New Plant Site Being Prepared

R & S Truck Body Co. To Build Near Site Of Original Plant

The Times confirmed Wednesday the report heard here recently that Marcum Reynolds, founder of the Reynolds Body Company at Allen which he sold about two years ago, will establish a similar enterprise near Allen within the next few months.

The business, which will be known as the R. & S. Truck Body Company, will be located near the Reynolds Body Company which is now owned and operated by Blake Ratliff, of Paintsville. Mr. Ratliff bought the Reynolds plant two months ago from Jerry Archer and Roger Colvin.

The new business planned by Mr. Reynolds will be housed in a 300x80-foot metal building, in the vicinity of the Reynolds plant site. Grading and fencing of the lot are now being done.

No opening date has been set nor was an estimate of cost of constructing the building and equipping the plant available.

Mr. Reynolds began the metal products business in 1959 at Hazard and moved to Allen in 1963, developing it into one of the biggest suppliers of truck bodies and other steel products in the South.

Howard Convicted On Three Counts

Larry Howard, Greenup coun-tian charged with involuntary manslaughter on three counts in the auto deaths of three Floyd county women, was convicted by a circuit court jury here last Friday afternoon.

He was fined a total of $3,000 and sentenced to three years in jail—$1,000 and 12 months for each case.

Motion for a new trial has been filed by Howard's attorneys.

Howard was charged with the July 27 traffic deaths of Mrs. Elder Wright and her two daughters, Mrs. Brenda Crum and Miss Teresa Wright, in a two-car collision on new US 23, near here. His trial followed an unsuccessful defense attempt to win a change of venue.

The defendant testified he had only one drink of whiskey on the evening of the triple tragedy,

Two Women Flee Flames As Home, Automobile Burn

Two women had narrow escapes last Friday from serious burns in separate incidents here and on the Middle Creek road. Mrs. Charles Crider fled the home which she rented from Hershel Owens on the Middle Creek road as fire broke out around 10 a.m. in the four-room, recently remodeled residence. All her belongings were lost. Owens estimated his loss at $10,000.

Emogene Collins escaped injury, late that afternoon, when she jumped from her auto as it burst into flames in the driveway at her home here. The blaze was ascribed by Fire Chief John Perry to a backfire.

The blacktopped street in front of the Collins home caught fire, threatening two nearby residences, but firemen quickly brought the fire under control.

TWO NABBED IN RUM RAID

Taxicab Stand Raid Here Made Tuesday; Other Raids Staged

A raid staged Tuesday night by Sheriff Joe W. Lewis and deputies on a Prestonsburg taxi stand resulted in the arrest on liquor possession charges of three men.

Three pints of whiskey were taken from William Arnold (Bill) Smith, one of the three arrested. Ashland and Charles Edward Joseph were arrested as operators of the business.

Sheriff Lewis, who slipped across lots to approach the taxi stand from the rear, said he stood outside and heard the telephone ring. A moment later, he said, one of those inside the stand told the others to "get it out — the Sheriff's coming."

When the door opened, Lewis announced, "He's already here," and made the arrests.

Four others were arrested on liquor charges as the result of recent raids, Lewis reported. Names of those nabbed and liquor taken from them follow:

Elmer Clifton, arrested here on a possession charge, 10 pints of whiskey; "Peanut" Slone, Bypro, possession, 19 cans of beer, two half-pints of whiskey; Cora Slone, of "Winchester," near here, possession, three cans of beer, two pints of moonshine whiskey and a small quantity of bonded whiskey; Bill Hall, Grethel, selling and possessing, nine half-pints of whiskey.

Sheriff Lewis announced Wednesday that he will file a petition to close the Joseph taxi stand here as a nuisance.

RETURNS TO VIETNAM

ROAD, SPAN STATUS TOLD

Right-of-Way Buying For US 23 Seen in '68; 'Freeze' Delays Bridge

Two questions frequently asked in this county were answered last week by Commissioner of Highways W. B. Hazelrigg in letters to State Representative Everett Akers, of Martin.

The questions: 1. What is the schedule for reconstruction of US 23 between Prestonsburg and Pikeville? 2. What is the status of the new bridge proposed at Harold?

Wrote Hazelrigg of the highway construction project: "This section of the Appalachian System is under design, and we expect to have final right-of-way plans available so we can start our right-of-way acquisition by the end of this year. Of course, it is impossible at this time to know when the right-of-way will be cleared so that a construction project may be let to contract. You may be assured, however, that we will proceed with this project as rapidly as possible and let a contract as soon as right-of-way is cleared."

Of the Harold bridge work the commissioner of highways told Representative Akers:

"My engineers inform me that the design on this bridge is progressing well, and it is expected to be ready for a letting scheduled for November 22. However, as you were told and have read in the news from Washington, the Highway Department is under a freeze of federal funds until after December 1, and since this is a federal-aid project we will not be able to advertise (See Story No. 2, Page 4)

This Town . . . That World

Either baseball is in a decline, or I am. Could be both. A World Series baseball game was played today (Wednesday), and it was not till the seventh inning that I thought to inquire about the score.

MAKE FRIENDS—NOW

For some time now a number of Prestonsburg residents have been interested in making a real contribution to the attractiveness of the town by encouraging squirrels to make their their home. They point to the back-to-nature charm these sprightly, little fellows add to places such as Lexington.

Well, they might do something to make this a refuge for squirrels, now. There is famine in the Southland among the squirrel population, and they're migrating northward. Five were in one tree on Court street, the other morning.

Feed the starving creatures, and they're likely to stick around. Protect them, and the problem will be solved.

Let all whose instincts to kill might get the upper hand remember that possession of a hunting license doesn't give anybody the right to shoot firearms in town. And take time for a friendly chat with the youngster who owns an air rifle.

LOOKING BACKWARD, WITH A WINCE

Mrs. Isadore Horn, of Lackey, sends me a copy of our journalistic predecessor, The Prestonsburg Post, which brings back some unpleasant memories. In fact, the week that particular paper was published was when all they had to do to know the low watermark around here was to look me up.

