

Middle Cr. Water Job Is Sought

Distribution System Second Near Here In Planning Stage

A second community water system is in the planning stage in the Prestonsburg area, it was learned last week.

Latest of the two planned is envisioned by the Parkway Water Association, Inc. to serve a 3.6-mile stretch of the Middle Creek section from the Clark elementary school to the mouth of Rough and Tough.

Directors of the association are D. H. Holbrook, Ike Fitzpatrick, Bev Shepherd, Sam Henry Fitzpatrick, Don Hicks, John K. Pitts and Bill Smith. Richard E. Martin is the engineer and Fred Francis is legal representative of the group, which will act as a non-profit cooperative.

Planners hope to have 75 customers. An effort is now under way to contact all potential customers and to get them to sign for the service. The tap-on fee initially will be $100, but those who do not sign until after the project is under way will be charged $200, it was said.

Yet in the planning stage is the 5.6-mile water distribution system projected by the Abbott Non-Profit Water Association for the Abbott Creek section. This system would accommodate initially about 60 customers.

Such water distribution systems now are dependent for financing on loans from the Farm and Home Administration. More favorable financing is seen as a possibility, since some Congressional leaders are talking legislation to permit outright grants of 80 to 90 per cent. This thinking is influenced, it is said, by the fact that the federal government in effect makes grants of $9 to $1 on certain highways.

THE CASE OF THE BAD CHICKEN
DETROIT (AP)—"I'm for health standards as much or more than the next man," said George Verbeke, "but this seems silly."

A federal health standards law which went into effect Jan. 2 required an inspector's presence at any establishment processing more than 20,000 chickens a year, and Verbeke's market on Detroit's East Side barely qualified.

Verbeke had to provide the inspector an office and equipment and pay his overtime, some $60 a week. The government paid the inspector's salary of $10,000 a year. The inspector stayed for one month and rejected one chicken.

He was later withdrawn after Agriculture Department layers decided such requirements really were for wholesalers processing millions of birds and found a loophole excluding Verbeke's market.

Assuming the office and office equipment would rent for $150.00 per month, this would amount to $1,800 a year. Overtime pay of $60 a week for the inspector, paid by Verbeke, would be $3,120.00 per year. So the inspector's salary, rent and overtime would amount to $14,920 a year.

Floyd Countian Hits a $25,000 Gulf Jackpot

This was the picture when Elmer Caudill, of Bypro, last Wednesday evening was awarded a $25,000 check as winner of the Gulf Oil Co.—U. S. "Run for the Money" contest. From left—Marvin Music, Gulf distributor; Mr. Caudill; C. J. Cason, district sales manager; W. C. Riggins, district marketing manager; Ramond Zemo, retail marketer.

Floyd Ex-Miner Wins $25,000

Elmer Caudill, owner of Caudill's Gulf Station at Bypro, almost wasn't on hand when his name was called at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, last Wednesday night as the winner of the $25,000 grand prize in the Gulf Oil Company's "Run for the Money" contest.

Mr. Caudill had already received the $100 check which went to all Gulf dealers who had reached their sales quotas during the contest held in nine southern states. When Marvin Music, Gulf distributor, and Raymond Zemo, Gulf sales representative, and others invited him to the May Lodge banquet, he decided his appearance would be only to receive recognition as one of those attaining his quota.

So he stuck to his job at his service station. At 7 p.m. a telephone call from Mr.

Music urged him to "hurry on down," that he was involved in the program. When he arrived the names of five winners were announced, beginning with the lowest and stepping up to $800.

"When mine was the last name to be called, I figured I might be a $1000 winner. When they said $25,000—well, maybe you can imagine."

The check was presented the Bypro man by W. C. Riggins, district marketing manager of Gulf Oil Company—U. S.

Mr. Caudill said Monday that he has not fully decided what he will do with the windfall. "Uncle Sam will, of course, get his cut," he reckoned rightly. His son, Michael, a senior at Morehead State University, will come in for a share of it, he added.

Caudill has operated the Gulf station at Bypro since 1967. Before that for 23 years—he was a coal miner, working 20 years for Inland Steel Company at Wheelwright.

Another Caudill—Canel Caudill, of Martin—was the winner of an $800 check. Others who received awards at the dinner were:

Worley Wicker, of Mousie, Don Toliver, Whitesburg, and Thurman Elswick, Elkhorn City, each of whom was given his choice of an all-expense-paid trip for him and his wife to Lake Geneva, Wis., or an $800 check; Russell Hamilton, of Price, an all-expense-paid trip; Rader Hale, of Stone, $400, and George Compton, Pigeon, Ky., $200.

Tho Pupil Loss Less, Teacher Demand Low

Floyd county's schools this year have experienced the smallest drop in pupil enrollment in the last seven years, but the figures indicate that no new teachers will be required for next year.

The current school term began with 9482 pupils—58 more than the total at the close of the preceding term—and at the end of five months had dropped by only 11 to 9471, indicating a levelling off in pupil loss. Yet the total holds little or no promise for new teachers.

County Superintendent of Schools Charles Clark said no more than three or four teachers are expected to retire at the end of this term. Eighty-nine new teachers who were fully certified applied for positions during the current school year but no places were available, the superintendent said. He added that the teacher retirement law which will become effective in 1972 may result in a number of retirements and this may ease the teacher-employment situation in some degree. Under this law a teacher having 30 years' experience may retire, regardless of age, and draw his or her full annuity.

Only three schools in this county—all of them elementary—have shown enrollment gains from the 1964-'65 school year to date. These are Garrett, Martin, and Prestonsburg. All high schools have lost in the enrollment figures.

Rural schools in the seven-year period have lost almost 1000 pupils. From the 11,749 enrolled at the beginning of the 1964-'65 term the drop has taken place every year to the 9471 in school at the end of the fifth month of the present term.

KAI Plant Here Remains Closed As Work Sought

Although its West Prestonsburg plant remains idle, Kentucky Appalachian Industries (KAI) has renewed its lease on the plant building and is hopeful of returning soon to production, Don Harmon, of Lexington, said this week.

Mr. Harmon, who is vice-president of Irving Industries, Lexington, which acts as a supervisory capacity for KAI, said KAI is currently bidding on three contracts and is having to mark time until the results of the bidding are known.

Two of the new contracts sought are for the manufacture of civilian products.

Meeting Attack Hits Area Medical Care

One-Fifth of Floyd Population Getting Aid via Food Stamps

There were 7590 low-income persons in Floyd county—roughly, 20 per cent of the county's population—receiving aid through the U. S. Department of Agriculture's food stamp program in January as compared to 7285 in December, Russell H. James, southeast regional director of the USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, reports.

At the same time, James revealed that the total number of Kentucky people on the USDA food programs in January was up 11,950 over the previous month. In January there were 324,949 participating as compared to 312,999 persons a month earlier.

The major increase, it was noted, was in the food stamp program now in operation in 72 Kentucky counties. Here 269,962 people—up 9,998 from December—were issued over $7.5 million in food coupons. Of this amount, more than $4.5 million was in free bonus stamps—a contribution of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service to Kentucky's war on hunger.

Some Hospitals, Doctors Blamed At Allen Meet

A gathering which crowded P. A. C. E. headquarters at Allen Sunday afternoon heard talks and testimony which condemned some area hospitals in particular and the medical profession in general.

The attack on health care, in its final effect, struck out at the conduct of the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program.

Dr. Oliver Fein, of New York City's Health Policy Advisory Center, was the speaker who assailed medical services and doctors on a broad front, rating Floyd county's poor but adding that this was the national picture and not one that is merely confined to one area.

The particularized attack on hospitals and medical services was made in a series of statements made by members of the "consumer group" of the county.

When the question was raised as to why it was necessary to get a doctor from New York to appear at the hearing, Dr. Fein replied that some doctors feel responsibility to each other more strongly than to community medical needs; that "you can't

Monday Action May Clear Way For Road Work

Reinstatement Monday by President Nixon of the Davis-Bacon Act is believed to have cleared the way for the Kentucky Department of Highways to proceed on schedule with advertising for bids on construction of the sector of new US 23 between Prestonsburg and Allen.

Suspension of the Act permitted a non-union wage scale, and until this suspension was lifted the Kentucky Highway Department and others had no wage criteria to submit to bidders who need to know labor costs before entering into a contract to do a job.

Restoration of the union wage scale through the Davis-Bacon legislation was accompanied by a self-regulating system of "constraints" on the construction industry. This is designed to hold construction cost increases to about 6 per cent a year. If the restraints fail, there remains the threat that the President again will suspend the Davis-Bacon Act and permit non-union pay.

The advertising of the Floyd road project is scheduled for April, with a mid-May letting date.

VISTA-AV Ban Back in Court Here for Trial

The Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) and the Appalachian Volunteers (AV's) have returned to the Floyd circuit court in a resumption of their legal battle with the Floyd County Board of Education.

Denied a ruling by the Supreme Court on their plea for dissolution of the injunction procured in circuit court here by the board to prevent them and others working in concert with them from entering upon school property, they have filed in circuit court for dismissal of the restraining order.

