

CAP Directors Vote VISTA Program Out

Nearly Unanimous Vote Is Recorded Vs. Poverty Groups

The VISTA program in Floyd county faces a quick death if action taken Monday by the board of directors of the Big Sandy Community Action Program stands unchanged.

The board voted almost unanimously—there was one dissenting vote—to end its association with VISTA. Big Sandy CAP is the sponsoring agency representing the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in the conduct of the VISTA work, which is financed by OEO. Thus, it appears that VISTA, which has its main concentration in the Mud Creek section of this county, will be without funds, since it has no OEO-connected sponsorship.

County Judge Henry Stumbo, vice-chairman of the Big Sandy CAP directors, presided in the absence of Chairman George L. Ramey. Sheldon Clark, of Martin county, made the motion designed to end VISTA work in the area, and Mrs. Evelyn Gardner, of Tram, seconded the action. Not all the directors present voted on the issue, but only one, Dr. W. C. Hambley, Pikeville mayor, voted against the motion.

At that, the hottest issue before the directors wasn't VISTA. The longest and most heated discussion came when the Pike County Board of Education applied for CAP's approval of its program, which needs OEO funding. Harry Eastburn, director of the Big Sandy Community Action Program, pointed out that the board of education had fired employees in certain OEO-sponsored programs there without first preferring charges and giving the workers a hearing and that until this is done approval will not be given.

The request for permission to move the Dwale outpost of the Comprehensive Health Program to the vicinity of Prestonsburg was denied. CAP directors suggested that the move should await further development of proposed road construction which, the health program feared, would isolate the Dwale station and make its work ineffective.

'Science-A-Process' In Floyd Schools Receiving Acclaim

The new "Science-A-Process Approach" program in the Floyd county schools is gradually becoming one of the models for statewide acclaim, according to County Superintendent Charles Clark.

"We have had approximately 125 visitors—superintendents, principals, teachers and college students—visit our schools since the program was initiated in 1967 in cooperation with Morehead State University," Mr. Clark said.

"Only last week, we had 25 college science students from the University of Louisville spend a day in Floyd county studying the underlying principles of this new innovative program," he added.

At present Floyd county has 18 schools, consisting of 134 teachers and 4,500 students engaged in this new method of science instruction in which the subject is taught as a procedure of inquiry and not merely as a collection of facts. The essential item of Science-A-Process Approach is that instead of just having demonstrations in science, the child is actually involved in carrying out experiments himself.

Thanksgiving Food Drive Under Way

The Baptist Student Union and Psi Eta Sigma at Prestonsburg Community College are sponsoring a Thanksgiving basket drive until Nov. 26. Purpose of the drive is to provide food for families who would most likely not have a Thanksgiving meal. Those who wish to make donations of food or money should leave them at the Admissions Office of Prestonsburg Community College.

U. S. Shoe To Build Second Plant in East Kentucky

U. S. Shoe Corporation has decided to establish a second plant in Eastern Kentucky. The first U. S. Shoe operation is located across the Big Sandy from Lancer. The second will be at Jackson, Breathitt county.

Announcement by Robert D. Stix, U. S. Shoe vice-president, of his company's plans marks a further step in the varied industrialization of Eastern Kentucky.

Floyd county was the pioneer in the region for new industry with the coming of Kentucky Appalachian Industries to West Prestonsburg, Princess Manufacturing Co., to Auxier and U. S. Shoe to the Lancer vicinity.

Mrs. Price Joins Mt. Mental Health

Richard Gallaher, supervisor of the Floyd County Outpatient Service Office, announces that Mrs. Rose Howard Price has joined the staff of Mountain Mental Health Services as a mental health worker.

In her new job, Mrs. Price will work out of the Prestonsburg office. She will be involved with individual and group therapy, home visits, emergency care and the community consultation-education program.

Mrs. Price, a native of Prestonsburg, is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school and has a bachelor's degree with majors in sociology and history from Morehead State University. Her first two years of college work was done at the Prestonsburg Community College.

She and her husband reside at Auxier. Mr. Price teaches at Maytown high school. Mrs. Price may be contacted at Phone 886-3893.

School Principals, Dr. Edmonds Meet To Study Program

The second of a series of monthly meetings of all Floyd school principals with Dr. Fred Edmonds, of the Education Department, University of Kentucky, was held here Tuesday in a continuing effort to improve the education program in the county.

The meetings, held each third Tuesday, are designed, Clem Martin, director of instruction, for the Floyd County Board of Education, said, "to take a long look at the whole situation, try to make an honest appraisal and then to develop the best possible instruction with what we have."

County Supt. Charles Clark said the series of conferences with Dr. Edmonds developed from the recognition of the fact that innovative practices in education amount to no more than the participation of school leaders. The idea, he explained, is a common effort on the part of school principals to evaluate strengths and weaknesses, keeping always in mind the contribution to the education of the pupil. He said the meetings have been scheduled in the hope that school principals will be more receptive to innovative ideas.

BRYANT ELECTED

The Times election story last week omitted the name of Buddy Bryant, Democrat, who was elected Constable in District 3. He was unopposed.

Senate Backs OK by House For Martin Stream Work

The $150,000 earlier approved by the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors for beginning of construction on the $3.2 million Martin stream improvement project was voted last week by the Senate Appropriations Committee, and because both branches of the Congress have agreed on the appropriation it cannot be changed in later conference between the two houses.

This information was supplied The Times and others in the county by Senators John Sherman Cooper and Marlowe W. Cook, immediately after the Senate committee action.

The Martin project is designed to prevent a recurrence of the floods which have, according to Mayor E. P. Grigsby, caused damage there in excess of $10 million. The work will involve straightening, widening and deepening of the channel of Beaver Creek from a point near the confluence of Right and Left Beaver Creeks to the vicinity of Clark Branch, between Martin and Allen—a distance of about five miles.

Senator Cook also advised Mayor Grigsby and Ray R. Allen, executive director of the Martin Housing Commission, that bids on the proposed five-story housing project there have been rejected as excessive. The housing plan has been returned to the Atlanta office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development in an attempt to find grounds for approval.

This Town . . . That World

Men walk farther, these days, on the moon than most of us will walk to church.

NINE-DAY WONDER?

The wonder of this moon-trip is no less than before the first was made. The mathematics, the scientific knowledge involved, the thought of men cutting loose from their own environment for a voyage of thousands of miles skyward to land on a cold, barren, unfriendly dot in the sky that until recently was inaccessible—all this and more continue to stagger the imagination.

Yet, for all that, the most striking thing about the flight of Apollo XII is the apparent lack of interest in this second moon-shot. A few more trips to the moon, and an astronaut won't attract as much attention as Carl Perkins on a visit home from Washington.

QUESTION

Some of these fellows have steeped themselves in the mechanics of inter-planetary travel, and there are those who can give a good imitation of von Braun on the workings of the space vehicle. But there is always somebody around to spoil the game.

One such listened and listened, and then asked:

"But what if a tie-rod comes loose?"

