been a part of that period of great progress. Our school system has gained a reputation as one of the best and most progressive systems in all of the Appalachian Area. As evidence of progress made within the last six years I list below a few examples:

1. More than 80 new classrooms completed and in use (Contract let for 7 rooms at Prestonsburg Elementary school.)
2. One of the first county systems to qualify for "Head Start."
3. Most complete lunchroom program in Eastern Kentucky.
4. Adult Education program which has been copied by school systems in Kentucky and West Virginia.
5. One of only thirty-two school systems in Kentucky operating a N.Y.C. program in Kentucky, whereby our young people have earned over 1/2 million dollars on workshops during the past school year. We are assured of a similar program this school year.
6. Summer school program for over 4,000 of our educationally deprived young people.
7. A complete vocation school program at Garth which can be used by young people from all sections of Floyd county.
8. Clark Elementary School consolidating all the Middle Creek section.

The above accomplishments, as well as many others, have made all the board members very happy to have been a part of such a school system. Greater things are planned for the future and I want to be a part of that future. For this reason I wish to solicit your support in order to insure harmony and to keep this school system moving forward. I have complete confidence in the leadership of Superintendent Clark and his staff and I want them to have a chance to continue their dynamic leadership.

$53.4 MILLION SPENT BY OEO IN 5 STATES

The Economic Development Administration has invested $53.4 million in 108 projects to spur the economies of lagging communities in Kentucky, North Carolina, Ohio, Virginia and West Virginia.

Local communities, banks, business firms, and private citizens have supplemented the federal funds to bring the total investment in the projects to $80.3 million, since August 26 of last year, when EDA was established as an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The money is helping to build water and sewer systems, develop industrial parks, finance business counseling services, build hospitals, establish resort centers, test fireclay deposits, build vocational schools, construct industrial plants and a wide variety of other projects.

The projects are located in areas of substantial unemployment or low family income. Assistant Secretary of Commerce Eugene P. Foley, who directs the federal economic development program, considers it one of the most important parts of President Johnson's Great Society program.

Foley puts it this way: "America is booming. Yet there are pockets that have not kept pace with the country's overall growth."

"The EDA was authorized by Congress last year to help correct this condition. Unless we can solve the problems of lagging areas, millions of Americans will fail to share in the fruits of our greatest period of prosperity."

Foley said the EDA program is designed to reach its goals—increased employment and higher family income—through:

1. Public works grants and loans to help provide the facilities needed for industrial expansion.

2. Business loans to help create jobs in new or expanding industry.

3. Technical assistance to provide specialized engineering, production and marketing information needed to promote industrial expansion.

4. Long-range economic planning assistance to communities, areas, multi-county districts, states and multi-state regions.

"Our first job under this program," Foley said, "is to find the areas of potential economic growth, then to work closely with a broadly representative local committee in developing an overall program to broaden the economic base of the community."

EDA has approved a nationwide total of 690 separate projects, for a federal investment of $321 million. Local communities, banks, business firms, and the public generally, have invested in these same projects, bringing their total cost to $539.3 million.

EDA projects originating in the mid-eastern area are initially reviewed in the area office in the Chafin Building in Huntington, West Virginia. They are then sent on to Washington for processing.

William E. Davis, EDA's mid-eastern area director, has a staff of 46 in the Huntington office and in 10 field offices throughout the area.

In considering an application for grant or loan assistance, Davis said the first question is: "Will it help provide new jobs or new income?"

EDA projects must be related to a specific new or expanding industry in the area, he said, or be designed to put a community in a position where it can attract industry or expand firms already in the area.

For public works projects—sewer and water systems, access roads, and industrial parks are examples—EDA can make grants for up to 80 percent of the cost.

For industrial projects, EDA total cost of land, buildings, can lend up to 65 percent of the machinery and equipment.

But EDA is not out to compete with private lending institutions, Davis explained.

"We will not make loans if financing is available from some other private or public source," he said.

Among the 108 projects in EDA's mid-eastern area, these are typical examples:

—A $770,000 grant and a $513,000 loan to finance a water system for eight communities in Floyd and Pike counties, Kentucky, to serve existing industries and to attract new job-generating firms to the area.

—A $2,067,000 grant and a $2,067,000 loan to help Anson county, North Carolina, build a water supply system to serve seven incorporated towns. The new system, first county-wide water system in North Carolina, will serve three substantial industrial firms in the area.

—A $24,500 grant to help construct an access road and rail spur to a new Lockheed-Georgia plant in Logan, Ohio, where 150 workers will be employed.

—A $111,600 grant to help Richlands, Virginia, expand its water system to serve expanding industry in the area.

—A $385,000 grant and a $350,000 loan to help Keyser, West Virginia, develop an industrial park. A second project—a $650,000 business loan—is helping the Keyser Financing Co. locate a plant in the industrial park.

A second firm—the Flex-O-Lite Corporation—is also locating in the industrial park. Together, these two firms will provide jobs for about 200 workers.