A hearing on the motion will be held at 9 a.m., April 5.

The Supreme Court refused to consider the VISTA-AV petition for dismissal of the injunction on the grounds that they had not exercised proper recourse to state courts.

VISTA is no longer funded in this county, and the AV's no longer are active here.

Their banning from school property followed an altercation at the board of education building here.

Carey To Speak On Alleged Plot At Drift Rally

The alleged conspiracy to destroy the United Mine Workers of America and the federal Black Lung law will be discussed by Edward L. Carey, general UMWA counsel, at the rally scheduled today (Thursday) at Drift by District 30, UMWA.

Mr. Carey will be the principal speaker at the rally. Dr. Lorin E. Kerr, director of the UMWA Occupational Health Department, and Carson Hibbitts, District 30 president, will be other speakers on the program, which will begin at 11 a.m.

Carey is expected to discuss developments which have included the indictment of the UMWA national president and other attacks on the union which union leaders see as wilfully destructive to the labor organization.

April 1 is a contract holiday for the nation's coal miners. It celebrates the winning of the first eight-hour day by the UMWA in 1898. It was written into a contract the Union had with what was then the major coal producing region of the U. S., the Central Competitive Field which is

State Police Reduce Floyd's Beer Supply

Kentucky State Police troopers in a four-day period last week arrested three men on the charge of illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages and confiscated 555 cases of beer in this county.

Heaviest of the hauls made was the confiscation at 4 a.m. last Thursday of 350 cases at the end of a two-mile chase by State Troopers Gary Rose and Keith Scott of a Ford van driven by Silas Elkins, of Wayland. The beer taken after Elkins was overhauled was valued at $4300.

The chase began near Hi Hat, and the officers were blocked in their effort to overtake the van by a car driven by Roy Lee Branham, of Wheelwright, which trailed the van. After Branham was forced from the road Elkins was overtaken. Branham later was arrested on charges of reckless driving and failing to yield to an emergency vehicle. A vehicle driven by Cleo Johnson and preceding the beer-laden van returned to the scene of Elkins' capture, and Johnson was cited for disregarding a stop sign.

The same troopers two days earlier arrested Hoyt Cupps at Hi Hat and confiscated 155 cases of beer found in his vehicle.

Paul David Jacobs, of Prater Creek, was jailed here last Wednesday on a rape charge by Sheriff Frank Leslie, Deputy Sheriff Virgil Conn and State Detective Chester D. Potter, but he was released after a hearing was held in the county courtroom Monday morning on the accusation made against Jacobs that he was guilty of the rape of a 12-year-old Prater Creek girl. Another man allegedly was involved, but his identity has not been established.

Others jailed here within the week and charges on which each was booked:

Mary L. White, cold check, booked by Martin Policeman A. J. Reed; Ralph James Reece, drunk driving and over-weight truck, by Transportation Officer Eugene Mullins; David Johnson, knowingly receiving stolen property, by State Troopers Rose and Scott; Hezzie Crum, no operator's license, by State Trooper Williamson; Larry Wireman, drunk and resisting arrest, by Deputy Sheriff Virgil Conn; Ronald Eugene Wills, drunk driving, by Trooper E. B. Allen; John Walter Mixin, drunk driving, by Prestonsburg Policemen Blackburn, Herald and Thornberry.

To Vie for Miss Floyd County Title

Six of the eight young women who will compete Saturday at Prestonsburg Community College for the title of Miss Floyd County, 1971 are here shown. From left, front row—Miss Emily Williams, daughter of Mrs. Laura Williams, Pikeville, Prestonsburg Community College sophomore who is sponsored by the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club; Miss Susan Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Porter, Prestonsburg, Prestonsburg Community College freshman, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Area Chamber of Commerce; Miss Tonda Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omery Hall, Hi Hat, Eastern Kentucky University freshman sponsored by the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad; back row—Miss Linda Mullins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mullins, of Melvin, Morehead State University freshman sponsored by the Wheelwright Woman's Club; Miss Karen Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hall, McDowell, Eastern State University freshman sponsored by the Martin Kiwanis Club; Miss Miki Jane Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Little, of Wayland, University of Kentucky freshman sponsored by the Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club.

Other contestants not in photo are Miss Elizabeth Caudill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Caudill, of Wayland, sponsored by the Allen Homemakers Club; Miss Debbi Slone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benny Slone, of Estill, sponsored by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club.

The selection of Miss Floyd County, 1971 will climax the Scholarship Pageant staged annually under sponsorship of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club. For reservations, call Mrs. Cloyd Johnson (886-8581) or Mrs. Marvin E. Music, Jr. (886-2650).

After the chase of a van loaded with 350 cases of beer had ended near Wheelwright last Thursday morning, State Police officers viewed their haul. Standing are Capt. Billy Lykins and Sgt. Ellis Ross; in plainclothes (seated) are Troopers Gary Rose and Keith Scott, who made the arrest.

Letters to the Editor

HOW SO NAMED

I seek the help of your readers in a research project in which I am currently engaged.

I have been asked to participate in a study of a sample of towns and communities in eastern Kentucky and especially how they acquired their names. At least 25 places on my list are located in Floyd county though, at present, I'm particularly interested in: Bonanza, Alphoretta, Halo, Myrtle, Dema, Minnie, Blue Moon, Pyramid, and Midas.

Would any of your readers be sufficiently familiar with any of these places to be able to offer me some information on their legendary or true name origins? After whom or what were they named, and how, when, and by whom did they come to be given these names? When were the places founded and what are they like today?

My colleagues and I at several institutions in the state are planning a statewide survey of place names and my current efforts are a part of a pilot project to get acquainted with a sample of communities in eastern Kentucky.

Any assistance that your readers can give me will be most appreciated.

IN PRAISE OF YOUNG PEOPLE

Accolades to the scores of Prestonsburg youth who gravitated to the rescue of the historical treasures at Garfield Place was aflame last week. The formed in "chains" as they handed along the irreplaceable items. They knew no fear only that they, almost unconsciously, were moved to serve in time of crisis. How truly American, how spontaneous. All of us should give thanks to these young people and rejoice that they represent our future. Their response and bravery augurs well for Prestonsburg.

Marijuana Haul Worth $1000

Capt. Billy Lykins, of the Kentucky State Police, inspects $1000 worth of marijuana confiscated several months ago by troopers on the Elkhorn City high school grounds. The marijuana apparently had been tossed from a motor vehicle onto the spot where it was found, there to be picked up as pre-arranged, but the officers beat the "pickup" to the spot. State Police are continuing their investigation, hoping to learn the identity of those involved.

Starred as Cheerleaders

Wayland high school's varsity cheerleaders overcame the discouragement of defeat after defeat for their favorite basketball team this year and went on to record a very successful season for themselves. They began with second place in the pre-season tournament, then won first place in the district, first place in K. A. P. O. S. competition and in the regional K. A. P. O. S. tied with Mullins high school, losing in a recount by four points. The cheerleaders here shown are, from left: First row—Betty Craft, Paula Slone, Debbi Warrens; second row—Billie Thorpe, Judy Tufts, Kathy Hughes.

Why Not Protect Dewey, Too?

The Herald-Dispatch (Huntington, W. Va.) published a Page 1 news-story last week which, although it pertains only to West Virginia, is, or should be, of interest locally. It reads, in part:

Col. Maurice D. Rousch, chief of the Huntington District U. S. Engineers, contends that strip mine operations near the Kanawha Run campground at West Virginia's Sutton Lake "would result in considerable degradation of the lake."

Rousch told a meeting of the newly-formed Elk River Basin Improvement League in Charleston that the Engineers corps "has been concerned for some time about a full range of environmental considerations in the Sutton reservoir drainage."

Not only is the Corps concerned about the stripping operations, but Rousch said his agency is also looking into a logging operation near Kanawha Run which may pose a siltation threat to the scenic lake.

The stripping operation near the campground has temporarily been halted, pending a view by the Reclamation Division of the West Virginia Department of Natural Resources, the agency that issued the original permit.

Rousch said that Tri-State Land and Mineral Co. of Parkersburg, which was granted the strip mine permit, was told it would need a permit from the U. S. Engineers under the 1899 Federal Refuse Act, which makes it unlawful to deposit refuse in navigable water without first obtaining a permit from the corps.

"We have not issued any such permit," Rousch said.

Since the field of operations and the jurisdiction of the U. S. Engineers do not stop at state lines, we are interested in knowing why Col. Rousch does not take similar action in the case of Dewey Lake into which muddy waters largely created by strip-mining operations almost continually flow.

Doesn't the 1899 Federal Refuse Act apply here, as well as in West Virginia? Johns Creek, which was impounded to form Dewey Lake, may not be in fact a navigable stream, but even Little Paint Creek in this county was once declared navigable by the Kentucky legislature.

We hazard the guess that no lake in Kentucky—or West Virginia—is suffering as badly from siltation as Dewey. White bass have not spawned there, we are told, in the last three years because of the muddy water, and the species is nearing extinction there.

