

Combs Trial Term's First For Murder Trial of Bob Hall On Murder Charge Reset for Jan. 18

The Floyd circuit court got down to the full-scale trial of a murder case Monday after one such case had been quickly disposed of earlier by the defendant's guilty plea, and the continuance of two others.

The trial under way is that of Reecie B. Combs, who is charged with the fatal wounding on Rock Fork, Knott county, of Claude Conley. The wounded man died at a Floyd county hospital, and the court here was given jurisdiction, although Combs could have been tried in Knott circuit court.

The trial jury was empanelled Monday afternoon, and late in the day hearing of testimony began.

A week earlier, Whirley Hall pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter in the shotgun slaying on Jacks Creek of Guy Bates. Judge Hollie Conley will pass sentence on Hall at a later date.

The scheduled trial of Bob Hall on a charge of slaying his father, Edgar H. Hall, at Allen did not materialize last Wednesday when defense counsel pleaded illness of the defendant had prevented adequate preparation for trial. The trial was continued till Jan. 18.

Trial of Charlie Jackson, charged with the slaying of James Chaffins on Arkansas, was continued on motion of the Commonwealth.

Also continued was the shooting and wounding trial of Kenny Tuttle.

The court term has been extended to include Dec. 19.

2 Former Addicts To Speak at Meet

Two former drug addicts will speak at a meeting scheduled Friday at 10 a.m. at Prestonsburg Community College on narcotics. The public is invited to hear them speak of their experiences as addicts and of the dangers presented by drugs.

The two, from Matrix House, Lexington, will also speak today (Thursday) at the Pikeville Kiwanis Club meeting.

Irish Doctor, Honored by Queen, Assists at Heart Clinic Here

Dr. Fletcher with infant after its examination at heart clinic here last week.

When the Floyd County Health Department and associated agencies sponsor a heart clinic here, they traditionally have some of the top cardiac specialists in Kentucky to give each patient the best service such a clinic can offer.

Last week, they went a step farther. The Kentucky doctors who came here were joined by one of the ranking heart specialists in Great Britain.

The extra talent for last week's clinic was supplied in the person of Dr. Evan Fletcher, who is physician in charge of the cardiac unit at Belfast City Hospital, Belfast, Ireland, and lecturer in medicine at Queens University, Belfast.

Those Who Shared In Shoe Company Gifts for Needy

"Shower of Shoes" for the Needy Is Repeated Friday by U.S. Shoe

Christmas gifts in the form of new shoes will go to 500 needy persons in the county, this Christmas season, through the generosity of the U. S. Shoe Corporation's plant near here.

The shoes were equally divided Friday morning among 10 pastors or church leaders who will be assisted later by a committee from U. S. Shoe in distributing them to those in need. It was the third time the shoe company plant here has made heavy contributions of new footwear for use by the needy.

Photo shows ministers and laymen of 10 churches which received last Friday U. S. Shoe Company's gift of 500 pairs of shoes. Santa (Bill Pettrey, of Prestonsburg) served in a dual capacity — greeting visitors at the plant and receiving for Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here its quota of shoes.

Receiving shoes for distribution by their churches were:

Frank Callapy, for the Brothers of Charity, David; Bill Hoffman, for the Drift Presbyterian Church; Bill Pettrey, Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here; D. M. Hutchinson, Sr., Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon), Martin; Ray Tuttle, Regular Baptist Church, McDowell; Rev. Virgil Knipp, Vogel-Day Methodist Church, Harold; Rev. Milford Adams, Regular Baptist Church, Mud Creek; Rev. Bob Martin, non-denominational, Martin; Bennie Blankenship, pastor, Weeksbury Church of Christ; Rev. Johnny Hall, Regular Baptist Church, Honaker.

Serving on the factory committee which prepared for the "shower of shoes" were these employees: Alice Isaac, Joyce Davis, Jewell Hagans, Cora Hall, Charolette Frasure, Julie Allen, Peggy Clevenger, Kay Conn, Sarah Adkins, Sue Ratliff, Wilma Adkins, Versie Adams, Edna Jones, Anne Layne, Sarah Pennington, Scarlet Little, Betty Keathley, Faye Johnson, Mary Stumbo, Ruth Boyd, Dorothy Dotson, Mary Trammel, Ocie Manuel, Kay Akers, Herma Slone, Ruby Deskins, Nora Halbert, Nell Foster, May Conn, Opal Butler, Shirley Horn.

The shoes were presented to church representatives by Joe Dimichelle, plant manager.

Dynamite Blasts Near McDowell Cause Damage

Buildings over a large part of the county were shaken between 2 and 3 a.m. last Wednesday by what has been identified as sonic blasts from one or more low-flying jets—but the blasting the same morning on Frazier's Creek, near McDowell, was a more mundane matter.

Dynamite, which apparently was tossed from a roving auto, blasted a coal hopper used at a now-idle mine, an abandoned automobile and a telephone pole. And, said Sheriff Frank Leslie, after he and other officers had left that area following an investigation of the dynamitings, another

Award Contract On Controversial Floyd Highway

Formal awarding last week of a contract on construction of three sectors of new US 23 between Stanville and the Pike-Floyd line concluded arrangements for the road-building, but there remains to be settled a $4 million damage suit filed in the long controversy over bidding on the route.

