

Mud Creek System Bids Near, Report

Contracts Scheduled By Dec. 30

Huge Water Project To Cost $1.4 Million Wins Final Approval

Contractors' bids for construction of the Mud Creek water system are expected to be asked next week, and the date for pipe will become effective January 1. Pipe manufacturers have agreed, however, that pipe will be supplied contractors at present prices on contracts made before January 1.

Total estimated cost of the project, which will involve the laying of approximately 60 miles of water mains, is $1,571,000. This includes legal and administrative costs and project contingencies. Actual construction costs are estimated at $1,261,000.

Bids will be asked on five contracts:

Contract I on water line construction to Big Mud and Toler Creek; Contract II, water lines to Branham's Creek and Little Mud Creek; Contract III, construction of 12 steel water tanks ranging from 10,000 gallons to 150,000 gallons in capacity; Contract IV, reservoir foundations; Contract V, pumps and pump stations.

The system will serve an area with an estimated population of 8,500. More than 700 individuals and firms already have signed customer applications.

Water to serve the area will be purchased from the new Sandy Valley Water District, which was recently completed to serve the area along the Big Sandy from the northern city limits of Pikeville downriver as far as Stanville. The Sandy Valley district is buying its water supply from the Pikeville municipal system.

Floyd Co-Op Work With State at End

Floyd county's cooperative agreement with the state Department of Highways by which the county acquires and pays for road machinery by working on rural and secondary roads in the county apparently is at an end.

County Judge Henry Stumbo and members of the fiscal court were told last Wednesday that the highway department has entered into a contract with "Chick" Hall, of Johnson county, to do this type of work in the county.

This means, Judge Stumbo later said, that the county machinery will be restricted to the work of maintaining its rural roads. It also means that plans to trade in an old bulldozer for a new machine will be discarded. The county will not be able to earn further payments on its outstanding indebtedness for road machinery, but Stumbo said the debt is low.

The fiscal court will meet with state officials in January to negotiate a new rural road contract.

This Town . . . That World

ONE SAD CERTAINTY

Most of us shun the subject of death, so let's talk taxes. The bicarbonate which topped off the Thanksgiving surfeiting hadn't stopped fizzing when the tax bills began arriving, Friday morning. And that was more than burps you heard. Ray Collins, down at the postoffice, said he learned 15 new cuss-words in 10 minutes, just listening to remarks made by taxpayers when they opened their mail.

WHO'S THE DUMB ANIMAL?

The wife having left the family bed and board for a week while visiting our sons and their families in Lexington, the dog and I have the house all to ourselves. And, as I have been reminded in the past, I am having trouble communicating.

It is an unpleasant truth — I am incapable of putting into words my feelings. Mentally, they sound great, but when they crawl out to the tip of my tongue I take one look and run.

Now, the dog, he can express his sentiments eloquently enough: a whine-bark to say he wants in . . . or out; a houndlike howl to greet another dog or a stranger; a low succession of grunt-growls to say he's had it and would as soon sleep on it.

Sometimes, usually when I'm a bit hot under the collar, I shed all my inhibitions and sound off to the dog. But it's then that I'm more frustrated than ever. I still fail to communicate. The mutt is as deaf as the proverbial adder.

PLEASE . . .

This column gladly joins the Council of Churchwomen here in suggesting that we all observe this Christmas season by keeping Christ in Christmas. One of the ways of doing this is to spell the word out fully and desist from writing it "Xmas."

Club Slates Reading Of 'Christmas Carol'

The Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club will sponsor Patricia Marshall, Miss Floyd County, 1968, in a reading of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Floyd County Library here. The public is invited to attend the reading for which there will be no admission charge. Refreshments will be served.

COURT WORK NEARS END

Two Cases Remain On Docket for '68; Two Are Convicted

Circuit court moved this week toward adjournment and its last work of the year. One criminal case and a civil trial remain on the docket.

Convictions last week included that of Ishmael Caudill, Magoffin county coroner, who pleaded guilty to a charge of hit-run driving and was fined $100. The drunk driving count against him was dismissed. Estill Prater was given a 60-day jail term on a petit larceny charge, but the sentence was probated.

Bonds of four defendants were forfeited when they failed to appear for trial during the week. They are: Ronnie Coffey, cold check; Gary Combs and Wilburn Arnett, grand larceny; Bobby Gene Hall, grand larceny and robbery.

During the term 30 cases have been dismissed — some because they have long been on the docket and prosecution has lagged, others because no prosecution was desired.

HUNT DEATH IS PROBED

Pike Coroner Holds No Foul Play Evident Though Victim Injured

An investigation of the death of Worley Hunt, 66, Floyd county native, whose body was found Nov. 22 on Grassy Fork of Raccoon Creek, Pike county, has convinced Pike Coroner Haskell Mullins that no foul play was involved.

Hunt, a resident of the Johns Creek section, was found lying in a shallow stream. He had suffered severe head injuries, but the coroner said these apparently resulted from a fall over a 12-foot embankment into the water. Mullins added he is not certain if these hurts caused death and said it is possible the victim suffered a heart attack before falling into the stream.

