

True Bill Total Hits a New Low

Grand Jury Indicts 24, Ends Term

One Murder Bill Voted; Crime Drop Noted in Report

The 24 indictments voted by the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court before its adjournment Monday is believed to be the smallest number of true bills reported by a grand jury here in modern court history.

The jury reported one murder indictment, naming Charles Jackson in the gunshot death last Jan. 20 on Turkey Creek, near Maytown, of Tommy Brown, Jr.

In its final report, which was marked by its brevity, the jury commented:

"We think that the crime rate in Floyd county has decreased, and we are proud of our citizens throughout this county."

The report, signed by Wallace Calhoun, foreman, noted that the courthouse is clean and in good condition.

One indictment named Clarence Martin on a charge of selling intoxicating beverages in local option territory, and the most violent of crimes alleged, except in the murder bill, was reckless use of a deadly weapon which the jury laid to Junior Hall, of Pike county, and Harry Gordon Johnson, of Bypro.

Grand larceny and wrongful conversion covered a large part of the indictments reported, Charlie Keathley was named in two indictments charging him with conversion of a 1968 Ford and a 1967 Dodge which were owned by a rental car agency, Willard Hicks was indicted on three counts of knowingly receiving stolen vehicles—a 1965 Ford

Mt. Dew Fest Described As Major College Event

"This Mountain Dew Festival that we have coming up this weekend is getting to be a major small-college event," Robert R. Allen, director of public relations for the host school, Prestonsburg Community College, said this week.

Allen said 14 colleges will be represented and that more than 500 of their students are expected to participate.

Housing for students has presented a problem, but motel accommodations as far away as Paintsville and Salyersville are being used.

Quarter-finals of the festival basketball tournament began at 1 p. m. today (Thursday), with Prestonsburg Community College meeting the Williamson Branch of Marshall University. Alice

SHOCKING NEWS

The story is told of the tension which mounted as announced candidates last week awaited the filing deadline for any opposition that might develop. Our informant tells us it reached such a point that when a fisherman entered the courthouse and told another, "The stripes are running," one candidate slapped his forehead and screamed, "Oh, no!—not against me!"

If I can get around to it, think I'll set up an annual award of some kind for the candidate who best keeps his cool.

It isn't often that a newspaper welcomes a subscription cancellation, but this one was good news. It came in the form of a note from Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, of Betsy Layne:

"Am most happy to tell you to discontinue sending the Floyd County Times to John D. Hardwick in Vietnam. He is home and well, and all concerned are very thankful."

I am running behind time, as usual. My first protest that it's getting too hot was made only today.

JUST WANTS TO STAY PUT

When Sgt. Claude Douglas Becher was kind enough to visit a spell with us before his recent departure with wife and two children for a second hitch on the island of Crete, I remarked that his electronics training should fit him for a fine civilian occupation when he leaves the Army. Said the sergeant, a Floyd countian from 'way back:

"When I get out of the service I'm going to the head of a hollow, and I never want to go anywhere again."

He has spent 12 years in the Army, returned in January from a lengthy stay in Vietnam. This young man knows the blessedness of peace and quiet and is richly entitled to his far-off head-of-the-holler.

IT'S SEASONAL

What's the trouble? Metabolism at naught, eyes out of focus, general debility setting in with marked weakness in the knees and feet inclined to cross themselves, temperature sub-normal, mental faculties bedimmed, torpor prevailing.

Diagnosis: Spring fever.

Prescription: Liberal potions of sassafras tea, followed a long week-end fishing trip.

BUSY OFFICIAL

Watt Hate hasn't left his West Prestonsburg bailiwick long enough to show up around here, of late. His duties as poik warden make so onerous that he's restricted to his borough. Last time he discussed the demands made upon him by his office, he expressed a desire to retire if a competent warden could be found to succeed him. But this job demands talent and dedication. Watt may have to stick to his post and settle for a Shangri-La or Camp David for rest spells and weighty conferences with his advisers.

Mrs. Fonda Duff, 24, Former Langley Woman, Dies at Gary, Indiana

Mrs. Fonda Joan Duff, 24, wife of Willie Duff, formerly of Langley, died at St. Mary's Mercy Hospital, Gary, Ind., at 9 a. m. Sunday, following the birth of her first child. The baby, Willa Anita Joan, survives.

The youngest daughter of Garland and Nora Martin, of Langley, Mrs. Duff was formerly an active member in 4-H Club work in this county, a graduate of Alice Lloyd College where she was a member of the college choir and sometime soloist, and attended Eastern Kentucky University. She was a member of the First Baptist Church, Hammond, Indiana.

Surviving, besides her husband, daughter and parents, are three brothers and four sisters, Mrs. Chalmer Martin, U. S. Air Force, Chelmer Martin, U. S. Air Force, Puerto Rico, Mrs. Glenna Moore, of Garrett, Thomas Martin, Langley, Mrs. Daina Purvis, Eminence, Ky., Mrs. June Martin, of Garrett, and Gaylord Martin, Langley.

Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday from the Wilson Creek Regular Baptist Church, ministers of that church officiating. Burial was made in the Martin family cemetery at Eastern under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Nelson Is Elected Local Union Trustee

Local 327, Charleston, W. Va., with members in Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio and Maryland, and comprising more than 2,800 members, has elected Ted Nelson, of Prestonsburg, as one of three trustees. The union has a pension plan worth more than $3 million dollars, plus local union assets of more than $300 thousand.

MISS FITZPATRICK, NATIVE OF COUNTY, IS WRECK VICTIM

Miss Pauletta Sue Fitzpatrick, 20, a former resident of Garrett, was killed in a traffic accident Friday night, April 4, four miles south of Falmouth, Ky.

Miss Fitzpatrick, a licensed practical nurse at the Pendleton County Hospital, was thought to have been killed instantly when her car ran off the highway.

A 1966 graduate of Paris (Ky.) high school and a graduate of the Appalachian School of Nursing in Lexington, she was formerly employed at the Bourbon County Hospital in Paris before assuming her duties at the hospital in Falmouth, five months ago.

A native of Floyd County, she was the daughter of the late Curtis and Virginia Fitzpatrick and had resided in Paris with a cousin, Mrs. Richard Wener.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Ann Fugate, Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. James Chaffins, Louisville, and Mrs. Frankie Francis, Wheelwright, and two brothers, Raber Fitzpatrick, with the U. S. Air Force in Mississippi, and Michell Fitzpatrick, of Garrett.

The body was returned to Paris from Falmouth to the Hinton-Turner Funeral Home, where prayer services were conducted by the Rev. Joseph Wimmers, of the Church of the Annunciation. Graveside services were conducted on April 7 at the Mullins cemetery in Omaha, Virginia.

Pallbearers were Gene Mullins, David DeRossett, Ralph DeRossett, Dr. Richard Wener, Bruce Forsythe, George Doyle and Dick Bruner.

ATTEND RECITAL

Mrs. Wm. Pope and Mrs. Willie Mellon went to Wilmore, Sunday, to attend the piano recital of Miss Rebecca K. Reid at Asbury College.

Fund Drive Past Its $150,000 Goal

Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company and its subsidiary, Kentucky Hydro-Carbon, last week presented a check for $5,000 to the Highlands Hospital Development Fund which put the fund drive past its $150,000 goal. Shown presenting the check to Fund Drive Chairman Milton E. Skiff is L. E. Roberts, (left), vice-president of Kentucky Hydro-Carbon and W. W. Wallen (right), vice-president and general manager of Kentucky West Virginia Gas Co.