—Two projects—a $868,000 grant and loan to build a water system, and a $69,000 grant for a medical clinic—are helping Inez, Kentucky, develop an industrial base, and attract new firms to the area.

The county's unemployment rate has been running at 12.3 percent of the workforce; more than half the 2,215 families in Martin county were living on less than $3,000 a year.

—A $330,000 grant to Greenville, North Carolina, to help finance a sewer system, to serve a 7,000-acre industrial area. The city says that the new industrial area will help serve firms employing about 1,000 workers.

—A $1,120,000 grant and a $480,000 loan to help Hazard, Kentucky, extend its water and sewer lines to provide for industrial expansion and to serve long-term unemployed and low-income families in the area.

—A $554,000 grant to help Fayetteville, North Carolina, build a multi-purpose public auditorium and exhibition hall to serve existing and potential industry. Farm equipment, industrial products and goods manufactured in the area will be displayed. Officials expect the new center to have a long-term effect in creating job opportunities, upgrading median family income and assisting in the promotion of a tourist industry.

—A $350,000 grant and a $150,000 loan to help equip a 147-bed hospital in Elkins, West Virginia. The hospital will provide jobs for 85 additional workers and will enable industrial firms, primarily woodworking plants, to expand and create new job opportunities.

—A $27,225 grant to finance a summer leadership training program in wood processing for students at Berea College, Berea, Kentucky. Students receive on-the-job experience in wood industries, combined with seminars and field trips. Long-range goal of the program is to increase the number of college graduates entering wood-processing industries.

—A $51,500 grant to help Columbia, North Carolina, build a sewage treatment plant to assure continued operation of a fish processing firm and permit the plant to be expanded, providing 15 new jobs.

—A $1,030,000 grant to help Athens, Ohio, expand its water system to provide for industrial, educational and commercial expansion. City officials say the new water supplies will allow expansion which will add more than 1,000 new jobs.

—A $64,200 study to see if fireclay deposits in the Olive Hill, Kentucky, area can be used economically in the manufacture of insulators.

—A $488,000 grant to help the city of Charleston, West Virginia, enlarge its civic center to accommodate large national and state conventions, trade shows and athletic events. City officials expect the enlarged center to increase business and jobs at the area's hotels, motels, restaurants and other retail establishments.

—A $50,562 grant to help finance engineering management services to small industrial firms and increase job opportunities in a 17-county area of eastern North Carolina.

—A $1.1 million grant to help the state of Kentucky build a vacation-resort complex at Greenbo State Park in Eastern Kentucky. The resort will have (See Story No. 1 Page 6)

Religious Music, Theme Of Workshop Scheduled For May Lodge, Oct. 18

Four music workshops, with appreciation of religious music as their theme, will be held by the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers this fall, according to Mrs. Marcy Stewart, acting program specialist in home economics with the UK Cooperative Extension Service.

Scheduled at Jenny Wiley State Park here, and Dawson Springs, Lexington, and Carrollton, the workshops are open to any person interested in music and singing. Mrs. Jean Marie Chrisman, of Fayette county, who is director of the Kentucky Homemakers Chorus, will conduct the workshops.

"You may attend the workshop most convenient for you—whether or not you are a Homemakers Club member," says Mrs. Stewart. "Just bring along a hymnal and, if you have one, a 'Sing, Kentucky' song book."

The workshop is scheduled at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, October 18. Each workshop program will be planned around the religious music theme, Mrs. Stewart points out. Included will be the Homemakers music appreciation lesson, music for the state Homemakers' chorus, and music for groups not taking part in the state chorus.

TOLL REVENUE

Revenue from Kentucky's highway toll facilities topped $1 million for the second month in a row in August.

5,767 GIVEN STAMP AID

In Floyd During Aug.; Over Half of $86,730 Cost Paid by Recipients

Frankfort, Ky.—More than 67,000 Kentuckians benefited from the federal-state food stamp program in August, including 5,767 from Floyd county, the State Department of Economic Security reports.

The Department said the Floyd county figures included 1,098 families.

Food stamp recipients in the 22 participating counties during August received more than $1 million in coupons, which can be spent at cooperating stores like money to purchase fresh food-stuffs.

In Floyd county the food stamp clients paid $53,650 in cash and received a bonus of $33,080 to boost their food-buying capacity. The county total came to $86,730 for August.

Another 22 counties are scheduled to join the Kentucky program over the next three months as social workers and clerical aides can be recruited by the Economic Security Department and assigned to county public assistance offices.

Announcement of the approval of the additional counties came last week from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which works through its consumer and marketing division to approve local businesses to participate in the program.

Gray Squirrels—Are They In Danger of Becoming Extinct In Our State?

I regret to know we are having a split season this year for hunting the gray squirrels. I feel it is a bad mistake to have a squirrel season in the summertime, when the woods are all green and the squirrels haven't yet had a chance to get fat on beechnuts and hickory nuts, and their flesh is not as good eating. At this time of the year, the squirrels are mostly eating mushrooms; go through the forest and you'll see pieces of mushrooms scattered everywhere, where the squirrels have been feasting on them. Squirrels are wiser in their ways than we think; they know which mushrooms are poison and they avoid these.

