SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1966

This Town . . . That World

We are reminded that if any candidate wants the best campaign manager available, he should get in touch with the guy who managed that "No" campaign.

THE BEST THING

Comes one who wants to know what I find so good about the good, old days. And I hasten to reply, "Plenty." The simplicity of things, for instance . . . no jangling telephones, no TV commercials, no automobile collisions, only runaway horses and an occasional rooster advertising his prowess . . . family togetherness, neighborly concern . . . no hamburgers, nothing worse than a green apple to upset the stomach. You name the good things—we had 'em.

And, my friend, the best thing about the old days was, I wasn't so old, those days.

A fellow says that if you can swim in water six feet deep you can swim in water a mile deep. I can buy that, since I can't see a mile down. But nobody will ever convince me that if I can walk a six-inch plank a foot off the floor I can walk the same plank a hundred feet higher—or even twenty. Especially if I look down—and try to keep me from looking down.

Alex Davidson and Ray Collins have asked that I reassure the public. They jointly vow that they will not—repeat, will not—be drafted to run for state office at the next election.

BLAME DOC FOR THIS

I miss Dr. Russell Hall. He's at the University of North Carolina doing graduate public health work, and isn't around to drop ideas and let me try to find a story he's told that can be printed. But this week he mailed this one which I'm going to take a chance on.

It concerns one woman telling another, "Grace, did you know that your husband is running around after other women?"

"So what?" asked Grace.

"And you're not worried?"

"Hardly. I've also got a dog named Fido that chases cars."

Grace explained, "And I know that if he ever caught one, HE COULDN'T DRIVE. So I don't worry about either of them."

HIGHWAY 979 AREA PLANS HOMECOMING

A look at what has been achieved and thanksgiving for it all—these will be parts of the homecoming feast planned for November 26 at the John M. Stumbo elementary school at Grethel by the Highway 979 Area Community Action Council.

The Thanksgiving-time feast scheduled for 1 p.m., will involve a free turkey dinner. The Council is seeking contributions to enable it to buy a sufficient number of turkeys to serve all who may come. The communities in the area will provide all other food, the cooking and serving.

COMBS OUT, SEVEN DEMOCRATS IN RACE

P'BURG MAN TELLS PLANS FOR PRIMARY

Draft Morton Attempt By Republicans Fails; Political Pot Boiling

Former Circuit Judge Henry Stephens, of Prestonsburg, announced Tuesday that he is a candidate for governor on a pledge to cut spending and reduce taxes. His announcement and that of William Shires, of Erlanger, brings to seven the number of Democratic candidates.

Stephens is also a former Floyd circuit clerk, teacher, banker, farmer, postmaster and merchant.

Less than a week after Democratic urging had failed to enlist Former Governor Bert T. Combs as the party's leading candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, an attempt failed to "draft" U. S. Senator Thruston B. Morton to enter the race for the Republican nomination for the office.

Decision of the two not to run left the nomination by either party up for grabs, with both parties apparently destined to suffer from primary election embroglios.

Ex-Governor Combs announced last Thursday that he will not be a candidate. At the same press conference, Highway Commissioner Henry Ward announced his candidacy, apparently with administration blessing, and Combs said he will serve as Ward's campaign manager.

Mitchell Tindley, assistant commissioner of highways, has been named to succeed Ward as commissioner.

Almost simultaneously, Louis B. Nunn, of Glasgow, announced he would not seek the G.O.P. gubernatorial nomination until all efforts to draft Senator Morton for the race had been made.

Meanwhile, Jefferson County Judge Marlowe Cook remained

ISLAND CR. PLANS MINE

Evans Division Mine Production in Pike To Fill 15-Yr. Pact

James L. Hamilton, Island Creek Coal Company chairman, announced Monday that the Evans Elkhorn Division of the company will open a new underground mine in Pike county which will have an eventual production capacity of 2,000,000 tons annually.

Inland has signed a 15-year contract to supply coal to Toledo Edison Company's Bay Shore plant at Oregon, O., and a major part of the production of the new mine will be dedicated to fulfillment of that commitment.

The new development will be located on Long Fork of Big Creek. Survey work on a railroad to the mine site is now under way, and highway access will also be made via Sidney.

Production is scheduled to begin on a limited scale in the latter half of next year, reaching a 1,000,000-ton rate in 1968.

The mine will be known as the Gund Mine, named for one of the veteran directors of Island Creek Coal Company, George Gund, of Cleveland.

Facilities will be built to enable loading of 10,000-ton unit trains in six hours. The Norfolk & Western Railway, on whose line the new mine is located, is building special 100-ton cars to handle the shipments. Under the unit train concept, an entire train of 100 cars will be routed directly to the destination, speedily unloaded and returned to the mine for another load. The high utilization factor on railroad equipment makes possible lower freight rates which, along with other efficiencies, enable coal to compete favorably with nuclear and other forms of energy.

Commenting upon the selection of the eastern Kentucky coal, John K. Davis, Toledo Edison president, said that while cheaper coal of lower quality is available, one of the reasons his company bought this particular low-ash, low-sulphur-content coal is to minimize air pollution. The Bay Shore station, where the coal will be used, consists now of three generating units and a fourth is being built to go on steam in 1967.

Island Creek Coal Company, with mines and reserves in West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Utah currently ships nearly half of its total production to electric utilities

Yule Season Official Opening Nov. 26th To Be Marked Here By Third Christmas Parade

Saturday, November 26 has been set for the 1966 renewal of the annual Christmas parade sponsored by the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club to mark the official opening of the yule season locally.

Several details of the parade remain to be arranged but the general plan had fairly well developed by last week, and plans were being put into action.

A feature of the day will be the naming of Miss Snow Queen of 1966. The Snow Queen Pageant will be at 1 p.m. at the Prestonsburg grade school auditorium. Competing for the title will be girls representing the various high schools of the county.

Prior to the parade, floats will

DRAMA ASS'N HEAD NAMED

Dr. Campbell Elected; "Jenny Wiley Story" Possible Next Year

Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr., director of the Prestonsburg Community College, was elected president of the Jenny Wiley Drama Association at the drama group's annual election of officers, November 3. He succeeds Chalmers H. Frazier.

Other officers elected are Ed Music, vice-president, and Mrs. Tom G. Dingus, secretary-treasurer.

Plans are being formed for more extensive use of the Jenny Wiley State Park amphitheatre next season, with the last four days of each week possibly to be devoted to presentation of plays and music programs.

One of the productions which may be a 1967 season feature at the amphitheatre is "The Jenny Wiley Story," now being written by Jeanne Jarrens, of the Prestonsburg Community College faculty.

More detailed plans for the coming season will be announced following a forthcoming meeting of the executive committee of the drama association.

Rev. Chisholm Plans To Leave Pastorate; Will Go to Grayson

The session of the First Presbyterian Church, at the request of the pastor, has called a special meeting of the congregation for November 27 to unite with him in a "request to the Presbytery of Ebenezer to dissolve the pastoral relation between him and the church."

The Rev. T. W. Chisholm, who has served the local church since February 15, 1961, has received a call from the Presbyterian Church, Grayson, Kentucky, to become its pastor and will begin his work there, sometime after January 1.

The move, which is to a Presbyterian Church US, will enable Mr. Chisholm to continue in the active, fulltime pastorate for several years after the usual retirement age in a United Presbyterian Church USA, of which the local church is a member church.

A committee of the members of the church will be elected soon to recommend a new pastor for the local church.

CITY ISSUES BONDS FOR PLANT BUILDING

Although the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce is still $2,500 short of the $18,500 necessary to finance the purchase of a site for the U. S. Shoe Company plant, near Lancer, other actions were being taken toward an early beginning on plant construction.

The Prestonsburg City Council met in special session Monday to authorize the issuance of $900,000 worth of revenue bonds for constructing and equipping the plant. This amount is to be amortized by rentals from the shoe company over a period of 15 years.