But these are facts well-known to officials here, in Frankfort, Washington and wherever men have the responsibility of protecting the nation's waters and enforcing the laws of the land. This newspaper has to a tiresome degree pointed out to them what is happening and what can be expected to happen later, if nothing is done.

The question is: Why is nothing done?

Goble-Roberts Add'n. Mountain Dew Festival Event Slated at PCC

DINNER GUESTS HERE

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Keenon last Wednesday were L. E. Roberts and E. O. Ray, both of Ashland.

Prestonsburg Community College's seventh annual Mountain Dew Festival will start Thursday, April 8 at 1 p.m. with the quarter-finals of basketball and end at 10 p.m. Saturday, April 10, with the formal crowning of the 1971 Mountain Dew queen. The Festival, known as the largest sporting and cultural event in Eastern Kentucky, is estimated to draw nearly 1500 participants from junior colleges in Kentucky and West Virginia, according to Catherine Shrewsbury, PCC coordinator of student affairs. During the three-day fest the various colleges participating will be Ashland, Elizabethtown, Hazard, Hopkinsville, Jefferson, Madisonville, Maysville, Prestonsburg, Somerset and Southeast Community Colleges, Alice Lloyd Junior College, Lexington Technical Institute, Logan and Williamson Branches of Marshall University and Quicksand Forestry and Technical School. Events at this year's Mountain Dew Festival will include archery, badminton, basketball, bowling, chess, golf, pool, rifle, table tennis, tennis, volleyball, and the queen and talent contests. An art exhibit and cheerleader contest will also be featured. The coveted Brown Jug will be awarded to the college with the highest total points amassed during the festival.

Statement of T. P. "Tim" Reynolds

As you all know, the Legislature has reapportioned the General Assembly and as a result of this, Floyd County was made one legislative district. The whole county now must vote and elect one representative.

I was honored to serve in The House of Representatives and work hard to serve the people to the best of my ability.

I also served in the House of Representatives with W. J. "Bill" Reynolds. Bill Reynolds was elected Caucus Chairman and holds one of four highest positions of leadership in The Kentucky House of Representatives. As a result of this, W. J. Reynolds is in a position to help Floyd county as a Representative from the now 95th Legislative District which includes all of Floyd county.

Therefore I will not be a candidate for Representative and urge all my friends and supporters to support W. J. "Bill" Reynolds for Representative, who, along with Bert Combs and Julian Carroll as Governor and Lieutenant Governor, can accomplish more and better things for Floyd county.

Re-Elect

W. J. "BILL" REYNOLDS

State Representative

Legislative District No. 95, which now includes all of Floyd county.

He is Democratic Caucus Chairman of the House of Representatives, elected by Democratic House members; is a member of the Legislative Research Commission, also of the five-member Committee on Committees which makes all committee assignments, and of the Rules and State Government committees.

Better Schools Group Endorses Combs Candidacy

"Kentucky educators must unite and become more directly involved in politics if they expect politicians to support educational improvements," the vice-chairman of the Kentuckians for Better Schools committee told a group of educational leaders from the Eastern Kentucky area here last Wednesday.

"Bert Combs is the only gubernatorial candidate who understands the needs of education. He is the only candidate who has the courage and the leadership ability to fulfill those needs. If teachers and other educators fail to help the Combs' campaign effort," Shearer said, "they will find the schools at the mercy of politicians who placed a low priority on education in 1972."