The excuse given by the officials for having two squirrel seasons is, the mast, acorns, beechnuts and other foods for squirrels are so scarce this year the squirrels are all going to starve this winter, so we might as well shoot them as to let them starve to death. This is a lame excuse.

Squirrels are sly, cunning and resourceful. They know where and how to find foods of all kinds, and in places we would least expect. They have an instinct that warns them of a hard winter ahead; so the squirrels, if left alone this season, will dig in the earth and hide every nut they can find; they'll bury the walnuts, hickory nuts and acorns; they know how to store up food for a hard winter.

Every walnut tree, every oak tree and most of the hickory trees in the woods were once planted by the gray squirrels. They are nature's tree-planters. They plant the hardwood trees, and if we kill out all the squirrels, who will plant the oaks and walnuts? Oak forests especially decline where the squirrels have all been killed out.

The gray squirrel can survive where other animals perish. This is because he is a thrifty animal. People who put money in the bank for rainy days are imitating the squirrel, and we say of them, "They are 'squirreling' away some dough for hard times."

If a squirrel cannot find food in one place, he will travel a long distance to find food, and if there is any, he will find it. Right now, the squirrels are eating mushrooms, berries, snails, grubs and other things they find in the forest. In winter, if they cannot find enough nuts to eat, they will eat pine cones, dogwood berries and buckeyes. There are plenty of dogwood berries this season and they are a staple diet for squirrels. They will eat one side of a buckeye and leave the other half lying.

The squirrels will get busy as soon as the acorns fall, burying all kinds of them, also walnuts. They bury their acorns in a row so they can dig them out. They do not eat acorns in the fall, but wait for them to freeze, as this kills the bitter taste and makes them sweet. On cold, snowy days, the squirrels come out of their dens in hollow trees to dig down through the snow to get the acorns they buried. They never do find them all, and the ones they don't find sprout next spring and in time become great oak trees.

Squirrels know how to elude their enemies, but man is one enemy they cannot escape. Let a big, red-tailed hawk sail over with a loud squeal and the squirrel will flatten its body against a tree trunk and its gray color will blend with the bark of the tree and the hawk cannot spot him. Squirrels have sharp teeth called incisors for cutting and gnawing. They gnaw on the bark of trees to mark them as "den trees." When a squirrel sees one of these marked trees, it knows there is a hiding place up in its boughs.

Squirrels will also eat buds during winter if they cannot find enough nuts. There is a fair crop of acorns this year and about half a crop of hickory nuts. Some of the beeches also have nuts this season. And there are pokeberries which squirrels will eat when hungry. There are also several species of the viburnums which bear berries squirrels will eat during winter.

I don't believe many squirrels would have starved out this coming winter. One open season should have been enough to thin them out. But it is predicted that over one and one-half millions squirrels will be killed in Kentucky this year. If that is true, I'd like to ask—How many squirrels will be left alive?

When the squirrel squawks, it shakes its bushy tail like a feather duster. Hunters call the gray squirrels, "squawks," from the sound they make. But in the late fall, when the days grow chilly and the leaves are dying on the trees, with winter just around the corner, the squirrel seldom squawks. It just sits in a tree and makes a doleful, whining sound, as if to suit the melancholy mood of the season.

Be merciful to the squirrels, boys. If you want oak trees in the forest, spare the squirrels as much as you can.

CARD OF THANKS

To all our friends and neighbors we wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for all the kindness shown and the floral offerings received during our recent sorrow at the passing of Hager Justice, of Emma, Kentucky. We give deepest thanks to the staff of the Paintsville hospital who made his last days more bearable. We can never thank the Floyd Funeral Home enough for its wonderful service and concern, not only at this time but during dad's past illness. Many thanks, also, to Rev. Family Living To Be Theme Of Extension Seminar Here; Family Representation Asked

Emphasis will be placed on family living at the all-day seminar scheduled October 13 at the Community Methodist Church here by the University of Kentucky Extension Service.

"Men, Women and Morals" will be the subject of the seminar, and the needs of families in culture, economy, government, marriage, parenthood and morals will be explored.

In an effort to have all families in the area represented, the Extension Service is enlisting the cooperation of all ministers, homemakers, community development organizations in contacting families throughout the area.

A religious leader, a lawyer and a physician will conduct the panel discussion. The minister will provide answers to the questions, "What will be the role in confronting moral issues?" and "How can religion serve the family with its moral problems?"

Law in relationship to families, the changing patterns of divorce and family attitudes toward the law will be covered by the lawyer of the panel.

The doctor will discuss "Will medicine conquer disease?" "How will disease and mental health be related to family living?" and "Will medical discoveries effect moral standards?"

After luncheon, those attending the seminar will be given an opportunity for open discussion of any problem related to family living and family relationships. Specialists from the University of Kentucky will lead the discussion.

