Weeksbury Claims 1st Place Award

Floyd Town Comes Back Thru Work

Residents There Snub Role of 'Ghost Town,' Lead Area Completion

Consigned by many a few years ago to the role of ghost town, with its coal mining industry gone, the community of Weeksbury is not only alive and kicking but it won last Saturday first-place award in the rural non-farm category at the Awards Banquet held in Ashland Saturday by the Northeast Kentucky Rural Community Development Association.

For its prize-winning effort in that category the Weeksbury Community Club received a $150 check. Huge, enameled roadside signs will proclaim to the world that Weeksbury is an "Award-Winning Community." Thelma in Johnson county and Haldeman in Rowan won second and third-place awards of $75 and $50, respectively.

Commenting on the community effort made at Weeksbury, Gene Ball, extension specialist who has worked closely with the group, said this week: "It would do your heart good to see these people work, and how they work together."

The Weeksbury Community Club got into the community development picture last year, the first of its existence, when it won third place in the competition. Most of the male members of the club work elsewhere, but, once returned home, they join the women-folk in community work. They began by renting a deserted (See Story No. 3, Page 3)

Local Scouter Trains At National Scout Ranch

Camarron, N.M. — Rev. Milton E. Skiff, Prestonsburg, is participating in one of Scouting's unique training programs at Philmont Scout Ranch and Explorer Base, the "University of the Great Outdoors." He is enrolled in the Protestant Relationships Conference, which is part of a national training program organized by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America. Skiff, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, served as a scouting advisor in the Lonesome Pine Council, BSA, which coordinates Scouting for the boys of his area.

Gayheart To Assist Auctioneer Here

W. H. McCormick, Prestonsburg auctioneer, announced this week the addition to his staff as apprentice auctioneer of James E. Gayheart, of Pippa Passes. Mr. Gayheart is a graduate of M. C. Napier high school, Alice Lloyd College and the University of Kentucky, and has had three years' Army service with 13 months of that time in Korea. He received his license as an apprentice auctioneer last month.

This Town ... That World

THE SPOILERS

Can man spoil the moon? There are no forests there to butcher, no streams to pollute, no countryside to desecrate or wildlife to massacre. But watch. If we make it there and all those who have spoiled for passage later for the way are accepted, we'll stir up so much dust that the old orb will take on a blood-red hue. . . . This historic trip may be of great worth to the world — I wouldn't know, I'm the guy who said, "So what?" when they announced they had smashed the atom, some years back. Of one thing I am certain however, if our fellows get onto and off the moon a whole passel of lovesongs are going out the window, and we'll have to look elsewhere for light to go with roses.

FISHING REPORT

To get back to more mundane matters, I report that the bass, white and black, were striking like mad at Dewey Lake, last Friday and Saturday. I went after them again, Monday afternoon, and this is the report of that safari:

It's worth a trip to the lake, just to return homeward in the yes, gloaming, to look far up hollows where the water gets lost in the converging hills, to wonder at the lighter greens of the trees when hit by the last light of day and the darker greens shrouded in the dusk, to perk up the old ears at the birdcalls along the wooded shoreline and wind up hearing a whippoorwill get the record stuck. . . . Now, how many fish do you suppose I caught, Monday?

A son of Green Johnson, of Hi Hat, and the late Mary Bryant Johnson, he was a press operator. Surviving, besides his father, are his widow, Mrs. Myra Robinson Johnson; one son, Billy, Huntington, Ind.; four daughters, Mrs. Linda Numemaker, Mrs. Glenda Hall, Misses Brenda and Lois Johnson, all of Huntington; four brothers, Milford Johnson, of Minnie, Johnny Johnson, Wheelwright, Paul and Kermit Johnson, both of West Carrollton, O.; three sisters, Mrs. Ethel Little, River Rouge, Mich., Mrs. Bethel Hall, of Hi Hat, and Mrs. Grethel Johnson, in Germany. One half-brother, Dave Mullins, of Hi Hat, also survives.

Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a.m. Sunday from the residence of the father at Hi Hat, and burial was made in the Boyd cemetery there under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

WANTED — FIREFLIES

There may be a shortage of lightning bugs in Ohio, and we may have to go to the rescue. A researcher doing work on heart disease there is on the track of something found in the glowing section of the fireflies, and he's paying the youngsters a penny per bug to supply his lab.

Teenage Spoof To Begin Run at Summer Theatre

"Bye Bye Birdie," the exuberant extravaganza that spoofs teenage frenzies over rock and roll with wit and affection, plays the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, July 17-August 2.

"Birdie" opened on Broadway in 1961 and won the Tony award as the best musical of the season. It later became a movie with Dick Van Dyke repeating his award-winning performance as Albert Peterson with Ann-Margaret as Kim.

"Bye Bye Birdie" has to do with a manager's efforts to send his draftee crooner off to the army with headline publicity. He arranges for Conrad, the singer of the title, to visit Sweet Apple,

Ohio, to give a parting kiss to Miss Kim MacAfee. Sweet Apple goes mad. The mayor's wife faints at Conrad's feet. The MacAfees caterwaul "Hymn for a Sunday Evening" in honor of Ed Sullivan and make fools of themselves on a national hook-up. The score gives Conrad several wonderfully foolish songs to sing, along with the popular "Lot of Living To Do." The score also includes "Put on a Happy Face," "One Boy" and "Spanish Rose."

Eileen Barnett Bittman recreates the role of Rosie, the role she played on tour with Jack Bailey. Bill Hayes plays Albert with Thomas Van Brunt as Conrad. Burman Smith plays Kim, with Don Fernandez and Vivian Shannon as the MacAfees.

Fult Short, Age 64, Dies At Mousie Home; Funeral Held Today

Fult Short, 64 years old, died Monday morning at his residence at Mousie, Knott county, after an illness of 20 years.

Born at Hindman, April 10, 1905, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Short.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Merthie Thornberry Short; four sons, Bobby, Dennis and Rondell Short, all of Mousie, and Vertis Short, of Kendallville, Ind.; six daughters, Mrs. Avonelle Coburn and Mrs. Bonnie Ramey, both of Kendallville, Mrs. Shirley Conley, of Auburn, Ind., Mrs. Anna Thornberry, of Corona, Ind., Mrs. Vonda Jewell Martin and Mrs. Olga Bolen, both of Mousie, and a brother, Aldo Short, of Mousie.

Funeral services were held at the residence this morning (Thursday) at 10 o'clock. Burial was made in the Chaffins cemetery at Four Mile, Ky., under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

VOTE ACTION IS DISMISSED

Stephens Contest, Only Primary Suit, Ends Here Friday

The lone contest suit resulting from the May primary, that of Henry Stephens against Frank DeRossett, was dismissed Friday by Circuit Judge Hollie Conley.

The dismissal action followed Judge Stephens' filing of an "order," dated June 30, to dismiss, and when no objection was made dismissed the case "with prejudice" at the cost of the contestant.

The two men were opponents for the Democratic nomination for circuit court clerk, the office which Mr. DeRossett now holds. DeRossett in his answer filed June 21 asked dismissal of the case, contending that contestant did not receive a sufficient number of votes to maintain his contest action under provisions of KRS 122.020. The court in its "Rulings of Law" in last Friday's order upheld this contention.

Stephens' move to dismiss followed failure to win from the Court of Appeals a writ of prohibition barring Judge Conley from presiding in trial of the suit.

Coet Moore, Age 61, Dies Of Heart Seizure At Home, Saturday

Coet Moore, 61-year-old Garrett farmer, died suddenly Saturday at his home, the victim of an apparent heart attack.

