Library, Highway Work Pacts Near

Bidding Due During Week On Projects

Board To Open Bids On Library Addition; Road Letting, Next

Two far-reaching public improvement projects are due this week to near the construction stage as contractors' bids are being opened.

The Floyd County Library Board will meet this afternoon (Thursday) to open bids on construction of an addition to the present library structure and on some remodeling of the existing building. The work will involve an estimated $159,000.

Tomorrow (Friday) the Department of Highways will open bids on construction of a bridge across the Big Sandy at Lancer and the Lancer-Water Gap road. Overall length of the project is 2.6 miles. The bridge will connect US 23 with the area in which the U. S. Shoe Company is located and where the Prestonsburg Ministerial Association's rent-supplement housing project is under construction. The road will link the present US 23 with the new when the latter is built via Katy Friend and Bull Creek to Allen.

The Lancer-Water Gap road is also viewed as opening up a sizeable area north toward Prestonsburg on the west side of the Big Sandy where business and residential property may be developed.

The Library Board recently received a state grant of $7,276 as the first year's payment on the library addition. Plans announced by Gov. Nunn and State Librarian Donald Wells indicate the same amount will be provided annually over a period of 20 years to the Floyd library. The proposed addition will give the library here 8,328 square feet of floor space.

High Court Voids Miner Pay Ruling

The Kentucky Court of Appeals last week held in reversing a Floyd circuit court decision that the Workmen's Compensation Board had not acted arbitrarily in denying the claim to compensation of Earl Dale, a coal miner for 40 years.

The Appellate Court opinion reversed that of Circuit Judge Hollie Conley who last year overruled the Workmen's Compensation Board after it had refused compensation to Dale, a former employe of Island Creek Coal Company and its predecessor, Inland Steel Company.

Only Judge Edward P. Hill of the seven justices took an opposite view. In a sharp dissent he said, "To me this evidence is so overwhelming as to require a finding for Dale by the board, notwithstanding that there is some contradictory evidence for the appellants."

Prestonsburg Marine Is Slightly Wounded Feb. 23rd in Vietnam

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sloan, of Prestonsburg, have been notified that their son, Lance Cpl. William Sloan, sustained a mortal shell fragmentation wound in his right shoulder February 23 during action against the enemy in Quang Nam Province, Vietnam.

Young Sloan, who is serving with a Marine Corps unit, was treated in the field and returned to duty, his parents were told.

AUTO, CARGO HAUL IN RAID

Officers Nab Perry Saturday at Auxier; Meade Held for Pike

Herman Perry was arrested Saturday at Auxier by Sheriff Joe W. Lewis and deputies when they found 660 cans of beer and 29 half-pints of whiskey in his automobile, parked at the rear of his residence.

The car was confiscated and, because of that action, it was said at the Sheriff's office, the case will not be heard in quarterly court but will be taken to the next grand jury for circuit court hearing. Others taking part in the raid were Deputy Sheriffs Claude Flanery, Tom James, John Reed and J. D. Martin.

Robert Lee Meade was jailed here last Thursday by Sheriff Lewis and Deputy Sheriff Martin on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a female under the age of 18. Two charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was held for Pike county authorities.

Charles Fred Powell was arrested on a drunk driving count by State Trooper Angel, and Billy Ray Whitt was booked by Deputies Flanery and Reed on a charge of hit-run driving. Whitt was later released.

Red Cross To Start Annual Fund Drive In Area Tomorrow

The Floyd county Red Cross drive will officially begin tomorrow (Friday). Businesses and professional people will be contacted first. A few days later, every-member canvasses will be conducted by volunteer workers.

In the last 12 years the American Red Cross has spent more than a million dollars in Floyd county. "For every 4c the people of Floyd county have given to the Floyd County Chapter of the Red Cross, the National Red Cross has spent $1 in our area—in other words the Red Cross has spent 25 times as much money in Floyd county, in the past 12 years, than our residents have contributed to the Red Cross."

Let's show our appreciation by giving generously to the Red Cross this year.

This Town... That World

Any morning the dog has more trouble than I getting up, he gets the day off.

WHY?

I'm strong for the Pike County Chamber of Commerce in its work toward developing the Fishtrap reservoir area to attract tourists. But I would have more hope for the project if Pike county was a bit more interested in keeping out of the lake that coal-blackened water from upstream points, mostly in Virginia.