Co. Foxhunters To Hold Bench and Field Meet Three Days, Next Week

The third annual bench show and field trials of the Floyd County Foxhunters' Association will be held next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, it was announced this week by Arthur Haywood, president of the association.

The bench show will be held at 8 p.m., November 23, at the Prestonsburg grade school, with Theodore Vickers serving as judge.

The cast for the field trials will be at daybreak November 24. Rollcall will be at 6:30 a.m. Registration and numbering of the hounds will be on the John D. Rice property on Little Paint Creek.

The bench show and field trials annually attract the top hounds in Eastern Kentucky, with some being entered from the neighboring section of West Virginia.

Former Floyd Girl Killed In Car Wreck At Jacksonville, Fla.

Former Martin high school student, Sandra Tackett, 18 years old, of Cape Coral, Florida, was killed Sunday afternoon in an auto wreck at Jacksonville, Florida. The tragedy occurred when the auto in which she was riding with friends went out of control, left the highway and crashed into a tree.

Of five other passengers in the car, only one was injured.

Miss Tackett was a student at a business college in Jacksonville. She was a daughter of Everett and Imogene Frazier Tackett, residents of Allen before moving to Cape Coral several years ago. Mr. Tackett formerly operated an appliance store and service station in Martin.

Survivors, other than her parents, are one brother and a sister, Edward Gene Tackett and Mrs. Tommy Martindale, both of Cape Coral; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Frazier, of Allen, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Tackett, of Martin.

Funeral services were conducted today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. from the Cape Coral Methodist Church. Burial was made at Cape Coral.

RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Smiley are at home after having been recent patients at the Prestonsburg General hospital.

CAP, VISTA NEEDS TOLD

Resolution Suggests Fuller Cooperation, Exemplary Conduct

Dissatisfaction with the attitude of the Community Action Program toward Volunteers In Service to America (VISTA) and its failure to work effectively to coordinate county agencies in relation to placement and supervision of volunteers broke into the open at a meeting here Monday night of the Floyd County Improvement Association.

A resolution submitted by the Rev. William Poole, chairman of a committee of the Improvement Association, asked that the Community Action Program (CAP) either show interest and cooperation and, if necessary utilize the services of a fulltime director for such volunteer workers; or, failing that, ask the federal government to finance the Appalachian Volunteers, which is an independent organization, so that they might increase their staff in the county and get the work done.

The resolution was approved. The committee headed by the Rev. Poole, with Mrs. Robert Hughes and John Roberts as members, submitted several recommendations to the Association. It asked of the volunteers themselves:

1. Because the volunteers are constantly in the field with those among whom they work, their appearance and decorum should be exemplary and should illustrate the personal behavior and high standards expected of them.

2. Orientation should continue to include local people with experience in service. Criticisms frequently heard about dress and/or behavior should be thoroughly aired, even when the criticism seems disproportionate or hypercritical. (The committee said it felt that volunteers should not impede their acceptance by the public by oddities of dress, including shorts, dirty cut-offs, beards and the like. The same suggestions apply to temporary volunteers as well as for those here for a year or longer.)

DEPUTY'S CAR, HOME DAMAGED BY BLAST

Identity of the person or persons who dynamited the automobile and home of Deputy Sheriff Milt Hunt, near Betsy Layne, before daybreak Wednesday is the object of an intensive investigation being made by the Sheriff's office.

The front end of an auto parked outside the Hunt residence was torn away by the blast, and windows of the home were shattered. Sheriff Joe W. Lewis could not be reached for a statement Wednesday, but Deputy Sheriff Silas DeRossett, who assisted with the probe of the dynamiting, said tracks of a man were found near the blasted auto. He said that 15 feet of fuse were used. It is calculated that this length of fuse required 15 minutes after lighting to reach the charge.

No official reason for the dynamiting was given. Deputy Sheriff DeRossett said Hunt received a telephone call, several minutes before the blast, in which the anonymous caller asked him to come to a designated place. This was seen as an attempt to get the officer away from home and lessen the chance of detection.

The explosion came between 3:30 and 4 a.m. Hunt and members of his family escaped injury.

ABBOTT CR. DYNAMITING 1st OF TWO

Few Clues Uncovered By Probers; No Talks On Contract Slated

The blasting of a 16-inch gas line on an Abbott Creek mountaintop Sunday morning caused an estimated damage of $100,000. It was one of a series of similar incidents occurring during the current strike of United Fuel Gas Company employees.

The line, which is owned by Inland Gas Company, a co-subject with United Fuel of the Columbia Gas System, leads directly to the Armo plant at Ashland.

A second dynamiting within the week was that which ripped out a valve setting of a 10-inch United Fuel line, about five miles from Inez, Monday night.

State Police Detective Chester D. Potter and Sheriff Joe W. Lewis investigated the Abbott Creek dynamiting, but clues are meagre. The dynamiting took place on the ridge top at the head of the Meadows Branch, which is a tributary of the Left Fork of Abbott Creek. A hole, apparently made for a dynamite charge, had been dug under a nearby six-inch line but was not used. Lewis said there was evidence that those involved in the dynamiting left the scene and entered a waiting car.

Although the blast disrupted the usual transmission to Armo, a standby line was quickly put into service. The 16-inch line was back in use, 15 hours after the explosion.

The disruption caused by the Martin county blast affected the Huntington area. The explosion cut one of the main transmission lines taking gas out of Kentucky to other markets.

Generally the strike of members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union has been marked by peaceful picketing. But a United Fuel spokesman

CONSTABLE PAYS FINES

Fireworks Raid Made By Lewis, Deputies On Home of Officer

A raid by Sheriff Joe W. Lewis and deputies on the home of Constable Kenneth Roberts at Garrett Tuesday afternoon resulted in the confiscation of fireworks which the officers alleged were kept in the home for the purpose of sale.

Sheriff Lewis said the haul included 15,000 half-inch firecrackers, 608 two-inch Bang-Bangs and a lesser number of firecrackers which were loose in a box.

The raid was made after a search warrant was sworn to by a youth. After having been told that fireworks were sold at the home, Sheriff Lewis gave a youth a marked $1 bill and sent him inside to make a purchase. He said the marked bill was in a box where money was kept.

Constable Roberts was not at home at the time of the raid. Mrs. Roberts was arrested on a charge of selling fireworks, and a warrant was issued for her husband's arrest on a charge of possessing fireworks for the purpose of sale.

Roberts came here Wednesday morning and paid a total of $70 in fines for himself and his wife. The constable had earlier pleaded guilty before Magistrate Zeb Ousley to a breach of the peace charge following an altercation with Bob Griffith, also of Garrett. On this count he paid a fine of $15, it was said.

With Sheriff Lewis in Tuesday's raid were Deputies Milt Hunt and Silas DeRossett.

Though Never Employed Under Social Security, Some To Get Benefits

Even though they were never employed under social security, some residents of Floyd county now 72 or over, will be eligible, starting with October, 1966, for $35 monthly cash benefits ($52.50 for couples), according to Walter H. Hobbs, social security district manager.

Special questionnaires have been mailed to all the eligible persons who have signed up for hospital insurance under medicare, but anyone now 72 who failed to apply for medicare is advised to get in touch with his social security office. So should those who did sign up for medicare, who have not yet heard from their social security office.

Unlike other benefit claims, these special benefits under a 1966 amendment to the Social Security Act will have no retroactivity. Payments will begin in the month the application is received in the social security office, but not before October.

The special benefits are not payable to anyone who receives railroad retirement or regular social security benefits, nor to those who receive civil service annuities or other federal or state pensions. In some instances, if such another pension is less than $35 a month, payments under the new amendment can be made to bring the combined amount to $35.

Those who have been receiving public assistance payments can receive the special benefits only for months in which they do not get public assistance.

