

Defense Is Loser On Venue Motion

Floyd Court Starts Auto Deaths Case

Jury Panel Exhausted, More Jurors Called; Sword Charge Reduced

The defense effort to win a change of venue for the involuntary manslaughter trial of Larry Howard, Greenup county man charged in the auto collision deaths of three Floyd women near here, failed in circuit court Wednesday, and the work of empanelling a jury for trial of the case was under way that afternoon.

The regular jury panel was exhausted, early in the afternoon, and additional names were drawn from the jury drum.

Hearing of the defense petition for a venue change consumed most of Wednesday morning. All members of the jury were excluded from the courtroom while the hearing was held.

Defense attorneys, Paul E. Hayes and Joe P. Tackett, claimed Howard could not get a fair trial in this county because of the wide publicity given the case, the prominence of the family from which the three victims came and the wide relationship of the victims. Circuit Judge Hollie Conley held that a (See Story No. 5, Page 4)

KNOTT MAN HELD SUICIDE

Harrison Mullins, 56, Is Drowning Victim At Puncheon Home

Harrison Mullins, 56-year-old Knott county farmer, drowned early Wednesday morning after he reportedly jumped into a well in the backyard of his home at Puncheon.

Members of Mullins' family said he left the house at about 6 a.m. After he failed to return they went in search of him, finding his body in the well.

The Knott county coroner ruled the death an apparent suicide.

Mullins was born Oct. 25, 1912 at Puncheon, a son of the late Alex and Laura Hall Mullins.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Goldie Tackett Mullins; four sons, Jackie Mullins, of Connorsville, Ind., Solomon Mullins, of the U. S. Navy, Eugene Mullins, of Puncheon, and Virgil Hall, of Manon, Ohio; a daughter, Miss Nadine Hall, of Puncheon, and five brothers, Quinn Mullins, of Puncheon, John Mullins, of Greenfield, Indiana, Errel Mullins, of McRoberts, Ky., and Charley and Jack Mullins, both of Connorsville, Indiana.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, it was said at Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Scalf Recently Named To Development Work In Floyd Communities

Henry P. Scalf, of Stanville, formerly of The Times staff, was recently named an Extension Service Program assistant for community development work in this county.

Mr. Scalf has been assigned to the communities of Harold, Betsy Layne and Stanville. His work will involve the organizing of community development clubs and seeking through them and all other civic groups improved social, educational and economic conditions for the three communities. He is presently concentrating on Harold where a (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

This Town... That World

Wednesday, late afternoon. A dark ending for the day. Leaves heavy with rain and doing their best to shed their burden. Flowers blooming outside the window, grass green, all that. You say, there's a feel—a smell of autumn in the air? But, honest, now—if you had slept all year and hadn't consulted a calendar, a newspaper or any other human, could you say it wasn't the end of a showery day in April?

THE HUNTING UPTURN

Squirrel-hunting is the talk of Eastern Kentucky, these days. There are more people, more houses, fewer trees, every day it becomes more difficult to get away where it's quiet—and the woods are strangely full of squirrels. Fifty years ago, when you'd have thought everything was ideal for the lively, little squackers, they were so scarce you traveled miles to get into "squirrel territory." Now... you wonder why.

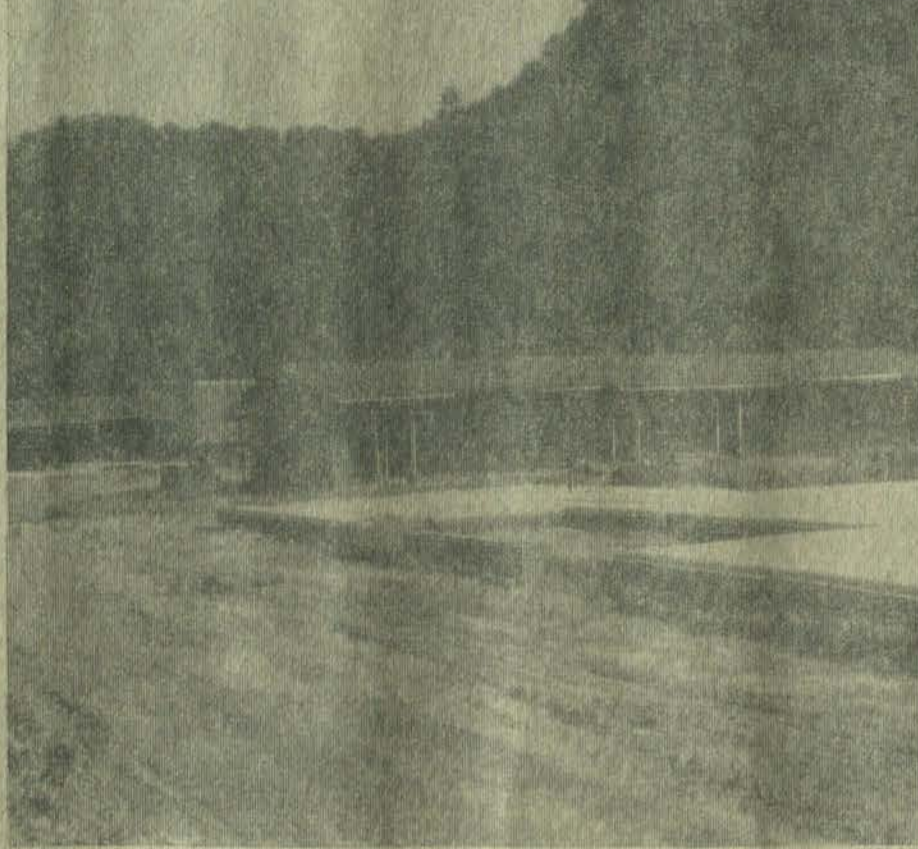

You who like this type of hunting may owe more than you know to the boys who enforce the game laws and those who afford another kind of protection by putting out those forest fires. The hunter might also do his bit by resisting the impulse to kill as much game as the law allows. The supply isn't inexhaustible, you know.

DID MERCURY WEAR SHOES?

Some of the Dewey Lake Fish & Game Club boys were having fun with their exhibit at the county fair last week. They had the pelt of a gray fox nailed to a board, and they took turns jokingly lying to big-eyed boys who stopped to look.

Up would step one of the clubmembers and solemnly assure the youngster that "Bill Pettrey there ran that fox down and knocked him in the head with a rock."

This went on for some time, with varying effect, till this boy came along, studied the late Sir Reynard, and was told of Pettrey's chase of the fox and the demise of the latter. The boy looked Pettrey over, then asked: "Run him down with your shoes on?" (See Story No. 4, Page 4)

Scheduled for completion in December are 42 additional low-rent housing units, shown in photo, at the mouth of May's Branch here. A third housing complex is in the planning stage.

Medics in Johnson Frown on Hospital

If the regional hospital proposed for construction between Prestonsburg and Paintsville becomes a reality, it will be so without the support of the Johnson County Medical Association.

The Johnson county group last week released a statement saying it could not endorse the proposal "as submitted by Dr. George Archer, of Prestonsburg."

Dr. Archer had earlier told members of the medical society at a Chamber of Commerce meeting in Paintsville of plans for the hospital and had asked support of the project. At the same time he said he expected to win out in his fight for the hospital, whether the Johnson county society supported it or didn't.

An option has been taken on a tract of land, on US 23, opposite the state-owned property, near Auxier. The application for the project is in the hands of a federal agency.

In its statement voicing opposition to the hospital which would serve a multi-county area, the Johnson Medical Society said:

"In considering the many aspects of the proposal as submitted by Dr. Archer, it is concluded that this particular hospital is not in the best interest of the citizens of this area.

"The Johnson County Medical Society recognizes that better hospital facilities are desired by the citizens and they are needed by the citizens of this area, but knowing of the organizational background for the proposed hospital we find it impossible to participate in this kind of project."

FLOYD FISHERMAN SAVES LIVES OF TWO AT LAKE

Tragedy at Dewey Lake was probably averted Sunday because Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallen, of Brainard, had spent the day fishing in the upper section of the impoundment.

As they were leaving, the cries of two women on the shore, about 200 yards downstream from the German bridge, attracted their attention. Two men were clinging to an overturned boat, 30 yards from shore.

Mr. Wallen quickly unloaded from his truck the canoe which they had been using, rowed out to the boat and after some difficulty persuaded one of the men to hold to the top of the gunwale on one side of the canoe, the other man to the other side so that the canoe would be balanced. He then swam to shore, towing the canoe and men with him.

That done, a second trip was necessary because another man had swam to the capsized boat in a rescue effort and had become exhausted.

The boat, a 16-foot runabout, is believed to have turned over on a turn. Its occupants, residents of Michigan, were not identified.

Wallen is an employee of Kentucky Appalachian Industries, West Prestonsburg. "I can't say if the men would or would not have made it," he said. "One of them was pretty weak. I'm just glad I came by when I did."

PRESTONSBURG HIGH SENIOR IN NATIONAL MERIT SEMIS

John David Preston, Prestonsburg high school senior and a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Preston, of Allen, has been named a semifinalist in the 1968-69 National Merit Scholarship Program, it was announced last week by Woodrow Allen, principal of the school here.

The 17-year-old Prestonsburg student is one of 15,000 semifinalists who will compete for 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded next year. He and other semifinalists were the highest scorers in their states on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test given last February in 17,500 schools, nationwide. They constitute less than one percent of the graduating high school seniors in the United States.

The semifinalists show high promise for leadership in their adult careers, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. "They have already demonstrated both high intellectual capacity and a readiness to develop their abilities," he said.

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for Merit Scholarships, since all winners will be selected from the finalist group. Semifinalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, submitting scores from a second examination, and providing information about their achievements and interests.

Every semifinalist who becomes a finalist will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 Scholarships, allocated by state. Many will also be considered for the four-year Merit Scholarships provided by some 400 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals.

Winners of four-year Merit Scholarships may receive up to $1,500 a year for four college years, depending on their individual need. Winners of the National Merit $1,000 Scholarships will receive one-time stipends of $1,000 upon enrollment in college.

ABBOTT GIRL SHOOTS SELF

Nine Hackworth, 19, Seriously Wounded; Love Angle Is Seen

Nineteen-year-old Nina Hackworth, of Bonanza, was brought to the Prestonsburg General hospital Wednesday afternoon after she had reportedly fired a bullet from a .22-caliber rifle through her abdomen.

A note the girl had written was found by members of the family and given to Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis. Disappointment in love was given as the motive for the shooting.

Sheriff Lewis said the girl shot herself while lying in bed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hackworth. The bullet which passed through her body was found in the bed. Mrs. Cora Snipes, her grandmother, said she was the first to reach her. The wounded girl had walked outside and fallen in the yard, and her cries attracted Mrs. Snipes' attention. Other members of the family were absent at the time.

The rifle from which the shot was fired was found by Sheriff Lewis. He said only one cartridge had been fired.

Election Commission Picks Poll Officials

The Floyd County Election Commission last Saturday selected officials to serve in the county's 43 voting precincts at the November election. Names of those selected follow, the clerk, two judges and sheriff appearing in order in each instance:

PRESTONSBURG No. 2—H. D. Blackburn, Glenn Anderson, Bill Pettrey, Carl Wise.

DEPOT—Linden Elliott, Hobert Younce, Joannie Justice, Estill Shepherd.

