This Town . . . That World

TO MAKE TEMPUS FUGIT

Bob Spurlock and I were jointly facing the coming winter, the other day, with considerable dismay . . . dreading the inevitable day when all the colorful leaves would be gone, almost shuddering to think of the long, dreary days ahead. But we parted on a cheery note. He remembered an old formula for making the winter days pass hastily: Make yourself a bank-note.

Bible Week approaches. Simply dusting off the Book is no way to observe it.

SHORT ARMS, SHORT SKIRTS

This youngster had strayed away from his young mother, and she had enlisted the store manager's help in locating him. After an exasperating search, the man found the brat. "Why don't you keep hold of your mother's skirt?" he stormed. "Cause I can't reach it," solemnly replied the child.

DEROSSETT TO THE RESCUE

Blaine Hall is a quiet sort who loves music but isn't one to produce it — not for an audience, anyway. So it was a numbing sort of shock to him, last Saturday during the radiothon to raise funds for the plant site purchase near Lancer, to hear Homer D. Neeley extol his talents as a vocalist and to promise one and all that if anybody would make a pledge of $300 Mr. Hall would sing any song requested. There was no $300 pledge, but things picked up in the pledging of smaller amounts. After a reasonable time, Neeley announced that Mr. Hall would sing in re- (See Story No. 4, Page 2)

UNITED FUEL STRIKE NOW HELD CERTAIN

UNION VOTES STRIKE; DATE IS NOT SET

91% of Workers Spurn Offer; Time Extended For Ky. W. Va. Talks

United Fuel Gas Company's union employees will strike, but when remains a big question. Negotiations between employees' bargaining representatives and the company broke off, late Tuesday afternoon, at Charleston, West Virginia. The workers remained on the job Wednesday, but they worked without a contract and union benefits. The 1,338-member union already had voted to strike, with about 91% rejecting the terms offered.

Jesse Wallen, of Water Gap, who represented Local 3372, Oil, Chemical & Atomic Workers Union, in the Charleston talks, said company representatives told him and other committee members that United Fuel had made its final "package" offer on September 22. He added that the federal mediator who had sat in on the negotiations suggested that the local unions involved name sub-committees, members of which could be reached and quickly assembled in the event that the company decides later to resume talks.

"The company is ready and willing to meet with the union negotiating committee at any time," United Fuel president James Phillips said Wednesday. "We are ready to talk contract, any time the company is," Wallen said.

Phillips said the company's final offer called for a 34-cent-an-hour wage increase over a three-year period.

Wallen explained that the big rift between union and company hinges on three items:

1. Agency shop. (This term was explained by the example of a non-union company employee who has a grievance or other trouble with the company and who comes to the union for help. The union goes to his aid, and it takes the position that, though his membership in the union is not required, he should pay dues to help finance future action in behalf of such employees.)
2. Contracting work to firms and individuals.

LONGER TIME TO BE ASKED

By Wets To Present Evidence in Contest; Claim Wets Have Edge

An attorney for Wet forces which are contesting the outcome of the July 27 local option election said this week that he and his colleagues have requested an extension of time in which to complete the main burden of evidence. He estimated that they will need till November 10 to hear this part of the proof.

When the Wets complete their main quiz of witnesses, the Dry forces will have their inning, and when the Drys have finished the principal part of their taking of evidence, each side will have brief periods for rebuttal testimony.

The attorney for Wet forces said that, prior to last Friday and Saturday when the taking of depositions moved to Martin, 129 persons had been summoned to testify. Of these, he said, 8 testified they voted wet, 93 dry, 15 refused to say how they voted, 10 were found to be legal voters (that is, they had voted in the precinct of their residence and were registered there), 2 did not vote and one is to be recalled for further questioning.

He added that his tabulation shows the Wets, as of Tuesday this week, to have overcome the 85-vote Dry margin and to have forged 28 votes ahead.

The attorney said names of persons who refused to state how they voted, after the illegality of their vote has first been established, are being certified to Judge Lowe, of Pikeville, who was designated by the Court of Appeals to preside in the trial of the contest action.

Harry P. Higgins, 62, Passes Away Sunday At Ohio Hospital

Harry P. Higgins, 62-year-old retired miner, of Delaware, O., died Sunday at the Jane M. Case hospital, Delaware. A native of Coalton, Kentucky, he was the son of the late Andrew and Ellen Harris Higgins. His wife, Mrs. Grace Higgins, survives.

Also surviving are a daughter, Miss Dorothy Higgins, at home; four sons, Carlos Higgins, Mariango, Ohio, Chester Higgins, Columbus, Ohio, Hubert Higgins, of Sunbury, Ohio, Norman Higgins, U.S. Army in Germany; six sisters, Mrs. Homer Crank, Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Harlan Hodge, Chicago, Illinois, Mrs. Gene Austin, Mrs. Barley Hall, Mrs. Bud Hall and Miss Terrey Higgins, all of Ashland. He also leaves seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the Hamrahan-Pletcher Funeral Home, Delaware. Burial was made in the Green Mount cemetery at Kilborne, Ohio.

Mental Health Group In Meet at Martin Hi; Fund for Work Cited

The Floyd County Mental Health and Retardation Association met Tuesday at Martin high school. Jack Davidson spoke on aims, prospects and needs for the area.

A total of $75,000 is available for the remainder of fiscal 1967 to begin clinical treatment and hire a staff for the five-county Big Sandy region. Membership of the Floyd County Association must be increased in order to give support and keep the public informed of activities, facilities and progress in the area, it was said.

Next meeting will be held at Martin high school cafeteria Tuesday, November 15. The meetings are open to the public, and all county residents are urged to attend.

Any group or organization desiring information and details of the program should contact Ronald Lawson at the Prestonsburg Community College or Jack Davidson at the Floyd County Health Department. Speakers are available to civic and fraternal organizations.

McKee Pastor To Lead Allen Baptist Church In Revival Next Week

The Rev. Fontaine Jones, pastor of the McKee Baptist Church, will lead the revival which will begin at the First Baptist Church, Allen, Sunday, it was announced this week.

Services will be held daily at 7 p.m., and will continue through the following Sunday. Gus Kalos, minister of music at Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here, will lead in the music program of the services.

BUSES ARRIVE, LINE NEARING OPERATION

Arrival of two 36-passenger buses this week promises the beginning of Prestonsburg city bus line service over a sizeable section of the county around November 1, it was said Wednesday by Homer D. Neeley, president of the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce.

One of the buses was delivered Monday. The second is expected today (Thursday). Initial operation must await approval by the Department of Motor Transportation of the traffic schedule.

Service by the new line does not prohibit the Allen Brothers Bus Company from continuing its present schedule to the Prestonsburg area or the Pikeville city bus line from making its runs into this county as far as Allen.

A meeting of stockholders of the Prestonsburg line has been called for Friday evening. Stock totaling $11,000 has been sold, with between $14,000 and $15,000 more needed to finance the ven-

SHOE PLANT SITE FUND STILL $6,000 SHY OF GOAL

The drive for funds needed to purchase a site for the U. S. Shoe Company plant here is still more than $6,000 short of its $18,500 goal.

As of Wednesday morning, $9,146.48 had been deposited. Uncollected pledges amount to $3,056.

Ten days remain in which to raise the remainder needed.

The Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce last Saturday staged a radiothon over both Prestonsburg stations, and the response was favorable but not in such volume as to rid those directing the fund drive of worries about a distant goal and an approaching deadline.