The Kentucky Department of Highways and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads concurred in awarding the construction contract to Greer Brothers and Young, London, Ky., on the firm's bid of $9,800,394—only $12,359 less than the original bid submitted last June by the J. D. Barter Construction Co., Illinois, and $304,000 more than Greer Brothers and Young asked at the second bidding of the projects in August.

Less than five miles of highway are involved in the overall contract.

After Barter's original bid was rejected, the Illinois firm filed its $4 million suit, alleging conspiracy against it. Depositions later alleged that Barter or its associate, the Mattingly Bridge Co., Louisville, was offered a bribe of $300,000.

This Town . . . That World

Readers of this column—both of 'em—missed it last week. One sobered up enough to threaten to stage a demonstration if we missed again. So . . .

Control the old temper if friend wife, or husband, comes home, staggering beneath a load of expensive gifts. Remember, we're in the holly daze.

It's going to take more than scissors to cut away all the tinsel in which Christmas lies buried.

SOMEBODY'S WRONG ABOUT THIS
I, somehow, am having difficulty getting statements by the Surface Mining and Reclamation Association to harmonize with some made by Reclamation Director Elmore Grim.

In its question-and-answer-format pamphlet, the surface mining group assures one and all that silt and debris are kept out of streams by building silt basins and check dams before mining is begun, thus stopping sediment and debris, and that "in those rare instances where acid mine water is found to be a problem, regulations require that impoundment basins be built to prevent the water from being released into streams and rivers."

On the other side of the coin is the statement by Mr. Grim when he denied a request to surface mine a Breathitt county tract near the University of Kentucky, Robinson forest. He listed three reasons for the denial of permit:

1. Stripmining in the watershed would contaminate the forest and "in effect nullify expenditures made by the university in the forest during the past 47 years."
2. "Substantial deposition of sediment in stream beds, landslides or acid water pollution cannot feasibly be prevented."
3. "The operation will constitute a hazard to a public stream and other public property."

Maybe I missed a point. If I didn't, somebody has.

Man Held Here In Magoffin Co. Narcotics Case

A man being held in jail here is believed to be the key figure in what Magoffin county authorities term a drug ring which has been in operation there.

An unnamed Salyersville business man has been questioned during the probe after a juvenile reported he had seen him buying drugs from the man who was jailed.

Held here after an apparent jail delivery attempt had been made at Salyersville following his arrest is Melvin Phipps. He and a Mrs. Sue Oney were arrested after a large quantity of drugs were found near Bloomington, in a building reportedly occupied by Mrs. Oney.

The break in the case came when a juvenile was arrested on a breaking and entering charge and narcotics were found in his possession. The youth volunteered information, admitting that he and another youth had taken the drugs found on this person from a Salyersville business office after they had seen a business man buy drugs from Phipps. The juvenile also said he had accompanied Phipps on several trips to transport drugs into Magoffin county.

The investigation was led by State Trooper Dan Stumbo. The possibility that the Magoffin "ring" may be a source of narcotics supply to Floyd and other counties is being considered.

Bond of $10,000 has been asked for Phipps' release. Mrs. Oney was released under $5000 bond.

Would Replace Old Structure Held Defective

The Floyd County Board of Education plans the construction of a 10-room classroom building at McDowell next year to replace a 40-year-old structure which has serious defects in its walls.

Superintendent of Schools Charles Clark said Monday that the board has been told by the Safety Division, State Fire Marshal's office, that replacement of the building must be done. The board of education at its Saturday meeting accepted preliminary plans for the structure as prepared by its architect, George Lee Shannon, and also directed Mr. Shannon to proceed with the preparation of final plans.

Meanwhile, the board has authorized Shannon to do whatever is necessary to make the present building safe for occupancy until it can be replaced. Defective mortar was listed as a main fault of the old building.

The proposed new building will cost an estimated $170,000. Present plans call for its completion before the opening of the 1971-'72 school term.

The board has asked the State Department of Education to do, as quickly as possible, another survey of its physical facilities. The last such study was made in 1960.

"We would hope," Supt. Clark said, "that the State Department will in making suggestions for new construction or renovation of old buildings give us a priority arrangement, as was done in 1960."

Another major item of business at Saturday's meeting was the authorization the purchase of six new 66-passenger school buses through the central purchasing agency of the State Department of Education.

The board also approved for its several lunchrooms the free lunch policy developed by a committee and approved by the Division of Lunchrooms, State Department of Education.

Cooperation with the Prestonsburg Foster's Club in the purchase of new lockers for the football dressing room at Prestonsburg high school was voted by the board. An easement to the Beaver-Elkhorn Water District to construct a chlorination system on the Eastern school grounds was approved.

The bid of $525 offered by the Drift Woman's Club for the old Sizemore school building was highest of five offered and was accepted. The board authorized advertising for bids on classroom supplies for the 1971 calendar year. It leased the old Ligon school structure to the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services. Floyd Town Learns, the Hard Way—Now To Have a Fire Department

It takes a fire to demonstrate the value of a fire department, and since the town of Auxier has had its fire, it will soon have its firefighting equipment.

After the blaze which last January destroyed one home and damaged two others, community leaders got busy. A lot of people got into the act with donations, pledges and money raised through benefit dinners. The Floyd fiscal court contributed $500.

