

Grant To Library Possible 20 Years

Aid Depends On Planning For Addition

State Funds Promise $7,296 for Each Year; Added Facilities Seen

An amortization grant of state funds which will amount to $7,296 a year for the next 20 years has been tentatively approved for the Floyd County Library Board.

The grant is for additional construction and equipment. Final approval is assured if architect's preliminary plan for new construction is submitted by September 15.

The state aid operates under a formula devised for local libraries. To benefit, a county having the population of Floyd, must provide 8,328 square feet of library facilities. The new library here already has 6,700 square feet.

The Floyd County Library Board already has $25,000 on hand in state-aid funds for construction purposes. It will probably borrow an additional $25,000 which would be amortized by the $7,296 yearly grant now offered.

Although the library board has not taken official action, it is expected to direct an architect to prepare plans for a multi-purpose building on its Second street property. This would enable the library to offer audio-visual programs, perhaps including educational TV, and providing a community hall seating 150 persons.

The amortization fund for Kentucky was authorized by legislative action and it is held possible that Gov. Nunn's administration will, as a result, see 20 new libraries built in the state. The total fund for distribution to county libraries this year amounts to $200,000.

DIST. OFFICE LOSS NEARS

Forestry Personnel, Office Slated to Go To Johnson, Aug. 1st

The Eastern district office, Division of Forestry, is scheduled to move from Floyd to Johnson county by August 1.

The office, which serves a six-county area, is scheduled to occupy a new building now nearing completion at Thelma. Presently, it is located in the Music building at Lancer.

No reason for the move was given. The office, which employs about 10 persons, serves Floyd, Johnson, Lawrence, Martin, Magoffin and Pike counties. It formerly was located in downtown Prestonsburg until the transfer about three years ago to a new building erected at Lancer by Marvin Music.

A report to the effect that the office of the resident engineer, Department of Highways, will also be moved to Johnson county was discounted as "pure rumor."

The forestry office here is headed by Price Moore, district forester.

With a cast of 26 young people between 9 and 17 years, the Lexington Children's Theatre will present Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at 8:45 p.m. Sunday, at the Jenny Wiley State Park amphitheatre.

The Lexington youth drama organization will perform at Jenny Wiley under the auspices of the Jenny Wiley Drama Association, as part of its first fullscale summer tour. Other four performances are scheduled for the youth touring troupe at Natural Bridge State Park, July 17, under the auspices of the Kentucky Parks Department, and at Pioneer Playhouse in Danville, July 24, as guests of the State Theatre of Kentucky.

Consistency Marks Con Woman's Work Passing Cold Checks

Several stores in this section have been victimized by a con woman who is so consistent in her methods that the checks she passes are all for the same amount, signed by the same person and issued for nursing services.

One of the stores, the Lad 'n Lassie Shop here, described the woman as well-dressed, quiet in manner, perhaps in her late thirties. She said she was here from Grayson and was attending a meeting. After making her purchases, she produced a $98.60 check in her favor from a Frances G. Pettigrew. She gave her Grayson mailing address as Postoffice Box 205.

The check bounced, marked, "No account." An official at the First Guaranty Bank at Martin said he knew of 15 other checks in the same amount and bearing the same signature, all of which had "bounced."

All of us do our part at playing chin music. But you just try getting anybody to play second fiddle.

IN SEMI-RETIREMENT

The dog, who (which?) hasn't been fully in our favor since he has become so resentful about having his tail walked on that he nibbles at those so contacting the appendage, came out of retirement Tuesday and spent the day with us. Left at home these days, he doesn't take kindly to the situation. Time hangs heavy on his paws. He doesn't chew or smoke, long ago scorned television, hasn't taken up whittlin' yet, so there just isn't much to do but bark menacingly, like an old man.

VERILY

This, which came from a church bulletin, is dedicated to all churches. It is "The Parable of the Vacationist," and it goes like this:

Now it came to pass as the summer drew night that Mr. Church Member lifted up his eyes unto the hills and said, "Lo, the hot days cometh and even now are at hand. Come, let us go unto the lakes, where the cool breezes refresh us and glorious scenes await." Thou speakest wisely," quoth Mrs. Church Member, "yet three, yea, four things must we do before we go." "Three things I can think of, but not four," saith Mr. Church Member. "We must arrange for the grass to be cut, the paper stopped, and the mail to be forwarded, but the fourth eludes my mind." "The fourth is like unto the first three—yet more important than all. Thou shalt dig down into thy purse, and pay thy pledge and offerings that the good name of the church be preserved and that it may be well with thee. For verily I say unto thee, thou hast more money now than thou wilt have when thou dost return." (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

Hatcher Out, Park Seeks 4th Manager in 7 Months

Jenny Wiley State Park was for the fourth time in seven months in the market this week for a manager after S. R. (Buddy) Hatcher, of Allen, had reportedly resigned.

The official reason given by Parks Commissioner Robert Gable for Hatcher's resignation was the pressures of his private business. Until his appointment to the park managership, May 22, he was associated here with the Statewide Insurance Agency.

Hatcher himself could not be reached for comment.

Louie Kirk, Johnson county native who came to the park from California soon after Gov. Louie B. Nunn took office to become maintenance supervisor, is acting manager, pending the appointment of a successor to Hatcher.