Born at Rock Fork, Dec. 17, 1907, he was a son of the late Wilburn and Polly Coburn Moore. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Frances Moore; five sons, Robert Moore, of Lackey, Clarence, Clet and Lawrence Moore, all of Garrett, and Harold Moore, of Troy, O.; eight daughters, Mrs. Cleo Sheffer and Mrs. Robert Reeves, both of Willard, O.; Misses Edna, Aileen and Judy Moore, all of Garrett, Mrs. Clara Hall, of Clyde, O., Mrs. Lanie Shope, of Mansfield, O., and Mrs. Mable Hall, Plymouth, O.; two brothers, Wootsie Moore, of Garrett, and Mander Moore, of Langley, and a half-sister, Mrs. Maggie Bailey, of Fairborn, Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted from the residence Tuesday at 10 a.m., the Rev. Roy Wireman and others officiating. Burial was made in the Chaffins cemetery on Rock Fork under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Heart Attack Fatal To Mrs. Ruth Ratcliff At Banner Residence

Mrs. Ruth Hall Ratcliff, 48, of Banner, died suddenly Monday at her home of an apparent heart attack.

A native of Banner, she was a daughter of the late I. N. and Rebecca Clark Hall.

She is survived by her husband, Tommy Ratcliff; a son and a daughter, Gary Lee and Deborah Ann Ratcliff, both at home; two brothers, Earl Hall, of Banner, and I. N. Hall, Jr., of Lexington, Ky.; two sisters, Mrs. Ida Hall, of Banner, and Mrs. Josephine Akers, of Detroit, Michigan.

The Rev. Fred McGinnis officiated at the funeral held today (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m. at the Hall Brothers Funeral Home at Martin. Burial was made in the Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel.

MAY SLAYING OF CHAFFINS IS PUZZLER

Progress Is Slow, Prosecutor Admits; Lab Report Awaited

Although investigation of the slaying of James M. Chaffins, 37, on Arkansas Creek admittedly is slow and often frustrating, the probe continues and moves toward a solution, Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo said this week.

Chaffins, a resident of Louisville, was killed the night of May 4 while on a visit to this county.

Stumbo said he and State Detective Chester D. Potter continue to question witnesses. Sheriff Joe W. Lewis has conducted an independent probe of the slaying. A multiplicity of purported leads in the mystery have consumed much time as investigators check them. Reluctance of residents of the vicinity of the killing scene to talk has also created a problem.

A man's suitcase found on a Middle Creek hillside, a mile from where Chaffins' auto was found the day after the shooting, was sent to State Police laboratories but no report has been made on lab findings. Lacking yet, also, is the report on a check of fingerprints found on the auto. The suitcase contained items of a man's clothing, a razor, toothbrush and other articles.

Investigators have been told Chaffins left his home in Louisville, around 11 o'clock on the night of his murder and that he had two suitcases when he left. The second has not been found.

The case, unless solved earlier, will probably be a subject of study for the September grand jury.

CAR DEATHS SUIT FILED

Damages of $20,000 Sought in 3 Deaths In Wreck Near Here

One damage suit filed in Floyd Circuit Court, involving the deaths of three persons, seeks to recover a total of $20,000, while a second action for damages resulting from a knee injury of a Floyd county man asks $29,600.

The first suit grew out of the deaths of Mrs. Maggie Wright and her two daughters, Mrs. Brenda Crum and Miss Teresa Wright, in the collision of two autos on the Auxier road, near here, last year. Peggy Gail Wright, suing individually, asked $1,000 for injuries received in the wreck and $7,000 as administratrix of the estate of her sister, Brenda. Gary Wright, administrator of the estate of his mother, Maggie Wright, sued for $6,000 and Coleen Griffith, administratrix of the estate of her sister, Teresa Wright, sued for $6,000.

Defendants in the action are John Wilburn, owner of the auto which collided with the Wright car, and Larry Howard, its driver. Plaintiffs allege that it was the gross negligence and carelessness of Wilburn and Howard that caused the tragedy.

In the second suit Morgan Crum seeks to recover damages from Hall Concrete Products for an injury to his right knee which, he claims, resulted from negligence of the firm's employees while unloading a truck. He asks $3,600, loss of wages, $1,000 for hospital and medical expenses and $25,000 for injuries.

COMBS FAMILY GIVE TWO PRACTICAL NURSING GRANTS

The Combs Family Scholarship committee this week announced it is now accepting applications for two practical nursing scholarships which will be awarded this fall.

Gene Combs, chairman of the committee, said the scholarship program has been changed from one registered nurse grant to two practical nurses' training scholarships.

All applications should be mailed to Gene Combs, Box 863, Hazard, Kentucky. The application deadline is August 1.

Qualifications for the scholarship are:

1. Applicant must be a high school graduate or pass GED test and, 2. be able to trace ancestry to the Combs family.

PROGRESS REPORT. Shown is one of the buildings nearing completion in the Goble Roberts Addition to Prestonsburg which is a part of an overall $820,000 rent-supplement housing project sponsored by eight Prestonsburg churches. The housing complex, when completed, will afford 75 living units to accommodate families of varying sizes.

CONGREGATION IS RESOLVED BLAZE WILL NOT INTERRUPT TRADITIONAL CHURCH SERVICE

The United Baptist Church at Water Gap, near here, was destroyed by fire last Thursday morning, but the pastor and congregation already have a new building under construction and expect to complete it in time for the regular foot-washing service held at the church, the first Sunday in August.

The church, which is more than 50 years old, has never missed this service. Work is being rushed to have the new structure completed in time to keep that record intact. A few men have been hired for the work but most is being done by members, some of whom have stayed away from regular jobs.

Cause of the blaze, which was discovered at 4 a.m., last Thursday, is believed to have been a wiring defect. There was a storm that morning, but the building was burned to the ground before the rainfall.

The old building was of frame construction and was 59 feet long by 28 feet wide. The new church will be of concrete block. The old church was partially insured. Nothing was saved from it.

The Rev. Wallace Calhoun is pastor of the church.

Floyd Man in New State Corporation

W. W. Burchett, Prestonsburg attorney, is one of the major stockholders in a new Kentucky corporation headed by Former Governor Edward T. Breathitt which will franchise businesses in two distinctly different fields — child care in metropolitan areas and fast-food service for smaller communities.

The corporation, Performance Management, Inc., will franchise American Child Centers and Minnie Pearl's Country Dairy in Kentucky.

Breathitt is president of American Child Centers, Inc., a subsidiary of Performance Systems, Inc., of Nashville. The Kentucky firm will center its attention on child-care centers and dairy foods, including ice cream.

Other major stockholders, each of whom have invested $23,000 for 10 shares of the company's stock, include Wells T. Lovett, Owensboro banker and attorney; J. David Francis, Bowling Green attorney; Norris G. Robertson, Hopkinsville real estate developer; W. T. Isaac, executive director of the Kentucky Society for crippled children, and Lee Breslow, a Californian who recently sold his knitting-mill business.

Frankfort real estate-and-insurance man Tom Isaac is the first Kentucky licensee of American Child Centers. Ground was broken for the American Child Center of Frankfort last week. Its capacity is 167 children.

The centers care for 3-to-6-year-old children of working mothers, on a full-day basis. They also offer nursery-school and summer-day-camp facilities for children of non-working mothers.

Breathitt said there are plans to start construction on two county dairies in Western Kentucky immediately.

ONE NABBED IN RUM RAID

Weeksbury Man Jailed; Johnson-Co. Postoffice Robbed, One Arrested

Dingus Johnson, elderly Weeksbury man, was jailed here Saturday by Sheriff Joe W. Lewis and Deputies Bill Hall and Paul Stilton after a search of his premises had uncovered 133 cans of beer and 38 half-pints of gin and whiskey. He was charged with possession.

Jailed here Wednesday was William Amos Colvin, who was accused by Postal Inspector C. J. Parsons of breaking into the Sitka postoffice in Johnson county, July 14. Colvin, the inspector's complaint said, took $7.33 in postal funds, $58 in postage stock and 185 blank money order forms.

Most of those booked here within the week were charged with drunkenness or drinking in a public place. The more serious charges alleged, those arrested and names of arresting officers follow:

Road-Building Lag Concerns Perkins

Congressman Carl D. Perkins this week urged the House to pass H. R. 4018, a bill to extend the Appalachian Regional Development Act through June 30, 1972.