Hobbs New Manager Of District Office Of Social Security

The Social Security Administration announces the appointment of Walter H. Hobbs, Jr. as district manager of the Pikeville district office. Mr. Hobbs replaces Thomas L. Read, the former manager who was recently transferred to the Louisville office. Mr. Hobbs assumed his new duties, Sept. 12.

A career employee, Hobbs has been with the Social Security Administration since 1952. Beginning with the Hazard, Ky. office, he has served in a number of social offices in positions of increasing responsibility. His most recent assignment before coming to Pikeville was in Elizabethtown where he served as assistant manager.

Although born in Tennessee, Mr. Hobbs spent his early years in Hazard and considers Eastern Kentucky his home. Mr. Hobbs is a former Army officer and attended the University of Kentucky. He and his wife Mildred have three sons, Gary, 17, Hal, 16, and Ritchie, 14. Gary is presently attending Eastern Kentucky University at Richmond.

Three Co-Chairmen For Cooper Named

Three Republican leaders, from Vanceburg, Catlettsburg and Pikeville, have been named co-chairmen of Senator John Sherman Cooper's campaign organization in the Seventh district. They are: George Plummer, county court clerk for Lewis county, Vanceburg; Gerald Lyons, circuit court clerk for Floyd county, Catlettsburg; and Thomas Rattliff, commonwealth attorney, Pikeville.

The three leaders, each a veteran of Republican politics, will share equally in responsibility for the district.

TIDBITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

LOOKING AT THE PAST

The older I grow, the more I realize that much of our conduct is based on the way we look at the past. And this is the very basis of folklore, too. The Latins had a word or phrase for it—mos maiorum—"the customs of the elders." Even the most up-to-date fad in customs is based on some age-old ways of doing things. In that way the most exclusive faddist of our time is a blood brother of some faddist of long ago. Chaucer, in trying to tell how the knights in his story of Palamon and Arcite were dressed arrived at a rather funny conclusion: that ancient warriors dressed just like the fighters of his own time. Of course, that is a misstatement of history, but he might have been nearer the truth if he had stressed the mood of fighters, the ends to be gained, the psychology of the rabble.