FOR WHAT AILS YOU

Carl Dixon, of Pikeville, has left with me a book which was written a mere 150 years ago by a Mr. John George Hohman, of Berks county, Pa., in which the author sets down ancient remedies, potions, charms and, maybe, a few hexes. If everything else has failed, you might want to try the Hohman system. Here are a few of his suggestions:

City-USDA Contract Provides For Soil, Water Information

Dr. George P. Archer, mayor of Prestonsburg, acting on behalf of the city, has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District and the USDA Soil Conservation Service.

The memorandum has been approved and was returned to him at a meeting at Jenny Wiley State Park on October 28.

This memorandum allows the Soil Conservation District (SCD) and the USDA Soil Conservation Service (SCS) to furnish technical data to the city to aid its planning commission.

Such cooperation allows joint effort in the solution of problems relating to the planning and development of soil and water resources in Floyd county.

The SCD agrees to provide information and educational materials to guide proper land-use patterns; help prepare soil and water resource plans, and advise with the Commission on planning and development programs dealing with soil, water and related land uses.

SCS agrees to interpret available soil surveys; analyze water disposal, drainage, erosion and sediment problems and make recommendations as to solutions; provide design criteria and check adequacy of designs for soil and water conservation measures; assist in conducting inventories of natural resources; counsel with the Planning Commission and planning consultants on the commission's objectives for long range development; assist in reviewing development plans and make recommendations concerning the wise use of the land in relation to soil, water, and related resources.

The Commission is committed to observing the principles of sound soil and water conservation. It will refer future development plans to the district for a review and technical opinion on land-use, soil and water problems, and the measures needed to solve them.

Thanksgiving Service Is Scheduled Nov. 26

The union Thanksgiving service here will be held from the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p. m., next Wednesday, with the Rev. Arthur Conaway, of St. James Episcopal Church, the speaker. Ministers who comprise the Prestonsburg Ministerial Association will participate in the service.

The public is urged to attend the service and take part in a joint expression of Thanksgiving.

Jackson Acquitted In Brown Slaying; Akers Trial Next

The first of three murder trials docketed for the current term of circuit court ended Monday in the acquittal of Charles Jackson, 22-year-old Garrett man who was charged with the slaying last January of his brother-in-law, Tommy Brown, Jr., 43. The jury deliberated almost three hours before reaching a verdict.

The case for the Commonwealth was weakened by the appearance of Brown's widow and one of his two former wives to testify for Jackson. Defense testimony concurred in the claim that Jackson fired in defense of his younger brother, Millard Jackson. These witnesses said Brown was pointing a shotgun at the younger Jackson and threatening him when the defendant fired.

The victim's son, Tommy, gave the Commonwealth its strongest point. He testified that his father told him to go into the house and get his shotgun and that when he handed the weapon to his father Jackson fired. The shooting took place last Jan. 21, on Turkey Creek.

Trial of David Akers, who is charged with the Mud Creek slaying of Charles Hall, was scheduled to begin Wednesday. The third such trial will be that of Orville M. Moore, charged with the slaying of his son-in-law, Don Gayheart. His trial is scheduled for Dec. 1.

Bystander Is Shot In Restaurant Row Early Last Sunday

James Raymond Crisp, former Prestonsburg radio announcer, a bystander during an altercation at an Allen restaurant, was seriously wounded early Sunday by a .38-caliber revolver bullet which reportedly was accidentally fired.

Crisp was struck below the left eye, and the bullet ranged downward into his neck. He was taken to a Lexington hospital, where he later was said to be recovering.

A warrant charging William Kilgore Woods, of Allen, with assault and battery with a deadly weapon was sworn out by State Trooper Elmo Allen. The trooper said the shooting took place at Ann's Barbecue, shortly after 2 a. m.,

Mud Creek District Gets $129,000

Presentation of a check for $129,000 from the Economic Development Administration, U. S. Department of Commerce, to Mud Creek Water District was made here Tuesday by H. H. Smith, Jr., who represents EDA in 22 eastern Kentucky counties. Accepting the check on behalf of the water district was Homer Hamilton, chairman of the Water Commission.

Smith, whose office is in Hindman, said this disbursement of $129,000 is a part of $1,471,000

$410,151 Okayed For Varied Work Next 12 Months

Floyd, Lawrence, Martin, Magoffin, Johnson and Pike counties have received a federal grant of $410,151 for a four part, 12-month community action program, it was announced last week by W. Astor Kirk, director, Middle Atlantic Region, OEO.

The applicant agency is the Big Sandy Area Community Action Program, Inc. The local share of the grant is $61,843. Of the total federal figure, $30,500 are unexpended funds from previously approved programs. Harry Eastburn is the executive director with offices located at the Johnson county court-house, Paintsville.

Community Action Agency Administration (funded at $150,067 and staffed with eight professionals and seven non-professionals) enables the CAA to continue its on-going program and initiate new ones.

The second component, CAA Planning (funded at $26,986 and staffed by one professional and four non-professionals), provides staff for involving poor people in the Pikeville Model Cities program.

The third component, Community Organization (funded at $59,248 and staffed with 12 non-professionals) provides outreach workers who make contact with the area poor people.

The final component, an Emergency Food and Medical Services program (funded at $173,850 and staffed with 13 non-professionals), provides needed emergency food and medical services to five of the six counties in the Big Sandy Area, Lawrence County not qualifying.

Suit for $100,000 Names Power Firm In Death of Youth

Suit asking $100,000 damages of the Kentucky Power Company was filed in circuit court last week by Eugene Rister, administrator of the estate of Larry Andrew Rister, the youth who was electrocuted at Wayland last September.

The complaint alleges that the power company left three "live" wires, uninsulated and unguarded by fencing, at the location formerly occupied by a machine shop.

Rister contends the place vacated when the machine shop was moved to Left Beaver Creek was enticing to youngsters and that the fencing which once had enclosed the danger spot had been permitted to fall into disrepair.

Young Rister was electrocuted when he climbed upon the framework upon which the wires were located.

An action filed in circuit court by the city of Prestonsburg seeks the annexation of 156 acres of land to the city. This acreage lies in the vicinity of Cliff and was acquired as a prospective industrial site.

grant and loan made to the water district by EDA to finance construction of the water system which, when completed, will serve the Mud Creek valley and will improve the health and sanitation situation and the area's potential for development of industry.

Mud Creek unemployment in 1967 averaged 11.3 percent of the work force, more than four times the national average.

Floyd Woman's Nephew Named Knight of Malta

By DAVID SMALL
In Stars And Stripes

STUTT GART, GERMANY — Chief Master Sergeant, U. S. Air Force; Doctor of Philosophy; Knight of Grace—all are titles of John H. Hatcher, staff message controller at the U. S. EUCOM headquarters.

Hatcher is a nephew of Mrs. Lillie H. Parker, of Prestonsburg.

After enlisting in 1944, Hatcher pursued his formal education on off-duty hours, winning his bachelor's degree in 1962, his masters in 1963 and his doctorate in 1967, to become the first, and perhaps the only, enlisted man in the Air Force to obtain his PhD while serving on active duty.

But the degree is only a partial measure of the man.

