

Court Sets Talk Today On Cleanup

Health Personnel, Others To Confer On Waste Disposal

What this county will do with its solid waste will be given serious study at a meeting scheduled here Wednesday afternoon (April 28) of the fiscal court with representatives of the Floyd County Health Department and one or more state agencies.

County Judge Henry Stumbo said Monday that he hopes to make an announcement of the court's plans to help homeowners in all parts of the county to dispose of their accumulations of solid wastes which have piled up since the collection last spring.

The Times learned from farmers and others that this help is anxiously awaited. Many have no means of transporting over a considerable distance their solid wastes, and those who do have no place to dump it legally.

Judge Stumbo said the county is in a difficult position about dumping, since two main dumping grounds have been closed. These are on top of the mountain between Cow Creek and Buffalo Creek and in Betsy Layne Hollow.

Individuals and groups interested in countywide cleanup are expected to attend Wednesday's meeting.

Judge Stumbo said solid waste disposal problems are of extreme concern and that a joint effort involving Floyd and Pike counties has been initiated. Leaders hope for state and federal financial help in establishing a pickup service and one or more central landfill disposal sites.

The fiscal court will be in session most of Wednesday, its morning session beginning at 10 to be devoted to a meeting with Department of Highway officials on the rural highway contract for this county. The meeting on solid waste disposal will be at 1:30 p.m.

Floyd Growers To Vote May 4 On Weed Quotas

"Are you in favor of marketing quotas for burley tobacco for the three marketing years beginning October 1, 1971?"

This is the question appearing on the ballot which burley growers will use to vote in the referendum May 4. A "yes" vote by two-thirds of those voting will mean that marketing quotas and price supports will be in effect for the next three years. Failure to give the referendum approval will remove marketing quotas and the protection of price supports.

The Floyd county balloting will be at the ASC office here, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. There are 39 burley growers in this county, but the fact that growers' wives and others sharing in their tobacco crops are eligible to vote brings to approximately 80 the number who may vote here.

Burley growers will be voting on whether they want a program, or no program at all. U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper is among those who have been urging every grower to vote and to cast his ballot in favor of marketing quotas.

The acreage control program under which farmers have been producing burley has failed to keep supplies in line with demand. Congress has amended the burley marketing law where-by poundage quotas have replaced the acreage system.

In addition to the change from production controls on the basis of acreage, the poundage proposal offers some other

Work on Hospital
Now 40% Complete

Photo shows progress of work on Highlands Hospital, near Auxier, which is scheduled for completion next summer.

Completion Seen Next Summer

Charles E. Rogers, job superintendent for the James N. Gray Construction Co., contractor on the five-story, 150-bed Highlands Hospital near Auxier, said this week that construction is now 40 per cent complete, that progress is on schedule after a slow start and that completion may be expected next summer.

To the current work force of 60 men 20 other workers will be added within the next few days, he said.

First work on the $5,395,000 hospital facility was done in bad weather, and earthmoving, foundation work and construction of the basement ate up time. This included the moving of 65,000 cubic yards of earth for filling the hospital site and the construction of concrete piles to a depth of 60-60 feet to bedrock. In all, 380 piles, each designed to bear 45 tons of weight, were poured in clusters of three.

The basement alone will contain the hospital kitchen, cafeteria, central sterilizing space, an outpatient clinic, boilers and electrical equipment, central storage and a morgue and autopsy room. All this is not visible from the ground level. Above it will rise four floors, and the structure is designed so that three additional floors may be built without interrupting operation of the hospital.

Magnitude of the construction job is

County Clerk Says Excess Fees Return Of $5146 Is Made

County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson this week made his ninth return of excess fees since being elected to office in 1962. He is said to be the only clerk ever to return money to the county. The excess fees go directly to the county treasurer.

This week, Mr. Robinson returned $5146.99 in excess fees, bringing to more than $75,000 the total that has been returned to the county. The clerk also returned $5096.87 for occupational licenses, $1476.09 for delinquent taxes and $2366.75 on tax for recording deeds. Also returned was $6301.67 to the Floyd County Board of Education recently for delinquent county tax.

Mr. Robinson is now serving as county co-chairman for Bert T. Combs.

illustrated by the fact that into the building will go approximately 4200 cubic yards of concrete and 270 tons of steel, exclusive of miscellaneous construction.

The hospital will be served by two passenger elevators and one freight elevator. The contractor will, in addition to construction, install all equipment except mobile units such as beds, furniture and the like. Included in the work is an independent disposal system which will provide secondary treatment of sewage.

Nurse Says She Will Not Leave Health Program

There may be a mass resignation of staff members of the Floyd County Comprehensive Health Service Program next week unless its board of directors revoke its reinstatement of an employee who resigned, but one nurse will not be in the group of nine originally indicating they would quit.

This nurse, Elizabeth May, who is working with the Bosco Outpost, wrote the board of directors to point out that she did not understand the letter which she signed, that she has not found incompetent the employee whose status is at issue, and that she does not plan to resign from the program.

The nurse asked that her statement be made public.

The threat of resignation by Dr. Titzler and the nurses was made in a letter dated April 15. Two weeks were set as the deadline for action which would make their leaving unnecessary.

On authority of the board of directors John Burton, acting director of the program, has directed Dr. Titzler to go to Mud Creek and begin the work of seeing patients. A nurse, it was said, was sent there to work with him. But he hasn't begun work there on the basis of this order. It was claimed he has no equipment for such work.