Another large pledge last week came from Terry Elkhorn Mining Corp. Charles E. Hovatter, president of Terry Elkhorn Mining, presented the hospital fund with a pledge of $3,000.

Harry Laviers of Paintsville presented a check for $2,000 to the fund.

The rummage sale conducted by hospital employees and held in a store in Richmond Plaza raised more than $1,100 for the hospital fund. The I. Richmond Estate made the store available to the hospital, free of charge.

$1.17 Million OK'd For Housing Work Here

The Housing and Urban Development Administration (HUD) awarded today (Thursday) to the Prestonsburg Municipal Housing Commission a loan of $1,175,779 for development of 78 low-rent homes, it was announced by U. S. Senators Cooper and Cook.

The loan will provide for acquisition and improvement of the site, construction, equipment, planning and design, utilities, with space for management and administration.

The new housing complex, Prestonsburg's fourth, will be designed by McLoney & Tune, Lexington architects, and will contain 30 homes for the elderly.

The new housing project will be located in the Goble-Roberts Addition.

Black Cat Boosters Hold First Meeting At School, Tuesday

The Black Cat Boosters Club held its first meeting Tuesday night at the Prestonsburg grade school auditorium, with 42 persons attending. The following officers were elected:

Homer Neeley, president; Pete Jarvis, vice-president; Anna Jean Tackett, secretary; Betty Roberts, treasurer; Mabel Brown and Rose Collins, ways and means committee; Fannie Ball, publicity chairman; Doris Miller, membership chairman.

Purpose of the club is to assist in the promotion of a total athletic program for the Prestonsburg area. The next meeting will be held at the Prestonsburg high school cafeteria Tuesday, April 22, at 7:30 p. m.

METHODIST WOMAN - PASTOR, FIRST LICENSED IN COUNTY, SUCCUMBS AT ALLEN HOME

Mrs. Flora Lafferty Gray, 59, the first Floyd woman to be licensed as a minister by the United Methodist Church, died at her home at Allen Friday after a long illness.

Mrs. Gray was pastor of the Emma United Methodist Church and had long been active in the work of the church in Allen and surrounding communities. She was a member of Adah Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and Miriam Regekah Lodge here.

Born at Water Gap, she was a daughter of the late James W. and Betty Lafferty. Her husband, Galloway L. Gray, died in 1964. Survivors include two sons, Frank Gordon and Jimmy Delano Gray, of Allen; a sister, Mrs. Tincy Crisp, and two brothers, Ben-

SQUAD ASKS SEARCH AID

Fishermen, Farmers Requested To Watch River for Tot's Body

The Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad, which has never stopped its 11-week search of the Big Sandy river for the body of eight-year-old Beverly Akers, last week called on farmers and fishermen along the river from Emma to Catlettsburg for help.

Graham Burchett, rescue squad captain, said there is a chance the body will surface, now that the water temperature has risen to around 60 degrees.

The rescue squad has maintained organized search and patrol of the river, often dragging the stream, every week-end since the child was drowned at Emma. Beverly, her mother, Mrs. Barbara Howell Akers, and her sister, Tammy, 5, lost their lives Jan. 25 when the auto driven by Mrs. Akers left the highway and plunged down a high embankment into the river. Only one occupant of the car, Phillip Akers, 11, escaped.

Sturgill Is Named To Party Committee

County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill has been appointed by J. R. Miller, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, to the 12-man Rules committee headed by Morton Holbrook, of Owensboro.

The Rules committee and others are to take a close look at the Democratic party in Kentucky and to carry out directives of the 1968 convention.

Col. Castle Wounded, Is in Texas Hospital

Col. Edmund Castle, who was wounded while commander of U. S. forces at Long Binh, Vietnam, has been evacuated to William Beaumont Hospital, Ft. Bliss, Texas, where he is recovering.

His brother, Major Richard Castle, is stationed at Ft. Bliss. The two officers, natives of this county, were visited at Ft. Bliss recently by their sisters, Mrs. Arthur Haywood, Mrs. Earl Castle and Mrs. Henry Ison, of Wayland.

Notice to Candidates

Because of a limited work force and the volume of type that must be set for political advertising, The Times is forced to set Monday of each week at 5 p. m. as the deadline for political ads to reach this office.

Late Filing Brings '69 Crop Of Candidates to Near 100

Before Saturday's deadline for filing for public office had passed 94 Floyd countians had tossed their hats into the ring and only one incumbent had escaped opposition.

The lone candidate who is "home-free," without primary opposition and none in sight for the November finals, is Tax Commissioner Harry Gordon Allen. He escaped a primary campaign when would-be opponents failed the test required by state law. Allen's name will not appear on the ballot.

With the exception of the race for Sheriff, Magistrate and Constable posts, the list of candidates was confined mainly to incumbents until near the filing deadline.

The candidates were scheduled to draw Wednesday for position on the primary ballot.

The list of Democratic candidates:

Representative, District 95 — Rainley "Snow" White, W. J. "Bill" Reynolds, Gary Wright.

Representative, District 96 — T. P. "Tim" Reynolds, Jimmy Turner, Homer Osborne.

Buck Ousley, Crushed By Log, Dies Tuesday En Route to Hospital

Buck Ousley, 33, of Pyramid, was fatally crushed Tuesday when a log rolled from a truck at a Lackey sawmill onto his body. He died of internal injuries while being taken to a Lexington hospital.

The victim was a son of Willie and Lona Ousley, of Vest, Knott county. He is survived by his parents, his widow, Mrs. Marie Ousley, four daughters, Charlotte, Regina, Naomi and Rita Lynn, and eight brothers and sisters.

The body was taken today (Thursday) from the Hindman Funeral Home to rest in the Vest United Baptist Church tonight, and will be taken Friday to the Open

COUNTY HAS 4 WINNERS

In District Contests Sponsored by Clubs At Pikeville College

Four first-place awards were won by students sponsored by Floyd county clubs at the Seventh district spring contests in instrumental music, art, crafts and sewing which were held Saturday at Pikeville College.

The contests were sponsored by the Seventh district, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

George Preston Archer, who was sponsored by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, won first place in pastel art and was the sweepstakes winner in all art categories.

Miss Marcia Watson ranked first in the instrumental music division. She was sponsored by the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club.

Clifford Adams, who was entered by the Prestonsburg Women's Club, was first in ceramics.

Bobby Carter, who was sponsored by the Drift Woman's Club, won first place in oils.

Mrs. James Donahoe, of Prestonsburg, won the club-member sewing contest.

Three Floyd county students wound up in a tie for second place in the music contest. They are Dallas Fay Sammons (Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club), Jackie Parsons (Drift Woman's Club) and Rodney Handshoe (Lackey-Garrett-Wayland).

Contestants sponsored by Johnson county clubs won first place in student sewing and charcoals.

Change in Law Sets Filing for City Posts Before November Vote

Candidates for office in three Floyd county towns who filed before last Saturday's deadline may have to go through the procedure all over again, THE TIMES learned Wednesday.

Filing for municipal office prior to the primary was questioned at Paintsville. A call to the office of Attorney General John B. Breckinridge elicited this information:

The statute which required candidates in city elections to file before the primary was repealed by the 1968 General Assembly. Only candidates running under a regular party affiliation—as a Democrat or a Republican, for instance—are now required to file prior to the primary.

Cross-Section View Sought Thru Survey By Health Workers

Where, in this "best-fed nation on earth" do the problems of hunger and malnutrition exist, and why?

These are questions, the answers to which will be sought in Floyd county when the first national nutrition survey gets under way within the next few days.

The survey in this county and in other parts of the nation stems from the recent claims that hunger or malnutrition exists with many in the United States.