He was recently appointed to the rank and honor of Knight of Grace in the Sovereign Order of St. John of Jerusalem (OSJ), Knights of Malta, by the American Catholic Federation of Austria, German, and Swiss University Professors, Inc. Today, to be knighted in this order is an honor bestowed on people who make significant contributions to mankind.

He was also named an honorary mayor of the German city of Offenbach-am-Main for his work with the children.

When Hatcher isn't wearing his "military hat," he puts on his "cap and gown" to teach in the off-duty education program for the University of Maryland, Overseas European Division, in the Stuttgart metropolitan area. He has also held instructor positions at the University of Cincinnati and Hardin-Simmons University.

Hatcher instructs classes in European history two nights a week, and German life and culture courses two other nights and week. His command of the language and understanding of German culture and history are a great asset to both himself and his students on various field trips.

He is listed in the Directory of American Scholars, is a member of the American Academy of the Political and Social Sciences, the American Historical Association, and the Organization of American Historians. He is also an author. He has written two books since 1963. "A History of Dyess Air Force Base in Its First Decade: A Study in Military Base-Community Relations," and "Fred Vinson: Congressman from Kentucky: A Political Biography, 1890-1938." He has also had writings appear in "Texas Military History," "West Texas Historical Association Yearbook," and "The Fulson Club History Quarterly."

Hatcher, a crew-cut veteran of 25 years of service, hopes to retire in Europe and land a teaching position in a European university. "It would really be a boost to my academic career," he said.

Service Publishes Area Soils Report

Muin Kalla, professional planner working with the city of Prestonsburg, said recently that soils information and needed interpretations are basic ingredients which he must have to develop a realistic land use plan.

The soils report for Prestonsburg and adjacent areas was published last month by the USDA Soil Conservation Service. The purpose of the report was to furnish information about the soils in the Prestonsburg area for planning purposes. The soil map shows the location of different soils and the report contains information about the characteristics, limitations and suitability for different uses.

The area covered by the soils report is approximately 2,000 acres. Included is most of the land in the valley along the Big Sandy river from Auxier to Dwale. Portions of Middle Creek and Bull Creek are included. Areas not included in the report may be available at the USDA Soil Conservation Service office here.

Many uses can be made of the soils report. By using the report comprehensive planning can be made very effectively. Individuals can also use the soils report for locating septic fields, homesites, driveways and lawn and landscaping problems.

The report indicates the degree of limitation that a particular soil has for these uses as well as for other uses. It also indicates whether campsites, picnic areas, athletic fields and other recreational uses are adapted to the particular soil.

Engineers can use the information for permeability or percolation tests. They can classify the soils based on its physical and chemical properties.

This information and other needed interpretations for non-farm uses can be obtained, free of charge, by contacting the USDA Soil Conservation Service here. The service will make on-site investigations to make other determinations as needed.

Girl Scouts Mark First Birthday

Girl Scout Troop 256 of Maytown became one year old on October 23. Because Juliette Low, the founder of Scouting in America, had a birthday October 31, the girls decided to celebrate both occasions at once. Invitations were extended to parents, family and friends to attend a birthday celebration November 6 at the Floyd County Fish and Game lodge.

Opening prayer was led by Libby Flanery, followed by a flag ceremony. Scouts participating in the ceremony were Joy Blevins, Teresa Huff, Darlene Robinson and Beverly May. Joy Blevins, Ann Flanery and Darlene Robinson presented talks about Juliette Low, the Meaning of the Girl Scout Pin, and the Meaning of the World Association Pin.

A candlelight investiture ceremony was held for the four new members of the troop. In this ceremony new members, Teresa Huff, Pam Osborne, Beverly Reffitt and Teresa Rowe, made their Girl Scout Promise and received Girl Scout pins from Troop Leader Betty May.

Betty May then conducted a Court of Awards presenting signs and badges earned by Girl Scouts in the past year. Girls receiving badges were Ronda Stone, Melissa Stone, Bonita Compton, Ann Flanery, Darlene Robinson, Tara Click, Karen Click, Maria Bradley, Joy Blevins, Beverly May, Sheila Allen and Kim Martin. Three Scouts had completed requirements for The Sign of the Arrow. They were Joy Blevins, Ann Flanery and Beverly May.

The girls then gathered around a birthday cake to receive their membership stars and make "a wish upon a star" for something good in Scouting during the coming year. Refreshments were served to guests, scouts and leaders.

Guests enjoyed exhibit tables and scrap book showing things done and made by the girls to complete requirements for earning badges.

Tussey-Shepherd Vows Said

The sanctuary of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church was the setting for the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Cheryl Lynne Tussey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Tussey, of David, and Clyde Shepherd, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Richmond Shepherd, also of David.

The vows were exchanged at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, October 11, before an altar of greenery, flanked with candelabra. Three arched candelabra joined the center. A double kneeling bench, covered in white satin, was used. Family pews were marked with an arrangement of greenery flanked with candelabra and large satin bows.

The Rev. W. D. Jagers, pastor of the church, was the officiating minister.

Mrs. Katherine Frazier, organist, rendered wedding selections preceding the ceremony and the traditional Wedding March. She accompanied Miss Rebecca Haywood, soloist, who sang, "Whither Thou Goest," preceding the ceremony and "Heavenly Father" during the rites.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Mr. Ed Stephens, and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie. The dress was of an empire silhouette design with bateau neckline and long, pointed sleeves. Alencon lace trim enhanced the neckline, front bodice and sleeve tips. Her full-length chapel train fell from a cluster of pleats at center back and was decorated with sections of Alencon lace. Her bouffant veil of imported illusion was held by a petal cluster of peau de soie and Alencon lace edged in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with a bouquet of white feathered mums, centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls which were a gift from the groom.

Miss Barbara Branham, of Ypsilanti, Michigan, was her cousin's maid-of-honor. She was attired in a floor-length gown of romance blue chiffon over linen. The dress was of empire silhouette design with bateau neckline and elbow length sleeves. The back was decorated with a full panel of chiffon held by a matching peau de soie bow centered with a chiffon rose. Her face veil was held by cluster of chiffon rosebuds trimmed with seed pearls.

The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Ousley, cousin of the bride, Miss Barbara Shepherd, cousin of the groom, Miss Sharon Wright, all of Prestonsburg, and Miss Verna Kaye Cole, of Bluefield, W. Va. They were attired in blue ensembles of the same design and fabrics as that of the honor attendant. Each of the attendants carried a nosegay of white mums with pale blue stephanotis, tied with blue and white streamers.

Master Richie Ousley, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Joe Tussey, of David, brother of the bride, served as best man. Tony Burchett, of Prestonsburg, and Scott Stephens, of Louisville, cousins of the bride, were ushers. Lighting the tapers were Steve Tussey, brother of the bride, and Curt Risner, both of David.

Mrs. Tussey attended her daughter's wedding in a brown and white dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

A reception was held at the church annex following the wedding. The bride's table was covered with a white, floor-length linen edged with a wide band of lace. Garlands of lily of the valley were draped in scallops secured to the top edge of the table with small, white satin bows with streamers. The wedding cake, made by the bride's mother, was in five tiers, with each tier resting on Grecian columns.

