

Combs Draws 6-Year Term For Slaying

Heavy Rum Docket Claims Attention Of Circuit Court

The murder docket of the Floyd circuit court was disposed of for the current term last Wednesday when Reecie J. Combs, of Knott county, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the slaying on Rock Fork Creek, near Garrett, of Claude Conley. His pen term was set at six years.

Two other murder cases have been continued. Whirley Hall, who entered a plea of guilty earlier in the term to voluntary manslaughter for the shotgun slaying of Guy Bates on Jack's Creek, began serving his eight-year pen term Monday.

Although the more dramatic trials involving homicide are out of the way for the term, a full docket remains, and Tuesday no less than 18 whiskey cases were slated for trial. Two more are docketed for hearing Thursday. Of the 20 defendants, three are charged with third-offense violations which could upon conviction result in one-to-five-year pen terms.

Two liquor defendants, Deputy Sheriff Dester Hamilton and Jim Hall, were given trial in absentia last Wednesday, and each was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

In the Combs murder trial the defendant pleaded self-defense, claiming Conley fired on him first. His wife testified a revolver shot as well as one from a shotgun was fired.

The wife of the victim testified that Conley came down the road with a shotgun, approaching her home, and that she yelled, "Don't do that!" when he pointed the gun. She said he killed the family dog and her husband. She also said her husband got his revolver out after he was shot but did not fire it.

Knott county officers did not pick up the revolver and it was not available for the trial. (See Story No. 1, Page 12)

Three Accused Here As Shoplifters Hit By Fines of $50 Each

Three persons arrested here within the week on shoplifting charges have drawn fines of $50 each and have been given suspended 30-day jail terms. Their cases were heard in police court.

The three accused are Gertrude Wallen, of West Prestonsburg, charged Friday with shoplifting at Maloney's; Greg Kidd and Larry Addis, of Drift, shoplifting Monday at the Sundry Store.

Two charged with drunk driving—Raymond Gerald Dawson and Anna Blair Grim—were fined $100 each. Loss of driver's license is automatic in this court upon conviction.

Deputy Sheriff Irvin Salisbury recently won an acquittal in police court of a drunk driving charge. Police Judge Earl Blackburn said his refusal to take a "breathalyzer" test will cost him his driver's license, however.

Margaret Luxmore, Floyd county freshman at Morehead State University, studies as she strolls across the MSU campus. Why?—final exams began last Monday.

This is the scene, these days, at Jenny Wiley Boat Dock, which was alive with activity only a few weeks ago. Drawdown of Dewey Lake by five feet for the season leaves shoreline bare and uninviting.

Court Suit May Test Policeman's Ouster

Bob Hackworth, Martin night policeman who was dismissed by the city council there Nov. 23, has retained an attorney in anticipation of a possible court fight to retain his post.

Meanwhile, the dismissal action has been under fire from a large number of citizens, more than 150 of whom signed a petition protesting the council action. During most of last week pickets bearing placards directed at Mayor E. P. Grigsby and council members paraded sidewalks of the town.

Hackworth claims he was dismissed without cause and that none was stated by the council. He had been working as night officer more than four months, Martin business men paying his salary.

Mayor Grigsby said arrests tripled during the time Hackworth served as an officer and that the policeman had given the town "a bad name." Chief of Police A. J. Reed, who said he stands "100 per cent" behind Hackworth, described him as "a fine officer" and pointed out that the law provides due cause must be established for the dismissal of a police officer.

The deposed officer said Tuesday that Jarvis Allen, Prestonsburg attorney who has been employed to represent him, has asked the Martin city council for a copy of its minutes for the meeting at which the dismissal vote was taken. He added that circuit court action is expected within the next week.

Santa Makes Last Call Here Saturday, 12 to 3

Even Santa seems to be caught up in the last minute hurly-burly of the holiday season for Saturday marks the last appearance of the jolly old gent at the city parking lot here. Ho, ho, ho, and a Merry Christmas to you!

Reed said the break between council and Hackworth had developed over a period of time. He said some council members had reported to him that they received complaints about Hackworth's work. But Reed said he had not found Hackworth unreasonable in his actions as an officer and, on the contrary, had been efficient and entirely satisfactory.

Both officers indicated the dismissal order may have resulted from the arrest by Hackworth of the son of a member of the council and also the arrest of a railway employee, a friend of a councilman—both for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Hackworth presently serves as superintendent of the Martin municipal water system.

High Court Frowns On Two-Judge Plan

The possibility of a double session of circuit court here in February to expedite the hearing of upwards of 100 right-of-way cases became remote this week as members of the Court of Appeals pointed out that Floyd county as a one-judge judicial district may not have two judges presiding over the court at the same time.

The request for a second judge was made as a heavy backlog of civil cases in addition

Eight Truckdrivers Fined Total of $740 By Quarterly Court

Eight truckdrivers cited in the Garrett vicinity by Eugene Mullins, of the Department of Motor Transportation, were fined a total of $740 in Floyd quarterly court here last Friday.

Six of the truckers, each of whom was fined $114, were charged with overweight loads of gravel on the five-ton-limit bridge across Beaver Creek to Rock Fork at Garrett. Their names and loads listed against them follow:

Randolph Sword, 55,000 pounds; Thomas Dale Rogers, 67,500 pounds; James A. Thomas, 67,400; Charles Sexton, 45,900; Luther Combs, 55,500; Allen Martin, 55,500.

The other drivers, Maynard Harmon and Gerald Elam, were fined $28 each on citations for having coal hanging over the beds of their trucks.

68 Are Listed For Jury Duty At Next Term

Names of 68 residents of the county have been drawn from the jury drum to provide a grand jury and petit juries for the circuit court term which will convene here Jan. 4.

The grand jury will have only one murder case to investigate. This is the slaying of Mrs. Olin Shepherd on Middle Creek. Two other murder cases continued from the current term will be docketed for trial during the January session.

Names and addresses of prospective jurors follow:

State Troopers In Raids Friday Make 2 Arrests

State police staged two liquor raids in the county last Friday, and two men were arrested and booked at the county jail on possession charges.

Orville Tom Hall, of Mud Creek, was booked after State Troopers Gary Rose and Leeman Bevins had confiscated four cases of beer.

A third-offense possession charge was lodged against William Riley Wells, of the Auxier road, who was raided the same day by Sgt. Ross and Troopers Bevins and Phillip A. Tucker. The officers confiscated only a half-pint of whiskey. This, they said, was in Wells' possession when they approached but was thrown over a nearby bank, then recovered by the troopers.

A raid Saturday by Deputy Sheriffs Orville Nelson and Gray Skeans on Middle Creek netted four cases of beer and half a case of whiskey, but the intoxicants were not found in any building or vehicle and nobody was charged.

Other arrests included these:

Harold J. Howard, charged with drunk driving, by State Trooper Tucker; Anna B. Grim, drunk driving, by Policemen Thornsbury, Blackburn and Nelson; Raymond Gerald Dawson, drunk driving, by State Trooper Elmo B. Allen; Brenda Hall, obtaining groceries under false pretense, by Trooper Rose; Lum Mitchell, (See Story No. 4, Page 12)

Appellate Court Okehs Arguments In Hall's Appeal

Attorneys have been notified that the Court of Appeals will hear oral arguments Jan. 16 on the appeal of Bob Hall from the eight-year pen term imposed on him upon conviction in the Floyd circuit court of the slaying of his step-mother, Willo Dean Hall, at Allen.