Perkins said that "although rich in natural resources, Eastern Kentucky has been by-passed in developmental efforts ever since the initial Western migration settled its beautiful valleys and hills. The region has been neglected in the construction of modern means of transportation and access — neglected in the provision of educational facilities — neglected in the construction of flood control and water resources development."

Perkins said extension of the Appalachian Regional Development Act which began in 1965 was absolutely essential to open up Appalachia to tourism and expanding industry.

Perkins expressed concern at the slow rate of progress being made on the construction of the Appalachian highway system. "I am disappointed not only because we are not constructing these facilities as quickly as we should but also because I fear that the design concepts for the system the engineers may have been too persuaded by current traffic volumes and not imaginative enough in terms of developmental needs."

The Kentucky Congressman stressed the importance of bringing all of the Appalachia major highways to modern four-lane design. He also stressed the belief that the mileage allocation to the Appalachia states for the system should be increased by at least 10 per cent so that communities not linked to the system would have modern 4-lane connections.

H. R. 4018 would authorize $195 million for each of the next two fiscal years for highway construction. In addition, the bill could carry through fiscal year 1971 $85 million for demonstration health projects; $15 million for land stabilization, conservation and erosion control; $15 million for mining area restoration; $2 million for water resource surveys; $50 million for construction of vocational education facilities; $75 million to supplement funds for regular grant-in-aid programs, and $8 million for the administrative expenses of local development districts.

OHIO YOUTH KILLS BRIGGS

Former Floyd Man Slain Last Sunday At Lucasville, Ohio

William Elzie Briggs, 46-year-old Floyd native was shot and killed by a 15-year-old boy at Lucasville, O., last Sunday. Death resulted from 22-calibre rifle bullet wounds in his chest and abdomen.

Varying versions of the slaying were received here. One of these reports said Briggs was playing with the youth when the latter became angry and shot him. Another version said the former Floyd man had been arguing with the boy's mother, then engaged in an argument with the boy preceding the shooting. The latter report claimed Briggs struck the boy.

The victim was employed at Lucasville as an electrician. He was a son of William T. Briggs, of Water Gap, and the late Halie Burchett Briggs. Surviving are his father, his step-mother, Mrs. Annie Conn Briggs; three sons, Taylor Briggs, of Warsaw, Ind., Tommy and Carl Briggs, of Water Gap; three daughters, Mrs. Betty Stephens, of Warsaw, Misses Billie Jean and Eula Mae Briggs, both of Water Gap; a sister, Mrs. Patricia Michael, of Lima, and one brother, Leonard Briggs, Sidney, Ohio.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday at 11 a.m. from the residence of the victim's father by the Rev. Canton Lafferty, and burial was made in the John DeRossett cemetery under direction of the Carter Funeral Home.

P'BURG SOLDIER RECEIVES BRONZE STAR WITH "V"

Tay Ninh, Republic of Vietnam—Sp/4 Dennis Osborne, whose mother Josephine, resides at 30 Green Acres, Prestonsburg, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal with "V" device for heroism during a recent enemy rocket and mortar attack.

Initial rounds caused a secondary explosion and complete destruction by fire of an aircraft fuel helipad resupply area.

Realizing the eminent danger presented by such a fire, he left a safe area and initiated action to secure the shut-off valves within the main aircraft fuel storage area, 40 feet from the secondary explosion.

Osborne continued to expose himself and visually inspected and secured the motor gas storage area. He then directed his attention to the fire within the aircraft fuel resupply area and assisted with the fire fighting equipment when it arrived at the scene.

Through his heroic actions, Specialist Osborne helped to insure the safety of his unit and prevented the extensive damage that was almost certain to have occurred, had he not acted with the speed and courage that he did.

The citation, which was read during award ceremonies at which Brigadier General Arthur Hurow, commander, Saigon Support Command, made the presentation and commended the specialist for his bravery and devotion to duty.

Osborne is a driver assigned to the 228th Supply and Services Company, 277th Supply and Services Battalion (Direct Support).

DENVIL JOSEPH, 48, IS VICTIM WEDNESDAY AT NURSING HOME HERE

DENVIL Joseph, 48 years old, of Prestonsburg, died Wednesday at the Mountain Manor Convalescent Home here after an extended illness.

A veteran of World War II, he was born July 19, 1921 at Royalton, Magoffin county, a son of Corbin Joseph, and the late Flora Ruffin Joseph.

Besides his father, he leaves two sons, David and Allen Keith Joseph, both of Delphos, O.; a daughter, Mrs. Dianna J. Spirits, of Stone Mountain, Ga.; a brother, Raymond Joseph, of Lexington, Ky.; four half-brothers, Kermit and Carl Joseph, both of Prestonsburg, Herschell Joseph, of Lexington, and Burl Joseph, of Cleveland, O.; one stepbrother, Emmitt Ousley, of Lancer, and a sister, Mrs. Marie DeRossett, of Van Lear.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. from the Highland Avenue Free Will Baptist Church here, the Revs. Scott Castle, Jack DeRossett and Clifford Austin officiating. Burial will be made in the Joseph cemetery here under the direction of Floyd Funeral Home.

The body has been taken to the residence of Dayton Joseph in Prestonsburg, where friends may call.

At Almar, Saturday

Tenny Turner, country and western singer and songwriter, will appear at the Almar Drive-In Theatre, Saturday, July 19, for a big country and western show. Also billed are Johnny Conley and the Country Boys from WL-TV 13, Bowling Green, Ky.

Three movies will be shown as well. Turner is known around Floyd county as Tennyson Turner, as he shortened his name when he began singing last year. His first record, "Blacky from Lackey" has just been released and will be on sale at the show. (Adv.)

Prater, Allen Teams Victors; All-Star Team Announced

In a game highlighted by good defensive play by both teams, the Prater Indians edged the Harold Mets at Prater's home park Saturday.

Ellis Akers was the winning hurler. In the second game the Allen Angels exploded for 10 runs in the fifth inning which was good enough for an easy win over the first-place Ivel Reds. The Angels have been playing a broad-new variety of baseball of late, having won three of their last four games. Frank Grey homered over the left field fence for the winners. Jim Bill Feasure was the winning pitcher.

The all-star team follows (listed alphabetically): Ellis Akers, Ricky Brown, Tommie Cecil, Gerald Clark, Ronald Clark, Duane Daniels, Jim Bill Feasure, Frankie Grey, Danny Hall, William Kidd, Stevie Jannell, Mike Sturgill, Jimmie Wright. The alternates are John Boyd and Ricky Roberts.

The league will begin its play-offs Saturday, July 19 at the Dan Knausz Memorial Park at Ivel. The Ivel Reds will go against the Prater Indians and the Harold Mets will oppose the Allen Angels. Gametime is 2 p.m. The winners of these two games will meet the following Saturday and begin a two-out-of-three series for the league championship.

Mrs. Mattie Scott Dies In 84th Year; Funeral Held Sunday

Mrs. Mattie Scott, 83 years old, passed away last Thursday at her home at Garrett after a six-month illness.

Born March 1, 1886 in Knott county, she was a daughter of Barlow and Emma Hicks Combs. Her husband, Felix Scott, survives.

Surviving, besides her husband, are six sons, Willis, Ashton and Jeff Scott, all of Garrett, Felix Scott, Jr., of Lackey, Johnny Hancock, of Wayland, and Clarence Hancock, of Bristol, Ind.; two daughters, Miss Gertrude Hancock and Miss Bessie Scott, both of Garrett; two brothers, Monroe Combs, of Hazard, Ky., and Dolph Combs, of Ironton, O., and three sisters, Mrs. Della Slone, of Pippa Passes, Ky., Mrs. Cloara Hicks, of Cynthia, Ky., and Mrs. Gracie Collins, of Ironton.

She also leaves 23 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church, of which she was a member, ministers of that church officiating. Burial in the family cemetery at Garrett was directed by Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

IN RE: PETITION OF HIGHLANDS HOSPITAL, INC., TO DISCONTINUE OLD AUXIER ROAD

The Highlands Hospital, Inc., hereby petitions the Floyd County Fiscal Court to discontinue a portion of the old Auxier Road, beginning at Junction of U. S. 23 and continuing to property line of Robert Derossett and Butler Horn.