The program again will be under study this week, it was said. Don Vitez, of the Office of Economic Opportunity, was scheduled to be in the county for an inspection tour or an investigation of the program, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A program staff meeting is scheduled for Wednesday night. Earlier, a meeting of environmental health and health depart-

This Town . . . That World

With the frost lying heavy, these mornings, and the haze from forest fires hanging around of afternoons, the season has the basic ingredients of Indian Summer. But then there are the redbuds and the late-blooming dogwoods, and the azaleas and the phlox and a whole kaleidoscope of color that delights but never sates the eye. After all, it's Spring.

BUSINESS DECISION

Heard a friend discuss at some length, the other day, how he and his partner had been taken for the well-known ride by an employee. Things finally reached such a pass that a council of war was held in order. What to do?

"But he doesn't have anything—we can't sue," one of the aggrieved pair remarked. But my friend came up with a rather positive solution. Said he: "I'll tell you what I can do. I may not be able to sue, but I can put a knot on his head so big Oral Roberts can't take it off!"

A POUND OF TRAMP, PLEASE

These gardening hints aren't always written in the most lucid of styles. And sometimes the punctuation is horrible. So it's little wonder that this relative who inherits much of my acumen for such mundane matters was confused when he read in the book: "Mix peat moss and tramp."

"Now tell me," he blandly inquired, "what in the dickens is tramp?"

TO THE PUBLIC

Our bunch, six of us, are off on a fishing trip, barring unfortunate circumstance. When I return, my friends won't have to inquire after my catch. If I pretend not to see you, and don't come on you, all sails billowing, from as far away as three blocks, or if I answer the phone in a muffled voice—please, don't ask.

HE HAD COMPLICATIONS

Lenna Moore, his fall from that ladder and that bad hand, all three are for real. The other morning, he showed us a veritable slab of a splinter that had worked its way out of his hand, the night before. This piece of wood looked to be nearly half an inch wide and, maybe, an inch and a half long. One of our crew, Willie Conley, took one look, and remarked:

"Man, your trouble has been, you've had termites!"

Jones Arrested As Transporter, Others Booked

A routine check of Edward Roy Jones' driver's license by a state trooper at the scene of a motor vehicle wreck near Lackey, last Sunday resulted in Jones' arrest on a charge of illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages.

State Trooper Dean Stansberry said he saw two cases of wine in the rear seat of Jones' car. He confiscated that and 16 cases of beer also found in the car.

Kennel Chaffins was arrested by the same officer and booked at the county jail on charges of breaking and entering, leaving the scene of an accident, drunk driving and illegal transportation of explosives.

Deputy sheriffs Claude Flanery, Virgil Conn and Otto Fannin arrested Profit Moore on Frasure's Creek last Thursday night when a search of his premises uncovered 96 cans of beer and nine half-pints of vodka and gin.

The same night, Deputy Sheriff Conn arrested James Hall at McDowell and confiscated a case of beer found in his auto. The car, a 1962 Plymouth, was impounded.

Other arrests, according to jail records: Hubert Draughn, reckless driving, by Deputy Sheriffs Albert Salyers and Solie Holbrook; Corey Prater Foller, shooting at without wounding and shooting into a taxicab, by the same officers; Myrl David Blevins, drunk driving, by Constable Gillis Conn; Gorman Shepherd, reckless driving, by Deputies Holbrook and Salyers; Roy G. Lewis, reckless use of a deadly weapon, by Deputy Sheriffs Darrel Conley and Arvel Nelson; Arnold Cool, drunk driving and no operator's license, by Trooper Stansberry; Burley Brown, drunk driving and no operator's license, by State Trooper Gary Rose.

Sixteen prisoners were booked to Prestonsburg police out over the week-end. (See Story No. 4, Page 12)

Union Members Escape Penalty

Contempt proceedings instituted by the Island Creek Coal Company against members of the local union at Price who went on strike one day last week in the face of a court order forbidding a work-stoppage were dropped Tuesday afternoon when a hearing of the motion was set before Circuit Judge Hollie Conley.

Counsel for the coal company agreed that individual members of the local may not have known that the restraining order applies to each of them, since notice had not been served on them individually.

Serving by the sheriff of individual notices was ordered recently on the approximately 900 union employees of the company, but this was amended to have the notices delivered to the members by the president and vice-president of the separate mine locals. All these notices have not yet been delivered to the union officials.

Goebel Warns Of Higher Rates To Water Users

The mounting attack on those factors which pollute the environment will almost inevitably saddle Prestonsburg with the major part of the $600,000 cost of a secondary sewage treatment plant, William O. Goebel, chairman of the Municipal Water & Gas Commission, said this week.

Prestonsburg, along with several other municipalities in the Ohio River valley watershed, have been threatened with fines of $1000 a day if they do not initiate construction of the required sewage treatment facilities by July of next year and complete them by 1975. Mr. Goebel said that Bell Engineers, Lexington, has told Prestonsburg officials the construction work will be forced on the city.

Mr. Goebel said the highest rate of financial assistance now available on the project from any agency of the federal government is 40 per cent. That would leave Prestonsburg saddled with $360,000 of the estimated total cost.

It would also mean, according to Bell Engineers, an increase of the monthly sewer charge per customer from 70 cents to approximately $1.50. Goebel said water rates would necessarily be increased approximately 25 per cent.

The secondary sewage treatment plant cost would be borne by the approximately 1400 water consumers of the Prestonsburg system.

Prestonsburg's primary sewage treatment plant is only six or seven years old. But already it is, in the eyes of the Water Pollution Commission, obsolete.

Goebel said he thinks it is important that the people here know the situation and be aware of the fact that this is not some distant emergency but one that is virtually at hand.

