

Council Votes Tax On Wages, Incomes

1% License Fee Voted Thursday, Effective Jan. 1

The Prestonsburg City Council last Thursday evening unanimously voted a tax ordinance which provides for a 1 per cent "license fee" on all persons engaged in any trade, occupation or profession in Prestonsburg.

Effective Jan. 1, 1970, the ordinance levies 1 per cent on gross receipts of persons employed by others and the same amount on the net profits of all engaged in a business or profession here.

Mayor George P. Archer later pointed out: "This is a thing we did not enter into lightly. We explored every avenue over a period of months. The question finally came down to this—'Will you double the property tax and let everybody else go free?'"

He cited the mounting costs of materials, the demands for new and expensive equipment to comply with Inspection Bureau demands as lower insurance rates are sought. And of the needs for a "reasonable" rate of pay for city employees. "We have some people working for $200 a month, and I'm ashamed of this," Mayor Archer added.

The tax ordinance, which is patterned along the lines of similar legislation in effect in Pikeville, Versailles, Glasgow, Lexington and other cities, requires employers to withhold from the pay of each employee the fee required at the time the employee is paid, such deductions to be reported at least every month, and to be paid to the administrator of the tax on or before the 15th day of April, July, October and January of each year. All such fees not paid will draw interest at 6 per cent per annum from due date until paid, and a penalty of 10 per cent will be added.

The tax will apply to the employer in this way:

Each employer will be required to file with the tax administrator, on or before April 15, 1970, an estimated return showing his net profit from his business during the preceding year. The employer will be required to pay his "license fee" quarterly—on or before the last day of April, July, October and January of each year. Then, within 105 days after the end of the employer's fiscal year following Jan. 1, 1970, he shall file a report with the administrator showing his actual net profit and proper ad-

Municipal League Aid To Be Sought On Insurance Tax

Assistance of the Kentucky Municipal League will be asked by the city of Prestonsburg in collecting any insurance premium taxes that may be due by underwriters, it was announced following last Thursday's meeting of City Council.

The council is asking the Municipal League to help with a five-year check of these taxes and with collections, if necessary. J. R. Spurlock, city treasurer, reported collections from 10 insurance firms, and sharp fluctuations in the amounts collected from year to year drew comment from council members. These collections, starting with 1960, the first year the tax was effective, are:

1960, $925.36; 1961, $7,784.76; 1962, $9,357.51; 1963, $11,259.43; 1964, $12,904.14; 1965, $13,793.92; 1966, $9,062.61; 1967, $12,349.08; 1968, $18,544.04.

The insurance tax is earmarked exclusively to meet fire department expenses.

Marshall Davidson, city tax collector, reported $4,214.05 in delinquent taxes had been collected as of last Thursday during the month of November.

Leo Weddle, instructor at Prestonsburg Community College, was appointed to the Prestonsburg Planning Commission, succeeding Charles Bradley, who resigned. Other members of the commission are Chalmers H. Frazier, H. D. Fitzpatrick, Mayor Archer, City Clerk Judith D. Archer, Councilman Paul Phillip Hughes and Edgille Branham.

The lone bid offered, that of Music-Colvin Chevrolet-Buick, on a new police cruiser was accepted. With trade-in and excise tax exemption, the cruiser cost the city $1,796.52.

'Nice, Little Earthquake' Gives Floyd the 'Quivers'

What was described by a St. Xavier University seismologist as "a nice, little earthquake" gave Eastern Kentucky and a sizeable portion of its population the quivers last Wednesday night.

Here and elsewhere in Floyd county, the reaction was spotty. The tremor, which lasted less than half a minute, was distinctly felt in most homes but in others not far distant occupants learned of the tremor only when told what had happened elsewhere.

There was no recorded damage or injury. Here, a man lying in bed watching television

2-Day Heart Clinic Slated Dec. 9-10

A two-day consultative and diagnostic heart clinic for medically indigent patients will be held at the Floyd County Health Department, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 9 and 10.

This clinic is being organized so that adults only will be admitted to the clinic on December 9, and children only will be seen on December 10.

Physicians from the departments of Medicine and Pediatrics at the University of Kentucky Medical Center will conduct the clinic.

Co-sponsored by the Kentucky Heart Association and the State and County Health Departments, this clinic provides a diagnostic service for the patient along with recommendations for treatment and management of the case. It also provides an opportunity for the referring physician to consult with the clinician regarding his patient.

Only those patients who have been referred by a physician and have a written referral will be admitted to the clinic. Counties in this clinic area are Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike.

State Witnesses Absent, Murder Trial Postponed

Failure of four Commonwealth witnesses to appear for the trial caused the postponement of the hearing of the David Akers murder case from last Wednesday till Jan. 12.

Displeased with the truancy of the state's witnesses, Circuit Judge Hollie Conley directed that attachments be issued for the witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tackett, Willard Hall and State Detective Chester D. Potter. The Tacketts and Hall were required to execute $500 bond each for their appearance at the Jan. 12 trial, were held in contempt of court and fined $25 each and sentenced to 30 hours in jail. They were not jailed, however. Detective Potter was excused because a murder case in a neighboring county had required his attendance.

Akers is charged with the Aug. 31 slaying on Mud Creek of Charlie Hall, nightwatchman at a construction job.

Trial of Marcus Keathley on a shooting and wounding charge was continued to Dec. 4.

Carl Reed was convicted last Thursday on a jail escape charge and given a 30-day jail term. Vaughan Fulton Nichols' appeal from a drunk

Slayer of Sexton Draws Five Years For Manslaughter

Preparations for the trial of James Rife, of Waldo, Magoffin county, on a murder charge arising from the shotgun slaying last year of Chester Arthur (Bill) Sexton, formerly of Garrett, were abruptly interrupted Friday in Magoffin circuit court when the defendant entered a plea of guilty to the lesser charge of manslaughter.

Rife was given a five-year pen term, and the murder charge against Ellis Graham, also of the Waldo area, was dismissed. The plea of Rife indicated an agreement between the Commonwealth and the defense.

One Commonwealth witness, George Shepherd, was killed here recently, and Russell Arnett, of Magoffin county, who was accused of Shepherd's fatal beating is at liberty under $10,000 bond.

Sexton was killed Feb. 23 at the trailer which he operated on Howard Branch, across the mountain from David. Shortly afterward, Shepherd, the man who was found fatally beaten in front of the Eagles Club here, was found shot in the leg.

The trial of Rife and Graham began at Salyersville last Thursday. The regular jury panel was exhausted, and 150 veniremen had been summoned to appear Friday, but the jury was not qualified for the trial when the guilty plea was entered.

driving conviction in Prestonsburg police court resulted in a "hung" jury.

