Park Area Prepared For Fair Next Week

Space Added For Exhibits By Building

The fairgrounds at Archer Park here were being prepared for the 1970 Floyd County Fair which is planned to bring together next week the people of the county, of all ages, in a mass exhibit of their finest products.

The fairgrounds this year will have a third exhibit shed. The newest addition to its facilities was completed only recently in a joint effort of the Floyd County Fair Board and Archer Park officials.

Beginning Friday, Sept. 30, and continuing through Oct. 3, the fair will feature exhibits from the schools of the county, homes, 4-H, FFA and FHA clubs, and will include field crops, vegetables and fruits, flowers, livestock, antiques and hobbies, adult home economics, textiles, fine arts and handicraft.

All exhibits except flowers and livestock are to be brought to the fairgrounds by 6 p.m., Sept. 30. Flowers are scheduled there from 9 a.m. till noon Friday, Oct. 2, and livestock from 9 a.m. till noon, Oct. 3.

Coming to the park, well in advance of the opening of the fair, will be the big entertainment feature of the week, the Kessler Brothers show.

Election Commission Selects Pct. Officers

The November election campaign, now drawing near its final month, is expected to generate considerable interest, in marked contrast to the primary which had as its only distinguishing feature an almost total unconcern on the part of just about everybody.

The Congressional campaign promises no improvement over the primary and its yawns, but a school election in two of this county's educational divisions is almost certain to perk up the voters' ears.

Whatever the situation, come Nov. 3, the Floyd Election Commission moved Saturday to be ready to have an election. It named the election officers for each of the county's 43 precincts. The selections follow:

- Prestonsburg No. 1—Laura Baldrige, clerk; Donald C. Nunnery, judge; Richard Spurlock, sheriff; W. B. Boyd, judge.
- Prestonsburg No. 2—Woodrow W. Allen, sheriff; Hubbard Francis, judge; Bill Petry, judge; William Dingus, clerk.
- Depot No. 3—Eileen Baldrige, clerk; John W. Shepherd, judge; Rosie Robinson, sheriff; Roosevelt Elliot, judge.
- Richmond—Anna H. Mellon, judge; Dallas Prater, sheriff; Kenneth Allen, clerk; Frank Heinze, judge.
- Cliff—Stephen Lee Best, clerk; Arnold Clark, judge; Earl Moore, sheriff; Milton Skiff, judge.

This Town . . . That World

The summer is past, the state fair says. But fall will not arrive in earnest till certain ailing air-conditioners get back in working order.

THAT EXPLAINED IT
"Groundhogs making apple-butter." Know what that describes? I didn't till last Sunday, and I thought I was old enough to know all the old sayings. A youngster patiently explained that that was the old folk way of explaining, years ago, the fog shooting up, far back there in the head of a hollow: "The groundhogs are making apple-butter."

If anything remotely funny has happened to me this week, I either was asleep or a little more unconscious than usual. Don't ask me to relate some of the unfunny things.

NOT HIS TURN
These stories that come along, every so often, seem plumb sacrilegious, but I confess to getting a laugh out of some of them, anyhow. This one has to do with the preacher who, near the close of his sermon, discovered that one of his deacons had dropped off asleep. He decided to teach the sleeper a lesson and announced, "We will now have a few moments of prayer. Deacon Brown will lead."
"Lead!" said the deacon, suddenly awakening. "I just dealt."

- Porter—Frank DeRossett, judge; Laura Griffith, sheriff; Challie Fraley, judge; Carlos Haywood, clerk.
- Auxier—Darvin Patton, judge; Ursal Ray Wilcox, clerk; William Lloyd Wells, judge; Marion Jack Music, sheriff.
- Middle Creek—Joe Ed Slone, judge; Avanelle Ousley, sheriff; Sage Frazier, judge; Ronald Frazier, clerk.
- Cow Creek—John N. Burchett, clerk; Shellie Woods, judge; Brack Thompson, judge; T. F. Walters, sheriff.
- Allen—Lewis Campbell, sheriff; Leonard Jones, judge; Dave Flannery, judge; George Snodgrass, clerk.
- Jim Banks—Bill Lafferty, judge; Frank DeRossett, sheriff; Earnest Cooley, clerk; Joan Hatfield, judge.
- Rough and Tough—Mitchell Dotson, judge; Sam Fitzpatrick, sheriff; Roberta Daniels, clerk; Charley Hackworth, Jr., judge.

Murder Trials May Be Reset For Oct. Term

With the continuance of the murder trial of Bob Hall, charged with the slaying of his father, Edgar H. Hall, till the November term of circuit court, it became almost certain this week that none of the four murder trials scheduled will be heard at the current term of court.

The Hall case was continued because defendant's attorney, Paul E. Hayes, returned to this county only recently from a Louisville hospital where he has been seriously ill. The continuance was given to afford him time to prepare for the trial. The other murder defendants—Reecie J. Combs, Whitley "Gig Pole" Hall, Charles Jackson—were indicted by the grand jury, this court term, and defendants pleaded lack of time to prepare for trial.

Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo said Monday that most, if not all, of the cases alleging possession of narcotics will be dismissed. Stumbo explained that the Commonwealth's case against all the defendants, with the possible exception of one, collapsed when Vicki Lee Nelson, on whose testimony the indictments were voted, later repudiated her original testimony when questioned during the taking of depositions by Scott Collins, attorney for Sammy Music and Sammy Nelson, two of those accused.

Stumbo said there is a possibility the case against Allen D. Ousley may be heard, since the girl during the taking of depositions told of seeing Ousley with "stuff in a needle" and of girls "acting wild". She could not, however, identify the contents of the needle.

The AMVETS Club and the American Legion Club, both of Martin, have pleaded guilty to the charge of possessing and selling intoxicants. Each was fined $20 after both had been closed by court order procured by Commonwealth's Attorney Stumbo and County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill. A third place popularly known as Harold Hill, was later ordered closed on petition filed by the same officials against Charlie Keathley and others. The closing order for each is in effect six months.

Superintendents Organize Here For Area Work

Superintendents of 32 school districts in Eastern Kentucky have organized to develop and provide educational programs and services to their school districts.

The organization meeting was held last Thursday at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Noting that many external organizations and groups are concerned and interested in helping the schools operate their programs, the superintendents felt that a leadership and coordinating organization is necessary to help give direction to external groups in order to apply all available resources to areas of greatest need.

The superintendents elected a board of directors from four sub-areas in Eastern Kentucky. It was felt that by electing two superintendents from sub-areas, which are contiguous with the Area Development Districts of Eastern Kentucky—FIVCO, Big Sandy, Gateway, and Buffalo Trace—that the vital coordination elements might have a more natural link.

Bridgeman Back In Jail Here

Richard Bridgeman, one of three Pike countians accused of the slaying of a deputy jailer at Pikeville in a jailbreak, was returned to the Floyd county jail last week after having been arraigned at Pikeville and a late September date set for his trial there.

A raid on the premises of Cecil Hamilton, of Mud Creek, by Deputy Sheriff Buddy Ward resulted Saturday in Hamilton's arrest and the confiscation of four cases of beer. Another raid, also made Saturday, failed to locate intoxicants on the premises of Luther McKinney, of Printer, but seven men at the McKinney place were arrested on gambling charges. They are slated to appear Friday before County Judge Henry Stumbo. McKinney was booked at the jail here by Deputy Sheriffs Virgil Conn and Grady Skeens on a charge of selling intoxicants.

Others booked at the county jail: Charles Howard, child desertion, arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Sollie Holbrook and Albert Salyers; Charles Bentley, drunk driving and no operator's license, by State Trooper Brenner; Burl C. Holland, no driver's license, by State Trooper Bevins; Randall Stanley and Melvin Hall, each charged with drunk driving, by Deputy

Loss of Pupils Again Recorded By Co. Schools

Floyd county schools are continuing the pupil-loss trend which has existed for the last several years, enrollment figures compiled by the Attendance Department, Floyd County Board of Education, show.

The total number of pupils enrolled during the first week of the current school term was 9482, as compared to the 9517 who were enrolled during the same week last year. The loss is reflected in high school enrollment. The grades showed a slight increase.

Of the county's high schools, Garrett had an increase of 8, Martin 8, McDowell 20 and Wayland 1. All others lost—Betsy Layne 2, Maytown 21, Prestonsburg with 110, Wayland 3 and Wheelwright 10.

The high school total for the year stands at 2802, as compared with 2912 for the preceding year. The grades this year enrolled 6608. Last year, the first-week enrollment was 6533.

To be added to this year's total number of pupils are 42 educable classmembers, 14 trainable pupils and 16 in home instruction.

Two Gas Firms Busy As Fuel Lack Looms

Two major gas companies headquartered here are in the midst of a heavy drilling schedule as the demand for natural gas is heavier because a national shortage of fuels of all sorts is threatened.

In this county Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company is drilling some of its 75-well quota for the year in the Maytown section of Right Beaver Creek and along the Floyd-Johnson border. Its drilling, however, is centered mainly in Perry and Letcher counties, Phillip Jenkins, production manager said. Pike, Johnson, Lawrence and Martin also are seeing some drilling.

Kentucky West Virginia's drilling quota for the year was set at 75 wells. Dry holes don't count, and there have been 13 of these. "Add these to the 20 carryovers we had from last year, and we've had a pretty heavy program," Mr. Jenkins said.

United Fuel Gas Company has a 1970 quota of 72 wells, but of these only 40 are being sunk under supervision of the company's office here, and none are being drilled in Floyd county. United Fuel is drilling 15 wells in the Buchanan-Tazewell-county area of Virginia and the remainder of the 40 for this area are being drilled in Pike and Martin counties, Roger Rolston, division superintendent said.

Both companies said the production of new wells is "about normal." One of the heavier gas strikes, one of 4 million cubic feet, was drilled in a few weeks ago in Perry county by Kentucky West Virginia.

Is a Semi-Finalist For Merit Scholarship

Miss Marilyn Ann Rose, senior at Prestonsburg high school, has been named a semifinalist in the 1970-71 National Merit Scholarship program, it was announced this week by James D. Hensley, principal. Miss Rose is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rose, of Prestonsburg.

The 14,750 semifinalists appointed today are among the nation's most intellectually talented high school seniors. They will compete for some 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1971.

The semifinalists were the highest scorers in their states on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQT), which was given last February to some 710,000 students in 17,000 schools nationwide. They constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

The semifinalists show high promise for leadership in their adult careers, according to Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). "They have demonstrated both high intellectual capacity and a readiness to develop their abilities," he said.

"These students deserve credit and honor. They bring honor to their families, who deserve much credit, as do their teachers, and their communities. The future success of these young people will," (See Story No. 3, Page 8)

Middle Cr. Man's Hearing Slated Here, Thursday

Olin Shepherd, 30-year-old Middle Creek man, was jailed here Sunday afternoon after he had brought to the Prestonsburg General Hospital his wife, Susan Slone Shepherd, 32, who was dead on arrival of a bullet wound in her face.

Shepherd was scheduled to face arraignment, perhaps Wednesday, on a murder charge.

He allegedly shot his wife while she held their daughter of nine months in her arms. The shooting took place at the home near David of his brother, Jack Shepherd, and was witnessed only by Mrs. Juanita Shepherd, wife of Jack Shepherd, and small children.

Mrs. Juanita Shepherd was quoted by Commonwealth's Attorney Harold J. Stumbo as saying her brother-in-law pointed a .32-20 calibre revolver four times at his wife, the last time pulling the trigger. It also was said he had fired shots outside her home prior to the fatal shooting of his wife.