Hunt had been at a house in the vicinity of his death, and had left the house about 10:30 at night. His body was found when a search was instituted, an hour later, after he had failed to return.

The victim was a son of John and Lou Hunt. His wife, Leah, died 25 years ago. He is survived by one son, Palmer Hunt, Salem, O.; a brother, Mack Hunt, of Ivel; three half-brothers, Woodrow, Alex and Russell Crum, all of Ypsilanti, Mich., and three half-sisters, Lucy Crum, of Allen, Ruth Fitts and Emma Hunt, both of Ohio.

Funeral services were held last Wednesday from the Buffalo Creek church and burial was made in the Burchett cemetery on Buffalo.

Mrs. Samantha Spears Is Victim at Age 84; Funeral Held Today

Mrs. Samantha Spears, 84, of Greentown, Ky., sister of Guy Castle and Mrs. Hazel Barber, both of Martin, died Monday at a Paintsville hospital.

A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Castle, she was born November 30, 1884, in Johnson county. She was the widow of William Spears.

Additional survivors are three sons, Russell Spears, of Lowmansville, Ky., and Mitchell and Ray Spears, both of Columbus, Ohio; three daughters, Mrs. Ada Jude and Mrs. Flora Patrick, both of Paintsville, and Mrs. Beulah Howell, of Sandy Hook, Ky., and two other sisters, Mrs. Cynthia Salyers, of Louisa, Ky., and Mrs. Paul Twinkle, of Tennessee.

KNOTT COURT GETS TRIAL

Bartley Case Shifted From Perry; Affidavit Tells Place of Death

The murder trial of Curtis Bartley, former Prestonsburg man charged with the slaying last September 8 of James E. Turner, of Wheelwright, was transferred Monday from the Perry circuit court to Knott county.

The trial transfer was ordered by Perry Circuit Judge Ward after an affidavit stating that Turner died in Knott county had been filed.

Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo, who had been asked to assist in the prosecution of the case, said he has not been notified of the date set for the trial.

Bartley is expected to enter a plea of not guilty. On the night of the shooting he was quoted by State Trooper Terry Stacy as saying he "had to do it; it couldn't be helped," and as later saying Turner was attempting to steal his car.

AKERS TELLS KY 80 PLAN

Highway Department To Study Relocation Of Route at Allen

Calvin G. Grayson, acting deputy commissioner of highways, has asked the office of Wendell Bayes, district engineer, to report on the feasibility of a plan submitted by State Representative Everett Akers, of Martin, to relocate KY 80 through the town of Allen.

Representative Akers' plan would route KY 80 from the Old Allen end of the bridge across the Big Sandy on around the hill in a comparatively straight line to intersect with the present KY 80 at the McJunkin Supply Company's shop. This would eliminate the loop from the bridge down into the town and a sharp turn where the present traffic light is located. Akers also says rerouting would provide better access from KY 80 to KY 1426 (the Allen-Banner road) which later may be used as a traffic bypass while US 23 is under reconstruction toward Pikeville.

Akers has requested a discussion of the estimate made by the Highway Department of the cost of upgrading the Allen-Banner road. A memo from the district engineer's office earlier placed the cost at $500,000.

It was said that the city of Martin can procure federal funds for sidewalk construction along KY 80 through the town, and the Highway Department was asked to prepare design details of the request from Mayor E. P. Grigsby, pointing out that he is not certain this can be legally done.

Tax Bills Jolt Citizens Day After Thanksgiving

Floyd county taxpayers received their 1968 tax bills last week-end — Thanksgiving week-end — and most of them weren't duly thankful.

This week the County Judge's office was swamped by property owners who were emphasizing errors in their assessment and seeking correction via exoneration.

County Judge Stumbo said he was making exoneration cases where obvious errors were made, resulting in an overcharge for taxes. But he emphasized the point that he is not marking any taxpayer's assessment upward, unless the taxpayer requests such action.

The assessment increase made after the Tax Commissioner's work was completed was a "blanket raise" ordered by the State Tax Commission. Later, a rate increase was assessed when franchise assessments were a result of a court decision held at the level of local property assessments.

The number of exoneration necessary will play havoc with the county's budget, which was based on revenues anticipated from the assessment totals reported to the fiscal court, it was said.

Miss Snow Queen and Her Court

SLATE TESTS ON DIABETES

Three Agencies Join In Program of Week At Five 'Outposts'

The Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program, in cooperation with the Floyd County Health Department and the Kentucky State Department of Health, will be conducting a diabetes testing program next week.

Outposts conducting the tests will be: Dwale (postoffice building), Mud Creek (Riley Reynolds' store building), Osborne (Osborne school), Drift (Clive Akers building), and Bosco (Bosco school building).

The testing will be from 8 a.m. till 4 p.m. each day starting Monday, December 9, and continuing through Friday, December 13.

Dr. Russell L. Hall, director of the program, says diabetes testing is especially important to those who (1) have had a sudden loss of weight, (2) are past age 40, (3) who are overweight, (4) have diabetes in the family, (5) have had a change in vision, (6) have cuts or wounds that heal slowly, and (7) who have had babies weighing more than nine pounds at birth.