Commissioner Gable said he has several applications for the managerial spot at hand and that he will make every possible effort to employ a competent man. Commenting on the high turnover at the park, one of the finest in the Kentucky parks system, Gable said his office has studied the number of managerial changes at the park and the reasons for such changes.

The first manager to go this year was Ralph Brewer, who was appointed during the Breathitt administration. He was succeeded by Hugh Mosley, then Hatcher succeeded Mosley.

RURAL ROAD WORK AHEAD

Highways Head Says Surfacing Scheduled On Six County Roads

Bids on six of several rural highway improvement projects submitted last January for Department of Highways action this year will be received Aug. 9.

Announcing plans for the Floyd county work, Commissioner of Highways William B. Hazelrigg said the roads will receive bituminous surfacing. Routes to be advertised for bids are:

The Martin-Prestonsburg road (Spurlock-Buck's Branch), two miles; Stephens Branch road, beginning at Cliff, 2.3 miles; Tinker Fork, 1.4 miles; Arkansas Creek, 2.9 miles; Hen Pen Branch, 1.8 miles; KY 1929 (McDowell to Big Mud), 1.5 miles.

Among other projects requested by the Floyd fiscal court were both the right and left forks of Bull Creek and the road on Skull, above Weeksburg.

The Department of Highways announcement of road improvements was made to State Senator Clifford B. Latta and Representative Everett Akers.

RESIGNATION IS DELAYED

Stumbo To Remain As CAP Chairman Until September

John Milton Stumbo, of McDowell, who at the June meeting of the Floyd County Community Action Program directors resigned as chairman, has deferred leaving the post till September.

He explained at the July 8 meeting here he had decided to continue as chairman till that time in deference to the request of many residents of the county.

The work being done to sign prospective customers of two proposed water districts was discussed. Stumbo said about 200 residents of the Left Beaver section had signed applications for the Beaver-Elkhorn Water District service and that at least 300, in all, were needed. Payment of the $75 tap-on-fee at the time of signing has been waived, applicants being permitted to sign a promissory note. This tap-on-fee is to be refunded, even if paid.

The Mud Creek Water District is accepting from its applicants a down-payment of $2, with an additional payment of $22 to be collected when and if the water system is built. Wm. Meade reported on activities of Appalachian Volunteers in assisting to get signatures of prospective customers of the system in the Ligon-Price-McDowell area. Cecil Sturgill told the CAP group that a factory for the Harold-Betsy area is being sought from a Tennessee-based firm. The proposed plant would need a building 150 by (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

P'BURG SUES FOR $54,000

City Sues To Collect On Claim Blaze Loss Total for Structure

The city of Prestonsburg went to court last week in an attempt to collect insurance claimed after the Jan. 18 fire which ravaged its municipal building.

The suit, filed by City Attorney Albert A. Burchett at the direction of the City Council, asks the $54,000 face value of the policy, plus 7% interest from the date of the fire, an additional $740 and $150 a month under coverage for additional expense. This latter claim stems from the city's loss of rentals from the municipal building and the cost of renting temporary quarters for city offices.

Named defendants in the action are the Insurance Company of North America and the State National Bank of Maysville as trustee.

Break in Impasse Over Roads Hinted

The impasse existing on a 1968 state-county agreement for rural road work in this county may have been broken, it was indicated in Frankfort last week.

County Judge Henry Stumbo and County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill said Highways Commissioner William B. Hazelrigg assured them the rural road program for the county had been approved and that the formal contract would be forwarded here for fiscal court approval, early this week.

The contract had not been submitted as of Wednesday, however.

Urging the court to have a prospective road supervisor take the required examination, Hazelrigg told Floyd officials he did not care about the poli-

Saturday Is Proclaimed "Patty Marshall Day"

Miss Patricia Loraine Marshall, Miss Floyd County 1968, whose beauty and talent carried her to the third runner-up spot in the Miss Kentucky Pageant at Louisville Saturday evening, will be honored at the Jenny Wiley amphitheatre Saturday night.

Mayor George P. Archer has declared Saturday "Patty Marshall Day" in Prestonsburg, and she will make her amphitheatre appearance that evening, giving the dramatic monologue which was her talent act at the Miss Kentucky Pageant. Miss Marshall will appear prior to the "Midsummer Night's Dream" performance by the Lexington Children's Theatre. Her monologue is from the play, "Miss Julie."

The new Miss Floyd County is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall, of Prestonsburg. She was sponsored in the Miss Floyd County Scholarship Pageant by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club.

Miss Marshall, who is a student at the Prestonsburg Community College, received a $300 scholarship from the Pepsi-Cola Bottlers Association of Kentucky, a specially designed pin, a modeling course, a silver bowl and a trophy as third runner-up in the Miss Kentucky Pageant. She is a native of Clarksville, West Virginia.

Miss Janet Sue Hatfield, 18, of Jeffersonton, the new Miss Kentucky, is said to be a descendant of "Devil" Anse Hatfield, of Hatfield-McCoy feud fame. She succeeds another Jeffersonton girl, Jo Ann Clark, as the state's reigning beauty.