"WONDER," OUTDATED WORD

Once there were Seven Wonders of the World. There also was a time when an unusual event was termed a nine-day wonder. But all that's passe. Who wonders at the Leaning Tower of Pisa when a rocket higher than it is begins belching fire and takes off, heading out toward the moon? And even a space flight can't qualify as a nine-day wonder, these days. It's lucky to hold us in wonderment through a television program.

NO CALCULATED RISK

Some men will admit they don't belong to Leonidas and his do-or-die brand, but the rarest are those who will admit to cutting a sorry figure in time of combat. One such was an old friend, now gone, who not only admitted he hadn't always been a hero but at times regaled others by recounting exploits from which he emerged something less than a Congressional Medal winner.

One of these stories had to do with a fray on Right Beaver Creek in which guns and perhaps a few knives were so in evidence that it began to seem nobody was going to leave the field under his own steam. So our hero(?) took off, ran half a mile to an old ford, skipped across the stream and took refuge in a convenient cornfield.

Discussing the episode a few days later, he was asked by an acquaintance:

"Why did you run all that distance to the ford — why didn't (See Story No. 4, Page 4)

PIKE GROUP SEEKS HELP

To Develop Fishtrap Area; Lodge, Boating Facilities in Plans

Development of the Fishtrap Dam area into a tourist attraction was sought by members of the Pike County Chamber of Commerce in a conference Tuesday with State Parks Commissioner Gable and other officials at Frankfort.

The lake behind Fishtrap dam will be impounded this spring.

Jack Farley, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said a lodge and camping and boating facilities as well as an access road around the lake will be sought. Both state and federal help will be solicited in an effort to convert the new lake and its surrounding area into a major attraction.

Pastors, Counselors Set Vocations Consultation

A consultation on vocations for high school counselors and pastors of churches in Eastern Kentucky is planned for March 25 at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. Purpose of the program is to develop understanding and cooperation between ministers and school counselors in the area of vocational guidance and teenage problems.

Two speakers will be featured. Elmer Martin, counselor at Betsy Layne high school, will speak on "The Work of the School Counselor and Vocational Guidance." Dr. LeRoy Lindsay, professor of English at Pikeville College and stated supply pastor at the Highlands Presbyterian Church, Canada, Ky., will speak for the ministers. His topic will be "The Work of Pastors and Vocational Guidance." Each address will be followed by a discussion period.

The meeting is being sponsored through the Kentucky Council of Churches under the leadership of a local committee

BOARD PICKS ACTING SUPT.

Ratliff Designated Temporarily While Clark Recuperating

The Floyd County Board of Education at its Saturday meeting designated Wayne Ratliff, assistant superintendent of Floyd schools, as acting superintendent to serve during the convalescence of Supt. Charles Clark from injuries suffered recently in an automobile wreck.

This county's Head Start program is one of the best he has audited, the auditor who inspected Head Start records here and various other counties told the board.

One of the orders voted at the meeting authorized George Lee Shannon, architect, to prepare plans and specifications, and to advertise for bids, on the remodeling of a classroom at Prestonsburg high school. The room will be converted into a science room, and half the cost will be paid by Title III NDEA funds.

The board also authorized negotiations for a high school equivalency program for employees on welfare projects, and accepted recommendations of the teacher-composed Floyd County Textbook Committee for the selection of textbooks.

The high bid of Virginia Draught of $125 on the old Myrtle school building was accepted.

Transfers and leaves of absences resulted in a shifting of teachers. When Georgia Layne transferred from a teaching post at McDowell to that of librarian there, Ruby Damron was transferred from the Right Toler school as her teaching replacement, and Rebecca Tackett was employed as teacher of the Toler school. The shuffling of personnel began with the resignation of Sandra Hall Zevely as McDowell librarian. A leave of absence was granted Patricia Baldwin, Prestonsburg high school teacher, and Joan Hall was employed as her replacement. Goldia Stephens was granted a leave at Clark elementary, and Harry Alex Banks was employed in her stead.

Lois Johnson and Coleen Clark were employed as clerks in the board's offices here, succeeding Debbie Hicks and Kathy Thornburg. Highland Nelson was employed as custodian at Prestonsburg high school, replacing Felix Boleh. Kenneth Osborne was employed as fulltime bus driver and Sammy Wells as substitute driver.

Easter Seal Drive Starts March 1st

The 1969 Easter Seal Campaign began March 1 and continues through April 6, Easter Sunday.

Frank Camp, Louisville, state Easter Seal campaign chairman, said contributions to the annual appeal, sponsored by the Kentucky Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, help support a statewide program of services, including medical care and hospitalization, therapies, special schooling, recreation and resident camping.