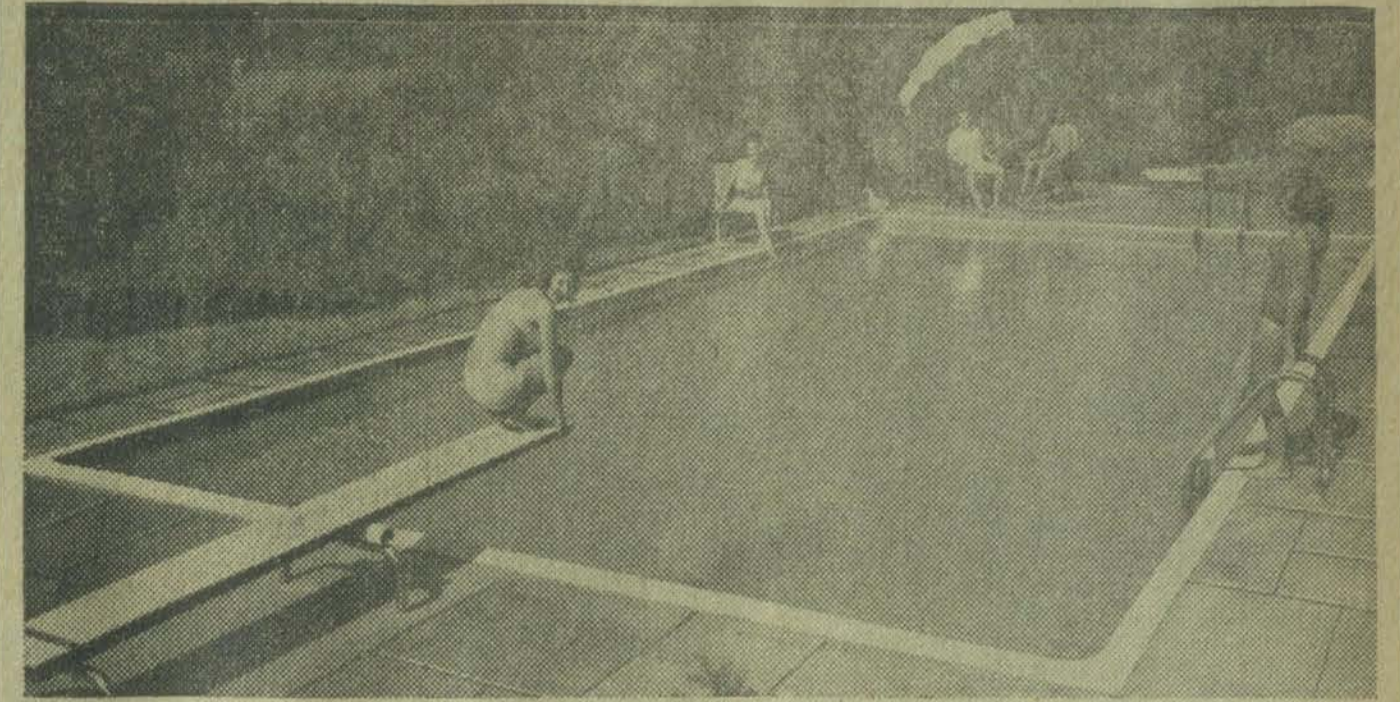

We are often so overcome by the outward appearance of things that we imagine that the mere clothing and gadgets that other people had made them basically different. To translate into our own language the ordinary feelings of other times is a difficult thing to do; sometimes I wonder whether we are not reading backwards when we seem to understand the words and settings made so vivid by Homer. According to some great literary critics, that is exactly what we should do, remembering, however, that we are doing just this and that the older writing fit an older time in terms of that time. These same critics warn us to be tolerant if some other reader finds a different meaning in old, old writings.

A worship of the past merely because it is the past is probably the human characteristic that amuses the folklorist most. Take antiques, for example. Actual age adds little to the permanent value of our artifacts except to show what our forefathers did and made. It is funny how many positively ugly antiques are held up by broken-voiced curators of museums as great, merely because they have survived. The same sort of veneration could be found for folk medicine; then why switch to penicillin when Grandma's medicine cabinet is overflowing with ancient remedies, hallowed by age? A very excellent lady told me, some years ago, that our state constitution should not be revised: "Our fathers knew best." She had met me at the bus station of a very prosperous county-seat town and was driving me in her latest-model car to the positively beautiful house where I was to speak. I wanted to suggest that her great-uncle, who was one of the fathers of our antiquated constitution, had never seen an automobile, that he had at best an eighth grade education, that his world was a pretty small place. But I discreetly said nothing. I have not heard that the lady sold or gave away her car and bought a buggy or an oxwagon; that she disposed of her furnace and air-conditioner and reinstated her fireplace, just as our fathers, who knew best, had to be satisfied with.

I wish that I had a tape-recorder with me on many such occasions, to keep for the record these worshipful attitudes for the past merely because it was the past. Unfortunately, most of the best items came into my experience before tape-recorders came along. I have heard education beyond a bare knowledge of reading, writing, spelling, and arithmetic condemned by prominent men and women, most of whom have now hosts of descendants with high school, college and university diplomas. Not one of them, even in their most vocal days, would have employed a physician who had merely taken up his saddlebags and started his professional career without benefit of medical training. But it seems to sound good to warn all the successive generations that only in the Good Old Days of the past were there virtues, and honor, and bravery, and understanding.

When is the best time to put in a pool?

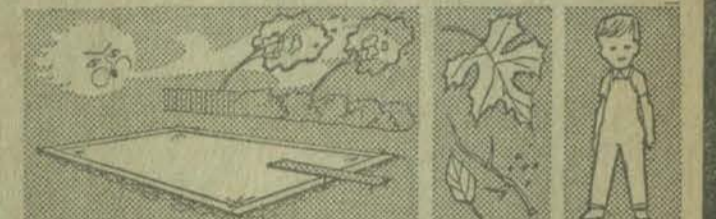

Not many people know it, but Fall is the very best time to buy a pool. There are four important reasons why:

1. Our crews have the time to take extra care in installation.
2. Grass and shrubs are best planted in the Fall. They have months to get established. Water is more available, too.
3. When the pool is complete, we give you a free Aqua-Lock® Pool Cover. It seals out dust, leaves, and dirt throughout Winter and Spring.
4. On the first hot day next Spring, just peel back the cover and dive into sparkling water in a clean pool. No raw dirt around. No muddy backyard from Spring rains.

vinyl interior never needs maintenance. No painting or refinishing—ever. Pool includes filter and built-in skimmer.

FREE AQUA-LOCK POOL COVER

We give you this famous pool cover worth as much as $200 if you buy a Spartan Pool now.

One ton of water in sleeves on all sides seals out leaves, dust; keeps pool safe for children, pets. STOP IN OR PHONE FOR ALL THE FACTS

NROTC Examination
Set for December 10

The test date for the 21st annual national competitive NROTC examination has been set for December 10. Eligible young high school seniors and graduates should submit their applications before November 19.

The regular NROTC program offers an opportunity for a young man to gain a regular commission while studying at one of the 52 NROTC colleges and universities. The Navy furnishes tuition, fees, books and uniforms, plus a subsistence allowance of $50 a month to NROTC midshipmen. Each summer NROTC midshipmen go on interesting and rewarding training cruises. After completing his college course and all military requirements, an NROTC midshipman is commissioned as a regular officer in the U.S. Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the operating forces.

The program is available to male high school seniors and graduates who will have reached their 17th but not 21st birthday by July 1, 1967. Those who make a qualifying score on the Navy College Aptitude Test will be interviewed and given thorough medical examinations, early in 1967. Approximately 1,700 young men from those remaining in competition will thus be selected to attend college next September to prepare for their naval service.

NROTC bulletins of information and application forms are available from local high school counselors and Navy recruiting stations, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel (Pers-B6261), Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C. 20370.