The court earlier dismissed Hall's appeal.

Hall's trial for the slaying of his father, Edgar H. Hall, has been continued till the January circuit court term after his attorneys had represented that his illness had prevented proper preparation of his defense.

Action To Move From W'wright Is Challenged

Action taken by the board of directors of the multi-million-dollar Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program to relocate its central office could develop into a court battle, County Judge Henry Stumbo said here last Friday.

The board at its Dec. 8 meeting voted to move its central office from Wheelwright to Martin, seeking, it was said, a more central location for administration of the county-wide program. In turn, the Martin outpost is to be moved to Wheelwright, if the plans of the board are not thwarted.

The proposed changes immediately met opposition. Gordon Brown, president of the Mountain Investment Corp., which owns the town of Wheelwright and the building leased there to the health program, was incensed by the board action and is expected to defend his contract with the fiscal court which is providing central office quarters for the program.

Paul R. Gearheart, president of the Harold Telephone Company, which serves Wheelwright, filed a statement pointing out that his company had spent more than $3000 to install special equipment at the central office, "at the insistence and request" of the health program. He indicated he will seek reimbursement if the office is moved.

And the fiscal court, though taking no official action at its Friday meeting, is concerned about its role in the matter. Judge Stumbo and others say the court's advertisement for bids on supplying office space stated that the space was for the central office of the health program and that they fear the proposed change to Martin would be in violation of this advertisement.

Judge Stumbo recommended to the court that it take no official action until the return to his office of County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill, who is convalescing after surgery.

"I am going to be frank with you, 'he added. 'I think the board made a mistake." (See Story No. 2, Page 12)

Huddleston, Kin Awaiting Action On Extradition

A former Floyd county man, his daughter and son-in-law are among those awaiting extradition hearings after having been named in murder charges in connection with the slayings a year ago of Joseph A. Yablonski, his wife and daughter.

Silous Huddleston, of LaFollette, Tenn., formerly a resident of Weeksburg, is awaiting action by Gov. James A. Rhodes, of Ohio, on his extradition proceedings. His daughter, Mrs. Annette Gilley, was scheduled for an extradition hearing Tuesday, and her husband, Paul Gilley, has an appeal from extradition pending.

Another, Aubran Martin, also has an appeal pending. The fifth accused in the triple slaying, Claude E. Vealey, was the first to be extradited. He was turned over to Washington county, Pa. officers last week after the U. S. 8th District Court of Appeals at Cleveland had dismissed his appeal.

The five at one time were under $250,000 bond after their indictment by a federal grand jury at Cleveland. Mr. and Mrs. Yablonski and their daughter were found shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa. home. All the defendants have denied guilt.

Floyd System Begins Program To Cut School Dropout Rate

Prestonsburg high school has joined McDowell high, Osborne and Clark elementary by adding a new "Special Needs Program" to its curriculum.

Team-teaching had its beginning in McDowell high and last school year special education classes were begun at Clark and Osborne.

Statistics revealed 264 ninth grade students entered Prestonsburg high in 1965 and only 168, or 63 per cent, graduated in 1969. Even though the dropout percentage is about the national average, Superintendent Charles Clark initiated a study concerning the 96 students who failed to graduate.

The results indicated that possibly a special vocational education program, with emphasis on work-training values, could be one of the solutions.

With this in mind, Mr. Clark approached the Vocational Educational Division of the State Department of Education for permission and funds for a new program of this nature. Approval for 60 students for the 1970-71 school year was granted.

Bobby Wells, a 10-year teaching veteran, was chosen as the instructor, and four special vocation classes (15 students per class) were opened to Prestonsburg high school students who have encountered previous school problems, had a history of poor attendance, previous drop-outs or had formulated a general dislike for school.

The student's basic instruction deals with his world of work and not necessarily with college preparation. Classes are informal, with no written tests, and each student is given the opportunity to discuss his other school activities with the instructor. Credit is determined by the individual student's attitude toward his vocation work.

To familiarize the student's work area in and around Prestonsburg, frequent field trips are arranged for the classes. They observe, first hand, what is required of labor on the job and are given a wide selection range from which to choose a vocational opportunity for themselves.

All available occupational information concerning a wide variety of jobs is presented to the students for their class discussions, and each student is assigned research on his occupational choice for a six-week period.

McDowell Homecoming Slated

The McDowell homecoming game with Garrett will be played Monday, December 21 at 8 p.m., at McDowell instead of on December 22 as originally scheduled, according to Coach Pete Grigsby. The Homecoming Queen will be crowned and her court presented at half-time ceremonies.

The student view workers on the job at various intervals before fully deciding what his own personal life vocational might become.

Students are also enrolled in various related classes and many of them are already engaged in after-school work programs in their chosen fields.

The 1971-72 second year of this program will concentrate more on the specific vocational area chosen by the particular student. For example, a girl who wished to be employed in a restaurant would also spend time in business education and home economics. She would become acquainted with common business practices and learn to use machines which would be needed in a restaurant. In home economics, she would be trained in manners, grooming, preparation of food and the service of food. A portion of each day would be used for study, guidance and individual counseling.

"Although we are only in the fourth month of this new, innovative program we feel we are taking steps in the right direction to keep all of our young people in Floyd county in school until they can learn an acceptable vocation which will lead them to becoming good wage-earners and valuable members of our society," Mr. Clark said.

Higher Phone Rates New Year Possibility

The unpleasant possibility exists that subscribers here and elsewhere in Kentucky of the South Central Bell Telephone Company may face with the beginning of the new year a rate increase averaging 15 per cent.

The rate hike can become effective Jan. 1, even though the Public Service Commission does not make a ruling by that date on the company's application for the increase. If the higher rates are put into effect then, the company would be required to refund customers if its rate request is later denied.

At the conclusion of testimony in the case, Harold Kelley, Public Service Commission chairman, said, "We tried in the beginning to give them (a decision) by the end of the year, but I don't know if we can by Jan. 1. That's the day they can put the rates into effect if we don't have our ruling out."

"I just don't know how soon the staff can digest all the things we need out of this thing, because it's voluminous," Kelley explained.

A telephone company spokesman said later, "If there was an undue delay, we would probably put the rates into effect. However, up to now, we have been led to believe the commission was going to make every effort to meet the Jan. 1 date."

Although testimony ended last week, Asst. Atty. Gen. Laura Murrell asked more time to submit a closing argument in writing. Kelley set Friday of this week as the deadline for all written summations.

The higher local-service rates sought by South Central Bell would cost the 531,000 Kentucky telephone users an additional $14.8 million a year, an average 15 per cent increase in intrastate charges. After taxes, the company would realize $7.3 million of this in added revenue.

The $14.8 million does not include new revenue that would come from future "regrouping" or telephone exchanges due to population growth.