Ten states, representing a geographic cross-section of the country, were chosen to participate in the survey. Kentucky's portion of the study will be completed in about eight months. During that time, some 6,000 people in 21 rural and urban counties will be interviewed about their eating habits and given physical examinations.

Local physicians and the Kentucky Medical Association have endorsed the nutrition survey, which is being conducted locally by the Floyd County Health Department, assisted by the State Department of Health.

To My Fellow Citizens

In this day and age of science, medicine and engineering almost anything is possible, but both men and women throughout these United States are still dependent on law and order, justice and equality for their dignity and purpose of life.

No field in the practice of law allows a man to pursue these goals more ably than that of the office of District Attorney. It is by and through this position of trust that liberty, based on law and order, justice and equality, can be assured.

It is true, many positions offer more material benefits but no position is more rewarding and self-satisfying than the position of the guardian of the people.

For the past five years, I have had this position of trust and for the reasons set out above, I again seek your support.

With God's help, let us meet the challenge, the challenge of Preserving Ordered Liberty.

Your Support Will Be Appreciated

AMEN!
Mrs. Bill May ran across this, and immediately thought of me—likely, because she thought I stand in the need of such a prayer:
Lord, Thou knowest I'm getting older. Keep me from becoming talkative and possessed with the idea that I must express myself on every subject. Release me from craving to straighten out everyone's affairs. Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details.
Seal my lips when I'm inclined to tell of my aches and pains. They are increasing with the years and my love to speak of them grows sweeter as time goes by.
Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be wrong.
Make me thoughtful but not nosy-helpful and not bossy.
With my vast store of wisdom and experience it does seem a pity not to use it all—but, Lord, Thou knowest that I want a few friends at the end. Amen.

The Floyd county families chosen for the study were selected at random from the county's census enumeration districts and represent all income levels. Dr. R. L. Hall, county health officer, urges the cooperation of each family contacted. "Participation is, of course, voluntary," Dr. Hall said, "but I hope that each family group, from the eldest to the youngest, will give the nutrition team its fullest cooperation. All information gathered will be confidential."
The public health nurses and a team of interviewers will be visiting each family selected for the survey. The interview will include questions on who lives there, their ages, water and sewage, number of rooms in homes, etc.
After completion of the interviews, the families will visit a special clinic where a team of specialists will give each person a physical and dental examination. Any illness discovered in the course of the examination will be referred to the patient's private physician.
Dr. G. Dudley Nelson, professor of community medicine at the University of Louisville Medical School, heads the clinic team. The team is composed of several physicians, dentists, nurses, nutritionists, X-ray and laboratory technicians, medical recorders and anthropometrists (specialists in body measurements).
Dr. Hall announced that clinics will be held at the Harold elementary school, Tuesday, April 29 and Wednesday, April 30 and at the McDowell grade school, Thursday, May 1. Free transportation to the clinics will be provided.
As to the possible results of the nutrition survey in Kentucky, State Survey Director Joella Sisler commented: "Nutrition plays a vital role in everyone's health. If the problems of malnutrition in Kentucky can be identified through this survey, then corrective programs will be established and all of Kentucky benefit."

pickup which had been stolen from James L. Delk, a 1967 Ford stolen from William E. Smith, Jr., and a 1965 Chevrolet stolen from Paul Scaper.
James Poston, Henry Miles Poston and Darrel McDonald were accused on two counts—the theft of $132 from Maryland Hall and the robbery of Hall. Henry Poston, Russell Newsome and Ben Howard were named defendants in an indictment alleging that they knowingly received two shotguns stolen from Alvin Moore.
Everett Atkins was accused of wilfully and knowingly swearing falsely that a motor vehicle was built of spare parts, and Clinton Jones was named in a bill alleging that he falsely pretended that he was the owner of a motor vehicle, thus obtaining $325 from Keith Lawson. Lewis Boyd was named in a conversion indictment on the claim that he used an auto without the owner's consent. Charles Walk was indicted on the claim that he falsely pretended he did not receive checks, thereby obtaining $2,600 worth of merchandise from Sallie Mae Gobie. C. N. McCallen was indicted on a charge of obtaining $60 under false pretense from Frank DeRossett. It was alleged he pretended to be an agent for a calendar company.
Franklin Delano King, Ann Arbor, Mich., was accused of the seduction of a female under the age of 21, and these were named in child desertion bills: Charles Jack Allen, Joel Allen, Billy Joe Gayheart, Randolph Jacobs, whose address was given as the Salyersville jail, Chris Johnson, Jr., Jacksonville, Fla., and Quilliam Ward, Jr., Paintsville.

As it stands, the statute affecting cities of all classes, according to this information, requires that candidates for city offices who are not running under regular party emblems must file not more than 60 days and not less than 45 days before the November general election.
The change in the statute has caused confusion over most of the state, and this was the case here where declarations of all city candidates were accepted at the county court clerk's office before the April 12 deadline.

Three Floyd County municipalities will elect city officials next November and all candidates filed before last Saturday's deadline. On the basis of that registration the situation in the three towns is this:
Bill Pretrey is the "opposition" candidate for City Council here, registering under the People's Party.
Mayor George P. Archer, running for re-election, is unopposed here, and he heads the Community Development Party ticket of candidates for Council. They are Burl Wells Spurlock, Paul Phillip Hughes, E. B. Leslie, E. B. May, Jr., Tom O. McGuire, Byron Nunery, H. G. Salisbury and Clifford E. Wright — all incumbents.
Martin, which in other years has had its share of hot city elections, has only the People's Party ticket in the race. Candidates there are Ronald Reynolds, John P. Sammons, Virgil C. Peters, Denzil Halbert, Raymond Griffith and Glenn Patrick.
The People's Party also is without opposition at Wheelwright. Council candidates are Dr. J. L. Patterson, Fred Salisbury, Oscar B. Smith, Vern M. Bailey and Robert Fields. Paul M. Watson is the candidate for police judge on the same ticket.

The Judicial Ballot . . .

Both Candidates for Circuit Judge Are Filed On Both Democratic and Republican Tickets.

On March 18, 1969, our present Circuit Judge filed a notification and declaration as a candidate for nomination to the office of Circuit Judge on the DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

On April 12, 1969, our present Circuit Judge filed a notification and declaration as a candidate for nomination to the office of Circuit Judge on the REPUBLICAN TICKET.

On April 11, 1969, over 1000 Floyd County voters proposed my name as a candidate for nomination to the office of Circuit Judge on both the Democratic and Republican tickets. One day later my name was proposed as a candidate for the nomination for Circuit Judge on the Independent ticket.

This is in accord with a rather recent law allowing Circuit Judges and Appellate Judges to run on all party and independent tickets. See KRS. 119.070. This is also in accord with the idea that Judges should be non-political.

To Lead in Revival

Rev. Richard Lythberg, evangelist, will speak at the First Assembly of God Church, West Prestonsburg, from Sunday, Apr. 20, through Sunday, May 4 at 7:30 nightly. Out of a wide background and experience, he brings a message of challenge to young and old people and of deeper spiritual life for all.

Mr. Lythberg holds the B.A. degree from Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. and the B.D. from Northern Baptist Theological Seminary, Oakbrook, Ill. He has also attended Illinois Institute of Technology, Loyola University, Fuller Seminary and other schools. An Army veteran, he also has experience in home missions work as well as youth work, directing a rally for Youth for Christ, International in Dodge City, Kansas. Currently, he is working among the underprivileged, including members of a notorious gang on Chicago's south side. He has seen some outstanding conversions in this work.