104 Housing Units Seen In Complex

Congressman Offers Support; Hill Named Developer by Council

The first major rent-supplement housing complex for a rural community in the United States is being proposed for the Mud Creek section of this county.

The 979 Community Action Council, Inc., a non-profit group spearheading improvements there, last Friday night authorized its chairman, Gordon Meade, to enter into a contract with John T. Hill, Prestonsburg engineer, to develop upper Mud Creek housing which will involve the expenditure of an estimated $1.4 million.

Hill as project developer will name the architect, contractor and engineer and negotiate the financing for the project.

Tentatively planned to occupy a site of seven to eight acres in the upper Mud Creek valley, the complex is envisioned as containing 104 units, with most of the units consisting of two and three bedrooms. The complex will consist of 13 buildings, each with eight apartments. The structures will be of brick and two-story in design, similar to the 150-unit rent-supplement complex now being completed at Ashland. The buildings, Mr. Hill said, will be designed to require a minimum of care.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins has already emphasized his active support of the project.

Commenting on the work done by Perkins, Hill said, "Of all the housing projects and public improvements Carl Perkins has worked for, none has given him proper credit. We propose to name this Mud Creek project 'The Carl D. Perkins Memorial Housing Development.'" (See Story No. 3, Page 3)

Former Floyd Man Gets Federal Post

Albert Bush Brooke, Jr., former Floyd county resident, was nominated last Thursday by President Johnson to the Federal Power Commission.

The 47-year-old Brooke, a former Lexington newspaperman who spent his boyhood years in this county, was named to fill out the remaining 10 months of the term of Commissioner C. R. Ross, Vermont Republican who has resigned. Brooke's confirmation by the U. S. Senate is expected to be a routine matter, and he is "very hopeful" of re-appointment next June to serve a full five-year term. He has been Senator Thurston B. Morton's administrative assistant the last 10 years.

The appointment apparently was engineered by Sen. Morton and his old friend, Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has considerable influence at the White House and was happy to do a favor for Morton, who will be retiring from the Senate at the end of this year.

Brooke described the selection process this way: "This thing has really been in the mill now for many, many months. But there's many a slip twixt the cup and the lip. It didn't get finally firmed up until the last few days."

Brooke described himself as "moderately conservative" and fairly close to the views of his boss, Sen. Morton. Morton is generally identified as a Commerce Committee ally of private business, but on some occasions he has supported public-power measures.

"I have the same outlook going into the commission as I've had in the legislative work—go into these things with an open mind and listen to the facts."

For whatever it's worth, Kentucky will now have a unique tie to the FPC membership. Two of the five members will have served apprenticeships in government as aides to Kentucky senators. FPC Chairman Lee C. White, a Democrat, served several years as administrative assistant to Sen. John Sherman Cooper.

Brooke is a tall man and he used to be heavy. He has lost 45 pounds in recent months recuperating from a heart attack suffered last May. He's been back on the job in Morton's office since August 1. (See Story No. 1, Page 4)

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Robinson, Sr., of Langley, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Robinson, also of Langley, Sept. 15. Others present were Larry and James Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Robinson and children, of Langley, County Clerk C. "Olie" Robinson, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Halbert and children, of Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson came to Floyd county from Harman and Petros, Tenn., in 1925. They settled at Jack's Creek and moved to Drill in 1931. In 1941 they moved to Langley. Mr. Robinson is a disabled miner, having worked for the Reed mines for approximately 40 years before his retirement in 1965.

It is held that rent-supplement housing will meet a very real need in the Mud Creek section where, according to a recent survey, 70 percent of the approximately 1,400 homes in the valley are sub-standard. The valley has a population of 8,500—roughly twice that of Prestonsburg.

Rent-supplement housing in Mud Creek, it is pointed out, is particularly needed because of the depressed economy of the area. It will provide modern housing, with the amount of rent based on income of the occupant, in some cases the federal government paying up to 70 percent of the rental cost. Eligibility as a tenant is restricted to those having an income of not more than $6,100 a year and assets of not more than $2,000, furniture, clothing and other essentials excluded.

If the project is approved, installation of a prefabricated sewage treatment plant will be necessary.

Also considered of extreme importance to the future of the project is the move under way now to get the required number of customers to sign applications for water service from the Mud Creek Water District. The housing development itself will provide 104 customers.

Residents of the Mud Creek section are offered a no-money-down proposal as the tap-on sign-up drive is under way. They are asked to sign only a non-interest-bearing promissory note of $15 which will not be due till 1970 and all of which except the meter deposit will be credited against their first monthly water bills.

Federal funds totalling $1.47 million already have been approved for the water distribution project. Surveying for water lines is being done while the customer sign-up work continues.

Hill said the rent-supplement housing application is expected to be ready for FHA consideration in two months. James F. Robinson & Associates, of Ashland, have been designated as architects.

Hill said here that if the initial housing proposal is approved, two other similar projects may be sought for the valley. One of these, now envisioned as of the same number of units as the first, is seen for a site perhaps halfway between Harold and the head of the stream. The third, which would perhaps be smaller, would be sought for construction near the mouth of Mud Creek.

Other survivors include three sons, Sanford Reffett, of Somersfield, Florida, Virgil Reffett, of Paintsville, and Doug Reffett, of Pyramid; two daughters, Mrs. Tina Hicks, of Hueysville, and Mrs. Vicky Ward, of Spring Fork, Mich.; and two brothers, W. M. Reffett, Hueysville, and Whitten Reffett, of Langley.

Ronald Hayes and Bill Ford were the officiating ministers at the funeral held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Hueysville Church of Christ. Burial was made in the Dingus cemetery at Martin under the direction of the Carter Funeral Home.

Wreck Near Slade Sunday Wipes Out 2 Virginia Families

Tragedy struck a young construction worker and his family Sunday morning as they were en route to a new home near Detroit.

Eight were killed on the fog-shrouded Mountain Parkway, near the Slade toll station, when their car slammed into an overpass abutment, ripping the automobile frame in half. The force of the impact covered a 130-foot section of highway with the bodies of two young couples, their four children and their belongings and the wreckage of the automobile.

State troopers said 21-year-old Tivis Tiller, of Wyandotte, Michigan, apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The car careened downhill along a metal guard rail for about 280 feet before it smashed into a three-foot square concrete abutment.

The impact killed 21-year-old Lola Jean Tiller, his wife, and their children, two-month-old Jessie, Janet, one, Regina, two, Ivan, four, Mrs. Tiller's brother, Paul Green, 21, and his wife, Geri, 26.

The accident, which occurred about two miles from a Parkway exit leading to the Natural Bridge State Park in the Daniel Boone National Forest, was the second worst single car accident ever to occur in the state. A car plunged over Pine Mountain near Whitesburg and burned five years ago, killing 11.

According to members of the family, Mr. Tiller found a job last week and returned to move his family to Michigan. They were en route from Lebanon, Virginia.

Jess Crisp, Age 78, Native Floyd Countian, Dies Sept. 19 In Ohio

Jess Crisp, 78-year-old retired miner, of Lorain, Ohio, native of Floyd county, died last Thursday at a Lorain nursing home. He was the father of Ernest Crisp, of Wayland.

A resident of Belcher, Pike county, before moving to Lorain, Mr. Crisp was born Nov. 19, 1890, a son of Newt and Rebecca Crisp.

Also surviving is another son, Everett Crisp, of Elyria, Ohio.

Funeral rites were held Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Free Will Baptist Church on Martin Branch, Wayland, the Revs. Kenis Owens, Green Boyd, Curtis Justice and others officiating. Burial was made in the Estill cemetery.

George D. Brown returned last week to his home on Third avenue from the Prestonsburg General hospital where he received treatment following a heart attack.

REGARD FAIR SUCCESSFUL

1,475 Exhibits Feature Work of Clubmembers, Students and Adults

Although rain and other complications cost the Floyd county fair two days of its six-day stand last week at Archer Park, this year's event was highly successful, Fair Board officials said.

Exhibits excelled those of the preceding year, even if a late season and rains cut down on garden produce. An estimated 1475 exhibits were displayed by 4-H clubs, FHA and FFA chapters and adults. Approximately $1,000 in premium money was awarded.

The livestock exhibit was featured by white-face cattle brought here by the Murphy Farm, Frenchburg, which won the title in the beef cattle division. No poultry was at the fair this year. Fourteen schools and the child development centers at Auxier and McDowell had exhibits.

The rural elementary school winning the award for the best exhibit was Ligon. Prestonsburg won in the consolidated elementary school division, with Betsy Layne and Osborne ranking second and third, respectively. In the high school division Prestonsburg was first, Martin second and Garrett third.

Saturday, last day of the fair, was featured by a parade through downtown Prestonsburg. Bands from Betsy Layne, McDowell, Prestonsburg and Wheelwright participated.

Bicycles awarded to youngsters as a part of the Kids Day observance of the fair went to Phillip Green, of Emma, and Kathy Prater, of David.

Appalachian Hospitals To Observe Anniversary At Harlan, October 1st

The fifth anniversary of a humanitarian venture, undertaken to save a group of hospitals in an Appalachian region where medical and hospital services were inadequate, will be celebrated on October 1.

The board of trustees of Appalachian Regional Hospitals will have cause for celebration when they hold their annual meeting two days later in Harlan, where ARH's origin was inspired.

The non-profit corporation, which began operating five hospitals on October 1, 1963, now is a health care system of nine hospitals with 1,026 beds, serving 900,000 people in a three-state area extending 250 miles from Middlesboro, Ky., to Beckley, West Virginia. It is fostering the development of new services such as community health centers, emergency care centers, extended care facilities (nursing homes), doctors' office buildings, home care and rehabilitation plus a variety of educational programs.

It was in Harlan, nearly six years ago, that a Presbyterian preacher appealed to higher-ups in his church to help prevent the shut-down of four of the 10 hospitals dedicated by John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America in 1955-'56.

The Board of National Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., set in motion events which culminated in 1963 in the founding of an independent, non-denominational, non-profit corporation to buy and operate the threatened hospitals.

AUTHOR'S DEATH, SUICIDE

New York—The death of novelist Charles Jackson has been ruled a suicide, an assistant medical examiner, Dr. Michael Baden, said. Jackson, 65, died Saturday of what Baden said was acute barbiturate poisoning. Jackson's best-known novel was "The Lost Weekend."

CHRISTMAS COMING EARLY FOR RED CROSS WITH GIFTS FOR SERVICEMEN PLANNED

Christmas is coming two months ahead of time to the Floyd County Chapter of the Red Cross this year.

For the third successive year, the Red Cross Chapter here is joining with others across the country in a nationwide project to make and fill gift bags to be distributed to U. S. servicemen stationed at Christmas time in Vietnam.

The chapter here has been asked by the national organization to make and fill 100 bags. The bags are to be made of sturdy dark-red and dark-green cotton material, so they will be serviceable to their owners after the original contents are used.

"Red Cross Shop Early—Vietnam, 1968" is intended to be "a tangible way for Americans to say we care about our troops in Vietnam," Ella Noel C. White, executive secretary of Floyd Chapter, said.

"This is not exclusively a Red Cross program," Miss White said, "but a community-wide affair in which various organizations, groups and business firms are participating. When the bags are finished, a Ditty Bag Committee will join with Red Cross volunteers in packing them."

Each bag contains a holiday greeting card carrying the names of contributors and the name of the Red Cross Chapter here.