Attendance Drive
At Lancer Chapel
Held Successful

Lancer Baptist Chapel had a five-week Sunday School attendance drive from November 8 through December 6 with an average attendance of 110 per Sunday and a record attendance of 150 on November 22. The Sunday School had as its theme, "Victory For Jesus," and each week its goal was to reach its Sunday School enrollment of 80.

Pastor Larry O'Bryan said that the drive was successful because almost every member of the Sunday School joined with the pastor in working to get friends and neighbors to attend. The week before the drive started, the Sunday School attendance was 55 but grew to 89 on November 8, 108 on November 15, 150 on November 22, 107 on November 29 and 99 on December 6.

The regular Sunday School program was used each of the five Sundays. However, on November 22 the church had a special anti-Communist emphasis.

Fishtrap Design Wins Distinguished Award

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.—Fishtrap Lake, near Pikeville, Ky., was one of the five winning entries in the chief of Army Engineers' 1970 Distinguished Design Award Program in the engineering category.

The Huntington, W. Va., Engineer District designed and supervised construction of the project which was dedicated by President Lyndon B. Johnson October 26, 1968.

Fishtrap Dam is the highest dam in eastern Kentucky. Constructed of native rock with clay core, it is 195 feet high and 1,100 feet long. It is one of several projects located in the Big Sandy River basin which provide flood control, recreation and fish and wildlife benefits.

Senate Votes Study of Effect Of Strip-Mining on Waterways

The U. S. Senate has approved the authorization of the Army Corps of Engineers to study the effects of strip-mining operations on rivers, streams and corps reservoirs.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper proposed the provision. He said the current controversy over the proposed barging of coal on Lake Cumberland, a corps reservoir, had brought to mind the proximity of strip

N&W Places 'Rush' Order On Martin County Rail Line

The Norfolk and Western Railway Company has marked its 24-mile spur line to tap the Martin county coal field, "rush," and has moved its original January, 1972 completion date up, it was announced last week by E. Q. Johnson, the company's chief engineer.

The work will cost $22.4 million. The 24 miles of spur line, originating near Kermit, W. Va., will serve three large rail mines, and possibly a fourth, in a million-acre coalfield, estimated to contain 200 million tons of coal.

The third and final eight-mile section is scheduled for bidding in 30 days, with construction to start two weeks later, and completion in 190 days, Johnson said.

Codell Construction Co., of Winchester, has been awarded two contracts of approximately $2 million each for the first two sections. A tunnel project boring 1,700 feet through the mountain has been awarded in a joint contract, to Frederick Engineers, of Huntington, and the Mountain State Construction Co. of Charleston, W. Va. for $2 million.

PCC's Debate Team Defeats 3 from Ohio In Second Tourney

The Prestonsburg Community College debate team in its second debate tournament this year placed well by defeating teams from Concord College, Olderson-Broadus and Fairmont College, all located in Ohio.

The P. C. C. team also debated the teams from Wake Forest University and West Point Military Academy, the two schools which placed first and second respectively. The tournament was held at Morris-Harvey College, Charleston, W. Va.

Students comprising the P. C. C. debate team were Marvin Holbrook, Stefan Magura, Phillip Meek, and Randy Clark. Debate squad members observing the tournament from Prestonsburg were Stephanie Midkiff, George Preston Archer, Steve Tussey and Robert Tackett. Many of the members of the P. C. C. debate team are members of Phi Rho Pi, a national forensics honorary fraternity. Seventeen Colleges from Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina and New York participated.

Accompanying the students were their debate coach, Mrs. Laura Weddle, Leo Weddle, P. C. C. instructor of psychology, and their children, Lynn and Jeff.

Mr. Johnson said current contracts are involved in grade-drain and preparation work, which is in addition to the laying of track, to be undertaken as soon as the roadbed is completed.

The total investment, including rail lines and mines, is expected to reach approximately $80 million, to bring coal out of the county.

Pikeville Among All-Ky. Finalists, Acree Announces

John T. Acree, Jr., President of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, announced today that 23 Kentucky cities have been selected in district judging as final candidates for All-Kentucky City honors. The finalists will be judged December 7 and 8 at Stouffer's Louisville Inn by a panel comprised of out-of-state judges.

More than 80 cities entered the 1970 Opportunity for Progress program that is sponsored each year by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. The program terminates in selection of cities for All-Kentucky designation.

The cities selected by district judges for final statewide judging are the following: Cadiz, Campbellsville, Carlisle, Central City, Corbin, Dawson Springs, Elizabethtown, Georgetown, Greensburg, Jeffersontown, Leitchfield, London, Marion, Mayfield, Morganfield, Pikeville, Pineville, Richmond, Shelbyville, Somerset, Springfield, Wickliffe, and Winchester.

Acree, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Lincoln Income Life Insurance Company, Louisville, pointed out that for a city to achieve statewide judging, the community must have scored excellent in at least four of the 10 categories established in the rules of the program.

All-Kentucky City Awards will be announced January 12th at the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Community Development Awards Luncheon at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn appointed Bennett F. Bratcher, of Morgantown, as a member of the State Workmen's Compensation Board, succeeding William B. Hazelrigg, of Paintsville, who resigned.

Meade on Varsity At Charleston, S. C.

Sammy Meade, who attended McDowell high school for two years but transferred to McCreary County high, Stearns, Ky., is now playing basketball for the College of Charleston, in South Carolina.

Meade was awarded a four-year athletic scholarship and, although only a freshman, is playing varsity ball. The college has now played four games and Meade has averaged 22.5 points per game.

Pikeville's $2.064 Million Public Housing Plan Funded

PIKEVILLE, KY.—The U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved $2,064,432 to the Pikeville Housing Authority for the city's first low-rent public housing project.

Robert Johnson, director of the Pikeville urban renewal agency and housing authority, said the 100-unit turn-key project was approved as a part of the Model Cities program and will contain 41 units for the elderly. The two-section complex will be located on two sites on the U. S. 23 bypass, across the Big Sandy River and opposite downtown Pikeville.

A move for the project started more than a year ago with filing of an application and is in addition to a 50 unit Methodist Better Housing Corp. project, which is a rent subsidy plan financed by the Federal Housing Administration. Construction on the latter project is expected to begin soon. The low-rent housing project was designed by Pikeville architect Cliff Myers. Bids will be accepted from private builders at a date to be announced.

'Jenny Wiley' Slated For Summer Debut

The Jenny Wiley Drama Association has announced plans for the 1971 season of the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre. Tentative plans call for an extended performing week and the world premiere of a new musical based on the life of Jenny Wiley.

The world premiere of a new musical, "Jenny Wiley!" has been scheduled for August 5-22, pending approval of the script and score, which are currently in production. The musical is based on the life of Jenny Wiley, the young woman captured by Indians in 1787 and held prisoner for 11 months near the present Jenny Wiley State Park. The new musical version of the story follows here life from her marriage to her capture and dramatic escape.

"Oklahoma!" the first musical produced by the team of Rodgers and Hammerstein will open the season, June 24-July 11. One of the all-time great musicals, "Oklahoma!" opened in New York in 1943, where it became Broadway's longest running musical—a record it held for more than 15 years before being passed by "My Fair Lady" and this year by "Hello, Dolly!" The score includes a host of favorites including "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," "The Surrey with the Fringe on Top" and "People Will Say We're in Love." "The Sound of Music," Rodgers and Hammerstein's final work, will be presented July 15-August 1.