The bullet entered the left cheek of Mrs. Shepherd. Her face was badly powder-burned. The witness said Shepherd had been drinking. Only the two women and the children were at the Jack Shepherd home at the time of the shooting.

Shepherd told authorities the shooting was accidental. He was quoted as saying he had the gun in his hand and that when he turned it "went off." He admitted he had been drinking.

Time of the shooting was placed by officers at around 3:30 p.m. Shepherd was arrested, soon after his arrival at the hospital, by State Trooper Don Thornsberry and Deputy Sheriffs Grady Skeens and Virgil Conn.

The victim was a daughter of Lewis Slone, of David, and the late Allie Slone. She leaves five children, Olin, Jr., John F., Donald Ray, William and Brenda Kay, all at home; eight brothers and two sisters, Sanford, Richard and Henry Slone, all of Blue River, Greenville, Luman, Bill, Lonnie and Greenville Slone, all of Warsaw, Ind., Mrs. Virginia Fenix and Mrs. Martin Hall, also of Warsaw.

Funeral rites were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday from the Chestnut Grove church on Middle Creek by the Rev. Wallace Calhoun. Burial in the Slone cemetery at Blue River was directed by the Floyd Funeral Home.

Both Sides Win, Lose In New Court Orders

Both sides in the continuing Martin-Eastern school battle won and lost last week in decisions handed down by Special Judge James B. Stephenson, of Pikeville.

In one order Judge Stephenson held that the Floyd circuit court ruling made in a suit filed by Raymond Griffith, serving to supersede the 1939 judgment handed down by the late Circuit Judge John W. Caudill, was in error, inasmuch as Griffith made no pretense of serving as representative of a class. On that basis, Judge Stephenson held that the 12-grade Martin school shall be perpetuated in accordance with the 1939 court opinion, as long as it has the legally required number of pupils.

The special judge's second order upheld the Floyd County Board of Education's motion to dismiss the Franklin circuit court suit filed by Everett Akers and others calling on state education officials to withdraw their support of the proposed new school at Eastern.

Judge Stephenson ordered the Martin plaintiffs to dismiss their Franklin court action immediately on penalty of being held in contempt of court.

Joe Hobson, Prestonsburg, attorney for the Martin group, said he did not know what the reaction of the plaintiffs in the suit would be to the special judge's order to drop their case.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that Judge Stephenson had no right to enter that order."

Earlier this year, Stephenson held that the Board of Education may build the Eastern school. This opinion was upheld by the Court of Appeals. He withheld a ruling on the future of the Martin school till last week. These questions were passed in a suit filed by Jake Layne and others. He commented on the Franklin court action to this effect:

"The plaintiffs in the Franklin circuit court case represent the same class as this case (the Layne suit). Throughout the proceedings in this case the plaintiffs have maintained that their only interest is the preservation of the Martin city school in accordance with the 1939 judgment. It is the opinion of this court that plaintiffs in the Franklin circuit court case are not in good faith and are attempting to circumvent the judgment heretofore entered in this case and the mandate of the Court of Appeals."

Ruling in favor of Layne, et al on the status of the school at Martin, the special judge held that the language of the 1939 judgment is not "arbitrary and capricious and is in all respects reasonable." He held that Griffith in his court action attempting to void the 1939 judgment did not represent the residents and voters of the Martin school district. He also wrote:

"If at some time in the future, which is highly probable, the Floyd County Board of Education orders the closing of the Martin school, then and in that event it will be necessary to determine the number of school children residing within the district in order to satisfy the conditions set out in the 1939 judgment."

Loan by CAP Makes Possible
Leslie County Community TV

HYDEN, KY.—They have "the worst looking poles in the county" and equipment that nobody else wants, but certain residents of the Jack's Creek area in Leslie county aren't concerned.

The poles, which support a television cable, have no uniformity. They are gnarled and knotted, each with its own personality. They might just be green enough to take root at any time.

A highway department official offered the comment, but project co-director Daugh Sizemore only laughed when he described the man's reaction. He knows they're functional and besides he will eventually replace them with used telephone poles. In many places the line is attached to operational telephone poles already.

Sizemore is supervisor of economic development in Leslie county. He works for LKLP (Leslie, Knott, Letcher and Perry counties) Community Action Council, one of the Office of Economic Opportunity agencies that is waging war on poverty in Kentucky's segment of Appalachia.

The television cable has already been hooked to more than 30 homes in the Jack's Creek and Red Bird areas.

A $5000 revolving loan was extended from LKLP to the Jack's Creek Community Action Council. A Jack's Creek Industrial Board, consisting of five people, will oversee the project. The profits will be fed into other poverty-fighting channels in the community.

"These people will have money coming in eventually that will go into creating other jobs for poor people in the area," said LKLP Director Jesse Amburgey.

The Jack's Creek Council will decide; some seem to be interested in building a gymnasium, Sizemore explained. A less tangible but perhaps more lasting benefit is the link television provides with the world that exists on the other side of the mountain, beyond the hollow.

Educational Television programs will be received from a Tennessee station. "We will do everything we can to encourage people to watch ETV and improve themselves in this way," said Sizemore.

His most immediate goal, though, is repayment of the loan. Each installment is worth $216.16 a month.

The people who pay a $20 installation fee and $5 a month for the service will be able to receive five different channels, including all three major networks. Two are in Tennessee and one each in Lexington, Hazard, and Wheeling, West Virginia.

By TED KESTING

If you've been hankering for a brawl with a bass, play it cool, at night, when it's quiet, and he's on the prowl.

There are many reasons why Mister Big does more of his foraging at night than during the day, but here are some salient ones:

1. His eyes are designed to function in little or no light better than in bright light. His is a wide open, nondilating iris. So, he finds the world of shadow and darkness much more compatible than a sunflooded situation.

2. He is equipped with ultra-sensitive perceptivity that enables him to locate tiny bugs and minnows in the black of night. So, your lure moving on or under the water probably is very audible to him.

3. He has a hollow bone structure that amplifies sound vibrations made by anything moving through the water. And, tiny neuromasts, or nerve filaments, along his lateral line detect the faintest indications of the presence of any living creature.

3. Many of the creatures he feeds on are active at night, including: larger insects, moths, frogs, snakes, baby muskrat, mice, eels, salamanders, lizards, minnows, crawfish, and night crawlers. So, feeding in the dark is easier, and more certain, than in daylight when these creatures can see him, possibly farther away than he can see them.

4. Water traffic, heavy during the day, disperses his food into many hiding places Mister Bass can't reach. But, when darkness approaches, the water skiers, hot rodders and pleasure boaters cease their activities and silence prevails. Now many aquatic creatures emerge from their weedy havens to search for food. They, in turn become food for Mister Bass who also emerges to dine.

Here's what Homer Circle, Angling Editor for SPORTS AFIELD Magazine prefers.

ROD: He prefers a seven-foot tubular glass bait-casting rod. And, he likes the curvature even from tip to butt when lifting a two pound dead weight. The action could be classed as medium, and will cast lures from 1/4 ounce through two ounces.

He prefers the offset handle with a grip two inches longer than standard, but will settle for the standard handle when the other is not available.

REEL: He prefers a durable level-wind reel with a smooth, dependable drag and handle grips large enough to fill his forefinger and thumb. Small handle grips are too easy to lose when you strike hard the moment you feel or hear a fish hit your lure.

LINE: Make it as heavy as your pet lures will stand and still be castable. Today's premium 20-pound monofilaments, and some multifilaments, will do an all-around job of casting lures weighing from 1/4 ounce upwards. And, they will stand maximum punishment without critical elongation or wear.

LURES: These will fall into two general categories, surface and underwater. And, you'll get into a minimum of trouble if you stay with weedless lures when possible.

FLOATING TYPES: As you choose your surface lures, keep in mind that those which create a disturbance, or make a noise, are the steadiest producers.

UNDERWATER TYPES: Most of these lures will wiggle, wobble, spin or dart when retrieved.

CRITICAL OF YOUNGSTERS' BEHAVIOR
Editor, The Times:

I would like to comment on the "Loretta Lynn Show" held Sept. 1 at the Betsy Layne gym.

I don't think the people that booked the show followed through. Never have I seen such bad behavior from kids (throwing paper cups and wrestling). I had the idea that people from Kentucky made their children behave better than that. It wasn't only the children, either. There was so much talking and moving about that Loretta Lynn even made some remarks about the noise. It's a shame some one from our own area wasn't shown more respect than she was. A cheer, though, for one lady who at least tried to make the kids behave. I'm sure she must have been a teacher, but she needed help.

One more thing that looked so terrible was selling popcorn and cokes during Loretta Lynn's show. There was plenty of time before she got on stage. After all-it wasn't a ballgame and people would have gotten their own.

There has been a rumor that some more big stars will be coming to the gym. If so, lets try to impress them a little more.

BOUQUET FOR DOCTOR
Editor, The Times:

Most bouquets are bestowed after the recipient is gone. This advance one calls attention to the fact that countless persons rejoice to learn that Dr. Mary Hall is now back on duty in the McDowell Hospital after an absence of one year.

Floyd county has long been blessed with many dedicated, hard-working physicians and surgeons who were willing to go the second mile gladly, and none more so than her own Mary Hall, who would make a superb nominee for the Hall of Fame.

ORIGIN OF PARK'S OLD MILLSTONE TOLD IN LATE CONGRESSMAN'S BOOK

The old millstone found in the channel of Middle Creek and now installed as an attraction at Archer Park here has since the time of its recovery created considerable conjecture as to how it came to be in the stream. Bob Campbell, Garrett merchant, has found the answer in the late John W. Langley's book, "They Tried To Crucify Me."

Ex-Congressman Langley wrote of the water mill which his grandfather, Joseph Redwine Langley, built at the mouth of Spurlock, near where it flows into Middle Creek. The mill apparently was built in the early 1800's. The pioneer Langley was born near Raleigh, N. C. in 1786 and moved to the Clinch River valley, in Virginia, when a young man. Wrote Ex-Congressman Langley:

"My grandfather moved to Kentucky when my father was about three years old, trekking across the Cumberland (Mountain), through Pound Gap, passing near Chimney Rock. All of their household belongings were carried in a covered wagon drawn by two oxen named Loge and Brandy. . . They stopped on the Cumberland Mountain to cut out a pair of mill rocks which he carried on with him to erect the water-mill of which I have already spoken. They located near the mouth of Spurlock Fork of Middle Creek. . . Many years ago, the mill was washed away, but the stones are still there." Somehow, perhaps by flood, the old "mill-rocks" later were moved. The second stone has never been found.

Mrs. Howard Injured When Hit by Auto

Mrs. Nell Howard is believed recovering at Prestonsburg General Hospital from injuries suffered when she was struck by an auto last Thursday night on US 23 here. Mrs. Howard sustained a skull fracture above her eye and an apparent concussion. Driver of the car was Francis Carroll Hughes, of Prestonsburg.

About $1 million is being made available to state employment offices to hire more than 600 school guidance counselors for the summer. Temporary use of the counselors will help meet the needs of additional thousands of young people who visit employment offices during the summer in search of jobs.

OBSERVE 60TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny King, of Harold, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday, August 29, at their home. Mr. King is 77 and has been a member of the United Baptist Church 51 years, and also is a minister. Mrs. King is 75 and is a member of the same church.

Those attending were their children—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Layne, and Mrs. Roxie Reynolds, all of Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hatcher, Lorain, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Willie King, of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. John P. King, Louisa, and Mrs. Albert King, of Betsy Layne; grandchildren Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Layne, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bush, Mrs. Judy Yuhauz, Mr. and Mrs. Phil King, Bobby King, Jody King, Butchie King, Ronald Reynolds and Glenda Reynolds; great-grandchildren—Randy, Lesa and Vikki Elkins, Penny Bush, Charles Yuhauz III, Jeffrey Wilburn, Ginger Rose Layne.