Carroll Thornsbury, Auto Dealer Here, Dies Last Thursday

Born April 13, 1908 at Mouthcard, Pike county, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Thornsbury. His wife, Mrs. Martha Lilly Thornsbury, survives.

Survivors, other than his widow, are a daughter, Mrs. Rita Deskins, of Pikeville; three brothers, Charles and Howard Thornsbury, both of Mouthcard, and James F. Thornsbury, of California; six sisters, Mrs. Mae Ramey and Mrs. Martha Teaberry, of Pikeville, Mrs. Maude Warren, of Florida, Mrs. Lillian (See Story No. 5, Page 3)

P'burg Men Start New Nursing Home

Pfc. Joseph Burned As Enemy Rocket Hits U. S. Vehicle

Telegrams received Wednesday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Joseph, of Prestonsburg, and his wife, Mrs. Bonnie Montgomery Joseph, of Auxier, tell of injuries suffered by Pfc. Joseph in Vietnam.

Joseph suffered second and third degree burns December 2 when an enemy rocket struck a vehicle in which he was riding. He is in an Army hospital in Vietnam.

Pike Facility Cost Placed At $696,760

New Mountain Manor Of 100 Beds To Be Largest in East Ky.

Construction was scheduled to begin Wednesday on the Mountain Manor Nursing Home of Pikeville by Prestonsburg contractors for Pikeville Investors, Inc., which is Prestonsburg-owned.

The $696,760, 100-bed facility, believed to be the largest of its kind east of Lexington, will be of one-story brick construction with a floor area of 32,000 square feet.

Stockholders in Pikeville Investors are H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Dr. James D. Adams, Tom G. Dingus, George Lee Shannon and Jack Absher, all of Prestonsburg. All except Absher are owners of Mountain Manor Nursing Home of Prestonsburg which has been operated here the last two years. Contractors are W. R. Kendrick and Tom O. McGuire, also of Prestonsburg.

The nursing home, which will be built at the southern city limits of Pikeville, on US 23, will have 45 double rooms and five single rooms. Its 100-bed capacity is twice the capacity of the nursing home here before a six-bed addition was constructed at Mountain Manor of Prestonsburg.

Completion is scheduled within one year.

The Pikeville facility will be air-conditioned, with wall-to-wall carpeting, and will include offices, diet kitchen, lobby and these special features: physical therapy, its own laundry, a barber shop and beauty shop.

Oct. Report Shows Lunchrooms Lose

More than one-fourth of the 146,516 school lunches served last month in this county were free, and it's what is known in trading circles as "a losing proposition," a report of lunchroom operation for the month of October shows.

The report was released this week by Supt. of Schools Charles F. Clark. Last week, the superintendent was called upon to provide free lunches to all children of families who are beneficiaries of the "Poverty Program."

In all, 42,115 free lunches were served during the month for an average of 1,924 a day. This was 28.7 percent of the total number of lunches served.

Clark pointed out that of the 19 lunchrooms in operation in the county five are deep in debt; 10 could operate two days on their present cash balance when reimbursement is received from the state but are in the red until such reimbursement is received; three could operate two weeks on their present balances, and one could operate more than a month on its balance.

Adding further to lunchroom woes are the need of new equipment and the continuing increase in labor costs, the superintendent pointed out. Cooks are now receiving the minimum wage of $1.15 an hour, and next February 1 the minimum hourly wage will be $1.30.

"This will place an added burden on the lunchrooms unless present income is increased," Clark said.

Unpaid bills for October total $17,548.70, the report shows. Food costs for the month, exclusive of commodity foodstuffs, were $30,131.98; labor costs for 64 fulltime cooks and two who work part-time were $9,600.34, and for others, $2,517.34.

The average federal reimbursement per lunch served in the county's schools is six cents.

Mental Health Meet Slated Next Monday

A luncheon meeting has been scheduled at the Plantation Motel dining room next Monday, from 12 noon till 1 p.m., for all who are interested in the mental health work now under way in this section.

The speaker will be Dr. William B. Cook, who will discuss "Pre-Surgical Anxiety." The public is invited to the meeting and to become better acquainted with the mental health-mental retardation work.

SURGICAL PATIENT

Otis Bussey underwent surgery Tuesday at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville. His condition was described as favorable. Mrs. Bussey and their daughter, Mrs. Garland Godsey, are with him at the hospital.

Jerry's To Build Restaurant Here

Jerry's Restaurants this week announced plans for the building of a new Jerry's on North US 23 here, in the vicinity of the First Presbyterian Church and Prestonsburg Community College.

The contemporary style building will feature open-beam ceiling construction. The dining room will have facilities for more than 80 guests, and curb service parking will be available for 40 cars under a decorative, all-weather, steel canopy. Customers will place orders through an electronic speaker system. The restaurant also will offer telephone carry-out service.