The petitioner states that such discontinuance will cause no hardship on or inconvenience the public in general.

The petitioner states that upon construction of the Highland Hospital a new road will be built from the old Auxier Road to U. S. 23 for use of the citizens of the area and the general public.

Wherefore petitioner prays that the road be discontinued and by proper action of the Floyd County Fiscal Court.

This 27th day of June, 1969. GEORGE P. ARCHER, M.D. President, Highlands Hospital, Inc.

THE LIFE-IS-REAL LESSON

The story that Woodrow Burchett tells of his grandfather and a certain bull may give a helpful hint to those who seek a solution to some of our youth problems.

Tom Burchett was a farmer who kept a good supply of horses, mules, cattle and all the livestock found on the well-to-do farm of his era. One day, he went to the hillside with this bull hitched to a bullogue plow and was working the critter industriously when a neighbor rode past.

"Tom, what in the world are you doing, plowing that bull, with all these mules and horses standing around idle?" he called.

"I'll tell you what I'm doing," Mr. Burchett yelled back. "I'm teaching this gentleman there's something else in this world besides romance!"

What Is Law In Floyd County?

I have received a copy of an order, signed by Judge Conley, and attested by Frank Derossett, Circuit Court Clerk, dated July 14th, 1969, in which it is ordered that Norman Allen, who has custody of the paraphernalia, including voting machines, return the keys to the building over to the regular custodian, DeGarmo Derossett.

Kentucky Revised Statutes, Section 125.050, provides that Ollie Robinson, County Court Clerk, is the custodian and under Section 125.110 also provides that it is the duty of the County Clerk to deliver the voting machines from storage to the voting places and back to storage.

Now how can a Judge, in violation of the above sections, make an order placing these machines in the custody of DeGarmo Derossett? Evidently the Judge has not read these sections, although he is presumed to know the law relating to such matters as provided by the Act of the Legislature of 1968. I wrote an order on June 30th, 1969, mailed same to the Circuit Clerk dismissing my action against him, which order was changed to a Motion, with a pen, and which order I did not change.

On July 11th, 1969, my case was dismissed which took it off the docket. How can the court on July 14th, 1969 make an order in the same case, when my case was taken from the docket? I could have charged the Circuit Judge in my proceeding before the Court of Appeals, that he actively campaigned with the defendant, Derossett, and other candidates and donated large sums of money into the May primary, but I felt that would not have done any good toward an attempt to require him to vacate the bench. As I understand the provisions of the statutes that the court may fix the time and manner in which the introduction of evidence may take place or could have taken place, which could have been extended 15 days after the pleadings were completed, but what good would it have done me when I felt that the matter had already been pre-terminated.

I never went to any precinct in Floyd county with a large poster of my name hung around my neck and parade around in any voting precinct. I also charge that the law was violated in some or all of the various precincts, in that the voters were not required to stay a certain distance from the voting booth. Some of the voting machines were facing you as you entered the booth and some were turned in the opposite direction. When, if ever, will an honest election be held in Floyd county? The Dry forces should place a guard or guards where these machines are stored until they are delivered to the proper voting places, or something unusual may happen. I have no doubt that a lot of promises were made before the May primary to hold the wet vote.

I still think there are many good, honest people in Floyd county who are interested in fair, honest elections.

Mrs. Roberta McDowell, Former Floyd Countian, Passes At Hobart, Ind.

Mrs. Roberta McDowell, 46, of Hobart, Ind., formerly of Floyd county, died last Thursday at Hobart following a two-year illness.

A member of the Southern Baptist Church, she was born at Water Gap, May 26, 1923, a daughter of the late Harry and Victoria Simpson Castle. Her husband, James McDowell, survives.

Survivors other than her husband, are two sons, Danny McDowell, of El Paso, Texas, and Jimmy McDowell, of Hobart; two brothers, Woodrow Castle, of Printer, and Don Castle, of Drift, and Mrs. Vina Beverly, of Illinois, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 1 p.m. from the Assembly of God Church at Drift by the Rev. Green Boyd. Burial was made in the Drift cemetery, the Hall Brothers Funeral Home directing.

Cold Water, just above Betsy Layne, is in Mouth of Mud precinct, but it is now circulated many of them did not vote in Mouth of Mud precinct, but in Betsy Layne precinct instead. Now if we are going to have this proposed great, courageous investigation made, now is the time for the supposed authorities to get busy and secure the proposed evidence before the next Grand Jury. In Richmond, Kentucky, an honest effort is being made to bring voting violators to trial, but will it happen here? There is serious doubt that it will.

I will let you hear from me with more crooked deals, which stink in the nostrils of honest people.

Lonesome Pine Scouts At National Jamboree Include 6, 2 Leaders

Seven Boy Scouts and Explorers and one leader are attending the seventh national Boy Scout Jamboree in Idaho, which is being held from July 16 to July 22, according to Jack Page, Jamboree chairman for the Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America. The group traveled on a special flight from Louisville, July 14, along with Scouts from the Blue Grass Council headquartered in Lexington, and the Old Kentucky Home Council in Louisville.

Some 40,000 Scouts and leaders from throughout America and the free world are attending the Jamboree. Following the Jamboree, the group will participate in a tour which takes them to Victoria, British Columbia. The group will return home July 26. Those attending the Jamboree from Lonesome Pine Council are:

William Keith Shannon, Troop 2, Prestonsburg; Morris Skeen, Troop 47, Clintwood, Va.; Mike Odum, Troop 328, Ashcamp; John R. Clarke, Post 10, Pikeville; James T. Newman, Jr., Post 23, Paintsville, and Harry W. Meador, III, Post 4, Big Stone Gap, Virginia. Arthur Leach, West Prestonsburg, forester for the Kentucky Forestry Division, is serving as the adult leader. Larry Coleman, from Explorer Post 10, Pikeville, is serving on the trading post staff at the Jamboree.

Alex Clark, Age 87, Prestonsburg Man, Is Claimed Tuesday

Alex Clark, 87, of Prestonsburg, died Tuesday at the Mountain Manor Convalescent Home here. He had been in failing health for some time.

A carpenter and a member of the Free Will Baptist Church, he was born in this county Feb. 8, 1882, a son of Alexander and Elizabeth Curry Clark. His wife, Mrs. Fannie Skeans Clark, died in February this year.

Surviving are two sons, Ralph Clark, of Prestonsburg, and Luther Clark, of Dayton, O., and a daughter, Mrs. Minnie Justice, of Endicott.

Funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) at 11 a.m. from the Carter Funeral Home here, the Revs. W. D. Jagers and H. Henry C. Duff officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Lancer.

store building and converting it into a community center (the club is now preparing to file for a loan from the Farmers Home Administration for a loan to buy the building and adjacent land for a recreation area). Supervised play for children is conducted after school hours and during the summer school vacation period. With the help of Nelson Project employees, the club has torn down two unsightly structures and sold the salvaged materials to carry on work of the club. A community garbage dump has been established, the community library is constantly improving. Last Christmas, more than 200 children were given treats at the community Christmas party, and this year the club staged a Fourth of July program. Cleanup and beautification of the community is one of the club's major aims. Funds to finance the work are raised through turkey shoots and other events.

In the village class Salyersville won first award, with Grayson and Clearfield taking second and third awards.

Receiving the award for the Weeksbury club were Miss Peggy Bradford, club chairman; Mrs. Shelby Jean Johnson, secretary; Elbert Gibson, treasurer, and Mrs. Mildred Johnson, community leader.