TWO PARTIES TRY BUILDUP

Democrats, Republicans Seek To Rouse Interest; Senate Opponents Here

A buildup in efforts of Democratic and Republican leaders to create voter-interest in their candidates is under way here. Meanwhile, Wallace supporters continue to meet at various points, with their Eastern Kentucky campaign stronghold apparently centered in Pike county.

The Republicans already have opened campaign headquarters in Richmond Plaza here. Democratic quarters are yet to open.

Marlowe Cook, G. O. P. candidate for U. S. Senator, visited Prestonsburg last Friday but confined his campaigning mainly to handshaking, mingling with the crowd attending the county fair at Archer Park.

Miss Katherine Peden, his Democratic opponent for the Senate post, was scheduled to speak at the courthouse, Wednesday night. Also speaking was Lieut. Gov. Wendell Ford.

W. T. Foley, of Prestonsburg and Auxier, has been named Republican campaign chairman. The Democrats' choice for campaign leadership in this county has not been announced.

Martin Kiwanians Vote Contributions To 4 Organizations

The Martin Kiwanis Club at its meeting last week voted four contributions of $50 each to service groups. The club also provides two college scholarships annually and glasses for underprivileged children who have defective vision.

Beneficiaries of last week's Kiwanis gifts are the Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad, the Left Beaver Rescue Squad, the Allen and Martin fire departments.

Mrs. Vanlandingham, Prestonsburg Native, Succumbs in Florida

Mrs. Woody Harkins Vanlandingham, 81, wife of W. F. Vanlandingham and native Prestonsburg woman, died of a heart attack Tuesday night in Miami, Florida, relatives here have been notified.

She was a daughter of the late Walter S. and Josephine Davidson Harkins. Mrs. Vanlandingham was first married to Dr. Grover L. Howard, and they resided in Huntington, West Virginia, until they moved to Miami more than 30 years ago. Dr. Howard died there, and she later married Mr. Vanlandingham.

She was a member of the Methodist Church and was prominently identified with the Daughters of the American Revolution in Florida. She also was a member of the Daughters of American Colonists, Daughters of Colonial Wars, Colonial Dames of the 17th Century and Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving, besides her husband, are a son, Grover L. Howard, New Orleans, La.; a sister, Mrs. Iley B. Browning, Henderson, Ky., and five grandchildren.

The body will be brought to the Carter Funeral Home here tonight (Thursday) and will be taken Friday morning to the home of Mrs. Sally G. Clark on Second avenue. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday from the First United Methodist Church here, and burial will be made in the Harkins family cemetery.

All full-time Kentucky students must pay a tuition fee of $140 per semester.

Mrs. Josephine Dotson Succumbs at Age 67; Burial Made at Ivel

Mrs. Josephine Wallen Dotson, 67, of Water Gap, died Tuesday evening at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington, after an extended illness.

Born at Water Gap, she was the daughter of the late Alex and Thursa Wright Wallen, and was twice married—first to Will Elliott, and upon his death, to William Dotson, who also preceded her in death.

Survivors include two sons, Ed Dotson, of Newport News, Va., and George Dotson, of Prestonsburg; a stepson, Lewis Dotson, Prestonsburg, and two daughters, Mrs. Thursa Keathley, of Ashland, Ky., and Mrs. Nocie Nelson, of Battle Creek, Michigan. She also leaves 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites will be held Friday at 1 p.m. at the Floyd Funeral Home here, the Revs. Wallace Calhoun and Hobart Holbrook officiating. Burial will be in the Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel.

Heart Attack Fatal To Henry Reffett, 77; Funeral Held Tuesday

Henry Harrison Reffett, 77 years old, was found dead Saturday on the highway near his home on the Pitts Fork of Middle Creek. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

A retired carpenter and farmer, he was secretary-treasurer of AFL Local union 723 at Allen for 23 years. He was born September 4, 1891 in Floyd county, a son of the late John J. and Sarah Conley Reffett and was twice married—first to Rebecca Compton and following her death to Berta Pitts, who survives.

Other survivors include three sons, Sanford Reffett, of Somersfield, Florida, Virgil Reffett, of Paintsville, and Doug Reffett, of Pyramid; two daughters, Mrs. Tina Hicks, of Hueysville, and Mrs. Vicky Ward, of Spring Fork, Mich.; and two brothers, W. M. Reffett, Hueysville, and Whitten Reffett, of Langley.

Ronald Hayes and Bill Ford were the officiating ministers at the funeral held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Hueysville Church of Christ. Burial was made in the Dingus cemetery at Martin under the direction of the Carter Funeral Home.

PONTIAC ANNOUNCES THE GREAT BREAK AWAY!

This is the year to say good-bye to humdrum driving!
'69 Wide-Track Pontiac Grand Prix.

If you've never driven a car like this before, that's because there's never been a car like this Pontiac Grand Prix before. So now, it's got its own 118" wheelbase. So now, it's got its own aircraft-type interior. A new steering wheel with a "soft" material rim. With a Wide-Track on big tires. With a new hidden radio antenna we're daring everybody to find.

Or maybe you'd like to break away with a brand-new Firebird. With typical Wide-Track handling and a range of available V-8 choices that'll make your head spin (including the fabulous 400 Ram Air option). Brand-new styling, too. Lean, clean, ready looks. Plus 13 exciting new colors... new anti-theft ignition, steering and transmission lock.

There's also The Great One. Our GTO, the one that started it all. Complete with baseball-bat-proof bumper, fully padded instrument panel, distinctive Redline tires, along with specially designed suspension. Plus an assortment of V-8's that'll make your break from dull driving just about as pleasing as any you've ever made.

And don't forget our luxurious Bonneville. With a standard, 360-hp, 428-cubic-inch V-8, a long, long 125" wheelbase, a new upper-level ventilation system, color-keyed energy absorbing bumper at both front and rear, plus the kind of interiors you'd like to install at home. Bonneville. Who needs more?

OUT WITH CONVENTIONS -- LET THE PEOPLE NOMINATE

Television has completed its quadrennial task of reaching back into antiquity and drawing forth for the review of the American people that worn-out picture of political bosses choosing for them their candidates for the highest offices in the land.

We refer to the national political conventions which claimed the greatest number of television viewers of the year for the simple reason that all other TV programs were preempted and there was little, if anything, else for the bored watcher to watch.

The Republican convention stupefied by its dullness. The Democratic convention had more of drama, but what might have been interesting changed to disgust. In neither did the rank-and-file voter see much of the democratic processes. He was told, in effect: "This is your candidate—vote for him."

After all, though, some good may come out of the two conventions. They could be our last. Surely, with so many crying for a voice in government and condemning the power of the machine as it weighs down the will of the ordinary citizen, this antiquated method of selecting candidates for the office of President of the United States will be abandoned.

The convention, the machine-like method of naming delegates, all the way from the precinct level to the state convention, by some overriding influence somehow succeeds, usually, in naming a respectable and capable candidate. But not necessarily the best. Certainly not always the choice of the people themselves. And never by the people.

We do not set down in detail how it could be done (if we knew), but it seems not unreasonable to think that the United States, with its creative ability and, too, its ability to improvise to meet particular and peculiar situations, can institute a primary election system by means of which the two major parties can be represented by Presidential candidates chosen by the voters themselves. Some states already are indulging in Presidential preference primaries. Why not let all fifty of them poll their electorates and let the candidate with the greatest number of votes emerge as the standard-bearer of his party?

And while they're about it, why not discard another anachronism, the Electoral College. Your vote and ours and the millions over the country can nominate. They also can elect. And should.

The 17-Year Cicadas

The 17-year cicadas are sometimes called locusts; they are also known as periodical cicadas, to distinguish them from the jarfly, which is the annual cicada. According to local legend, the 17-year cicadas were the "locusts" sent to plague King Pharaoh. To support this legend, some people say that if you listen closely to the song, it sounds precisely like a long-drawn-out chant of the name, PHAR-OH!

The last locust year occurred in our region in 1957. On a day of May of that year, I saw them emerging in great numbers from their hells, then swarming out through the trees to begin their weird love songs. The empty hells were left clinging by their claws to the tree trunks, with glassy eyes fixed in a cold, deathly stare.

The young, called nymphs, crawl out of the ground, climb tree trunks, hook their sharp claws in the bark and split their hells down the back. The adult cicadas emerge after a 17-year cycle spent underground, during which time they feed on the juices of plant roots. They live in the deep darkness of the earth and are blind until they emerge from their hells.

The male cicada's song begins with a muffled, bell-like chant and gradually rises in volume until it rings through the spring woods. The song is a soft, seductive strain, with a strange, haunting melody that brings a tingle to the spine.

According to many oldtimers, these cicadas were sent by divine decree to haunt King Pharaoh by chanting his name over and over. This seems incredible, yet one must admit that the long-drawn-out chant does seem to say, "Pharaoh!" The female cicadas repeat the name of "Egypt" over and over, so say the oldtimers. Some persons even call these insects the "Pharaohs" and when they begin to swarm out like a plague, the people cry out, "The Pharaohs are coming!"

However, naturalists say that the weird song is the male's way of wooing a mate and has nothing whatever to do with King Pharaoh, as the "locusts" sent to plague him were short-horned grasshoppers.

The 17-year cicadas are nature's most fantastic insects.

They have large, protruding compound eyes that are red; their bodies are deep, dark blue; their wings are transparent with pink veins. The letter "W" is inscribed on their wings and some persons say that this is an omen of war inside five years.

The females slit the twigs of trees with their sharp ovipositors and lay their eggs in these. The insects sometimes do great damage to orchards and nurseries, as the limbs break off in the first brisk wind. The nymphs soon hatch out and fall to the ground, to live in the darkness of earth for 17 years. The females seem to prefer trees like oak, hickory and orchard trees for ovipositing their eggs.

I have dug up the large-sized nymphs and observed them. They are grotesque creatures with large, strong forefeet equipped with sharp claws for digging. They look somewhat like an over-size, goggle-eyed bee that can't see a slime.

In more southerly latitudes, the nymphs emerge at the end of 13 years. I think it would be of much scientific interest as well as valuable to have a map prepared of the different years in which the locust years occur and the dates they are expected. I'm sure such a map would be helpful to orchardists and nurserymen in the control of these insects.

During the regular locust years, the songs of the male cicadas rise to such a volume they drown out all other sounds of the woods. Even the songs of the birds are completely overwhelmed by the loud, bell-like chant of thousands of insects. I have seen the trees literally swarming with the chanting insects. The adults do not eat but spend their brief life in the sun by singing, mating and laying eggs. They furnish a banquet to many birds and animals. The grouse, wild turkeys, grackles, English Sparrows, quail and other birds devour them wholesale and get fat. Animals like hogs, skunks, foxes, weasels and even dogs dine on them.

The house cats go wild and take to the woods to dine on the abundant cicadas! It is a great time of feasting for all kinds of wild life. Unfortunately for the creatures that like to eat cicadas meat, the feast is soon over and will no come again until another 17 years have rolled around.

TIDBITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

SUPERFICIAL WISDOM

Now that we are talking about folk wisdom, it would be good to discuss the whole matter of the value of such traditional lore. Taken as folk wisdom and nothing else, there is nothing more fascinating. Into just any saying or simile may be injected the experiences of a whole civilization. To study proverbial lore of any group of people many sides of the people that historians may forget to notice. There is nothing of legal enactment, nothing of scientific accuracy, nothing of learned thinking here. Some local oddster, probably, remarked on some observation of his own, and his age and standing in the community gave his remark great weight. And so the wise saying got local followers, who would not have dared question the reliability of the observation, for Uncle Bill, its author, was above reproach. And such a saying spread into neighboring areas, often becoming attached to some other local Uncle Bill or Aunt Mary. The saying itself became such a part of the language that it was not questioned any more than the name of some object is questioned. Hundreds of times folkish people have been asked some such question as "Why is a horse called a horse?" Nearly always the surprised person has answered, "Because that is what it is" or "Because that is its name." And most people stop right there. Similarly, a long-held belief like the weather saying that it never rains at night in July, always, in my experience, associated with some respected weather prophet of local prominence, just seems accepted without any one's dreaming of questioning it or even keeping a few records to prove whether it is true or false.

The actual wisdom of most proverbs is nearly always superficial. It is not the province of the folk to utter deathless truths. If a fellow seems too afraid of life, someone tells him: "I'll all come out right in the end." And that usually keeps the complainer silent, even though he could quote dozens of instances when things did not turn out all right. "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," piously utters some person offering consolation, probably feeling that he is quoting scripture, as the elderly friend of my pastor fondly thought. But my pastor, like at least one of his flock, has a questioning mind and at once began to use his concordance, with no results. The saying is by an eighteenth-century poet and is basically shallow and silly, if looked at calmly. The trouble with folk wisdom is that it takes in too much territory. If a saying added "sometimes" or "occasionally" or "it is believed," the wise words might actually seem wise. But such additions would be contrary to folk thinking and would show that some skeptic had been fooling with folk sayings.

In earlier times, to facilitate memorizing, rules for all sorts of things were reduced to rhymes, sometimes by actual people of some skill as poets. Most such rhymes, however, are anonymous. Recently I interviewed a skilled weatherman about the rightness or wrongness of weather signs. He was very open-minded and admitted that some of the weather rhymes are based on sound observation, whether folkish or scientific; but side by side in most people's memories are these provable signs and others that are mere nonsense that could be shown up with even a few observations. In my numerous writings about provable and unprovable wise sayings, I have left them as I collected them. I did not set out to correct folk thinking, to try to teach in a half hour of interviewing or to unteach a whole lifetime of quoting the wise words of our ancestors. Occasionally someone would say, "Of course, I don't believe this myself, but that is the way I heard it." I always told the person so evaluating folk wisdom that I was only trying to find out what he had heard, not what he personally believed. And that made it ever so much easier to get at really folkish sayings.

REPORT OF CONDITION

Somebody remarked, the other day, that the dog hasn't been mentioned herein of late. True, and there's a reason. Our old friend shows up at the office almost every day—even on Sunday, not being overly bright—but the fun has gone. The poor fellow is literally on his last legs. He has to be helped up, and only today couldn't under his own power get down. It's no fun to watch one of your best friends grow old, weak, begin to die. Because it was only three or four years ago when he was sailing onto any desk-top in sight, the change is the more striking. About the only space left here for the old boy is his obituary.

IT LEAVES US IN A "STATE"

A little research, perhaps an inquiry in the right spot, would give us the date when it happened and who was responsible. But I'm not so sure I want to know or that you need to know.

I refer to the time when the goldenrod was designated the state flower of the state of Kentucky and to who was responsible for this tragedy. Why a state that has its dogwood, its rhododendron, or literally hundreds of varieties of bloom and flower should have foisted upon it as its very own official flower what is no more than an obnoxious weed with a sickly crown of greenish-yellow is a mystery that surely will defy any mind that hasn't slipped a cog.

Goldenrod doesn't mean Kentucky. It means watery eyes and running noses and whooping sneezes. It means hayfever time for a stateful of people.

Goldenrod, a state flower! I'll take dog fennel.

Right or Wrong

By HENRY A. BUCHANAN and BOB W. BROWN

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times. Readers' comments will be welcomed.)

The 1968 Democratic convention will go down in history. It will be remembered as Mayor Daley's Convention. Or the Barbed-wire Convention. Or the Convention of 15,000 policemen and guardsmen. And almost as many cracked skulls.

The cracked skulls include those of newsmen, TV photographers, convention delegates, innocent bystanders, McCarthy aides. And demonstrators.

In fact, the demonstrators are the reason the convention will be remembered. Without them there would have been no surprises and very little interest. Even Mayor Daley's stranglehold on the Convention would have been par for the political boss' course without the street fights between the police and the peace demonstrators.

Ironically enough, the young men and women who came to the Convention to demonstrate against the Vietnam War were never heard. The convention bosses didn't listen to what they were saying. We suspect the American people didn't get the message.

It just didn't come through because it was garbled and confused with the profanity, obscenity and insults which the young people employed to get their message across.

And that's a shame. Because the demonstrators were voicing the anger and resentment and despair that millions of Americans feel over the Vietnam War. They were saying something to us and nobody was listening because of the way they said it. With fifth and defiance instead of dignity, respect and self-restraint.

But the cold and frightening truth is that the young people acted that way because the nation's policymakers have lost their respect. The young people are no longer dignified and self-restrained because they feel they have been reduced to cannon fodder in a war which has no patriotic appeal to them. Their peace candidate, McCarthy, was trounced at the convention. His hotel headquarters were raided by Daley's police. The dignified voice of peace has been silenced.

And now the young people who went to Chicago are bitterly hostile, martyrs who will nurse their bitterness while the victorious party leaders make wooing sounds to the voters.

But the young people who were beaten with billy clubs, sickened with tear gas and thrown into jail—and were not listened to—will grow up and they will go to the polls—and to the conventions.

They will even become dignified—we hope. And then they will change things in America.

Time is running out for the people who do not listen.

"The new model is not quite as hefty as the old one and I like the new one better," Brooke said.

His birthplace is Paducah but he spent most of his childhood in coal towns of Floyd county—Wheelwright, Garrett, Wayland—where his father was an executive for the Elkhorn Coal Corporation. At 16, he was graduated from Wayland high school and went on to the UK Journalism School.

His education was interrupted in 1942 by the war; four years as an Air Force communications officer with tactical fighter commands in England and on the Continent. Afterward, he returned to UK for his degree, then started his career as a police reporter for the Lexington Herald in 1946. He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of U.K.

Eleven years later as an assistant city editor, Brooke left the Herald for an advertising job in Baltimore, a year later, in January, 1958, he joined the staff of Kentucky's freshman senator and has been there since. As administrative assistant, he has been both office manager and general troubleshooter, keeping the senator posted on legislative issues and committee work, answering mail from constituents, and so forth.

Though he still thinks of himself as a Kentuckian, he lives with his wife and four children in Towson, Maryland, a Baltimore suburb.

He and his wife, the former Virginia Jovee Rogers, still own a piece of Kentucky, a small farm in Ohio county that was her family's home. Their children are Albert B. III, 19; Susan Rogers, 17; Roger, 15; and Virginia, 12.

As a non-lawyer on the Power Commission, Brooke will be grappling with highly complex legal disputes over rates and jurisdictions as well as broader issues on resource policy. As Morton's aide, he has worked with many of the issues and much of the legislation that affect the FPC's authority.

"I'm familiar with the general problems," he said, "but as far as the nuts and bolts of the FPC operation are concerned, I'll be starting from scratch. I'm going over to see Lee White in the morning."

Brooke's mother resides at Hinton, West Virginia. He is a nephew of Mrs. Oak Mullins, of David.

fair and impartial trial is possible in this county and directed immediate trial of the case, which had been docketed for Wednesday.

The victims in the collision were Mrs. Elder Wright and her two daughters, Mrs. Brenda Crum and Miss Teresa Wright.

A rather involuntary manslaughter case in which Clyde Sword, a Floyd countian, was accused, resulted in the reduction Tuesday of the charge to negligent homicide. He entered a plea of guilty, was fined $500 and given a six-month jail term, then filed motion for probation. Sword was indicted in the auto death at Harold of Elsie Moore.

Leonard Little was fined $100 and given a 30-day jail term upon his conviction for assault and battery. One co-defendant, Paul Little, was fined $50, and T. E. One, third of those indicted on the charge, won an acquittal.

The stream pollution charge against Guaranty Mining Company (Left Beaver Coal Co.) was dismissed for lack of prosecution. Also dismissed were charges of breaking and entering and knowingly receiving stolen property lodged against James Tackett.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30 and 20 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(August 11, 1938)

Although less than half of Floyd's registered vote was cast in the primary election Saturday, Floyd voters gave Senator Alben W. Barkley the greatest majority over Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler of any of Kentucky's 120 counties except Jefferson, which includes Louisville, and McCracken, Barkley's home county. Rising to within a foot and a half of the record height set by the 1918 flood, John's Creek Thursday night, last week, caused thousands of dollars damage to corn and other lowland crops, residents of that section reported. County Superintendent Town Hall announced Tuesday that the Floyd County Board of Education in its meeting Saturday had let a contract for the erection of a $42,000 school building at McDowell out of the funds tentatively set aside for construction of a school at Martin. The Big Sandy Valley's newest service station, established by H. B. Patrick and R. V. May, of the East Kentucky Gasoline Company, Prestonsburg, opened in Paintsville this week on the corner of College and Main Streets. Married: Robert E. Harlowe, of Wheelwright, and Miss Jess Allen, of Morehead, Aug. 7 at Wheelwright; Miss Malta Hill, Westerville, Ohio, and Buford Fulz, Drift, last Wednesday at Hindman. There died: William Sherman Clarke, 71, Aug. 8, at his home at Dewey; Elizabeth Griffith, 73, Aug. 9, at her home near Garrett.

Twenty Years Ago

(August 12, 1948)

Results of last Saturday's Primary election are as follows: For U. S. Senator—Virgil Chapman, Democrat; John Sherman Cooper, Republican. For 7th District Congressman—Carl D. Perkins, Democrat; W. Howes Meade, Republican. A. C. and Jack Carter, doing business as the Carter Elkhorn Coal Company, last week announced plans for the construction of a coal cleaning plant near Maytown at an estimated cost of $25,000. The Burl Spurlock Wholesale Grocery Company, with its purchase by Allie M. Howard, of Salyersville, last week passed from the control of the Spurlock family for the first time since its founding in West Prestonsburg 65 years ago. ### Social Security Office Announces New Method Of Reporting Addresses

Social Security beneficiaries in Floyd county who need to report changes of address or other events that affect the payment of their monthly benefits may now do so through the social security office at Second and Division streets in Pikeville, Daryl E. Ratliff, district manager, said. Reports may be made by mail, telephone or personal visit. Ratliff said that beneficiaries were previously encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events on post-card forms pre-addressed to one of six social security record centers throughout the country. Beneficiaries received the post-card forms when they initially applied for monthly benefits.

The change in reporting methods is designed to reduce the time needed to change addresses and process other information having an effect on payment of monthly benefits. The change is prompted by the increased capacity of social security district offices to transmit the information over high speed communications circuits to record offices.