Jack Absher, Frank Justice and Dr. B. J. Roe will operate the Prestonsburg franchise. They have announced that the restaurant will be locally managed, that it will employ 30 to 35 local people and will purchase most of its food and supplies locally.

According to Desha N. Sanders, Jr., executive vice-president of Jerico, Inc., the franchising company, this new restaurant will be the 41st Jerry's in Kentucky. Jerry's Restaurants is the largest restaurant chain in Kentucky and also has locations in five other southeastern and midwestern states.

Letters To the Editor

IN PRAISE OF COMPREHENSIVE HEALTH SERVICES PROGRAM
EDITOR, The Times:
So many words have been printed about what is wrong with the various government programs, I want to pay tribute where tribute is due to one of the finest county-federal programs I have ever seen in action, namely, the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program. To all who had a part in bringing this program to Floyd county I want to say a big "Thank You."

People who never before had even the transportation available to receive medical care now have both. This program has accomplished more in the short time it has been in operation than anyone would have thought possible. It has been a blessing to the churches and interested citizens who have tried to help those who need help. It is a boon to the social workers because it covers many aspects that the social workers had done mostly on their own, heretofore.

I urge every interested citizen to help the personnel of this program to search out the ones in need of medical care. I have found them not only able but very willing. It is a big satisfaction to me to see tax dollars spent for this program.

Field of Education 'Unlimited' Perkins Says in Alice Lloyd Talk

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Rep. Carl D. Perkins, (D., Ky.) suggested here last Tuesday that the field of education is "unlimited" and predicted that education is destined to be the "biggest business" in this country "when world conditions permit."

Addressing nearly 300 students and members of the faculty of Alice Lloyd College, the chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee reported that federal programs now assist some 12.5 percent of all young people attending colleges and universities throughout the country. "This is a far cry," he said, "from the first days of the National Defense Education Act." This legislation, enacted in 1958, aided less than 200,000 students on an appropriation of some $200 million as late as 1963, he said.

Plate End With A 2? December Is the Time For Vehicle Inspection

Frankfort, Ky. — During the month of December, owners of automobiles with license plates ending in the numeral 2 are required to have their vehicles inspected.

Motor vehicle inspection records show that 1.2 million vehicles have been inspected to date this year.

Commissioner W. O. Newman, Department of Public Safety, said, "With just a few weeks left in the year, we are assuming that a large majority of cars have been inspected."

Enforcement action is being felt by those automobile owners who have failed to have their cars inspected.

Figures released by the Kentucky State Police show that during the three-month period of August, September and October more than 4,500 citations were issued for the violation of not having a valid inspection sticker displayed on vehicles.

Anyone operating a motor vehicle without a valid inspection sticker is in violation and subject to arrest and court action.

NEW PARKWAY SHOULD LINK WITH US 23

Governor Nunn's recent announcement of plans to build four additional toll roads was of special interest to Eastern Kentucky, since one of the four routes is the Daniel Boone Parkway to link Hazard and London.

The Daniel Boone Parkway will connect at the Hazard end with the Mountain Parkway to the Blue Grass and with KY 80 which in its present condition will provide a crude connection with US 23. At the London terminus the Parkway would hook onto US 25.

Of more than passing interest is the potential of this new road to all Eastern Kentucky. But for it to attain its full potential one of two things must be done:

Either the Parkway itself must be continued on through Perry and Knott counties over KY 80 to connect with US 23 at Allen in this county, or KY 80 itself must be made a modern highway between Allen and Hazard as a usable link with the Parkway.

Kentucky highway officials are aware of the importance of this connecting highway. It is possible that they already are studying the possibility of such construction. If they are not, public officials and citizens of the area should emphasize to them and future state administrations the urgency of such a vital link in the Kentucky highway chain.

KUAC Urges Nunn To Halt AV Work

The Kentucky Un-American Activities Committee last Friday urged Gov. Louie B. Nunn to discontinue the Appalachian Volunteer program, claiming the program is detrimental to the state.

This week when the committee resumed hearings at Pikeville strong objection to KUAC's action was voiced.

The committee said the AV project is poorly supervised, over-financed and staffed by persons with little training. "They work apparently to create strife rather than better the life of the people..." the report stated.

It also urged the state to help Pike county set up a water district in the Marrowbone Creek area before the community loses a federal grant for the project.

The committee accused the AV's of interfering with the project. "They did nothing to help get the federal grant," the report continued, "but once it was obtained, tried directly or indirectly to run it and take it over..."

Commission Chairman Scott Miller released the report, based on two days of hearings of the organization held at Pikeville last October. The hearings resume next Tuesday.

Miller told a news conference the Appalachian Volunteers were invited to attend the October sessions but did not.

"They are helping to keep the people down in poverty instead of lifting them out," Miller said. "And I think that sort of activity ought to be stopped."

He pointed out the program is supported by federal funds and must have the governor's approval to remain in the state.

At the first hearing, Dr. Edward Rustin, Pike county health officer, testified the Marrowbone Creek area depended upon wells for its water and many of those were contaminated.