The U. S. Shoe Company, a few weeks ago, set November 1 as a tentative date for the breaking of ground at the plant site in the mouth of Bull Creek section. With that date nearing, the work of solicitation will be intensified over the next few days.

Names of contributors to the fund will be published in succeeding editions of The Times.

DESIGN WORK ON 12 MILES NEARS START

US 23 in Floyd Covers 12 Miles, Pike Has 59; Name Design Engineers

Consulting engineers for design of two sections of U.S. 23 totaling 12 miles in length in Floyd county and nine sections of 59 miles in Pike have been selected as a move toward actual construction of Appalachian highway projects in the two counties, Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward announced last week.

"We have issued a work order for design of 6.7 miles of U.S. 23 from near Betsy Layne to Allen by Kroboth Engineers, Inc., and are awaiting approval of an agreement with Tecon Engineers, Inc. for design of 5.2 miles of U.S. 23 from Allen to the junction with Ky. 114 at Prestonsburg," Ward said.

He added that as soon as the Department of Highways receives approval by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads on agreements for design, work orders will be issued, so that construction on the two Floyd sections can be begun as soon as possible.

In Pike county a work order has been issued to Hurst-Rosche and Associates, of Frankfort, for design of 4.4 miles of U.S. 23 between the lower bridge at Pikeville to the Stanley Addition. Ward emphasized that design work will begin immediately on this section and preliminary right-of-way plans are due February 1, next.

CRASH KILLS 15-YEAR-OLD

Martin Hi Sophomore Victim As Car Skids, Rammng into Building

Three days following his fifteenth birthday, Fred Bishop, Jr., of Dinwood, was instantly killed Tuesday night at 8:45 when the car he was driving crashed head-on into the Martin Supply Co. building, on Rt. 80 in Martin.

State Trooper Richard Ray said the car, traveling south and apparently at a high rate of speed, slid on the wet pavement, left the right edge of the highway, struck a utility pole and then careened on into the building.

Young Bishop was driving his father's car, alone, at the time of the accident.

The son of Fred and Bessie Thacker Bishop, he was a sophomore at Martin high school.

He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Patsy Slone, of Martin. Funeral rites will be held at 2 p.m., Saturday, at the Dinwood Community Church, the Rev. Ronnie Gregory officiating. Burial will be made in the Dingsus cemetery at Dinwood under the direction of the Merion Funeral Chapel.

POVERTY WAR COST EXCEEDS $3 MILLION

Federal war-on-poverty funds spent in Floyd county in the last 18 months amount to $3,171,990, according to Governor Edward T. Breathitt.

Breathitt said the Kentucky Office of Economic Opportunity, a branch of his office, listed these projects and funds provided directly to the county by the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964:

1. Head Start classes in Floyd county received $179,174 for the two summers with 972 children attending during the two terms.

2. Adult basic education for 1,100 persons was made possible through grants totaling $157,915.

3. Neighborhood Youth Corps programs in the county provided 900 young people with work experience, and, as necessary, counseling, remedial education, vocational training, and orientation to the world of work at a cost of $420,920. The programs are designed to increase their employability or to further their education.

4. Work experience programs were conducted at a total cost of $2,183,455. These projects expand opportunities for constructive work experience and other needed training to those unable to care for themselves or their families.

5. Individual loans to two persons amounted to $4,500, provided through the rural loan program administered by the Farmers Home Administration.

6. VISTA personnel working in the county were supported at a total cost of $20,100. These volunteers, working side by side with the poor, are trained to carry the assistance and opportunities offered the poor to their neighborhoods and into their homes.

7. Community Action funds amounting to $205,926 were granted to the county primarily for program development, health

WELL SITES ARE PICKED

Drilling of Water Wells Is Temporary Measure; Central System Sought

Locations for the drilling of water wells in the Mud Creek area were made this week in a move to provide the section, known as Area 979, with a temporary supply of water.

The drilling of water wells in the area is planned as a stop-gap measure, pending the founding of a water district and a permanent water distribution system.

Drilling sites were selected by Fred Klaer, Jr., Columbus, O. hydrologist; Jerry Hudson, of the Sanitary Engineering department, State Department of Health, and Woody Mull, Lexington, U.S. Geologic Survey.

A federal grant of $18,710 and $5,000 from Governor Breathitt's emergency fund will finance the drilling and preparation of water wells in the area.

The temporary nature of the well arrangement was emphasized as Hershell Hamilton, chairman of the Area 979 Community Action Committee, continued to seek the cooperation and participation of residents by signing easements for the drilling and by paying tap-on deposits toward developing a water district and a permanent water distribution system.

ALICE LLOYD STUDY GETS RECENT START

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Alice Lloyd College's $42,500 planning study gathered momentum October 10 with the orientation visit of four educational resource consultants from Central Kentucky.

The consultants represented one of several teams which will work with the college during the year to study and advise in various areas of the institution's academic development. The first group was comprised of Dr. Charles Elton, director of the University of Kentucky's Office of Institutional Research; Dr. Lawrence Allen, chairman of the University's department of library science; Ordie Davis, assistant director of the University's Office of Student Financial Aids; and Suthern Sims, administrative vice-president at Kentucky Southern College. The study is being co-ordinated by Leslie L. Martin, of the University of Kentucky College of Education. Financed by a Higher Education Act grant, it will include long-range planning in the areas of cultural and sociological expansion, programmed instruction, data processing, and administration and faculty development. Dr. Martin said other resource consultant teams similar to the initial group will work with him in the planning and that they, in turn, will invite the consultation of specialists in many areas of education. Alice Lloyd faculty and student committees will aid in the study.

NOTICE

Lizzie Hayes has filed application with the Floyd County Court for license to operate a place of entertainment, Hayes' Restaurant, at McDowell, Kentucky. C. OLLIE ROBINSON, Clerk Floyd County Court

In addition, Ward said, consultant contracts have been negotiated and design contracts are awaiting approval by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads on three other sections in Pike.

U.S. 23 from the Stanley Addition to Betsy Layne, 7.9 miles, Reid, Quebe and Thompson, of Indianapolis, Indiana; U.S. 119 from Pikeville to Meta, 9.4 miles, R. W. Booker, of Lexington; Elkhorn City bridge on Ky. 80, E. Lionel Pavio, of New York.

"Approaches to the Elkhorn City bridge and a 1.7 mile roadway section are being designed by Department of Highways engineers," Ward said.

The highway commissioner said consultants have also been selected on other sections of Appalachian system highways in Pike county. He listed the sections and consultants as follows:

U.S. 23 from Pikeville to Shelbyana, 8.6 miles, Hurst-Rosche and Associates; U.S. 23 from Shelbyana to Caney Creek, 6.8 miles, Palmer-Baker Engineers, Inc., of Louisville; U.S. 23 from Caney Creek to Dorton, 7.5 miles, Reid, Quebe and Thompson; U.S. 23 from Dorton to the Letcher county line, 6.2 miles, L. E. Gregg and Associates, of Lexington; U.S. 119 from Meta to Sidney, 6.3 miles, Berger and Associates, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Ward said the Department of Highways is now awaiting approval by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads of route studies on sections of U.S. 119 and Ky. 80 which are involved in state line crossings.

He listed those sections as U.S. 119 between Sidney and the West Virginia line at Williamson and Ky. 80 at the Virginia line, near Breaks Interstate Park.

A route study on Ky. 80 from Shelbyana to the northeast city limits of Elkhorn City also has not been approved by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, Ward said.

"Approval has been given," Ward said, for 89 miles of Appalachian highways in Pike county—more than any other county in the Appalachian region—and that mileage for which consultants have been selected by the department represents two-thirds of the approved total with the department making rapid progress in advancing work on the other 30 miles."