General manager of the theatre, C. Mitchell Douglas, returning for his fourth season, has announced performances running Thursdays through Sundays, adding an extra performance per week over previous seasons.

Season and patron tickets will be available, beginning December 1, and may be ordered by mailing a check or money order and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Jenny Wiley Drama Association, Box 22, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Season tickets are $6.50 for adults, $5.00 for students, and $2.50 for children under 12. Patron tickets are $35 each and carry unlimited admission for husband, wife, and minor children.

Senate Committee OK's Lake-Littering Penalties

Jail sentences up to six months and fines up to $500 are authorized, in a bill approved by the U. S. Senate Public Works Committee, for littering lakes or other reservoirs administered by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The provision was inserted in a waterways bill at the request of U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper, R-KY., who said such pollution has become a problem—particularly on Lake Cumberland.

"It's a disgrace that many camping and picnicking areas and the banks of many lakes are cluttered with trash," Cooper said.

POLICING—To get more State Police personnel into the front-line fight against crime, driving-license examinations gradually will be taken over by civilian employees.

"Petty Officer Jarrell's leadership, professional performance, and loyal devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service," the citation from the Secretary of the Navy stated.

Jarrell is the son of Mrs. Chester Lafferty, 518 Deicks Drive, Elizabethtown Ky. He attended Maytown high school. He has spent the past nine years in Japan and Vietnam.

Jarrell will teach radar at Great Lakes Naval Training Center for the next 30 months. He and his wife live in North Chicago, Ill.

Only First National offers a choice of 3 GOLDEN PASSBOOKS

Just to create interest

Wouldn't you know that the House of Savings would be first to offer two more plans to make savings create more interest than ever? Now, in addition to our 5 percent, 90-day Golden Passbook Plan, we invite you to try our 5½ percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan and our 5¾ percent 2-year Golden Passbook Plan. We think you'll find them all very "interest"-ing.

All three plans offer guaranteed interest rates, and interest is compounded daily and paid or credited quarterly with each. Any of the three may be opened with a $100 minimum deposit, and additional deposits of $100 or more may be made at any time.

Here's the interesting difference

With our new 5¾ percent, 2-year Golden Passbook Plan, your funds remain on deposit for a minimum of two years, with an effective yield of 5.92 percent per annum.

Our new 5½ percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan has an effective yield of 5.65 percent per annum, and your funds must remain on deposit only one year.

And our famous 5 percent Golden Passbook Plan makes your funds available four times a year — during the first ten days of January, April, July, and October — or anytime 90 days after a written notice is received by the bank. 5 percent Golden Passbook has an effective yield of 5.13 percent per annum.

First National offers 5¾% Golden Passbook & two others, too!

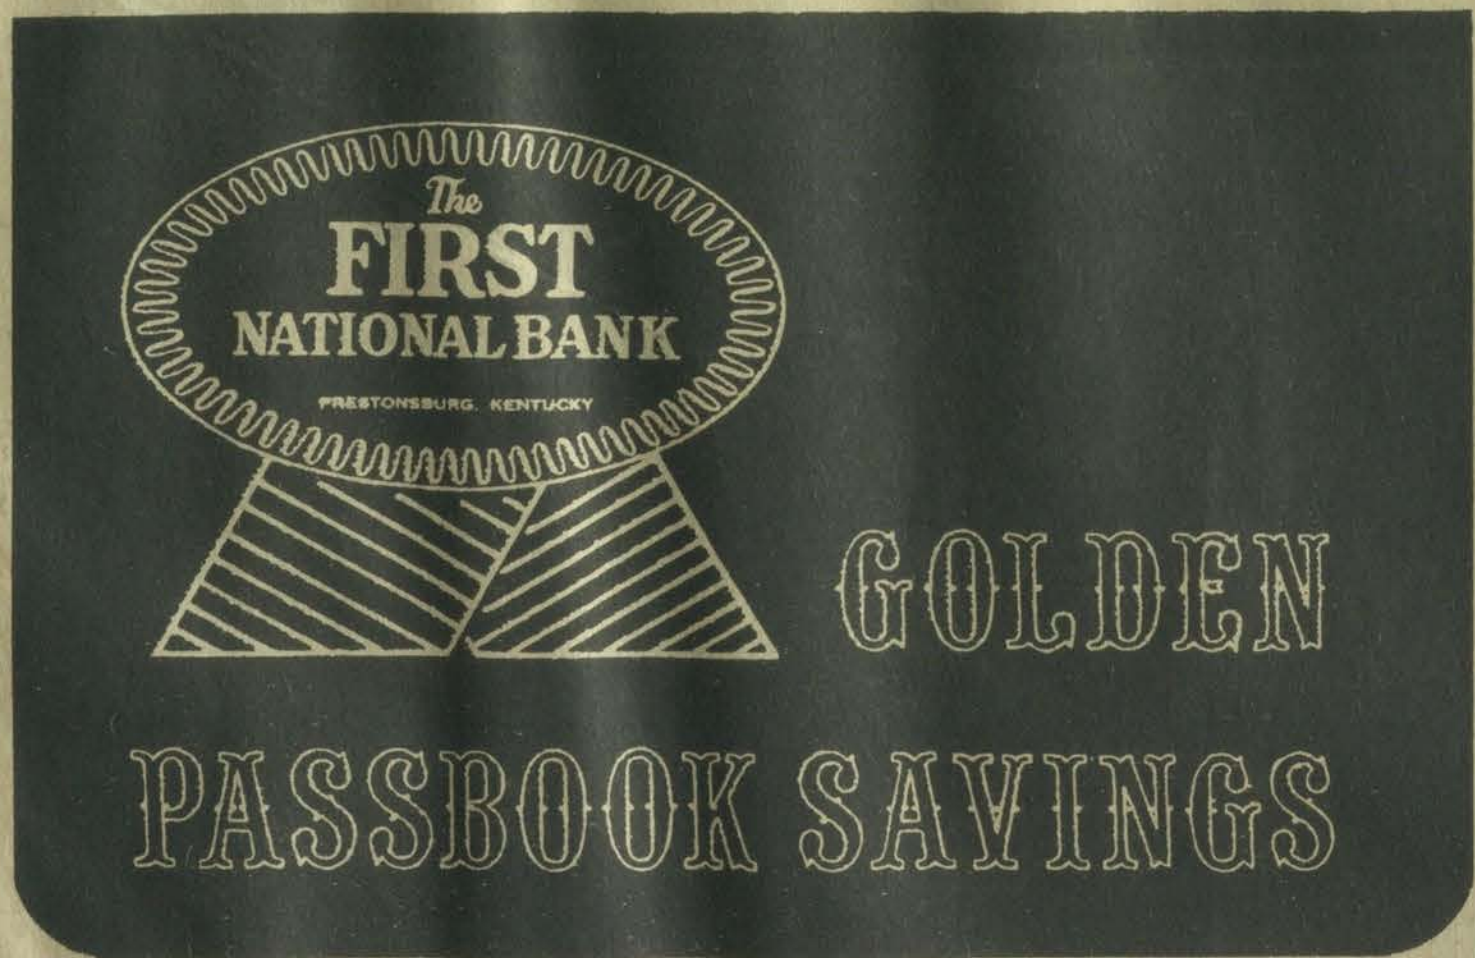

When you open your Golden Passbook Account, just tell us which of the three plans you prefer. Of course, your choice should be based on the length of time you can allow your funds to remain on deposit.