More than 500,000 letters contacting Easter Seals will be mailed this year to residents in every county in the state. In addition to the mail appeal, upwards of 10,000 volunteer workers will participate in other fund-raising events.

Brackett Reviews U. S. School Aid

Representing the Floyd County Board of Education, Ray Brackett, Title I coordinator in the Floyd school system, Monday told the House Committee on Education and Labor in Washington what the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act has meant to this county since 1965.

Brackett and three other Kentucky educators appeared before the committee at the invitation of its chairman, Congressman Carl D. Perkins. Perkins termed the act "the greatest education program ever inaugurated by Congress" as far as Appalachia is concerned. He hit at the "dereliction" of Congress in slicing the appropriation to half the amount needed for implementation of the program but expressed confidence full financing will be approved this year.

Since passage of the law in 1965, said Brackett, a host of new programs have been started to aid the 5,839 Floyd county youngsters who fall into the economically deprived class. Among them, he said, were:

1. Hiring of a librarian, guidance counselor and physical education teacher to serve county elementary schools.
2. Purchase of two mobile units which reach 22 isolated rural schools with audio-visual equipment and instructional assistance.
3. Extra training for teachers.
4. Employment of social workers to investigate home conditions that might affect a child's ability to learn.
5. Examination of more than 5,000 youngsters for hearing and visual defects, leading to the purchase of hearing aids, partial dental plates and more than 800 pairs of glasses.
6. Special classes for the mentally retarded, with transportation, food and supplies furnished.

Hospital Fund Now Past $95,000 Mark

Major pledges for the proposed regional hospital to be built on US 23, between Prestonsburg and Paintsville, Tuesday had reached a total in excess of $95,000, the Rev. Milton E. Skiff, general fund drive chairman, reported.

Pledges in whatever amount would be sought in the phase of the drive starting soon in an effort to reach all residents of the area.

"As the campaign nears the $100,000 mark," the Rev. Skiff said, "we will need a great deal of financial help from the concerned citizens of Martin, Johnson, Magoffin and Floyd counties in order to reach our goal of $150,000. Whatever amount is given will be needed and appreciated."

Some of the major pledges received to date were made by the following firms and individuals: Francis Stores, The Bank Joseph, Dr. George P. Archer, Hall's Life Insurance, Rev. J. E. Skiff, Chalmer H. ## P'burg and Wayland First Round Winners

Prestonsburg defeated Betsy Layne, 72-58, in the first game of the 58th district basketball tournament here Wednesday night, and Wayland downed McDowell in the second game, 88-64.

Tonight (Thursday), it will be Martin vs. Wheelwright and Maytown vs. Garrett.

David Walls, acting director of the Appalachian Volunteers, termed as "ridiculous" the charge made by Mrs. Edith Easterling, of Pike county, that the AV's have fired "everyone who really wants to help the poor people of Pike county."

Mrs. Easterling's statement followed her being dropped from the AV payroll. Walls said she is one of 16 persons to be laid off since October because of a lack of funds. He added that the AV's still have three Eastern Kentucky natives on the staff in Pike county and that the decision to drop her from the payroll was made by the Pike County Citizens Association, a group on Morrowbone Creek which has a contract to work with the AV's.

ROADS HEAD QUILTS POST

Hazelrigg Resigns Followed by Melvin; Nunn Names Goss

William B. Hazelrigg, Paintsville, last Friday resigned as commissioner of Kentucky highways, and Gov. Nunn later in the day named Eugene Goss, of Harlan county, to succeed him.

Departure of Commissioner Hazelrigg has been accompanied by that of James "Slick" Melvin, also of Paintsville, who has held the post of personnel director in the Highway Department since the Nunn administration took over in Frankfort.

The resignation of Hazelrigg was not unexpected. Earlier last month, he denied plans to resign "at that time," but admitted he was not satisfied with the situation.

In his letter of resignation to Gov. Nunn, Hazelrigg said he was returning to his home in Paintsville "because of some personal reasons and commitments."

"I do want to make it perfectly clear that this resignation is in no way predicated upon the considerations of health or fatigue," he said, "and I trust that history will speak well of you and your administration and that the next three years will produce a momentous chapter in Kentucky's history."

Nunn and Hazelrigg each professed close personal ties to the other. This apparently was designed to negate recent reports of differences between their two offices, especially over personnel matters.