The reception table was centered with a flower arrangement of white carnations with mums and pale blue stephanotis flanked by two tall candelabra, each holding blue candles. Mrs. Woodrow Greenwade was in charge of the reception and was assisted by Mrs. Palmer Marshall, Mrs. Glenn Allen, Miss Shirley Cornette, and Mrs. Arbie Shepherd, sister-in-law of the groom. Miss Shirley Cornette was at the guest register.

Out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Branham and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Branham and Dougie, all of Ypsilanti, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shepherd, Michelle and Kristin, Mr. and Mrs. Arbie Shepherd and Mark, all of Jackson, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stone, Glen, Richie, Greg, and Melinda, of Westland, Mich., Mrs. Ernest Salyers and Mrs. Davis Trimble and daughter Virginia, of Bannetts Creek, Ky.; Mrs. Carl Wiley, Mrs. Billy P. Conley, and David Williamson, of Paintsville, Mrs. Tom Cole, Bluefield.

For traveling on their wedding trip to Tennessee, the bride wore a navy blue and red knit dress with matching accessories. The newlyweds are residing in Charleston Heights, South Carolina.

Mrs. Shepherd was graduated from Prestonsburg high school and attended Prestonsburg Community College and Morehead State University.

Mr. Shepherd is a staff sergeant in the United States Air Force at Charleston Air Force Base South Carolina. He has served with the Air Force for eight years. A graduate of Prestonsburg high school, he attended the University of Tampa and University of Maryland.

Thank You

People so many times are prone to take their friends and customers for granted and forget to say, "Thank you," in a special way. That is the reason we are taking this opportunity to say, "Thank you" to our many friends who have made our business what it is today. Without your business and friendship it would have been impossible for us to grow and to be able to bring to you the type of merchandise that we can offer today.

So let us be the first to wish you a happy Thanksgiving, a merry Christmas and a very prosperous New Year, and once again to say, "Thanks for everything." We'll all be looking forward to seeing you during the Holidays in our stores where we can personally thank you.

Ranier's Record Wins Good Response In Jacksonville, Its Namesake City

Jacksonville (Fla.) Mayor Hans Tanzler receives a certified first copy of "Jacksonville," a pop-country hit song by Bobby Ranier, of Prestonsburg. Presentation was made at an Appreciation Day ceremony for the new singing star in Jacksonville, Nov. 7.

Special to The Times
Jacksonville, Fla.—"When Bobby Ranier breezed in from Prestonsburg, Ky., last week to sneak-release his new record "Jacksonville" (Popry-444), this town rolled out the red carpet and dug down into its jeans to pick up one of the best country tunes to come down the trail in quite a spell," enthuses hostess Virginia Atterkeys of NBC's "WFGA Today" TV-variety-talk show out of Jacksonville.
Drumming up sales for his first major release, Ranier, who is also Kentucky's "Number One Gun," sang and shot his way through four television shows and seven radio guest segments.
Mayor Hans Tanzler received the first pressed copy of the record for the city archives; Bonny and Ruth Larisey's Music City record shop reported action on "Jacksonville" which gleaned heavy air-play via DJ Frank Theis of all-country 50,000-watter WQIK; and WPDQ's George Maish received phone calls all afternoon. Patrons at "Trudi's," popular local bistro, got in on the whoopla when WJCT-TV 7 (ETV) did a Ford Foundation "feedback" film segment on Ranier and the disk.

A clever trick-shooting demonstration by the National Rifle Association Kentucky titlist on WJKS-TV 17 created quite a tangle on the station switchboards for a time.
Traveling with noted Nashville TV producer-director Edwin Walker, Ranier will visit Dallas and Des Moines on his way to Minnesota-Michigan appearances, winding-up his barnstorm swing in two weeks in Philadelphia. The promotion for "Jacksonville" is under the direction of Nashville's Penthouse Publicity, artist public relations firm.

Two Floyd Net Tournaments To Begin Play Next Wednesday

The young basketball season will get into the thick of things next week with two invitational tournaments scheduled for this county.
Both the Jenny Wiley Invitational, which will be played at the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse, and the Wheelwright Invitational at the Wheelwright high school gym will run concurrently, beginning next Wednesday and continuing through Saturday. A week later, the Floyd county Pre-Season tourney will begin here for a Wednesday through Saturday run.
In the Jenny Wiley meet Morgan County will play Betsy Layne at 7 p. m., next Wednesday in the opening game, with Johns Creek and Johnson Central winding up the evening's play.

Lower bracket play next Thursday night will pit Millard vs. Maytown and Salyersville against the host school, Prestonsburg. The semi-finals will be at 7 and 8:45 p. m. Friday. Saturday night, the consolation game will be at 7, and the championship contest at 8:45.
The Wheelwright Invitational will be opened next Wednesday at 7 with McDowell meeting Jenkins. Martin will play Knott County in the second game of the evening. Lower bracket play next Thursday will pit Feds Creek against host, Wheelwright, and Garrett vs. Warfield. The semi-finals will be at 7 and 8:30 p. m. Friday. The consolation contest will be at 7 p. m. Saturday and the title game at 8:30.

PRECAUTION AGAINST INJURIES: Whoever carries the right eye of a wolf fastened inside his right sleeve, remains free from all injuries.

TO DESTROY WARTS: Roast chicken-feet and rub the warts with them; then bury them (the feet or the warts?—ED.) under the eaves.
CURE FOR EPILEPSY: Take a turtle dove, cut its throat, and let the person afflicted drink the blood.

TO WIN AT CARDS: Tie the heart of a bat with a red silken string to the right arm, and you will win every game at cards you play.

A SURE WAY TO CATCH FISH (this item may have caused Mr. Dixon to bring the book to me): Take rose seed and mustard seed and the foot of a weasel, then hang these in a net, and the fish will certainly collect there. (The weakness in this advice, for me, is, I can't even catch a weasel.)

FOR THE HOLLOW HORN IN COWS: Bore a small hole in the hollow horn, milk that same cow and squirt her milk into the horn; this is the best cure.

(My long-since-departed friend, "Uncle" Wiley Patton, perhaps the greatest practical joker of them all, had a right effective treatment, too, for the holler horn, as it was known up our way. He told a neighbor who had become quite distraught about the condition of the family milker to go, get a gimlet, about No. 2 size, and when this was done he and another took firm hold on either of the patient's ears. Then he directed the owner to place the gimlet as near the center of the cow's forehead as possible and start boring. This the man did, and when a certain depth was reached the animal slumped to the ground, rather naturally. Then cried the owner: "Hold'er, boys—I b'lieve she's fainted!"
If you think this old boy Hohman was 'way out, be reminded that his book quotes from the New York Evening Post a lockjaw remedy that ranks with his best. Apparently anticipating that he might draw some criticism from the medical profession, Hohman in the preface to his book asks:

"Where is the doctor who has ever cured the panting or palpitation of the heart, or hideboundness? Where is the doctor who ever banished a wheal? Where is the doctor who ever banished the mother-fits?"
And I ask: Where is the doctor who knows what a "wheal" is?