Friends attending the observance included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Porter, of Harold; Mrs. Annie Stuart, of Honaker; Mrs. Nannie Elkins, of Boldman; Mrs. Etta Stapleton, of Ashland; Vermon Hall, of McDowell; Billie Jo Branham, of Ashland; Paul West, of Louisa; Clyde and Bobby Justice, of Betsy Layne; Bill Spears, of Owsley; Mrs. Lizzie Hatcher, Lorain, Ohio; and E. F. Saunders, Pikeville photographer. Some of the children and grandchildren were not able to attend.

Dinner and refreshments were served.

The anniversary cake was trimmed in green, pink and silver. The cake was topped with a bride and groom with miniature babies surrounding them, representing the children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. Many presents were received.

Floyd Homemakers Stage Style Show

The Floyd County Homemakers recently held a style show, modeling garments furnished by a major pattern company. Ten women also modeled garments they had made.

The garments modeled emphasized some of the new fall fashions and fall colors.

Serving as models were Mrs. Pearl Watts, Thelma Hicks, Maxine Rice, Lois Marshall, Mary Jane Brown, Mrs. Fred Harris, Gertrude Bradbury, Rhoda Erickley, Delcie Gayheart, Garnet Fairchild, Thelma Wallen, Glenda Hunt, Peg Hewlett, Eleanor Horn and Dorothy Harris.

Arthritis can attack at any age, but is most likely to begin between the ages of 20 and 45. The disease occurs more often in women than in men, at a 3-1 ratio.

Tom Cole, Age 105, Floyd's Oldest Resident, Passes Away Tuesday

Funeral services were held Friday for one of Floyd county's oldest residents, Tom Cole, 105-year-old David man, who died last Tuesday at Methodist hospital in Pikeville.

Born in Magoffin county May 17, 1865, he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Page Cole and was said to have been of Cherokee Indian lineage. A farmer and one-time resident of Oklahoma, he had resided in this county most of his life and for the past 80 years had lived with members of the Shepherd family on Middle Creek.

Funeral rites were conducted at the home of Babe Shepherd by the Revs. Ashland Shepherd and Berdie Hicks. Burial was made in the Bill Shepherd cemetery at Gunlock under direction of Carter Funeral Home.

NUNN CONFERS WITH WHITE HOUSE ON APPALACHIAN-PLAN EXTENSION

Information requested by President Nixon during his July visit to Louisville has been delivered to the White House by Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

During Nixon's Kentucky visit, Nunn and several other Appalachian governors suggested that the President consider asking Congress to make it possible for other regions to be organized like the Appalachian region for administering some federal-aid programs.

A task force was appointed, consisting of six of the 13 governors who are members of the Appalachian Regional Commission, to draw up recommendations.

Accompanying Nunn in delivering the recommendations to the White House were Govs. Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania (chairman of the National Governors' Conference), Arch Moore of West Virginia and Linwood Holton of Virginia.

John D. Whisman, the governors' representative on the commission, said that programs administered by the Office of Economic Opportunity and the U. S. Economic Development Administration could well be worked out through regional commissions.

The Appalachian Commission has spent $1 billion in its five-year life, chiefly for roads, vocational school and model health-care projects. Multi-county development districts carry out planning at the local level.

Six Hurt Friday In 2-Car Collision

Two persons were hospitalized here and four others suffered lesser injuries Friday afternoon when two cars figured in a headon collision on KY 404, near here. The autos were reduced to wreckage.

Mrs. Rhea Casebolt, about 40, of Larkslane, was treated at the Prestonsburg General Hospital for chest injuries and facial lacerations. Jeffrey Wright, of Jenkins, a Morehead State University student, was hospitalized with back injuries.

Mrs. Casebolt was driving alone. The other auto was driven by Allan McCarter, Morehead U. student. Others driving with him and Wright were Teddy Johnson, James Bellamy and Miss Fern Stacy, Morehead students from the Jenkins area, all of whom were treated at the hospital and later dismissed.

State Trooper Don Thornsberry said the McCarter auto skidded on a rain-slick curve into the path of Mrs. Casebolt's car.

The number of women in apprenticeship programs registered with the Labor Department rose to 1,800 in 1969, an over-the-year increase of 72 percent. The ranks of female apprentices include plumbers, aircraft mechanics, and even embalmers.

MISS ANKROM BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. JOHN ROGER CHRISTIAN

A recent wedding of interest to area residents took place in Williamson, W. Va. on August 22 at 2:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church when Miss Constance Lee Ankrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex W. Ankrom who recently moved from Williamson to 220 Trimble Branch, Prestonsburg, became the bride of Mr. John Roger Christian, son of Mrs. Irene Christian, of 4301 Sunray, Wethering, Ohio, and Mr. Robert Christian, of 5253 Venadale Dr., Dayton, Ohio. The Rev. Murray Page, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Wedding vows were exchanged by the young couple before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and greenery with a low arrangement of gladioli and pom-poms placed on the communion table. White wrought-iron hurricane lamps, tied with large white satin bows, marked the family pews, and the traditional white aisle crash, laid prior to the entrance of the wedding party, completed the setting.

Mrs. Robert Gilliam, organist, provided a program of nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional. She accompanied the wedding soloist, Mrs. Jim Wilson, as she sang several bridal selections, including "Until The Twelfth of Never," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was attired in an A-line floor length gown, designed with a reembroidered alencon lace bodice and sleeves. The detachable chapel-length train and skirt was adorned with wide bands of applied lace and her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was secured to petals of illusion edged with pearls. She carried a bouquet of pom-poms, chrysanthemums, stephanotis, and greenery with matching white streamers and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Christie Ankrom served as maid of honor for her sister, and another sister, Mrs. J. Ronald Hatfield, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Mesdames Larry Voit, of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Mike Davis, of Dayton, Ohio; Teri McConaghey, of Morehead, Ky.; Greg Neal of Louisville, Ky.; and the Misses Patricia Bear, of Greenup, Ky., and Maureen Welsh, of Louisville, Ky. Barbara Seeley, of London, Ky., served as the bride's lady-in-waiting.

The maid and matron of honor were attired in identical blue floor-length gowns, designed with empire waistline, sleeveless, rolled collar and wide ruffles at the bottom trimmed with Venice lace. They wore blue matching flowered maline picture hats with net streamers and carried white lace parasols with blue daisies and greenery. Blue bows completed their bouquets. The bridesmaids were attired in yellow identically fashioned to the honor attendants.

Gary L. Christian, of Dayton, Ohio, served as best man for his brother. Ushers included Jim Focke, of Dayton, Ohio; Mike Davis, of Dayton; Bob Christian, of Dayton, brother of the groom; Greg Neal, of Louisville, Ky.; Carl Ankrom, of Williamson, brother of the bride; Ron Kramer, of New Britain, Conn.; and Tom Eastham, of Ashland, Ky. Mr. Davis and Mr. Focke also served as taper lighters.

Mrs. Ankrom attended her daughter's wedding wearing a pink princess styled silk and worsted dress fashioned with short sleeves, V-neck enhanced with beads and pearls on a wide collar and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Christian was attired in a blue sleeveless shift with matching lace coat trimmed in satin and a white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, the parents of the bride were hosts at a reception in the Elks' ballroom, which had been transformed into a summer garden complete with an arbor of greenery and daisies, birdbath with flowing fountain, and white wrought-iron outdoor furniture. Suspended from the ceiling were white doves on brass perches adorned with the bride's chosen flower. Topiary trees holding beribboned blue rice bags were placed on each side of the arch. Patio tables were attractively decorated with blue net streamers with white cupid candeholders and blue tapers. To further carry out the garden theme, the traditional sundial was a unique arrangement of the bridesmaids' floral umbrellas, which revolved in the center of the spacious room.

The bride's table and adjoining buffet tables were covered with blue organdy and all decorative and serving pieces were in pristine white. The garden theme was noted in the all-white five-tiered wedding cake, which featured latticework arches decorated with daisies and topped with a heart of pearls and wedding doves. Two white wedding bell plates tied with traditional bridal tulle contained mints. Bridal white porcelain candelabra held glowing blue tapers. An afternoon buffet was served the guests.

A small table covered with blue organdy with daisy nosegays on the corners held the bride's register. Mrs. Bonham Mottesheard was in charge of the reception. She was assisted in decorating by Mrs. William Gentile and Mr. Mottesheard. Aides for the afternoon affair were Mesdames Russell Salton, Sr., A. L. Hays, Wade Bronson, Wm. Farley, of Williamson, B. Alvin Reed and daughter, Margaret, of Drift, Ky. Miss Nancy Reed, of Drift, Ky., presided at the guest register, and Miss Ann Reed, also of Drift, provided music during the reception.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mrs. Robert J. Christian, Sr., R. J. Christian, Mrs. Gary Christian and son, Jeff, Jodie Emanuelson and Irene Christian, of Dayton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. B. Alvin Reed and daughters, Ann, Margaret, and Nancy, Mrs. Dan Reed, Charles Maurer, and Sophia Cahill, of Drift, Ky.; Mrs. Terry Looney, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, Hannah Jane Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Reed, Jr., of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Louise Flippin, Ella Flippin, Jimmie Lane and Ronnie Hatfield, of Huntington; Debbie Allen Hockensmith and David Tuttle, of Frankfort, Ky.; Debby Fritz, Tia Henry and Glenna R. Jones, of Mt. Sterling, Ky.; Larry B. Voit, of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Catherine Reed, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Beverly Petty, of Rocky Mount, N. C.; Barbara Seeley, of London, Ky.; Mary Jane Brunner, of Cynthia, Ky.; Peggy Tucker, of Danville, Ky.; Sally Browning, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mary Monica Miner, of Florence, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. John P. Sammons, of Martin, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Alexander, of Elyria, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bianchi, of Berea, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Weidmeier, of Manassas, Va.; Teri McConaghey, of Hillsboro, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hatfield, of Sprigg, W. Va.; and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Reed, of Lobata, W. Va.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Cincinnati, Ohio, the bride was attired in a long-sleeved white linen dress with pink and white embossed sleeveless coat with white accessories and the white orchid corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian will reside at Alderman and Reeder Trailer Court, No. 5, Rt. 2, Morehead, Ky.

Mrs. Christian is a graduate of Williamson high school with the class of 1966 and also Morehead State University, class of 1970 where she received an A. B. degree in mathematics. While in college, she was treasurer of the Student Government for two years, member of CWENS, Kappa Delta Pi, Lambda Chi Alpha Crescent Club, and Delta Gamma Gamma fraternity. She is now teaching at Menifee County high school, Frenchburg, Ky. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Reed, of Drift, Ky.

Mr. Christian is a graduate of Centerville high school, Centerville, Ohio, class of 1967. He is presently attending Morehead State University, at Morehead, Ky., where he is a senior. Mr. Christian is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and a member of the Open Forum Club.

Several pre-nuptial parties given in honor of the bride included a luncheon given by Mesdames Russell Salton, Sr. and Greg Neal; a coffee given by Mesdames Bob Gilliam, Jim Wilson, and Wm. Farley; a kitchen shower given by Mrs. Gary Christian, of Dayton, Ohio, and a knick-knack shower given by Mrs. Bonham Mottesheard.