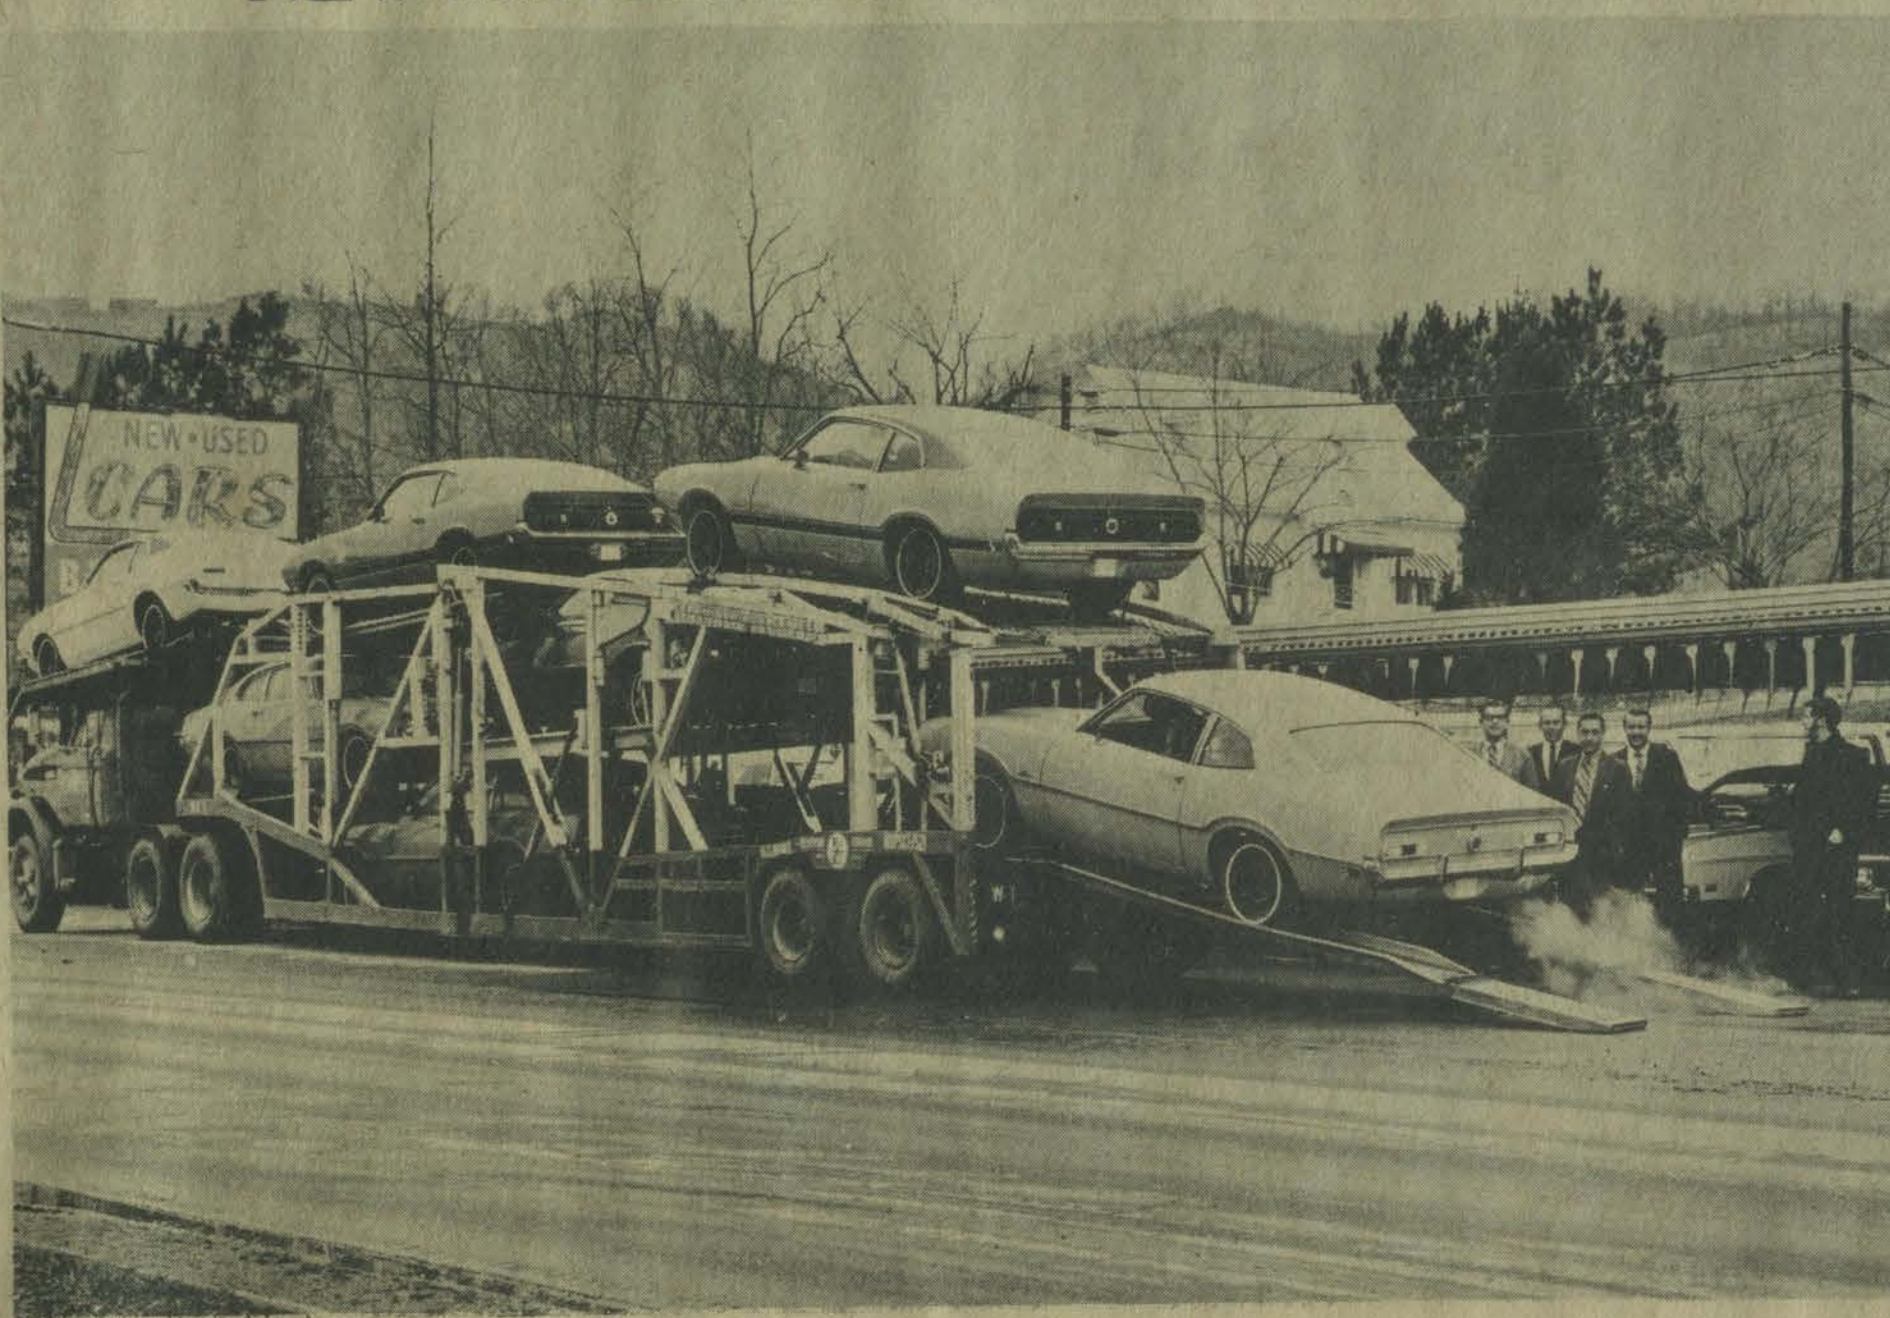

The Kentuckians for Better Schools is a non-profit committee composed of educators and lay people concerned about the future of Kentucky's public school system. The committee has endorsed Combs in the May 25th Democratic gubernatorial primary.

"Combs had an outstanding record on education during his first term as Governor," Shearer told the group. "The election of Bert Combs to the Governorship of Kentucky is essential to the future of education."

HOMEMAKERS COUNCIL MEETS

The Northwest Area Homemakers Council met March 18 at the Louisa Christian Church. Eight out of 10 counties in the council were represented. The area president, Mrs. Pauline Ball, presided. Recommendation for slight changes in the club were read by Vice-president Mrs. A. E. Randolph. An encouraging talk was given by area extension director, Dr. Logan Louderback. The Council will meet again July 7.

NEW MAVERICKS ARRIVE AT B. & D.

One of the many new Ford Mavericks received this week by B. & D. Motor Co., Floyd county's authorized Ford-Mercury dealership at Allen, is shown as it is being unloaded. Watching on as the cars are brought off, is B. & D.'s sales staff (from left): Robert DeRossett, Harold Cooley, Jerry Lafferty, Tex Keathley and Frank DeRossett, Jr. Next month, Maverick Anniversary Month, B. & D. will be holding the biggest new car sales campaign in the agency's history. This sale of new Mavericks begins April 1st and continues through the month.

Howard Becomes Wendell Ford's Ky. Co-Chairman

A. M. Howard, former owner and operator of the Howard Wholesale Company at Allen, has been moved up to state co-campaign chairman for Wendell Ford for Governor. Howard has been co-ordinator of several Eastern Kentucky counties, and was until this week chairman in Floyd county. Mr. Howard is widely known throughout the state and was an active member of the Kentucky Wholesale Grocers Association.

The appointment of Dr. Edward B. Leslie as Floyd county campaign chairman was announced here Monday by Lt. Gov. Ford's state campaign chairman, Senator Dee Huddleston, of Elizabethtown.

"We feel that Dr. Leslie is the type of man with leadership ability and sincere concern for his community and state who can and will lead an effective and winning campaign for Wendell Ford in Floyd county, both in May and November," Huddleston said. Dr. Leslie, a veteran of the United States Air Force during the Korean war, is a member of the First Baptist Church. He served as State Representative under Governor Johnson's administration, and is currently serving on the City Council here.

"Wendell Ford is the only Democratic gubernatorial candidate in the May primary who is not obligated to the special interest, self-serving politicians of the past," Dr. Leslie said, "and I sincerely believe he will bring about the new leadership Kentucky needs to move forward in the 70's."

HONORED WITH PARTY

Mrs. L. B. Moore, was honored with a surprise birthday party, Friday, at her home on Riverside Drive. She was 79. During the occasion, Mrs. Moore's daughter, Mrs. Billie Sievers, and granddaughter, Mrs. Arlene Sievers, both of Bloomington, Ind., and her sister, Mrs. Nellie Pemberton, of Pomona, Calif., called to express birthday greetings. Those attending were Mrs. Woodrow Greenwade, Mrs. Vera Ford, Mrs. Marlene Webb, Mrs. L. J. Music, Mrs. Myrtle Davis, Mrs. Grace Stanley, Mrs. Opal Greer, Mrs. Robie Greer and Mrs. Dewey Hunt.

Mrs. Gilva C. Spurlin has returned to her home after treatment at the Prestonsburg General hospital.

Mrs. John Rodebaugh was in Pikeville Saturday at the Methodist hospital for a check-up following ear surgery. She is greatly improved.

David Ealey is in Warsaw, Ind., visiting his brother, Sammy Ealey, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ed Alley and sons, James, Jr. and Neil, of Cincinnati, O., were called here by the death of his father, James Alley, March 28.

Mrs. Wesley Howard is a patient at the Prestonsburg General hospital for treatment and observation.

Mrs. Alice F. Bowers, who has been living with Mrs. Julia Herrington, moved this week to Pikeville, where she will reside.

Mrs. Catherine Wiechers has returned home after a two-week visit with her sister, Miss Elizabeth Harris, at Emma.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Webb accompanied their daughter Janie to Lexington, Friday. A student at U. K., Miss Webb has recovered from an illness while home on vacation.

According to bass-tournament winner, Bill Dance, there are three pieces of equipment that make tournament fishing possible, or any fishing more successful: an electric thermometer to reveal the lake's temperatures at various depths; a fathometer to indicate where the bottom is and its shape; and a topographic or hydrographic map of the bottom of a lake or reservoir.—SPORTS AFIELD

Two Floyd Artists To Have Exhibition

Plans were announced this week for a county wide event here next summer which will include an art exhibit at the Floyd County Library and a music program on the nearby grounds of the Floyd County Board of Education.

Works of two Floyd county artists—Mrs. Audrey Hayes Cairns, native of Maytown and now a resident of Jacksonville, Fla., and Russell May, of Prestonsburg—will be featured in the art exhibit.

The exhibit will begin with a brief program at the library at 2 p.m., Sunday, July 18, and will continue through the following Wednesday. The music program will be held, also on the afternoon of July 18.

Mr. May is widely known for his work as a landscape artist. (His accomplishments as a self-taught artist have been recounted in previous Times articles.)

Mrs. Cairns has art in her blood, so to speak. Her uncle, the late Grover Hayes, rode horseback over this area, years ago, doing portraits. She excels as a portrait painter but much of her present work is commercial. Her work has won many awards and she was rated one of the leading contenders for the Benedictine Art Awards in New York City and has a "standing" invitation to exhibit there annually. At home in any media, Mrs. Cairns is partial to oils in her apogee—portraiture for which she is rapidly establishing a reputation.

For the music portion of the program on the opening day of the exhibit all musical groups—choirs, bands, glee clubs, choruses, in all age groups—will be invited, it was said this week. One group already scheduled is the Jenny Wiley Chantresses, directed by Edith F. James.

RISNER NEWS

Caney Bible Chapel was the scene of a recent household shower for Mrs. Sherlene Ousley Hall. The group enjoyed a time of Gospel singing and the honoree sang a solo, "Lead Me To Calvary." Mrs. Joyce Ousley led the group in games.

Heretofore, all KAI contracts have been with the armed forces.

"We're hoping to get into production other than for the military, but, of course, will be glad to get a contract of any kind," Mr. Harmon said.

KAI has been idle since early January, a victim of the cutback in military spending. The plant at one time employed 250 persons.

Let's assume, the chicken rejected was a roasting hen that dressed out at 5 pounds. Divide $14,920 by 5 and you get the cost of this government service—a mere $2984 per pound.

You'd think the consumer and tax payer could take a chance on 1 in 20,000 of getting a bad chicken at such a price per pound, and that's assuming that people working for Vebeke's market didn't discover the bad chicken.

This price does not include transportation for the inspector and we're assuming he had a government car marked "USDA-CHICKEN INSPECTOR".