Two other appeals from lower court were expected to go on the circuit court docket after quarterly court had convicted two men Monday of liquor possession. Landon Charles was fined $100 and given a 60-day jail term, and Bill Crace was fined $20 and sentenced to 60 days in jail on each of two counts.

Cases dismissed in circuit court: Julius Mulkey, child desertion; Frank Adkins and Lee Hall, both charged with shooting and wounding; Sammy Nelson and Palmer Hall, assault and battery.

The charge against Hall arose from an altercation at the entrance to the Floyd County Board of Education building here, several weeks ago.

Miss Akers To Direct National Foundation Drive in This County

The annual January fund-raising appeal for prevention and treatment of birth defects will be headed by Miss Ruby Akers, nutritionist, Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program, it has been announced by Gary T. Algie, chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Chapter of the National Foundation—March of Dimes.

The appointment signals the opening of campaign preparations for the drive in this county, beginning Jan. 2 and continuing through Jan. 31.

Discussing the goals of the campaign, Miss Akers pointed out:

"When the March of Dimes turned its energies and resources toward prevention of birth defects in 1959, the challenge was electrifying. It was the first major attack on diseases that affect a quarter of a million of our newborn annually. During the intervening years we have concentrated topflight research, outstanding medical talent and the most modern equipment and rehabilitation techniques into a nationwide network of 111 birth defect centers."

Car Insurance Less Here But Up in Other Areas

Floyd and other Eastern Kentucky counties comprise the only section of Kentucky to benefit from a reduction in automobile property-damage liability rates set by the Kentucky Insurance Department for companies selling 40 per cent of such business in the state.

All other parts of the state suffered increases. The premium reduction in this section was from $26 to $25.

The new raises apply to passenger cars. Commissioner Robert Preston said the increases will take effect Dec. 3, as will the decreases in Eastern Kentucky. Affected are 210 firms belonging to the Insurance Rating Board.

Preston estimated the new rates will yield $732,000 a year extra for the companies. He said they result from higher repair costs.

Earlier this year the board asked for an annual over-all increase of 8.7 per cent for property-damage liability.

The Insurance Department denied that request because, it said, investment income received by the firms from their policyholder money had not been considered in the filing.

EDUCATORS CONFER AT MSU—Among more than 40 Eastern Kentucky education leaders meeting recently at Morehead State University as the Kentucky Advisory Committee on Education for Appalachia were, first row, left to right: Charles Gibson, Eastern Kentucky University; O. T. Dorton, Paintsville; Loyal Jones, Council of the Southern Mountains, Berea; Richard Comfort, Pikeville College, and Wayne Ratliff, Floyd county schools.

Date for Opening Bids on Hospital Moved to Dec. 11

Date of the opening of bids on construction of the Highlands Regional Hospital near Auxier was changed last week from Dec. 4 to Dec. 11.

Announcing the bid-opening date change, Chalmers H. Frazier, hospital administrator, said the postponement was requested by major contractors who explained that sub-contractors had not had sufficient time for the preparation of bids.

The bids, which will be opened at Mr. Frazier's office at the Prestonsburg General Hospital, will cover construction of the 150-bed hospital and most of its equipment.

Designed to serve the four-county area composed of Floyd, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties, the project will involve the expenditure of more than $5 million.

Lewis, Others File To Enjoin Coal Firm From Work on Land

An injunction to halt the mining of coal from land which they claim was filed in circuit court here last week by Mack, Rudolph and Joe W. Lewis, Floyd county sheriff, and 41 others against Jack Trimble and the Greer-Ellison Coal Company.

Plaintiffs also ask that an accounting of coal mined from lands which they claim is required by the court and that they be awarded $10,000 for timber which, they say, Trimble sold to Cline Mitchell.

The acreage plaintiffs claim is theirs lies on Daniels Creek and Ivy Creek. They allege that Trimble leased coal which is theirs to Greer-Ellison and that the company's claim to the land is fictitious.

Wrecker Blasted On Harold Car Lot

The wrecker of Charlie Keathley was blasted Saturday night on Keathley's used car lot at Harold by a dynamite charge which reportedly ruined the equipment.

Magistrate Dewey Roberts said he was told as many as 10 sticks of dynamite may have been used. The charge was detonated at the connection of the hoist with the cab. Investigation of the dynamiting has failed to result in an arrest.

This Town . . . That World

In this world of change, shifting values and vanishing things there is nothing more permanent than a temporary tax increase.

NOTE TO READERS

If that certain item you have waited for fails to appear this week, remember it's Thanksgiving time and we've rushed the job a bit, trying to beat the dinner gong.

THEN AND NOW

Things have changed—now, haven't they? Time was when the only advertising the turkey got was his own gobble. Now, the ads describe him in detail—age, weight, number of breasts, brand-name and so on. In those days that have been called halcyon the head of the family hunted his Thanksgiving dinner, heard a gobble, sighted turkey, shot same, and came home, proudly bearing the noble bird. Today, it's the woman in the family who goes to the supermarket, eyes the fowl neatly done up in cellophane, complains of the high price, sighs, does a quick rundown on her purse to see if she'll have enough left to buy a little dressing, then gets the bird.

The old prints which showed the sturdy Pilgrim with blunderbuss and bird, the groaning table and the choice items of the harvest lying about were great. But Thanksgiving, circa 1969, holds its own very well in the face of this competition. There yet are thankful hearts and healthy appetites and the time when the children, grandchildren and the old folks and old friends get together.

So it is that we shun the temptation to yearn for those good, old days, and turn belatedly to (See Story No. 1, Page 10)

Company Leases From Ky. W. Va. In 20 Counties

Oil and gas will soon be sought in Eastern Kentucky at depths greater than ever before, if plans of a Texas company materialize.

A program looking toward production from previously unexplored formations has been under development for some time, with the Weaver Oil and Gas Company, Houston, Texas, leasing a huge acreage in Floyd and perhaps 20 other counties of the region.

The Texas firm has leased all deep-drilling rights to approximately 900,000 acres owned or leased by the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company. Its leases convey rights to oil and gas found below the Clinton formation.

W. W. Wallen, vice-president in charge of operations, Kentucky West Virginia Gas, said geological studies are now being made here and at Lexington, and that the company will drill one or two of the deep wells by way of exploration.

Weaver Oil and Gas is hoping for production from the Knox formation which ranges in depth (See Story No. 3, Page 10)

Planning Seminar For Ten Counties Is Held at Lodge

The comprehensive planning seminar held last Friday at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, studied future work for a 10-county area of Eastern Kentucky.