Social Events

W. S. C. S. MEETS HERE

The regular meeting of the W. S. C. S. of the First United Methodist church was held September 14 at the home of Mrs. Patsy Brown, president, who presided. Miss Myrtle Pugsley opened the meeting with prayer and the minutes were read by Mrs. Lillian Pelphrey in the absence of Mrs. Eleanor Horn. Following a business session, Mrs. Pelphrey, assisted by Mrs. Mary Jane Brown and Mrs. Geneva Carter, presented a program on "Parenthood in Mexico."

COLLEGE ANNOUNCES DR. CAMPBELL NAMED TO 'OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS'

Prestonsburg Community College announced this week that its director, Dr. Henry A. Campbell, has been selected to appear in the 1970 edition of OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS OF AMERICA. Nominated earlier this year, he was chosen for the awards publication on the basis of civic and professional achievements.

The Outstanding Educators of America is an annual program designed to recognize and honor men and women who have distinguished themselves by exceptional service, achievements and leadership in education. Each year, more than 5,000 of the country's foremost educators are featured in this national volume.

Nominations for OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS OF AMERICA are made by the presidents, deans, superintendents and other heads of schools and colleges—individuals who have first-hand knowledge of their endeavors and accomplishments.

The educators included in this biographical history receive a high honor. They are chosen for national recognition on the basis of local standards of excellence.

Guidelines for selection include an educator's talents in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities and any civic and professional recognition previously received.

Absher To Construct Twin-Cinema Building

Twin-Cinema will come to Prestonsburg, sometime next spring, Jack Absher, Prestonsburg theatre-owner, said this week.

Mr. Absher said excavation work for two side-by-side theatres will be begun soon on his site, adjacent to Jerry's Restaurant, and that work on a 68 x 110-foot structure to house the twin theatres will be started later in the year. The building will be of concrete block and brick, and each theatre will seat 204.

Twin-Cinema is a theatre concept which has gained wide popularity over the nation within recent months. In addition to the variety of screen offerings they are enabled to present, lower operating costs are an attraction. One manager, one cashier and one concession stand, one lobby—these are economy features.

The projection room, Absher said, will be fully automated. Once the film offerings are ready, the manager pushes a button, the lights dim, the curtains part—and the show's on. And at the end of the show the film is automatically rewound.

Both mini-theatres will be fully carpeted and air-conditioned. Seats will be of the reclining type, and between each row of seats a space of 42 inches will be provided.

5 Ohio Cousins, East Ky. Natives, Killed in Crash

Five cousins in Ohio, reportedly with relatives in the West Prestonsburg area, were killed near Upper Sandusky last Monday evening in a car-truck collision.

Dead are Debora A. Conley, 16, driver of the car, her brother, David Conley, 5, both of Vanlue, Ronald Conley, 15, Janet Conley, 17, and Howard Conley, 13, all of Upper Sandusky.

Miss Conley, who had received her driver's license after her birthday in July, was traveling east when she apparently lost control of her car at the crest of a hill. Her auto skidded broadside and was struck in the right side by a pickup truck driven by Kenneth Smythe, 39, of Upper Sandusky.

Deborah and David Conley were the children of Sherman and Rebecca Puckett Conley, Jr. who survive them as do the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Conley, Sr., of Carey, O., formerly of West Prestonsburg, the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Puckett, of Adrian, O., and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Stella Conley, of Falcon, Ky.

Janet Conley, Ronald and Howard Conley are survived by their parents Victor and Emma Bayes Conley; two sisters, Mrs. Donald Robertson, of Defiance, O., and Vickie Sue Conley, at home; a brother, Phillip, of Bellevue, O.; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Conley, Sr., of Carey; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bayes, of Vicksburg, Mich., and great-grandmother, Mrs. Conley, of Falcon.

Joint funeral services for the five were held Thursday afternoon at the Stoney Ridge United Baptist church near Carey by the Rev. Ransom Hackworth. Burial was made in Bloom cemetery near Vanlue.

Goble's Team, Big Loser Last Season, Now Has Spotless Grid Record

Dan Goble, Jr., of Prestonsburg, is finding his second year as football coach at Shelby County high school more pleasant than the first.

Last year, when Goble shifted to Shelby County from Eminence, where he coached five years, he had eight starting sophomores, and Shelby lost all 10 of its games.

This year, with the sophomores experienced and a less demanding schedule, his team has won four straight, defeating Eminence, 6-0, Carroll County, 33-8, Henry County, 33-8, and Nicholas County, 48-0.

More than $400 million a year is spent by arthritics on worthless or harmful treatments, "cures" and devices produced by quacks and promoters of fraudulent arthritis remedies.

A revival will begin at the Tom's Creek Free Will Baptist church at Ivel, October 3. The evangelist will be the Rev. Don Lee, pastor of the Pikeville Free Will Baptist Church. The Rev. James James Harmon, pastor of the Tom's Creek church, extends a cordial welcome to the public to attend all services.

Health Planners Meet at Park

The fall meeting of the Big Sandy Health Planning Council will be held at Jenny Wiley State Park today (Thursday).

A Dutch treat dinner at 6:00 p.m. in May Lodge dining room will be followed by the business meeting at 7.

The Health Planning Council, with consumer and provider representatives of various health concerns and disciplines, seeks to coordinate health planning of facilities and services in the region comprised of Floyd, Pike, Martin, Johnson, and Magoffin Counties.

Chairman of the Council is Paintsville's O. Trigg Dorton. Task forces, which operate between full Council meetings, will report on various activities. The Health Facilities Task Force concerns itself primarily with facility construction in the five-county region. The Manpower Task Force seeks to recruit and provide training for health personnel, with emphasis on a regional nurses education program presently seeking implementation. Of more recent interest is an Environmental Health Task Force which will concern itself with increasing problems of solid waste, air and water pollution, and safety.

Disadvantaged Get Shoe Plant Training

The United States Shoe Corporation, Norwood, Ohio, is training a total of 206 disadvantaged jobless persons for permanent fulltime employment in Prestonsburg and two other locations under the Job Opportunities in the Business Sector (JOBS) program of the U. S. Department of Labor.

William U. Norwood, Regional Manpower administrator of the Labor Department, said that $143,706 has been approved for the Kentucky projects to be held in Prestonsburg, Vanceburg and Flemingsburg. All workers will receive 15 weeks of on-the-job as shoe parts casers, with a starting wage of $1.60 an hour. Wage rate upon completion of training will be in excess of $2 per hour.

The Kentucky projects are among others approved in Ohio and Indiana, the overall program to train 648 persons.

The JOBS program is a joint effort of the Labor Department and the National Alliance of Businessmen to hire and train disadvantaged jobless persons.

Funds are provided by the Labor Department to help companies offset the cost of recruiting and OJT, and supportive services such as remedial and basic education, job coaching, orientation, minor medical care, and transportation, where needed.

Wilson Creek Road Added to Program

Highway Commissioner B. E. King last week announced the addition of a road improvement project to Floyd county's 1970-71 Rural Secondary Program.

Grade, drain and rock surfacing are planned for one mile of the Wilson Creek road.

Rural Secondary projects are financed by two cents of the seven-cents-per-gallon motor fuel tax.

Semifinalists must advance to Finalist standing to be considered for the Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring. Semifinalists become Finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their high NMSQT performance on a second examination, and providing information about their achievements and interests.

About 96 per cent of the Semifinalists are expected to become Finalists, and each will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1000 Scholarships which are allocated by state. Many will also be considered for the renewable four-year Merit Scholarships provided by some 500 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals. Each Finalist will receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of his outstanding performance in the program.

Traffic Mishap Cost Is Heavy

The economic loss caused by traffic accidents in the state last year rose to an estimated $246 million.

Arthur E. Beard, executive director of the Kentucky Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee (KTSCC), said that since 1959 economic losses by Kentuckians each year has increased more than 150 percent. The 1959 figure was about $161.8 million.

The total figure for all years since 1959 is $2.165 billion.

The KTSCC official blamed at least half the fatal auto accidents on drunk and drinking drivers.

Examination of 1969 local court records shows that slightly more than half the drinking drivers arrested by Kentucky State Police last year were convicted of that charge.

Arthur E. Beard, executive director for the Kentucky Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee, said recently that of 677 offenders arrested last year, a surprisingly low 3500 were convicted.

Seven per cent, or some 456, were dismissed and set free, Beard added. Most of the rest had their sentences reduced to a less serious offense.

Beard said half the fatal highway accidents can be directly attributed to drinking drivers. He called on the courts to stiffen the penalties and conviction rates.

"The problem does not lie in any failure on the part of our State Police to arrest these people," he said. "Its roots are in the courts, where, ironically, the problem can be best combated."

Council for the Retarded Meets at Martin School

The Floyd County Council for Retarded Children met recently in the Martin school cafeteria, with the president, Lawrence Baldrige, presiding.

He reported the recent purchase of a family-size bus to transport the pupils to the Day-Care Center, expressing thanks to Nora Martin, teacher, for having furnished transportation earlier. Report was made that one pupil needs speech therapy and eye glasses. Carl Martin agreed to contact the Martin Kiwanis Club for the latter.

Means of raising needed funds were discussed, two approved, with the suggestion that the committee, Nora Martin and Gerry Martin, meet with Mrs. Robert Martin to complete plans for promoting the two ideas accepted.

Thursday, October 1, was set for the banquet at which representatives of Kentucky Association for Retarded Children, will present the charter to the Floyd County Chapter, which has been approved for admission to both KARC and NARC.

Refreshments were served by Miss Blanche Dings.

College To Dedicate New Buildings

UK President, Others To Be Participants

Event Hailed As Important; Public Invited

By THOMAS KING

The most important day in the history of Prestonsburg Community College will take place Thursday, September 24, at 2 p.m. when Dr. Otis A. Singletary, president of the University of Kentucky, formally dedicates the two new buildings at the College.

Also taking part in the ceremony to be held in the Pike Technology Building Auditorium will be University of Kentucky Vice President for the Community College System, Dr. Stanley Wall; Chairman of the Advisory Board, R. V. May; and, Director of Prestonsburg Community College, Dr. Henry A. Campbell, Jr. The judges from the four counties the buildings are named in honor of—Judge Wayne Blevins, of Johnson county, Pike County Judge Wayne Rutherford, Judge Victoria Kirk, of Martin County, and Judge Wardie Patrick, of Magoffin County—; Prestonsburg Community College Coordinator of Academic Affairs, Robert R. Allen; President of the Faculty Assembly, James Funkhouser; President of the Alumni Association, Mrs. Rose Price, and President of the Student Congress, Bobby Curtis Akers.

Other officials who have been invited are: The Prestonsburg Community College board of trustees, University of Kentucky vice presidents, University of Kentucky department chairmen, the Kentucky Department of Education, the Kentucky State Board of Education, all county, state, and national officials from the five counties of Floyd, Johnson, Pike, Martin, and Magoffin, the directors of all the University of Kentucky Community Colleges as well as the coordinator of Academic, Student, and Business Affairs from the community colleges.

Also on the guest list are the Prestonsburg Community College Foundation Board, the Prestonsburg Community College Advisory Board, the superintendents, principals, and counselors of the five counties, the Vocational Education schools in the five counties, all local governmental agencies, and all local news media.

The Board of Trustees has officially approved the naming of the buildings for the counties served by the Prestonsburg Community College. So named are the Johnson Administration Building, Pike Technology Building, Martin Student Center, and the Magoffin Complex.

An open house will be held from 9 a.m., to 5 p.m. of the Thursday Dedication Day. Student-guides will escort visitors through the four buildings and throughout the college grounds. Refreshments will be provided throughout the day for all visitors. A hospitality hour will be held at the May Lodge from 4 to 6 p.m. for area residents to meet with all visiting dignitaries.