However, this same chicken was later located in the city of Houma, Louisiana, and the story is related in the following news item from that city, or town:

A complaint from a Roussell Street resident notified police this morning about 5 a.m. that he could not sleep. His neighbor was making sounds like a chicken and keeping him awake, the man complained.

Police sent to check on the case reported back to headquarters that they could not find anyone who was making noises like a chicken, a police report stated.

Later about 6:30 this morning, the man called again to say that he was still awake and he could still hear someone making noises like a chicken, the police report said.

A second search by police located a chicken on the back porch of a nearby house. The chicken was making noise, the report said.

The patrolmen knocked on the door of the home and informed the sleepy-eyed resident of the situation. Without replying one word the man walked over to the chicken, wrung its neck, and returned to bed, the report said.

MORAL: Once a chicken goes bad, he will eventually be found out without cost to the American taxpayer.

get an M. D. to testify against another."

Among those who testified as to failures of hospitals and medical services were Jack Daniel Hall, of East McDowell; Mrs. Maggie Hall, also of East McDowell; Lizzie Gillespie, of Teaberry; Mrs. Mary Blevins, and others.

One testified that her state medical card paid $1000 for services and medicines she never received. She said she was in a hospital five days, was charged for 18 days, and that "two little bottles" of medicine was all she received.

Another claimed she was not properly examined for uterine bleeding, that she had never taken her coat off in the doctor's office.

One man stated his five-year-old son was treated for worms at one hospital and that when he was taken to another it was found that his appendix had ruptured.

Bob Young, a Harrodsburg sophomore at the University of Kentucky's College of Medicine, said the college has not recruited medical students from the lower income brackets in proportion to the number of poor people. He pointed out that in its first year, 1964, 52 per cent of the medical students were from the $6000-a-year and-under group, while the 1973 graduating class will have only 1 per cent from that income bracket.

Dr. Arnold Schecter, deposed director of the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Services Program, reviewed his position, pointing out that he had wanted 10 doctors or specialists involved; that they would have devoted half time to the program and the remainder to private practice. He quoted Dr. Russell Hall, head of the Floyd County Health Department, as having testified at a Washington hearing in 1969 that "we have only half the number of doctors we need in Floyd county."

The meeting was sponsored by the Eastern Kentucky Welfare Rights Organization, and Mrs. Eula Hall, chairman of that group's health committee, presided. Interrogators included Mrs. Hall, Jay Blevins, of EKWRO, and David Wilderman, Mountain People's Rights attorney.

The "Bill of Rights" read at the meeting alleged that "so-called private hospitals continue to receive most of their funds from taxpayers' money," and are not private but public institutions. This was followed by the demand that a public board of directors be elected to set the policy for each of these hospitals, and that these directors include the poor people "who get the sickest and have to go to the hospital the most."

Another demand was made on the UK Medical Center, which was described as having a monopoly on all the training, has all the specialists and most of the advanced medical equipment. The demand was that the Medical Center "stop running 'token' programs for Eastern Kentucky and assign 500 doctors and other medical personnel to work in Eastern Kentucky."

Another demand called on OEO and Congressman Carl D. Perkins to turn OEO money over to the poor people, "so that we can hire our own doctors and set up our own clinics."

The first modern nation-wide eight-hour day was won in a contract effective April 1, 1933, negotiated by the late John L. Lewis. Miners today enjoy an eight-hour day, portal to portal, plus being paid for 30-minute lunch period. The average working day in U. S. coal mines now is estimated at six hours and 45 minutes.

The state has sued the Big Four auto makers in an attempt to force recall of all vehicles manufactured since 1953 presently being operated in the state, and to require installation of air pollution control equipment on the cars at no charge to the owners.

Weather Can Help But Can't Cure Air Pollution Problem

FRANKFORT, KY.—Summer is the worst season for air pollution problems. Spring is the best.

According to Delance Martin, meteorologist for the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission, summer combines the most persistent air pollution potential with the worst kind of pollution when it will do the most damage to vegetation.

It all has to do with wind, sunlight and heat.

Summer has low wind speeds with much sunlight and heat. Spring's changeable weather has higher wind speeds.

Martin said wind is the most significant meteorological factor in dispersing air pollution. When the wind blows from 10 to 15 miles per hour—the flag flapping stage—air pollution dispersion is best.

"The stronger the wind, the better the job of mixing the pollutants into a larger area. When the wind speed is low concentrations of pollutants persist," Martin explained.

He said the average wind speed in Kentucky is about 10 mph.

Although it mixes the air, increased wind speed may increase air pollution by picking up ground dirt. Martin said dirt on city streets presents particular problems.

Air pollution potential warnings are issued by the National Weather Service when low wind speed is combined with an inversion. When an inversion occurs, polluted air is trapped near the ground by an overriding layer of warm air.

Sunshine makes photochemical smog out of automobile emissions, including hydrocarbons and nitrogen oxides. Sunshine and high temperatures supply the energy for the photochemical reactions which produce the eye irritating smog.

During winter, air pollution comes mainly from burning fuels. The elements don't combine photochemically.

Martin said rain wouldn't make air pollution go away. "Even with a strong rain it will take 24 hours to wash away all the particulate matter," he noted. "That still doesn't significantly eliminate gases."

"Regardless of meteorology, if there is no air pollution, there is no air pollution problem," Martin said. "Meteorology doesn't produce pollution, it helps get rid of it."

Kentucky Chamber To Honor Area Men As Incorporators

"For farsighted vision and inspiring leadership as an incorporator of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce in 1946 and as a continuing leader in Kentucky's progress over these 25 years" reads the citation to be presented to 21 business and community leaders on April 6 during the Silver Anniversary banquet of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce at Louisville.

The 21 leaders come from various areas of Kentucky and from varying segments of business and industry in the state. They will be presented framed certificates.

They are Sheridan Barnes, Elizabethtown; Barry Bingham, Louisville; Norman A. Chrisman, Pikeville; David F. Cocks, Louisville; Roger Cooper, Lexington; W. H. Courtney, Lexington; Frank Delker, Henderson; Herndon Evans, Lexington; C. E. Field, Owensboro; Harry LaViers, Paintsville; Mark V. Marlow, Lexington; Earl R. Muir, Louisville; J. B. O'Rear, Versailles; Melvin T. Stubbs, Covington; Gabe B. Taylor, Greensburg; Edward R. Turnbull, Lexington; Randolph L. Wadsworth, Dayton, (Ky.); Freeman S. Webb, Ashland; Roy S. Woodall, Paducah; Charles D. Wilson, Paducah; Frank A. Yost, Hopkinsville.

Other outstanding program segments of the banquet will include announcement of the organization's new officers and entertainment by the Morehead State University Band with a special program reminiscent of the years the Chamber has been operating since 1946.

CARD OF THANKS

To the friend and neighbors of the Allen family we acknowledge with deep appreciation your kindness and sympathy upon the passing of our darling mother, Eliza Patton Allen. We especially want to thank our friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers and food, also the ministers of the First Church of God for their comforting words and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its kindness and efficient service.

The Georgetown College Symphonic Ensemble which will give performances in three southern states during its annual spring tour, March 25-31, includes Miss Ann Reed, of Drift (at left in photo), Miss Sue Bohaiing, of Louisville, and Miss Nancy Bowling, of Fern Creek. The 50-piece band will give concerts in both schools and churches in Kentucky, Georgia, and Florida. After returning to the campus, the band will give its annual spring concert April 13, at 8 p.m. in John L. Hill Chapel.

Only First National offers a choice of 3 GOLDEN PASSBOOKS

Just to create interest

GOLDEN PASSBOOK SAVINGS

5^{3/4}%

ANNUAL YIELD 5.92 PERCENT

5^{1/2}%

ANNUAL YIELD 5.65 PERCENT

ANNUAL YIELD 5.13 PERCENT

Wouldn't you know that the House of Savings would be first to offer two more plans to make savings create more interest than ever? Now, in addition to our 5 percent, 90-day Golden Passbook Plan, we invite you to try our 5 1/2 percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan and our 5 3/4 percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan. We think you'll find them all very "interesting."

All three plans offer guaranteed interest rates, and interest is compounded daily and paid or credited quarterly with each. Any of the three may be opened with a $100 minimum deposit, and additional deposits of $100 or more may be made at any time.

Here's the interesting difference

With our new 5 3/4 percent, 2-year Golden Passbook Plan, your funds remain on deposit for a minimum of two years, with an effective yield of 5.92 percent per annum.

Our new 5 1/2 percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan has an effective yield of 5.65 percent per annum, and your funds must remain on deposit only one year.

And our famous 5 percent Golden Passbook Plan makes your funds available four times a year—during the first ten days of January, April, July, and October—or anytime 90 days after a written notice is received by the bank. 5 percent Golden Passbook has an effective yield on 5.13 percent per annum.

How Interest Figured And Payment Dates

Interest compounded quarterly. Interest payment dates: April 1, July 1, Oct. 1 and Jan. 1. Deposits made during first 10 days of month bear interest from first day of that month.