All who are interested in a deeper, more satisfying, and effective Christian life will want to hear Rev. Lythberg. The pastor, Lorie Vannucci, extends an invitation to everyone. (Adv.)

Charles Perry, 73, Is Victim Tuesday At UK Med Center

Charles Perry, 73-year-old Hi Hat grocer and a minister of the Church of Christ, died Tuesday at the University of Kentucky Medical Center at Lexington after an illness of four years.

Owner of a grocery near Hi Hat, Mr. Perry had been a member of the Church of Christ for 45 years and had served that church as a minister for the last 40 years. At the age of 70 he became a religious song writer and composed more than 20 songs that were recorded.

He was born April 22, 1895 in Kentucky, a son of the late Marion and Pricy Adkins Perry. His wife, Mrs. Minnie Howell Perry, also preceded him in death.

Survivors include three sons, James Perry, of Fairborn, O., Okel Perry, of Hi Hat, and Ora Perry, of Dayton, O.; six daughters, Mrs. Melvina Newman, of Grethel, Mrs. Stella Martin, of Hunter, Mrs. Oma Elkins, Hi Hat, and Mrs. Beatrice Newsome, Mrs. Wilma Alley and Mrs. Alta B. Castle, all of Dayton; two half-brothers, Ballard Hall, address unavailable, and Curtis Meade, of Rockhouse, Ky.; 24 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. at the Lambert Baptist Church at Hi Hat, with Bill Ford and Alka Marshall the officiating ministers. Burial was made in the Ike Roberts cemetery at Grethel under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Nature Trails

By RUFUS M. REED

NATURE'S SPINNERS OF FINE SILKS

Take a closer look at that big, horny green caterpillar all covered with spines and tubercles. The creature is well over three inches long and is repulsive looking to some. But this huge green "worm" is the larva of one of the gigantic silk moths. It is nature's spinner of the finest silks on earth, and it spins a silken thread that is strong, elastic, soft and durable. The threads are used to make the finest fabrics known.

This big "worm" is a real laboratory for making silk — a fine grade which man has not yet learned how to make. Man-made silk comes from cellulose and is called "rayon," a poor substitute for the real silk which only caterpillars can make. Man also makes a silk substitute from coal, which is called "nylon," but he cannot make silk like the caterpillar makes.

This homely creature makes its silk from substances extracted from its own blood! Inside its body, there are two long, hollow glands or tubes, which hold a sticky liquid taken from the blood. When the caterpillar is fully grown and ready to spin its silken cocoon as a "house" to live in during winter, it secretes the liquid through the spinnerets on the head, below the mouth. When this liquid comes in contact with air, it hardens immediately into silk, which is spun into a fine thread by the spinnerets. The caterpillar spins its cocoon from the outside to the inside; it first covers the body with a silken layer, and then keeps on adding new layers of silken thread until it has made a thick, tough, warm cocoon for winter. In spinning this cocoon, the caterpillar works so expertly it never breaks the thread; it spins a single thread around and around its body, and when it is unwound by the silk workers, the thread is often found to be 3,000 ft. long! The silk is soft and light and it takes one thousand miles of the thread to make a single yard of silk!

In China, where the people have been making silken cloth for some 5,000 years, they feed the caterpillars on mulberry leaves until they are fully grown and ready to spin the cocoon. When this is finished, the threads have been glued together with a gummy substance to make it waterproof. So the silk workers dump the cocoons in a boiling water to melt the gum so they can unwind the silk and weave it into cloth.

Silk garments have long been the mark of nobility; in ancient times only the wealthy class could afford to wear silk and satin, which is made with a glossy finish and rustles when its wearer walks.

Silk is long lasting, strong and lustrous and by far the most valuable of all textiles. It is also very tough, as you may find out by trying to tear apart one of the three silken cocoons. Some look like an elongated bag attached to the limb of the host tree, where they hang during winter. One of the greatest wonders of nature is to see the emergence of the big moth from the silken cocoon; it is a miracle of transformation of the horny "worm" into one of the most gorgeous creatures on earth — the giant silkworm moth. When the moth first comes out, the wings are damp and all crumpled up, but it pumps some substance into them to make them straighten out and unfold.

Among the large and beautiful silkworm moths which the nature lovers like to see, and so do the collectors, are:

THE CECROPIA MOTH. This moth is six inches across its wings and it is said to be one of the most gorgeous creatures of nature. Its color is a deep, rich brown with bands of light yellow and black eye-spot on the forewings. It is also called "The Emperor Moth." In Asia, the famous shantung silk is made from the caterpillars of the Cecropia Family.

THE LUNA MOTH. This moth has a white body and large light green wings with prominent eye-spots and a border of purple. The wings have long tail-like projections shaped like the crescent moon — hence the name, LUNA.

These moths have large, feathery antennae, which are so sensitive they can catch the scent of a mate at a distance of two miles!

THE POLYPHEMUS MOTH. This large silkworm moth is 5 inches across, with light brown wings and two large "eyes" on the rear wings, which seem to protrude from the wings. These eyes give the moth its name, POLYPHEMUS, after the one-eyed giant of Greek mythology. The caterpillar spins a large, oval shaped cocoon, which is as tough as parchment and in winter is often seen hanging on the branches of hickory, elm or oak.

DOROTHY MOORE HAMILTON
Democrat
of Melvin, Ky., for
MAGISTRATE, Dist 3
Primary election, May 27

Give a woman a chance to prove she can run the office of Magistrate. I pledge I will do all I can for the people, roads and schools. I will work through the four years to make the roads up hollows and to school so you can travel them, winter or summer.

I will put all my interest in my work for the people. I make this promise, because I can do it. I do not intend to mislead you to get this office. All of you should know me and know that I am honest and dependable. I do not think that any candidate should lie to get an office.

I know there have been thoughts run through your minds that this isn't a place for a woman, but there is a woman running this office most of the time. So why not give me a chance to show you I can run it, honest and straight?

Your Friend,

DOROTHY HAMILTON

Miss Castle, Mr. Raker Are Wed at Ft. Knox

The marriage of Miss Peggy J. Castle and Mr. William A. Raker took place Saturday, April 5, at 2 p.m., in Prichard Chapel, Fort Knox, Ky.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Castle, formerly of Hi Hat, Ky., now of Wabash, Indiana. Mr. Raker is the son of Mrs. Rebecca Tull, Pana, Ill., and the late Harold W. Raker.

The bride wore an A-line gown of candlelight peau de soie. The kubuki sleeves and the chapel-length train were edged in lace. Her veil gathered to an open crown and cascaded to chapel-length. She carried a bouquet of white daisies with yellow centers and cascading greenery. She wore a one-strand pearl necklace which belonged to her mother.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Cassandra Stout. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Nancy Simmons and Mrs. Marsha Webster. They wore coral A-line gowns with matching headpieces of coral net caught to a pillbox of the same material as the dresses, and carried bouquets of white daisies with yellow centers. Their accessories were of matching coral and their only jewelry were tiny cameo earrings, a gift from the bride.

The ringbearer was Master Elbert Castle, Wabash, Ind., cousin of the bride.

Mr. Edgar Raker served his brother as bestman. Grooms-men were Mr. James Raker, Pana, Ill., brother of the groom, and Mr. Max Lyles, Greenburg, Ind.

The bride was graduated from McDowell high school and Eastern Kentucky State University. She is now employed as a contract assistant in the Purchasing and Contracting Division, USAARMC, Fort Knox, Ky.

The groom was graduated from Carroll County high school and Eastern Kentucky University. He is a mathematics teacher in the Fort Knox school system.