Discussing comprehensive planning—a planning technique which looks to the development of an area rather than marking an isolated sector for advancement—were Frank Groschelle, administrator of the Kentucky Development Program office; James Cass, of the Lexington Planning Commission; Dr. Jan. Luytjes, University of Kentucky economist, and George Bernardino, of the Kentucky Development Program. The session also presented Dr. George P. Archer, mayor of Prestonsburg, and Mayor J. B. Wells, of Paintsville.

In the afternoon session a panel discussion was led by William Kell, Ashland city manager.

Rediscover a Log House And You Uncover a Story

There isn't a log house standing that doesn't have a story to tell. The worn hearthstone, a rusty door latch . . . some times a blood stain on a step or a bullet hole in a wall. They almost speak aloud!

At Ezel in Morgan county, a few hundred yards off U. S. 460 trumpets have sounded for the family that once lived in a log mansion at a place called Jericho, but the walls of the great house seem almost as strong as the day the house was built more than a century ago. What a showplace this house would make! Set on a knoll with white pines and hemlock standing a hundred feet high on the spacious front lawn, the house once sheltered the Dock Cockrell family.

Dock Cockrell came to Morgan county from Breathitt where the family was a noted one. Nine of ten brothers had come from Virginia in 1800, and four of them—John, William, Simon and Jerry—had settled in what in 1839 would become Breathitt County.

Joseph, Alexander, Morgan and James moved to Missouri where Joseph's son, F. M. Cockrell, was United States Senator for 30 years. Daniel Cockrell was killed in the war of 1812.

Land for Jackson (Breathitt county seat) was purchased from Simon Cockrell who married Miss Polly Smith and had eleven children, among them Benjamin Franklin, called Dock who prepared for the medical profession but did not practice, according to the late Judge Edward Clay O'Rear of Ashley House Farm, Woodford county who was a friend of the family. Dock preferred the life of a country gentleman in Morgan county.

"His wife was a sister of W. Alex. Maxey, one-time country clerk of Morgan county, and she a worthy helpmate of her scholarly home-loving husband," remembered Judge O'Rear. "If their home was beautiful, their home-life was even more so. The family spirit was one of deepest affection—one might say, adoring affection. In the eyes of each, every other one of them was perfect, lovable and beloved."

The Cockrells' son Clifton was "the darling, a handsome, spirited, dashing, petted young blood" who married Catherine, eldest daughter of Col. John Tom Hazelrigg of West Liberty.

"Clifton betook at times to liquor," recalled O'Rear, "and in one of those evil hours he shot and killed a young man of the name of Brown. When sobered and confronted with the certainty of prosecution, he decided to evade, and finally defy the law. He hid out, frequently accompanied by his young wife, and always nurtured by his father."

A favorite hiding place for Clifton was a small room built atop the great log house, but when afraid of being discovered he fled to the Blackwater cliffs.

According to O'Rear, who later together with Col. Hazelrigg (both respected men of the Morgan county bar and who lived in West Liberty) defended the father, a posse hunting for Clifton surprised him at the Blackwater crossing. Among the men was a son of Hiram Greear of Grassy Creek.

"Cockrell, armed of course, drew to fight." Up at the great house on the knoll, Clifton's sisters, Jeanne, who had brown hair and blue eyes and Lula, dark with black hair, looked at each other when they heard the shot ring out. One of them shook her head sadly and said, "Poor Mr. Greear. Clifton's shot him."

"But the shot they heard was from Greear's gun and their brother fell dead in the creek," O'Rear recalled.

"The effect upon the father and others of the family was crushing. They mourned him even as David did his wayward son Absalom in his self imposed doom. Nor would they be comforted—ever."

Years later Greear while plowing his cornfield was shot from ambush and wounded and suspicion was leveled against Dock Cockrell who was indicted and tried.

"He was defended by Col. Hazelrigg and me. He was found not guilty. Indeed, there was no evidence to have supported a verdict of guilty." Greear later moved to Montgomery county where he was elected jailer and was a good and popular official.

Soon after the death of her brother Clifton, Jeanne Cockrell, a beautiful girl and noted horsewoman who flew through the countryside on her horse, ceased to ride and confined herself to the home. The other sister Lula too ceased to go about and died of tuberculosis.

"The family lived on some years. All now dead—no living issue. Hearts do break," said Judge O'Rear.

John Smith Nickell, deputy sheriff of Morgan county, acquired and moved into the Cockrell house. Some time later it was purchased by Boyd Anderson who lives across the road. Anderson sent to West Virginia for a particular fescue seed to provide grass beneath the trees.

The Cockrell house revisited finds a lush, soft-carpeted lawn for the house, handsome still and sturdy, but empty for many years. Within the past decade the porch with its balcony has fallen in front of the door as if to lock in the grief of a family, and overhead wind playing through the pines sings a mournful song.

LOS ANGELES—Having trouble holding your head up recently? You should, says a medical man who states the average human head weighs 14 pounds and it's not easy to hold it up all day long.

TUFTS ELECTED

A crime-detection device has been designed by Prof. John Jackson of the College of Engineering at the University of Kentucky and developed by Gary Hawley, a senior engineering student from Central City. It is a tiny transmitter that produces "silent" signals which can be detected by a receiving set.

I was warned electric heat would cost me more.

"We've lived with it for 3 years and it's costing less than the heat we had before."
"Some people tried to tell us electric heat was expensive." Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pennington of Hazard, Kentucky, "wouldn't have much trouble convincing them it's cheaper by just showing them the records we have on heating for the last 3 years. And it's cleaner, so you don't have the cleaning bills you have with other heat. Our ceilings and walls are as clean as they were when the house was new. People who think it's expensive sure change their minds when they find out what it really costs." Compare the cost of electric heat for your home. In memory of:
Turner Branham, dear husband and father who passed away one year ago, Nov. 22, 1968 at the age of 77:

We cannot say, we must not say, He is dead, he is just away With a cheery smile, and a wave of hand.

He has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very fair

It needs must be, since he lingers there. So think of him, faring on as dear,

In the love of there. . . As the love of here. Think of him still as the same, and say,

He is not dead, he is just away, Beyond the sunset.

Sadly missed by his wife and children, John, Edith and Ruby. It.

BEANIE'S PASSING UNLAMENTED AT UK

One college tradition appears to be fading into history: the wearing of the freshman "beanie."

Dr. Tom Riley, director of the University of Kentucky Hopkinsville Community College, says that "in dropping such traditions as the freshman cap and initiations, something may have been lost for the students." Dr. Riley has no explanation for the change in traditions, but one observer noted that "today's students have just gotten too blasé for such stuff."

Additional 4-H Clubs are to be reorganized before January 1.

Two Areas Here Beset By Water Deficiency, Said

The business district, Court street and North First, and the Prestonsburg Community College area have the most serious water pressure and flow deficiencies in Prestonsburg, according to the Kentucky Inspection Bureau report made in review of needs the city must meet if it is to be changed from a seventh class insurance rating to the cheaper sixth class.