For The Post, dated March 15, 1928, told the story of the $75,000 Midnight Blaze—"75,000!"—which wiped yours truly out. It was the blaze which began in U. S. Walters' shoe shop and wiped out a block, including the young and struggling Floyd County Times. No insurance. No money in the bank. Not long married, and installments due on the furniture. No job.

Many offered encouragement. Our folks offered a haven—"Come on home," they said. Perhaps the words I'll remember longest came from my partner in disaster, old "Printer" Goble, who chirped: "Cheer up, son. You won't know a thing about it, a hundred years from now."

SPANISH BALLET COMPANY TO APPEAR HERE, OCT. 16

The Eastern Kentucky Concert series will present at its first concert of the season the fiery and exciting Mariano Parra, who is recognized in the field of Spanish dance as a "Purist."

Parra makes no compromise with the often unimproved taste of the alien public. He has been praised by critics for his refusal to over-commercialize.

Mariano Parra is American born, but his Andalusian heritage has given him a deep sense of the power and drama of Spanish dance. He caught the attention of the world's foremost authority on ethnic dance, La Meri, who convinced him to bring the true Spanish dance to the current dance scene. Juan Martinez, the great dancer-choreographer and teacher for many renowned Spanish dancers, considers Parra a protege.

Mr. Parra is also a choreographer, this feature of his talent enabling him to present his company in highly original work as well as in the great classic work of the greatest Spanish choreographers of the past. His varied and lavishly costumed program will include the delicate dances of the 18th Century, the expressionistic dances of the 20th Century and the exciting dances of the flamenco repertory.

Mr. Parra's home and studio are now in New York City. He has danced in Spain and has toured the United States and Canada as a soloist and with his own company.

Appearing in the company with him are his two sisters, Inez and Mariana Parra, Dini Roman, guitarist Carlos Bondera, pianist Phillip Leland and featured dancer, Jerane Michel. They will perform at the Prestonsburg elementary school on October 16 at 8 p.m.

The five other concerts to be presented by the Eastern Kentucky Concert Series will be the Kentucky Opera Association's production of "Don Pasquale" on Nov. 2, The Metropolitan Op. (See Story No. 3, Page 4) tonsburg, Mike Collins, of Pikeville, Stephanie Turner, Langley, Drema Howard, Hippo, Jane Webb, of Prestonsburg, Mary L. Jennings, Paintsville, and Barbara Rowe, of Prestonsburg.

Hughes Motor Co. Stock Sale Told

Major portion of the stock of the Hughes Motor Company here has been sold by J. T. Hughes to Jerry Archer and associates, it was announced last Friday.

The transaction involves all of J. T. Hughes' interest in the 30-year-old firm. The business will continue to be operated as the Hughes Motor Company, and Mr. Hughes will be retained by the new owners as honorary chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Hughes retains ownership of the building on South Lake Drive here in which the business has been operated since 1949. The new owners have leased the building for a period of 20 years, with options.

The Hughes Motor Co., the Big Sandy valley's oldest automobile agency under a single management, was established August 25, 1939 as a Pontiac agency. Subsequently, the Cadillac and Oldsmobile franchises were added.

Associated with Hughes in the operation of the business for the last several years have been two of his four sons, Paul Phillip and Francis Carroll Hughes.

NEW STORE IN OPENING

Thompson Foodliner In New $100,000 Bldg. Has Three-Day Event

Official opening of Thompson's IGA Foodliner in its brand-new $100,000 building on South Lake Drive begins today (Thursday) and will continue through Friday and Saturday.

The new store structure is 94 by 72 feet, is of brick construction with liberal use of glass in the front, and is fireproof. Its air-conditioning is provided by heat pump.

The store opened in its new location two weeks ago before completion of its 85-car parking lot. Paving of the lot is now complete.

Walkout Closes Mines While New Pact Talked

Island Creek Coal Company mines in this county were among those closed by walkouts Tuesday as negotiations toward a new wage contract were under way in Washington.

Five Eastern Kentucky mines were reported closed. Others were listed as the Eastern mine at Pond Creek, the Chism and Kentucky Carbon operations at Phelps and the Kentland mine at Dunlap.

The stay-at-home movement brought a quick response from C. E. Beane, president of United Mine Workers District 30, who urged the miners to continue working.

"The international and district officers are distressed because of the action taken by some local unions," Beane said in telegrams sent to all locals.

Harry Campbell, president of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association, issued a similar plea.

Campbell was unable to estimate the number of men off the job.

He and Beane agreed that the contract with the Bituminous Coal Operators Association would remain in effect until October 8. The pact ran out Monday but W. A. Boyle, president of the UMW, had called for the extension. He warned UMW members that the union would not support wildcat walkouts.

All was quiet in the Western Kentucky coal fields, where union members agreed to continue working pending further negotiations. Miners were reported off the jobs in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Illinois.

Stacey Caudill, 60, Knott County Miner, Is Victim Monday

Stacey Caudill, 60, of Topmost, Knott county, died suddenly Monday while preparing to go to work at the Ligon Preparation Coal Company mine at Beaver. He was standing outside the mine entrance when stricken.

Born in March, 1908, at Topmost, he was a son of the late Johnny and Hulda Isaac Caudill. He was never married.

Surviving are a brother, Carlos Caudill, of Ohio, and two sisters, Miss Catherine Caudill, of Topmost, and Mrs. Cora Cook, of Buckingham.

Funeral rites were conducted from the residence today (Thursday) at 10 a.m., ministers of the Regular Baptist Church officiating. Burial in the Caudill cemetery at Topmost was directed by Merion Funeral Chapel.

System May Get $198,313 Fund Boost

Butler Sees Increase For Teachers Ranging From $200 to $700

If tentative state allotments stand as announced this week by Supt. of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler, Floyd county's school system stands to gain $198,313.61 over last year's allotment.

Tentatively, Floyd county has been allotted $3,078,975.17, Butler announced.

For all the state's 195 school districts a total of $179,411,129—almost $22 million over last year—has tentatively been allotted. This provides an increase in teacher salaries ranging from $200 for beginning teachers to $700 for experienced teachers with maximum training.