Hosts at the Awards Banquet were the Kentucky Power Company and the Second National Bank of Ashland.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Miss Susan Carol Francis, bride-elect of Mr. Paul Preston Burchett, and her bridesmaids were honored with a luncheon on July 2 at the Paintsville Country Club, by Mrs. J. B. Clarke, Mrs. Fred Francis and Mrs. W. W. Greenwald. The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out with yellow lilies in a crystal epergne, flanked by crystal candelabra holding yellow candles. Bridal place cards decorated with yellow daisies seated Miss Francis, Helen Ann Francis, Mrs. Joe Wheeler Burchett, Mrs. Maurice Isbell, Nancy and Faye Conley, Jan Arnett, Susie Jarvis, Donna Goble, Kathy Burchett, Mary Nunnery, Tish Clarke and Debbie Hyden.

PERSONAL SHOWER

Mrs. Fred Goble and Miss Donna Goble were co-hostesses to a personal shower on June 26 at 7 p.m. at their home honoring Miss Susan Carol Francis, bride-elect of Mr. Paul Preston Burchett. The gift table had a cover of yellow linen with a suspended yellow parasol holding the personal gifts. Refreshments were served from the table which had an overlay of white linen centered with an arrangement of yellow and white daisies, flanked by crystal candelabra holding yellow candles. Miss Susan Jarvis served the decorated cakes. Miss Debbie Goble presided at the punch bowl. Guests were Misses Susan Jarvis, Debbie Goble, Jean Arnett, Faye Conley, Debbie Hyden, Tish Clarke, Mary Nunnery, Linda Davis, Janie Brown, Donna Goble.

Little Mary Elizabeth Preflatish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gene Preflatish, made her first Holy Communion in St. Juliana Church, Sunday. Her two sisters, Sharon Gayle and Teresa Louise, escorted her to the Communion rail. The church was decorated and on the altar were white gladioli. Sisters of Divine Providence of Our Lady of the Way Hospital sang to organ accompaniment. Several out of town friends attended Mass for the occasion. After Mass all the parish were invited to the recreation hall for coffee and doughnuts.

Jimmy Sanders, of the X-ray department of Our Lady of the Way Hospital, spent the week-end in Baltimore, Md., and accompanied home his sister who had been visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lori Vannucci and daughter Renee left this week-end for Stratton, Pa. on their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Conley and children visited relatives, Mrs. Edd Crisp, Hager Conley and Dewey Conley, here this week-end. Mr. Conley is the son of Kelly Conley and is a former resident of Martin.

W. R. Mills, of Columbus, Ohio, visited friends in Martin last week. Mr. Mills is a former employee of the C. & O. and worked in Martin. He is now a Pinkerton man. Betty Preflatish and granddaughter, Sharon Gayle, accompanied Mr. Mills to dinner Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henschen, of Cincinnati, O., are the guests of her mother, Mrs. Sophia Cahill, of Drift. Christopher Allerga, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sweeney and children were in Lancaster last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Biliter and children, of Ashland, visited his mother, Mrs. Cea Biliter, and other relatives here this week-end.

Mrs. Sonia Greer is attending summer school in Louisa. Her son, Darrell, is staying in Louisa while his mother is in school. Larry Greer, of Lexington, along with Mrs. Greer and Darrell, spent last week-end at home.

Renee Vannucci entertained several of her small friends at her home here last Friday. The occasion was her birthday. The young ones enjoyed games and refreshments.

St. Juliana Church's advisory council met last week in Martin to discuss the business of the Floyd County Catholic Parish. The particular theme of the discussion was the image of the church in this section. Among the members to attend were Dr. Frances Sherman and L. B. Brashear, of Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Crowley, of Prestonsburg.

Betty Preflatish gave a Communion party for her granddaughter, Mary Elizabeth, Sunday afternoon at her home here. Friends who attended were the pastor, Rev. William G. Poole, Brother Michael, Brother Finton, of Martin, Brother Edd, of Dayton, Ohio, Christopher Allerga, of Boston, Mass., Sisters Marie Suzanne, Angelo, Theodore, Stephen Marie, Katherine Richard, Augusta Marie, Marie Clare, Jean Marie, the guest of honor, Mary Elizabeth Preflatish, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gene Preflatish, her siblings, Steven Lee, Mark Joseph, Sharon Gayle, Teresa Louise and Susan Elaine, Mr. and Mrs. Harlen Bradley and daughter, Maria Janet, Gayla Marie, Virginia Sipp and Jennifer Jay, of Chicago, Ill., Andrew O'Reilly, Mrs. Sophia Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Brashear, Mrs. Margaret Childers and children, of Garrett, Dara Fumagalli, Shirley Meyer, Karen Schmitz, Connie Breci and Mary Everist. Miss Linda Skeans was the co-hostess and helped serve cake and punch. The three-tiered cake was decorated with yellow rosebuds, topped with a tiny statue of a child receiving communion.

Mrs. Margaret Classing, of Ironton, Ohio, was the week-end guest of her brother, Dr. John J. Sherman, here last week-end.

Bill Prater, who has been in Vietnam for several months, has arrived home. His wife Carolyn works in the main business office of Our Lady of the Way hospital.

TIDITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

A NEW SOCIETY

For years we have heard about a New Society, and most of us are hardly skilled enough as wordmakers or word-understanders to know exactly what it means. It has occurred to me, in the years since this column started, that we are indeed living in a new society, whether we are conscious of it or not.

That the old-fashioned rural society is gone is too obvious to be discussed among observant people. As we oldsters knew it, it disappeared at least a half century ago, with the coming of such things as the telephone, the automobile, the country high school, the hard-surfaced road. In some places this sort of society that preceded these changes had long been typical of America everywhere, the society that succeeded the pioneer years. When the log cabin gave away to a more pretentious house, pioneer society was on its way out. And what succeeded the pioneer cabin lasted, in most areas, from two to three generations. As the settlers moved westward, the same series of changes took place, shortened in the later years because the later settlements were made on the verge of changing times. But now, so far as I know, there are no left-overs of what the rural areas were, say, in 1900. Imagine finding a place so remote that there were no telephones, no cars, no school buses in a whole county.

For a long time we seemed to be running away from ourselves. Going from one frontier to another became almost a disease, until frontiers in the old-fashioned sense disappeared. The rise of industry on a large scale began not too long after the frontier disappeared. Most of my own long life has been spent in this changing, moving, readjusting period of bridging the gap between the late pioneer period and the present one. I am not a name-giver, but I wish I could invent a striking name that would mean our present condition.

Just yesterday, I drove only thirty miles across what was self-sustaining farm country, between two county-seats. There must have been five times as many houses along that road as there were as late as 1930. But I doubt whether one house in a dozen is now occupied by a family that makes its entire living on the farm. Most of the houses, I know, belong to men who commute to work daily, some of them driving as far as to Louisville, ninety to a hundred miles away.

A well-informed man, who has worked in the small county that I drove across recently, told me that, taken as a whole, half the county's residents who are employed drive outside the county to their work. Their neat, modern homes along the roads, with gardens and flower gardens, with a telephone to each house, with a TV aerial over just about every one of them, with a school bus that stops to pick up and to deliver the children every school day, with electricity to light the houses and pump the water (unless the water district has already been expanded into the remotest houses I passed) — what keeps these places from being suburban, of being in every way even more city-like than a large portion of the town I live in, in that there is space to breathe and yet every advantage that the city offers?

This is to me the chief aspect of the New Society that has grown up in rural south-central Kentucky. A drive similar to the one I made yesterday could be taken in any direction in my county and all its neighboring counties. And it is interesting to see who these people are. Many are country in origin, who have built their houses along the roads to be better able to get to and from work; many others are originally from the city and have bought a smaller or larger acreage in order to have at the same time the advantages of city and country.

What are a few miles now except in the rare times when ice-covered roads interfere with school buses or even with private cars? I sometimes wonder whether these new suburban people are actually aware of the newness of their lives, whether they are planning terms of their former ways or have yet got adjusted to this wholly new manner of having houses and homes. We hear so much about disadvantaged people that we may be forgetting this change in the lives of advantaged ones.

Geological Survey Has New Map Series

A new series of geographic base maps which will be useful to Kentucky's mineral industries has been prepared by the Kentucky Geological Survey at the University of Kentucky, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hagan, state geologist.