Resident aliens will be eligible if they have been legally admitted for permanent residence and have lived in the United States continuously for at least five years immediately preceding the month of application.

When both husband and wife are eligible the wife will receive $17.50 monthly and the husband $35.

Detailed information and help in preparing the applications may be obtained at the social security office, Pikeville, Kentucky. The office is open daily except Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday evening until 9 p.m.

Chamber To Sponsor Wage-Hour Meetings In Eight Ky. Cities

A series of eight meetings in cities across Kentucky for the purpose of clarifying provisions of the amended Fair Labor Standards Act (Wage-Hour Law) will be held by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce beginning November 14 at the Owensboro Motor Inn. Co-sponsors of the meetings will be the local Chamber of Commerce in each city.

John W. Woods, Jr., Ashland banker and Kentucky Chamber president, points out that the meetings will be workshop sessions. All businessmen and representatives of businesses are invited to attend the sessions. Extended coverage of this act now includes hospitals, motels, restaurants, retail services, laundries and dry-cleaning businesses, among many others, with certain exclusions.

The meetings to serve this area are scheduled November 29 at the Pikeville National Bank building, and at the Kentucky Power Company building, Ashland, November 30, at 2 p.m. on each day.

Sgt. Inmon Wins Decoration For Western Pacific Service

Saigon, Vietnam—Senior Master Sergeant Clester Inmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cap Inmon, of Garrett, Kentucky, has been decorated with the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal at a forward combat base in Southeast Asia.

Sergeant Inmon, a weapons superintendent, was recognized for outstanding achievement during previous duty at a Western Pacific installation.

He was cited for outstanding professional skill, knowledge and leadership in providing essential support for his Air Force unit. He also was responsible for keeping munitions loading crews

USS Floyd County From Wartime Duty In Vietnam Waters

The tank landing ship USS Floyd County (LST-762) returns to San Diego November 9 after spending 15 of the last 17 months in the western Pacific. The past nine months were in Vietnamese waters supporting Navy River Patrol and Swift Boats and U.S.-armed Army helicopters in the Mekong River Delta.

The ship is scheduled to dock at the Naval Station, Pir 8 at 9:15 a.m.

Leaving San Diego January 31, the USS Floyd County off-loaded a Marine motor transport battalion in Chu Lai, Vietnam, in mid-March and then spent three weeks fitting-out in preparation for a special mission.

The ship was modified to support 10 River Patrol Boats and two Army helicopters. The boats and helicopters operated from Floyd County in the Mekong Delta. They teamed-up to stop and inspect Vietnamese junk and sampans in an effort to stem infiltration of Viet Cong men and munitions and to keep the waters open for use by friendly forces.

This is Operation Game Warden. Floyd County spent two months in support of Game Warden, then left her Army helicopters behind to start a new type of LST operation.

After becoming the first LST to transit the Sci Rap River, the main artery of the Saigon River, Floyd County began 12 weeks of operations in support of Operation Market Time.

Market Time is the Game Warden counterpart on the high seas. The tank landing ship supported Navy Swift Boats and Coast Guard Cutters off the coast of the Ca Mau Peninsula.

Floyd County was the first Market Time LST to independently support smaller patrol craft over a long period of time. She was on station 8 days.

During both Game Warden and Market Time operations, Floyd County supplied her patrol craft and helicopters with over half a million gallons of fuel.

She is commanded by Lt. Shane P. Daniels, of 4572 El Cerrito Dr., San Diego.

VISTA COMPLAINS OF LACK OF SUPPORT, SAYS REPORT

By REV. WILLIAM G. POOLE
 (Chairman, committee on VISTA, Floyd County Improvement Association)

At the present time in Floyd county, there are three Volunteers In Service To America (VISTA) and two community interns. The five function under the direction of a full-time director within the program of the Appalachian Volunteers (headquarters, Bristol, Tenn.) There are no volunteers under the sponsorship or supervision of the Floyd County Community Action Program. The last CAP-sponsored VISTA (a retired woman doctor) left several weeks ago.

This situation is in sharp contrast to the number in the period preceding the arrival of the Big Sandy Area Community Action Program; director, Harry aEstburn (office, Paintsville, Ky.) Last year, Floyd county had 25 Volunteers In Service To America, not including 20 trainees present for a shorter period. Of the 25 volunteers, 15 were sponsored by the Floyd County Community Action Program. Of these 15, only two completed their year's service. In general, there was much complaint of lack of support from Community Action Program officials in such areas as transportation, job supervision, moral support, job definition, and setting reasonable goals. One VISTA related that he was placed in an isolated community with no contact from the Community Action Program office for two months. In frustration, volunteers turned to the Council of Southern Mountains representative then in residence in Prestonsburg, although he had no official relationship to them. Opposition to the presence of the volunteers has not come from those among whom the volunteers have worked. They have been readily accepted, especially by the young.

C.A.P. officials maintain that they have inadequate staff to supervise volunteers properly. The six county Big Sandy C.A.P. staff now includes one area director, three assistant directors, one area (Floyd county) clinical social worker and psychologist, eleven aides, one secretary accountant, one area component writer, one area field man, two secretaries, and a recently acquired educational component. Even proposed was 32 grassroots recruiters and a full-time director. Washington had expressed willingness to appoint a full-time VISTA supervisor for the area, but later refused because of hostility to VISTA on the part of the Area C.A.P. Mr. Eastburn has stated he will accept volunteers if a supervisor were appointed by Washington though subsequently he has indicated he has not been able to find communities who would accept VISTA's.

The Appalachian Volunteers program brought 45 summer volunteers to Floyd county this year. They assisted in community organization, a credit union survey, a soft ball league, survey for water system, a health survey, organization of the very successful Highway 979 Club, two trips to Frankfort, many trips for children to Jenny Wiley State Park, and organization of the Hawk-Eye Press. An AV nurse took water samples. Of this past summer's 45 Appalachian Volunteers, nine were from Floyd county. Each AV received $12.50 per week for room and board. This amount was turned over to the host families.

For the eight-week period, therefore, an additional $4500 was introduced into these communities plus what the individual volunteers spent themselves. In addition, each community in which the AV's worked received a community club grant of $300. Thus, $3600 was given to 12 small Floyd county communities. The nine Floyd counties working as AV's this summer received approximately $500 apiece in scholarship funds. These economic factors are, of course, less important than the human services (in spirit and in fact) rendered to the communities and individuals in them—as well as the formation through service of the Appalachian Volunteers involved.

The initial grant to the A.V.-organized Highway 979 Club was $2000. Another $3000 was granted for adult education to the Ligon Community Council, organized by VISTA and AV. Because of the presence of the Appalachian Volunteers program (limited as it is) $18,200 (plus the salaries of the supervisor and two interns) was directed into the economy of Floyd county at points where it was most needed.

Suggested future uses for Volunteers In Service To America in Floyd county:

1. Teaching aides in rural schools.
2. Home tutoring, adult decaution, drop-out tutoring.
3. Home visitation and cultural broadening.
4. Staff rural referral centers (for social security, medicare, job corps, health department, mental health service, etc.).
5. Community organization and projects.
6. Recreation programs.

7. "Foot work" for community and county organizations.

What clubs, local C.A.P.'s, churches, or other organizations will sponsor Volunteers In Service To America in Floyd county?

The Floyd County Community Action Program is, as the name suggests, an ACTION agency in existence to fill gaps which exist in agencies prior to its existence. It is the obvious agency to solicit community interest in sponsoring VISTA's and in presenting information and applications to possible sponsoring groups within the county. The C.A.P. office should be in touch with all the diverse elements of the county community and is in a unique position to know community needs. If C.A.P. is not interested in volunteer work, then there is no possibility of developing a VISTA program—other than significant funding of an independent organization such as Appalachian Volunteers. The question arises: why it is that Appalachian Volunteers organization has more volunteer positions open than it can fill while the Community Action Program staff is not able to find one opening for volunteer workers (other than a doctor or a nurse)?

TIDBITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

Ever since I first began to read poetry, I have been struck with the recurring emphasis on the simple life. Sometimes this emphasis has been phony, for it represented some daydreams of poets who would have avoided the simple things they write about as if they were evils. But styles of verse often required that the poet pay his respects to a sort of dreamworld rural or simple life that he knew little or nothing about and for which he actually had no liking. There must be thousands of poems, in the English language alone, in which the poets wish they might share the quiet joys of simple, even primitive, life. At times there have been fads of trying to imitate an imagined pastoral existence. And some of the poems called forth by such fads are so insincere that the modern reader wonders how anybody could have ever taken the poems or their authors seriously.

Generally, when someone actually appreciates the simple life, call it by whatever name you like, most of his contemporaries imagine him to be faking, like so many of the romantic poets. Some of the folklorists whom I have known, that is, would-be folklorists, felt that they would be happier and more useful to humanity if we would return to the simplicity of earlier times. I have had difficulty with such dreamers when I tried to pinpoint the actual stage of the simple life they would love to immortalize. What has amused me most of all has been the ravings of middle-aged and old people over some imagined ideal time, when they knew that I was acquainted with their backgrounds, from which they had fled as from a fire or flood. Genuine appreciation for the simple life in no sense means that the folklorist or the historian wishes or intends to return to some previous time. But, seen in its actual setting, a certain primitive time may have valuable contributions to our present-day living. It will not be necessary or advisable to throw away what we have acquired since the days when certain valuable human characteristics made a bright oasis in a sort of human desert. Then was then; now is now. Contemplation of that time may help brace us for now; only senility imagines that it would be well to go back, even to an actual Eden.

Being able to appreciate the achievements of people of other times without neglecting our own age marks the historical-minded person. Too often we see, in looking back, the one feature and fail to recall the disagreeable associations. The cynic, who may see all previous times as worthy as a sneer, is no more to be admired than the romantic one who has found, in a long life, only the earliest years of it as admirable.

Of course, I love to contemplate the primitive virtues, but they were no more obvious in Fidelity than they are now. In Fidelity we knew a few people only and did not have to adjust to a bigger world. Frankly, when we traveled outside our little narrow world, we let the other fellow do the adjusting; we regarded him as queer and did not attempt to meet him half way. And, nine times out of 10, he felt and acted in the same way; and thus East Side-West Side misunderstandings and actual hostilities grew up. Very much attached to our way of living, it was hard for us to see that the slight variation of the customs over in the Flatwoods or up the creek did not really make very much difference. If this had been just a Fidelity failing, it would today be a source of some good laughs; but it represents most of the ways of thinking that characterized the good old days that older people love to sniffle about. When I have gone back into my home county, more than a half century since I lived there regularly, it has seemed queer, even comic, to find some ancient prejudice still being held by people who have, in most ways, become adjusted to a world hundreds of times bigger than Fidelity and its neighboring areas. When old-timers want to go back to the simple life, I fear that they would have a hard time deciding just which phase of it would be best: the Fidelity kind, that found up the Creek, or a slightly different brand over in the Flatwoods.

Less Acreage Burned This Fall, Is Report In Early Fire Season

Frankfort, Ky. — The average forest fire in Kentucky during this fire season is burning fewer acres than during the spring season.

A report filed with the U. S. Forest Service by the State Natural Resources Department's forestry division lists 156 fires occurring during the first two weeks of this season.

The fires burned a total of 1,450 acres, the report states, or less than 10 acres per fire. The average fire was 18 acres during the spring season. Most of the fires occurred in the eastern half of the state.

Natural Resources Commissioner J. O. Matlock said the "good moisture content" of the state's forests helped reduce the size of the fires.

State Forestry Director Gene L. Butcher said another factor has been "good citizen cooperation" in fire safety and early reporting of fires.

A GOODLY COMPANY

My young friend William Kendrick was in real good company, on a recent evening at the Prestonsburg Community College when scenes from plays were enacted. There were Tennessee Williams, and Will Shakespeare — and Will Kendrick. I missed the presentation but read young Kendrick's scene and, without dissembling one bit, told him I liked it. He developed characters you can see without having them come to life on a stage, and the mood he created did not require lighting and props in order to be felt.

Surviving, besides the parents, are five brothers, Raymond, John D. and Kensley Mitchell, all of Lancer, Kenneth Mitchell, of Washington, Andy Mitchell, of Johns Creek, and four sisters. Mrs. Frances Adkins, of Washington, Mrs. Bonnie Gusner and Mrs. Jenny Stanley, both of Cline, Ohio, and Miss Bertie Mitchell, of Lancer.

The funeral was held at 11 a.m. today (Thursday) at the Craynor Baptist Church, the Rev. Herschell Hamilton officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Craynor under the direction of the Floyd Funeral Home.

and is engaged in an active expansion program in this and other markets. Capital expenditures of a minimum of $50 million are projected over the next five-year period. Most of the new mines being developed or planned for utility, steam and coking coal production will be long-life mines of high capacity and efficiency to assure performance against the most rigid scheduling requirements of coal-using customers.

MAYTOWN

Bess Ratliff and Bertha Click spent the last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell and other friends in Russell. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fraley, of Ypsilanti, Michigan, were also visiting the Campbells at that time.

Suggestions to agencies and others included these:

1. There should be co-ordination of all agencies in the county in relation to placement and supervision of volunteers.

2. The county director of the Community Action Program should be frequently out in the field to achieve over-all supervision of volunteer assistance.

3. The aides to the county director should be qualified to direct volunteers. Qualifications for aides should be made public, and the board of directors should be consulted in order to avoid political hiring.

4. The C.A.P. county director's aides should spend some time directing volunteers rather than, for example, chauffeuring students to college. This is an expensive chauffeur, and others (unemployed fathers or one of the students) could handle this, thereby freeing any aides to supervise work with volunteers.

5. Demonstrations, lectures on home management and economics (use of food stamps, budgeting, diet care) are needed desperately in rural areas. The committee suggests volunteer work in this direction. This would be in addition to the home demonstration agent, whose services should be extended to delegate women who could take this help back to their communities and teach others.

6. The committee believes that the county director of the C.A.P. should be out in the county presenting to local community action clubs, churches, clubs, and individuals information on possible integration of VISTA's (as supplements) in community renewal programs and looking for local leadership to work with volunteers. Ideas pertaining to the proper use of the VISTA program should be "sold" by the county director of C.A.P.

Retired Workers Spend Month Making 'Pretties' As Gifts for Christmas

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Even the officials at Alice Lloyd College here admit it's difficult to find the place — what with all the mountains hugging it, and the roads not exactly expressways.

But you can bet your bottom "Ho-Ho" that Santa Clause will find it. He did, in fact, and plenty early.

Well, let's say he found it in spirit... in the persons of two ardent helpers.

They have just returned to their homes in Washington, D. C., after a month of toymaking at Alice Lloyd.

Miss Helen G. Smith and Miss Ruth Arnold, retired government workers, devoted the month and a considerable portion of their monthly pension to supplying the college's 50-year-old "Christmas Pretties" program with colorfully wrapped gifts of dolls, books and toys.

Through the college about 25,000 gifts, supplied by friends from coast to coast, are distributed to school children of the Appalachian region.

Early last summer, Miss Smith brought 78 dolls, made by Washington members of the United Church Women, to the college. "I watched one little girl's face light up when she saw the dolls," she said, "and I just couldn't turn my back on the project."

She returned to Washington and, with Miss Arnold's aid, made 56 more dolls. The colorfully dressed maids are constructed from plastic detergent bottles covered with cloth scraps and are wrapped in holiday sacks supplied by a Washington department store.

Besides bringing the dolls, the women brought $50 worth of books, crayons, coloring books and rubber balls. Staying to help Mrs. Hayes wrap and tag the presents, the women became even more involved and spent $50 more on the project before they returned home.