Supt. Butler said increases for the 1969-70 school year also are provided. These may range from $75 for beginning teachers to $650 for those with maximum experience and training.

Other Eastern School district allotments and increases shown in parentheses are:

Pike, $4,659,659.67 ($344,461.60); Pikeville City, $315,988.54 ($36,903.54); Johnson, $1,130,893.32 ($116,773.30); Paintsville city, $296,491.98 ($38,128.19); Martin, $912,534.17 ($71,162.73); Magoffin, $848,358.07 ($94,023.99); Morgan, $945,199.42 ($79,031.05); Lawrence, $659,834.96 ($68,191.43); Elliott, $478,227.53 ($5,936.80); Knott, $1,359,459.42 ($76,223.38); Letcher, $1,894,083.58 ($181,112.69); Jenkins city, $348,211.76 ($23,140.11); Perry county, $2,142,943.27 ($27,450.54); Hazard city, $533,861.76; no increase shown; Breathitt, $1,361,149.73 ($17,989.21); Boyd, $1,032,145.31 ($123,123.53); Ashland city, $1,437,702.92 ($176,835.02); Cadetsburg city, $217,851.71 ($24,657.47).

Place on Ballot For 2 Challenged

Two full three-man slates of candidates for the Floyd County Board of Education filed before the Sept. 21 deadline, but validity of the candidacy of three, all opponents of incumbents, remains to be decided by the Floyd circuit court.

Manis Crawford has filed to oppose Billy Blair, incumbent in Educational Division No. 4; Rondal Lawson, to oppose Ross (Bud) Cooley in Division 5, and Thomas J. Spears to oppose John M. Stumbo in Division 3.

Spears' petition as a candidate in Division 5 was filed Sept. 20, but when an error in the number of the division was detected he filed on the following day as a candidate for board member in Division 3.

Last Friday, both Cooley and Blair filed suits in circuit court, seeking to void the petitions of Lawson in Division 5 and Crawford in Division 4. Spears' erroneous filing in Division 5 also was attacked, but this is not expected to involve any legal problem.

Named as co-defendant in both suits was County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson, and the court was asked to issue a temporary injunction to restrain Robinson from causing the names of the defendant-candidates from being placed on the ballot for the coming election.

Cooley claims Lawson's petition is invalid because it does not comply with KRS 119.080, does not state the residence of the candidate, or that he is legally qualified to hold the office or that subscribers to the petition desire, and are legally qualified, to vote for him.

BABE IS VICTIM

William Jonathan Conley, three-day-old son of Carlos and Lavonne Baldrige Conley, of Lima, Ohio, formerly of Hueysville, died Tuesday at a Lima hospital. Survivors, other than the parents, are a brother and a sister, Edgile Coet and Sabrina Conley, both at home, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgile Baldrige, of Hueysville, and Mr. and Mrs. Coet Conley, of MacArthur, Ohio. The funeral was held today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. at the Hueysville Church of Christ. Burial was made in the Conley cemetery at Handshoe under the direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Moynahan Denies Dismissal Motion

Overruling defendants' motion to dismiss, Federal District Judge Bernard T. Moynahan, Jr., ruled in a hearing at Frankfort Tuesday that the Floyd county suit demanding redistricting of the county's educational divisions warrants appointment of a three-judge panel to hear the case.

The suit, filed by 38 Bull Creek residents, seeks an injunction to force the Floyd County Board of Education to fix boundaries of educational divisions to conform to the "one-man, one-vote" rule of the Supreme Court.

None of the 38 plaintiffs appeared at the Frankfort hearing. They were represented by their attorney, Joe Hobson. W. W. Burchett, counsel for the board, pointed out that none of the defendants were interested enough to appear, and that only J. M. "Toodles" Wells, now of Morehead, who has a grudge against the board, was there. Wells taught last year at Prestonsburg high school.

The suit complains of unequal population of the five school districts in the county and alleges gerrymandering of districts, including splitting of precincts into separate educational divisions.

Judge Moynahan announced he will certify the case to the chief judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth district, Cincinnati, for appointment of the federal panel to hear the case. The suit to be decided asks that the redistricting be done before the election, November 5.

NON-GRADING URGED HERE

Educator-Author Tells 500 Teachers Method Advantages

Floyd teachers were told at their annual in-service meeting here last week that the proper development of a child through educational channels can be better assured by non-graded teaching rather than the grouping by classes that has become a tradition.

This view was expressed by Dr. David Aspy, member of the faculty of the University of Florida and writer. He said that the increase in non-graded instruction promises a trend, eventually, to individual instruction which would replace the conventional method of teaching by groups. Non-grade instruction serves to group pupils according to their ability rather than by a particular grade.

County Superintendent of Schools Charles Clark commented that the Floyd school system is moving toward non-graded schools on an experimental basis. Prestonsburg, Clark, Osborne and Stumbo elementary schools already are involved in the new instruction method.

Miss Betty Jean Rowland, who has been named by KEA to head its regional office here, was also a speaker at the meeting which was attended by about 500 teachers.

Anderson, Burchett Named Co-Chairmen By Floyd Democrats

Physical Handicaps No Bar to Marriage

A handicapped Floyd county couple who met 12 years ago at the rehabilitation center of Louisville's General hospital were married Saturday afternoon at Wayland.

The bride is 27-year-old Geraldine Stevens, of Harold; the groom, Paul C. Ritchie, 30, of Wayland. The young husband has no left leg or forearm. His bride, who has been a patient at a nursing home near Paintsville, has a muscular disease affecting her legs. She is confined to a wheelchair.

"We just have one time to live, and we decided we might as well live that time together," Ritchie said in a discussion of wedding plans.

The marriage was solemnized at the home of the groom's mother, where he and Mrs. Ritchie will reside. The officiating minister was the Rev. Earl Waugh, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Allen.

Urges Self-Help For Food Program

A self-help food program which has been used successfully abroad was suggested for Eastern Kentucky this week by a State Department official.