Meet To Stress Child Health

Theme of the third annual Home Care-Social worker Conference, to be held April 7-8 at Jenny Wiley State Park, is "Health Care: What's In It for Children."

The conference is sponsored by Appalachian Regional Hospitals, a non-profit health care system embracing nine hospitals in Eastern Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia.

Attending the conference will be more than 100 physicians, nurses, social workers and other health care professionals from Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

T. P. Hipkens of Lexington, president of ARH, will preside over the two days of sessions.

A team from the Home for Crippled Children, Pittsburgh, Pa., will describe the programs and services offered by that rehabilitation center. Charles Bisdee, executive director of the Home, will be moderator.

Bisdee also will deliver the keynote address on "Services for Children" at the conference banquet at 7 p.m., April 7.

Parks Continue War on Litter

Parks Commissioner S. W. Palmer-Ball has urged all Kentuckians to join in the Parks Department's "Keep Kentucky Parks Clean and Green" program this year.

"This special clean-up effort, begun just last summer, has already received very fine support from some of our citizens," Palmer-Ball said.

"The time has come, however," he said, "when every Kentuckian must become aware of his personal responsibility for the cleanliness of his environment, especially as pertains to his state parks."

Palmer-Ball said the "Keep Kentucky Parks Clean and Green" slogan will be promoted again this year through the use of lapel buttons worn by park employees and colorful tent-cards placed on dining tables at the lodges.

He said his department is now expanding and intensifying its efforts to preserve the natural beauty of park lands. As an example, litter bags are distributed to campers and lodge guests when they arrive at the parks in order to enlist their help in litter control.

In addition, Palmer-Ball said the department is increasing its use of sanitary land-fill garbage disposal facilities in areas where they are available.

"In order to implement this program," he said, "We are in the process of equipping the larger parks with compaction-type garbage trucks which make possible the handling of larger volumes of litter and refuse. This new equipment will enable our clean-up crews to do an even more effective job, and do it much more conveniently and quickly."

Some of the parks formerly had dumping areas but they have now been eliminated and covered over with earth fill. The department is working out cooperative agreements with the counties in which the parks are located to utilize land-fill dumping facilities outside park boundaries.

WHEELWRIGHT

The Wheelwright Community Homemakers held their monthly meeting in the Wheelwright Woman's Club Room, March 18 at 7 p.m. Alma Souleyrette, president, presided. The minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were read and approved. There was further discussion on having a ceramics demonstration. Homemakers' calendars for the year were filled out. Frances Pitts gave the lesson on Estate Planning, and a discussion accompanied the lesson. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Salisbury and Mrs. Alma Souleyrette to Mrs. Linda Couch, Mrs. Barbara Gullett, Mrs. Della Hall, Mrs. Mattie Hall, Mrs. Barbara Johnson, Mrs. Leon Le Roux, Mrs. Cosetta Newsome, Mrs. Marie Rainey, Mrs. Freda Bartuka, and guests Patricia Newsome and Glenna Newsome.

Two ridiculous gimmicks of the 1940's.

Everyone laughed when they came out with the television.

A box that could show pictures from 3,000 miles away? Absurd.

But everyone really cracked up when we came out with the Volkswagen.

A car with its engine in the back? Its trunk in the front? And its radiator in neither the front nor the back?

It even looked like a joke.

But time marched on.

The television clicked.

The Volkswagen accelerated.

People liked the idea of a car that didn't drink gas like water. Or oil like water. Or, for that matter, didn't even drink water.

Some strange people even liked the idea that it was strange looking.

In fact, Detroit car makers now like the idea of a VW so much that they decided to make their own.

And even with all those new small cars around, the fate of the bug is still secure.

This is the first year for all of the others.

We've had 23 years of re-runs.

Going to Europe? Take delivery there. Ask about it now.

T-MEN DISCUSS EXPLOSIVES AT SEMINAR

From left—Hassell Caudill, Department of U. S. Treasury, J. J. Freeman, district manager, American Cyanamid Company, Frank Eddy, Department of U. S. Treasury, Marvin Music, president, East Kentucky Explosives, Inc.

Marvin Music, president of East Kentucky Explosives, Inc., hosted 65 users of explosives from Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia to a seminar and steak dinner held March 16 at Jenny Wiley State Park. Leading the seminar was Frank Eddy, Pikeville, agent of the U. S. Treasury Department, who explained the organized Crime Control Act of 1970 pertaining to the use, storage, handling and transportation of explosives.

This was the first such seminar held in Eastern Kentucky, and individual problems not answered during the lecture were discussed in detail during a question-and-answer session conducted by Agent Eddy and Hassell Caudill, Treasury agent, also of the Pikeville district office.

Open 8 to 8, Monday through Saturday, and after church on Sunday.

we enjoy your company

...And thought we'd take this opportunity to tell you so.

The citizens of Floyd county appreciate the vital role local industry has in making our county a prosperous, pleasant place in which to live. In addition to bringing more business to our section of Kentucky and increasing job opportunities for our people, our neighbors in industry have contributed to all the other phases of our area's growth.

With full confidence in the skills and dedication of our people, industry last year announced plans to invest a record $584 million to build and expand manufacturing facilities in Kentucky. This 1970 figure is $71 million more than the total investment of the previous two years.

Moreover, the 74 new plants and 92 expansions last year mean almost 10,000 new jobs for Kentuckians.

In view of the major impact manufacturing has on our state's growing economy, it is fitting we should set aside one week of the year to welcome our new industrial residents and to express our gratitude to all 3,000 Kentucky industries for their faith in our state.

Officials of Area To Confer Friday At Morehead State

City and county officials from throughout Eastern Kentucky have been invited to a local government conference Friday at Morehead State University.

The day-long session, sponsored by MSU and the University of Kentucky, concerns city-county problems and starts at 8:45 a.m. in the Adron Doran University Center.

Dr. Jack Bizzel, head of the MSU Political Science Department, said the conference would involve city and county officials from all counties in the Fiveco, Gateway, Big Sandy and Buffalo Trace area development districts.

Free to all persons, the conference's discussion topics include joint city-county operations, collective bargaining for public employees, financing of government services, legal aspects of city-county relations, land use planning, pollution, recreation and ambulance service.

Advance registration is set Thursday at 6 p.m.

Cold-Weather Fishing Pays Off

Bee Hayes, of Betsy Layne, with stringer of rockfish and hybrids (a cross of white bass and rockfish) caught at Cherokee Lake, in the Rogersville, Tenn. vicinity, last week. The largest fish shown is a seven-pound hybrid. Before last week's cold wave, the Rogersville area of the lake was a hot spot. A Knoxville Journal story said that not one of 100 boats fishing the area on Sunday, March 14, came in with a fish of less than 10 pounds.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our friends, neighbors and relatives for their many acts of kindness during the illness and at the death of Amy Lee Hall Turner. Our deepest appreciation goes to those who sent flowers and food; the Revs. Huff and Clark, Dr. Susan Brenner and the staff of the McDowell Hospital; the staff and doctors at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland; the Hall Brothers Funeral Home, and each person who, in any way, was helpful.

Boat Toilet Laws Same As Last Year, Newman Says

FRANKFORT, KY.—In spring, it has been said, "a young man's fancy turns to love," but boaters of all ages are far more likely to begin thinking about more practical matters.

And heading the list of those topics which seem to concern them most is the matter of marine toilets. At least, it would appear that way, judging from the number of telephone calls to both the Kentucky State Police and Public Safety Commissioner William O. Newman.

"By and large, they want to know what constitutes an adequate marine toilet disposal system and whether we intend to enforce those standards," Newman said.

The answer to both questions is the same as it was a year ago, he said. Only the authority under which acceptable disposal systems are defined and enforcement carried out has changed.

Chapter 235 of Kentucky's Revised Statutes (KRS), which was enacted by the 1970 General Assembly and became law on Jan. 1 of this year, sets out, almost word-for-word, the same standards previously enforced under WP-5, a regulation issued by the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission in 1969.

With the exception of those marine toilets which have been rendered inoperable in an approved manner, all marine toilet systems must be equipped with disposal devices falling into one of three general categories. They are:

Holding tanks constructed so as to permit waste disposal only by pumping. Gravity flow systems are not acceptable.

Incinerators capable of reducing raw sewage to an inert ash.

Effluent discharge systems, providing for the discharge of treated waste into the water and approved by the Water Pollution Control Commission on an individual basis only.

According to Newman, all boat owners must sign an affidavit at the time of boat registration that their marine toilet systems meet requirements outlined under KRS 235.

"Anyone refusing to sign, or not having an approved system, will not be allowed to register his boat," Newman said.

Boat owners interested in obtaining a complete listing of approved disposal systems are being instructed to contact the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission at the State Department of Health, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

State Dept. Grant Goes to Dr. Hale

A State Department grant to strengthen cultural ties between American and Brazilian academic communities will enable a Brown University applied mathematician to visit two South American universities this summer.

Prof. Jack K. Hale, a native of Floyd county, has received an educational exchange grant under the Fulbright-Hays Act to lecture during July and August at the Institute of Pure and Applied Mathematics in Rio de Janeiro.