LAND AUCTION

Saturday, October 22

10:00 a.m.

HIGHLAND AVE. and TRIMBLE BRANCH AREA

The first lots to be sold at auction are on the new street behind the homes of Mrs. Mary Jane Harkins, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Colvin and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dingus. Some are adjacent to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oak McGuire.

The second section of lots to be sold is up Mary Jane Lane in Trimble Branch. Lots lie between the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Astor Meade. Other lots are opposite the Astor Meade home, adjoining the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harmon.

Land is Prestonsburg's most rapidly vanishing commodity—in the past five years more land in the Prestonsburg area has been committed to new uses: to new roads, to new business, to a new college, to new industry, new motels, low cost housing projects, new homes—than in ALL THE PRECEDING 65 YEARS. The pace is accelerating and projections set at least a doubling of population in the next nine years. Could there be a better investment than real estate in a community with so much going for it?

These residential lots are in a superb natural setting with splendid views of mountains and valleys. "On a clear day you can see forever."

Each homesite affords a high degree of privacy in a relaxed atmosphere of charm and good living—each site is unique and impossible to duplicate. . . Look them over carefully. You may just find THAT CERTAIN PLACE which you have always known—in your mind's eye—was just the place for you.

At every auction there will be a moment in time that you can buy—and what you have bought will be yours forever. When the auctioneer chants "SOLD!" you will either experience the elation of owning exactly what you want—or, you may see a dream smashed. Nothing in life has quite the same ring of finality as the shout of "SOLD!" by the auctioneer. "SOLD!"—And the deed is done, over, finished. The poet could well have been describing an auction when he wrote:

"The moving finger writes and having writ, moves on, nor all your piety nor wit can bring it back again nor cancel half a line."

If you are on time, on the spot, and "with it" this could be your day—but remember that 10 seconds late is the same as forever.

Please ask any questions if there is anything you are not sure of. Several people will be there to answer any questions at all. It is only natural and sensible to want answers—to dispel any doubts.

One thing more—Someplace on earth there may be a perfect lot or a perfect piece of property. There may also be a perfect man—someplace. We don't doubt it; it is just that we have never seen it. Each lot we have seen any place has some flaw—something we would change—a little, at least. These lots are no exception. One of the great things about being human is that we can change things. We can aid nature a little—in a lot—maybe even in a man or woman. Then sometimes that is the way we like them—just as they are. The very imperfection another sees may happen to be the thing we like most.

This land has been one-family owned for just about 100 years. If you miss the property you want, don't fret. It may be available again in another 100 years; perhaps even a little sooner.

Terms to suit any one—Minimum cash, 29%. Financing on balance up to five years at bank interest.

Subpoenas 'in Blank' Issued Upon Request

Because of persistent reports that he was personally responsible for persons being subpoenaed to appear as witnesses in certain cases, Circuit Clerk Frank DeRossett this week cited Rule 45.01 for the attendance of witnesses:

"Every subpoena shall be issued by the clerk or other authorized officer, shall state the name of the court and the title of the action, and shall command each person to whom it is directed to attend and give testimony at a time and place and for the party therein specified. The clerk or other authorized officer shall issue a subpoena signed, but otherwise in blank, to a party requesting it, who shall fill it in before service."

It is explained that subpoenas for witnesses are signed "in blank" by the Clerk when an attorney or other authorized person requests them, and that in such cases the Clerk does not know the person for whom the subpoena is intended.

Neeley then announced that Blaine was bent on doing a bit of singing and would warble if a pledge of only $100 was received.

Well, this thing was getting to be pure torture to the fellow who was to do the singing. But just when all looked darkest relief came.

Jimmy Joe DeRossett phoned in, pledging $10. On one specific condition — that the aforesaid Hall would not sing.

A NO. 9 OLIVER

If I get to Pippa Passes this week-end for the Alice Lloyd College Founders Day, one thing there I must see.

This "must" for me is an old No. 9 Oliver typewriter.

I admit, the old machine holds some interest for me because it was one such that was my first typewriter and on which I learned this two-finger, Biblical ("seek and ye shall find") system that has served me in more or less good stead, for quite a spell now. Think of something mechanically durable, and that's a counterpart of the old Oliver with its three-row keyboard and its banked keys ("the typewriter with the downstroke," the advertisement said). I bought this particular Oliver, rebuilt, from a mail order house, used it for a dozen or so years, and finally sold it to Will Boggs. He operated it for a decade or so, and in the meantime his young son caused the old Oliver a nasty spill by pushing it, as I recall, out a window. This, of course, would not stop a typewriter with the "downstroke," and the last I heard of it, it was going strong.

As I said, this Oliver at Alice Lloyd College has an attraction for me because of youthful memories, but that isn't the real reason for my wanting to see it. I propose to approach the ancient Oliver No. 9 as if I stood at a shrine, because it was at this typewriter that Alice Lloyd sat for forty years or more, and every year filled with long hours; because from this machine her fingers drew onto paper her dreams for mountain boys and girls, and so reached across the miles to present the picture of human need for enlightenment in such a way that faraway strangers saw and felt this need and to this very hour remember.

MEMBER OF THE

FLOYD COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

Educational Division No. 2

Last year, our 1965 tax bills were sent out in September and we were due a 2% discount if we paid our bills by the first of November. Now, the School Board has voted a raise on us. And our new assessment will be on, so they don't want us to see them until after the election on Nov. 8. If anyone in this Division 2 of the county wants higher taxes, a vote for Dr. Allen will be a vote for higher taxes.

Dr. Allen has said he will not campaign for himself. Do you think he may not want to answer some of the questions he may be asked? Some of them would be about moving the Martin school. Some would be why he still wants to be board member. Do you think it may be to keep George Edd's job? A Board Member that hardly ever attends the meetings couldn't be interested in very much, unless it would be a job or two.

Since they have decided to move the Martin school, what do you think the people in Drift can expect? They may have to go to McDowell to school. Does Maytown want to keep their school?

A vote for me is a vote for better schools in the right locations, and to heck with their kind of harmony. Their harmony means your politics had better be right and you had better have a lot of votes in the family.

Earl Hall has withdrawn from the race and has pledged me his support.

Your vote and support will be appreciated.

These Youngsters Will Stage Trick-or-Treat To Meet Children Needs

While many youngsters are digging into their bag of tricks for "Trick or Treat" activities at Hallowe'en, a group of young people here will be ringing doorbells for another purpose.

They will be soliciting contributions for UNICEF (the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) which currently is giving assistance to more than 500 projects in 116 countries of the world to improve the lot of children faced with disease, starvation and lack of opportunity.

"Trick or Treat for UNICEF" has been a Hallowe'en enterprise here for the last several years—a constructive effort by youth rather than the destructive antics which often mark the season.

Albert Whitehouse, director of the Kentucky O.E.O., said that in the last 18 months Kentucky has received $83,490,883 in federal anti-poverty funds to provide educational, cultural and vocational opportunities, plus a rural loan program and funds to organize areas and hire personnel to mobilize public and private agencies and citizens in combating poverty.

Whitehouse said statewide funds allocated during this period amount to $8,187,538 for Head Start programs; $15,547,553 for Community Action programs; $9,215,213 for Neighborhood Youth Corps projects; $1,734,818 for Adult Basic Education; $32,125,200 for Work Experience projects; $1,699,540 for Rural Loan programs; $791,650 for Small Business loans; $13,120,317 for Job Corps centers, and $469,036 for VISTA personnel.