"We're not against the fight on pollution, but we think those who are working for

Mental Health Tells Situation On Examinations

The request made on Jailer Lawrence Hale that he take mentally disturbed prisoners from the jail for examination does not arise from unwillingness of Mountain Mental Health-Mental Retardation personnel to visit the patients at the jail but from the legal requirement that they be personally examined by a doctor before commitment to a hospital.

So, in effect, Richard Gallaher of the mental health program explains the situation which has given rise to the report that mental health personnel have refused to visit the jail.

"In short," Mr. Gallaher said, "the situation is this: The patient is in the jail, the doctor is in his office or at the hospital. The doctor says he is busy and asks that the patient be brought to him. Two doctors must sign the commitment, and they cannot legally do so on the basis of findings made by us."

Jailer Hale has refused to take mentally ill prisoners across town, holding that it is a dangerous procedure and that the safest way of handling them is for them to be examined at the jail.

Gallaher said the program's psychiatrist examines patients at the jail on his twice-a-month visits here. He added that no sanity hearing has been held here since the Mental Health Program has been in operation.

"These hearings are held at the request of the patient, and we hold that if a patient is able to ask for such an examination he can be treated at home and does not need treatment in a mental hospital."

Jailer Hale said one patient now in jail is in need of help.

They're Using It, Anyhow

The Goble Branch camping area which the U. S. Corps of Engineers purchased from private owners and leased to the state has had only rudimentary improvements, but campers were already there last Sunday and the place will probably be filled, all season. Development of the area was delayed while the question of leasing it to private interests was debated.

3rd Track, Field Day Slated Here, May 15

Floyd county's third annual elementary track and field day will be held at the high school football field here May 15 at 10 a.m., Superintendent Charles Clark announced Monday.

"This is the climax of our year-long Physical Fitness Program on an individual merit basis," Mr. Clark said. He pointed out that there were 189 winners of the Presidential Physical Fitness awards in the county's schools this year, as compared to 25 winners three years ago when the program was initiated.

At this year's field day approximately 450 youths will be competing for trophies and ribbons.

The winners of each of the county's elementary school eliminations will compete by age groups (12 through 14) in 10 events. There will be a total of 60 events for both boys and girls.

The order of events will begin promptly at 10 a.m. and continue in this order until finished: 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 440-yard relay, shot-put, discus, high jump, running broad jump and standing broad jump.

No students will be permitted to participate in more than three events, two of which can be running events.

The winning and runner-up schools in both class AA and class A will be presented trophies and the first, second, and third finishers in each event will be awarded ribbons.

Prestonsburg elementary won last year's Class AA event and Allen elementary the Class A event which attracted 461 entrants.

JIMMY "GABE" TURNER

For Floyd County's STATE REPRESENTATIVE
May Democratic Primary

I AM ONE OF YOU . . .

I, Jimmy "Gabe" Turner, was born and reared in Floyd County, Kentucky, son of Mae Burns Turner and Ernest Turner, of Drift.

I am married to the former Donna J. Barnett, daughter of Rana Calhoun and John Quince Barnett. I am a graduate of McDowell High School, and attended Kentucky Wesleyan College.

My wife and I run the Triangle Drive Inn at the Y in Martin, Kentucky. I see and talk to a great many of my fellow Floyd Countians every day, and I know what kind of man they want to represent them in Frankfort, and I know that I am that man. As I said, I am in business for myself and have no connection with any company or firm, and I am not afraid to speak out for the people of Floyd County and our needs.

When I am elected I will prove this to the best of my ability. The people of Floyd County must and will come first.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the good people who voted for me two years ago, and I will appreciate their support this time also.

Jimmy "Gabe" Turner supports lower property taxes for our senior citizens. On the ballot at the November General Election will be a constitutional amendment to provide an exemption of up to $6,500 in the assessed valuation of homesteads of persons 65 or over. Jimmy "Gabe" Turner will be 100 percent for this amendment because our senior citizens deserve and need lower property taxes due to their small retirement and social security benefits. My opponent merely co-sponsored the amendment. Any representative for the people would gladly support this amendment. Jimmy "Gabe" Turner is for ALL the people of Floyd county. Your vote will put him there and he will prove this to be the best of his ability. Floyd county needs a young man like Jimmy "Gabe" Turner who has no tie with any large corporation. The people of Floyd county want Jimmy to represent them. 75 percent of the school teachers in Floyd county want him because they know he will back them all the way. Jimmy has over one hundred relatives who are school teachers in Floyd county. Jimmy "Gabe" Turner is also for the laboring people, as he is one of them.

State Would Train 250 Disadvantaged

The state Personnel Department is preparing to apply for federal funds to train some 250 disadvantaged persons for "public service careers" in state government.

Under the plan, the U. S. Department of Labor would provide at least $550,000 for orientation, counseling and follow-up services to the disadvantaged for a wide range of jobs with the state.

Governor Nunn, who recently gave the long-considered program a boost with a memo to state agency heads urging their support in supplying jobs, said that state government has a tremendous need for such a program which will "employ and train disadvantaged citizens, including veterans from Vietnam who are in serious need of employment."

The funds will also be used to upgrade skills of present employees, the governor said.

The 250 new employees would fill existing vacancies funded under existing agency budgets.

The state's application for federal funds is due to be submitted to the Department of Labor about May 1.

Ten Commandments Monolith Gets Okeh

The Kentucky attorney general has advised that the state could accept as a gift a monolith inscribed with the Ten Commandments, to be set up on the Capitol grounds in Frankfort.

The opinion said a stone so inscribed should not violate the constitutional requirement for separation of church and state because it could be considered "a replica of a recognized code of law or moral conduct."