The community is cordially invited to the dedication and open house.

Reed Receives Award

Announcement of scholarships to outstanding students in the University of Kentucky College of Engineering was made this week by associate Dean Warren W. Walton of the engineering college.

Among the recipients was John Reed, of Drift, who received the $375 Consolidation Coal Co. award.

History of PCC Begins With New College System

By THOMAS KING

Prestonsburg Community College is a member of the University of Kentucky Community College System, formed by the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees in 1964. Prestonsburg was one of the seven institutions that started UK Community College affiliations in 1964. Since that time, the System has grown to include 14 community colleges and one technical institute, enrolling more than 10,000 students.

The legal name of this institution, The University of Kentucky, Prestonsburg Community College, reflects its over-all organization and scope. The "University of Kentucky" portion indicates that the institution is under the guidance, direction and auspices of the University of Kentucky.

The Prestonsburg Community College is located within the city limits of Prestonsburg, Kentucky. The College serves Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Lawrence, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties, which cover an area of 3,135 square miles. The area served is in the heart of Eastern Kentucky's coal and natural gas region. The college is built on a site of 40 acres with later possible land acquisitions bringing the total of land held by Prestonsburg Community College to 71 acres.

The Community College System is headed by a vice-president, who is directly responsible to the president of the University of Kentucky. A director is responsible for general administration of each college.

Local advisory boards, appointed by the Governor, in the respective communities and a Senate Advisory Committee on Community Colleges in Lexington counsel with the administration of the Community College System. Faculties of the several community colleges comprise the faculty of the Community College System, which also has a council for the conduct of business. This organization, which preserves the organic relationship to the University and which allows autonomy and freedom to relate community college programs to the local communities, is distinctive and significant.

Each community college is an integral part of the University of Kentucky; yet each college, through its local advisory board and its technical programs, relates itself to a particular community.

By action of the General Assembly of Kentucky and the Board of Trustees, the Community College System is charged with three specific functions:

- to offer transfer curricula to those who wish to complete the first two years of a baccalaureate degree program.
- to offer two year associate degree programs designed to prepare the student for immediate employment on a technical or semi-professional level.
- to provide continuing educational opportunities for citizens of the immediate area.

The community colleges provide two years (a maximum of 67 hours) of study in most major fields offered by the University of Kentucky, the University of Louisville, the regional state universities and colleges and other senior institutions.

Students who successfully complete 64 semester hours of work in major fields or professional curricula may be awarded the Associate in Arts or Associate in Science degrees. A Certificate in College Studies is also awarded for the successful completion of certain prescribed programs of 60 to 64 semester hours of university-parallel course work. For both Associate Degree

Growing Campus Seen from Air

The Original Campus Structure

The Johnson Administration Building was the original building constructed in 1964 at a cost of $882,000 on a land area of approximately 40 acres. This one-story structure contains 34,000 square feet with three laboratories, administrative and staff offices, and a library.

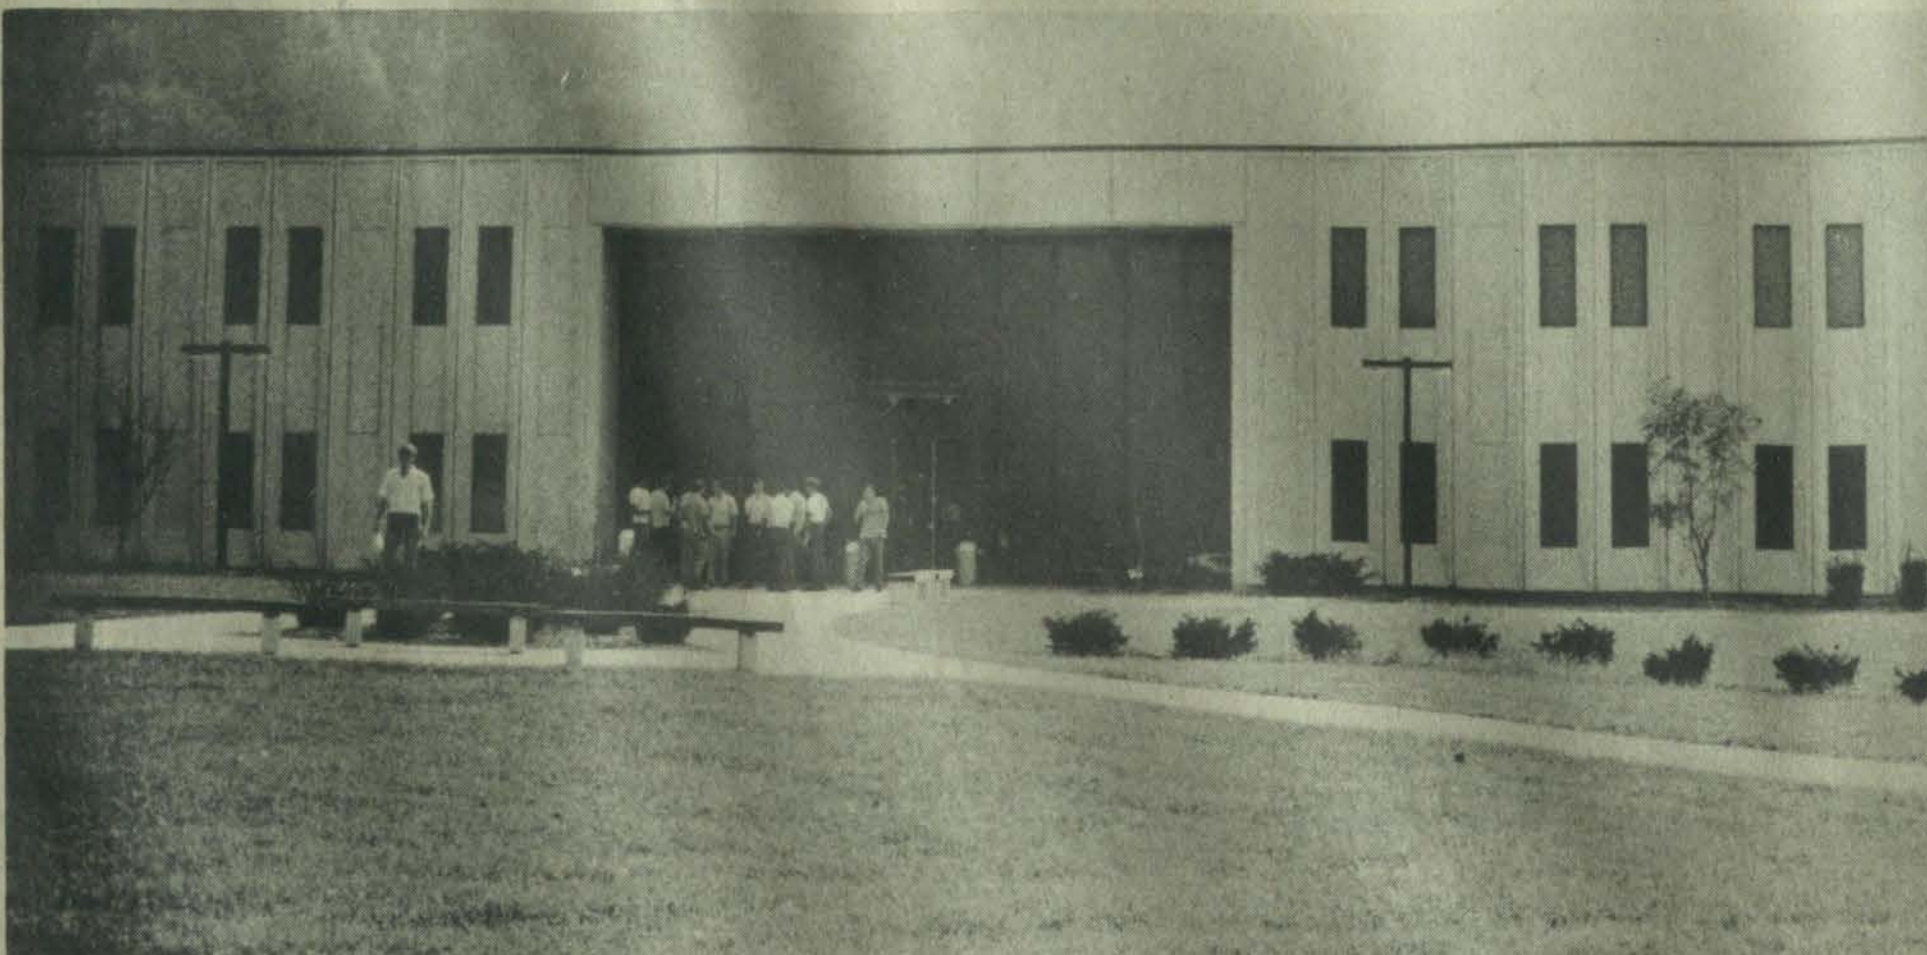

Johnson county, created in 1843, was named after Richard M. Johnson born in 1780. Johnson, a native Kentuckian, served in both the House and Senate and in 1836 was elected Vice President under Martin Van Buren. Johnson was recognized as a war hero when Congress presented him with a sword for bravery during the War of 1812. He is also reputed to have killed the Indian chief, Tecumseh.

Complex Name Honors Magoffin

The Magoffin Complex is a set of temporary buildings which are currently offices and laboratories. The name of Magoffin will be transferred to the next building completed at Prestonsburg Community College.

Magoffin county was named in honor of Beriah Magoffin, governor of Kentucky when the county was established in 1806. Magoffin, born in 1815, was a graduate from Centre College in Danville in 1835. As governor, Magoffin proclaimed Kentucky neutral during the Civil War but resigned after three years in office when the legislature overrode his neutrality to favor the Union.

Building Named For Pike County

The Pike Technology Building, built in 1969, is a technical-vocational building containing a journalism laboratory, radio-TV laboratories, 253-seat auditorium, business and office machine laboratory, home economics laboratory, reading room, mechanical drawing room, classrooms, and offices.

Pike county, created in 1821, was named for Zubulon M. Pike born in 1779. Pike was an American military general and explorer. Probably his most famous exploit was the discovery of Pike's Peak in Colorado in 1806. Pike began his military career at age 15 and lost his life at age 33 when he led an advance on York (Toronto), Canada during the War of 1812.

College FM Station Here Back on Air

WUKP-FM, the educational FM station at Prestonsburg Community College, has resumed broadcast activities for the fall semester.

"The station will be in operation every week-day from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.," Thomas E. King, station adviser, said. "A smaller core of broadcast personnel has shortened our usual broadcast day," he explained.

The station format will be taped educational progress as well as good middle-of-the-road music. "We also hope to soon start live forums, much like we had last spring," he said.

Purpose of the station is to be a training experience for students enrolled in broadcasting courses at Prestonsburg Community College.

Individuals with comments concerning programs should address their remarks to Thomas E. King, WUKP-FM, Prestonsburg Community College.