The Rakers will be at home April 9 at Basham Apartments, Muldraugh, Ky.

Sergeant Joseph

A Sheriff To Be Proud Of

The fine record of military service of Sergeant Burl Joseph to our county, state and nation well entitles him to the active support of all Floyd Countians in his race for Sheriff on the Democratic ticket at the May 27 primary election.

Sergeant Joseph, born and raised in Floyd County, educated in the Floyd County schools and in the military service from this county is a mature, sober, honest, reliable candidate. All these qualities have been established by his outstanding military record.

Sergeant Joseph has served in the United States Army for over 13 years, both here and overseas.

Sergeant Joseph is the son of Corbin Joseph and Creasia Prater Joseph, of Prestonsburg. He is married to Ruby Duff, of this county, and has two wonderful children. He is widely related throughout Floyd County, including relationship to the Praters, Ousleys, Stumbo, Turners, Browns, Allens, Gearhearts, Duffs, Pitts, Hales, Wells, Laynes, Yates, Montgomerys, Kilburns and Hickses.

Sergeant Joseph has found it difficult to actively campaign since his brother, Hershell Joseph, is in a Texas military hospital suffering serious third-degree burns received by him while fighting in Vietnam.

However, he will try to see as many voters as possible before the May 27 primary election.

Report Warns Some Misusing Medicaid...

FRANKFORT, KY. — A report last Thursday indicated the entire Medicaid program might be imperiled because of excessive use of free services to welfare clients.

The survey issued by the Economic Security Department was based on interviews with 50 families in Eastern Kentucky.

In a news conference afterwards, Commissioner Merritt S. Deitz Jr. said the report "if anything, is a classic example of understatement."

He announced that the department's interviewer staff on Medicaid is being expanded from two to 10 field agents who "will launch a broad investigation not confined to Appalachia."

Deitz also said his agency will "immediately consider some control mechanisms" to cut down the use of services under the $48 million a year program.

One might be to indicate on the Medicaid card how many times a recipient already has been treated. The other restriction might be a limit on the number of visits to a doctor's office.

Asked whether there is any evidence that some physicians may have financial interest in drug stores — which fill their prescriptions — the commissioner said, "We're exploring it now. I think we ought to try to find out."

Deitz also disclosed that Kentucky Medical Association officials, with whom he met Wednesday night, support efforts to improve Medicaid even "if this means cutting physicians' fees."

The department, concerned that it won't have enough money to finance the program fully next fiscal year, is trying to decide where to make economies.

The preliminary report stemmed from recent discovery that some doctors and pharmacies were obtaining "unusually high dollar amounts" under Medicaid.

The interviewers asked 14 questions on an informal basis, sometimes supplementing the findings with information from doctors.

They found in general two basic faults in the system under which 118,000 persons present their medical cards for services from doctors, dentists and druggists.

One drawback they called "drug dependency" or "unnecessary reliance" on drugs.

The other is "the apparent over-utilization of Medicaid services for minor illness which would not be considered to justify an office call."

On the drug aspect the report said:

"The clients interviewed are obtaining what appears to be an unusual quantity of drugs and medicines. A majority of the 50 households contacted have larger quantities of drugs on hand and in some instances the drugs were unused."

It added "it is obvious that the clients, and not the physicians, are determining the frequency of return office visits."

"One of the most frequently described... which took Medicaid clients into physicians' offices is the common cold."

"... Most adult paying patients do not consider the common cold a health hazard significant enough to justify frequent office visits to a physician."

The pattern could pose an economic peril to the entire program, the report said, because where a paying patient might spend perhaps $2 to relieve a cold the Medicaid client could cost the state $11.50 in a doctor's visit and prescription fee.

"The interviewers found a profound lack of understanding among indigent patients of the services they have been receiving," the report said.

"In one case a client stated he suffered from ulcers, arthritis and epilepsy and yet department records indicate only treatment for upper respiratory infection.

"This raises the possibility that patients either incorrectly regard their own illnesses or their complaints are not being diagnostically proved."

The interviewers said the problem "is apparently aggravated by the permissive office procedures of the physicians involved."

For example, they cited clients who said that after the first office visit their prescriptions had been given to them by "a desk clerk," a secretary or a nurse without a physician consultation.

"This summary finding does not purport to be a representative sampling of Medicaid clients," the report cautioned.

It mentioned the small samplings of both clients and doctors and the limited geographical area.

It said the main purpose was to determine whether further inquiry should be made and gave an emphatic answer, declaring:

"The results of this preliminary survey overwhelmingly demonstrate the need for continuing contact with medical assistance clients and such an inquiry should be commenced on the broadest possible geographical scale and with all deliberate speed, considering the limitations imposed by the lack of trained staff personnel and the financial realities with which the program is presently confronted."

The report said the solution appears to lie in cooperation among physicians, patients and administrators.

"Toward this end," it said, "the Economic Security Department hopes to forge with the medical profession a lasting unity of purpose toward effective, but not excessive, medical attention for all Kentucky citizens who cannot adequately provide for themselves."

Burglary Fast Becoming a Rural Headache

FRANKFORT — Burglary, traditionally a problem of the large city and industrial suburb, is fast becoming one of rural Kentucky's major headaches. During 1968, the number of forcible entries reported to the Kentucky State Police jumped about 14 per cent — from 1,643 to 1,900 cases, with the greatest number of victims being located in South-Central Kentucky. Many of those crimes were traced to juveniles out for an evening of excitement. But, in most cases, the twilight forays of the under-age "door-shaker" involved only acts of vandalism or thefts of small value — "crackers and cheese" break-ins as they are often called by state detectives. Although the juvenile offender is a growing problem, the rising interest of the big-city professional in the financial standing of Kentucky's smaller towns and rural communities presents a far graver threat. Slipping quietly through the dimly-lit alleys of Kentucky's small towns with all the expertise of a trained commando, the professional sneak-thief, last year, rolled up a score running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars in stolen cash and property. On the basis of recently-evaluated information, State Police spokesmen estimate at least three separate gangs of highly-experienced burglars have been slipping through the back doors of Kentucky's lesser-populated areas and committing similar crimes in neighboring states as well. One group, in the space of a single evening, struck paydirt in a doctor's office, drugstore and post office, located nearly side-by-side, in one small town. Another, operating in Northern Kentucky, spent a few nights indiscriminately looting stores, banks and post offices to the tune of more than $50,000. Although both rural bank and post office burglaries are on the increase, the looting of private homes tops the list. By contrast, only ten years ago home burglaries in rural areas were a rarity.

Probably one of the most unusual targets of recent days has been the county courthouse. At least three are known to have been burglarized during the past year. In just one case, thieves ransacked a safe in a county clerk's office of nearly $40,000. Planning with all the care of an invasion-bound general, and equipped with the best tools our industrial age has to offer, the modern burglar is all too often able to break in, steal whatever he may find of value and be hours or even days away before the crime is discovered. Stationing lookouts, equipped with walkie-talkies, outside a building insures the "inside man" time to escape should a policeman happen to venture into the vicinity. But the advantages of electronic surveillance do not stop there. Many burglars now consider the "tiger", a small device which will readily convert any dimstore transistor radio into a receiver for police calls, as a "must" in their bag of tools. But, by far the most revolutionary addition to any good line of burglary tools is the thermal burning bar. Developed by industry for the use of construction companies and shipyards, it has proved to be the answer to a burglar's prayers. Fed by oxygen, it will cut through a six-inch thickness of tempered steel in about 15 seconds. Almost noiseless and costing less than $10 on the open market, it has become a most important feature of the safe crafter's standard equipment. Commenting on the growing number of professionally-executed burglaries in Kentucky's lesser-populated areas, Detective Lieutenant Algin S. Roberts, State Police Bureau of Investigation commander, said that undoubtedly a shortage of police officers and sophisticated alarm systems have played a part in the problem, "but they, by themselves, are not the whole answer behind the upswing in rural thievery."