Sunday. Woods and a man identified as William Paul Skeens, of Martin, engaged in a dispute and the revolver was swung, apparently toward Skeens, when it was discharged. Crisp was sitting at a nearby table when shot.

Otherwise, the county was relatively quiet during the week-end. Only 12 prisoners remained in jail here, Tuesday morning. James Reynolds and Joyce Robinson were arrested by Eugene Mullins and held for Gallipolis, O. authorities. They were later released to mental health representatives from Gallipolis. Only three were booked on drunk driving charges—Tom Hall, by Deputy Sheriff Bill Hall; Harry Stumbo, by State Trooper Gary Rose, and Orby Newman, by State Trooper Don Thornberry.

In this new program children are taught various methods of measurement and the instruments of science; the value of experimentation; the evaluation of information obtained through observation and experimentation and how to reach conclusions based on the evaluation of information.

Virtually all of the equipment needed to teach Science-A-Process Approach is available in kits designed by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"There are 130 kits (average cost of each is $300.00) in our schools and these are shifted from school to school as needed by various grade levels," Clark said.

Frank Stewart, county science consultant, and Dr. Crayton Jackson, Morehead State University science co-ordinator, supervised the training of 70 teachers and principals in the Science-A-Process-Approach through two summer workshops on the Morehead campus. During the past spring and summer approximately 100 additional teachers were trained for a period of a week.

Saturday morning on the Morehead campus a conference on Science-A-Process-Approach will be conducted, with four Floyd county people serving as speakers and demonstrators.

Hartford Hits Takeover Of Community Colleges

The University of Kentucky Community College System is carrying out the assignment given to it by the people, but it will be subject to a reversal if any major realignment is attempted.

This was the assertion of Dr. Ellis F. Hartford, dean of the system, in his recent "State of the System" report at the annual faculty conference at Lexington.

"Community colleges in Kentucky occupy a unique position, with University membership on the one hand and community orientation on the other," Dean Hartford said. "Each college is an integral part of the University, with the same standards of admission and operation as the parent institution. Each college, through its local advisory board and other ties, relates itself to the needs of the community."

The chief administrative officer of the UK system said that if the colleges are not allowed to do their job, new institutions will have to be created for that purpose.

"The state should keep faith with the people of several areas who gave money in order to get a community college established to serve their needs. These people and the bondholders have an equity in the system as it is currently organized," he stated.

Dean Hartford said the community colleges have been charged with at least four functions: —offering transfer curricula to students who wish to complete the first two years of an undergraduate degree; —providing two-year associate degree programs designed to prepare the student for immediate employment on a technical or semi-professional level;

—offering continuing educational opportunities for the citizens of the immediate areas, and

—assisting students through guidance and counseling services to define their capabilities and make sound career choices.

These functions, he added, further imply provision for developmental courses "designed to meet needs of students who come into the open door colleges with educational deficiencies that can be repaired by appropriate experiences."

The dean elaborated on 10 points which he called "arguments for the system" as it is now constituted.

"Any change or proposal that distracts the system from its role or which diminishes its facilities and resources for doing its job is clearly unjustifiable and runs counter to the public interest.

"This does not question the validity or the desirability of the programs of the four-year colleges; it merely shows that these two types of institutions have different sets of purposes, and that these intersect in only one phase of their respective programs."

CAPITAL DIGEST
Edited by—
Thornton Connell

Gov. Louie B. Nunn implies he would rather be federal judge than U. S. Senator.

That's the conclusion reporters drew after an informal news conference with him this week.

The governor said that as of the moment he has "no plans and no expectations" of running for the Senate in 1972 after his term as governor expires in 1971.

Asked if he were interested in the judiciary, the governor answered:

"I think any lawyer would be interested in a federal judgeship... I must say that I have the deepest concern for the judicial branch of government..."

VETERANS ASSURED

Governor Nunn is sending Christmas messages to Kentuckians serving in Vietnam that "the overwhelming majority of their fellow Americans stand by them in their quest for peace."

He revealed this to a Veterans Day crowd of several hundred, mostly state employees, who assembled on the south side of the state Capitol to hear him and other speakers, including Maj. Roger H. C. Donlon, an Army Medal of Honor winner from Saugerties, N. Y.

MERGER UNLIKELY

Plans for a merger now of the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville apparently have gone awry.

UK President Otis A. Singletary reported to trustees that he and University of Louisville President Woodrow M. Strickler had been unable to reach agreement in several essential areas necessary to recommending a union to the 1970 General Assembly.

16 Floyd Students In District Band

Sixteen high school musicians from Betsy Layne, Garrett and Wayland have been selected to perform with the district band, which will include 102 high school musicians from seven counties in Eastern Kentucky.

The final concert will be presented at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, (November 23) in Faith Chapel on the Pikeville College campus. Serving as guest conductor for the band will be Dr. Paul Whear, nationally recognized conductor, composer and clinician.

The participating students from Floyd county include: Loretta Keen, Jimmy Collins, Charles Hicks, Susan Porter, Bobby Branham, Jeannie Brooks, Darrell Clark, Carolyn Tackett, Linda Spradlin, Kay Blackburn, Regina Hamilton, Rodney Handshoe, Reva Duff, Ronda Hayes, David Duff and Sandra Richter.

REQUEST BIGGEST

Trustees of the University of Kentucky voted to ask the 1970 General Assembly to appropriate $144,309,900 of a proposed budget that totals $227,842,400 for the 1970-72 biennium, by far the largest amount ever sought by a Kentucky institution of higher learning.

To the state appropriation, roughly 63 per cent of UK's proposed income, would be added the university's income from fees, tuitions, gifts, restricted funds, federal grants and cafeterias and dormitories.

31 ELECTED

The Kentucky Commission on Human Rights released figures showing 31 Negroes won offices in Kentucky in the Nov. 4 election to join four holdovers and make the total 35, or 12 more than the 23 holding elective offices at the time.

Among those elected were Luska J. Twyman, Glasgow, the first Negro elected mayor of a Kentucky city, and Neville Tucker, Louisville, the state's first Negro Police Court judge.

Elected also were 21 city councilmen, three magistrates, three constables and two state representatives. Four, including Twyman, previously had been named to fill vacancies.

HIGH PRICE OF MEAT

Conservation officers attribute a rise in game-and-fish law violations throughout Kentucky to a larger supply of animals, a growing disregard for the law in general, and the high price of meat.

The State Fish and Wildlife Resources Department reported that while conservation officers made record number of 5,210 arrests last year, they expect the number to be greater for 1969.

FOR TB HOSPITALS

The Kentucky Thoracic Society, an organization of 109 physicians, recommended at a two-day meeting in Berea that the state's six tuberculosis hospitals be kept open. A spokesman said "we felt if the tuberculosis problem is tackled directly, there are enough TB cases in the state to fill these empty beds."

The society's reaction was to proposals in June that the state phase out its system of TB hospitals within two years. The report said the hospitals averaged only 55 per cent occupancy.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Kentucky will get 12 of 67 projects and $515,252 of $6.3 million in federal funding for manpower development and training announced by the Nixon administration in Washington.