Frank R. Ellis, director of the State Department's Food for Freedom program, said voluntary agencies around the world have shifted nearly 4 million people from a food dole to a food-for-work basis.

The agencies hope to add that many more people to the latter program by 1970, he told the Burley and Dark Leaf Tobacco Export Association convention.

Ellis, a Murray, Ky. native, suggested that poor families like those of Eastern Kentucky be given food stamps necessary for subsistence, and additional or bonus stamps as payment for self-help or community work.

He said relief agencies overseas have put poor people to work building roads, schools, community wells and other projects.

In Eastern Kentucky, he said, poor people could be employed on watershed work and dam construction, improvement of recreational facilities or building of day-care centers. Stamps could be given as an incentive for taking vocational training, he added.

He said some plan must be devised because "we have the second and third generation of people on relief there."

Ellis said his agency's experience has shown "a man can proudly accept food he has worked for, and his dignity as an individual is thereby enhanced."

COAL TALKS CONTINUING

Contract Deadline Set Next Tuesday; Demands, Indefinite

Closed door contract talks resumed Monday between representatives of the United Mine Workers Union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

While the overall climate looks better than it did in 1966 when the present contract was drawn up, sources indicate the coal producers and workers have hit snags.

Predictions of a smooth settlement to the talks went out the window Friday as one source said, "It doesn't look good." Notices have been served terminating the present contract at midnight, next Tuesday.

The secrecy of the sessions is in contrast to the 1966 talks when both sides presented issues to the public.

However, analysts feel these are the major points of contention:

1. Compensation for the black lung disease. Only three states have specific laws entitling miners to compensation. West Virginia provides compensation under the general law applying to job-related disabilities.

2. More vacation time, related to time of service instead of the usual flat two weeks.

3. Increased sick leave, sick pay, an increase in work-turn differential and company-paid safety apparel.

4. An increase on the rate paid per ton into the UMW welfare fund. The current agreement calls for payment of 40 cents. Indications are UMW president W. A. (Tony) Boyce is seeking a 10-cent increase.

5. General salary increases up to eight per cent. Under the present contract the basic rate for most miners is $27.75, exclusive of fringes, and for the highly skilled operators of mining machines and inside electricians and mechanics, $30 daily.

Ellis said self-help food programs are being carried out in more than 50 countries under the leadership of 77 American volunteer agencies.

Ellis, a graduate of the University of Kentucky, said Americans abroad should visit the volunteer agencies to see what they are doing: "It will make you proud to be an American."

In the race between food supplies and world population, Ellis said, "The food side is ahead in the ballgame 2 to 1 but the ballgame has seven innings to go."

At the present world birth rate, there will be 7 billion people on earth by the year 2000, he explained. The population was 3 billion in 1960.

Mrs. Sally Wells, 84, Former Floyd Resident, Dies at Xenia, Ohio

B. Moore and Mrs. Ruby Greer, both of Prestonsburg.

She also leaves 24 grandchildren, 47 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were held at 1 p.m. Monday at the Auxier Free Will Baptist Church, the Rev. Terry McGiffen officiating. Burial was made in the Government Relocation cemetery on Auxier road.

We, the family members of the late Henry Mullins, wish to express our very deepest thanks and appreciation to all of those wonderful friends and neighbors who passed by and paid their last respects to the one that was so dear to us. Just knowing that you came by, and those of you who didn't have the opportunity, but instead showed sympathy by sending flowers and other sympathetic gestures, has made our hearts glad and the burden somewhat lighter. All we can say is thank you again and again.

FBI To Sponsor Talks On Law Enforcement Set at Park, Oct. 17th

Palmer M. Baken, Jr., special agent in charge of the Louisville office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced this week that bank robbery and incidental crimes will be the subject of a special law enforcement conference to be sponsored by the FBI at Jenny Wiley State Park, October 17.

In an announcement concerning similar conferences being held throughout the United States, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said that this topic was chosen because of the continued increase in crimes involving banking institutions. He also noted that there was an alarming increase in the number of instances in which these crimes against banking institutions were accompanied by violence against employees, customers, and others.

According to Mr. Baken, the conference will be attended by law enforcement officials, prosecutors and representatives of banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, and related professions in this area. The agenda will include discussions on what law enforcement officials can do to prevent bank robberies, burglaries, and larcenies and also what banking institutions can do to prevent these crimes. Guidance will be given regarding actions to be taken by bank employees to assist law enforcement officers in the quick apprehension of violators. The Bank Protection Act of 1968 which provides for establishing minimum standards for security devices to be used in banks to discourage these crimes, will also be discussed.

According to Mr. Baken, the speakers' platform at this conference will be shared by representatives of the FBI, the Kentucky Bankers Association, the Kentucky state police, the United States attorney and local police officials.

tise this project until after the freeze is lifted. We do anticipate, however, that just as soon as federal monies become available to us that this bridge will be let to bids and hopefully be under construction early next year.

Some delay on the bridge resulted from a request being made that it be built at a new location. This request was followed by an engineering study and finally what appears to be a decision to build at the site originally selected.

But, it was said here several days ago, the effort to get a change in the bridge location will be renewed.

Acquisition of right-of-way for the bridge to cross the Big Sandy near Lancer and for the road up Bull Creek to connect with the proposed new US 23 at Water Gap has already begun.

A contract on the bridge at Lancer is scheduled for next month.

SLAP-HAPPY AUDIENCE

The Kentucky Labor News in a biting editorial recently hit at Western Kentucky stripmining and the fact that Hopkins county citizens will pay a 10-cents-per-$100-valuation to maintain a "mosquito control district." This was necessary, the News points out, because hordes of voracious salt-water mosquitoes, breeding in spoil banks and stagnant waters created by stripmining, had to be brought under control.

The editorial was not all fire-and-brimstone, however. It changed pace with this anecdote:

Kentucky's Supt. of Public Instruction, Wendell Butler, tells of making a graduation address at a school in Nortonville. He was delighted with the response of the audience which constantly interrupted him with applause. He later discovered that the clapping wasn't applause—they were slapping mosquitoes!