Announcement of the grant was made by James R. Roach, chairman of the Board of Foreign Scholarships, who complimented Brown for releasing Dr. Hale for the tour. Mr. Roach said, "The common concerns of educational institutions in the exchanges of all levels of scholars continue to strengthen the ties which unite all nations."

Following his visit to Rio de Janeiro, Dr. Hale will spend five weeks at the University of Sao Paulo at Sao Carlos where he will give additional lectures, counsel students, and discuss the field of applied mathematics with his Brazilian colleagues.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hale, of Betsy Layne, was graduated from Martin high school. He received his B. S. degree from Berea College and the Ph. D. degree from Purdue University.

State Finance Commissioner Albert C. Christen has proposed that the state build a $3 million, 156-unit apartment building in the Capital Plaza project in Frankfort, instead of a motel, which was originally designated. The units would rent for about $200 a month.

Water Levels Being Restored At Area Lakes

Water levels at Fishtrap, Grayson and North Fork of Pound Lakes and John W. Flannagan Reservoir in Kentucky and Virginia, will be raised by the Corps of Engineers in preparation for the summer recreation season.

The water levels will be raised to meet the high public demand for water recreation during the summer months. More than one and a half million persons used facilities at these lakes in 1970.

Fishtrap will be raised a total of 32 feet, North Fork 10 feet, John W. Flannagan 16 feet and Grayson 19 feet. Raising of the Grayson water level was started on March 23. The water levels at Fishtrap, North Fork, and Flannagan will start rising on April 1. Summer level at each project will be reached as soon as possible depending on the amount of rainfall.

Grayson Lake has been 11 feet lower than normal winter level since November, 1970 to allow for paving of the boat launching ramp above the dam. In addition to the ramp, a paved access road, paved parking lot, comfort station, water treatment plant and picnic facilities are being provided in the vicinity of the dam. Current completion date for these facilities is December 1971.

North Fork and Flannagan in Virginia, and Fishtrap near Pikeville, Ky., are in the Big Sandy river basin. Grayson is on the Little Sandy river.

He Broke the Shackles Free!

As Governor of Kentucky, Bert Combs boldly initiated a PROGRAM OF PROGRESS that liberated the state from generations-old Do-Nothingness.

- He established the great Community College System — now a model for other states.
- He built the Mountain Parkway and other arterial highways to connect Kentucky with Kentucky.
- He gave Education the support it so badly needed.
- He substituted voting machines for the antiquated ballot box.
- He gave the State Park System new life.

FRANKFORT, Kentucky.—May the white bass fishermen be alerted.

The time is soon to come when these "stripers" will be on the move in the headwaters of a number of lakes and in some rivers and smaller streams.

It's just about spawning time for the species and when this occurs it means that these fish are hell for leather to hit any lure that is thrown in their general direction.

To the uninitiated an explanation of the famous white bass "runs" may be helpful.

Most of Kentucky's major lakes have bountiful populations of this gamester, the average weight of which would be around one pound, but which on many occasions may be pushing three pounds. When spring rolls around and the water temperatures in the headwater or feeder streams rise to around 60 degrees the mating urge comes to these fish. They move into the shallower waters of the streams to deposit their eggs.

Even before the run actually starts in the streams great harvests of white bass are made in the lake itself, just below the first riffle of the stream in which they are to spawn. The migration up the lake starts many days prior to the actual spawning and they may be found in deeper water near the mouth of the stream in good numbers and may be caught by trolling, by casting a shad-like lure or minnows. The knowledgeable fisherman will follow the whites right on up the lake until they enter the shallow water where the fishing reaches its peak.

Moving into the spawning waters first are the males. They will be caught for a few days before the females follow the same route into the spawning areas. They will spawn when the water temperature reaches and hovers around the 62 degree mark, but they will move into the spawning area when the water is considerably cooler.

If the "run" is not interrupted by heavy rains, muddy water or cold, it will continue for as much as three weeks during which they can be caught at any time of day or night. If inclement weather sends the temperatures plummeting, the run will subside. The same will happen if the waters become muddy. But immediately upon the return of favorable conditions good fishing may be resumed.

The "father" of the white bass run is Dix River which is the feeder stream of Herrington Lake. For several decades they have been caught in this famous area where fishermen may line the banks, shoulder to shoulder, to retrieve this hard fighting, good tasting game fish.

But other lakes have lately produced some excellent white bass fishing in the spring. Of course, the whole affair depends on the weather conditions. This being favorable a fisherman often may take his daily or possession limit of 60, that sometimes may average well over one pound each, from the headwaters of Dale Hollow, Cumberland, Barren River Lake, Dewey, Buckhorn, Rough River and Nolin lakes as well as others. Also every two or three years excellent runs may be discovered below the locks and dams in the Kentucky River.

Wayland Exchange Passes 1000 Mark

The Wayland telephone exchange recently achieved a milestone in its history when the total number of telephones served by the local facilities passed the 1000 mark.

According to W. S. Gibson, local South Central Bell manager, the addition of five telephones in January pushed the total subscription to 1005.

When the Wayland exchange was purchased in November, 1916 by South Central Bell's distant predecessor, only 104 phones were in service.

Dogwood Festival Set At West Liberty

WEST LIBERTY, KY.—No place is more beautiful than Kentucky in spring. In Eastern Kentucky where hills, dark and craggy in winter, are becoming soft and gentle, cradled by new green foliage and warmed by an overhead sun, it is heart-quicken to behold. Even the most insensitive heart will respond to this power of nature.

Knowing full well the beauty of Morgan county at this time of year, a group of interested citizens have planned a Dogwood Festival in West Liberty on May 7-8.

This will be a time of not only showing off its scenery and its beautiful people, but also of displaying skilled handcrafts of Morgan countians.

As I write this I still am recalling pleasant trips out in the county to tell others about the festival and enlist their help in making it a success.

More honestly, I should say that Mrs. Boyd Blair and Mrs. Alec Spencer, both of West Liberty and co-chairmen of the festival, did the explaining while I "o-o'd" and "ah-h-h'd" over the quilts, pillow tops, afghans, handman chairs, apple dolls, bonnets, hand carved pieces—artistic creations from the hands of Morgan countians.

The festival is a result of more than two years of planning and has been spurred to reality by the tremendous success of Johnson county's Apple Day Festival.

The "too" includes arts and crafts of county people—things they have made using their hands and mountain ingenuity during the winter months when there were long hours beside a fire. The festival is being groomed as an annual happening specifically as a sales outlet for crafts of Morgan county people.

Those people who have wondered about Morgan county, where it is and what it looks like, can plan now to set aside May 7-8 for a visit.

What are some of the activities and items to be sold in the two days?

Quilts—handmade and of many designs and patterns. Viewed in only two homes were quilts with pattern names of String, Crazy, Log Cabin, Strawberry, Tulip, Garden Path, Dresden Plate, Flower Garden, Wreath, Wave of the Ocean, Butterfly, Dutch Doll, Pointed Star and Sunburst.

Mrs. Minnie Johnson, of Cow Branch, who is widely known as a maker of oldtime sunbonnets and granny bonnets has a quilt she plans to display and sell that she has named "Blue Moon of Kentucky." She will also sell bonnets.

There will be a booth devoted to knife swapping and selling. Interested persons can write to Harold Barber, West Liberty, for information on the knife trading. One Morgan county man has a knife collection valued at several thousand dollars and includes Barlows, Lady Slippers, Winchesters and Remingtons.

There will be homemade brooms. Morgan county has at least three oldtime broom-makers who can cultivate broom-corn, then clamp it, tie it and stitch it into three-tie brooms that they claim "will outlast any store bought five-tie brooms."

Mrs. Bonnie Cox will demonstrate the art of tatting—yards of delicate lace edging—and will offer it for sale. Others will crochet dollies, ponchos, vests; still others will knit and offer knitted garments for sale. There will be pieces of hairpin lace.

One woman is busy making cornshuck dolls and cornshuck flowers. Another is making coal jewelry using cannel coal from the famous Cannel City mines.

A photo display, showing work of local photographers and offering for sale pictures of local scenes, is in the charge of Dan Lacy, West Liberty.

A woodchoppers contest will be directed by members of the Morgan County Chapter, Future Farmers of America; a countywide spelling bee will be planned by Morgan High Principal Richard Jett who also will arrange for a Saturday night jamboree in the Morgan County courthouse with guest performers from Nashville.

Many events have not been fully worked out. These include an oldtime blacksmith shop with a smithy on hand to shoe horses; a possible antique sale; historical display of papers and tools meaningful to Morgan county (and Kentucky) history; wood-carvers doing their thing.

Homemade furniture will be offered for sale from Morgan county men who use a pocketknife to carve slats, arms, rockers for a comfortable and handsome walnut or maple rocker, stool or other type of furniture. One man has offered to demonstrate making a chair seat by weaving strips of bark; another will make baskets.

The festival will go on, rain or shine. Everyone is invited to this event—to view arts and crafts—to buy and take home a bit of the hills and hill culture.

The latch string is out and all the rust of winter has been removed from the hasp. You all come.