The Court and North first deficiency is 72 per cent; the college area, 53 per cent.

The city has indicated that an eight-in. main will be extended within the next year to Court and First from the existing main at Court and Arnold. For the two residential sections, Trimble Branch and Westminster, which have been developed beyond fire hydrant protection, six-inch mains and additional hydrants have been promised "within a reasonable time."

The Inspection Bureau pointed out that a new fire station in the Lancer area should be constructed and manned within a year for use when the bridge now under construction across the Big Sandy will be completed, making access to the Goble-Roberts Addition feasible. The station, it was pointed out, should be equipped at first with the present 750-gallon-per-minute pumper, with a 1,000-g.p.m. pumper added in about three years.

A wide variety of equipment required includes monitor radios for each active volunteer firefighter and each off-duty paid firefighter, these to be carried by personnel when outside their homes.

Pre-Season Net Tournament To Follow Two Invitationals

With the Jenny Wiley Invitational and the Wheelwright Invitational basketball tournaments under way this week-end, preparations also were being made for the countywide Pre-Season tournament which will begin at the Prestonsburg high school gymnasium next Wednesday evening.

The Pre-Season is played as a means of financing publication of The Floyd Countian, school annual.

Betsy Layne and Prestonsburg will begin play at 7 p. m., Dec. 3, and in the second game of the evening those neighbor-rivals, Wayland and Garrett, will meet.

Lower bracket play Thursday night will pit two of the top teams in the area, Maytown and Wheelwright, in the opener, with McDowell facing Martin in the second game.

The semi-finals will be played at 7 and 8:30 p.m., Friday; the consolation at 7 p.m., Saturday, with the championship game following at 8:30.

Maytown Scores Week-End Victories

Hall-Burke

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall, of Wheelwright, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Ella Rose, to James L. Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Van Burke, Route 2, Pikeville.

The gracious custom of "open church" will be observed when the vows are exchanged at 6 p. m., January 1, at the Little Creek Church of Christ. Those attending the ceremony are also invited to attend the reception which will be held in the church, immediately following.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Wheelwright high school and is presently employed by Dr. J. L. Patterson, of Wheelwright. Mr. Burke, a graduate of Virgie high school and recently returned from Vietnam, is presently attending Pikeville College. Bennie Blankenship, evangelist of the Prestonsburg Church of Christ, will perform the ceremony.

Park Here Draws Turkey Day Guests

Thanksgiving has always seemed a time to stay home, feast on turkey, enjoy a football game on TV, take a nap, enjoy more football and more turkey. But last Thanksgiving dozens of families got together at Jenny Wiley State Park near Prestonsburg and many, many other families enjoyed the special holiday at six other state resort parks that remain open throughout the year.
For the women, such an arrangement meant no long hours baking and cooking and no dishes to wash; for the men, it meant their usual hours viewing football games on TVs at the parks. It also meant new family fellowship, new friends and seeing a state park in a different atmosphere. The parks are quieter now, without the thousands of summer tourists, but they are more festive. Dining rooms in park lodges take on new elegance in decor, and harvest tables are laden with traditional foods.

Gray Is Manager Of Holiday Inns

Prestonsburg native Bill Gray, Jr., who retired from Air Force service Sept. 1, has been named manager of Holiday Inn motels at Sherman and Denison, Texas, it was announced recently after ownership of the two motels had changed hands.

Mr. Gray is a son of Mrs. Josephine Gray, of Prestonsburg, and the late Bill Gray. At the time of his Air Force retirement he was a tech sergeant and was manager of the NCO Club at Perrin Air Force Base.

THE REASON

Some months ago, a machinery salesman with whom I was doing a bit of haggling interrupted the conversation to remark that he had a publisher friend with whom he had just such trouble. Then he told how his negotiations ran with this fellow.

He recalled that after half an hour or so of arguing, the newspaper guy asked if he would like a drink, and he said, "Yes." The publisher then went to a nearby safe, worked the combination, produced a bottle and they had at it. The bottle was returned to the safe, which was carefully relocked. Then the negotiations were resumed, and again he was asked if he needed more refreshment. The same answer was given and again the publisher went to the safe, worked the combination. After the bottle was consulted, the host returned the bottle to the safe and carefully relocked same.

When this exact procedure was repeated, an hour later, the salesman had a question. "Tell me," he said, "why you take all the trouble to take that bottle back to the safe, lock it up, then go back and work the combination to get at it again."

"I have a very good reason," explained the publisher. "You see, when I get to the point I can't remember the combination to this safe, I know I've had enough."

justment made on the basis of that report and amounts already paid.

Exempted from the tax will be payments commonly recognized as "old-age" or "retirement pensions"; payments made to an employee under a disability, sickness or accident plan; unemployment compensation and death benefits and amounts paid under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

(The full ordinance appears elsewhere in this week's Times.)

The ordinance seeks to protect taxpayers by forbidding any official, agent or employee of the city or the tax administrator to divulge any information obtained under provisions of the ordinance, except for the administration of the ordinance, and sets as the penalty for violation of this provision a fine of not less than $50.00 or more than $500.00 or 30 days in jail, or both.

The same penalty is provided for any person who fails to withhold and pay any license fee when due, or fails to file any report or submit to any examination required under the ordinance.

City officials aren't certain what the tax will bring into the city treasury. Mayor Archer said he hopes it will realize $50,000.

He added that the sticker for autos and trucks will be eliminated, and that this will reduce city income $23,000.

The mayor said the University of Kentucky has agreed to begin on Dec. 1 the work of reviewing the entire tax structure of the city, study every city department and the city's needs and also work up next year's budget.

"When all this is completed," Dr. Archer said, "I will call a Town Meeting, lay the whole thing before the people so that they will know where we are, and how their money is being spent."

in the western counties of this area from 12,000 feet to 15,000 feet in the eastern counties. Drilling will be done with rotary drills, and each well will cost an estimated quarter of a million dollars.

Only one or two wells have ever been drilled in this section deeper than the Clinton or Big Six, formations which can be reached with conventional rigs. United Fuel Gas Company drilled to greater depth in a well in Breathitt county and in another in Martin county, but the results of this exploration have never been made public.

The area leased from Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company extends from Leslie through Perry, Letcher, Breathitt, Pike, Knott, Floyd, Martin, Magoffin, Johnson, Lawrence and Boyd counties in this area into McCreary and Harlan counties in Southeastern Kentucky.

The development is the first planned as a result of industry recognition of the growing shortage of natural gas and the need to seek new sources far deeper underground than ever before.