Born in Pike county, Nov. 11, 1898, she was a daughter of the late W. A. and Maggie Burks Litz. Her husband, John Marshall, survives.

Additional survivors are two sons, William Thomas and John B. Marshall, II, both of Vandalia, Ohio, and three other sisters, Mrs. Olive Childers and Mrs. Hazel Porter, both of Ashland, Ky., and Miss Mae Litz, of Florida.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Van Lear Free Will Baptist Church, the Revs. Russell Pack, Otis Bowling and Melvin Blanton officiating. Burial in the Wells cemetery at Paintsville was directed by the Jones & Preston Funeral Home.

The fiscal court met Friday, and three of the magistrates, Edward Caudill, Dewey Roberts and Bill Wells, voted to discharge Blaine Hopkins as road supervisor. Magistrate Zeb Ousley abstained from voting.

This action taken, Judge Stumbo recommended Sam Henry Fitzpatrick for the post, and he was employed. Fitzpatrick took the examination at Pikeville last week, but no word of the result of the test has been received here.

Judge Stumbo said Hopkins' work "has been entirely satisfactory, and his care of the county's machinery has been excellent." Fitzpatrick has already begun work.

Children under 12 years of age may get their measles shots at the same time.

JURY FAILS OF VERDICT

In Salisbury Trial On Murder Charge For Negro Slaying

An all-white jury failed to agree Tuesday on the guilt or innocence of Festa Salisbury, former Floyd county man, at the conclusion of his murder trial in the Fayette circuit court for the slaying of Otis Ayres, Lexington Negro.

Ayres was killed last Dec. 2 while in the Fire House Restaurant which Salisbury operated under lease.

Police Sgt. Fred Kelly, testifying for the state, said Ayres' body was in a booth of the restaurant, the legs crossed at the knees. The death weapon, a .45-calibre pistol, was near the dead man's hand. "He must have shot himself," the policeman testified Salisbury told him.

Defense Attorney John Young Brown in his opening statement to the jury said Salisbury was afraid of Ayres. Dody Watson, owner of the restaurant, testified he told Salisbury when the latter leased the business that Ayres would be a troublesome customer when he drank too much. He said he had had to eject Ayres from the place on several occasions.

Mrs. Salisbury testified she and her husband had told Ayres several times to leave and not come back. But Ayres continued to come to the restaurant and was always served.

The defendant pleaded self-defense. A retrial of the case is scheduled.

Police Court Fines Levied on 2 Drivers, Others Are Arrested

William Edward Crace, who was arrested by State Trooper Elmo Allen on a drunk driving charge, was fined $100 and costs Saturday by Police Judge Earl Blackburn when he entered a plea of guilty. He later announced he will appeal the verdict.

D. Mart Music last week entered guilty plea to two charges and was fined $50 and costs for failing to yield to the police car and $10 and costs for reckless driving. He had earlier been fined $10 and costs for driving without an operator's license. Everett Hall and Motto Stone (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

$418,000 Loan Assures College Buildings Here

Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr., director of Prestonsburg Community College, said this week that announcement of a bid date on two buildings to be added to the campus development here is expected immediately, now that the U. S. Department of Education has approved a loan of $418,000 for the construction project.

He said he expects the project to be advertised in time for bids to be opened next month, with work to begin probably in September.

The $418,000 loan, added to a grant made earlier in the year, will finance the expenditure of $1,442,667 on construction of two academic struc-

FHA Gives Approval On 75 Housing Units; Cost, Near $1 Million

Final approval of the Prestonsburg Ministerial Association's plan to construct 75 rent-supplement housing units in the Goble-Roberts Addition, near Lancer, was made late last week by the Federal Housing Administration.

The total cost of the project, including sites and construction, will approach $1 million. Although it was originally conceived as an $800,000 job, FHA permitted a 25 percent outlay in funds because of land costs.

The Lexington firm of architects, McLoney & Tunc, were notified last week that they are to submit complete plans for the housing complex within 60 days. Earlier completion of landscaping and foundation plans will permit preliminary work to begin soon. D. H. Holbrook, head of the Holbrook Construction Company, said.

The housing units will occupy four separate but neighboring sites. The construction job will entail erection of 38 buildings, all of which except one will be of two stories. When completed, the project will provide 35 two-bedroom units, 24 of three bedrooms and 16 with one bedroom.

The housing complex will be within a short walk of the new U. S. Shoe Company plant. It is designed to provide modern housing for families, even though some may not be able to pay the rent on housing of this type. A family, for example, could occupy a $125 apartment. (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

SUIT WOULD CURB KUAC

Civil Rights Groups Ask Federal Court For an Injunction

State Senator Clifford B. Latta, of Prestonsburg, member of the Kentucky Un-American Activities Committee appointed by Governor Nunn last month, was notified Wednesday that eight civil rights groups had filed a suit in U. S. court at Louisville attacking the constitutional validity of KUAC.

The suit alleges that the committee is now poised to strike in "a scheme to deter, harass and intimidate the plaintiff."

It asks a temporary injunction to restrain KUAC from investigating civil disorders or to take any other action. KUAC had scheduled a meeting tomorrow but it will be postponed, Latta said.