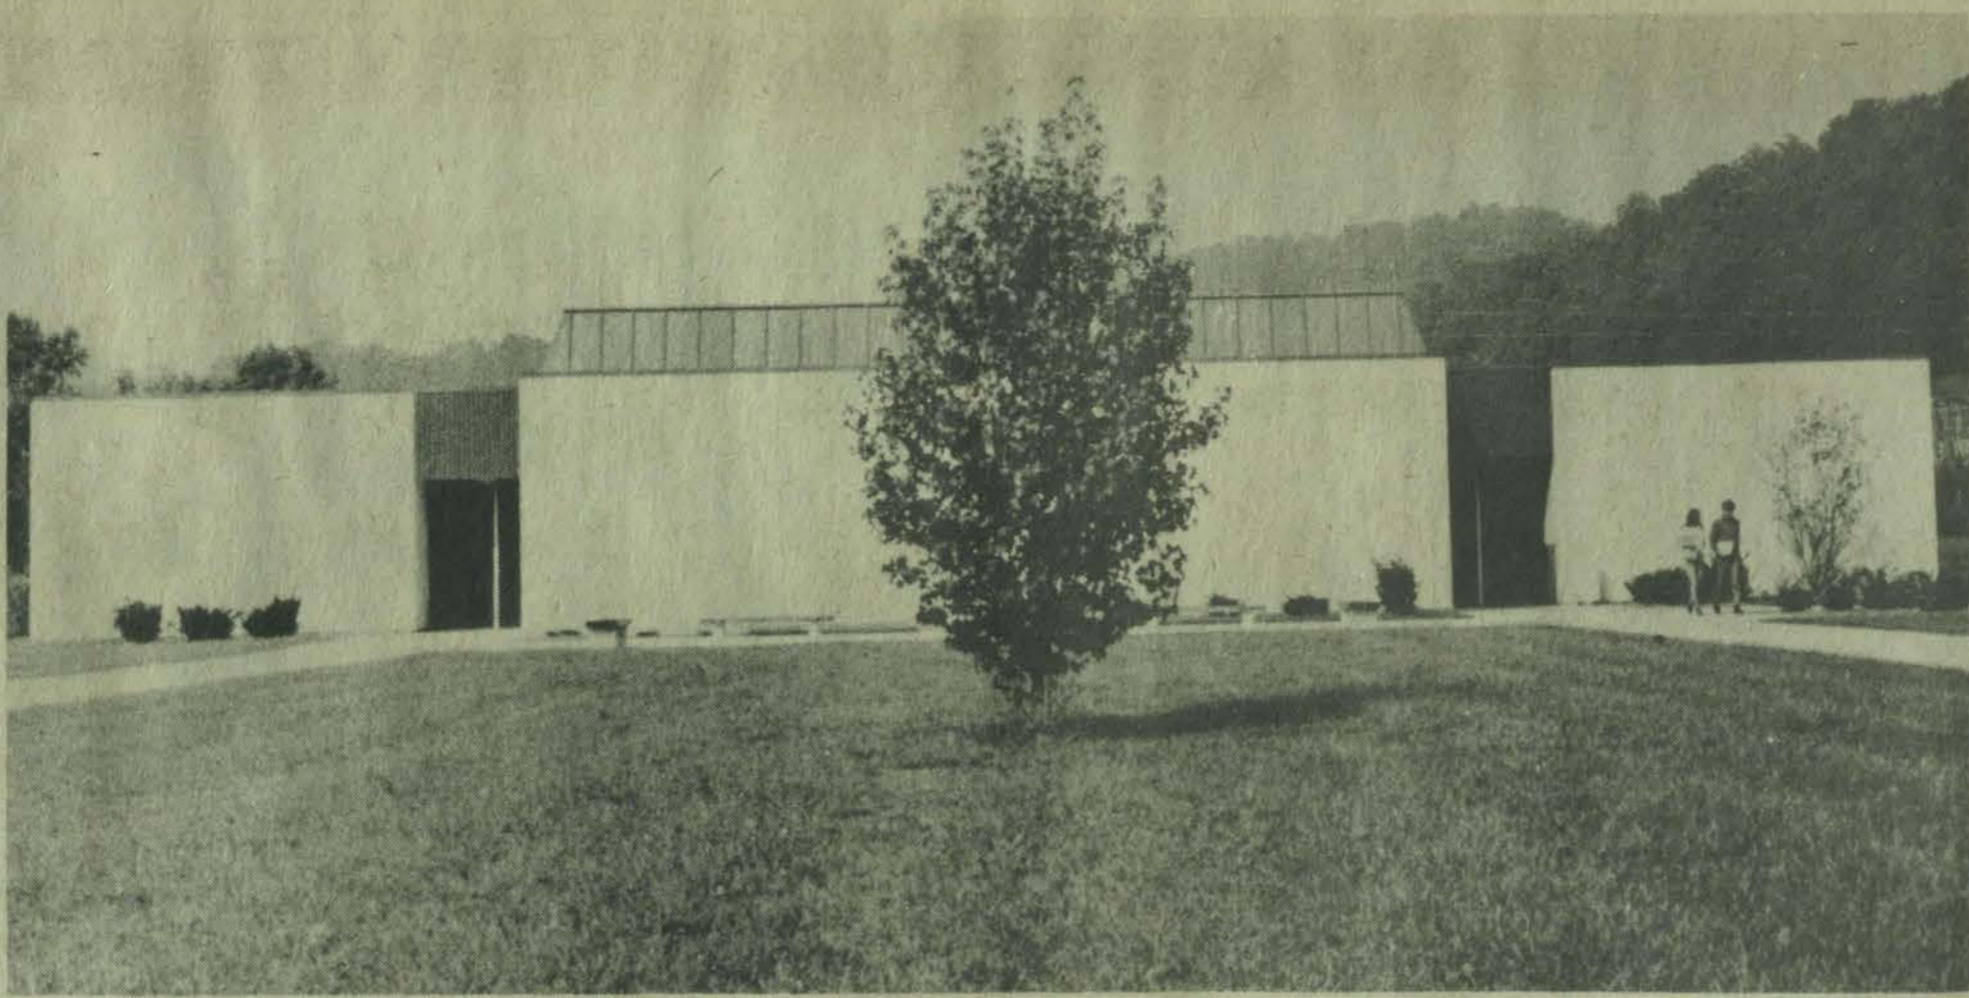

Bittman Is Named Newspaper Editor

Sam Bittman, former instructor of journalism and creative writing at the Prestonsburg Community College, last week was named editor of the Brooklyn Heights Press, a community newspaper in New York's borough of Brooklyn.

Mr. Bittman lived and taught in Prestonsburg from September, 1966 through July, 1969. In the summer of 1968 he was managing and artistic director of the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre.

Mr. Bittman and his wife, Eileen, resided in Louisville for a year after leaving Prestonsburg. In addition to his working as a free-lance writer, he taught creative writing at the University of Louisville.

The Brooklyn Heights Press, a weekly newspaper, currently has a circulation of 10,000.

Student Center Named for Martin

The Martin Student Center, constructed in 1969, houses a student lounge, bookstore, cafeteria, billiard room, student government facilities, and offices. All sponsored school dances are held in this building.

Martin county, established in 1882, was named for Fred A. Martin, general and commander of the Fourth Colony Division. Martin led his forces in several engagements in the area.

and Certificate Programs, 20 of the last 36 hours must have been taken in the Community College System, and the student must have a cumulative average of 2.0 (C).

The Community College System is committed to an expanded program of technical career education to provide a trained cadre of technicians and semi-professionals to meet the man-power needs of the Commonwealth, especially in business, industry, engineering and health technologies. To this end, over 30 programs leading to the Associate in Applied Science Degree are offered by the various community colleges combined. Prestonsburg Community College offers two year degrees in Secretarial Science, General Studies, Electrical, Civil, and Mining Engineering, Forestry and Communications Technology (Radio, TV, Journalism).

Inasmuch as learning expands both the scope of the classroom and the campus, each community college strives to promote the intellectual activities of the community and exerts its every energy to enrich and preserve the culture of the area which it serves. Both credit and non-credit courses are offered for those individuals interested in furthering their education on a part-time basis.

UK AG College Will Continue To Recommend Parathion Use

FRANKFORT, KY.—The University of Kentucky College of Agriculture will continue to recommend Parathion despite a recent report in the New York Times which said the chemical insecticide had caused several deaths in the South.

The UK College of Agriculture, Department of Public Information, published the decision in a news article, Sept. 2. The New York Times story said several dozen cases of Parathion poisoning had been reported in North Carolina this summer, and doctors at the Duke University Poison Control Center have reported five fatalities since late July.

The highly toxic chemical has been used with increasing frequency since the use of DDT and TDE was banned by federal regulations.

Dr. R. A. Scheibner, entomologist at the UK College of Agriculture, noted that Parathion can be absorbed through the skin and can accumulate in the human body if farmers are exposed repeatedly to the chemical. "The safest way to handle the chemical is by wearing waterproof suits, natural rubber gloves, goggles, and an approved face respirator," he said.

The antidote for Parathion poisonings is atropine sulphate, the same as used to treat nerve gas victims.

Kentucky poison control centers are located in Ashland, Berea, Bowling Green, Fort Thomas, Harlan, Lexington, Louisville, Owensboro and Paducah.

Burieta Gearhart To Head '70 Drive For Arthritis Fund

Miss Burieta Gearhart, Prestonsburg, has been named Floyd county chairman of the 1970 "Do Something" fund-raising campaign to fight arthritis.

To be launched Monday, Sept. 28, the campaign has a goal of $1,000 for this county. Money raised in the arthritis drive helps support activities such as research into the cause and cure of the disease, expansion of services to patients and their families, improvement of treatment techniques, and development and testing of new drugs.

"More than 3,500 people in Floyd county alone suffer from painful arthritis," Miss Gearhart said. "It is the nation's number one crippling disease."

Beginning on the kick-off day, door-to-door volunteers will be calling on all residents in the county for their contributions. At the same time, an extensive campaign will be launched among businessmen.

William O. Goebel, Jr., of Prestonsburg, has been named Business-Gifts Chairman for the campaign. In Prestonsburg, Mrs. J. W. Sutherland will head the door-to-door drive as "A-Day" chairman. Other "A-Day" chairmen in the county are Mrs. Robert Martin, in Allen; Mrs. David Reed, Maytown-Langley; and Mrs. Paul Gearhart, Harold-Betsy Layne-Boldman. Other local chairmen will be named later, Miss Gearhart said.

Publicity chairman for the county is Mrs. Clifford B. Latta, Prestonsburg.

Volunteers wishing to help serve in the drive may call Miss Gearhart or their local A-Day chairman.

Clubwomen Combat Litter Around Lake

Members of the Russell County Business and Professional Women's Club are crusading for a cleanup of rubbish flung along the 1255-mile Lake Cumberland shoreline.

Dan Hudson, Lake Cumberland State Park superintendent, said the women did a good job of getting rubbish removed from two islands near Jamestown. The club has asked affiliates in Corbin, Harlan, Barbourville, London, Whitley City, Middleboro, Pineville, Somerset and Williamsburg to extend the anti-litter drive into their areas and on to the headwaters of the Cumberland River.

Research Report Says Appalachia Needs 21,000 More for Teaching Of Kindergarten, Young Classes

A special research report on "Teachers in Appalachia," prepared for the Appalachian Regional Commission, has found a need for 21,000 more teachers to be prepared and recruited to teach kindergarten and early childhood education in Appalachia.

The 84-page report, prepared by Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Washington, D. C., for Appalachian Regional Commission, provides data and interpretations designed to assist education policy-makers in improving the quality and quantity throughout the Appalachian region.

The report also said there is a serious need for upgrading the capabilities of many of the Appalachian teachers.

It said that, because so many of the students come from a culture of the disadvantaged, teachers need to be trained in methods of teaching the disadvantaged student.

More teachers are needed for the upgrading of vocational training, the report indicated. The Appalachian Regional Commission has assisted with 304 vocational education facilities throughout the 13-state region with an expenditure exceeding $100 million.

Specific information in the report deals with development of programs which will upgrade teacher recruitment, training, retraining, and retention throughout Appalachia.