When Mrs. Edith Easterling, an AV who is a Pike county resident, testified with the assistance of Dan Jack Combs, an attorney, to bring out points favorable to the AV's, members of the committee objected.

KUAC Chairman Scott Miller, the Republican state senator from Louisville, held the questioning was valid as long as it helped explain Mrs. Easterling's answers to Tim McCall, KUAC's counsel.

Another flicker of controversy arose when John Mays, editor of the student newspaper for Pikeville College, said Thomas Johns, the college president, had threatened him after he testified at KUAC's October hearings here.

Mays declared that Johns had told his mother after those hearings that Mays' testimony was "a complete lie" and that all members of the committee had told Johns they knew the testimony was false. That testimony involved what Mays said had taken place at an AV meeting he had attended.

At least three members of the committee said they had never talked with Johns about Mays' testimony or anything else.

Mrs. Easterling, 43, is a life-long resident of Pike county and has been an AV for about two years.

A STUDY OF LAWLESSNESS

"Abounding Lawlessness," a public affairs presentation prepared by Alvin B. Webb, of Prestonsburg, public affairs specialist with the Eastern Kentucky Resource Development Project, will be taught during coming weeks all over Kentucky at meetings of Homemakers Clubs, Jaycees and other groups.

Mr. Webb quotes phrases and references which pervade American conversation, printed matter and the public consciousness to emphasize the point that lawlessness does not merely exist but that it abounds—more extensive and more excessive than ever before.

And in the course of his presentation he attacks the problem by pointing to the need for a Christian response to it, respect for the law on the part of those who need to become involved, the re-establishing of moral standards, reasserting spiritual values and, lastly, the rejection of the permissiveness that permits children to do pretty well what they please. Webb's presentation follows:

Lawlessness does not just exist in our nation—it abounds! It is more extensive and more excessive than ever before.

Lawlessness is reflected in the gnawing fear that grips the people of this country. THE NATIONAL OBSERVER analysis states, "Fifty percent of the population of the nation's larger cities are afraid to walk the streets at night."

The current crime report published by the Federal Bureau of Investigation shows that in 1966 crime increased 11 percent over 1965 while the population increased by only 1.1 percent. Crime is increasing 10 times faster than the population.

Lawlessness is manifested in riots, looting and burning. In 1967 mindless mobs destroyed portions of nearly one hundred cities leaving thousands homeless, more than three thousand injured and scores killed.

Lawlessness is expressed in civil disobedience. Mr. J. Edgar Hoover states: "Civil disobedience is a pernicious doctrine which is undermining respect for law and order... to break the law even 'gently' can have eventually tragic consequences... Those who expose the theory of civil disobedience and authorities who free guilty violators must share a portion of the blame and responsibility for the turmoil in our streets." President John F. Kennedy said, "We have every right to disagree with a law but no right to disobey it."

A Christian Response
What can we do in the face of such lawlessness? We cannot be indifferent. Indifference and apathy make us unwitting allies of violence and lawlessness.

We must be involved in some way in an effort to end lawlessness. What then can we, as responsible Christians, do as we confront this crisis in our nation?—

Respect the Law Ourselves
J. Edgar Hoover has emphasized that "a rising contempt of and disrespect for law and order lie at the heart of the growing violence in America today."

Demonstration of disrespect is evident in the attitude toward traffic regulations. Many citizens feel no obligation to obey these laws. Following the 1954 decision of the Supreme Court regarding integration of our schools, many newspapers and lawyers joined politicians in urging open disobedience and in planning ways to get around the law. Then came the Civil Rights movement and its advocacy of civil disobedience.

Is it ever "lawful" to break the law? Is it right for the Christian to show disrespect for the law by engaging in civil disobedience? We can point to the Biblical examples of Daniel in the Lion's den and Peter before the Sanhedrin declaring, "We ought to obey God rather than men." Or we could cite examples from history such as Martin Luther as he stood before the authorities and said, "Here I stand. I can do no other. God help me."

Civil Disobedience
Civil disobedience is a serious matter. It is morally acceptable only when (1) inalienable rights are being violated (2) there is no other recourse, every attempt by lawful means having been exhausted, (3) it is non-violent, (4) it does not interfere with the rights of others, and (5) there is willingness to suffer the penalty of the law.

Apart from the above-mentioned conditions the Christian citizen must respect the law, heeding the admonition of Paul, "Let every person be subject to the governing authorities."

Alleviation of poverty and correction of social injustice would undoubtedly lower the crime rate and reduce lawlessness. But such measures are not a panacea in themselves. The rising crime rate in the affluent suburbs and the fact that Detroit, scene of the worst riots in 1967, had a model social welfare program are but two examples indicating that the cause of lawlessness is more than material or social... it is also moral.

Re-establish Moral Standards
Modern man has become the "measure of all things" including his moral behavior. He has no certain measuring rod for gauging character and conduct; no supreme moral authority for his life. His philosophy is summed up by Ernest Hemingway who said, "Moral is what you feel good after. Immoral is what you feel bad after." Standards of morality must be re-established.