Observance Locally Sponsored by Club

"The Bible—Book of Wisdom and Truth," is the theme of the observance of National Bible Week which will be observed nationally and locally next week.

The local observance is being sponsored by the Spiritual Values committee of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club. The national observance is under auspices of a nationwide group of lay people representing all four major religious faiths of the people of the United States.

"We hear a great deal, these days," the sponsoring group said, "about the collapse of morals and breakdown of civilization. Let us recognize that such problems, with rare exceptions, do not arise out of church groups or religious-minded individuals who have centered their lives on the Bible. Undoubtedly, such persons have their faults, but they are not the faults of irresponsibility and lawlessness which seem to characterize so much of modern life."

LOUISVILLE STRING QUARTET HAVING CONCERT SUNDAY, 2nd IN COMMUNITY SERIES

The Louisville String Quartet will present a concert at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Commons Room of Prestonsburg Community College. It is the second in the 1967-'68 Community Concert Series sponsored by the college.

For their concert the quartet will perform selections by Schubert, Beethoven, and Dvorak. Featured with the Quartet as guest artist will be William Piacitelli, contrabassist. Mr. Piacitelli has just joined the Louisville Orchestra as principal bassist.

The Louisville String Quartet, organized in 1945, is composed of the principal members of the Louisville Orchestra. One of the few quartets maintained as an integral part of a major symphony orchestra, it is now jointly sponsored by the Louisville Orchestra and the University of Louisville and has given concerts throughout the Middle West.

Paul Kling, first violinist of the Quartet and concert-master of the Louisville Orchestra, has been hailed as a "musical phenomenon." Before coming to the United States, Mr. Kling was concertmaster and soloist with the Prague, Vienna and Tokyo Orchestras.

Peter McHugh, second violinist of the quartet, received his B.S. degree from Fredonia College and his Master of Music degree from the University of Louisville School of Music. Upon completion of work for his Master's degree, McHugh joined the Dallas Symphony and the Santa Fe Opera Orchestra.

Virginia Schneider, violinist, is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music and a former member of the Rochester Philharmonic. She studied with Hans Letz, Samuel Belov and William Primrose.

Grace Whitney, one of the original members of the group, is first cellist of the Louisville Orchestra. She is one of a family of musicians that includes her brother, Robert Whitney, conductor of the Louisville Orchestra. Formerly a staff member

ON DEPOSITS IN THIS BANK

The long-familiar $10,000 limit on Federal Deposit Insurance for deposits maintained "in the same right and capacity" has now been increased to $15,000.

Former Floyd Countian Named Ass't Principal

Billy J. Turner, former Floyd county man, was recently appointed as assistant principal of Guest Junior high school, Roseville, Indiana, by the Roseville school board.

The 36-year-old Turner has been with the Roseville school district for the past 12 years, the last five at the Guest school.

The board chose Turner over a field of seven candidates because they felt he was more familiar with the school and community and has a strong record both in his work and community.

An Army veteran, he served in Korea as a captain from 1953-55 before coming to the school district.

Turner graduated from Eastern Kentucky University in 1953 with a bachelor of arts degree. He earned his Master's degree by returning to Eastern Kentucky every summer from 1955 to 1961, eventually obtaining his master's degree in school supervision and administration.

For the past five years, Turner has taught history and physical education at Guest Junior high. Prior to Guest, he was an instructor at the Burton Junior high.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roe Turner, of Drift.

Attention, Voters

The election officers at Melvin precinct No. 27 have read the charges in The Times September 29 and want to deny the charges that fraud, intimidation and illegal voting took place there.

The charges were that 23 persons voted in this precinct that didn't live there. Everyone who voted there, their names were in the book that was left at the polls. We were instructed to let everyone whose name appeared in the book vote, also that 193 voted illegally because they received assistance in casting their votes and permitted election officers to help with their voting without making an oath required by law.

To the best of our knowledge there were approximately 36 who voted that needed assistance because they could not read or write or were blind. Each of these made a statement and their mark and it was witnessed by 2 of the election officials. These statements were returned to Prestonsburg along with the ballots.

A Summary of the Proposed Kentucky Constitution Revision as it affects Kentucky's Executive Department

ELECTED OFFICIALS The proposed Constitution Revision provides that the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General and Auditor of Public Accounts shall be elected by the people. Other present state offices would be determined by the legislature.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION The Constitution Revision provides for an elected State Board of Education which will choose the Superintendent of Public Instruction. This would be a non-partisan election by districts. Now the Superintendent must seek office every four years in a partisan election.

TERMS OF OFFICE All elected officials would continue to serve four-year terms. The Constitution Revision would allow elected state government officers — the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General and Auditor of Public Accounts — to be elected to two terms in succession. (The present Governor and other elected officers could not succeed themselves.)

WHEN GOVERNOR IS ABSENT FROM STATE The Constitution Revision would allow the Governor to retain his powers whenever he left the state. Under the present Constitution, the Lieutenant Governor assumes these powers any time the Chief Executive crosses the state line. And when this occurs, the Lieutenant Governor is paid the equivalent of the Governor's salary. This section is left out of the Proposed Revision, and it further stipulates that the Lieutenant Governor would be paid an annual salary for all of his duties.

WHEN THE GOVERNOR IS DISABLED The Constitution Revision provides a method for determining when a Governor's disability would occur, and what procedure would be followed.

THE GOVERNOR'S VETO POWER The time for a Governor's veto would be extended from ten to twenty days under the proposed Constitution. In all instances the legislature would have an opportunity to review and take action on a vetoed bill.

NEW ORDER OF SUCCESSION The Constitution Revision proposes that the line of succession for the chief executive shall be the Lieutenant Governor, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, then the Speaker of the House. The 1891 Constitution calls for succession by the Lieutenant Governor, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, in that order.

ELECTIONS EVERY TWO YEARS As it now stands, the Constitution requires an election in Kentucky every year. In effect, we have double elections because of the importance of primaries in Kentucky. The Constitution Revision would provide for elections every two years, held on even-numbered years, at the same time U. S. Representatives are elected. The terms of office of all elected officials would be adjusted to fit the biennial elections.

INFORMED CITIZENS MAKE WISE CHOICES

I encourage every Kentucky voter to read the entire proposed Constitution Revision. You may have a free copy by writing to the Attorney General's Office, State Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Robert Matthews

Robert Matthews, Attorney General

One of a series of messages prepared and published according to legislative directive by Robert Matthews, Attorney General. This message has been authorized under a law enacted by the 1965 Kentucky General Assembly, titled Senate Bill 161, Sec. V: "... The Attorney General shall cause the proposed Constitution and schedule or summaries thereof to be further publicized by other communication media in order that the voters of the Commonwealth may have a reasonable opportunity to become informed on the issue to be decided by them."

Look for this when your vote November 8

Alteration Or Reformation Of Constitution

Are you in favor of reforming the Constitution of the Commonwealth to cause same to be in the same form and language as finally submitted to the Governor and the General Assembly of Kentucky by the Constitution Revision Assembly and set forth in Senate Bill No. 161 enacted at the Regular Session of the General Assembly of Kentucky held in the year 1966 and as heretofore scheduled and published as required by law?

DOES THE SWIFT TREASURE REALLY EXIST?

Does the Swift Silver Mine (or mines) exist except in the imaginations of those who have been intrigued by fanciful legends and tales?