Governor Nunn had requested the opinion after the Kentucky State Aerie, Inc., Fraternal Order of Eagles informed him it wished to present such a gift to the Capitol grounds.

Does Fertilization Help Lake? Study Shows More, Bigger Fish

Whether it's the result of fertilization or not, the fish population at Dewey Lake last year stood at a record high with 28,638 fish per acre—an increase of 20,989 fish per acre over the preceding year.

Game fish increased from 710 per acre in 1969 to 820 in 1970, and panfish (crappie and bluegill) exploded from 818 in '69 to 5926 last year.

These figures are a part of the report made by B. D. Laffin, head fishery biologist, Kentucky Division of Fisheries, on the basis of population studies of three coves comprising 6.2 acres of Dewey Lake's total 1100-acre expanse.

The fish population at the lake, the report points out, has fluctuated from year to year. But data compiled by Fisheries personnel shows an increase in numbers and poundage of the fish population and that twice as many harvestable fish were taken last year as in 1967 when the fertilization program began.

Although the report does not arrive at any definite conclusions as to the fertilization program, it does note that since institution of the program the fishing pressure at the lake has doubled and the catch has more than doubled. "It seems logical," Laffin said in his report, "that as the fishing pressure increases the catch per unit would decrease; however, the opposite proved true..."

In 1968, the year after fertilization began, 640 channel catfish were harvested, but the next year the number jumped to 4115, and last year 6213 of these fish were caught. This species is native to the lake, and none has never been added by stocking. Black and yellow bullhead catfish were caught at Dewey last year for the first time since 1966.

The report points out that the only significant change in the largemouth situation there was the increase in fingerlings, starting with 64 per acre in 1964 and increasing to 127 in 1965 and last year jumping to 531. Although only six harvestable (keeper-size) bass were taken per acre last year, this was the greatest number recorded for any one year.

(No figures were given for white bass in 1970. Muddy water in the headwaters spawning grounds during the spring and seining of Johns Creek upstream from the pool water are blamed by many for what apparently is a sharp decrease in this species. One seine was reported full of white bass last week in the Pike county section of the stream. This report was received by Floyd conservation officers, three days after the seine was found. Pike conservation officers reportedly have given the stream little attention.)

Harvestable panfish have increased since fertilization—from 23 per acre in 1967 to 99 in 1968, 107 in 1969 and 197 last year. And the weight of these fish per acre has increased steadily during these years—from 3.9 pounds in 1967 to 17.2 pounds the following year and 31.6 pounds last year.

The population studies at the lake will continue this year, and so will fertilization. Three hundred thirty-four bags of fertilizer will be introduced to the water on five occasions this year—on June 9 and 23, July 14 and 28 and August 18. The three population studies are scheduled for May 30-June 5, July 4-10 and August 8-14.

State, Engineers Agree On Red River Dam Question

The state and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers have reached agreement on the site and the resulting water level of the controversial Red River Dam in Powell county, paving the way for the start of construction next year.

The question of water level of the dam's reservoir was resolved on a compromise basis which sets the seasonal water level at 703 feet above mean sea level, and its flood-control level at 759 feet.

The dam will be located on the North Fork of the Red River, about a mile and a half above the junction of the river's North Fork with the Middle Fork. This is about a mile northeast of the Mountain Parkway.

The site is 5.2 miles downstream from a site chosen earlier by the Corps of Engineers. The original dam site was dropped after conservationists protested it would flood parts of the scenic Red River gorge in Powell, Menifee and Wolfe counties and would damage the area's natural beauty and wildlife.

Governor Nunn, who sided with the conservationists and whose influence was instrumental in provoking the site change said the new site "will effectively protect the unique environmental features, save the most attractive and scenic areas, provide needed flood protection and meet the water supply needs for Kentucky's Bluegrass area for decades to come."

Construction of the dam is expected to be finished in 1975 or 1976, at an estimated cost of $19 million.

Passage of "Black Lung" Bill Only Part of Reynolds Labor Record

W. J. "Bill" Reynolds sponsored, with others, and exercised his leadership as Democratic Caucus Chairman in the House of Representatives, to pass House Bill 12, the 1970 "Black Lung" Law for Eastern Kentucky coal miners. This progressive bill:

- (1) Recognized coal workers pneumoconiosis (Black Lung) in Kentucky's Workmen's Compensation Law.
- (2) Streamlined procedures to get "Black Lung" by throwing the burden of proof on the operators.
- (3) Cut the expense of getting benefits. Now only two doctors' affidavits need be filed with the applications. In most cases NOW, the company concedes.

Here are two more of the many labor bills sponsored and passed by W. J. "Bill" Reynolds as Representative:

1. House Bill 68, WIDOWS AND ORPHANS BENEFIT BILL which changed the Workmen's Compensation law to provide payment of the award to widows and dependents, regardless of the cause of death of the workmen who are drawing compensation.

2. House Bill 67, FREEDOM OF CHOICE of injured workmen, rather than employer, to select his own doctor and his own hospital for treatment of his injuries, paid for by employer.

Candidates' Pledges Encourage League of Sportsmen President

Conservationists will be afforded a greater voice on Kentucky's Air and Water Pollution Control commissions, no matter which of the three major gubernatorial candidates is elected in November.

This opinion was expressed here by Edgar Paul, president of the 40,000-member League of Kentucky Sportsmen, the commonwealth's oldest and largest conservation organization.

The League has canvassed Democrats Bert Combs and Wendell Ford and Republican Tom Emberton concerning their willingness to upgrade and increase conservationist representation on the two commissions.