Ten separate maps—the Corbin, Dyersburg, Evansville, Huntington, Jenkins, Johnson City, Louisville, Nashville, Paducah, and Winchester sheets—comprise the new Carter Coordinate Base Map Series of Kentucky.

The geographic base of the new maps is adapted from the popular Army Map Service series of maps. The new Kentucky maps show principal roads, streams, and communities, and county boundaries. The Carter coordinate grid, used by many oil, gas, and mineral investigators as a base of reference, is superimposed on each map.

"These maps should be particularly helpful to those planning regional mineral investigations in the area," Dr. Hagan noted.

Copies of the new maps may be purchased from the Kentucky Geological Survey, 307 Mineral Industries Building, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES

The University of Kentucky Community College System is designed to realize both the advantages of the University and the local communities. Each college is an integral part of the University with the same standards of admission and operation as apply to the parent institution. Through local advisory boards the colleges relate to the needs of the communities.

Former Floyd Residents Mark Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Laferty, 1701 Fairfield Ave., Lima, Ohio, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last week. Mr. and Mrs. Laferty were married March 28, 1919 on Rock Fork, near Garrett, by the late Rev. Marion Chaffins. Mr. Laferty, son of Hiram and Mary Hicks Laferty, was born at Water Gap, Jan. 15, 1901. Mrs. Laferty, the former Lonie Griffith, daughter of George and Elizabeth Howard Griffith, was born on Rock Fork in Knott county, June 6, 1900.

Mrs. Laferty has had her legs amputated above the knees since November, 1967 and is confined to a wheelchair.

Mr. and Mrs. Laferty are the parents of seven children. Five are living — one son, Bradis, and four daughters, Mrs. Doris Stone, Mrs. Sylvia Bradley, and Mrs. Anvie Coburn, all of Lima, and Mrs. Trilbie Ousley, of Ada, Ohio. They have 24 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Capital Digest

(Edited by Thornton Connell)

Frankfort, July 11 — Williamsburg, Ky., is getting a new plant that will employ 200 persons when construction is completed next year.

The announcement was made jointly by Gov. Louie B. Nunn and C. M. Hoover, chairman of the board of the Roper Corporation, Kanawee, Ill., which will build the 180,000 square-foot structure.

A leading manufacturer of gas and electric ranges, outdoor gas broilers, chain saws, garden tractors, drapery hardware, rotary tillers and other items, Roper will produce dinette furniture in its new facility.

BARREN RIVER
Preparing to break ground July 11 for the state's new lodge and related projects at Barren River Reservoir State Park 13 miles south of Glasgow on U.S. 31-E, Governor Nunn said:

"I am delighted to have a part in the beginning of this new addition to the finest system of state resort parks in the nation.

This $2.4 million lodge will serve to attract visitors and vacationers from other parts of Kentucky and from out of state, too, bringing in much new money to stimulate private enterprise in the area.

REVENUE UP
Wage and price inflation held chiefly responsible by Revenue Commissioner James E. Luckett and Finance Commissioner Albert Christen for the General Fund revenue received by the state for the fiscal year ending June 30 exceeded estimates by 1.17 per cent.

Budget Director Lawrence E. Forgy, Jr., explained while the total revenue of $487,139,975 was $5.6 million over the estimate, the "unbudgeted surplus," was just $600,000.

The difference was due to a provision in the 1968 appropriation bill which authorized the expenditure of as much as $5 million of any surplus on capital construction.

FEDERAL ASSIST
A grant of $304,000 by the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity to the Kentucky Commission on Human Rights "will give us a chance," said Galen Martin, Commission director, "to demonstrate that a state human rights agency can assist those who have been the victims of housing segregation."

The grant will be used to help Negro families in Louisville and Lexington who want to move into better housing in desegregated neighborhoods.

Some 25 to 30 persons will be hired to tell what housing is available and to encourage rehabilitation and construction of houses and apartments outside predominantly Negro neighborhoods. There will be a state coordinator in Louisville and city directors in both Louisville and Lexington.

SPENT NIGHT
"We cooperated with the Legislature more last year than any other governor ever has. We intend to do the same this year."

So said State Budget Director Lawrence E. Forgy, Jr. in announcing he will readily supply a joint legislative committee with money figures relating to the 1970-72 state budget when they start becoming available in October.

Prime information requested by the committee is the amount of the appropriation requested by each department and agency for the next biennium.

Forgy said one service performed by his staff during 1968 was to spend an entire night with the Democratic chairman and vice-chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, going over records and giving them data they wanted.

STATE PROVIDES
State funds will be used, Governor Nunn announced, to finance construction of a new library in Hindman, Knott county — approximate cost $180,000 — and for renovation of the existing library in Brandenburg, Meade county — approximate cost $5,000.

A budgetary increase for library construction in Kentucky was one of the improvements provided for by the 1968 increase of two per cent in the state sales tax.

CAUTION URGED
Miners and mine operators were urged by Governor Nunn and Mines and Minerals Commissioner Harreld Kirkpatrick to exercise extreme caution after vacations.

Some accidents were said to result from the physical condition of mines following a vacation shutdown while others were attributed to miners themselves not being in good condition.

NEW RECORD SEEN
Kentucky highway construction awards for the construction years of 1970-71 are expected to total $465 million, a record for any two years and equal to the amount spent during the four-year period of 1963-66, State Highway Commissioner Goss told the Downtown Kiwanis Club in Louisville.

Goss added that during the four months of his stewardship, the department has been reorganized and the salaries of engineers raised. He recommended inclusion of professional engineers in the state merit system.

TEAMWORK
State Librarian Margaret Willis and 11 other representatives of her department will tour Kentucky Education Television network stations July 15 to sample programs planned for next fall.

In response to Governor Nunn's request that all state agencies cooperate with KET, the Department of Libraries will furnish TV sets to selected libraries throughout the state planning community educational programs.

1965 BONDS SOLD
Some $20 million in general obligation bonds, part of the $139 million for highway construction in the $176 million issue authorized in 1965, were sold by the Commonwealth at a net interest rate of 5.537714 per cent to Equitable Securities, Marton & Co., Inc., Nashville.

The July 8 sale was for financing for interstate and Appalachian highway systems.

RIGHT-OF-WAY
The State Highway Department has begun to acquire right-of-way for the Bowling Green-Owensboro and the Bowling Green-Somerset Parkways.

The 68-mile Bowling Green-Owensboro Parkway will pass through Warren, Butler, Ohio and Daviess counties, and the 58-mile Bowling Green-Somerset Parkway through Warren, Barren, Metcalfe, Adair, Russell and Pulaski counties.

REHABILITATION
Establishment of a state correctional center for adult first offenders convicted of lesser crimes who otherwise would be mixed with seasoned criminals in the reformatory or penitentiary has been proposed by Corrections Commissioner J. C. Taylor.

Inmates selected primarily would be persons who are poorly educated, socially handicapped and economically deprived, but who in the Corrections Department's judgement would possess the potential for quick rehabilitation.

LIBRARIES OPTIMISTIC
Optimism regarding restoration of proposed cuts in Federal library appropriations was voiced by representatives of the Kentucky Department of Libraries on their return from attendance at a congressional subcommittee hearing in Washington.

Those making the trip were Mrs. Norma Johnson, Frankfort, president of the Southeastern Library Trustee Association; Vernon Cooper, Hazard, president of the Kentucky Library Trustee Association, and Mrs. Jane McClure, a London, Ky., library trustee.

Matthews Appoints Miss Little, Stumbo

Former Attorney General Robert Matthews, president of the board of directors of the Kentucky Youth Conference, this week announced the appointment of Miss Miki Little, of Melvin, and Commonwealth's Attorney Harold Stumbo, of Prestonsburg, as Floyd county representatives for the 1969 Conference.

The Kentucky Youth Conference was begun by Matthews in 1966 to give Kentucky young people a chance to apply their leadership and imagination to finding workable solutions to the problems of juvenile delinquency in Kentucky. Since that time, it has met with great success and has received praise from high federal government officials, including J. Edgar Hoover and former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Wilbur Cohen. It has attracted national interest from Look Magazine and the Christian Science Monitor as well as being widely hailed here in Kentucky.