SPENDS WEEK-END HERE

Miss Frances O'Daniels, of Louisa, a student at Morehead University, spent the week-end here with Mrs. Fanny Jarrell.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Homer Crider, who has been critically ill with pneumonia at Prestonsburg hospital, returned to his home at Garrett, early this week.

VISIT IN LOUISVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frost Wells and children spent last week-end in Louisville with Mr. and Mrs. Earle F. McDonald.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. Iley B. Browning returned to her home in Henderson, last Thursday, after a business visit here. She accompanied her son, Walter Scott Browning, to Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hobson were in Cincinnati, O., Tuesday of last week, on business and shopping.

Mrs. Sallye L. Clark left Saturday for Cloverlick, W. Va., for a visit with her cousin, Miss Evelyn Coyner.

Mrs. Claudia F. Leete and Mrs. Paul C. Combs were in Lexington, recently where Mrs. Leete went for a post-operative checkup.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Roberts returned home Monday from Lexington where he received treatment at Central Baptist hospital. He is improved. Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Roberts accompanied them home.

Green Cooley, who underwent major surgery last week at Prestonsburg General hospital, continues to be quite ill.

Mrs. Leo Bumm, of Pikeville, was here Saturday and Monday on business. She called on her cousin, Mrs. Marie Hutsiniller, while here.

Mrs. Margaret P. Alley returned home last Friday from a week's visit with her sisters in Pikeville.

Mrs. Claudia F. Leete spent the week-end in Ashland with her granddaughter, Mrs. Phillip Morris, and family.

Two Groups Work To Gather Gifts For Servicemen

Psi Eta Sigma, women's honorary society, together with the Baptist Student Union at Prestonsburg Community College, is sponsoring a drive to send Christmas packages to American servicemen in Vietnam. They need help in obtaining names and addresses of local servicemen in Vietnam as well as support getting donations. The following are suggestions of items which men overseas have indicated they desire most:

Paperback books and magazines, heavy socks, ballpoint pens with caps, packaged instant drinks, any individually wrapped sweets, foot spray, stationery, canned chocolate, shaving equipment.

Other items will be greatly appreciated. Contributions should be taken to your nearest radio station or deposited in the Admissions Office of Prestonsburg Community College by November 21 to assure their delivery before Christmas.

MRS. JOHNSON DIES AT GARRETT HOME; RITES HELD SUNDAY

Mrs. Margaret Johnson, 63, died at her home at Garrett following an illness of six months.

Born October 19, 1906, she was a daughter of the late Bill and Cordellie Sexton Vanderpool. She was married to Fred Johnson who preceded her in death in 1962.

Survivors include a son, Thomas Johnson, of Pedro, O.; a daughter, Mildred Shepherd, of Marion, O.; seven brothers, Newt and Robert Vanderpool, both of Plymouth, O.; Beckham Vanderpool, of Munnith, Mich.; Sage Vanderpool, of Etna, O.; Paul Vanderpool, of Lima, O.; Elliott and James Vanderpool, both of Kendallville, Ind.; seven sisters, Mrs. Levi Bentley, Mrs. Francis Hackworth and Mrs. Tavy Shepherd, all of Garrett, Mrs. Laura Shepherd and Mrs. Olivia Reed, both of Hueysville, Mrs. Rosa Hayes, of Cincinnati, O., and Mrs. Dorothy Williams, of Lorain, O.

Funeral services were held Sunday morning at the Little Union United Baptist church near Garrett, ministers of that church officiating. Burial was made in the Bentley cemetery at Garrett under direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Wayland News

"If you have been 'taken,' you as a consumer can report it to Kentucky's Attorney General" Mrs. Marie Mullins said, speaking on "Consumer Education" recently to the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Hansel Bradley, Garrett.

"Since 1962 the federal government has had a committee to study the needs of the consumer," reported Mrs. Mullins. "Through this committee the rights of the consumer have been approached through four avenues: The right to safety, the right to be informed, the right to choose, and the right to be heard." The government will keep the public informed on the dangers in various commodities, foods, and drugs. Consumer interest and welfare will be the chief considerations under government policy," explained Mrs. Mullins. She reminded her audience that this has been forcefully brought before the public just recently by the removal from the market of certain sugar substitutes and food additives.

"Mrs. J. T. Spillman conducted a devotional, prior to the program, stressing that the Church is the light that guides the lost to safety." At a business meeting, also held prior to the program, Mrs. Mervil Dixon, club president, appointed Mrs. Jackie Lawson, Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mrs. Donald Hughes and Mrs. J. T. Spillman to serve on a committee to obtain barrels to be placed in the communities of Garrett, Lackey, and Wayland in the club's garbage disposal drive. Mrs. Dixon also brought up the subject of the club's purchasing American flags to be displayed in a public place in each of the three communities. After discussion, it was decided to withhold a decision on the matter until further information had been obtained. It was also reported that pecans and place-mats had been ordered for sale by the club as fund-raising projects.

HOSTS TO DINNER

Martin, Ky.—Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Allen, of Martin, entertained the following relatives to dinner Sunday, November 16th, at May Lodge: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Allep, Dayton, Ohio; Arnold Maggard, Mrs. Lois M. Allen and daughter, Kathy Sue, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Wicker, Morehead; Mr. and Mrs. Troy B. Maytown School Sets Homecoming On November 22

Annual Homecoming activities for Maytown high school will be held Saturday, November 22.

The basketball game will be with Betsy Layne and will feature Maytown's Homecoming Queen and her attendants. These girls will be: Denise Blevins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blevins; Glema Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Cooley; Deloris Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon; Patricia Herald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Herald; and Dianna Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benard Martin.

The class of 1969 will be honored, also. Following the game, there will be a dance featuring the Essence of Society in the school lunchroom.

Von Braun Invites Spradlin To View Apollo 12 Launch

KENNEDY SPACE CENTER, FLA.—William G. Spradlin, a Marshall Center engineer assigned to the NASA-Mississippi Test Facility, viewed the launch of Apollo 12 as a special guest.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenna Spradlin, of Prestonsburg, Ky., and was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1958.

Dr. Wernher von Braun, director of the NASA Marshall Space Flight Center, invited Spradlin because of his noteworthy contributions to the success of the space program. The Marshall Center, NASA's largest establishment, is responsible for the huge Saturn launch vehicles used to launch astronauts on trajectories to the moon.

NOTICE

A petition was filed in the Floyd Circuit Court on the 14 day of November, 1969 to annex into the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, certain territory adjacent to the Northern corporate limits of said city as follows:

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

THE AMAZING MARCH

The march of the seasons intrigues the mind of man not only because of the seemingly endless parade of life and death and change of form and color but also because it all is a part of his environment.

Colorful autumn now bows out, making way for the bleak days of winter. And the new life that is springtime will be all the more amazing because of these months of winter that precede it.

For every season build well . . . use those materials that the seasons have already tried and found not wanting.

Call the EXPERTS to have your Wiring System Checked

Low-cost rural electric power makes child's play of so many household chores. But your labor-saving appliances can't operate properly unless your home has adequate wiring.