Elderly Teacher Severely Beaten, Assailant Sought

Eighty-two-year-old Mary I. Spillman, revered former science teacher at Pikeville College and president of the alumni association of the college, was found Friday at her Pikeville home, severely beaten.

She was later listed in "fair condition" at the Methodist Hospital there.

She was unable to supply police with a detailed description of her attacker. She said a man entered her home at 11 p. m. Thursday, remained there till 1 a. m. Friday and during the two hours beat her and ripped her clothing in an attempt at criminal assault.

Miss Spillman said the intruder left with the threat he would burn her house if she called police. A neighbor found her Friday evening.

Pikeville police said the man apparently took $8 in cash and a watch which Miss Spillman kept in a box.

Hunting and Fishing in Kentucky

In 1968 conservation officers reached a new high in arrests for fish and game law violations. During that 12 month period, 5,210 persons were cited for violations as pertain to the conservation of game and fish. This year the total will, in all probability, be higher. So far, month by month, the arrest totals have exceeded the corresponding month of the year before and unless the number apprehended in November and December falls far below the totals of last year, there'll be a new arrest record by the end of 1969.

Last year the average arrested per county was slightly over 43 for the year. Of course, that is merely an average and to be sure some counties had far fewer than that number while others went far above the mark. This indicates one thing—in some counties the thinking is that to violate is all right while in others the general theme is to abide by the law and perpetuate the game supply. That statement, however, cannot be applied unequivocally. It may be that a reason for more violations in a given area is that there is more game in that section; or it may be that in an area where there are relatively no violations reported, the officer is unable, for some reason, to apprehend the violators.

It is most difficult to understand why game law violations are on the increase. Some officers say it's because there is more game to hunt; others believe it is because of the general attitude of the people toward lawlessness in all phases, and, thirdly, they believe more people are hungry and are unable to pay the high prices that meat costs across the grocery counter.

Game belongs to everyone but it must be taken in numbers and in a manner as described by fish and wildlife agencies which are, after all, guardians of the game. Game laws are made not to penalize individuals but to protect them so that game may be available in years to come. Were there no laws protecting game, it's a pretty sure thing that it soon would be eliminated and anyone who violates a law designed to protect game and the sportsman as well is actually violating against himself and against future generations. He is taking game that does not belong to him, and, therefore, is relegated to the status of a thief. He is eliminating game that should be protected, not for protection sake as such, but for perpetuation purposes.

Bag and possession limits are arrived at after much study by fish and game biologists. They are literally with the birds and animals and fishes and do know more about the population and population trends than any other persons or groups. Each year long study dictates the length of the seasons, the number of animals that may be harvested per day and the conditions under which those animals may be taken. This is done with an evaluation of the effects of a hunting season on future populations of the species involved.

Most people can remember when the deer population of Kentucky was practically nil. There is now a good herd, but it must be protected, else it will disappear even as it has done before. This year biologists are of the opinion that the herd is in shape. They are of the opinion that in many areas more deer may be carried on given tracts of land. For that reason they have decreed a bucks-only season which is designed to allow hunters to harvest a good number of deer but still will not eliminate the does which are the basis for the production of deer for the future. So, when a hunter kills a doe this hunting season, he has affected the future production of deer in this state. If there is widespread harvesting of does, then the herd in the future must suffer. The legal hunters are expected to take only so many deer and leave a brood stock for next year. If night hunters steal deer by spotlighting, they can upset the future of the deer herd.

Law violations do no one much good. To be sure, a violator may take more than his share this year, but next year he as well as the legal hunter will suffer from a decrease in the species affected. Hunting in this modern day is not designed to put meat on the table as it was in pioneer days. It cannot be used for such device. It is meant today for a most pleasing pastime for a great number of outdoorsmen and the person who treats it otherwise is helping to destroy the future of his sport. It's so easy to have an enjoyable day in the field, harvesting the limit of a particular species.

PAIN RESPONSES OF PLANTS
By RUFUS M. REED

If one should stick an axe deeply into the trunk of a tree, causing it serious injury, would the tree register any sensations of pain or shock? If you should take some plant like a fern and prick it with a sharp needle, would the fern register any kind of sensations of pain?

Not so, most persons would say; plants have no nervous system comparable to man or animals and could not, therefore, display symptoms of pain or agony. But all has not yet been told about such things and there is still an unexplored field of sensations of plants to painful stimuli.

First we should remember that plants have multiplied millions of living cells, organized in orderly systems for sustaining the life and growth of the plant. When these cells are destroyed by injury or accident, the plant must indeed suffer some sort of painful response.

Even now some of the world's leading scientists are engaged in studying the response of plants to painful wounds. Experiments along this line are being carried out by Prof. Chandra Bose, a great scientist of India, who has invented a most amazing instrument called the crescograph. This instrument is highly sensitive and is attached to a plant or a tree and can register their reactions to pain or shock. When Prof. Bose attached it to a tree and then pierced the tree with a sharp instrument, the gadget registered spasms of the tree's cells and painlike flutters, somewhat like those of an injured butterfly. He attached the gadget to a fern and then pricked it with a needle; the gadget registered sharp sensations of pain, with spasmodic quivering of the plant's cells.

Finally when a tree is cut down, with death imminent, the professor's invention registers its agony of dying, with painful shudders of its cells. Which goes to show the plant world is not as senseless as it may seem but that life is in all living matter and when a fatal shock or injury is inflicted, it does register something akin to human suffering.

Even without any such delicate instrument, we can see with our eyes the quick response of many plants to painful stimuli. There is a class of trees known as "sensitive trees", of which the mimosa is one. It is very sensitive to a sharp drop in the temperature and its leaves will collapse on a cold night and huddle together as if for warmth. And if you take one of the long, compound leaves in the hand and touch the leaflets, they respond by swooning and seem to fall into one another as if to escape injury.

There are also sensitive peas that will respond to the slightest touch of one's fingers; the leaflets will fold up as if to avoid injury. And plants like the Venus Flytrap are so sensitive to outside stimuli, even the weight of a hair on the leaf will bring a quick response.

How do plants respond to the "vibrations" of persons who work with them? Some persons are very successful in handling plants and getting them to grow, and we say such persons have a "green thumb." It seems that plants can somehow "sense" the vibrations of such a person and will respond favorably, while others seem to have no success at all in growing fine plants.

It is said that a person who nurses hate or a grudge against anybody, cannot successfully grow beautiful flowers; this is because the flowers can in some way "sense" the vibrations of hate from such a person and have a tendency to recoil from them, even sometimes to wither and die. On the other hand, the person with a heart full of love for all life can seemingly have the best success in growing lovely flowers.