"Their responses indicate they all favor more conservationist representation on the commissions," Paul, a Louisville Police Department lieutenant-colonel, disclosed.

The LKS has been canvassing the major candidates since last November through its Natural Resources Committee chairman, Reid Love, Vanceburg, and Jack Hinkle, Fern Creek, Third District director.

Democrats Ford and Combs say they will appoint League of Kentucky Sportsmen representatives to each of the commissions.

Republican Emberton answered, "You may be sure I will give every consideration to the appointment of more members of the Air and Water Pollution Control commissions from conservation organizations," Paul said.

In his original contact with the three candidates, Love informed them: "Since the conception of the commissions the conservationists of Kentucky have been completely by-passed, even after the 1970

General Assembly enlarged the commissions to eliminate this fact".

The 35-year-old League has sponsored since its organization progressive conservation legislation, and has polled gubernatorial candidates consistently, though it never endorses in an election.

"We try to keep abreast of candidates and their views, and keep our 330 local sportsman club affiliates thoroughly informed through our nine district federations, Paul declared.

Three plumbing fittings plants of American Standard—at Paintsville, Cincinnati and Louisville—have been integrated and placed under one management, effective April 20, it was announced this week.

$10,000 check involved

Combs' name surfaces in W. Va. controversy

By LIVINGSTON TAYLOR
Courier-Journal Staff Writer

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—In a furore stirred here by a bribery indictment of ex-Gov. W. Wallace Barron, a $10,000 check from Barron's onetime law partner to former Kentucky Gov. Bert Combs has come to light.

The check was written on Feb. 15, 1967—shortly after Barron's law firm settled a claim by the Kentucky Highway Department against one of the law firm's clients, Cataphote Corp. of Jackson, Miss.

A story about the payment to Combs is being published in today's editions of The Charleston Gazette-Mail.

A telephone call from Combs to the Highway Department had arranged a meeting with highway officials at which Barron and his partner, John E. Davis Jr., settled the claim. (Combs was not governor at the time, having left office in December 1963.)

The records in the whole affair do not show that Combs did anything illegal.

However, there is disagreement as to whether the $10,000 check was payment for Combs' assist in the Cataphote-Highway Department case or for other legal services.

"I sent him a check for $10,000 and, in my opinion, the phone call that he made was worth $20,000," Davis said in an interview. Davis himself got a $25,000 share from the $60,000 fee in the case.

"Without Bert, I couldn't have done it," he said.

Davis also said he had in mind "many favors" by Combs in sending the check, but added, "Had I never got the Cataphote $60,000—I appreciated everything he'd done—but I'd never sent him a penny of money."

In a sworn statement, a former secretary to Davis said, "Davis told me it (the $10,000 check) was for Combs' share for arranging the deal."

Floyd Native States Two Reasons For Running for R. R. Commissioner

Nelson Robert ALLEN      No. 1

Because of the encouragement given by many persons in the Third District, I am confidently seeking this office.

None of the candidates who opposed me in 1967 are running in this primary.

Although I am an educator, I received the endorsement of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in 1967. I feel this endorsement is forthcoming again.

I want to make a mark for Eastern Kentucky such as the Hon. Carl Perkins.

I carried the Seventh Congressional district in 1967 for the railroad post.

I am the best qualified of those running in May.

ALLEN LOSS IS 20 VOTES      No. 2

Floyd Man in Tightest Race of the Primary; Ford, Winner by 631

Statewide, the tightest primary election race was between Robert Matthews and Wendell H. Ford in which Ford won the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor by 631 votes, but Floyd county's Nelson R. Allen figured in the closest race of all.

Allen, now a teacher in the Russell schools, lost the Third district race for railroad commissioner to the incumbent, Douglas C. Combs, by only 20 votes.

Final tabulations of the primary vote have been completed, and the state Board of Election Commissioners has certified the winners.

The 1967 Vote
Mr. Combs . . . 10,775
Nelson Allen . . . 10,755

Born and reared in Floyd county. Received A.B. and M.A. degree from Morehead State University in Commerce and Business Administration. Korean veteran.

WHERE THE WHITE BASS GO
Floyd county conservation officers have received a report that a fisherman in the Pike county section of Johns Creek a few days ago found a seine loaded with white bass that had been trapped on their way upstream from Dewey Lake to spawn.
If anybody will confess to me that he needs fish so badly that he must seine them, I'll buy him (or it) a mess.
Question: What are Pike county's conservation officers doing about their section of Johns Creek—if anything?

changes—which have been included to give the fullest measure of protection to the growers.
These changes include carry-forward provisions for over and under marketings of quotas, authorization for the leasing of quotas between producers and limitations on year-to-year adjustments in farm quotas that can be made by the Secretary of Agriculture.
Initiation of the burley marketing program, which included the price support system, made tobacco the chief source of income for Kentucky's farmers. As per acre yields increased year-by-year, supplies on hand increased despite cuts in acreage allotments.
As the burley stocks on hand increased beyond the amount allowed by law, the USDA had no alternative but to take steps to cut production.
The poundage program will enable the USDA to know the maximum amount of burley that will be marketed in a given year. Such was not the case with acreage controls, as growers sought to make up for any allotment reduction through greater yields.

League of Women Voters Emphasize Problem of Mining

Rough River Dam State Park—The Kentucky League of Women Voters adopted a total action program on natural resources with "unprecedented emphasis on strip mining" at its state convention which ended last Wednesday.

During the two-day convention at Rough River Dam State Park, some 65 members representing leagues in 13 Kentucky counties voted to include natural resources as one of the four major areas in the state league's program for 1971-73. Other program areas are election laws, county government and constitutional revision.