The groups filing the suit are the Black Unity League of Kentucky, the Louisville Peace Council, Southern Conference Education Fund, Southern Seminary Students Affiliated with SCEF, Steering Committee Against Repression, Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, West End (Louisville) Community Council and White Emergency Support Team.

Senator Latta said the federal suit preceded any action by KUAC.

Completion of the two buildings will enable the college, Dr. Campbell said, to offer two-year programs in various areas, including nursing, secretarial education, radio and television technology, journalism, home economics and engineering.

Two temporary buildings were added to the campus last year to meet emergency needs. The college also received recently a $5,000 federal grant for library materials.

The trend is clear!

More than 3 million American homes are heated electrically. The Federal Power Commission forecasts 19 million families will convert to or build electrically heated homes within just 12 years! Why?

Ben Franklin's stoves sold like hotcakes because they were more efficient than an open fire. The pot bellied stove was replaced by central heating systems. Today's big home-heating trend is another vast improvement... flameless electric... because it offers such a wide choice of systems and so many more advantages that it makes other methods of heating seem clumsy and old-fashioned. More convenient, more comfortable, more versatile, electric heat gives you more for your money. And you can enjoy it now, in your present house. Any home can be converted to clean electric heat, easily and economically. Let us prove it. Call us... or mail this coupon.

Ben Franklin Store

PARENTS: We've arranged to have a nationally recognized professional photographer at our store on the dates shown below. You can have each member of the family photographed in several poses, and pick any one of them for your free portrait. We only ask that all children be accompanied by a parent.

DON'T MISS THIS OPPORTUNITY to get a living color portrait you will treasure always. Several poses are taken and low cost additional portraits are available for those who wish them.

It's our way of saying "Thank You" to our many regular customers, and "Welcome" to everyone else. Incidentally, we believe these photographs are really something special. MODERN MIRACLE

When I took my young grandson from Lexington fishing at Dewey Lake, a few weeks ago, he took to the water like I want a grandson of mine to take. The water, the boat, the dock and all caught his fancy, and so it was that, a few days later, back in Lexington, his mother entered to find him pretending the kitchen floor was a lake, and the chairs were boats. He was dragging a chair around by a rope to tie it to the "dock" when she walked across the floor and began sweeping. The youngster looked at his mother, the broom, then back at his mother, and said: "I heard about Jesus doing it, but this is the first time I've ever seen anybody walking on the water."

THE PRECEDENT

The Lincoln stories are unending. This one is told of the time when the President was being pestered with a steady flow of office-seekers. So he told of once reading about a certain king who, wanting to go hunting, asked the prime minister if it would rain. He was assured the weather would be good. On the way to the hunt the royal party was met by a farmer riding a jackass, and the farmer warned the king it was going to rain. His majesty laughed and went on, but he had barely begun hunting when a downpour came, drenching him and his party. He went back to his palace, threw the prime minister out and called for the farmer. "Tell me, how did you know it was going to rain?" the king asked the farmer. "I did not know, your majesty. It's not me, it's my jackass. He puts his ears forward when it's going to rain."

though its income is not sufficient to meet that rent. In that case, the tenant would pay to the extent of its ability, and FHA would pick up the tab for the remainder. The housing program was conceived by the ministerial group as a means of combatting the acute housing shortage at Prestonsburg and vicinity. Approval of the project was made after the State Highway Department had given assurance that a bridge spanning the Big Sandy there will be built.

300 feet and a five-acre site. Leaders of the area are seeking a site, he said. The McDowell community has purchased a 130 by 70-foot lot and have made application to Community Facilities for funds with which to build a community center there. The CAP meeting heard some discussion of the study being made at Governor Nunn's request of the Appalachian Volunteers in this county. John Roberts inquired why some are seeking to impede the study.

'GREAT SHOW,' IS COMMENT OF VISITORS TO THIS AREA AFTER SEEING 'BOY FRIEND'

The best critics of a show is the audience and those seeing THE BOY FRIEND at the Summer Music Theatre in Jenny Wiley State Park last week-end have responded with enthusiasm. THE BOY FRIEND, a musical spoof on the roaring Twenties, which runs again this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Amphitheatre, has captured the praise of people visiting from all parts of the country. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pye, of Detroit, found the show "terrific." Phyllis Jean Deel, of Prater, Va., commented: "Great show. Stage setting very well done — special consideration and praise should go to the girls. . . great unity in dancing. . . Thanks for a wonderful show!" David A. Poard, Sr., of Huntington, W. Va., said, "A very delightful evening and most entertaining." The theatre even had a visitor from Madrid, Spain, Juanita Molina, who commented, "Bueno."

The plot of THE BOY FRIEND unfolds in and near a fashionable girls' finishing school on the Riviera in 1926 and concerns a rich man's son who has decided to make his living as a hotel page-boy. Naturally, in this Cinderella fable, the sad and lonely girl falls in love with the messenger. This whim of heart is socially impossible until she discovers the boy's true identity.

The damage was estimated by officials at $75,000, but insurance representatives have contended the building is not a total loss and that the damage is repairable. The city, on the other hand, cites the inspection made by a representative of the state fire marshal's office. The inspector, it is claimed, condemned the gutted building and recommended that the walls which yet stand be torn down because of cracks resulting from the fire. To Play for Georgetown

James Carlson "Jimbo" Bailey, 6-7 center for the Maytown high school Wildcats the last four years, has accepted a full basketball scholarship at Georgetown College, Georgetown, Ky., it was announced this week.