Both of these elements existed long before the "pro" took to the open road. But now, big-city burglary is becoming a high-risk profession. Detection, either by casual passer-by, patrol-

The Judicial Ballot . . .
Paul E. Hayes
Accepts Proposed Nominations For Circuit Judge
I am greatly honored and deeply humbled that over 1000 Floyd County voters have proposed my name on the Democratic and other tickets for the nomination to the high and influential office of Circuit Judge. I am no less impressed to learn that the petitions were signed by so many responsible citizens in less than one week's time, beginning April 4.
When I see all these voters, signing for me, I must believe these people feel that:
1. Elected public officials, including Circuit Judges, should be regularly placed before the people for approval or disapproval, in this case, once every six years.
2. A Circuit Judge should devote his full time to being impartial, non-political, and able to face squarely all issues — in short, a Judge for all the people regardless of wealth, race, creed, color or politics.
Our present Circuit Judge, my opponent, may well reach all these standards. If so, re-elect him. If not, then my plea is — vote for me.
Therefore, I accept these proposed nominations, and have instructed the County Court Clerk to place my name on the ballot at the May 27 Primary Election.

TED H. SALISBURY

Candidate for Magistrate
 District No. 3

My Qualifications

I am a HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE and a lifelong DEMOCRAT.

I am a LABORING man. I currently am employed with the C. & O. Railway Company and have served this company 23 years as brakeman and conductor.

I am a UNION LABORER. I belong and have belonged for 23 years to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

I am a veteran of World War II, having served with the 1st U. S. Infantry Division.

I have been a DEPUTY INSPECTOR GENERAL of the American Veterans of the STATE of KENTUCKY.

I was born at WEEKSBURY, KY., the son of Lucy Salisbury and the late Ted Salisbury.

The office of Magistrate is one of the most important offices of service to our people of Floyd County, Ky. Yet, it is one of the most abused and neglected offices of public trust in our county.

I seek the office of Magistrate that I might serve people — that I might help in some way to assist the people of District No. 3 in restoring proper dignity and respect to this important office.

The Big Question

What would our citizens from other parts of Floyd county, other counties and other states think if they saw our little, neglected roads in Dist. No. 3? They would probably ask —

- Do these people pay taxes?
- Does the county have any equipment to use in repairing the roads?
- Does the county have a Magistrate in Dist. No. 3 to stand up for them?

Answer these questions yourself in your own heart. Make up your own mind.

On election day support me FOR MAGISTRATE DIST. No. 3 for my election to this office. I shall ever be grateful for your influence and support. Thank you very much.

'Whatsoever Things'

By DONALD E. WILDMON

My study is located in a storage room (or what is supposed to be a storage room) directly behind our home. It is a very small room to begin with, and once you put my books and supplies and machines in it you can hardly turn around. It is really too small, but it is the best we can come up with at the moment and I will have to bear with it until better days come along.

The other day I was having one of those days when everything seemed to go wrong. It was a day when I, and most folks around me, wished that I had stayed in bed. My desk was covered over with matters that needed my attention, correspondence was lagging, and there were other matters pressing.

I was sitting in my study, half mad at myself and half mad at my lack of space. Then, without knocking, in came my son Timmy who proceeded to sit down behind me. I started to turn and tell him that there wasn't room for him in the study, but I waited, for I knew that if I spoke at that moment I would be harsh with him. So I went about my work, listening as he began taking paper from the waste basket and books from the shelf.

He nearly lit the fuse when he spoke. "Daddy," he said, "do you have a pen?" Well, I reached into my pocket and gave him my pen. I then tried to continue my work. But it seemed that everytime I turned around I bumped into him. So, my temperature rising, I turned to scold him and send him back into the house. Upon turning, I was stopped cold by what I saw.

Timmy had laid out before him some old papers he had taken from the trash can, some of my books from the book shelf, and with pen in hand he was marking on a sheet of paper. He had made himself a makeshift desk that was in something of a mess. Now, most of the time when Timmy wants to know what I'm doing out in the study, I tell him that "I'm studying." I looked at him there, he paused for a moment and looked up, and after thinking for a few seconds he began to write again. "What are you doing, son?" I asked him. He looked me in the eye as only a son can do and then gave me his answer with a little grin on his face. "I'm studying, Daddy."

I didn't say anything else to him. I turned back around and pretended to go back to work. But I didn't do much work for the next few minutes. I just sat there thinking how proud I was of my son. It made me feel just as big as a man can get to know that my son wanted to be like me, to do what I do.

But then a greater truth came to me. My Creator was telling me that this is really what He wanted from me. He wanted me to be like Him. I still think about that often. How good He must feel when we act like Him, do what He does, act like we were His sons.

"Wouldn't it be a good world," I say to myself, "if we wanted to be like Him as much as Timmy wants to be like his father."

We have a heat pump, and one of the advantages is that the same piece of equipment is used to both heat and cool the house, so the cost includes air conditioning.

Hayden Hannabass*

I have a heat pump, and it costs me considerably less money because it's about twice as efficient. The ducts were already in existence, therefore, all they had to do was set the unit inside and the other one outside, and insulate. There's no reason at all why you can't install electric heat in any older home.

Raymond Dervin*

We have a heat pump, and it's very economical! There's very little repair and if it's insulated and built properly it will compete or beat any other type of heat on the market. There's a definite guarantee on them and it's definitely no more expensive to operate. We've had it for 8 years and we're well pleased with it.

He plays the six-string and 12-string guitar and last year was on tour with the New World Singers in Europe, Asia and the eastern United States. Ron is a freshman, majoring in English which he plans to teach. He is the songwriter of the duo and has composed most of the original songs in their repertoire. He plays the six-string guitar and electric bass.

The brothers plan a concert tour this summer in eastern and mid-western United States and will release a recording in May. They enjoy singing, but their main purpose is to present a contemporary Christian faith to their generation.

The concert here will be sponsored by the Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist Church. Admission will be free.

Judge

Many people, last week, signed their names to a petition in support of my opponent. Since then many have called saying that they were under pressure to sign and others misunderstood the reason for the petition.

I have had hundreds call me in support of my candidacy and offer to circulate a petition in my behalf. But a petition will not be the decision in the May primary, when everyone can cast his vote secretly, which is our democratic liberty. I challenge each and every voter to ask anyone who knows me and about the record I have made as your Circuit Judge. Ask any one who has been in court as juror, witness, litigant, or spectator about the professional conduct of the circuit court room. THEN YOU BE THE JUDGE.

AREA GIRL SCOUT LEADERS TO PLAN NEW PROGRAM AT MAY LODGE MEET

Adult Girl Scout leaders in a five-county area, including Floyd, will meet next Thursday at May Lodge to help plan next year's program of the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council.

The meeting will be held from 10 a.m. until noon and will be followed by a luncheon.

Mrs. R. B. Isenhour, Lexington, president of the Wilderness Road Council, and Mrs. Evans McGraw, Council executive director, will speak. Mrs. Henry Stratton, Pikeville, a member of the Council Board, will preside.

Membership in the Area Association is composed of all registered adults in the five-county area. There are 1,900 such adults in the entire Council.

The area meeting is designed to furnish registered adults a chance to "have their say" in programs and plans of the Girl Scout Council and to help Council leaders keep aware of local thinking.