There are those who, after studying the journal of John Swift, the English adventurer for whom the treasure-trove was named, and old maps, are convinced that the fabled treasure lodes lie somewhere in the watershed of rugged Swift Creek, in Wolfe county. The digging there continues, and the question is renewed, year by year:

Do they dig for something no more tangible than the pot at the end of a rainbow, or are their efforts motivated by old but trustworthy records which bring them near the exact spot where the treasure lies buried?

THE LICKING VALLEY COURIER, West Liberty, Kentucky, has devoted much space over recent years to the fascinating Swift Silver Mine story, and the following is one of its more recent features on the subject:

The legend has persisted in the Appalachians since French and Indian War days—a legend that still draws adventurers into East Kentucky to search for the notorious silver mines (three) of John Swift, an Englishman whose journal recounts that he made eight trips into the wilds of Eastern Kentucky before the Revolutionary War (1761-1769) to mine silver and take it out on pack trains to Alexandria, Virginia.

Swift, according to the Journal, learned of the mine from a wayward French youth, one Mundy whom he befriended in the Carolinas after the lad had escaped when Indians killed his father while they were working the mine. Mundy later led Swift and a party to the mine, coming by way of "the Great Sandy" and then due west."

The Journal describes their operations for eight years, also gives directions how to find the mines. The Journal said the middle mine was at 37 degrees and 57 minutes north latitude and later he recounts the meridian was 83 degrees (or 88, it may be since parts of the Journal are nearly illegible.) The Journal said they had "three workings," and that there is silver also at 38 degrees and 2 minutes latitude. Further, the Journal says the "French worked another mine south of us and we sometimes visited them."

In some years Indians attacked, killing some of their pack mules, and they were forced to bury some of the treasure. The Journal describes these incidents and how they marked the sites of their buried treasure.

Intrigued by the Legend of Swift's Silver Mines, a young Morgan county businessman studied all angles of the old Swift story, pored over a copy of Swift's Journal, and studied geological and topographical contour maps—and found that Swift Camp Creek in Wolfe county fitted most of the Journal's descriptions. Then he went to Swift Creek and . . .

"Boy, when I found the 'haystack rock' there on the second ledge, I really got excited."

"Then, one after another, I found the landmarks and the signs as described in the Journal—the horseshoe rock, the 'light-house,' the 'drying ground' as Swift's party called a place where the stream goes underground, the 'backings on three beeches'—and they all fitted in place in the order and in the directions given in the Journal," he confided.

But he did not find the mine, nor the furnace site which the Journal described.

But he is still intrigued by the legend and the Journal. And he possibly hopes to do more prospecting when his job permits.

His hopes were dimmed, though, when he sent some of the "heavy" rocks to a former college friend who had majored in geology, to test for silver. The rocks were about twice as heavy as ordinary rocks, possibly indicating metallic content, he said. But the test proved negative for silver. However his geologist friend made the test by using a gas blower. Such is sufficient to test for silver. But a gas blower lacks the heat necessary to test for harder metals. So, he may have missed any platinum or related metals.

And so, there's still a possibility he's on the trail of Swift. At any rate, the young businessman wants a more thorough assay made of the samplings from Swift Creek before he drops his interest in the Journal. If the next assay is negative, he might drop it all . . . yes, might, for he's still intrigued, he admits.

But, to get back to his discoveries on Swift Creek and the many exciting days he spent there, sandwiched between busy days at his job.

Swift Camp Creek, about seven or eight miles long, runs from near Campton northward into Red River in deep canyon country. Its length, the direction that one of its forks flows (north-east), its rock bridge, its three forks, all fitted the Journal's description—as did also two other streams nearby, Chimney Top Creek and Gladie, in some particulars.

But the Journal said, "A few miles east lets you out of the cliff country." This narrowed the search to Swift Creek alone, for the other two streams are further west. And westward takes one further into the cliff country. So, Swift Camp Creek it was, according to this budding prospector's reasoning and also according to his initial findings. And that's where he went first and where he spent many hours following Swift's directions as contained in an old copy of his Journal he had secured from another Morgan man.

Go to the top of the hill or ridge leading out of the cliff country, then along the ridge to the right hand and there will appear a place that is higher than the other. Go in a low gap, leave the high knob to the right, go down and you will see a hanging rock and a rock that appears to have fallen from the other, go in betwixt them and you are very near the spot. You will find three ledges, first, second and third. Between the second and third ledges you will find the opening of the mine, beneath a red sand rock and the top of the cliff.

"We walled the entrance up in masonry form and stuck a rock in the opening the size of a salt barrel. Down in the cave we covered the opening of the mine with locust posts and earth or dirt. This mine is on a small drain. Close to the mine you will find a deep drain; at the head of this drain, close to the mine you will find a rock that resembles a haystack. We called it the Haystack Roc. Above the mine you will find a rock that resembles a chestnut burr; we called it the Chestnut Burr Rock. Just above the left hand fork you will find a spring. We called it the Blue Spring. On the right hand fork you will find a large spring. Between the spring and the furnace you will find a remarkable rock. It hangs over a small creek and the water runs under it. There is a rock comes up on the other side and lays against it. Some distance below this rock and the three forks you will find the mine."

"On the opposite side of the creek from where we were the land rose up high to a cliff that stood back from the creek. Up in the side of the cliff you will find a hole that resembles a door. We called it the Door Supposed. You can stand on the rocks there and point to the mines. Across the creek from where the mine is, the cliff comes up to a sharp point and in the shape of a horseshoe. On the top of this point you will find a round rock that extends over the cliff; you can stand on the top of the rock or along the side and look across and see the opening of the cave where the mine is. The creek the mine is on heads southwest and runs northeast and where the ore is, the cliff is in the shape of a half of a moon. Called it the Half Moon Cliff. The vein of ore runs northeast."

"There are two veins, one thick and one thin. You can stand at the rock house where we smelted the ore, facing the east and see two prominent rocks, the one is about 25 feet high and the other about 15 feet high. Not far from the mine west you will find a small creek that sinks under the ground; we called that the Drying Ground. On the slope across the top of the hill west there is a big rock that looks like a BUFFALO sitting down resting on the slope. We called it the BUFFALO ROCK. We cut our names on it, Swift, Mundy, Cyne, Jefferson and others."

"You can stand on top of the hill above the Buffalo Rock and look west and look through a hole in the top of the cliff and see the sky beyond. We called it the SKY ROCK or LIGHT HOUSE. Not far from the Drying Ground west we cut turkey tracks in under the cliff, pointing backwards to the mines. One mile southeast from the remarkable rock and right below where the branch forks we smelted ore. Five rods up the creek from where it bends to the south there is a large fallen rock, a gap in the cliff. East of there lets you out of the cliff country. Not far from the mine is a rock that looks like a TURTLE, we called it the TURTLE BACK ROCK.

The first time we came, Mundy got lost. We put our horses on a river called Red. We put them in a place that was surrounded by cliffs and fastened the entrance with grape vines. We crossed the river to the other side and wandered around all day and came back to where we started from. The next day Mundy said we would go down the river to the Indian trace (trail), he would know the way then. We went down the river two or three miles and found the Indian trace, so we wandered all that day and the next day. In the evening Mundy hollered out, "Here is the myrtle thicket; I know the way now."

"We went down a flight of Indian stair steps at the top of the cliff and across to the other side. We climbed up and went around west 200 yards on the second ledge and found the opening of the mine, WHERE OUR MINE IS THE WATER COURSE IS ON THE DIVIDE."