For her work on behalf of the children of the region, the college surprised Miss Smith with a special citation, presented at its recent Founder's Year ceremony. She was honored as "representative of the thousands of friends of the college who have enlisted themselves in its noble cause and have chosen to give a personal expression of their underlying belief in the purposes and programs of this place of learning."

Education Week Observance At Maytown Draws State, County Leaders' Interest

Langley, Ky. — "Education Adds up to Human Dignity" was the topic of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Leonard Sumner at the Maytown Methodist Church Sunday morning to start the observance by Maytown high school of American Education Week, Nov. 6-11.

The Maytown faculty and student body marched in the Kick-Off Parade at 10 Monday morning before the reviewing stand, which included Dr. Frank Vittetow, representing the Kentucky State Department of Public Instruction; Verne Horne, representing the K.E.A. office in Louisville; Bill Thompson, State Department of Education; Homer L. Hall, representing East Kentucky Regional Libraries; Mrs. R. V. May and Mrs. Olga Latta, representing the Floyd County Library Board; Claude May, director of Pupil Personnel, Floyd County Board of Education; and Edwin V. Stewart, principal of the celebrating school.

The parade was led by the Floyd county Sheriff Department's car with Sheriff Joe W. Lewis and deputies directing traffic. The colors were borne by the Maytown Future Farmers of America Chapter, followed by the Maytown Marching Band which saluted the reviewing stand with "Hi, Neighbor."