Re-assert Spiritual Values
Values reflected by the criminal element do not differ greatly from the values held by society. Crimes against property reflect a desire for material goods. Crimes of violence in which a weapon is used reflect force or power. Sex crimes are an indication of sensuality. What are the dominant values in our society if not the desire to secure material goods, power and influence, and sensual pleasure? Our Lord taught, "Man shall not live by bread alone." Man is more than a trousered ape. Man is a spiritual being, created in the image of God and made for fellowship with God. Man has spiritual needs. We must re-assert a system of values that give proper emphasis to the things of the spirit.

Reject Permissiveness
Permissiveness prevails in the homes of America. Each available survey indicates that parents in all income brackets are letting their children do as they wish. There is a minimum of supervision and control. Children brought up on impulse released and accustomed to compliance to their every whim are ill-equipped to live in harmony with society and its laws.

Permissiveness pervades the campuses of America. A NEWSWEEK survey finds "tolerant attitudes toward almost any subject—encouraged by those who counsel the students on American campuses."

POSITION COURTS

Ever consider the importance of the position of words in a sentence? The word, "only," lends itself as an example: "It was only my wife"; or, "It was my only wife."

Same words but quite a difference.

'Whatsoever Things'

By DONALD E. WILDMON

We humans can put some things on the books and then forget about them easier than we realize. Take the case of what happened over in London. Britain's Law Commission came up with a list of recommendations for repeal of all laws "that cannot positively be shown to perform a useful function." Heading the list was "An act for the attainder of several persons guilty of the horrid murder of his late sacred Majesty King Charles the First." Charles I was executed in 1649.

Yep, we are slow about removing things from the books sometimes. Take church rolls, for instance. They contain more names on them than perhaps at any other time in history. Yet when you try to match those names with people actually doing their part in the work of the church, you come up kinda short—and amazed!

A recent article stated that in an average church one-third of its members were active with regularity, one-third were "occasional" in relationship to their vows, and one-third ignored their responsibility to the church completely. I suppose that that is about par for the course.

Pick up an average church roll and you will find names there that would surprise those who have been lifelong members of the church. Recently a minister was asking a member about a name on the roll that he was having difficulty locating. "Preacher," said the faithful member, "I have been active here for 30 years and I don't know who that is."

Maybe we should approach those who are "members" in name only and ask them to remove their name from the roll. This has been tried occasionally in the past. Most of the time those whose names are on the roll but whose hearts aren't in the church get very upset. Apparently, some think that if their name is on a roll here it is a kind of insurance policy that their name will be on the Roll Up There.

But those who fit this category about names on the roll and never supporting the church are not the only one who must bear the blame. A great part—maybe the largest part—falls on the shoulders of active church people who refuse to make church membership a serious and meaningful experience. We "soft-pedal" this thing of church membership and the result is that for more than half the membership it is a second-rate affair.

That's the difference between us and Him. He never toned it down, never lowered the standards, never offered it cheaply. He never had more than a handful, but He changed the world. We have a roll full and cannot change our local communities. He reminded them how great the cost; we tell them it is free.

If I had my name on the roll and didn't intend to live up to my vows I would take it off. And I believe I would begin to make church membership meaningful again by explaining the cost. Why? Because His way is so much superior to ours.

Right or Wrong

By HENRY A. BUCHANAN and BOB W. BROWN

Bully for the vicar of Hampstead. And three cheers for the vicar's wife!
 The Rev. Jack Dover Wellman, of Hampstead, London, armed with a ceremonial sword, routed an intruder who had broken into the vicarage. Then Mrs. Wellman chased the house-breaker 200 yards, put a hammer lock on his neck and held him until police arrived.

"An Englishman's home is his castle," says the sword yielding cleric, "and it's scandalous for people to try to break in. I think we should all have guns to protect ourselves."

With his trusty sword and the fleet footed Mrs. Wellman at his side, the Reverend probably can defend his castle without a gun.

But the subject of guns and police brings up an important action now being considered by the City Council of Washington, D. C. New restrictions would bar policemen from shooting unarmed looters, from firing at fleeing unarmed auto thieves, and from firing warning shots. Washington police have fatally shot 10 civilians within the past year, and the council is under pressure from citizens groups to revise the police firearms guidelines.

In the future police may have to determine two things before taking a shot at a fleeing felon.

1. That the crime for which the police are chasing the suspect involved the use of "deadly force."

2. That there is "substantial risk" that the suspect is armed and that he may kill or seriously injure someone "if his apprehension is delayed."

We think the councilmen are moving in the right direction. There has been a lot of talk about legal curbs on the police making it difficult to enforce the law. It needs also to be said that policemen sometimes get trigger happy and do more damage than the lawbreakers they are trying to apprehend. There is nothing in our American idea of law and order that makes it right for a policeman to shoot a man for committing a crime for which the courts would fine him or sentence him to 60 days.

More policemen ought to take track lessons from the vicar's wife. Then they could chase down fleeing felons instead of shooting them or, what is worse, innocent bystanders.