Just remember, now you can choose a First National Golden Passbook Saving Plan at 5 percent, 5½ percent or 5¾ percent interest rates. Or choose all three.

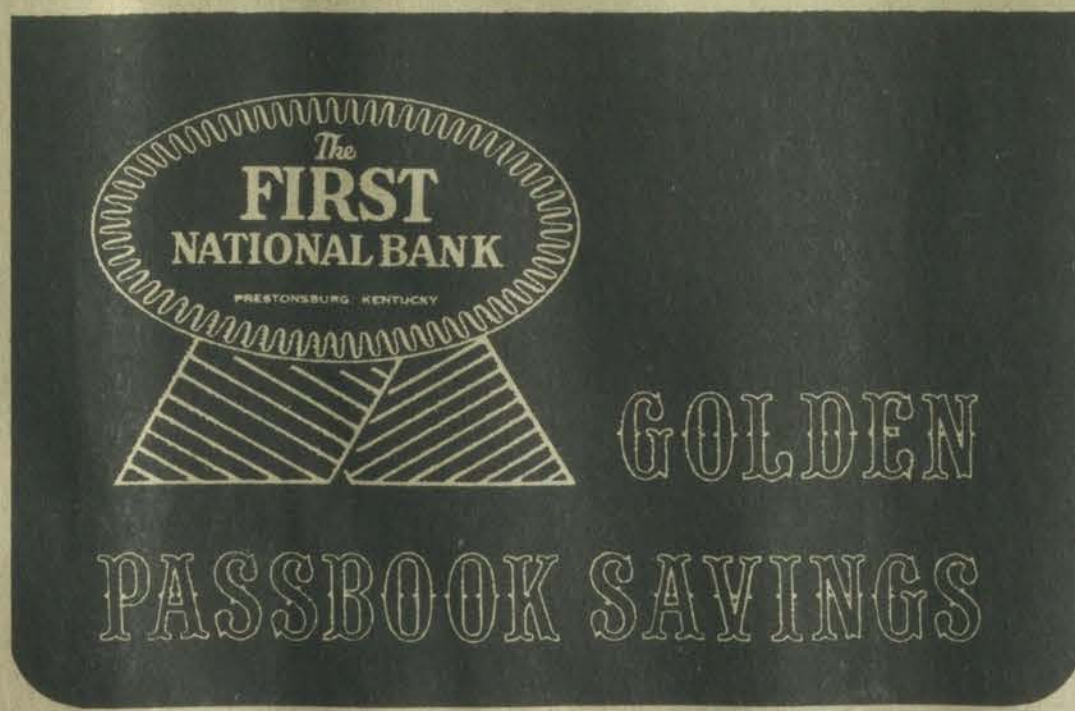

Isn't that an interesting choice?

Courthouse Offices To Close 3 Days

County officials and courthouse employees will enjoy two long holiday weekends in a row, County Judge Henry Stumbo said in announcing that courthouse offices will be closed Thursday, Friday and Saturday for both Christmas and New Year's.

Discussing the prospects of heavy holiday traffic ahead, Judge Stumbo cautioned drivers to take every precaution. "I think," he said, "it's still good advice, the much-used saying, 'If you drink, don't drive; if you drive, don't drink.'"

Workers Reject Union at Plant

Employees of the Prestonsburg Shoe Company (U. S. Shoe) turned down last Friday by a vote of 224 to 61 a move by the Boot and Shoe Workers Union (AFL-CIO) to organize the plant here.

The election, conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, followed a campaign by union representatives over a period of two months or more. Balloting by workers began at 10 a.m.

Joe Dimichele, plant manager, said the 285 votes cast in the election represented the present working force there.

An attempt was made last year by District 50, UMWA, to organize the plant, and NLRB ordered an election, but District 50 called off the vote before it could be held.

Road-Engineer Firm Immune In Fatal Crash

The Kentucky Court of Appeals has ruled that the Brighton Engineering Co., Frankfort, cannot be held liable for damages in an accident that killed a couple and their three children on the Blue Grass Parkway, Nelson county, in 1966.

The five persons were killed when a car struck a bridge pier. The lawsuit charged the road-consultant firm failed to recommend guardrails, but the court found the State Highway Department set the standards for the toll road.

story house, old and much-lived-in, stood in the mouth of a hollow over there in the distance, and the hills came down to make a dark V. I can't say there weren't other decorations. But all I saw—either high on the house or in a tree in the yard—was a lone star shining.

A MATTER OF LOCATION

Now, to get away from Christmas a bit, let me tell you about the blind man and his Seeing-Eye Dog. The man and dog stood at a street intersection, waiting for the light to change, and suddenly the dog yanked the man forward toward the whizzing stream of cars. A woman cried out his danger, and the man drew back. A moment later, with the situation unchanged, the dog yanked the man forward again, and again the terrified woman stopped him.

The man calmly felt in his pocket, drew out a piece of candy and reached down for the dog to take it.

"You mean to feed that monster candy after he has twice tried to get you killed?" the woman asked.

"No, lady," the blind man calmly replied. "I'm just finding out where the end of this dog is that I want to kick clear across this street."

Bars Attorney General From Coal-Haul Suit

The state attorney general cannot intervene in a suit over coal trucking on two mountain roads, the Johnson county circuit court has ruled.

The court upheld special permits issued by the State Highway Department that allows certain truckers to haul loads of up to 73,000 pounds, provided they pay for any damage to the roads.

Dr. Arnold Schechter, health program chief, told court members that the lease for the Wheelwright building mentioned only that it was to be used for office space and related purposes. He also said Mountain Investment Company had failed to comply with terms of the lease, in that two air-conditioners have been removed from the building and that on some days the temperature of the interior of the structure rose to 90 degrees. He also said the lighting had not been placed in good condition, and that breaker-switch manipulation was necessary to operate some of the lights.

He and Paul Stark, new administrator of the health program, told the court that the law firm of Combs and Combs had been retained and that it had written an opinion holding that the location change may be legally made.

In response to the question, "What's wrong with Wheelwright?" by Magistrate Eddie Caudill, Mr. Stark replied:

"There is nothing wrong with Wheelwright as a place, but it is not centrally located. . . A centrally located office would be in the public interest."

Dr. Schechter added: "We have been very happy with the people of Wheelwright, and it is a beautiful place. In fact, our new doctor is negotiating for a house in Wheelwright, to live there, although his work will be elsewhere."

It was pointed out that the Wheelwright building would continue to be used by the health program as an outpost. Dr. Schechter said the action taken by the board was all within the OEO and Big Sandy CAP guidelines.

Magistrate Bill Wells said he would have preferred that the central office remain in Prestonsburg but that the court was forced to advertise for the lowest rental on suitable quarters when Mayor Archer, of Prestonsburg, refused to join the county in supplying office space.