Principal business of the area meeting—in addition to reports and presentation of recommendations—will be election of delegates to the annual Council meeting and to the Nominating and Resource committees.

The Wilderness Road Council, with headquarters in Lexington, serves 55 Central and Eastern Kentucky Counties, plus one each in Ohio and Tennessee. There are approximately 9,500 girls in 551 troops in the Council. Roy Curry is professional field adviser for the area.

Three PCC Students Winners of Awards In Accent '69 Events

Judge HENRY STEPHENS

For
Circuit Court Clerk

I am well known as the man on the job. I have the endorsement of the state Auditor of Kentucky as being one of the most efficient clerks in the state. If you believe in honesty and efficiency, then I believe you should vote and support me. I will repay you in the kind of service you justly deserve. I was born and reared in a log cabin on the waters of Middle Creek as many others have been. I have been a rough, hillside farmer. I attended school in an old schoolhouse, walking four miles a day barefoot and by hard work and working my way, I acquired a fair education. As I think back over the past I sometimes wonder how I acquired any kind of an education. It must have been by determination and perseverance to succeed. Since life is uncertain and death is sure, this may be your last opportunity to help me and, if you can't I wonder what could be standing in your way. I have been and am a member of the Baptist Church and belong to the Masonic Lodge, Royal Arch, Knights Templar, Shrine, an Odd Fellow, an Elk and Eagles, railroader, insurance agent, gas field worker, a teacher six years, merchant, a member of the Beaver Valley Golf and Country Club, Fish and Game Club, a barber, foxhunter, coal miner, cashier and president of The First National Bank and assistant cashier of the First Guaranty Bank of

Martin. I propose to set up a scholarship fund of $500.00 each for five or six boys and girls, that they continue their education. There was a driver's program long before the present clerk was elected, in practically all high schools, and different automobile agencies furnished the automobiles free. The present driver's program established since the last clerk was elected. The County Board of Education within the last few years has brought about the training program in the Prestonsburg high school, since my term as clerk expired. My record as Clerk and Judge measures up to the best in Floyd County. If you think and are convinced that I will continue the kind of service you demand and expect, then I feel that you should support and vote for me. I will do as much or more for you in the days to come. Our greatest duty in life, I think, is to help others who for some reason or unfortunate circumstance cannot help themselves. My candidacy is not sponsored by any particular group. I am making this race upon my record and merit. In closing I want to say that I am the first Circuit Clerk to return excess fees to the county. Remember one of your best and truest friends, who never forgets a good deed. HENRY STEPHENS (Pol. adv.)

Mrs. Judie Shepherd Dies In 90th Year; Funeral Held Monday

Mrs. Judie Shepherd, 89, died Saturday at her residence at Hueysville after an illness of six months. She was born April 3, 1880, a daughter of Bob and Katie Vanderpool, and was the widow of Johnny Shepherd. She had been a member of the Regular Baptist Church for 35 years. Surviving are two sons, Roy Shepherd, of Hueysville, and Troy Shepherd, of Shelby, O.; four daughters, Mrs. Dona Moore, of Pyramid, Mrs. Mollie Shepherd, of Hueysville, Mrs. Dice Castle and Mrs. Darkie Shepherd, both of Stockbridge, Mich., and a brother, Charlie Vanderpool, of Handshoe. Ministers of the Regular Baptist Church officiated at the funeral held at the residence Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Gunlock, the Hall Brothers Funeral Home directing.

Ballard Hopkins, 77, Estill Resident, Dies At Home, Sunday

Ballard Hopkins, 77-year-old retired Estill merchant, passed away Sunday at his home following a long illness. Born May 15, 1891 at Melvin, he was a son of Elder W. R. and Millie Hall Hopkins. His wife, Mrs. Martha Wireman Hopkins, survives. Survivors, other than his widow, are a son and a daughter, Maynard Hopkins, of Waverly, O., and Mrs. Dixie Blevins, of New Haven, W. Va.; a brother, Elder Ellis V. Hopkins, of Topmost; two sisters, Mrs. Martha Martin and Mrs. Minnie Johnson, both of Melvin; eight grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the Providence Regular Baptist Church at Dry Creek, of which he had been a member for 57 years, ministers of that church officiating. Burial in the Dry Creek cemetery was directed by Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Mother of Dr. Messer Victim at Louisville In Her 95th Year

Mrs. Elizabeth Messer, of Garrett and Bonita Springs, Fla., died April 4 at Jewish Hospital, Louisville, at the age of 94. Her husband, Dr. Benton Messer, who died in 1934, was a pioneer physician in Rowan county, practicing in the days when he travelled by horse back to see his patients. He was a native of Knott county, and they moved to Farmers, near Morehead, from Hindman. Joe Creason wrote in his Courier-Journal column on her 93rd birthday, Oct. 19, 1967 describing Mrs. Messer as "a one-woman quilting bee." She had at that date made four quilts that year and was starting a fifth. Of her pioneer hardihood Creason recalled that as a young wife "she moved with her husband to Hindman when that part of the mountains literally had no roads. One fall she stuffed her youngest child into her saddlebags and set out alone over the crude trails and rode to Elliott county to visit her parents. Mrs. Messer was a daughter of Nelson and Sarah Pennington Egan, of Elliott county. She was a member of the Free Will Baptist Church. She spent her last years in Louisville with a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Schickl, and it was there that she turned her hand to quilt-making with her grandchildren and great-grandchildren in mind. Surviving, besides her son, Dr. Messer, and Mrs. Schickl, are another son, Joe Messer, of Morehead, and three daughters, Mrs. Cora Frye, Youngstown, O., Mrs. Marie Caudill, Frankfort, and Mrs. Lillian Aster, Falls Church, Virginia.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

In making my announcement for County Attorney, I would like to state, for the benefit of friends of my family who might not know me, that I am a son of the late Dr. M. M. Collins of Lackey, and Beatrice Adams Collins of the Abbott and Middle Creek sections of the county.

On my father's side, my grandfather was William Collins, a son of E. B. Collins and Betsy Holbrook Collins, from Hammer Tight, and my grandmother was Martha Nolan, a daughter of Stephen Nolan and Nancy Slone, from Lick Skillet.

On my mother side, my grandfather was Garland Adams from Myrtle, and my grandmother was Nancy Jane Prater Adams from Hippo. Garland's father and mother were William Adams and Peggy Bayes Adams, and Nancy Jane's were John Wesley Prater and Polly Shepherd Prater.

My wife, Rose Marie, is the daughter of George Martin and Maggie Case Martin of Stone Coal Creek.

George's father was Dial Hayes Martin, the son of Big Joe Martin of Estill, and Granny Mint Hayes of Langley, and his mother was Elizabeth (Girle) Allen, the daughter of G. B. Allen and Rachel Moore Allen.

Maggie Case Martin's father was Emory Case, the son of Jim Case and Jane Case, of the Mud Creek section, and her mother was Darcus Patton, the daughter of Frasure Patton and Easter Coney, Wilson Creek.

I will appreciate and remember your support, and if I am elected, I will make you a good County Attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of execution issued in Civil Action No. 5982, to me directed, which issued from the office of the Clerk of the Floyd County Court, in favor of The First National Bank, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, against Edgar Hunt et al, I will on the 5th day of May, 1969, at the Court-house door in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, at 10 a.m. expose for public sale, to the highest bidder, a tract of land, together with all improvements, thereon, lying on the waters of Left Beaver Creek, tributary of the Big Sandy River and described as follows:

BEING Lot No. 26 in Block No. 2, now or formerly joining a lot owned by James Frasure on one side and Langley Hall on the other in the Town of East McDowell, Kentucky, being a lot in the Hall Addition to McDowell, Kentucky. Being the same land conveyed to Edgar Hunt by Foster (Sid) Meade et al, by Deed dated September 28, 1961, recorded in Deed Book 178, at page 238, Floyd County Court Clerk's office.