GM SLATES SCIENCE SHOW AT P'BURG HIGH SCHOOL

"Liquid sunshine" powers a portable radio. A small platform slides across the floor on a thin layer of air. And a "misbehaving" suitcase illustrates principles used in modern guidance systems.

Prestonsburg high school students will see these and other interesting demonstrations when the famed General Motors science show, Previews of Progress, appears at the school Friday, September 30, at 10 a.m.

"We seek through Previews to inspire more young people to make science and engineering their career and provide the trained talent America must have to keep pace with the promise of the future," James M. Roche, president of General Motors, declares.

Steve Winchell and Davis Simmons, of the General Motors public relations staff, will narrate the 45-minute, non-commercial presentation. They are one of seven teams that take the show to more than a million students each year.

One of the highlights of the show is a fuel cell, a device that converts chemical energy into electrical power. Potentially one of the most significant scientific developments of the century, the fuel cell manufactures electricity with much greater efficiency than is now obtained from conventional power plants.

In the show, a few drops of "liquid sunshine" added to the cells provide enough energy to operate a portable radio.

Another example of solar energy, the amazing Sunmobile, will be demonstrated. The 15-inch model car depends on eight photoelectric cells for its operation. The button-like cells on the hood of the car convert light rays into electricity which drives a small electrical motor inside the car. A 300-watt lamp is used to simulate the sun's rays in the show. As the light strikes the cells, the sunmobile moves smoothly across a table.

In addition to sun power, the Previews audience will see an air bearing platform in operation. This small platform, supported by three large circular pads, is designed to slide over any flat surface on a thin layer of air.

The operation of the Previews platform is simple. A small blower forces air through the three pads, creating a thin layer of air between the pads and the floor. The air eliminates nearly all sliding friction, enabling easy mobility of the platform.

Another Previews sequence illustrates principles used in modern guidance systems. A student volunteer will manipulate a suitcase with "a mind of its own" as the lecturer explains how today's planes, ships and missiles are safely guided along predetermined courses.

Students will also see the Exploding Wire Phenomenon. Using the principle of stored energy, a 10-watt power supply furnishes over 30 million watts in an instant to demonstrate the electrical disintegration of a fine wire. This phenomenon may someday propel space vehicles.

College Scholarship Plan Told by Army

Headquarters First United States Army, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland—College scholarships for 400 outstanding high school seniors will be awarded again this year, the U.S. Army has announced.

The scholarships will be good at any of 247 colleges and universities in the United States offering the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) program. Students can choose their own field of study and the only requirement will be that they take ROTC.

Selection is based on academic excellence, extracurricular activities, physical standards, results of college entrance examination boards, personal qualities, and leadership potential.

High school seniors, their parents or teachers can get information by writing: ROTC Scholarship, First U.S. Army, Fort Meade, Maryland 20755.

Deadline for submission of completed applications is January 15, 1967. However College Entrance Examination Board Scholarship Aptitude Tests must be completed no later than December, 1966.

POVERTY WAR COST IN KY. $8.3 MILLION

Frankfort, Ky.—More than $83 million in federal war-on-poverty money has been spent in Kentucky in the last 18 months.

At a recent state government inter-departmental meeting sponsored by the Kentucky Office of Economic Opportunity, Director Albert Whitehouse explained how this money has been spent.

He said Kentucky led its record of seven states and the District of Columbia in the number of programs in operation.

"In 1965 Kentucky Community Action Agencies started 149 programs with a federal investment of $7,561,914. This year, 262 programs are funded with a federal appropriation of $10,050,307, or more than 100 percent increase in money," Whitehouse said.

For the period, $23,612,221 went to CAA's. There are now 30 operating committees with 24 of these funded, he said.

The summer Head Start program in both 1965 and 1966 received $8,663,964 for 49,002 children. Upward Bound programs for 800 tenth and eleventh grade students in eight Kentucky colleges amounted to $18,270.

Other educational programs organized through CAA's amounted to $4,997,019, for such projects as adult literacy and remedial reading.

Day care centers in 17 Kentucky counties received $1,767,083. Health services and sanitation projects in Breathitt, Floyd, Harlan and Leslie counties received $613,198.

Multi-service community centers were provided at a cost of $958,147 in Bell, Clay, Harlan, Knox and Letcher counties. These centers are focal points where governmental and private agencies reach the poor with their services.

Two beautification projects at a cost of $194,423 are underway, one in Knox county and a project in the McCracken, Graves, Marshall and Calloway counties area.

Operation Medicare Alert, a program to help thousands of the elderly poor take advantage of Medicare, received $118,568 with approximately 40,000 people contacted, and an estimated 80 percent of these signed up for the services.

Funds were granted for various other programs under CAA sponsorship including hearing and speech therapy center at Alice Lloyd College, guidance centers for young parolees in cooperation with the Kentucky Department of Corrections; information and counseling programs on consumer buying and legal services for the poor.