So it was that Auxier had enough cash on hand Monday to pay for a site for its fire department. The lot and an old house on it cost $1550.

There are materials for a new building to be bought, but after that the construction work will be done by the Eastern Kentucky Concentrated Employment Program (EK-CEP) as training for a building and trades class. The old structure on the lot is being razed by Nelson Mainstream workers as a community improvement project and to remove a fire hazard.

A government surplus truck will be available for the fire department, but there is equipment to be bought. The need for cash remains.

The Auxier CAP Club plans a two-story building, the first floor of concrete block to house the fire truck and equipment, the second story of frame construction to be divided into two apartments and the income from that part of the building to help support the department.

The volunteer fire department will serve not only Auxier but its surrounding area included in the fire district.

The blaze which gave birth to the fire department was the subject of a recent circuit court damage suit here. Property-owners recovered approximately $15,000 from the Auxier Road Gas Company. They claimed a gas explosion caused the fire.

Dinner Honors Retiring Employees

An appreciation dinner was held at Wise Steak House November 20, honoring Mrs. Dorothy Burke and Mrs. Venelia Rinehart upon their retirement as employees here of the Kentucky Division of Public Assistance. James F. Thompson, personnel director, of Frankfort, represented Commissioner Merritt S. Deitz, Jr., in presenting a framed individual letter of commendation to both employees for their many years of service. Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Rinehart were also recipients of silver trays presented by the local Public Assistance staff. The trays were inscribed with their individual terms of employment.

asked by Ronald J. Wright, field office administrator, to tell of their experiences with Public Assistance. The workers told of the transitions from a county of two social workers to its present number and how drastically qualifications had changed. Both speakers received a standing ovation.

Waste Disposal
For 5 Counties
Is Talked Here

"Everybody wants the trash taken care of, but nobody wants it in their backyard," Alan McIlhane, Spindletop Research representative, commented here last Wednesday, emphasizing the difficulty experienced in finding locations for solid waste disposal sites.

McIlhane and others conferred at the Information Center here on Spindletop's study of such a disposal facility to serve five Eastern Kentucky counties. Attending the meeting were Chet Foster, of Kentucky Program Development Office, Rufus J. Miller, of the State Health Department, and about 25 officials and citizens of the counties considered.

McIlhane said the problem is not so much technical as it is political and financial. There are, he said, 28 possible sources of funds to finance such a project but none is certain, and there remains the problem of getting county judges and mayors to cooperate.

Collection would be the major part of the cost involved in such an operation, it was pointed out. For instance:

Spindletop suggests the use of dumpster units, these strategically spotted so that they could be easily reached and used for dumping of refuse by communities. It was estimated that 720 of these would be required and that their cost per unit would range between $260 and $360. To pick up the contents of these units six trucks would be required, and these would cost about $30,000 each. Cost of a bulldozer to be used at the central site would range from $20,000, if a used machine is bought, to $80,000 for a new one.

The solid waste disposal project is being planned to serve Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Magoffin and Martin counties.

The central dump site could be at any one of a dozen places Spindletop has in mind—but that five-county dumping center is going to be in somebody's backyard, and that may create another problem.

THE CHALLENGE

On the Cross of Calvary our blessed Savior died, gave his life to save the world from loss. There is pardon in His love for everyone that stands for the blood that stained the Old Rugged Cross. Are you standing for the One who shed that blood on the Cross? When you were praying to get right with God, I know you said, "Lord, I will do anything you want me to do if only you will save me."

Well, now that Jesus saved you, have you done all He wants you to? If you think you have, then read Acts 2:38 and see what Brother Peter told them there. He said, "Repent and be baptized, everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remissions of your sins, and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost, for the promise is to you and your children and as many as the Lord our God shall call." If you are not standing for the name of Jesus Christ, then you are not standing for the blood that stained the Cross. Please don't be ashamed of His name, or He will be ashamed of you. I am not ashamed of His name. Are you?

Postmaster Tells Yule Mailing Dates

Prestonsburg Postmaster Jack Stumbo has urged residents of Prestonsburg to try to remember that the recommended mailing date for Christmas mails began first of December.

Suggested latest dates by which Christmas mail should be deposited are as follows, but the postmaster urged customers to mail earlier wherever possible:

Greeting cards to distant states, Dec. 10; to local areas, Dec. 15.

Parcels to distant states, Dec. 1; to local areas, Dec. 11.

Dates for overseas military mail and international mail are posted in the post office lobby, but, in case of questions, consult the post office.

Stumbo also gave six tips on how residents should prepare their Christmas mailings:

1. All Christmas cards require a 6c stamp per ounce whether sealed or unsealed.
2. All Christmas cards and parcels should have a return address on them.
3. All Christmas cards should and all parcels must have the ZIP Code in the address and the return address.
4. All parcels must be wrapped and tied securely before they will be accepted by the post office.
5. All parcels should be insured against loss or damage.
6. ALL PARCELS SHOULD HAVE A SLIP OF PAPER INSIDE SHOWING THE SENDER AND ADDRESSEE'S NAME AND ADDRESS.