I will proceed to sell said land, or so much of it as will be necessary to satisfy said execution and the cost thereof, to the highest and best bidder on credit of six (6) months from the day of sale, the purchaser giving bond with approved surety to have the force and effect of a judgment on which execution may issue if the same is not paid at maturity, when and where due attendance will be given by me. The amount to be raised is the sum of ($5,030.35).

'Whatever Things'

Back during World War II there was a prisoner of war camp along the River Kwai. Men were carried there following their capture. In this camp there was forced labor, a hand-full of rice a day to live on, disease, starvation, hopelessness, and death. Trapped in this situation, the prisoners forgot their humanness and became more animal than human. They became selfish, stealing from their comrades food and belongings. After one died the others would jump, like vultures, to get the dead man's meager valuables.

This went on for some time. Then, one day, a man was left to die. A fellow prisoner found him and for some unexplained reason began to care for him. He dressed the diseased body as best he could, even shared with the man some of his food. When asked why he did it, he said he wasn't sure except that he thought that somewhere in the Bible it said this was what one should do.

Soon his act of kindness spread around the camp. It was followed by another, and then another. Before long the camp had been changed from a hell on earth to a camp of help and hope. Men started acting like men. Selfishness was replaced by selflessness, greed was replaced by gratitude, and stealing was replaced by sharing.

The gradual transformation came to a high climax one day. A group of men, at work as a detachment, had finished their day's work and were preparing to return to their quarters. When the guard counted the shovels which the men had been working with, he counted one too few. He faced the men and demanded to know who had hidden it. No one spoke. He again demanded that the one who had hidden the shovel step forward. No one moved. He then drew his gun and shouted that he would kill the whole detachment if the guilty one did not step forward. The men sensed that he meant it. One soldier stepped forward, saying he had taken the shovel. The guard beat and kicked him. The soldier was released from the pain through death, long before the guard stopped beating.

It was an incident which, if had happened just a short time before, would have ended with the whole detachment being killed. But because of the transformation of the camp by the kind deed of one man, all the others lived.

We are surprised how far one kind deed will go toward healing the wounds of sickness—both physical and spiritual. Our Creator made us to respond to love with love. It is something that our society could use at this time—his expression of love. How powerful is the power of love.

When they returned to the camp, the guard counted the shovels again. There was none missing. He had miscounted before. The man had not taken the shovel. He lied for love.

TIDITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

FOLK WISDOM

A very large portion of folk literature, whether it has ever seen print or still exists, living, or folk minds, could be called folk wisdom. The usual literary studies deal almost entirely with formal literature, which may or may not lean heavily on the native unwritten literature of an area, a race, or a whole epoch in human history.

Probably the hardest phase of folk wisdom to understand is folk customs. Ages have gone into their making; hence they are in no way simple. Why do we act as we do and teach the younger generations to follow suit? Why are there so many taboos, even in civilized countries, many of them sensible to most of us but others impossible to understand? Here is a good example right in our own times. In present-day India the sacredness of the cow from one point of view seems logical, for the cow represents a source of food, milk and its products. And being kind to animals has an almost world-wide appeal now, especially being kind to helpful animals. But, when the cow is allowed to ruin a garden and cannot, by Hindu custom, be killed; when there are far more cows than can find a comfortable supply of food except by turning rogue, we people of the western world wonder at the quaint but injurious taboos of the Hindus. The teeming millions of India, many of them never far from starvation, envy our sympathy, but we often feel like telling them to get rid of the surplus population of cattle. If we should suggest that they eat these same cows, we would invite a lot of trouble, for taking animal life is the worst of crimes among devout Hindus. Now isn't that queer, to us, at least?

Before we sneer or even laugh at the quaint taboos of other people, we might review some of our own. Since we are talking about food, why not eat rats and cats and dogs and snakes and lizards and skunks and ground-hogs? Some dining ones actually have eaten most or all of these creatures, but most of us would rather starve before we would break some of our taboos about food. Not that we are especially religious or feel that it would be a sin to eat strange foods; we have just grown up with a horror of such foods and are reluctant to change our points of view.

Just how sensible is our attitude toward snakes, for example. Probably a large majority of the people you and I know make no distinction between poisonous and non-poisonous snakes and regard the whole tribe as dangerous and worthy of sudden death. The antics that I have seen when some big he-man fairly ground a harmless snake into the ground with his shoe heel makes me wonder whether our race should be called "homo sapiens," for that means "thinking man."

The enormous number of euphemisms in our language points out another bit of traditional lore that is not always easy to explain. In general, euphemism is used largely in referring to sex, birth, death, divinity. Some of the people of our race stress some of these more than others, so that it is not always easy to talk freely without some coaching or (horrors!) some violations of the code. It is a mistake to assume, however, that the so-called frankness of some people or whole languages indicates a coarseness of thinking. Likewise, it would be a mistake to think that nice-talking people are always nice. The truthful historian can tell us that morals were not necessarily higher in the periods when most euphemistic language was used. After all, the nice word for what is regarded as an ugly idea still gets the thinking across. Sometimes a straining after euphemism results in far more actual dirty thinking than a frank calling a spade a spade would bring. No one phase of our language has changed more in my lifetime than this; euphemisms still exist, but they are merely a remnant of the number that were formerly common. Be it said truthfully, even in euphemistic days there was always a hush-hush vocabulary, not for general usage, "before ladies and children." That very fact often made the nice word sound even dirtier when you knew that it was being used, almost obviously, to suit the occasion.

For County Judge

— DEMOCRAT —

A Businessman For Your County Judge

Your County Judge should have a program to justify the confidence placed in him by the electorate. I am most deeply interested in a program that I feel will add 2,000 new jobs to this county in four years. That program will be acquisition and development of industrial sites with at least one in each magisterial district.

Local non-profit corporations can purchase and improve these sites through a local-Federal Aid Program. Industry can be induced to locate at these sites and the jobs will materially reduce if not entirely eliminate unemployment in this county. Ample Federal and State money is available for these projects and this county can procure it.

Just look around at other areas and you will see that those who prepared for industry are the ones who received its benefits. Through dedicated effort we can secure 2,000 or more jobs for this county in the next four years.

Your support is earnestly solicited and will be appreciated

Announcing the first car of the '70s at 1960 prices.

FORD MAVERICK $1995*

(You don't have to read it all-but it's nice to know it's all there.)

Most new cars look like other cars. But when the word gets out that something really different is on the way, rumors run wild. Few cars have caused as much talk as Maverick. Ford's new entry in the small car field rivals the economy imports in price . . . but tops them in power, performance, passenger room and luggage capacity. We've been bombarded with questions about Maverick. Now, for the first time, here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?

A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?

A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?

A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?

A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls . . . important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?

A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semiautomatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?

A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?

A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?

A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a halfback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5½ feet to any parking space.

Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?

A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?

A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?

A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick!). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating cost.

Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?

A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points . . . plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.

Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?

A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight . . . power . . . stability. Designed for American driving conditions.

Q. How does Maverick ride?

A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's tight, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.

Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?

A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is . . . right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's . . . Fairlans . . . Mustangs and Falcons.

You'll find them at your Ford Dealer's . . . the place you've got to go to see what's going on.