His decision to enroll at Georgetown was made after several other colleges had sought to lure him to their rosters. Bailey began playing basketball at Maytown in the sixth grade, and his skill improving steadily over the years, he hit his peak as a senior last season, averaging 14 points a game and 18 rebounds. He was named to both the district all-tournament and all-conference teams and was all-state honorable mention.

The big center is a son of Sid and Marcella Bailey, of Langley. His father played football on the Prestonsburg high school team and was all-state honorable mention.

When tubular-glass rods first flexed their way onto the fishing scene, it was a great day for anglers, and a new chapter began in rod history. And now a new paragraph is being written by the advent of "self-ferrule" rods.

To date, comparatively few fishermen are aware of this development. In case you haven't had the pleasure of fishing one yet, a current review may be in order. First, for the uninitiated, what is a self-ferrule rod?

It's one in which the ferrule, which joins the sections of the rod, is a part of the rod itself—and like the rod, is made of glass. Thus it flexes as the rod bends, to produce an uninterrupted curve. This gives the sweet feel of a one-piece rod and reduces to a minimum the area of stiffness associated with a rigid ferrule. A metal ferrule, by contrast, does not flex and therefore interjects an area of flatness into the overall bend.

This is not to say that rods with metal ferrules are passe.

Far from it. They'll be around in abundance for a long time to come. And as a matter of observation, a large segment of the fishing fraternity will always exist who neither need nor would appreciate the properties of a self-ferrule rod.

Cost is one of the reasons the self-ferrule rod will not appeal to the angling masses. It takes time, precision and skilled labor to produce. So unless a breakthrough is achieved in manufacturing procedure, such rods will remain in the medium-to-high price category.

Further, the difference in feel between a one-piece rod and a two-piece rod is not apparent to every caster. It is better anglers, with above-average acumen, who will appreciate these rods.

Glass-ferrule rods were introduced in this country by a California company in 1962, and they are now being marketed by four other firms as well. They are available in casting, spin-cast, spinning and fly models. Depending on how carefully you shop, notes Homer Circle, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine, they can be bought from under $20 upward, despite much higher list prices.

The trend to the self-ferrule rod is so valid, so pleasurable and so practical it is bound to become a must among discriminating anglers. If you consider yourself sufficiently skilled to appreciate the feel of such a stick, both during the act of casting and in the playing of a fish, you'll find it hard to try a self-ferrule rod and not buy one.

DODDER, THE PLANT WORLD OCTOPUS

Dodder is called "love-vine," as it wraps its long, snaky fingers around plants and seems to embrace them with tender devotion. But this is a type of love that strangles and destroys its victims. Dodder is also called "strangle-weed," as it is a slinky, bright-yellow vine lacking leaves, and has no power to make its own food. So it lives on other plants as a parasite and gets its nourishment by piercing through the bark into the stem by means of suckers called "haustoria," which tap the tissues of the host and suck up its lifeblood.

Like many things of evil design, dodder is a beautiful vine with its bright orange-yellow runners, which completely envelop the host plant and form a bower over it. It is like an octopus whose tentacles reach out and overcome its victim to destroy it.

Our most common species of dodder is called, "Gronovius' dodder," which was named after Jan Frederik Gronovius, a botanist who taught the great naturalist, Linnaeus, and also wrote the botany book, FLORA VIRGINICA, 1739.

Gronovius' dodder has small, pinkish-white flowers that produce a bounteous crop of seeds each season. The seeds fall to the ground and the next spring, they sprout and produce small plants some four or five inches high. These have tiny tendrils that begin to reach out like greedy fingers from the grave seeking some way to live. If they cannot find a host plant, they soon wither and die, as they have no power of their own to survive, and are entirely dependent on some other plant for nourishment. When they find a host plant, they begin to put out long, greedy vines with tendrils for clasping. These wrap around the stem again and again until they gain a sure, firm hold. They pierce the stem and suck out the juices.

So firmly do the suckers cling to the tissues of the plant, one cannot pull them loose without breaking them. They are like a tick that pierces its victim and sinks its mouth into the flesh to suck the blood. The suckers will break before they let go.

Dodder is only one of the famous, troublesome plants known as "bind-weeds." Some parasitic plants, like the mistletoe, do not seem to harm their hosts. Others completely dominate them and gradually strangle them to death. One of the most persistent and troublesome of the strangle vines is Japanese honeysuckle, which envelops and smothers its victims and completely dominates its environment. It is one of the most difficult of all the strangle vines to control or eradicate. Other vines that smother their hosts are the cross-vine, the false climbing buckwheat and the black bindweed.

There is one species of dodder that will not grow on any plant but the clovers. It is called "clover dodder," and does serious damage to clover and alfalfa. It also mixes its seeds with those of clover and causes bad contamination.

Fortunately, dodder is not too common in our region and on the whole it does not do serious damage to many useful plants. The hosts it seems to prefer are the ironweeds, stick weeds (crown beard), false net-les, beefsteak plants, chrysanthemums, alfalfa and clover and the juicy stems of the wild touch-me-nots.