This year, the annual conference will be held August 10-13 at Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, and will be attended by more than 800 young people from throughout Kentucky.

Executive directors of the conferences, Lacy T. Smith, suggests that Floyd counties between the ages of 15 and 18 interested in becoming delegates to the conference contact Miss Little at Box 37, Melvin, or Mr. Stumbo in Prestonsburg, as soon as possible for applications and additional information.

FLOYD COUNTIAN RESUMES DEAN OF STUDENTS POST AT ALICE LLOYD COLLEGE

Pippa Passes, Ky. — William R. Hughes is returning to Alice Lloyd College following a two-year leave. College president William S. Hayes announced Hughes' appointment as dean of students and community services recently. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hughes, of Buck's Branch, near Martin, was first named to the staff of the two-year liberal arts college in 1960. Following a time as registrar and bursar, he became dean of students in 1962. He also served as instructor of American history. From 1965-'67 he was academic dean at the college.

An alumnus of Alice Lloyd College, Hughes received his B. S. degree in 1956 and his M. Ed. degree in 1960 at Ohio University. Two years ago, he entered the doctoral program at that institution with a double major in higher education and personnel administration. Last year he served as superintendent of the Southern Local School District in Racine, Ohio. In his year of service there, he erased the $35,000 deficit facing that school district.

Prior to his first appointment at Alice Lloyd, Hughes taught at Rural School No. 75 at Spurlock in Floyd county, worked at an automobile plant in Willow Run, Michigan, and served in the Air Force from 1950-'54, before teaching social studies for two years and serving as principal for an additional two years at Laurelville (Ohio) high school.

Hughes is listed in "Outstanding Personalities of the South" (1967) and "Who's Who in American College and University Administration" (1969).

Fishing in Kentucky

By Harry Towles

Frankfort — The fastest and most exciting action in fishing occurs during July. It is then that jump fishing is blossoming into full swing. And, with the jumps, comes fishing that to many is unsurpassed.

To those not intimately acquainted with fishing, the jumps mean very little. In fact, only a small segment of fishermen are addicted to jump fishing, but those few will herald the coming of the first jumps as would a youngster welcome Santa Claus. It's highlight which he anticipates the whole fishing season.

Just what are the jumps? It's a condition brought about by hungry white or black bass chasing shad minnows. Usually in July shad minnows have advanced to the stage of a sizeable bite for these fish. These food fish assemble in schools and may travel the length and breadth of a given lake. They swim deep under water on occasion and only the big bass swimming nearby know about it. But they do, on occasion, come to the surface. It's then that the fisherman knows what to do. As the black and white bass charge through the schools of shad, gobbling up their favorite food, they splash the surface water, and the fisherman is aware of the jumps.

With a fast boat and casting gear at "ready," the fisherman rushes within 50 feet of the center of the jumps and casts into the maelstrom, using a shadlike minnow as his weapon. Usually the lure will run a bit deeper than the shad swims and the fish, charging from the depths, will latch onto the appealing before they reach the surface-swimming shad. Often every cast will produce either a white bass or a black bass and both may be taken from the same jump.

Sometimes the jumps will continue uninterrupted for as much as an hour. Then, the shad retreat to the lower water levels, but reappear on the surface at another nearby spot within a short time.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our loved one who is gone but will always be remembered. He passed away, just one year ago. With a cheery smile and a wave of his hand he left our home, never to return. There is an open gate at the end of the road, through which each must go alone. And there in a light we cannot see. Our Father claims his own. Beyond the gate our loved one finds happiness and rest. And there is comfort in the thought that a loving God knows best.

Survey Shows Thinking Of Parents on Schools

What do parents see as the needs of Kentucky schools? A study recently completed by the Kentucky Innovative Development Center of Frankfort provides some of the answers.

The 652 parents who participated in the study were selected by random from all areas of the state and are assured to be representative of all parents of Kentucky school children. The study, directed by Dr. Jim Peyton, of the Center, formed a portion of a Department of Education needs survey.

Parents were asked to respond to a list of commonly expressed needs and to add to this list any others they felt were appropriate. Parents expressed concern about the competence of teachers, especially their understanding of children. Eighty-four percent said that teachers needed to be better trained in this area. Seventy-eight percent felt that teachers needed to be trained in methods of instruction, and 75% saw a need for better training in subject matter.

When asked about teachers evaluation and pay based on merit, only 54% of the parents saw this as a need. However, 38% had no opinion, which might indicate that they lacked the knowledge to make a judgment on this issue.

In the area of the program of offerings, parents revealed their concern for the average, the below-average and the handicapped student. Eighty-five percent expressed a need for more special education; 80% for more remedial courses, such as reading and math; 77% for more vocational courses; and 74% for more practical courses, such as driver education, home economics and consumer education.

A smaller percentage of parents saw a need for broader course offerings for college-bound students (73%), for more cultural enrichment opportunities (70%) and for more physical education (69%). Only 43% felt a need for higher standards for passing.

Parents were strongly against lengthening the school day (83% saw no need) or extending the school year (79% saw no need). But, many were for extended school opportunities which could operate on a volunteer basis. Sixty-six percent wanted more pre-school or kindergarten opportunities and 64% more summer school opportunities.

A majority of parents felt the need for more and better school facilities. Eighty-one percent said more classrooms were needed, 77% better school buildings and 73% smaller classes. Smaller classes would require both more classrooms and more teachers.

Where should the money come from to pay for these needed improvements? Seventy-three percent of the parents said that more financial support was needed from the state. Sixty-one percent felt that more support was needed from the federal government. Fifty-nine percent felt that more money should be contributed from local sources.

T/Sgt. Neeley Awarded Bronze Star Medal

Smyrna, Tenn.—U. S. Air Force T/Sgt. John A. Neeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Neeley, of West Prestonsburg, Ky., has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal at Stewart AFB, Tenn.

Sergeant Neeley, a material supervisor, was awarded the medal for meritorious service while engaged in ground operations against Viet Cong forces from Aug. 8, 1967 to Aug. 6, 1968. He displayed outstanding ability and professionalism in formulating effective and efficient ground operations in support of airlift functions transporting cargo to combat units in the field.

The sergeant, now at Stewart in a unit of the Tactical Air Command, is a 1949 graduate of Prestonsburg high school. His wife is the former Dulcie B. Bartlett, of England.

ALC TELETHON INCREASES ALUMNI FINANCIAL HELP

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Four Floyd counties were part of a telethon canvass team which made a new record at Alice Lloyd College last Thursday evening. A three-hour telephone canvass reaching all parts of the United States resulted in an increase in alumni participation of more than 90 per cent, according to Michael Sloane, director of alumni affairs at the college.

County Supt. of Schools Charles Clark, Assistant Supt. Wayne Ratliff, John K. Pitts, of West Prestonsburg, and Ruby Akers, of Drift, gave sustained and effective help in the team effort.

The object of the effort, according to Sloane, was to "expand the participation of the alumni in the life of the college, to invite their reactions to current plans and register their suggestions for the future."

Nearly 200 former students of this private, liberal arts college in eastern Kentucky were reached. Extra secretaries and telephone operators stood by through the evening to expedite the person-to-person canvass. A summary at the close of operations revealed an increase in the number of financial pledges of more than 150 per cent over last year's alumni gifts and a 90 per cent improvement in the amounts pledged this year prior to the telethon.

'Whatsoever Things'

By DONALD E. WILDMON

GREATNESS IS TWO FEET TALLER

Sir Christopher Wren, the builder of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, was a famous architect of the 17th and 18th centuries. Once he was building a church edifice in London when he was severely criticized by a group of jealous architects. He was told that his type of architecture would not support the massive roof he was putting on the building. After much debate and Sir Christopher's insistence that his architecture would easily support the roof, the officials ordered Sir Christopher to put in additional supporting pillars. Sir Christopher, reluctantly and insisting that they were not needed, did as he was ordered.