The league's call for action on the environment comes as a culmination of four years of environmental study.

"We have come into an era of crisis. It's not sufficient to be well informed. We must act vigorously on the information we have developed," said Mrs. James Rosenblum of Louisville, newly-elected president of the state league.

Like other league members Mrs. Rosenblum is particularly concerned about strip mining. "I would hope we could do something to change the law regarding the 20 degree slope," she said.

In March, the league officially stated its position on strip mining, recommending eight specific changes in legislation and enforcement. The most significant change favored by the league would limit strip mining to slopes no greater than 20 degrees. In essence, this would ban strip mining in Eastern Kentucky as almost of all slopes there are greater than 20 degrees.

Mrs. Clifford Herrick, Jr., of Lexington, natural resources chairman of the state league, said this position was adopted because the nature of the terrain in Eastern Kentucky makes successful reclamation almost impossible. Furthermore, the laws on reclamation are not enforced in that part of the state, she added.

Mrs. Herrick said that the league supports the 1966 strip mining and reclamation law, but unfortunately this law has not been adequately enforced. The league urges stricter enforcement.

In its entirety, the natural resources program adopted by the league calls for "total and active support of the state's responsibility toward management of natural resources, with a major and unprecedented emphasis on strip mining, the severance tax, water resources and air pollution." (Since October 1969, the league has advocated a severance tax on all extractive minerals in Kentucky to be administered by the state.)

The Kentucky attorney general has advised Governor Nunn that the state could accept as a gift from the Fraternal Order of Eagles a monolith inscribed with the Ten Commandments, to be set up on the Capitol grounds in Frankfort.

It can run the mile in 5¢ flat.

Who says a nickel won't buy anything anymore?
That solitary nickel pays for your gas. (Naturally.)
And oil. And tires. And maintenance. And repairs. And depreciation. And registration. And insurance.
And even some nifty accessories. (Like a radio. Floor mats. Luggage rack.)
Five cents.

That's all it takes to run the mile in a Volkswagen.
Of course if you want, you can run the mile in someone else's car. But you'll never see the finish line on a nickel.

10.9 cents a mile.

School Boards Association Holds Strikes and Sanctions 'Improper'

The Kentucky School Boards Association (KSBA) this week released a "Beliefs and Policies" statement outlining the organization's position on a variety of issues, including school disruptions, student drug use, state aid to non-public schools, and extra pay for outstanding teachers.

"Strikes, sanctions, boycotts, demonstrations, work stoppages or other disruptive actions which interfere with the orderly functioning of the public schools are improper procedures," says KSBA, adding that no group has "the legal or moral right to engage in acts or practices which jeopardize the right of students to receive an education."

The association also calls on state and local groups to "alert adults, children and youth to the health hazards inherent in the misuse of narcotics, hallucinatory agents, tobacco, alcohol and other drugs."

While supporting the right of churches and other private groups to operate their own schools, the school boards association maintains that "public funds should not be used to support any privately operated schools."

KSBA also advocates modification of the "single salary schedule" concept of teacher pay, which requires that all teachers with the same training and experience in a school district receive the same pay, regardless of ability. Instead, the association believes "extra compensation should be provided for those teachers demonstrating outstanding proficiency in the profession."

Legislation requiring collective bargaining between school employee unions and school boards is opposed by KSBA, which instead proposes "voluntary efforts assisted by improved communications, information, education and understanding" to resolve differences between school employees and elected boards.

The school board organization also calls for an elected state board of education, which would appoint a state superintendent of public instruction. Presently, the state superintendent is elected, and the state board is appointed by the governor.

KSBA further proposes that local property assessment officials be placed under the state merit system.

Another policy of the association calls for school curriculums tailored to the "needs, ability, and cultural and socio-economic background" of each student, and expresses the belief "that the public school should serve as a laboratory where children may experience democratic living, and where good citizenship is taught and practiced."

The association urges the cooperation of lay and professional organizations in working to improve the state's public schools, and encourages "continuous re-study and re-evaluation of the Foundation Program for Education in order to continue to improve the effectiveness of the school program."

The KSBA statement contends that "our public schools will keep America strong and free if our society will keep our public schools free and strong." It further holds that "our public schools belong to all the people, are supported by the people, and should be designed to carry out the wishes of the people for the education of children and youth."

According to KSBA President Scott C. Detrick of Louisville, the "Beliefs and Policies" are based on resolutions passed by the association's membership, together with revisions approved at the KSBA state convention in Louisville last month.

The association, which has its state offices in Lexington, represents 193 of Kentucky's 194 public boards of education.

The state Department of Economic Security announced a reduction in fees paid in 1970 to physicians and pharmacists under the Medicaid program, but predicted that soaring hospital and laboratory charges and the addition of some 24,000 new Medicaid clients every year would push the cost of the program steeply upward in coming years.

They laughed all the way to the bank.

Transferring securities from one bank to another can be a costly business.

But in 1966, Federal Armored Service, Inc. of Michigan found a way to cut the cost of driving.

They bought a Volkswagen Squareback to handle their non-negotiable securities.

And what better car for the job? While the average armored car gets only 5 mpg, our Squareback gets about 27.

It doesn't waste time or gas hunting for a place to park. Because outside, it's about as small as our bug.

Inside, though, it has just about 50% more carrying space than the biggest domestic sedan. (Over twice as much with its back seat down.)

So it can carry in one trip what takes most other cars at least two.

Of course, in the beginning there were those who laughed at Federal Armored for using a Volkswagen.