In addition to address changes, events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks include employment, marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorce and death, Ratliff said.

community development club is functioning. Scalf, a former teacher and author of the regional history, "Kentucky's Last Frontier," is directly responsible to H. E. A score or more University of Kentucky specialists are available for work on practically any subject matter under the broadened program. Two specialists working with Mr. Scalf in the county recently were William Bridges, of Jackson, community development, and David Victor, Lexington, business management.

districts will receive a $25 U. S. Savings Bond and a wooden plaque. Certificates will be awarded runners-up in each district. Certificates will also be sent the writer of the best essay in each school in the state. Deadline for submitting essays is December 2, 1968.

Miss Sandra Wohlford, David Cunningham Wed

Miss Sandra Lea Wohlford, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert V. Wohlford, Springfield, Va., became the bride of David R. Cunningham, of Fairfax, Va., on August 10 at a double-ring ceremony performed at the Ft. Belvoir chapel by Chaplain Jerry Mize.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was dressed in a floor-length gown of white antique satin with yoke and bell-shaped sleeves of Guipure lace. A detachable train of lace fell from the yoke of the dress. Her shoulder-length veil of imported bridal illusion fell from a large bow of antique satin. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and white roses. Miss Susan Dinger served as maid of honor and was dressed in a floor-length gown of yellow crepe. She wore a large yellow crepe bow in her hair and carried white daisies with yellow centers. Miss Joyce Cunningham, sister of the groom, and Miss Katherine Wohlford, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids and were dressed identically to the maid of honor. Miss Debra Wohlford, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Wesley Campbell, a longtime friend of the groom, served as best man. Keith Cunningham and Glenn Cunningham, brothers of the groom, were groomsmen.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wohlford, of Martin.

Magoffin Officials Rule Deaths of Two Were Murder, Suicide

Salversville, Ky.—A 35-year-old Salversville mother of three was shot to death last Thursday afternoon by a 74-year-old man who then apparently shot and killed himself, Sheriff Wiley Salyers said.

Mrs. Phyllis Gose Arnett was found lying on the floor of her home about 2:30 p.m. with three gunshot wounds of the back, the sheriff said.

Henry McGown, also of Salversville, was found sitting in a chair nearby with a gunshot wound in the temple and a pistol in his lap, Sheriff Salyers reported.

The two were pronounced dead on arrival at Paintsville hospital.

Funeral home attendants said the bullet entered Mr. McGown's head above the left temple.

Sheriff Salyers said Mr. McGown was an acquaintance of Mrs. Arnett.

Mrs. Arnett, a daughter of Claude and Rosa Patrick Gose, of Hendricks, who survive, was born April 3, 1933 at Hendricks.

Other survivors include three sons, Jimmy Wayne Arnett, with the Merchant Marine, and William Dean Arnett and Richard Franklin Arnett, at home; three brothers, Seville Gose, of Ada, Ohio, and Stephen and John Gose, of Hendricks, and four sisters, Mrs. Iva Jean Hampton, of Hendricks, Mrs. Maude Mann, of Hillsboro, Ohio, Mrs. Irene Treman, of Ada, and Mrs. Wandle Goodman, of Orlando, Fla.

Even Cadillac has never built one like this!
The craftsmen who engineer and build Cadillacs are accustomed to creating the finest of motor cars, but they take special pride in these brilliant 1969 models.
A single glance at this automotive masterpiece reveals striking poise and beauty, dramatically new, yet unmistakably Cadillac. For 1969, Cadillac's traditional dignity is complemented by youthful styling unique in the luxury field.

A smoother, more responsive engine.
Cadillac's great 472 V-8 engine—the largest V-8 ever to power a production passenger car—is smoother, quieter and more responsive. Never before has power been employed so efficiently in the operation of a car and its equipment. And for 1969 front disc brakes are provided.

Your judgment is invited.
There are eleven different models of the 1969 Cadillac, more than is offered by any other luxury car manufacturer. Each is truly a masterpiece from the master craftsmen.
Your authorized Cadillac dealer welcomes your personal inspection of this once-in-a-lifetime motor car. Stop by and drive one at your earliest opportunity. We think you'll agree that this is the greatest Cadillac ever built.

New concepts in comfort and convenience.
The 1969 Cadillac is completely new inside, with major innovations in design, convenience and decor. A newly contoured "control center" instrument panel makes controls even more accessible, and virtually surrounds passengers with luxurious protection and convenience.

Dr. Dill Describes Mental Health Work Being Done in County

Wayland, Ky.—Dr. Willard R. Dill, psychiatrist with the Floyd County Mental Health Service, spoke recently at a dinner meeting of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club in the Wayland Methodist Church basement.

Dr. Dill outlined the five-point care offered by the Mental Health Service as out-patient, inpatient, day care center, education and consultation and emergency service. He also explained that 70 percent of the operational expenses for such services had been contributed by the federal government with the balance supposedly coming from local groups. However, the state, realizing the economic condition of the area, had contributed 23 percent of the remaining cost, leaving only seven percent to be furnished locally.

The speaker advised that because of the Mental Health Service, numerous patients, some of many years' confinement, have been able to return home from Eastern State Hospital and live fairly normal lives with their families as long as they are checked periodically by the field nurse who calls at the homes of these patients at regular intervals to see that they remain on proper medication.

Following the program, a business meeting was presided over by the club president, Mrs. Mervil Dixon, during which November 18 was set for the dinner meeting when the club's "daughter clubs" will be entertained. A Federation speaker will be present to speak to the various clubs attending this meeting, which will be held in the Wayland Methodist Church basement.

Committees for the dinner were appointed by the president as follows: Food—Mrs. J. C. Wells, chairman, Mrs. James Burge, Mrs. Paul Rutledge, Mrs. J. T. Spillman, Mrs. S. M. Martin, and Mrs. Rex Martin. Decorations—Mrs. Eugene Mullins, chairman, Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Otto Martin, and Mrs. Mervil Dixon.

It was decided to sell pecans again, to raise money for the club, as well as to sell place mats, such as are advertised by the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. S. M. Martin was program leader, introducing the speaker, and hostesses were Mrs. S. M. Martin, Mrs. Mervil Dixon, Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mrs. M. M. Collins, and Mrs. Otto Martin.

Those attending were: Dr. and Mrs. Willard R. Dill, Prestonsburg, and Mrs. James E. Martin, Wayland, guests; Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Bobby Joe Castle, Mrs. M. M. Collins, Mrs. Mervil Dixon, Mrs. Eugene Mullins, Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mrs. Rex Martin, Mrs. J. T. Spillman, Mrs. Paul Rutledge, Mrs. James Burge, Mrs. S. M. Martin, and Mrs. Otto Martin, members.

Mrs. Myrtle Evans Passes In 65th Year; Funeral Held Saturday

Mrs. Myrtle Evans, 64 years old, of Wayland, was dead on arrival last Thursday at McDowell Appalachian hospital. She had been in failing health for the last two years.

A member of the Wayland Church of God, Mrs. Evans was born at McDowell, Sept. 20, 1904, a daughter of the late Vester Stewart and Cinda Hall Stewart Gayheart. Her husband, Herbert Evans, survives.

Survivors, other than her husband, are a son, Ricky Evans, of Cleveland, O.; a foster son, Clarence Salyers, of Flint, Mich.; two brothers, Robert Stewart, of Cleveland, and James (Bud) Stewart, of Wayland, and four sisters, Mrs. Demus Tackett and Mrs. John Chullen, both of Melvin, Mrs. Ada Rowe, of Shelbiana, Ky., and Mrs. Ella Moore, of Wellsburg, West Virginia.

Funeral rites were conducted from the residence at 1 p.m. Saturday. Burial was made in the Tom Martin cemetery at Garrett, the Hall Brothers Funeral Home directing.

The University of Kentucky Panhellenic Council is the coordinating body on the campus for all Greek letter sororities setting policies for rushing, pledging, initiation, and the social and cultural programs of UK women's social organizations.

Miss Bonnie Sue Caudill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Caudill, of Allen, Ky., and Mr. Noah Spears Hinton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah S. Hinton, of Westerville, Ohio, formerly of Ashland, Ky., were united in marriage on August 17, at 2:30 p.m.

The double-ring ceremony was solemnized in the Allen United Methodist Church by the Rev. James Critt Stratton, of Harlan, Ky. Mrs. James Critt Stratton and Mr. Richard Allen presented a program of wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown styled in a cage silhouette of organza over taffeta and was accented by delicate alencon lace as was her detachable chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of alencon lace covered with seed pearls. The bride carried a nosegay of daisies.

Serving the new Mrs. Hinton as maid of honor was Miss Cecilia Hinton, sister of the bridegroom. Her floor-length dress of yellow serano was fashioned in a loose A-line style with a back underlay pleat. Bridesmaids, dressed in ensembles identical to the honor attendant's, were Miss Ellen Armstrong, of Whitesburg, Mrs. Arthur Craig, of Falmouth, and Mrs. James Caudill, of Bedford, sister-in-law of the bride. The attendants wore headpieces which consisted of bands fashioned with daisies. To complete their attire they carried nosegays of daisies.

Mr. Terry Bower, of Lexington, Ky., served Mr. Hinton as best man. Ushers were Gene Lynd, of Louisville, James Miller, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and James Caudill, of Bedford, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a blue knit dress with matching jacket. She complimented her ensemble with white accessories and wore a white carnation corsage. The mother of the groom wore a pink silk shantung dress. She completed her ensemble with white accessories and also wore a white carnation corsage.

Those assisting at the reception immediately following the ceremony were Mrs. Pauline Crisp, Mrs. Ed Rickman, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Harry Caudill, sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Ernest Dingus, sister of the bride, registered guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinton are both graduates of Pikeville College. They are now residing in Lenoir, N. C., where Mr. Hinton is a teacher at the Patterson Episcopal School for Boys.

The 1969 Buicks.

There are many new features on every 1969 Buick. Many features you'll like. See them. See if they won't turn you into a Buick owner. And a Buick salesman.

No wonder Buick owners keep selling Buicks for us. Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

The "Pike County for Wallace" campaign is reaching to the far areas of Pike county. They met at the Freeburn grade school on Saturday, September 14, 1968, at 8 p.m. and held a rally with approximately 100 enthusiastic "Wallace Supporters" and questions from the present. There were many confusions which were answered by Dr. L. James Black, Jr., chairman, which left the people more enthusiastic and overjoyed that they were supporters of "WALLACE FOR PRESIDENT."

Dr. L. James Black, Jr., chairman of the "Pike County for Wallace" campaign, was in charge of the meeting and was introduced by Kelly M. Daniels, co-chairman. Dr. Black stated that the group was there for one purpose and that was to elect George C. Wallace as our next President. This statement received very loud applause. He informed the people that he had made a promise to himself a long time ago that if Gov. Wallace ever ran for President he would do everything possible to help elect him President of this great nation. He went on to say that this was the time to be greatly concerned with our future. "We have watched our country being torn apart from within while law-abiding, tax-paying, God-fearing citizens have sat quietly by hoping that one of the major national political parties would heed the growing discomort among the people and make some attempt to restore faith in their government."

Some of the background of Gov. Wallace's life was brought to those present beginning at the time he ran for a seat in the State Legislature. At this time he was only 27 years of age but won over his two opponents and later became one of the youngest Circuit Judges in the United States.