West Liberty Citizens Collect $1,675 For 16-Month-Old Girl

By HELEN PRICE STACY
WEST LIBERTY, KY.—At a meeting a few evenings ago, I was allowed to hold little Rhonda McKenzie, of West Liberty, while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McKenzie, were presented two checks totaling $1,675, the first disbursement of the Rhonda McKenzie fund.
Rhonda waved her arms, jumped around on my lap and made childish sounds that tinkled like tiny bells. She is 16 months old, with a shock of dark hair, exquisite hands and soft skin. She has one clubfoot, man-made slits for eyes and a man-made opening for a nose, beneath which is an almost perfectly formed, beautiful mouth. Just holding her made you love this small bundle of girl that might some day have a face normal enough and lovely enough to meet her world.
Last April 30, in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., Dr. Milton Edgerton and a team of skilled surgeons performed the first of five operations on Rhonda to begin reconstructing facial features. She then was nine months old and the youngest patient in medical records to undergo such surgery and survive.
"Her age represents something of a breakthrough for medicine," said Edgerton, pioneering specialist in rebuilding facial features for children.
Mrs. Bonnie Lewis McKenzie, 26, attractive mother of Rhonda and another daughter, Robin, who soon will be nine and an excellent student at West Liberty elementary school, can be credited for the beginning of a long, heart-breaking program that hopefully will provide normal facial features for her daughter as well as correctional surgery for her feet.
When Rhonda was born with severe abnormalities, the young mother was not content to leave the child as was and shut her away forever from the world.
"I had just about given up hope of ever being able to help Rhonda," said the mother. "I had tried to think of ways—any way that would allow her to grow up like other children; if not like other children, at least more normal. I was about to despair when, glancing down at a daily paper, I saw an article about a little girl in Tennessee. I read it through. Debbie Fox had been born with much the same lack of a face as had Rhonda. I immediately wrote Mrs. Edward Fox, of Soddy, Tenn. and asked for names of doctors and people who might help Rhonda."
That was how the McKenzies learned about Dr. Edgerton. Arrangements were made for an examination and the subsequent surgery that required more than 10 hours. Rhonda is one in about 1,800,000 children to be born without a nose, with eyes set so far on the sides of her head that she could not possibly focus them, with one clubfoot and too many toes on her feet. Muscles to control eye movement were defective. The surgical team went into the skull for bone grafts, skin grafts and other critical rearranging of tissue and bone related to eyes and brain. The grafts allowed Rhonda's eyes to be reset in a more normal position and also shaped her face. A tooth bud was removed near the eye location and using forehead skin, surgeons built nose passages.

Rhonda will return to Johns Hopkins for surgery scheduled Dec. 1.
This second surgical effort will build the bottom portion of a nose over the opening made last April. (Bridge for the nose will be done later.) On Dec. 1, surgeons also will attach eyelids to Rhonda's eyes so she can open them.
As I held her, I knew why she tried to throw her head back; it was her determined effort to get her eyes back so by peering beneath the lidless skin she could see what was going on around her in a strange room.
The room was the REA building in West Liberty where officers and advisory board of the Rhonda McKenzie fund could review progress on a goal of $10,000 needed to help finance family expense during the trips to Baltimore. Though Dr. Edgerton, Dr. Edward Dalton, Dr. David Knox, Dr. George Udvardy, Dr. Ed Laws and Dr. Hugh Robinson and their associates performed their work without charge, there are many other expenses, including travel costs to the parents and days missed from work (McKenzie is assistant manager of a West Liberty grocery) that have to be considered.
Townpeople, knowing the hardships of the next few years for Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie, and admiring their courage and efforts to help their young daughter, got together and set up the Rhonda McKenzie Fund, West Liberty, Ky. 41472. They set the $10,000 goal and to date $3100 has been contributed to the fund, making it possible to present the parents a check to help cover expenses of last April's operation and also a check to help cover expenses of the Dec. 1 surgery.
The executive committee is made up of Mrs. Garry Elam, chairman; Stephen Bliffin, vice chairman; Mrs. Boyd Blair, secretary and Mrs. Clay Walton, treasurer. Members of the advisory board are Ray Mitchell, chairman, Judge Gene Allen, Mayor Charles Black, Miss Naomi Finch, Miss Marry Ann Foudray, Bert Holbrook, Earl Kinner Jr., Dr. Alec Spencer, James R. Perry, Mrs. H. B. Murray and Helen Price Stacy.
Contributions to the fund are welcomed, not only for young Rhonda McKenzie but as hope to all parents and especially to all babies who like Rhonda are born with seemingly hopeless abnormalities.
I can sincerely say that while holding Rhonda she was not "unpretty" in any sense. She was soft hair and skin, perfect hands, a sweet mouth and bell-like voice. She truly was beautiful... maybe in a sense, I was seeing her as she will look 10 years from now and eager to show her new and pretty face to the world of school, church and community.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ray Ratliff, of Indianapolis, Ind., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dudley during Thanksgiving.
Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fraley, who formerly lived in Dayton, Ohio, have moved into the John Coburn house.
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Waddles, and Sherri, Mrs. Tom Webb, Patty, Lynn and Tommy Dean visited Kenneth Webb at Ft Knox, Thanksgiving Day.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ramey were shopping in Huntington, Wednesday.
The choir from the United Methodist Church here sang at the services, Sunday, at the home of Misses Barbara Wynsma and Lois Holmquist at Eastern.
Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Selton Gibson were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gibson and son, New Richmond, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Sheldon and children and Mr. and Mrs. David Gibson and children, of McDowell.
Mrs. Godia Salyers visited Mrs. Roy Martin, Thanksgiving Day.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, of Mobile, Ala., were guests of his sister, Mrs. Ernest Hayes and Mr. Hayes during Thanksgiving.
Miss Linda Sue Hale, of Prestonsburg, visited friends here last week.
Miss Loretta Blanton, who teaches in Ohio, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Blanton, during the Thanksgiving holiday.