Other poverty programs in Kentucky carried out in cooperation with other federal or state agencies include:

Eighty-two Neighborhood Youth Corps Projects with 21,043 enrollees at a cost of $9,215,231; five work experience programs with 6,550 participants with a cost of $32,125,200; adult basic education programs with 22,994 at a cost of $1,734,818; 970 individual rural loans amounting to $1,689,540; one cooperative loan and 49 small business loans totaling $791,650.

Currently there are 110 VISTA Volunteers in service in Kentucky, four men's Job Corps Conservation Centers with 635 enrollees and one men's Job Corps Urban Center with 1,118 enrollees.

Throughout the state there are 1,225 paid workers on staffs of the CAA's. Included are 31 directors, 74 assistant directors, 69 office staff and 1,051 sub-professional aides.

"As of August 12 of this year, a total of $83,490,883 has been granted for all programs in Kentucky through the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964," Whitehouse said.

Fellow-Members Of The FAMILY OF GOD

Catholics and other Christians do not agree on some things. Other Christians don't always see eye to eye among themselves.

And it may seem that Christ's followers are a long way from unity in "one Lord, one faith, one baptism."

Yet today a new spirit of renewal and reunion pervades the whole Christian world. And Christians of all faiths... Catholic and Protestant... are looking not merely to what divides them, but to the divine heritage that makes them as one in the Family of God.

That common bond is described in the words of St. Paul: "... all you who have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ... for you are all one in Christ Jesus." Another Paul—the Pope of the Catholic Church, Paul VI—notes the differences among Christian bodies in doctrine, discipline and structure, but says: "... in spite of them, all who have been justified by faith in Baptism are members of Christ body..."

Moved by the Holy Spirit, Christians of all faiths are making giant strides toward unity through a historic movement called Ecumenism. This involves, on the one hand, the deliberations of the apostolic Church for its own renewal—for the "opening of its own windows"—through the Vatican Council. It also involves the quest of all Christian faiths for the spiritual unity of Christ's followers through prayer, through dialogues, through the inspiration of the Holy Spirit.

The restoration of unity among all Christians is one of the principal concerns of the Vatican Council. For, as Pope Paul said, the division that exists "openly contradicts the will of Christ, scandalizes the world, and damages the holy cause of preaching the gospel to every creature." But in recent times, the Pope added, our Lord "has been rousing divided Christians to remorse over their divisions and to a longing for unity." Christians of all faiths, he said, are feeling the impulse of this grace and joining in the search for unity.

If you want to know... as every Christian should... the aims and hopes and promise of Ecumenism—if you would like to understand what the Ecumenical movement is all about... write today for our new pamphlet on the subject. It's pocket-size... can be read in a few minutes... and we'll send it free upon your request. No obligation—nobody will call on you. Write today... ask for Pamphlet No. KC-17.

Hot Combination Pickles

(The following recipe has been requested by so many that I am taking this newspaper space to make it available to all.—MRS. CORA SLONE.)

- Onions
- Celery
- Carrots
- Cauliflower
- Cucumbers
- Sweet or hot peppers, as you prefer
- Green tomatoes, turning to ripen

(I use whatever vegetables I have on hand. A large or small amount of each doesn't matter.)

Prepare vegetables, cut in small or large pieces, as you desire. Put vegetables in glass or plastic container. Mix one pint pickling salt to one gallon water. Soak in this solution from 24 to 36 hours. Drain vegetables. Pack loosely in sterilized jars. To each quart add ¼ teaspoon turmeric powder, ½ teaspoon dry powdered mustard, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon tobacco sauce, one lump alum size of a pea. Add garlic if you like it.

Mix one pint water to each quart red vinegar. Bring to a boil, pour over vegetables and seal. Let age at least 14 days.

(I use boiled rain water for all pickles, because it does not contain iron or any other chemicals.)

A "Well Done" to Mont Gibson On the Occasion of His Retirement

In America, the quiet, unassuming citizen can, and often does distinguish himself.

Such distinction MONT GIBSON has won during the last 26 years as custodian at the Prestonsburg Elementary School. Steady, day-in, day-out service, attention to detail, dedication to the job at hand, an abiding interest in the school and a kindly, helpful attitude toward teachers and pupils alike—these have earned Mr. Gibson the esteem of all who have watched him at work over the years.

No pupil of this school ever learned from Mont Gibson the modern-day art of shirking his duty. If they were in the least observant they, on the contrary, must have been impressed by his industry and his commitment to the principle that an honest day's work should be given in return for a full day's pay.

And the thousands of youngsters who have known him at the school, those 26 years, also have learned that a busy, working man can also find the time to be a kind man, never too busy to be of assistance or to show that extra little patience that is so badly needed in times of stress.

For such long and faithful service we congratulate Mont Gibson. For his retirement years we extend to him our sincere best wishes.

SADDLE CLUB TO SPONSOR HORSE SHOW, FISH FRY

The East Kentucky Saddle Club will sponsor a horse show and fish fry at its riding grounds at Hueysville, October 9. The fish will be served, beginning at 11 a.m. The horse show will start at 1 p.m.

Seventeen classes will make up the program. A trophy and five ribbons will be presented in each class. The Girl Scout troop from Martin will present the trophies and ribbons.