HOW TO FIND THE MIDDLE MINE

"If you strike the creek below the furnace, keep up the creek searching diligently for a large rock house on the left hand side. About a 100 yards above the rock house the furnace is in, the creek makes a bend or turn to the south and there is a fallen rock in the creek near the bend. If you discover the furnace to go to the middle mine, go up over the furnace then take a south-east course until you come to a remarkable hanging rock very high up with a gap between it and a very large mountain. On the east side of the hanging rock within about 100 yards you will find a line of rocks the mine is in. Search diligently said line of rocks for the passage into the mine."

(Swift, before he left in 1769, said they filled up the mine with rocks and logs, completely destroying all trace of their work.)

"To find the West Mine, set the compass on the west side of the rockhouse where the furnace is in, go westwardly course 50 poles which will bring you near the mouth of a drain, and on the right near the head of a drain is the mine. At this mine there are two veins, one large and one small; above the mine are two ledges of cliffs and one below." (Swift said before he left the mine they covered it with locust poles, placing rock and dirt over the place and carefully concealing their work.)

"The latitude of the mine is 37 degrees 57 minutes north. The last trip we came we saw our mine was so immensely rich it was decided by our party to abandon the mine for three years and for me to go to England to get a party interested to (Continued on Page 8)

LAND AUCTION

Saturday, October 22
10:00 a.m.

HIGHLAND AVE. and TRIMBLE BRANCH AREA

The first lots to be sold at auction are on the new street behind the homes of Mrs. Mary Jane Harkins, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Colvin and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dingus. Some are adjacent to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oak McGuire.

The second section of lots to be sold is up Mary Jane Lane in Trimble Branch. Lots lie between the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Astor Meade. Other lots are opposite the Astor Meade home, adjoining the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank HARRON.

Land is Prestonsburg's most rapidly vanishing commodity—in the past five years more land in the Prestonsburg area has been committed to new uses: to new roads, to new business, to a new college, to new industry, new motels, low cost housing projects, new homes—than in ALL THE PRECEDING 65 YEARS. The pace is accelerating and projections see at least a doubling of population in the next nine years. Could there be a better investment than real estate in a community with so much going for it?

These residential lots are in a superb natural setting with splendid views of mountains and valleys. "On a clear day you can see forever."

Each homestead affords a high degree of privacy in a relaxed atmosphere of charm and good living—each site is unique and impossible to duplicate . . . Look them over carefully. You may just find THAT CERTAIN PLACE which you have always known—in your mind's eye—was just the place for you.

At every auction there will be a moment in time that you can buy—and what you have bought will be yours forever. When the auctioneer chants "SOLD!" you will either experience the elation of owning exactly what you want—or, you may see a dream smashed. Nothing in life has quite the same ring of finality as the shout of "SOLD!" by the auctioneer. "SOLD!"—And the deed is done, over, finished. The poet could well have been describing an auction when he wrote:

"The moving finger writes and having writ, moves on, nor all your piety nor wit can bring it back again nor 'cancel half a line."

If you are on time, on the spot, and "with it" this could be your day—but remember that 10 seconds late is the same as forever.

Please ask any questions if there is anything you are not sure of. Several people will be there to answer any questions at all. It is only natural and sensible to want answers—to dispel any doubts.

One thing more—Someplace on earth there may be a perfect lot or a perfect piece of property. There may also be a perfect man—someplace. We don't doubt it; it is just that we have never seen it. Each lot we have seen any place has some flaw—something we would change—a little, at least. These lots are no exception. One of the great things about being human is that we can change things. We can aid nature a little—in a lot—maybe even in a man or woman. Then sometimes that is the way we like them—just as they are. The very imperfection another sees may happen to be the thing we like most.

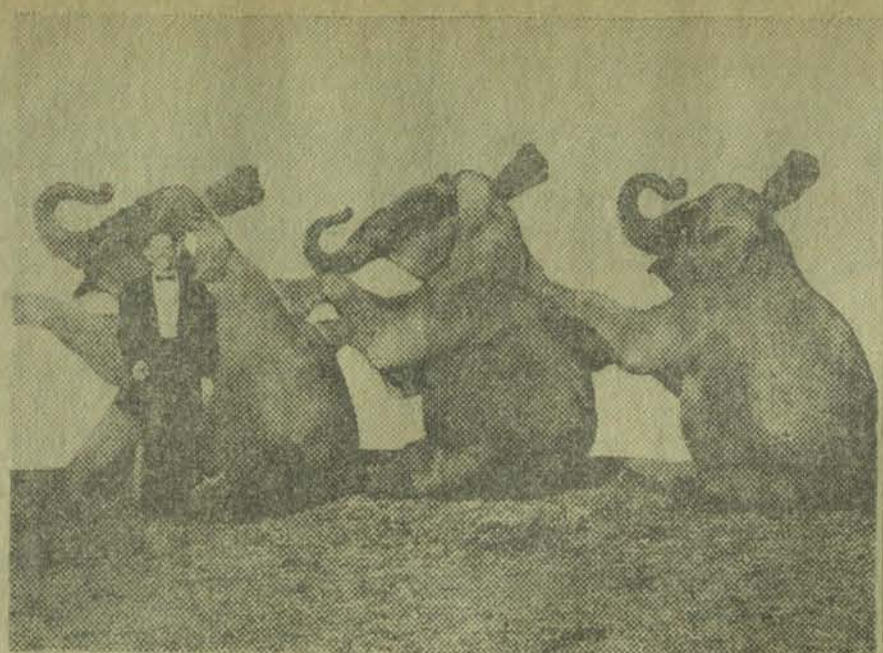

This land has been one-family owned for just about 100 years. If you miss the property you want, don't fret. It may be available again in another 100 years; perhaps even a little sooner.

Terms to suit any one—Minimum cash, 29%. Financing on balance up to five years at bank interest.

The 49'ers of Clark Elementary, led by halfback Charlie Slope, derailed the Big Red Express in Little League football here last Thursday night, 13 to 7.

The hard-fought contest featured fine play, both offensively and defensively, by both teams, and until the final play the game could have gone either way.

In the first game the Colts and Eagles battled to a scoreless deadlock. Neither eleven could muster a scoring drive, and the game settled down mainly to a battle of defenses.

CATS DEFEAT
WHITESBURG

Stout Defense Makes
Victory Come Easily;
To Play Hazard Next

Defensive play of the Prestonsburg Black Cats improved greatly as they downed Whitesburg in rather easy fashion, 26-0.

The Black Cats got rolling in the second quarter when Bennett Leslie scored twice—once on a 16-yard dash, and again from 11 yards out. Both conversions were made by John Clark. The score stood 14-0 at halftime.

In the third quarter Junior fullback Mike Castle intercepted a Whitesburg pass on the 45 and ran 55 yards for the score. The conversion attempt by Clark failed.

John Clark scored the final Prestonsburg touchdown in the fourth quarter on a nine-yard run. His point-after attempt was missed.

The visitors threatened when they drove to the three-yard line, but the Cats' defense, sparked by Terry Derosssett, stopped their drive.

Prestonsburg will travel to Hazard for this week's game.

Army Tells Procedure
Followed in Notifying
Relatives of Casualties

Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio—The Information Office at Fort Hayes has announced the Army's procedures used in notifying the next-of-kin of serious casualties of soldiers serving in Vietnam.

Notice of death or missing in action. The official notification that an Army member is dead or missing in action always reaches the primary next-of-kin by means of personal visit by an officer or senior noncommissioned officer, who is prepared to present proof of his identity if asked. This first in-person notification is followed shortly thereafter by a Western Union telegram from The Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C., verifying the information.

Notice of serious wound or illness. An initial notification of serious wound or illness is normally delivered to the next-of-kin by telegram. Department of the Army never sends such notices by telephone.