Accident-Reporting Changes Recommended

A legislative subcommittee has recommended passage by the 1972 General Assembly of a law requiring every policeman investigating a traffic accident to send a copy to the State Department of Public Safety.

A State Police official suggested that such a law could replace (or modify to a $200 damage level) the present statute which requires drivers to file reports when they are in an accident in which the damage is $100 or more.

The Kentucky Tobacco Research Board granted $750,000 to the Kentucky Tobacco and Health Research, at the University of Kentucky, and hired two Eastern scientists as consultants.

MAYTOWN NEWS

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

For several years, the Maytown Woman's Club has sponsored the community Christmas tree which is a beautiful sight to all passersby, and adds much to the holiday spirit. It is time to extend thanks to those persons who make it possible for the Woman's Club to continue this practice. First, to Mrs. Josephine Webb, of Garrett, who gives permission for the use of her property; to David Reed for the fresh pine tree each year and the extension cords used; to Boy Scout Troop 24 for getting the tree, setting it up and decorating it. This task was formerly done by Paul Miller and his FFA students. Since there are no Agriculture classes at the Maytown school this year, Roy May, Scoutmaster, and the Scouts volunteered for the job. Thanks to Roy May, also, for the bonfire. Thanks to Santa Claus who took time out of his busy schedule to take orders personally from the wee folks. A special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hopson who furnish the electrical hookup, pay for the electricity used and who see that the lights are turned on each evening at dusk. It is through the participation and cooperation of all townspeople in any community activity that makes Maytown one of the best communities in the nation in which to live.

Kentucky Coal Output Value Exceeds $1 Billion a Year

FRANKFORT, KY.—For the first time in Kentucky history, the annual output of the state's coal mines has passed the $1 billion mark. This year's record production probably will soar to the neighborhood of $1.25 billion next year, coal men believe. Last year Kentucky coal mines produced 108 million tons—60.5 million in Eastern Kentucky and 47.5 million in Western Kentucky. The State Department of Mines and Minerals reported that Muhlenberg county led in production, with 21.4 million tons, followed by Pike county with 21.3 million tons; Hopkins, 12 million; Harlan, 8 million; Ohio county, 6.4 million; Letcher,

6.1 million, and Perry, 6 million tons. The demand for fuel for power and other purposes has grown steadily in the past four years. Prior to this trend, the biggest year for Kentucky coal was 1947, when 88.6 million tons were mined. The market leveled off for a while, then declined to 64.9 million in 1959. Mines and Minerals Commissioner H. N. Kirkpatrick expects 1970 production to reach or exceed 115 million tons. That total, at an average price of $9 a ton, means $1,035,000,000.

2 Floyd Countians Enter Guilty Pleas In District Court

One of two Floyd countians who entered pleas of guilty to charges in U. S. district court at Pikeville, Dec. 8, was sentenced later in the week.

One of the two, Johnny Ellis, former assistant postmaster here, was sentenced by U. S. District Judge Bernard T. Moynihan to a one-year prison term. He pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzling a letter. The charge of converting to his own use was dismissed on motion of U. S. District Attorney Eugene Siler, Jr.

The second who pleaded guilty, Lonnie Dillon, of the Blue River vicinity, was charged with the illegal possession of a sawed-off shotgun. Judge Moynihan did not pass sentence on him, pending further study of his case. Dillon was slated for trial here this week on an arson charge.

Trial of Olin Shepherd, of Middle Creek, on charges of possessing two moonshine stills was continued till June 22. The stills reportedly were found near Shepherd's home, shortly after he had been accused of the slaying of his wife.

THE GOVERNOR—Gov. Louie B. Nunn dedicated American-Standard's new plumbing plant at Paintsville; dedicated a new $34 million building at the Ashland Community College and told the Kentucky Farm Bureau, meeting in Louisville, that he will oppose "any action which might be misconstrued as jeopardizing the tobacco industry."

Interest yields on U. S. Savings Bonds have been increased seven times since the first Series E Bond was sold on May 1, 1941. The current rate is 5½ percent, if held to maturity, and E Bonds bought today mature in 5 years, 10 months. Outstanding E and H Bonds also benefit, so there's no need to replace them with new Bonds.

Jefferson Judge Kyle Hubbard held a pretrial test that proved the accuracy of portable scales used by the State Motor Transportation Department. . . The Johnson circuit court ruled that the Kentucky attorney general cannot intervene in a suit involving coal trucking on two mountain roads near Paintsville.

Santa's helpers have been very busy in the Floyd County Public Assistance office. Several of the workers have been spending their lunch hours cleaning, repairing and wrapping toys that have been collected for the past two months, that they may help some unfortunate child have a happier and brighter Christmas. Funds have also been raised for the purchase of fresh fruits and candies that will be given to the children. This project that was started by Mrs. Marlene J. Little and Mrs. Donna Allen, social workers, three years ago, and it has become an annual event to which almost all the workers look forward.

The Baptist Student Union of Prestonsburg Community College is making plans for a Christmas party for about 40-50 underprivileged children. The party will be held December 16 from 2-4 p.m. in the Student Lounge, and other clubs on campus will assist with the event.

But help is needed in order to make the party a success. Those who have toys (new and mailable) and wish to contribute are asked to take them to Room 155 in the Johnson Administration Building at the college, or phone 886-2942 to have them picked up. Those who wish to contribute money which will be used to buy food and toys are asked to mail it to BSU, c-o Gus Kalos, Prestonsburg Community College, Prestonsburg.

Decorate a Tree with Chrismons For Spiritual Depth via Symbols

By HELEN PRICE STACY

WEST LIBERTY, KY.—Almost everything about Christmas is something to be enjoyed. Even the way commercial enterprises have begun stretching Christmas to include Thanksgiving is a good trend, for if two seasons should go together they are the season when the birth of the Christ Child is celebrated and the season of Thanksgiving.

There are those days, however, when the burden of it all seems too great. That is the time to remember what all the rush, push, pull—even punch—are all about and the time to make a serious effort to put spiritual meaning back into our days.

Even Johann Sebastian Bach in 1723 thought it would be impossible for him to do all that was expected of him just before Christmas. He had the added burden of knowing that he was a minority choice as cantor in Leipzig; only after two favorites refused the position was it given to him.

Composing original cantatas for each of the first three days of Christmas was among his responsibilities during those few weeks before Christmas, 1723.

He also had to compose original works for New Year's day and for Epiphany, and a Magnificat for a vesper.

The works had to be hand-copied for each part and each musician. Then came endless practice and rehearsals for choir and orchestra so all would not only be acceptable to the Lutheran Church, but would be a glorious contribution to Christ and Christmas.

When the proper time came for the performances, each fell beautifully into place. . . as can all the hectic and joyful parts of Christmas today. Bach knew the Power behind a true Christmas and as he began to compose any of his works he placed at the beginning of each the initials J. J. and on the last page S. D. G. The first initials were for Jesus Juva—which translated meant Jesus help me; the last for Soli Deo Gloria, meaning to God alone the glory.

