This Town . . . That World

It was a grand and glorious Fourth. Cool, man, cool.

We flew the Flag, hummed scattered bars from "The Battle Cry of the Republic," and slaved all day.

THE FISH AND I ARE EVEN Do fish have emotions? My daughter sends from California one Pete Howe's answer to that question, with remarks of her own which do not apply to fishing or fishermen in general. Pete says, Yes; that photographs taken under water show that fish will turn pale and rigid with fear and that when a big one misses have missed. I am no piscatorial fourths. ray of sunshine. Really great in a pinch. Whenever you need help ...it's just natural to reach for the phone. And call the doctor. Or the drug store. It's a good feeling to know you can count on your telephone to help you out. No matter how large or small the emergency. What else that costs so little gives you so much value?

veloping educational program, the college has retained the campus-regional planning firm of Johnson, Johnson & Roy, Ann Arbor, Mich. Financed through a $16,000 grant from the Grover Hermann Foundation of Chicago, the campus study will determine the most effective use of the college's approximately 15 usable acres along the bottom and lower slopes of deep, narrow Caney Creek valley. Eventually, the college hopes the study to expand into a full examination of its future relationship with and effect on neighboring communities.

For the present, it must concentrate on its immediate program and its more local community. Recent grants totaing $400,000 for a water and sewage project will help overcome one of the major roadblocks to expansion. Obtained with the help of community leaders, the Caney Creek Water District not only will assure vital construction grants and loans, but will make possible low rent housing and shopping developments in the rural valley.

The first major structure to take its place in the new campus plan will be a $300,000 science buildings, already two-thirds financed by a federal grant and loan. The college also is drawing blueprints for fine arts and administration buildings.

DIED UNDER A DELUSION Dedicating a sizeable part of his excellent column in The Courier-Journal to a discussion of the regard Kentuckians have for their dogs, Joe Creason recently told the story of the onetime resident of Mayfield who owned a big, raw-boned hound named Tiger.

Now Tiger, Creason relates, wasn't any great shakes as a hunter; in fact, the only time he showed even moderate interest in any phase of the chase was when a cat was around. Then Tiger turned into a flop-eared counterpart of his namesake, and he'd pursue the quarry to any length.

One day the man happened to be walking with Tiger down by the I. C. Rail cad tracks when a big yellow tom cat appeared. In a flash, Tiger was a bundle of fury and he lit into the cat. The jury to recommend the death penalty, the majority opinion sald.

Judge Morris Montgomery, dissenting, expressed alarm "at the g owing tendency of courts to reverse convictions such as this when the identity of the accused and his guilt have been estab-L had beyond all question.'

This tendency, said Montgomery, bears directly upon the increasing disregard for law and order and upon the increasing orime rate.

At Salisbury's trial here, County Judge Henry Stumbo testified to a conversation he had with Salisbury's sister, Darlene Martin, while county officials were investigating the crime.

Over objections of Salisbury's lawyer, Judge Stumbo was permitted to say that when he questioned the woman, she told him her brother had admitted the slaying to her and had showed ber where he put the shotgun.

"These statements by the judge were patently hearsay and as such inadmissible, especially the statement that appellant had told his sister that he shot them." said the majority opinion written by Judge Earl T. Osborne.

"We are unable to say what TRAPPED MINER ATE weight the jury gave Judge UNDERSHIRT TO SURVIVE Stumbo's testimony and what effect it might have had in their decision to impose the death penalty.

"Being unable to say this the sentence imposed by the jury, we must necessarily conclude it was prejudicial."

the first trial of the case made informal comment on the decision. Commonwealth's Attorney Stumbo said, "Judge Montgomery's dissenting opinion expresses my views. I agree with it." Burnis Martin, defense counsel, commented, "The question at issue was, Shall a man be given trial according to law? It's a principle that applies not only to this case but to future trials."

EDA Loan To Help MARTIN-TAYLOR VOWS SAID

At Elkhorn City

Approval of a $1,137,500 loan to help construct a plant expected to employ 178 workers at Elkhorn City was announced last week by the Economic Development Administration, U. S. Department of Commerce.

The applicant is the Elkhorn Stone Company, Inc., a New Market, Tenn. corporation formed in October of last year to mine, produce and process aggregate limestone, rock, cement and asphalt in Pike county, where the project will be located.

The funds will help the firm construct and equip the plant which will create 58 jobs for workers in the limestone quarry and 120 jobs for truckers and maintenance workers.

The application for EDA assistance stated that the project will enhance the Pike county economy by stimulating the building trades and helping the coal mining and glass industries of the area.

Total cost of the project will be $1,750,000. In addition to the EDA loan, which will mature in 10 years, the Hamilton National Bank is making a $350,000 loan and the Pike County Development Association is providing $87,500. The applicant will furnish $175,000 in equity capital.

EDA also will guarantee 90 percent of the unpaid balance of a $250,000 working capital loan to be made by the First National Bank of Pikeville.

HOME IN KENTUCKY

To thousands of Kentuckians-mostly, Eastern Kentuckianswho are obliged to live in another state because jobs and the means of earning a living are there, Home still is Kentucky.

Many additional thousands who may come now or in the future to Eastern Kentucky for the first time may want to call it Home, too. For here they find a scenic beauty few, if any, places in the land can approach; an escape from the endless, meaningless hurry and bustle of the city; a people who are the friendliest in the world.

Hurry on Home, all of you!