LETTERS To The Editor

Christmas time is near; to some it will be more joyous, as they are blessed with more. Some could have more if they would work for it instead of bumming for it. Some are disabled and can't work for it.

I am thinking of some who years ago were pushed and beaten into the desolate wastelands of the western desert, where water and wood are very scarce, where in most places water has to be carried for miles, where there's hardly any roads, where there is disease and many hardships, and they freeze in winter for lack of heat.

Who are these people: THEY ARE THE FIRST TRUE AMERICANS, THE AMERICAN INDIAN. The ones that have been crucified, starved, beaten and pushed back to the desolate lands of the desert and other poor spots in the country. I have traveled throughout the west and have seen how the poor Indians have to live.

There is a difference in living on a reservation where you are forced to live. And living in ghettos, where living comes by heritage of being born in squalor down from generation to generation of people that are too onery to wash their faces, much less get a job to earn a living.

I have been sending small contributions to Indian schools and foundations, every year about this time, to add my little bit of cheer to those who need help during the holiday season especially—to THE SOUTHWEST INDIAN FOUNDATION, GALLUP, NEW MEXICO; THE SAINT LABRE INDIAN SCHOOL, ASHLAND, MONTANA; THE ZUNI INDIAN SCHOOL, GALLUP, NEW MEXICO; NATIONAL FEDERATION OF THE BLIND, SAINT LOUIS, MISSOURI; HOPE SCHOOL, SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS.

I know there are many other schools that need help, as well as the Indians in general need help. We are treating them as if they were a lost race.

I wonder how many of our churches send help to them?

I wonder how many well-to-do people over the country ever think of helping them?

I wonder how many of us are like hogs, eating all day under the oak tree and never looking up to see where the acorns are coming from, meanwhile disregarding any and all others we root out of the way. Many times most of us just gorge down the good eats and are never thankful for it, or where it comes from.

Construction Co. Sues Road Dept.

The Adams Construction Company, one of the top road contractors in the state, has sued the Kentucky Department of Highways for $30,000 damages allegedly caused by the state's proposal to take for new US 23 Adams' "blacktop" plant at Harold.

The plaintiff claims that the department's proposal to take the plant, site and equipment amounts "to the taking of plaintiff's property without just or any compensation" and is in violation of both the state and federal constitutions.

The site for the Adams plant was leased from Mrs. Della Stumbo, of Harold, for a period of 10 years from 1966, with an option to renew the lease for five years.

them. In her original statement she said her brother-in-law placed the muzzle of the revolver near his wife's temple on four occasions, threatening to kill her, and that the shot was fired the fourth time this was done.

Detective Potter testified only as to the wound and the fact that a sizeable area around the wound was powder-burned.

An Ashland man named Whittaker testified he was passing the scene of the shooting and saw a man pointing a revolver at a woman. He said he was driving at a rate of 35-40 miles an hour and could not identify Shepherd as the man.

Juanita Shepherd said neither she nor Olin Shepherd's wife were alarmed by his manipulations of the revolver, adding that the victim did not ask him to desist or to go away.

Immediately after the woman was wounded, Shepherd placed her in his auto and hurried her to the hospital here. She was dead on arrival.

Shepherd will remain under bond till the grand jury convenes next month.

A LOOK AT AN OLDTIMER

At hand is the 1971 Old Farmer's Almanac, a publication that is not only respected but is somewhat venerable, being in its 179th year of interrupted publication. It came just as I was finishing a cursory perusal of the 1970 edition. (Incidentally, that's the way to read an almanac. Wait till the end of the year, then you can look back and find every miscue they made in predicting the weather. If you read it at the beginning of the year, and lean heavily on its prognostications, you could set yourself up for a flock of disappointments.)

There's a wealth of information and entertainment in the OFA—poetry by William Cullen Bryant; a portrait of a dreamy-eyed young man named Rubens Peale, holding the first geranium to bloom in the USA (that was in 1801, I learn); "The Courtship of Artemis Ward," all about the Charleston, S. C. earthquake (1886); Cape Cod recipes, anecdotes, puzzles, pleasantries, and so on.

I was particularly interested in OFA's review of its success in predicting the weather, the year before. It kept score and reported that its Old Abe was 68 per cent correct in his weather forecasts for the South that year, and was, over all, 62 per cent of the time correct. Which, I maintain, leaves the U. S. Weather Bureau hanging around somewhere back there in the vicinity of the post.

The OFA forecaster, for example, predicted that the first two days of December (this year, not last) would be clear in our region, and, as I recall, that was what you might say right on the nose. Especially so when you consider that this guess was made some 15 to 18 months earlier.

But I must admit that OFA failed miserably in one department. In its column, "Best Fishing Days of 1970," it listed Dec. 4 as one of the very best. That I will not buy. I went fishing. I know.