The study for the Appalachian Commission was made with a sample of 162,000 teachers in the Appalachian portions of Alabama, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, and West Virginia. Georgia and Virginia, the other two Appalachian states, did not participate in the study.

Only two out of every ten Appalachian teachers has a master's degree, the report said. It also indicated that 92 percent were born in Appalachia, 83 percent completed their high school years there, more than 90 percent received their bachelor's degree in an Appalachian state, and more than 33 percent are younger than 30. While 70 percent are married, 70 percent are also women.

General conclusions made by the report on the retention of teachers show that the better the home-school relationships, the higher the teacher retention.

The quality of supervision by superintendents and principals is related to the teachers' intentions to remain in the system, the report said.

Various factors, it reported, associated with small towns are also associated with high teacher retention and the better the salaries, the more likely they are to remain with their school districts.

Several priorities were outlined by the report, including the initiation of programs to supply teachers for early childhood education and programs that will fill gaps in knowledge of basic and recently developed educational methods and subject matter.

On the whole, the report said that the average Appalachian teacher is satisfied with a number of aspects of their school system and community.

While teachers in Appalachia generally receive lower incomes for teaching than teachers in other parts of the country, the report said that Appalachian teachers tend not to be "job mobile" in ways which would take them out of Appalachia and to higher salaries.

Average income for classroom teaching in 1969 in the region was approximately $6,500.

Primary reasons for remaining as a teacher in Appalachia were respect for other teachers (70 percent), freedom to teach in their own way (69 percent), teaching subjects in which they are trained (56 percent), and respect for school administrators (55 percent).

Aspects contributing to the dissatisfaction of Appalachian teachers were varied. Receiving the highest response (32 percent) for the dissatisfaction column was "none of the above makes me wish to leave." Others were too much "red tape" (24 percent), lack of community respect for teachers (15 percent), poor fringe benefits (15 percent), and lack of pupil discipline (15 percent).

The average Appalachian teacher is isolated from large metropolitan areas. The report found that only 15 percent live in a city of more than 50,000.

Eleven percent of teachers in the region are involved in elementary education and 13 percent are engaged in the teaching of English.

1971 CADILLAC FLEETWOOD
ELDORADO COUPE

The Fleetwood Eldorado Coupe is totally new for 1971. The tailored and chiseled lines of the '71 model draw parallels between the great era of the fine classics and the new Eldorado. The bevel on the long hood continues through the body to the rear quarter and is rimmed by a painted accent stripe. The boldness of the grille with a new vertical accent, dramatically compliments the 500 cubic inch Eldorado engine. The coach-style fixed window in the upper rear quarter is seen as a style leader of the future.

Mrs. Hall Honored on 94th Birthday

Mrs. Maggie Hall observed her 94th birthday September 7 at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lafferty, of Allen. Along with her two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Martin, of Wayland, Mrs. Lizzie Carr, of Allen, and her brother, James Webb, of Allen, and a cousin, Catherine Martin, of Eastern, have a total age of 441 years.

Open house was observed, with birthday dinner topped with birthday cake, coffee and tea being served. She was the recipient of many gifts and cards, and was visited by all her children on this day, three daughters and three sons: Mrs. Bennie Lafferty, of Allen, Mrs. Grace Floyd, of Grayson, Mrs. Lizzie Hall, of Banner, Ben Hall, of Allen, Mont Hall, of Banner, and, John Hall, of Somerset. A daughter-in-law Mrs. Blanche Hall, of Lancaster, Pa., who could not attend, telephoned her. Pictures of her and of the groups were made.

Mrs. Hall, or "Aunt Mag" as she is called, also has 14 grandchildren, 48 great-grandchildren and 28 great-great-grandchildren. There are five generations living, and four generations were represented at the party. Her husband, K. F. Hall, passed away in 1957 and Mrs. Hall has since been confined to a wheelchair. She sews, quilts, and enjoys being with people.

Those registering during the day were: Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lynwood Lafferty and children, Missy and Micheal; Rev. and Mrs. J. Edward Mills and son, Paul Edward; Pauline Burchett, Laura Sargent, Glenna Marcum, Theop Salmons, Elixabeth M. Bailey, Mrs. Earl M. Allen, Mrs. Fannie Workman, Mrs. Vanie Sellards, Frank G. Grey and children, Betty Jean and Frankie; Thursa Sellards, Susan Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Crisp, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Crisp, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy D. Gray and son, Teddy, Delores Callison, Jewel Allen, all of Allen; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Branham, Johnny C. Hall, Vernon Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips, Betty Ann Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Martin, all of Martin; Lizzie Caroline Hall, Rosemary Hall, Clinton Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hall, Mrs. Bruce Hall, all of Banner; Mrs. Oriole Maggard, Joel Storrow, Whitney Dunlap, III, Martha Dunlap and Virginia Mayo Francis, all of Lexington; Mrs. John Hall, Somerset; Mitchell, Tookey and Melissa Nichols, of Estill, and, William S. Manpower Pool Drying Up In So. Appalachia, Belief

The Southern Appalachia manpower pool, long a reservoir of labor for metropolitan areas outside Appalachia, may be going dry, according to preliminary figures released by the 1970 Census.

University of Kentucky sociologist Dr. James S. Brown said the Census indicates that although Southern Appalachia continued to supply manpower to major metropolitan areas in the past decade, "... there are clear indications... the pool of labor so readily available in the past is drying up."

According to the Census figures, the population of the Southern Appalachians is 9,842,185, a gain of 166,121 (or 1.7 percent) since 1960.

"That rate of increase is only a little more than one-tenth that of the United States as a whole," Dr. Brown reported.

Kentucky's Southern Appalachian counties lost a total of 64,114 people in the past decade, a loss of 7 percent of their population in 1960. This loss, however, was only half that of the decade 1950-60. But the loss was still centered in the state's coal mining counties, just as it was in the previous decade.

"A major reason Southern Appalachia's population is not growing rapidly is that it has few metropolitan areas and the ones it has are relatively small and don't need large numbers of unskilled workers," Dr. Brown noted.

"Today about two thirds of the population of the US lives in metropolitan areas," he said, "but in Southern Appalachia in 1970, only 3,200,000 people—about a third of the area's population—live in metropolitan areas."

"Southern Appalachia" as defined by the Appalachian Regional Commission stretches from Birmingham, Ala. to the West Virginia-Maryland border. The area includes 303 counties in all of West Virginia and parts of nine other states—Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

The Appalachian parts of seven of the ten states gained a total of 436,000 in population—their growth rates ranging from Georgia's 17.9 percent to Mississippi's 0.5 percent. However, West Virginia and parts of Kentucky and Virginia lost population in their Appalachian areas at a rate of 7.9 and 9 percent respectively. The total loss in population in these states was 270,000.

Perhaps the most spectacular population shift in the Southern Appalachian area occurred in Georgia, especially in counties around the Atlanta metropolitan area, where population increased by 122,000—that figure is 28 percent of the total gained by the seven Appalachian sections, even though Georgia's population constituted only 8 percent of Southern Appalachia's population in 1970.

The Huntsville, Ala. metropolitan area also made tremendous gains in population in the last decade—increasing by 46 percent or 70,000.

The preliminary figures also indicated that both Kentucky's and West Virginia's Appalachian metropolitan areas actually lost population in the 60's—Kentucky's at the rate of 2.5 percent, West Virginia's at 6.9 percent. Kentucky Appalachian metropolitan areas (the Census calls them Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas—SMSA's) lost 1,325 people, while West Virginia's lost 39,906.

Non-metropolitan Southern Appalachia showed significant shifts in population trends, Dr. Brown noted.

"In the 50's, non-metropolitan Appalachian population dropped more than 4.2 percent, but in 1970 the non-metropolitan population was 6,640,086, almost exactly the same as in 1960."

Kentucky's mining counties continued to lose population at the highest rate of any state in the area—with a decrease of 19.4 percent. This figure was down from the 21.3 percent decrease Kentucky recorded in the 50's. West Virginia's mining counties lost population at a rate of 19 percent in the 50's, but in the past decade that rate dropped to 18.8 percent, while Virginia's rate of loss rose from 10.9 to 17.5 percent.

"Apparently the mechanization of mining, which caused a decline in mining employment beginning in the late 40's and early 50's, first affected Kentucky counties most seriously, then later hit West Virginia counties with full force. Now it has finally struck the counties in Virginia," Dr. Brown explained.

According to the UK expert, the fact that Appalachia's labor supply may be diminishing can be seen in two factors—a remarkable decrease in the excess of birth over deaths, and migration.

"In the past the excess of births over deaths (natural increase) in Southern Appalachia has been very high compared to other parts of the nation. But in the past decade, the rate of natural increase probably dropped about 25 percent from the 1950's. That would be a decline of about 400,000," Dr. Brown stated.

This slowdown of natural increase is due, according to Dr. Brown, to the loss of great numbers of women of childbearing ages through migration, and "... to an increased use of contraceptives."

"Loss through migration has dropped even more than births," Dr. Brown said. "During the 60's Southern Appalachia's net loss through migration was probably slightly more than one million. That would be a decline of about a third in the rate of migration from the figure for the 1950's."

"While the rate of migration out of Southern Appalachia has slowed considerably, Dr. Brown cautions that out-migration... continues to be enormous."

The drop in net out-migration is due in part to the growth of the Huntsville and Atlanta metropolitan areas, and the UK sociologist noted that counties in the area with growing universities generally showed population increases.

Nevertheless, coal mining counties all continued to lose heavily through migration, at rates equal or nearly equal to those of the 50's, though the total number of losses through migration in these counties tended to drop.

"It's probably worth noting that migration out of the coal mining counties was so heavy in the 40's and 50's that the number of people in the prime ages for migration has dropped tremendously," Dr. Brown explained.

The fact that Appalachian metropolitan areas, with a few exceptions, continue to grow very slowly compared to those in other areas of the nation, indicates the people of Appalachia who are migrating are moving mostly to metropolitan areas outside of Appalachia.

Non-metropolitan population in Appalachia seems to be stabilizing, with the exceptions of mining counties in Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia, which continue to lose heavily through migration.

"Though the southern part of the area, notably the Georgia counties, is growing," Dr. Brown concludes, "the 'hard core' counties of Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia continue to lose very heavily, and thus add depopulation to their many other problems."

"In spite of what seem to be expensive and significant government programs in these counties, data from the 1970 Census reflect the continuing seriousness of economic and social problems there."

State Highway Dept. Plans Toll-Free Span

FRANKFORT, KY.—Highway Commissioner B. E. King has announced his department will proceed with plans to build a bridge across Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River at Louisa.

Plans for the new bridge had been held in abeyance when the Highway Department began negotiations to buy an existing privately-owned toll bridge downstream from the site of the proposed new bridge.

Plans at that time called for the bridge to be made toll free and eventually replaced with a new structure.

Commissioner King said last week, however, that the price being asked for the bridge by owners of the bridge, the Louisa-Ft. Gay Bridge Company, was excessive.

The new bridge will provide for toll-free vehicular traffic between Louisa and the "Point" area between the Levisa and Tug Forks of the Big Sandy.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS TO BEGIN CHRISTMAS SHOPPING THIS WEEK

Red Cross volunteers at the Floyd County Red Cross chapter will begin Christmas shopping this week for the production of gift-filled bags to be given to each American serviceman and woman in South Vietnam next Christmas.

"We are encouraging other community organizations, religious groups, business firms and individuals to help in the gathering of items needed to fill the drawstring bags which are made by local volunteers," said Ella Noel C. White, executive secretary of the Floyd Chapter. "This is the fourth year we have participated in the project in which ARC chapters throughout the nation assist."