Many of the holiday customs popular today have come to us from Bach's native Germany. But one of the most meaningful trends in Christmas originated in the United States. . . in a Lutheran Church. This is the custom of decorating a Christmas tree with Chrismons.

Chrismons are designs symbolic of the actual reason for the holiday. Last year the United Methodist Church in West Liberty used nothing but Chrismons on the church tree. The tree was breathtakingly beautiful with its many white and gold ornaments, each handmade and each symbolic.

The Lutheran Church of the Ascension in Danville, Va. was the originator of Chrismons and used them first in 1957. The church has published a book showing the designs and will give permission to any other church to use them.

All the Chrismons in the West Liberty Church were cut from styrofoam, with gold beading, sequins and ribbon used to embellish each one.

Altogether there are more than 200 designs, some of them intricate and for adult fingers; but many are simple shapes that a child could cut, if not from styrofoam, then why not from cardboard?

A fish design could carry the story of one of Jesus's miracles when he fed the multitude; it also could signify the occupation of many of the Disciples when they chose to become fishers of men.

A Communion symbol could be made by attaching gold colored grapes and strands of gold floss to a styrofoam circle or circle cut from a white card; an Apostles Cross could be fashioned like a plus sign; a cradle could represent the manger; small animals could be cut from simply drawn outlines.

The choice of symbols could be endless, for isn't all of nature a part of Christmas? Trees, flowers—all could be cut in plane shapes then decorated in gold and hung on the tree.

Lutherans in Virginia used a butterfly to symbolize the resurrection, daisies to represent innocence and lily of the valley to mean man's humility.

By the time the decorations are planned, drawn and cut, then placed on a tree for all to see, each person involved would be much closer to the spirit of Christmas. What a wonderful way to tell the Christmas story!

And just as Bach composed to the glory of God, so can a tree be decorated. It might make all the difference in changing the season from one of frustration, aggravation and work to one of joy and gaiety, merriment and spiritual depth.

'Christmas Pretties' Project, In 54th Year at Alice Lloyd, To Delight 8000 Youngsters

Pippa Passes, Ky.—For the 54th year, Christmas in Appalachia will be made just a little bit happier for about 8000 youngsters because of the Alice Lloyd College "Christmas Pretties" project.

High on the hill overlooking the central portion of the ALC campus is a building appropriately called "Star." Sometimes referred to as the Santa Claus House, this is the headquarters for the annual project. Each year in September, students and a few volunteer alumni and friends begin sorting, wrapping and personally tagging gifts under the direction of Mrs. William S. Hayes, wife of the college president.

Friends from New York to California are partners in the project, supplying everything from mittens to coloring books. Individuals who have heard of the project by one means or another send hand-crafted items, repaired used toys, and so on. This year, the Mattel Toy Corp., of Hawthorne, Calif., and the Merry Manufacturing Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, together donated thousands of toys to the effort. A Californian who has visited the college arranged transportation of the Mattel gifts through the courtesy of Global Van Lines.

The United Churchwomen of Washington, D. C., under the direction of Miss Helen Smith, a retired government worker, yearly provide a large number of hand knitted scarves, hats and mittens and homemade dolls and other toys.

The toys are distributed through rural elementary schools, day-care centers, schools for the mentally retarded, and ALCOR centers (ALCOR is a community outreach program conducted by college students) in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia. Each year teachers send lists of names and ages. Workers at "Star" select a gift appropriate for each child and tag it with the youngster's name.

Many of the Alice Lloyd students working on the project remember receiving "Christmas Pretties" when they were in elementary school.

The project began shortly after Alice Geddes Lloyd's arrival on Caney Creek in 1916. She personally directed the annual effort until her death in 1962. Since then, Mrs. Hayes has assumed the enormous job of coordination.

BARE FACTS—A hearing on a plea by Northern Kentucky and Lexington taverns to permanently enjoin the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board from regulating the garb of go-go girls will be held by the Franklin circuit court.

A Faithful Man

(A tribute to Willie Mellon, taken from The United Methodist Lamplighter, Dec. 10, 1970.)

Our church has suffered a great loss in the sudden passing of Willie Mellon.

This verse of Scripture seems to describe him perfectly: I Corinthians 4:2, "It is required of a steward, that a man be found faithful."

Willie Mellon demonstrated his faith by his faithfulness. James 2:17 says, "Faith without works is dead, being alone." His faith was never alone, it was always accompanied by works which exhibited the fact that his faith was real.

He was faithful in his work. His company and his associates knew that his job would always be done.

He was faithful to his Lord. He was the same kind of man during the week as he was in church on Sunday—a man of Christian integrity.

He was faithful to his church. He was a faithful official of the church, a faithful attendant at all the services of the church, and a faithful worker in the church. He promoted his church and sought to get others to attend.

Willie Mellon's faith in Christ was made real, exhibited and demonstrated by his faithfulness.

God has a special place for the faithful: Matthew 25:21 "Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

WAYLAND NEWS

"As long as a country has a national purpose it will flourish." This remark was made recently by Frank E. Harmon, vice-president, Floyd Federal Savings and Loan Association, Prestonsburg, speaking on "International Affairs" to the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club. The occasion was the club's annual dinner honoring its "daughter" clubs.

The speaker traced civilization from the time of the Greeks and Romans and pointed out that moral decay takes place when a nation loses its national purpose, as in the case of the Roman Empire. Mr. Harmon mentioned the Dark Ages when knowledge almost perished from the world but was kept alive by a few monks. He pointed out that the British Empire ruled the world for over 300 years. He called attention to the fact that now that the United States is an acknowledged world leader, that it must decide what to do about Communism, what to do about the hordes of yellow people, and the over-population of the world in general, as well as the presently pressing problems of air and water pollution. It must do all this while at the same time keeping its commitments, he emphasized.

The dinner meeting was held at Wayland in the Methodist Church basement. Mrs. J. T. Spillman conducted devotions prior to the program.

Besides the speaker, guests present were: Mrs. L. B. Fairchild, Prestonsburg, vice-governor, Seventh district, and Mrs. W. W. Wallen, also of Prestonsburg; Mrs. C. J. Cahill, Mrs. Isabel Reed, Mrs. Nick Cooley, Mrs. Demoris Martin, Mrs. Byron Beard, Mrs. W. L. Reed, Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo, Mrs. Reba T. Martin, Mrs. William D. Pratt, Mrs. Glen Ward, Mrs. Larry Stumbo, Mrs. Bill H. Stumbo, Miss Ruby Akers, all of Drift; Mrs. Alma Souleyrette and Mrs. Freda Bartuka, Wheelwright. Those present from the Wayland club were Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mrs. Earl Castle, Mrs. S. M. Martin, Mrs. Cecil Johnson, Miss Mildred Meek, Mrs. Van Patton, Mrs. J. T. Spillman, Mrs. Charles R. Martin, Mrs. Margaret Thiessen, Mrs. Charles Hughes, Mrs. Otto Martin, Mrs. Bobby Joe Castle, Mrs. James E. Martin, Miss Elizabeth J. (Beth) Martin, guest, Mrs. W. E. Parker, guest, Mrs. Rudolph Spencer, Mrs. Launce Dunfee, Mrs. Stanley Bamer, Mrs. Don Hughes, Mrs. Jackie Lawson, Mrs. Priscilla G. Prater, Mrs. Patricia Duff, and Mrs. Elizabeth Duff.