Much of Hazelrigg's dissatisfaction in his job reportedly arose from transfers, promotions and dismissals made in the highway department without his knowledge. Daily newspaper reports blamed Melvin with this, but there was no official word to that effect from his chief.

Hazelrigg did remark recently, "If I'm to be responsible to the governor for getting the job done, I must be responsible for personnel." (See Story No. 2, Page 3)

AV Director Says Claim Of Ex-Worker, Ridiculous

Mrs. Easterling was one of the AV's stoutest defenders when the Kentucky Committee on Un-American Activities held hearings at Pikeville.

During the hearings in December, Mrs. Easterling, a Pike county native, chided the KCUA for recommending that the AV's be ordered from Kentucky without "knowing all the facts." She told the committee that instead of criticizing and investigating the AV's it should "go out in the hollows and see the people who have to go to bed hungry."

Mrs. Easterling said last week that she has no regrets about her testimony but that she is disillusioned with the AV organization.

Delegation Airs Views At Meeting

Legal Battles Yet Undecided; Pollution Hearing Date Is Set

The Floyd County Board of Education, which has in recent weeks heard the protests of residents of the town of Martin in opposition to consolidation of four high schools into one at Eastern on Right Beaver Creek, was told Saturday by representatives of other towns in that section of their support of the new school.

Spokesmen for the group pointed out that their purpose was to express interest in the new school, saying that 95 percent or more of the residents of their communities want the Eastern school built. "We think our children will have better advantages and will be better prepared for college," one said.

The board was told that a petition in support of the Eastern school was being circulated. This week, the petition bearing the names of more than 1,600 persons is being published as an advertisement in The Times.

Meanwhile, the legal fight over the school is not settled. The suit filed by Martin residents to enjoin the board is in the hands of Special Judge James B. Stephenson, of Pikeville, and a delay in its disposal poses a threat to the sale of bonds to finance construction of the new school. Scheduled for Friday is a hearing before the Kentucky Water Pollution Commission at Frankfort on the complaint filed by Martin residents that the sewage disposal facilities planned for the school at Eastern will not be adequate to prevent pollution of Beaver Creek from which Martin draws its water supply.

WATER NEAR FOR DISTRICT

Sandy Valley System OK Seen in Ten Days; 200 Now Are Served

The entire Sandy Valley Water District system extending from the northern city limits of Pikeville to Stanville in this county is expected to be in operation within the next 10 days, it was said here this week.

Work on the laying of lines, construction of reservoirs and other items of the undertaking was completed, a few weeks ago. But tests must be completed and the water given health department approval before it will go into homes and businesses.

Paul R. Gearheart, of Harold, said Wednesday that about 200 consumers in the southern (upper) section of the district are now receiving water service from the system. This is, roughly, 25 percent of those to be served. The service will be extended to the others when the water purity is confirmed.

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory of Walter Messinger, who passed away Feb. 20, 1968:

One sad and lonely year Has passed since you went away. The shock still lingers in my heart As I miss you more each day. When evening shadows are falling, In my heart there comes a longing; If you could only be at home, They say time heals all sorrow And helps us to forget But time has only proved how Much I miss you yet. As I wander to your grave, Beneath it sleeps a loved one, To think just how you left me, One lonely year ago. Sadly missed by his wife, VERNIE

The governor praised Hazelrigg for achieving "an enviable and distinguished record of accomplishment" in what must be considered the most demanding post in the state cabinet.

Mr. Hazelrigg, a former commonwealth's attorney in the judicial district composed of Johnson, Lawrence and Martin counties, has made no secret of the fact that he would like to be circuit judge, but his longtime friend, Judge W. D. Sparks, already has filed for reelection.

He is remaining temporarily in Frankfort while the new commissioner is "getting the feel" of the office, but the transition period is not expected to require more than two weeks.

Goss, the new highway commissioner, was until last Saturday economic security commissioner. Merritt S. Deitz, Jr., of Wilmore, was named to the economic security post.

Stolen Money Order Blanks Found, Pike Men Held in Nashville, Tenn.

Pikeville, Ky.—Five Pike county men will face federal charges in Nashville, Tenn., of possession of 100 stolen money order blanks allegedly taken February 23 in the robbery of the Fleming, Ky. postoffice.

Arrested at a Nashville motel Wednesday and charged with possession were Estill Lee Sowards, 30, of Pikeville, Rt. 2; Steve Tackett, 25, of Lionel, Ky.; Willie Tice Tackett, 21, of Myra; Lester Davis, 22, of Pikeville, Rt. 2, and Ira Stewart, 23, also of near Pikeville.