"SCHOOL, WHO NEEDS IT, ANYWAY?"

Anybody who wants to get anywhere, that's who. Statistics show that your lifetime earning potential rises substantially with your educational level. In today's job market, with more and more employers using education as a guideline, the guy who didn't finish school is facing stiff competition from guys who did.

Tired of school? Dropping out is easy. The hard part is finding a place to go from there. America is a competitive society, and an educated society. And, if you don't get much of an education, you don't usually get much of a chance.

Think about that.

THE STRENGTH OF A DEMOCRACY depends on the concern of its citizens. We urge every concerned citizen to register now — in time for the November elections — and VOTE!

SOMETHING NEW... For several years, a telephone usage kit called "Telezonia" has been supplied to elementary schools by the Bell System. Telezonia has proved to be an effective way of teaching children proper telephone usage — dialing correctly, speaking courteously, taking messages, and learning how to get help in an emergency. Now, to make the Telezonia program even more meaningful, there are two new versions of the instruction book. One in large type for the child with poor eyesight, and one in Braille for the blind child. This is just one more way we are showing our support for your school system.

STATE HAS FULL SHARE OF UNUSUAL PLACE NAMES

Frankfort, Ky. — Black Gnat (Taylor county) isn't a pest insect, nor is Bugtussle (Monroe) a fight between irate centipeds, nor Mousie (Knott) an affectionately named rodent.

No dog can gnaw Big Bone (Boone); Hot Spot (Letcher) is not on a stove, and aspirin won't give Relief (Morgan) quickly.

Kentucky's forefathers had a sense of humor, and the names of these and other Kentucky towns bear witness to their wit.

The animal and insect kingdoms offered ample subject matter for eager town-namers, as a blend of comedy and practicality gave rise to Chicken (Lincoln), Beehive (Letcher), Possum Trot (Marshall), Spider (Knott), Bear Wallow (Barren and Hart), Hippo (Floyd), Raccoon (Pike), and famous Monkeys Eyebrow (Ballard).

HAROLD COMMUNITY LAYS PLANS FOR DEVELOPMENT

What can a small village-type community in Eastern Kentucky do to improve its economic, social, educational and civic attitude condition? The people of Harold have set out to do several things. Last Friday evening, 48 persons met at the Harold schoolhouse to formulate plans.

Planning for the first meeting of citizens had been in the making for weeks. Discussion, church and school announcements, and pre-organizational work had featured activity. When time came for the first meeting every resident of Harold was aware of plans.

Earl Brooks was elected president of the new club, tentatively named the Harold Improvement Club. Cecil Sturgill, long interested in civic affairs, was named vice-president. Mrs. Carma Sturgill and Ned Elkins were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively. Mrs. Wanda Hamilton was appointed publicity chairman.

Group discussion finally led to the need for local cleanup as the most pressing problem. President Brooks named a committee to head the move and residents pledged cooperation. Named to the committee were Luke Kidd, Gordon Clark, Adis Clark and Julian Sealf. This group, of which Sealf was named chairman, held an informal meeting at once. It plans to meet this week and, with several local advisors, plan a full dress program.

The whole program of community improvement is under the sponsorship of the University of Kentucky Extension Service. Henry P. Sealf, Stanville, has been assigned full time by the University to the communities of Harold, Betsy Layne and Stanville. Community development specialists had decided to concentrate for the present on Harold.

Goals of the club were named and listed on a blackboard. William Bridges, community development specialist, Rev. A. B. Johnson, and others discussed the needs and order of priority. Sealf, in commenting on the goals, said:

"I'm an Extension Service Program Assistant, named by the University to help you on these. My job is not to do these things but to help you do them.

It is only through cooperative effort that these goals can be accomplished. If you want to do these things, if you want to fully accomplish these goals, you can. It won't be easy but you will have help. You will have my dedicated, full-time help. You will have the help of the University of Kentucky. Specialists of the University of Kentucky in various fields will be as close to you as your telephone."

Bridges, in addressing the group, which included observers from Betsy Layne, expressed satisfaction that so many leaders had come out. It was his fourth visit to Harold.

"Harold has a golden opportunity to improve itself," Bridges said. "You can accomplish all your goals by community cooperation. You have demonstrated you will cooperate by being here tonight."

Bridges, Johnson, and others commented on what had been done at the mining town of Harburley in Pike county. The group, in planning meeting, had seen slides of what Harburley was before the program and what it was after many goals had been accomplished.

A board of directors was named. These, besides the elected officers, are Rev. A. B. Johnson, Mrs. Dean Conn, Wallace J. Sealf, Wayne Clark, Ray Adkins, Ellis Moore, Gordon Clark, Adis Clark.

Dr. Leonard Roberts, Harold native and author, now instructor at Pikeville College, addressed the group.

Names of Fiddlers Sought for Book

Frankfort—Gov. Louie B. Nunn is calling on Kentuckians to search for fiddling personalities, fiddle makers and repairmen, living or deceased, to be included in a book being compiled by DeLorse DeRyke of Lincoln, Nebr.

Mrs. DeRyke, president of American Old Time Fiddlers Association, is seeking information about all fiddlers, fiddle makers, repairmen, and seconds (accompanists to fiddlers). The termination of her eight-year search will be the publication of a complete book on OLD-TIME FOLK FIDDLING.

Usually every family has or has had a fiddling personality and most folks know of one or more fiddlers to whom they listened when young . . . they all deserve to be mentioned. Mrs. DeRyke's book is a research project into early American instrumental music . . . fiddle music and related arts and skills.

Information about tunes, tune titles, stories about fiddling tunes or fiddlers are all of interest. Names and addresses are desired if possible. Regarding the fiddle makers and repairmen, the number of instruments made or repaired is desired, at least an estimate, and the style of fiddles made, and anything else distinctive about the work of the individual.

Of interest, too, is the local radio or television shows on which the personalities have appeared.

Write Fiddling De DeRyke, American Old Time Fiddlers Association, 6141 Morrill Avenue, Lincoln, Nebraska 68507.