There is an old love superstition connected with dodder: Break off one of the long, snaky tendrils, tie it into a "love knot," then name it for the adored one, walk backward with the eyes closed and drop it on some plant, then go away without looking. If the lover is true, the dodder will grow on the plant; if the lover is false or fickle, it will fade and die.

Dodder seems to poison some of its host plants, as it produces many strange forms and mutations among them; perhaps there is in its weird alchemy of metabolism some substance that stunts and irritates the host plant, causing it to undergo strange transformations.

There is a good lesson for us in the study of the ways of dodder, the plant parasite. There are human parasites which like the dodder cannot live on their own but must take their life substance from the labors of others. Our public welfare systems have made

MOST-WANTED BOOKS HERE LIKE BEST-SELLER LIST

People in Floyd county, like those in most other areas, want to read "what everyone else is reading" for the most part, according to Librarian Homer L. Hall.

The list of books on "reserve" at the Floyd County Library reads like a national "best-seller" list for the past six months, with such books as Desmond Morris' "The Naked Ape," Catherine Marshall's "Christy," Norman Vincent Peale's "Enthusiasm Makes the Difference," Elia Kazan's "The Arrangement," Fletcher Knebel's "Vanished," Arthur Hailey's "Airport," Jesse Stern's "Edgar Cayce: The Sleeping Prophet," and Ira Levin's "Rosemary's Baby," at the top.

Demand from library borrowers for such best-sellers, the librarian said, rises rapidly on first publication, and the library can find no way to have available nearly enough copies without a tremendous investment of public tax funds.

"Patrons who want to read the latest books can be more certain of getting them promptly if they place reservations at the library," Hall said.

The reserves or requests are then filed in the order in which they are received. Later, when the book returns from circulation, it is held back and a postal notice is sent to the patron indicating that the book is available.

"The reserve system enables us to set up a first-come-first-served basis in filling patron requests for widely read books," Hall explained.

Other titles which have been especially in demand in recent months include "The Eight Day," by Thornton Wilder; "Gabriel Hounds," by Mary Stewart; "Nicholas and Alexandra," by Robert Massie; "Doctor's Wives," by Frank Slaughtor; "Tower of Babel," by Morris L. West; "Topaz," by Leon Uris, and "Dirty Politics," by Bruce Felknor.

PRICE STORE DRAWS FINE

U. S. Court Imposes Fines on Two Grocers For Stamp Violations

Atlanta, Ga. — Two Kentucky grocers have each been fined $200 plus $35 court costs for violating the federal Food Stamp Act.

The grocers are James W. Tolliver, of Tolliver's Grocery at Democrat, and Mrs. Beatrice Little, of B. & C. Grocery, at Price, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Both grocers were found guilty June 17 in the U. S. District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky on four counts of violating the Food Stamp Act.

Previously, Tolliver and Mrs. Little, along with their respective stores, had each been disqualified from taking part in the food stamp program for six months by the Consumer and Marketing Service.

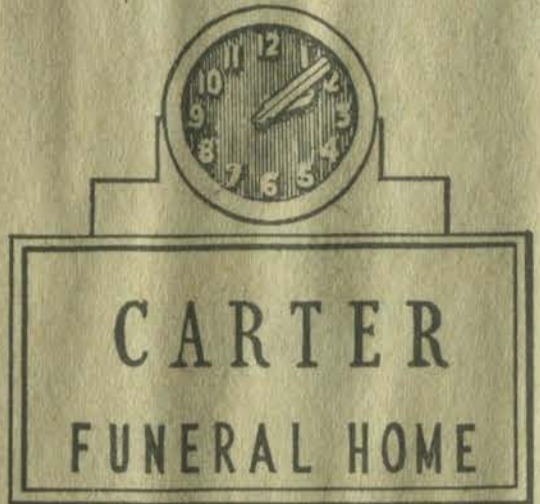

At the time of their respective disqualifications, Tolliver and Mrs. Little were notified that disqualification did not preclude further action to collect claims under food stamp program regulations or possible prosecution under any criminal or other applicable statute.

Homecoming Notes

Langley, Ky. — Shannon Gibson, Homecoming parade chairman, announces the parade will begin from the school here at 6 p.m., Friday, July 26, led by Parade Marshal Ronald Prater, on his horse, with John E. May, of Laurel, Miss., grand marshal, following. Maytown band, officers of the Homecoming Association, Homecoming hosts, local veterans of World War I, 4-H Club, Woman's Club, Science Club, Little Leaguers, cheerleaders, majorettes, Wildcats, Homecoming royalty, various Maytown queens, and others invited to follow. The big question is—Will the student King and Queen reveal their identity and take part in the parade? Odds favor this.

Paul Miller, traffic chairman, with FFA boys, will lime parking spaces at school and on left side of streets. Main blocks will become temporary one-way streets, starting Tuesday, July 23, with entrance signs at Stone's, exit at Langley Supply. Maytown motorists are asked to remain off streets so far as possible, to avoid congestion. Mesdames Roland Burchett, Jimmie Hopson, Misses Ruth Ann Burchett, Lorena Hall, Gary Bailey and Jim Allen have completed and will hang the welcome sign this week. Maytown Woman's Club is providing flags to line the streets.