The Information Office pointed out that the next-of-kin of soldiers serving in Vietnam have been subjected to cruel hoaxes. False reports have been delivered by telephone, telegram, or in person. In each case the hoax was discovered when the relative of the supposed casualty sought further details from a nearby military headquarters or Department of the Army.

YOUTH CORPS EARNINGS LAST SUMMER, $65,221

Floyd county's economy is $65,221 better off as a result of the Neighborhood Youth Corps project operating here this summer, according to figures released this week.

The $65,221 represents the federal share of operating costs allocated to the local sponsor of the Youth Corps project principally for wages for 300 young people.

These enrollees, ranging in age from 16 through 21, were paid $1.25 per hour for working nearly full time in Youth Corps programs designed to fight the local war on poverty. In most cases the money thus earned enables these youths to return to school this fall, and reduce the number of students who leave school for economic reasons.

Local sponsor of the Youth Corps was the Floyd County Board of Education.

Nationally, an estimated $88 million in new purchasing power has found its way into the mainstream of hundreds of local economies this summer through Neighborhood Youth Corps projects.

Youth Corps experience indicates that the minimum earnings of the very poor go immediately into the hands of local suppliers of basic needs such as food, shelter, clothing and, to a lesser extent, health and recreation.

Thus, through Youth Corps summer wages, a significant wad of new money has come to communities in all 50 states and U.S. territories. Its effect has been to help retailers who normally encounter a seasonal slump, and particularly those small-volume merchants located in or close to economically blighted areas, in both urban and rural localities.

Public and private non-profit agencies in these areas have sponsored 912 NYC summer projects across the nation, this year. More than 200,000 young people from low-income, disadvantaged families participated in NYC earnings. The Neighborhood Youth Corps is an Economic Opportunity Act program administered by the Manpower Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor.

When is the best time to put in a pool?

Not many people know it, but Fall is the very best time to buy a pool. There are four important reasons why:

1. Our crews have the time to take extra care in installation.
2. Grass and shrubs are best planted in the Fall. They have months to get established. Water is more available, too.
3. When the pool is complete, we give you a free Aqua-Lock® Pool Cover. It seals out dust, leaves, and dirt throughout Winter and Spring.
4. On the first hot day next Spring, just peel back the cover and dive into sparkling water in a clean pool. No raw dirt around. No muddy backyard from Spring rains.

Spartan® pool — Gold Medal winner
 This beautiful pool won the national first prize for "design excellence." Bridge-type, galvanized-steel sidewalls are designed to withstand the rigors of the worst winters. Tile-smooth vinyl interior never needs maintenance. No painting or refinishing — ever. Pool includes filter and built-in skimmer.

FREE AQUA-LOCK POOL COVER
 We give you this famous pool cover worth as much as $200 if you buy a Spartan Pool now.

One ton of water in sleeves on all sides seals out leaves, dust; keeps pool safe for children, pets.

LETCHER WOMAN TELLS FIRM'S SUCCESS STORY

Kentucky manufacturers who want federal government contracts have a word of advice from Mrs. Lois A. Baker—Attend the Kentucky Science and Industry Procurement Conference, set for 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. November 17 at the Executive Inn in Louisville.

Mrs. Baker, president of Letcher Manufacturing Company, near Whitesburg, is now doing a booming business, thanks to attending the 1964 Kentucky Science and Industry Procurement Conference.

Here's her "success story." As a result of information obtained at the 1964 conference, Mrs. Baker became interested in building furniture for the government, and the following February asked to have her firm placed on the bidder mailing list. The first invitation to bid was received four months later. Letcher Manufacturing submitted 10 bids and was low on eight.

It was awarded the first contract for $28,472.80 in October, 1965. The contract was completed two weeks ahead of schedule, which resulted in a commendation from Washington.

That was the beginning. By the time one year of work for the government was finished, Letcher Manufacturing had performed over $300,000 in contract work.

During the coming year, Mrs. Baker expects to do $750,000 worth of business, or more, with the government. A new plant, which will have 30,000 square feet of floor space, is now under construction by Letcher Manufacturing. Seventy-five persons

CARD OF THANKS

May we express our heartfelt thanks for the many condolences that we received during the illness and passing away of Mother, Mrs. Manda Turner Cooley. For all the kind expressions of sympathy—those who called at the home and hospital during her illness, Dr. C. L. Allen and the Beaver Valley hospital staff, the ministers of the Regular Baptist Church who visited the home before and after our sorrow, offering consoling words, the beautiful cards, flowers, and letters of sympathy, those who delivered food to the home, John C. Hall and the personnel of Hall Brothers Funeral Home—we shall be forever grateful and shall always remember the comfort we received during this trying time.

LAND AUCTION

Saturday, October 22

10:00 a.m.

HIGHLAND AVE. and TRIMBLE BRANCH AREA

The first lots to be sold at auction are on the new street behind the homes of Mrs. Mary Jane Harkins, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Colvin and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dingus. Some are adjacent to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oak McGuire.

The second section of lots to be sold is up Mary Jane Lane in Trimble Branch. Lots lie between the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Astor Meade. Other lots are opposite the Astor Meade home, adjoining the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harmon.

Land is Prestonsburg's most rapidly vanishing commodity—in the past five years more land in the Prestonsburg area has been committed to new uses: to new roads, to new business, to a new college, to new industry, new motels, low cost housing projects, new homes—than in ALL THE PRECEDING 65 YEARS. The pace is accelerating and projections see at least a doubling of population in the next nine years. Could there be a better investment than real estate in a community with so much going for it?

These residential lots are in a superb natural setting with splendid views of mountains and valleys. "On a clear day you can see forever."

Each homesite affords a high degree of privacy in a relaxed atmosphere of charm and good living—each site is unique and impossible to duplicate. . . . Look them over carefully. You may just find THAT CERTAIN PLACE which you have always known—in your mind's eye—was just the place for you.

At every auction there will be a moment in time that you can buy—and what you have bought will be yours forever. When the auctioneer chants "SOLD!" you will either experience the elation of owning exactly what you want—or, you may see a dream smashed. Nothing in life has quite the same ring of finality as the shout of "SOLD!" by the auctioneer. "SOLD!"—And the deed is done, over, finished. The poet could well have been describing an auction when he wrote:

"The moving finger writes and having writ, moves on, nor all your piety nor wit can bring it back again nor cancel half a line."

If you are on time, on the spot, and "with it" this could be your day—but remember that 10 seconds late is the same as forever.

Please ask any questions if there is any thing you are not sure of. Several people will be there to answer any questions at all. It is only natural and sensible to want answers—to dispel any doubts.

One thing more—Someplace on earth there may be a perfect lot or a perfect piece of property. There may also be a perfect man—someplace. We don't doubt it; it is just that we have never seen it. Each lot we have seen any place has some flaw—something we would change—a little, at least. These lots are no exception. One of the great things about being human is that we can change things. We can aid nature a little—in a lot—maybe even in a man or woman. Then sometimes that is the way we like them—just as they are. The very imperfection another sees may happen to be the thing we like most.

This land has been one-family owned for just about 100 years. If you miss the property you want, don't fret. It may be available again in another 100 years; perhaps even a little sooner.

Terms to suit any one—Minimum cash, 29%. Financing on balance up to five years at bank interest.

You don't believe a 6 can act anything like an 8?

With our new Overhead Cam Six you'd better believe it.

A few short years ago automotive engineers were struggling to coax 165 hp out of a four barrel V-8 using premium gas. Remember? Our single barrel OHC 6 gets 165 hp on regular. And 215 from the premium gas four barrel option.