Their arrest followed a tip from an employee of a rubber stamp manufacturer, officers revealed Monday. Members of the group asked the firm to make a stamp suitable for imprinting money orders with a changeable date and the address of the Ashland, Ky. postoffice.

The Kentucky investigation by postal inspectors Charles Garner and Troutman, Kentucky State Police Lt. Doug Soward, of the Pikeville post and State Police Sgt. H. G. Jarvis, of the Hazard post brought additional charges Monday in Letcher county against three of the five accused, Sowards, Stewart and Davis.

Sgt. Jarvis said breaking and entering warrants were secured from Letcher county court after a Sunday night raid of a Pike county home on a federal search order by state and federal officers investigating the postal theft. He said officers found sleeping bags at the home which had been stolen from the Johnson Motor Co. at Jenkins, February 21.

The three are also charged with breaking and entering the B. F. Furniture Co. at Jeremiah, in Letcher county, last January which netted more than $10,000 in television sets and other items.

Dale's "chronic obstructive pulmonary disease" was secondary to chronic bronchitis, a lung disorder suffered by the public at large. Emphysema also is a disease of the general public.

State law does not provide for workmen's compensation payments for diseases suffered by the general public unless they follow "as an incident of an occupational disease."

The Compensation Board found that Dale was "not affected by silicosis or any other form of pneumoconiosis and has no compensable disability as the result of such disease."

Circuit Judge Conley reversed that ruling, saying:

"While it may be true that Dale is neither suffering from silicosis or soft coal workers pneumoconiosis, it is abundantly clear... that his pulmonary condition was the direct result of some 40 years exposure to the hazards of an occupational pulmonary disease and the board erred in not making such a finding."

In the opinion of the majority of the high court, the circuit judge did not have sufficient evidence to rule the board had acted arbitrarily, the only grounds by which he could overturn its ruling.

"The court was powerless to disturb the decision of the board," said Judge Samuel Steinfeld for the high court, "unless the evidence was... so clear cut and convincing that the court could justly conclude that the board acted erroneously as a matter of law."

"It appears to us," Judge Steinfeld said, "that the weight of the evidence was in favor of Dale; nevertheless, we cannot hold that the board acted erroneously as a matter of law because the testimony of two well qualified physicians was that the ailment was emphysema which was not the result of exposure to dust in the mines."

Holding that Judge Conley had erred in setting aside the board's decision, the high court affirmed the decision of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Kentucky Libraries To Help Job-Seekers, Particularly Women

Frankfort, Ky. — A wealth of new materials to assist job-seekers in selecting and planning an employment career is available through Kentucky's regional library system.

The Department of Libraries has purchased 24 occupational kits, published by Science Research Associates (SRA) Inc., for distribution to all regional library headquarters and larger member libraries.

Included are 530 occupational briefs and analyses describing major job fields, the nature of the work, education required, salary scales and hours of work, along with chances for advancement and outlook for the future.

Mrs. Marie Humphries, chairman of the Kentucky Commission on Women, said the materials can be of particular interest to girls and women who may not be aware of the many types of employment available.

Mrs. Humphries recommended that each library hold discussion groups on vocational opportunities for women. Each person attending would be given an opportunity to examine the information contained in the SRA occupational kit.

In addition, libraries are being stocked with over 80 booklets of particular help to youth. The booklets contain material pertaining to employment, personality and social adjustment. Subjects included are: self confidence, grooming and manners, taking tests, streamlining reading, getting along with others, and honesty.

Each regional library headquarters has been designated as a recipient of these materials. They can be loaned in part or in full to member counties, depending on the number of requests.

Attention, All Citizens

Please Be Very Cautious About Signing Any Petition, As It Might Be One Asking for A Local Option Election Concerning the Liquor Issue.

We Encourage the People of This County Not to Sign This Petition As It Would Be A Call for:

- 1. Beer Joints (Taverns) Where An "Undesirable Element" From the Five Surrounding Dry Counties Could Congregate.
2. Loss of Profits for Legitimate Business. (The American Business Men's Research Foundation of Chicago Made A Study of the City of Knoxville, Tenn., When It Went From "Dry" To "Wet," and Reported That Retail Sales Dropped 4% There.)
3. An Increase of Slaughter On Our Highways by Drunken and Drinking Drivers. (The Same Survey Mentioned Above About Knoxville, Tenn., Reported That When the City Went From Dry To Wet That Traffic Deaths Due To Liquor Rose 312% In the First Year.)
4. An Impossible Job for Law Enforcement Officers With About 17 Package Stores and An Unlimited Number of Beer Joints. (In the Same Knoxville, Tenn. Survey, the Recorded Facts Are That Bootlegging Rose 250% When the City Went From "Dry" To "Wet.")