WEST PRESTONSBURG SCOUT SELECTED AS A CANDIDATE FOR REPORT TO THE NATION

John S. Leach, of West Prestonsburg, has been selected as the Report to the Nation candidate for the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to George C. Wells, council president. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Leach, he is 17 years of age and is a senior at Prestonsburg high school.

Young Leach will compete with Scouts and Explorers selected by 36 other Boy Scout Councils in Region Four for the privilege of representing the region in the Report to the Nation. Each of the 12 regions in the United States selects one Scout or Explorer to serve as their Report to the Nation Scout. The 12 boys who are selected report next February to the President and the Congress on Scouting activities throughout the country.

Leach first started in Scouting as a Cub Scout when he was eight years old. He was a member of Cub Pack 6, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church in Prestonsburg, and joined Troop 27, sponsored by the Community Methodist Church here when he was 11, and has been a member of that troop continuously up to the present time. He received his Eagle Award on January 6, 1964, and has earned a Bronze, Gold, and two Silver Palms. He received his God and Country Award on November 6, 1966.

The Floyd county Scout has participated in many different Scouting activities and served in many leadership capacities. He was a Cub denner as a Cub Scout. Since joining Troop 27 he has served as assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, scribe, and senior patrol leader. He attended the Sixth National Jamboree in 1964, and Philmont Scout Ranch in 1968. He is a Brotherhood Honor Member of the Order of the Arrow, and served as Lodge Chief during 1968. He has earned the 50-Miler Award by both hiking and canoeing, has earned the Scout Lifeguard Award, the Mile Swim Award, and was winner of the Safety Essay Contest in Kentucky in 1965.

The Scout is a member of the St. David's Episcopal Church, Pikeville, where he is chief acolyte of St. David's Acolyte Guild and president of the Episcopal Young Churchmen. At Prestonsburg high school he has served as vice-president of the National Honor Society, is a member of the Drama Club and the Prestonsburg Co-Ed Y.

Development Groups' Directors To Meet

The Floyd County Development Association and Floyd County CAP board of directors will meet Monday evening at 6:30 in the Floyd circuit courtroom. Cecil Sturgill, chairman of both organizations, announced this week.

Featured speaker for the evening will be Gene Graves, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, Paintsville. Mr. Graves will discuss loans available from the Farmers Home Administration for housing and community facilities and small business loans.

AIRPORT FOR PIKEVILLE MAY COST $9 MILLION

Pikeville officials are almost ready to file an application for airport-construction funds which, if approved, could be a giant step toward opening up the mountain-locked community. The U. S. Economic Development Administration (EDA) will be asked to supply 80 percent of the money needed to build an air facility that would cost an estimated $7 million to $9 million. The money would be used to build a lighted, 5,000-foot paved airstrip some four miles south of the city. Presently, the city is served by a 2,700-foot, crushed-rock airstrip that is unlighted, with hazardous approaches along the river valley. Pikeville-Pike County Air Board Chairman Fred W. Baker explained, "We subscribe to the idea that this is the air age." He cited existing airstrip shortcomings as: Inability to handle anything but small planes, year-to-year lease of the airstrip land, and lack of a full-time airstrip operator. The Pikeville airport proposal is one of 15 projects recommended in the annual report of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). Inclusion in the FAA report is necessary to receive federal airport funds. Baker, as well as Mayor W. C. Hambley and a consultant who recently studied the proposed airport in some detail, consider a new air facility vital to the community's development. They and other supporters of the proposal point out that Pikeville's general inaccessibility looms as a powerful obstacle to industrial or tourist development. One state official said, "By the time we drive a prospect from Lexington to Pikeville, he is already shaking his head 'No' before we even talk to anybody." The positive pressures for an airport are stirring even more interest.

An Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) study last year concluded that whenever one county or two adjacent counties had a population of 65,000 and an identifiable urban area, the area was a "candidate for air-carrier (airplanes) service." Pike county far exceeds these specifications.

Contrary to the impression held by many, a lot of people live in these mountains. Sprawling Pike county has a population of about 70,000, and Pikeville definitely is an identifiable urban area.

Twelve counties (including two in Virginia and one in West Virginia) within a 50-mile radius contain 345,603 people.

In a report completed last summer under a contract with EDA, consulting engineer Michael Baker, Jr., of Rochester, Pa., estimated that the cost of building an airport south of Pikeville would cost 2½ or 3 times the normal costs of building such an airport because of the terrain. It would necessitate knocking the tops off two mountains and filling in between them.

But consultant Baker still argued that the reasons for going ahead with the project were overwhelming.

He said that a minimum of 22,500 yearly boardings and 11,580 general-aviation (private and small planes) operations could be expected by the time the airport would open in 1972. In less than 10 years, this figure would double.

Baker also said that although the FAA would prefer a runway of 6,000 feet, "experience at other airports of even less length shows that such a runway can and will be used by even the largest of business jets with only small operational restrictions."

Baker's cost estimate was $9.7 million for such an airport, but a more detailed examination of site-preparation expenses leads Pikeville officials to think that it can be done for less. And although Baker recommended that the FAA be tapped for the bulk of the cost, Pikeville will be aiming for EDA, since FAA is low on money now.