Special Children and Special Education

By RICHARD D. HOWARD
Director, Special Education
Pikeville College

There are few, if any, children with handicaps so great that there is not help, somewhere in our state. Every year more facilities are being built, more hospitals, clinics, schools, day care centers, sheltered workshops, and rehabilitation facilities. Our local schools are developing special classes, adult education programs are on the increase, parent and education associations are demanding that the child who is different not be left out, excluded, dismissed, shunned, overlooked or treated with misguided or indifferent methods.

There is supposed to be a place for everyone. There are many now who have never been inside a classroom. There are many who have never had the privilege of entering a social setting outside the family. There are many who do not know what it is to have the opportunity of learning. There are many who have never been able to say, "I'm going to work—because there is no work for them. There are those who would love to hear it said, "Well done." Yes, there is supposed to be a place for us all. I'm sure our Creator has not intended for hundreds, even thousands, to be in the place they're in.

All humanity is sacred. How can the eye say to the little finger I have no need of thee? How can the well say to the sick, We have no need of you? How can the mentally normal say to the mentally retarded, You have no place! How can the seeing say to the blind, begone! How can the crippled be cast out by the whole? Our Maker never intended that the well only should be served. In fact the exact opposite could be better argued from the scriptures. He said Himself, The well need not a physician.

He set the example for us by ministering to those who were most in need. Various professions like to lay claim to God as being the first in their profession—but I don't ever recall an educator making that claim except in a joking way. But, really, He was the first and Greatest Special Educator. He set the example, showed the way, laid out the pattern, marked the route. Yet it has taken us, lo, these many centuries even to begin to address ourselves to the needs of the less fortunate.

It is true that some groups of the handicapped have been rather well educated considering their handicap—particularly the blind and the deaf—but we cannot save our consciences by pointing our finger to the great strides made in those areas. All we have to do is turn our faces to the retarded. They've been treated worse than our livestock, our pets. In fact if just a fraction of the money expended for pets had been spent on alleviation of handicapping conditions in our children I think this nation would be a step nearer to the heart of God.

Let me tell you what we have in mind. You'll notice we've already used such words as; handicapped, deviant, different, and exceptional. There are still others used to describe the people we're going to be talking about. Let me list just a few: Blind, Deaf, Crippled, Hard of Hearing, Partially Sighted, Cerebral Palsied, Epileptic, Emotionally Disturbed, Brain Damaged, Behavioral Disorders, Socially Maladjusted, every phase of the mentally retarded and any other handicapping condition that limits or prevents or hinders the boys and girls in these classifications.

It is the philosophy of Pikeville College and the Division of Special Education that every ounce of humanity deserves as much opportunity to be developed to its maximum potential as any other ounce. It is not for the wealthy, the intelligent, the whole but everyone. Every single soul that lives and breathes has the God-given right to see as much light, to feel as much warmth, to hear as many sounds, to touch as many things, to grow and develop itself as any other being. To achieve this to achieve the ideal and we know that ideal is seldom reached but to have lesser goals would be unbecoming of us.

In listing the handicapping conditions above it is not our purpose to say that these are remedial conditions immediately available. It is a long road that has no turning, and to quote an age-old proverb, "A thousand mile journey begins with the first step." We do not mean to say either, that we are making the first step. That has been done. There are pioneers in the mountains, Mrs. Calvert, of Pikeville, and Reverend Bob Martin, of Floyd county, to mention only two. They took the first step. There are several classes in the public schools and a few private ones. There is a new facility at Harlan and one to be erected in Paintsville and the multi-million facility Congressman Perkins is working on. No, we know that we're not the first. We know we're not the only ones laboring in these areas. We thank God for each and everyone who is, has been or will be working for the handicapped.

We do not profess to have all the answers to all the problems of the handicapped, but we do pledge to try and find the answers. We invite you to write, call or visit The Department of Special Education, at the College. We will try to help in any way we can. You are also encouraged to submit to us through this newspaper. If these are queries, we will answer them in the column if they are of concern to our readers; otherwise, we shall answer them personally by mail.

BILL FOLEY, Chairman

HELENE HAM, Chairwoman

After another year of striving for a more perfect Volkswagen, we bring you the only visible results.

Four nice new shades.

Of course, some people won't be terribly impressed.

The way they see it, we let year after year go by without ever really trying to improve our appearance.

Never a bug with dramatic new tail fins. Never a bug with a revolutionary new grille.

Well, making sensational outside changes just isn't like us. Right from the start we've believed in unsensational inside changes.

Take this year's bug. Nice though all its 13 improvements are, there's not a one you can exactly call the stuff of high drama.

Certainly not the new night-and-day inside mirror.

Or the better kind of weather stripping between the engine cover and the body.

Or the new electric rear window defogger.

Or even the new ignition lock that combines with the steering wheel lock.