Gov. Wallace sponsored the Wallace Industrial Act which, since that time, has helped bring about 1,304 new and expanded industries representing a capital investment of $2 billion and providing 100,000 new job opportunities and one-third of these new jobs went to members of the Negro race. Governor Wallace also sponsored an act which resulted in the creation of 14 State Junior Colleges and 15 Trade Schools which have helped prepare Alabama's young men and women for better-paying jobs. He was a leader in the fight for Mental Hospitals, Old-age pensions and education. These are just a few of the many acts that Wallace fought for while in office.

Because Gov. Wallace could not succeed himself as Governor under state law, his wife, Lurleen, ran for Governor and won with the largest majority of votes in the history of the state. She was the third woman Governor in the United States. Her victory enabled Gov. Wallace to use this as a spring board to carry his fight for constitutional government to the people of the United States. Despite overwhelming odds and the failing health of his wife from cancer, Gov. Wallace made his presidential announcement on Feb. 8, 1968. He stated at that time that, one year prior to his announcement, he had stated that if the two major political parties did not give the people a choice, he would run for President and give them a choice. Since that time Gov. Wallace has accomplished what was thought to be almost impossible by most of the national politicians and news media. He has qualified for the ballot in 50 states which has never been done before in the history of the United States. He is now considered a leader of a major political party. As stated by Dr. Black, Abraham Lincoln was elected on a third party ticket, as the Republican Party had only been organized about two or three years before. Dr. Black stated that the enthusiasm for the Wallace candidacy is growing over the country as a grass roots movement and we must keep this enthusiasm going which can be done by the support of the people by helping at headquarters, by contributions and personal support.

Other main issues discussed were as follows: The statement by Gov. Wallace where he stated that he preferred spending the people's money in areas where it was needed, namely Appalachia rather than sending large amounts to foreign countries, with no strings attached, Constitutional Government, Law and Order, Free Enterprise, Private Property Ownership System and return to a God-fearing people.

Dr. Black stated that he felt, along with many others, that the silent vote would play a great part in electing Wallace in November, 1968.

The meeting ended with a question and answer session in which many vital points of Gov. Wallace's platform were discussed.

The meeting adjourned at approximately 10 p.m. and refreshments were served to all present. (Adv.)

'Whatsoever Things'

By DONALD E. WILDMON

In July of 1963, William Henry Nelson, a Negro who claimed that America "never did anything for me," stole an $18,000 shrimp boat and defected to Cuba. Nelson became so fed up with life in America that he decided life on Fidel Castro's sugar cane island would be better.

Sheriff Beace A. Thompson, of Key West, Fla., said that Nelson took the 48-foot shrimp trawler "Euna Mae" from its dock in Key West on July 26, 1963 and sailed it to the shores of Cuba where he wrecked it on a reef. Nelson was rescued by Cuban seamen and taken to Havana.

Well, sir, the other day Nelson and a couple of buddies were picked up by the Coast Guard while floating on an inner tube and canvas raft off Cay Sal in the Keys. When questioned why he decided to return to this land that never did anything for him, Nelson replied, "Cuba didn't do anything for me either."

I have some news for Nelson and all others who share his attitude. He, nor any like him, are ever going to be happy unless some changes are made. And the reason is obvious—they are going at life in the wrong way. Any time one thinks that the world owes them a living they are in for some sad disappointments. What Nelson is going to have to learn, and anyone else who shares his attitude, is that the trouble isn't in the country but in themselves.

You see, the right attitude would cause us to see what we could do for our country, and our fellowman, instead of seeing what the country can do for us. And this is the point where the Galilean Fisher of men comes in. He rids us of our selfish attitude. He makes us not aware of what we can get from society but of what we can give. It is in giving that we become partners with the Giver of Life.

How was it that John F. Kennedy stated it? "Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country." You see, our country is exactly what we make it—all of us. And it's this way with life, also. Life is what we make it. There is indeed a lot wrong with our country, but sometimes the trouble isn't with our country but with us.

Nelson got fed-up with the United States because it didn't do anything for him. So he tried communism. He became so disgusted with communism that he risked his life to return to this country. Unless Nelson has changed his attitude he might well keep sailing because things are not going to be any better.

Hearing on Application For Allen-to-Pikeville Bus Service Scheduled

Department of Motor Transportation Commissioner Alex McIntyre, Jr., has announced that a hearing will be held on the bus application of Robert E. Layne, of Betsy Layne on Oct. 29, at 10 a.m. in the courthouse at Pikeville.

The application seeks a certificate of convenience and necessity authorizing the operation of a regular route common carrier bus in the transportation of persons over the following routes:

Between Pikeville and Gulnare, between Allen and Pikeville, between Pikeville and Peyton Creek, serving all intermediate points. The second application also seeks a finding by the department that there is a demand and necessity for city bus service in Pikeville.

Of interest in Covington is the Cathedral Basilica of the Assumption. This church contains one of the world's largest stained-glass windows.

William Henry Nelson had the wrong attitude. Many of us do, also. That's the reason the only hope for our country—and us—lies with the Carpenter. He can change us and our attitude. And if we aren't going to try His way, we, too, might as well keep sailing.

Plan Fitness Program For All Floyd Students

Floyd county's 10,000 school children now have 17 qualified full-time physical education teachers as compared to six a few years ago, according to Supt. Charles F. Clark.

"Although widely-known throughout the state for our high school basketball prowess, we would like to be accepted by the same standards for our physical education programs," Supt. Clark said. "Our schools have made tremendous progress in the field of physical education in recent years, but we're striving to do more."

He added that he will recommend to teachers that all students spend at least 15 minutes a day participating in sustained conditioning exercises and development activities designed to build vigor, strength, flexibility, endurance and balance. He hopes that the teachers provide a variety of activities. "We will place special emphasis on the improvement of the individual child," he said.

"It is my desire for every grade school class to open with warm-up exercises done to music, participate in tumbling—geared to the accomplishments of the students—and take part in relay races and other competitive activities. We realize as educators that students do better in their regular academic classes as a result of their daily fitness program. They are more alert and pay more attention to their classwork," the superintendent said.

This year, all Floyd county schools will use a testing program to determine the abilities of its youth (ages 10 through 17) on a national scale. These physical fitness tests will include (1) pullups for boys, modified pullups for girls, (2) situps, (3) shuttle run, (4) standing broad jump, (5) 50-yard dash, (6) softball throw for distance and 600-yard run.

The tests will be given, one in late September and a post-test in mid-May. Pupils ranking in the upper percentages will be given awards by the President's Council on Physical Fitness.

All grade schools will have an opportunity to participate in a track and field day at Prestonsburg high school on the second or third Saturday in May. The Floyd County Board of Education will provide a "revolving" trophy to the grade school scoring the most points. Each year the trophy will go to the winner. Each physical education teacher will plan a unit in track and field and teach it in late April and early May.

Throughout the winter, various physical education programs will be presented at halftime of many high school basketball games and tournaments. These will feature beginning physical education students doing tumbling, trampoline and parallel bar activities. All of these will come from the various high school and grade school classes. P.T.A. gatherings will be invited to the respective gymnasiums to view the physical education programs now going under way.

The federal government, under Title I programs, has provided the Board of Education with approximately $10,000 which has been used to buy supplemental equipment for the physical education units. Included in these purchases have been all types of gymnastic equipment, rhythmic materials, team sports equipment, and various types of material for individual and dual sports.

"It is my desire to further develop our school playgrounds in every community and we are counting on our P.T.A. groups to assist us in adding more equipment and improving our present facilities," Clark said.

CRY ALOUD—

SPARE NOT . . .
SHOW THEM THEIR SIN!

IF EVER THERE WAS A TIME.
IF EVER THERE WAS A TASK.
IF EVER THERE WAS A CHALLENGE—
that would put God's people on their faces in heart-searching, heart-broken prayer—it is TODAY!

Every one of us who names the NAME OF CHRIST — needs the courage to face our lives on our knees—while God turns on the searchlight!

Nakedness, rape and murder! Who is to blame?

Our papers are filled with sex crimes. Women and girls being forced into automobiles and later found in a field or ditch, beaten, raped and murdered. Immediately the cry goes out "get the sex killer,"—"give him the chair."

Let us stop a minute and consider. Who is to be blamed? Who is guilty of arousing the beast-nature that produced this murder. Why did he do it?

A majority of womankind has by their SEMI-NUDE appearance in public aroused the beast-nature in man and invited the LUST-DEMON to demand its passion satisfied!

Womankind is inviting this thing upon themselves by this indecent and immoral dress. No decent woman or girl will parade about in garments that reveal their bodies to the opposite sex, without inviting an insult. When a man is brought before a court in this day for insulting a woman, it would be well to investigate as to just how indecently the woman was dressed at the time of the crime, and if she was dressed in these so-called "mini" outfits, or some other garb, let her be charged by the court for the solicitation, or for indecent exposure and sent to jail with the man, for she is as guilty if not more so, for dressing to invite such a crime.

If a woman is not selling her body on the altar of lust, let her take it off the display counter. People who have something to sell usually show and advertise it to the public. If women do not want the insults and attacks of lust-filled libertines, then let them cover up. If mothers do not want their daughters attacked let them see to it that they dress modestly.

The sad thing about this matter is that this naked craze has swept into the church. Some preachers' wives dress like at a burlesque show. Don't say it is not so. A preacher once said that recently a woman in his city, appeared stripped to the waist. Yet some pussy-footed says, "I don't believe in preaching on nonessentials." Some preachers say, "I never preach on the dress question."

Decency and modesty is almost a thing of the past. If a preacher opens his mouth about the naked and immoral guzzling generation, he is branded as a "hobby-rider," and "old fogey," and out to drive people away from the church.

We declare unto you if they do not have enough decency and respect for God than to come to church half naked, it is time for getting down before God and asking for power to cast the immoral devil out of the people that come to his church.

Yes, the so-called Christian churches are becoming so conformed to this naked devil-inspired craze, that the Lake of Fire will enlarge itself to welcome the preachers, Sunday and Sabbath School superintendents, preachers, elders and deacons and priests.

Hear the Word of the Lord 1 Tim. 2:9, "In like manner also that women adorn themselves in modest apparel with shamefacedness and sobriety; which becometh women professing Godliness with good works." This scripture applies to men also!

Right here I wish to call your attention also, courteous reader, to Deut. 22:5, "The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto man, neither shall a man put on a woman's apparel; for all that do so are an ABOMINATION unto the Lord God." You're DISGUSTING, and a "abhorrence" in the sight of God right now.

"Stop poor mortal, stop and think Before you further go: Will you sport upon the brink Of everlasting woe? On the verge of ruin stop Now the friendly warning take:

Stay your footsteps ere you drop Into the burning LAKE!" It will make little difference what you profess if you do not meet the requirements of the WORD OF GOD. This generation has become a brazen, God-defying, Sabbath desecrating, immoral naked people. The man out of whom Jesus cast a legion of devils, would not keep his clothes on, but when he met Jesus, and the devils were cast out, the scripture declares he was "clothed in his right mind."

Now according to that scripture, those who are parading semi-nude are either devil possessed or are certainly bordering on it, and further if they get their "right mind" they will put clothes on. Read this for yourself in Luke 8:26-35.

Who is to blame for all this deplorable condition? The preachers of our land are cowards. They have become afraid of their jobs. They are afraid that the naked crowd will not support them nor vote for them back as pastors. They would rather disobey God than preach the whole Bible. If the scripture we have mentioned is true (and it is), then God has denounced this nakedness of our age.