But Old Abe may have a perfect alibi. Likely as not, he wasn't thinking about Dewey Lake when he hauled off and got himself out on that limb.

Physicians of London. In his "spare time," Dr. Fletcher has published a book on heart disease and has had many papers in British heart journals.

A practicing physician since 1939, the genial Irishman has had experiences which ranged far beyond the theatre of medicine. He spent six years in the British army and was at a place called Dunkirk in World War II when his countrymen staged an unbelievably heroic evacuation of British troops. Later, he was in London during the German blitz. From there his service extended on to India.

Dr. Fletcher was joined in Lexington last September by his wife, who accompanied him here. Both expressed their delight with Eastern Kentucky's mountains, the fine highway between Prestonsburg and Lexington and the scenery which, they said, reminded them so much of Ireland's.

"Our stay in Kentucky has been so pleasant, and the people so friendly," Mrs. Fletcher said. But both husband and wife admitted to one disappointing feature found here too often.

The clutter. "People are so careless. . . Such beauty should be preserved."

Dr. Fletcher suggested education might be a partial solution to the problem. Asked if stiff penalties might not help, he agreed such action did help—indeed, had helped in Ireland, where litterbugs feel the heavy hand of the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Warfield, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., were week-end guests of her parents, Judge and Mrs. Hollie Conley.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wilson and Lisa spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hayes in Baltimore, Md.

Muddy, Tired Grid All-Stars In Annual Tilt

Full of Thanksgiving turkey and derring-do, football players, past and present, had at it in the Turkey Bowl at Archer Park. The West all-stars defeated the East, 25-0. The players cavorted without benefit of shoulder-pads, helmets or any protective gear.

EDUCATION—Governor Nunn advised the State Council on Higher Education to concentrate on improving academic quality rather than quantity. It probably will be April before the National Education Assn. decides whether to undertake penalties against Kentucky. No penalties will be recommended, an Assembly member predicted.

New Law Won't Affect All Farm Assessments

The new law to take effect Jan. 1, designed to correct over-assessment of agricultural land, will not give a tax break to all farmers, State Revenue Commissioner James Lockett predicted.

Farmland located "in a general farming area" probably will not be affected, Lockett said. Taxes may be lowered for farms directly affected by urban or commercial influences, he told the Kentucky Farm Bureau.

To qualify for agricultural valuation, property generally must be at least 10 acres, in farming use for five years and producing at least $1000 annually for two years.

Selective Service Boards Here Say Some Less Draft Vulnerable

Local Selective Service boards have been instructed to reopen promptly and consider for reclassification any registrant who requests, in writing, that his current deferment be canceled.

"Our instructions are that a young man wishing to drop his deferment should be permitted to do so at any time, regardless of whether he continues to meet the conditions for which his deferment was granted," Mrs. Martha H. Johnson, executive secretary of Local Board No. 166 here, said.

"The uncertainty and anxieties that young men of this county who hold high numbers in the 1969 'draft lottery' (1944 through 1950) to their vulnerability to the 'draft' have lessened by the new instructions," she added.

Should a young man hold a number higher than that reached by his local board it is to his advantage to give up his deferment for a I-A classification. It now appears that No. 170 will be the highest number reached by either of the two Local Boards.

Any man who is currently classified in one of the following classes—I-S (Student), II-A (occupational, including apprentices), II-C (agricultural), II-S (college student), or III-A (paternity or hardship)—whose random sequence number has not or will not be reached by his own local board, is eligible to drop his deferment. The draft boards cautioned that the written request for withdrawal of deferment must be made soon in order that the boards can promptly reopen and reconsider for reclassification.

A young man who voluntarily gives up his deferment for a I-A classification will join other members of the 1970 first priority group with unreached numbers in a lower draft priority on January 1, 1971. The new instructions do not apply to those men born in 1951.

Executive Secretary Mrs. Johnson had a word of advice for any man that wanted his deferment continued. "All deferments are issued for limited periods of time. Generally for one year, and it is the responsibility of the registrant to submit proof for an extension of his deferment. The local board will reopen and reclassify any registrant whose current deferment is expiring and whose file does not contain current information for consideration of further deferment," the local board executive secretary said.

"Our purpose is to achieve fairness to all registrants in determining their priority selection on January 1 and we shall be glad to counsel with any young man during official office hours. Local Boards, Nos. 250 and 166 are open, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.," she said.

Registrants who are in doubt should go immediately to their local boards and discuss their liability with the secretary. She will gladly give any information she has available in order to help a registrant make his decision.

25 years of hard labor for $1780.*

This year, everybody's introducing a new "Volkswagen-sized" economy car.

So not to be outdone, we've done the same. Except, of course, we didn't have to start from scratch.

For years, while everybody else has been jumping from model to model and worrying about looks, we've stuck with our original and improved the way it works.

And so today, while ours may not look like the newest economy car, it's the most developed.

It's the only one with a sealed steel bottom. To protect its insides against just about everything outside.

The only one with an air-cooled magnesium-alloy engine. To eliminate boiling over and freezing up.

And the only one with a free electronic diagnostic system. To spot problems early and actually help extend its life.