Most homes double their use of electrical power every 10 years. That's why 4 out of every 5 homes need a large entrance panel (fuse box) to carry all the electricity they currently use. For safety's sake, have your wiring system checked.

EARN UP TO $50.00 BONUS

You can earn up to $50.00 by replacing your 60 amp or smaller entrance panel (fuse box) with larger equipment. Contact our Member Services Department for details.

Sunday Closing Law Subject of Hearing

Kentucky's Sunday closing law will be the subject of a special public hearing planned by an interim committee of the Legislature.

The Legislature's Interim Committee on Cities will conduct the hearing at 10 a. m., November 17, in the auditorium of the Kentucky Department of Health. James T. Fleming, director of the Legislative Research Commission, said anyone wishing to present information or opinion about the subject should contact the LRC.

Kentucky's Sunday closing law or "Blue Law" and its applications, or lack of applications, have become increasingly controversial in recent months. Most courts believe solution to the problem is in new legislation but many legislators believe adequate legislation exists and questions of application should be resolved in the courts.

A special legislative subcommittee met on November 5 again, in its continuing study of the problems surrounding use of persistent pesticides. The subcommittee is studying the need for legislation regulating the use of persistent pesticides such as DDT and DDD.

In a public hearing held August 29, the subcommittee heard several environmental scientists and others in public health fields claim that persistent pesticides endanger all living plants and animals because of their long-lasting effects.

Other environmental scientists, and several persons interested in the manufacture, sale and use of the pesticides claimed dangerous effects have not been proved.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Hicks Retires

Willis Hicks, of Hippo, retired from United Fuel Gas Company's compressor station at Beaver Creek, November 1, after 25 years of service. He took advantage of the early retirement feature of the company's retirement plan, electing to leave before reaching the normal retirement age of 65.

Mr. Hicks joined the gas company in 1944 as a utility man and later for the compressor department. He assumed his present position as assistant operator in June, 1969. Mr. Hicks' hobbies are hunting and fishing. He plans to spend his retirement years as a farmer.

Mrs. Hicks is the former Carrie Hale, of Salyersville. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks have four children: Paulene, Aster and Garry Hicks, of Hippo, and Douglas Hicks, of Lexington.

Strip-Mining Is Still A Threat

(An Editorial in The Herald-Advertiser, Huntington, W. Va.)

THE STATE of Kentucky has one of the toughest strip mine reclamation laws in the nation. Now, however, Stahr Jr., president of the National Audubon Society, has argued that even this law may not be tough enough to protect the land.

In a recent speech to Kentucky's 10th annual Conservation Congress, Stahr, a native Kentuckian himself, argued "a good law might be adequate" to control strip mining in Western Kentucky, where the land is relatively level.

But, he cautioned, because of such problems as erosion and the silting of streams, "coming generations would bless us if we put an end to it" in the Eastern Kentucky mountains.

Stahr, a former president of West Virginia University and secretary of the Army under the late President Kennedy, said he was "disturbed" by two recent developments relating to strip mining.

He noted that Bethlehem Steel Corp. plans to use its Beth-Elkhorn subsidiary to develop a major stripping operation in Letcher County.

"We had hoped," the conservationist said, "a company of Bethlehem's stature would have no part of such an operation."

"A still more disquieting case," Stahr charged, is one in which the state of Kentucky has granted the Peabody Coal Co. a series of delays in meeting requirements for grading and planting required to reclaim its River Queen mine in Western Kentucky's Muhlenberg county.

Stahr's warning is a timely one. Too often we think that because a law has been enacted a problem is solved and we give it no more thought. This would appear to be the case with strip mining. Despite the passage of laws to regulate such operations, they still remain—to use Stahr's phrase—"an ominous threat" to the land.

Ladle Gull on Blightsome Way To Groin Murder's Cordage

So inspired was our staff cartoonist, Paul Neil Allen, by the story of Ladle Rat Rotten Hut that he, "in a fine frenzy," portrayed the dear, little thing and the big, bad wolf as the one blithely tripped her way while the other followed her with baleful eye and dark design.

The winner of The Times' "Ladle Rat Rotten Hut" translation contest, in the opinion of the judges, is Mrs. Harvey G. Bell, Erlanger, Ky.

Approximately 30 entries were submitted, and they came from various parts of the country as well as from places nearer home. All were excellent, and only close scrutiny of the entries determined a winner. In several instances, contestants wrote of the fun they had in attempting to unravel the puzzle.

Mrs. Bell's "translation" follows:

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD

Once upon a time, there was a little girl who lived with her mother in a little cottage on the edge of a large, dark forest. This little girl often wore a cloak with a pretty, little red hood, and for this reason people called her Little Red Riding Hood. One morning Red Riding Hood's mother called her and said, "Little Red Riding Hood, here is a little basket with some bread and butter and sugar cookies. Take this little basket to the cottage of your grandmother who lives on the other side of the forest. Shake a leg, don't stop along the road, and under no circumstances don't stop to talk with strangers."

"Okay, Mother," responded Little Red Riding Hood, and took the little basket and started off. On her road to the cottage of her grandmother, Little Red Riding Hood met an enormous wolf.

"Well, well, well," said this wicked wolf, "if it isn't Little Red Riding Hood! Where's our pretty little girl going with her little basket?"

"I'm going to my grandmother's," replied the little girl. "Grandmother's sick in bed. I'm taking her some bread and butter and sugar cookies."

"Ho, ho! Have a pleasant walk," said the wicked wolf, but thought to himself, "I'll just take a short cut to the cottage of her grandmother. I'll catch up with her later and then—oh, boy!"

So the wicked wolf took a short cut, and when he reached the cottage of her grandmother, peeped in her window and saw that the poor, old woman was lying in her bed. In a flash this abominable wolf leaped on her bed and ate her up. Then he pulled on the grandmother's night cap and night gown, and cuddled up in her bed.

In a little while, Little Red Riding Hood arrived at her cottage and rang her doorbell. "Come in, sweetheart," said the wicked wolf, disguising his voice. Little Red Riding Hood entered the bedroom and stood by her grandmother's bed. "Oh, grandma," cried the little girl, "What big eyes you got! I never saw such big eyes!" "Better to look at you with, darling," whispered this wretched wolf, with a wicked smile. "Oh, grandma, what a big nose! I never saw such an enormous proboscis!" "Better to smell you with," answered the wolf, and his mouth was watering. "Oh, grandma, what a big mouth you got! I never saw such a big mouth!"

These were unfortunate girl's last words. All of a sudden throwing off the covers and springing out of bed, this cruel and bloodthirsty wolf seized poor Little Red Riding Hood and gobbled her up.

Moral: Under no circumstances should little girls stop to talk with strangers.

The Poor Huckster

There was once a poor man, a huckster, who used to go round the country villages selling his little goods. The poor creature, in going round on his journeys, heard some old women singing this simple little ditty: "I'm a poor sinner and nothing at all, But Jesus Christ is my all in all."

Jack recollected that. Ah! said he, that just suits me. So he began to hum it himself as he went on his huckstering expeditions, and by God's good grace that little ditty burnt its way into poor Jack's heart. After some time he became a converted man, gave up his swearing and drinking, and began regularly to attend the house of God.