Mrs. Tommy Jones asks local adults and children to register early, starting at 11:30 a.m. Friday, so visitors may do so later. All residents of Maytown and its various school communities are invited, along with all former Maytownites, but everyone must register. Guests needing more information, etc., should notify Mrs. Willard Hicks. Families with rooms to spare should do likewise. Guests needing trailer space should contact James Allen.

Class Reunion breakfasts will be from 8 to 10:30 a.m., Saturday, July 27. Locations are listed on information sheets to be passed out Friday evening in the gym. Students who did not graduate here should attend the breakfast of their former class. All others, mostly older persons, have been invited to a Fellowship Breakfast in the Methodist Church, Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Sumner heading the host list. Breakfast is free. To date, the class of 1966 has no hostess. Call BU 5-3413 if you can serve.

The Homecoming Booklet is off the press, available from Shirley Bradley, Danise Conley, Elda Black, Glema Cooley, Pat Gibson, Anna Bowling, Denice Blevins, Sherry Halbert and Wanda Reed. Miss Bradley and her girls will discuss Homecoming over WDOC, Saturday, July 20 at 9:30 or 9:45 a.m.

Hicks Is Honorman At Training Center

Kenneth L. Hicks, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hicks, of Langley, was awarded a Certificate of Honor with plaque as Honorman of his company upon recruit graduation July 5 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois.

He was selected for the honor on the basis of performance of duty, leadership, initiative, high scholastic standing and general excellence.

NEW PRESIDENT OF KFWC, PIKEVILLE WOMAN, SETS GOALS FOR 2-YEAR TERM

Mrs. Oscar Sowards, of Pikeville, newly elected president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, has chosen the theme, "Privileges and Responsibilities of Freedom," for her two-year term. Freedom is insured, she believes, by letting both sides of an issue be presented in a calm rather than emotional atmosphere. The future "depends on the intelligent educated citizenry," and this is where Mrs. Sowards believes clubwomen can play a part in freedom.

A big threat to freedom, Mrs. Sowards said, is crime. During her administration she hopes that by working with county judges throughout the state a crime prevention commission can be established in each of the federation's nine districts.

The K.F.W.C. will continue its project at Kentucky Village whereby a club "adopts" a girl there. Also continued will be aid to Jewel Manor, a home for delinquent girls from throughout the state. This project was launched by K.F.W.C. and it will be operated by the Kentucky Department of Child Welfare.

Clubwomen will continue as volunteer workers for the state's mental hospitals and centers.

Mrs. Sowards has met in Washington with the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare officials and in Frankfort at the Department of Child Welfare, working to establish a complete children's center as part of the model-cities programs in Pikeville and Bowling Green. The clubwomen would promote the centers and do volunteer work. The funds would come through the model-cities programs.

For the next two years one hobby of Mrs. Sowards and her husband will be curtailed. Since 1946, when they made their first trip abroad, these natives of Eastern Kentucky have been around the world, though not in a single tour.

In the approximately 15 years that Mrs. Sowards has been a member of the Pikeville Woman's Club, she has served in every major office.

Mrs. Sowards, too, is active in the First Christian Church of Pikeville, in Beta Sigma Phi social sorority and in the Mountain Mental Health Association.

She has chosen as her aide to the president Mrs. James D. Adams, a member of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club. Other Seventh district clubwomen serving are: Mrs. J. C. Faulkner, status of women, Pikeville; Mrs. Elmer Beckett, news editor, Paintsville; Mrs. Katherine L. Hinton, Bright Place mats, Pikeville; Mrs. Nick Cooley, Tracy Hamilton dresses, Drift.

NEW PIKEVILLE HOSPITAL GETS APPALACHIAN FUNDS

Pikeville, Ky. — Lee Keene, administrator of the Methodist Hospital, has announced approval of the Appalachian Regional Commission for a grant of $640,000 from federal Appalachian funds toward construction of the new hospital here. This amount will supplement funds from other sources for the $5.5 million estimated cost of the new facility.

Approval for Hill-Burton funds is expected to be $1,940,000; ARC funds for mental health, $112,000, state mental health funds totaling $70,000 have already been approved. The sale of Unit I to Pikeville College is estimated at $400,000 and the pledge of the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Church is $400,000. Remainder of $1.9 million is to develop from local funds and the sale of municipal bonds.

The new eight-story tower unit will replace the hospital on the hill, opened in 1924, and will be built adjoining Unit II, located on Harold's Branch. The annual operating budget is estimated at $3 million and a minimum of 450 employees will be needed to staff the new facility. Currently the hospital employs between 350 and 370. The 230 beds of the new hospital will include 40 beds for extended care, 20 for mental health and 50 for obstetrics and pediatrics. In addition, teaching programs can be expanded to include more area students. Canoes for shooting white water are made without keels so that they can be maneuvered sidewise to avoid rocks. —Sports Afield.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, of Garrett, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jo Anne, to Mr. Ronald William Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts, of Louisville. The wedding will be August 10 at the Garrett Baptist Church.