Miss White continued: "The Vietnam Shop Early 1970 program is only one way that Americans can indicate their support for our men and women overseas. Our chapter has been asked to contribute 75 bags, compared to the 114 prepared last year by various local organizations and the chapter."

Eight items are selected for inclusion in each bag for use by the recipient. Among the items needed by service personnel are ballpoint pens, plastic soap cases, small address books, washcloths, nail clippers, stainless steel mirrors, plastic snapshot holders, plastic cigarette cases, pen-size flashlights and batteries, toothbrush holders, and small vacuum-packed tins of nuts or candies.

September 30 is the deadline for completing the yuletide project.

Citizens or organizations wishing to furnish materials or cash for postage, should call 886-2521 or 886-2494 for full details.

Poet Cohen Says He'll Place Body In 'Dozer's Path

William Howard Cohen, poet and instructor at Alice Lloyd College, announced to news media this week that as "a first step to stop the madness which is destroying us all" he will go on the morning of Oct. 3 to the strip-mine site nearest his home at Pippa Passes and there "place my body between the bulldozers and the land I have come to love and cherish."

Cohen, who describes himself as an "adopted citizen of Kentucky by decree of Jesse Stuart," says he was appalled, on his return to Knott county after a summer of research, to find that the ruling banning strip-mining in Knott county had not been enforced. (The ban was voted by the Knott fiscal court, but the Attorney General's office later held that the court did not have authority to effect such a ban.)

The poet said he had decided to stage the Oct. 3 demonstration because he believes in the great American democratic values in which he was raised and because he sees the society based on these values crumbling because of failure to enforce the laws fairly and impartially. He invited elected officials of Knott county and all citizens, especially students, to join him. Cohen invited them to meet him at the American Legion park on KY 80, below Hindman, from which point, he said, a Save-the-Land guide will lead the group to the site.

"I am announcing this intention," Cohen told news media, "because I am not seeking martyrdom and I want the 'operators' to have the clearest warning of my impending presence..."

Worth seeing. Worth owning. Worth waiting for.

Vega. Not just another little car, but one little car that does everything well. You get more room, more weight and more power than most little cars give you, yet the gas mileage is right in the same neighborhood with the best of them. Vegas come dressed up, too, not stripped to the bone so you have to add a lot to make them liveable. Drive one. You'll see.

Caprice. There's a double layer of steel in the roof, a steel guard beam in each door, power disc brakes up front, a new power ventilation system inside, a wheelbase two and one-half inches longer. You get the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, but at Chevrolet prices. And that's the kind of change during these tight-money times that all of us can appreciate.

A vanishing tailgate. A big change in our big wagon. The window goes up into the roof, the Glide-Away tailgate vanishes beneath the floor. Out of sight. Out of your way for easy loading even in a closed garage or when you have a trailer hooked on.

Mrs. Viola Prater Dies In 51st Year; Funeral Held Sunday

Mrs. Viola Prater Johnson, 50, of Blue River, died Friday at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington following a week's illness.

Born February 26, 1920, she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miley Prater, of Pyramid, and was a member of the Baptist church.

Besides her parents, she is survived by her husband, Darvin Johnson; a son, Charles Johnson, of Prestonsburg; two daughters, Mrs. Judith Carol Ousley, of Mansfield, O., and Miss Janet Sue Johnson, of Blue River; two sisters, Mrs. Cecil Hall, of Allen, and Mrs. Herb Prater, of Prestonsburg; four brothers, Ernest and Arnold Prater, both of Pyramid, Kenneth Prater, of New Lexington, O., and Charles Prater, of Pikeville.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at Clark Elementary school on the Middle Creek road by Revs. Wallace Calhoun and John Pelphrey. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Blue River under direction of Carter Funeral Home.

Active pallbearers were: Ray Spradlin, Joe Hackworth, Greg Hall, Doug Prater, Don Prater, Johnny Dotson, Paul Hicks, James Johnson, Ralph Prater and Curtis Prater.

NOTICE

An error appearing in The Floyd County Times last week, Sept. 17, 1970 edition, in the advertisement of appointment of administrators, listed Laura Sargent as administrator of the estate of George Barnett. The notice should have read Laura Sargent as the administrator of estate of George Dewey Sargent, deceased.

Fallout Shelter Tour Slated Here Wednesday By USDA Defense Board

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Defense Board planned a tour of Prestonsburg fallout shelters during its meeting scheduled Wednesday afternoon.

Elder Goble, chairman, said he considers fuller information, not only here but throughout the county, about these shelters is of great importance. "If an emergency arises, just at this time," he asked, "just where are the fallout shelters, how well stocked are they, and how many individuals would each accommodate?"

Jimmy Bartley, 13, Dies at Hospital Here

Timmy Bartley, 13-year-old son of Curt and Cleo Stumbo Bartley, of the Goble-Roberts Addition of Lancer, died at 1 a.m., Tuesday morning at Prestonsburg General hospital following an extended illness.

Surviving besides the parents, are two sisters, Dianne and Dena Bartley, both at home.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m., Wednesday, at the Lancer Baptist chapel by the Rev. Larry O'Brien. Burial was made in the Stumbo cemetery on Middle Creek under direction of Floyd Funeral Home.

AITKEN-PERKINS VOWS
SOLEMNIZED SEPTEMBER 5

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Barrett Aitken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Aitken of Frankfort, and Mr. James Ernest Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Perkins of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was solemnized at 4 p.m., Saturday, September 5 at the First United Methodist Church in Frankfort.

Dr. James A. Shepherd performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of candlelight stain. The bodice was of Alencon lace with a high neckline, and the long fitted sleeves, hem and attached chapel train were appliqued in matching lace. The bride wore a shoulder-length mantilla of Alencon lace and carried a cascade of white roses.

Miss Alice Ann Magill of Frankfort served as maid of honor. Her floor-length, empire gown was of jubilee blue, with slightly scooped neckline and long bishop sleeves, both edged with darker blue velvet. Her bouquet was a white daisy cascade.

Miss Mary Patricia DeShazer and Miss Jean Katharine Amato, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor. Mr. Robert Alexander Amato, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer and Mr.

Thomas Alexander Hill of Parkersburg, West Virginia, also a cousin, sang Malotte's Lord's Prayer for the communion service. Mr. Tim Oliver of Frankfort was organist.

Lt. Commander Robert C. Perkins, Jr. of Springfield, Virginia served his brother as best man. Mr. Frank Palfi of Hammond, Indiana, and Mr. Kenneth Ponsford Aitken, Jr., the bride's brother, were the groomsmen.

A reception followed at the bride's parents' home. Assisting were Mrs. J. E. DeShazer, Mrs. Harold C. Aitken, Mrs. Henry M. Reed, Mrs. S. J. Amato, Jr.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live in West Lafayette, Indiana where they will both attend Purdue University.

A coffee-recipe shower was given in the bride's honor by her aunt, Mrs. Harold C. Aitken, at her home. Mrs. J. M. Perkins, Jr. entertained with a luncheon at her home, and the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. E. DeShazer, gave a luncheon-shower at Science Hill in Shelbyville. Mrs. Edward P. Hill, Jr. entertained the bride and her party with a luncheon at Spindletop Hall in Lexington. The bridesmaids' luncheon was given by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Alex L. Hill, at the Southern Hotel in Frankfort. The parents of the groom entertained with a rehearsal dinner at the Frankfort Country Club.

Heart Seizure Claims
Andrew J. Newman,
Floyd County Native

Andrew J. Newman, 78, of Hillsboro, O., native of this county, died there Friday in a doctor's office, victim of an apparent heart attack.

Born at Hi Hat, he was a son of the late Willard H. and Hester Brown Newman. A farmer and member of the Little Nancy Regular Baptist church, he was first married to Mallie Casebolt Newman who died in 1925, and he was later married to Alma Conley Newman who also preceded him in death in 1954. His present wife, Mrs. Myrtle Rose Newman, survives him.

Surviving besides his widow are four sons, Joe Newman, of Houston, Texas, Leroy, Paul and Tillman Newman, all of Dayton, O.; six stepsons, Kenneth Russell, of Hillsboro, O., Bob Russell, of Willow Springs, Mo., Bill Russell, of Knight's Town, Ind., Gary and Jimmy Rose, both of Hi Hat, Vernon Rose, of Price; seven daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Bryant, Mrs. Pearl Newsome, both of Hi Hat, Mrs. Hester Willoughby, Mrs. Mary Thompson, Mrs. Shirley Rhodes, and Mrs. Dora Warnock, all of Hillsboro, Mrs. Lilly Shroat, of Greenfield, O.; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Dimple Crawford, of Hi Hat, Mrs. Shirley Hall, of Wheelwright; a brother, George Newman, and a sister, Mrs. Hester Hall, both of Hi Hat; 43 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at the Little Nancy Regular Baptist church at Hi Hat by Regular Baptist ministers at 10 a.m., Tuesday. Burial was made in the Newman cemetery there under direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Johnson County Apple Festival Equals Fun, Food, Togetherness

By HELEN PRICE STACY

WEST LIBERTY, KY.—As summer rusts away and country orchards are heady with the winey scent of apples, small plumes of smoke curling through autumn tell everyone it's Apple Festival time in Johnson county.

On Oct. 2-3 when ladies of the Paintsville Garden Club stir apple butter in a 90-quart black kettle on Paintsville's Main Street, it means the latch string is out for 15,000 to 20,000 visitors who are expected to attend this year's—the county's seventh—apple gala.

It's about the biggest and brightest event in Eastern Kentucky and in years past has offered two days and nights packed with entertainment, delectable foods and family togetherness.

Everywhere there's something to eat. Smelling like Grandma's kitchen, redolent with cinnamon and nutmeg, are streetside booths spanning clean where dried apple stack cakes, apple cookies and apple pies are lined up like tables of food at a country church dinner "on the ground."

Friday's activities will include old fashioned spelling bees and adding matches in an authentic one-room log schoolhouse reassembled on the campus of new and modern Johnson Central High School; apple prince and princess; apple baby contest; dog show; Grand Ol' Opry; Big Sandy Apple Bowl football; teen dance and apple ball.

On Saturday will be an antique car show, gigantic band festival, merchandise giveaway, square dance, apple queen contest, more Grand Ol' Opry... and if that isn't enough, Miss Teenage America will add her beauty to the scene... a two to three-mile parade will add gaiety and color.

Sometimes we get the feeling we're being followed.

Everybody's getting into the act. Everybody's making a small car. And since we've made more of them than anyone else, we thought we'd pass along some things we've learned about the business over the years: First off, there's no doubt about it, the only way to make an economy car is expensively.

So Rule No. 1, don't scrimp. Get yourself the best engineers in the business and then hire 9,000 or so top inspectors to keep them on their toes.

Next, try to develop an engine that's not a gas-guzzler. If you can get it to run on pints of oil instead of quarts, great. If you can get it to run on air instead of water, fantastic.

Work on things to make your car last longer. Like giving it 45 pounds of paint to protect its top and a steel bottom to protect its bottom.

Important: Make sure you can service any year car you make. There's nothing worse than having someone find out that a part they need to make their car go is no longer available.

Finally, spend less time worrying about what your car looks like and more time worrying about how it works.

Perfecting a good economy car is a very time-consuming business. So far it has consumed 25 years of our time.

EATING AT JERRY'S IS A FAMILY AFFAIR!

a family affair worth remembering is a meal at Jerry's. There's something for everyone... a quick snack, a complete dinner, carry out service or drive-in for an "in-car picnic".