Graveside services were held at 10 a.m., Saturday, at the family cemetery at Auxier by the Rev. T. A. Patton. Burial was made under direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

RETIRING AFTER 20 YEARS.—Sergeant First Class Burley F. Adkins (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adkins, of Betsy Layne, is retiring from the Army after more than 20 years' active service. The retiree also received a certificate of appreciation for outstanding service to the United States Army.

Johnson School Supt. Censored By Commission

Virgil Porter, of Johnson county, is one of two Kentucky school superintendents who have been censured by the Kentucky Professional Practices Commission (PPC) for acting in "an unprofessional and unethical manner" in dealing with colleagues in their school systems.

Rector Jones, of Boone county, is the other. The PPC, a 12-member body established by the General Assembly in 1962, is the self-policing and self-disciplining body of the state's teaching profession.

In separate cases, both Jones and Porter were found guilty of violating a PPC regulation requiring that a written statement listing specific reasons be provided upon request to educators not recommended for re-employment.

Neal D. Aulick, a teacher at Boone County high school, brought the charge against Jones on June 4. The charge against Porter was filed on May 27 by Donald Turner, principal of Flat Gap elementary school.

The PPC established that both Aulick and Turner sent letters to the superintendents requesting written reasons after they were informed their contracts would not be renewed for the 1970-'71 school year.

Neither Jones nor Porter filed an answer to the charge with the PPC, although Porter wrote a letter saying he had "covered the situation" during an investigation of the complaint by a committee of the PPC. Porter's letter said his earlier statement "is all the information I have to offer."

In its ruling, signed by PPC chairman Rodney Herrold of Paducah, deputy superintendent of McCracken county schools, the PPC stated that Porter's letter "does lead us to the conclusion that the respondent harbors a contemptuous attitude toward ethical standards in general and the proceedings of this Commission in particular."

It added, "The Star Chamber tactics employed in the dismissal of Turner coupled with this contemptuous attitude require further comment on the gravity of his (Porter's) offense. We find that Superintendent Porter's conduct, by virtue of such factors, has degenerated to unethical behavior of the gravest nature."

The Commission ruled that both Jones and Porter "shall be censured both before professional educators and school patrons of the Commonwealth of Kentucky and that said censure shall be further issued and circulated in a manner deemed best to serve the furtherance of ethical conduct in the administration of our public schools."

Copies of both decisions were sent to State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell Butler and members of the State Board of Education.

In an accompanying letter to Butler, PPC secretary and attorney John J. Slattery, Jr., said he had been instructed to advise Butler and the board of "the deep concern of the Commission members over what appears to be a tendency toward unprofessional conduct in a few school systems in our state."

"Several other complaints, similar to those set out in the enclosed decision, have been received at the Commission office," Slattery wrote. "The majority are not pressed beyond the complaint stage; however, there is a definite pattern indicating that some school administrators, in dismissal or transfer of the nontenured, comply with bare legal requirements but are inclined to disregard ethical standards completely."

Slattery told Butler that "The Commission would be receptive to suggested action on its part or to action by you or the State Board of Education that would help to curb these practices and preserve the dignity of the Code of Professional Conduct."

He asked that the issue be presented to the State Board of Education at its next meeting.

A free press can of course be good or bad, but most certainly without freedom it will never be anything but bad. Freedom is nothing else but a chance to be better, whereas enslavement is a certainty of the worse.—Albert Camus.

Gillilands Begin Service to Church

Mr. and Mrs. William Gilliland have begun their new ministry at the Arnold Avenue Church of Christ here. They come here from Grayson, Ky., where they presently attend classes at Kentucky Christian College. Natives of Covington, Va., they reside at present on the college campus.

The couple will come to the Arnold Avenue church each week-end and will be at the church from Friday afternoon until Sunday night. Following the school year, they will live in Prestonsburg until fall classes begin. They will be residing in the church apartment and may be reached through the church phone.

They formerly ministered to the Tilton and Sherburne Christian Churches near Fleningsburg, Ky.

Mrs. Gilliland is the daughter of Wendell A. Roberts who will begin a new ministry in Frankfort, Ky. in January.

"We are looking forward to the service of Christ in Prestonsburg," Mr. Gilliland said. "We love this part of Kentucky and the people here."

Mrs. Gilliland will serve as pianist-organist for the congregation. A "get-acquainted" supper was held in the church fellowship hall recently.

Survey Indicates Strip-Mining To Be Around a Long Time

Strip mining will be around for a long time—unless it is outlawed—according to a resources report issued yesterday by the U. S. Geological Survey.

This information was contained in a press release that did not deal with strip mining in Eastern Kentucky.

The federal agency estimates that 128 billion tons of stripable coal (coal which lies less than 150 feet under the surface) is still untouched in the United States. This is 29 times more than had been stripped before 1970.

As expected, the most productive coal area in the country was shown to be the Illinois Basin, which includes Western Kentucky, Illinois and Southern Indiana.

Less widely known is the fact that the largest concentration of stripable coal is in the Northern Great Plains region of Western North Dakota, Eastern Montana and Northeastern Wyoming. The Illinois Basin is the second largest coal concentration, but the most highly developed.

Muhlenberg county in Western Kentucky still ranks as the No. 1 coal producing county in the nation. Pike county is second.

Some 28 million tons of coal is strip mined each year in Western Kentucky alone. This compares with about 10 million tons of coal annually stripped in the Northern Great Plains.

Paul Averitt, of the geological survey's Denver office and author of the coal report, said the western coal is found in beds up to 200 feet thick. He said one mine in Wyoming is working a seam of coal 90 feet thick under only 30 feet of overburden (unusable dirt and rock).

Kentucky's coal seams average about four to five feet thick. Some seams lie near the surface; others are hundreds of feet underground.

As the demand-for-energy and the price of coal increase, coal mining in the West is expected to be accelerated, the report said.

There also are indications that the technique of changing coal to natural gas will become feasible in the near future. Coal gasification plants and pipelines from the West would solve the present problem of the high cost of hauling coal by rail to distant industrial centers.

Averitt said any new developments in the West probably would not hurt coal production in Kentucky or elsewhere.

Averitt noted that strip mining is becoming increasingly popular. In 1917 it accounted for only 1 per cent of U. S. coal production. But in 1969 it accounted for 34 per cent of production in the 26 coal-producing states, according to the report.

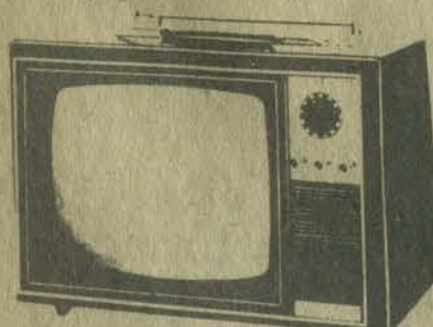

Since strip mining began, American coal companies have extracted 4.4 billion tons of land by disturbing 2,450 square miles of land. This area is larger than the state of Delaware.

Only one-third of the disturbed area has been classified as revegetated to some degree.