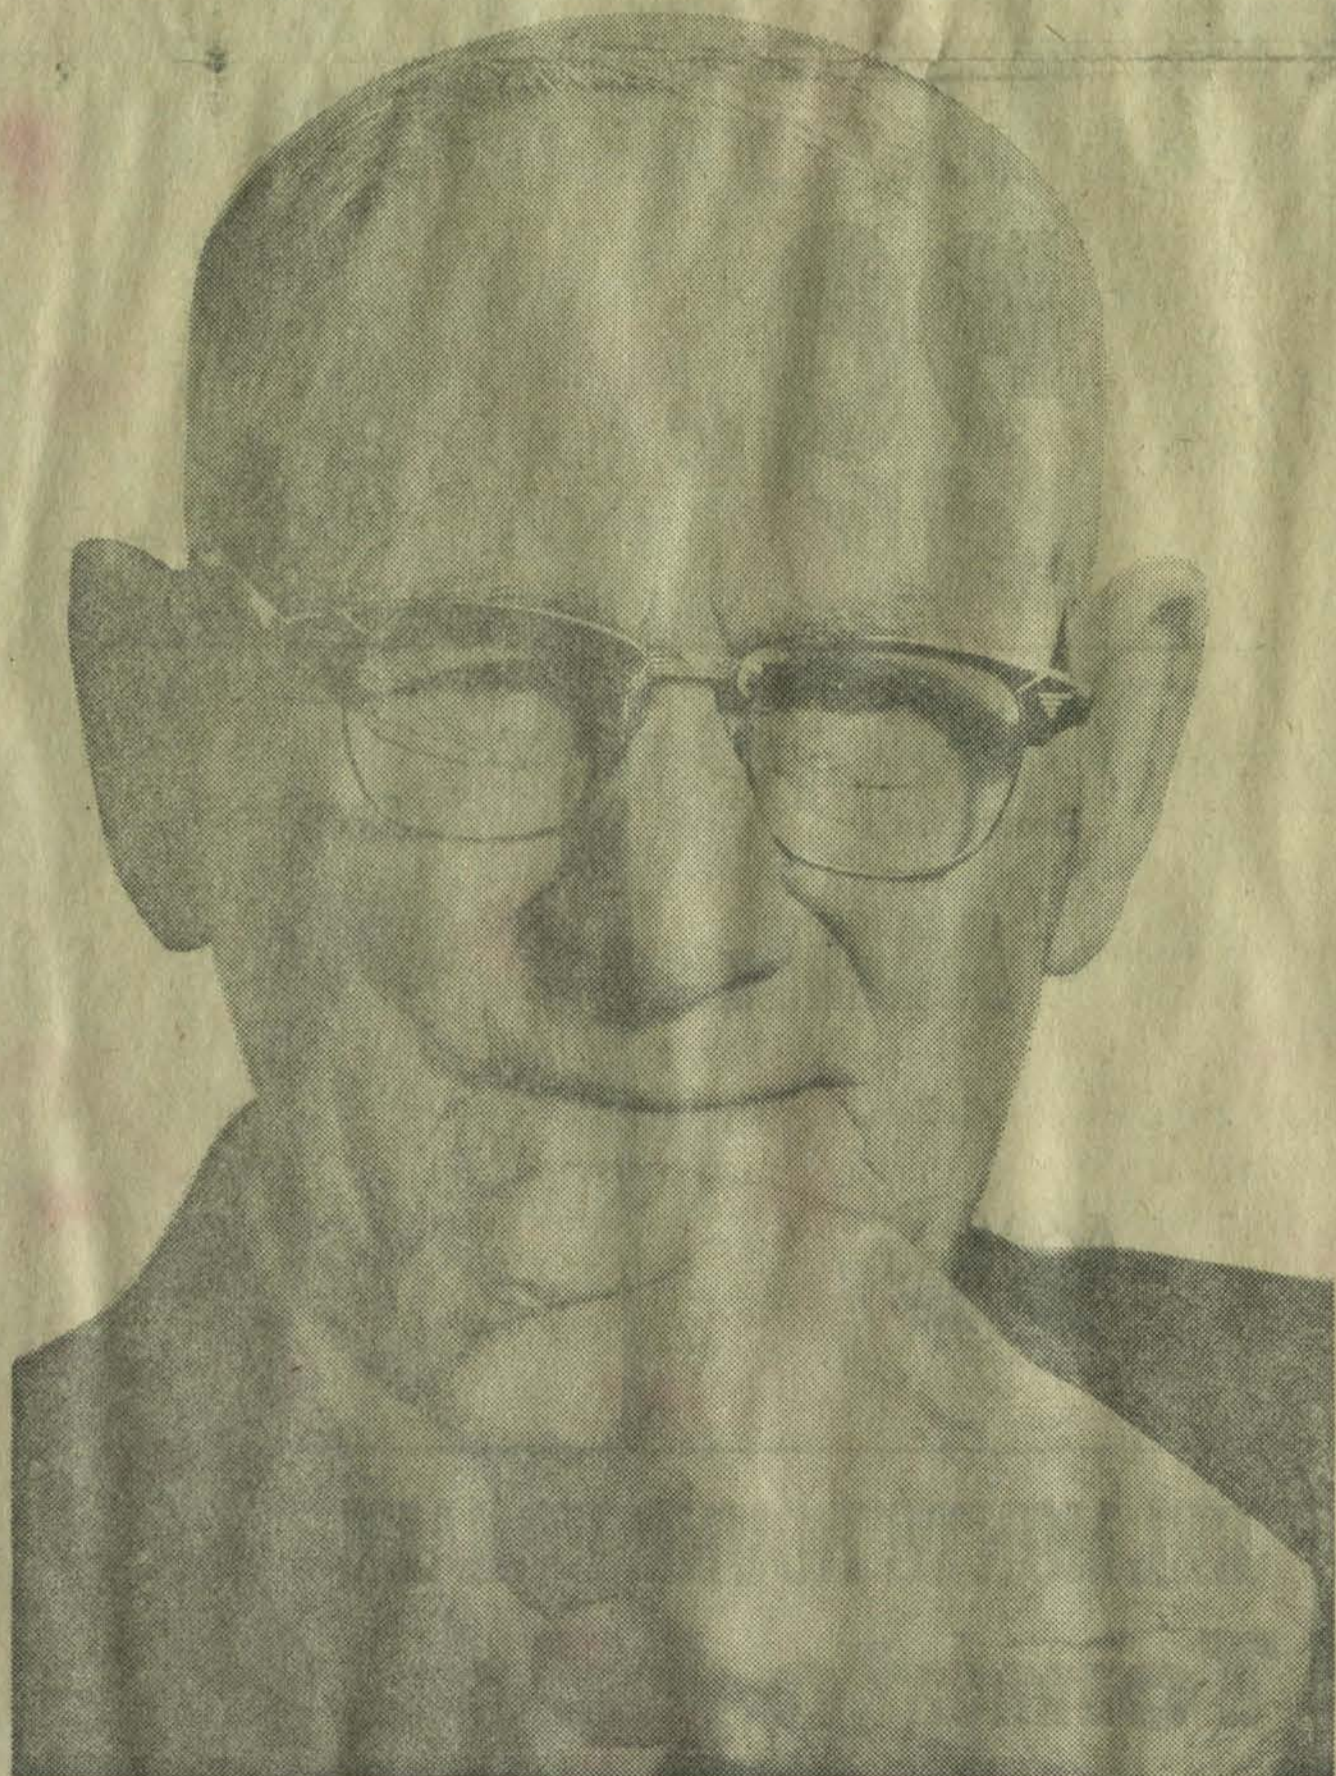

Over the years, the result of our striving has mostly been little things. 2218 little things to be exact.