But once the savings started to add up, it became Federal Armored's turn.

And he who laughs last, laughs best.

Rural Housing Aid by OEO Needed, Kentuckians Testify

(In The Courier-Journal)

One work crew pitched in 25 cents a man to buy paint when the supply ran short.

On another job, the workers renovating a dilapidated house took up a collection to buy a set of dishes for the family.

"Why, those young 'uns didn't even have a plate to eat off of," one of the men said.

In such small ways, the successes of an East Kentucky rural housing program are partly measured, a congressional committee was told last week.

Other indications of its impact, witnesses testified, are a married couple in their 80s spending a warm winter in a rebuilt house, and on nearly every house involved in the project, a repaired front porch.

"There are so many houses that people have a hard time getting into because the steps are gone and the porch is rotted, and if there is anything these mountain people enjoy, it is their front porch," Jim Hunsaker, who directs work crews in the Kentucky program, told the House Education and Labor Committee.

The committee is considering the future of the federal anti-poverty program and of the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), the federal anti-poverty agency.

OEO funds help pay the workers in the home repair program run by the Eastern Kentucky Housing Development Corp. in Leslie, Knott, Perry and Letcher counties, four of the state's poorest. (The official unemployment rate in Leslie is 33.6 per cent.)

Other federal funds help buy the materials. Houses of welfare recipients are eligible for repairs in the pilot program.

Mrs. Pat Gish, the corporation's director, said that while about 1,200 houses in the four counties have been repaired since the project began nearly three years ago, at that rate "it would take us 25 years to take care of all the substandard housing in our four counties."

About half the housing is classed by the Census Bureau as deteriorating or dilapidated, she said. She urged that more federal funds be made available for the program.

Officials of OEO-aided rural housing programs in North Carolina, Massachusetts and Wisconsin also said the needs for rural housing aren't being met.

They particularly complained that the Farmers Home Administration, which makes low-cost loans for repairs, lacks adequate staff to process loan applications, although the agency has funds for loans that aren't being used. They also charged that the Federal Housing Administration isn't oriented toward rural problems.

Kentucky Rep. Carl D. Perkins, the committee's chairman and a resident of Knott county, agreed that federal efforts are inadequate.

"Rural areas are being overlooked as far as housing is concerned," he said. "We've been trying to do something about this for years."

He urged the witnesses to collaborate in suggesting new approaches for federal programs.

Most of the men who work in the Kentucky program were unemployed coal miners in their 50s who lacked other skills.

"I have got men on my crews that, when they first started working, to even talk to them about cutting a stairway and a set of steps would scare them to death," said Hunsaker.

"Now most of them know how to cut rafters, stairways and steps. They really take pride in showing you what they can do and (they) say, 'Look what I done.'"

FRANKFORT, KY.—Crappie, despite recent cold, blowy days, already are moving into the shallower waters of the lakes and their spawning forays cannot be too far off.

Water temperatures have advanced into the fifties, especially in the shallow water sections, and this has induced the crappie to head toward the spawning grounds although as yet they have not visited them. When the temperatures hit the 60-degree mark in the tributaries then they'll move in, there to deposit their eggs and, at the same time, provide fishermen with excellent sport for a three-to four-week period.

This spawning movement occurs in all lakes, in streams and actually in ponds in the early spring. In the deeper lakes, however, this is not so evident as it is, for instance, in Kentucky Lake which is known as the Crappie Capital of the World during the "run."

Sure, the crappie will be caught in great numbers in other lakes. Many will be taken from Lake Cumberland from "right in the top" of the partly submerged willow bushes. They'll be caught at three to four feet deep.

In other lakes they'll be taken in the same manner, but often at depths of 8 to 10 feet around fallen treetops or under debris that has congregated in the inlets and bays. When taken in this manner the crappie are staging their spawning "run," but it is not as evident as it is in Kentucky Lake.

There is no mistaking the "run" in the gigantic impoundment. It has more acres of shallow water than any other lake and the shallow water is sprinkled with a growth of small trees and bushes and shrubs. The water in those areas may be only one or two feet deep.

At Kentucky the crappie will move right into the shallow water to deposit their eggs. They'll be in there, coming and going, for a period of three weeks if the weather is favorable. And they'll be caught by cane pole fishermen who dabble a minnow, roughly a foot below a sinker, right in among the stickups, as close as a foot to the shoreline.

When the crappie are not spooked by flashing waves brought on by high winds or boating activities, they'll be caught there throughout the day. This type fishing is so evident there can be no mistaking the crappie "run" at Kentucky Lake.

But all fishermen do not use that method there. Many will use a plunker, behind which is fastened a do-jig on a three-foot leader. Flashing the do-jig through the water, over and around stickups in the deeper areas, can easily bring to boat the daily limit of 60 crappie, maybe in one morning or afternoon.

Because of the fabulous crappie fishing all year long in Kentucky Lake and particularly during the "run," this area has become known as the "crappie capital of the world." That is also why the Department of Parks and the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, along with the facility operators of the lake, have designated April 16 through May 16 as the "Western Kentucky Crappie Festival."

Air Pollution Commission Adopts Incinerator Rules

Frankfort, Ky.—Adoption of the first regulation revision by the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission (KAPCC) places state incinerators under new operating requirements.

At its regular meeting Tuesday, the Commission also asked Gov. Louie B. Nunn to spur Ohio and West Virginia into cleaning the air near Ashland, granted a permit to the major source of particulate emissions in Northern Kentucky and levied the maximum civil penalty against the City of Falmouth.

The revision combines two regulations dealing with incinerators and teepee burners. Teepee burners primarily burn wood and wood by-products.