Here was the story of a genius in his field who was forced to go against his own conclusions because of the envy of his competitors.

Funny, sometimes, the way jealousy gets into our systems. Someone can do something just a little better than we can, someone gets recognized as being just a little more capable than we are, someone rises above us — and we seek to pull them down. It seems that, if Sir Christopher found a new way to support a roof, his competitors would rejoice with him and learn from him. But such wasn't the case. They turned against him, scorned and laughed and ridiculed him, and sold the public a bill of goods that his way just wouldn't work.

There are many such cases like that in history. Someone comes along with something new, different, better, and we lose our jealousy on him. We are so self-centered that we will not allow ourselves to recognize greatness when it comes. Rather than paying tribute to greatness, we attempt, and often succeed, in pulling the other person down. Galileo knew something about this.

They treated the Fisher of Men that way, you know. He came with a new method, a more excellent way, a clearer revelation of what the Creator was like, and His fellow counterparts sought a way to destroy Him. He won the hearts of a few men, but men in His profession turned against Him. He was doing something new, something that He knew would work. He had full confidence in Himself and His work, but jealousy burned in the hearts of the recognized religious leaders. They sought to destroy Him.

Rather than listen to what this Man had to say and see if it were true or not, they closed their ears and would not hear His message and, prompted by jealousy and selfishness, set about to get rid of Him. He was a threat to their position!

Let someone get in front of us and, rather than join them, we try to pull them down. But life never lets anyone climb higher by pulling another down.

Fifty years after Sir Christopher had finished the church building, painters were doing some repair work on the church. It was discovered that the additional pillars that Sir Christopher placed in the building missed the roof by two feet!

Greatness cannot be destroyed by jealousy. Greatness is at least two feet taller!

Great '69 Markdown at DEAN WALTERS FORD

That's right! It's the Great '69 Markdown at Dean Walters Ford. And that means low, low prices all up and down the line! And when we say low, we mean "low!" Not just the usual savings, but once-a-year, end-of-year savings and there's nothing better than that! Every '69 Ford in stock has to go to make room for the '70's . . . cars like the big Ford. Everything about it is big . . . except the price! And once you check that, you'll check it out! But, remember, the Big Ford is just one of many Fords that are going at fantastic savings during the Great '69 Markdown! You can get America's favorite sporty car — a new '69 Mustang — at the lowest price it'll ever be! So don't wait. Now, while you have a choice of cars, models, colors and equipment, hurry down to Dean Walters Ford's Great '69 Markdown! You'll have to wait another whole year for savings like these.

REPORT NEGATIVE

A Legislative Research Commission report prepared at the direction of the 1968 General Assembly says operation of public schools on a year-around basis in Kentucky at this time would be economically unfeasible.

The report, which estimates it would cost $36.5 million more a year to extend the school year to 11 months, will be taken up at an Aug. 22 meeting of the Legislature's Joint Interim Committee on Education.

CITIES COMPARED

A workbook with which most American cities could determine how they compare in specific areas with other cities of comparable size is being tested under auspices of the Kentucky Program Development Office in Bowling Green, Winchester, Pikeville and Monticello.

The cities selected for testing are representative of the second, third, fourth and fifth classes. The handbook was prepared with the help of Spindletop Research, Inc., Lexington.

MENTAL HEALTH

A first-year allocation of $66,220 in a $500,000 mental health manpower project designed to increase the supply of mental health workers for Kentucky's expanding community mental health services has been announced by Governor Nunn.

The grant by the National Institute of Mental Health to the Kentucky Mental Health Manpower Commission will be used to evaluate several methods of training persons for work in community mental health centers.

MENTAL RETARDATION

Governor Nunn announced five community mental retardation programs in Kentucky will receive a total of $250,000 in grants from the Rehabilitation Service Administration of the U.S. Department of Mental Health, Education and Welfare.

The grants will help staff mental retardation services and mesh them with existing community mental health services.

NEW DIRECTOR

The Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission has a new director in the person of Frank P. Partee, Washington, D. C., an official recently of the National Air Pollution Control Administration of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Partee, who succeeds Harold Hodges, resigned, is a native of Hamilton, Ohio. He holds a B. S. degree in chemical engineering from the University of Cincinnati, 1961, and a master of public health degree from the University of Michigan, 1965.

$3.1 MILLION . . . MAYBE

In a statement released at a press conference held by the Kentucky Crime Commission, Governor Nunn said Kentucky "can anticipate" $3.1 million in federal funds to help fight crime within the state during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1970.

To qualify for funds that might become available, according to the Governor, state and local governments must be prepared to meet the matching formulas of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act.

Most of the projects in the Commission's plan, which emphasizes police training and juvenile projects, will be financed with 60 per cent federal and 40 per cent state or local money.

Vietnam Veteran Back at Old Job

Sp/4 Edgar Eulan McKinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman McKinney, of Harold, has returned to his old job with the Truck & Coach Corp., Pontiac, Mich., after two years of Army service. Murray Begins Work As Conservationist; Taff Goes to Texas

Glen E. Murray assumed his post Monday in Lexington as the new state conservationist to direct USDA Soil Conservation Service work in Kentucky.

Murray takes over from Homer A. Taff, who has headed SCS work in Kentucky since 1962. Taff has been appointed as the new assistant director of the South Regional Service Center in Fort Worth, Texas. The center provides technical support services for conservation activities throughout the South.

Murray has served as deputy state conservationist at Stillwater, Oklahoma since July, 1967. He was assistant state conservationist in South Carolina from 1964 to 1967.

Murray joined SCS as a soil conservationist at Beaver, Utah in 1951, and was district conservationist there and at Murrain, Utah. In 1959 he was assigned as an agronomist on the area staff there, and in 1961 he joined the SCS State Office at Salt Lake City as conservation agronomist. In 1963 he was named area conservationist at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Murray holds a degree in agronomy from Utah State University and a masters degree in public administration from Harvard University.

Mr. Taff has served as state conservationist in Kentucky for seven years, receiving a promotion in May, 1967 in recognition of the increasing complexity of SCS operations here. He served as a soil conservationist in SCS's watershed planning division in Washington, D. C. from July to November, 1962. Before he was assistant state conservationist at Temple, Texas.

Medicaid Changes Told

Frankfort, Ky. — In an effort to save the state's Medicaid Program from a possible $5 million deficit this fiscal year, Economic Security Commissioner Merritt Deitz announced recent proposed changes in the program were effective July 1.

The Kentucky Medical Advisory Council at its quarterly meeting approved the changes aimed at getting the most for the Medicaid dollar in areas where the recipients will suffer the least.

"We carefully weighed the needs of the nearly 300,000 Kentuckians eligible for Medicaid before affecting the changes. All of the action being initiated reflects the one overriding desire of this department to preserve and strengthen our Medical Assistance Program."

"The changes stem from the discovery earlier this year that the Medicaid Program appeared likely to cost $58.5 million during fiscal 1969, instead of the $51 million budgeted," Deitz stated.

He also said the changes were designed to curb abuses in the program through educational and control measures.

The changes recommended by the administering departments of Economic Security (DES) and Health include:

"Medicaid recipients will be issued medical record cards for physicians to record each visit in an effort to inform doctors of patients' recent visits to other physicians.

"A doctor will be paid for only two extensive visits per patient per year. Payment for these "workups" was previously unlimited. Deitz pointed out this control of fees does not mean a necessary reduction in services, but should result in better utilization of physicians' services.

"The medical review of hospital patients will take place after seven days, with an additional 14 days' authorized stay possible. The change does not affect the 21 day hospital emergency coverage provided under Medicaid.

"Quarterly statements of services rendered will be mailed by the Department of Economic Security to each Medicaid recipient,

"The Long, Hot Summer . . ."

Some places in this land of ours, those words constitute a threat of violence — black man against white, lootings, arson, even murder. Here, in our corner of America, the only heat that's on comes from the weather. This explains — a little bit — why we are so proud to call it "Home."