For These and Other Reasons; for the Sake of Your Families and Neighbors; for the Sake of Conscience—We Urge You, Please, Not To Sign This Petition. (Also, Your Name May Be Removed From the Petition At Any Time Prior To Its Being Filed.)

Then, Too, It May Be Necessary That the List of Names On This Petition Be Printed In This Paper. Should This Be Done, It Would Not Be To Purposely Embarrass Anyone But Rather To Protect Those Whose Names Might Be Signed By An Over-Zealous "Wet."

Please Accept the Sincere Thanks of Hundreds and Thousands of Your Neighbors and Citizens In Discouraging the Efforts of Those Who Would "Revert" Our County To What It Was Years Ago.

Aerospace Force Offers Places for Women

Air Force Recruiter Sgt. Robert Jordan announced this week that positions for young women are readily available in the U. S. Air Force. Vacancies exist in both officer and enlisted ranks. "The last two years have shown a greater increase of young ladies who desired to serve in the United States Air Force," said Sgt. Jordan. He commented that most girls are seeking careers as medical technicians, flight attendants and even electronic specialists, instead of the usual secretarial-type jobs.

Qualification tests are administered to indicate the type of training the recruit is suited for, he said.

Study Shows Religion Is Not Losing with UK Students

The role of religion in the lives of University of Kentucky students is fairly stable year after year, an informal survey shows. Religious leaders at the University say, however, that there is a growing interest among students in social service programs in addition to the traditional religious activities.

A majority of the religious advisers who work with UK students doubt that a significant trend in religious direction exists. The leaders say students presently attend numerous religious functions such as Sunday School, morning worship, communion vespers, Bible study, confession, mass and group study programs as in the past, with some indication of increased activity and interest in areas of Christian fellowship and endeavor.

One religious leader said it appeared to him "that traditional religious activity is on the decline," but that there is a definite increase in the number of students wanting to help the aged, the impoverished, the retarded, and the infirmed.

Many kinds of programs are carried on by the major denominations at the University. Those denominations are: Baptist Student Union, Canterbury House (Episcopal), Christian Student Fellowship, Hallel Foundation (Jewish), Lutheran (Missouri Synod), Newman Center (Roman Catholic), and the Wesley Foundation (Methodist).

Other campus religious offices are located in the Medical Center and the United Campus Ministry. The latter is an interdenominational effort which directs some religious group activity, such as weekly discussion forums, tutoring assistance for students, and interdenominational worship services.

The Newman Center, 320 Rose Lane, has one of the largest student participations on campus, part in some activity last year, with some 2,500 students taking Religious programs include mass and confessions twice each week day, mass four times on Sunday and confessions all Sunday morning. On holy days, mass is held each class hour and twice in the afternoon, at 4:30 and 5:30. Confessions are set for these same hours on holy days.

Sixty to 70 Catholic students are working in the Community Action of Lexington and Fayette County (CALF) program. Others make regular visits to help patients in the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital (an institution for narcotic addicts) and Kentucky Village (home for delinquent children), both in Fayette county.

The Christian Appalachian Project is another concern of the Catholic students. Each spring, the Newman Center sponsors its largest social event of the year—the Mardi Gras. Proceeds go to the Cardinal Hill Convalescent Hospital, for use in treating crippled children.

The Baptist Student Union, 371 S. Limestone, estimates that more than 800 UK students are participating in religious activities under its direction. About half that number actively work in programs while the others may attend religious service but do not take an active part. At noon on Tuesday and Friday, BSU has a luncheon counter. The students eat lunch together and then see a movie on religion or hear a speaker. In-depth Bible study is conducted on Wednesday.

Choir study, small study groups, musicales and drama groups make up the activities each Monday at BSU.

Major efforts in missionary work are concentrated at the Baptist Community Center on West High Street in Lexington. The center provides religious and recreational functions for children, plus Bible study with children's clubs. The students also visit the Veterans Hospital where they help patients by writing letters for them, reading books, or just "in doing what they can to brighten their day." Summer missions for BSU students include helping recruit and finance missionaries and intracity Bible school work.