'Hot-Mix' Plants and Quarries To Fight Air, Water Pollution

The $500-million highway construction industries of Kentucky last week implemented their own multimillion-dollar campaign to clean up the air and water at construction sites, quarries and asphalt plants throughout the state.

First in the nation to act together toward eliminating pollution, the Kentucky industries heralded their campaign with "WE CARE ABOUT KENTUCKY" bumper strips on thousands of industry vehicles.

Most directly affected are some 115 quarries where crushed stone is produced and 120 plantmix asphalt installations. As of now, virtually all have established target dates for compliance—which means each quarry and asphalt plant has filed intention to comply with various anti-pollution statutes and regulations by a fixed date.

Total cost of compliance will run into several million dollars. Every installation must be customized to fit the specific quarry or plant.

A proposal to place central authority for milk-control in Kentucky within the state Health Department was made by Dr. William P. McElwain, state health commissioner. He called the present system of inspection a "hodge-podge" of state, county and city efforts, "not always uniform."

The Killer Among Us...

Let's get rid of the drunken driver! He causes 50 per cent of highway fatalities and three-quarters of a million injuries a year. Will the next fatality be you? Drunken drivers killed 55,000 people last year. Compare this with the number of fatalities in Vietnam over the last 10 years.

Teaching by Doing Results In Building Car 'from Scratch'

Grender at work building car on Alice Lloyd campus.

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Because of its rather isolated location, Pippa Passes is probably not the first place you would look if you wanted to find someone building a semi-monocoque, mid-engined, aluminum-bodied car from the ground up. There was a time this now-famous Knott county community could be reached only afoot or by horseback.

Yet, Pippa Passes, the home of Alice Lloyd College, does have a resident who is completing such a project.

When Arneemann Grender returned to his junior college alma-mater as a physics instructor in 1966, he brought with him an unusual philosophy of teaching.

One of his latest "extra-curricular" projects, the construction of his second automobile, manifests his philosophy of teaching. "Beginning physics students should be able to find constructive ways in which to put their knowledge to use," according to Arneemann. "If he enjoys using physics, he is more likely to become interested in further study in the field."

Other students and faculty members are not surprised to see Grender's students running up the side of a nearby mountain to determine their horsepower after considering slope, distance, weight and time; constructing bridges from toothpicks which must hold 50 times their weight, or designing paper airplanes to learn about air currents.

Students learn by applying their knowledge, and are more inclined to do so if the instructor "practices what he preaches."

Mr. Grender's first car utilized a rear-engine mounted on a "ladder" frame. What he learned about proper weight balance, braking characteristics and other design factors is applied in the construction of his second project auto. Practicalities also entered into the design of the new car. Trips in bad weather were almost impossible in the first, as it has a very low windshield, no roof and dry-weather racing tires.

The one recently completed utilizes mid-engine placement for better balance, separate front-rear braking systems, and a top prevent getting wet in the rain. The car's highest point is still only 33 inches off the ground.

The chassis is of monocoque design, meaning there is no frame. Instead, the body, or "skin," and other structural members are utilized as a frame. Driver and passenger are seated in a lay-down, racing car position.

Everything except the clutch housing, the wheels, the intake manifold, the Corvair engine, and a few fittings were fashioned in a one-car garage on the Alice Lloyd College campus. The car was constructed over a 17-month period.

The auto was featured in a recent issue of "Autoweek", a weekly motorsports news magazine. The cost? We'll never know. Arneemann says he might get depressed if he added it all up.

Legal Service For Poor, 2nd Located Here

A second federally financed legal service program for the poor in Kentucky and West Virginia opened in Prestonsburg this week. The second such agency is the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund (ARDF), which opened offices Monday. The other is the Mountain People's Rights, Inc., which formerly was associated with ARDF.

Although the federal legal services program is frequently criticized as "a bunch of long-hair troublemakers," Frank Calucci, new director of the Office of Economic Development (OEO), terms the program "one of OEO's brightest achievements."

He says he favors giving poverty lawyers almost unlimited freedom in defending clients, even if they file class-action suits.

There are certain limits on legal services lawyers may offer in the program, such as not taking any criminal cases and staying within certain income guidelines, Carlucci told a Senate subcommittee hearing on extending the Economic Opportunity Act. Beyond that, he said, he believes Legal Service attorneys should be as free to help their clients as any other lawyer might be.

He said in California the bar association has shown interest in helping poverty lawyers and he thinks this is proper because he said they need guidance.

"But I do not believe in restricting the type of cases they accept," Carlucci said. He said his personal view includes accepting class-action cases, or suits brought by one person on behalf of many others who may have been similarly wronged.

He said it would be premature to speak for the administration because a new act is now being shaped but "I am sure we will be strengthening the legislation."

The legal services budget has been increased from $46 million to $61 million a year while the cost-per-case declined to $59.

Tipped employees earn as much as 62 percent more per hour than their nontipped counterparts in similar occupations, a Labor Department survey of 25,000 restaurants, hotels and motels have revealed.

The Kentucky Senate passed a resolution endorsing a bill presently before the U.S. Congress which would shorten the Daylight Saving Time in the state, to run from Memorial Day to Labor Day.

When the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 goes into effect on April 28, 1971 it will cover an estimated 57 million workers in 4.1 million places of employment throughout the United States.

Black apprentices number more than 11,000 in programs registered directly with the Labor Department. They comprise 5.5 percent of all such registered apprentices and 60 percent of all minority apprentices.

Justice Released Under $500 Bond To Enter Hospital

Zach C. Justice, Sr., 53, Pikeville coal operator, executed $500 bond Monday after waiving examining trial on a murder charge in connection with the shooting death at his home last Friday of his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Justice, 52.

The bond was granted on condition that he go to a Louisville hospital for observation and possible treatment. He will remain in the hospital, it was said, until doctors notify the court he is able to stand trial.

CARROLL GRADUATES
 BILOXI, Miss.—Airman Tomy J. Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carroll of R. R. 1, Martin, Ky., has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the U. S. Air Force administrative specialist course.

The airman is now proficient in the preparation of Air Force correspondence and reports.

MAKE REDS LOOK GOOD
 VIENNA (AP)—Romanian Communist party leader Nicolae Ceausescu said a political watchdog body will be named to make sure Romanian films show communism in a good light.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn told the National Governors' Conference he favors President Nixon's proposed revenue-sharing plan except for the part which calls for abolition of the Appalachian Regional Commission.

"The diversified aero-space industry in southern California is Kentucky's target for new industrial expansion," Commerce Commissioner Paul W. Grubbs said recently as he announced plans for a special presentation in Los Angeles.

Kentucky's efforts to curb drunken drivers and its motorcycle safety program received A's when U. S. Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe recently issued an official report card grading the highway safety programs of the states.

The deputy director of the Kentucky State Police announced a fiscal belt-tightening for the force, brought on by increased expenses in cars and gasoline not included in the current budget.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ison, of Martin, Ky., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Carolyn Ison, to Mr. James Steven Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve H. Stout, of Martin. Miss Ison attended Prestonsburg Community College and was graduated from the University of Kentucky where she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi. She is presently employed by the Department of Economic Security at Prestonsburg. Mr. Stout attended Prestonsburg Community College and Morehead State University. He is now employed by the C. and O. Railway Company at Martin.

A June wedding is planned at the Martin United Methodist Church.

Kentucky may soon overtake West Virginia and become the nation's No. 1 coal producing state, but the trend seems to be shifting from surface to underground mining, according to state Mines and Minerals Commissioner H. N. Kirkpatrick.

State Police Capt. Nat Britton, who served as a chauffeur for six Kentucky governors, will become director of security for state buildings and property, following his retirement later this month after 28 years with the State Police.

Similarity of Names In Two Cases Cited

The Willie Tackett arrested March 21 on a charge of possessing intoxicants is not the man of the same name who resides on Tackett Fork of Mud Creek, The Times has been informed.

We also have been asked to point out that the William Warrix who was arrested on a drunk driving charge is not the William Warrix who resides on the Auxier road.

We have Polaroid's newest Land cameras — the 400 Series. All four models feature Focused Flash, the revolutionary new flash system that controls the light automatically. Little louvers open or close as you focus the camera. The 400s use GE's new Hi-Power Cube, specially designed for the Focused Flash system and more than twice as powerful as any flashcube they've ever made before. The results: your subject is always beautifully exposed. Soft, flattering light for 3 1/2-foot close-ups. Full power flash for 10-foot distance shots.

The Model 420 presents many features at an economy price. Focused Flash capability, electric eye, electronic shutter, double window range and viewfinder, easy loading, detachable cover and adjustable carrying strap. And, of course, color pictures in a minute, black and white in seconds.

There are three other models in Polaroid's new 400 Land camera line.

In addition to having all the basic features of the Model 420, each offers a special combination of features and versatility designed to meet every camera buyer's needs.

(The Model 450 has a fold-away Zeiss Ikon rangefinder/viewfinder and is so automatic it even calls you — "Beep" — when your picture's developed.) Come in and let us demonstrate the new Polaroid 400 Series Land cameras. We love to show them off.