The preacher is the WATCHMAN on the TOWER. God has commanded the preachers to "cry aloud and spare not." He is to lift up his voice like a TRUMPET and SHOW the people their sins. (Isa. 58:1). But they are compromisers and afraid of the face of clay.

Yes, some have taken their clothes off with the rest of them. No wonder they cannot lift up a standard like the Bible has declared to be the standard. No wonder they have become intoxicated with the "no-harm" devil. No wonder they will oppose everyone that will raise his voice against their demoralizing sin, and have the courage to uncover their wickedness.

If you are of that group mentioned let this be clear, you need to meet Jesus of Nazareth. You are chained with the shackles of Satan, he has you bound with the fetters of lust and NAKEDNESS. You need to be set free by the power of Jesus Christ who cast the devil out of the naked and devil-possessed man of GADARA.

If you are tramping around in these immoral and semi-nude garbs, according to God's own WORD YOU ARE NOT A CHRISTIAN, and you need not profess to be. If you profess to be a CHRISTIAN, God has already branded you a hypocrite. CHRISTIANS, whether men or women, are modest dressers, they put on enough clothes to cover up. When Adam and Eve found they were naked, they patched leaves together and tried to cover their bodies even though they were the only two on the face of the earth. If people will shun nakedness, there will be less divorces, less murders, and perhaps the Lake of Fire will not be so populated with LIBERTINES.

May the Lord have mercy on you if you are the cause of the fall of one of the opposite sex when you meet with them at the judgment and find that your dress and actions have caused them to be damned forever.

It is time the clergy cry out against this sin. If they have any decency left in them. It is time the church is taking a definite stand against this corrupt, indecent, immoral, naked generation. It is time that the womanhood that remain, take their stand and rebuke their own sex OPENLY for their disgusting and immoral appearance.

Yes, it is now high time that those who have been guilty of this sin to turn from it, get on their knees before Almighty God and repent and ask forgiveness before they find themselves like all the people were in Noah's time.

"This world is not so much changed by those who have both feet on the ground as by those who have one foot in Heaven."

—Paul Scherer.

Read the WORD as the last WILL and TESTAMENT of CHRIST, and as the Book by which you MUST BE JUDGED.

If you DIMINISH from this book, God shall take away your part out of the Book of Life (Rev. 22:19). If you add this book, woe be unto you! (Rev. 22:18).

God bless you all, I pray.

The Cicadas, Nature's Weird Singers

Lately a number of persons have asked me a lot of questions about the cicadas, so I will write two columns upon these unusual and highly interesting insects, which are in the sub-order, HOMOPTERA, meaning with wings the same throughout.

In our region, we have two leading species: One is the big, boisterous cicada most everybody calls the "jarfly." Another name for him (I use the masculine gender, as the males do all the singing) is "the harvest fly," as his loud bass songs are heard during the late harvesting of crops. This one is also designated as "the annual cicada," to distinguish him from the 17-year cicadas, which most people call "locusts."

In order to have a better understanding of the nature of these cicadas, it is necessary to know their scientific names. The scientific name of the jarfly is CICALA TIBICENS. This name means, literally, a cicada that plays a musical instrument called the "tibia," which is the ancient flute that was made from the shin-bone of man or animals, which is called the tibia. The more recent flutes are made of plants called reeds. So the big jarfly is a tibia (flute) player and makes his loud, sustained whirring music like someone blowing on a flute as long as there is breath to blow.

The scientific name of the 17-year cicada is a whopper. It is Magicicada Septendecim. The septendecim means at 17-year intervals, when these insects emerge in great numbers. The first part is from the Greek

NOTICE OF BOND SALE

The County of Floyd, Kentucky, will until 2 p.m., E.D.S.T., on October 8, 1968, at the regular meeting place of the Fiscal Court in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, receive sealed competitive bids on $650,000 of its County of Floyd School Building Revenue Bonds, dated October 1, 1968. The minimum bid is the face amount plus accrued interest from October 1, 1968, and bidders must name a coupon rate in multiples of 1/10 or 1/8 of 1 percent, not to exceed 6 percent and not over five different interest rates may be used; however, the same interest rate may be used more than a single time. The difference between the highest and lowest coupon rate may not exceed 2 percent. Bids must be made on Bid Forms which may be obtained from the undersigned or from Charles A. Hirsch & Company, Inc., Fiscal Agent, 1001 Fifth Third Bank Building, Cincinnati, Ohio 45202, which will also furnish further information as to the sale of such bonds, and shall be enclosed in sealed envelopes marked on the outside "Bid for County of Floyd School Building Revenue Bonds." Each bond shall bear only one interest rate and all bonds of the same maturity shall bear the same interest rate. Only one coupon shall represent interest for each period on each bond. All such bonds shall be in the denominations of $1,000 or $5,000, at the option of the successful bidder. Such bonds will be sold to the highest and best bidder, provided, however, the County reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informality in any bid. The required good-faith check is $13,000. Upon the failure of the successful bidder to take up and pay for such bonds when ready, such check shall be forfeited by such bidder, and the amount of such check will be deemed liquidated damages for such default. Such bonds are offered for sale subject to the principal of and interest on such bonds not being subject to Federal or Kentucky ad valorem or income taxation on the date of their delivery to the successful purchaser and subject to the unqualified approving legal opinion of Skaggs and Hays, Attorneys-at-Law, Louisville, Kentucky, at no additional cost to the successful bidder. The successful bidder will be furnished with said opinion, printed forms and the usual closing papers, including the customary non-litigation certificate. Delivery of the executed bonds to the successful purchaser will be made in Louisville, or Lexington, Kentucky, Cincinnati, Ohio, or Nashville, Tennessee, at no expense to the purchaser for the transportation charges in connection with such delivery. Delivery of such bonds will be made at any other place desired by the purchaser at his expense. County of Floyd, Kentucky, by (Signed) Ollie Robinson, County Court Clerk.

word, Magos, which means the "enchanter." The long-sustained, bell-like songs of these cicadas lend an air of enchantment to the spring woods, and when multiplied thousands of them are singing in unison, their songs drown out all other sounds; even the birds cannot be heard singing when the magi-cicadas are all singing together.

The first article will be devoted to the annual cicadas, or big jarflies which delight in singing their melancholy love songs on the sultry summer days from mid-July until October. Once when the weather had cooled down, and the first frosts had come, I heard a jarfly singing high in a tree. It was his swansong, and I had the happy thought that this was a good way to die—while singing loudly as the insect could. In a few days he lay dead under the tree but he had died with a song on his heart. He had died, happy, I like to think.

The jarflies are so called from their vibrating songs which seem to jar the very elements. They are large, dark insects, about two inches long, with transparent gauzy wings that form a "roof" over the body. The eyes are large, protruding and compound. The wings are netted and tinged with green.

The jarflies sing until exhausted and then fall in weeds to die. Talk about something scary! If you pass by weeds where one has just fallen, it may suddenly whir and you are sure it is the first loud buzz of a rattlesnake. This has often caused me almost to jump out of my skin!

As I said, the males do the singing. It is a loud love song calculated to wake up the females and woo them as mates. The songs are produced by internal mechanisms in the thorax, consisting of vibrating organs placed below two large plates. The membranes vibrate rapidly, as they are operated by powerful muscles. Some call the jarfly a "drummer," but his scientific name indicates he is more of a flute player and apparently forces the air in and out to produce and amplify the sounds.

During the hot summer days, the jarflies sing a loud, rollicking tune, but late in the evening, when the shadows fall across the land, this old musician changes his tune and begins to strum on a bass banjo! Heard late at evening, the song sounds precisely like some banjo-picker repeatedly strumming on a single bass string and the song says over and over the name of the lady-love he is serenading, as, "Suse—zee! Suse—zee!"

The jarflies furnish food to many kinds of birds. Grouse, grackles, pigeons, sparrow hawks and others dine on them. The insect is also the choice food of the giant cicada killer wasp, which most country people call "sand hornets." But these are Sphecid wasps and they dig burrows in sandy fields for the nest. Then the big females begin to listen for the jarflies. As soon as a female wasp hears a jarfly blaring his loud bass tune, she makes a bee line for him and stings him square in the belly. I watched the big cicada killer do the job. When I molested her, she let go the jarfly and it fell paralyzed to the ground. If I had not bothered her, she would have crawled to the top of the tree, holding onto the jarfly, and then she would have volplaned with it to her nest. Reaching the nest, she lays eggs under the legs of the paralyzed insect and puts it in the burrow. The poison from her stinger completely paralyzes the cicada and keeps the meat from spoiling. So when the wasp's eggs hatch, there is fresh meat in the larder.

BRIDE OF A1-C DeCLUE

Miss Kay Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Snow, of Elberfeld, Ind., became the bride of A1-C Michael DeClue at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 24, in the First Baptist Church, Elberfeld, Ind. Rev. Frank DeClue, father of the groom, officiated at the ceremony followed by a reception at the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza, created with a rounded neckline, Empire bodice and short sleeves which were enriched with a motif of Venice lace and pearls. The A-line skirt was accented with a motif of lace spiraled down the front. A large collar accented the full effect of the chapel train which flowed from the neckline. She carried white carnations on a white Bible.

Mrs. David Fuhrman served as matron of honor with Shari Lu Daub as flower girl. Mrs. Fuhrman wore a rose chiffon gown with an Empire bodice and a sheath skirt enhanced with satin back panels and enriched with roses at the neckline. Shari Daub wore Nile green.

Paul DeClue was his brother's best man and also provided the special music. David Fuhrman and Raymond Brinkley were ushers, with Raymond R. Daub as ring-bearer.

Pam Snow, sister of the bride, registered the guests, and Kim Daub distributed the rice bags. Serving at the reception were Marla Kearby, Becky Bartlett and Gwendolyn Daywalt.

After a trip to Missouri the couple will reside in Jacksonville, Ark., where the groom is stationed with the Air Force.

CLUB'S 17th ANNUAL SHOW HAS NEARLY 200 ENTRIES

Langley, Ky.—The 17th annual Fall Flower Show sponsored by the Maytown Woman's Club was reviewed by a receptive audience Sunday afternoon, September 15, in the Maytown school gymnasium. Nearly 200 entries in horticulture and artistic arrangements were registered.

Exquisite handmade quilts were displayed, the length of the gym on the right side, and 12 table arrangements by the Maytown home economics classes ran the length of the left side. Paintings and antique objects were on display in the farther end. A special display of ceramics by Mrs. G. B. Colvin, Springfield, Ohio, drew much attention.

Mrs. Edwin V. Stewart, who has been an exhibitor in nearly all of the past shows, won the Best in Show award plaque with an arrangement in the Foliage Fandango Class. Compatibility of materials and color were displayed in the arrangement of the castor bean foliage with a bronze ceramic bust replica of Queen Nefertiti on a base of antique rose velvet.

Mrs. Thomas R. Flanery had the most blue ribbons, and received the Sweepstakes Award plaque.

Artistic arrangements (titled Waltz of the Flowers) were judged according to the Danish system and a list of the ribbon winners follows:

- PETUNIA POLKA—S. Stewart, blue; red, W. May; white, K. Rowland, L. Flanery.
- MARIGOLD MAZURKA—Blue, L. Flanery; white, W. May.