According to Frank P. Partee, technical director of the KAPCC, the change was necessitated because some incinerators were technically efficient units but were outside construction requirements of the old regulation.

Partee said the new regulation would add flexibility and remove legal entanglements involved in granting exemptions to units which met performance but not construction specifications.

Due to objections raised by the wood industry at a March 30 public hearing, the proposed regulation was amended to accommodate moderate to heavy smoke that occurs during the first 20 to 30 minutes of operation when starting up a cold teepee.

In response to a March informal consultation on the Ironton-Huntington-

Ashland Interstate Abatement Conference, the commission will ask Governor Nunn to request that governors of Ohio and West Virginia speed up their efforts to reduce air pollution in the tristate area. The consultation was called by the federal Environmental Protection Agency to determine if the three states had met recommendations of the 1968 Federal Abatement Conference.

The KAPCC had objected to the meeting because it inferred that Kentucky had failed to meet its obligations. The federal agency can usurp state powers if a state fails to implement federal requirements.

At the consultation, Partee said Kentucky was well along toward meeting federal requirements. Testimony documented voluntary compliance from industry resulting in a reduction of particulate emissions of almost 4700 tons a year in the Ashland area.

The KAPCC granted Interlake, Inc., Newport Works a permit to operate. Interlake presently produces 89 per cent of the particulate emissions in the Northern Kentucky area. The permit is conditional in that Interlake must complete a $2,212,000 baghouse by December. The baghouse will be capable of removing 99 per cent of the particles.

The maximum civil penalty of $1000 a day for nine separate days of violations of a cease and desist order was issued against the city of Falmouth. Falmouth officials failed to appear at a March 17 hearing on charges of open burning. The KAPCC granted the city the right to appeal to the clean-air body.

In other action the commission: Ratified nine permits to construct and 16 permits to operate an air contaminant source. Included was Field Packing Co. of Owensboro which was brought to public hearing by citizen intervention. An exemption was granted until control equipment can be installed. Temporary equipment will reduce three-fourths of the present emissions.

The KAPCC granted Kentucky Utilities a permit to construct a 500,000 megawatt power generating station near Ghent. Operative in 1974, the plant will be one of the largest in the state. Particulates will be controlled by electrostatic precipitators. Space has been provided for future control of sulfur oxides.

Denied four operational permits. These applications may be resubmitted with improved control procedures.

Heard recommendations for state legislation necessitated by the new federal Clean Air Act.

The next commission meeting is set for May 18.

State Senator

I wish to announce my candidacy for State Senator, subject to the Democratic primary on May 25th.
I have held office in Floyd, Knott and Martin Counties.
A few years ago I was Commonwealth's Attorney of Floyd county for five years.
I am a brother to DuRan Moore, Mason Moore and Earl Moore, who have been in business for many years in Floyd county.
I have associated with many good people in these counties.
It will be my purpose as your Senator in Frankfort, to help the next Governor put into operation a program that will be of most benefit to the people of Eastern Kentucky.
I have always been interested in the education of our youth. I am chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of Alice Lloyd College. I taught school a few years while I was getting my legal education.
I will support a progressive Educational Program for Kentucky and will work for the improvement of our schools and the status of our teachers in every way possible.
I was a member of the State Legislature one session, and I helped pass the first Teachers Retirement System in Kentucky.
I worked for the Highway and Rural Road Programs.
I am still very much interested in improvement of the Highways and Rural Roads in Eastern Kentucky.
The re-construction and modernizing of Highway 80 from Hazard to Allen will be one of my ambitions.
We need to connect the Kentucky River Valley and the Big Sandy Valley in order to improve the transportation between these two great sections of Kentucky. The better our communication and transportation the better our chances are for new industry and commerce in the district. As we get more industry and commerce, we will have more opportunities for our young people to secure employment and work and stay at home, instead of having to go to other states in order to make a living.
You can depend on me to do everything possible for the improvement and betterment of our counties of Perry, Floyd, Knott and Martin and for the whole of Eastern Kentucky.

Your Friend,
JOHN CHRIS CORNETT

(Paid for by Mrs. Mattie Martin, Campaign Treasurer, Hindman, Kentucky.)

5<sup>1/2</sup>%
ANNUAL YIELD

5.13 PERCENT

Wouldn't you know that the House of Savings would be first to offer two more plans to make savings create more interest than ever? Now, in addition to our 5 percent, 90-day Golden Passbook Plan, we invite you to try our 5 1/2 percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan and our 5 3/4 percent, 2-year Golden Passbook Plan. We think you'll find them all very "interesting."

All three plans offer guaranteed interest rates, and interest is compounded daily and paid or credited quarterly with each. Any of the three may be opened with a $100 minimum deposit, and additional deposits of $100 or more may be made at any time.

And our famous 5 percent Golden Passbook Plan makes your funds available four times a year—during the first ten days of January, April, July, and October—or anytime 90 days after a written notice is received by the bank. 5 percent Golden Passbook has an effective yield on 5.13 percent per annum.

How Interest Figured And Payment Dates

Interest compounded quarterly. Interest payment dates: April 1, July 1, Oct. 1 and Jan. 1. Deposits made during first 10 days of month bear interest from first day of that month.

Here's the interesting difference

With our new 5 3/4 percent, 2-year Golden Passbook Plan, your funds remain on deposit for a minimum of two years, with an effective yield of 5.92 percent per annum.

Our new 5 1/2 percent, 1-year Golden Passbook Plan has an effective yield of 5.65 percent per annum, and your funds must remain on deposit only one year.