The officials will be Ivan Childers, announcer; Glenn Fleming, ringmaster; Charlie B. Vanhoose and Sandra Vanhoose, judges. The pledge to the flag will be led by Mrs. George Barrette, and the invocation by the Scoutmaster.

The admission price to the show and fish fry is $1. All exhibitors showing horses will receive a ticket from the registration booth when the horses are registered.

The largest crowd ever to attend a horse show in Eastern Kentucky is anticipated by Mason Moore, president of the saddle club. Music will be furnished by the Lonesome Pine Fiddlers. Live radio coverage of the show will be furnished by a local station. An attempt to shoot a movie of the proceedings will be made and the film will be run at a future Saddle Club meeting.

Urgent Need for More State Police Is Cited

Frankfort, Ky. — People concerned about Kentucky's rising traffic death toll frequently say, "We need more State Police." Now there's an opportunity to help in getting them.

A drive is under way to enlist recruits to begin a cadet training class late this year. Officials of the Kentucky Department of Public Safety, of which the State Police Division is a part, report they have been experiencing difficulty in the recruiting campaign. They frankly say they would appreciate help in urging young men, of all races, 21 to 30 years old, who are high school graduates, to apply. Information may be obtained about qualifications and career opportunities in the State Police at any Post or the Division's Bureau of Personnel at Frankfort.

Governor Breathitt's budget, approved by the 1966 General Assembly, provided for pay increases for State Police and the addition of 50 troopers in each of the two fiscal years of the state biennium which began July 1.

Kentucky's traffic death toll is running over 100 ahead of the pace in 1965 when, in all, 916 were killed.

Witnesses' Annual Meet Draws 61,000

A delegation of Jehovah's Witnesses from Beaver recently returned from the group's annual district convention in Baltimore, Maryland.

Titled the "God's Sons of Liberty" District Assembly, it was held in Memorial Stadium, home of the baseball Orioles, at the city's special invitation. The convention attracted over 61,000 persons and was the largest ever held in Baltimore.

Burnis Jones, of Beaver, presiding minister of the Witnesses in this area, said the gathering was "held to strengthen the faith of all who attended."

An important event during the five-day gathering was the mass baptism of 739 persons in Baltimore's Clifton Park pool. The entire convention was operated by over 10,000 volunteer workers, including some local Witnesses, Jones said.

Regular weekly meetings of the area congregation will now resume.

PICK NEW COLLEGE SITE

Frankfort, Ky.—The site of the University of Kentucky's Hazard community college will be the Black Gold mining camp, about two miles southeast of Hazard, the Board of Trustees has decided. The board also has accepted a 75-acre site on U.S. 62, about four miles southwest of Maysville, for another community college. The state now has nine community colleges and plans others.

Invitation To Bid

The Floyd County Annual Committee will on Saturday, October 8, 1966, beginning at 9:30 a.m., accept the lowest and best bids for pictures and contract for publication of the 1967 Floyd Countyman. The committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

If Ky. State Police Arrest or Cite You On Traffic Charge

Frankfort, Ky.—The odds have risen to just above three to one that you will be convicted if arrested or cited by Kentucky State Police on a traffic-violation charge, the State Public Safety Department reports.

The average conviction rate for all judges in Kentucky handling such State Police cases rose to 76 percent for the three-month period of April, May and June, officials say.

This is an all-time high for any quarter year, up from 73 percent, the previous record, during the first three months of 1966. For the first six months of the year, the rate was 74.5 percent.

Public Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovern praised the record, pointing out the rate had steadily climbed from a low of 59 percent, set some years ago. The rate for all of 1965 was 66 percent. The yearly high was 67 percent, established in 1964.

Lovern commented: "The rising conviction rate demonstrates the court officials more and more are recognizing their responsibility in this problem area, and that there is better preparation and handling of such cases."

The courts' record, he said, "provides great encouragement to law enforcement officers confronted with rising traffic accident and death rates and striving to curb traffic-law violations."

Kentucky's traffic death rate is running over 100 ahead of that for the comparable 1965 period. In all, 916 persons were killed in 1965 traffic accidents, an all-time high.

Tabulation of Ballots Cast In ASCS Election Will Be Begun, Friday

Tabulation of ballots cast for community committeemen in the recent ASCS election will be begun by the county ASCS committee here at 9 a.m., Friday, with completion of the count scheduled for Monday. The count will be held at the ASCS office on Court street, and Harry T. Hill, chairman of the county committee, said the public is invited to be present during the tabulation.

Delegates elected from each of the five communities in the county will meet at the ASCS office at 10 a.m. Friday, September 30 to elect one county committeeman for a three-year term, a first alternate and a second alternate to the county committee. At the same time, positions on the committee will be determined.

The county committee consists of a chairman, vice-chairman, regular member and first and second alternates.

The vote for community committeemen was comparatively light. Approximately 3,000 ballots were mailed to eligible voters. About 500 were cast and returned to the ASCS office by the September 20 deadline.