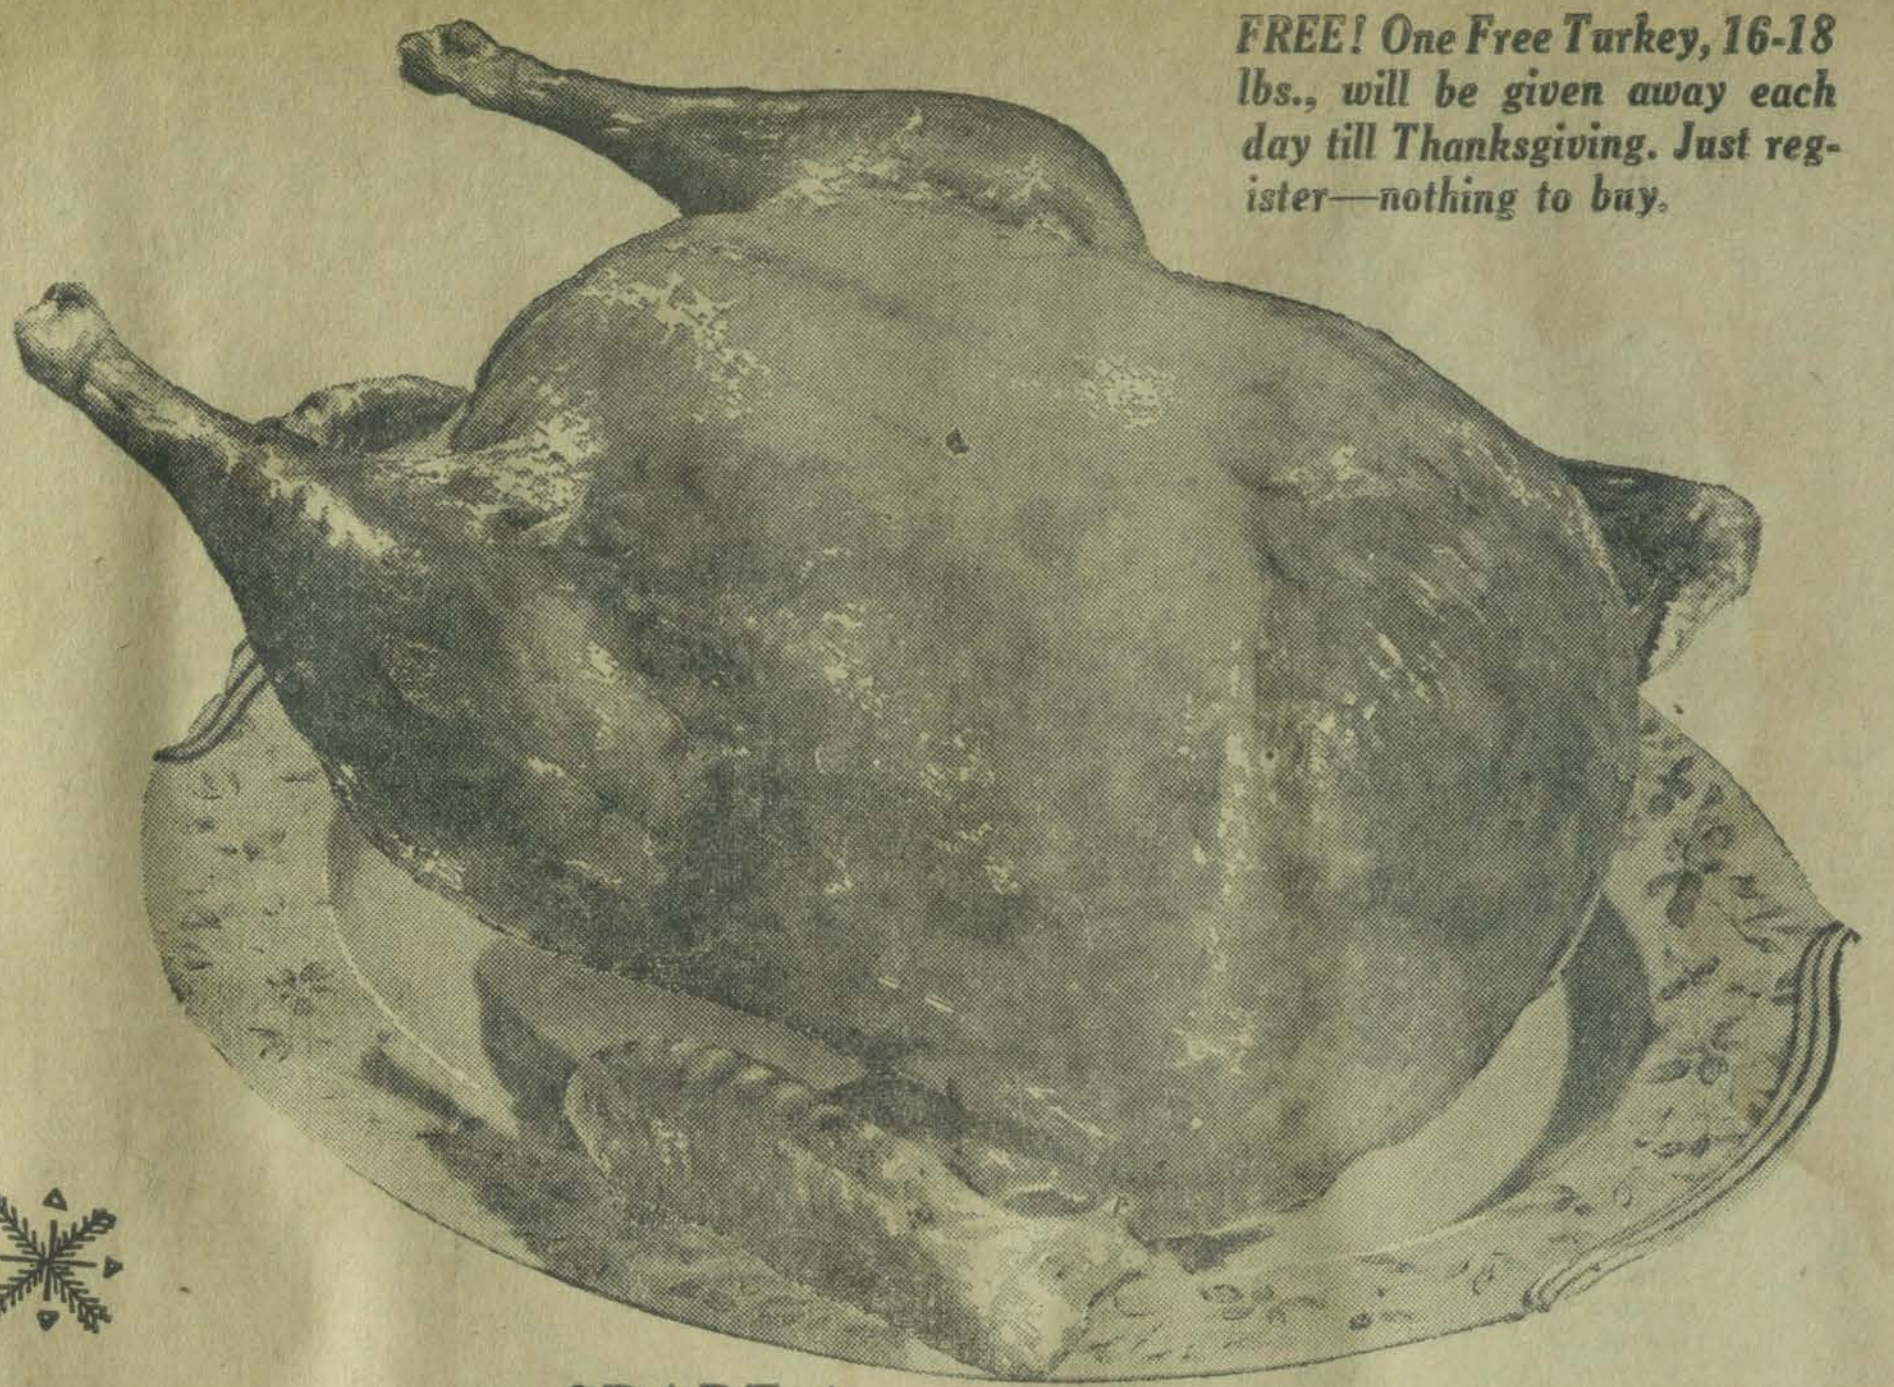

Floyd county Bookmobiles, driven by Roland Jones and Charles Patton, along with the other parade units representing every grade or department of the school, presented to the viewers along the route a colorful sight. At the same time the philosophy that Education Adds Up was fully portrayed.

Following luncheon in the school cafeteria, those reviewing the parade were platform guests, with Charles Clark, superintendent of Floyd county schools, and Miss Eloise Allen and Mrs. Shirley Stewart, co-chairmen of the A.E.W. Observance joining the group.

The school principal, Mr. Stewart, presided and presented each guest to the junior high and high school group and visitors. Interesting talks were given by Dr. Vittetow and Mr. Horne. Mr.

Food Stamp Program Disqualifies Combs, Whitesburg Grocer

Atlanta, Ga. — A Whitesburg, Kentucky, grocer has been disqualified from taking part in the food stamp program because of program violations, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said East End Market, Whitesburg, and its owner and operator, Kenneth E. Combs, have been disqualified from the food stamp program for a period of six months, effective November 6.

A letter was sent to Combs from the Consumer and Marketing Service requesting that he surrender his authorization card and all posters, form, and other official materials which identified his store as a participant in the food stamp program. The letter was signed by Russell H. Jams, director of the Consumer and Marketing Service's Consumer Food Programs office at Atlanta.

The USDA complaint charged that East End Market sold ineligible items for food stamp coupons and accepted loose food stamp coupons.

In September, 1965, Combs received a warning letter from the Consumer and Marketing Service regarding a program violation. Since this was his first and only violation, he was not disqualified at that time.

Food stamp officials point out that disqualification does not preclude further action to collect claims under food stamp program regulations or possible prosecution under any criminal or other applicable statute.

After the six-month disqualification period, the operation of East End Market may apply for reinstatement. If approved, he will be issued a new authorization card and number, Consumer and Marketing Service officials said.

DEPOSITS INSURED to $15,000

The long-familiar $10,000 limit on Federal Deposit Insurance for deposits maintained "in the same right and capacity" has now been increased to $15,000.

This new $15,000 coverage has been put into effect automatically at this bank on all savings accounts, checking accounts, certificates of deposit, and all deposits which are legally and properly covered by this Deposit Insurance protection. It will apply to new accounts, and to additions to present accounts up to $15,000.

Thus you may have an individual account covered to $15,000, a spouse may have a similar account also insured to $15,000, both may have a joint account insured to $15,000, either or both may have accounts as executor or trustee of an estate, and in fact every account held in a different "right and capacity" will be insured to the full $15,000.

The First National pays for this insurance protection, which supplements our sound management policies in providing protection for your deposited funds. We are happy to furnish this safeguard, and this higher amount of coverage, to our depositors.

Maytown Performance Confirms Pre-Season Prediction of Power

The Maytown Wildcats have not disappointed fans who have been hearing them described as the potential powerhouse of the 15th region.

In the opener Nov. 5, the Maytown team shot a sizzling 65.5% for the game against a well-coached Knott County five for a 108-63 win. Against traditional rival, Martin, election night, the Wildcats were ragged in spots but managed a 56% team shooting average and a 108-90 win. At Garrett last Friday, before a homecoming crowd, the Wildcats were involved in a hard-fought game to win 70-67. The Cats showed championship form by coming alive in the fourth quarter and downing the Garrett five led by Jerry Manns who hit a fantastic 14 for 19 from the field.

Next game is Salyersville at home, Nov. 18.

QUAIL, RABBIT SEASON OPENS TODAY, AND—MAYBE—THE HUNTING WILL BE GOOD

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 7 (Spl.)—Cautious optimism is the guideline for Kentucky's quail and rabbit hunters as the opening date, November 17, approaches. Farmers, hunters, mail carriers, biologists and field men of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources are timidly predicting better quail and rabbit hunting for this season than was available last year. They believe the populations of both species are up. If the weatherman cooperates they predict Kentucky numbers are in for some good hunting.

As usual the season for these two species opens on the third Thursday in November and continues through January 31, an extension of 15 days over previous seasons. This longer period is expected to allow the weatherman more leeway in furnishing favorable rabbit and quail hunting conditions.

The bag limits are unchanged from last year. The rabbit hunter may bag eight per day or have 16 in possession after two or more days and the quail hunter will be able to take 10 per day or have 20 in possession after two or more days in the field.

A survey conducted by 687 rural mail carriers who drove a total of 660,547 miles in the surveys in June, July and August furnished the most optimistic outlook for both quail and rabbits. The mail carriers, in cooperation with biologists, conducted their survey throughout the state and reported on rabbits and quail sighted over the same routes at the same time of the day as compared to the past six years.

For quail the 1966 gain was 33.5 percent over the six year average. The 1966 increase in quail over 1965 was 17 percent. The August report by these carriers for rabbits showed a 29 percent increase over the same period for 1965. In 1965 the carriers sighted 1.46 rabbits per hundred miles, while for 1966 the count was 1.72 rabbits per mile.

Comparatively dry weather in June and the early part of July was favorable for the quail hatch and large coveys are reported in many areas. The same weather also was a boon to young rabbit survival. Also, farmers, in cutting hay crops, reported sighting many rabbits although they were described as spotty. In a given area of a county, they point out, rabbits are plentiful, while in other areas of the same county, fewer rabbits may be present.

Bumper crops are reported in the west Kentucky coal region; in the outer bluegrass section; in far western Kentucky; on Fort Campbell and Camp Breckinridge military reservations; in the valleys of Eastern Kentucky counties and in some counties along the Ohio River.

For rabbits the most heavily populated areas include: Outer Bluegrass areas, especially in the sections around Bath and Montgomery counties; west Kentucky coal region; Camp Breckinridge; counties in south central Kentucky and in a number of counties along the Ohio River.