Most American sixes (and some underprivileged V-8s) don't even come close. Expensive European sports machines do. But they're overhead cams, too. In fact, they inspired us. But we like to think ours is better.

Our OHC 6 is standard on all Tempests and Le Mans. To say nothing of new styling, new interiors, new colors, new options (like that hood-mounted tach) and new standard safety features (like passenger-guard door locks, General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column and a four-way hazard warning flasher).

We've said enough. If a test drive won't convince you, nothing will.

TO FRIENDS OF EDUCATION
IN EDUCATION DIVISION NO. 1

Although I have been an announced candidate to succeed myself as a member of the county board of education for some weeks, I feel compelled to make the following statement regarding my candidacy.

I was first elected to the board almost eight years ago in opposition to the administration, as it existed at that time. Two years after my election to the board, a new superintendent was hired by the majority of the board, as it was made up at that time. We did have some stormy board meetings after the new superintendent was seated but during the stormy period we all learned a great deal about each other and about our responsibilities as board members and school officials. We discovered that what we all really wanted was the best school system possible for Floyd county's children and we had the same hope for creating a better Floyd county through greater opportunity for our youth.

Under the leadership of Superintendent Clark and his staff the Floyd county school system has made more progress during the last six years than during any other period in our history. I am happy to have been a part of that period of great progress. Our school system has gained a reputation as one of the best and most progressive systems in all of the Appalachian Area. As evidence of progress made within the last six years I list below a few examples:

1. More than 80 new classrooms completed and in use (Contract let for 7 rooms at Prestonsburg Elementary school.)
2. One of the first county systems to qualify for "Head Start."
3. Most complete lunchroom program in Eastern Kentucky.
4. Adult Education program which has been copied by school systems in Kentucky and West Virginia.
5. One of only thirty-two school systems in Kentucky operating a N.Y.C. program in Kentucky, whereby our young people have earned over 1/2 million dollars on workshops during the past school year. We are assured of a similar program this school year.
6. Summer school program for over 4,000 of our educationally deprived young people.
7. A complete vocation school program at Garth which can be used by young people from all sections of Floyd county.
8. Clark Elementary School consolidating all the Middle Creek section.

The above accomplishments, as well as many others, have made all the board members very happy to have been a part of such a school system. Greater things are planned for the future and I want to be a part of that future. For this reason I wish to solicit your support in order to insure harmony and to keep this school system moving forward. I have complete confidence in the leadership of Superintendent Clark and his staff and I want them to have a chance to continue their dynamic leadership.

AIR POLLUTION SURVEY ORDERED FOR KENTUCKY

Frankfort, Ky. — Kentucky's new Air Pollution Control Commission at its first meeting October 6, ordered a statewide air pollution survey, approved an operating budget and reviewed air pollution complaints.

Members of the commission directed their newly formed staff to find out where and how much air pollution threatens the general health and comfort of the people of Kentucky.

The survey will be conducted with monitoring devices in carefully selected sites throughout the state. Commission members said they expected nothing but cooperation from Kentucky industries, and the general public.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, Kentucky Commissioner of Health, said that 3,000 questionnaires have already been mailed out to industries around the state to give some idea of what and where air pollution problems exist, without specifically identifying the industries involved.

The commission also discussed some 35 complaints on air pollution received from citizens around the state. Ralph C. Pickard, executive secretary of the commission who will head up the new staff, said, "We plan to investigate every complaint we receive and will try to persuade the offenders to correct the situation as soon as possible."

The commission ratified a $316,666 budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year. A federal air pollution control grant of $196,828 will be matched by $98,414. The remaining $21,424 represents other state funds exclusive of the Air Pollution grant.

Miss Katherine Peden, Kentucky Commissioner of Commerce, and S. S. Lord, Jr., industrial representative of the commission, of Louisville, were elected chair-

STATE FARM INCOME UP

Kentucky Agriculture Above U.S. Average; $800 Million Foreseen

Frankfort, Ky.—Farm income in Kentucky for the first seven months of 1966 ran 8.4 percent ahead of the national average and $62.2 million more than the January through July totals in Kentucky one year ago.

Governor Edward T. Breathitt, chairman of the Commission on Agriculture, said figures released by the Kentucky Department of Commerce "are very favorable and point to a record Kentucky farm income in 1966."

The Commerce Department's figures, based on information gathered by the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service and U.S. Department of Agriculture could mean a 1966 annual farm income of more than $800 million, the Governor said.

Farm income in Kentucky exceeded the $700 million figure only twice—in 1964 and 1965. The goal of the Commission on Agriculture is to find ways of reaching a $1 billion annual farm income for Kentucky.

Figures reveal that farm income for the first seven months of this year totaled $346.7 million as compared to $284.5 million for the corresponding period one year ago.

SWIFT TREASURE

come over and help work the mine on a large scale. Our mines was much richer than any I saw in England. There was smart talk of war. I talked so free in favor of a free country they arrested me as a spy and put me into prison. When the war broke out they put me in the navy. I fought through Revolutionary War and it was 15 years before I came back to Virginia. When I returned I could not find any of my party, just supposing they had got killed in the war. The last I heard of Mundy he started to Kentucky with a party of six men to get the hidden treasure. The hard winter I spent in Kentucky and the exposure, I had lost my eyesight. I got six men to come to Kentucky to see if we could locate the mine. By the time we started my sight had failed me so I led only as the blind. I could not see for others but these rocks and hills were just as plain before my eyes as the day I left them.

"Mundy was a French boy. When I first met him he told me his father was working these mines when the Indians killed all his family and captured him.

He said they were working the old mine west of the new mine when they shot a bear and it ran down into a cave and they went after it and found a vein of ore that was richer, so much richer than the other mine that they abandoned the old mine and worked the new mine. (We worked the new mine.)

"Mundy got away from the Indians, and when he got to be a man he wandered into South Carolina. I met him one day and took him to an inn and got his dinner for him. He then told me of these rich mines in Kentucky. I asked him if he could pilot the way. He said he could. I was a sailor at this time.

"I told him to stay at the inn until I returned from Cuba. I know the miners in Cuba, so I got Cruise (Guyne) and Jefferson over with me and we started for Kentucky. (This was the first trip.)

When Swift came back to Kentucky (blind) the last time with a crew of six men he described the creek to them the mine was on. He told them to find a creek with a remarkable rock and place him at the three forks of it; that he could tell them so near where the mine is they could find it. So his men wandered on Swift's Creek, thinking it was the creek that Swift described. They brought him to three forks of the creek. They camped where the courthouse now stands. This place used to go by the name of Camptown because Swift said it was the place where his men camped. When he brought his men in search of this mine, and they, when they would return at night and report to him not found, he would cry out and say, "Boys, don't never stop hunting for it for it was the richest thing I ever saw; it will make all Kentucky rich."

So at last they had to give up the search. They wandered down Red River and there almost starved to death when they were found by a bear hunter by the name of Townsend (though proper name Dookey). Swift was sick, so this good samaritan took Swift and his party to Lexington. Swift grew weaker each day from the strain and disappointment that he died there. But before his death the men gathered round him and he gave them all the information that he could so that they might locate him the mine, describing mountains, rocks, trees and water courses.

Some doubted his story and brought a magistrate before him and he swore his statement was true.

He said also he once was arrested in Virginia as a counterfeiter because he spent so much money. His money was tested and on account of the purity of it he was released.

Between July, 1964, and October, 1965, in Kentucky the state distributed, through the Department of Aeronautics, $276,500 for airport construction and improvement.