Christian Student Fellowship at 502 Columbia Avenue is sponsored jointly by the Bluegrass area Christian Churches and Churches of Christ, whose doctrines have a common origin, but whose worship services and beliefs now differ in various areas. Some 200 students participate annually in activities planned at the modern building three blocks from the campus. Another 250 students from other universities also participate in the Fellowship's spring retreat.

Worship service is at 10:15 a.m. each Sunday. On Tuesday night a speaker is scheduled. A small Bible study group meets at 3 p.m. each Wednesday. Missionary work includes tutoring at the Methodist children's home. Recent collections of money went for starving Biafrans in Nigeria; $100 went to orphans in Alaska. Beginning in January, Christian students will begin a program of helping juveniles in some of Lexington's poverty areas.

The Wesley Foundation and University Methodist Chapel at 151 E. Maxwell Street attracted more than 1,500 students to religious services and activities last year. Regularly scheduled programs include Sunday School, morning worship and communion vespers.

Hospital aid in the form of letter writing for patients, visitations, and showing of films are some of the activities of the Methodist students. Others include tutoring youngsters at the Versailles Children's Home.

Methodist leaders said there has been an increase in the number of student participations over the past five years, thus paralleling the experience of other religious denominations at UK.

Rabbi William Lefler administers the affairs of the Jewish Hillel Foundation, 124 N. Ashland. Canterbury House lists some 500 Episcopal students on the UK campus and estimates are that nearly 300 of these join in worship services at some time during the year. A large number of visitors are received at Canterbury House. Episcopal student service activities include work at the Christ Center, and with the tutorial program sponsored by the UK Office of Religious Affairs.

The emphasis at St. Augustine's Chapel and Canterbury House at 472 Rose Street has been on worship. Two Holy Eucharists, plus Choral Evensong, are scheduled each Sunday. There is a weekday Eucharist Tuesday and Wednesday and on each of the Holy Days in the Anglican calendar. The average is two a week. A program of student in-depth discussion of Christianity will commence after the first of January.

UK's Office of Religious Affairs, under the direction of Jon (eq) C. Dalton, works with all religious denominations, mainly as a coordinator in which one or more churches or student groups may have an interest.

The proposed re-structuring of the office, beginning in January, involves changing its name to Human Relations Office, which would have the following divisions: religious coordination, human relations programs, volunteer service programs, YMCA and YWCA.

EARLY FLOYD SURVEYOR OWNED MOUNTAIN BARONY

Frankfort, Ky. — Peter Amyx could be called the land baron of Eastern Kentucky. Born in Guilford county, North Carolina, in 1784, he died in Morgan county in 1865, and in the years between he surveyed thousands of acres of land in Eastern Kentucky for others, claiming vast boundaries for himself.

The University of Kentucky plans a closer working relationship with Kentucky State College as part of its efforts to maintain equal opportunity at UK.

Amyx was a son of Matthew Amick (Amyx), soldier of the Revolutionary War who was wounded in the Battle of Guilford Courthouse and died at Burkesville, Ky. in 1832.

At the time Amyx moved westward through Kentucky, Morgan county still was a part of Floyd county and early records indicate he was important in the creation of Morgan in 1822-1823.

In 1822 he served as a member of the House of Representatives in Floyd county.

Amyx served as deputy surveyor in Floyd a number of years and as magistrate. He was elected surveyor in 1819 and sworn into office August 17.

The pioneer served his state, region and Floyd and Morgan in many important ways and later surveyed through the state northward to Cincinnati. According to Eastern Kentucky historian Henry P. Scalf, Amyx's "mountain barony of land was so huge it could not be properly cared for and fell apart under the incessant harassment of settlers."

Amyx's children were Matthew III, Joseph, Andrew, Angeline, Nan and Elizabeth and his descendants are widely distributed in the area he surveyed while it was a wilderness.

Citizens Support New Right Beaver School

We, the undersigned citizens and patrons of the Right Beaver School Community, and interested friends take this opportunity to express opinions relative to the erecting of the new high school at Eastern, which would consolidate Martin, Maytown, Garrett, and Wayland high schools. We favor progress in education. The future of our children, our communities, and our nation depends upon the education of our youth. They must be prepared to compete, serve, and live in the world. Larger schools providing increased curricula produce a higher percentage of better students in college and more able citizens in America. Bigger and improved high schools also enable the students who do not attend college to assume more active roles in their respective communities.