SAFER MINE CONDITIONS, UK RESEARCH OBJECTIVE

Safer conditions for coal mine workers and accident prevention are the objectives of a research project now under way by a University of Kentucky professor of mining engineering.

Prof. Fred D. Wright, an experienced mining engineer, with the aid of a National Science Foundation grant of $39,900, hopes to design a beam for mine ceilings which will provide maximum safety for the miners plus efficient and economical construction.

To arrive at a design he says he first must develop a full understanding of the stresses on rock ceilings and how they work against each other to hold the mine ceiling in place.

Prof. Wright is building a mine model in the University's rock mechanics laboratory.

"This will be a scale model and will duplicate the natural conditions found in stratified rock formations."

The UK researcher added that nature often provides such safe ceilings where rocks that are cracked work somewhat like keystones, exerting sufficient side and vertical stresses to hold the ceiling permanently in place.

"We will attempt to duplicate such formations in the laboratory model which can be tested with the most up-to-date tools available, including photo-elastic equipment, electric strain gauges and variable differential transformers which will enable us to accurately measure and characterize vertical stresses and special load cells to gauge side stresses."

It was during his experience as a professional mining engineer that Prof. Wright conceived the idea for the research.

"Some material already had been evolved in studies of the Voussoir Arch principle, but no useable conclusions were obtained," he said, adding that his work at UK will be to evolve design criteria for mine ceilings and the most efficient, economical ways to reinforce already existing mines.

Prof. Wright is being assisted by graduate mining engineering student Jon Edward Kelly, of Madisonville, Ky. As the project develops, other students will be added to the research team.

The project, launched in March of this year, is aimed at completion in early 1970.

LABOR DAY ATTENDANCE AT JENNY WILEY, 30,080

State Parks Commissioner Robert E. Gable has announced an estimated 351,000 persons visited Kentucky's 36 state parks and shrines during the three-day Labor Day week-end. Gross receipts were $107,912—and Jenny Wiley State Park was the No. 2 attraction in the entire parks system.

Labor Day alone showed receipts of $30,685, up 12 percent over the same day last year. Attendance was up about nine percent that day.

Of the total, 230,956 were visitors at the state's 13 parks with lodging facilities and 120,044 at the other parks and shrines. Lodge rooms, cottages and camping areas were filled near capacity. There were 6,972 overnight guests at lodges and cottages. Of these, 4,319 were out-of-staters.

Biggest attendance for the three-day holiday at parks with lodging facilities was at Cumberland Falls which reported 30,490. Second highest was Jenny Wiley with 30,080. Third was Audubon with 27,560, followed by Carter Caves with 23,590. Kentucky Dam Village led all parks and shrines in gross receipts with $21,246.

The other vacation-type park attendances, in order, were Rough River, 22,100; General Butler, 20,840; Natural Bridge, 19,290; Kenlake, 17,220; Penny-rile, 15,700; Kentucky Dam Village, 15,680; Lake Cumberland, 7,725; Buckhorn, 3,818; and Pine Mountain, 870.

Fort Boonesborough recorded 14,660 visitations, the largest attendance among the parks and shrines not having overnight lodging accommodations. Next was General Burnside with 12,740, followed by Levi Jackson with 11,660.

The other day-use state parks and shrines, in order of their attendance, were: Falmouth Lake, 9,770; Lake Malone, 9,500; My Old Kentucky Home, 8,750; Jef-

IN FIELD EXERCISE

Nurnberg, Germany — Army Specialist Four Charles E. Hall, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hall, Garret, Ky., who is a battalion carpenter with the Fourth Armored Division, participated in a seven-day field training exercise last week in southern Germany.

The maneuver, named "Schwarzer Lowe," or Black Lion, involved West German, French and American soldiers. Approximately 40,000 men, 1,400 tanks and artillery pieces and 12,000 wheeled vehicles took part in the operation which covered several thousand square miles of Bavaria and Baden Wuerttemberg.

WELLS IS NEW MANAGER FOR O. RESEARCH BRANCH

James D. Wells, area extension agent in agronomy at the Hillsboro and Jackson (Ohio) Area Extension Centers for the past two years, has been named manager of the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, Southern Branch, near Ripley in Brown county, Ohio, it was announced recently.

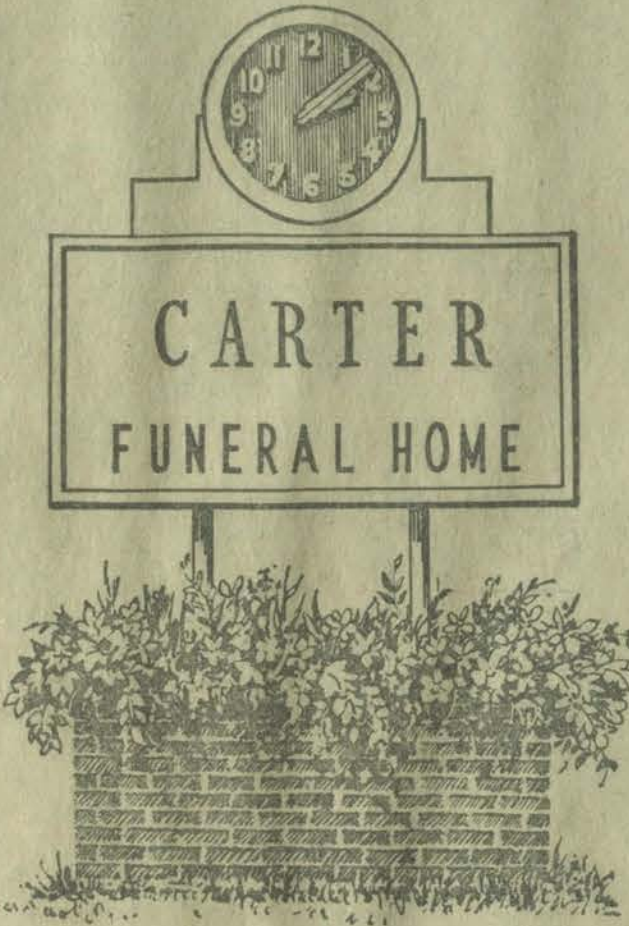

Wells, a native of Floyd county, is a specialist in tobacco and has been a member of the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service staff for the past 14 years. Prior to his appointment as area extension agent two years ago, he served as county agricultural agent in Brown county, Ohio for 9½ years.

Wells' new responsibilities include the management of the 275-acre operation of the Southern Branch where major research emphasis is on tobacco, beef cattle, pasture and forages, and grapes. Through a joint appointment with the Cooperative Extension Service, Wells will continue to work closely with Ohio's tobacco industry as an extension agronomist.

Wells earned his B.S. degree from University of Kentucky and his M.S. from the Ohio State University. His early experience included three years in extension in Kentucky and 2½ years as associate extension agent in Scioto County, Ohio.

Wells is married and the father of two children. He is a son of Mrs. Bess Wells, of the Auxier road, and the late James Wells. He is a brother of Jack F. Wells, of Prestonsburg.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this.

Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive?

Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button?

Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field?

Some people think so.

Our competitors.

'69 Caprice Coupe

'69 Camaro SS Sport Coupe, plus RS equipment

Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport striping; power disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires.

Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice:

Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough.

Maybe it will help.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Town of Martin Forms New Fire Department, Buys $18,000 Truck

The town of Martin, long without an adequate fire department, has decided to do something about the situation. Police Chief Andrew J. Reed has recruited 22 volunteer firemen, and the town has ordered a new fire truck which is expected to arrive sometime in February or early March. Cost of the new truck and equipment will be about $18,000.

Reed has been in contact with the state fire marshal's office in Frankfort and plans are now being made for the firemen to attend firefighting school and, possibly, first-aid school.

The department, through donations from local business firms and private citizens has collected approximately $600 for new uniforms. The new members are James Allen, John Maddox, John Turnley, Glenn Patrick, Claynor Jones, Green Sloan, Ronnie Reynolds, Hubert Frye, Steve Stout, J. R. Key, Raymond Griffith, Bob Comstock, Jimmy Rudder, Don Marshall, Fire Chief Andrew J. Reed, Danny Stone, Everett Akers, Jr., Denzil Halbert, Rodney Hutchinson, Robert Comstock, Virgil Peters, Bill Wells, Steve Barnett.

Laferty Promoted

Carswell AFB, Texas — Sgt. Donald E. Laferty was promoted to his present rank, Sept. 1, at Carswell AFB, Ft. Worth, Texas. The 23-year-old non-commissioned officer attended Prestonburg Community College and was a staff announcer for Radio Station WPRB before entering the Air Force in October, 1967. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Laferty, of Prestonsburg.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our appreciation to all who helped in any way upon the death of our loved one, Mrs. Essie Horn. We are especially grateful to the minister, the Rev. A. J. Dickerson, and to the Floyd Funeral Home for its efficient service.

THAT SMOKE NOW MEANS JUICE OF THE CANE, NOT THE 'JUICE OF THE CAWN'

At one time in Eastern Kentucky when a furl of woodsmoke was seen drifting skyward, the "revenooers" would take note, but now at just about frost-time this smoke raveling through the hills like a skein of blue-gray yarn means it's time for one of the sweetest jobs on earth. It's molasses makin' time!

Cane mills are not as frequent as they once were, for the veterans of the art are not around say more and their sons have found more lucrative jobs, but should you be making an early autumn trip to the hills to view the scenery and those magnificent scarlet, gold and russet leaves, take time out to visit a cane mill. Chances are you will be given a short length of green cane stalk and told to "help yourself."

Helping yourself means dipping the piece of cane into the far end of the pan, where the sweet sorghum is thickening-ripe, letting it cool a moment, then tasting the golden sweetness that carries a tang of wildness not found in most commercial molasses.

The process as practiced along the sideroads today has not changed greatly.

A fire is built beneath the evaporator pan—oldtimers claim green wood cut from a creek bank makes the best heat—and as the green juice enters the pan to be cooked, it is pushed along the various channels. The person making the molasses uses a "pusher" much like a small hoe to guide the juice into the next channel as it ripens. It is when the juice reaches the last channel of the evaporator-pan that it is just right for tasting or pouring off into buckets or other containers.

One of the most arduous tasks connected with making molasses is feeding the green cane into a juice-extraction mill. There are always more volunteers from the ranks of young boys than there are jobs, however. Traditionally, the mill is powered by a mule or horse.

Sorghum molasses was used widely in the early days of this country as a "sweetener" when sugar was not available or when the price of this refinement was prohibitive.

SITTIIONED IN CALIFORNIA

Riverside, Calif.—Sgt. James R. Langley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Langley, of McDowell, has arrived for duty at March AFB, California.

Soil Conservation

By HAROLD R. WALLACE
Work Unit Conservationist
Jack D. Hall, Eastern, has completed a livestock pond on his Brush Creek farm. The pond will be stocked with bass and bluegill. Although this is the first practice applied by Hall, future plans are under way for tile drainage and pasture management.

Lowell D. Branham is constructing a livestock pond on his Meade Branch farm. This, too, is the first practice applied by Branham. His future plans call for wildlife food plots, pasture planting and beautification measures around the homestead. A house site has been located and construction will soon be started.

Bennie Boyd, Dana, has started work on a tile drainage system on his Prater Creek farm. Four hundred eighty feet of 5-inch clay tile is needed to drain this field used for hay production.

Richard Shepherd, Middle Creek farmer, will start a stream channel improvement job this week.