Shotguns used in hunting either species must be plugged to hold not more than three shells in the magazine and barrel combined and only daylight hunting is permitted.

Rabbit hunters may use rifles or sidearms, which many prefer when hunting with beagle hounds.

Floyd County's Rollins Top Cumberland Golfer; Neal Is Also on Team

Williamsburg, Ky. — For the past month, starting back on October 4, the six schools in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference have been having a regular slug fest on the golf courses of each of the respective teams, and a Floyd countian has led the Cumberland College golfers to a tie for top conference honors.

League officials have announced that the Indians of Cumberland College and the Mountaineers of Berea College have finished in a dead-lock for the top spot with identical 9-2 records.

The final conference golf wars were not settled until the final match of the season, on October 20, when Cumberland played host to Berea, Pikeville and Villa Madonna, on the newly constructed Williamsburg Golf and Country Club course.

After splitting decisions in their first two appearances, Cumberland and Berea locked horns once again. When the final putt dropped in the score showed a 7-5 margin in favor of the visiting Mountaineers.

Possibly the two outstanding golfers in the conference met for the third time this season as Cumberland's Jim Rollins, of Wheelwright, who had been undefeated coming into the match, met with Berea's George Moore.

When the two hit the club house after the front side their scorecards showed identical 40's. It was on the back side of the 18-hole match that the versatile Moore cut loose with five birdies on the last six holes to finish with a 40-32—72 even par.

Rollins himself fired a 40-36—76.

Under the direction of acting coach, John E. Renfro, who is filling in for regular coach, Norman Cox, while the latter is away at graduate school, the Indians have used five men in bringing the Williamsburg school their first conference crown.

Led by Rollins, the tall, lanky veteran from Wheelwright, who has now moved his personal three-year record to 35-7-1, the Indians were under able leadership.

Holding down the team's No. 2 position is Rick Finger, a sophomore from Alcoa, Tennessee while Earl Brady, a sophomore from Cedar Town, Georgia has maintained the number three spot.

Rounding out the squad in the number four and five positions are John Robinette, a freshman from Cumberland, and Rick Neal, a sophomore from Wheelwright.

An "open house" of the new building and facilities will immediately follow the dedication ceremonies. Hazard and Napier high school bands will provide music for the afternoon and evening activities.

DAVID

HART, CLUB SPEAKER

The David Woman's Club held its monthly meeting November 4 at May Lodge.

The president, Mrs. Ora Howard, introduced the speaker, Gerald Hart, soil conservationist, who explained what his department is trying to do for the people in Floyd county. He showed a film on how to make the most of the available water supply.

Four members attended the district meeting at Jenkins, Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Tiller gave a report to the members.

Dessert was served to the following members: Mesdames Harry Clay, Alvin Francisco, Ora Howard, Oak Mullins, James Penix, Lilla Mae Price, Ray Spears, Horace Tiller. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Harry Clay and Mrs. Oak Mullins.

About 500 more high school students are enrolled in vocational-technical schools in Kentucky than last year, the State Department of Education reports.

HARD OF HEARING?

READ THIS

October 20, 1966

West Prestonsburg, Ky.

DEAR BELTONE HEARING AID CENTER—

After suffering with shingles for the past four years I have steadily been losing my hearing. Being saved 60 years ago I have lived a Christian life and placed my faith in the Lord. Recently, I have prayed to God for my hearing again—and the hearing aid was my answer. It is almost impossible for me to speak my heart and say what a blessing it has been. I now enjoy my church, my neighbors, my friends like I used to.

My advice to anyone having a hearing problem — don't put it off another day, enjoy your life while you can.

Coal Company Wins
Award of $414,000
From Mine Workers

Jackson, Ky.—Damages totaling $414,000 have been awarded Ritchey Coal Co. in a suit filed against the United Mine Workers Union of America.

The unanimous decision came in federal district court here.

Fayette County Judge Joe Johnson, who represented the firm, claimed UMW members maliciously burned one of the company's coal loading facilities October 5, 1959.

The period in question was one of labor unrest in Perry, Letcher and Knott counties.

In his argument before U. S. District Judge B. P. Moynohan, Johnson asked $300,000 for loss of the loading facility, $300,000 for loss of future earning power and $250,000 in punitive damage.

The jury's award, including the entire $250,000 for punitive damages, is one of the largest recorded in a Kentucky damage suit.

Forty witnesses were called during the two-week trial, which ended November 4. Attorneys for the UMW said they would appeal.

JOINT WORK TO EVOLVE EDUCATION GUIDELINES

Plans to work together in the cooperative development of guidelines for local school boards and education associations have been announced by the Kentucky Education Association Commission on Professional Negotiation and the Kentucky School Boards Association professional relations committee, each named subcommittees of four to begin work on the joint project following a statewide PN workshop the commission has scheduled for December 10 in Louisville.

Clifton, chairman of the Oldham County Board of Education, LaGrange, will serve on the KSEA subcommittee along with M. H. Ryan, KSEA vice-president and chairman of the Murray Board of Education; Mrs. Weldon Shouse, member of the Lexington Board of Education, KSEA director, and chairman of its Central Kentucky region, and Fred Taylor Burns, superintendent of Daviess county schools, Owensboro, and president of the Kentucky Association of School Administrators.

Jones, who is president of the KEA Department of Classroom Teachers and director of professional relations at Morehead State University, where he also teaches, will serve on the PN Commission's sub-group.

The three other PN commissioners appointed to work on the project are Vade Bolton, Jr. Paducah, English teacher at McCracken county's Lone Oak high school and past president of the McCracken County Education Association; Mrs. LaNelle Woods, Lexington, junior high schools supervisor for Fayette county schools, and Roy G. Eversole, superintendent of Hazard schools.

Working with the two units will be Maurice Bement, Lexington, KSEA executive director, and Charles Whaley, KEA director of research and information and staff consultant to the PN Commission.

The first meeting of the subunits of the two groups has been tentatively set for December 11. Appointment of the smaller bodies came as the KSEA committee and the KEA commission held their third joint meeting since July.

Jones and Clifton said the subcommittees will "work cooperatively in an attempt to develop guidelines that could be used by local boards and associations for agreements to improve relations and communications." Guidelines that are developed will be submitted to the full KSEA committee and KEA commission.

A timetable established earlier by the KEA commission called for the commission to follow the December PN workshop with the writing of guidelines for PN agreements between local education associations and local boards of education as well as guidelines for a state law guaranteeing PN rights throughout Kentucky. KEA's Delegate Assembly has directed it to seek a PN law in 1968.

The PN workshop will be the culmination of an intensive campaign by the commission at local, district, and state levels to educate KEA members and others about PN.

The Full Facts About Savings

There has been so much talk about Savings, Certificates of Deposit, Bank Savings Bonds, Savings Notes, Savings Certificates, Time Certificates, Income Certificates and Investment Certificates . . . that the general public appears to be somewhat confused. This advertisement, published in the public interest, states the full facts about savings in the hope that it will answer any questions which may have existed in your mind.

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Everyone should have a bank savings account. Savings are essential to meet emergencies and to provide individuals and families with immediate funds when they are wanted. It is more convenient to keep your savings where you can also have your checking account, obtain all kinds of loans and have available the wide range of facilities of a full service bank. It is easier to save by making regular deposits or by having a certain amount automatically transferred from your checking to your savings account. The deposits of each customer of an insured bank are protected up to $15,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. This amount can be increased, however, by maintaining multiple accounts. Thus, a husband and wife can insure up to $45,000 and a husband, wife and child, up to $105,000.

A bank savings account is there when you need it and offers maximum flexibility with a fair return of interest. How do these accounts work in various banks?

Rate of Interest: Banks are permitted by regulation to pay a maximum interest rate of 4% per annum. Some banks pay 2½%; some, 3%; some, 3½%; some 4%. The Bank Josephine pays 4%.