There are as yet many untold mysteries in the world of nature. All life of whatever kind is endowed with the Universal Spirit of Life, which urges it to grow and express itself: all life is an expression of the One Great Spirit of Life which manifests as divine intelligence in all living things. Some persons who are highly developed should claim they can sometimes see lights like electric sparks emanating from flowers: they can often see the flowers bathed in pure white light that makes them glow.

We know that many plants show an amazing intelligence and it would seem that some have the power to think and reason. Many plants can calculate by use of mathematics: a plant that always has blooms with five petals never makes a mistake but it counts to five every year and produces flowers each year with the same uniform number.

Take a pole bean in your garden and when it puts out a vine, set a pole up six inches away and the vine will know how to find it and goes straight toward the pole. Move the pole to the other side of the bean and it will change its direction and still find the pole. Does the pole bean somehow know that the pole is there? And how does it turn on the pole? If it turns clockwise one year it will do the same each succeeding year. Plants also know the laws of harmony of color and never produce a color that causes discord in the plant family.

State Supt. Butler Says
5% Sales Tax Is Necessary

The Democratic attack of Gov. Louie B. Nunn and his increased sales tax may have been blunted by the statement of one of the party's leaders Friday at the Eastern Kentucky Education Association (EKEA) meeting. The statement was that of Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler, who told the teachers that retention of the 5 per cent sales tax is their top legislative item for the January session of the General Assembly. Declaring that the existing sales tax structure is the keynote to continued progress in the field of education, Butler said, "If there were no sales tax, teachers would be the first to feel the pinch financially."

Frank Stewart, of Langley, consultant in the New Science Process Approach introduced to Floyd county schools, was named president-elect of EDEA. Glenn McDowell, of Pikeville, assumed the presidency, succeeding Phillip Dingus, Martin high school principal, school principal.

Others named are: Claude Chandler of Paintsville and Mrs. Velma Wellman of Ashland Fairview, Kentucky Education Association board members; Lewis Campbell, of Floyd county, member of the nominating committee for the Teacher Retirement System; Tom Pack of Boyd county, vice-president; Dr. William P.

Eidson, Boyd county superintendent, and Ray McCann, of Ashland, delegates to next year's national education convention; Carter County Supt. W. Ernest Robinson and Dr. Lawrence Stewart of Morehead State University, NEA delegate alternates, and Mrs. Patsy Johnson of Paintsville, member of KEA Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission.

In his address at the EKEA session State Supt. Butler said, "I am concerned with the attitude of the public toward the cost of education. There is a streak of conservatism running over the land. The public wants a dollar's worth of services for each dollar spent. Parents are demanding more services and some people don't realize there is a direct relationship between services and the cost of education."

The state school chief urged strong support for the KEA legislative program. Retention of the five per cent sales tax and gutting of the 1965 tax rollback law are key items of the KEA program. The rollback law limited all revenue from property taxes in ensuing years at the total amount taken in that year, with a permissible 10 per cent boost in 1966 and again the following year.

THE AMAZING MARCH

The march of the seasons intrigues the mind of man not only because of the seemingly endless parade of life and death and change of form and color but also because it all is a part of his environment.

Colorful autumn now bows out, making way for the bleak days of winter. And the new life that is springtime will be all the more amazing because of these months of winter that precede it.

For every season build well . . . use those materials that the seasons have already tried and found not wanting.

Your Ford Dealer's holding the price line.
Maverick. Still $1995

When it comes to prices, you know what's going on. And what's going up. But there's one thing still going straight. Maverick. It holds the line. And its small price makes it America's biggest car value. Here are the facts about our Simple Machine.

It's simple to drive. You get the passing power of a 105-hp Six. Great gas mileage too.

It's simple to park. Maverick can turn in a tighter circle than the leading import.

It's simple to service. Maverick is easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import. It needs fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications.

It's simple to repair. You can do many routine maintenance jobs yourself.

It's simple to own. Maverick saves you money when you buy it. And when you drive it. That's the reason our small car is going over big.

Maverick lets you stop worrying about rising costs. Come see the Simple Machine at your Ford Dealer's now.

For more information about Maverick see your Ford Dealer or write: Maverick Catalog, Dept. N-4, P.O. Box 1503, Dearborn, Michigan 48121.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the car. White sidewall tires are not included; they are $30.00 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specifically required by state laws.

- 1965 FORD F-250 PICKUP. Flareside, 300 CID engine, 4x4, blue, 4-speed transmission, heater, spare wheel and tire. $1395.

In memory of Floyd Robinson, who died Nov. 18, 1967:

In the cemetery softly sleeping
 Where the flowers gently wave
 Lies the one we loved so dearly
 But whom we could not save.
 God broke our hearts to prove to us
 He takes only the best.
 God knows you had to leave us
 But you did not go alone,
 For part of us went with you
 The day he took you home.
 It's lonesome here without you
 And sad has been the way,
 For life and home are not the same
 Since you were called away,
 God knows how much we miss
 you
 He counts the tears we shed,
 And whispers that he only sleeps,
 Your loved one is not dead.
 To some you are forgotten
 To others just part of the past.
 But to us who loved and lost
 you
 Your memory will always last.
 Thou are gone but not forgotten
 Fresh our love will ever be,
 For as long as there is memory
 We will always think of you.

Sadly missed by his wife,
 Gracie Robinson, and daughter,
 Zella Russell.

SECTION III: LICENSE FEES REQUIRED

(a) All persons engaged in any trade, occupation or profession within the City, when employed by another, shall pay a license fee measured by and equal to one per cent (1 per cent), of gross receipts paid for such service.

(b) All persons engaged in any trade, occupation or profession, within the City, for themselves, for profit or gain, shall pay a license fee measured by and equal to one per cent (1 per cent), of the net profit realized from such activity. "Net Profit" as used herein shall mean gross receipts less ordinary business deductions, recognized as such, and allowed by the laws of the United States of America or the Commonwealth of Kentucky in computing income tax liability, whichever may be the lesser, but without deductions for taxes based on income.

It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in any trade, occupation or profession within the City without withholding, reporting and paying the license fees herein provided and required.

SECTION IV. REGULATIONS, ADMINISTRATION, ENFORCEMENT AND COLLECTION OF LICENSE FEES AND THE PURPOSE THEREOF.

It shall be the duty of the administrator to collect all license fees and deposit the same in the General Fund of the City, to be used to defray the general expenses of the City Government. The administrator shall have the power and it shall be his duty to make and publish such rules and regulations as may be necessary to administer this ordinance and to provide such printed forms as may be required for reporting, paying and receipting all such license fees and for all other requirements in the proper and efficient administration of this ordinance.