Martin Native Appointed To President's Council On Health and Welfare

Albert B. Osborne, Jr., administrator of Samaritan Hospital, Troy, New York, and a native of Martin, has been named one of 60 executives from the nation to serve on the President's Council of the National Health and Welfare Retirement Association.

Appointment to the post was confirmed during the Association's recent annual meeting in New York City. Formal notification was received from Association President, Richard C. Brockway.

The President's Council, on which Osborne will serve a one-year term, is structured to provide broad representation of the field served by the NHRWA. During the year members of the Council will participate in regional meetings designed to help the Association effectively meet its current operating responsibilities and its need to plan for and react promptly to the challenges that will face private and voluntary retirement systems in the future.

Mr. Osborne is a son of Mrs. Hattie Osborne, of Martin, and the late A. B. Osborne.

Beneficiaries May Earn Up to $1680 Without Losing of Benefits

The social security amendments of 1967 raise from $1,500 to $1,680 the amount of total earnings a social security beneficiary may have in a year without any of his benefits being withheld.

Daryl E. Ratliff, district manager, Pikeville district office, points out that this new provision applies to all monthly beneficiaries under age 72 but not to any person who is receiving benefits because he is disabled. (Special rules with medical considerations must be applied when people who are receiving benefits because of their disability return to work.)

No benefits will be withheld from a beneficiary if his earnings are no more than $1,680 in 1968. If total earnings exceed $1,680, $1 is withheld from benefits for each $2 of earnings above that total. But, no benefits would be lost for a month in which the beneficiary neither earns over $140 in wages nor performs substantial services as a self-employed person. As under previous law, beginning with the month in which he reached age 72 no benefits are withheld regardless of how much a beneficiary may earn.

Mr. Ratliff emphasized that, due to these new provisions, it is increasingly important that people approaching retirement age realize that they may be able to collect some social security benefits although they still continue to work.

Outstanding Young Women List 3 from This County

Three Floyd women have been selected to appear in the 1968 edition of OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA. It was announced this week by Mrs. Patricia Boyle, director of the Outstanding Americans Foundation.

Honored from this county are Mrs. Hollie Fay Osborne Wicker, of Eastern; Mrs. Winifred Louise Mansell Prentiss, of Route 1, Martin, and Mrs. Peggy Ann Ackley, Boca Raton, Fla., formerly of this county.

More than 5,000 women between the ages of 21 and 35 are so recognized annually by OAF, and from these 50 are selected each year—one from each state—as their state's Outstanding Young Woman.

Guidelines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service, professional excellence, business advancement and civic and professional recognition.

SEALED OR UNSEALED, CHRISTMAS CARDS REQUIRE 6 CENTS

Prestonsburg Postmaster Jack Stumbo this week suggested the following steps be followed by persons mailing Christmas cards and parcels during the Christmas season:

1. All Christmas cards must have a 6-cent stamp on them, sealed or unsealed.

2. All Christmas cards and parcels should have a return address on them.

3. All Christmas cards should, and all parcels must have the Zip Code in the address and return address.

4. All parcels must be wrapped and tied securely before they will be accepted for mailing and they should be insured against damage.

5. Mail all Christmas cards early in the day and mail all cards and parcels as soon as possible.

Stumbo said that if the five steps outlined, are followed, the Post Office department will be more successful in making Christmas more enjoyable for those mailing and receiving cards and parcels.

BRECKINRIDGE SUGGESTS SECRET BALLOT IN VOTE FOR PRECINCT CHAIRMAN

Attorney General John Breckinridge has urged the State Executive Committee and local committees of both political parties to "dispel all secrecy and misinformation surrounding the organization and formation of the parties' structure."

Breckinridge, in making the statement, noted that the Democratic party will be electing precinct committeemen and committeewomen Saturday, December 7. These elections, starting at 10 a.m., will be held at each polling place used in the November 5 general election. In addition to the local committeemen and committeewomen, each precinct will elect a young committeeman of the age of 35 or under.

Breckinridge pointed out that "at the Democratic state convention held last July, a resolution which I presented was adopted calling for state legislation that would guarantee to citizens of the Commonwealth, young and old, without regard to condition, race or national origin, an opportunity to take their proper place and play their rightful role in the affairs of their political party."

He said state legislation should be passed that would provide the following:

Selection of the major parties precinct committee chairmen and chairwomen by secret ballot in primary elections open to all qualified party members in each precinct; and

A continuing voice in party affairs by the people through their elected chairmen and chairwomen, rather than the relinquishment of such authorities to the County Executive committee.

"I would hope that the December 7 elections are widely publicized so that all registered Democrats can participate in the organization of their party in line with the spirit and objectives of the resolution adopted at the state Democratic convention," Breckinridge said.

Emphasizing the importance of this participation by every citizen, Breckinridge said "The strength of democracy and freedom's future rests in the informed and active political affairs."

The Republican party elects its committeemen and committeewomen in the spring of each presidential election year and will not hold another election of committee members until 1972.