"Well," said another, "but sometimes I lose my evidence and my graces, and then I get very sad."

"Oh," said Jack, "I never lose anything, for, in the first place, I'm a poor sinner and nothing at all,—no one can rob me if I am nothing at all;—and, in the second place, 'Jesus Christ is my all in all,' and who can rob Him? He is in Heaven. I never get poorer, for I am always nothing; but I always have everything."

Then another began to question him thus: "But my dear friend Jack, don't you sometimes doubt whether you are a child of God?" "Well," said he, "I don't understand you, but I can tell you I never doubt but that 'I'm a poor sinner and nothing at all,' and that 'Jesus Christ is my all in all.'"

"Ay, ay," said the other one, "But sometime I make great advances on the road to Heaven, and then I feel a great deal better, but I often go back again, and that causes me trouble."

"But," said Jack, "I never go forward, for I'm always 'a poor sinner and nothing at all'; but I cannot go back, for 'Jesus Christ is my all in all'; and blessed be God, He will not go back, and I am safe."

Always after that in the villages they used to call him "Happy Jack" for he was always happy; and the reason was that you could not drive him from that simple standing point! "There is nothing in me; I believe in Jesus Christ; I deserve punishment! I am lost in myself, but I trust in Him Who came into the world to save sinners, and He will not let me perish."

Stock certificates issued by Consolidated Utilities, Inc. to the defendant, United Utilities of Kentucky, Inc. as follows:

No. 20	10 Shares
No. 21	10 Shares

The natural gas distribution system and facilities of the defendant, United Utilities of Kentucky, Inc., formerly owned by Lackey Distributing System, comprising all meters, regulators, lines, customer service contracts, rights of way and/or easements used in connection with said system in the distribution and sale of natural gas to domestic and commercial consumers as now served by the said defendant in the towns of Garrett and-or Baptist Bottom, Lackey, New Estill and Pumpkin Center and-or facilities near the mouth of Jones Fork in Floyd County, Kentucky, serving approximately 230 customers, more or less.

Being all of the property located in Floyd County, Kentucky, conveyed to the defendant by Insurance Investors Trust Company by deed dated August 29, 1964, and recorded in Deed Book 185, Page 593, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office.

I will proceed to sell said property or so much of it as will be necessary to satisfy said executions and the costs thereof, to the highest and best bidder on a credit of six months from the day of sale.

The stock certificates will be first offered by me for sale on the date aforesaid and if such certificates do not bring the debt, interest and costs of said executions then the balance of the property, or so much of it as will be necessary to satisfy said executions, will be offered for sale at the time and place above mentioned.

The purchaser is to execute bond with approved surety to have the force and effect of a judgment on which execution may issue if the same is not paid at maturity, when and where due attendance will be given by me.

The amount to be raised on the execution in favor of The First National Bank, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, is as follows:

(1) The sum of $10,975.75, together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from May 6, 1969.

(2) The additional sum of $8,800.00, together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from June 28, 1969.

The amount to be raised on the execution in favor of Lawrence Keathley is the sum $21,955.14, together with interest thereon at the rate of six percent per annum from May 9, 1969, until paid.

There is also to be raised court costs of said action which amount to the sum of $42.20 and all costs incurred by the Sheriff of Floyd County in connection with the levying of said executions and the collection of each of them.

Given under my hand as Sheriff of Floyd County, Kentucky, this the 4th day of November, 1969.

Extension News

It really makes little difference whether the nursery is located in the North, East, South or West as long as the trees are the right variety and are healthy and well grown. There is a great difference in tree prices from nursery to nursery. It is not always necessary to buy the most expensive trees to get good trees, but neither is it wise to buy the very cheapest of "special bargains."

It is best to use varieties recommended by the University of Kentucky Extension Service, or get advice from a really cooperative commercial or home-orchard producer. In other words, depend upon the nurseries for the trees, but get your variety information elsewhere.

Generally the smaller, younger fruit trees transplant easier, live better, and cost less than do larger, older trees. Normally the medium sized "June-budded" or one-year-old peach trees and one-year-old apple "whips" are considered the best to buy.

It is usually wise to order trees in fall or winter for delivery in the spring. This will increase your chances of getting the varieties you want in the desired size.

Contact your county extension office, 2nd floor of Prestonsburg Post Office or Phone 886-2668 for information on recommended varieties for Kentucky.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my appreciation to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who in any way expressed their sympathy at the passing of my husband, Paul Salyers. I would especially like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wallen and Bill Hinton, of Allen, who immediately arrived on the scene and called for help. There were others in this group, but I cannot remember who they were. I want to thank the John W. Hall Lodge No. 950 for the impressive graveside ceremony, and Adah Chapter No. 24, O. E. S., for the food and services they rendered. I want to thank the ministers, Rev. W. D. Jagers and Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, for the comforting messages they brought. I also want to thank the soloist, the organist and the pallbearers. I thank each and everyone who brought or sent food, and the lovely floral offerings were truly one of your kindest expressions of sympathy. I want to thank anyone who helped in any way, and also to Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its kind and efficient service.

Classroom Training For Jobless OK'd

William U. Norwood, regional manpower administrator, U. S. Department of Labor, Atlanta, Ga., said the Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare have announced approval of 11 Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) projects to provide classroom-type training for 204 jobless or underemployed Kentuckians at a federal cost of $485,141.

In Eastern Kentucky: Hazard Vocational School will train 18 jobless persons as diesel mechanics for 41 weeks. MDTA funds, $59,674.

A project to be conducted at Mayo Vocational School Extension Center at Paintsville will train 18 persons as welders for 34 weeks; MDTA funds, $46,927. The Mayo Area Vocational School will train 18 welders for 34 weeks; MDTA funds, $51,768.

The projects will be administered by the U. S. Labor Department's Manpower Administration and the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's Office of Education.

The employment service determines the need for workers in the occupations in which training is to be provided; refers, tests, and counsels applicants for training; administers the payment of training allowances, transportation and subsistence allowances; and provides job placement assistance to trainees upon completion of the course.

The training itself is usually conducted by the state vocational education system, in public facilities.

Since the start of MDTA training in 1962, classroom-type projects have been approved for approximately 850,000 persons in some 600 different occupations. Follow-up reports on 541,000 trainees during the year after graduation show eight out of ten are working. During the last two years almost two-thirds of those enrolled had been from among the disadvantaged, hard-core jobless.

Thousands of young people in the Teen Action Program (TAP) of the March of Dimes across the country serve in the fight to prevent birth defects.

Put your wife out of her misery

Buy her an electric self-cleaning oven

Maybe you don't know it, Dad, but cleaning an oven is the most miserable job in the house. And if YOU had to do it just once you'd buy an electric self-cleaning oven before the job was due again. Electricity does the job so safely, so thoroughly that the oven looks brand new. Costs less than a dime per cleaning instead of $1.49 for spray-on oven cleaners. Just one word of advice: make sure it's flameless electric. Electric is proven reliable and works so perfectly it's hard to believe your eyes. Take a look . . . at your electric appliance dealers.