But it's the little things that make for perfection.

And perfection is no little thing.

Dr. Roberts Returns Home To Regale Harold Audience With Boyhood Reminiscences

Dr. Leonard Roberts, native of Toler Creek this county, author and teacher, came home Friday evening to address a meeting of the Harold Improvement Club. He is presently a professor in the English Department of Pikeville College.

Roberts, to the amusement of the group, told of his early work as a lineman in the community of the old Roberts Olga Telephone Company, predecessor of the Harold Telephone Company, now headed by Paul Gearheart. The old telephone company, afflicted with inadequate equipment, inferior lines and laboring to maintain service from Harold to Ivel and on the adjacent creeks, had for its only lineman the schoolboy Roberts. He worked evenings after school.

"When I came in from school," Roberts reminisced, "Mrs. Columbia Roberts, my aunt and owner of the system, would send me off down the river to restore service to a customer. While on these errands Mrs. Roberts would call me and tell me to go some other place while I was at it. I would no more get service restored there until another call would come. I was kept busy until dark, installing insulators and uncrossing wires."

He told of a harrowing experience when, while riding a bicycle and carrying his repair tools, a slide erupted from the side of the road and caught him. Roberts was caught by the slide and when he managed to extricate himself from the mud, he found his bicycle standing on its back, the wheels spinning. He was unrecognized when he reappeared at the telephone office.

Roberts, author of a number of books on Eastern Kentucky folklore, and a nationally recognized authority, elicited riddles and answers from the group. He went on to discuss their childhood games, all of them a heritage of the past.

"Some of these games are as old as civilization itself," Roberts said. "In various forms they existed in the ancient world. They were played thousands of years ago, almost identically as you played them in your childhood. These games were played at the dawn of civilization, came down through the history of man to the Anglo-Saxons. Finally, they were brought to America by our progenitors and found their way to Eastern Kentucky and you played them when you were young."

Extending his discussion of regional lore, Roberts told a story, typical of pioneer days when the settler-hunter was addicted to gross and ridiculous exaggerations to enliven a tale.

Dr. Roberts, who attended high school at Betsy Layne, has taught at Berea College, Morehead State University, Union College and West Virginia Wesleyan. He came from the latter institution to Pikeville this summer. At present he has two books with publishers and another under preparation.

This is the one we struck out on

This house is one in a thousand. For every one of these, 999 homes in this area can be economically converted to electric heat. That's one reason why the switch to flameless electric heat is breaking all records. People who have it are comparing their bills for electric heat against their former fuel bills and are telling their friends it cost (1) "about the same," (2) "a fraction more" or, (3) "a little less." If you're beginning to think your home could be converted and heated inexpensively with electric heat, the chances are 999 out of a thousand you're right. Let us prove it. Get a free estimate.

51 BOY SCOUT TROOPS TO GO ON SURVIVAL TREK

Even in these modern times, there is a need for survival skills as long as Boy Scouts and other outdoorsmen take to the trail, and 51 Boy Scout troops of Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be learning about edible wild foods in October and going on a survival trek.

The younger Cub Scouts in 21 packs during this month will be preparing for their monthly pack meeting with the theme, "Ghosts and Goblins." Tied to the theme will be skits, costumes, games, and other activities for the pack Halloween party, plus participation in fire prevention week activities and fall service projects, according to Cecil M. Sturgill, district commissioner.

PIKEVILLE SEEKS CENTER FOR LUNG DISEASE STUDY

A proposal to set up a center for pulmonary disease research at Pikeville, was warmly received in Washington last week from federal officials.

The idea was outlined during a three-hour meeting by a delegation of Kentuckians headed by Dr. W. C. Hambley, mayor of Pikeville.

Officials from various federal agencies reacted favorably to the proposal. The Pikeville officials were told to put together a more concrete proposal that could be considered before federal planning money is made available.

The main work of the center would be aimed at learning more about the serious pulmonary ailments that afflict coal miners.

Among these ailments are pneumoconiosis—known also as black lung, for which there is no known cure—silicosis and emphysema.

Another part of the center's function, as now envisioned by Pikeville officials, would be to coordinate and pull together the various types of research now being done by the government, independent researchers and private industry.

Pikeville officials feel their city would be a logical place for such a center for two reasons: It is in the heart of the Appalachian coal belt and it is one of the federal government's "model cities."

William Turner, Pikeville's model-city coordinator, said the center had been included in the original proposal for participation in the model-cities program.

Development of the center had been considered as something for the distant future. But, Turner said, "When this subject of pulmonary disease got hot in the news media we decided now was the time to act."

Recent news articles have reported on the high rate of respiratory ailments among miners and the lack of govern-

Lancer Chapel Honors Its Oldest Member

Friends, relatives and members of the Lancer Baptist Chapel gathered last week in the annex of the chapel to pay tribute to its oldest member, Mrs. Rebecca Bingham.

Over the years Mrs. Bingham could be seen gathering children over the Lancer area to walk to Sunday School with them. A familiar sight on Sunday morning was Mrs. Bingham entering the chapel with at times up to 16 children. Today these children are mostly adults and many are Christians.

Mrs. Bingham left Saturday to be near her daughter in Louisville where she will make her home. She was one of the first workers in the annex, long before the chapel was built, and she, along with the Rev. L. W. Benedict, was the first to go to Slick Rock, now Benedict Chapel, to search for grounds for a new mission.

A surprise pot-luck supper was served in the honor of "Mrs. Becky" by friends and members of the chapel. She was presented a robe from the people of Lancer by the Chapel's new pastor, the Rev. Larry O'Bryan.