Method of Computation: Some banks pay interest on the lowest balance during the interest period. (You do not get interest on funds deposited all during the interest period, and any withdrawal eliminates all interest for the period on those funds withdrawn.) Some banks pay interest from day of deposit if the funds stay in your account until the end of that period or in some cases the following period. (Any withdrawals made eliminates all interest for the period on those funds withdrawn.)

Interest is computed by The Bank Josephine for each month on the highest continuous balance. Withdrawals from your account eliminates interest only for the month on those funds withdrawn. The Bank Josephine's Automatic Savings service enables customers to transfer funds regularly from their checking accounts . . . and they get interest on their savings from date of transfer.

Grace Period: Under banking regulations a grace period of 10 days or less is permitted at the beginning of the interest period during which deposits made draw interest from the first of that month. All deposits made to your Bank Josephine savings account on or before the 10th of the month earn interest from the 1st . . . this month and every month.

Interval of Payment: Some banks pay interest semi-annually, some quarterly, some monthly. The Bank Josephine pays interest semi-annually, and is automatically credited to your account on June 1 and December 1. If you need your interest for living expenses, you can go to the bank and get it. If you want to close your account, you don't have to wait 6 months or 3 months but can close it at the end of any month without losing any interest you are due.

Compounding: Normally interest is compounded at the same interval at which it is paid. This means that you start getting interest on the interest that has been paid to date. Thus, your Bank Josephine savings account earns interest at 4% compounded semi-annually.

Bank Josephine Savings Account: Our accounts earn interest at a 4% rate, the highest rate allowed by law, and is automatically credited on June 1 and December 1. We sincerely believe The Bank Josephine's is as good as any savings account plan offered by any bank anywhere. We invite comparison. If you have any questions on your Bank Josephine account or your savings program at any other institution, stop in at The Bank Josephine's main office in Prestonsburg or our branch in Allen and let us discuss your savings needs.

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT

Bank Savings Bonds, Savings Notes, Savings Certificates, Time Certificates, Income Certificates, Investment Certificates . . . no matter what a bank calls them . . . are for all practical purposes Certificates of Deposit, or C-D's, as they are commonly called. They are deposits and, therefore, each depositor is insured up to $15,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Despite the fact that at times C-D's earn a higher rate of interest than savings accounts, unless you have sizeable funds to invest or unless you are certain that you won't need to withdraw your funds for a fixed period of time, you have more flexibility and, therefore, are better off with a bank savings account. How do C-D's work and what is offered by various banks?

Time Period: The customer purchasing C-D's agrees to leave his funds on deposit . . . not less than 30 days, more often 90 days or more. By regulation, C-D's can be cashed prior to maturity only in the event of real emergency. In such event, all accrued interest for up to 90 days must be forfeited. It is a violation of Federal Regulations by the bank and the customer if C-D's are redeemed prior to maturity without true emergency. Unless C-D's are automatically renewable, interest stops accruing at maturity and the customer has 10 days to renew his C-D without loss of interest.

Rate of Interest: Under regulations, a maximum rate of interest of 5½% is permissible on C-D's. However, the first responsibility of a bank is to be sound by providing safety and liquidity to protect its depositors; in determining the interest rate which a bank can afford to pay, soundness must be controlling as well as regulations. Rates on C-D's are usually negotiated between the bank and the customer and as a general rule the longer the customer agrees to leave his money on deposit the higher the rate of interest.

C-D Rate Fluctuation: C-D interest rates are subject to more frequent fluctuation than those of savings accounts. Of necessity, C-D rates fluctuate with the economy. In addition, one bank may have a greater demand for loans from time to time than another; therefore, the interest rates which they are able to pay on C-D's vary rather frequently between banks themselves.

Various Plans Offered: Banks in the nation, including some of those in Kentucky, offer C-D's calling them Bank Savings Bonds, Savings Notes, Savings Certificates, Time Certificates, Income Certificates, Investment Certificates. Various rates are specified . . . 4%, 4.25%, 4.50, 4.75, 4.80, 5%. Some of these guarantee a rate if held a year or more, with no interest if cashed earlier. Some can be cashed at the end of each 90-day period without loss of interest. Some require 90-day written notice by the customer to the bank. Some have definite maturity. Some are automatically renewable. Some of these plans are excellent although any pre-planned package has limitations and does not necessarily fit every investment situation. The only way to make certain that a C-D fits your particular investment needs is to examine the C-D instrument itself and to determine its features and its drawbacks. Any Bank Josephine officer will be pleased to review and explain any C-D you hold or any plan you are considering.

Bank Josephine Certificate of Deposit: The Bank Josephine has many profitable plans from which to choose. We feel that the investment of sizeable funds by our customers is important enough for personal attention. Our emphasis is on investment needs of the individual and we can tailor Certificates of Deposit to meet these needs. Yes, The Bank Josephine offers C-D's from 30 days out to several months, and most provide an automatic renewal provision. Yes, they can provide monthly, quarterly or semi-annual income or be on a growth basis with interest deferred to maturity. Yes, The Bank Josephine is generally competitive with other banks. If you have funds to invest in C-D's, stop in at The Bank Josephine's main office in Prestonsburg or our branch in Allen and let us discuss your individual investment needs.

"AN INFINITE VARIETY..."

Kentucky weather and its changing seasons have been described as having an infinite variety which never suffers the pall of monotony. Spring, summer, autumn, winter—the procession marches past.

But this interesting variety of weather makes its demands. Strong, well-built homes, for instance. This is no land of perennial summer, or winter, or in-between. One's home must withstand the heat and cold, rain and snow and freeze as well as bask in springtime breeze and autumn sun.

Build well. Let us help you with the job.

When you love your work, it shows.

What happens to the windshield wipers? Grand Prix's monogrammed window.

Hood-mounted tachometer.

Stereo tape player.

And we love our work. So much so that we couldn't bear to stop with the slickest-looking split grille ever to grace a Wide-Track. (Or any other car, for that matter.) We went ahead and made the windshield wipers disappear. The car not only looks cleaner, but the wipers are less subject to icing and freezing, too. Then we got rid of the vent windows on all Grand Prix hardtops. We replaced them with nifty monograms and a flow-through ventilation system. We even designed a rather unique hood-mounted tachometer option that's available on all Pontiacs. As are our other bright new options like our eight-track stereo tape player and AM-FM Stereo-Multiplex radio. And, of course, our handsome interiors have to be seen to be believed. All Pontiacs have standard safety features that include a dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, outside rearview mirror, and GM's energy absorbing steering column. Isn't it time you decided to see your Pontiac dealer? If you love our work the way we do, it's the least you can do.

Urges Kentuckians To Take Free Tests Offered This Week

Every man, woman and child in Kentucky was urged today by Irving F. Kanner, M.D., Lexington, chairman of the Kentucky Medical Association's Diabetes Committee, to take advantage of the free diabetes tests offered by physicians, hospitals and laboratories during National Diabetes Week which began Sunday.

The importance of early detection of diabetes was stressed by Governor Ned Breathitt who has proclaimed the period of November 13-19 as Diabetes Week in Kentucky.

"An estimated one million and four hundred thousand persons in this country and fifteen thousand in Kentucky alone have undiscovered diabetes," said Doctor Kanner, "and it is to find these people and to give them an opportunity to take advantage of available control measures that the KMA has sponsored the drive annually since 1951."

He emphasized the importance of being tested for diabetes each year, since early detection can greatly simplify the problems of control of the disease. "The unfortunate victims of the disease are those who are unaware they have it," he said, "because when caught early, very often the only precautions needed to ensure a long life are control of weight and diet."

Copies of TWIGS II in which the award winning works appear are still available at Pikeville College Library and several local stores and shops.

Mrs. Turner is the wife of V. O. Turner, former superintendent of Floyd county schools, and formerly was a member of the Prestonsburg high school faculty.