Federal funds available to build the central high school can easily be lost, leaving us completely without a new high school. There is an expiration date. We kindly request those responsible for suits delaying construction plans for the new high school, as intelligent people to reconsider, and please to drop the suits so work can proceed. Please think of the many students this centralized school will benefit, and forget personal feelings lest our youngsters suffer from delays.

We, the citizens of Right Beaver School Community, and friends hereby give our full support to Supt. Charles Clark and the Floyd County Board of Education for the construction of the new high school in Eastern. We do sincerely believe that their primary goal is the best possible education for our boys and girls. Signed:

KY. MENTAL HEALTH WORK SETS EXAMPLE FOR NATION

The state of Kentucky is turning in a performance that is setting an example for the nation in conversion of care for mentally ill persons from an old, outmoded system, to a new, modern way, according to the director of the National Institute of Mental Health.

The old system was to take care of mental patients in large state hospitals, which usually were unable to provide little more than custodial care. The new way is treatment—including rehabilitation and prevention—by modern methods in community mental health centers, with the patient never having to leave his home community environment.

(The new system is represented in Floyd county by the Mental Health Center here.)

The progress in Kentucky was cited by Dr. Stanley F. Yolles. He said Kentucky's record of success is an example of a state which is fulfilling one of the foremost objectives of the national mental health program. That objective is reducing the resident population of state mental hospitals, and replacing this mode of care with the comprehensive, community-based centers.

There are now 17 centers throughout Kentucky, the fourth highest number of centers in any state in the country. The centers provide the appropriate degree of treatment for whatever stage and type of mental or emotional illness a person is suffering. Services range from around-the-clock emergency care to inpatient and outpatient treatment.

Almost 80 percent of the population of Kentucky lives in areas now served by federally funded community mental health centers, according to information from the office of Dr. Dale H. Farabee, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Mental Health.

The impact of the community mental health centers in Kentucky can be seen in the decline of the population of the state's mental hospitals. From 1963 to 1966, there had been a gradual decline in the resident population of the hospitals.

Then, during the 12 months from June, 1966 to June, 1967, with the community centers program under way, there was a dramatic drop, numbering 370 patients, or eight percent of the 4,744 resident patients in 1966. This decrease was greater, both in absolute and relative numbers, than in any preceding one-year period. The drop in the "rate" of patients per 10,000 state population was also significant, from 15.6 to 14.5.

The trend for a continuing and even accelerating reduction in residents of public mental hospitals is today characteristic of the nation as a whole, Dr. Yolles pointed out.

"But in Kentucky, both the rate of decrease in numbers of hospitalized patients and the acceleration in this rate in the last two years seem unusually rapid."

"That this drop in hospital population was caused in part by a shift of patients to community mental health centers is suggested by the fact that the number of patients under care in community centers rose from 2,681 in 1966 to 3,580 in 1967," Dr. Yolles said.

Founders Day—February 22—marks the 104th anniversary of the founding of the University of Kentucky.

'Whatever Things'

By DONALD E. WILDMON

Dr. A. J. Cronin was a physician in England until his health broke. Unable to carry on his medical work, Dr. Cronin turned to writing. It was one of the best things that ever happened to the world of literature. For, through his writings, Dr. Cronin continued his work of healing.

Dr. Cronin had an unusual experience prior to his retirement from the medical profession. It is an experience that Dr. Cronin told that needs to be retold—often. It is the story of a young nurse who was put in charge of a little boy brought into the hospital suffering from diphtheria. The child's throat was choked with membrane, and he was given only a slight chance to live. A tube was inserted into the boy's throat to help him breathe. It was the young nurse's job to systematically clean the tube so that it would not become blocked, thereby cutting off the boy's breathing.

As the young nurse sat beside the boy, tired and sleepy, she accidentally dozed off. She awakened to find that the tube had become blocked. Instead of following her instructions, the nurse bolted in panic. Hysterically she called the doctor out from his sleep. But by the time the doctor got to the young boy, he was dead.

Dr. Cronin was angry beyond expression. That a child should die so needlessly, by such blundering, inexcusable negligence! Of course the nurse's career was through. She didn't deserve another chance. That night Dr. Cronin went into his office, dipped his pen in ink, and wrote his recommendation to the board demanding her immediate expulsion. He called her in and read it with a voice trembling with resentment. She stood there in piteous silence, a tall, thin, gawky Welsh girl. She nearly fainted with shame and remorse. "Well, have you nothing to say for yourself?" asked Dr. Cronin in a hoarse voice. There was