SECTION V: DUTY OF EMPLOYER TO WITHHOLD, REPORT AND PAY LICENSE FEES OF EMPLOYEES:

It shall be the duty of every person engaged in any trade, occupation or profession, within the City who employs or engages the services of others in connection therewith, to withhold from the compensation of such employee, the license fees herein provided, at the time such compensation is paid or credited, which shall be at least once in every calendar month, and report and pay the same to the administrator on or before the fifteenth day of April, July, October, and January of each year, for the license fees accrued during the preceding three months. Failure on the part of the employer to withhold, report and pay the license fees shall not relieve the employee from liability therefor.

All license fees not paid when due shall draw interest at the rate of six per cent (6 per cent) per annum from due date until paid, and upon failure to pay any license fee when due, a penalty of ten per cent (10 per cent) is hereby imposed which penalty shall draw like interest from due date.

SECTION VI: DUTY OF PERSON ENGAGED IN TRADE, OCCUPATION OR PROFESSION FOR ONESELF TO REPORT AND PAY LICENSE FEES:

It shall be the duty of every person engaged in any trade, occupation or profession for themselves, for gain or profit, within the City, to file with the administrator on or before April 15, 1970 an estimated return showing the net profit or gain from such activity realized during the preceding year as determined by the licensee's method of accounting or keeping books, and shall pay the license herein provided, calculated on the estimated net profit for the preceding fiscal year as herein provided. The total license payment due shall be paid in four (4) equal installments on or before the last day of April, July, October, and January of each year. Within 105 days after the end of the licensee's fiscal year following January 1, 1970, such person shall file a report with the administrator showing the actual net profit or gain for the preceding license period for which license fees have been paid on an estimated basis as herein provided, and proper adjustment of the license fees shall be made.

The first license period shall extend from January 1, 1970 until the end of the licensee's fiscal year and the license fee for that period shall be calculated on a pro rata basis and thereafter the license fee shall be calculated and paid on an annual basis as of the end of the licensee's fiscal year. The licensee shall pay any deficit upon the filing of such report and the City shall refund any overpayment upon the filing of such report and any deficit or refund shown to be due shall draw interest at six per cent (6 per cent) per annum from due date until paid, and upon failure by the licensee to pay any deficit when due a penalty of ten per cent (10 per cent) shall be imposed, which penalty shall draw like interest from due date. The licensee shall be permitted to adopt any fiscal period which corresponds with his system of accounting or bookkeeping, or the period adopted for income tax purposes, for the purpose of estimating and adjusting the license fees imposed by this ordinance.

In the event the estimated return showing the net profit or gain realized during the preceding fiscal year is less than an amount sufficient to yield an annual license fee calculated at 1 per cent of net income equal to the license fees set out below, then the license fees set out below applicable to the licensee's trade, business or profession shall apply and be charged as a minimum license fee hereunder and the licensee shall receive credit for said minimum license fee upon any amount that may be shown to be due at the end of the fiscal period of the licensee as above provided. In all cases of license fees computed upon the basis of apportionment of compensation or net profit or gain as herein provided, the apportionment shown by the sworn statements of the licensee or employer or both shall not be binding upon the City but shall be subject to verification by the administrator or his agents or employees through examination and audit of the books and records of the licensee or his employer, or both if required by the administrator.

SECTION IX: REPORTS REQUIRED: In addition to the reports hereinbefore specified, each licensee and each employer required to withhold and pay license fees for employees, shall be required to file an annual report with the administrator on forms to be provided by him, within 105 days after the end of the fiscal period selected by the licensee or employer, showing all essential information, data and figures upon which the license fees required by this ordinance are computed.

Every person required to pay any license fee provided by this ordinance shall be required to make all books, records and accounts upon which information required by this ordinance is based, available to the administrator, his agents or employees for the purpose of examination, audit or verification, provided however that if any licensee or employer subject to the provisions of this ordinance shall voluntarily submit copies of his current income tax returns made to either the State or Federal Governments, for examination, then in such case no further examination or audit will be required until and unless there is reexamination or audit made by the taxing authority to whom the return was made and provided further, the administrator may dispense with examination of the books, records, accounts, or tax returns of the licensee in any case where the administrator is furnished with a certificate of a qualified certified Public Accountant, or the sworn statement of any other reputable accountant, or bookkeeper of the licensee stating that the amount of tax reported conforms to the State or Federal Income Tax return filed by the licensee for the applicable period.

Nothing herein shall prevent or preclude the administrator from demanding an examination and audit of the books, records, and accounts as herein provided at any time he may have reasonable grounds to believe that the licensee has not correctly reported and paid the license fees due under the provisions of this ordinance.

All information obtained by the Administrator or any of his agents or employees, or any other official or employee of the City, from any reports, examination or audit of books, records, accounts, income tax returns or any other source, in the administration of this ordinance, shall be treated and considered as confidential and privileged except for official purposes, unless otherwise treated by judicial decree or specific provision of law, and shall not be open to inspection by the public.

Any official, agent or employee of the City who divulges any information obtained under the provisions of this ordinance except for the purposes of administering this ordinance as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined not less than $50.00 nor more than $500.00 or punished by confinement at hard labor for not more than thirty days, or both so fined and imprisoned.

It is further provided that the Administrator or any City Official or employee shall have the right to disclose to the Commissioner or Revenue of the State of Kentucky or his duly authorized agent or employee any of the information protected by this Section VIII of this ordinance, provided reciprocal right to information concerning any person liable for license fees under the provisions of this ordinance is made available to the City by such authorities, and provided further that the City may publish statistics based upon information obtained in the administration of this ordinance so long as such published statistics do not reveal the identity of any licensee.

Such penalties shall be in addition to other penalties imposed by this ordinance. Each failure or refusal to comply with any of the provisions of this ordinance shall constitute a separate offense, and each day that such failure or refusal continues without compliance shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION I. DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of these regulations the following terms shall have the definitions hereinafter given:

A. "City"—City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

B. "License fee"—A tax imposed for the privilege of exercising the right to engage in trade, occupation or profession for compensation paid by others or the right to engage in trade, occupation or profession, for oneself, for profit, or gain, within the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

C. "Person"—Any natural person, partnership, firm, association, and corporation. Whenever the term "person" is used in any clause prescribing and imposing a penalty in the nature of a fine or imprisonment, it shall mean and include the individual members of a firm, partnership or association and the officers of any corporation.

D. "Trade, occupation or profession"—Any and all activities and the rendering of any and all services of all kinds for compensation or profit, whether in the form of salaries, wages, commissions or other remuneration, or net profit or gain of any kind when applied to persons so engaged for themselves, whether the person be a resident of the City of Prestonsburg, or not.