300 ALUMNI AND FRIENDS ATTEND 15th HOMECOMING AT ALC; FORD IS SPEAKER

Nearly 300 alumni and friends gathered on the campus of Alice Lloyd College at Pippa Passes July 7 in observance of the college's 15th annual homecoming celebration.

Keynote speaker was Kentucky's Lt. Gov. Wendell H. Ford, who told the reunion audience that he will ask the Appalachian Regional Commission to establish a college scholarship and loan fund for the youth of mountain communities.

It is well, he said, that those responsible for the formation of the commission "chose first to stress the building of roads" as a basic means of "breaking the chains" that bound the mountain area. "It is full time now, however, that additional major emphasis on education be adopted as part of this development program," Ford said.

Joining him on the platform were Dr. Mary Ordell Ray Johnson, the only Alice Lloyd College alumna to enter the practice of medicine, and Jerry Saunders, noted Ohio educator and an alumnus of the college. Dr. Johnson is chief of the pediatric staff at the Highlands Clinic of the Appalachian Regional Hospital at Williamson, West Virginia. Saunders is assistant director at the Division of Instructional Materials of the Ohio State Department of Education.

Why do People with Plans choose a

for their savings?

People who save money usually fall into two groups. People without plans and people with plans.

The second group knows there's one type of financial institution that can act as a "financial partner" in carrying out these plans. This partner is a Full Service commercial bank (such as ours).

For example: When you want to buy a home, our bank is often the least expensive place to get the first mortgage money.

Or—when you want to buy a new car or take a trip, we can provide an auto or travel loan, usually at less cost.

Or—should you want to go into business for yourself, we can help analyze the new venture and if it looks promising, we can help you arrange the financing.

Why begin with a Full Service bank? Unlike other types of savings institutions, a Full Service commercial bank is really a kind of "financial department store" dispensing money not just for one of two types of loans but for practically any legitimate venture that shows promise. Since it is a Full Service bank, it can offer every banking service from small checking accounts to huge industrial loans.

If your plans require complete banking service, you'd be a lot better off if you took advantage of our Full Service commercial bank for your savings account—and all your banking business.

ENGLAND-TRAVER

Miss Brenda Gail England, of 128th Street, Toledo, Ohio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. England, Wheelwright, Ky., was married May 11 in St. Pius X Church, Toledo, Ohio, to Bernard F. Traver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Traver, Elmhurst Road, Toledo.

The Rev. Chet Warren performed the double-ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk-faced peau de soie. The waistline of the bouffant gown was bordered with re-embroidered French lace which edged the elbow-length sleeves and hem. The neckline was designed to enhance her necklace of star sapphire and diamonds, a gift from the groom.

Her silk illusion veil was held by a face-framing circle of orange blossoms and draped into a train. She carried white orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Judy Brilkart was maid of honor. Miss Kathy Roos, Mrs. Jerry Turner, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Dennie Sindyla, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. They wore floor-length yellow taffeta gowns, overlaid with white-ribbed sheer dacron empire a-line design. They wore daisy head pieces with veils and carried baskets of daisies.

Terrie Ann Waddle, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown matched in all details those of the bridesmaids. Jimmy Prater, cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer. Wedding music was rendered by Miss Kathy Brenner.

Leslie Traver served his brother as best man. Ushers were Jim Flood, Tony Veriback, Jack Kennedy.

A reception was held in the Holiday Room of Sylvan Hall.

After a wedding trip to St. Petersburg, Fla., the couple will live at 5317 Jackman Rd., Toledo.

Mrs. Traver, a graduate of Wheelwright high school, attended University of Kentucky Southeast College, Cumberland, Ky., and the School of professional Nursing, Harlan, Kentucky. She is employed by Dr. Harry Nicholson, in Toledo.

Mr. Traver attended the U.S. Naval Academy of the Marine Corps., and spent 15 months in Vietnam. He is employed by the city of Toledo.

Kentucky Historical Society Offers Paul Sawyer Prints

Frankfort, Ky.—Prints of five Paul Sawyer paintings are available from the Kentucky Historical Society, Col. George M. Chinn, director, announces. The reproductions of watercolor paintings are obtainable on a first-come, first-served basis and the plates will be destroyed after this one use, Chinn noted.

First delivery to purchasers is expected by July 15.

The rustic beauty of Kentucky was the subject of most of Sawyer's work. Allan M. Trout, former reporter and columnist of the Louisville Courier-Journal, has said Sawyer's "water-colors reflect the shades of delicate color and sometimes rugged beauty that are met on many a twist and turn of the Kentucky River, a houseboat on the bank, the old bridge at Frankfort, the sheer cliffs of Kentucky River marble and the sublimated loveliness of Elk horn Creek."

The painter was born in Ohio in 1865, attended art school in Cincinnati, where he studied under Duveneck, lived in Frankfort, and in the Catskill Mountains in New York. Sawyer died in New York in 1917. His body was brought to Frankfort during the term of Gov. Edwin P. Morrow (1919-1923), who delivered the eulogy.

Chinn emphasized the uniqueness of the reproductions. "It is unbelievable reproductions could be so true to the originals."

He also pointed out the prints are available only to Society members and all five copies can be purchased for $15.