Best of all, even with all this, our new economy car costs only $1780

So compared to all the others, even if it doesn't look the newest, maybe now it looks the best.

* Suggested retail price P.O.E., local tax, freight and delivery charge, if any, additional.

Discovering a World of Hope

By HELEN PRICE STACY

WEST LIBERTY, KY.—At a meeting a few evenings ago, I was allowed to hold little Rhonda McKenzie, of West Liberty, while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McKenzie, were presented two checks totaling $1675, the first disbursement of the Rhonda McKenzie fund.

Rhonda waved her arms, jumped around on my lap and made childish sounds that tinkled like tiny bells. She is 16 months old, with a shock of dark hair, exquisite hands and soft skin. She has one clubfoot, man-made slits for eyes and a man-made opening for a nose, beneath which is an almost perfectly formed, beautiful mouth. Just holding her made you love this small bundle of girl that might some day have a face normal enough and lovely enough to meet her world.

Last April 30, in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., Dr. Milton Edgerton and a team of skilled surgeons performed the first of five operations on Rhonda to begin reconstructing facial features. She then was nine months old and the youngest patient in medical records to undergo such surgery and survive.

"Her age represents something of a breakthrough for medicine," said Edgerton, pioneering specialist in rebuilding facial features for children.

Mrs. Bonnie Lewis McKenzie, 26, attractive mother of Rhonda and another daughter, Robin, who soon will be nine and an excellent student at West Liberty elementary school, can be credited for the beginning of a long, heart-breaking program that hopefully will provide normal facial features for her daughter as well as correctional surgery for her feet.

When Rhonda was born with severe abnormalities, the young mother was not content to leave the child as was and shut her away forever from the world.

"I had just about given up hope of ever being able to help Rhonda," said the mother. "I had tried to think of ways—any way that would allow her to grow up like other children; if not like other children, at least more normal. I was about to despair when, glancing down at a daily paper, I saw an article about a little girl in Tennessee. I read it through. Debbie Fox had been born with much the same lack of a face as had Rhonda. I immediately wrote Mrs. Edward Fox, of Soddy, Tenn. and asked for names of doctors and people who might help Rhonda."

That was how the McKenzies learned about Dr. Edgerton. Arrangements were made for an examination and the subsequent surgery that required more than 10 hours. Rhonda is one in about 1,800,000 children to be born without a nose, with eyes set so far on the sides of her head that she could not possibly focus them, with one clubfoot and too many toes on her feet. Muscles to control eye movement were defective. The surgical team went into the skull for bone grafts, skin grafts and other critical rearranging of tissue and bone related to eyes and brain. The grafts allowed Rhonda's eyes to be reset in a more normal position and also shaped her face. A tooth bud was removed near the eye location and using forehead skin, surgeons built nose passages.

Rhonda will return to Johns Hopkins for surgery scheduled Dec. 1.

This second surgical effort will build the bottom portion of a nose over the opening made last April. (Bridge for the nose will be done later.) On Dec. 1, surgeons also will attach eyelids to Rhonda's eyes so she can open them.

As I held her, I knew why she tried to throw her head back; it was her determined effort to get her eyes back so by peering beneath the lidless skin she could see what was going on around her in a strange room.

The room was the REA building in West Liberty where officers and advisory board of the Rhonda McKenzie fund could review progress on a goal of $10,000 needed to help finance family expense during the trips to Baltimore. Though Dr. Edgerton, Dr. Edward Dalton, Dr. David Knox, Dr. George Udvardy, Dr. Ed Laws and Dr. Hugh Robinson and their associates performed their work without charge, there are many other expenses, including travel costs to the parents and days missed from work (McKenzie is assistant manager of a West Liberty grocery) that have to be considered.

Townsppeople, knowing the hardships of the next few years for Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie, and admiring their courage and efforts to help their young daughter, got together and set up the Rhonda McKenzie Fund, west Liberty, Ky. 41472. They set the $10,000 goal and to date $3100 has been contributed to the fund, making it possible to present the parents a check to help cover expenses of last April's operation and also a check to help cover expenses of the Dec. 1 surgery.

The executive committee is made up of Mrs. Garry Elam, chairman; Stephen Bliffin, vice chairman; Mrs. Boyd Blair, secretary and Mrs. Clay Walton, treasurer. Members of the advisory board are Ray Mitchell, chairman, Judge Gene Allen, Mayor Charles Black, Miss Naomi Finch, Miss Marry Ann Foudray, Bert Holbrook, Earl Kinner Jr., Dr. Alec Spencer, James R. Perry, Mrs. H. B. Murray and Helen Price Stacy.

Contributions to the fund are welcomed.

not only for young Rhonda McKenzie but as hope to all parents and especially to all babies who like Rhonda are born with seemingly hopeless abnormalities.

I can sincerely say that while holding Rhonda she was not "unpretty" in any sense. She was soft hair and skin, perfect hands, a sweet mouth and bell-like voice. She truly was beautiful. . . maybe in a sense, I was seeing her as she will look 10 years from now and eager to show her new and pretty face to the world of school, church and community.

Happier holidays may await 84 Kentucky workers who will get some unexpected help with their Christmas shopping if their names appear on a list just released by the Wage and Hour Division's regional office, Nashville, Tennessee.