E. "Gross Receipts"—When applied to a person employed by others shall include the gross amount of all salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses or other money payments of any kind, or other considerations having a monetary value, which a person receives or becomes entitled to, or is given credit for by an employer, without deduction for withholding taxes, social security benefits, any form of insurance or retirement benefits or other deductions made by an employer in calculating "take home pay". However any traveling expenses actually incurred and paid by the employer, gratuities such as "tips" paid by someone other than the employer, and wages, salaries or other compensation received by domestic servants employed in a private home, shall be exempt from the operation of this ordinance.

F. "Sales"—Net sales of merchandise or service, or of both, computed by whatever method of accounting is authorized for federal income tax purposes.

G. "Sales Within the City"—This shall be deemed to include all sales of merchandise from a business entity located in the City or sales of merchandise delivered to a customer within the City.

H. "Net Profits"—The net income from the operation of a business, or enterprise after provision for all cost and expenses incurred in the conduct thereof, shall be the same as reported for federal income tax purposes excluding items exempted under this ordinance but without deduction of taxes based on income.

derived (including those derived from Prestonsburg) and, which payrolls paid by licensee within Prestonsburg bear to licensee's entire payroll wheresoever paid (including Prestonsburg payrolls), adding together the two percentages so arrived at, and dividing the total by two.

However, if one of these factors (receipts or payrolls) is missing, the remaining percentage is the business allocation percentage. A factor is not to be deemed missing merely because the expenditures of the licensee for payrolls, or the gross receipts of the licensee, are found to be situated, incurred or received either entirely within or entirely without the City.

After determining such business allocation percentage, the license fee shall be determined by applying that percentage to the entire net profits of the licensee wherever derived, and computing one percent (1 per cent) of the resultant subject net profit.

A. SPECIAL ACTIVITIES

1. Income received from real estate consisting of stores, warehouses, motels, apartment hotels, hotel buildings, office buildings, apartment houses, single or multiple dwellings, and other rental property, shall be subject to the license fee.

2. Where a person engages in the BUYING AND SELLING OF STOCKS, BONDS AND OTHER TYPES OF SECURITIES, and such transactions are not isolated and few, but are extended so as to constitute an activity, the net profits therefrom are subject to the license fee.

3. A FIDUCIARY is a person who holds in trust, property, monies or properties, to which another has a beneficial title or interest, or who receives and controls income for another person or persons. Compensation received by a fiduciary for his services as such is subject income whether a fiduciary is regularly engaged in the business or profession as a fiduciary or not.

4. An INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR is a person who, while performing services for another, is not under the direction and control of such other person as to the result to be accomplished by the work and as to the details and means by which that result is accomplished, such as authors, professional men, seamstresses, tailors, registered nurses. The income received by such persons is subject to the license fee.

SECTION IV. FISCAL YEARS

Where the fiscal year of a trade, occupation, or profession or other activity differs from the calendar year, the license fee shall be applicable to the net profits of the fiscal year used by the licensee, and has been or is being recognized by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

SECTION V. COMPUTATION OF NET PROFIT

In amplification of the definition contained in Section 1 of these regulations, but not in limitation thereof, the following additional information and requirements respecting net business profits are furnished.

A. Where necessary to properly reflect income, inventories must be used. The basis of pricing used for the purpose of the federal income tax must in each instance be used.

B. Where the books and records are kept on "cash basis", "accrual basis", "long-term contract basis", or "installment basis", the basis used in the filing of federal income tax returns must be used for the purpose of this license fee.

C. All ordinary and necessary of doing business, including reasonable compensation paid employees, shall be allowed, but no deduction may be claimed for "salary" or withdrawals of a sole proprietor or of the partners or members of an unincorporated business or enterprise.

D. Only taxes directly connected with the net profits subject to the license fee may be claimed as a deduction. The following TAXES may not be deducted:

1. The license fee under this ordinance.
2. Any Federal State or local taxes based on income.
3. Gift, estate or inheritance taxes.
4. Taxes for local benefits or improvements to property which tend to appreciate the value thereof.

The Administrator will accept the sworn statement of any licensee subject to the payment of any fee provided by this ordinance, or of any certified or reputable accountant or bookkeeper to the effect that the return required under this ordinance is in accord with income tax returns made by the licensee to the State or Federal Government, without examinations or audit of the licensee's books or records unless the Administrator has reasonable grounds to believe that such statement is false, and the acceptance of such statement shall not be considered or treated as a waiver of the right of the Administrator to examine and audit the books and records of the licensee at any later date, should the Administrator later determine that such examination or audit is necessary or advisable.

SECTION XI. PENALTY FOR DIVULGING CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Any official, agent or employee of the City or the Administrator who divulges any information obtained under the provisions of this ordinance except for the purpose of administering this ordinance as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, shall be fined not less than $50.00 nor more than $500.00 or punished by confinement at hard labor for not more than thirty days, or both so fined and imprisoned.

Whatsoever Things

By DONALD E. WILDMON

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE TEACHER

Dear Teacher:

He is there in your room. Next to his parents, you will be with him more than any other person. And it is certain that you will exercise a great deal of influence with him. For that reason, I wanted to say some things to you.

To begin with, don't be afraid to challenge him. There is entirely too much of a "give-me" attitude in our world. We need people who are willing to work and make it on their own merits. So we would be mighty proud if you would help us instill some of this attitude in him.

Next, please remember that he is human and will need some discipline. Don't be too rough or unfair with him, but don't let him go unchecked either. He has been taught discipline and respect, here at home. Occasionally he has had to have some discipline, so he knows what it is for. And we would rather have a little discipline now than face a court of law later.

Then, too, remember that humans are made to love. And I think you will find that he will give some of that. I know that there will be many students in your class, but I am also aware that you have sufficient love to go around. Show him a little. You would be surprised how much good it will do. (On second thought, I guess you already know.)

And brag on him occasionally, too. No older than he is, we have already learned that a little praise when he does something a little above average gets amazing results. You might not believe it, but we even clap and cheer for him when he does some extra something! And like the rest of us, he likes it.

He will be coming into contact with some types of hate that he hasn't faced yet in his small world. Help him overcome it. He has been taught to love, here at home. We have tried to teach him to judge others on their merits and not on anything else. We would appreciate your helping teach him this, too. For if he hears this from you, it will only add weight to what he has already been taught.

We know you will do a good job teaching him what our forefathers called the three R's so we won't bother to say much about that. You see, while we feel that the academic part of your teaching is very important, there is another part of far more importance. So show him a little of your dedication and desire to help. We all know that you are vastly underpaid, and often overworked, but try not to become bitter and cynical about it. He, and we, will appreciate your sacrifice more than we can ever express. And maybe one day in this world of twisted values we will get around to making it up to you.

There are lots of other things we would like to say but it would take far too much time. Just try to teach him some lasting values, in the real sense of the word. And maybe one day when we point with pride and say, "That's our son," you can say, "Yes, and he was my pupil."