The structure is being erected at a cost of approximately $30,000 and will afford fire protection to the southern part of Prestonsburg and result in lowered insurance rates. One fire truck and a fulltime fireman will be assigned to the station. Twelve volunteer firemen from the Lancer-Goble Roberts Addition area will be sought to staff the station.

Pollution and the Weather Form Strange Alliance

By MARVA GAY

FRANKFORT, KY.—Winter brings the windows down and air pollution complaints go down along with them.

According to David Gravely, chief of field operations of the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission (KAPCC), during the winter, people close their windows—they don't see or smell the pollution. Add to that the winter closings of some companies and of the asphalt and rock operations, and decline in the complaint department results.

Most complaints involve visible particulate dust and smell. However, Gravely said the staff has to initiate its own investigations because much air pollution remains colorless, odorless and deadly. Hydrogen cyanide from metal treatment is one.

During the past month, the five investigators have initiated more investigations than complaints received.

Gravely said ignorance is the main problem in handling complaints. "Unless the complainants see it turned off, they will complain we haven't done anything. If only ten per cent of the pollution shows and that part remains to be seen, the complaint remains."

The slowness of the corrective process also can present problems. Gravely said, contrary to popular opinion, do not write your congressman. "Complaints should

Only First National offers a choice of 3 GOLDEN PASSBOOKS

Just to create interest

Wouldn't you know that the House of Savings would be first to offer two more plans to make savings create more interest than ever? Now, in addition to our 5 percent, 90-day Golden Passbook Plan, we invite you to try our 5½ percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan and our 5¾ percent 2-year Golden Passbook Plan. We think you'll find them all very "interest"-ing.

All three plans offer guaranteed interest rates, and interest is compounded daily and paid or credited quarterly with each. Any of the three may be opened with a $100 minimum deposit, and additional deposits of $100 or more may be made at any time.

Here's the interesting difference

With our new 5¾ percent, 2-year Golden Passbook Plan, your funds remain on deposit for a minimum of two years, with an effective yield of 5.92 percent per annum.

Our new 5½ percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan has an effective yield of 5.65 percent per annum, and your funds must remain on deposit only one year.

And our famous 5 percent Golden Passbook Plan makes your funds available four times a year — during the first ten days of January, April, July, and October — or anytime 90 days after a written notice is received by the bank. 5 percent Golden Passbook has an effective yield of 5.13 percent per annum.

First National offers
5¾% Golden Passbook
& two others, too!

When you open your Golden Passbook Account, just tell us which of the three plans you prefer. Of course, your choice should be based on the length of time you can allow your funds to remain on deposit.

Just remember, now you can choose a First National Golden Passbook Saving Plan at 5 percent, 5½ percent or 5¾ percent interest rates. Or choose all three.

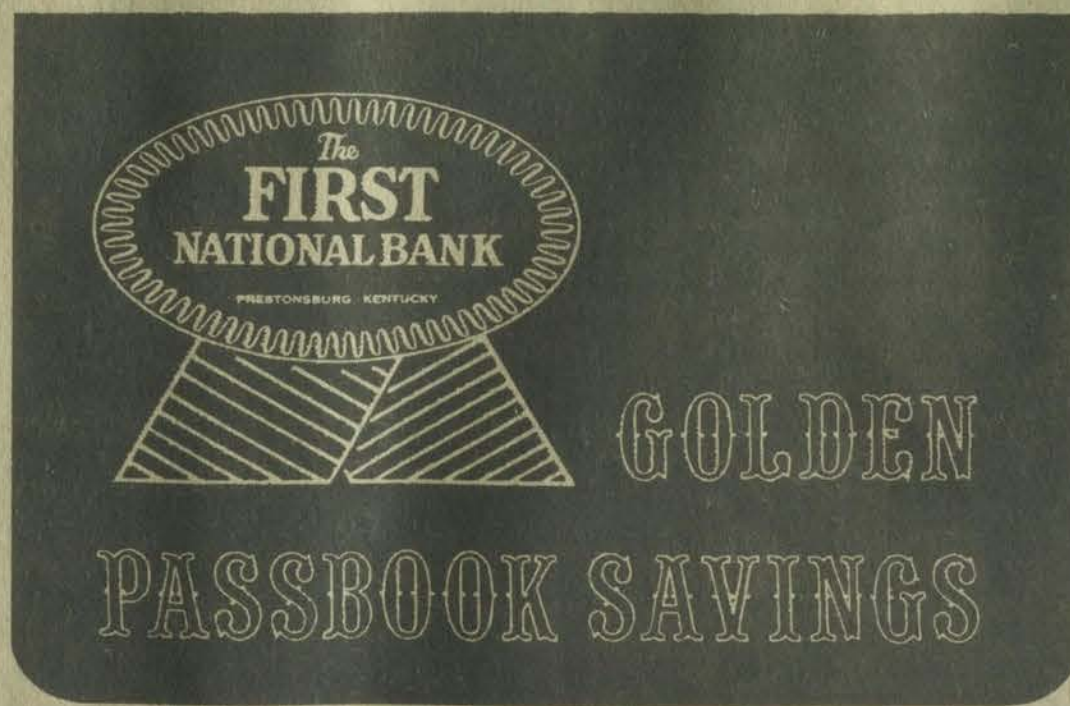

Isn't that an interesting choice?
